Work Of Native American Artisans To Be Displayed At October 12 Heritage Festival

Roger and Sharon Perdasofy will be bringing their Native American beadwork, drums and hand-sculptured wire jewelry to Santa Anna during Frontier Heritage Festival on Saturday, October 12.

The award-winning Oklahoma artisans offer unique, one-of-a-kind designs, using precious gifts from Mother Earth. Their work is found in numerous museums and galleries across the United States.

The beadwork is hand-stitched one bead at a time on buckskin, other clothing or on a loom in Southern Plains Traditional Style, creating jewelry and a wide variety of accessories. Beads were a trade item throughout early history.

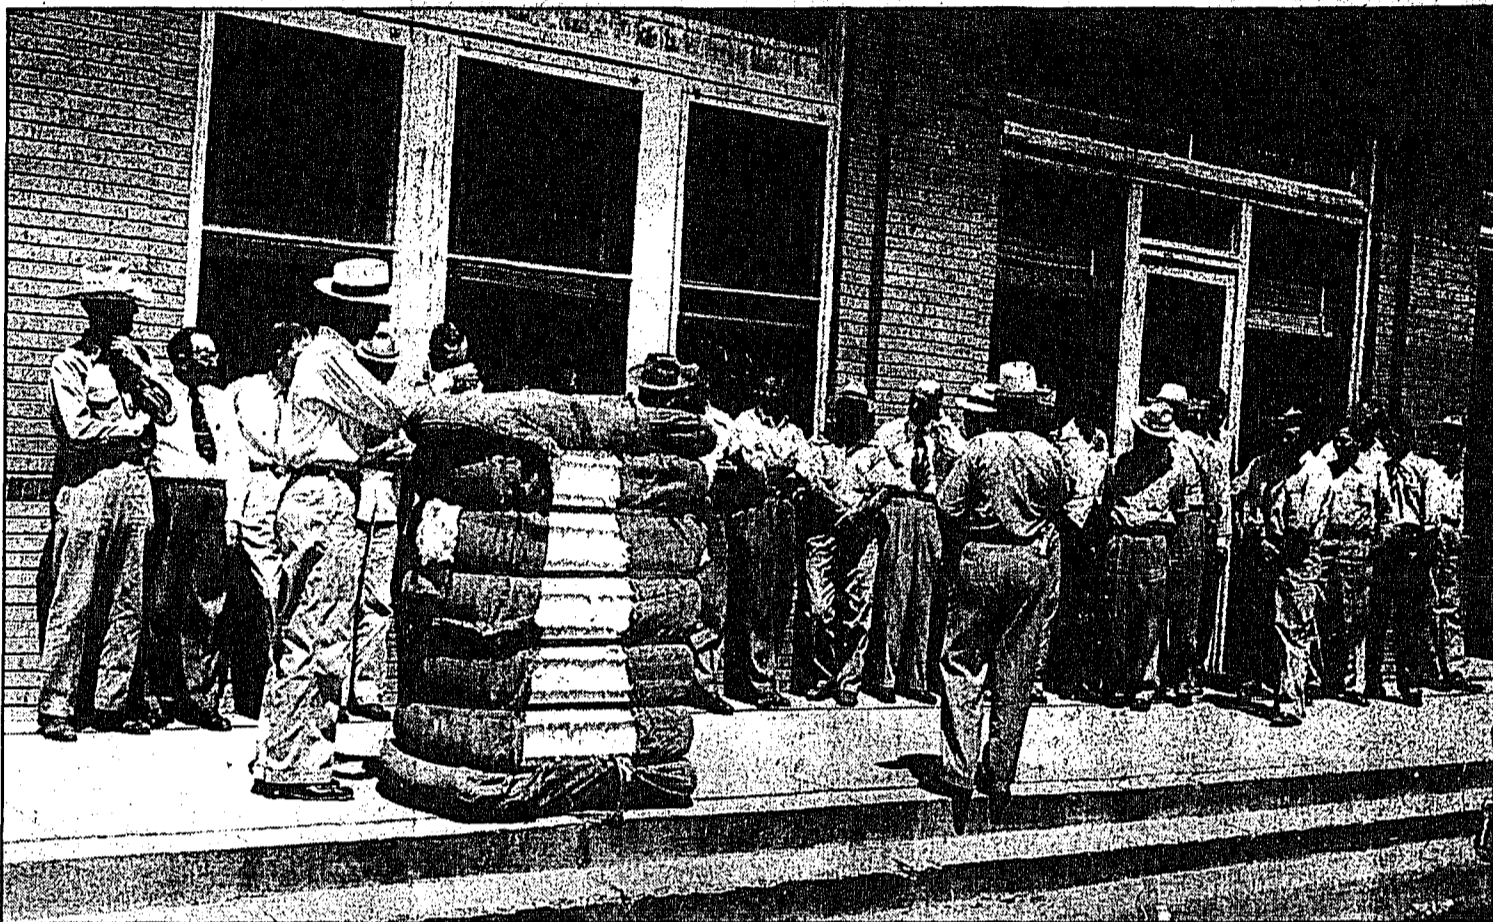

Drums are made by Roger in Southern Plains Tradition. This is the oldest musical instrument known to man. The drumbeat is the heartbeat of Mother Earth; combined with song, it speaks infinite meanings to man's mind and heart. The Plains Indians had a song for every moment of life. Roger is a Southern Singer and it is from this traditional background he creates hand drums to large pow-wow drums, using cedar and a variety of other woods and hide.

Hand-sculptured wire jewelry is a 3,300 year-old-art form dating back to the Phoenicians. Today, only a handful of craftsmen have mastered this ancient craft. The feature that distinguishes the Perdasofy's "Hand-Sculptured Wire Jewelry" from wirewrap jewelry is each stone is set and the pieces are formed entirely by hand, with strands of gold and silver wire. No heat, glue or solder is used.

The Perdasofy's use a large variety of stones, fossils and carvings from all over the world. Stone and shell jewelry was used for personal adornment by Southwestern Indians from prehistoric times and the use of silver is about 100 years old. Heishi Bead and Nugget Jewelry styles, which the Perdasofy's incorporate into many of their designs, predates the introduction of metals to North America. Each piece is not only a beautiful original, but a unique wearable work of art, reflecting Roger's Kiowa-Apache and Comanche traditions and Sharon's Comanche, Cherokee heritage.

Other artisans planning to be here for the Festival include Johnny Wauqua, T-shirts, satin jackets, cups and imprinted items; Tim Saupitty, artwork; Leonard "Black Moon" Riddles, artwork and his wife, traditional beadwork and jewelry; and Bill Karty, traditional beadwork, jewelry and artisan work.

Those Were The Days

Although the cotton crop is little if any around this area this year because of drought conditions earlier in the year, it's soon going to be time for that particular harvest to begin. And it brings back memories when cotton was more highly produced around here than it is at the present time. Luther McCrary brought in the first bale of cotton in 1949, shown here displayed in front of the bank with members of the Chamber of Commerce and other citizens looking on. According to information with the picture the Chamber bought the cotton at 31¢ premium $207, total amount $409. McCrary is standing by the bale and the man with back to the camera is identified as Ford Barnes. Others, from the left, are identified as Raymond Terry, Oscar Cheaney, Norman "Red" Hosch, Pat Hosch, Bruce Snodgrass, Neal Oakes, Kirby Barton, Dow McBride, Bill Griffin, Jay Briggs, Ted McCaughan, Oscar Etheredge, Vernon Campbell, G.T. England, James "Pappy" Harris, Jack Woodward, Wallace Adams, Hardy Blue, John Gregg, Bill Mulroy, Aubrey Brewer, James Price, Cullen Perry, and A.D. Pettit. (Thanks to Luther McCrary for use of the picture).

Fire Monday Afternoon Destroys Coleman Restaurant

A Monday afternoon fire destroyed a three year-old downtown restaurant, though no injuries were reported, according to Coleman Fire Department officials.

Fire officials said a man driving behind The Cottage Restaurant, located at 408 Live Oak St., noticed smoke coming from the rear of the building.

Fire chief Joe Watson said the fire appeared to have started in the kitchen and then spread to the attic. Watson said that although the kitchen fire was extinguished, the fire continued into the attic.

Fire fighters had a hard time getting to the fire as construction to the building created roof line blocks and other impedes,

Watson said. The fire was extinguished by 5 p.m. and volunteer fire department officials remained on the scene to watch for hot spots and to help mop up. Owners Charles and Kathy Andrews said the building sustained heavy structural damage.

Economic Sales Tax Now Being Collected Locally

Most of us probably didn't even notice the difference when we checked out at local businesses Tuesday. But that was the day we started paying an extra 1¢ sales tax. One-half of the 1¢ additional sales tax will go toward economic development and the other half to property tax relief.

Local voters agreed to the new tax in an election held in August of 1995, but the tax could not be collected until October 1 of 1996. The first rebate to come from the state on the taxes collected should be received locally at the end of this quarter, which will make it sometime in January.

Locally, our total sales tax will now be 8.25%.

Cecil Ramirez Is Frenzy Winner

Cecil Ramirez put his name on the winners' list for Mountaineer Football Frenzy last week when he came up a clear winner in our contest.

Cecil picked 16 of the possible 17 games right. His only wrong guess was that of S.A. Lakeview over Brownwood. The Lions won that game 26-7.

Cecil also picked right on the former Mountaineer, who just happened to be his brother, Sammy Ramirez, Jr. who graduated SAHS with the Class of 1989. Maurice Castillo's name came up a couple Novice-Iredell, Cross Plains-Rising Star, and Cisco-San Saba. The winners of those games along with all the rest of the contest game results are as follows:

- Pittsburgh 30-Houston 16
- Iredell 48-Novice 45
- Cross Plains 7-Rising Star 0
- San Saba 31-Cisco 28
- Baird 54-Lometa 6
- Gorman 47-Evant 27
- Bangs 57-Anson 7
- Breckenridge 17-Coleman 0
- Panther Creek 60-Gustine 25
- Cooper 31-Abilene High 3
- Brownwood 26-S.A. Lakeview 7
- Jim Ned 10-Early 7
- HPU 24-Sul Ross 7
- Texas Tech 58-Utah State 20
- BYU 31-SMU 3
- Chicago 19-Oakland 17
- Dallas 23-Philadelphia 19

As for the game picking, those games giving our players the most problems were Houston-Pittsburgh,

It's always interesting to have a book sale. Many people from out of town come in. They make interesting comments about the library and town. Some have family who once lived in the area. Since most of our items sell for ten cents to a quarter, the total sales is never large. Thanks to Ovella Williams and Nell Hipp. They rearranged their working week to help on Saturday. The library simply could not function without these ladies and Betty and David Key. They helped move books from the old library and set up for the sale. The Keys were working for the Lord's Acre too. Our community needs more people who care as much as they do.

Tex Wright dropped in on Saturday and got volunteered. He has helped many times in evaluating our collector books.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith brought several boxes of magazines. Some were offered for sale and some will be on our shelves. We had to protect some of our current good magazines.

Nell Myers found a box of books on Friday. We will discover who gave them and tell you more of the titles. She has books from her niece in Dallas that look interesting. Thank you everyone for contributions for working and those who made purchases. You helped the library serve you better.

Here are some of the books that came from InterLibrary Loan. The Brannamon Legacy Catherine Cookson. In 1807 a father is murdered. The daughter learns who did this terrible thing. She has lived in peace but must reveal the guilty and face trouble with the second generation.

Windy City Blues Sara Paretsky. A lady detective sees a newspaper advertisement offering information about her long dead mother. She discovers an Italian cousin looking for music composed by her great-great-grandmother. What's it all about? Invisible Boarder Mildred Davis once Norma spent a month in a town. She returns looking for the murderer of her small son. The police never found the person responsible.

Frightening things begin to happen. New Mexico Heritage L. Paine. A new doctor arrives. People here usually go to old native women for help. The daughter of a wealthy rancher is shot at her father's funeral. Now Dr. Brunner must save a life and solve a murder.

Nighthawk Trail Max Brand. A drift goes south of the border to locate a band of cut throats. They have stolen a famous racehorse. He must return the horse to the U. S. Daisy Chain James O'Shea. This is a study of the 250 billion real estate fraud that started in Vernon, Texas and spread to Dallas and over the U. S. R. B. Towner ran the local Thrift S&L. He got mixed up in real estate. The author was on the Chicago Tribune then and followed the story. See why we taxpayers paid for it all.

Jim finished the latest two paper backs of The White Indian Series. You can find them at the library.

Drop by to check out a good book for the cooler days we have been enjoying.

Did you know that there was a radio station in the old hotel where the high rise stands?

Dear Editor

In regard to the letter in your Sept. 26th issue. The city-wide garage sale was started in hopes of bringing out of town people to our city so they could see how friendly and caring our community was and also to have them patronize our local businesses. And from what I've heard from our local business people, the last one was successful.

As for the $3 fee, that is to cover the expense of the extensive advertising we do as a chamber. We advertise in newspapers and radio as far away as Brady Ballinger, Abilene, Baird, etc.. But if you would prefer to spend $3 on an ad in your local paper to let local people know of your sale that's your choice.

But we must work together in order to make our community prosper.

The Santa Anna Chamber of Commerce meets the first Tuesday every month and the City Council meets the second Tuesday monthly, both of these meetings are open to the public and we welcome each and everyone to attend these meetings and feel free to voice your concerns and opinions at these meetings. We welcome your thoughts. We need to work together to achieve a better way of life.

Thank you,
Santa Anna Chamber of Commerce

Commissioners Deny Cellular Phone Funds For TP&WD

In a special meeting on Monday, September 30 the Coleman County Commissioners met with Judge Sherrill Ragsdale opening the meeting.

James Bowen, attorney, met with commissioners to discuss closing all or a portion of Pennsylvania Avenue in the townsite of Goldsboro in Coleman County. He stated an individual in attempting to sell a piece of property and discovered that a garage had been built on 140 feet of what is the street.

Following questions regarding whether signs would need to be put up before the matter could be voted on, Bowen informed the group that by stating the property would be abandoned and vacated other formalities were not necessary. By doing this, property will revert back to property owners. Commissioner voted to closing the described portion of the road.

Commissioners voted against paying the basic fees for two cellular phones as requested recently by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Fees collected by the TP&WD from October 1995 through August 1996 amounted to $306 while fees for the phones would be $40 per month.

Checks which had been written totaling $30,169 for two weeks and $9,500 from the General Road and Bridge funds as well as precincts. Sheriff and constables fees were approved along with a request from GTE to bury 3,120 feet of telephone phone lines in a county right-of-way located in Precinct 3 along County Road 375.

County Judge Sherrill Ragsdale discussed adding the 9-1-1 equipment to the county insurance policy. Precinct 4 Commissioner Alan Davis discussed purchasing a used maintainer at $12,000.

A lengthy discussion was held with County Constable Rondoe Horton as to the salary received by Horton and the number of hours he serves, mileage and records. It was voted that the salary would remain the same and he, as well as all other county employees, would receive the five percent increase beginning October 1.

Bills total $2,250 in General Road and Bridge and Precincts 1, 2 and 4 were approved. Precinct 3 had no bills to approve. Also approved was the transfer of $5,000 into each precinct to meet additional bills and payroll.

It's That Time Of Year Again For Flu Shots

It's that time of year to start thinking about getting your flu shot. Influenza can be devastating and even deadly, so why take the risk?

Flu shots are recommended especially for elderly high risk people, their household contacts and health care personnel who may come in contact with these persons. People with especially high risk of serious consequences include those with chronic medical conditions such as heart disease, lung disease or diabetes, children with asthma, residents of chronic care facilities and all persons over 65 years of age.

Large outbreaks of flu usually do not occur before December, reach a peak in January and February and may continue into Spring. The protection afforded from the flu shot usually begins 1-2 weeks after injection and lasts 4-6 months. Therefore, the optimal time for vaccination is from mid-October to mid-November.

Medicare covers the cost of flu shots and has made it much easier for doctors and clinics to be reimbursed.

Peggy Hensley, MSN RN FNP, at the Wellness Center in Santa Anna says they will have flu shots available beginning mid-October. The Center will be hosting Flu Shot Clinic around the area, so watch the Santa Anna News for specific places and times. If your company would like to hold a clinic for your employees, please call the Wellness Center (348-3566) to discuss arrangements.

Rockwood Club Plans Community Supper

Contributed
The Rockwood Club met Tuesday, September 24, at the Community Center, with eight in attendance and two children.

Skeeta Cooper brought the club to order and Betty Duus led in the pledges to the U. S. and Texas flags. Vera Faye Wise gave a thought for the day. Betty Duus read the minutes from our last meeting and gave the treasurer's report. They were approved as read.

We discussed the money we make on the homemaking quilt and voted to have it go to the Community Center after this year. We discussed our community supper and decided to have it the first Saturday in October, the 5th, at 6:30 p.m. Bring a covered dish.

The meeting was adjourned. Claudia Rutherford directed us in making Christmas wreaths, which was a lot of fun. Vera Faye Wise was hostess and served refreshments to Claudia Rutherford, Minnie Gray, Rose Cooper, Skeeta Cooper, Bettie Duus, LaNell Brusenhan, new member Sue Edwards and two sons Austin and Nathan.

We are happy to have a new member of our community join the club. We are always happy to have visitors.

Don't forget the supper on the 5th of October.

We hope to have a nice crowd and hope the weather will cooperate. Bring a friend or your visitors and join us.

We wish to thank Dorothy Whisenant for crocheting the afghan she donated to the community center, it was beautiful. Also our thanks to John Gregg and Mac Hambright for mowing and repair work they did for the community center. We thank Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mueller for donating an air conditioner to the community center.

Fishing Lake Ivie

By Durwood Strickland Mike Stuard of Valera has set the Ivie record twice lately for channel catfish. The first was a 10.46 pound catfish on August 5 but he broke his own record on Sept. 16 with an 11.46 channel cat. Then, as luck would have it, Jeff Dunlap of Merkle caught a 13.40 pounder to grab the record from Mike.

Catfishing is better right now at night, in deep water. Bass fishing is not over the hill at Ivie. In the recent Rannels Co. Bass Tournament, it took a three-fish stringer weighing 23.99 to win the contest.

As with the catfish, the best bass fishing is taking place at night. Some white bass have been coming in at above 18 inches in length. Come on out, the weather is beautiful! Call me at 357-4785 for fishing or hunting trips.

From there they drove to Raleigh, North Carolina where they attended the reunion of the 34th Bomb Group. One their way home they visited with friends in Sulphur Springs and had lunch with their son Bill in Fort Worth.

Whon News

By Mrs. Tom Rutherford

We will start off by saying this Monday our little community has received a little more rain than last week. Just wondering if others noticed the moon Saturday shortly after coming up at dark. Sure was or looked to me like almost a big ball of fire.

Mr. Floyd Morris and son John David were in Kerrville the middle of the past week. Floyd was to see his doctor and reported he was feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Trudi Rutherford drove over to San Angelo Sunday afternoon on a little business and probably sightseeing. They returned safely.

Mrs. Ruth Poldrack was with her mother in Santa Anna Mrs. Ethel Radle on Wednesday. Joe Alvin Wynn of Coleman visited her Friday afternoon and her son Bob called Saturday night from Garland or nearby.

Mrs. Doris Stearns of Brownwood visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady.

Juanita Minica of Brownwood visited with and was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Lovelady on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Trudi Rutherford attended the day on Saturday and enjoyed all the nice things that took place at the Methodist Church in Santa Anna Saturday. They really enjoyed the day and being with friends.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The Office of the State Auditor has uncovered more than $1 million in questionable expenditures by tax-supported nursing homes and in-home health-care companies.

The expenditures were discovered in cost reports submitted to the Texas Department of Human Services, the agency which regulates such facilities. The cost reports show how revenue from all sources — including Medicaid, Medicare and private insurance payments — was spent.

"The funds used to make these expenditures could have been used to provide higher quality care or to provide care to a greater number of clients," the audit report said.

Among the findings: 10 nursing homes spent almost $615,000 on items such as a Cadillac, Texas Rangers baseball tickets and jobs for relatives who did no work; and five in-home health-care companies spent almost $387,000 on employee parties, leasing an airplane from an employee, car window tinting and other items.

The names of the nursing homes and health-care companies were not made public.

Last week, State Auditor Lawrence Alwin recommended that the Department of Human Services set limits on how Medicaid funds can be spent and devise a system to recoup money spent in a questionable manner.

Terry Trimble, acting commissioner of the DHS, said the audit raises legitimate public policy questions.

"Once the money goes to the nursing facility — assuming they're providing the service and we're paying the correct rate — then they can spend the money however they want. There's nothing illegal about them spending $13,000 on a car. That is a legitimate public policy question that perhaps somebody wants to deal with," Trimble told the Austin American-Statesman.

Audit Takes Senate to Task

Meanwhile, another state auditor's report distributed to state senators last week called for tighter control over Senate expenses.

According to the management audit report, the Senate spent $25.7 million last year. Individually, the 31 senators spent from $160,421 to $467,907 on office expenditures. The disparity in those amounts could be attributed to the costs of commuting to and from Austin, suggested Mike Hailey, a spokesman for Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock.

A financial audit of the Senate is in progress, but no date has been set for its completion.

More Violent Offenders in TYC

A new state study shows Texas' increasing number of juveniles being sentenced to the Texas Youth Commission are violent and are more likely to have used weapons in crimes.

The study was done by the Criminal Justice Policy Council, a state agency that monitors crime trends.

Since 1990, the percentage of violent criminals in TYC lockups grew from 16 percent to 37 percent in 1995, when the total number of commitments rose to 2,318. The study also shows an increasing number of teen-age criminals are substance abusers and are affiliated with gangs.

Steve Robinson, executive director of the Texas Youth Commission, told the American-Statesman the agency is focused on changing offenders' behavior "... so that when they leave they will know how to act appropriately in society — know the difference between right and wrong."

Another finding: 41 percent of those who are incarcerated will be back behind bars within three years.

Hispanic Educators Discuss Hopes

Hispanic educators and civil libertarians met in Austin last week to discuss ways to open higher education to more Texans, in light of the federal court decision that barred Texas colleges and universities from using race as a factor in the student admissions process.

State Rep. Ciro Rodriguez, D-San Antonio, and leaders from Hispanic education groups, called for state higher education officials to de-emphasize the results of standardized tests in the admissions process and instead give more consideration to each student's grades and personal character.

"The main thing is to provide hope to individuals and to provide opportunities to individuals," Rodriguez said.

Texas officials have said the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals decision covers the granting of scholarships and financial aid.

Minority groups contend, however, that such an interpretation is counterproductive because it slams the doors on African-American and Mexican-American students when the state's minority population is increasing dramatically.

Other Capital Highlights

■ Newly appointed Texas Senate Education Chairman Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, is looking at ways to make the state university admissions process more efficient and student-friendly. One idea: instead of sending an application only to the campus they wish to attend, students would apply to the University of Texas System. The system would tell them which of UT's campuses they would be able to attend.

■ The Department of Human Services reported a 12 percent drop in the number of Texas welfare recipients over the last two years. That's 96,000 fewer recipients. But, the number of welfare clients in border counties with high levels of unemployment and poverty, such as Cameron and El Paso, increased over the period.

The Parts Of The Brain and Their Functions

By Ludy J. Bryan

One day I was assigned a psychology task
A mnemonic device for remembering brain parts, "I asked?"
"Ah! Yes, to pass the final test" the professor replied.
"Remember the parts, their function, and tell them with pride."

Well, I sure didn't have time to take a nap,
So I hurriedly put on my ole thinking cap.
This test is due on May the twenty-third,
I hope the professor doesn't think I'm a nerd.

A poem about brain parts and functions is my mnemonic device,
You will know all of them quite well if you read it once or twice.
I hope this helps all the psychology students as they study,
And maybe even keep the tests from driving them nutty.

First I had to decide which part and its function would be a good place to start,
The MEDULLA which controls breathing, blood pressure, and beats of the heart,
The THALAMUS relays and translates messages coming from the senses receptor,
HYPOTHALAMUS governs motivation and emotions, as planned by our Creator.

Next is the part which is named CORPUS CALLOSUM, Made of nerve fibers and connectors to make activities hum,
For the functions of hearing, sight and registration of pain,
The part in the very middle must be called the MIDBRAIN.

At the top of the brain, the PONS connects,
The CEREBELLUM to the cerebral cortex,
The cerebellum's two hemispheres in the hindbrain control,
All of the body movements and reflexes, but not the soul.

Now developing this mnemonic device was not very hard,
Because my brain is connected to my SPINAL CORD.
This poem is a great help for most folks, and it is real nifty,
For remembering brain parts and functions, whether you're five or fifty.

THANK YOU FARM BUREAU MEMBERS!

Dear Farm Bureau Members,

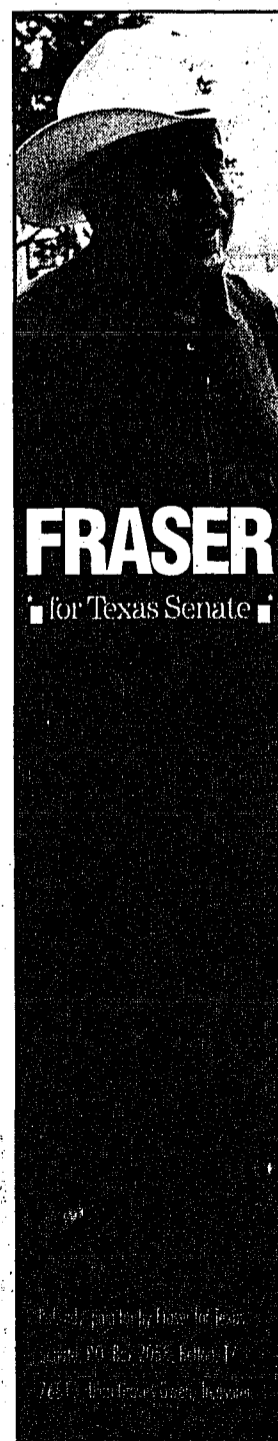

Thanks for your recent AGFUND endorsement for your State Senator. Your support means a lot to Linda and me.

As a State Representative, I compiled a 100% voting record on Farm Bureau issues.

As your new Republican State Senator, I'll continue to fight for our water rights, return sanity to the Endangered Species Act, and protect our private property rights. And with Governor Bush, we'll improve local control of schools, end welfare as we know-it, lower taxes, and stop frivolous lawsuits.

Thanks again.
