Minor Traffic Accident Mars Local Weekend

A minor traffic accident just east of the railroad crossing in the east part of town Monday afternoon was the only thing to mar the past weekend, so far as traffic was concerned. The accident happened about 1:45 p. m.

Lonnie M. Boatright of Austin, driving a 1960 International Truck, apparently whipped across the center strip of the highway and sideswiped a 1954 Chevrolet, driven by Mrs. Gladys E. Lynch of Brownwood. Damage to the truck was light, but the car damage was estimated at about $300.

The accident was investigated by the Sheriff's Department. Charges of driving on the wrong side of the road were filed against Boatright.

The Sheriff's Department has apparently cleared up two local robberies during the past few days. Carl L. Cleary of Brownwood, now in the Brown County Jail on several charges, has given a statement admitting the robbery of the Clover Grill in early November.

Another statement was received recently by the Sheriff's Department, stating that a Robert Allan of San Angelo had admitted stealing the Carl Aubrey car in September, and taking it to the State of Oregon, where it was stripped. Allan made the statement in the San Diego County, California, jail.

43 Cases Handled In J. P. Court During December

Justice of the Peace W. Earl Irick Sr., reports a total of 43 cases were completed through his court during the month of December. Total fines collected amounted to $809.40.

Most of the cases handled were for traffic violations, with the most of the violations being speeding. A total of 29 cases were settled for speeding, with the top speed charged against a person being 80 miles per hour. Other cases were: 3 for driving on wrong side of road while not passing; 2 for affray; 2 for no valid driver's license; 2 for loud mufflers; 1 for failure to appear on a speeding charge; 1 for no valid motor vehicle inspection sticker being on the vehicle; 1 for no brakes on a truck-trailer combination; 1 for being loaded over registered weight; and 1 for being drunk.

Judge Irick said a total of $123.75 of the above fines went to the County Road and Bridge Fund, with the remainder going to the officers salary fund of the county.

In recent weeks it has come to our attention that some folks have the idea the Justice of the Peace collects a percentage of the total of fines for his personal use. This is not so. The Justice of the Peace in Coleman County has been on a straight salary for the past several years, regardless of the number of cases handled through his court.

A. B. Carrolls Move to East Texas

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carroll of the Shields Community, moved this week to their former home at Tennessee Colony, near Palestine, Texas. They have been residents of the Shields Community since 1924. It is a considerable loss to the community and county.

Mr. Carroll lost his right hand in an accident a few years ago, and since that time has been attempting to carry on his farming and ranching operations. His doctors advised him he must reduce his work load in order for him to retain his health.

Mr. Carroll said he had given it considerable thought before making this move, and considered this the best thing to do. He sold his property here and purchased a smaller place in his former home community.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll were both born in the Tennessee Colony community, and during the time lived at Shields have visited back there several times each year. They both have a number of relatives there.

The News joins others in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Carroll the best of health and wealth in their new home. We will miss them considerably. His leadership in the community will be long remembered and hard to replace.

Visitors with Mrs. Zuda Henderson during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Garrett of Lubbock; Mrs. Lois Nickols; Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Nickols; and J. E. Oldman of Breckenridge and Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Waller of Albany.

A Tree, Symbol of Community Unity And Fellowship

By Mrs. John Hunter Rockwood Correspondent.
It was just a small cedar tree — rather an ordinary little tree. Joe Wise brought it from the deer lease at Junction for his wife, who was on the arrangements committee for the WMS, Baptist Christmas party. When it was placed on a table at the Rockwood Community Center, beautifully decorated with tinsel, colored balls, electric lights, it became a symmetrical Christmas tree a symbol of fellowship and unity.

For the Home Demonstration Christmas Party the same tree was in place of honor, surrounded by gifts. The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church entertained with a Christmas Party, the same tree with the star on top was surrounded by gifts.

The Lee McMillan family had a Christmas dinner at the Community Center, with the same tree in place. The tree was then moved to the Baptist Church for the church Christmas tree.

Again back in place of honor at the Community Center, the John Hunters had a family dinner on Saturday, Christmas Eve, with the same symbol of fellowship and love. Saturday evening the A. L. King family exchanged gifts, with the same colored lights and fresh looking tree. They had supper and sang Christmas Carols.

It is the little five foot cedar tree that is the symbol of community fellowship and unity in Rockwood.

Singing To Be Held Sunday

The regular Second Sunday Singing will be held at the Assembly of God Church Sunday, January 8, from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m.

Everyone is invited to attend the singing.

Southern District Scouters to Map Plans for Year

The first planning meeting for setting up the program of Scouting in the Southern District of the Chisholm Trail Council will be held at the School in Eula, Tuesday, January 10th beginning at 7:00 p. m.

Jimmie Randolph of Winters will preside at the District Committee meeting at which such activities as a First Aid Meet, Rifle Meet, Archery Meet, Boy Scout Week Anniversary celebration, Circus, Cub Scout Olympics, Summer Camp, Dad and Lad overnight, Swim Meet, Round Up, Camporee, Dad and Son Banquet and various other activities to carry out the slogan of the Boy Scouts of America for 1961 which is, "Strengthen America", "Help Keep America Strong."

Harold Prater of Coleman, District Commissioner aided by assistant commissioners will conduct the three phases of unit leaders Roundtable for Cubmasters, Den Mothers, Scoutmasters and Explorer Advisors. Travis Bohannon of Coleman, Camping and Activities Chairman will oversee meetings of the Order of Arrow Chapter headed by Collier Randolph of Winters and the Explorer Cabinet, Chairman by Bob Garrett of Coleman.

The record in the Southern District for the Jubilee year 1960 is a thrilling story of accomplishment.

The membership reached an all time high with 674 boys in 37 Units. The goal of each member of the District in 1961 is to bring one new boy into the program.

Holiday guests with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Aldridge and Van were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Aldridge, Debra, Duane and Belinda, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Aldridge and Vaden, all of Kermit; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wright and Caria of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Chick Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Riley and Tommie of Irving.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Aldridge and Van enjoyed New Year's dinner with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Rose, near Lawn. More than 50 people were present for the occasion.

America's Banks Paid Tribute By Treasury Dept.

The Treasury today paid tribute to the bankers of America for their 20 years of volunteer service to the United States Savings Bonds Program.

Since May 1941, the nation's banks have been the principal issuing agents for more than two billion Series E Savings Bonds bought by millions of citizens, many of whom saved their first money through bonds. In the salute to the banking profession, the Treasury statement said:

"America's banks have sold nearly two million separate Savings Bonds since 1941, at no cost to the Government or the purchasers. The Bond program and the banking business have grown together. Hand in hand, they've helped make Americans the savigest people in the world."

In responding to the salute, Carl A. Brinson, President of the Valley National Bank of Phoenix, Arizona, and President of the American Bankers Association said:

"America's banks are proud to be part of the Bond program. We believe it is good for America, an economic stabilizer; it is good for the individual, the community, and it is good for banking. The promotion of Savings Bonds has helped to make savers out of non-savers, to revitalize the American tradition of thrift, and to build savings in all forms to record levels.

"The American Bankers Association congratulates the Nation on the 20-year success story of the U. S. Savings Bonds program, and pledges its vigorous continued support."

The bank salute appears as a public service newspaper ad of the Treasury, and is the first in a series of 20th anniversary tributes to volunteer groups which have aided the bond program since 1941. The ad also gives recognition to the newspaper industry for its 20-year service record of advertising support.

57th Legislature May Increase Teachers Salaries

Austin — Texas is not even average in the amount it spends on public schools, and the Texas State Teachers Association fully expects that the 57th Legislature will do something about it.

And Texas still will fall below average in education expenditures even if the 57th Legislature enacts the full TSTA-Hale-Aikin school program, the association's president pointed out.

Latest national figures show Texas in 35th place among the states in the average spent per child and 34th in average teacher salary.

"Only prompt and decisive action by the Legislature can stem the steady decline in Texas' position," explained TSTA Pres. D. Richard Bowles.

TSTA, relying on what the public said it wanted for schools in the Hale-Aikin study more than two years ago, is calling for school improvements estimated to cost $8 million yearly in State funds.

Major items in the TSTA program are increases in teacher pay, school bus allowances, and maintenance and operation aid. Several other items are included also.

This year Texas will spend an average of $330 per child in average daily attendance at school, $60 per child below the national average of $390, Bowles noted.

The TSTA program would add $42.50 per child more, bringing the Texas expenditure up to $372.50 per child, still below the national average.

The governor's finance advisory commission's recommendations would increase expenditures by only $13.50 per child up to $343.50, leaving Texas far behind the effort of other states.

Average pay for Texas teachers ranked 19th in 1950, just after enactment of the Gilmer-Aikin Minimum Foundation Program, Bowles said. Now, ten years later, Texas ranks 34th, $725 below the national average.

Just five years ago, in 1955-56, Texas had dropped to 22nd position in average salary. The next year it was 24th. In 1958-59 Texas had slipped to 28th, and last year fell off to 32nd place. Now it has skidded still further to

County Goes Over Quota on Savings Bonds

Savings Bonds sales in Coleman County were $50,873 during November. Purchases for the first eleven months of 1960 totaled $492,089 or 104.7 percent of the yearly goal, Mr. Robert I. Bowen Jr., Chairman of the Coleman County Savings Bonds Committee said today.

E and H 1960 sales in Texas amounted to $139,283,903. This represents 84.2 percent of the Texas 1960 goal of $165.5 million.

According to Mr. William H. Neal, National Director of the Treasury Bond Program, "November marked the eleventh consecutive month in which Savings Bonds Program has shown growth. We are especially encouraged by the continued downward growth in redemptions, a major factor contributing to this sustained growth," Neal concluded.

March of Dimes Drive Begins

The annual March of Dimes drive got underway throughout the nation Tuesday of this week. The drive will continue through January.

In all probability, about the same kind of drive will be made in Santa Anna that has been made in the past. Sometime this week coin containers will be placed in most of the local business establishments. The Delta Omicron Sorority has been requested to sponsor their annual Mother's March, which will be considered at their regular meeting Monday night. The group has also been requested to sponsor the "Snatch Coffee" they have sponsored the past several years.

Also the National Guard has been requested to hold a Traffic Blockade sometime during the latter part of the month. However, this may not develop. We will know more about all three proposals by publication time next week.

The need for funds for the March of Dimes is still just as great as it has ever been. Actually polio has been just about wiped out, but research continues in an effort to find a better vaccine that will completely eliminate the crippling disease. The National Foundation has added birth defects and arthritis to their program for research and treatment, and it has received considerable interest during the past several months.

Everyone is urged to contribute to the March of Dimes. You may do so by leaving your contributions at The News office or at the Santa Anna National Bank, deposited to the March of Dimes Fund.

It is hoped that around $700 can be raised in the Santa Anna area this year. Your help and cooperation will be urgently needed. The contributions of dimes, quarters, and dollars will be needed to reach this goal.

TSTA is asking that the State minimum salary schedule, now at $3,204, be raised to $4,014. This would put Texas at about the present average, but other State legislatures are meeting this year and no doubt will make further strides ahead of Texas.

All surrounding states except Arkansas are above Texas in average pay, leaving this state vulnerable to "raiding" from its neighbors.

"This story of erosion in the teacher salary scale necessarily is reflected in the classroom," declared the TSTA president.

"Thousands of bright young people educated in Texas-supported schools either choose more remunerative work over teaching, or they go to some other states which offer them more of the coin of the realm," Bowles said.

"This is something to concern every citizen in Texas — not just teachers," Bowles declared.

Mrs. E. L. Craig is in Lubbock getting acquainted with a new granddaughter.

Stapling machines at the News Office.

With this issue of The News, we enter its 75th year of public service to the Santa Anna area. The News was established the first week in January, 1886, and has continued the policy of bringing news and advertising of local interest into most of the homes of this area. This will continue to be the policy of The News.

So far as we know, there has never been a publication missed. We have a file of every copy that has been published since 1919 and no publication has been missed during that time. Records in years before 1919 were destroyed so we have very little history previous to that time.

The News has been under the ownership of the Greg family since early in 1920. It has been leased to persons outside the family on two occasions, but never for more than a period of two or three years. It has been under its present management since February, 1946.

There are a number of citizens in this area who are familiar with bits of the early day history of The News, that is previous to the year 1919. We would like for these oldtimers to not down their memories of the early history and submit it to us for publication. We know there are many interesting events of the early days that can be related by some of our early day citizens. We will publish these articles as they are submitted to us.

During the course of this year we plan to go back through our early files and recount some of the happenings that made news in those days. We will begin this as soon as time permits. We have been looking forward to this anniversary for the past several weeks, and had considered publishing anniversary edition sometime in the summer months. However, we do not know that we will do this. It takes a lot of extra work for special editions, and our meager force is just about worked to capacity now.

Our principal interest at the beginning of the anniversary is to get as many stories of the early days of The News as possible. We hope you will cooperate with us, and submit your historical items for publication.

Fire Department Captains Select Teams for 1961

Newly elected officers of the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department met recently in a special meeting for the purpose of selecting the drill teams for the new year, and discussing objectives for the year.

Officers from 1960 met with the 1961 officers. 1960 officers were: Chief, Bill Griffin; Assistant Chief, Edd Hartman; President, Leland Thompson; Captains: E. J. Clark and John Naron; Secretary, Milton House. 1961 officers are: Chief, Hartman; Assistant Chief, Clark; President, Lee Ray Huggins; Captains, Freddie Dodson and Naron; and Secretary, House L. J. Clark has served both years as Fire Marshal.

Drill teams for 1961 are: Naron's Team, Lee Ray Huggins, L. J. Clark, C. R. Owen, Milton House, C. W. Stephenson, Kenneth Bowker, Pat Patterson, M. L. Guthrie Jr., A. D. Pettit, Ben P. Vinson and Byron Gilbreath. Dodson's Team, Leland Thompson, James T. Dockery, Edd Hartman, I. M. Guthrie, Bill Griffin, Ray Swindell, Doug Moore, Billy Bob Jackson, Cliff Herndon and George Johnson.

Some of the objectives set up for 1961 includes the further lowering of the fire insurance rates and sending at least three members of the department to the Firemen's Training School at A & M College in the Spring. Also the newspaper is to be used as a means of informing the public of different fire hazards and methods of disposing of them.

Residents of the area are invited to meet with the fire department on any First or Third Monday nights to discuss fire hazards.

Members of the Santa Anna Fire Department wish to express their appreciation to the many people who contributed to their Christmas Cheer Fund. The program was a great success and your contributions made it possible.

Latvian Evangelist To Speak Here Three Times

Charles W. Singer, Latvian Evangelist, will speak to at least three groups in Santa Anna next week. There is a possibility he may speak to other groups while here. He was born in Piltene, Latvia (Europe). A son of peasants who were members of the Lutheran Church, his father persecuted him and turned him out of his home when he was saved and joined the Baptist Church at the age of 16. At the age of 21 he dedicated his life to full time ministry of the gospel.

He has been in the United States since 1949, except for two missionary trips back to Europe. Before he came to America, he and his family were subjected to Soviet Communist oppression for a number of years just before World War II, then during the war his family was subjected to the Nazi regime for 3 1/2 years.

He tells of many of his experiences in the countries under communism, and of his work through the world.

He will speak Sunday evening, Jan. 8, at the First Baptist Church, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Monday morning at 3:30 a. m. he will speak to the student body in the high school auditorium. Tuesday evening at 7:00 p. m. he will again speak in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church, sponsored by the Baptist Brotherhood. All the speaking engagements are open to the public, and the entire citizenship of this area is invited to hear at least one of his talks. He will also likely speak to the Lions Club at noon on Tuesday.

Any other organization who would like for him to speak to their group during his stay here is invited to contact Rev. Raymond Jones at the First Baptist Church. He can possibly arrange for the speaking engagement.

CORRECTION

In the publication of the all-district teams for District 10-A last week, two names were accidentally overlooked. Tommy Stewardson was one of three picked at the end positions on the second team and Harold Walker was one of the four backfield men picked for the second team. We are happy to make this correction.

Cancer Organization To Meet Jan. 5th

Curtis Smith of San Angelo, public relations representative for the Cancer organization, will meet with the local group in the Community Room of the Santa Anna National Bank at 7:00 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 5.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans and needs for the county. Every one interested in the Cancer Control Program is urged to be present.

Mrs. Eva Conley and granddaughter, Sherry Conley and a friend, Brenda McClain, of Temple, returned home Wednesday, after a visit here with friends and relatives.

State Capital NEWS

Austin — Forecasters are fond of saying, "That which is going to happen has already begun."

If so, the first year of the new decade, 1960, was strewn with weathervanes to point the course of Texas in the next nine years. Among major Texas events in the opening year of the sixties were these:

PARTY PRIMARIES were held in May and June, two months earlier. New dates ended old traditions, like announcing with the dogwood, campaigning in the heat. For the first time in years, challengers topped two incumbents from statewide office, a fact that's bound to encourage future activity from young men "waiting in the wings."

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS, though temptuous as always were held in control by the joint leadership of Gov. Price Daniel and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. Johnson won near-unanimous backing for his presidential bid at the June state convention, an event which marked the end of the left-wing DOT. After the national convention in July dissension arose in the other wing. Many conservative Democrats bucked at supporting Standard-bearer John Kennedy and the liberal national platform. Enough became "Texans for Nixon" to make Texas a "doubtful state." Scars and divisions of 1960 will inevitably be reopened when Texas Democrats get together again in '62 and '64.

1960 CENSUS reports confirmed predictions that Texas will be a metropolitan state in the sixties. Overall, population grew from 7,711,194 in 1950 to 9,579,677. Sixty percent of the increase was in the four largest cities. In addition, in every growth area, cities increased their populations at the expense of surrounding rural counties. This did not alter the state total, but changed the make-up of population — now 70 percent urban, 30 percent rural. Result will be a strong push for more urban representation in the legislature, more state-level sympathy for city problems.

STATE FINANCE PROBLEMS never were out of the news, as both public officials and private citizens circled the issue that will come to a boil in this year's legislative session. State Finance Advisory Commission, appointed by Governor Daniel in May, worked through the summer and fall. In December it recommended a one percent payroll tax to raise the more than $100,000,000 a year the state is expected to need in new money. Meanwhile, meetings were held by practically everybody — teachers, labor and business groups, all with a vital interest in future taxing and spending decisions.

AUTO INSURANCE RATES, under a new merit rating plan, have for good or ill stirred more commotion than a back-firing Model-T at a horse auction. Last Legislature turned down flexible rating and instructed Board of Insurance to consider safety incentives and driving records in setting statewide rates. Result was a plan, begun last January 1, basing auto insurance rates on the driver's arrest record for past three years, including traffic tickets as well as accidents. Drivers whose rates jumped because of minor violations were irate. Those with spotless records got lower rates and were generally happier. A number of lawmakers have promised to look into the matter thoroughly this year.

GAS TAX SUIT, begun in early 1960, probably will be in the courts another year. In the past year, gas pipeline companies won rulings that the severance beneficiary tax is unconstitutional in district court and the Court of Civil Appeals. In months ahead, the case will go to the Texas Supreme Court and U. S. Supreme Court. If the tax is upheld, future efforts to raise the rate are certain. If, as in the case of the gas gathering tax in 1953, it is held unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court, it is unlikely that even the most ardent gas tax advocates will try again to raise revenue by this route.

FACE FOR SPEAKER of the House, as tight and uncertain as in 1959, brought renewed suggestions that "there ought to be a better way." Whether Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen or Rep. James Turman of Gober wins the secret ballot of House members on January 10, it will be several weeks before either can get committees organized and ready for business. To add to the confusion, prospective candidates for Speaker in 1963 already are jockeying for position. Some have suggested a constitutional amendment to permit representatives-elect to meet and elect a presiding officer a month or so before the session's actual opening. Another proposal is to let the people decide by making the post an elective one the same as in the Senate. Advantage besides letting the voters have a choice is the fact that the decision would be reached in November and House could go to work immediately on the opening day of the session. Also it would eliminate all of the bitterness that is created under the present system.

TOURIST AND NEW INDUSTRY promotion got under way in 1960, despite penny-ante budgets. Highway Department brought out its first tourists' brochure, a 32-page booklet in four colors. This year it will ask the Legislature for $300,000 to place advertisements in national publications. Texas Industrial Commission also produced a brochure, but says it cannot compete with other states on a $23,750 a year budget. It will ask the Legislature for $420,000 a year. Both the tourist and industry seeking agencies contend that Texas cannot achieve its growth potential in the sixties unless it goes in with six-figure budget-comparable to those of competing states.

TEXAS TIDELANDS ownership, a paramount issue in the forties and fifties, finally was laid to rest in June, 1960. U. S. Supreme Court, to the surprise of many, ruled that Texas owns the submerged lands 10½ miles out into the Gulf. If the land is as oil-rich as hoped and if there is a market for the oil, tidelands revenue will augment the per-

About Your Health

Texas will begin the new year with 63 "packaged" hospitals on hand, ready for almost instant use following enemy action or a major natural disaster. Ninety percent of them are located at least 15 miles from assumed strategic target areas.

Outgrowths of the mobile army hospitals developed and tested during the Korean War, they can be completely installed by 40 or 50 people in four or five hours. In one test exercise an installation was made in an hour and 40 minutes by experienced personnel.

The hospitals, costing $21,000 apiece, were provided by the federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization as part of a nationwide stockpile program. They are administered in Texas by the state Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, with technical cooperation from the Texas State Department of Health.

Local civil defense organizations in designated locations provide storage and otherwise manage the hospitals and their equipment.

Besides the 63 units on hand, 11 others have been allocated to Texas for future delivery. The hospitals are designed to be set up in existing buildings.

Each hospital — already crated for shipment into stricken areas as may be needed, is a complete 200-bed affair with facilities for three operating rooms, a pharmacy, x-ray service, clinical laboratory, sterilizing room, central supply room, and electrical power supply.

Each unit weighs 24,000 pounds and contains 8,000 individual pieces of equipment including a 1,500-gallon water tank and pump for emergency water supplies. There are also manent school fund in the years ahead.

SENATOR JOHNSON'S ELECTION as vice president opened the door for more lively politicking in 1961 to decide his Senate successor. Field is already crowded with the likelihood of a dozen candidates before the filing deadline passes. Conceivably, someone who already holds an office could be elected, setting off a chain reaction of moves up the political ladder.

FARM PRODUCTION HIGH Texas farm production in 1960 tied with 1958 for the second highest year in history, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Total production was 138 percent of the 1946-1956 average. Combined value of the principal crops was $1,400,000,000. This was three percent less than last year, largely because of drops in cotton and sorghum grain prices.

Cotton is still the leading crop. Texas farmers produced 4,350,000 bales in 1960 for an income of $711,000,000. Improved conditions and methods were reflected in the 329 pound average yield per acre, up 79 pounds per acre from the 1958-59 average.

Living in Shadowland?

Some people never see clearly, brightly. It's as though they lived in a continual shadow.

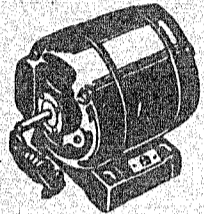

The four great "shadows" that impair human seeing are nearsightedness, farsightedness, astigmatism, and double vision.

So unnecessary, too—because these defects can nearly always be overcome by a good eyesight examination and a pair of prescription glasses. It's easy to come out of the shadow!

Entries in Fort Worth Show Soars To New Records

Cattle, sheep and swine entries in the 1961 Fort Worth Stock Show have soared past last year's figure by 624 head, totaling a hefty 5,394 animals so far set to compete in the Jan. 27-Feb. 5 exposition, assistant manager and livestock superintendent W. A. (Bill) King has announced.

Still to come are approximately 1,500 entries expected in the horse division, entry deadline Jan. 5. An unusually large entry list is forecast in the poultry department, with the National Bantam Meet as a top attraction. Entry deadline for poultry, turkeys, pigeons and rabbits is Jan. 15. The entry total for all divisions is expected to exceed 9,000.

King said new pens being constructed near the bull barn on the Stock Show grounds will be completed before start of the exposition, ready to accommodate up to 900 feeder steers. The feeder steer competition was the exposition's biggest cattle class in its Fort Worth debut last year, and holds its lead this year with an increase of 90 entries for a 450 total.

The lamb class in the junior livestock show marked up the biggest numerical increase, up 260 to a total of 655 entries. Biggest percentage increase was chalked up in the Red Angus class, which almost doubled its 1960 figure in rising from 44 to 84 entries.

Almost all beef cattle classes show an increase over 1960, including rises to 361 in Herefords and 288 in Angus. The junior livestock show is up in every class, with particularly sharp increases in steer and barrow entries.

Striped Bass Introduced in Diversion Lake

Austin — California striped bass have been introduced to Texas waters as an experiment in providing additional fishing potentials for State fishermen, according to Marion Toole, director of inland fisheries of the Game and Fish Commission.

The fish were planted in Lake Diversion, near Wichita Falls, last week. There were approximately 800 of the stripes, flown in from California. They are about four inches long.

The stripes were provided by the California Fish and Game Commission without cost to Texas. They were flown in from the Sacramento delta, where they had been acclimated in fresh water before their trip to Texas.

The striped was introduced to the West Coast in the late 1180's, from the Atlantic Coast. They have done exceptionally well there in the salt water.

Stripers also have been planted in other fresh water impoundments in the United States. They are very similar in appearance to the white bass, which now is so numerous in southern waters. Because of that, strict regulations will be enforced at Lake Diversion to prevent their being taken from the lake before they have had an opportunity to grow and a study made of their reproduction.

The stripers are tackle busters, reaching 75 or more pounds in weight.

TB Can Be Eradicated from This Country

We can eradicate TB from this country once and for all — if we act now. We know what we have to do — find all the people ill with TB and get them treated.

"It's now or never," Dr. Hane Dubos, of New York's Rockefeller Institute, said at a press conference. "Conditions are at present favorable for the bold and decisive action that could virtually wipe out tuberculosis in this country because the general health of the nation is very good. But we can expect that more and more bacterial resistance to anti-tuberculosis drugs will develop. In twenty years it may be too late."

And that's the problem, the reason for the rush. Drugs that fight disease when they're first used sometimes fail to work after a while because the germs develop defensive tactics. If that happens with the TB germ before the thousands of people with active disease are found and treated, we shall have lost our best opportunity to wipe out this dread disease.

You can do your part. Get a tuberculin skin test to find out if any TB germs are present and, if the test is positive, get a chest X-ray to find out if the germs are doing any lung damage.

TEXAS CORN ACREAGE DOWN

The decline in Texas corn acreage continues from year to year while the upsurge in grain sorghum production goes on apace.

In 1959, the latest year for which full figures are available, corn was cultivated on 1,526,000 Texas acres, yielding about 42,728,000 bushels with a value of $47,438,000. This compared with more than 7,500,000 acres in grain sorghum.

But back in 1903, 5,816,146 acres in Texas produced 140,750,733 bushels of corn with a value of $67,560,852. The average corn crop for the period from 1937 to 1946 was 70,422,000 bushels from 4,392,000 acres.

The decline in corn acreage is largely a result of greatly expanded grain sorghum production, which has been found to be more adaptable generally to Texas soil and climate conditions. Besides this, many small East Texas farms are being placed in pasture. It used to be that corn acreage was second only to that of cotton. Now it ranks fourth in Texas, being exceeded by grain sorghum, cotton and wheat, in that order.

Most Texas corn production is in Central and East Texas, or east of the 30-inch rainfall belt. Some corn is grown in certain areas of West Texas, but low rainfall and heat during the growing season make corn production somewhat hazy.

At the same time, the average yield of corn in Texas is on the increase. Where Texas farmers harvested an average of 15 to 22 bushels per acre for many years prior to the 1950's, their average yield in 1959 was about 28 bushels, highest on record.

The average Texas yield is well below the national average of about 40 bushels per acre because of insufficient moisture during the growing season over the great part of the producing area. Then, too, there are the high temperatures and hot, dry winds usually encountered in Texas from the middle of July through the remainder of the summer.

Some 25 insects have been found to be especially troublesome in corn production. Among the more serious are earworms, chinch bugs, cutworms, army worms, grasshoppers, corn borers, white grubs, rootworms, wireworms, root aphids, webworms, flea beetles and weevils that attack stored corn. Among the more important factors in reducing insect damage to corn is the choice of well-adapted hybrids for planting.

On most types of soil, corn generally is planted in some kind of rotation with other crops.

WATCH FOR US

We Watch For You

(The following was prepared and distributed by the Safety Department of the Santa Fe Railway. It is interesting and carries a timely message to all who drive vehicles — either just right here at home or for many miles throughout the year. We urge you to read it — then heed the message presented. Editor's note.)

WATCH FOR US...

WE WATCH FOR YOU!

We are the sleek, silvery passenger train carrying happy people to far-away places. We are big, strong, and swift as well, and may not be able to stop in time should you not look or heed our coming, or race across the track closely in front of us.

WATCH FOR US...

WE WATCH FOR YOU!

We are the big brother of the silvery steamliner — the freight train. We also are big, strong and heavy too. We may be passing over any railroad crossing at any minute all through the night and day as we carry the commerce of our nation to the far corners of America and beyond — for we are part of the assembly line of industry transporting materials, food, finished and unfinished products to destinations everywhere — bringing with us the thousand and one items that people and industry need to keep America strong. WATCH FOR US! — for should we meet, as we sometimes do, in split second timing on a railroad crossing — you suffer — we suffer — the nation suffers. Please —

WATCH FOR US...

WE WATCH FOR YOU!

At rail highway intersections the driver who may forget how big and strong we are — how swiftly we approach with headlight aglow — whistle sounding — bell ringing — warning signs and signals crying out — WATCH FOR US! Please stop in time Mr. Driver so that we may pass you safely. WATCH FOR US Mr. Automobile Driver — We watch for you! Mr. School Bus Driver. We watch for you — for you carry our children back and forth daily across railroad tracks all over America. Yes indeed, we watch for you, because you transport the most precious cargo of all — our children. America's future rides with you Mr. School Bus Driver — please, oh please.

WATCH FOR US...

WE WATCH FOR YOU!

Mr. Truck Driver, we watch for you, often with cold fear coursing through our veins as we watch your heavy truck approach and realize, as you must, that should we meet on the crossing, death may ride with us all — you, me, and all the rest — your crew and mine, the passengers we carry and others too.

We watch for you! — the children big or small who think it fun to play games on railroad tracks, its trestles, bridges, and cars. Yes, we watch for you! — the children who may not know that railroad yards hold hidden dangers for those of tender years. We watch for you! — and worry when you innocently take a chance and play or trespass on railroad property, or take a short-cut through a railroad yard to save a minute and may have all eternity to regret your thoughtless act. Please WATCH FOR US and choose a safer path or playground.

WATCH FOR US...

WE WATCH FOR YOU!

We watch for you! — every moment of the day and night, for we are the railroad men who operate and man the trains all over America.

Yes, we watch for you — all who drive upon the highways of the nation and cross our tracks in your travels. We watch for you — frequently with alarm at your thoughtlessness — your seeming indifference to your own safety and ours — often with pity for you and yours when we see the tragic results of your thoughtless acts — at times with fear and apprehension as we realize our life — yours, and others too, is in your hands as you approach railroad crossings all over the nation.

WATCH FOR US! — We watch for you! — for we are brothers in safety and by watching together we all may live and not die by accident at the next railroad crossing.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Well, it's that time of year again. Internal Revenue says the sooner you send that tax return in the better. Taxpayers don't always buy this, but 700,000 Dallas District taxpayers get a refund. Internal Revenue generally gets the refund checks first to the folks who file early. If you have a refund coming, you should file as soon as possible after you get your form W-2.

Read Acts 12:5-11.
Peter therefore was kept in prison; but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him. (Acts 12:5.)

When Herod imprisoned Peter, the church prayed without ceasing unto God for him. The prison doors were opened, and Peter gained his liberty. His fear-less witnessing for Christ was used to change other lives.

In his book, Wellsprings of Immortality, Starr Daily tells of an incorrigible prisoner thought to be beyond redemption from a life of crime. But through prayer he began to examine his life and seek for a way of recovery from bondage to crime. He decided that in every situation he would do the thing that led to the most reasonable and beneficial results. He prayerfully made this choice in each situation and carried through.

His life was changed. At length he was set free from prison and became a useful citizen. Here prayer changed a life and opened prison doors.

PRAYER:
Dear Father, we thank Thee for forgiving us of the sin that once made us prisoners. We thank Thee for Jesus Christ, Thy Son, who has come into our hearts in answer to prayer and set us free and at liberty to serve Thee. Thanks be unto Thee, through Him, our Redeemer. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:
Prayer is the key by which we obtain our liberty in Christ.
— B. M. Kershner (Tennessee)

Five January Plentiful Foods Listed for Texas

College Station — Broiler-fryers, cranberries, onions, cabbage and canned ripe olives — those are the food items expected to be in plentiful supply this January, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The plentiful foods list of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is compiled each month by the Agricultural Marketing Service and the food trade on the basis of anticipated availability in each state. Specific foods are eligible for listing if supply exceeds normal demand.

Consumers usually find it wise to serve plentiful foods often, as farmers, wholesalers and local stores cooperate in "moving" the abundance by intensive promotions and weekend specials.

Tender broiler-fryers are the only meat on the January list. Marketings this month are expected to run about 12 percent more than a year ago.

Both fresh and processed cranberries will be plentiful, as the record-large 1960 harvest holds up well even after increased holiday purchases.

Onions and cabbage are among the most versatile vegetables for delicious and economical dishes. Onions from ample storage stocks are of high quality. Increased cabbage shipments result from larger winter-month acreages.

Canned ripe olives from California are in near-record supply for appetizers, salads, meat stuffings, sauces, gravies and for accent in many dishes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Phillips of Hereford visited Dec. 15-21 with her sister and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Neely Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson of Santa Anna and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dean of Bangs, and other relatives here and in Brownwood.

THE AMERICAN WAY

What Nonsense!

Recipients of Pensions Urged to Report Income

Approximately 49,970 disabled veterans and dependents of some 26,133 deceased veterans in Texas who receive monthly pension payments, are being reminded by the Veterans Administration to report their annual income promptly and avoid the risk of having their payments stopped.

P. J. Mims of the VA Regional Office at Waco said that VA is now mailing to all pension recipients a tabulating card upon which the income report may be made. Pensions cease under the old pension law if the income of a single individual exceeds $1,400 or $2,700 if the recipient has dependents.

Under the new law, Mims pointed out, pensions will cease if the income of a single individual exceeds $1,800, or $3,000 if the recipient has dependents. The amount of pension may be reduced if the recipient's annual income rises from one of the lower brackets — $600 and $1,200 for a single veteran or widow without dependents, and $1,000 and $2,000 for a veteran or widow with dependents. Dependent parents who receive dependency and indemnity compensation also receive income questionnaires and their payments are similarly regulated by the amount of their income, Mims added. Regulations require payment to be stopped if the income report is not returned to the VA within 30 days.

No income questionnaire, is sent to veterans or widows who are receiving service-connected benefits.

Egg Outlook Favorable for Producers, Consumers

College Station — Supply and demand are still the major determining factors in egg prices. Until recently, points out F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, the high and low point in egg supply has covered about three years. But, he adds, with the continued growth of large commercial shell egg production, supply has become more uniform throughout the year and the length of the cycle definitely influenced.

This latter situation insures consumers of a uniform supply of high quality eggs and has lessened the need for large storage stocks for use during periods of low production. Beanblossom says there will be fewer layers on the farms of the nation during the first half of 1961 compared with the same period in 1960. Because of the reduced number of hens, production also is likely to be lower. This smaller output is expected to influence prices and also the size of the hatch for replacement pullets. But, by the last quarter of 1961, the number of layers on farms is expected to exceed the number for 1960.

The specialist says the demand for eggs in 1961 should remain near the 1960 level because personal incomes are expected to continue high and the price of eggs relatively low compared with other foods. The number of consumers will increase about 2 percent during the year but the continuing decline in per capita consumption of eggs will more than offset this increase, he believes. He sees relatively favorable egg prices for producers during the first quarter of 1961 with a likely slight downward trend starting after April compared with 1960. Larger production during the last half of 1961 will also be a market influence.

Beanblossom suggests that producers deliver eggs which will give buyers maximum satisfaction; that they shoot for deliveries of more than 90 percent Grade A quality or better; that they market eggs which meet consumer demands and reduce to a minimum the number of cracked and broken eggs. Handling losses, he adds, runs into millions of dollars annually.

Number of Older People Increases

College Station — Texas' population now includes more than half a million persons over 65 years of age. This, according to Reagan Brown, extension rural sociologist, represents about 7 percent of the total population or about 1 out of 11. The ratio is even higher in rural areas, he adds.

The sociologist says the increase has caused leaders in many towns and rural communities to take a longer look at the situation. Interest is growing in programs aimed at helping these senior citizens. Brown points out that research studies have and are furnishing valuable information for planning work.

The older persons prefer to live as independently as possible and in familiar surroundings among their friends and associates. They like to be near married or grandchildren but live to themselves. Elderly persons like to be where they can watch adults work and children play instead of with aged people only.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams visited his mother and other relatives in Brownwood Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Goodjion and family of Denison, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Goodjion Friday and Saturday of last week.

Rev. and Mrs. James L. Rogers and children visited in Nederland and Fort Arthur during the Christmas holidays, with their relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson had all their children and grandchildren at home for the Christmas holidays. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pruitt, Kenneth and Sheryl of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stephenson Jr., Gary and Barbara of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scarbrough, Carol Ann and Charlie of Claremore, Okla. Other visitors during the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Stacy and Jane of Stephenville; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Richardson, Kathy and Sharon of Abilene; Mrs. Geo. Capt. and Mrs. Hal Everett of Cherry Point, N. C., entertained their holiday house guests with a reception in their home Friday, Dec. 23. Among the guests were Mrs. Frances Everett of Santa Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Everett and daughter, Jayne, of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Everett went to Oklahoma City by bus and traveled to the east coast with the Pat Everetts, where four generations of her family were united for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. James Perry and Brenda returned to their home in Colorado Springs, Colo., recently, after a visit here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Buster Woodard. The Perry family came here with Mr. and Mrs. Woodard, after their visit in Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Dorothy Watson Host to Circle

The Nitia Daniell Circle of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday, Jan. 3, in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Watson for their regular meeting. The meeting was opened with a prayer by the chairman, Mrs. Mildred Galloway.

The devotion, "Christ Jesus Our Heritage", was given by Mrs. Martha Thompson. The program, "Looking Backward, Thinking Forward," was given by Mrs. Lillian Herndon and Mrs. Galloway.

At the beginning of the program each member was asked to recite their favorite Bible verse for scripture lesson.

The business meeting followed the program.

Refreshments of cherry pie topped with whipped cream, tea, coffee and roasted pecans were served the above and Mrs. Lucille Dean, Mrs. Margaret Crews, Mrs. Doris Harvey and Roy Joe, Mrs. Wilma Welch, Mrs. Hattie Scarborough, Mrs. Eva Nell Benge, Mrs. Loette Curry, Mrs. Avis Hays and Susanna, Mrs. Arch Hull and Miss Pauline Eubank.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Galloway.

Mr. and Mrs. Drury Estes Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Drury Estes of Rockwood were honored with an open house in their home Sunday, January 1. The occasion was the 50th wedding anniversary of the couple. Visiting hours were from 2:30 to 5:00 p. m. Mrs. Matt Estes served cake and Mrs. M. D. Bryan poured coffee as friends came with gifts and best wishes.

Remembering January 1, 1911, Mr. Estes said there was an old-time blizzard blowing that Sunday while he and Miss Mollie Burson were married. He remembers driving to Coleman in a buggy to buy the license.

Of course it was a bit irregular to open the County Clerk's office on Sunday, but because of the long drive from Rockwood in the blizzard, and it was the first day of the year, Leman Brown let him have the license without cost. He and his wife to be drove to Whon, where they were married at 8:00 p. m. before the fire place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCain, Justice of the Peace. Again there was no charge for the services rendered.

Mr. Estes came to Coleman County in 1895 and Mrs. Estes came in 1906. They have lived in the Rockwood community all their married years. Mr. Estes was carrying the mail from Rockwood to Santa Anna and back to Rockwood by Whon at the time of their marriage.

The couple have four children: J. D. Estes of Ontario, Calif., Mrs. Jessie Mae Mankins of Coleman, Robert L. Estes of McGregor and Clinton Estes of Houston. They also have five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Among the guests attending the golden wedding observance were: Mrs. Ray Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Boss Estes, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Richardson, Mrs. Sarah Billings, Mrs. Mena Shufford, Mrs. Hyatt Moore, Mrs. Rosa Belle Hellman, Mrs. Kate McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter, Edwin Fowler, Forman Fowler, Mrs. Jack McSwain and Stanley, Mrs. Matt Estes, Mrs. M. D. Bryan and the honorees.

Bobbie Rehm and Fort Worth Man Marry Dec. 30

Miss Bobbie Mae Rehm of Fort Worth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rehm of Rockwood, became the bride of Montgomery Leon Robicheaux of Fort Worth, in a double ring ceremony at 8:00 p. m. in the Rehm home at Rockwood Friday, December 30. Mr. Robicheaux is a son of Mrs. Elmo Barnes of Clovis, N. M.

The Rev. D. Morrison, pastor of the Rockwood Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony.

Matron of honor was Mrs. F. Gene Smith of Tyler, sister of the bride. Serving as best man was Pvt. James Ronald Robicheaux of Fort Hill, Okla., brother of the groom.

Candles were lighted by Miss Vita Rehm and Wade Rehm, sister and brother of the bride.

Mr. Rehm gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a sheath of white velveteen fashioned with a bateau neckline and long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of Stephanotis, centered with two gardenias, and a lace handkerchief. Her garnet earrings were a gift of the bridegroom.

At the reception in the Rehm home, following the wedding, Misses Mary Linda Mull and Barbara Faye Richardson, both of Fort Worth, were members of the house party.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Bowie High School and Rice University, where he was an all-Southwest Conference basketball guard in 1955. The bride is a graduate of Santa Anna High School, Tarleton State College in Stephenville and the University of Texas.

The couple plan to make their home in Fort Worth.

ROCKWOOD WMS REGULAR MEETING

"The Ministry of Healing," was the subject of Bible study directed by Mrs. Ray Caldwell, when the Woman's Missionary Society met at the Rockwood Baptist Church, Monday at 2 p. m. Mrs. Evan Wise gave the opening prayer.

Present were Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Wise, Mrs. Goldie Milberger, Mrs. A. L. King, Mrs. Mat Estes, Mrs. F. E. McCreary and one visitor Mrs. J. D. Ashmore.

The group will honor the pastor's wife, Mrs. David Morrison, with a pink and blue shower at the regular social meeting on Monday, January 9, at 2 p. m. at the Community Center. Mrs. Dick Deal and Mrs. A. L. King will host the social.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

'60 Food Consumption Averaged 1,488 Lbs. Per Person in U. S.

College Station — Americans ate well in 1960. Year-end estimates indicate plentiful supplies of food for 1961. The U. S. Department of Agriculture said food consumption for 1960 averaged 1,488 pounds per person based on retail weights of all food products of farms, ranches and fisheries.

Consumption of dairy products led, with 414 pounds per person — the equivalent of about 250 quarts of milk. The total includes fluid milk and all other forms of foods made from milk except butter. It is included in fats and oils.

The fruit and vegetable group — excluding potatoes — was a close second at 409 pounds per person. Potato consumption was 108 pounds per capita.

The third ranking group was meats. The average was 178 pounds per person and included poultry and fish as well as the red meats, beef, pork and lamb.

Consumption of other food groups included 146 pounds of flour and cereal products per capita, 103 pounds of sugar and sirup, 67 pounds of fats and oils, 41 pounds of eggs (about 26 dozen), and 17 pounds of coffee, tea and cocoa.

The Department said estimates of consumption per person are based on the disappearance of food products. The quantity of each group is divided by total population.

A hard-working 200-pounder of course, eats more of the foods than infants, invalids, and older people, yet they all count equally in figuring per capita consumption.

March of Dimes Research Grants Awarded Only to Top Scientists

By THOMAS M. RIVERS
Vice President—Medical Affairs
The National Foundation

If there is any one point that we scientists must get across to the "average man" (if there is any such person), it is that conducting a first-rate research program is much more than just giving money indiscriminately to various laboratories.

The key to right giving is selecting the right people to whom to give. This is a most difficult task but it is a job at which The National Foundation has proven itself exceptionally competent.

Research may be said to be a journey into the unknown to push forward the frontiers of knowledge. Inevitably, its nature is such that no man can foretell exactly where it will lead.

But this "average man" to whom we just referred, and who is perhaps dissatisfied with the uncertainties over where research will lead, might be reminded that The National Foundation has shown in the past what it can do—as, for example, initiating the research that developed the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines. This and other major accomplishments constitute the credentials of the world's largest voluntary health organization for going ahead.

A great deal of basic research, of this journey into the unknown, is needed to create the bases which made possible the development of the polio vaccines. This again will be necessary as The National Foundation moves forward in its expanded program which includes birth defects and arthritis in addition to continued work in polio. Perhaps you have heard the comment that a camel is a horse put together by a committee. This illuminates what I think is one of the principles of research. Great research is done by great men, not by committees. It is The National Foundation's job, among others, to find those great men, and to see that they have adequate equipment with which to work.

It is natural for the public to want immediate results. For the parents of a child afflicted with arthritis, for instance, to want quick cures is understandable. But we are trustees of public funds. We cannot spend those funds save for projects that have some promise of success, conducted by people who have shown what they can do.

If our aims in research could be summed up, I would say that The National Foundation operates like a rapier, not a bludgeon. We are selective. We put March of Dimes funds in the exact spot and under the specific man who will make the most of it. We do not dump millions into hundreds of projects with a vague hope that by the law of averages some may produce.

Dr. Albert B. Sabin at his University of Cincinnati laboratory examines samples of his live-virus anti-polio vaccine, developed by him with $1,500,000 in March of Dimes public contributions. Sabin vaccine, to be taken orally instead of by needle, has been approved for eventual use in the U. S.

In short, we try to be as careful in the selection of research projects as an extremely fussy woman is in selection of a spring hat.

The research future is bright. With laboratory methods that have been developed, many under March of Dimes grants, we can move farther and faster than in years past. Indeed, I often think of the polio struggle as a time when we toiled up for what is to come. The methods that were so successful in that polio challenge are now being applied to the greater challenges that lie ahead.

To accomplish what The National Foundation desires requires great men. We have had them in the past. We shall have them in the future and, with public contributions to the March of Dimes, those men will accomplish much for the good of mankind.

were Sunday afternoon visitors. R. J. Deal and Mrs. Robert Perry attended the wedding of Guy Siler and Miss Shirley Bratton at Melvin Tuesday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ellis of Woodson visited in the Deal home and attended the wedding.
