SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1960

BY THE EDITOR

During the period of the next five weeks three important elections will be held for voters of the Santa Anna area. Included are the election of two school trustees, three persons on the City Council and the first Democratic Primary Election.

The school trustee election will be held Saturday, April 2, which is Saturday of this week. The only voting box in the Santa Anna Independent School District will be at the Fire Station at the City Hall. Three persons are seeking the two places to be filled. Every eligible voter in the school district is urged to go to the polls and vote. The two elected will serve on the board for the next three years.

The City Council Election will be held at the Fire Station on Tuesday, April 5. There is no contest in this election, but three councilmen will be elected and every qualified voter in the city of Santa Anna should go by the polls and cast a ballot.

The first Democratic primary election is approaching rapidly. For the first time this election will be held the first Saturday in May, which is just five weeks away. To be voted on will be every state wide office, many district offices and half the county offices.

Thus far we have heard very little discussions on the contested races in the county and district, or for that matter the contested state offices. It is time all voters realized the election is just a few short weeks away.

Always before the first primary has been held in July, but changes in the law by the State Legislature set the date for May 7. At the rate the weather has been going, it may not even be hot enough for you to realize election time is near, but the election will be held regardless of the weather. So study the qualifications of the candidates now, and be prepared to make your choice when you go to the polls.

JOIN THE CLEAN-UP PAINT-UP CAMPAIGN

During the past several days we have enjoyed a few days of pretty Spring like weather. And along with the pretty weather, there is numerous things that comes to mind we should get underway, before the spring season gets very far along.

The Community Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Lions Club, Mountain City Garden Club and the City of Santa Anna, is sponsoring a community-wide Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Campaign. Every resident in Santa Anna is urged to participate in the program.

All who are planning to get their homes re-painted during the year are urged to get the program underway as soon as possible. If you plan an addition to your home or some other improvements, get them started now. Many others can just clean up the premises around the home, and it will all combine to make Santa Anna a more beautiful place in which to live.

In order to make the campaign a successful one, the cooperation of all is needed. Start now and put forth that little extra effort to get things around the house cleaned up, fixed up where needed, then add the paint.

You will be proud you did — and remember, your home is an investment representing lots of money. In order to keep this investment a profitable investment, you must keep it looking good and in good repair. So, it is much to your advantage to join the campaign.

Annual City Election to be Held Tuesday

The annual City Election will be held at the Fire Station in the City Hall Tuesday, April 5. Polls will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. Every qualified voter in the City Limits of Santa Anna is urged to take part in this election.

Three Aldermen will be elected. There is no contest on the ballot, as just three persons authorized their names to be printed on the ballot. Names are O. A. Etheredge, Ben W. Yarbrough and Kenneth N. Bowker, Jr.

Etheredge and Yarbrough are both seeking re-election. Bowker is seeking his first term on the City Council. Other members of the council are Mayor W. Ford Barnes, and Aldermen Ozro Eubank and Doug Moore.

Census to Count Transients Night Of March 31

Special steps are being taken in the 1960 Census of Population and Housing, which starts April 1, to make sure that all transients are counted. District Supervisor William G. Stacy said today.

Places such as large hotels, motels, and other accommodations for transient guests will be canvassed under a different procedure than the one used for regular household dwelling units. Prior to March 31, census takers will visit each of them and make a complete record of the rental units in these special dwelling places. At the same time, they will determine which of these units are occupied by permanent residents and which are for transients.

Transients will be counted on the night of March 31. This census operation is known as "T-night." A supply of Individual Census Report forms will be left at hotels, motels and other large transient places to be distributed to transient guests staying at these places during the night of March 31. Census Bureau employees will be on hand during that evening to assist transients in filling out the forms. The purpose of the special canvass is to account for every person staying in such places on the Census date.

After the individual report forms have been collected, they will be screened to determine what names should be included in the local census counts. Persons enumerated on "T-night" will be counted as part of the local population only if they have no usual place of residence elsewhere. Names of transients will be allocated back to their usual place of residence.

Information on permanent residents of these special dwelling units will also be obtained by means of individual census report forms, and the information about their housing accommodations will be furnished by the resident managers.

Census Takers Easy to Identify

Householders will not have any difficulty identifying the takers of the 1960 Census of Population and Housing when they start their rounds April 1. District Supervisor William G. Stacy pointed out today.

Each census taker will be provided with a red, white and blue identification card to be worn on the lapel. This card bears the seal of the Department of Commerce and the words "Census Enumerator, Official Credential" are printed across its face. Persons purporting to be census takers who do not have this identification card should be reported immediately to the local district Census office, which is located at San Angelo, Texas.

Census takers will be further identified by the portfolio containing their supplies. The portfolio is brown and bears the legend, "1960 Census of the United States," printed in green ink. In the portfolio, the census taker carries his supplies of report forms, maps, pencils, and other tools of his trade.

WCID Tax Election Carries 46-6

The election held in Trickham Saturday to establish a 30-cent per $100 valuation Ad Valorem tax on the property owners of the Coleman County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, carried by a 46 to 6 margin. The election establishes the tax rate throughout the entire district, and the tax will be collected on the state and county valuations, by the county tax assessor-collector. Advertisements for bids on the first six of the dams are expected to begin in the very near future, and construction will get underway within 30 days after the bids are opened.

All the easements have not been cleared on the other six projects, but it is expected they will be cleared within the next 3 to 4 months.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin — It's nine months until the 57th Legislature comes to Austin to pass laws, appropriate money and enact new taxes. But the major decisions are being made now.

Whether it's the warmer weather or the dwindling time—first primary is only a little more than a month off — the deciding process is now going full tilt.

Candidates have their literature off the presses and their campaign organizations in action. Challenges and promises are being made, mostly centered on one issue — meeting the state's in-the-red financial predicament.

In most areas legislators are being forced, if their announcement platforms aren't clear, to say pretty specifically what sort of new tax they would favor.

On the statewide level, it's the same Jack Cox, with the backing of Former Gov. Allan Shivers, has come out for a 2 percent sales tax, for education. Gov. Price Daniel has consistently maintained that the state's financial problems are not so great they cannot be solved by other means.

Jake Pickle is leaving his post as director of organization for the State Democratic Executive Committee and will work in Governor Daniel's campaign. Jake Jacobson, former Daniel aide, will head the Daniel headquarters.

RANCHERS EXPECT GOOD YEAR

Reflecting the age-old Texas philosophy that everything depends on rain, most Texas ranchers are wearing a smile this spring.

Members of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association meeting in Austin said wet weather had put a "season" in the ground. Prolonged cold meant a lot of expensive feeding, but in general, the cattlemen look to this year as one of the best ever.

Amid the optimism, U. S. Secy of Agriculture Ezra Benson warned against too-rapid expansion of herds. It will almost certainly result in a sharp drop in prices, said Benson.

Benson noted that in the past two years cattle in the U. S. had increased by almost 4,000,000 head a year, double the rate he felt the consumer market can easily absorb.

He estimated there were a record-breaking 101,000,000 head of cattle in the country at the start of the year. This is "not yet excessive," said Benson, but he urged that future increases be "moderate."

Governor Daniel warned the cattlemen to watch the import situation. Governor's Exhibit A was the Texas oil industry which has suffered crippling setbacks from the competition of lower-priced imports.

Secretary Benson opposed raising import barriers. He suggested that losses would offset gains in that a $4,000,000,000 export business in hides and tallow would be choked off.

Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, former legislator, was elected president of the Cattle Raisers Association.

CATTLE MEASURES URGED

Cattlemen voted to seek governmental action in these areas:
 1. State and federal agency to help enable railroads to operate more efficiently and economically.
 2. Legislative enactment of a stronger trespass law to protect landowners.
 3. Full authority for the Texas Animal Health Commission to direct the brucellosis eradication program begun under a law passed by the Legislature in 1950.

4. Confirmation by the U. S. Secy of Agriculture of the Association's right to carry out its brand registration and inspecting program.
 5. Launching by the USDA, as quickly as possible, of a screw-worm eradication program in the Southwest similar to the dramatically successful Florida program.

HIGHER COLLEGE COSTS
 Next legislature probably will be asked to appropriate about 23 percent more for support of Texas' state colleges and universities.

Ralph Green, director of the Commission on Higher Education, said an estimated $31,400,000 more than present allocations would be needed for the 1961-63 biennium.

This is some $15,000,000 a year more than the $65,000,000 being spent this year. Green told a Legislative Economy Committee the extra funds would be needed to meet increased enrollments and improve faculty salaries.

Green reminded the lawmakers that part of increased cost results from the legislature's having made a junior college into a senior college — against the Commission's recommendation.

MORE YOUTH AID ASKED
 Texas Youth Council has announced it will try again to get a paid parole supervision system for juveniles released from state training schools.

Legislature failed to enact this last session.

Council also outlined need for establishing a home for dependent and neglected Negro children and expanding other state schools for young people.

Other two members of the Council refused to add their support to a wide-scale delinquency prevention program proposed by Chairman W. C. Windsor Jr. of Dallas. It included such recommendations as making 12 years of schooling compulsory, keeping schools open to 5 p.m. for students with special needs, working with the Texas Employment Commission to provide more job opportunities for youngsters, more emphasis on child and family guidance centers, etc.

 Louis Henna of Round Rock and Robert Kneebone of Houston said Windsor's program invaded the fields of other state agencies.

SAFETY LAWS OUTLINED

Brad Smith, director of the Texas Traffic Safety Commission, has proposed a four-plank platform for cutting Texas' traffic toll. Planks are:

1. Provide the driver education for every public high school that wants it.
2. Revise the 20-year-old drivers license requirements.
3. Set up a statewide chemical test for suspected drunken drivers.
4. Set up a system of traffic courts.

BRIDGE WORK SET

Texas Highway Commission has announced plans to spend $5,216,500 in strengthening or rebuilding more than 100 bridges.

They are bridges regarded as not strong enough to take the increased 72,000 lb. load limit authorized by the last Legislature. At present these bridges are "zoned" to prevent use by trucks loaded to the limit.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

There are three different income forms you can use. The Form 1040 can be used by any individual. The 1040A can be used for salary and wages up to $10,000 a year. The new 1040W can be used for salary and wages of any amount and you can itemize your deductions. There is usually a sign in the post office that tells you about each form. Get the one you need.

 Commercially speaking, the Douglas fir is more valuable than any other tree.

W. O. Breedlove Makes Statement In Judge's Race

In seeking election as Judge of the 35th Judicial District, I am well aware of the desire of the voters of Coleman, McCulloch and Brown Counties to get acquainted with all of the candidates, and to do this end I am trying my best to meet each of you personally by calling on you at your homes and places of business with the hope that through this acquaintance you will be better able to judge which candidate you think you prefer to serve in this most important office.

I know that I will not be able to meet all of the voters personally and would therefore like to tell you something of my past and my expectations of the future, in the event you select me to serve as your District Judge.

I am 48 years old, am married, have one son and two grandsons. I have been actively engaged in the practice of law for the past 22 years, having received my LL.B. degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1938. I have been admitted to practice law before the Supreme Court of Texas and the Supreme Court of the United States. I have engaged in the general practice of law, both civil and criminal, and have served both as County Judge and Attorney of Brown County.

During World War II, I served 5 1/2 years in the Air Force and spent 21 months overseas as a Legal Officer in Allied Military Government helping to restore the courts of liberated France, and to reorganize the courts of occupied Germany. I am still active in the Air Force Reserve as Flight Commander of the Brownwood Flight, in Walker Memorial Library of Howard Payne College. As part of my Air Reserve training I was selected last year to attend a two week course in Washington, D. C., conducted by the State Department on How to Combat Communist Strategy, and in February of this year was chosen to attend the National Resources Conference at Lake Charles, Louisiana.

I sincerely believe that with my long experience as County Judge and County Attorney, my experiences in courts of France and Germany, together with my 22 years as an attorney, have qualified me to immediately assume the duties of District Judge. At 48 years, I am active both physically and mentally as many of you may have had an opportunity to observe during my campaign. I am willing to work hard to earn the job of District Judge and most certainly would be willing to work hard if elected, in an effort to provide you with an energetic and dignified court, able to rule judiciously and honestly upon each case and point of law without fear or favor, without obligation to any special group, but with equality and justice to all and special privileges to none. I believe in a stern and strict enforcement of our criminal laws,

More Facts on New Pension Law for Vets

(Last in a series of three articles)

A sliding scale of pension payments based on need is one of the most significant changes in the new pension law for World War I, World War II and Korean veterans.

At present, any World War I, II, or Korea conflict veteran if he is single and drawing a pension receives $66.15 a month unless he is 65 years of age or older, or has been on the pension rolls 10 years, in which event he draws $78.75. Those who become blind or so helpless as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person, receive $135.45 per month.

The new system is planned to relate the amount of pension paid to the need of the pensioner. Thus a veteran without dependents may receive a pension of $85 a month if his annual income is not more than $600; $70 a month if his income is above $600 but not more than $1,200; and $40 a month — if his income is more than $1,200 but not more than $1,800. If his annual income is more than $1,800 he receives nothing.

A veteran with dependents at present receives the same amount of pension the single veteran receives. His only advantage is that he may continue to draw the pension if he has an annual income as high as $2,700 whereas the single veteran cannot draw a pension if his annual income exceeds $1,400.

Under the new system a veteran with one dependent may receive $90 a month if his annual income is not more than $1,000; $75 a month if his annual income is more than $1,000 but not more than $2,000; and $45 a month if his annual income is more than $2,000 but less than $3,000. If his annual income is more than $3,000 he receives nothing.

A veteran with two dependents may receive monthly pension payments of $95, $75 and $45 in the same three income ranges noted above. A veteran with three or more dependents may receive monthly payments of $100, $75 and $45 in those income ranges.

Under the law all pensions will be increased $70 a month for veterans who require regular aid and attendance.

The VA estimates that approximately 200,000 widows and children, survivors of veterans who died after serving in World War I and the Korean conflict will become eligible for pensions after July 1, 1960, when the new system goes into effect.

They receive pensions under the present law only if they can show that the veteran had a service-connected disability when he died.

The widows and children of deceased World War I veterans do not have to prove any service-connected disability to obtain a pension.

After next July 1, survivors of World War I and Korean conflict veterans like survivors of World War I veterans will have to show only that the veteran had 90 days of wartime service (or a disability discharge), was not dishonorably discharged, and that their annual income is within the limits prescribed by law to indicate the need for a pension.

Under the new system, a childless widow will receive $80 a month if her income is not more than $600 a year; $45 a month if her annual income is more than $600 but not more than $1,200; and $25 a month if her annual income exceeds $1,200 but is not more than $1,800. Those with an income exceeding $1,800 are not eligible for pension.

A widow with one child will receive $75, $60 or $50 within income limitations. If she has more than one minor child, she will receive an extra $15 a month for each additional child. The income limitation excluding any pension is $3,000 a year.

Under the new system, orphans will be eligible for pension if their outside income is not more than $1,800 a year, not counting their own earnings. Payments will amount to $35 a month for one orphan plus $15 more for each additional child, divided equally.

If a veteran or a widow receiving a pension begins to receive additional income or acquire additional property, it must be reported to the VA promptly. A change in the number of dependents also must be reported promptly to the VA.

The new system, based on need, also reduces the pension paid to veterans while they are hospitalized or maintained by VA, although allowance is made for dependents.

All Vets on Pension Have New Plan Cards

All veterans or dependents now on VA's pension rolls in the Waco area have by this time received a card on which to choose the new pension law, P. J. Mims, manager of the Waco Regional VA office, announced today. Together with the card, the pension recipients have received a pamphlet to help them decide between the old and new laws. The new pension law goes into effect July 1, 1960. The choice should be made with care, Mr. Mims counseled, as once the provisions of the new pension law have been selected no return is allowed to provisions of the former law. Those desiring further information may get it at any VA office.

More Veterans Eligible for Pension in New Plan

Veterans who have been ineligible for pensions because their annual income was above limits prescribed by the present law, may become eligible under the new pension system effective July 1, 1960, P. J. Mims, Manager, VARO, Waco said today. The present law requires that a single veteran's income must not exceed $1,400 while a veteran with dependents may have an annual income of $2,700 and still be eligible for pension payments. Under the new law a single veteran's income limit is increased to $1,800 and a veteran with dependents may have an income up to $3,000. Complete information about the new pension system may be obtained at any VA office. First Quality Nylon Hose 3 Pair $1.99. Ladies Shop.

TEXAS LONGHORN CAVERN HAS NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM

Vacationers escape heat in Longhorn Cavern where the temperature is a comfortable 64° the year 'round. Guided tours through the world's third largest cave are always the high spot of a trip to Texas' beautiful Highland Lakes area.

Burnet, Tex. (Special) — Texas Longhorn Cavern, third largest cave in the world, has come of age as one of the state's prime tourists attractions, H. H. (Hob) Galloway, manager of the cavern, declared this week. Cavern visitors will total more than 500,000 long before the cave's 28th anniversary as a public showplace this Thanksgiving. Mr. Galloway predicted after studying attendance figures for past years. In fact, the half-millionth visitor probably will pass through the famous Sam Bass entranceway sometime in July, he said. When the cavern was first opened for public inspection by the State of Texas back on Thanksgiving Day in 1932, Thanksgiving services were held in the 183 ft long Main Room, and attended by the Governor

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide
-The Upper Room-
Read Isaiah 1:10-20 or John 14:15-21
Come now and let us reason together, saith the Lord, though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they may be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. (Isaiah 1:18)
Isaiah comes nearer approaching the Gospel standard of righteousness than any other Old Testament prophets. So true is this that he is frequently referred to as the Gospel Prophet.
There is a remarkable similarity in method of approach as well as content in the above text and many of the sayings of Jesus. In both instances religion is assumed to be most reasonable. If you can get men to stop long enough really to think through the problems of life, they will discover, as all true followers of the Lord Jesus Christ have discovered, that a real religious experience is the most satisfying thing in all the world.
The difficulty with so many professed Christians is that they fail to enter deeply enough into the experience of religion to test its value. Let us consecrate our lives wholly to the Lord Jesus Christ and daily seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit. This way leads to victorious living.
PRAYER:
Heavenly Father, may men everywhere realize the folly of placing their reliance upon material things and vision a world in which spiritual values are given their proper place. May Thy will be done and thy kingdom come. For Jesus' sake and in His blessed name, Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Sin produces indelible stains which the sacrificial blood of Jesus alone can remove.

New Pension Plan Compared to Old For Veterans

Here's a quick new-and-old pension comparison that the Veterans Administration has prepared for veterans:
Under the present pension law, a veteran's pension is either $66.15 a month, or $78.75 if he has been on the pension rolls for ten years or has reached age 65.
The one exception would be a veteran in need of regular aid and attendance; he would receive $125.45 a month.
Under the new pension law which goes into effect July 1, 1960, a veteran's monthly pension payment may vary from a low of $40 per month to a high of $100 a month. If he is in need of regular aid and attendance, it could go as high as $170 a month.
These variations in the new pension payments result from the use of a sliding income scale. The larger pension payments go to veterans earning lesser income or with more dependents. The old pension law set limits of $1,400 a year for a single veteran and $2,700 a year for veterans with dependents. Once within the income limitations, the payments were the same for all.
The new law, however, provides payments of $35 monthly to single veterans whose annual income is $600 or less; $70 monthly to single veterans whose incomes are not over $1,200, and $40 monthly to single veterans whose incomes are not over $1,800. Pensions cease after this $1,800 figure.
Veterans with dependents will also receive pensions on a sliding scale; no pension to those with incomes over $3,000 annually; regardless of the number of dependents, those with incomes between $2,000 and $3,000 will receive $45 monthly and those with incomes between $1,000 and $2,000 will receive $75 monthly. Those with an income of $1,000 or less will receive $90 with one dependent, $95 with two, and $100 with three or more dependents.
Those veterans requiring regular aid and attendance would be paid $70 a month in addition to any of those pension payments listed above.
Veterans can get more complete details at any VA office.

Lake, Granite Shoals Lake, Lake Travis and Lake Austin — along the lower Colorado River. We're getting people from every state in the union now," Mr. Galloway said, "and you'd be surprised how many Texans visit the cavern and are amazed when they see what a spectacular natural wonder it is."
"We figure it's really unusual when a Texan is amazed at something that fulfills every requirement of a Texas 'brag'!" This summer, Mr. Galloway estimates that more than 5,000 tourists and resorters a month will visit the cavern. Two miles of the cavern have been developed and a completely new lighting system has recently been installed to bring out all its natural subterranean beauty. Guides relate all of the cave's romantic legends of Indians desperadoes and buried treasure, during the hourly tours from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Visitors are filled with cavern lore and at the same time exposed to one of the world's most unusual natural phenomena.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

By C. FISHER

BY A MARGIN OF 311 to 109 the House last week approved the election year civil rights bill. I joined with 16 other Texas members in voting against the measure, while 5 Texans voted with the Northerners.

The bill is now in the Senate committee where it will remain until March 29. Then the Senators will renew their month-long debate. And there is no telling what will happen after that.

One thing you can be sure of: Four years from now on the next Presidential election year—the Congress will spend a few weeks on a Civil Rights bill. There seems to be no end to it, this wild scramble for the Negro vote. Maybe some day the people will rise up and demand that the Congress treat all Americans alike, without special laws to benefit any one group — racial, religious, or otherwise.

BOTH GUAM AND THE VIRGIN ISLANDS are now asking for representation in the U. S. Congress. Puerto Rico has for years had a Delegate to the Congress, with all rights and powers except the right to vote on bills. The other two want the same, and may get it. It is looked upon as one of those initial steps toward eventual statehood.

A bill by the same Member who sponsored statehood for Alaska and Hawaii (Mr. O'Brien of N. Y.) is pushing for Guam and the Virgin Islands, with a bill to give them representation in Congress.

In the meantime, Statehood talk in Puerto Rico is boiling. Statehood is the Number One issue in the current election campaign going on down there.

IT WILL BE RECALLED that when the Congress broke precedent to go 2,000 miles into the Pacific to admit Hawaii, not contiguous to the continent, to statehood (rather than to give it self-government under a commonwealth status), warning was given them that such would eventually lead to admission of Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands. Such admissions would have a weakening effect upon the superstructure of our Republic.

Rabbit and Hare Are Different But Important

Austin — The cottontail rabbit is very important to the balance of the animal community, and he's probably the target of more hunters than any other single animal. Texas has four species of the genus Sylvilagus, or cottontail, according to the director of wildlife restoration, Texas Game and Fish Commission.

"The biggest of the four is the swamp rabbit. The eastern and desert cottontails are smaller but very similar in color and appearance. The fourth bunny is called the marsh rabbit."

"These animals are true rabbits," reports the director. "By this, I mean they are not hares like the jack rabbit. The difference between a rabbit and a hare is that the hare has much longer legs and the structure of their digestive tracts is different. Therefore, the jack rabbit isn't really a rabbit at all, but a hare."

Another definite difference in the two is that hares are born completely covered with hair, and their eyes open. Rabbits enter the world naked and their eyes remain closed for at least a week. Since the cottontail is born hairless and with closed eyes, he's not a hare but a rabbit.

Whether hare or rabbit, the bunny plays a very important role in nature's balance. One of the most important values of the mammals, according to the director, is their role as a buffer species. They serve as food for both man and animal.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Pritchard and new baby, Mike, of Odessa, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winford Ray and other relatives.

Mrs. Joe Schwarz and Mrs. Jess Howard visited their sister, Mrs. Daphne Sheffield and their nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sheffield and daughter, in Midland last week.

H. F. FENTON JR.

Coleman County Sheriff, H. F. Fenton, Jr., would like to make the following statement:

To the good people of Coleman County, it is with sincere feeling of gratitude to the people of Coleman County for their many past courtesies and support that I am humbly submitting my candidacy for re-election to your Sheriff's office.

"In asking for the office, I am basing my candidacy upon my record of service during the past years which I have had the pleasure of serving the people of Coleman County.

I like my job and because of that I want to keep it and hope the people will see fit to permit me to serve them again. I have never made promises, and I am not going to start now. My platform has always been to enforce the law to the best of my ability, and that is what I will continue to do.

I hope to see each of you personally before May 7th, but in case I don't, I would like for you to take this as a personal solicitation for your vote and support.

To those of you who may not know, we occupy the residence quarters of the County Jail and have two small daughters, ages five and two. I sincerely hope that my conduct of the office and duties of Sheriff have been such that the people of Coleman County will feel justified in retaining me as a Public Servant.

FARM LEGISLATION FOR 60's

The vague outlines of Washington farm legislation for the 1960's is beginning to appear dimly in patterns of controversy, and a better idea of what to look for next might be gained by glancing at what has happened in the past three decades.

Each of these three decades has been marked by different and distinct attitudes in Washington toward the problems of agriculture.

Going back to the 1930's, the decade of the Great Depression, there was an economic disaster that stifled the entire economy and pushed one out of every four farmers into bankruptcy. The problem then was strictly a dearth of markets instead of excessive production, and the Washington remedy was to plow up crops, kill little pigs and put the government into the cattle-buying business.

The beginning of the 1940's saw the technological revolution in farm production coming to the front, producing what at that time appeared to be huge surpluses. But there was war and post-war recovery that took up these apparent surpluses, with high prices encouraging maximum production. Prices went up from 38 percent of parity in the 1930's to 123 percent of parity in the 1940's.

But in the 1950's the vast increase in production again developed serious surplus troubles. Eventually, in 1956, a Democratic Congress gave the Republican Secretary of Agriculture the authority to flex price supports between 75 percent and 90 percent of parity for basic crops. This was done on the theory that since high supports had encouraged excessive production, lower supports would cause farmers to reduce production.

The theory, however, has not been borne out by the facts, with total farm production continuing to set new record highs year after year.

This year, the best collective thinking of Democratic farm-minded congressmen perhaps is reflected in the "Family Farm Income Act of 1960" by Rep. Bob Poage (D-Tex.). The bill is not expected to pass this session of Congress, but it indicates what can be expected next time if the Democrats retain control in the House and Senate. It has two fundamental aims: First, to strengthen the income and security of family farms; second, to provide farmers with a variety of programs from which to choose. It is based on higher price supports with production under strict controls.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. ROLLE, D. D. Commissioner of Health

The under five and over 15 age groups are polio vaccination "soft spots" in Texas.

A recent State Health Department check of polio immunization levels in several typical Texas communities shows school age children are well protected but that vaccinations are lagging among youngsters under five and persons over 15.

Immunizations must continue without letup if the disease is ever to be really conquered," State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy says.

The record shows that persons who have not taken the series of three protective shots are 90 percent more vulnerable to paralytic polio than their neighbors who have completed the series.

Dr. Peavy's note of caution comes just in advance of the Texas polio season. According to the pattern of past years, the season is due to get underway about the middle of April.

Medical authorities agree that the most beneficial time to begin the shots is in advance of the annual rise in polio case rates.

Persons who have not yet begun the shots should start them immediately, the health commissioner emphasized. Persons now due for their third shot should take it without fail.

A booster shot a year or so after the third shot has been recommended by leading specialists. It should be administered at the discretion of the family's physician.

"Community campaigns should be aimed at known 'soft spots' — the age groups under five and over 15," Dr. Peavy stresses.

Statistics are available to show that almost twice as many cases of polio occurred in the United States during 1959 as during 1958. Health and medical officials have made it clear that the increase did not indicate a failure of the vaccine, but rather indicated a failure on the part of people to get their shots.

Of the 526 cases diagnosed in Texas last year, nine out of 10 had not had the basic three shots recommended for maximum protection. More than half of last year's victims were under five. Three-fourths of them had not had a single dose of vaccine.

"The higher the level of polio protection through vaccination in a given community, the better chance that community has of escaping a polio outbreak," Dr. Peavy asserts.

Stop Disease Before It Starts

Just a few generations ago, virtually the only disease that doctors could prevent with a drug was smallpox. Today, many maladies are almost unknown — maladies that once took countless lives. These maladies — diphtheria, typhoid, lockjaw, polio, nutritional deficiencies — have been conquered by modern drugs, which stop the diseases before they can get started. That's why we say ...

Litter Is A Fire and Highway Hazard

Litter has been variously described as a blot on the beautiful face of America, a drain on the taxpayer, a threat to health and highway safety, and a national disgrace. These are costly by-products of carelessness. And there is still another, according to Keep America Beautiful, Inc. Litter is also a fire hazard.

Quoting James C. Hullett, former president of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, K.A.B., Inc. — the national organization for the prevention of litter points out that litter and rubbish account for a substantial part of the nation's overall yearly billion-dollar fire loss. Trash accumulation in cellars, attics, alleyways and vacant lots is a fire hazard which can result in costly damage to property and even loss of life. Remains and wrappers from a picnic lunch thoughtlessly tossed on highways, or in parks, forest and recreation areas may involuntarily provide ammunition for a devastating forest fire.

While the problem of controlling trash-caused fires is tremendous (rubbish and litter were responsible for more than twice as many fires in the past ten years as in the previous decade) K.A.B. says that encouraging strides have been made and can, in many instances, be attributed to a concentrated educational program of litter prevention.

Until just a few years ago hardly anyone had ever heard of litterbags. Today a large percentage of the American public considers the portable trash container an essential piece of traveling equipment and wouldn't dream of taking off in the family car without one.

This would indicate that concern over the trash-tossing propensities of the motoring public is getting results. Many Americans are accepting an individual responsibility for maintaining the clean, attractive appearance of their highways and recreation areas, and regard the litterbag as a valuable aid to good outdoor housekeeping. Well and good. But unless everyone cooperates, highway clean-up costs will continue to be exorbitant — $50,000,000 a year for primary highways alone — litter will continue to be a fire and safety hazard, and litterbugs will continue treating the countryside as a trash heap.

Between 750 and 1,000 people are killed and nearly 100,000 seriously injured each year as a result of cars striking or swerving to avoid objects thrown on the highways, and last year rubbish caused 11,500 fires in Chicago alone.

What is a litterbag? Well you might say it's a kind of traveling wastebasket whose purpose is to save the nation's highways and byways — to say nothing of your car upholstery — from becoming nothing more than a huge garbage can.

Like everyone else there must have been times when you've wondered what to do with sticky wrappers, used tissues, the remains of a picnic lunch, or the many other articles which accumulate during the course of normal automotive travel. After a slight but quickly subdued twinge of conscience, perhaps you've surreptitiously tossed the whole mess out the window. But why abuse the conveniences modern packaging brings you? From now on resolve to use a litterbag instead. There are many varieties, from simple home-made devices to patented commercial products, and although some leaders in the anti-litter movement encourage regular use of a standard container, any kind of sturdy bag (including a plain grocery or shopping bag, box or basket) will do if nothing else is available.

The litter problem in America is a direct result of the daily thoughtlessness of millions of individuals. It will be eliminated only when these careless habits are changed, so why not resolve today to always carry a litterbag? In your car? Spread the word around to your friends and neighbors — and let's get everyone in the act!

Approximately 250,000 Americans have active tuberculosis.

Knowing Plentiful Foods Aids Meal Planning

College Station - A bit of planning ahead makes a big difference in meal preparation just as it does in other efforts.

And a wise menu planner knows the food items that are in abundant supply and available for careful selection and economy. That's one reason the U. S. Department of Agriculture prepares a monthly list of plentiful foods, says food specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

What will be plentiful in April?

Cranberry products head the list. Supplies of colorful cranberry sauce and juice are large enough to encourage wide use of this food all month, according to figures of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

That's a happy selection because cranberries go so well with all of the plentiful meats - pork, including ham or Easter broilers, fryers, and shrimp. Other high protein plentiful foods are eggs, milk and dairy products and peanuts and peanut butter.

Canned blackberries, especially those from Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, also are plentiful in the Southwest. Other fruits in good supply include canned freestone peaches, raisins and fresh dates.

Carrots, rice, almonds, filberts and lard complete the April list for Texas.

These are the foods that pave the way for hearty springtime eating in the weeks ahead. The supply of each is expected to exceed normal demand.

A2c Lance Willis of Dress AFB, Abilene, spent the weekend with his wife, the former Lanita Bengé, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bengé.
