A good rain fell throughout this section early Monday morning which added considerable luster to the fine prospects already prevailing in this section for a bumper crop. Notwithstanding, the grasshoppers have menaced crops in some sections to a considerable degree, Coleman county as a whole, has better prospects for a larger crop this year than since 1919 when the county produced her record crops. Farmers whose fields are infested with hoppers are still waging a fight and here's hoping they win a victory and believing they will. Let us urge that the fight be continued.

The Texas Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has set the week from June 25 to 30 as meat for health week. An article of considerable length has recently been released to the press, and, of course, we got ours, but in that we are not operating a free advertising bureau, we will just call attention to the matter and feed the half page article to the waste basket, the way thousands of such articles go each year.

In a news letter from the S. M. U. sent out to the press, we find that two young people from Santa Anna have graduated with honors. They are Uel D. Crosby, Sociology and Miss Hallie Simpson, French. The S. M. U. is one of the leading universities in the south, and a diploma from such a college means a great deal.

LAST OF PONY EXPRESS RIDERS PASSES AWAY

Midland, Texas, June 12.—The last of a picturesque line of characters who made history in Texas is dead. Capt. John S. Hyatt, said to be the last of the pony express riders of Texas passed away at his home in Midland Tuesday, June 5th, in his 84th year.

Like all men who risked their lives in the most dangerous calling of the frontier days, Capt.

Hyatt was a personality who embodied the courage and daring and recklessness of the famous pony-express rider. A participant in innumerable battles with redskins and desperadoes, he early acquired the reputation of a "dead shot," an accomplishment for which he had many times throughout his life to be thankful for.

Born in North Carolina and raised in Georgia he migrated to Texas in 1859. He was here but a few years when the war of the rebellion broke out and he hastened to join his regiment, the famous 65th of Georgia. He served with valor and honor throughout the war, and was captain of a company when the end came. Afterward he came again to Texas and again took up his duties as a rider of the purple sage, carrying mail to Fort Belnap and Fort Griffin. Later on in life, he was county clerk of Earth County for fourteen years. Fourteen years ago he moved to Midland where he resided at the time of his death. He leaves a wife, a brother in Georgia, six sons, two daughters, 16 grand children and one great grandchild.
