AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY

The American Legion and Auxiliary will hold a sale of "Crimson Poppies" on Saturday, May 27. Take advantage of this opportunity and help our men who paid the price of service to the state and nation. The ones who need us most now are those who still live the war in hospitals and homes. The price of these poppies go to carry on the welfare and hospital work for the disabled ex-service men. The sentiment keeps alive a great for for memory.

Anybody can view with alarm. It takes real discernment to be able to real with pride these days.

The W. J. Brison No. 1 off-setting the Slick-Eakin on the west, blew in last Saturday evening and the production is estimated at 6,000 barrels per day. This is by far the best well in the Pioneer field and activities are much increased.

PREPARE TO MEET GOD

If the Savior should come to earth again just now, would you be prepared for Him? If not why not accept Him as your Savior now?
And be prepared to meet Him when He does come?
When He does come?
You don't know when time will come for you to meet Him.
And you should be prepared to meet Him when your time comes to meet Him.
—By Ora Lee Neill.

THE CHURCH

The majority of people do not appreciate the church as they should. A study of its history shows greater sacrifices have been made for its perpetuation than has ever been for any other institution in which man is interested. The supreme sacrifice of martyrdom marks its early progress. The growth of the church is the standard by which the growth of civilization is measured. To it must go the tribute to our educational system and the emancipation of womanhood from the status of chattel. When all the accomplishments of the church are tabulated in the past and its influence in the present carefully calculated, perhaps a fuller realization of what it means in the life of our nation, state and community may be reached.

We are prone to take the church too much as a matter of course and as individuals lose sight of our duty toward it however varied our beliefs may be regarding the teachings of the Book upon which it rests. In the last analysis the unbeliever owes a debt to the church he can never pay. This being true how great the incentive of the believer should be to support it and attend upon its ordinances!

That material progress along commercial lines are dependent upon the church to the extent that the basic principles upon which it rests are the basic teachings of the church is a fact that no thoughtful person will dispute. Therefore it is to the interest of commerce that the church be supported and maintained.
From the teachings of the church we draw our greatest inspirations and find nourishment of our fondest hopes. That part of our intelligence that clamors for knowledge of immortality cannot be satisfied outside the church and its teachings.

In Mineral Wells we have a number of churches so located that all may be conveniently attended. The pulpits are filled by earnest, consecrated men, eager to teach us "the way of the Lord more perfectly." We cannot be taught unless we attend. We urge an unprecedented attendance at all the churches tomorrow. Let us all go and renew our allegiance, not only to the church and its pastor, but to renewed allegiance to God whose Son became, through the supreme sacrifice the head of the church.—Miner Wells Index.

BEAUTY IN VARIED ATTIRE

Beauty assumes a thousand different forms and types and is often found in places not heralded as her abode. We look for beauty in poetry, and that is well for it is not poetry. If beauty is not there, in the thousand ways in which people decorate the world and seek to give expression to pleasing thought we look for beauty, and find it in all the works that are worthy of a name. We look for it in the dawns and in the sun-set skies, and are not disappointed for their Great Author has taken care to make them beautiful. But beauty wears not always gorgeous or brilliant attire, and is not always on parade. Often she wears but plain and modest garments. Sometimes she wears a sunbonnet, and from it looks out with her sweetest smiles.
Sometimes with her sleeves rolled up and making biscuits she is more charming than in brilliant robes. And the face of beauty often shines out unexpectedly through the simplest deeds.—D. K. D. in Stephenville Empire.

SOMETHING WRONG

For several minutes the young man did not speak. His heart was too full, it was enough for him to know that this glorious creature loved him and had promised to be his wife.
With a new and delight sense of ownership he feasted his eyes upon her beauty and realized that henceforth it would be his privilege to provide for her welfare and happiness.
This good fortune seemed incredible. Finally he whispered tenderly, "How did it happen darling that such a bright and shining angel as yourself fell in love with a dull and stupid fellow like me?"
"Goodness knows," she murmured absently. "I must have a screw loose somewhere."—Ex.

WAR VETERANS NEED THE AMERICAN LEGION

In the past few days in the public presses of our nation it has come to the attention of the ex-service men that there has been an intensive campaign of venomous slander directed at them on account of the bonus proposition that has been put before the lawmakers of our country. They are taking the attitude that the once soldiers are using their voting strength to "club them into passing the bonus bill."

This campaign is not only taking the form of misleading and in many cases, insulting, special articles and editorials, but they are also using cartoons, such as the one that appeared in several Texas papers, picturing the ex-service man as holding up Uncle Sam with a revolver, marked the ballot and commanding him to come a cross, while Germany is giving us the horse laugh. Such cartoons are nothing short of an insult to every man who wore the uniform in defense of his country, and it is a disgrace to the American people.

In the first place there has never been any threat made against any member of Congress.

The American Legion in particular, has confined its campaign strictly to educating the American people as to just what the bonus is and to refuting the half-truths, and straight-out lies that have been published with the express intention of concealing the real issue, and diverting the people's attention from the simple fact that in paying the bonus the Government is not only fulfilling their promise to the men but is defraying a moral and legal debt.

The Government has never found any difficulty in defraying her other obligations, such as those to the railroads, manufacturers of war munitions and thousands of other claims. They also seem able to allow Europe to support huge armies that should be used for paying at least the interest on their debts, on the billions of dollars they owe us, and are even advocating in some quarters that we extend to Germany a few billion dollars credit, not to mention the fact that some of them are wanting to donate the allies debts to them.

The whole affair reminds one of the soldiers progress, which runs as follows:

In 1917, the flower of young manhood.
In 1918, our heroes.
In 1919, the returning soldiers.
In 1920, the soldier element.
In 1921, the unscrupulous despoilers of our treasury.
In 1922, bums and BEGGARS.

After the Revolutionary war, Gen. Washington fought for adjusted compensation for his veterans and that at a time when shipbuilders and munition workers did not get from ten to fifteen dollars per day.
He was also confronted with the same arguments against such compensation that confronts the present Congress, viz: that it was putting a price on patriotism. In reply Washington said, "I may be allowed to say that it was the price of their blood and independence. It is therefore more than a common debt. It is a debt of honor. It can never be considered as a pension gratuity, nor can it be cancelled until it is fairly discharged."

And yet the business interests, which form the bulk of the opposition to the adjusted compensation act now under consideration, continue to cry, "No patriotism." Totally disregarding the fact that during the war the man that made the bullets drew from $10 per day upward while the fellow that STOPPED the bullets was getting $1 per day and "deep sea soup" three times a day.

Do you know that many a truth is said in jest?

Once upon a time two frogs fell into a jar of butter fat one paddled awhile and then gave up. What was the use? The odds were still against him—he died. The other paddled—tired and hopeless, he paddled thru the blackness of night; and on the morrow, found himself afloat; afloat on an island of butter he churned, as he worked his way higher, he caught at the flies which gathered over the butter. Well fed he rested—then hopped over the side of the jar and away.

DON'T BE A QUITTER!
The American Legion is new—it makes mistakes, but its principles are sound. It is easy to die. To live is the hard thing to do. Success is just around the corner. Your help will achieve it. We need you.

PADDLE!
Well, Buddies, we did not get that American Legion game bag nearly full, but we sure did see a lot of legion buttons running wild about the city, and we regret that we were unable to bag the whole flock.

But there is one word we wish to say to each of the buddies who have as yet failed to renew for the present year, and that is, when you feel, in your own heart, the CALL OF THE LEGION just remember we are waiting for you with the "glad hand," and the sooner you answer the call the happier you will be.

SOUND TAXATION

A committee of business men has been formed in Massachusetts for the avowed purpose of conducting a campaign of popular education on the principals of sound taxation.
One of the first lessons should be to disabuse the public mind of the idea that the only kind of sound taxation is that which falls on somebody else.

STATE PRESS ASSOCIATION

Last week the State Press Association met in Denton, Texas, and held a very interesting meeting.
It was the purpose of the News editor to attend but due to the excessive rains and wash-outs on the roads we had to decline the trip. Next year the Association meets in Galveston and we hope that conditions will be such that we can attend.

We appreciated the nice invitations we received from the members of the Association and also the Santa Anna girls who are in school at Denton, nothing but mud and high water would have prevented our attending.

INDIANA POLITICS

(Brownwood Bulletin)
The Victory of former Senator Albert J. Beveridge over Senator Harry Reid for the Republican nomination for the Senate in Indiana this week is the political sensation of the hour, and there is reason to believe that newspaper statements to the effect that administration circles in Washington are "shocked" are not at all exaggerated. As a matter of fact, the "shock" is probably greater than appears on the surface, for it may continue throughout the summer and fall as other states express themselves at the ballot box.

Senator New was the administration candidate in the Indiana primary, and his campaign had the backing of the powerful administration influences. Further than that, Senator New was Harding's western campaign manager two years ago, and has been one of those inside the charmed circle of the President's confidence, wielding an influence in Washington that is probably greater than that of any other Senator so far as administration affairs are concerned. The defeat of such a man is therefore to be considered as a stinging rebuke for the Harding administration, and it is no wonder that Washington Republicans are "shocked."

Senator Beveridge is well known in the public service of the nation. He is a splendid type of a man and has many admirers all over the country. But even his defeat of Senator New, as distressing as it appears to be for Republican politicians at Washington, does not end the agony; for there is a possibility—a great, distressing possibility, too—that Mr. Beveridge may be compelled to accept defeat in the November election at the hands of former Governor Ralston who has been given the Senatorial nomination by the Indiana Democratic primary and is in the race to win. Mr. Ralston is conceded to be a strong man, popular with his own party and well liked by all the people of the state. There's trouble brewing in Indiana for the G. O. P.

A RESPONSIVE WORLD

The world is responsive. Smile and it smiles back at you; frown and its face is changed; laugh, and the sounds of laughter are echoed back again. Start out with a cheerful day and it falls in with your mood. Complain and the world will help you find fault with a multitude of things. Shut your eyes to the light and the sun hides itself in the clouds. Listen for the music and Nature's great orchestras are brought out to play for you. Give the glad hand and you find the glad hand extended to greet you.
If the great face of the world were shown on the movie screen you could go and look at it and see it change with your moods. It would smile at you, frown at you, snarl at you, laugh at you, look up with joyful countenance, or go with downcast eyes, reflecting whatever it found in the face of the one looking upon it.—D. K. D. in Stephenville Empire.

Paper Read Before State Firemen's Association, Brownwood, Texas, May 1922

"The Advisability of Encouraging the Attendance of Mayors and Commissioners at the State Convention"

Gentlemen:—A fire department that has the full backing and co-operation of its Mayor and Commissioners is indeed fortunate, but their efficiency and service crippled and they cannot reasonably hope to keep abreast with the growth of their town. The moral and financial support of these officers are in a great measure the backbone of every fire department; if they are with you, much can be accomplished; if against you, or lukewarm, your hands are tied. Hence the urgent need of having these officers as friends of the department, understanding and knowing what the department should have and providing same insofar as their funds will permit, to know what other towns are doing for their departments, the class and character of apparatus used, and the treatment given to the members are all vital points that these officers should know, and we feel every well meaning officer would like to know. Where better can these points be obtained, visualized, capitalized, and the spirit of co-operation understood than at the convention meetings? Hence, by all means, should these officers be induced to meet with the representatives of the various departments that an interchange of ideas may be had; that the different local problems and the solution of same locally may be discussed and known; and that the various movements towards progress and efficiency and the financial handling of said departments may be weighed and analyzed; and that above all a closer and better understanding may be had by and between said officials and this branch of their city government.

We believe that a policy of this kind if begun in this association, and a whole-hearted invitation extended to which all fire departments may be invited with us the various problems affecting fire departments, that we would secure oftentimes a greater spirit of co-operation and thereby a great benefit to the interests and welfare of our towns and cities.
Respectfully submitted,
ABILENE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

A GOOD WORLD AFTER ALL

A little six-year old girl in a Texas city, came in contact with an electric wire and was badly burned from head to foot. At first her life was despaired of, but physicians said she would recover if they could secure a sufficient amount of skin to graft on her body to take the place of that which had been burned away.
Scores of persons in that Texas city volunteered, and the little girl underwent no less than 45 skin-grafting operations. Now, after months of suffering, she had been discharged from the hospital as cured and the physicians say that within a few years no scars will remain to tell of her terrible experience.
We will wonder at the skill and devotion of the surgeons, but deeper than this we will marvel at the many offers of live skin from the people of that Texas city who were moved with compassion at the little girl's condition. The doctors said they could not make use of the many volunteers who came to the hospital to help the little sufferer.
Sometimes we think the world is growing worse, but it is not. The loving sympathy of these people in Texas proves that it is a right good old world after all.

PLAY FAIR WITH YOUR WIDOW

If you just won't protect her—if you just won't sign this application now—
Then go home and take her to the front window and tell her what to do when the baker passes the door and the children cry for bread and she has no money to pay him—
Tell her what to say to the groceryman when he refuses her further credit—
Tell her what she should say to the doctor when he refuses to come any longer to visit the children when they're sick—because of an unpaid bill—
Tell her what to say to the merchant when he tells her that she can't buy shoes without money—
Tell her what to say to the druggist when he refuses to fill the prescription unless paid for in advance—
Tell her what to say to the children themselves—when they see other children pass the house going to school warmly clad and getting an education that you are denying them by your action—
Tell her how to explain to your children why you didn't protect them—that should help to keep your memory green.
Play fair with your widow—give her definite instructions on the best way to run a boarding house—just where she should hang her sign—"PLAIN SEWING."
Instruct your widow—play fair with her.

In the election held last Saturday in the thirteenth congressional district, to fill the unexpired term of the late Lucian W. Parrish, Guinn Williams of Decatur received a majority of all the votes cast. S. A. L. Morgan of Wichita Falls ran second with Miss Annie Webb Blanton third. There were about 28,000 votes cast and Mr. Williams received a majority over all his opponents. Miss Blanton received less than ten per cent of the votes cast.

There is a fellow in town who still has a horse and buggy. In a few years more he can charge people admission to look at them.

It has been charged that hundreds of millions of fake Liberty bonds are in circulation. The government itself admits that there are an enormous number of them floating around. Who is the master criminal, and what is going to be done to him? Who is responsible for the criminal negligence that made such a wholesale duplication possible, and what will his punishment be? Who is to stand the loss when innocent purchasers present these fake bonds for final redemption? Clearly there is some one who ought to be in jail for the rest of his natural life, and in hell thereafter. Hell he cannot escape, but will jail doors ever close upon him?

MAN'S WHISKERS MEASURES NINE FEET
 The long whiskered championship of the world is claimed by Jno. J. Tanner, 84 years old, of New Jersey. His beard measures exactly nine feet from chin to tip. Ordinarily Mr. Tanner controls it by thrusting the end inside the band of his trousers. More than fifty years ago, when Mr. Tanner's beard was only two or three feet in length, he decided to seek the championship. To this end he braided his beard and tucked it inside his vest. The whiskers soon attained proportions making the braiding impracticable. Ten years ago Mr. Tanner's beard was six feet long. Five years ago two feet more had been added and now it measures nine. The owner hopes to attain a growth of 12 feet.

RED BANK HAPPENINGS
 We were visited by another rain Sunday night. Miss Mellie Bell visited Mrs. Vince McClure Wednesday afternoon. Miss Bessie Brandon visited her sister, Mrs. E. W. Guber Monday. Mrs. I. F. Nicholson spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Amos Taylor. We are sorry to report Mrs. Weston as being on the sick list this week. Mr. and Mrs. Vince McClure spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Brandon. Misses Lorena and Dolly Taylor, Mabel Williams and Beatrice May, called on Miss Nettie Nicholson Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McClure and Mrs. Galie Dees, visited at Concho Sunday afternoon.

As it rained Sunday night we did not have the program for Mothers Day, and quite a number were disappointed as a nice program had been arranged. Miss Bessie Brandon, Messrs. John, Arthur and Sam Brandon went to Voss Saturday to attend a party given by Miss Mabel Rose. Miss Roney Duggins of Liberty has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Oscar Williamson. The attendance at Sunday school was very good last Sunday. Next Sunday will be Rev. Noble's day to be with us, and we hope to see a large crowd out to hear him. News are scarce this week.

PRUDENT PRUDE.

GETTING READY FOR GRADUATION

In thousands of schools and colleges, graduating classes are now preparing for the great event of commencement day. No other occasion in life, save possibly marriage, will seem of such tremendous import to these young people.

They now approach a great landmark of life, a time of fresh beginnings, and face untried issues. But young folks make these sharp breaks with ease. Most of them are delighted to try their inexperienced wings.

Getting ready for graduation, is the minds of some young women, means principally long sessions with the dressmaker, and a splendid display of fine feathers. The girl of the struggling home sometimes makes more show than the one from the abode of wealth. The former may feel that this is her one chance to show that she is as good as anybody. Her parents may sacrifice on the absolute necessities of life to give her this splashy send-off.

School authorities should try to persuade young people not to waste family resources in this manner. The necessity of providing costly graduating clothes and incidentals has deterred many parents from sending their children through the schools. The principles of American democracy would have every one of these young women appear in a simple and inexpensive gown, with special applause for all who make these frocks for themselves. Those that adopt such ideas show that school training has put some very wise ideas into their heads.

Young people preparing for graduation should have their hearts on higher purposes than dress or sports. They should be anxious to keep up their achievement in study until the last day of school. They should not be content merely to get by, but should covet marks that will send them out with honors.

The many young people off Santa Anna who have this spirit, are observed with peculiar interest and pride and confidence that they will make their mark in the world.

A TAX COMPARISON

On all sides you hear people say, "A fellow wouldn't mind this deflation so much if taxes didn't stay so high." National taxes during the fiscal year which will end June 30, 1922, average $32.10 for each person in the United States.

The Englishman is paying an average of $129.80, compared with our $32.10. The Italian pays $33.93, and the Frenchman $51.69.

The British treasury, which has figured this out, also finds that the corresponding taxes in Germany are only $3.48 for each inhabitant, due to their depreciated currency.

That's a peculiar form of penalty for losing the war.

SAY IT NOW

Some one we know is going to die some time.

The good deeds will appeal to us, and will be emphasized by the death that overtakes our friends.

Before the grass begins to grow over them we will have many kind words to say of them. Their sterling qualities will be extolled, and their faults will be overlooked or forgotten.

That is the way of the world. But it might be different. We might comment their good qualities while they are still here to reap the benefits of that commendation.

A kind word means much to those who are striving to do right. It encourages them to remain steadfast in their laudable undertakings, to persevere in the path of honor, and to extend a helping hand to others who need enlightenment.

Say it to them in life. They can't hear you when dead.

WORK PEOPLE LIKE

The happiest people in the world are the people who enjoy their task. Farming is no exception. Not all of the farm work is hard. None of it is really hard if farmers like it. The hard part of any task is in the mind, rather than in the muscle. Work is hard when people do not like it, or grows tired of it.

How pleasant farm work is when we like it and feel that in doing it we are doing something worth while. The days and the hours glide swiftly under such conditions, and workers accomplish something noteworthy.—Farm and Ranch.
