Governor To Give Cotton State Time

STERLING SEES NO NEED FOR HURRYING THEM ALONG ON ACREAGE LAWS

By the Associated Press AUSTIN, Dec. 7. Governor Ross S. Sterling said today he believed governors of the cotton states who have not fallen in line with Texas' acreage reduction law would take care of the situation without any suggestions from him.

He indicated that he would not accede to a request contained in a resolution adopted by a mass meeting of central Texas farmers in Waco Saturday that he chief executives of the State to call their legislatures and submit cotton acreage reduction.

"Word I had from the Jackson, Miss., conference, held recently, indicated the states that had not acted would do so in due time," Governor Sterling said. "I see no reason why I should threaten them. I do not believe in agitating the subject. Let's let well enough alone. Texas farmers asked for the cotton acreage law and the legislature gave it to them, so why talk about it and write about it?"

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our beloved friend Sovereign J.S. Jones, and Whereas, J.S. Jones was our considered by us as being one of the most worthy and deserving members of Mountain Camp, No. 443, Woodmen of the World. He served this Camp as Clerk and Financial Secretary for several years, and was honorable in his dealings, worthy of his trust, sympathetic in his work, and did all he could at all times for the advancement of Woodcraft and betterment of the membership. He was highly esteemed for his valuable council and friendly advice, and held at all times the interest of his fellowman at heart. He was a loyal, true and honorable citizen, a Christian gentleman, a lovable and respected husband and father, a loyal Woodman and in every way, in so far as we have ever tried him, an honorable and upright citizen. Therefore, be it resolved, that, in the passing of J.S. Jones, the community has lost one of its best and most highly respected citizens. The family has lost a companion and father whose place cannot be filled. This Camp has lost one of its truest and best members. The world has lost a member and Heaven has gained a jewel.

Resolved that we sympathize with his bereaved companion and their children, and commend them to the One Great Giver of all good, in whom, our deceased friend and brother held much faith and an abiding trust. May the God in whom our deceased brother trusted ever be your comforter and may he lead you by the Holy Spirit onward and upward until such a time as He sees fit to remove you, too, from the walks of life, and then reunite you as an unbroken family around the great white throne, where life eternal will be yours.

MOUNTAINEERS SKIN BLUE-CATS ON CATS HOME FIELD

Santa Anna Boosters saw the greatest game they have seen in many years, when they saw the Mountaineers down the Cats 6-0 on the Colemanites' own home ground. The Mountain Boys completely outplayed the sickly looking Bluecats and the first play was not even completed when a few side-line "belters" who were for the Cats immediately began to try to change their "bets." The first downs stood twelve to two for the Mountaineers when the final whistle blew.

And did our boys shine? Even with Coleman's line much heavier than ours, the Mountain eleven still had the edge. Now we know that the expression "the heavier they are the harder they fall" is certainly true, for the amateur Cats certainly fell at the hands of our veteran gridlers.

That's the old fight, Mountaineers! Those Cats have seen their last victory over the Santa Anna Mountaineers. All of you future football players keep your "Irish" up and refuse to ever accept a defeat from the Coleman Cats.

 CLASS OF '32

The Seniors are walking on air now—and their heads are highly elevated too. Why? Because their "badges of authority" have arrived. The Senior rings they have, indeed, right to be highly overjoyed.

And this is the high point of a highly successful and prosperous year. This is their last year to enter Santa Anna High as a student in her classes, and may the Seniors be justly accorded the honor and respect due them.

 HONOR ROLL

The honor roll for the past six weeks was much larger than for the first six weeks. Freshmen had twenty-one per cent of their large class on the honor roll. Twenty per cent of the sophomore class found their names on this honored list. The Juniors had nineteen per cent on the honor roll. Of the large senior class, twenty per cent attained this high standard of scholarship.

The Freshman class not only had the largest number on the honor roll, but also the largest per cent.

PAYING YOUR TAXES

Mr. Average Citizen, who groans deeply whenever he has to pay his taxes, might be interested in this little story about a Japanese truck gardener living near San Diego, California.

This Japanese had four children, all of whom went to school. That seemed to him an inestimable privilege; so, one day recently, he called at the office of the local school board and amazed the members by handing them one hundred dollars as a free-will offering - an expression of his appreciation of the blessings of government. To be sure, he was already a taxpayer, doing his full share toward supporting the school system. But he felt impelled to show his gratitude more amply.

This little story points its own moral. How many of us, who pay our taxes with reluctance, ever stop to think of all our tax money buys us?

CHARACTER EDUCATION

The character education class which was scheduled for Monday was postponed because of the illness of Mr. Scarborough. Mr. Scarborough is the instructor of the boys' character education class.

The topic to be studied was 'Personal Habits.' We are looking forward to this study as we are sure that it will be uplifting and help us to be better boys and girls.

Superintendent's Blues

Mr. J.C. Scarborough, the faithful superintendent of the Santa Anna Schools was so loyal to the team that he attended the football game between the Mountaineers and the Blue Cats. While he was standing on the damp ground, watching the Mountaineers down the Blue Cats, he took a severe sore throat which has resulted in the influenza.

The school jobs with everyone in Santa Anna, in wishing him a speedy recovery.

JUNIORS

Stop! Look! Listen! Did you know that the Junior Class of Santa Anna High School had eight students on the honor roll? The Juniors feel very important now, that they have redeemed themselves by bringing their honor roll up from one to eight. This proves that they really are trying and that their class shall not have the least number on the honor roll every time.

Those Juniors honored by having made an average of ninety or more the last term are: Robert Dempsy, Seth Ford, Edwin Neill, Nowlin Meyers, Clifford Oder, Catherine Rollins, Rebecca Turner, and Ruby Williams. The Juniors are determined to make good, so watch out for them. They are coming!

The Freshman Class has the honor of having more on the honor roll than any other class in high school. We jumped from six, the first six weeks, to twelve for the last period. Our sponsor has set eighteen as our next mark. Those of us who have been lacking one or two points of the ninety percent average must die a little harder for "We must Excel!"

The Freshman that were on the honor roll this month are: Beth Bares, Rhea Boardman, May Campbell, Holland Chaney, Leon DuBois, Frances Gregg, Francine Merritt, Eddie V. Mills, Vernon Ragsdale, Bess Inez Shield, Earnestine Thames and Christine Zachery.

the Coleman Cats feel now. Oh, well, even the greatest have their falls so that accounts for that. We can at least say that the Mountaineers aren't losing any valuable time sympathizing or bemoaning in fact, it has been quite a job for some of them to realize that it's time to come back down to earth and start studying again?

And speaking of Coleman, makes us think of our favorite, Clifford Wheeler. This little boy likes publicity, though. Santa Claus Letters

Santa Anna, Texas, Dec. 7, 1931.

Dear Santa Claus:- I am a little boy seven years old. I am in the second grade. I have tried to be a good boy, and I want to write you what I want you to bring me for Xmas.

I wish you would bring me an air gun, four boxes of BB's. And please bring me some candy, nuts, fruit, and fireworks. Santa, I don't want to ask for too much; you remember all the other little boys and girls.

From a good friend,
H. K. Harrison.

MRS. FORD BARNES ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Ford Barnes entertained last Friday night with a football party for the pep squad girls and football boys.

Dancing and games were enjoyed by a large number of boys and girls. Merriment reigned throughout the entire evening, and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. Perhaps a large part of the enjoyment was due to the drubbing handed to the Coleman Bluecats by the Mountaineers that afternoon. Strains of "That Good Old Mountaineer Line" could be heard floating through the entire house as the guests departed

Mis Ethel Mosely was a Coleman visitor Saturday afternoon.

Miss Mary Oakes spent the week-end with Miss James Caldwell of Rockwood.

PROHIBITION AND POLITICS

Chairman John J. Raskob, of the Democratic National Committee, has asked everybody who contributed to the last Democratic national campaign fund to give him some advice on the question whether or not a change in the prohibition laws should be advocated in the next Democratic national platform.

We don't know what these gentlemen who financed Alfred E. Smith's campaign for the presidency will tell Mr. Raskob. We believe, however, that the farther they are away from the big cities the less likely they are to recommend either the repeal of the eighteenth amendment or the "liberalization" of the Volstead act.

It would be a pity, it seems to us, to have a presidential election complicated by the question we see it, is not and ought not to be made a partisan issue. It cuts across all party lines, and throws into the political situation an issue which has no bearing upon the vitally important economic questions which are the only sound basis for political action. Mr. Raskob and his friends suggest several alternative programs for consideration. The essence of them all is that the people of the United States and of the several states should have the right to vote directly on constitutional amendments. This seems to be based on the theory that state legislatures, which ratified the eighteenth amendment, and which have ratified all previous amendments to the Constitution, do not truly represent the preponderant opinion of the people of their states. We see no objection to such a referendum, but we think Mr. Raskob would be surprised at the result if his party should commit itself to a referendum on the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and should find itself in a position to submit such a referendum to the people.

We think there is a great deal to be said in favor of the general proposition that there is too much of a tendency to centralizing government at Washington. And of course, any political organization or group that desires to have a perfect right to advocate and try to put into effect any change in the Constitution which seems desirable to the group. But if the purpose of a great national party is to elect its candidate for the presidency, we think it would be just too bad to complicate the issue by putting into the platform, under whatever disguise, a proposal upon which there is so much and such violent difference of opinion as prohibition.

MUSCLE SHOALS

We hope that something will be done by the new Congress to settle the question of what the government is going to do with the great dam and power plant at Muscle Shoals. The Commission appointed by the President to investigate and recommend has made its report. That report calls for the establishment of a farmer-owned corporation to take over and operate Muscle Shoals for the manufacture of nitrates for fertilizer. That is all right as long as the government itself does not go into the business of competing with private industry. We think that the sooner Muscle Shoals is taken off the government's hands and turned over to some business organization to operate, the better.

Whether a strictly farmer-owned corporation can be set up with enough capital to engage in an enterprise of the magnitude proposed. If that can be done, and the management entrusted to experts who know how to run in competition with the large private concerns which are already engaged in the same line of business, then we are in favor of the Commission's plan. At any rate, we think it would be a very desirable thing to take Muscle Shoals out of politics by disposing of it as speedily as possible. We hope that the new Congress will take any decisive action in the matter.

LANDSLIDE FOR DEMOCRATS IS PREDICTION
Texarkana, Nov. 30.—Were the presidential election held today the Democrats would win practically every State in the Union, regardless of who the candidate might be, said Senator Morris Sheppard here today in an exclusive interview prior to his departure for Washington.

"The whole Nation is sick and tired of Republican misrule. The North is in as much of a revolt against the administration as the South. The Hoover administration has failed miserably in conducting even the ordinary business of the Nation. The people of the United States are ready for a change. So determined are the people and so widespread the discontent that, in my judgement, if the election were held today the Democratic candidate, regardless of who he might be, would carry practically every State in the Union."

Urging that the South take advantage of the opportunity to name a Southern man, Senator Sheppard suggested as possibilities Cordell Hull of Tennessee and Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas.

Economic issues will be the principal matters before Congress, he said. Prohibition will have the spotlight for the time as usual and with the usual result, "no change," he said.

If conditions become worse by January or February, he predicted direct relief to the unemployed will be the paramount matter for consideration.

INDIGESTION

Unsuitable kinds and excessive amounts of food are responsible for many acutely disordered stomachs. Rich sauces, highly spiced foods, too much candy and pastry, as well as over-eating, often irritate the digestive organs into rebellion.

The milder forms of these disorders consist of discomfort in the region of the stomach, headache, nausea and vomiting. The vomiting is usually followed by relief. It is a good thing, being nature's way of quickly emptying the stomach, and removing the cause of the trouble.

Sometimes, there is considerable nausea but vomiting does not readily occur. By drinking warm water one can often aid nature in her efforts to produce vomiting. A fast for a day, followed by a careful return to the usual diet, will give the stomach the necessary rest. This is usually all that is required in the milder cases.

A laxative is sometimes advised. It may not always be safe. What appears to be a simple digestive upset may be the beginning of a much more serious disturbance, as, for instance, appendicitis. As a rule, if vomiting and fasting do not result in rapid recovery, treatment by a physician is advisable. When there is fever or vomiting continues, or there is pain or tenderness in the abdomen, the services of a physician are certainly required in order that a diagnosis be made. It is also well to remember that a digestive disturbance with vomiting of contagious diseases in children.

Drinking warm water to promote vomiting and wash out the stomach - fasting until the stomach is "settled" and, if desirable, the application of the abdomen of heat in the form of stupes or the hot water bottle, are harmless and usually effective in the milder cases of "indigestion."

COTTON DELEGATES ADOPT TEXAS PLAN

SOUTHWIDE CONFERENCE AT JACKSON QUICKLY AGREES ON 50 PER CENT CUT

Without dissenting vote among eighty accredited delegates at the Governor's South-wide Cotton Conference at Jackson, Mississippi, November 23rd, seeking uniform legislation on acreage reduction, an acreage control law similar in effect to the law now in force in the State of Texas, was chosen as the legislative star to which the cotton growers should hitch their hopes for better days.

Active in the calling of the conference and present taking part in its proceedings were Governors Parnell of Arkansas, Bilbo of Mississippi, Blackwood of South Carolina and Russell of Georgia. Governors of other states sent specially appointed and personal representatives.

The states of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas were represented in the conference, while messages of cooperation came from the governors of Arizona, Florida and New Mexico.

Resolutions Unanimously Adopted were:

WHEREAS, the conservation of soil fertility, the elimination of plant disease and the prevention of insect damage as well as the prosperity and happiness of the people of the Southern States, demand a reduction of the acreage now planted to cotton and other soil exhausting plants; and WHEREAS, the only method of securing such reduction in acreage now being generally considered is by state laws of cotton producing states bearing equally upon all cotton producers, and WHEREAS, it is imperative that such laws, if adopted, shall be uniform in effect and adopted in states producing not less than 75 per cent of the cotton crop of the entire South, herefore

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Conference of Governors and Members of the Legislature, and other representatives of the Southern States held in Jackson, Mississippi, on November 23rd, 1931, as follows:

SECTION 1: We recommend that an acreage control law similar in effect to the law now in force in the State of Texas be adopted by all cotton producing states, with such modifications of administrative features as will prevent grave injustice to citizens of sections of such states, and we further recommend that the independence and sovereignty of other states in adopting laws securing, at least a fifty per cent reduction of cotton acreage, be respected.

Section 2: We recommend that cotton producing states adopting laws securing a reduction of at least fifty per cent in cotton acreage during the years 1932 and 1933 shall repeal such laws unless laws of similar effect are adopted prior to January 20th, 1932 by states producing at least seventy-five per cent of the cotton crop of the South, as shown by the reports of the Federal Census Bureau for the year 1930.

SECTION 3: We urge the Governors of those states that have not enacted laws similar in effect to the law recommended herein to immediately convene their Legislatures for the purpose of enacting laws as provided for in this resolution, to the end that all of the cotton growing states may enact such laws on or before January 20, 1932.

A very interesting and educational drama was given in the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, in the form of a murder trial, in which a man was tried on the charge of taking the life of his best friend while under the influence of liquor.

This character of entertainment is being sponsored by the Anti Saloon League in the interest of prohibition, and is very effective and convincing argument in favor of law enforcement and prohibition and a drama is based on an actual case tried in an Iowa Court wherein the defendant was convicted and given five year term in the state penitentiary for the murder of his friend following a drunken brawl, when the defendant accused the deceased of stealing a sixth of a pint of liquor. Rev. Atticus Webb, Supt. of the Anti Saloon League of Texas, representing the defense lawyer in the case, made an eloquent and passionate appeal in behalf of the young man accused of the crime, bringing out the argument that the bootlegger and his patrons are responsible for the crime that the bootlegger was the cause of a murder, and stressing the importance of enforcing the prohibition law and pointing out the dangers resulting from the laxity of citizens in lending their assistance toward putting the bootlegger out of business. The cast was as follows:

Judge, Co. Judge A.O. Newman
 Prosecuting Attorney, W. E. Baxter; Defense Attorney, Rev. Atticus Webb; Defendant, as Frank Lloyd, James Harvey; Sheriff, Earl Irick; Deputy Sheriff, R. Lock; Bootlegger as Jack Stiles, R. L. Hunter; State Witness, as Mrs. R. L. French, Mrs. R. R. Lovelady; Coroner, Lewis Newman; Court Reporter, J. M. Binion; Mother of Defendant, Mrs. A. L. Oder; Widow of Earl Wright, deceased, Mrs. J. R. Lock. The drama was played to a large and responsive audience.

JOHN'S VISION ON PATMOS

There are three schools of interpretation for the book of Revelation: it has been fulfilled, it will be fulfilled or it is being fulfilled. Most conservative scholars follow the latter method. At least, this is positive. Revelation tells of the final triumph of Jesus Christ and His Church, and this sublime fact is a wondrous assurance in the midst of present evil conditions. Do not try to find a meaning for every symbol or relate each episode to some event in history. Rather, read the book of victory and the glorious way in which it presents Christ as King of kings and Lord of lords. No matter how great is the imagery of heaven, than the symbol will be far less than the actual which will be experienced in time be the redeemed of the Lord.

John, the seer, was in exile on the island of Patmos and was granted the series of apocalyptic visions: there are seven series with seven items in each. Select the seven promises to the seven churches for cumulative blessings that come to the faithful.

Christ no longer is depicted as the Man of Nazareth in humble garb, but as the established Lord whom none can gainsay. He moves majestically in the midst of the churches. The occasion was when John "was in the Spirit on the Lord's day." This sublime manifestation of Him Who was once crucified is another argument for His immortality. The assurance is "I am alive forever more." Such contact with God was not to cause any distress and the encouraging word is given: "Fear not."

Turn now to the last chapter in Revelation and observe the heritage of the child of God. Heaven is the Home Land of the Soul. The invitation is to all: "Come - and he that is athirst, let him come: he that will, let him take the water of life freely."

New Chevrolets Now Displayed Aid Employment Throughout U. S.

Right: Head-on View

Chevrolet's new car for 1932, embodying silent Synchro-Mesh transmission in combination with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost, and practically every proven automotive advance of recent years, is now displayed at dealer show-rooms throughout the country.

While remaining in the price class in which it won world leadership this year, the new 1932 models offer features heretofore considered exclusive to the high price field, as well as a new front end mounting never before shown on any car.

Called "The Great American Value for 1932," the line offers in support of this slogan a twenty per cent increase in power factor, acceleration, top speeds of 65 to 70 miles an hour, new Fisher bodies with a modern streamline styling, down-draft carburetion, counter-balanced crankshaft, finger-touch front seat adjustment and many other refinements over the 1931 models, which, from the standpoint of public acceptance, were the most successful in the history of the company.

In addition to interest centering on the cars themselves, the announcement at this time has national significance in that activity brought on by production of the new cars is expected, at conservative estimates, to add materially to the earnings of 200,000 people throughout the country just before the holiday season and before the severe winter season sets in.

The company's 21 domestic plants all are busy producing cars as fast as precision manufacturing limits will permit so that deliveries may be made with the least possible delay. More than 30,000 of the new cars already have been built for dealers' showroom displays, and more than that quantity are expected to roll off the assembly lines during the present month.

The new car in the first in the low-price field to offer the combination of silent Synchro-Mesh transmission with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost. A control button on the instrument panel enables the driver to use the free wheeling device only when he desires, and he is thus able to utilize the full braking power of the engine when desired.

The front end offers a radically changed appearance, with a new type radiator, a radiator grille built integral on all models, a double tie-bar arching gracefully between the fenders, on which are mounted bullet-shaped headlamps and a trumpet-type horn just beneath the left headlamp. All models have adjustable hood ports chrome plated on all the sport and de luxe models, and all have centrifugal ventilators controlled from the driver's seat.

With the new streamlined bodies, the external sun visor has been eliminated, and its purpose is now served by an internal visor adjustable to any position in front of the driver. The left front window also has an equalizer built in so that the driver may adjust the window with little effort. On the top rail of the instrument panel is a removable ash tray for the convenience of front seat passengers.

Robe rails, silk assist cords, window shades, arm rests and ash trays on both sides of the rear seat, dome light foot rests, large door pockets and many other big car refinements are standard with various models in the new line.

Way of Life

MERCHANDISING

An earnest gentleman called at my office with a "message." He said that this is the time for me to write and induce somebody to publish some full-page advertisement on Merchandising.

The attention of all executives is now focused on the subject, he said. If we could only get them to "think straight" it would "clarify the whole business situation" and start the "return of prosperity."

I asked him what he meant by merchandising. He hemmed and hawed, and finally remarked: "Why, you know, merchandising."

everybody knows what you mean by merchandising."

I told him that I had listened to much conversation on that subject in 1929, but had never heard any one define the term.

"In those boom days it seemed to men over-selling," I continued. "It meant trying to get barber shops to put in a side line of lawn mowers, urging toilet goods departments to carry ice cream cones, forcing automobile parts into delicatessens.

"It meant pushing up the sales quota twenty-five per cent every year; lying awake nights to think up ways of making people buy more than they needed; going out extravagantly to steal the other man's customers. All that sort of high pressure activity was walking around under the banner of 'merchandising' in 1929," I said, "and if, when we speak of getting back to normal we mean getting back to that rush and strain then I am not much interested."

He went away shaking his head, as if I had uttered treason against the great spirit of American enterprise.

Perhaps he was right; perhaps I am getting old and "unprogressive." But the kind of merchandising problems that I believe our country must face sooner or later are problems like the following:

Why, with so much wealth, are so many men out of work?

Why is our economic machinery so clumsy that men can go hungry in New York while other men are feeding wheat to hogs in Kansas?

Why, with so many labor-saving devices, have we so little leisure?

Why are factories closed when a large percentage of the human race is still barefoot, undernourished, and wet when it rains?

Why were our parents, who were so much poorer than we, still so much more contented, peaceful and secure?

How can we think more about human beings and less about money? How can we recognize the economics of distribution so that everybody can have more of the good things of life as a result of steady, smooth production?

I cannot answer these questions, but I do believe it is important to get as many men as possible thinking about them.

Even if we have to divert a few minutes from our "merchandising."

SANTA ANNA VS. COLEMAN

2nd Quarter
Coleman made several rash attempts to get to their goal line but the closest that they ever got to it was 20 yards and only remained there a short time then. Coleman's offensive game was not strong enough to make a dent in the Mountaineers line as is shown by Coleman getting but two first downs, one on a nice pass from Irby to Burns and the other with the aid of a five yard penalty.

When the game was drawing to a focus, Santa Anna had the ball in mid-field and from there Wheeler punted it over Coleman's goal line. Coleman got the ball on their own twenty yard line and from there Irby, Coleman quarter faked a pass and then ran with the ball. He gained about 6 yards before he came in contact with Meyers.

When the whistle blew to indicate that the game was over, there was more water on the field than there was Thanksgiving. The only advantage was that the water got there after the game instead of before.

at the movies

The theatre management met with bitter disappointment this week in the arrangement of the schedule. 'A House Divided' had been booked for the shows for the first of the week, but a cancellation of this picture was made by Universal as the records for the film were not available on that date. 'Heaven on Earth' has been substituted. Lew Ayers, the star of Notre Dame, plays the lead in this drama of life among the Southern River Front dwellers. One of the main attractions in this picture is a little mongrel pup who does a good bit of acting along with his master, Lew.

The claim is made from Hollywood that the most thrilling close-up ever "shot" in a motion picture, talkie or silent, appears in Cecil B. DeMille's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking picture, "The Squaw Man," which will open tonight at the Queen Theatre.

The one in "The Squaw Man" called upon Paul Cavanagh to fall from his horse, and lie recumbent while fifty riders dashed past him, as part of an English fox hunt scene in the story, which varies its locale between England and America.

No double could be used for the shot as Cavanagh was in the camera finder in full close-up. Horses not only rained their hoofs within inches of his head at every instant of the shot, but one of them actually stepped on him, inflicting very painful bruises. He might as easily have been hit on the head. The scene took more courage to do, it is said, than a dozen "long shot" thrillers.

THE WAY OF LIFE GUIDE HD NEEDED

I left my family in France and started back across the ocean, alone. There was none of the thrill that usually comes with heading toward America, none of the joy of coming home.

For a couple of days I was depressed. Everything I cared for was behind me; I was sailing into silence.

Then one day the wireless spoke.

"Have arranged the following appointments for you," my partner wired. "Tuesday after your arrival, Baltimore, Wednesday, Pittsburgh; Thursday, Friday, Chicago. Best wishes. Please confirm."

Immediately came a feeling of relief and cheer. "I have work to go back to," I exclaimed. "Duties are waiting to keep me alert and a little worried and on my toes."

I was relating the incident to the chairman of the board of a large corporation.

"I know just how you felt," he said. "I've organized our company so well that I've almost organized myself out of a job. But every now and then a really big problem comes along, and the boys have to send for me. A hurry call came to my home from Chicago last Sunday, and I had to leave on an hour's notice. My wife thought it was a hardship, and of course I let her believe that we men lead terrible lives. But all the way out on the train my spirit was singing: 'somebody wants me, I have work to do.'"

Joseph Medill was asked: "What is the greatest pleasure of your life?"

"To feel that I am at play when I am at work," he answered.

The book of Genesis presents work as a curse inflicted on humanity for its sins. We know in these times of unemployment how faulty that conception is.

To wake up in the morning and wonder: "Where shall I go today? What shall I do?" That is the curse.

America's most important problem is not education not the government regulation of business, not even prohibition. Our real task is to work out some economic system by which we can provide honest jobs for all the people all the time.

Every man and woman is entitled to the glorious self-respect which comes from being able to say:

"Thank God, I have a place. I am needed."

Somebody said that it was benedicting the farmers. Glad it's helping somebody. And back to the Coleman game. The pep squad girls weren't bothered with the dust as the Round-up, Coleman High Publication said their girls were when they came here. But the lack of dust can't be caused by the Colemanites' efficiency in sprinkling the field or whatnot. Oh no! No such luck for the Cats! The rain again! We might get even and say the mud bothered us. What do you say, Mountaineers?

SANTA ANNA 6 COLEMAN 0 WHAT A DAY

The football season is over. Benl Rollins, Red Harrod, Murrell Spence, Woodrow Neill, Robert Curry and Jesse Lee Sparkman are the boys who have donned their football togs for good old S. A. H. S. Of course, there will probably be one or two post season games, but as far as helping down those Cats or the Bangs Dragons again it's all over for these boys. But they've had their day. And we can say a good word for how they can play football.

Who's going to be the Captain next year is the question that confronts us now. Of course, it's up to the team, but we have a right to philosophize. Let's see—well we'd better not mention any names, but we have our own ideas. However, there's a bunch of Juniors who are eligible. There's just one thing to do and that's to wait.

Wonder how many weeks we get for Christmas. One week, ten days, two weeks? We'll probably wait for that, too. But two weeks sounds interesting, and by investigation, we find that's what the majority of the teachers want.

This column is new. What do you think of it? Would you like to have it every week? If you like it, tell it to some of the staff. Let us know how you like it. If your report is favorable, why not let us know? Would you like to have it every week? Let us know. But remember: your name is subject to use—what do you say?

WARD SCHOOL P. T. A. NEWS

The Ward School P. T. A. met Tuesday December 1, at 3:30 p. m. The sixth grade pupils gave a splendid Christmas program. An interesting discussion on the subject of authority and discipline was led by Mrs. Joe Mathews.

DIATHERMY

Literally, it means "heating through," this diathermy form of treatment. The apparatus used in administering is expensive; not many rural physicians nowadays can afford such high-priced stuff, considering the almost impossibility of carrying it to widely-scattered bedside patients.

Nevertheless, it is, and has been for some time, a growing, popular method of applying heat in the treatment of localized inflammations. That it will destroy germs by heat that are deeply situated within the body, I seriously doubt. I believe diathermy will greatly accelerate local circulation, hastening the blood through the part affected and do some good in that way—just how much may not be accurately estimated.

POISON in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstore sell.

The destruction of diseased tonsils is being brought about by diathermy, thus saving a more or less bloody operation; but it had better not be attempted by the amateur or beginner without competent instruction. The specialist is the only safe man to employ in the electrical extirpation of the tonsil.

My own experience has not been very pleasing in the use of diathermy, much that I regret to say so. I have used it in numberless cases of chronic arthritis; if any improvement was noticeable it was very slight. I used it in a desperate attempt to relieve pneumonia in an aged patient—and lost; yes, in two cases, without benefit, and where I needed help, oh, so badly.

I believe diathermy to be a very refined, technical, expensive way of applying the simple principle of heat in the treatment of disease. I have yet to be shown that it furnishes greater heat inside the diseased member than on the outside. But I am not an authority, mind you; I am just an intelligent, common-sense, family doctor, with thirty-eight years of experience. I do not own a diathermy apparatus, but I work in hospitals where it is available in any instance desired. I sincerely hope it may come to be the standard, accepted method of obliterating diseased tonsils.

FAREWELL TO FOOTBALL

Until football season again next season, football at Santa Anna High School will be only history. The record made by the Mountaineers will furnish the subject of discussion for many cold winter evenings. The best men, and the most valuable men will be picked over again and again, yet the team's greatest asset will be forgotten as the conversation turns to individual stars.

Without the teamwork, cooperation and loyalty to the coach and to each other that prevailed the machine alone would never have been half so effective. When yards were needed for first down, the man with the ball expected the line to plow thru the oppositions defense for an opening.

Every man had an assignment and each of them was on the job, not for personal glory, but to fight as a team. They shared equally in victory or in defeat.

If the present spirit is maintained through the next season, you will have another winning team to be proud of. Do your part in building an indomitable squad.

Hard-hitting backfield men are necessary for good results but so are powerful linemen. The brotherly spirit manifested by the Mountaineer Boosters rounds out the good qualities of the team. Let them know that we are all working for the glory of dear old Santa Anna High School.
