Volume 103 No. 51

Thursday December 22, 1988

"For to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger" (Luke 2: 11-12). The staff of the Santa Anna News wishes each of you a blessed and joyous Christmas. The manger scene in the picture may be enjoyed by all. It is located at the Assembly of God Church, south on the Brady Highway. The congregation has shared the beautiful nativity setting with the community since about 1970. Mrs. Mildred Ford, wife of the pastor of the church, tells us that in recent years, the figures and lighting fixtures have begun to deteriorate and a year or so ago they decided not to put the scene out. When they began to receive calls about it from those wondering when they would be able to see it, they hurriedly assembled it again. (The scene is especially lovely when viewed at night with the lights on it). Mrs. Ford says they are most pleased that so many people enjoy the special treat and are looking for a new set so they can continue their tradition. We in the community thank the congregation for sharing this lovely gift with us.

Christmas Lights To See And Enjoy

We have received several calls from people in the community about especially pretty Christmas light displays and other yard decorations that you might enjoy seeing.

They include the manger scene at the Assembly of God Church on the Brady Highway; The Dick Longbrake home on Wallis Ave.; the Bailey Horners at 1004 Ave. B; the Virgil Lancasters at the corner of 8th and Ave. B; Curtis Fellers, east end of Ave. A. There are several displays on South Lee including the luminaries which will be lit at the Jim Spillman residence on Christmas eve, weather providing. They use candles in their display and the weather has to cooperate to a great degree. The Danny Guerrero home on the east end of Bowie also has a luminary display using electric lights, and is quite lovely.

No Mail Monday

The Post Office will be closed Monday in observance of the Christmas Holiday. There will be no mail delivery and no mail picked up on that day. The same holds true for the following Monday, an observance of New Year's.

The Bank and City Hall will also be closed on those days. Garbage collection will be resumed on Tuesday of each of the two weeks.

What Christmas Means To Me

Some fourth grade students in the Santa Anna Elementary school chose to explain "What Christmas means to me" rather than write the traditional letter to Santa. We are pleased to share these with you. We are sure they will bring you much enjoyment and maybe, here and there, a little food for thought. It is evident that most of the children are thinking of the real meaning of Christmas.

Jennie Day says that Christmas means friends come to visit. "I like that. I get to give presents away and open presents. I like to sing Christmas songs. That's what Christmas means to me. What Christmas really means to me is that it's Jesus' birthday."

Lupe Castillo writes, "I am happy for the trees and Christmas lights and presents we can open. Something is good about it, is that it is God's birthday."

Ami Beal shares her thoughts, "What Christmas really means to me is Jesus' birth and another thing is you get to see your family and friends. Its a time to share and I like to hang up the lights on the house and decorate the tree. That's what Christmas means to me."

Chris Lewis says, "Christmas means a lot to me because it is God's birthday. Also because I can give my mother presents and my dad presents and be with my whole family. Christmas is a time to love and share."

Rosa Suarez really likes Christmas "because of the presents. Not only do I like Christmas because of the presents, but also because Jesus was born on Christmas. Christmas makes me feel good because of all the new things you get. Christmas really is the most important holiday. I know why and so do you."

For Chris Cheaney, "Christmas is opening presents. It is also when Jesus was born. I like to get a Christmas tree and decorate it. I also like to see all my relatives. I get to give presents too. Best of all we don't have to go to school. This is what Christmas means to me."

To Cathy Cooper, "Christmas means God's birth. Another thing is we get to see our family. The thing that Christmas mostly means is my family and I and lots of other people can enjoy themselves. Christmas also means God's love to me."

Ruby Estrada says, "Christmas means so much to me because I like presents and the decorations on the tree. I also like the decorations around the houses."

"Christmas is special because it is Jesus' birthday," says Randy DeLeon. He adds that "Christmas is special because you get presents."

"Christmas means I am happy, because I can open presents. I am thankful for Christmas. I like Christmas trees. I like Christmas lights," shares Andy Ramires.

Darbi Neff wrote about The Most Important Thing About Christmas. She explains, "The most important thing about Christmas is you get to have a break off school and you get to have some presents to open. I love Christmas."

Lilly And Arthur King Scholarship Announced

Thoughts From Our Pastors

JOHN STANISLAW
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

THE WORTH OF THE CHURCH

How much is the church worth to you? Don't answer in terms of dollars and cents. Think beyond that. Men regard the church lightly today. Christ never did. According to Matthew 16:18, Christ birthed it, built it, and bought it (Ephesians 5:25). If the Church was of such worth to Christ, what should it be worth to you and me?

IT IS WORTH MY TIME AND ATTENTION! Have you ever found yourself asking, is it really worth it all? Ours is a world of confused values and mixed up priorities. We must strain to keep in clear focus those things of most value. Think of what the church has meant to you and to others. That helps us see its worth.

IT IS WORTH MY ENERGY AND EFFORTS! Through the quite streets of a fishing village that lay in the mouth of a turbulent river, a cry rang out, "Boy overboard!" Quickly a crowd gathered, and anxious eyes looked out over the rushing water to the figure of a drowning boy. Each anxious mother's heart was asking, Is he my boy?

A rope was brought, and the strongest swimmer in the village volunteered to rescue the drowning lad. Tying one end of the rope to his waist, he threw the other among the crowd and plunged in. Eagerly they watched him breast the tide with strong sure strokes, and a cheer went up when he, reaching the boy, had grasped him safely in his powerful arms. "Pull the rope", he shouted over the swirling waters.

The villagers looked grim one to the other. "Who is holding the rope?" they asked. But no one was holding the rope! In the excitement of watching the rescue the end of the rope had slipped into the water. Powerless to help, they watched two precious lives go down because no one had made it his business to hold the shore end of the rope. People in this community and other places are perishing because no one is holding the rope. You could make the difference working through your church.

IT IS WORTH MY FINANCIAL SUPPORT! I would like to challenge you to give as much through your church this year as you wished you had given the day you had your income tax prepared last year. Better than that give because the Bible teaches it. Give also because you love God and want to do His will.

IT IS WORTH MY TELLING OTHERS! The church is worthy of our going out and bringing others in to hear the gospel message. When you get to church Sunday morning, look at the back seat of your car. If it is empty, find someone to fill it.

IT IS WORTH MY LIFE COMMITMENT! The happiest people I know are those who are serving a great cause. David asked his brothers, "Is there no a cause?" (1 Sam. 17:29). There is a cause worthy of your investing your life: Serve the Lord and His church. Your life can make a difference. Christ loved the church and gave Himself for it. Will you do the same?

Now I know that the true Church of Christ is more than bricks, stones and sticks. These just make up the meeting place of the church. The true Church of Christ is people who believe and have been redeemed by the blood of Jesus. The meeting place has been referred to as the church by our society. So I wrote this from the terms that our society uses.

Lynn McDaniel

Katha Lynn McDaniel of Carbon, died Friday, December 9, from injuries sustained when the balcony she was walking under collapsed and fell on her in Stephenville.

Born in Gorman, she was a longtime resident of Carbon. She was a senior at Tarleton State University and a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include her parents, J.L. and Mary LeeEita Fleming McDaniel of Carbon; two brothers, J.C. McDaniel of Carbon and Kenneth McDaniel of Athens; two sisters, Betty Joyner of Austin and Janett Webb of Crowley; and four nephews.

Local survivors are her grandmother, Mrs. Bula Fleming; two uncles, Charlie Fleming and Johnnie Fleming; an aunt, Margie Fleming; and several cousins.

ESA Party In Bradley Home

Gail Loyd opened the Business meeting and Sharon Greenlee read minutes of the last meeting. Committee reports were given by Ms. Green and Ms. Bradley. A Christmas reception for senior citizens was planned for December 23. Plans were also made to deliver baskets of food to several needy families.

Fifteen members and one pledge were present for the party and meeting. They included, Kim Hubbard, Kathy Pearce, Dorothy Harris, Coyita Bowker, Jeanette Driskell, Sharon Greenlee, Karen Morris, Jo Ann Sauveur, Gayle Stewardson, Patti Musick, Bernidine Watson, Susie Voss, Donna Bradley, Debbie Forsyth, Mary B. Pritchard, and Gail Loyd.

Methodist Women Have Joint Meeting

The United Methodist Women groups of the First United Methodist Church met in a joint meeting Monday, December 12 at the educational building of the church. The day circle was responsible for the refreshment table which was filled with Christmas goodies. A lace cloth over red linen covered the table.

The Nitia Daniel Circle was in charge of the program. Margaret Crews reviewed the book, "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever", by Barbara Robinson. Mrs. Crews' wit and charm made the program very enjoyable for all.

Rain On Christmas Day?

While typesetting the letters to Santa Claus from the children, we ran across one that asked for rain on Christmas Day. Our first thought was "Who wants rain on Christmas Day?" Then, Of course, we realized what a timely and considerate wish the child had expressed. What a nice gift that would be for our area!

Friendship Luncheon

(Contributed)
The chili made by Ray Owen for last Thursday's Friendship Luncheon was well received as all present agreed that it was the coldest day of the year so far.

Guests were Russice James of Trickham, Tommy Dyer of Coleman and Era Walters of Abilene, whom we still claim to be one of us.

Rose Bass was present after an absence of several weeks. She gave the table grace.

Those present agreed to the omitting of the luncheon get-togethers until the first Thursday in January, 1989. So mark your calendars for that date.

Boys Take Tourney Championship; Girls Second; Several From SA Named All All Tournament

SAHS Basketball

Santa Anna hosted Eula on Tuesday of last week with three games played in Perry Gym. Eula barely got by the Lady Mountaineers 51-48 in spite of a very good attack by Gerald Brister's girls. Poor free throw shooting undid the Santa Anna game.

Shannon Brown led the scoring with 17 points, Maria Moreno 12, Silvia Castillo, 11, Kristi Morrow, 6 and Delia DeLeon 2.

Brister commented following the game, that the ladies are improving each game and are beginning to play with more confidence. "Our shooting is improving in all areas except free throws", he said and adds, "This is an area in which we must improve if we expect to make the playoffs."

The Eula Boys, one of the state's top Class A powers, took it to the board for 94 points when they defeated the Mountaineer boys. Santa Anna was able to muster 61 points, normally a good total for an evening's outing on the courts. Reece McIver had a great night accounting for 28 of those Mountaineer points. Bobby DeLeon shot for 10 points, James Hartman 9, Herbert Jackson 8, Gary Keas 2, Dennis Absher 2, and Sammy Rameriz 2.

The SAHS junior varsity squad defeated Eula in a close 56-51 encounter. Bradley Wise led in that matchup with 19 points, Chris Simmons 14, Dan Benton 10, Alex Frausto 6, Grady McIver 6, and Charles Dixon 1.

named to the all tournament team.

The Santa Anna Girls lost to Rising Star in a 33-31 heartbreaker in the Championship round of the tournament on Saturday evening. They tied the game with 10 seconds to go but Rising Star was able to hit an outside shot with 4 seconds on the clock to clinch the championship.

Delia DeLeon led her teammates in scoring with 11 points. Shannon Brown tallied 8, Silvia Castillo 4, Maria Moreno 4, and Kristi Morrow 4.

Second round action on Friday saw the Lady Mountaineers beat Blanket 48-29. Shannon Brown was top scorer with 23 points, DeLeon tossed in 9 points, Castillo 6, Morrow 6, Moreno 2 and L. Frausto 2.

The Santa Anna Boys won their first game of the tourney over May, went on to beat Blanket in the second round and took the championship in a win over Rising Star on Saturday night.

The first round win over May by a score of 75-41 saw Reece McIver hit the baskets for 22 points, 6 of which were two three pointers. Herbert Jackson shot for 13, Gary Keas 7, Bobby DeLeon, Dennis Absher, Sammy Rameriz, and Bradley Wise all had four each, Chris Simmons 3, and Rusty Bryce 1.

Jackson 6, Gary Keas 5, 4 each for Dennis Absher and Bradley Wise, Rameriz 2, and Simmons 1.

TEXAS TRIVIA

In 1911, the Austin American Statesman polled prominent men in town to name the most important Christmas gift they had ever received. Each replied that his most treasured gift was his first pair of copper-toed boots. Today the boots are no longer made.

SAHS Citizen Of The Week

Chris Simmons, a sophomore at Santa Anna High School was named as Citizen of the week during assembly Monday, December 19. Chris was nominated by his fellow students for the honor.

He plays basketball, is in the Band, and serves on the annual staff.

Mrs. Denning, counselor at SAHS, stated, "It is an honor to be recommended by members of the faculty, but it is an honor in itself to be nominated by one's peers."

Santa Anna High School is proud to recognize Chris Simmons as Citizen of the Week.

Chris is the son of Earl and Barbara Simmons.

Christmas Symbols

CANDLES

The Custom of putting candles in windows is an old one. People light them on Christmas Eve as a guide to the Christ child.

BELLS

The Custom of bell ringing began as a way to drive away evil spirits. Today bell ring at Christmastime as a symbol of the happy news of Christ's birth.

MISTLETOE

Hundreds of years ago, people hung mistletoe over their doors to keep away the evil spirits. Those who entered got a kiss as a symbol of love. People also believed that mistletoe could keep them healthy and their marriages happy.

STARS

The stars are the symbols of the beautiful star of Bethlehem that led the Wise Men to the Christ Child.

CRECHE

The first creche (pronounced Kresh), or manger scene, was created by St. Francis of Assisi in 1224. He used live animals and people in his scene. Today, many manger scenes are smaller models made of wood or china or other materials.

POINSETTIA

In 1828, Dr. Joel Roberts Poinsett brought the first poinsettia to this country from Mexico. He was serving as our first ambassador to that country.

The legend is that a Mexican boy had no gift for the Christ Child. As he knelt to pray, a beautiful flower appeared at his feet. This flowering plant, the poinsettia, became his present.

ADVENT WREATH

The word "advent" means "the coming". The advent season is the four weeks before Christmas. An advent wreath has four candles on it. People light one each week for four weeks.

HOLLY AND EVERGREENS

In ancient days, some people believed that holly would ward off evil spirits.

Christians came to believe that the berries stood for the blood Christ shed. The leaves stood for his crown of thorns.

Evergreens stay green all year and bear fruit in the winter. For this reason, they are a symbol of never-ending life.

ORNAMENTS

The first Christmas trees were decorated with real fruit, flowers and lighted candles. These ornaments were too heavy and dangerous. German glass blowers started making lighter glass balls as decorations.

SANTA CLAUS

For example, gifts in Italy are delivered by an old fairy called Befana.

What does the American Santa look like? More than 100 years ago, the famous cartoonist Thomas Nast drew a series of cartoons that gave us a very good idea.

STOCKINGS

Hanging stockings goes back to an old legend about St. Nicholas.

The story is that St. Nicholas dropped bags of gold down the chimney for three girls who had no wedding gifts. The bags landed in stockings that were hanging to dry.

CARDS

The custom of sending printed cards started in England in the 1850s. The artist John Horsely created the design and about 1,000 cards were printed.

Today more cards are sent at Christmas than at any other time of year.

WASSAIL

Years ago, many English people held Christmas feasts. As they drank a hot punch, the would say "Wassail", which means "to your health." Today, many people serve a hot punch called wassail.

TREES

There are many stories about how the first Christmas tree was trimmed.

One is that the famous German preacher, Martin Luther, started this custom. As he was walking home one starry Christmas Eve, he cut down a tree. He took it home and trimmed it with candles. Much later, Germans brought the custom to his country.

YULE LOG

People of long ago believed that burning a big log drove away evil spirits. Through the years a custom grew to cut down a big tree several weeks before Christmas. There was a belief that anyone who helped would have good luck. Today, some people burn a special big log, called a "yule" log at Christmas.

"You forgot the bag of marbles hidden under the army blanket in the green trunk in the attic."

If I Could Change Christmas

Some fourth grade students were posed the question "If I could change Christmas". Some of their ideas for changing the holiday are very thought provoking and others quite novel.

If Devin Cook could change Christmas, he would "go back in time and see baby Jesus being born".

Changing Christmas for Dora Padillo would be to "have Christmas every day and presents every day, so we could have fun". (How about that idea, Moms and Dads?)

Tim Abernathy would "make Christmas all through the month of December. Then I could make cookies for Santa every day. After that I could go to school and play all day and that's why I would like to change Christmas".

Briana Horner says she would like to change Christmas so "Jesus Christ could come down from Heaven and visit us. It would be very neat to have Jesus spend Christmas with you. Another thing I would change about Christmas is, I wish instead of people getting broke on Christmas they would get richer."

Changing Christmas for Devin Brand would be to "ask God if I could take a trip to the house of orphaned kids and buy them presents for girls and boys. Next I would sing 'Happy Birthday to Jesus at church and I would open my presents after church and drink eggnog for celebration. Then I could say Merry Christmas to all. Finally my mom could cut the lights off and say good night everyone and do not forget to brush your teeth, she says".

If Mark Yancy could change Christmas, he would change the day of Christmas. "I would put it to the 12th of December. You would have to dress up like Santa Claus on Christmas day and open the presents at 6:30 a.m."

Scott Watson would have "more celebrating of Jesus. Then I would make more presents and decorations".

Kenton Brixey would "make it where relatives had to come and that we would have it twice a year. Also that kids could open one present on Christmas Eve. It would be a day that kids could do everything they wanted."

The Lights of Christmas

TIPS AND TRENDS FROM THE NATIONAL ORNAMENT AND ELECTRIC LIGHTS CHRISTMAS ASSOCIATION

Tree Trimming Trends

The latest trend in tree trimming, surveys show, is having two or more trees in each home—different trees for different rooms. For instance, you can have a formal, traditional tree in the living room, a country-style tree in the den and artificial children's trees in your youngsters' rooms. Why not try a Victorian-style tree in the parlor, packed densely with antique ornaments? Here's an idea for the home office—a small high-tech artificial tree, complete with lights that work off a microchip!

Many families have Christmas trees all around the house.

Even tree stands have kept up with the times. The newest ones include music, animation, and self-watering monitoring features. Today's tree ornaments run the gamut from carved animals to ride-scent garlands to floral glass balls—all available in pastel and other shades to match your home decor. While you can easily find paper, wood, metal and glass ornaments in hues that will complement your rug, curtains and other furnishings, keep in mind that red, gold, silver, royal, white and green ornaments are always an important part of a traditional, coordinated decorating scheme.

TEXAS TRIVIA

Lockhart, Caldwell County, claims to have the oldest continuously used public library building in Texas. Built in 1899 and named for its benefactor, Dr. Eugene Clark, it was designated to be used as a library and a livecum. The building was dedicated on July 6, 1900.

Mothers Against Drunk Driving is asking Americans to tie red ribbons onto their cars and join in the hope for a less violent holiday season.

TEXAS TRIVIA

During the golden age of rail-roading in Texas (1920-1930), there were almost 120 cities and towns where 10 or more trains made scheduled stops every 24 hours. During that decade, more than 1,600 communities had at least one daily passenger train serving them. By 1960 only 13 Texas cities were served by as many as 10 trains daily. Now there are none. The few with any railroad service have no more than four trains in and out each day.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds. May cozy thoughts of Christmas embrace you and yours. To all our customers we say a sincere "thank you."

Pecans A Texas Christmas Tradition Check Foods For Safety

(AUSTIN)—Ever since settlers served holiday dishes made with pecans they found growing here, the richly flavored nuts have been a Texas Christmas tradition.

Household cooks use most of what they buy in an array of sweets and other party foods. But pecans enhance more than cookies and cheese balls. They are so versatile they can be incorporated into meals and snack time during the holidays and long after they are over.

For example, chopping nutmeats finely in a blender, food processor or nut chopper increases their uses quickly and easily. A sprinkling of chopped pecans will dress up a green vegetable with a minimum of fuss. Use more for a denser topping on creamed vegetables and casseroles. Chopped nutmeats also add flavor, texture and protein to green salads.

Ground pecans make a crunchy coating for deboned chicken and turkey. Press pecans and any seasonings into skinless, boneless poultry. "The mixture will adhere like bread crumbs," said Texas Department of Agriculture home economist Carol Guthrie. Poultry meat can also be dipped in a liquid and coated with ground pecans.

Guthrie recommends sauteing or baking coated poultry at medium-low temperatures to prevent the nuts from burning. Do not use the coating on bone-in pieces, which take longer to cook and will not hold the crumbs as well.

If you have problems rolling the perfect pie crust, chopped pecans will smooth them out. Just combine the pecans with butter or a flour-butter mixture and pat the mixture into a pie plate. "It's easier than a regular crust, and it's special," said Guthrie. "As long as you use a good recipe the crust will cut easily. Pecan crusts are used a lot with cream pies, but they do well with baked fillings too." To prevent a nut crust from burning, cover the edges with foil about halfway through baking.

The protein and mineral content of pecans makes them an excellent snack item. Toasting pecan halves improves crispness and allows the addition of sweet or savory flavors. To toast pecans, spread them in a shallow pan and heat in a 300-degree oven 10-20 minutes, or until lightly browned, stirring occasionally.

High in polyunsaturated oil, pecans must be stored carefully to prevent shrinkage and drying. Refrigerating or freezing helps pecans retain flavor and freshness. Whole pecans will keep two years or more, pecan meats two years at 0 degrees F.

In-shell pecans can be refrigerated at 40 degrees F. for nine to 18 months without spoiling. Shelled pecans will last six months at the same temperature in an airtight container. At a room temperature of 70 degrees, pecans will retain quality four months in the shell, three months shelled when kept in a tightly sealed container. Frozen pecans do not have to be thawed before being added to a recipe.

This season Texas is expected to harvest around 43 million pounds of native and improved varieties of pecans. Nearly 276.8 million pounds will be harvested nationwide. Quality overall appears good.

Prices are ranging from 60 cents to $1 for in-shell native varieties, $1-$1.75 for in-shell improved varieties, which have larger nutmeats, and $3.50-$4 for shelled pecan halves.

These recipes will have you eating pecans all year long.

CRUNCHY CHICKEN ITALIA

- 1 C. ground pecans
- 1/2 C. grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
- 1/2 tsp. dried basil
- 1 lb. boneless, skinless chicken breasts
- Lemon juice
- 2 T. olive oil

Combine pecans, Parmesan cheese, garlic salt and basil. (Extra coating may be stored in airtight container in dry, cool location.) Dip chicken in lemon juice and coat with pecan coating. Heat 1 tablespoon oil in non-stick skillet over medium heat. Add half of chicken. Cook 3-5 minutes on each side or until done. Place chicken on platter, cover to keep warm. Repeat with remaining oil and chicken. Makes 4 servings.

TOASTED PECANS

- 1 lb. pecan halves
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 stiffly beaten egg whites
- 1/2 C. butter or margarine

Toast nuts in 325 degree F. oven until light brown. Fold sugar and salt into egg whites, beat until stiff peaks form. Fold in pecans. Melt butter in 10x15-inch jelly roll pan. Spread nut mixture over butter. Bake at 325 degrees F., stirring every 10 minutes, about 30 minutes or until nuts are brown and no butter remains in pan. Cool.

PECAN PIE CRUST

- 1 C. all-purpose flour
- 1/2 C. softened butter or margarine
- 3/4 C. chopped pecans

In medium bowl, cut flour into butter with fork. Blend in pecans. Press mixture firmly into bottom and up sides of 9-inch pie plate. If using an uncooked filling, bake crust in 350 degree F. oven 10-15 minutes or until lightly browned. If using baked filling, pour filling into unbaked crust and cook as directed for filling. If crust becomes too brown, shield with pieces of foil. Makes one 9-inch pie crust.

COLLEGE STATION - There's nothing like coming home from work and finding a package on your front porch to help you get in the Christmas spirit.

But if that package contains food and is marked "perishable," you may have to be a grinch and throw it away for safety's sake.

Whether the food is safe will depend on what it is, how cold it is, and how it was packaged, according to Dr. Al Wagner, a food microbiologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

Mail-order food companies typically freeze perishable food solid so that overnight delivery in cold weather guarantees that it will arrive still cold, Wagner said. But what can't be guaranteed is having someone at home to receive the food and refrigerate it.

"In Texas, you can't count on cold weather either and perishables that sit in a delivery truck, mail box or on the front porch on a warm December afternoon may quickly thaw and become hazardous," said Wagner.

The specialist said consumers should look for the following before eating mail-order food products:

- Fresh or cooked meat, poultry or fish should arrive frozen or still hard in the middle. If never frozen, it should be cold to the touch.

- With the exception of dry-cured hams, baked hams and most canned hams need refrigeration and should arrive cold.

- Hard, dry sausages, such as pepperoni and hard salamis, don't require refrigeration. Thuringer, summer sausage and others do. If the label says "keep refrigerated," the sausage should be cold.

- Cheese should not contain mold, unless the mold is part of the product, such as blue cheese. Cheesecake should be frozen solid.

If the food product requires refrigeration and isn't frozen or cold, don't serve it. The food could give your family the unwanted "gift" of the flu-like symptoms that come from a food-borne illness.

According to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures, the mail-order food business is a $1 billion a year industry.

The USDA Meat and Poultry Hotline of 1-800-535-4555 or your local county Extension home economist can answer questions about mail-order meat and poultry.

But for consumer problems and complaints, contact the nearest office of the Food and Drug Administration.

If you think that you or the person who sent you the food gift deserve a refund, call or write the mail-order house directly.

While unexpected visitors could be sure of a warm welcome from frontier families, Texas' famous hospitality didn't always apply in the rough steakhouses and hash joints on the frontier. After studying the surprisingly extensive menu in one such place, a traveler ordered vol-au-vent, a mixture of meat and vegetables in a cream sauce, served in a puff pastry. The somewhat surly proprietor stuck a hog-leg .45 in the customer's ear and growled, "You'll have the hash." Faced with such a hearty recommendation from the chef, the customer not only ordered the hash but enjoyed it.

Christian Success

Christians Help The World's Refugees

Almost 2000 years ago, shortly after the first Christmas, a family of three fled to a foreign land. Afraid of death in their own country, unsure when they would see family and friends again, Mary, Joseph and Jesus lived for two years totally dependent on their faith in God and the kindness of strangers. In 1988, people still wander far from home. Last year, 13 million people were displaced from homes and homelands, many of them destitute and wretched. Like Jesus and his family, these 13 million exiles are largely dependent on the kindness of strangers from strange lands.

Driven from their homes by war, political unrest, famine and floods, these refugees—more than six million of them children—will have no home for the holidays. They sleep on cold ground, in abandoned box cars, in tents if they're lucky. They eat roots and insects or sometimes nothing at all. They wear old rags or tree bark or only their thinly stretched skin. They drink impure water and die slow deaths from the disease it brings.

In Africa, in Asia, in Central America, there are hundreds of camps where these displaced people huddle in the thousands, hoping to find solace. In Ethiopia, a country whose countrymen are fiercely struggling against famine, thousands of people from neighboring Sudan have fled violent civil war. In Kampuchea (formerly Cambodia), nearly 300,000 people are camped along the Thai-Kampuchean border, trapped by their country's political and military unrest.

Robert Seiple, president of the international Christian relief and development agency World Vision.

Cleo Canady visitors were Doris Rogers and Stena Mitchell. Velora Jackson received a visit from Gay Irwin.

Joao Fombe, 5, ravaged by malnutrition and disease, fled with his mother from their village in Chluta when his father was killed by Mozambican rebels. They now live in a refugee camp in Tete Province, dependent upon the international relief agency World Vision for food.

a few sticks of firewood. "Teresa doesn't dare nurture hopes and dreams for a future," reflects Seiple. "Without help—with out food, shelter, clothing, and medical aid—the outlook for Teresa and her children, as well as the world's 13 million other refugees, is grim."

Relief and development organizations are working to give these people life and hope through their refugee programs. World Vision's threefold program entails: (1) providing immediate emergency assistance such as food and medical care, (2) training families in agricultural and vocational skills, (3) laying the groundwork for long-term community development. Voluntary organizations are especially committed during the holiday season to extend this helping hand to refugees.

"Much like Mary and Joseph," says Seiple, "refugees have been forced from their homes by circumstances beyond their control. Like Mary and Joseph, they find there is no room in the inn. It's up to us, like the innkeeper's wife, to offer shelter, warmth—help, so that hope can be born anew in them."
