PULLING TOGETHER FOR—

It is a question whether the average rural community appreciates the tremendous force that can be exerted through united effort along any line.

Given a certain reasonable and feasible purpose and design and the will to accomplish, there is little that can not be accomplished through the hearty cooperation of a number of men and women who will work together in harmony.

An individual can do much through sheer force of will and unflagging industry, but when a number of individuals bring to the accomplishment of an undertaking all their resources of labor and determination, and work toward a common end in united and harmonious manner, they can do wonders.

And a getting together of (this town) citizens that shall eliminate all factionalism, personal grievances, petty malice, political animosities and jealousies, from everything pertaining to the general welfare of the city in a manufacturing, commercial and business way, will do for this town more than has ever before been accomplished for it in any other manner.

The key to the situation is united, harmonious action, a putting to the wheel of every shoulder, and the discarding of the besetting sins of selfishness, jealousy, political jangling, malice and knocking. Add to this a little fuller realization by everybody that he can do and should do his proper share according to his ability, to promote local interests, and there will be such a public spirit that will accomplish great things.

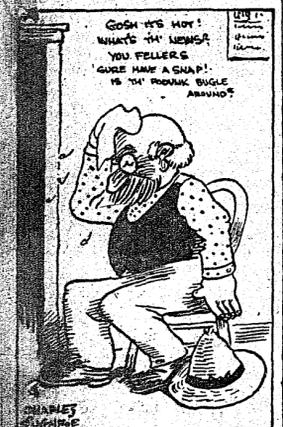

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our thanks to our neighbors and friends who assisted us during our bereavement in the loss of our kind mother, Mrs. John Nabours. We hope that in some way we can show our appreciation to those who offered us sympathy and condolence. May God's blessings rest with you and the Holy Spirit guide you onward and upward to higher and nobler things.—Gus Nabours and family, J. D. Nabours and family.

HOW ABOUT YOUR JOB?

Real success comes to the fellow who loves his work. The beauty of work depends upon the way we meet it—whether we go forth in the morning looking upon our daily duties as an enemy that must be vanquished before night comes, or whether we open our eyes with the sunrise to welcome it as an approaching friend who will keep us pleasant company all day and who will make us feel at evening that the day was well worth its fatigues.

BOB COLLINS FATALLY SHOOT CLABE MAY AT COLEMAN LAST NIGHT

Man Who Used Gun Was Paralytic and Moved From Place To Place In Wheel Chair.

(Tuesdays Brownwood Bulletin)

Bob Collins, a paralytic, living at Coleman, wheeled his chair up in front of Clabe May, Monday night, drew a pistol and shot May twice, before bystanders could interfere or prevent the tragedy. May was given immediately surgical and medical attention and lingered until shortly before noon Tuesday when he died.

Collins is in jail facing a probable charge of murder, the only statement he has made being brief, and merely, that May had "doubled-crossed him."

News of the shooting was received by Walter C. Woodward, of Coleman, one of the attorneys in the Brooke Smith-Graham case, now on trial here, when he put in a long distance call for Mrs. Woodward about 7 o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. Woodward said Collins had just called and asked for Mr. Woodward, but was informed that the latter was in Brownwood attending court and would not be home for a few days. Collins then rolled on up the street, leaving word with Mrs. Woodward to tell her husband that he had gone up town to kill Clabe May. The killing occurred a few minutes later.

Collins is a paralytic and for a number of years has been unable to walk, his only means of getting about being in a rolling chair, and for some reason took a liking to Walter Woodward, to whom he generally told his troubles or worries such as he had, and to which Mr. Woodward always listened patiently and gave the man such advice as was for his welfare.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

Austin, Texas, Nov. 25.—Although the vast majority of the 4,154 students enrolled for courses in the University of Texas are native Texans, there are 76 students from other states, and 23 from foreign countries. Most of the foreign students are from Mexico, New Zealand, Serbia, Panama, Switzerland and Venezuela.

There are two students from the District of Columbia. Others hail from the following states: New Mexico, represented by 16; Louisiana, 15; Okla., 13; New York, Mississippi and California, each represented by 4; Pennsylvania, Colorado, Kentucky, Tennessee and Kansas, 2 each. There is also one student registered from each of the following states: New Jersey, Missouri, Florida, North Carolina, Illinois, Ohio, Virginia and Arkansas.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 25.—With the beginning of the winter term of the University of Texas on January 3, a course in public health nursing will be offered to graduate nurses, and certificates will be granted to all who finish the course successfully. Miss L. Jane Duffy is in charge of the work, which requires six months for completion, and includes practical work with the social welfare organizations of the local community, as well as a careful theoretical study.

According to Miss Duffy there is a constant demand for nurses with special public health training, and scholarships are now being offered to nurses who served in the Army and Navy during the war, in order that they may add to their field of service by special educational preparation.

A bashful man is fortunate in one way. It is easy for him to avoid rushing headlong into matrimony.

If you treat your enemy as you will have him treat you the enemy between you will soon die out.

The narrow minded man is never happy unless he has something to be unhappy over.

PRESBYTERY TO MEET DEC. 8

The Brownwood Presbyterian church will meet with the Santa Anna congregation at 8 o'clock on Friday night before the second Sunday in December. The people of Santa Anna and the surrounding country are invited to be present at any and all services during the meeting of the Presbytery.

The Rev. J. B. Wright of Waldrip, will preach the opening sermon Friday night. The old settlers of this community will call to mind the work of Bro. Wright and other pioneer preachers in the early days, they being among the early settlers of this section.

There will also be a number of visitors from near-by towns and the ladies will render a Missionary program sometime during the meetings of this Presbytery. There will be preaching each morning and night. Therefore, come and be with us in these services. We will be more than glad to have you.

BUSY IDLERS CLUB

Miss Margaret Barnes was hostess to the members to the Busy Idlers club last Friday, at the home of Mrs. Ford Barnes.

While the needles were busy, plans were made for a Christmas box. Names of the club members were distributed, the names to be kept secret until the box of gifts was opened.

A delicious salad course was served to about 12 members.

KICKED IN THE PANTS

During political campaigns both political parties make numerous promises which are never kept after election.

It has been so in the past, and will continue to be so in the future, until the people arise in their wrath and administer a chastisement too drastic to be forgotten.

Both parties are afflicted with the same disease, a deadly malady that is alienating the respect and confidence of millions of voters each year.

The party machinery is in the hands of a few self chosen leaders, and these men manipulate it to their own advantage and to that of the favored "interests." It is seldom that the welfare of the plain voter is taken into consideration.

At the last presidential election the democratic leaders wondered what mountain had fallen upon them. But the independent democratic voter knew quite well what it was. It was the weight of his own displeasure.

Now, in an off year election, the republican leaders are wondering from whence came the paralyzing wallop that almost annihilated them. And this time it is the independent republican voter who knows the secret of the smash.

Some day our self appointed leaders will learn that the people want legislation and government for the people, and not for the pampered and fattened few.

There is hope that in time a kick in the pants will kick some sense into their heads.

Quite a bit of excitement occurred Tuesday morning when the news was phoned in that a small boy of Mr. Rambo, living on the Conklin place, was lost. A number of cars loaded with men went out at once and searched the territory near the home. It seems that the boy left home Sunday morning with his dogs to hunt. The dogs came back but the boy did not. While searching the woods the news came that he had been found in Santa Anna calmly walking the streets.—Bangs Enterprise.

"A bachelor says that a mule is the most obstinate thing on earth," chirps an exchange. We suspect, however, that some marriageable women think differently.

REMEMBER YOUR OWN INTERESTS

Another Christmas is near at hand, and already many of our people are scanning the list of possible gifts.

As is our custom each year, we again ask you to consider the claims of the home merchant and the advantages to be derived from trading with him.

Consider the plight of Germany in this connection.

That country is prostrate because it no longer has wells. Its gold is being sent to other countries to satisfy claims that must be met.

If we follow the course that is being forced upon Germany, and spend our money outside of our own community, we will be taking a long step in the direction of local prostration.

We are in fairly good condition now, but we will remain so only as long as we keep our money in circulation at home.

You will find the home merchant's wares advertised in the home paper, and they will be worth the prices asked.

Consider your own interests, as well as his, by keeping your money where you may see it again.

Texas Public Health Association

The 15th Annual Tuberculosis Seal Sale in Texas will be conducted by the Texas Public Health Association December 1 to Christmas day. The purpose of the seal is to finance the battle against tuberculosis in Texas.

With the money raised last year it was impossible for the Texas Public Health Association to reach 143,427 people with a health message, examine over 5,000 school children, maintain a health exhibit car, make three county tuberculosis surveys, and reach thousands of school children through the Modern Health Crusade. It also supported 13 local associations with their many other activities.

Texas has a quota of $125,000.00 this year. If this amount is raised it will be possible for the Texas Public Health Association to greatly enlarge its work of preventing the spread of tuberculosis. The Texas quota is about three cents per capita, a very small amount for health insurance.

The design of the 1922 Xmas seal is intended to make an appeal to the artistic sense of the public as well as to its sympathy and generosity. The design shows a Christmas tree in white in the left foreground, with the double barred cross, the emblem of the international crusade against tuberculosis, in front. In the right foreground is a mother and child. At the bottom of the seal are the words, "For Health," and at the top the numerals, "1922."

Study your neighbors, and your friends, but let that study be in a spirit of fairness and impartiality.

They all have their faults, which are more often upon the surface and open to criticism.

But they also have their good qualities, which are generally under the surface, felt only by the few and unknown to the many.

Most men have more good qualities than bad ones. But the bad ones, like the skunk, command instant attention, while the good ones are passed by without notice.

These thoughts, however, are only "as the editor sees them."

A girl likes to hear compliments—when they are addressed to her.

If you don't allow little things to worry you the big ones won't bother you.

We might, of course, describe a successful politician as "one who gets away with the goods."

Inquisitiveness never gets the better of a person. It is always the worst.

WAR SAVING CERTIFICATES NOW REDEEMABLE

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 30.—War Savings Certificates of the 1918 Series, held by residents of this reserve district in amounts totaling about $100,000,000 mature for paying January 1 at the rate of $5 for each 1918 Series War-Savings Stamp affixed.

The privilege of immediately exchanging their holdings of 1918 War-Savings Stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates of the Series 1923, or the cashing of them as of January 1 is given owners by the Treasury Department, according to announcement made by Dinsmore W. Hume, Federal Savings Director, whose headquarters are in the Federal Reserve Bank, here.

The Stamps of the 1918 Series affixed to 1918 Series War-Savings Certificates, should now be presented to money-order post-offices, banks, Federal Reserve Banks or their branches for payment as of January 1, or in immediate exchange for 1923 Series Treasury Savings Certificates the director points out.

Owners are requested to ask their postmasters or bankers for detailed information and the proper forms (P. D. 750) which accompany surrendered 1918 Series War-Savings Stamps.

The Securities for which these stamps may be exchanged are Treasury Savings Certificates issued in (maturity value) denominations of $25, $100, and $1,000, the cost of which is $20, $50, $82, and $820, respectively, all of which are obtainable at Postoffices. When issued they are automatically registered in the owner's name against any form of loss or depreciation. They yield a total of about 21.95 per cent if held sixty months. They are readily converted into cash at the owner's desire.

Exchanges will now be made as of January 1 upon application presented between November 15 and January 15. Immediate payment will be made in cash of any difference due the holder of War Savings Stamps if he takes the largest possible amount of Treasury Savings Certificates on the exchange. In other instances cash payments will be made as of January 1.

Registered War-Savings Certificates to the postoffice where registered. Nearly every person in this district including children, purchased one or more $5 War-Savings Stamps in 1918. They are widely owned, Mr. Hume said.

In this district children of school age alone are credited with having invested in $15,000,000 of War-Savings Stamps of all issues. This saving by children was due largely to the teaching of thrift as a study in the schools, declared Director Hume.

When presenting War-Savings Certificates of the 1918 Series for surrender, the owner should sign on the "received payment line" provided therefor, dating the surrender January 1, 1923 or date of later surrender if after that date.

THE GOSSIP MENACE

"He's all right, but"—Untold harm is done in this world by the people who flounder through life with the slogan dropping from their lips at every turn, that "he or she, is all right, but—"

The assassins of reputations seem to glory in the idea that they are displaying a wonderfully mysterious ability if they can praise a man or woman for good points, but tear down and destroy the very structure of happiness by adding the mysterious "but."

What does that but mean? Does it mean that you do not like a man or woman for real or fancied wrongs? If so, then be manly enough to say "He is not to my liking." Don't pat and then add that murderous "but" with that dagger-like shrug of the shoulder, the mysterious air, the nod of the head that means much in character destroying.

It is the things that are not said that start some people on the road to ruin.—Ex.

Republicans Aim to Eliminate La Follette and Borah

The talk of "reorganizing" the Republican party and "reorganizing" the committees of Congress and abolishing the seniority rule—much of it in Republican newspapers—may well be interpreted in the light of Senator La Follette's supremacy.

This "reorganization" of their Congress and their party is apparently designed by the reactionary Republicans to eliminate La Follette and Borah and all the recent accessions to their ranks. If the attempt at exclusion of these men is made it is almost certain to provoke a fatal strife in the Republican ranks, but the alternative of not undertaking this elimination is fraught with equal danger.

President Harding's fate in 1924 depends on the performances of the Republican Congress in the next two years. If that Congress is forced to play the progressive game it will lose for the Republican candidates the friendship and funds of the trusts and monopolies which have been supporting Mr. Harding's party. If the Republican Congress flouts the progressives, the latter will take away their own and the votes of scores of thousands of their followers. It begins to look as if the Republican managers will have to elect between the contribution of money by the Big Interests and the contribution of ballots by the progressive voters of the trans-Mississippi sections of the country.

During the nine months ending September 30, the United States exported 253,497,919 gallons or 6,035,664 barrels of lubricating oil. To obtain this quantity, the oil industry had to refine approximately 703,642,000 barrels of crude petroleum.

WRITE A LETTER TO SANTA CLAUS

The News editor has always made it a custom to print letters from the little folks during the month of December, addressed to Santa Claus. All children who wish to write a letter to Old Santa Claus and tell him what they want for Christmas, just mail it to Santa Claus, care of Santa Anna News, and we will put your message right up to old Santa and make our appeal to him to see that you get what you want. Write plainly and only on one side of the paper. Where it is more convenient, you can just bring the letters to the printing office. Following is an outline for the letters:

Dear Santa Claus:—Pleasee bring me a big sleepy doll, a doll buggy, some candy, apples and nuts. Your little friend, Jessie Hannah.

It is estimated that 5,670,000,000 gallons of gasoline will have to be produced to supply fuel for internal combustion motors in 1923.

LIFE'S LITTLE BLUE BOWL

There is a little blue bowl sitting on the window sill of a certain home in which we sometimes visit. A queer little blue bowl with pebbles in the bottom and four flower bulbs, rooted in the pebbles and nourished by a small amount of water.

Of course there is nothing unusual in this little blue bowl filled with pebbles, water and bulbs.

You, no doubt, have seen the like time and time again. You may be even growing bulbs in pebbles and water yourself.

But wait a minute. Have you noticed how fine and sturdy two of the shoots are; how much longer they have grown, how much darker and healthier is their shade of green? And have you noticed how slowly and weakly the fourth bulb has developed? Several times you have been on the point of plucking out the backward bulb and throwing it away, but always your hand has been stayed by the thought that the poor little bulb is doing its best. Something has urged you to give it a chance, to wait and watch developments.

The poor little backward bulb is nourished by the same sunshine that creeps through the windowpane, and drinks from the same water as its stronger and more rugged companions. Did you ever stop to think that the people all about you are like the flowering bulbs in the little blue bowl? Some folks need more time than others to get rooted, some folks have greater difficulty than others to express the best that is within them. We would be as patient with our friends and children as we are with the bulbs in the little blue bowl. Do not be too hasty in the casting out process with your associates.

The hardy, healthy friend who grasps your hand and radiates good will, the regular, normal, everyday friend, is like the two bulbs that grew vigorously from the start. Then, there are the folks, who, like the little brown bulb, are timid, or strayed, undernourished in mind and heart needing more care; more sunshine than the rest of us. And like the bulb in the little blue bowl, such folks may never catch up—may never blossom as gloriously as some other folks; but if you have given them their chance, if you have not been hasty, what then? Then you are glad deep down in your heart that you did not cast them out—that you gave them a chance.

Is it not true that the faults of the world are just the faults of you and me? Is it not true that we get out of the world just about what we put into it? These are the words of an ordinary newspaper man, Mr. B. C. Forbes; but they are just as true as if they had been spoken by a president or bishop. The world is made up of people, and it is good or bad as its people are good or bad. Nobody can create anything; happiness is everywhere, all ready for claiming by any who want it.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The woman who is always giving other people "a piece of her mind" soon has none left for herself.

CRITICISES MODERN DRESS

A. A. McMillian, Glenwood, Ark.

Please allow me space to give one good loud "amen" to Mrs. P. W. Draper's article on girls' modern dress. I am made to believe she is one of our good mothers that haven't departed from the old faith of our old grand and great-grand mothers of olden times. They believed more in purity than style.

Hear what Moses says about woman's dress: "The woman shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garments: for all that do so are an abomination unto the Lord thy God." (Deut. XXII-5.)

Moses wrote the above, but some of the latest faddists say, "Oh, we don't go by the Old Testament now, we are New Testament Christians." Well, all right. Paul says: " whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that through patience and comfort of the Scripture we might have hope." (Rom. XV-4.) Hear Paul again: "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished into all good works." II Tim III-16-17).

Then it was written "aforetime" that women shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, and woman cannot indulge in wearing men's clothing without being an abomination to God. It is an outrage on decency and makes man blush and have less regard for womanhood and less love and respect for the purity of the female sex. It opens the doors for so many distressing evils of our homes today. The great prophet Isaiah speaks of it in Isaiah II:3-5. Read it carefully. This thing that the prophet speaks of can be seen with the natural eye if you will visit the bathing pools where both sexes are allowed to bathe together. Did our grandmothers and our great grand mothers teach or allow their pure and beautiful daughters to do so? No, not for the life of you! they did not! Purity was put before style. Now it is style and fashion, regardless of purity. God said: "And thy desire shall be to thy husband and he shall rule over thee." (Gen. III-16.) Does the husband rule over his household now? I leave the reader to Judge for himself.

Did you ever see a young man in bathing with arms, breast and legs bare? Yes, of course you have. Well, go to some of the modern bathing pools and look again. See if you don't see some mother's sweet girl by his side with arms, breast and legs bare. Did you ever see a young man dressed in men's apparel with hat and boots and spurs on, astride a horse? Certainly you have. Look again and you will see some sweet mother's girl and some boy's beautiful sister by his side with men's clothing on—a man's hat on her head, boots and spurs on her feet, riding astride like her boy friend does. Right then and there her boy friend, or suitor, as the case may be, don't give her one iota of respect for being in such a garb. But that's the latest style.

Why do you bob your hair, girls? Paul says in I cor. 11th chapter, "It is a shame for a woman to be shaven." Long hair is a glory to her. What excuse have you for bobbing your hair? "Oh, just style." Yes, style. I fear many without a change will cry for mercy over the shame of style when it will be too late for redemption. Oh, that mothers would see where their daughters are drifting and call a halt and raise them up as holy writ tells them to do, "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord."

Mothers and fathers will be chargeable before God for not bringing their dear ones up in a way that holy writ tells us to do. What excuse will we render at the bar of God for our negligence in that all-important duty? The dear Lord has trusted us with raising our children in the way he told us to—"In the nurture and admonition of the Lord," instead of in style, shame and disgrace, and we will have to give an account at the judgment bar of God for our stewardship.—Dallas Semi-Weekly News.

What's the use of buying bottles of air at fancy prices for breathing purposes when all we have to do is open up our lungs and breathe a better article without money and without price? Furthermore, what's the use in making up the protein content of our ration with high priced stuff in tin cans when a little bit of effort will lay in a flock of frisky goats and they are past masters in the art of converting the surplus vegetation around every farm and ranch into delicious chevon, rich in protein, vitamins, and other essentials for a nourishing and palatable diet?—Lubbock Avalanche.

Because a person likes you is no indication that he is willing to lend you money.

IS IT RIGHT?

Would God we could lose sight for a time of missionary organization and every human agency, and could get one clear vision of Jesus Christ; then the whole problem of missionary finance and missionary workers would be settled. I do not ask you to pity the heathen, for pity is often a weak thing which spends itself in tears, and then forgets the object of it. But I do ask you with all my heart to treat Jesus Christ right. I submit to you the question: Is it right to receive the eternal life from those scared hands, and then give Him only the spare change when happen to have left after we have supplied ourselves with luxuries? Is it right to receive heaven at the price which He paid, and then to give Him the odds and ends, and convenient service, the things that cost us little or nothing? The crumbs that fall from your laden table are not enough; they will not do to meet the need of the world that gropes in its ignorance, in its blindness, without God. You will have no right to crucify the Lord Jesus Christ afresh upon the cross of your convenience.—Houston Bulletin.

RADIO INTRODUCTION

Radio Enters The Home
Radio has placed a new, inspiring and powerful resource at the disposal of civilization.

With magic touch it has relieved isolation and neglect on land and sea.

It has given the voice of hope and salvation to ships and passengers whose despair and tragic fate formerly were shrouded in silence.

It has brought new romance into the world to replace the exploits of Paul Revere and John Paul Jones. It travels swift as light, not through one valley, or on one lonely sea, but to the world at large on the wings of the ether.

Radio answers the call for more liberal education of nations and peoples, and permeates the remote places of the earth with the cultivating influence of music.

Radio telephony, following closely upon the heels of radio telegraphy, is sweeping the country, carrying into the homes of rich and poor alike a modern facility of pleasure and education which is binding the people together in a new and democratic brotherhood.

A richer and more complete home-life, with mental stimulus and pleasant relaxation, has been made possible through broadcasting and its receiving corollary, the radio telephone receiver.

First Taste of Broadcasting
To the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Company is accredited the first successful attempt at organized broadcasting. This took place on November 2, 1920, at Pittsburg, Pa., when "KDKA" broadcasted the Harding-Cox Presidential returns to thousands of expectant citizens.

Later, at the New York Electrical Show of October, 1921, a prominent artist sang to an audience of listeners in thousands of homes in and around New York. She was amazed when there came back through the ether to the concert room immediate requests for an encore. While the majority, with their telephone receiving sets, merely listened, the request for the encore came from many amateurs who were equipped with sending sets.

In a like manner, nearly 200,000 radio enthusiasts, located hundreds of miles away from the ringside at Jersey City, received reports, round by round, of the Dempsey-Carpentier bout.

From a national standpoint, however, the full significance of radio telephony becomes apparent when it is possible for the President of the United States to address the people of the country clearly and impressively on special occasions. The suggestion has already been made in Congress that the debates of both upper and lower houses be broadcasted by radio.

In the great centers, where broadcasting is in full swing, where theatrical stars and famous speakers have been heard by families sitting, miles away, around their own fireside, life has been literally made over for boys and girls, their fathers and mothers, the strong and the well, the blind and the bedridden. Radio-concerts have become the order of the evening in tens of thousands of American homes within the radius of the broadcasting stations.

Advanced scientific and engineering efforts have simplified radio receiving of concerts to the point where anyone, without experience or study, can enjoy the new national resource. Not only have home concerts become a national pastime, but dancing to the music of famous orchestras playing in person for the benefit of radio "fans," has established itself as a permanent recreation.

From the oldest to the youngest—fathers and sons listening to baseball scores—mothers and daughters to the brief fashion talks—the whole family to some church service—farmers to the crop and weather reports—lawyers, doctors, clerks, messengers, captains of industry—all equipped for some feature of this new and amazing thing called radio broadcasting. No art or science has ever, nor probably ever can, touch the lives of all the people more intimately.

With broadcasting rapidly reaching a national and comprehensive stage, the time is not far distant when every home in the United States, from hut to mansion, will be equipped to "listen in" while the Government makes its reports of crop and weather condition, while the news of the day is briefly recited, while statesmen plead for untied action, while famous artists sing to a larger audience than they have ever known, while splendid bands and orchestras inculcate the taste for music.

Today, clocks and watches are being daily checked by the U. S. Navy radio, while both the Department of Agriculture and Post Office Department are communicating with the whole nation through radio.

These reports, like the fashion talk to women, bedtime stories for children, baseball scores and concerts constitute at the various broadcasting stations a definite program, running on a schedule announced in newspapers and usually covering the day from ten o'clock in the morning until ten at night. And when the listeners want to retire they merely turn off a switch.

For the sick in hospitals small watchcase telephone receivers are placed near each bed, and the patient "listening in" may enjoy broadcasting without disturbance to a neighbor.

No doubt it would help the oppressed and downtrodden of Europe to open our gates to unrestricted immigration. But we are not going to do that. We owe our first duty to our own people. There are two sides to this question of world-wide politics. Christianity and government are different matters and we cannot afford to get them mixed. Jesus said "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." So don't let us deceive ourselves with the idea that it is the duty of this government to go out on a crusading expedition to save the world. That is the business of the church.

With possibly a single exception every fair held in West Texas this year made money, according to reports to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Even the larger fairs which expended great sums to bring added and costly attractions show a surplus after paying all expenses. The organization and prosecution of the county fair movement to the end that such county institutions may inspire rivalry among farmers and stimulate production of the best products.

In towns too small to raise large budgets for the support of a chamber of commerce and pay salary of a secretary the West Texas Chamber of Commerce recommends the organization of luncheon clubs. These new forms of chamber meet weekly or fortnightly about the festive board, discuss town problems and take unified action. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has organized many of these abbreviated forms of chambers with startling results. No place, no matter how small, can do without some kind of organization that represents it, and the best way for the small town is a luncheon club. Such clubs are organized free of charge.

MISSOURI JUNIOR RED CROSSERS GIVE CHILD SUNDAY CLOTHES

The Junior Red Cross members of Harrisonville, Mo., are very proud of the fact that they have enabled a little girl to go to Sunday School once more. The child had stayed at home for lack of proper clothes and the Juniors found it out and used some surplus funds to purchase her the outfit.

This little girl now is the proud owner of a pink organdie dress, a pink ribbon, a blue gingham dress, hose and underwear. The gingham dress was made by one of the Juniors.

The children are enthusiastic over home work and tell the secretary that if ever she needs more help to "just whistle" and they will be right there.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD GIRL WINS RED CROSS LIFE SAVING CERTIFICATE

Ruth Elberfeld, 12 years old, daughter of "Kid" Elberfeld, manager of the Little Rock (Ark.) Baseball Club, has just received a certificate in the Red Cross Life Saving Course, which is usually issued only to adults. Ruth took the course in a class of girls, but her work was so far ahead of her age that she finally was put in the adult class. One of the extraordinary feats in the course was the bringing in of a 160-pound man through the water for a distance of 50 yards, towing him and handling him in four different ways, according to the requirements of the course.

Grandchild had Croupy Cough

"My grandchild could get no relief whatever from a very bad croupy cough," writes Peter Landis, Meyersdale, Pa., "until I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar. Coughs, Colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial irritations quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar.—C. K. Hunter, druggist."

Nothing disgusts a sensible person more than to hear some young upstart deploring the fact that he or she is a resident of a town the size of Menard and longing for broader fields "where everybody don't know everybody's business." We've heard the remark more than once, and each time it has graded on our ears, because we know about life in the congested cities of this country, and we know much more enjoyable is life in the smaller towns and in the rural sections. Very shortly after reaching the big city "where everybody doesn't know everybody's business," there comes to the town bred boy or girl the longing for a smile recognition, a nod of the head or a cherry "Hello" from some one who really has an interest in them. Possibly a little spell of sickness is encountered. Then they note the absence of kindly neighbors and the touch of parental hands that are better than medicine. Very often, too, finances get low. There is no need in seeking credit. Strangers always remain strangers in the big city, and credit is only for those who can show a bank account. "Charge it to father," doesn't mean anything to the big city merchant, whose acquaintance doesn't take in more than one father, and that one his own. We live to learn, and that's the only consolation we have when we hear a boy or girl yearning for the life of a big city. They'll learn later on, and generally through experience, that when it comes to actual happiness the farm home or the small town stands first and always will.—Menard Messenger.

THANKSGIVING
When the company cloth on the table is spread
And the initialed napkins are out,
When mother steps with joyous tread
And there's happiness all about—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the costly cut-glass is for once in use
And the purchased posies are around,
When for an appetite there's no excuse,
For if it were lost, it's found—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the cherished China is hurried out
And the shining silver appears
When there's no time to fuss or pout,
No time for sorrow or tears—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the tumbled-up turkey takes its place
With the greasy goodies along
When the cakes and pies loom up in space
And life seems just a song—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the invited visitors at last sit down
And the famished family, also,
When they tell the children to "play around"
As if they didn't know—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the bulky bones are high on the plate
And the wiry wing is all that's there,
When we think in our souls it's hard to wait
And the grown folks don't play square—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the greedy guests at last are through,
And the dairy desert is brought,
When they gobble it up without time to chew
Surely they've never been taught—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the black beverage comes, followed by mints,
And their hungry hate is o'er,
When the sit and talk and won't take hints
Though I stamp quite loud on the floor—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the merry mother begins to laugh
And the dirty dishes are cleared,
When we find the turkey not gone by half
Nor the pies and cakes as we feared—
It's Thanksgiving!
When our splitting sides are ready to burst
And our aching appetites are lame,
When we forget about who ate first
And love everybody just the same—
It's Thanksgiving!
When the noiseless night is filled with cries
And there's a piercing pain—not in the head
When we wish they'd eaten all the cakes and pies
And almost wish we were dead—
That's the day after Thanksgiving!

"SAME-GOODS FOR LESS MONEY"

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Have you anything to be thankful for this year?

A few things, you think? You have many things, we think.

You have health, and food, and clothing, and your home, and your family, and your friends.

And you have greater freedom of action, and thought, and speech than is vouchsafed to any other people on the face of the globe.

You live in a country where we recognize no master save our God and ourselves.

We have our public officials, of course, but they are our paid servants, and we, the people, are their masters. If their work does not please us we drop them by the wayside, as is our privilege.

These are only a few of our many blessings, but are they not enough for which to render thanks?

November the 30th is the day.

Shop early this Christmas.

The more cheer you bestow upon others the greater will be the cheer within your own heart.

Christmas is a time of good cheer for everybody, and nearly everybody is cheered in one way or another.

Let us see that everyone in this community is remembered on Christmas day, that no one is overlooked.

What is everybody's business generally remains undone, to the embarrassment or grief of those who are the victims of our indifference.

Therefore, let us have a community committee whose business it will be to take the initiative in seeing that the Christmas spirit and cheer are represented in every home and in every heart in our town and countryside.

If we form such a committee now the good work will be done.

If left until the last minute there will be time for nothing but excuses and regrets.

Have you noticed the unusual brightness of the children of today?

It is the natural development and expansion of the human intellect.

As the world grows older its people absorb greater knowledge and that knowledge is transmitted from parent to son and daughter, and the son or daughter absorbs additional knowledge as it traverses the years of infancy and juvenility and in time passes the accumulation on to its own offspring.

In the early ages of mankind the world was ruled by ignorance, superstition and idolatry.

Before the final eclipse there will be such intelligence and enlightenment as has never been known before.

Today we are in a transitory state, living, and learning, and progressing as the Creator affords us opportunities and the intelligence to grasp them.

The intelligence of your child is not due entirely to you. It is the divine will that knowledge be unfolded by degrees, and you are but the instrument of that will.

Everybody is talking about you, and you can no more stop them that you can cause the wind to cease blowing.

What will they say about you tomorrow?

That will depend upon what you do today.

You are moulding their words by your own actions, and the judgment they will pronounce upon you is being prepared in advance by you, yourself.

Many a young girl, even of tender years, resort to paints and powders in order to enhance the charm with which nature has provided them.

In time they marry, and their husbands are chagrined to learn that much of their marvelous beauty was purchased by the box.

Think it over girls. If nature provides you with intelligence and character you are possessed of something of far greater value in the eyes of a manly man than all artificial facial adornments combined.

Criticism, if constructive, is good for our community and for our people.

But criticism, with nothing better to offer, becomes pessimism, and is destructive. It breeds dissatisfaction over conditions that exist without offering any means of correcting them.

The next time you feel like criticising those in authority, be charitable enough and fair enough to withhold that criticism until you are in a position to suggest a suitable remedy.

You may not speak at all.

If a man promises to pay you a certain bill on a certain date you expect him to keep his promise.

If he fails to pay his credit is impaired, your confidence in his good intentions is shaken, and your respect for him is in a measure destroyed.

And all for one little broken promise!

It requires many years of correct living to build up a reputation of value.

One false step may destroy it. Look before you step, and think before you promise.

Yards of cloth dyed red, or white, or blue, or all of these colors, mean nothing. You may pass them a thousand times without giving them a second thought.

But work that flag into an American flag and it becomes at once the symbol of the greatest heritage of mankind—liberty.

The man who loves his country will respect its flag. He will not treat it as yards of cloth.

The man who does not respect his flag can not, under any possible stretch of the imagination, be classed as the lover of his country.

We have many of the one, and too many of the other.

A modern discovery for the rapid healing of flesh wounds, cuts, burns, bruises, sores, and scalds is Liquid Borozone. It is a clear, colorless liquid possessing marvelous healing power. Price 30c, 60c, and $1.20. Sold by all druggists.

About the only excuse we have for calling some people statesmen is the state in which they live.

Sunday School Lesson

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 3

JESUS SENDING OUT MISSIONARIES

LESSON TEXT—Luke 10:1-24. GOLDEN TEXT—The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that He would send forth laborers into the harvest.—Luke 10:2.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matthew 10:1-42.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Sends Out Seventy Helpers.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Sends Forth Seventy Missionaries.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Heralds of the Kingdom.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Home Mission Work.

I. The Seventy Sent Forth (vv. 1, 2).

1. Appointed by the Lord (v. 1). Only those should go forth who are appointed by the Lord.

2. Sent Forth Two by Two (v. 1). The purpose of this was that they might mutually help, counsel and support each other.

3. Reason for Their Appointment (v. 2). The harvest was great, but the laborers were few. The task before the Christian church after nearly 1900 years is still great.

4. Pray the Lord to Send Forth Laborers (v. 2). The realization of the prodigious task before us will cause us to pray to the Lord to send forth more laborers.

II. Instructions Given (vv. 3-16).

1. He Reveals the Dangers Confronting Them (v. 3). They were thrust forth by the Lord to proclaim His name, though so doing would expose them to deadly peril, even as lambs surrounded by hungry wolves. It matters not what the dangers are if the Lord sends forth.

2. Free From All Inconvenience (v. 4). The mission was urgent, so all that would in any way hinder the speedy execution of the task was to be left behind.

3. Distraction of Social Intercourse to Be Omitted (v. 4). Eastern salutations were long-drawn affairs. To go into such formalities would delay Christ's messengers.

4. Behavior in the Homes Where Received (vv. 5-9). (1) Offer the peace of the gospel (v. 5, 6). This is to be done regardless as to whether it will be received or not. There is a reflex blessedness in preaching the gospel. Even when the message is rejected the effort is not wasted, but comes back to the one who has made the effort. (2) Do not shift quarters (v. 7, 8). Missionaries should remain in the home where they have been received, content with what is given them. They should not demand better food and more comfortable quarters than what is commonly provided. However, that which is given should be gratefully received, for the laborer is worthy of his hire. (3) Healed the sick (v. 9). These disciples were given power to heal the sick. The ministers of Christ should seek to give relief to those in distress and use every opportunity to proclaim the gospel message.

5. The Awful Fate of Those Who Reject Christ's Message (vv. 10-16). Their case is more hopeless than that of Sodom. Those who reject Christ's messengers reject Christ.

III. The Return of the Seventy (vv. 17-24).

1. Their Report (v. 17). They were highly elated. They seemed to be agreeably surprised. They not only found that they could heal the sick, but cast out demons also. They seemed to be filled with self-satisfaction. It is easy even in Christian service to be spoiled by our successes.

2. Jesus' Answer (vv. 18-24). (1) He told them it was no surprise to Him (vv. 18, 19). With prophetic eye He saw their success as indicating that time when the prince of this world would be overthrown (John 12:31). By virtue of His mighty triumph over Satan He assures them that they need have no fear of what should befall them. Nothing could harm them; nothing could prosper which opposed them. Indeed, nothing can harm the servant who goes about His Master's business.

(2) Real cause for rejoicing (v. 20). He promptly rebuked them, telling them that their chief joy should be because of their heavenly relation, not because of these miraculous gifts. That above all which should provoke gratitude is the fact that God has chosen in Christ and saved us, inscribing our names in heaven. (3) Jesus' exultation (v. 21, 22). The consciousness that soon the 'victory' would be won because God had committed all things unto Him, and that only as men received Him could they know the Father, caused Him to rejoice in what was being accomplished. (4) Congratulates the disciples (v. 23, 24).

Which Is The More Important?

FIRE INSURANCE (An Expense)

LIFE INSURANCE (An Investment)

If you have a building earning you $1,666 net per year above taxes and expenses, worth $20,000 cash to your estate, you won't allow it to remain uninsured over night, will you?

You carry $12,000 or $15,000 fire insurance to partially protect yourself from loss by fire, and to protect your credit.

Your building may never burn. Comparatively few do. How many homes in your town or neighborhood burned down during the past 12 months?

When your insured building burn—if they ever do—you will collect your fire insurance and rebuild. With your credit left together with your ability to earn money, you can continue to provide for your family.

If your buildings are not insured or are insufficiently insured, you alone carry the risk. But you are too wise for this so you insure the buildings in order to preserve the income from them with a minimum loss to you.

For every $100 per year you earn, you are, on a 6 per cent basis, worth $1,666 to yourself and family. Is your earning ability insured for the protection of your family and credit?

How much life insurance do you carry to protect your family and their credit in case of your death?

The annual average probability of dying is many times the annual probability of fire.

How many people in your town or neighborhood died in the past 12 months?

When you die—and you will—you will be total loss: to your estate except for the income you leave. Income that results from your credit and the earning power of your brain cannot be replaced except by life insurance.

If your life is insufficiently insured, your wife and babies carry the risk. Your life insurance is more important to them than your fire insurance is to you.

LOOK into your heart and ask why it is that a man, who is strong enough to fight life's battles alone, will protect himself with fire insurance but neglect to protect his wife and babies with life insurance.

How are you treating your dependents? Anywhere nearly as considerately as you treat your self?

If a man deserts his family here on earth he is sent to jail; if he dies uninsured he must answer to the higher tribunal above.

LIFE INSURANCE IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN FIRE INSURANCE

Because—A fire may never come, but the Grim Reaper—Death—calls on schedule time.

Because—A fire merely destroys property that can be replaced, but Death destroys Life and also destroys its earning power which can not be replaced except by life insurance.

Because—By every rule of prudence and conservatism, life insurance is more indispensable to credit and self-respect than fire insurance.

LIFE INSURANCE IS A BETTER INVESTMENT THAN FIRE INSURANCE

Because—A fire insurance policy never returns you cash unless your property burns.

Whereas—A life insurance policy matures for as much or more real cash than the premiums amounted to. After three premiums have been paid, a life insurance policy also gives Cash Surrender and Loan Values, and Extended Insurance Values.

EARLY DAYS IN

SANTA ANNA

(By L. V. Stockard)

High Tide in the Santa Anna Country

After the drouths of 1886-87, Coleman county had three very good crop years, 1888-89-90, and the people had begun to have more confidence in the country. Occasionally an immigrant outfit would unload at the station and settle somewhere in the country. The Baptist people bought a lot in October, and erected the First Baptist church, upon the lot where the new church now stands. Col. Mahoney commenced to talk about cutting up his large pasture which adjoined town and throwing it on the market to actual settlers. Stockard and Williams began preparing to build a stone building and started the construction in the winter of 1890 and finished it up in 1891. This was the first stone business house built in Santa Anna, and the question was just where to build it. Up to this time there were no permanent improvements here and we knew this building would be the starting point for all permanent buildings in the future, so we decided to build upon the lot where C. K. Hunter's Drug Store is now located. 1891 started off in good shape, Mahoney had sown down all the land he had in cultivation on the ranch and sold off all his sheep and cattle so as to let the grass grow without being molested. Col. Mahoney was not a novice in the real estate business, he had come to this county in advance of the railroad and purchased and fenced about twenty thousand acres of land and called it the Santana Live Stock & Land Company. He had been connected with the Vanderbuils Real Estate business department in New York City, and knew how to do real estate business on a big scale. John Howard of Wichita Falls, a successful land and town lot boomer, came down to see about handling the advertising end of the scheme for Mr. Mahoney and he made a trade with him early in the year to do the advertising. Nat B. Davidson, a Civil Engineer, was employed to do the surveying and platting of the lands. Johnathan McElrath, County Surveyor, was employed to run out all original lines and establish the corners and work started early in 1891. As soon as plats were ready Jno. Howard commenced his campaign thru the Fort Worth Gazette advertising, and what he told the people all over Texas and back in the eastern States was a plenty. He told them all about the Home Creek Valley and reminded them of Home Sweet Home on the Home Creek valleys that was going to be auctioned off on the 2nd and 3rd days of June, 1891, regardless of price to the highest bidder on terms of one-third cash and one-third in, one and one-third in two years at 8 per cent interest. These farm blocks were cut so as to have a road way to each tract and most of them were cut so as to have permanent water and each corner was marked with large flat rocks with the number of acres in the block and the number of the block so the prospective purchasers could look over the land and make their selections before the sale came off. The Santa Fee railroad gave special rates for this occasion good for several days so people could come out in advance and prospect over this virgin body of land that was soon to become the homes of many people instead of the home of one ranchman. Mahoney advertised that he would meet the people at the depot and take care of them during their stay here. He had arranged to have plenty barbecued meats for the occasion and had his barbecuers and butchers on the ground with plenty of cots under a large sheep shed to sleep the people. He not only had plenty to eat but plenty to drink as well, and the drinks were not all together water. He had several ten gallon Demi Johns and they made several trips to Galveston before the sale was over. I think the auctioneer's name was Col. Acklin, from Cleburne. On the morning of June the 2nd, there were lots of people here and they were scouting over the pasture bright and early, looking over the land.

3 Big SAMPLE BOOKS

As before stated Mr. Mahoney had removed all livestock off of the land and the grass was fine, all rocks were well hidden and everything looked lovely. A large map had been made of these lands and placed upon a bill board about twenty feet square and the grounds for holding the sale were in fine shape under a Live Oak tree near town, just on the east side of the pasture. The auctioneer made quite a speech before commencing the sale and told the people that Mr. Mahoney had worked a life time to accumulate this vast territory of fine land but it had become too valuable to run stock on and was going to turn it over to the man with the hoe and to people who wanted homes in this fine country. Then the bidding commenced and before June the 2nd and 3rd had gone every tract had been sold including the Mahoney addition which was cut in 2 1-2 and 3 acre blocks.

There were no bankers in Santa Anna at this time. Mr. Mahoney had Brooke Smith, a Brownwood banker, to come up and handle the money and checks and H. D. Walker, County Clerk of Coleman county, was on the ground to write deeds as the land was sold, but he could not write deeds and notes as fast as the sales were made. It took him several days to complete the work after the sale was over. This was the best boom Santa Anna has had since the day the Santa Fee sold town lots here and a great many people moved here from the eastern countries.

Sam and Frank Dodson from Bell county made the best improvements of any purchasers of land in this pasture and Sam built the two story dwelling now owned by W. R. Kelley, and Frank built the dwelling now owned by the Walters estate and they are the best improved places up to the present time on the Mahoney lands. Mr. Mahoney got the people who were in business here to advertise on one of his advertising circulars and I happen to have a copy of one of those circulars and the following men were here and in the following business:
Wofford & Co., dry goods and groceries.
Bowron & Tarver, confectionery.
Ben Chambers, Paint shop.
J. L. Compton & Co., Lumber men.
Stockard & Williams, Land, Loans & Real Estate.
J. W. Wyatt, dealer in Confectionery Lemonade and lunch.
J. W. Parker, Real Estate & Live Stock Agent.
W. R. Kelley & Co., dealers in Exchange and General Merchandise.
Aldridge & Co., Drugs and Stationery.
DuBois & Crosby, Contractors and Builders.
Crosby Brothers, dealers in Lumber, Shingles and Doors.
The Red Front Grocery Store, L. Chambers, Prop.
Heath & Wood, Shelf Hardware.
Never before nor since has Twenty Thousand acres of land been sold to actual settlers within two days in Coleman county.

George Pickett, of Quitaque, charged with incest before the Briscoe County District Court, at Silverton, was given a life sentence in the penitentiary. Pickett, who also went under the name of Gates, or Cates, was charged with improper relations with his two girls, one 18 and the other 15. When he thought the officers knew of his misdeeds, he attempted to escape, and was found hiding in the sand hills near Muleshoe, and was brought back and placed in the Silverton jail for trial.—Tulia Herald.

LET US CO-OPERATE

No institution or business concern will ever prosper without the heartiest co-operation of those connected with it. The interests of each individual member of a firm are best promoted by contributing to the prosperity of the business in which the firm is engaged. There must be harmony and good-felling if success is ever attained. When there is suspicion and distrust, and when one member does not act toward those with whom he is associated in an open and candid manner that begets confidence and good will, disaster and ruin will follow.

A community is just a big partnership in which all the people are stock-holders. Each has his private interests to look after, but their interests are largely mutual. And if the interests of that community are to be advanced there must be hearty and sincere co-operation on the part of the citizens. In order to secure harmony and concert of action among the people it is essential that there be no back-biting or "double crossing" between neighbors and friends. There must be a feeling of confidence, one toward another, or nothing of permanent value can be accomplished. One way to co-operate is to patronize home institutions. Let the people buy their supplies from their home merchants who help to pay taxes and who contribute to the educational, religious, welfare of the town and county. We are all interdependent. We need the help and sympathy of those among whom we live in everything we undertake. And it should be the desire of all to promote harmony and good will and to see that nothing is encouraged that is calculated to disturb the pleasant relations that should exist in a community. A town may seem to be prospering, and upon the surface great progress may be indicated, but such prosperity and progress will be short-lived unless a spirit of confidence and good will is made to permeate the minds and hearts of the people.

co-operation among the people of Santa Anna and Coleman county, knowing full well that without such felling and conduct among the people it will be impossible to build up the community and bring permanent happiness and prosperity to all. To this end we urge that our citizens think soberly and act wisely, for much is involved and the future welfare of our beautiful city and splendid country surrounding it are depending upon our attitude in this matter. Let us work together, and be fair and honest with one another and as members of one great family let us stand by the institutions that are contributing to the upbuilding of our community that happiness and true prosperity may be ours to enjoy.

England, it seems, has pulled a Bonar as prime minister—but strictly in accordance with law.

We have been having some bad weather the past few days.

A few of the young folks of the Liberty community attended the box supper at Cleveland Thursday night.

Liberty and Plainview played basket ball at Liberty Friday afternoon, both teams, boys and girls. The Liberty boys won a score of twenty-four to twelve. This makes two victories for the Liberty boys this season. The Liberty girls lost their game with the Plainview girls, the score being eight and twelve. Laverne Tillery, a former student of Santa Anna High school made sixteen of Plainview's points. Liberty has three games matched for this week.

NURSE IN SOUTHWEST DIVISION COVERS BIG TERRITORY

Miss Mary Fitzsimon, Washington County (Arkansas) Red Cross nurse, is in charge of one of the largest territories covered by one individual in this capacity in the Southwestern Division. Ten towns are in her district and her work covers all kinds of ailments and illnesses, serious and simple, as well as general sanitation and health information.

The well people of one neighborhood in Washington County are particularly indebted to Miss Fitzsimon for having discovered a contaminated water supply which might have caused the illness of the entire community.

In cases where contaminated water supplies were not discovered in time, Miss Fitzsimon has been able to offer an anti-typhoid inoculation which has been so successful in the army as a means of stamping out this disease.
