Women's lib has apparently not reached the local pool hall. Some local ladies hesitate to enter the mostly male domain, and must find other means of getting messages to their husbands as the establishment does not have a telephone.

Tincy Turney wanted to locate Rex one recent day, so she enlisted the aid of Jeanette McCrary. They wrote a note, stating simply "Rex come home," and attached it securely to a rock.

Jeanette walked past the door of the pool hall and threw the missile inside.

After the startled pool players recovered from their surprise, the note was opened, delivered, and obeyed.

THE RESULTS of the age of permissiveness was demonstrated last week when Arab terrorists killed eleven Israeli athletes in Munich.

The whole world was shocked at such blatant disregard for human life, and if the radicals thought they would receive any sympathy from the people of the world by such tactics, they were disillusioned. Every country, even their own race, was shocked and saddened by such action.

Disregard for law and order in many countries of the world has grown to a point where something needs to be done. It is not only in such countries as the mid-east or nations who are having strong political uprisings, but it is also prevalent in our own country.

Picking up a newspaper the other day we glanced over the front page and all we could see were headlines of killings either by thugs or radicals. There was not a story of good news on the entire page.

One man predicted that before long we will have to go back to the days of the old west when everyone carried a pistol on his hip, and only the strong survived. We hope that will never happen, but situations in the cities are such that one dares not walk down some city streets after dark alone.

Although in some of our smaller towns we have some vandalism, we usually don't have to fear for our lives, but the way things are going, we wonder how long it will be until we do.

Permissiveness starts at home and we feel that if parents were more interested in their children growing up to be responsible citizens, there would be many less delinquent adults. Back in the "olden days" when we were in school, if a teacher had to get on us for something, we also would catch it at home. Not any more. Now if a teacher calls down a student in school, he has to answer to the parents, too. That encourages disobedience and the results are showing up in some of the youth today.

Of course, it is not only youth who are showing the sign of radicalism. Many disillusioned adults have become soured and their behavior is not commendable.

The adult example is important and should be one that the youngsters could look up to. Instead, many times adults set an example that is what NOT to do, rather than what to do. How can we expect better from our children?

Dr. J. Cabansag Guest Speaker For Auxiliary

The Ranger Park Hospital Auxiliary met Thursday afternoon for the first time after the "summer slump." A nominating committee was elected. The three on this committee were Mrs. Snook, Mrs. Ed Jones, and Mrs. Annie Mae Wall. They will give a report at the next meeting, the first Thursday afternoon, October 5, at 4:30.

Dr. John Cabansag, who has recently come to our area, was the guest speaker.

He said, "We are living in a rapidly changing world, science and technology have made great advances that have affected our lives.

"In the field of medicine the past 25 years or more has given us the wonder miracle working drugs like the antibiotics, tranquilizers, and others. Some of the common diseases that used to plague us have almost been under control. Poliomyelitis for example which was most dreaded in the past in becoming less, due to Salk Vaccine. And there are others that I am not going to enumerate. At present we have automated blood tests which are installed in different big centers or cities. These things have greatly helped detect diseases in their early stages. One example of this is diabetes melitus.

"The sick, whether mentally, emotionally, or physically, need different kinds of treatment. The mentally and emotionally abnormal person need time, understanding and sympathy. They are the most misunderstood persons by the layman. The chronic mental disease takes a longer course of treatment in an institutional setting.

"Let us remember that most of the emotional problems of today can be traced to lack of love. Parents so often are too preoccupied with other pursuits which results in the neglect of their children. They have no time to play with their children or to teach or discipline them. When they grown up some will have emotional problems.

"The aging segment of our society seems to have benefitted from the public welfare assistance program initiated in recent years. They can now seek medical assistance without much strain with their pocketbook. They have medicare assistance program. For the indigent the medicaid program has been a great help. And probably in the not too distant future the National Medical assistance for the entire population which are being studied at present in congress, will be available.

"The opportunity of service is at everyone's door. It depends on how much we want to be involved. The spare time on our hands can be put to loving service for the unfortunate and the sick. The joy of service cannot be measured by material goods. The happiness it

Cadillac presents the class of '73

Clearly, these are the most magnificent Cadillacs ever built. Not only for what you can see—the bold new exteriors and the plush new interiors—but as much for what you can't see.

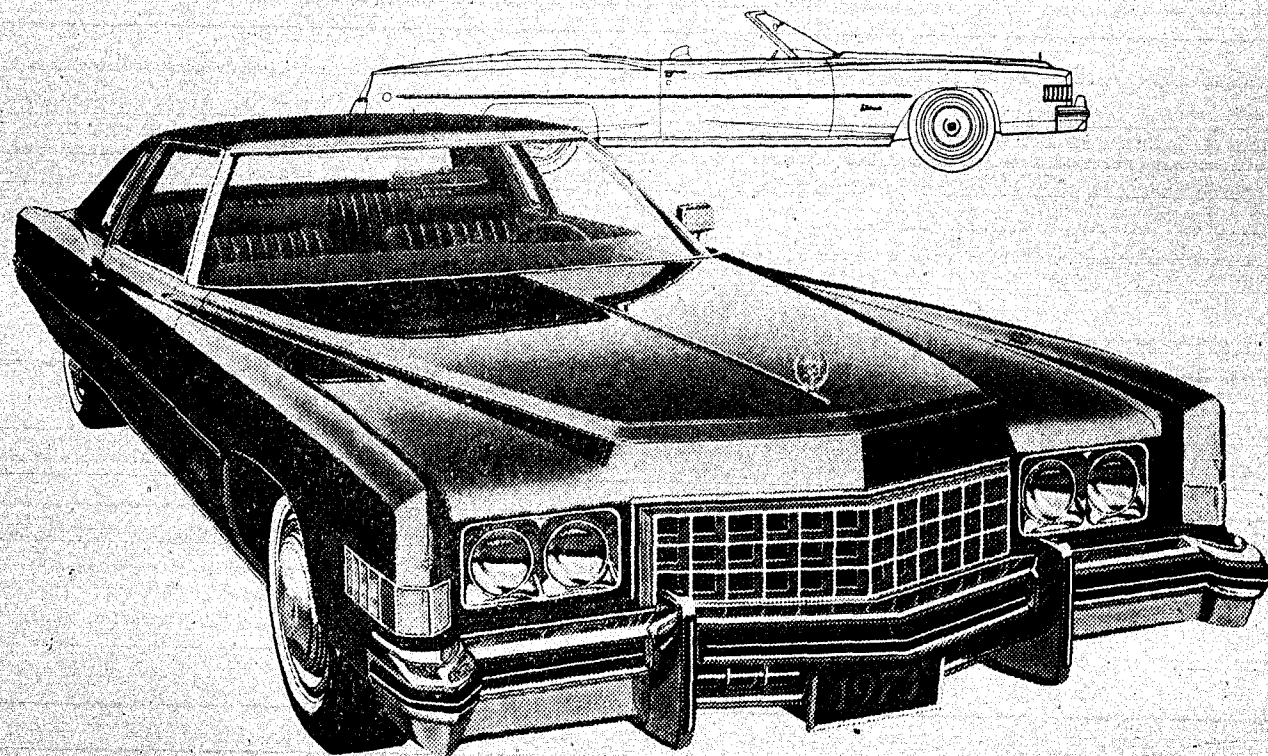

You see here the new Sedan deVille, Eldorado Coupe and Eldorado Convertible. You don't see the six other new Cadillacs (more models than all other U.S. luxury cars have combined).

You see here the striking new styling outside—even more elegant for '73. You don't see the hundreds of innovations and refinements inside. To add new comfort and convenience.

And you don't see the many new niceties you may add. Like a lighted vanity mirror. A theft-deterrent system and steel-belted radial tires.

Clearly, you never had so many good reasons to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer. Cadillac Motor Car Division. The leadership shows.

Well, our congratulations, Mounties! You did a great job, both junior varsity and varsity teams.

Junior varsity beat Bangs 16-0 Thursday night. The varsity team opened their season with a great 26-0 win over Richland Springs. Good luck with Wall.

We would also like to congratulate the band and drill team on the fine performance they gave at halftime Friday night.

As most of you probably know, Coach Smelley's Civics class is holding a political convention. The parties running for offices are "National Coke Party", "409 Party" and the "White House Party".

We don't know who has won yet, but we will bring you the results in next week's column.

And now as we take you through the halls of dear ole SAHS, we would like to dedicate the remainder of this column to the students.

COMMENTS:

Leann-"Where did you go after the game Friday night?"
Tony Beal-"Who finally walked you off the field Friday night?"
Ricky Jones and Carol K. + "Communists?"
David Horner-"You really jive on those speeches, don't you?"

Sam Allen-"Beat that bass drum."
WHAT IF.....
Billy Diaz weighed 90 pounds.
Randy Long was a hippie.

Carol K. GOT Miss Universe
Bob Morgan was a good little boy.
Lee Wristen could pass algebra.
Darla, Janice and Mona started a motorcycle gang.
Leslie McCreary could spell
We really did change the colors of the school buses.

Now a little something for the fantastic teachers of SAHS:

Coach Steele, don't you wish that any of your juniors could understand a little algebra?

Coach Smelley, maybe one of these days your world history class will learn to spell.

Mr. Nickel, the band will learn to march, one of these days!

Mrs. McQueen, push button food?

Mrs. Wagner, get well soon! We miss ya!

Mr. Riley, suppose we could have only skinny teachers?

We are going to begin having a song dedication every week. This week's dedication is "Hot Pants" for the one and only W. T. Young.

If this column offended anyone in any way, please let us know. We'll do our best to work it out!

SDA Display Shows Bible

Saturday will be Bible Emphasis Day at the Santa Anna Seventh-day Adventist church.

Members and visitors will view a display of colorful posters on the history of the English Bible as they enter the lobby of the church, reports C. P. Wenzel, first elder of the church. These posters were prepared by the American Bible Society.

"Most Seventh-day Adventists read their Bible at least once a day," says Wenzel, "but we want to make sure none of our members are missing the good things that wait between those black leather covers, so we are taking a little time of our time this week to emphasize again the importance of staying close to God through reading His Word."

The Elder points out, that the Bible is still the world's best seller. "The American Bible Society tells us the Bible as whole or in part has been translated into more than 1200 languages and dialects, and Christian scholars are still adding to that number."

In addition to translations into other languages, there are various versions. The most popular of these, according to the Bible Society, continues to be the King James Version, now 350 years old. Among the young people of today, however, Today's English version is highly favored. This is also known as "Good News for Modern Man."

"That's exactly what the Bible is in any translation," Wenzel adds. "And those who make it a part of their daily life soon discover that life holds more meaning and flows more smoothly."

It Sure Scares The Heck Out of Sunday Drivers

It's a funny thing, but we don't hear near as many horns as we used to. Just once in a while someone will bear down on the horn button. However, you better have your horn working good if you fill up with Mobil. That old car will really get up and get!
