"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

Poultry Show Dates Set For December 5th to 8th

The premium list for the Eight Annual Poultry Show for Coleman county is now being distributed. The show will be held in the Howell building on Pecan St. in Coleman, on the above dates. A large premium list has been prepared, and great preparations are being made for a good show. The official family of the show are as follows:

A. L. Lockhart, president; I. G. Whittington, vice-president; Chas. R. Wilson, secretary; C. G. Pitts, treasurer; Elmo V. Cook, superintendent of show. The directors are R. B. Barnett, Cecil Gray, John Slate, C. A. Gordon, Jack Coker, R. D. Boyers, J. W. Mead, J. R. Adams, S. O'Neal, C. E. Jeanes. Grievance committee is composed of C. A. Gordon, Cecil Gray and Elmo V. Cook. The Judge is Roy McDonald. All entries for the show will close December 5th.

Annual Red Cross Roll Call Now On

The annual Red Cross roll call and appeal for funds is now on in this country. According to announcements, arrangements have been made at the local banks for those who are not called upon in person. The quota should be raised, and if you feel an interest in the good work being done by the Red Cross, you can call at either bank and leave your dues. $1.00 is requested, but any amount will be accepted. One-half the money will be kept at home for local work, the remainder forwarded to the general headquarters. The campaign will continue to November 28th.

IN MEMORY OF M. S. LOWE

M. S. Lowe, age 86 years, died in the Overhill Hospital at Coleman, November 1, 1928. Funeral services were conducted at the First Christian Church in Santa Anna, by Rev. Ernest H. Wylie. Interment was made in the City Cemetery under the directions of the Stephens Undertakers.

The body was laid to rest under an embankment of fragrant flowers from friends and loved ones. Everything that medical skill and loving hands could do was done for him, but our all-wise father that knowest all things best saw fit to call him from his earthly home to a better one. Grandpa Lowe, as he was known, was what we called an old fashioned father, as he has said so many times that his ways wasn't just like every one else's ways, but they were the best for him and he was always honest with every one. He was a good father and a good man. He cannot come back to earth again but we can go to him in the land of joy and peace.

Turkey Crop Brings Good Returns

Information from the local produce dealers Tuesday, makes it known that $55,900.00 in cash has been paid out to farmers the first twenty days of November this year for turkeys. The local dressing plant has turned out nine carloads of dressed turkeys, that was shipped to the eastern and northern markets. The turkey crop is not all sold as many have under weight turkeys, that were hatched late, and will be placed on the Christmas market. It is now estimated that Santa Anna will pay out One Hundred Thousand Dollars for turkeys this fall.

We take pride in complimenting Mr. Monroe, manager of the local plant and his able corp of assistants for the way they have managed the business affairs of the plant this season. Co-operation should be the watch word of the producers and dealers, and to this end, Mr. Monroe has worked.

Presbyterian W. M. S. To Entertain Officers Of Brownwood Presbyterial

The officers of the Brownwood Presbyterial, will meet here Thursday with the W. M. S. of the U. S. A. Presbyterian church for their Annual Executive meeting. The local society will serve lunch at the church.

LOWELL SHELL WEST APPEARS IN CHICAGO RECITAL

Lowell Shell West, son of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West, appeared at Central Theatre, Chicago, Sunday afternoon, November 18th in the seventh of the 1928-29 series of Artist Student Recitals sponsored by the Chicago Musical College. He sang most acceptably: "If Was Not So Be," by Nessler, and "If I Were King of Ireland" by Foster, which were most enthusiastically received by a large audience of students and musicians.

Mr. West is studying voice with Graham Reed and Dramatic Art and Expression with Walton Eyre, both noted teachers of the Chicago Musical College.

TO ADVERTISERS

Next week Thanksgiving comes on our regular press day, and, unless we get our copy in one day earlier than usual, the News force will either have to work Thanksgiving day or get the paper out Friday, one day late. Will you please do us the favor to get your copy early so we can get the paper out Wednesday night and celebrate Thanksgiving like the rest of you white folks. We'll appreciate it if you will. Thanks.

Santa Anna Boy Leading Team To Victory

BROWNWOOD, Tex., Nov. 17.—Joe Bailey Cheaney, former star grid assistant coach under Dad Amis, is serving his first year as head mentor of the Yellow Jackets and if the results of the first seven games played by the Jackets can be taken as true indicators, it can be truthfully said Cheaney has made a decided success. And if the Jackets go through their remaining four games with equal success, Cheaney will have accomplished a feat that his predecessors have failed in, that of winning the Texas Conference football champion ship.

While playing with the Yellow Jackets, Cheaney gained a state wide reputation as being one of the best backfield men and ball carriers in Texas. His sensational runs from 50 to 90 or more yards for touchdowns stamped him as one of the game's greatest men. In addition to this, Cheaney was an excellent passer and a fair punter and his defensive play was equal to his stellar work on the offense.

Cheaney took special pride in beating Simmons University Cowboys while carrying the ball for the Jackets, as evidenced by the fact that during his career with the Jackets, Simmons did not win a single game from the Brownwood school. Since becoming coach, Cheaney in none the less, has to beat the Cowboys and fans of Texas may rest assured that much time will be spent between now and December 7, in planning an offense that will leave the Abilene machine wondering what it is all about.

Cheaney is being assisted this season by McAdoo Keaton, another former Howard Payne player. Keaton won distinction as a lineman with the Jackets and has charge of the Jacket forward wall this year. Only one team was on a forward pass and not through Keaton's line. Few gains have been made through the Jacket line and the Jacket front line is expected to care for itself against any and all opposition.

Keaton came to the Jackets as assistant coach from San Marcos Academy where he served as head mentor for several years.

C. Cheaney and Keaton have developed a powerful offense and a stubborn defense that promises rough sailing for the Pirates and tough riding for the Cowboys, their two remaining conference foes. The Pirates will be met in Brownwood, Thanksgiving, and Simmons comes here, December 7th.

CLYDE BABY HAS ELEVEN LIVING GRANDPARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Keele, who are here on a visit with their parents, are the proud parents of a fine baby boy who arrived Saturday, November 3rd. The young man's grand dad, Zenas Sikes is still walking on air.

Speaking of grandparents reminds us that this youngster is well provided with grandparents having eleven now living. To begin with he has four grandpapas, Mr. and Mrs. Z. E. Sikes and Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Keele, two great-grandpapas, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sikes, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Green of St. Louis, Okla., and Mrs. I. R. Keele's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Tunnell of the Opilin country, and one great-great-grandmother, Grandma Sikes, who is now nearly 95 years of age. Clyde Enterprise.

T. J. BARBEE PASSES AWAY

T. J. Barbee, 71, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Harris of the Whon community November 10th, and was buried in the cemetery at Cleveland the following day. Deceased had been a victim of a partial stroke of paralysis for almost two years, and his going was not unexpected. Mr. and Mrs. Harris and family request the Santa Anna News to express for them an expression of thanks for the kindness shown them during their trials, especially to the good people of the Cleveland community whose entertainment was made.

Upon the return of a humor manuscript, accompanied by the usual rejection slip, the author sent this rebuttal: "Dear Editor: I originated that joke, but I didn't know I was sending it to one."

Hunting! Hunting! Hunting!

The male population of this section has turned their attention to the hills, etc., in search of the Nimble Bucks. The business and professional men have "bid a dieu" to business and gone out in search of their prey. Some are searching for their first, others looking for the one they saw and shot at last year and missed. Poor bucks, if all who go hunting get their bag limit, bucks will be limited in the future.

To the devil with business seems to prevail with most men when the hunting season opens. Great is the sports, alright, and some have returned with the evidence of good marksmanship. The busy editor is still on the job and will be here the next time you hear from him unless conditions change most wonderful. We love the sport, love the venison, love those who take enough time from their business to go, but have a still greater love for those depending on us for their daily bread and the clothes they wear, so in that event, we guess we will stay in and thump this typewriter and continue our efforts to provide. Great is the game, great are those who can, but still, it is great to stay at home if you can't do otherwise.

MISS LULA JO HARVEY ON HONOR ROLL AT HOWARD PAYNE COLLEGE

The Honor Roll at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, Texas, was announced last week by the Dean of the college, and word has been received here that Lula Jo Harvey, who is a Sophomore in Howard Payne was on the list.

There were some 43 who were studious enough to receive the honor points required. The honor roll there, it was learned, was composed of the highest ten percent of the student body, and this month it was required that a student have 18 points to be placed on the roll. Miss Harvey made 22 points, and was rated very high.

In a communication from the school it was learned that Miss Harvey is working hard, and is one of the most popular on the campus.

Business Like A Ship

A business is like a steamship. It takes a large force of men to operate it. To keep the boat going, the captain requires the assistance of many people who have a single purpose—a desire to go the right thing and the best thing in order that the ship shall move steadily, surely and safely on her course.

Curiously enough, there are men constantly falling overboard. These individuals who fall off, and cling to floating spars, or are picked up by passing craft, usually declare that they were "discharged." They say the "captain or the Mate, or their comrades had it in for them."

When a man quits his work, say, of oiling the engine or scrubbing the deck, and leans over the side calling to outsiders, explaining what a bum boat he is on, how bad the food is, and what a fool there is for a captain, he gradually loosens his hold until he falls into the briny deep. He is standing on a greased plank that inclines toward the sea.

And the plank is tilted in this way: the man takes more interest in passing craft and what is going on on land than in doing his work on-board ship.

So, no man employed by a successful concern was ever discharged. Those who fall overboard get on the greased plank and then give it a tilt to the starboard.

Loyalty is the thing.

BIBLE USED FOR JAIL REGISTER

SAN ANGELO, Texas.—Carrying a Bible in which she had the names of the places in which she had been put in jail, a young woman was awaiting misdemeanor charges today after her car had collided with a bus here.

Several rather slow but genial kind of fellows responded to our appeal last week to come in and renew their subscription, but a few have not yet been in to see us. Maybe they failed to read last week's issue and will see this.

Jack Frost Pays Deadly Visit

The most favorable weather conditions for growing vegetation, we ever remember for fall of the year came to a sudden end first of the week when Jack Frost paid us a very deadly visit.

Monday morning we saw our first frost of any noticeable consequence this season, and ice was rather plentiful. Tuesday morning the frost was of much greater volume, and the ice about the same. Thus ends the growing of tender vegetation that has thrived so nicely throughout the summer and fall seasons. Scarcely do we go until November 10th without a killing frost in this part of the country if our memory serves us right.

DOZEN SETS OF TWINS IN AN ALABAMA SCHOOL

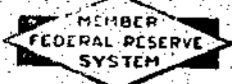

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 16.—While perhaps it is true there are no two persons in the world exactly alike, instructors at Murphy high school here are inclined to differ with the statement. Among their problems is that of distinguishing among the 12 sets of twins enrolled in the institution.

JOYS OF LIVING

Who has not wished he had lived in some remote and happy time? The magnificence of Rome the glory of Greece, the golden chariots, the alabaster vases and the ivory chairs of Tutankhamen fascinate and enthrall. Looking about upon a sick and weary world, nerve-shattered and hungry, it is not difficult to imagine how pleasant life must have been in an easier, golden day.

Yet, if we had been living in the days of the pampered Pharaohs, the vast majority of us would have been digging the irrigation ditches, sweating over the great stones that went into the pyramids, or—if we had been particularly clever—perhaps hammering the gold that went into the ubiquitous statues of the king. The comforts of life were only at the top in 1500 B. C. and even the hopes of improvements had not percolated to the bottom. There may be some consolation for the dissatisfied man of today in his thoughts—that his lot would have been infinitely worse 3,000 or more years ago.

It's easier to live today than ever before. Nearly all the woes from which the world suffers might have been prevented. But when an ancient civilization was overrun by a savage horde, or when plague or famine decimated the population of the fairest cities, the wisest of those people couldn't help themselves.

Migratory tribes have since been pretty well billeted and ticketed, railroads and steamships have conquered famine, and intelligent sanitation and magnificently brave and curious medicine is less respectful of disease with each passing year.

The greatest farm relief today would be a world shortage.

HARKEN, YE SHOPPERS!

Shopping is one of the oldest of human activities—as old as the Garden of Eden; where the serpent proved himself an expert salesman and the first woman as keen a bargain hunter as the last. Man is not a shopper by nature, but only so by grim necessity, stern duty and frequent cajoling. Even he labors under many handicaps, the most serious being the obsession that he is a poor fish and out of water to boot.

"Ordeal by Fire" is one thing, ordeal by shopping is another, but scarcely a different thing. Too bad there are no medals for shoppers who have braved a bargain day without nursing a pet peeve or wearing a worried look. Also that there are no decorations for folks who can hold their own in a rush at the holiday season without holding back several hopeless but infuriated fellow-shopper at the same time. Tell us how you shop and we will tell you what you are.

There is a fine art of shopping as everybody ought to know, and three simple rules are fundamental—first, know what you want and list your items before you leave home, otherwise your expedition may be farcical and a failure. Second, know where to go for what you want, which means a careful reading of the advertisements in the papers. Third, go after what you want as possible and thereby lighten the burden of pushing, pulling, elbowing, nerve-racking crowds.

If there be a fourth rule it is, this—let courtesy constrain your actions and speech while you bargain, since civility helps to make shopping as well as love "one long sweet song."

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Nature's Cosmetics the Best.

Declaring that cosmetics are essential to health and beauty but that nature's brand is the best on the market and that the vanity case should be kept on the dining table rather than the dressing table, home demonstration authorities of the A. & M. College Extension Service are emphasizing gardens as the magic gateway to beauty. Garden cosmetics should be applied internally for the most part, they say. "Rouge your face with carrots, spinach and turnip greens. Let your mirror be a dish of delicious vegetable soup and note the effect of a bevelled edge mirror. For sparkle in your eyes try boiled onions or spinach for they contain phosphorus which concentrates from the beacon-like beam of each eye.

Vegetables both raw and cooked, fruits, fresh air and milk are the health givers that will aid woman in her eternal quest for beauty. The best face cream is cow's vanishing cream used daily. Make your morning meal of oatmeal and other cereals, and take plenty of water, both internally and externally, drinking at least one quart daily. Drill yourself to clean your teeth after each meal or the dentist will drill them for you.

This is the advice 34,000 rural club women and girls are getting from their county home demonstration agents who are showing how it is done by conducting demonstrations in gardening and dairying and in the healthful use of vegetables and dairy products.

You have to cultivate good habits, the bad ones grow wild.

A POPULAR PASTIME

The machinery of business seems to be developing new squeaks and knocks every day. It would be interesting to record all the reasons why business is not so good. A clever revue producer could turn them into a big hit for business men entitled, "Wails of 1928." Business men seemed to be so overwhelmed by insoluble problems and utterly uncontrollable causes for low profits that it is a wonder business that can go on at all.

"How can we make money they say?" "There are too many people in this business—all we can do is to cut each other's throats." That is one of the most frequent wails. Cutting each other's throats is probably even less economically sound as a basis for business than taking in each other's washings. But there is a great brotherhood of throat-cutters who are convinced that throat-cutting is the only remedy and that business will get better as soon as enough throats have been permanently cut.

In every one of the lines of business in which the razor is the symbol of high pressure salesmanship, there are several firms who are not interested in separating the mouth from the lungs of their competitors. They do it by watching their costs as well as their sales. They do it by producing the best quality that can be manufactured, and pricing it so that it will yield a fair profit. They do it by minding their own business.

Price-cutting and throat-cutting are both in the same class and neither pastime is the way to increase profits. Each practice leads only to red ink prosperity.

THOUGHTS OF WINTER

The season is at hand when piles, fur coats and flannel capes and flannel underwear. Summer sports and summer thoughts are "on the shelf" until the spring of 1929.

None of our four seasons and none of the many kinds of weather suits everybody, but winter and cold weather would win hands down in any unpopularity contest. The only good most adults can see in winter is that it makes the other three seasons the more welcome.

However, winter at its coldest and dreariest has its good points. Without it what would become of the "great American home" in this age of automobiles, golf and other outside attractions? Regardless of what alarmist social workers say, the home fire-side is a popular spot when the winds blow bitter cold and the snow and ice argue for leaving the car in the garage.

Winter makes walking and motoring precarious and in other ways makes itself a nuisance, generally, but to the radio fan it brings joy without end. The motor enthusiast mopes all winter awaiting the return of good touring weather, but the radio fan suffers from "radio summer complaint" until fall and winter bring reception up to its best.

However, winter has lost some of its former horrors. The central heating plant has robbed it of some of its former discomfort and inconvenience. Good roads and systematic snow removal in town and country keep the car going twelve months in the year. And much outdoor construction work, once halted by the arrival of cold weather, now defies snow and freezing temperatures.

Well, many people of the United States may not be satisfied with the result of the election, but they can find some comfort in the hope that the country will be fortunate enough to see the President-elect live out his term of office.

Dr. Curran Pope, of Louisville, Kentucky, is reported as urging physicians to depend upon their sense of smell in diagnosing disease. It this practice comes into general use the country will have to be substituted for the apple in keeping the doctor away.

"GIFTS THAT LAST"

WE, TOO, ARE THANKFUL

Last Saturday evening marked the closing of our first effort to pull a real sale in Santa Anna. The people came, they bought, they praised the store for the many bargains we had to offer, and thousands of dollars worth of good merchandise went out to satisfied customers. We feel justified in saying that ours was the biggest sale ever pulled off in Coleman County, and we are certainly grateful for the liberal patronage given us during the period of our special selling event.

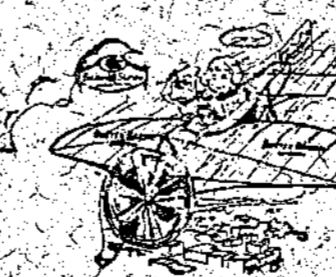

Special Announcement

In this connection permit us to announce that the Red Tag prices will continue on our entire stock the remainder of the year. In fact, we received more than $2,000 worth of new merchandise this week that will be marked, some of it, at even lower prices than prevailed during our special selling event. Come to our store any day or every day, and you will find bargain prices on all stock.

SH! SH! THIS IS SWEARING IN SWEDISH!

The most "awful" swear word or phrase, in Swedish is "Give me ten thousand red devils!" Greta Nissen, Swedish beauty who is leading lady in First National's "The Butter and Egg Man," revealed the fact to Jack Mulhah, featured player in this offering at the Queen Theatre Monday and Tuesday 26-27.

"That doesn't sound very bad!" Jack observed.

"But you should hear it spoken rapidly in Swedish!" said Greta.

"Listen. Say, be sure and see this comedy drama at the date above mentioned."

LISTEN TO THE WEDDING BELLS; SEE THE MARCH!

Speaking of Weddings and Marches—you will want to see the latest, most magnificent, and romantic of the season, so prepare yourself for one that has it all in one. A wedding march without the thoughts of future unhappiness, the thought of the beautiful are the only one existing. "The Wedding March" to be screened at the Queen theatre Wednesday and Thursday, 28-29.

This is one picture you can't afford to miss!

The bottom rungs of the social ladder have been kicked out.

MCCOY PLAYS 2-in-1 ROLE IN MYSTERY WESTERN

As a masked lover who hides his identity from the girl he adores because of an incurred hatred, Tim McCoy virtually plays a dual role in "Beyond the Sierras" which comes to the Queen Theatre Friday, 30th. See it if you want a thrill.

Adam was the first and only man to fall for the "only girl in the world."

Mr. Hoover came out for a full gasoline tank, but he didn't say anything about paid-up installments on the car.

"We Have Lots To Be Thankful For"

The Barnes & Gehrett Dry Goods Co. started business the first day of April this year, since then our business has shown a big increase each month. (There is a reason.) The most of you know that when we bought the Texas Mercantile Company the stock was very low, today we have as well selected stock of Merchandise as you will find in Santa Anna. We are putting in as fast as we possibly can all the NATIONALLY ADVERTISED MERCHANDISE Merchandise that we can truthfully say is well worth the money.

There's an iron clad rule operating within this organization that customers must be satisfied—must never loose and they never do.

We take this method of thanking you for your kind co-operation in helping us to build a business that we are proud of.

Yours for better merchandise at the lowest possible price.

A TREASURE HUNT

I was very much surprised and pleased Tuesday night to receive an invitation to a "Treasure Hunt," to be given on the following Thursday night by the Senior B. Y. P. U. The invitation read something like this: Fifteen men on a dead man's chest,
 Yo ho ho and a bottle of rum; Drink and the Devil had done the rest—
 Yo ho ho and a bottle of rum; If a treasure chest you would like to find,
 Be at the First Baptist Church and be on time,
 At 7:30 o'clock on next Thursday night.
 The pirates will be there so be ready to fight
 Bring your compass and gally knife too,
 For you will need them ere you're thru!
 Gee! but I was excited and thrilled too, for I have always thought it would be exciting to fight pirates and search for treasure chests so I made up my mind to go.
 I was there on the next Thursday night and I was ready to fight. When all was ready we were informed that we must go "one block and two blocks north, one block west and two blocks north." We would come to a certain house in town. This was the place the pirates had been hiding and their den was behind a brown door. After a little confusion we found the house and took thirteen steps and knocked on the door three times. "Pieces of eight, will you tell me where to find the Treasure, my mate?" The little brown door slowly opened and a very fierce-looking pirate stood there. "How many are in your party?" asked the pirate gruffly. We answered meekly, "Seven." Come in, said the pirate. We entered, and there we saw a sign that would freeze anybody's blood. A pirate had kidnaped a child and tied him with ropes. He was kneeling by the poor child who was moaning and crying. He had a sword in his hand which he was swinging over the child as if to kill him. We wondered what they would do with us, for, yes, there were other pirates in there, too—a whole room full, it seemed.
 At last we accomplished our purpose. We got the first clue to the Treasure. My! but we were thrilled. The clue said: "Go to our water supply." I thought that was a long way to go for a Treasure, but we started out and it was not long until we got there. We found our second clue in the cattle guard and what do you suppose it said? (I could have died.) It said: "Go back to town." My goodness! Some chase we had just come from town. "Go to old gas house south of town. No Smoking Allowed." Well, we finally got back to town and found our next clue. It was on the gate post. Had to leave town again. Would we ever find that treasure? And now just as we got to town, we must leave again. "Go out. When road to Trickham near big bridge." We found this clue on the bridge under a large rock. This time it said: "Go back to town. Go to school building. Football field. Fifty yard line. Left side. (I hoped we would not have to leave town again.) We got the clue and—Imagine—it said of course we had to leave town again! "Go out to Dock's—turn to right—Come back to Santa Anna Coleman. What in the world could this mean? Why, we didn't know whether to go to Coleman or Santa Anna, so, we just stayed at home. This was number five and we had been told to go to "Lover's Leap" when we found that, so up we went. But first we had to have a flashlight. One of the boys got one so we started up the mountain.

 Now if you think it isn't fun to climb the mountain at night, stumble over rocks, twigs, bushes, holes, crevices, boulders, and trees, just try it. Of course we were in a hurry, so we paid little attention to the scratches we received. When we got to the top of the mountain we still had a short distance to go and the rest of the way we stumbled over rocks and puddles of mud and water.
 At last we saw the camp fire and then came the grand rush. From here we were given directions for finding the treasure. We then started off in groups of two and three to find the Treasure Chest. When we arrived we saw several other parties also searching for the treasure. No one had found it, so to work we went trying to find that treasure Thorns, rocks, crevices, stumps and cactus could not stop us. We went right on passing everything to find that treasure. Sometimes we had to stop and get rid of a few thousand cactus stickers and thorns but we didn't stop for long. Some of us returned to the fire to see what of interest we could find there when the treasure excitement grew less.
 Son we heard shouts and cries and knew that the treasure had been found. It was a nice box of Treasure, Island Candy and believe me, it was worth looking for.

 Music was furnished by the president of the Senior B. Y. P. U. The music was enjoyed by all. Some of the boys then volunteered to get sticks with which to roast the weenies and marshmallows. Soon the roasting began in earnest.
 I was certainly glad of this for I had been so excited all day over the event, that I had eaten very little, so you see, I was beginning to get hungry.
 We were given buns, roasted weenies, and sour pickles to start with and when these were gone we ate roasted marshmallows.
 Soon after this the party began to break up and we started down the mountain. Climbing the mountain we couldn't go fast enough, but coming down was quite different. Sometimes we slipped and almost went too fast for awhile. Some of the party went down the road to their cars, they didn't have such a hard time going down the mountain.
 All told the seniors what a wonderful time we had and then went home to bed, tired, but happy and filled with pleasant memories of the wonderful entertainment given us by the Senior B. Y. P. U. of the First Baptist Church.
 Thanks, Seniors, we enjoyed the night with you. Call again, and keep up the wonderful pep.
 —One who attended.

Miss Eudora Garrett Preparing To Tour Europe

Miss Eudora Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Garrett of this city, who has been a feature writer on the Austin American-Statesman, is leaving Austin for New York, where she will continue her work in journalism until June of next year, when, according to her present plans, she will sail for Europe with a view of further augmenting her journalistic ambition. Miss Garrett will be accompanied by her friend, Miss Florence Jackson, who is also studying journalism.
 Miss Bery McLeod of Brownwood spent the week-end with Miss Opal Laxson.
 The Outlook for 1929 is bright for those who look out.

Is This Suggestion Too Bold

Since Armistice day this year fell on Sunday it was pretty generally observed on Monday, November 12.
 In several of the states law provides that where a holiday comes on Sunday observance by officials and public institutions may be carried out on Monday.
 This prompts the suggestion that for the purposes of business closing and celebration all holidays be made to fall on the Monday of the week containing the historical date of the holiday.
 This would give people a two or three-day period for rest, recreation and suitable festivities.
 On sentimental and religious grounds, Christmas might well be excepted from the suggestion, although there are sincere historians who advocate, with considerable weight, of festivity several dates other than the 25th of December as the birth dates of Jesus, and press their respective claims in works of authority.
 On the other hand, there seem no good reason why even those who cling to December 25th could not find fitting grounds for engaging in Christmas service on the Sunday opening the week of the 25th.
 Holidays in the middle of the week tend to demoralize business and throw the whole scheme of things into reverse gear, and the rush increases accidents.
 Common sense should control in cases of such days as Independence Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Memorial Day and fix their observance on Mondays.
 It would simply take some President, Governor or Mayor with nerve enough to set Monday in the official proclamation and a slight change in statute or code, and the people would follow.
 Then a sensible precedent would be established which would be followed afterward without question of mind or disturbance of sentiment; and we have a feeling that the Almighty would look down upon us with a sense of pride for our good judgment and common sense.
 To show how we have already unconsciously departed from the rule, let us recall that the fourth Thursday in November 1864 was proclaimed by President Abraham Lincoln as Thanksgiving day; and if that precedent were followed to the letter we would all be eating turkey and cranberry sauce (or wishing we could be) on the 22nd of November, 1928.
 Instead, our calendar puts red ink on the figure 29, which is the fifth Thursday of November.
 Now which is Thanksgiving the fourth Thursday or the last Thursday of November (which sometimes is the fifth Thursday)?
 The answer is, even if anybody knows, nobody cares, because the Day is observed with equal sentiment in either case.
 As for the groceries, nobody ever starved to death because the store was closed two days in succession.
 In fact, the people usually buy more goods than they would buy ordinarily, in contemplation of a two-day feast.

Christmas Rush Of Business

Merchants of this town have made ample provision for fall and winter trade. At this season of the year business always picks up, and while it makes more work for everybody, it is the kind of work that is done with good cheer and spells happiness.
 Christmas will be here so soon we will hardly realize the time is passing. You can be sure that it is the desire of business firms to serve their patrons with courtesy, accuracy, speed and quality of merchandise. Without these aims in view no business can long prosper.
 There is a corresponding obligation on the part of buyers who demand these qualifications in business to place their orders as early as possible before the rush of the final days before Christmas, and while stocks are complete enough to suit varying fancies.
 We expect to see Santa Anna and vicinity enjoy a good, lively season, and secure the share of patronage that rightly belongs to this community. Given that, we should all be satisfied.
 Well, anyhow, people don't stand out on the front porch or hang around the mail box waiting for a mail-order catalogue.
 The best reflections come from thinking instead of looking into mirrors.
 There are people who never lose an opportunity of being miserable.
 The man with six children knows more about shoes than the man who makes shoes.

GOVERNMENT AND PEOPLE

By the time the ink was dry on the first newspaper that announced definitely the result of the Presidential election, and almost with the dying away of the echo of radio voice of the decision the American people had practically forgotten the strained condition of the political campaign. And with no intention to minimize the importance of a Presidential election, or take from Herbert Hoover the great honor that is his, at least two reasons suggest themselves for the apparent indifference of the people toward matters of state between campaigns.
 In the first place the form of government of the United States as outlined by the Constitution somewhat surrounds the office of President with certain barriers against a possible exercise of autocratic power. It is a case of "we want a President, but we don't want him to 'preside' too much over our destinies."
 The President has the power of recommendation on the one hand and of veto on the other. These are indeed great powers. In national emergency he is clothed with the authority of commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the country. As an incident to the office the President has the power of civil judicial and political appointment. But in enumerating the official duties of the chief executive, which in the main are of a legal or diplomatic nature, the fact must not be overlooked that his duties extend into the social, moral and educational elements of the nation. The psychology of leadership finds expression even in one elected by the partisan preference of the ballot. The President becomes by common consent as well as by force of custom and lay a spokesman of all of the people in national and world affairs, although such monitorship is at best temporary and subject to political change.
 Secondly, an attitude of forgetfulness on the part of many people takes predominance because of so many interests other than governmental. But with considerable amount of hopefulness the proposition may be reversed by saying that it is fortunate for the purposes of a democracy that as often as every four years the people take a more or less intensive interest in the issues involving their own government.

KNOW TEXAS

The value of buildings on farms in Texas is about $500,000,000.
 It is estimated that there are about 20,000,000 chickens on the farms of Texas.
 Almost 300,000 farms are operated by tenants in Texas.
 Public utility plants of Texas consume almost three billion feet of gas a month in generating electricity.
 There are about 750,000 women and girls 10 years old and over on the farms of Texas.
 Texas consumes, in its mills only about 25 per cent of the cotton grown in the state.
 Obsolete saying: "Howdy, strange, want a ride?"

INVESTING MONEY WISELY

Statistics show that the many millions of dollars invested each year in worthless securities come largely from small investors, persons who are at least able to lose their earnings to fraudulent concerns. There is constant need of warning the uninitiated in investments.
 The best advice any person can be asked to follow when he has been asked to invest in something of which he has little or no knowledge is to take the proposition to a banker or responsible broker, who will be able to advise promptly as to the probable value of the investment.
 The banker may advise that the money be left in the bank rather than put into something which the solicitor assures will yield a large income, but which broker may be worthless, and the broker may suggest investment in some well-known stock which he is able to sell, but in either case the saving of the individual would have some assurance of safety.
 The first inquiry of the person with a little money should be not how much it will yield, on paper, but how safe will be the investment. The person who succumbs to the promise of dividend returns out of keeping with the good business principles should ask the court for a guardian who is safe to be trusted with money.

EXTEND SYMPATHY, OFFER THANKS

Mount Etna, in Sicily, broke loose again, sending down great streams of lava. Whole villages have been destroyed. Because this disaster is across the ocean some of us may not be inclined to take it as seriously as we should. But in this connection the least we can do is extend sympathy to the stricken people. We can send material help to the foreign shore if necessary. And altho it would be only a moral gesture so far as helping the Sicilians, we can give thanks to Providence that no such form of devastation appears possible in our own country.
 A foreign scientist has announced that he can lengthen life ten years. The bill for it, however, would probably take away 20.

Baby Born With Tail

Knoxville, Tenn. Nov. 15.—The 21-year-old father of a baby born with a seven inch tail today tried to fain his girl-wife's fears that he would exhibit the child as a human freak.
 He volunteered to pay for the operation of removing the tail. The 17-year-old mother and the child's grandmother, who is 35, refuse, however, to resume relations with the husband. Money is needed to pay for the operation, however, and the grandmother is considering offering the appendage for study to some scientist or school in return for performing the operation.

There were 3,886,439 bales of 1928 crop, prior to November 1st cotton ginned in Texas, form the according to the department of Commerce reporting from Washington. There were 3,392,707 bales ginned November 1st, 1927 in Coleman county, 34,396 bales were ginned this year, compared to 25,329 bales to same date last year.
 On our desk lies a large bundle of Newspapers, mostly weekly papers, published in various parts of the state. Among them being some of the leading weekly papers in the country, and we prize them very highly for their contents and what they mean to us. Local merchants would find interest in perusing the advertising pages of these papers and you are welcome to them at will. After we have gone through the ordeal of putting out our paper, then comes a great treat reading, inspecting, and enjoying the products of what others have done, engaged in the same line of work.

The Man Who Keeps His Word

It is like a shadow of a great rock in a weary land to run across, as we sometimes do, a man who keeps his word.

You may be able to sue, join written promises and contracts put in writing, which are usually binding; but somehow the man who does not keep his word strictly is a slippery customer and is hard to get hold of him with a piece of writing.

The fundamental security for a man doing what he promises is, after all, character.

If a man has character and is upright, you are safe in lending him money than if he gives you a mortgage on his farm. Doing business with a liar is never very satisfactory. Somehow he will attempt to wriggle out of his promise.

It is easy to detect the strictly honest person. When he owes you money he does not avoid you but openly and frankly pays you something on account right along if he cannot pay the whole amount.

The test of the fundamentally honest man is punctuality in meeting his engagements, in frankly explaining to you why those engagements cannot be met.

The courts are full of people trying to evade their plain engagements.

A man who is in debt sincerely tries to meet that debt whether it hurts him or not. It is very trying and very disturbing to our faith in human nature to find a person who is always looking for alibies, always seeking explanation for not doing as he said he would do.

The good loser, the man who loses and is yet cheerful, is the man who is after all, one of the chief pillars of the social fabric. Exchange.

The old-fashioned grocer who used to throw in a bag of candy when you paid your bill, the meat man who used to toss in a pound of liver, and the clothier who would give you a pair of suspenders with your new suit, have all passed. Today we have to pull like the dickens to get on to throw in five gallons of gas when we buy a new car.

They say that one nice thing about travelling by airplane is that you don't have to read a lot of billboard advertising but most of us evidently prefer to read the signs.

SCHOOLING

Most Americans get their schooling between the ages of 6 and 16, says Prof. Dallas L. Sharp of Boston University.

That is true. But most of us do not begin to get our real education until we leave school. Experience remains the greatest teacher.

When a school graduate strikes out in the world for himself, one of the first things he has to do is unlearn much of what he has been taught. The delusion that takes most time to get out of the head is youth's inflated conception of the possibilities of success.

Probably the man who wonders why he doesn't fall in love hasn't the heart to do it.

The modern girl may not get when she is kissed, but the men do.

ROAD TO SUCCESS

In the attainment of solid well founded success there has been found a substitute for honest labor with the hands or mind. The ages have recognized this as an immutable truism, yet every age, including the present, has had its skeptics, its unbelievers, its seekers after fame and fortune without paying the price in work.

Some sage has said that to attain success use half as much effort as you would exert in attempting to seek success without work. There is much wisdom in the axiom that it takes less mental effort to climb to legitimate success than to climb to an illegitimate success. Legitimate achievement requires no fortifications, no protection. Illegitimate achievement demands more in its attainment than in its attainment.

If it is a gross injustice to humanity to say that if there is any one thing more than another that enlists very much of the attention-time and effort of the people it is in scheming and planning to get something of value for nothing. The number of society's parasites is large but the number of honest, hard-working supporting pillars of society is preponderously large.

There is but one thing in the world, Divine Energy. Its highest manifestation is Man. When we read history and find from what distance the race has come and see what tremendous progress has been made, say within twenty-five years, one thinks of the future possibilities of Man with reverence and awe.

The part we now play as fore-runners and Messiahs of the Coming, an is enough to call out all our sense of sublimity, all our love, all our heroism, all our devotion. Hubbard.

Who remembers the old fashioned expert back there in the eighties who told us that by 1928 the supply of coal would be practically used up?

A well known bedtime story: "Get up in time to kindle a good fire before you go to work."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. P. B. Fitzwater, D. D. Dean, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

Lesson for November 25

THE PRAYERS OF PAUL

LESSON TEXT—Acts 20:36-38. ROM. 1:8-10; Eph. 1:16-23; 3:14-21. GOLDEN TEXT—Rejoice always; pray without ceasing; in everything give thanks...

His prayer life most really reveals the character of a man. Paul's prayers explained the power and efficiency of his wonderful ministry.

I. Paul's Prayer With the Ephesian Elders (Acts 20:36-38). Having met with these elders and pointed out to them the perils which confronted them...

1. He thanked God for their world-famed faith (v. 8). The true minister has no greater occasion for gratitude than the knowledge of genuine faith possessed by followers of Christ.

2. He prayed for their continual growth (v. 9). Knowing the far-reaching influence of the church at Rome, he earnestly prayed for them that their influence might be most widely felt.

3. He desired to visit Rome in order that he might impart some spiritual gift to the believers there and also to receive some spiritual help from them.

4. He besought God that the believers at Ephesus might know (1) the hope of their calling (v. 8).

2. For strength (Eph. 3:14-21). This power was united to God who is the Father of His great family in heaven and in earth. He prayed that the believers might be strengthened with might in their hearts...

3. For wisdom (Eph. 1:17-18). This wisdom was the wisdom of God which is the knowledge of the things which are invisible to the natural eye...

I saw a big strong man walking home the other evening. It was at the close of a long, hot summer day. In his hand he carried a paper sack. Inside that paper sack, I learned, was "striped stick candy."

The girls who have been wearing heavy knickers and thick stockings all summer, are now putting on winter silks for the cold days that are approaching.

Acting Judge At A Baby Show

(By Joe Sappington)

There is not a case on record where any man ever acted as judge at a baby show the second time. It is like having the measles or the mumps, you never have the second attack.

I had been married but a few months when I accepted that honor (?) and knew fully as much about babies as a Digger Indian knows of modern society.

The only way on earth that I could be induced to act as judge of another baby show would be to hold my opinion in reserve until I could get to Nova Scotia or some other remote corner of the globe and send my decision back by mail.

The baby show over which I presided was at the close of our County Fair, and out of a crowd of a thousand men was unanimously chosen to fill the place.

1. He thanked God for their world-famed faith (v. 8). The true minister has no greater occasion for gratitude than the knowledge of genuine faith possessed by followers of Christ.

2. He prayed for their continual growth (v. 9). Knowing the far-reaching influence of the church at Rome, he earnestly prayed for them that their influence might be most widely felt.

had been a matter of great difficulty for me to decide between their babies, for in all my experience with babies theirs had been the most magnificent spread that I had ever beheld.

My wife stood by my side while I was delivering my speech awarding the prize, as became the wife of a man who was pulling off his first social triumph.

There must have been a hundred women under the tent and nearly every one of them made some sarcastic remark to me as they left the tent and six or eight of them jabbed me in the ribs with their umbrellas as they filed by.

When the crowd passed out I continued to stand and gaze into empty space, too stupefied to move. I thought everyone had left the tent and I was standing there like a wooden Indian.

Texas and Texans

By Will H. Mays

Building in Texas One who attempts to keep informed as to the building going on in Texas must be amazed at the progress in all parts of the state. The towns and cities are nearly all growing at a remarkable rate and building permits are far in excess of those of any previous period.

Railroad Building Those who predicted, a few years ago, that railroad building in Texas would have to stop because of the improved highways have another guess coming. The vast Panhandle section, naturally adapted to the building of good highways, is not only building such roads, but is almost changing the map with the railroads newly built and planned.

Public Utilities Have you noticed how the public utilities companies, most of which are largely financed by eastern capitalists are reaching out for what ever local utilities they can acquire. Recently the West Texas Telephone Company, operating in that rich section around Brownwood, was acquired by a subsidiary of the Bell Telephone Company.

The "Valley" Hotels A few years ago Weslaco was a little village, dependent almost entirely on the then unprofitable fruit and vegetable industry that was then largely without profitable markets. Shipping facilities have changed all this.

Making Way For Progress For forty years travelers in that part of Texas have been stopping at the Junction Hotel at Kennedy and eating meals at the railroad eating house there. Many of the country's notables have been among the number. The place is to be closed to make way for more modern demands. It is the old story repeatedly—the old must inevitably give way to progress.

Creamery Building This leads to the thought that the country is changing about as rapidly as the cities. A few years ago in the vast areas of West Texas thousands of acres were included in one pasture for cattle, which were owned in vast and uncounted numbers.

How They Grow? A capitalist at Big Springs has recently put a 394 lot subdivision on the market, a 200 lot subdivision at Brady and another 100 lot addition at Menard have changed ownership.

Flying To School Lieutenant James W. Andrews an instructor in flying at Kelly Field, San Antonio, is working toward a Ph. D. degree at the University of Texas. He flies from San Antonio to Austin three times a week to attend classes, and gives the rest of his time to teaching others to fly.

Sunflower Crop A farmer living near Lamesa, Dawson county, last year raised a crop of sunflowers from which he realized from $35.00 to $40.00 an acre. This year the yield is from 500 to 700 pounds to the acre and it is selling for about 15 cents a pound.

Thanksgiving On Thanksgiving Day the people of the United States will again devote themselves to the commemoration of a series of memorable events in the history of the nation. The first Thanksgiving Day was established by the Pilgrims in the year 1621; by the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1630; and by the Dutch in New Netherland (New York) in 1644.

What is this great occasion which, altho its observance does not result by compulsion or force of law, finds a true response in the hearts of the American people? The majority of the more devout among the people observe the day by conducting or participating in religious service and worship.

Others may seek to fulfill their obligations to Providence by resting in silent contemplation of whatever blessings may have been bestowed upon them. Still others may seek amusement, or the more enlivening pursuits that tend toward the joyous and light-hearted.

Even if one does not feel called upon to attend a Thanksgiving exercise, he should search the recess of his own heart and conscience for a response in gratitude for the life and for all of the possibilities it holds in store.

There are few if any, to whom opportunity does not, in some manner beckon, and to whom Divine Guidance has not in some form been made abundantly manifest.

Whatever thanks the people offer for their material blessings will find a counterpoise in sincere acknowledgements for an increased wealth of spirit, character and virtue which are becoming the common possessions of all.

"Humans"

(By Gentry Dagat) A woman's piercing shriek suddenly startled a party of survivors at dinner in a North Virginia forest. 'Twas a calm, sunny day in 1750. The cries were repeated in quick succession. The men sprang through the undergrowth to learn their cause.

Throwing off his coat, the youth sprang into the water, scanned the whirling currents and spied a child's dress. In a moment he was in the rapids. "Thank God, he will save my child!" cried the mother, and all rushed to the brink of the precipice.

But all eyes followed the youth who, with strong heart and hope, was in the midst of whirling eddies far below. It seemed he would be dashed against rocks in whirl pools capped by angry foam. Twice the boy went out of sight, appearing again near a dangerous part of the river. Three times near the grasp of the child, strong eddies tossed him from the rescuer.

"There they are!" the mother shouted a moment later. "See they are safe!" Rescuer and rescued emerged from the boiling vortex—the child senseless, but alive—both drawn, by willing hands, from the water's edge.

Paul Bivins was a business visitor to Fort Worth last week.

THE EDITORS REVENGE

The following account was written of the wedding of an editor's insurance agent.

John Joseph Smith, referred to herein as the bridegroom, and Miss Lizzie Gish, hereafter referred to as the bride, today, on this day and date, were duly, properly and with recognized authority married.

Terms of the marriage, sometimes termed contract, performed by the Rev. J. R. Buttons, cannot be changed or its condition varied or altered, except by express agreement or decree of some good divorce court of justice or probate.

The bride wore a gown signed for by either of said persons as being a creation in blue crepe de chine, under the State of New York or other circumstances never to be worn again for such a purpose. Following the ceremony, which was at the home of the bride's parents, hereafter referred to as all, the groom and bride, under the terms of clause three as set forth in all similar forms left on a honeymoon, the premium and extent of which shall be determined to suit the taste and convenience of the parties of the first and second part.

The needle is mightier than the pen.

Unemployed Teachers And College Students Why Don't You Enter Business.

There is a wonderful opportunity in business for the unemployed teacher or the college student who by force or circumstances had to drop out of college. Because of your unusual literary qualifications, business concerns prefer you.

We have a novel yet simple plan that is helping hundreds of young people through our school a plan that enables them to pay the greater portion of their expenses after they are placed on a business man's pay-roll.

Christmas to begin because any one who desires may visit home at least ten days during the Christmas holidays. So, if you enter now, you will be just two months ahead of the fellow who waits until after Christmas to start.

You will be surprised at what we can do for you for just a few dollars and a few months of your time.

To learn of our plan, clip the coupon and mail it for our catalog, "Achieving Success in Business." No obligations on your part if you don't enter school.

100,000 dairymen can't be wrong! Here's the plan used by 100,000 dairymen to make extra money. 1. Raise all the feed you can (legume hay when possible). 2. Use just enough Purina to supply what your own feed lacks. Read the directions in the bag. 3. Take a moment to figure out your present milk and feed costs before you start on Purina. 4. After feeding Cow Chow for a season, figure up your milk again. If Purina does not make more money—don't feed it! Farmers who have learned that it pays to figure production costs stick to Purina year after year. We will be glad to show you why the next time you drop in. Better still, phone for our Purina service man to come out to your place the next time he is in town. PITTARD Feed and Grain Store The Store with the Checkerboard Sign

CHANGES IN THE STAFF

If you have been noticing the Staff, you will notice that several changes have been made this week. We hope to make the Mountaineer bigger and better and more worth your time than it has ever been before. But we still need more co-operation. Only a few are contributing as they should.

The box has been placed in the study hall, and every one can more easily contribute now. The box is near the pencil sharpener in the front of the room. Make up your mind to contribute something before mid-term, and at least three times after mid-term. If every student in High School will hand in only one short article before mid-term, (some earlier than others), our school paper can be made to be something worth reading. Co-operate with the Staff, and we can give you a worth-while paper.

Last Tuesday at the meeting of the High School P. T. A., the Freshmen had the most mothers present and won the prize of two dollars offered by the P. T. A. for having the most mothers present.

Three new pupils have recently joined the ranks of the Fish—Richard Jennings, Paul Arnold and Martha Session. We are very glad to have them and hope they will be a credit to the class.

VIRTUE IMMORTAL

Sweet day, so cool, so calm, so bright,
 The bridal of the earth and sky;
 The dew shall weep thy fall to-night,
 For thou must die.

Sweet rose, whose hue, angry, and brave,
 Bids the rash gazier wipe his eye;
 Thy root is ever in its grave,
 For thou must die.

Sweet spring, full of sweet days and roses,
 A box where sweets compacted lie,
 Thy music shows ye have your closes,
 And all must die.

Only a sweet and virtuous soul,
 Like seasoned timber, newer gives,
 But though the whole world turn to coal,
 Then chiefly lives.

MY FUTURE

The sun with diminishing glory,
 Is slowly returning to rest,
 While I ponder upon my dim future,
 With spirits that are slowly depressed.

What will become of me,
 As the years pass swiftly over my head,
 Will I have anyone to mourn o'er me,
 When I am numbered with the dead.

Will my life be hollow and empty
 As the likes of some I know,
 Or will it be useful and happy,
 As down the path of time I go.

Will it be selfish and degrading,
 Caring not for a brother's woes,
 Or will it be strong and uplifting,
 Helping the weak to cruse their foes.

Will my life be a failure or success,
 This question to my mind every day,
 As I worry and trouble and fuss
 As to which way I will turn at the parting of the day.

May I be strong and firm,
 To do any duty that is my reach,
 So when I come to the turn,
 My declining years can be spent in peace.

TENNIS CLUB ORGANIZED

The Sophomore class of the S. A. H. S. organized a tennis club Monday morning, and is planning to have some peppy contests in this wholesome sport. The club officers are:
 President—James Gipson.
 Vice-Pres.—Cula West.

ORGANIZES ENGLISH CLUB

Section B of the Sophomore English class has organized a Good English Club. The officers elected are:
 President—Myrton MacDonald
 Vice-Pres.—Cula West.
 Sec.-Treas.—Geneva Atkinson
 Reporter—Ruby Vanderford
 Program committee:
 Aline Harper—Group Captain
 Wilma Stacy and Geneva Caldwell.
 Critic Committee:
 William Ragsdale, James Gipson and Robbie Lee Vestal.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics classes I and II met November 8. The president, Lonella Taylor took charge of the meeting and called for discussions on our flower, name, color and dues. We decided to call our club the D. Y. Q's. Our colors are lavender and silver and our flower a pansy. We plan to have two meetings each month on Thursday afternoon. In a previous meeting we elected the following officers:
 President—Lonella Taylor
 Vice-Pres.—Pauline Williamson.
 Sec.-Treas.—Virginia Pieratt.
 Reporter—Margaret Donham.

FRESHMAN REPORTS

The Freshman class did not have enough time to complete their program and therefore they did not have one for Friday, November 16, which was their time. Their program will be Friday, November 23. The committee has a fine cast and they offer a good program.

And now we have another absent minded professor—He ate onions for dinner and went to the mirror to see if he could smell his breath.

Mrs. Scarborough: Knowing that Mr. Scarborough was going hunting I put red cloth on his cap and coat to reduce the danger of being shot by other hunters who might think he was another animal.
 Jesse Lee Sparkman: Yeah, perhaps a deer.

Last Thursday there were ten present at the first orchestra meeting. Those who were there thought it was a great success. The following were present:
 J. F. Turner—Clarinet
 Elmo Conklin—Violin
 J. W. Taylor—Violin
 Bessie Evans—Violin
 Leon Bartlett—Cornet
 Velma Sealy—Saxophone
 Jesse Gogn—Saxophone
 Carl Flores—Trombone
 A. G. Weaver—Cornet.

Sylvia Ruth is all wrapped up in herself.
 "Yes, it's a pity that she doesn't know how much she is overdressed."

"Dear Auntie, every time I go out, I eat so much that I am really too fat. What can I do to reduce?"
 "Try going out with school boys."

Doctor: "I have bad news, you can never work again."
 Student: "What do you mean, bad news?"

Mrs. Scarborough: "Charles, if you just must sleep, please let your nose go to sleep also."

A very bad lad threw a rock the other day and hit Mr. Oliver in the alley.

JUNIOR PICNIC

Thursday of last week, the Junior class met at the school about 6:30 and went to the Lake Santa Anna on a picnic. Most of the Juniors went in our high school bus. We cooked and ate supper and then played many games. We all had a good time. We hope our good sponsor, Miss Smith will soon take us on another picnic.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM ORGANIZED

Recently the girls in the Santa Anna High School organized a basketball team, and are now making preparations to practice and contest with other teams in the county during the basketball season. Mrs. J. R. Lock has been elected Coach, and the suits consists of white slip-over jackets with purple letters and purple bloomers.

The following have been selected to co-operate with the team and arrange for proper conveyances and escort when playing other teams: Mrs. Ford Barnes, Mattie Ella McCreary, Mrs. C. A. Walker, Mrs. W. E. Roussey, Mrs. J. B. Joiner, Mrs. Stafford Baxter, Mrs. G. A. Ragsdale, Milton Binion, Elder E. H. Wylie and Rev. Sidney F. Martin.

WARD SCHOOL NEWS

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BUILDS DRINKING FOUNTAIN

Rise up all you people and give a vote of thanks! Yes, sir, they are at it again. The Grammar School P. T. A. has plenty of money, they are willing to spend it in the right way. What have they done now?

Well, just come up to the school building and see for your self. You will find three new drinking fountains on the school grounds, one on the north side and two on the south side of the building.

They are modern in every way. Being substantial, sanitary and convenient. The bases are made of concrete. The water comes in from the bottom of the block and goes out through a draffage which leads to a hole filled with rocks deep under the ground. There are four bits on the fountain north of the building and three on each of those south of the building. There are now plenty of places for the children to drink without the waste of so much time.

I, as principal, wish to thank the P. T. A. for this gift and heartily commend them for all the good work they are doing to help the Grammar School.

THERMOMETERS NEEDED AT GRAMMAR SCHOOL

In order to keep the classrooms at the proper temperature and, thereby, to prevent colds and other diseases, it is necessary that each school room have a thermometer. We need them now and I am wondering if some business concern in town would not like to furnish us a dozen thermometers as a means of advertising its goods. It would be an excellent means of advertising because all the children of the community would see them every day. If some business man will furnish us the thermometers we will appreciate it very much.

7th GRADE ENGLISH CLUB NEWS

Last week we organized an English Club. We named it the "Willing Workers". Our club days are Thursdays of each week. We have had one program, last week. The following were on the program: John Frank Byrd, reading; Clifford Wheeler, jokes; Mildred Boardman, reading; Reubin Dodgen, jokes; Catherine Rollins, reading; and Clifford Ode, reading. The following officers were elected:

President—Nettie Williamson.
 Vice-Pres.—Catherine Rollins.
 Sec.-Treas.—Garland Close.
 Reporter—Nettie Williamson.
 Program Committee—Mildred Boardman, Rebecca Turner, Horace Taber and Reubin Dodgen.
 Critic Committee—Katherine Creamer, Wilbourne Campbell, and Clovis Fiechter.

7th GRADE NEWS

The following pupils were absent Monday afternoon: Leon Ward, Clifford Wheeler, Rebecca Turner, Helen Turner, Mildred Eubanks, Syble Ripley, Margaret Harvey and Fern Pasterson.

The P. T. A. met at the Ward School building last Wednesday and gave a prize to the room that had the most mothers present, which was Miss McCreary's room.

Miss Martin of Coleman, a girl scout leader is getting up a girl scout organization in Coleman County. The girls that are interested will go to Coleman Saturday morning.

She told the girls what they should do to pass the lefterfoot test.

The school is having some water fountains built. One in the front and two in the back, making three in all. This is being done so all the children can get a drink before the bell rings. The Parent Teacher Association is having the fountains built.

6 A NEWS

The Sixth grade made a good English Poster last week. There were some very good posters. We voted to see which one was the best. We decided on the one of Irene Rountree's.

We, for the Grammar School are going to have a Parents' Day Friday, November 23. All of the fathers and mothers are urged to come and see what we are doing every day.

5 A NEWS

We have a new pupil in our room, her name is, Oneta Wilson. Beth Barnes painted a picture of "Old Iron Sides" and gave it to the room. We appreciate it very much.

We won the $2.00 P. T. A. offered for having the most mothers present. We had 21 mothers present.

All of the rooms invite all the parents to come and visit them Friday, as it is Parents' Day. We are going to have our work for the year on display for you to see.

Next week is examination week and we all hope to make better grades than last month, and all set on the honor roll. The reporters for next week are: Charlotte Mosley and Dosh T. McCreary.

4 B NEWS

We are still increasing in number. Our class has grown to sixteen in number now. David Walfrson and Thomas Desha are our newest member, they having entered last week.

The members of the 3 B grade gave their English play for our entertainment and benefit. We enjoyed it and feel that we were benefited by having heard them. We invite them to come again sometime.

Under the directions of our health teacher, we are working on a health play entitled, "Keeping the Doctor Away." When we learn to give it well, we want to show other classes what the 4 B's can do.

4 A NEWS

We have had two visitors during the last week. They were Mrs. T. J. Simmons and Mrs. J. E. Ford. We were very glad to have them as we can work better when our own mothers are seeing us.

Cleo Chambers and Rheba Campbell fared perfect in our weekly Studebaker test. The whole class rated 8 which means excellent work. We are having a jolly time in our arithmetic lessons. Our parents are invited to visit us Friday afternoon. Come, and see if we are 4th grade pupils like you used to be.

We are looking forward to Friday when our mothers and our fathers will visit us. We want all of you to come.

We received our band instruments last week and are very proud of them. We think all will have their band suits by the last of this week.

We had nineteen mothers at the P. T. A. last Tuesday to represent our room. We would like for all the mothers to come next time and make our room 100 percent.

3 A NEWS

One of the most interesting things happened in our room this week was our project work in the sand table. Each one of us made a cross, and then these crosses were put in the sand to represent "In Flanders Field." A monument representing the unknown soldier's grave was in the middle of the table. Flags were on each side of the graves. The date of the beginning and ending of the war were at the back of the sand table. The war president, Woodrow Wilson's picture was framed and draped in black crepe. The lesson from this sand table on November 12, 1928 will always be remembered by us.

Mrs. G. A. Shockley, Mrs. Fred Turner, Mrs. W. H. Kingsbery, Mrs. Dorothy Aston, and Helen Turner motored over to Brownwood to hear Sousa's Band.

Chevrolet Coming Out With Light Six

Passing on to the motoring public the benefits of economies arising out of tremendous volume production, the Chevrolet Motor Company, today introduces "the Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History—A Six in the Price Range of the Four."

In making this important announcement, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager points out that the sensational public reception accorded the car in recent years has enabled Chevrolet at this time to offer the added power, speed and the smoothness of six cylinder performance at practically the same prices that contributed so much to the world-wide popularity of four.

Preparations for the greatest year in its history are now being made by the Chevrolet Motor Company. Production of the new car was started last week and the company's fifteen giant factories across the country will be turning out cars to be shipped to dealers by December 15. Deliveries to the public will start January first.

Although no definite schedules have been set for 1929, Mr. Knudsen declared that production of the new car would probably exceed 1,250,000 units thereby surpassing all former records.

In its new offering Chevrolet has retained the highly successful valve-in-head principle. The motor is of the high compression type with a non-detonating head and develops 32 percent more power than its famous predecessor; its acceleration is measurably greater and its speed has been stepped up to satisfy maximum requirements. The piston displacement is 194 cubic inches.

Despite this greatly improved performance standard, thousands of miles of testing under every road and weather condition at the General Motors Proving ground in addition to many cross country runs, have shown that the new Chevrolet engine will operate with an economy averaging better than 20 miles to a gallon of gasoline. This is practically the same fuel economy enjoyed by the owners of the previous four cylinder model.

The motor develops 46 horse power at low engine speed and as a result of the automatic lubrication of the valve mechanism the motor is exceptionally quiet throughout the entire speed range.

Seven models of passenger cars and three commercial types comprise the line, which according to General Motors officials, embodies the greatest dollar value ever offered in an automobile. Included in the passenger car line are five closed and two open models. All bodies this year carry the famous Fisher stamp of craftsmanship. The commercial car line embraces a new and larger utility truck of one and one-half ton capacity, a new light delivery chassis and the Sedan.

From an appearance standpoint as well as from inherent design, the car is completely new with a wide range of attractive colors and fine car appointments formerly found only on the more expensive makes.

Despite the score of advanced features, prices remain practically the same, chiefly as a result of the influence of tremendous volume production. The passenger car range is from $525 to $725, f.o.b. Flint, Mich. The prices according to models, are as follows: Roadster $525; phaeton $525; coach $595; coupe $595; sedan $675; sport cabriolet $685; convertible landau $725. The commercial car prices are: light delivery chassis $400; one and one-half ton utility truck chassis $545; one and one-half ton utility truck chassis with cab $650 and the sedan delivery $695. All prices are f.o.b., Flint, Mich.

Advance showing of the new Chevrolet line will be held in leading cities strategically located throughout the country beginning November 24 and continuing until December 22. First deliveries to purchasers will start January first. No deliveries will be made prior to that time, officials stated.

Dates and places of the special advance showing are as follows: Detroit, November 24-29, Auditorium General Motors building; New York, November 24-29, Waldorf-Astoria Hotel; and Chevrolet Retail Store, Broadway at 57 Street, Washington, D. C. December 1-6, PurOil Building, Wacker Drive and Wabash Ave.; Los Angeles, December 1-6, Auditorium Ambassador Hotel; Cincinnati, December 8-14, Sinton Hotel; San Francisco, December 8-13; Civic Auditorium—Larkin Hall; St. Louis, December 8-14, Arcadia Ballroom, 3515 Olive St.; Atlanta, December 18-22, Auditorium—Armory; Dallas, December 18-22, Adolphus Hotel; Portland, Ore., December 18-22, Public Auditorium. All of the foregoing dates are inclusive.

In each of these places the complete passenger car line will be displayed in automobile show style. Elaborate entertainment features have been arranged for the display in each city and in every case provision will be made to accommodate the hundreds of thousands of visitors who will view the new Chevrolet line between November 24 and December 22.

Advance orders will be taken immediately following the announcement with deliveries starting January first, officials stated. They also pointed out that to insure delivery early next year it would be advisable to place orders as soon as possible.

The plan of introductory showing with deliveries to follow after January first was adopted for two reasons, it was explained. In the first place, officials pointed out, approximately five weeks will be required to change over the production line from the four to the six in the motor plant at Flint, Michigan. Added to this was the necessity for inventory taking, which is customary at this time of each year.

At the same time, R. H. Grant, vice president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, in charge of sales, saw in this necessary five weeks interval an opportunity to provide the sales organization of some 30,000 dealers and salesmen with a means of profitable activity during this period when otherwise they would be comparatively idle.

The new Chevrolet, which on its debut November 24, promises to write a new chapter in motor car history, is in every sense a proved product. Four years ago Chevrolet engineers began their research work, engineering, planning, and General Motors Proving Ground testing. Associated with the Chevrolet engineers were the specialized engineers of the General Motors Research Laboratories.

Night and day, in doors and out, in good weather and bad, they designed, built and tested every modern type of motor so that no opportunity would be overlooked—so that every desirable feature might be harmoniously incorporated in the new product. Perhaps a thousand ideas were considered and discussed. More than 100 different motors were built up and given exhaustive test block and road tests before the cabinet of expert engineers, presided over by O. E. Hunt, Chief Engineer of the Chevrolet Motor Company, finally approved the new Chevrolet valve-in-head six cylinder motor.

Speed, acceleration, power and smoothness, to an unusual degree, are offered in the new motor. It is of the high compression type, fully enclosed and with a non-detonating head. It has a three and five sixteenths bore and a three and three quarters inch stroke with a 194 cubic inch piston displacement.

The motor, develops 32 percent more horse power than its famous predecessor and has an abundant source of reserve power for fast, getaway, heavy roads and steep grades. New features that contribute to this added power are three intake ports.

The speed has been stepped up to satisfy maximum requirements and in acceleration the new motor is vastly superior to any previous Chevrolet model. This remarkable acceleration is due partly to the use of a new acceleration pump. When the accelerator is suddenly depressed this pump forces a small quantity of gasoline into the manifold of the carburetor, giving the car the instant power and get-away so necessary in modern traffic. On actual dynamometer tests the new engine develops 46 horsepower at low engine speed. At all ordinary speeds it develops from three to four times the amount of power required to drive the car.

Torsional vibration is imperceptible at any speed through the use of a heavy 46 pound crank shaft, which is perfectly balanced statically and dynamically. All further contributions to the exceptional quietness of the motor is the automatic lubrication of the entire rocker arm mechanism and of all valve operating parts, which in addition are completely enclosed.

Another advanced feature is the fuel pump which insures a positive and uniform supply of gasoline to the carburetor under all driving conditions, regardless of engine speed, load or road grade. A gasoline filter, built in as a part of the fuel pump insures only clean gasoline reaching the carburetor and engine. The carburetor is further protected by a new type AC air cleaner which prevents grit and dust from entering.

There is a combustion splash and wick flow method of lubrication with the oil supplied through an oil filter at the bottom of the crankcase by means of a newly-designed vane type pump. There is an oil pressure gauge incorporated in the new instrument panel.

Assuring maximum cooling efficiency there is a large chromium-plated Harrison honeycomb with water and fan.

The clutch is of the simple plate disc type and requires no lubrication.

The new rear axle is similar in design to that used on the most expensive cars. It is of the semi-floating type with a strong, one piece, banjo, type, pressed steel housing. Six heavy duty New Departure annular ball-bearing and extra heavy cut spiral bevel gears make for smooth driving operation.

The steering gear is semi-reversible of the ball bearing, full worm and gear type. The new shaft is solid, replacing the tubular type formerly used. It is mounted in a bracket securely riveted to the frame. The beautiful seventeen inch black finish steering wheel has a rubber covered spindle.

Dependable non-locking four wheel brakes with rear service brakes in two self-aligning segments contribute to the quiet, safe operating features of the car.

The service brakes on the 11 inch drums on the rear wheels are of the external contracting type and those on the front of the internal expanding style. The emergency brake lever is conveniently located on the driver's right and operates a braking system independent of the service brakes.

Long chrome vanadium shock absorber steel springs of the semi-elliptic type are one of the factors accounting for the easy riding qualities of the new car. The springs are set parallel to the frame, assuring safety as well as comfort at all speeds. The front springs, are each 36 inches in length and the rear springs 54 inches. The wheel base is 107 inches.

Attractive new colors and a new order of beauty in Fisher body design, characterizes the entire passenger car line. The high flattened hood and the gleaming chromium radiator shell supply the keynote of unusual smartness and grace. The rakish unbroken lines, emphasized by distinctly grouped hood louvers suggest speed and alertness. The divided body moulding and the concave front pillars reflect the vogue so widely favored by leading custom builders, while the larger, longer, lower bodies stand out as tributes to the latest advance in Fisher craftsmanship.

Appointments are the richest and most luxurious ever offered by Chevrolet. The seats are wider and more restful. The driver's seat in all closed models is easily adjustable, forward or back, a feature introduced on a few of the higher priced cars. The redesigned dash carries an attractive grouping of all control instruments, indirectly lighted including the new motor temperature indicator. Rich, long-wearing upholstery and specially designed Ternstedt hardware contribute to the environment of distinction.

Added safety in night driving has been accomplished through the use of a light control switch at the left of the clutch pedal. Instead of dimming the lights the same effect is attained by changing the angle of the new two-beam head lamps by pressing the floor button with the foot. Both hands meanwhile may remain on the wheel directing the course of the car.

A new body style takes its place in the new Chevrolet line, supplanting the Imperial Landau. It is the convertible landau sedan on which the top rear quarter may be completely folded down. The car is finished in Crockett brown with Mistino gray belt and striped in Shallam orange. Window mouldings are in Mistino gray with upholstery in rich mohair.

The new coach is finished in Norse gray with Helmet gray belt and striped in Tusk ivory. Window mouldings are Helmet gray finished in blue corduroy. Smart Coulee blue with Buddha blue belts has been selected as the finish for the coupe. It is striped in Mountain ash scarlet and has window mouldings in Buddha blue. It is upholstered in blue corduroy.

The sedan is finished in Huntington green with Como green belt and striped in Odyssey ivory. Window mouldings are in Como green and upholstered in green corduroy. The convertible cabriolet is finished in Thianon blue with Delphine blue belt and striping in Tusk ivory. Window mouldings are Delphine blue. The cabriolet is quickly convertible into a sport roadster by lowering the top.

The new pheasant, which has taken the place of the touring car is finished in Lush green with Zanzibar green belt. It is striped in Tusk ivory and has mouldings in Zanzibar green. The roadster is finished in Mistino gray with Stes Park gray belt. Striped in Vincennes red, its mouldings are in Stes Park grey. The top is easily and quickly lowered. A boot for the top is provided.

All models are equipped with parabolic type headlights, with parking bulbs, operating from the lighting switch. A theft proof electro-lock is also standard. There is a storage battery with conception ease, motor driven Klaxon horn, complete tool kit, weatherproof pedal enclosure, automatic spotlight and rear vision mirror.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

The section known in Hamlin as the Theatre Block because two of the theatres are there is undergoing some beautification with the remodeling of the Palace. B. S. Ferguson owner of the play house is putting up a new front and adding new seats.

The object of the Fire Arts Display of the Megargie High School Nov. 14, 15, and 16, is to give the students a chance to be able to recognize a number of good pictures at sight, by telling the artists names, the subjects and styles.

The new $100,000 school house at Post which was occupied for the first time November 5, has principals office, ante room, principals office, book room, library, study hall, nine class rooms, auditorium, vocational agriculture laboratory and chemistry, physics, and home economics laboratories.

G. C. Magruder, of Mertzon sold 4,500 pounds of Mohair at 63 and 73 cents to D. E. Hughes of San Angelo. This constituted the entire amount of storage in the warehouse at Mertzon. He also sold several hundred pounds of short wool for 34 and 36 cents.

Fifty five rooms have been completed of the Gilder Hotel at Roswell, N. M., each equipped with private bath, and telephone. The ladies parlor, coffee shop, lobby, and dining room, have not yet been completed.

Ground has been broken in Stratford for two new brick and tile buildings with a ninety-foot front on Davis street. These buildings will be modern and up to date in every respect and will be occupied by a general merchandise, and a hardware store.

Construction has started on three new residences in the northwest of Alpine, the total cost to run around $15,000. These with new construction work started last week give the building program in Alpine a substantial boost.

Lockers for all high school students will be purchased in the near future at White Deer. When they are installed students will be required to keep their books of pay for them if they are lost. Play ground equipment will be purchased for Skelleytown and Roxana schools.

Peach orchards may become a profitable source of income in the Carlsbad, N. M., country on irrigable land along the Pecos river. One thousand trees have been planted on a farm which already has an orchard of five hundred and fifty heavy bearing trees.

A woman in Lamb County, according to a Littlefield paper will realize over $5,000 on turkey this year. She is Mrs. White of "Happy Hill Farm," who raises pure bred large Bronze turkeys, and will sell 700 for breeding purposes this year.

James E. Biggs, field representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in charge of the Northwest District, has been secured as one of the principal speakers for the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, to be held November 17.

Nine shipments of calves have been shipped into Texas and consigned to ranges lately. Three cars were from C. C. Pritchard of Artesia, N. M., two from John Fanning of Lakewood N. M., and four from Charley Foster, of Lake Arthur, N. M.

The main streets of Abernathy are now cleared after having been torn up during the last few days. The improvement machinery which hindered traffic for a few days left a nicely graded and leveled road behind it.

November 10th was official West Texas Chamber of Commerce day at the Waco Cotton Palace. Many West Texans went and enjoyed the exposition and the football game between Baylor and Texas University. The M. K. & T. railroad has special reduced rates at that time.

Ballbearing trains that will equal the speed of airplanes are predicted. They are expected to go almost as fast as some motorists drive.

Statistics show that there are 11,998 more married women in London than married men. It's a fortunate woman that knows where her husband is.

A man claimed the other day that he had travelled two million miles—but he wasn't hunting a drink.

A slogan of the glue manufacturers' trust: "We Must Stick Together!"

"Flapper what do you know about the tariff?"

"My stockings will tariff I don't watch out."

The Prohibition officer's work is reduced in proportion to the degree to which the Probation officers' work is made effective.

After all this country contains a whole lot of dry Wets and wet Drys.

And then there are those who believe that Prohibition is another one of those salutary measures that brings the greatest good to the greatest number of bootleggers.

Out of more than two and one half million votes in The Literary Digest's Presidential poll, Varney, Prohibition candidate, received only 4,240. "Nobody Knows How Dry We Are."

The people elected the President but the cartoonist will claim all the credit.

At that the election didn't turn out as bad as several million people thought it might.

The trouble about a policy of government is much like that of a life insurance policy: too many try to cash in before its expiration.

Another way of looking at it is, when a man gets big enough to run for President he's had enough honors and doesn't need to be.

One consoling thought common to all radio speaking politicians is the fact that the larger part of their audiences can't heckle them.

Education is expensive any way you look at it. A boy is taught to write when he is young, and when he gets to college dad can't resist the letters he writes home.

A real polite Republican would not call it a landslide, but merely refer to it as a major air disturbance.

IN THE LONGRUN

People who walk to and from their work are fast becoming extinct, but they view the conformed motorist with as much wonder as the car owner views the walker.

The motorist cannot understand why any man would rather walk five or six blocks to town and back than ride. The walker cannot see how the autoist can be so lazy and so indifferent to the pleasure of taking such exercise as strolling down the avenue.

The motorist saves more time perhaps, but he misses seeing many things.

WORK AN-BE HAPPY

Work is a tonic for ambition, a specific for worry, and a great eradicator of sorrow. But it is like other medicine. It is an acquired taste. Some men learn to take work in large doses every day and smack their lips over it, while others take it as if it were quinine, and their yells can be heard for blocks hours before quitting time. The man who likes work is sure to be happy most of the time; but the man who has sharp shooting pains whenever he is in the vicinity of a job is doomed to trouble, a close acquaintance with the constable and the bill collector.
