LETTER FROM FLORIDA
Jacksonville, Fla., May 18, 1922.
Convention began its work yesterday by re-electing E. Y. Williams as President. There are about 6000 in attendance. Up to now we have had a great convention. The Spirit of Power is great. Kansas City, New Orleans and Hot Springs have all invited next convention. Jacksonville is one of our most beautiful cities. Fruits of all kind are now on the market, and water melons and cantaloupes in abundance. But with all this I prefer my Texas home, because I love her people. I will be home for 4th Sunday, and hope to find 400 in Sunday school, and "house full" for preaching service, and I will try to tell them of my trip and preach the best Gospel sermon I can, and at 5 p. m. attend to baptism of all approved.
J. M. Reynolds.
Note:—Pastor Reynolds returned home Tuesday after writing the above and before going to press, and upon learning of the Commencement Service at the Methodist church Sunday morning he calls in the Sunday morning service at the Baptist church, but will administer the ordinance of baptism at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and also preach Sunday night.

Next Tuesday, May the 30th, is Decoration day and some amusements will be carried out in this city. Trickham and Santa Anna will cross bats on the local diamond in a class game of baseball, and other amusements features will be carried out.

Here are two more things to worry about: Scientists say that the earth is shrinking at the rate of two inches a year. Also that the coal supply will be exhausted within two thousand years.

Prominent Attorneys Consult

Oujia Board In Order to Solve Intricate Problem (Special to the News)
Coleman, Texas, May 23.—A sensation was caused as well as a new precedent set by the admittance of evidence furnished by an ouija board in a trial in Judge Woodward's court.
It was stated by the spectators as well as the attorneys and court that if the possession of the ring had passed from the defendant that it could not be obtained for the plaintiff even though the plaintiff secured a verdict.
As Baker was speaking Miss Pillow, Critz & Woodward's stenographer was seen to approach Mr. Critz and whisper something to him. He then held a brief conversation with Mr. Woodward and left the room with Miss Pillow.
It was evident that Miss Pillow had made a suggestion, but the Court and spectators little dreamed what the nature of the suggestion was. Mr. Critz and Miss Pillow went immediately to Coulson's Drug store and purchased the most expensive ouija board that he had and then hastened to the office to consult it as to where the ring was.

It has since been learned that the board indicated every time it was consulted that the ring was in the possession of the defendant.
Within fifteen minutes from the time Mr. Critz left the court room he returned and whispered to Mr. Woodward and then he approached the Court and quietly told him of the new method of obtaining evidence or of confirming evidence that was inadequate. After a few minutes Judge Woodward (the Court) announced to the attorneys the nature of the evidence that Critz & Woodward proposed to present. Mr. Baker jumped to his feet and objected in this characteristic manner. Mr. Woodward said that Mr. Baker has objected more times than all lawyers combined who have ever appeared in that court.
The Judge announced that the Court would be adjourned to meet at two o'clock while he took the matter under consideration.

After the jury was taken into the jury room and the crowd had withdrawn Judge Woodward was seen to make a careful perusal of a book which was far thicker than any law book ever seen in a court or library. It was a book entitled "How to Operate an Oujia Board."
In the meantime Messrs. Baker and Weathered had accepted an invitation to go over to the Critz & Woodward's office and "try the board out."
Mr. Baker and Walter Woodward first tried to operate the board together but became so angry that Critz and Weathered who do not know each other so well took the board and manipulated it. It is supposed that Walter Woodward and Mr. Baker have played "opposite" each other in so many "games" that they doubt the integrity of each other.

After many trials from which uniform results were obtained Mr. Baker left the office in a very angry mood declaring that the whole business was crooked and that he would fight the case all summer even to the point of losing the race that he recently entered for Judgeship before he would allow such evidence to be brought before the jury. While Weathered was so dazed that he was unable to leave the office but managed to leave after having had a "consultation" with one of his friends who had recently returned from Mexico.
Judge Woodward opened the Court and announced that the "evidence" would be admitted. After Baker had filed his system of a few vigorous "objections," Miss Pillow was put on the stand and gave the testimony described above. Then Judge Woodward gave the case to the jury and after deliberating three and one-half minutes a decision was brought in, in favor of the plaintiff.

It is expected that Judge Woodward will be seen carrying an ouija board with him as he goes to the various places to hold District Court.
The members of the Coleman Pastors conference are elated over the new method of obtaining evidence, for they are sure that every bootlegger in the county will be caught within the next thirty days.

TO DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS

For the last time we call attention to subscribers living outside Coleman county to the fact that after this issue, unless you are paid up in advance your News will stop. We have a few delinquent subscribers living in the county, some of whom have very kindly asked us if we would be so kind as to send them the paper a few months, and in such events, we must be paid in advance.
The date of expiration is found stamped on the label of your paper, the numbers indicating the month and year. For instance, if your paper expired January 6th, 1922, your figures will be 1-6-22 and if you are paid up to October 15th, 1922, your figures should read 10-15-22.

Not that we have any subscribers we wish to eliminate, but in order to keep our business up in a business like way, in the future all foreign subscribers will be discontinued at the end of the month in which they expire.

OUR GRADUATES

There are 23 members of the graduating class of the Santa Anna High School this year, and these splendid young men and women are now teaching the school they have been striving for since shortly after their entrance in school several years back.
To enter school does not mean so much, but to enter with a purpose means a great deal. These fine young people have taken courage, worked faithfully, looked forward to the events that are soon to take place in the graduation exercises, and we hope that each of them are prepared to meet the test and pass the final examination.

These are numbered among the few who have entered school and stayed with it until they have completed the High school work, even at whatever sacrifice they have made. Others who probably entered school with these let other things come into their lives that lured them from obtaining a High school education, and are now in other pursuits of life. Some of this class will continue their efforts by going to college, some will take a normal course and prepare for teaching, but in all probability several of the class will not make further effort to obtain a still higher education.
Would that it were possible for each of these young people to attend college the next four years. Whatever vocation they may choose, teaching, business or otherwise, we wish to impress upon them and feel sure they will each receive the admonition in the spirit it is offered, that their lives as they live them in this vicinity or elsewhere, will speak for the community they hailed from, and we bespeak for them good advertising mediums for Santa Anna and Santa Anna school.

LOCAL GUARD COMPANY

MET SPECIAL TRAIN SUNDAY
Captain Mobley, together with his company of National Guard in uniform, met the "Plainview Special," which carried the representatives from the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce and the Band of National Guard of that city, at the station Sunday morning.
The train was held for thirty minutes during which time the delegation and band alighted and entertained the Santa Anna citizens, who were at the station, with a few selections of music and a few short speeches.
The Hon. Mark McGee made a brief but humorous speech which was reminiscent of army life. He concluded his remarks by introducing Major Culbertson, the officer who inspected the local guard before it was nationalized. He greeted the local guardsmen and congratulated them upon their interest in the national defense. He also promised to convey greetings from the Santa Anna company to the guardsmen who will assemble with the delegates to the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Plainview.
The guardsmen will meet with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of enlisting its support in a movement that has for its purpose a more liberal support of the National Guard by the State Legislature and Government.

Captain Mobley went to Plainview as the representative of the local organization.

LIBERTY NEWS

Miss Mellie Bell is visiting relatives and friends at this place this week.
Mrs. Ola Holt of Santa Anna spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. P. E. Whitehead.
Mrs. Floyd Walker and Miss Pearl Hughes took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Duggins Sunday.
Misses Lena Polk and Ruby Russell spent Sunday with Miss Raney Duggins.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smedley spent Saturday night and Sunday with Prudence Whitehead and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Clowers took supper with Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Norris Wednesday.

Liberty has added twelve new seats to the church. We will be able to seat more people and would like to see every seat full Sunday at Sunday school, so lets all try to come and be on time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Clowers and Mr. Bill Hensley, who have been visiting their relatives and friends, left Monday for their home in Delta County.
Mr. Will Holt and family and Jones Leigh and wife went to Home Creek Saturday fishing.

Miss Bobbie Brown of Santa Anna spent Friday night with Lonelle Taylor.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Evie Bell a boy. Mother and babe are doing nicely at this writing. —OLD HAPPY.

BASE BALL

Considerable interest and enthusiasm exist in Santa Anna over the baseball, and we have several teams who play well. The High school team was to have played the Coleman High school last Friday but Coleman failed to show up. In the terms of the game it was generally said that Coleman took "Cold Foot." A game was soon pitched with the remainder of the High school, which substituted as Team No. 2 and a fair game was played with the results considerably in favor of the High school team. However, the second team made the game interesting for the Highs.

CARD OF THANKS

The News has been requested by Elder B. A. Cramer to extend a word of thanks to the good citizens of Santa Anna who made it possible for him to go to Dallas this week to have his eye treated by a specialist.
Mr. Cramer had the misfortune to get his left eye put out several weeks back while doing carpenter work, and it has continued to give him trouble, and of late has totally disabled him from work. It was indeed generous in his good neighbors to make it possible for him to go and have his eye treated and we hope the treatment proves successful.

W. R. LOWERY

W. R. Lowery, 72 years old, died at his home near Trickham Saturday morning and was buried in the Trickham cemetery at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the Rev. W. A. Kercheville conducting the funeral services. Mr. Lowery is survived by his wife and four children, two sons and two daughters.

PLAINVIEW NEWS

After all the rains Plainview has come to life and wishes to join the happy News.
Miss Coy Bivins spent last week with Miss Bertha Parrish of Live Oak. Mr. T. Fowler is spending the week with her son, Elmer Fowler, at Liberty.
Mrs. Paul Bivins and little daughter Aletha, spent Monday with Mrs. C. A. Bivins.
J. A. Bowles called on A. J. Parrish of Live Oak Tuesday.
The singing at Mr. Tillery's Sunday night was enjoyed by all.
Miss Jessie Stephenson of north of town spent last week-end with Miss Ruby Richardson.
Messdames Paul Bivins, Alma Woodward, and Misses Coy and Aletha Bivins were pleasant callers Friday in the J. D. Watson home of Coleman.

The birthday party given for little Miss Jewel Bowles Wednesday was enjoyed by all.

Miss Coy Bivins, Messrs George Bivins, Harvel Fowler, Howard Fowler, and Byron England attended the party at Miss Bertha Parrish Thursday night at Live Oak.

SCHOOL TAX RAISE

VOTED SATURDAY
(Bangs, Advocate)
By a majority of 11 votes the proposition to raise the school tax rate in this independent school district to an amount not exceeding $1 on the $100 valuation carried last Saturday. The rate of taxation has been 50 cents on the $100 valuation. The new rate will be put into effect this year. On promise of the board of trustees, prior to the election, school taxes will hereafter be assessed and collected at Brownwood, payment of school taxes to be made on the same rendition of property to the county and state. It is believed this will prove more satisfactory than having a local assessor and collector.
The vote in the election Saturday was 75 for the raise in the rate and 64 against.

PLAY FAIR WITH YOUR WIDOW

If you just won't protect her—if you just won't sign this application now—
Then go home and take her to the front window and tell her what to do when the baker passes the door and the children cry for bread and she has no money to pay him—
Tell her what to say to the grocery man when he refuses her further credit—
Tell her what she should say to the doctor when he refuses to come any longer to visit the children when they're sick—because of an unpaid bill—
Tell her what to say to the merchant when he tells her that she can't buy shoes without money—
Tell her what to say to the druggist when he refuses to fill the prescription unless paid for in advance—
Tell her what to say to the children themselves—when they see other children pass the house going to school warmly clad and receive an education that you are denying them by your action today—
Tell her how to explain to your children why you didn't protect them—that should help to keep your memory green—
Play fair with your widow—give her definite instructions on the best way to run a boarding house—just where she should hang her sign—"PLAIN SEWING"
Instruct your widow—play fair with her.
THINK IT OVER!
WE INSURE EVERYTHING!

WAR PROPAGANDA

Sherwood Eddy, leading Y. M. C. A. worker, who has recently returned from a length trip through different countries in Asia and Europe, says the world is still suffering from the effects of war propaganda.
 During the world war every nation in the war fed its people on propaganda. The people were taught that their cause was just, that the cause of the enemy was unjust. They were taught to hate their enemies, and in order to do this they were told many false things about their enemies.
 In other words, the people were deceived. They were given much information that was false, and they still believe it. And it is this state of mind more than anything else, that is delaying a return to normal conditions in our international relations.
 Before the world can begin to go forward again in the right way, the people of every country will have to forget much that they were told during the world war, or at least realize that much of what they were told was not true. The trouble with the world now is more psychological than economic. We could begin doing business again with our late enemies if we would trust them, and when world trade between the various countries is resumed prosperity and sense of security will return.

On the Closer Acquaintance

There are hundreds and hundreds of people, no doubt, whom we would like better if we knew them better. With some folks the kindness and smiles and beauty of character are rather slow about coming to the surface. And besides, people are met sometimes under circumstances upon which it would be unfair to base a judgement of them. They may be met a score of times under conditions which show not their better side. Or we may pass them day after day without a close enough view of their life to know anything about it. In times past, treasures have been hidden in secret vaults and people passing day after day might see nothing more than the bare and common place walls; and then some day, perhaps by accident, a hidden spring was touched, the door swung ajar, and there were the rich gems that had lain so long just beyond the view and quite unsuspected. So you may pass people for a long time without knowing anything of their real selves; and then you happen to come close enough some day that the hidden spring is touched, the door swings ajar and there is revealed such qualities as both surprise and charm. There may be sacrifices, devotions, ideals, fidelity to principles, and a beautiful viewpoint from which they look out upon the world and its people of which you had never guessed.—Stephenville Empire.

THE REAL THRILL

A current magazine has an article on "The Thrill of Perfection." This is a fine thought and one worth a great deal of consideration.
 We in this world will never understand the full meaning of perfection, but we may set our hearts and brains and hands to its attainment.
 And the more closely we pursue it, the nearer we will come to genuine happiness.
 There is no thrill like that which comes from contemplating a job well done—a job done as well as anybody else could have done it—whether the job was great or small in nature.
 No matter how small the job, it is worth doing well. It is worth putting your very best into it.
 And you make shoes, or cultivate a field, or run a bank or a newspaper, or milk cows or bake bread, you will never be quite as happy as you are when you review your work and realize that nobody under the shining sun could have done it any better.

When you get that thrill, you are not going to worry very much about anything else. You have arrived.

An interesting side-light on business conditions in general, and particularly in the automotive field, is found in the figures shown by the International Harvester Company of America on the sale and delivery of International Motor Trucks this year. Up to April first, a total of 1,651 carloads of International Motor trucks have been shipped from the truck factories at Akron and Springfield, O., to be delivered to purchasers. Of the total, 892 carloads were shipped west of the Mississippi River and 759 carloads were for delivery east of the river. These carloads would make a single train 14 miles long or 33 average trainloads of 50 freight cars each. The freight charges alone approximate $247,000. If all these trucks were placed in service at one time they would be capable of moving the 12 million bale cotton crop of the entire U. S., the usual average haul, in 20 working days. The mileage to accomplish this task would amount to 10 million miles, a distance equal to 400 times around the earth at the equator. In giving out these figures the Sales Department indicated that the satisfactory growth in truck business was partly due, at least, to the free inspection service which has been in force at the 93 Company branch houses for over two years.

Independent Press Against Senate Tariff Bill

Here are the views of independent papers on the Senate Tariff Bill:
 Kansas City Star: "The bill is a serious economic mistake, the immediate effect of which will be to increase the cost of living."
 Springfield (Mass.) Republican: "It is open to severe attack by those who believe that the price of commodities should not be raised."
 Chicago Daily News: "Even before the bill is passed the consumer is made to see one of the blessings of the new 'strictly American' tariff in the announcement by the head of the Woolen Trust that cloth will cost from ten to forty-five cents more at wholesale."
 Christian Science Monitor: Discussing the glove schedule of the bill this non-partisan paper says: "The people of the United States need enlarged foreign markets, but cannot expect to sell to countries whose goods they exclude by such prohibitive duties as that proposed on gloves. The American woman, now a voter, will not willingly submit to tariff taxes that compel her to pay much higher prices for less desirable articles. When she is told that increased prices are due to high tariff rates, she will be likely to use her ballot against the members of Congress responsible for the added cost of what she buys."
 St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch: "What of the great unregarded masses of consumers?"

One of the wealthiest men in the world—John D. Rockefeller has given some sound advice to young men. This is a part of it:
 "Don't waste your efforts on a thing which ends in a petty triumph, unless you are satisfied with a life of petty success." Be sure that before you go into an enterprise you see your way clear to stay through to a successful end. Look ahead. It is surprising how many bright business men go into important undertakings with little or no study of the controlling conditions they risk their all upon. He insists that the man who enters business life with the idea of merely getting rich will not succeed. He must have a larger ambition. There is no mystery in business success, it is only the evolution of sound judgement building up a character for fair dealing and unlimited confidence. "That is the real capital we all work for," he has recorded. Each day's work successfully performed with a clear head, within the natural operations of commercial laws—this, is the method that will meet modern conditions. Mr. Rockefeller insists that the most generous people in the world are usually the very poor. The mother of ten will adopt the wail, while the children choose the dogs. His tribute to the Jews and to the Catholic church, for the work of their charitable institutions, shows his broad appreciation of good work and good deeds. He is an ardent champion of religion, and another side of his character is reflected in his own church work. He has been trustee of a Baptist church ever since he was eighteen years of age. At that time he insisted on raising the mortgage of two thousand dollars on the little mission church of which he was a member in early life and with a long, far, reached arm but- tleholed the people at the door, interesting them in right methods of raising a debt. In his church work are found reiterated in words and acts these simple axioms to young men: "Study your own affairs frankly and face the truth; if methods are extravagant realize the facts and act accordingly. One cannot successfully go against natural tendencies and laws His through study of American business and analysis of character would stamp him as a philosopher, if his genius had not been directed into business.—Ex.

Asserting that an office is no greater than the people it serves, W. W. King, of Boston, Sabine County, has announced his candidacy for Governor of Texas, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. Planks in his platform are: Local self-government, better rural schools, more physicians for the rural districts, a vocation for every man, the open shop, aid for the farmer, a political divorce from Europe, liquor for medicinal purposes, submission to the equal suffrage laws as enacted, scrapping of the penitentiary system and utilizing of convict labor on the public roads, surrender of the Ku Klux Klan as a point of personal privilege and the encouragement of all "legitimate enterprise." King was born, according to his announcement, 42 years ago, two and one-half miles southeast of Milan, and has since worked at shining shoes, running a peanut roaster, selling merchandise in a general store, teaching school, serving in the State Legislature from the Ninth District, and is at present "running the Bronson Cafe for a living and farming for pleasure.—Ex.

McKinney Courier-Gazette: Some body suggests that there are five things in life which we ought to learn. Here they are: 1. Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine. When you smile or laugh, your brain for a moment is freed from the load it ordinarily carries. 2. Learn to tell a helpful story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick room. 3. Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to linger over your ills and sorrows. 4. Learn to stop croaking. If you cannot see any good in this world, keep the bad to yourself. 5. Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their own hearts to be bothered with any of yours.

School days are happy days. If properly employed under the wise supervision of competent and human instructors they lead to years of success, and honor, and contentment, and joy. They mark the beginning of life and its end depends greatly upon the manner in which they are spent.

Utilize Your Spare Moments

Why not use your leisure time wisely? What have you gained from your spare time the past year? In every city, town and community in our great Union, some ambitious persons are studying by correspondence, are climbing upward, while their associates are standing around the foot of the ladder of success. Already thousands too busy or too poor to attend College are finding education at their door; already they are studying, mastering, succeeding. We are as near to you as your mail-box. An hour a day for a few months, devoted to one of our thorough, practical business courses will mean riches to you later on.

We are teaching under a Money Back Guarantee, and have for years successfully taught by correspondence thorough courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Higher Accounting, Typewriting, Grammar, Spelling, Arithmetic, Business Law, Penmanship, Salesmanship, Advertising, General Business, General Banking, General Railroad and Telegraphy.

The advantages of a correspondence course are: Less cost, not one-sixth of that required to attend school; not loss time or salary you "earn while you learn," save your leisure time that would otherwise be wasted. You study at home—the education comes to you. Three months free use of a standard typewriter is given with full Shorthand course. If you decide when partly finished to enter for personal work, you may do so without additional tuition.

We often express our disapproval of "nosey" people, and justly so. But there are times when a little "nosiness" on the part of every citizen would be of benefit to this town. Right now is one of those times. We are in favor of everybody getting out and nosing around town and joining in a general cleanup. The town needs it, and what the town needs we need. People who are scrupulous in keeping their hands and faces and bodies clean should be just as careful to keep their surroundings in like condition. This town is not the dirtiest place on earth, and neither is it the cleanest. It is betwixt and between, a condition which admits of improvement.

TWO HUNDRED GOATS SUICIDED IN OIL WELL (Dublin Progress)

The incident that forced the abandonment of an oil well near Baird at a depth of only 400 feet is the most unique in oil history, and were it not vouched for by reliable citizens, it would, without doubt, have been classed as a fake.
 One night when operations were closed down and nobody was about the well, a band of goats walked into the floor of the derrick and one after another either fell or leaped into a 400-foot hole, which was 15 inches in diameter, actually committing suicide. Out of a band of approximately 200 only two or three survived, and probably they would have followed the others into the hole had there been room. The problem that faced the driller next morning was one that neither text-books nor experience could solve, so he set to work to drill up the band and bail them out. The futility and messiness of the task soon became apparent and orders were given to stop the work, skid the derrick over a few feet, and start a new hole.

The Same Through All The Ages

People of one age of the world may have lived under customs that seem strange to those of another. On one part of the globe ways of living prevail that are hard for the inhabitants some thousand of miles away to understand. Among the same people there is often such a diversity of tastes, circumstances and surroundings, that things done by some seem entirely foreign, and perhaps incomprehensible to others living close about them. But these differences are on the surface. There is a silver cord running through all the ages; a silken thread that may be followed through all the labyrinth of customs, circumstances and complexities; a clear, sweet musical note floating through all the years, and that may be heard from time to time even amid the wrangling of tribes, the crash of falling nations, the blare of trumpets and the dim of wars—that is the real heart of humanity, which is ever the same. It may be obscured and prevented, and sometimes turned into strange channels, but through all history and among all peoples the silken thread may be picked up here and there, and the familiar note be heard.

No. 817 Citation on Application for Order of Sale

THE STATE OF TEXAS
 To the Sheriff or any Constable of Coleman County, Greeting:
 You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for 20 days, before the return day hereof, in some newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in Coleman County, Texas, the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS
 To all persons interested in the estate of W. J. Idol, deceased, W. F. Idol has filed in the County Court of Coleman County, an application for an order of said court authorizing said W. F. Idol as such Administrator to sell the following described land and premises belonging to the estate of said W. J. Idol, deceased, to-wit:

Lot No. 4, in Block No. 6 of the town of Gouldbusk, Coleman County, Texas, which application will be heard at the next term of said Court, commencing on the first Monday in June, A. D. 1922, the same being the 5th day of June 1922, at the Court House thereof, in Coleman, Texas, at which time all persons interested in said estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

WITNESS L. Emet Walker Clerk of the County Court of Coleman County, Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Coleman, Texas, this 3rd day of May A. D. 1922. L. Emet Walker Clerk County Court, Coleman County, Texas.

Graduation Time!

There's glory; there's gladness;
There's radiance sublime
That nestles in the memory
Of Graduation Time.

The June days, the boon days
Of Laughter, Love and Rhyme,
Return to make all young again
At graduation time.

And old hearts grow very tender
While young hearts are very gay
And life-time gifts are given

ACRE YIELD A FACTOR IN PRODUCTION COST

From Farm and Ranch:
Many farmers realize that increased acre yield reduces the cost of production. Their ranks are being augmented every year. The farmer who makes cost-plus has learned that it is better to farm a few acres well than many acres in a haphazard manner. More business institutions fail because of under-capitalization than form mismanagement in other ways. More farmers fail to make a profit for the same reason, than fail because of lack of farm knowledge or unsatisfactory markets. A merchant with $25,000 has no business trying to run a $100,000 institution. He may be lucky and pay out, but the chances are against him. A farmer with equipment and help to properly farm sixty acres should not attempt to farm 100 or 200 acres and expect to make a profit. Like the merchant, he may strike a lucky year when things just grow, and make a profit, but in the long run he will make more of a success by cultivating only as much land as he can give the best attention to.

Naturally, the size of the acreage cultivated depends upon the nature of the crop and kind of soil, but it has been the rule to farm too large an acreage and trust to luck for results. Better plowing, better seed beds, better seed and good cultivation, with attention paid to soil building, will make a limited acreage more profitable than acreage so large that best farm methods can not be applied.

Mellon Creates Surplus by Postponing Payments Due
Secretary Mellon is certainly the modern wizard of finance. By a simple twist of the wrist he changes a deficit into a surplus, thus:

There is an admitted threatened deficit of $24,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922. Within that period $71,000,000 obligations fall due. By postponing the payment of these obligations until next year the Secretary of the Treasury is able to make it appear that there will be a surplus of $47,000,000.

This is the same kind of financial sleight-of-hand by which $17,000,000 is put in the list of "savings" of the Harding administration when $17,000,000 of Pittman Act certificates fell due and were not paid.

Secretary Mellon has already admitted that there will be a deficit of $484,000,000 for 1923, but this does not include a proposed $50,000,000 for Mr. Laker or $75,000,000 for the initial bonus, $17,000,000 extra for rivers and harbors and $60,000,000 extra for the navy in excess of Gen. Dawes' estimates. There is a prospective deficit therefore, for 1923 of $866,000,000, and the administration is going right on claiming that it is saving money, practicing economy and reducing taxes.

KILLS SNAKE WHICH WEARS GOLD RING

A chicken snake wearing a beautiful gold finger ring set with rubies and rhinestones was killed Saturday, three miles north of Commerce, Texas, by the sons of Sam Fuller. The ring which was about eight inches from the head, had evidently been slipped on the reptile years ago as it had cut into the flesh until only the setting was visible.

A Chicago man who believed what a bootlegger told him, says the Augusta Herald, is now learning to read with his fingers.

Henry Ford has placed an order for 10,000,000 nuts. Which may mean that we will be missing some of our friends soon.

We fought to make the world safe for democracy, but democracy has changed so much that some of us are beginning to wonder if it is safe for the world.

It is said that political economy means spending a dollar to save a dime while domestic economy means spending a dime to save a dollar. The politicians who assess and spend the people's tax money should take a few lessons in domestic economy.

Joe Bailey Cheaney is home from Howard Payne to spend the summer vacation.

THEY'RE SHO WALKING AWAY WITH IT.

Every Ounce of Power Needed

So does other work such as heavy hauling or plowing. But you can't get the most work from your mules and horses unless they are fed right.

What is it worth to you to have your horses or mules in the "pink" of condition. Their skins will be glossy, their eyes bright and they'll stand erect and firm. You get the extra power you need for heavy work.

Thousands of teamsters and farmers everywhere have found that Purina O-Molene feed actually puts horses in just such condition described to haul heavier loads, and it costs no more to feed.

Call up today and learn more about this specially prepared feed. Lots of people you know are using O-Molene feed.

EDSALL'S

Unless the citizens of Santa Anna get busy and have a general weed cutting and clean up campaign, the flies and mosquitoes are going to be so numerous here this summer life is going to be miserable for most of us. Dry line should be used freely around the premises, especially where stock are kept in lots and dry closets are being used. Don't think that we are trying to bore you with something that is not worth while, for such is the case. It is very necessary that we keep our town cleansed of all filth and rubbish in order to maintain health and happiness. We still urge a united effort on the part of every citizen in town to rid the town of weeds, filth and pest.

Rev. J. M. Reynolds returned Tuesday from Jacksonville, Fla., where he attended the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention, and reports a great session held. Pastor Reynolds also visited his brother in Pike county Alabama and two sisters at Cairo, Georgia, while gone, had the pleasure of preaching in the Baptist church at Thomasville, Georgia, where he was converted and joined the church over forty years ago. Many were the things he saw while gone that brought great joy and gladness to his heart, but from the smile he is wearing since returning home, we believe he is glad to be back in Texas, and especially Santa Anna.

THE DANGERS

Dr. Karl Heinstadt, the Swiss physical culturist, says the fox trot is the finest exercise ever devised for the legs. A fox trotter, he estimates, covers a mile and a quarter in twenty minutes. This is twice as far as a waltzer goes.

If four hours of dancing, a fox trotter travels 15 miles, and finishes fresh. Dancing doesn't seem like work. Yet if you suggested to the dancers that they go out and take a fifteen mile walk they would groan in horror and say it couldn't be done.

Dread makes any job four times as hard as it really is. That is why the man who has found the work he likes is lucky.

Chas. Eck is remodeling his home just west of the Electric plant and converting it into a modern home.

The local ball team went to Coleman Wednesday and played a game with the later team, resulting in a score of 6-0 in favor of Santa Anna. Blevins pitched for Santa Anna and got in 15 strike-outs on Coleman.

Mrs. J. A. Lawrence Sr. died at her home in Rockwood last Friday and was buried at Whon Saturday. Mrs. Lawrence leaves a large family of sorrowing relatives and friends to mourn her untimely death.

Mesdames A. W. Moseley and E. T. Stobaugh of Rockwood passed through Santa Anna Wednesday enroute to Brownwood to visit Mrs. Stobaugh's daughter who is attending school there. They paid the News office a business call while here.

Rev. R. A. Crosby returned first of the week from Hot Springs, Ark., where he attended the general conference of the M. E. Church South. He reports a great meeting and much enthusiasm, and predicts great results to follow. Many great plans were outlined and slated for their future work.

Miss Nona Wallace has returned to Santa Anna from Brownwood, where she has been attending Howard Payne College. Her friends are congratulating her on account of the fact that she has completed the work for and received the B. A. degree.

Mr. J. D. Polk of Tuscola, was a Santa Anna visitor this week, and incidentally had us to mark up his subscription for another year.

L. W. Smith of Coleman, special agent for the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, was here Wednesday and paid this office an official call while here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kelley received a message this week from their son Virgil A. of Kirksville, Mo., announcing the arrival of a new baby boy in their home. The youngster has been christened Virgil Knight, and all reported doing well.

Mrs. Viola Richardson and daughter Inez, left Tuesday for Lockhart, Texas, where they will join Mr. Richardson and make their future home.

Mrs. M. A. Orman from out on route 2 was among the callers at this office Monday and while here renewed her subscription to the News. She informed us that she enjoyed reading our paper.

The news would appreciate the courtesy if some one would take it upon themselves to report the baseball news each week to our Round-Up. Many of our readers would enjoy reading the reports and it would also have tendency to encourage others to become interested in the game.

Mrs. Lillian Wade, nee Miss Lillian Meyers, has recently closed her school at Rochester and she and her husband are here visiting home folks. After a few days visit here they will leave for New Mexico to make their future home. Miss Lillian recently married while teaching at Rochester, and has many friends here who will join the News in extending best wishes.

Commissioner W. T. Vinson informs us that the Commissioners Court has made application to the Government for two, 10-ton Caterpillar trucks to be used on the roads in Coleman county.

We understand the Government owns these trucks and are letting them out for a minimum sum to counties doing considerable road work, and we think it wise in our county commissioners to secure a set of these powerful trucks. Considerable road work will be done in this county the next few months, and these Caterpillar trucks will be valuable assets in road buildings where heavy draft work is needed.

The 1922 Vacation Manual, compliments of the W. R. Kelley & Co., store reached our desk this week, and we find by perusing its columns to be of much interest to those seeking outdoor sport during the summer. It was accompanied by a circular letter which outlines the rules of the contest for Bass fishing this summer.

Farmers Who Succeed

Of all the successful farmers whom you know, is there one who does not maintain a banking connection and a checking account?

A checking account is particularly useful for a farmer as it enables him to safeguard his funds by prompt deposit in person or by mail and simplifies the paying out of money to meet obligations—supplying a legal receipt for every check written.

Farmers' accounts cordially welcomed here—always.

Don't Envy Them

Do you envy some neighbor who seems to be getting along a little better than you do? The chances are that his success is due to some special plan which you can adopt with equal success.

Your neighbor's handsome bank account is the result of many small deposits made often. That plan is easy but it pays handsomely.

There are many people passing our bank every day with money in their pockets that might easily be deposited into a growing account.

But because these amounts are small they are not saved—and the loss goes on for a life time.

We always welcome the small regular deposits of all who are willing to adopt this system—it means sure success in due time.

Think it over.
