"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

REVIVAL MEETING TO BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY

Rev. John M. Neal, Evangelist of the Methodist church, will begin the preaching in the revival meeting to begin next Sunday at the Methodist church. Pastor J. Hall Bowman states that Rev. Mr. Neal is one of the leading evangelists of the state, and he is looking forward to a great revival. Santa Anna needs a revival and the people can have one if they will come together in the proper spirit and pray for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. There is only one way to have a revival and that is to get revived and help revive others. A cordial invitation is extended to other churches to join in the meeting, according to the announcement of Pastor Bowman, and all who know him have the assurance that the invitation is cordial.

Off to Cedar Point

D. J. Johnson, president of the Santa Anna Lions Club, will leave this week for Cedar Point, Ohio, to attend the annual Lions International Convention, Lion Johnson being a member of the Extension committee. Other members of the committee are Jack Riley of Los Angeles, Cal., J. N. Elliott, Salina, Kansas, Rev. A. G. Ingran, Moss Point, Miss., Harry E. Detwiler, Scranton, Pa. The Texas delegation will leave Fort Worth on a Texas special train Saturday. The International convention will be in session from June 29 to July 2, inclusive. Mrs. Johnson will accompany her husband and the two will visit their married daughter in Rochester, New York, before returning.

McCulloch County Girl Drowned in Colorado River

Iva Slaughter, 19 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Slaughter of Waldrip, 25 miles south-west of Santa Anna, was drowned in the Colorado River Saturday, when a sand bank upon which she was standing gave way precipitating herself and married sister into a deep pool of water.

The married sister was rescued by her husband, who also made an unsuccessful effort to rescue Miss Iva. The body was rescued by divers, prepared and buried in the Waldrip cemetery late Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mettles of Houston are visiting the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Elmore this week.

SANTA ANNA SITUATED ON LONE STAR TRAIL

On August 3rd, in Washington, D. C., the United States Highway Department will make designations of several prominent highways in the United States to be United States highways and interstate roads, which are to be maintained and uniformly marked by the Bureau of Public Roads, the Agricultural Department and the State Highway Department.

Headquarters for the Highway Association is at Winfield, La., and it is the purpose of the Association to locate and designate a road from east to west, by way of Waco, through Gatesville, Brownwood and on west. Since Coleman county has already built a good system of roads, it is very easy to attract attention of good road Associations and tourists. Thousands of automobiles loaded with tourists have already passed through our fair city this year, and many thousand more will pass thru during the summer tourist months.

Little Marion Oakes Dies After Several Days Suffering

Marion, the little 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. M. Oakes, died early Thursday morning after several days of severe suffering. The News joins the many good friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oakes in extending sympathy to them in their sad bereavement over the loss of their baby.

R. B. Renfro Has Broken Leg

R. B. Renfro, proprietor of the Ideal Barber shop, had the misfortune to get his left leg broken at the Skating Rink last Thursday night. He is reported to be doing all right this week, and on the road to recovery. J. M. Morgan, formerly engaged in the barber business here, is now with M. Blevins in the Renfro shop, and the business is moving along in the same old way.

Automobile Accident Saturday

Emmett Neill and Robert Turner suffered painful and severe bruises in an automobile accident last Saturday afternoon just south of town on the Whon road. The Ford car in which they were riding ran a muck, turned a somersault, landed in the ditch with the occupant underneath; breaking Neill's leg and inflicting other bruises, while Turner got out some lightly with no broken bones, but badly bruised and shaken up.

BRONCHO FALLS ON RIDER AND DEATH RESULTS

Brady, Texas, June 23.—An outlaw horse, counted one of the most vicious on a local ranch, got his man today when he killed Hugh Barber, a cowboy and skilled rider.

Barber, employed on a ranch in the southern section of McCulloch County, essayed to ride the man-killer after the horse had the reputation of unseating every cowboy who had mounted him and of trying to kill his riders.

Barber sat on the horse until the squealing, twisting animal bucked high into the air, sank his head between the knees and dived over in a complete somersault.

The outlaw came down on its back on top of Barber, whose skull was crushed. The horse was unhurt.

Century Plant Bloomed Out Sunday Night

G. F. Barlett has a plant in his collection of flowers called a Century Plant. The plant was formerly supposed not to bloom but one time a century, thus its name. This particular plant was shipped here from Hamilton, Missouri, former home of Mrs. Barlett, deceased, and Mrs. Barlett remembered the plant blooming during her early childhood. About midnight Sunday night, Mr. Barlett heard a noise about the place which resembled a breaking or popping of some kind, and he was not aware of what it was until Monday morning when he discovered the plant had opened its buds and revealed its beautiful blossoms for a period of only a few hours and then closed its forms.

According to Webster the plants bloom now about three times in a century.

W. D. Taylor Has Employed Good Repair Man

W. D. Taylor, who recently purchased the A. C. Garrett stock of New and Second-hand goods, and moved into one of the Shield buildings, has been very busy the past few days getting his stock straightened up and ready for business. Mr. Taylor has employed Mr. B. B. Price who comes recommended as a good repair man to work in his repair department, and he announces this week that he is ready to do repair work of all kinds.

Trinity Male Quartette To Entertain

On Thursday, July 2, the male quartette from Trinity University will render a musical program at the Presbyterian church. Melody and syncopation will characterize their presentation. Comedy, popular music and a little jazz will be in the ascendency.

The boys presented their program here last year and you who heard them know they were worth your time. No admission will be charged and a large attendance will be expected by the young men. Let us not disappoint them. We are sorry that the date of their appearance will conflict to some extent with the revival services at the Methodist church, but we are sure that one night spent in this way would not be entirely out of place.—Contributed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Calvert and two sons, Otis and Hulen of Austin are visiting relatives and friends in the Santa Anna country. The Calverts formerly lived here and have a host of friends who remember them very pleasantly.

Mrs. Abe Therrell of Waco and Mrs. Robert Bruce of Mart, visited their girlhood friend, Mrs. S. L. Weaver last week. They left Saturday for Ballinger to visit relatives there before returning home.

FIRST STATE BANK CHANGES TO A NATIONAL BANK

On June 18, the management of the First State Bank was notified by the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C. to the effect that satisfactory evidence had been furnished together with their application for a charter to do business as a National bank and the same had been granted.

We congratulate the management of this splendid banking institution upon their decision and successful efforts to change their system from a State Bank to a National Bank. The State Guaranty Fund was a good thing for State banks, and had its intents and purposes never been abused, it would have proven to be a much better asset to them, in our judgment, especially in the oil field banks and larger banking institutions in the cities, but in a town the size of Santa Anna, where the resources of the banks are mostly agricultural and the personal of the bank means practically all, there is no need for a clean banking institution to be drawn upon so heavily for the protection of depositors in less fortunate banks.

The First State Bank of this city has always been a clean banking institution, and is managed by a safe, courteous and gentle set of fellows who are conducting the affairs of the bank to the best interest of the stockholders and the patrons. We think the management of this bank has acted wisely in transforming their system into a National Bank.

Adams Mercantile Co's Clearance Sale Starts Saturday

The Santa Anna News force has been very busy this week printing a four-page circular for the Adams Mercantile Company, who is putting on a Big Clearance Sale, beginning Saturday of this week. Read the circular found in this issue of the News and you will agree that the Adams store has sure advertised and is offering for sale some real bargains. Mr. Adams says he can count money with much more ease and satisfaction than he can invoice goods, and when he goes into the markets this summer to purchase his fall and winter goods, he prefers to take a deposit slip rather than an invoice.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick and daughter, Jane Martin, of Sinton, are visiting Mrs. W. B. Mitchell.

Rev. John Neal

Don't forget the revival services commencing at the Methodist Church next Sunday morning. Members of all churches are invited to come and participate with us in this meeting.

We get out of every thing in proportion to what we invest. We have a good leader and the church is asked to be good followers.

J. Hall Bowman, pastor.

STORES WILL NOT CLOSE JULY FOURTH

The Retail Merchants Association, after deliberating at some length, decided not to recommend a general closing of business houses on July 4th, in that it comes on Saturday and to close would mean for the stores to close Friday and stay closed until Monday.

The matter of closing on Monday following was not considered advisable, so there will be no closing except among those who take it upon themselves to close without the cooperation of the town. The matter is left entirely with each individual and any one wishing to close and celebrate the day has it in his or her power to do so.

B. T. Vinson & Co. Grocery Store Moved This Week

The B. T. Vinson & Co., Grocery Store was moved this week from the Riley building into the Hunter building, formerly occupied by Rountree, & Son, and the management announces they are now situated in more commodious quarters and better prepared to serve the trade in the grocery line.

Mrs. L. L. Shield returned to Dallas for treatment last Thursday.

SPECIAL NOTICE

On June 18, a Charter was granted this institution by J. W. McIntosh, Comptroller of the Currency, at Washington, D. C. authorizing us to do business as a National Bank, under the laws governing the National Banking Association, and in the future this bank will be known as The State National Bank instead of the First State Bank of Santa Anna, and our Capital Stock has been increased from $35,000 to $50,000. Watch for further announcement.

The Family

"We use Black-Draught in our family of six children and find it a good liver and bowel

Nutt, of Mineral Springs, Ark. "I have taken it my-would feel dizzy, have gas and sour stomach, also feel a tightness in my chest. I'd

"My husband takes it for

Lesson for June 28

REVIEW

GOLDEN TEXT—Ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.—Acts 1:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Boy Jesus at the Temple School.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Asking and Answering Questions.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Growth of the Early Church.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How the Gospel Spread.

As usual, the methods employed in the review largely depend upon the teacher and the class. Two methods are suggested:

First: The biographical. This is a method which can nearly always be used to advantage, since pupils of all ages are interested in the study of persons. Peter, Paul, Stephen, Philip and Barnabas are very prominent characters in the quarter's lessons.
These may be assigned to members of the class the week before with a view of a brief biographical sketch being prepared and read to the class.

Second: The summary method.
This method calls for the review of the principal facts of each lesson with statement of the leadings teachings thereof. The following is suggested:

Lesson I—On the Day of Pentecost, the risen and ascended Christ sent the promise of the Father causing the Holy Ghost to descend upon the disciples to qualify them to be witnesses of His death and resurrection to all the world.

Lesson II—The healing of the lame man shows that the risen Christ is able to make strong a man who was born a cripple. The man who was healed thoroughly advertised the miracle. Those who have experienced the life of God cannot help but make it known.

Lesson III—The church is God's dwelling place. Since it is His dwelling place it is as holy as the holy place in the sanctuary. The judgment which befell Ananias and Sapphira proves that God will not allow the hypocrite to escape His judgment.

Lesson IV—The behavior of Stephen proves that the risen Christ is able to sustain His witnesses, even while they are sealing their testimony with their blood. His standing shows His active interest in His disciples, and that He welcomes home to heaven
those who are faithful.

Lesson V—The experiences of Daniel and his companions show that total abstinence pays.

Lesson VI—Philip, the only man in the New Testament called evangelist, is in the energy of the Spirit preaching the Word and winning men to Christ.

Lesson VII—The conversion of Saul, the bitter enemy of Christ, is an illustrious example of what the revelation of Christ in His glory can do, and also illustrates the method of the conversion of Israel.

Lesson VIII—After Saul's conversion, he straightway preached Christ as the Son of God. Those who are really saved know whom they have believed.

Lesson IX—The stupendous miracle wrought by the risen Christ at the hands of Peter proved that the gospel lost none of its power by being preached abroad.

Lesson X—When Christ would break down the middle wall of partition between the Jews and Gentiles,
He gave to Cornelius and Peter each a vision. When the gospel was offered to the Gentiles, the Holy Ghost came upon them as at Pentecost.

Lesson XI—Before the foreign missionary enterprise was launched, a new center of operation was established at Antioch. The Holy Spirit established this strategic center and sent out the missionaries.

Lesson XII—The risen Christ hears the prayers of the church and sends His angels to deliver His faithful servants.

The Best Judges Us

Our attitude concerning the great value, the great reality, the great personality, is not to put pressure upon our own minds or upon the minds of others to believe in them; and not primarily either with ourselves or others to defend them or to argue for them, but simply to give them opportunity with us, and to do what we may to help others, too, to give that opportunity. The best, thus judges us rather than we it.—Henry Churchill King.

Better Than Guilt

Better it were, that all the miseries which nature owns were ours at once, than guilt.—Shakespeare.

Let Us Not Lose Faith

Earl Balfour said not long ago:
"Let us not fear that the future is going to be less glorious than the past.
Problems of which we never dreamed multiply upon us until we are almost overwhelmed. But let us not lose faith or courage."

For Truth's Sake

To love truth for truth's sake is the principal part of human perfection in this world and the seed-plot of all other virtues.—John Locke.

ENTHUSIASM NEEDED

The young man so lacking in enthusiasm that he never talks shop at the wrong time, is not likely to have a business worth talking about.

The year 1924 holds the record for murders. That's one thing for which 1924 won't be envied.

Battle of Buffalo Wallow

Plans for making the Buffalo Wallow battle ground and celebrating the fifty-first anniversary of the fight, which will be the 12th of September, are being rapidly developed by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

The location of this historic spot is in Hemphill county, between the Wachita River and Gageby creek, twenty-two miles southeast of Miami and about the same distance southwest of Canadian.

At this place September 12, 1874, four enlisted men and two army scouts, while carrying dispatches from the camp of Gen Nelson A. Miles, on McClellan creek, Texas, to Fort Supply, Indian Territory, were surrounded and held for forty-eight hours by a band of Kiowa and Comanche Indians, fully armed and on the warpath.

In the beginning of the fight all the men were wounded, but all except two were disabled.
One of the soldiers received a mortal wound from which he died during the night after the first attack. Second only to the battle of the Alamo, the Buffalo Wallow fight stands out as one of the historic events of Texas, although the number of white men engaged was small.

The account of the fight as told by William Dixon, one of the survivors, will appear July 3rd, in the Magazine Section of the Santa Anna News. No motion picture will afford a greater thrill than the story of this battle.

It takes a hundred men to make an encampment, but it takes only the influence of one woman to make a home. I do not only admire woman as the most beautiful object ever created, but I reverence her as the redeemed glory of humanity, the sanctuary of all perfect qualities of heart and head. It is because women are so much better than love. It rises to the greatest heights, it sinks to the lowest depths, it forgives the most cruel injuries. A woman's love is the perfume of the heart. This is the real love that subdues the Ingersoll.

FOURTH OF JULY
BARBECUE AT WINTERS

The citizens of Winters and Winters trade territory, feeling grateful for the good season and fine prospects for crop, in their generosity and patriotism are giving a Good Fellowship Barbecue, for everybody for miles around. Everybody in Runnels and adjoining counties are invited. They are preparing to cook 10 hogs, 20 goats and 20 sheep, and have wash-pot after wash-pot of that good old stuff, so much liked by West Texans, known as "Son-of-a-Gun."

Winters never half-way does anything and this barbecue will be in keeping with her characteristic habit.

A twenty-five piece band will furnish music throughout the day and good speeches will be had by nationally known speakers.

THE THIRD AGE

Shakespeare has written of the seven ages of man. But for practical purposes we believe that this can be reduced to three.

First is the age of youth, with its dreams of future greatness. Young men and boys see themselves leading a great army into war, directing the policies of a vast industrial organization, or developing a world revolutionizing invention.

Next comes middle age and the shattering of illusions of youth. The task of making a decent living for the wife and "kiddies" who are now coming on leaves little time for dreams.

Then in the following age these youthful dreams reappear in a different form. Both father and mother begin to hope that son and daughter may some day occupy the lofty positions in the world that they themselves hoped to reach.

So the matter of proper environment for the young folks becomes all important—or at least it should become the most important consideration in life. Good wholesome surroundings, proper school associations, and plenty of open air for the children become of greater importance to father than a mere salary.

So what can be better at such a time in life than a good home in an attractive little city like Santa Anna. The great city with its many temptations is no place for young folks. There is a reason why most of the men who amount to much in the city were brought up in the country communities.

At an early age the young man or young lady in the small town begins to look inwardly for a source of pleasure and satisfaction. But the city youth must be on the go every moment—it is a movie, a vaudeville, and later a cabaret that must furnish him or her with the necessary thrills to make life interesting.

So to the middle age folks who are dreaming of the larger salary that father might get if he were to move to the great city, we say: "Think of the future of your children. That is now the most important thing in life."

Their chances to do great things in this life will be infinitely greater, if you will keep your home here in Santa Anna. And after all now your ambitions for the future must be all wrapped up in them.

Texas Stone Honors T. R.

The Roosevelt Monument ordered by the Roosevelt Memorial Association, to be erected in New York, is to be constructed of Texas granite. This news leaks out through the begging of increased activities in quarries at Granite Mountain near Llano and Marble Falls.

Texas pink granite, a stone of remarkable beauty of texture and coloring and of extraordinary enduring qualities, was chosen above all other stones available in the United States. The selection is fitting for many reasons. There is no doubt that the great President, thorough Westerner at heart though he resided in New York, would have chosen stone from the Western hills for his monument. The choice of Texas granite would have pleased the Roosevelt who spent many happy and strenuous days hunting in Texas.

Texas' part in the Roosevelt Monument is the West's part. It contributed much to the spiritual make-up of the immortal T. R. when he was alive, and it is fitting that it could thus contribute to the monument that is to enshrine his memory for future generations.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

WE'RE CIVILIZED

Sometimes we feel that we are a little backward here in Santa Anna, but whenever we read of the number of gun killings in Chicago, we are glad to feel that we are still civilized anyway.

Grave of William Bevans Visited By Son—To Be Marked

The following item is taken from the Coleman Democrat-Voice. It recalls a visit made to the grave last year by the Bulletin news man with Fred Sackett, while the writer was on a visit to the Sackett home one Sunday. The grave lies immediately between Jim Ned Creek and Hoards Creek, on an elevated space, about one hundred yards from where the waters of the two creeks combine to form the Jim Ned Creek proper. The old time cattle trail or range trail crossed the Jim Ned just below the junction of the two creeks and the old road is still seen though saplings and underbrush have covered it in some places. It is said to have been the dying request of Bevans that he be buried at the place indicated and his request was carried out by his friends and relatives. The Democrat-Voice says:

In 1868, William Bevans, Sr., one of the few pioneers then living in Coleman county, was accidentally killed by the discharge of his own gun. He was cleaning the gun in preparation for an Indian raid. The body of Mr. Bevans was buried above-high water mark in the forks of Jim Ned and Hoards Creek. Mr. Bevans lived ten days after the accident and had requested that his body be laid away at the junction of the two streams. A son, Billie Bevans, was about seven years of age when his father died. The son, with other members of the family, later moved toward the setting sun and stopped in Menard county.

Last Sunday, for the first time during the intervening fifty-seven years, Billie Bevans, aged 64, returned to the scene of his youth to locate his father's burial place and did so with little trouble. In company with Bert Sackett who was born and reared near old Camp Colorado, Mr. Bevans went to the scene of his former boyhood home, took his bearings and had no trouble in finding the grave which is yet marked by a pile of stones. Billie Bevans is a prominent citizen of the west and a banker at Menard. When here he arranged with Bert Sackett to park the burial place of the Senior Bevans and will have a monument erected over the ancient grave.—Brownwood Bulletin.

YOUTH BADLY HURT WHEN CUT ACROSS THE LOWER ABDOMEN

I. B. Burns, Jr. son of I. B. Burns of the Southern Dry Cleaners, is held in the county jail being held pending the outcome of the stabbing of Alton Woods, sixteen-year-old son of Si Woods of Santa Anna, which took place near the Mitchell Garage Thursday night about one o'clock.

Burns, about sixteen or seventeen years of age, was arrested near the garage and placed in the city jail, where he was held until noon today when he was transferred to the county jail. Woods is in a local hospital in a serious condition with a knife wound in his right side.

Burns and a friend or two had attended a dance and were enroute home when they passed the Mitchell Garage where young Wood and his brother, D. Wood, work at night. D. Wood was asleep at the time of the fight and knew nothing of it until his brother fell across his bed exhausted from the loss of blood.

Cause of the altercation was not made known to the police, but it is understood the two boys had a little argument before the "cutting" took place.—Brownwood Daily Bulletin.

Friday and Saturday of last week, several local communities in the county were blessed with good rains, ranging from light showers to a precipitation of as much as three inches. A general rain over the state would mean considerable just now, as the drouth is very distressing in many sections.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Bentley of Enid, Okla., are here for a visit with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Smith.

Mrs. J. E. Spencer left last week for Perrinton, Texas, and from there she will go to Colorado to spend the summer.

To Save An Editor

Here is a minister who appreciates the editor. At a recent editorial convention he offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starvation, take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair, send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity, write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible. To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

CHANGE THE DIMENSIONS

If July Fourth orators will remember to take a little off the length of their speeches and add a little to depth the day will be a great success.

JUST BUSINESS MEN

Artists, statesmen, and some professional men often think of business men with a certain degree of contempt. Napoleon spoke of the English with a sneer as a nation of shop keepers. And we have our own literary gentlemen poking fun at business men because they have been too busy with the job of keeping the wheels in this world turning to think about the newest movements in art or literature.

But at the same time these self styled superior beings must look to business men for their supply of the necessities that civilized life demands. There would be no place in this world for them, if it were not for business men. For the practical men out operating our shops, our factories, and our financial institutions are the real builders of our civilization.

One need merely look about a town like Santa Anna to appreciate the importance of the work of mere business men. They are the ones who build up our cities, who bring to us all our comforts and material sources of happiness. They have made this nation the haven for artists and intellectual workers from all parts of the world, and yet they receive in return for their social contribution abuse from politicians and contempt from intellectual leaders.

Or at least they receive the abuse of would be members of the intelligentsia.

Consolidation Desirable

The Van Sweringen brothers made $17,000,000 through the formation of the present Nickel Plate railroad system. This vast sum makes them a center of public interest, and may, it is intimated, interfere with their present plans to form a still larger system through the consolidation of their present railroad with the Erie, Hocking Valley, Pierre Marquette and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads.

Congress it is said may take steps to prevent future railroad consolidations in the light of these disclosures, recently brought out in connection with a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

But would Congress be acting wisely? The editor believes not. For though individuals may profit through railroad consolidation, the public will benefit still more. Competition in railroading is expensive. The duplication of trackage, terminal equipment, and much rolling stock makes for higher freight rates and ultimately poor service.

For competition is not the life of trade in railroading as it may be in some businesses. It is expensive and costly. The great duplication of equipment and effort is responsible in no small degree for the present hard financial standing of some of our railroads, and it is mere common sense to recognize that the company going to the wall cannot give the same public service that a profitable, going enterprise can render.

After all we shouldn't be so greatly concerned if a few men make a few millions if the public can be saved billions.

Business of Being an American

A friend, upon being asked as to his church affiliations, answered, "I am a Baptist, but I am not working it very diligently." That brings out a point of more than ordinary importance. The thing of posing as a church member, a business man, a lodge member, an American or any other thing and not being able to qualify is a matter of serious importance. If there is anything that would make us bristle up and want to fight it would be that some one had classed us as being un-American. The inhabitants of the United States pride themselves of being Americans. It means a great deal. It is worthy pride. But—

Being an American carries with it a great responsibility. One cannot simply exist in America and claim the distinction of being an American. He may not be un-American; he may be just a passive American entitled to the distinction by reason of living under the American flag. It is true that the American flag protects many people not wholly worthy of its exalted standard, and to be fully entitled to the name American, one must square his living with high principles of citizenship that imbued the fathers who founded this republic. These principles govern the man deserving the title. They reach into his business; and are a part of his social activities, his every thought and act. A true red-blooded American cannot conduct his business in a dishonest manner. He cannot stand off and criticize the government without doing his part to correct real or imaginary faults. He must stand upon the principles that make Americans.

It is the faithful observance of principles and not the fact that one lives under the American flag that makes a real American.

FARMERS' SHORT COURSE

The sixteenth annual Farmers Short Course will be held at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas at College Station, Texas, July 27th to August 1st, according to announcement made by T. O. Watson, Director of the Farmers' Short Course.

There will also be an exhibit of improved and modern farm machinery and home equipment.

Home Demonstration Work—Several courses in home demonstration work, especially adapted to the needs of girls and women from rural communities, will be given. The work will consist of lectures and demonstrations in health work, in meal planning, table service, clothing, home improvement and poultry.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

The question no longer is, "How many fire crackers does it take to make a Fourth of July?" Rather it is, "What'll we do on the Fourth?"

Gone are those reckless, glorious Fourth of July! The places that permit the old-time bang of the cannon cracker are growing less and less and the day has lost all its glamour for boys.

But when they grow up, with all their hands and arms and eyes and feet and legs intact, they will probably be thankful that someone was so thoughtful as to think enough of their welfare to save them from themselves.

The youngsters do not exactly comprehend what it's all about, but they can be taught, and when they reach the age of discretion, they will come to understand the day's significance.

The day is sanctioned by statute in every state in the Union as the birthday of the nation. This is ample expression of the solidity and unity that our common country has achieved.

It is a day for rejoicing, likewise a day for sober thought, that the battles so nobly fought, and the victories so valiantly maintained shall not have been in vain.

Something About Gossip

"Why do people love to gossip?"

"Because gossipers are too lazy to read and get things worth talking about. So they gossip. Mental laziness. Gossip comes out of an intellectual vacuum.

"Gossip is degenerated conversation and we should stop to analyze this thing so many folks indulge in, even ourselves.

"We run out of worth-while subjects to discuss, so we stop to whisper about our acquaintance and neighbors. And why have we not more worthwhile subject of conversation? Because we have not kept our minds and eyes open to the big growing world of thought, achievement, and wonder round about us.

"Our minds get into an intellectual rut. We have no original thought discoveries and no reactions from the world's best minds that speak from the printed page. Our minds get sluggish. And from the surface of things sluggish, rises scum, Gossip is mental scum.

"That does not sound nice, but gossip is not nice. And it certainly requires no brains to indulge in it.

"Just because a person repeats an interesting piece of gossip now and then, may not follow that the person is mentally lazy. But how are you to know that a person has brains and intelligence unless it is shown in conversation? And gossip certainly is not a revealer of one's mental riches. It does imply at least mental impoverishment. And with so many riches of mind and heart about us, ours for the seeking, does it not reveal lack of effort on our part if we do not make them ours? People have good reason to judge mentally lazy if our conversation degenerates into gossip."—Ex.

NEW IDEAS

It is not the lack of new ideas that holds men back, nor is it the ability to generate new ideas that pushes them forward. The value of new ideas is over-rated.

The one thing that takes a man ahead is his ability to get one good idea, and then stick with it through lean and fat years, through war and peace, through fire and blood.

Too many of us jump from one idea to another, from one job to another, scrapping a host of good ideas and good experiences as we race along. Few businesses ever die from lack of good ideas. Rather they die from lack of men who can carry out ideas—good executives, men who can take an assignment and then come back with a package under their arms, men who, if you please, "carry the message to Garcia."

No one except the man who pays the bills knows how expensive it is to experiment with new ideas.

A PREDICAMENT

The question is should we be hard hearted and safe or pick up the man trudging along the road and be robbed.

Wrong Does Not Justify Wrong.

No wrong, however great it may be, ever justifies another wrong. Mobs are violators of law, and where mobs murder a person, whatever the charge against him may be, every member of that mob becomes a murderer. Every American has a right to trial by law, and every true American will respect that right. The person who attempts to usurp the prerogative of courts and juries and who denies to any one charged with an offense the right of trial by jury becomes a law breaker of the most dangerous type. The state owes the same protection to every criminal that it owes to its best citizens. We can not claim to be a law-abiding people so long as we encourage the mob spirit. Some criminals are so base that they destroy all our sympathy, but they should not be allowed to kill our sense of justice.

Crime Involves Many.

A Texas banker, convicted on a charge of conspiracy, to defraud the bank out of funds, soon after the verdict was pronounced, was found dying in his prison cell. He left a wife and two children, several brothers and sisters, and an aged mother to bear the disgrace which his wrong brought about. Most bankers who go wrong suffer more than death and all bring immeasurable suffering on others. The worst thing about crime is that the criminal is not the only sufferer. He literally puts down his house on his whole household.

Delaying Work Brings Trouble.

The nervous rush of most students in the schools to prepare for final examinations is typical of the American temperament. If the right kind of preparation had been made all along during the school year, there would not be that uneasiness about examinations that gets on one's nerves. As a people we are too inclined to put off the doing of our tasks as long as possible, even if we know that by so doing we will at the last, have to overtax our strength. That accounts for much failure not only in school, but afterward in business, in whatever we may be doing.

Papers Succeed Without Crime News.

In an interview at Dallas, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., said that he attributes the success of his string of tabloid newspapers to the fact that he gives but little space to crime news. Hearst told him that he was crazy to think about publishing papers without sex lure and crime news stories and that he was doomed to failure should he try it, but Vanderbilt has proved that Hearst was wrong. Vanderbilt's papers are successful because they are small and quickly read, tell most of the stories in pictures, and are clean and wholesome. Because Vanderbilt has succeeded with tabloid picture papers, it does not follow, however, that all such papers will be successful. Vanderbilt is somewhat of a business genius.

Texas Selling First Bales.

The first bale of Texas cotton, grown near Mission, was sold at Houston, June 1, and brought $1,425. From that date there will be many first bales for counties, and the growers will receive extra premiums for their efforts at producing early cotton. The cotton picking season in Texas runs from about June 1 in the lower Rio Grande Valley until after January 1 in the Panhandle. Texas is the greatest cotton growing state, but it will never get rich from the crop until it manufactures most of it.

A Statesman Is Dead.

Thomas R. Marshall, war vice president with Wilson, who died June 1, was a statesman with an unblemished reputation. He did not go in for great show or reputation, but his private and public life proved that he was a man who loved his country and was unselfish in its service. He was not an office seeker for personal gain, but he stood ready to respond to his country's call and give the best that was in him.

Grayson County's Road Bond Issue.

Grayson County, Texas, is considering a $3,500,000 road bond issue. That county has heretofore voted $2,000,000 road bonds and invested the amount in good roads. The people seem well pleased to plan the building of a system of roads that will be as good as any in the country. Good roads always result in more and better roads.

Parents May Select Schools.

The United States supreme court has rendered an opinion that states having compulsory laws cannot force parents to send their children to public schools only, recognizing "the liberty of parents and guardians to direct the upbringing and education of children under their control."

"The Female," Starring Betty Compson, Coming to Queen

"The Female," a Sam Wood Paramount production starring Betty Compson and adapted by Agnes Christine Johnston from the popular magazine serial, "Dalla, the Lion Cub," by Cynthia Stockley, will be shown at the Queen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, 1 and 2.

Miss Compson in the title role is known as "the lion cub" because in infancy she was lost in the jungle of South Africa and mothered by a lioness until rescued by her guardian. She meets Colonel Valentia, a young Englishman, at a dress ball in the grand hotel at Johannesburg, and falls in love with him. He is attracted to her but their friendship is rudely broken when she hears a malicious conversation engineered by an English woman who is in love with Valentia.

Noah Beery, as Dalla's guardian who is in love with her, proposes that she marry him and promises that she need not be his wife until after she has spent 3 years in English learning to "be like the Englishers." She accepts, and in three years returns as a beautiful, cultured, perfectly gowned woman of fashion.

Dalla continues to forestall De Beer's (Beery's) advances and goes on a lion hunt engineered by Valentia. They have plunged far into the veldt and have established a camp when De Beer suddenly appears with his native bearers and his faithful old servant. The men come face to face. De Beer is suspicious, furious. Valentia has tried to smother his love for Dalla and has ignored her shy advances. But De Beer does not know this. The scenes that follow take place in the African veldt, its mystery and lurking danger on every hand. The entire production builds up to a smashing climax, a fitting closing for one of the finest adventure-dramas you've ever seen in your life.

"So This Is Marriage, Coming to Queen, Mon. and Tues.

Have you been married? Are you married? Do you ever hope to be married? If you come in any of these categories there will be food for thought in Hobart Hanley's new production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayers, "So This Is Marriage," which will be shown at the Queen Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

The director has taken the problems of a newly wed young couple as a basis for a picture full of human interest and shrewd slants at success in marriage.

Eleanor Boardman is featured in the role of a flapper wife, while Conrad Nagel is the husband. Lew Cody is the gentleman who butts in on the private wire, and others in the cast include Clyde Cook, Warner Oland, Mabel Julienne Scott, Edward Connelly, John Boles, and Miss DuPont. The story is by Carey Wilson.

Many Thrills in Big Comedy "Racing Luck" at Queen

Take a lot of thrills, stir well and add comedy and flavor with romance. There you have an ideal combination. And that is what Bonty Banks has supplied in "Racing Luck."

The good old melodramas of salad days were always clean, always exciting, always entertaining. And that fits "Racing Luck" which Herman C. Raymaker directed.

There is everything in it to entertain and that's the present day function of the motion picture. In addition to Monty Banks in the funniest role that clever comedian has yet portrayed, the cast includes Helen Ferguson, Francis McDonald, Martha Franklin, D. Metzoras and William Blaisdell.

Miscellaneous Shower

On last Monday evening a most enjoyable and pretty affair was the shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eaf Day by Mesdames H. O. Norris and Jno. Taylor at the home of Mrs. Taylor. Various games were played by the guests; and the music, both vocal and instrumental, which was rendered throughout the evening was enjoyed by all. After much merry-making, the guests were invited into the spacious living room. While music was played softly, little court Miss Virginia Holt brought in the beautifully decorated wagon which contained the many lovely gifts. With a few appropriate words Miss Ruth Holt presented them to the bride and groom, whereupon, they took out the various things, looked at them and passed them around for the others to see. The young couple expressed their appreciation for the many tokens of love and friendship.

With Misses Lena Polk and Grace McMinn presiding at the punch bowl, forty guests were served.—Contributed.
