LESSON FOR JANUARY 21

THE PRODIGAL SON

LESSON TEXT—Luke 15:11-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.—Luke 15:10.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Psalm 22; Luke 7:36-50; Rom. 8:1-11; Gal. 6:1-5.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Father's Love.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Picture of the Heavenly Father's Love.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Reach and Power of Our Father's Love.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Treat Sinners.

I. The Son's Insubordination (v. 12).
There is every indication that this is a happy home. But a devil enters it and stirred up discontent in the heart of the younger son. He became tired of the restraints of home. His desire for freedom moved him to willfully choose to leave home—throw off the constraints of his father's rule. Sin is the desire to be free from the restraints of rightful authority and for selfish indulgence. It starts out with wrong thoughts about God. At the request of the son, the father "divided unto them his living."

II. The Son's Departure (v. 13).
Having made the final decision he got his goods in portable shape. Having thrown off the restraints of his father's rule he eagerly withdrew from his father's presence. This is always the way sin works. He "gathered all together." When the sinner casts off his allegiance to God he takes all that he has with him. He not only wastes his money, but his character is sacrificed.

III. The Son's Degeneration (vv. 13-18).
He had a good time while his money lasted, but the end came quickly. The indications are that his course was soon run. From plenty in his father's house to destitution in the far country was a short journey. The sinner is soon made to realize the futility of his very powers which minister to his pleasure are burned out.

IV. The Son's Degeneration (vv. 15-18).
He had no friends to help him when his money was all gone, so he was driven to hire out to a citizen to feed swine. It was quite a change from a sonship in his father's house to feeding hogs in the far country. So it is; those who will not serve God are made slaves to the devil to do his bidding (Rom. 6:16). In his shame and disgrace the prodigal could not even get the necessary food. The coarse food of the hogs was denied him.

V. The Son's Restoration (vv. 17-24).
1. He Came to Himself (v. 17).
When he reflected a bit he was made conscious that, though he had wronged his father and ruined himself, yet he was a son of his father. In the days of his sinning he was beside himself. The world calls the sinner who leaves off his evil ways crazy, but in reality he just becomes sane. If we could but get sinners to think seriously of their condition it would be more easy to get them to turn from their sins.

2. His Resolution (v. 18).
His reflection ripened into resolution. The picture of his home, where even the hired servants had a superabundance, moved him to make a decision to leave the far country and go home.

3. His Confession (v. 18, 19).
He acknowledged that his sin was against heaven and his father—that he had forfeited his right to be called a son, and begged to be given a place as a hired servant. The sinner not only should make a resolution; he should confess his sin; for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

4. His Action (v. 20).
Action was needed. Resolution will not avail unless accompanied with action.

5. His Reception by His Father (v. 20-24).
The father had not forgotten his son. During the years he longed for his return. He must often have looked for him, for he saw him when he was a great way off. So anxious was he for him that he ran to meet him and fell upon his neck and kissed him. So glad was the father that he even did not hear his confession through, but ordered the tokens of honor to be placed upon him, restoring him back into a son's position. This parable makes bare God's heart. Every teacher should strive to present this lesson so as to show God's forgiving mercy—His willingness to receive back His wayward child.

Two Classes.
The race is divided into two classes: those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit still and inquire, "Why wasn't it done the other way?"—O. W. Holmes.

MORE ABOUT A WEST TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE

Some may think from the tone of our article last week, condemning the actions of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in their efforts to have the present Legislature create an Act to establish a West Texas A. & M. College, that the editor is opposed to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in general, but the same is not the case. We will say in this connection that we are a paid member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and we are heartily in accord with most all their efforts to better conditions in West Texas, and know they have been a valuable asset to us, but we would appreciate them more if they would spend all their time, efforts and money for some purpose other than to try to have created a West Texas A. & M. College under the present circumstances.

Governor Neff, in his message to the joint session of the Senate and Legislature last week, informed them that he would not approve of any legislation, recommending expenditures of money without a provision as to how the money was to be raised. At this writing the editor has not been censured personally for our stand on the subject of a West Texas A. & M. College, but several of the best citizens of this country have come to us and informed us that we are right and they are with us. This is some encouragement and we are proud to have their good will in the matter, and when the editor goes to Austin in February we are going to see just how popular our stand is with the members of the house.

SCHOOL GROUNDS SET WITH TREES

The Parent-Teachers' Association is responsible for the 65 nice shade trees being set out on the campus of the school last week. We understand this work was done for a nominal expense, in fact, the members did considerable work themselves and managed to rustle help from other sources. Prof. B. T. Withers came off the job Saturday evening with the resemblance of a laboring man from laborville and we understand that others who worked on the job were similar in appearance.

SANTA ANNA STUDENTS MAKING GOOD IN THE TRINITY UNIVERSITY

Waxahachie, Texas, Jan. 12.—"The biggest little University in the Southwest," is the title given by 666 friends and students to Trinity University. With slightly less than four hundred enrolled, this little university nevertheless has won the enviable reputation of having the greatest spirit of any school in this section of the country. Trinity's spirit is best shown at her intercollegiate contests where the entire student body plays the game with as much fervor and earnestness as the "Tigers" on the field. Many instances have occurred in recent years where the small Trinity student body has been known to drown out the yells and cheers of a much larger representation of a rival college on the latter's home ground.

Many things have contributed to the great spirit of Trinity but foremost among these should be mentioned the Trinitonian, the weekly publication of the student body. The Trinitonian is the live wire institution of the university and fairly scintillates with the spirit of the university. The Trinitonian is being edited this year by Miss Eudora Garrett of Santa Anna, Texas, this being a unique distinction for Miss Garrett as it is the first time in the history of the university that a young woman has held this important position. It is not difficult for those who know Miss Garrett to understand why the Trinitonian holds the exalted position that it does in the activities of the university. Miss Garrett is a live wire and a good organizer, having gathered about a very able corps of workers. The paper itself seems to have borrowed its spontaneity and vivacity from the personality of its editor.

Besides holding the office of editor of the university weekly paper, Miss Garrett has been very active in the university life since her entrance to the university three years ago. She is at present a junior. Miss Garrett has been an active member of the Y. W. C. A. of the university, a singer in the Girls' Chorus, a member of the Players' Club, and many other organizations. Miss Garrett is at present assistant librarian of the university's extensive library.

Another Santa Anna student who is making good at Trinity is Albert Lowe, a sophomore in the university. For the last two seasons in football Lowe has occupied the fullback position on the team. At the close of the successful season last fall Lowe was elected to lead the team as captain in the 1923 season. Miss Nettie Turner, a third student from Santa Anna, entered the university this year, coming from the S. M. U. at Dallas. Miss Turner has already become well known at the university and is expected to be one of the leaders of the university in time.—Publicity Department.

Bartlett Farmers To Get 1,000 Bales From Top Crop

Bartlett, Williamson Co., Tex., Jan. 10.—While most of the farmers report sufficient moisture for plowing, rain is needed for the fall and winter gardens and the grain. Bartlett territory has made one of the best top crops in its history. A few of the farmers are picking almost as much cotton as they did in the early season, and there has not been sufficient frost to kill the cotton; a number of farmers say that it is still blooming. It is estimated that the town will get more than 1,000 bales top crop.

BREAKFAST CLUB WELL ENTERTAINED

The Chamber of Commerce responded to the appeals made by the girls of the Senior class of the Santa Anna High School to dine with them Wednesday morning at 6:30 and went to the school building for their early morning luncheon.

Not only the girls of the Senior class, but members of the Parent-Teachers' Ass'n., Music Clubs and others joined in the program and served the members with a fine luncheon, music, readings and just such things as it takes to start the day off right. The musical renditions by Miss Syble Simpson and Mrs. Meyer, interspersed with some favorite readings by Miss Bowen not only reminded us of the early hour in which we had prepared for breakfast, but caused Parker Bond to demand an introduction to the cook, as though the cook, the singer, the player and reader were all one and the same person.

The luncheon was served on time and several verbal reports were made by committees, but nothing of importance came up for action. The matter of establishing a touring camp in Santa Anna was discussed, and at some future date definite steps will be taken to establish a touring camp in this city.

A matter of very much importance to the citizens is that of lowering the key rate for fire insurance, which can be done with but little expense and the same is having attention. Mayor Martin made a report concerning the progress of the work being done on the city lake, and from all accounts Santa Anna will soon have a lake superior to any town the size of Santa Anna in west Texas.

The next meeting will be at some place in Santa Anna at 6:30 next Wednesday morning.

FORECAST FOR FEBRUARY

Those who like to read about the weather may find interest in the February forecast of one of the nation's foremost weather prophets, who says: "February promises to be unusually stormy. The week centering on February 7 will bring among the most severe storms of the winter and I advise you to get your outdoor affairs in good shape for a siege of storms and at least two weeks of bad weather. All the thunder gods seem to have entered a conspiracy against animal life covering the time from February 1 to 18, inclusive. All kinds of weather may be expected within that two weeks, but the most severe part of it may be looked for near February 7. Some good will come of it. Other elements are favorable to a shortage of moisture while these severe storms will be favorable to precipitation that will be needed by the winter crops of growing grain."—D.-V.

JONES WILL PAY THE FREIGHT

The efforts to work up good roads sentiment in Texas, and create a fund for highway building, may knock some of the joy out of joy riding. Highway law advocates are working overtime to get before the legislature with a program which will make good roads money flow in at a rapid rate, and there is danger in overdoing the thing.

The State Highway Association an organization formed for the purpose of boosting good roads, is supporting a bill which would make the minimum tax on an auto $50, and fixes a maximum of $5 per hundredweight on the larger cars, which would make an 8,000 pound car cost its owner $400 for a license fee.

In addition to the increased tax, the promoters of the new law would have the state collect two cents on every gallon of gasoline consumed. And Jones would pay the freight.—Banner Ledger.

Yes, Jones will pay the freight and every owner of property in Texas will be name Jones at tax paying time, after that his name is "Dennis."

SANTA FE TO RUN EXHIBIT TRAIN

For the purpose of encouraging dairying, poultry raising and pork production, the Santa Fe railroad will operate an exhibit and demonstration train over its system in the near future. The train is due to be at Santa Anna on March 19th at 10:30 a. m.

The train will consist of seven cars, being made up of poultry cars, swine cars and cattle cars, especially equipped for exhibiting the pure bred stock and demonstrating the successful way for carrying on these lines of industry. There will also be a baggage car, a living car for those in charge of the train and a flat car for exhibiting livestock on and giving demonstrations. This train will cost the railroad considerable to operate over its line, carrying a crew of experts in the respective lines who will address the people wherever the train stops and who will give instructions in the respective lines of industry which the train is supposed to boost.

The Santa Fe realizes that the operating of such a train will be a good investment, if the people along its system can be induced to raise more poultry, more pork and engage more extensively in dairying. There is a demand for cream and butter fats, and there is a demand for pork and poultry, and the more the people raise the more the railroads will get to haul to market.

The extension department of the A. & M. College is assisting in this work, and experts will accompany the train to give lectures and answer questions. C. M. Evans will have charge of the dairy cattle and dairying; A. L. Guard, swine and swine breeding; E. O. Edson, poultry and poultry raising; and in addition to these there will be other instructors from College Station.

The train will probably spend two hours here, as it requires that much time to inspect the splendid exhibits carried and to hear the lectures.

The schedule for Coleman county is announced as follows: Monday, March 19.—Bangs, 8:30 a. m.; Santa Anna, 10:30 a. m.; Valera, 1:15 p. m.; Talpa, 3 p. m.

Thursday, March 22.—Coleman, 8:30 a. m.; Silver Valley, 11 a. m.; Novice, 12 noon; Lawn, 2 p. m.; Tuscola, 2:45 p. m.; Buffalo Gap, 3:45 p. m.

A large number of farmers will no doubt gather here and at other places to attend the demonstration. The ladies are invited.

Begin saving your pennies. Another Christmas is less than a year away.

It's a waste of perfectly good money for a man with a talkative wife to buy a phonograph.

JOHN T. YANTIS HEADS BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF HOWARD PAYNE COLLEGE

Succeeds Father Who Served For Period of Thirty Years; Banquet At Southern

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Howard Payne College held at the Southern hotel Monday evening John T. Yantis was elected president of the board to succeed his father, T. C. Yantis, who served as president of the board for thirty years, and whose life work was dedicated in large measure to the success and development of Howard Payne.

Various matters pertaining to the welfare of Howard Payne were discussed and plans of a progressive nature were outlined for the work of the present year. Preceding the meeting of the trustees the board enjoyed a banquet at Southern Hotel dining room at which Dr. W. R. Hornberg, president of Howard Payne, presided. The meeting of the board was annual in nature.—Daily Bulletin.

"THE SAME STAR"

Shine and twinkle largest star,
To-night I am wondering if you are,
The same that shone so only bright
On that first Christmas night.
Nineteen hundred years have passed,
And twenty-two besides,
Since first you led wise men across
A desert country wide.
Are you the same that shone to-day,
On Palestine so far away;
There the Savior lived and plead with men,
Who died on the cross and lived again.
Are you the same that comes each night
After the sun has gone from sight
That guards the helpless and the just
That hoods o'er the wicked soul unblest
You travel from the east and from the west
Year after year and never rest
Will you still be shining and a leader for men?
When the Savior comes to earth again?
That enmity and strife will cease to exist,
Is my daily prayer and wish,
May peace and happiness reign on land and sea,
Begin with nineteen hundred and twenty-three.
—Mrs. Paul Van Dalsom.

Brown County Sheriff Will Make It Hot for People Who Do Not Keep Straight

Sheriff Hise and Deputy Adams are arranging plans that will make Brownwood a very uncomfortable place for drifting loafers who might make up their minds that this is a good town in which to ply their trade of faking and doing nothing worth while. Hereafter strangers who come to Brownwood without any kind of business and belong to the class of drifters, will be required to get in touch with the sheriff's department and "punch in" regularly while they are here. Sheriff Hise also said today that this being out all times of night by folks who have no other business than to be just loafing around will be changed up in short order and folks who persist in such conduct will be promptly arrested and given an opportunity of telling it to the judge the next morning. Brownwood extends a hearty welcome to all worthy people, who mean well, but for those who do not mean well and are classed with the faking species rough skidding well splintered will be on the program.—Daily Bulletin.

Don't worry over the scandals you have missed. You won't have to repeat them.

England and France have broken over the question of reparations. The Versailles Treaty of Peace gave France judgment against Germany to partially repay for the wanton and ruthless destruction of property and devastation of French territory and homes. England signed that treaty. Now England wants to break down the treaty and turn Germany loose on the range. In other words it wants to make France virtually pay for the war, after suffering the greatest horror of all horrors. And the pitiful, shameful feature of the business is that British propaganda has held the Washington government in line with British diplomacy. While preaching non-interference the Harding administration is using its strongest efforts to build England's financial interests at the expense of bleeding France. Brave little Belgium and patriotic Italy are standing squarely with France. And every diplomatic conference in Europe piles additional shame and dishonor on the United States for its cowardly, selfish diplomacy since the signing of the Armistice. In every patriotic heart there is a consciousness that the French people and the French government are the victims of the money sharks of England and the United States. Oh, for a Wilson or a Roosevelt in the White House at Washington. The daily news dispatches are repeating the headlines that war-clouds are lowering over the Near East. If the United States and England would do the right, the fair and the just thing by France at Washington and London today then tomorrow the sun of peace would shine in all its beneficent effulgence over the threatened area of Europe. The diplomacy of the English speaking people since the war has contributed distinctly to the spread of Bolshevism, the horrors of Smyrna and the disgraceful massacre of Armenian Christians by the thousands.—Sun-Of-A-Gun in San Saba News.

Make Money, Get the Lead on the Other Fellow By Picking Scraps of Time From The Waste Basket.

Abraham Lincoln split rails all day in the forest and after his day's work would walk miles to borrow a book to study that he might improve himself. It is said that George Washington when questioned by his mother as to why he studied so late at night, replied that he was working out the destiny of his country and he did.

Practically all the young people today are desirous of gaining a practical education, but for one reason or another many of them cannot leave home to secure it, so they drag along from one year to the next in the same old rut, "Quitters." ENDORSES LAW AND ORDER

I think all our good law-abiding citizens will join our Governor in his law enforcement recommendation against the booze fighter and pistol toter. The habitual booze fighter is often otherwise a good citizen. Nothing but severe penalties will check him. Intoxicated he is dangerous to himself and may be, and often is to those he comes in contact with. We may be his best friend by making the penalty so severe that but few will dare to use it at all.

Now the pistol toter—does any civilian or law-abiding man need a gun? To me he goes on the roll with the would-be-bully one of our wisest of men. Rev. J. B. Gambriel said he went with the long horn steer and razor back hog. Only a few of their tribe remain. He is usually a menace and a wart on society—seldom brave except when accompanying with liquor or fiendish friends male or female offer the latter. "Be sure your sins will find you out."—H. H. Brown.

EARLY DAYS IN SANTA ANNA

(By L. V. Stockard)

The report that has been going the rounds of some of the newspapers for some time in regards to John Wilks Booth, has to my mind been fully settled so far as Professor Ravenwood is concerned. Mr. G. H. Lightfoot, an old settler in Texas gives this information in regard to the write up of a few days ago. He says: "Professor Ravenwood was none other than one Marsellos Dickson, the son of John L. and Nancy Dickson, born in Maddison county, Ala., in 1841, and that his mother and Dickson's mother were own sisters and Mr. Lightfoot first knew the family in North Alabama in 1853. In 1855 John L. Dickson moved from Maddison county, Ala., to Desota County, Miss. Marsellos Dickson came to my father's home in Monroe county, Ark., just before the outbreak of the war between the states and when the war broke out Marsellos Dickson went back to his father's home in Mississippi, and served as a confederate spy during the Civil war under John Morgan. He was captured six times by the Federal soldiers and was court marshalled and sentenced to be shot three times but each time made his escape, and after Lee's surrender he came home to his father's in the state of Mississippi, in 1865, and in 1866 he married into one of the first families in Corinth, Miss. There were three children born to this union and in 1869 on the 4th of July, Dickson and a man by the name of Bridgeford got up a Barbecue and they became enraged at each other over something and Dickson who was a man about 6 ft. and 2 in., and weighed from 170 to 190 pounds gave Bridgeford a horse whipping and left the country, and in the month of November, 1869, Dickson showed up at my home near Troy, in Bell county, Texas, and at Troy he met a widow Hickman; I saw that he was going to try to marry her, and I told Mrs. Hickman that Dickson had a wife and three children in Corinth, Miss. After this Dickson went with me to my brother's, Dr. J. H. Lightfoot, on the Brazos river not far from Hearne, Robertson county. I had to leave Texas about this time and went back to Dickson's father's home in Desoto county, Mississippi, and Dickson went back to Bell county and married the widow Hickman. My brother notified the authorities of Bell county, and they got behind him and he left Texas and came back to his father's in Desoto county, Mississippi where I was at the time. This was in 1870, and after remaining there for two or three weeks he started back to Texas and tried to get me to go with him but as I would have had to walk I declined to go. After this time I lost trace of him until I heard of him in the Brown and Coleman country. During this time I returned to Texas and married on June the 13th 1871, in Robertson county, Texas. During the fall of 1870 my brother, W. H. Lightfoot, moved to San Saba in San Saba county, and he and a man by the name of Eastep went into the grocery business at that place. About this time Mr. Eastep made a trip to Austin which was the nearest wholesale point after a load of groceries. This was sometime in the early part of 1871. My brother went with Mr. Eastep on this trip. He and Mr. Ainsworth who lived on the line between Lampasas and Burnet counties were good friends and he usually stopped at his house on the way to and from Austin to stay all night and there he ran upon Mr. Dickson who had married the old man Ainsworth's daughter, Annie, and my brother told Mr. Ainsworth that Dickson was a married man and some time during the night Dickson got up, and skipped the country and never returned. Dickson was rather a good looking man, above the average man physically and mentally. He had secured a small school in the Ainsworth neighborhood and had been there only a short time until he fell in love with and married Annie Ainsworth, and up to 1890 or 1891 Annie Ainsworth Ravenwood was living with her father near Lampasas and had never married again. I think it was in July 1871 Dickson showed up at my home on the Brazos river not far from Hearne station and stayed there two or three days and went from there over to Hearne to make arrangements to give a lecture on Phrenology, and my brother showed up from San Saba county, and I told him of Dickson being there and my brother told us about Dickson marrying Annie Ainsworth and he wanted him arrested. After supper my brother and I went to Hearne and found Dickson was at a hotel there and had gone to bed. We arrested him and carried him to Calvert, which was at that time the County site of Robertson county, landed him in jail and notified Mr. Ainsworth to come and get him if he wanted him, but that night he broke jail and made his escape before Mr. Ainsworth arrived. I heard no more from him until 1872. Then I heard he had married a widow Payne somewhere in west Texas, but I cannot remember the county. Some time afterwards Mrs. Payne's first husband's kinsfolk and her kinsfolk waylaid and shot Dickson and thought they had killed him but Mrs. Payne or (Mrs. Ravenwood she thought she was) got him home some way and nursed him back to health and after this occurrence Dickson rode horseback to his father's home in Mississippi and Mrs. Dickson followed in a wagon. He showed up at my house near Cameron, in Miliam county in 1879, and stayed two nights and disappeared and I never heard any more from him until I saw the write up recently in the papers. Dickson had a good English education and studied Phrenology under Professor Ravenwood in Mississippi, and it was his name he assumed. Prof. Ravenwood was one of the noted Phrenologists of his day."

Mr. Lightfoot says this man was jailed several times but always made his escape and in as much as Mr. Lightfoot is a reputable citizen this clears to my mind all doubts as to Prof. Ravenwood's identity and that he was playing on the sympathy of the southern people at this time to defraud them because the south had not yet gotten over the ravages of the war between the states and every thing and verybody almost, in the south hated anything that had the name of Abe Lincoln connected with it, or the Yankee soldier because the south was under carpet bag rule and the people were still worked up, especially in western Texas where there was not much law except military laws.

Mr. Lightfoot says Dickson married Mrs. Payne in western Texas but he has forgotten the county. The papers stated that he married a Mrs. Payne in Sewanee, Tenn., but Mr. Lightfoot says that is an error that Mrs. Payne lived in western Texas instead of Tennessee.

BEE BRANCH

We are still looking for winter, but were disappointed when we didn't get any rain last week.

Quite a few farmers in this community are breaking their land.

Mrs. Leatrice Lobstein spent Sunday in the Wm. Lobstein home in Coleman.

We are hoping the party at Mr. W. F. Griffin home next Saturday night, Jan. 20 will be a success as everyone has an invitation.

Some of the farmers in this community will be through breaking their land soon if it doesn't turn cold.

Misses Willa Mae Shelton and Bessie Griffin were in Santa Anna Saturday attending the show.

APPRECIATION

We take this method of expressing our heart-felt thanks to the good people of Cleveland school district and all others, who so generously contributed the load of corn, poultry and the nice purse of money. LIBERTY NEWS

For the last two weeks we have been having such weather as to make us think spring is here; in fact, I hear some of the farmers threatening to plant cotton.

The Liberty singing class met in regular session Saturday night, Jan. 13, with large attendance. We had with us a number of visitors from neighboring communities, among them were Mr. Brooks and Mr. House of Mule Water; Bro. Johnson, the Baptist pastor of Bangs, delivered an interesting lecture, and asking for contributions to help build a new church at that place. $10.00 was subscribed and paid.

S. M. Russell and J. T. Jones made a trip to Rio Grande Valley this week for business and pleasure.

Mr. Broadaway and family of Cleveland community, visited at the home of Jim Dodgin Wednesday night of last week.

Bernice Russell was on the sick list this week but is much improved at this writing.

H. A. Williams and wife E. W. Polk and wife, and A. L. Polk were present at the W. O. W. Oyster supper at Santa Anna last Saturday night. We hear that Mrs. Polk had to stand E. W. in the tank the best part of Sunday on account of founder; as this is only here say we don't affirm it.

S. M. Polk Sr., has returned from Dallas, where he has been spending a few days with his daughter, Miss Dovie, who is teaching at that place.

On Tuesday night of last week, fire destroyed the home and contents, occupied by Mr. McCulloch, and owned by W. E. Wallace. A subscription is being raised for the unfortunate family by A. L. Polk and R. M. Lucas. We think this act of charity by these men is very commendable.

GIVE IT A BATH

When a man goes from month to month without taking a bath we consider him unclean, and avoid him. He is not of our class.

A town is simply a collection of men and women and children, together with their places of abode, and those provided for the enjoyment of pleasure and the transaction of business.

If it is in accordance with the law of nature that mankind should be kept clean, it is quite as important that his habitation be the same.

The cleanest of bodies will soon become fouled if forced to dwell amidst refuse and fifth in yards and streets and alleyways.

During the coming year why not give this town an occasional bath?

Laws made by nature should not be unmade by man.
