American Legion to Sell Texas Centennial Coins

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 7. (Special)—The Texas Centennial Commission unanimously has endorsed by resolution the movement being conducted by the Department of Texas, American Legion, to sell Texas Centennial coins for the purpose of constructing an American Legion Centennial Memorial Museum on the campus of the University of Texas at Austin with the proceeds realized from such sales.

In connection with the adoption of a resolution to that effect, the Commission named a committee to inform Department Commander H. Miller Ainsworth of this action and to tender to the Legion its hearty co-operation in the sale of the coins and its best wishes for the anticipated success of the effort to erect a creditable Texas Memorial Museum.

MAN WHO WAS 'DEAD' AND 'BURIED' VISITS RELATIVES IN CROSS PLAINS

(Cross Plains Review)
A man who was once "dead" and "buried" visited Cross Plains this week and he was very much alive.

W. F. Short, a Fort Worth chiropractor, visited his niece Mrs. Ira B. Loving here from Saturday until Tuesday and while here gave the Review the following authentic account—proved by records—of his "death" and "burial" last summer.

Mr. Short came to Cross Plains last summer for a brief visit with kinsmen and from here journeyed on to New Mexico. When absent from his home in Fort Worth, another man by the name of W. F. Short, who incidentally was of the same age, was killed in a train wreck in West Texas. The body was mangled beyond identification. But cards and papers found near the remains told that the man's name was W. F. Short and of his age.

Children of the Fort Worth chiropractor noticed the article in newspapers and immediately hurried to the scene of the tragedy, where funeral and interment rites were conducted.

Several weeks later, totally unaware of his supposed death, Mr. Short returned to Fort Worth and drove out to the home of his daughter where he resided. Still bereaved and grief-stricken his presence was astounding to members of the household.

After laborious explanation the error was corrected, however, and the fallacy rectified.

Mr. Short is perhaps one of the very few men anywhere to know exactly how friends and relatives will react at his passing.

History of the "Gold Clause" Case

Considerable nation wide interest is centered about the "Gold Clause" case now before the United States Supreme Court. The history of the case is as follows. For years past the United States government and most corporations have promised to pay purchasers of their bonds "in gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness." On August 5, 1933, Congress, having authorized the President to suspend the gold standard, forbade the writing of any more gold clauses in bonds and declared in effect all those previously written were out. Accordingly the holders of railroad bonds and the holders of government bonds presented them for payment and demanded gold. On being refused gold the cases were taken to the lower courts and won and in the course of time reached the Supreme court. The holders of the bonds demanded that in lieu of payment in gold they should receive $1.69 for each dollar of the face value of the bond since this was the extent to which the dollar was depreciated by the President's executive order. Attorneys representing the bond holders claim that Congress had no right to invalidate the gold clauses or if it had the right to forbid payment in gold the claimants were entitled to compensation in devalued dollars in place of the gold. Government attorneys claim that a National emergency demanded the abrogation of the gold clauses; that the control of currency which is open to other nations should not be denied the U. S.; that in invalidating the gold clauses Congress acted for the benefit of the country as a whole, that Congress has the power to devalue the dollar as it sees fit. It was also pointed out that the right of a government to devalue its currency has been upheld in the courts of many nations.

Mr. W. L. Baugh, living on his farm out in the Cleveland community, was among the pleasant callers at this office Thursday, and reported a new one to this editor.

A new baby was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gilmore of Stanton, Texas. The baby is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Baugh, of Stanton. W. L. Baugh is the great-grandfather, and his father, L. A. Baugh, living in Dallas, is the great-great-grandfather of the baby, giving the baby three grandfathers of the same name. Page Mr. Ripley.

"Million Dollar Rain" Falls Here

Several weekly papers in this section reported a "Million Dollar Rain" last week. This chronicler didn't know just what the rain that fell in Coleman county was really worth, but a million dollars is a very conservative estimate.

Water Problem Not Solved
Regardless of the fine rains that soaked the fields with plenty of moisture, filled the surface tanks to overflowing and affixed a redemption smile on the face of most every farmer, stock raiser, and business man in the county, there is one item that has not been reckoned with yet. We have reference to the water situation in Santa Anna.

At the time the present lake was built, people were led to believe that the water problem had been solved permanently for Santa Anna, but a few years experience has taught us that the water problem has been slightly, or otherwise, over-estimated. Now, the problem is confronting us again, and nothing short of a sacrifice and a lot of hard work on the part of whoever undertakes the ordeal, will solve the problem.

We can go along, mark time and wish for things, but to get relief somebody must go after it. We can probably hold our own, but Santa Anna can never go forward without adequate water supply, and our present facilities are absolutely inadequate, and there is no question about it. So, if we expect to grow, and be able to offer inducements to other industries to locate in Santa Anna we must necessarily sacrifice again and provide a more adequate water supply in this fine little city with its wonderful, natural resources and surroundings.

Several have been busy recently, trying to find a solution to the problem and submit it to the public for consideration and approval. Just what will finally be submitted has not yet been determined, but some plan will be submitted in the near future, and in the meantime others are urged to investigate and make such recommendations as you think will help toward solving the problem. No one is barred, but every citizen should consider himself a part of the community and help look out for its best interests.

Several projects have been up for discussion, but no definite steps have been taken toward putting any of them into execution. But this is a matter in which all should be interested, and whatever proves to be the best solution to this serious problem, let's try to unite upon it and proceed.

Some of the supposed projects will be discussed in these columns soon, but for obvious reasons, we will not submit any of them in this weeks paper.

Miscellaneous Shower

For Recent Bride

Mrs. J. R. Gipson entertained Tuesday afternoon honoring Mrs. Drew Vinson, who was Miss Vera Banks before her recent marriage. The pleasant rooms were made more attractive by the use of red carnations which were used to carry out the valentine theme. Four tables of "42" furnished the entertainment for the afternoon.

A dainty refreshment plate consisting of sandwiches, cookies, mints, and tea were served to the guests after the pretty and useful gifts were passed around.

The hostess passed plates to Misses Elizabeth Kelley, Jewel and Iva Smith, Eula Sides, Lillie-Hosch, Essie Jones, and Sybil Vinson, and Mesdames Tom Vinson, Curtis Richardson, J. L. Bogus, Roy Stockard, T. R. Sealy, David McClellan, Elucian Niell and Crews Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hough of Downs, Kansas, left Tuesday after visiting in the home of Mr. Hough's cousins, Mrs. Minnie B. Plinney and Mrs. Sherman Gehrett.

Rev. A. L. Haley and family returned Saturday afternoon from Abilene where he had been several days taking "eye treatment." He has been very ill but is improving.

$13,000,000 Spent On Relief Projects In State of Texas

Austin, Feb. 12.—Work projects operated by the Texas Relief Commission last year not only brought an opportunity to work for aid received to thousands of men and women, many of whom had despaired of ever working again, but also left improvements of lasting benefit all over Texas, it was declared by Adam R. Johnson, state administrator, as he scanned the engineering department's annual report.

Significance of work relief projects is apparent in the fact that at the close of the year there were 6,229 projects being operated, and during the month of December there were 158,940 certified work relief cases. Moreover, it is estimated 3,000 projects were completed during the year.

Budgetary labor earned $13,000,000 on these projects between April, closing date of CWA, and December 31, it was estimated.

In all of the nine districts into which the state has been divided for the purpose of expediting the program, there are outstanding permanent improvements to communities made possible by relief labor.

In northeast Texas, the work of the Relief Commission is illustrated in Shelby county, where a county-wide project has resulted in rebuilding and replacing 83 bridges on lateral and other roads in the county.

In Harrison county the Relief Commission has constructed 20 houses for rural rehabilitation clients near some lignite mines which have continued in operation through the depression. It is planned for these farmers to supplant their farm produce with extra income from work in the mines.

In Southeast Texas the Relief Commission has focused its attention on drainage and sanitation, particularly with regard to malaria control and the elimination of stagnant pools. School improvement has been emphasized in Newton, Tyler, Walker, Jasper, Fort Bend, and Orange counties.

In Central West Texas, jobs have included construction work on the municipal airport at Abilene and repairs to the lake Abilene dam; construction of a low dam across the Paluxy river at Glen Rose, Somervell county; street improvements at Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Llano, Hamlin, Hillsboro, Itasca, Dublin, Stephenville, Cisco, Gatesville, Temple, and other cities; courthouse repairs in Coryell, Erath, and Johnson counties; opening of a road from Highway 66 to the famous Cavern in Burnet county.

In Northwest Texas, the Relief Commission is providing labor from relief rolls for a paleontological survey in Donley county, and a control dam to divert flood waters from the city of Clarendon has been built.

Childress county is constructing an airport, using 50 men for approximately 60 days on a project which will cost the Commission approximately $6,000.

In Floyd county, 55 relief laborers are rebuilding a school that burned in December. The job will cost $21,000. Hutchinson county has employed 300 men on a paving job. Borger, scene of this activity, also has a new $19,000 swimming pool built as a Texas Relief Commission project.

One of the most helpful projects from the standpoint of county-wide benefit, is improvement of lateral roads. In the engineering district embracing the counties in North Texas along the Red River, every precinct in every county has at least one of these projects in progress.

In Wichita County, the Relief Commission has spent several thousand dollars in maintenance work on the Wichita county irrigation system, and anticipate expenditure of approximately $15,000 more.

Work on the Kelley Field airport at Wichita Falls included graveling the runways, leveling off the field, construction of several buildings for offices and hangars and other improvements.

Hill Country Firemen Meet in Coleman

Tuesday local firemen attended the spring session of the Hill Country Firemen's Association, in Coleman. The inclement weather was very disagreeable, but did not stop the firemen from attending and enjoying the hospitalities of the convention city.

HAL C. WINGO, Pastor.

struction jobs may be listed a sewer extension project at Palestine, virtually completed at a cost of about $19,000; a municipal golf course in the state park at Bastrop, employing 50 men and estimated to cost $8,170; drainage and flood control at Waxahachie and Ennis to cost $32,000.

Park projects in which relief labor has participated perhaps are best exemplified in the development at Fort Worth. Here, 15 miles of additional park drives have been built, a botanic garden covering 30 acres and containing a number of small lakes, a rose garden, annual and perennial garden, have been constructed.

Fort Worth's development of school grounds also is worthy of mention. Campuses have been filled, graded, planted to lawns and shrubs; walks, driveways, fences, drinking fountains, other equipment added until rocky play areas and barren surroundings have given way to beautiful lawns and attractive surroundings generally.

Beaumont's worthy projects include the widening of Highland Avenue from 16 to 36 feet from Washington Boulevard to Lamar College, eliminating a dangerous traffic hazard as well as unsightly drainage ditches which at times stood filled with stagnant water.

A water line extension project gave added water pressure to business industries, better fire protection, and a lower rate of insurance. Similar projects are being or have been carried on in all metropolitan districts of Texas.

Variety of projects undertaken by the Commission is as wide as the skills employed. Painters, carpenters, brickmasons, stonemasons, lathers, plasterers, sheet metal workers, iron and steel workers, steam fitters, plumbers, blacksmiths, form builders, concrete finishers, electricians, garden supervisors, compressor operators, willwrights, furniture makers, and many types of white collar workers, as well as skilled, semi-skilled labor have benefited from these projects.

In addition, several thousand men and women equipped themselves to hold down jobs in industries such as canning and mattress making.

Hauptman to Die Week of March 18

The jury that listened to the evidence in the Richard Bruno Hauptman trial for the kidnap-murder of baby Lindbergh in Flemington, N. J., for 32 days, found him guilty of the charge and sentenced him to death in the electric chair.

The 8 men and 4 women sitting on the jury voted the defendant guilty on the first count, however, it required several hours to answer questions propounded by the trial judge, in giving his long and well directed charge.

Hauptman was proven guilty beyond the shadow of a doubt in the mind of each juror, and to the unprejudiced world as to that matter, long before the trial ended.

Those who have kept up with the proceedings of the trial feel a sigh of relief to know that justice has at last been vindicated, and the man who committed the most drastic ordeal in the history of the world has been sentenced to the extreme penalty for his unscrupulous deed.

Col. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, the parents of the innocent babe that died at such brutal hands, say he is guilty; Justice, as he was known as mediator during the ransom proceedings, says that Hauptman was the man he paid the Lindbergh $50,000 to, others connected with the trial and general proceedings, say Hauptman is guilty, and now the twelve jurors who heard and weighed the evidence during the entire proceedings declare him guilty on the first ballot. Hauptman must be the man who committed that terrible crime.

BROWNWOOD LEGION BOYS WILL TRADE ANTIQUE TYPEWRITER FOR KEG OF BEER

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 5. (AP)—A half-barrel of Milwaukee's famed beer may be bartered for a rare, antique typewriter.

The reason is that the American Legion boys in Brownwood, Texas, a dry town, have a thirst for beer, while Carl P. Dietz has a fondness for curious typewriters.

Dietz heard that J. A. Collins, Brownwood typewriter dealer, had an unusual typewriter about the size and shape of a pencil box. Because Milwaukee is the birthplace of the typewriter, Dietz felt it should be added to the museum collection. He wrote Collins asking the price.

Collins, it seems, is not cash-minded and would rather throw a party for the local Legion post. In a letter received today he proposed this "fair exchange."

"You manage" for one-half barrel of beer shipped to the American Legion at Brownwood; I ship you one Bennett typewriter."

Mr. Dillingham of Albany brought his small son here this week for examination in the Sealy Clinic.

Plans for Texas Centennial Celebrations Being Made

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 7. (Special)—Tentative plans for the actual physical phases of the Texas Centennial celebrations in 1936 are being shaped into a cohesive and logical observance program with rapidity. It is announced that under these the central exposition will open at Dallas June 1, 1936, and be operated through the month of November of that year. Notable historic points of Texas, such as Houston, San Antonio, Brenham, Nacogdoches, Huntsville, Gonzales Galveston and other cities associated with important early events in the State will hold their celebrations in the Spring of 1936 on the anniversary dates of the high points in Texas' annals. Most of the important episodes in connection with the achievement of Texas' independence occurred in the early Spring of 1836 and this fact is being given recognition in connection with arrangements by local groups and by the Texas Centennial Commission.

It is indicated that probably no State Fair will be held in Dallas this year, owing to expectation that by the time its customary dates arrive, work on buildings and other improvements needed for the Centennial exposition will be well under way. A committee of the central exposition body has been named to negotiate with the fair association an agreement for closing the grounds for 1935. The fair probably will be reimbursed for at least a part of its fixed charges, constituting a part of the loss it would incur by passing up its 1935 showing.

Officials of the central exposition will be asked by the Dallas Federation of Women's Clubs to include in its preparations a city-wide cleanup campaign, additional beautification of Dallas parks and establishment of a permanent hostess building in the Centennial Exposition setup.

Although Dallas already has $3,500,000 municipal bonds to be devoted to Centennial purposes and the central exposition is preparing to dispose of $2,000,000 of its own bonds, starting March 2, with similar intent, Dallas city officials indicate that in the municipal election here April 2, voters will be faced with a proposal of issuance of additional bonds in connection with the exposition, owing to the fact that, during the past few years, several bond funds of Dallas have become exhausted. It is recognized that provision should be made for additional money for storm sewers and to enable officials to carry on the drainage program proposed in formulating Centennial plans.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Williamson and son returned last week from San Antonio.

Mrs. J. B. Stokes of Bangs spent last week with Mrs. Jim Sealy Newman.

VITAL STATISTICS REPORT
A BIRTH EVERY 4 MINUTES

Austin, Texas, Feb. 12—A new baby every 4 minutes, 320 every day, 10,100 a month—that's the record of Texas, who showed 121,508 births registered with the State Bureau of Vital Statistics in 1934. This total carries an increase of 8,800 over 1933, when 112,609, the greatest number of births ever registered with the Bureau in any year, were registered.

The 1934 records showed an excess of 57,953 births over the total deaths. Last year in Texas there were 63,552 deaths recorded, or one death every eight minutes, 174 each day, or 5,296 per month. On putting in another, about two babies are born in Texas each time a death occurs in the State.

The Bureau of Vital Statistics is a part of the Texas State Department of Health and is charged with the duty of seeing that every birth and death occurring in the State is properly filed and registered. Such records are known as vital statistics because the information contained is of vital importance to the person himself, the community, and the State.

Texas is now in the Registration Area for both births and deaths. Everyone can assist in helping to keep our records at this high requirement if they insist that every birth and death occurring in their family be registered.

An elderly lady with a beautiful complexion was asked what kind of cosmetics she used. In reply she offered this splendid prescription:

A movement that deserves general support is that of roadside beautification. Garden clubs in many communities are working hard at the project, and persuading other organizations to co-operate. Roadside market owners is one group which has become interested. Proprietors of roadside stands realize that it is important to display their goods attractively. Neat buildings and surroundings are more effective than over-display of advertising. Thus the movement grows. It now includes the fight against unsightly and view-obstructing billboards, the constructive work of tree-planting, the sprucing up of refreshment stands and farmers' sales stands, the improvement of public squares and village greens in many small towns with flower beds and shrubbery.

The Mountaineer SAHS The Danger of Short Cuts

Did you ever stop to consider the danger of short cuts? If you have not, then do it now! It is never too late to switch to the right track of life. Out on the road of short cuts there will be a sign with the words "Danger Ahead" on it. Those taking the road to short cuts must turn back and try again on the right road.

There are advantages to short cuts now, but really are there advantages in the long run? You may say that the short cut means quicker time, but the quickest way is not always the best. The short cut to education is not, for back down the road are the essentials that you have missed. Much time should be spent in the studying of school. Most students spend ten or fifteen minutes on one subject, when they should spend at least an hour. This is only one short cut, but that one calls for another, and, finally you think that the quickest and easiest way is the only way.

Would you like to make a short cut of life? That is by just existing and not really living. No! For by this method you may miss the best part of life which is in store for you. Then why short cut your studies and risk the danger that accompanies it?

HOME MAKING CLUB HAS VALENTINE BOX

The Home Making Club I and II met at the regular period Tuesday, February 5, for a social.

Each member had previously drawn the name of the person to whom she was supposed to bring a valentine. The valentines were placed in a box and passed out after the usual business meeting. The program consisted of a talk by Billy Jean Riley on the origin of Valentine Day.

SAHS INVITATIONS ARE SELECTED

The invitations that are to be used by the senior class of 1935 were selected last Thursday by a committee comprised of the class officers: Beth Barnes, Rex Golston, Ernestine Thames, Vernon Ragsdale, Frances Gregg, and Bess Shield. Out of a large group of invitations, the committee, with the advice of the agent, selected an invitation that will undoubtedly meet the approval of the class as a whole.

SAHS La Cuchuracha Is Organized

The Spanish club was reorganized Thursday, January 24, new officers being selected. Aurelia Tweedle remained president of the club, Mildred McDonald was elected vice president, Rhea Boardman secretary-treasurer, and Marilyn Baxter, reporter. At the last meeting, February 7, the club discussed plans for a valentine party. "La Cuchuracha" was adopted as the name of the club and also as the club song. This seemed to be the favorite of all the members.

SAHS Debaters Have Elimination

Sarah Williams and Helen Martha Zachary defended the affirmative side of the regular debate question Monday afternoon, February 4, at Brownwood in the elimination. Mary Lee Ford and Ted Bradford were on the negative.

The judges decided upon Helen Martha Zachary for first place. The team this year will be composed of Emma John Blake and Helen Martha Zachary, with Mary Lee Ford as the alternate.

The debaters are working hard and will do their best to win first place at the county meet in March.

SAHS English III Edits Class Paper

The English III Class has organized a class paper while studying the autobiography of Benjamin Franklin.

SAHS CAMPUS COMMENTS

Has any teacher ever gone without her lunch because she left it at home? It was thought that one had—when it was brought to her there were raw potatoes in the sack. However, the teacher had her lunch anyway.

The topic of conversation has been that everyone regrets that Mr. Binion is leaving SAHS. Well, the juniors got their pins last week, and everyone is wearing a junior pin—even seniors, sophomores, and freshmen are seen displaying them.

SAHS A LITTLE BIRD TOLD ME

Jimmie Baird thinks a lot of a certain "Buffalo Belle" too. Everyone enjoyed the Scribbler play.

Sam Forehand pulled Billy Baxter out of the ditch last week.

Inez Cammack had to give up two pencils last week.

Elva Lou Smith will probably be spending another week-end at Trickham soon.

Beth Barnes has been sharing her dates with Miss McCreary.

SAHS BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Mary Lee Ford has received one detention since Christmas. Three teachers have new blue dresses.

Seniors have completed literature.

Ted Bradford was tardy only one time last week.

The library has been reorganized.

The faculty did not meet this week.

Some seniors should study spelling.

SAHS Rex Golston: I always throw myself into every job I undertake.

Creighton Morgan: Did you ever think of digging a well?

SAHS Scott Wallace: Did you know the French drink their coffee out of bowls?

Faye Routh: That's nothing. The Chinese drink their tea out of doods.

WE WONDER WHY

E. W. Polk will not tell any one where he lives? Geraldine Spence looks so far away and lonesome? Novella Freeman wears a senior ring?

Max Price likes to argue? Dorothy Patton laughs so much? A certain senior wears a junior pin?

Marjorie Stacy is so quiet? "Dummy" DuBois has a black eye Monday.

Inez objects to going by the name of Cammack. Everything is so funny to "Cherry" Burrow.

Marle Lovelace was so extremely angry Thursday.

SAHS Scribblers Give Play in Chapel

Several members of the Scribblers Club entertained the student body with a short one-act comedy in chapel last Friday.

The play, entitled "Men Not Wanted," presented a situation in which formal social butterflies had renounced pretty clothes and men, devoting themselves entirely to missionary, tenement house, and other forms of work for the uplifting of humanity. Despite their zeal for their new careers, the girls still found themselves thrown into fits of priming by the doorbell, for the caller "might be a man."

The cast of characters included Anita Kirkpatrick, Margaret; Vesta Evans, Laura; Lenora Golston, Emma; Marilyn Baxter, Frances; Ruby Lee Price, Helen; Elizabeth Rollins, Grace; Doris Rollins, Mary; and Rhea Boardman, Mrs. Kellogg.

SAHS Dawson Sea: I've just heard that one about Moses getting sick on a mountain.

Tub Cheaney: Sick? You're ridiculous! Dadson: I am not. Doesn't the Bible say the Lord gave Moses two tablets?

SAHS Max Price: I'm one of those curfew fighters.

Willis Burney: Curfew fighters? What's that? Max: When I strike you go to sleep.

SAHS Mary Bradford: The man I marry must be tall and handsome.

Vernon Ragsdale: Gimme a chance, I'm still growing.

SAHS Miss Hays: How do the foreign dishes compare with American ones?

Mary Hoopes: Oh, they break just as easily.

SAHS Sam Forehand: You know, an aspirin cleans my head out.

Faye Routh: Kind of a vacuum cleaner, isn't it?

SAHS Sympathy, like love, is often tendered where it is not needed or desired.

Lost 20 Lbs. of FAT In Just 4 Weeks

A St. Louis, Mo., lady wrote: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Bat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—a quarter pound jar lasts 4 weeks—you can get Kruschen at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

The life of Shirley Temple, the child movie actress, has been insured for $25,000. Since no insurance company in the United States would insure a five year old child the insurance was secured in England where a syndicate of British companies underwrote the insurance. According to the terms of the policy the insurance is voided if Miss Temple enters military service or if she meets death in an accident while intoxicated. Miss Temple receives a salary of $1,000 a week. In addition to this her mother receives a liberal compensation for caring for the child during the production of a picture. Miss Temple is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Temple.

A. A. Hyde, manufacturer of Mentholatum, died at his home in Wichita recently. Hyde originally sold his product in a market basket from door to door. When he started out he gave one-tenth of his earnings to church and charitable work. It was reported in his later years that he gave nine-tenths of his income for these purposes, retaining one-tenth upon which to live.

The man who killed himself in a Kansas City telephone booth, in the opinion of an exchange, was driven to extremes in his effort to get central. It goes without saying if this surmise is true that he did not receive his early telephone training on a farm or party line.

A smart columnist advises his readers to pay their debts with a smile. That by the way, is almost all some have with which to pay debts these days.

There is less concern on the part of the average voter today over party lines than there has ever been before in the history of this country.
