Keep your eye on your neighbor—not to find something to criticize, but to see if there is not something you can do that will bind you closer together as friends and make life happier for both of you. Teach yourself to overlook the other one's faults, and to magnify and appreciate his good qualities. If you are looking for imperfections, just cast your eyes inwardly.

The first bale of the 1922 cotton crop was sold in Houston, Friday, June 2, at auction, bringing $1,200. It was raised by Jack Mize in the lower Rio Grande Valley, 30 miles north of Brownsville, Texas.

The church is entitled to the liberal support of every citizen whether he be a Christian or not. It is the only institution on earth that has the direct authority of God for its existence. And it will live, as it should live, for Christ said "the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." The salvation of the world is in the hands of the church.

A federal judge declares that the people are going crazy trying to keep up with the styles. If that is true then the world has been heading for the asylum for nearly two thousand years, for the Apostle Paul found it necessary to criticize women for wearing jewelry and hats in church. They were certainly following the styles when they did it, and we imagine Paul was about as badly disgusted as this federal judge.

Some people talk about "raw material" that enters into the manufacture of cloth. To them cotton and wool are the raw materials. But what goes to the farmer produces them. He doesn't do it. He only works the land and shears the sheep. It takes grass to raise sheep, and land, water, and sunshine to raise cotton. God furnishes these, and they are the only "raw material" that we have.

$365 IN PRIZES FOR BEST RHYMES

A new contest is just being started which will interest everyone who reads this paper. Anyone can enter this contest—anyone can win! All it is necessary to do is to write a 4-line rhyme on Dr. Price's Phosphate-Baking Powder using only the words that appear on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back).
 Isn't that easy? Everyone likes to make rhymes and here is a chance to spend a fascinating hour or two writing rhymes on this popular Baking Powder and perhaps winning a substantial prize for your efforts.

27 CASH PRIZES
 For the rhyme selected as best a prize of $100 will be given; for the second, third and fourth best rhymes prizes of $75, $50, and $25, respectively will be given. And besides these prizes there will be 23 prizes of $5 each for the next 23 best rhymes. With such a long list of prizes as these, it would be a pity not to try your hand. Here's a 4-line rhyme as example:
 Biscuits, muffins, pie or cake,
 With Dr. Price's Powder bake,
 The Price's Co. guarantee
 Toatum in the cans to be.
 As Dr. Price's Phosphate Baking Powder sells for only 25 cents a 12 oz. can, some rhymes could play up the great economy of this pure and wholesome baking powder.
 All rhymes must be received by July 1, 1922. Only words appearing on the label of the Dr. Price can (front and back) may be used. These words may be used as often as desired, but no other words will be allowed. If you haven't a can of Dr. Price's you can see one free at almost any grocer's. It is not a requirement that you purchase a can in order to be eligible in this Contest.
 Anyone may enter the Contest, but only one rhyme from each person will be considered. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Write plainly on only one side of a sheet of paper and be sure to give your name and address. Send your rhyme before July 1st to Price Baking Powder Factory, 100 Independent Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

The dispatches from Washington announce that England is arranging to pay this government $250,000,000 annually on the interest due for money loaned it by the United States during the world war. This money should be appropriated as compensation to the soldiers who fought our battles. They are as much entitled to something as those who stayed at home and profited by the big wages that were paid for labor and the profits received from the sale of American products. This government should be just as well as generous.

The state land commissioner of Texas has announced that approximately 1,000,000 acres of public free school land in the state will be sold at auction on the first of September. The bulk of the land is situated in the western and north-western portion of the state. No residence on the land is required of the purchaser.

A California paper declares the women are not making good since they were given franchise, and that voting does not appeal as strongly to them as when it was a "forbidden article." It thinks the cooks and barnacles will run the country unless the women rally to the polls and drive them out of office. Does our California contemporary believe there are "not enough good men in the country to put the bad ones out" that it must administer this curtain lecture to the dear women?

Wm. J. Bryan wants to cancel the $11,000,000,000 debt that foreign nations owe the United States. Bryan should worry; he can make as much in one Chautauqua engagement as in the average farmer makes in a year by hard work. Of course he could afford to "forgive his debtors" or rather the people's debtors. But the producers of this country who have to labor hard to pay their taxes and provide a few comforts for their families probably will not view the matter from the same angle as Mr. Bryan.

Occasionally the editor meets with suggestions from people as to how to publish a newspaper and the class of news that would be striking and appropriate for our readers, but they usually come from some one that knows about as much about the newspaper business as a Chinaman knows about democracy and have about as much effect on the editor as the dictums of a Chinaman would to a Republican president.

The Rowena Review is a new Exchange that comes to our desk this week, and we notice by perusing its columns its editor is Robert E. Downey who founded the paper almost fifteen years ago. The Review has been silent for several months and we welcome it back into existence.

Miss Kate Reilly is here this week working with the members of the Baptist Sunday school and we hope that good will derive from her labors in this field. The call of the Master should be the theme of every officer and teacher of the Sunday school, and those who are interested in the progress of the Sunday school work should show the proper spirit by co-operating in the work while this good worker is in the field.

D. K. Renfro, age 83 years and one of Texas' pioneer citizens, died at his home in Brownwood last Thursday morning, and his remains were placed in their last resting place Friday. Mr. Renfro was one of the first druggist in Brownwood, establishing a drug business about forty years ago.
 Miss Alice Loraine Daly has been nominated Governor by the faction known as the Non-Partisan League in South Dakota, and says that she is going to be the first woman governor in the United States. She is said to be an attractive school teacher.

The editor joined Ed Sanderson and family last Friday and went to the Colorado River to fish Friday night, but the river was on a little rise and too muddy to fish in after we made the long drive. Mr. J. A. Freeman, father of Mrs. Sanderson joined us and we three expected to get some big "uns; but our hopes were blighted when we got to the water's edge. The party returned to the home of Mr. Freeman and spent the night in that good old country home with Mr. and Mrs. Freeman. It was a real treat to the editor to have the pleasure of resting over night and spending a few hours in such a pleasant country home.

Blue Racket Store

Some of these days we Americans—or our descendants—are going to see the greatest curiosity of all time, a politician who makes good on his campaign promises. Just now there is no such animal. There never was one. It is not in the nature of things that there should be one—under present conditions. Promises just ooze off from an electioneering tongue like thin molasses oozing out of an open bung hole. And, like molasses, they keep rising on oozing out until the hole is plugged up by election or defeat. And yet we can't navigate the turbulent sea of life without our politicians, especially those of the professional breed. Bunk is soothing to the disturbed mind, and there is no one who can hand it out as scientifically and as smoothly as a politician. We have to be hoodwinked and cajoled and bamboozled about so often or we would think the country was on oiled skids and headed for the everlasting bow-wows. And right right there is where our dear old politicians get in their glorious work. After listening to their glowing promises for five minutes we see millions and other enticing wonders ahead, and this enthuses our voters and spurs us on the performance of real constructive work of our own. Thus we see the politician as a necessity and a national asset. Nobody expects a politician to keep his promises. It can't be done. They are made to fit the various sections of his district in which he hands them out, and no two sections want the same thing and in the same manner. It is the political duty of every voter to forget election promises as soon as the returns are counted. To insist upon their fulfillment would create discord throughout the state and nation. Any poor boob can be a politician. It doesn't require any brains—just an unlimited amount of bunk and the ability to smear it on and make it stick. Yes, we or our descendants will some day see a politician who makes good on his campaign promises. But perhaps he won't be a real bona fide politician—just a mere man instead. We live in hopes.

GOV. NEFF AND THE SCHOOLS (Brownwood Semi-Weekly News)

The chief weapon of attack by the two new aspirants for governor against Governor Neff, is that the latter is responsible for the condition of the rural schools.
 Gov. Neff's responsibility for entering a veto against the reckless appropriation of money by the last legislature is a matter that honors his judgment and common sense, because, the funds that were appropriated, by the Legislature were not in the treasury, nor were they in sight.
 Had the members of the Legislature possessed the nerve to increase taxation to meet the wholesale appropriations made by the state, that would have been the proper thing to do.
 But the Legislature did not undertake anything like that. They simply voted the appropriations regardless of the condition of the States' finances and then left it to the responsibility of the governor to solve the problem of producing the money.
 Pat Neff is responsible for a good many ideas and notions with which the Brownwood News finds fault, but Governor Neff's method of meeting the delinquencies of the Legislature in the matter of maintaining the credit of the state government, is, we believe, distinctly to his credit. We approve that part of his administration wholly and without reserve.
 Governor Neff has been appealed to and harassed on all sides to call an extra session of the Legislature at a great expense to the people to take up the school situation.
 But very wisely, we think, the Governor has not allowed himself to be carried off his feet. He appreciates the fact that means must be provided to put money into the state treasury before it can be taken out, and, besides, the governor understands there is ample time when the Legislature meets in January to make provision in the proper way for the extra school appropriations that may be necessary.
 The attack on Governor Neff by Candidate Rogers and Candidate Warner on the point of the public school appropriations is being made simply because these gentlemen believe that the schools are the issue nearest the heart of the people that it may serve them as their most effective campaign thunder.
 But all the people at home, we believe, are not altogether relying on the state treasury to run their district schools.
 This idea that we must look to Austin every time a country school needs a new water bucket or a recess bell, is not so much a popular idea among the common run of school patrons as these new candidates for governor may believe.
 There is such a thing as home rule in the school affairs of Texas, and it is a mighty good rule, too.
 Brown county is beginning to believe in it and apply it, as will be seen in the fact that two school districts in this county the past week voted an increase in their local taxes from 50 cents on the hundred dollars valuation to $1.00.
 State aid for the county schools is all right and proper, but there is no reason why each town and city and each country school district should not do its full share for the maintenance of primary education, and only a reasonable share of the obligation be placed as a burden upon the state.

Neff Announces For Re-Election

Governor Pat M. Neff issued a statement last Saturday, announcing his candidacy for Governor of Texas, to serve the second term, subject to the action of the democratic primaries in July. Following is an extract from the Governor's statement:
 "Believing that the work and thought given by me to the duties of the office of Governor in the past will enable me better to serve in solving some of the pressing problems now pending for consideration, and having an ambition thus to serve, I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election for a second term to the office of Governor."
 "Claiming political allegiance to the Democratic party only, this announcement of course is made subject to our party primary election to be held on July 22 of this year.

 Fidelity to Truth
 "In public office, as in private life, the distinguishing trait and the priceless principle to which all right thinking people pay homage and respect, is unflinching fidelity to truth and unswerving devotion to duty.
 "These virtues I have faithfully followed, as your Governor, in so far as he who rules in the councils of men has given me light and wisdom to see.
 "Perhaps I have made mistakes in the past. I doubt not that I shall make mistakes in the future.
 "However, I have tried to serve the citizenship of the State in the highest and truest sense, and at all times, through good and evil report, I have made as a constant companion a clear conscience.
 "If the Democratic voters of Texas feel that they can in full justice to their state honor me with a second term as their Governor, I shall deeply appreciate it, and shall continue my efforts in behalf of the welfare of our people, with a sincere ambition to fulfill their expectations and to justify their confidence. Sincerely your,
 PAT M. NEFF, Governor.

Ford Motor Number 6,000,000 was listed from the assembly line in the Highland Park Ford Plant at 9:14 A. M. May 18. Just 5 1-3 seconds later Number 6,000,001 was finished.

The Unusually heavy demand for Ford cars and trucks at the present has necessitated the building of 5400 motors daily. These are shipped in carload lots to the various Ford assembling plants throughout the United States.

The first model "T" Ford motor was completed on October 1st, 1908; number 1,000,000 left the assembly line December 10th, 1915; and number 5,000,000 came through May 28th, 1921.

Although the Ford Motor Company turned out a number of different models prior to 1908, the present numbering system began with the first Model "T."
