MOODY BIBLE INSTITUTE

Mr. Henry P. Crowell, President of the Quaker Oats Company, was re-elected president of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees October 19. Former Judge McKenzie Cleland was re-elected vice-president and Mr. Bryan Y. Craig, Attorney-at-Law, secretary.

The report by Dean James M. Gray on the Institute's school year ending August 31 showed a total enrollment for the year in the Day and Evening Classes of 2,495 students, representing forty-four states, twenty-five foreign countries and twenty-two different religious denominations. Forty-three students sailed for foreign fields during the year under the various denominational and independent boards. It is announced that the Institute's Curriculum Committee is now working on advanced courses for those looking toward the pastorate and religious education leadership.

The year's work by the students in the Practical Work Course included about three-quarters of a million tracts and Gospels distributed; 46,676 visits to hospitals, jails, etc.; Sunday school classes taught, 26,542; religious meetings conducted, 61,066, and 8,273 professed conversions.

Elder Leon Williams and family arrived in the city last week to make their future home, Elder Williams being the new pastor of the Christian church. We are glad to welcome this good family to our community.

The editor was accompanied by Coleman last Sunday by Mr. Harrell and daughter, Miss Hilda, and J. P. Vinson and two daughters, Misses Sybil and Adell and Miss Gordon Owens to attend the singing convention of the western part of Coleman county. Due to the crowded condition and scarcity of books, the convention was not what it could have been, but it was a success from several standpoints. The next session of the convention will be held at Anderson the first Sunday in February, 1922.

CONTEMPLATED IMPROVEMENTS

Lee Woodward and D. R. Hill have purchased some nice lots in the Banister Addition in the south part of town and are contemplating the building of some nice tile and stucco homes. Messrs Woodward and Hill both being single men, it sounds like they have in mind some augmented ideas that there is something higher up in life they have not yet obtained, and it may be so.

E. S. Sewell is arranging to build a nice home in the south part of town, and other buildings are being contemplated. Let the good work go on, for Santa Anna is in dire need of more dwellings.

PROGRAM FOR ARMISTICE DAY

The following program will be rendered under auspices of Jack Laughlin Post, American Legion, Friday, November 11th.

The services will be held at the Methodist church, with Judge S. J. Pieratt in charge.

The ex-service men will assemble at the Legion hall and march to the church.

Services will begin promptly at 11 o'clock, a. m. Patriotic songs will be sung by the audience, all singers are requested to join in the singing.

Address by Elder Leon Williams, pastor of the Christian church.

At 12 o'clock, noon, the congregation will be required to all stand and face the west for two minutes in honor of the unknown American soldier, whose remains will be lowered into the grave in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Virginia, at that hour.

The congregation will be dismissed with a word of prayer.

The public generally is invited to attend this service.

TEXAS PUBLIC HEALTH

ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas, Nov. 8.—Miss Pearl Hyer, Children's Secretary of the Texas Public Health Association announces that several thousand Texas school children have enlisted in the Modern Health Crusade against disease this year.

The purpose of the Modern Health Crusade is to cause the children to form health habits. These are summed up in the 11 chores which every Crusader is required to perform, in order to win advancement. These chores include such wide and varied habits as bathing, washing the hands before meals, brushing the teeth, breathing deeply, sleeping with windows open, playing out-doors, eating slowly of wholesome food and drinking plenty of water and milk.

This movement is starting on its fourth year now, and has had more than six million children enrolled. This movement contains children from every State in the Union, Canada, France, Czecho-Slovakia, China, Alaska and Virgin Islands.

The Modern Health Crusade is only a part of the state-wide campaign conducted by the Texas Public Health Association and its affiliated local organizations to raise the standard of health among children. Funds for carrying on this work are secured from the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. The 14th Annual Seal Sale will be held Thanksgiving to Christmas in Texas, and every dollar's worth of seals purchased is a blow directly at tuberculosis.

A PANTHER TA(OLE

News was received in town first of the week, stating that one Mr. Jack DeSha, who lives in the Featherston community on Home Creek, had a peculiar experience last Friday evening with a varmint that impressed him as being a panther.

As we understand, the varmint came out into the field where Mr. DeSha was plowing and indicated that it would tackle him, but preferred to take the drop on him rather than to tackle him face to face.

One R. M. Adams came up and proposed to guard the team while Mr. DeSha went to the house to get his gun, but before DeSha returned the varmint become suspicious and took a further distance.

The news was spread over the community and Sunday some forty citizens assembled and drove the community in search of the varmint, but to no avail. Guns of all sizes and denominations from 410 shotgun up to a 30-30 highpowered rifle were carried in the search.

We have not been further informed as to whether the varmint has made his presence known to any one else or not, but from all accounts he had better get out of that community and find a safer place to haditate, for some one might get excited and shoot his eye out.

LET US GIVE THANKS

Thursday, November 24, has been designated by the ruler of our country as the day upon which we are to give thanks to the Ruler of the Universe—to the Maker and the Giver of all things.

We will go to church, eat our turkey, and spend a day free from the cares of life.

The fires in our homes will burn brightly, and the joy in our hearts will be supreme.

But why will it be so?

How many of us will give serious thought to those incomparable blessings for which we should render our profound and grateful homage to Deity?

We live in a land of peace and plenty, yet the world around us is torn and bleeding, and on bended knees of supplication, earnestly pleading for the commercial and political restoration that means life and liberty to them.

We have health and happiness while many other nations of the earth are bowed under the weight of disease and hungry, and are groaning in the depths of despair.

We have education and enlightenment, while millions in other lands are growing to maturity under the blight of ignorance and superstition.

Peace and plenty—health and happiness—education and enlightenment!

What more could mortal Christian desire?

With all of these we have been abundantly endowed by the Creator of the heavens and the earth.

It is because of His great love for us that He bestows these wonderful blessings upon us.

A life of love and veneration would be but slight recompense for even one of these precious gifts.

As we receive, so should we bestow.

Let us give thanks.

SANTA ANNA MEN

VISIT KANSAS CITY

Last week I. O. Shield, Sam H. Collier, C. K. Hunter, S. H. Duggan, W. H. and E. Melton attended the National Convention of the American Legion which met in Kansas City, Mo.

The men report a much better time than they expected to see, and judging from some of the current reports, the affair must have been all that human beings could make it be.

There were estimated Sixty Thousand visitors in the famous city during the convention, and the city was turned over to them to enjoy and they all made use of the opportunity.

The Texas delegation, it seems, were determined to create the biggest excitement of any, and in order to head the list, they proceeded to the stock yard, purchased a wild Texas long horn steer, carried him to the big Boston hotel where the visitors made headquarters, one of them mounted the steer and rode him, bucking and pitching through the lobby of the hotel and up the balcony to the second floor. We guess they got the cake, for no one except a Texan would tackle such a stunt, and we are sure that no one could have pulled one that was more exciting.

While there is a surplus of idle labor and people seeking employment, it would be a good time to wage a civic clean-up campaign and interest people to spend a little money in cleaning up their premises, especially vacant lots, and otherwise helping the man who is depending on day labor to keep himself and family going.

WEST TEXAS WINS

FIRST SECOND TIME

Stamford, Texas, Nov. 2.—The West Texas exhibit, entered by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the Texas Cotton Palace in copetition with South and Central Texas for the finest intersectional agricultural exhibit, was for the second year awarded the one thousand dollar prize, Central Texas was given second, five hundred dollars; and South Texas, third prize, two hundred and fifty dollars. Last year South and Central Texas did not compete and West Texas was awarded first prize by default, but both entered this year on a challenge of West Texas.

FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE!

Some few weeks back we made mention of a couple of salesmen being in town soliciting job printing for some out-of-town printing plants, and we knew they had secured quite a lot of business, but we had no idea what an enormous amount of printing they secured until the returns begun to come in. Our surprise was augmented beyond expression when we learned more of the details. One salesman was heard to boast about what a splendid business he got in the town, and such fancy prices that he charged for the work.

There were several bills presented to this office for payment on the first of this month on bill heads printed in Waco and other towns. Such Audacity! For the love of Mike, if you have no more respect for your home printer than to send your printing out of town without even giving us a chance at the work, don't insult us by making out bills on it and sending them to this office for collection, for we had rather not see them. Just use plain tablet paper, for it is much more preferred.

Such is poor encouragement to a force to get up and work day after day and part of the nights, trying to publish a newspaper that will go on as an advertisement of the town, the county and our wonderful resources.

We are here to publish a newspaper that will be an advertisement to the town and community, and we need the support and co-operation of every business in town, and it is very unthoughtful in any business man to let his job work be done out of town, when he can get it done at home equally as good and as cheap as he can elsewhere. Let's not do it any more.

GIPSON-CHILDERS

On Thursday night of last week, the marriage vows between Miss Clara Pearl Childers and Mr. Willie Gipson were solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Childers.

The house decorations were beautiful and the ring ceremony was used, Elder Ross of Coleman performing the ceremony, in the presence of some forty relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Childers and the groom is the son of Mrs. J. G. Gipson, a very popular young man who is well and favorably known in Santa Anna.

The happy young couple will make their home on the Gipson ranch six miles north-east of town.

The News joins their legion of friends in extending congratulations and best wishes for a happy and successful voyage over the matrimonial sea of life. "May beauty and truth adorn your youth, and catnip and sage cheer up old age."

FARRIS-MOORE

S. J. Farris and Miss Ida Moore were united in marriage Saturday evening, November 5th, Rev. J. M. Reynolds officiating.

The writer is not personally acquainted with the contracting parties but learn they are of good families of this community.

The News joins in congratulations and best wishes.

PARENT-TEACHERS'

ASSOCIATION

Last Friday evening the Parent-Teachers' Association had their first evening meeting at the school auditorium. A large crowd was present, and an interesting program was carried out. Dr. T. Richard Sealy, and our new county nurse, Miss Overby, made interesting talks on points of health. Both emphasized the need of physical examination of school children to correct defects in sight, hearing, etc. and habits of diet. Our President, Mrs. G. R. Gipson, and Mrs. Clinton Lowe, outlined some needs of the school, such as fire escapes, window shades, play ground apparatus and Victrola for high school.

It was voted that we have a "hen party" at the next regular meeting, first Friday in December, for the purpose of raising money to buy a Victrola for the high school. The plan being to accept gifts of troublesome hens or other fowls to be cooped at the school and sold.

It was also voted to have a "tag day" to raise funds to secure fire escapes for the new grade building. The club voted to install a telephone in the Supts' new office. The next meeting will carry out the idea of the "hen party" in its program. Every body is invited to come and bring a hen.

THURSDAY THIMBLE CLUB

Mrs. J. B. Burleson was the charming hostess to the club last Thursday afternoon. The rooms were artistically decorated with cut flowers and ferns, in which tables were arranged for "42."

Later in the afternoon a course of coffee, nut and raisin sandwiches and banana salad was served, with dainty pink roses as plate favors to eight ladies.

BUILD MORE SIDEWALKS

There has not been a more opportune time to build sidewalks in the history of the town than right now. Mr. J. F. Martin is a good contractor and has a number of men employed who live here and buy their supplies in Santa Anna, and Mr. Martin informs us that the men are willing to work for living wages, and in as much as he is here with his teams, rock crusher, mixer and other necessary equipment for doing the work, that he will put in the concrete sidewalks for a living salary for himself.

Now does that not sound like you ought to strain a point to have the work done?

One year ago the cost of building concrete sidewalks in this town was 30 cents per foot, but Mr. Martin says that he can put them up now for 20 cents, and is willing to try a few contracts at 18 cents per foot.

There is nothing that we can think of that will add more to a town than good sidewalks, and you now have an unusual opportunity to get them built out of good material, at a very reasonable cost, and at the same time give employment to a worthy set of men who are willing to work for living wages.

We would be glad to see a movement started wherein several miles of sidewalks would be built in this town. See Mr. Martin at once and make a contract with him to build you a sidewalk in front of your property. You will never regret having the work done, and the men who do the work will remember you with the kindest of feelings.

(The above is just an editorial and not even suggested by Mr. Martin.)

Rising Star suffered a $45,000 fire loss in the business section early last Saturday morning, and the losses were very poorly protected with insurance. It seems that a number of fires have been reported here of late. Munday in Knox county suffered a heavy loss by fire Saturday, two lives were lost and considerable property damage ensued. If you have not got your property properly insured better see an agent and take out better protection.

PHONOGRAPH SERMONS

The British clergyman who predicted, not long ago, that the time might soon come when phonographs would supplant ministers in the pulpits may not have been so very far wrong after all.

At a funeral in an Irish church last month several solos in the voice of the dead man were rendered. The man, who was a singer of some ability, made the records before his death and at his funeral a phonograph was placed on his coffin, in a voice from the dead, as it were.

Phonograph sermons may come into use. Who knows? Stranger things have happened. And there are at any rate persons who would rather hear a phonograph sermon by Billy Sunday or some other great pulpit orator than sit for an hour or so under some dull minister of their own community.

But whether phonograph sermons are coming or not, the possibility of the thing should inspire ministers everywhere to their best efforts. The way to keep the phonograph sermons out is to keep down a demand for them.

A LESSON OF THE TIMES

The man who makes ten thousand dollars a year and spends eleven thousand is not getting along as well as the man who makes six hundred and spends only five hundred.

This is as true of flush times as well as of dull ones.

During the past few months many of us have had to live hard. Many of us have had to practice the most rigid economy.

If we have learned the lesson of it—if we have learned to spend less than we make—we will profit all the more when the good times come again, as they surely will before long.

STAND BY THE LAW

There are too many laws, of course. Many of them are unnecessary, some are vexatious and some are even vicious.

But it is the duty of every good citizen to obey the law so long as it is on the statute books. There is no other safe course.

It is perfectly proper to insist that a law is wrong, and to work for its repeal, but it is never safe to violate any law.

When we begin to violate one law, we create disrespect for all other laws and when our laws fall into disrepute our civilization ends.

Ours is a government of law. We cannot have government without laws and obedience to the laws. Without this, life and property are not safe.

It is therefore the duty of every citizen to obey the law himself and to insist upon obedience to the law by all others.

A good citizen will not only obey the laws himself but he will insist in the enforcement of the law upon and for others.

SOME WAR FIGURES

David F. Houston, former secretary of the treasury, is authority for the statement that since the foundation of our government we have spent in round numbers sixty-seven billion dollars, and of this fifty-eight billions went for wars—that is, for the army and navy and their auxiliaries and for pensions and on the public debt.

And yet we claim to be an enlightened, a civilized, a peaceful and a Christian nation.

The figures indicate that we have been a nation of hypocrites. We have not been living up to our profession.

Maybe, though if we of this generation give the figures the thought that we ought to give them, we will begin to do better. It has not been necessary in the past to spend so much money on war purposes, and it will not be necessary in the future.

AMERICA FEEDS RUSSIA

America this winter will feed and clothe hundreds of thousands of Russian bolsheviks and keep them from starving or freezing to death.

Russia has had just as good crop seasons as America, but America has not been undergoing the theories of a revolution led by wild or corrupt fanatics.

America has not been trying to put crazy economic theories into practice.

America has been working, and has food for herself and to spare.

Some things need adjusting in this country, to be sure, but we have not yet deemed it wise to burn the barn down in order to kill the rats.

The Russians should think about these things while they are eating our bread this winter.

DOING THE IMPOSSIBLE

Have you ever done a thing which other people declared could not be done? If not, you have never known the greatest joy of life. You have missed the finest thrill that human beings are permitted to experience.

No matter what it is—climbing a tree, or mending a broken toy, or reviving a dying business, or leading any sort of forlorn hope to victory—if you have done something which other people have said could not be done, you have placed yourself above your fellows. You have made them honor you. You have done a splendid thing, and your blood will tingle while you receive the praises that will be freely given.

Try it some time—try doing the impossible thing. It will be great fun just to try, and if you succeed it will give you a sense of elation and mastery that will make all your ordinary every day tasks seem mere trifles.

Heard a merchant say the other day that he never struck anything quite so tough as the recent buyers' strike.

Stfunny, but the fellow who knows just how a newspaper should be run is usually doing something else.

LITTLE THOUGHTS ON BIG TOPICS

By F. W. Barber.

Perseverance is often commendable—sometimes it is damnable.

Over in England the Right Honorable Reginald McKenna, former cabinet minister, is a very big man. He is a power in the world of finance.

Reggie blew into the domains of Uncle Sammy a few weeks ago, took a whirl around the circle, and talked eloquently of the sacred obligation he conceives to be ours—the cancellation of the monumental debts the allies owe to us.

Conceding him to be a great man, we took Reggie seriously—to his face. In courtesy we could do no less. Great men expect much consideration.

This may have befuddled dignified Reggie a little at first, and may have caused him to entertain false hopes of inducing us to rise like a trout to the bait and swallow the hook of cancellation.

But he was soon disillusioned. Politely, but firmly, he was told that we of America are a nation and a people who believe in the payment of just debts, even though it be necessary to stretch that payment over a long period of time.

We love our allied friends as we love ourselves, but we have too much respect for their reconstructive ability to place them in the mendicant class.

But if, as Reggie intimates, they will not be able to survive unless we write "Cancelled" across their accounts on our national ledger, then we fear they are not worth saving.

To make them a present of those billions would be like spreading erpensive paint on worm eaten lumber.

For some days now we have been waiting for Reggie's smoke to clear away in order to observe the effect of his eloquence upon the American mind.

But there wasn't any smoke. There was no fire. The star spangled fish didn't even nibble. Reggie, as a match failed utterly to ignite. As a bait, he was about as effective as a dead worm in the midst of live grasshoppers.

Now we wonder who our dear friends will send over next in their campaign to convert us to their ideas when we are determined to pursue our own way of thinking.

Whoever he may be, we'll treat him handsomely, feed him well, and send him home a little wiser than when he came.

We may never get the billions they owe us; but at least we will always have something coming.

The country was agreeably surprised the other morning when it woke up and found that the great railroad strike had been called off—that the leaders had concluded that they could not fight their Uncle Sam.

Score one for the government there. Its power is great when it is a mind to use it.

Regardless of the merits of the case, no list of employers or organization of employees has a right to paralyze the whole country by arbitrarily forcing a widespread suspension of business.

The correct policy of the republican form of government is the conservation of the welfare of the people.

Shutting down public utilities by either side to a controversy is no more nor less than an act of punishment inflicted upon the innocent for the alleged crimes of the guilty—the forcible curtailment of suspension of the activities of the great majority of the people in order that a small minority may gain its point.

If injustice is practiced by either side it should be a matter for governmental action and correction.

Having averted the strike, the government should now see to it that neither side is permitted to exploit itself at the expense of the other—and the people.

A big foot is quite as effective as a big stick. Use it.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 13

PAUL BEFORE THE ROMAN GOVERNOR.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 24:1-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offense toward God and man.—Acts 24:16.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Luke 12:1-12.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Why Paul Was Not Afraid.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Secret of Paul's Courage.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Defense Before a Roman Governor.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul's Defense Before Felix.

I. Paul Accused (vv. 1-9)
Tertullus, perhaps a Roman barrister, formally made the accusation according to Roman law. He began with flattery. He gave Felix the fullest praise when he and all the people knew that he lied; for Felix was one of the worst governors—destitute of morals and justice. He brought a four-fold charge against Paul:

1. "A pestilent fellow" (v. 5). This would indicate a fellow utterly base and corrupt—a plague.
2. An inciter of rebellion, a mover of sedition (v. 5). This they hoped would bring him into conflict with the Roman power.
3. That he was the ringleader of a sect—a schismatical party—a heretic (v. 5).
4. That he had profaned the temple (v. 6).

II. Paul's Defense (vv. 10-21)

In this defense note:
1. Paul's frankness and courtesy (v. 10). Flattery is entirely wanting. He gives recognition of the fact that Felix had been ruler of this people long enough to be able to judge justly, as the habits and ways of the Jews were familiar to him; and then, in a dignified manner, assumes that Felix will render a just decision based upon the facts of the case.

2. The charge of sedition denied (vv. 11, 12). He flatly and scornfully denied this charge, showing its utter falsity, since the time was too short, being but twelve days since he went to Jerusalem, and half of that time had been spent as a prisoner of the Romans. His conduct while there disproved it—he disputed with no man in the temple; neither did he make any attempt to incite the people in the city nor in the synagogue.

3. The charge of heresy (vv. 14-16). This charge he met by a concession and a denial. He admitted that he was of the "Way" which they called heresy, but clearly showed that it was in keeping with the Hebrew religion: (1) he worshipped the same God (v. 14); (2) he fully believed in the same Scriptures (v. 14); (3) he had the same hope of a coming resurrection of the dead (v. 15). He declared that he made as the principle of life a conscience void of offense before God and man.

4. The charge of sacrilege, or profanation of the temple (vv. 17-21). This charge he refuted by showing (1) that he had come all the way from Greece (v. 17) to worship at the feast; (2) that he had not come up empty-handed, but had brought alms for his nation (v. 17); (3) that there were not competent witnesses present to testify as to his behavior in the temple (v. 19); by challenging his enemies to testify as to his conduct in the council (v. 20).

III. Paul Before Felix the Second Time (vv. 22-27)

This is a sort of a sequel to the trial. Wicked as Felix was, Paul's manner somewhat won his favor, though he did not release him. His sentence was indulgent imprisonment, which kept him free from his enemies while under Roman protection. Felix sent for Paul that he might hear of Christ from him. Paul believed himself right before these sinners in high life. He reasoned of righteousness, self-control and judgment to come, before Felix and his sinful wife, with such power that Felix was terrified and declared that he would hear Paul further at a convenient time. This was a most flimsy excuse for not changing his life and granting justice to Paul. He was so in bondage to sin that he was unwilling to change. Also he hoped that by delaying matters he would receive a bribe.

The Lord Changeth Not.

And I will come near to you to judgment; I will be a swift witness against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of Hosts. For I am the Lord; I change not.—Malachi 3:5, 6.

Worship.

A main purpose of worship on earth on the part of Christians, who believe that they have to appear for the sight of God in judgment, is that it is a preparation. Worship is an education for the inevitable future.—H. P. Liddell.

Who Shall Enter.

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.—Matthew 5:21.

Baptist ladies will begin on Orphan's home box Monday, 14th. All Baptists expected to contribute, others accepted gladly. Bring things to Mrs. Allen's or Cumberland Presbyterian church.

DON'T BE AN "AVERAGE" MAN

Young people must make themselves efficient and handle their earnings properly during their productive years if they are to escape the common lot of being dependent in old age.

Under normal times the average educated man gets a salary of $2,000 a year. He works forty years, making a total of $80,000 in a life-time. The average day laborer gets $3.00 per day in normal times, three hundred days in the year, or 900.00 a year. In forty years he earns $36,000. The difference, $44,000, equals the financial value of an education. To acquire this earning capacity requires about five months time or one hundred and fifty days in the Tyler Commercial College. Divide one hundred and fifty days into $44,000, the value of an education, and you will find that each day spent in the Tyler Commercial College is worth $293 to you without considering the satisfaction and pleasure of living a much more successful life.

The life insurance companies have compiled the following astounding figures on one hundred average men: At the age of sixty-five, the record of these men is as follows: thirty-five are dead; one rich, four wealthy, six are self-supporting but are compelled to work for a living, fifty-four, or over half the number, are dependent on children, relatives, or charity. If you could sit down and talk to those fifty-four you would receive the caution to "prepare and train." That is the secret of success, Preparation and Training.

You don't expect to die young and surely you don't want to be in the class who are dependent in old age. Avoid it by getting the proper kind of business training in youth. Fill in and mail for free catalogue. Get out of the average class.

FIRE PREVENTION

During the past twelve months the nation's fire losses have averaged a million dollars a day.

Fully half of these could have been prevented by such simple precautions as handling matches and gasoline with care and not throwing matches or lighted cigarette stumps where they could start a blaze.

Like Chicago's fire most conflagrations start from simple things. Keep this in mind. Be careful with fire and things that will burn easily.

Thanksgiving comes in November, and it is then that we speak out of our hearts our appreciation of the blessings that we have received. Forcibly were we reminded of this when on last evening (Monday) our home was taken by storm by our many friends, who decorated our dining table with their many poundings. We take this means of thanking each and every one of you for your gracious gifts, and again we lift our hearts to God for the Spirit of Love that is within you. Yours in Christ,
Leon Williams and wife.

THE NEW ERA

As women check up the first year of their political enfranchisement, Mrs. Florence Hilles, new chairman of the Woman's Party, comes out with 37 recommendations for giving women equality with men.

Most interesting of these is "the right of women to keep their maiden names after marriage."

Time brings strange changes. The day may come when John Smith, marrying Susan Brown, will have to change his name to Mr. Susan Browne.

BETTER EATING.
BETTER HEALTH LONGER LIFE

Sounds good to you, doesn't it? But whether it is to be something more than a sound depends wholly upon you.

We can furnish the "better eating" by supplying you with better foodstuffs—the kind that improve health and prolong life. But you must do your own eating.

But you must do your own eating.

You know what we sell—everything to be found in an up to date grocery store.

But you may not be acquainted with the high quality of these foodstuffs or with the reduced prices we are now charging. These are things we want to impress upon your mind. Try them and be impressed.

Entered at the post office of Santa Anna as second class mail.

It is going to take longer to put the peace resolution into effect than it took to put the war resolution into effect. And more's the pity.

One of the surest ways of boosting yourself is to give the other fellow a lift.

We used to hear of reformed drunkards, but are there any reformed dancers?

It won't be long now until we can tell the ice man just what we think of him.

Another fine thing about scenery is that you can't wear it out by looking at it.

There are still a good many women who think a beauty doctor can beat nature.

It looks as if congress has forgotten about what it started to do to Judge Landis.

Many a man has set out to gather the fruits of victory, only to find them knotty and worm eaten.

It is a fine thing to be able to make an excuse, but it is a much finer thing not to have to make it.

Don't be driven to drink. Hootch is said to be selling at from eight to twelve dollars a quart now.

The foot that rocks the cradle can also put a quietus on baby's father when it is put down firmly.

When a man tells a girl he has been misunderstood all his life she knows exactly what is coming next.

We used to hear women talk about having nothing to wear, but most of them seem to be almost in that fix now.

We sometimes wonder how the great men of the world amused themselves before golf was invented.

The shortest day of the year will soon be here, but some of us won't be any shorter than we are now.

You can't tell. Some grass widows have seen more sorrow than those who have buried their husbands.

There are men in every community who surprise their neighbors occasionally by doing the right thing.

It is a fine thing to get up early in the morning, but the main thing is to be wide awake after you get up.

You can't keep from a grouch occasionally, perhaps, but you can keep your mouth shut if you try.

"Those who talk most think least," says a magazine writer. Yep; said magazine writer is a woman.

No Delicia' the rule is to think twice before you speak—not to speak twice before you think.

The trouble with a man who always says what he thinks is that he is usually such a mean thinker.

The world was made in six days—but the Bible makes no mention of an eight-hour day.

The main reason why the Congressional Record is so expensive is that it carries so much free advertising.

Home brew is a dangerous thing. A pot of it blew up in New Orleans the other day and killed two men.

Mrs. J. E. Rohl and son of Beggs, Okla., returned home Monday after a visit to her sister Mrs. D. F. Rackley.

Many a mother thinks the times have returned to normalcy, now that the children are in school again.

Mr. J. J. Rackley of Oklahoma City, Okla., spent several days here last week at the bedside of his brother, D. F. Rackley.

It is claimed that politics and religion will not mix. Which is the fault of politics and not religion.

Mr. B. H. Rackley of Purcell, Okla. and Mrs. Earl Humpreys and little daughter of El Reno, Okla., were here at the bedside of their father, D. F. Rackley.

Mr. Eldon Morgan of Lockney, Texas, visited his aunt, Mrs. D. F. Rackley, recently.

A good way to drive dull care away is to forget that it is here.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The people of Kansas City have shown what an outraged public sentiment can do when genuinely aroused, in spite of the negligence of public officials.

During the early part of 1920, criminals of every sort overran the city, causing a veritable reign of terror. Finally the leading citizens' organizations decided that the only way to get relief was to take things into their own hands.

A law enforcement association was formed, its motto being, "Clean Up Kansas City."

There has been a steady improvement in the situation ever since. During the first five months of 1920 there were 19 murders and 1183 burglaries. During the same period in 1921 there were but nine murders and 695 burglaries, about a 50 per cent cut in these two classes of crime. Highway robberies and auto thefts showed a like decrease.

The moral of all this is just this: There is no reason why the people of any other town cannot do what the people of Kansas City have done if they will act with the same energy and intelligence.

No. 864 CITATION ON APPLICATION FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To The Sheriff or Any Constable of Coleman County; Greeting:
 You Are Hereby Commanded to cause to be published once each week for ten days, before the return day hereof, in some newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously published for a period of not less than one year in Coleman County, Texas, the following notice:
THE STATE OF TEXAS,

D., 1922, the same being the 2nd day of January, 1922, at the Court House thereof, in Coleman, Texas, at which time all persons interested in said Estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so, and if such appointment is not contested at the next term of Court that the same become permanent.

WITNESS L. Emet Walker, Clerk of the County Court of Coleman County.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Coleman, Texas, this the 24th day of October A. D., 1921.

L. EMET WALKER, Clerk County Court, Coleman County, Texas
 By V. Rawlins Gilliland, Deputy.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 8.—Life-size images contrasting the malnourished child with the normal child have been prepared by Miss Jean Pinckney of the home economics extension department of the University of Texas. These figures are carved in beaver board and show the various stages of growth. The stooped shoulders, distended stomach and flat chest of the child who eats too much sweet food and eats between meals, are contrasted with the healthy, normal figures of the properly nourished child. One group shows the evils resulting from incorrect posture, ill fitting shoes and the opposite effect to be achieved from proper posture and clothes. These exhibits will be shown at the meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth, Nov. 15-19, and at the meeting of the State Teachers' Association in Dallas, Nov. 23-26. Miss Pinckney has been requested to accompany the exhibits with lectures on the causes and symptoms as well as suggestions for preventive methods in proper dieting. It is believed that these exhibits and lectures will be of much value in combating many of the evils of malnutrition among the children of the State.

THE AVIATORS

Since Armistice Day, 251 American aviators have been killed in flight. For them there was not the crown of glory that awaits the warrior who dies in battle. They went ahead, did each day's dangerous round of duty, and they died doing the day's work. And in our opinion, the sacrifice of the fellow who thus gives his life, while doing his job as best he knows, is no less to be honored than the sacrifice of him who laid down his life in the zeal, inspiration and glamor of battle. They are the Heroes of the Daily Task.

THERE ARE FEW THIEVES
Ninety-nine out of every hundred Americans are honest, says Frederick N. Withey, vice president of a big bonding company.

Withey's company has written 7,000,000 bonds for cashiers, treasurers and others entrusted with money. Of these, only one in a hundred stole and only one in seven thousand "hit the wrong road out of downright criminal intent."

A criminal is the rare exception. That's why you read about him in the news while honest men go unnoticed.

THE NEW WHEAT
Seager Wheeler, Canada's wheat wizard, gets $30 a bushel for Early Triumph, his new variety of seed wheat. It ripens ten days earlier than any other wheat and yields eight to ten more bushels to the acre.

This helps all farmers, by increasing their possible profits. It also moves the wheat belt 100 miles farther north and puts millions of new acres under cultivation.

Wheeler, on his Saskatchewan farm, has a wheat production record of 82 bushels per acre. In international exhibitions he has won the world's championship five times.

Men like Wheeler and Luther Burbank will be the outstanding figures of our time when a really civilized posterity rewrites history and puts wars, kaisers and Fatty Arbuckles where they belong—on a back seat.

The dinnerpail will be the really important thing when the United States becomes as thickly settled as China or some parts of Europe.

BEGGARS IN AUTOMOBILES
We are all familiar with the old adage, "If wishes were horses beggars would ride." Well, the up-to-date beggar goes this one better and rides in automobiles.

In some parts of the middle west, it has been discovered, professional beggars band together and travel from town to town in automobiles. Arriving in a town, they store their machine in a garage, don their rags and tatters, and then work from house to house. Having worked their town, they get their machine and drive on to the next stop.

The poor we will always have with us, but it not infrequently happens that the beggar at the door is a richer man than the man from whom he asks alms. It is our duty to help the poor, but it is only common sense to make sure that a beggar is really in want before shelling out money to him.

A strange beggar in a community is not to be encouraged.

ON THE FARMS
American farmers use 2,146,512 automobiles, 121,817 motor trucks and 2,503,002 telephones, according to the 1920 census returns.

Life "down on the farm" steadily acquires more comforts and conveniences. Science is giving the farmer comforts which a decade or two ago were practically unknown outside the cities.

In time this will solve the "back to the farm" problem. Men go where it's most attractive.

The old fellow who always predicts a hard winter is on his rounds again.

Anybody know what has become of Mr. Podewski?

CAUGHT IN THE ROUND-UP

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Snook of Coleman spent Sunday with Miss Josie Baxter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sanderson visited Mrs. Sanderson's father, J. A. Freeman last Sunday. Mr. Freeman is being treated in a sanitarium in Brownwood.

Ray Faulkner returned last Sunday from Roby where he has been employed in a garage.

Mr. W. W. Keith Jr., of Dallas was here Sunday.

J. F. Martin left first of the week for Mexia where he expects to take some of his teams to put them to work in the oil field.

Ogden Brown and Loris Faulkner visited friends in Abilene Sunday.

Dr. A. C. Scott, of Temple was here Saturday on professional business.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson who has been confined to her bed since last February is reported to be improving.

A small child of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McFarland of Trickham is being treated in the Santa Anna Hospital, with good prospects for improvement.

Garland, small son of J. M. Martin who was operated on at the local Hospital recently has been returned home.

Walter Ransberger and family left Monday for Corpus Christi, to spend the winter months.

L. D. Boyd and H. W. Kingsbery returned last week from Chattanooga, Tenn., where they had attended the Confederate Reunion. Both made visits to their boyhood homes, the former's being in South Carolina, and the latter's in Georgia. One coincidence of the trip may be of interest to Mr. Boyd's friends; after an absence of fifty years he found himself in the room where he was born seventy-six years ago that day. The home was built one hundred and sixteen years ago, and is still in a good state of preservation, being occupied at present.

Rev. J. M. Reynolds attended the Fifth Sunday meeting at Talpa October 29th, and spent several days last week assisting in a meeting at Valera.

Editor W. T. Curtis of the Rising Star X-Ray was in the city with his family last Sunday and called to see the editor but found he was out of town. Give us a little warning next time Mr. Curtis, and we will stay in.

D. R. Kelley was among those from here to attend Court in Coleman this week.

T. Ray Garrett called Monday and subscribed for the News to be mailed to him out on Whon route. Ray and his bride of seven months, have moved out to the farm and here's wishing them success in abundance.

No, Jason, not all bootleggers are leathernecks.

We are going to press early this week, in order that we may close our place of business all day Friday, the same being Armistice Day and a holiday. All places of business in town will be closed for the day, and all will celebrate the Third Anniversary of the last day of the World War. Saturday morning you will find us at the same old stand doing business in the same old way.

Rev. T. W. Davidson returned from Temple first of the week where he went to consult a specialist, pursuant to having an operation, but was advised not to do so at the present time. Bro. Davidson is elated over the fact that an operation is not necessary just at this time, and we hope that his condition will not grow worse.

J. O. Martin, Ross Kelley and one or two others whom we failed to get their names, returned Sunday from a hunting trip in South Texas, and report splendid luck.

There were 20,703 bales of cotton counting round as half bales, ginned in Coleman county from the crop of 1921, prior to October 18, 1921, as compared with 20,692 bales ginned to October 18, 1921, according to a statement issued by Special Agent Smith.

Virgil Ledford and his father, Ed Keifer and W. H. Franklin returned last Saturday from South Texas, where they spent several days hunting for big game.

Virgil Ledford, wife and baby and Mrs. C. E. Welch left Monday for San Antonio.

Ed Bartlett and John Whetstone returned Sunday from the Davis Mountains where they spent several days hunting, and report some luck.

Jack Woodward, manager of the Santa Anna Merc. Co., left Monday night for Houston to attend the State Convention of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants Association. It is commendable in Mr. Woodward to attend this convention, as it is composed of the most successful dry goods merchants of the state, and their coming together is for the betterment of them all.

Mr. W. W. Keith Jr. of Dallas spent last week-end in Santa Anna, the guest of Miss Nettie Turner.

L. E. Wells and wife of Fort Worth, daughter of H. H. Brown, are here to spend the year with Mr. Brown.

SHOWER

One of the prettiest affairs of the season was a miscellaneous shower, given at the home of Miss Inez Marshall, last Saturday evening honoring Mrs. W. F. Gipson (Nee Miss Clar Childers). On entering, the guests were asked to register. The register, which carried out the color scheme, pink and white, was presided over by Miss Lucille May.

The reception rooms were artistically decorated in pink and white, and at either end of the library table, graceful baskets of chrysanthemums were placed, while smaller baskets were placed here and there throughout the reception rooms.

The gifts were arranged in the dining room on the table and when all were ready the bride and groom entered with Mrs. Marshall.

The bride wore a handsome dress of blue, beaded canton crepe. As the gifts were unwrapped by her they were passed around for each guest to see. The large table was loaded with many beautiful and useful gifts and when all were unwrapped, the bride in her charming manner thanked her friends for the many lovely gifts which she had received.

Piano and violin music were enjoyed thruout the evening, and at a late hour about forty guests were served with pink and white brick cream, cake and divinity candy.

SILENT TRIBUTE NOVEMBER 11 TO HONOR VICTIMS

Washington, Oct. 31.—The two-minute silent tribute in honor of the unknown American soldier, which President Harding has asked the entire nation to give Nov. 11, from noon to 12:02, should occur throughout the country on Eastern time, the war department announced.

Adherence to one standard of time is the only way of making the tribute simultaneous throughout the entire country, which is desired, the department said.

Thus the people in the central time zone will stop work at 11 o'clock their time, those in the mountain region at 10 and those on the Pacific coast at 9 a. m. Santa Anna is in the central zone.

Things are never quite so bad they couldn't be worse. As the Columbia Record points out, there is no war tax on watermelons.
