Fifteen Texans Go Out As Baptist Missionaries To All Parts of Globe

(1) Miss Mina Garrett, Waco, teacher of science, Eliza Yates College, Shanghai, China; (2) Miss Bernice Neel, Decatur, educational work, Rio, Brazil; (3) S. S. Hawkeye State; (4) Miss Effie Eyleone Baker, Bangs, educational work among girls in Japan; (5) Mrs. Vecia King, Chapman, Houston, educational work in Japan; (6) Mrs. Caroline Smith Taylor, Lampasas, Bahia, Brazil; (7-8) Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hamlett, Austin, representatives of Foreign Mission Board in Near East, with headquarters at Jerusalem; (9) Francis Willard Taylor, Bangs, Bahia, Brazil; (10) Miss Marjorie Taylor, Belton, educational work, Sao Paulo, Brazil; (11) Miss Minnie Alexander, Lometa, secretarial work, Kaifeng College, Kaifeng, China; (12) Miss Lucille Reagan, Big Springs, evangelistic work in African Mission; (13) Miss Viola Humphreys, Dublin, evangelistic work, Kaifeng, China; (14) Mrs. Leta Denham Scott, Seminary Hill, evangelistic work among Hakkas, South China; (15) Miss Nora E. Hawkins, Childress, educational work, Campos, Brazil; (16) Marcus J. Scott, Seminary Hill, evangelistic work among Hakkas, South China.

From the larger proceeds of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention has been enabled to send out more than 150 new missionaries since that movement was launched, it is announced, and of that number sixty young men and women, representing fourteen states, have just sailed for China, Japan, Africa, Brazil, Argentina and Chile. In addition to these, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Gill of Kansas City will sail September 14 to become representatives of the Board in Europe, while Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hamlett of Austin, Texas, have just sailed for Jerusalem, where they will maintain headquarters in acting as the Near East representatives of the Board.

The new missionaries to China and Japan sailed from Seattle, Saturday, August 27, on the Hawkeye State of the Admiral Line, while those for Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Africa sailed from New York on the Aeolus August 17. They will be engaged chiefly in evangelistic, educational, medical and agricultural work and will be stationed at various points in these fields. While a large number of new workers have been sent out by the Board since the beginning of the Campaign, at least 100 other capable young men and women could be employed to advantage if they were available, Secretary J. F. Love advises.

Mission Money Gets Results.
Of the more than $25,000,000 that has been collected in cash on the 75 Million Campaign to date, about $2,000,000 has gone to foreign missions. This has made it possible not only to strengthen the old work on all fields and employ a large number of new missionaries, but to do much other work, including building or making substantial additions to 15 boys' schools, 17 girls' schools, 27 mission residences, five hospitals and dispensaries, four light and power plants for mission compounds, 26 church buildings, four colleges, seven theological seminaries. In addition, assistance has been given seven church building loan associations, six new stations have been opened and equipped, land has been bought for the enlargement of several mission compounds, a home for orphans in Italy has been established, and a block of ground has been purchased in the heart of Rome for headquarters for the work in Italy, a theological seminary, publishing house, church and mission residence being provided on this property.

Enlarge European Field.
As a result of the Campaign, Southern Baptists have been enabled to greatly enlarge their work in Europe. They have carried on mission work in Italy since 1870, but now they have opened up new work in Jugoslavia, Hungary and Roumania, and have made a beginning, through the distribution of Bibles, in the Ukraine and Southern Russia and Siberia. To act as the European representatives of the Board in this enlarged program, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Gill of Kansas City were recently named. They will probably make their headquarters in Switzerland.

The first work Southern Baptists have ever done looking to the evangelization of Mohammedan lands has just been undertaken in Palestine and Syria, and Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hamlett of Austin, Texas, have gone to Jerusalem, where they will superintend the work of the native evangelists. It is planned to establish a church, theological seminary and college, hospital and orphanage at Jerusalem as soon as practicable and then seek to reach other points in Palestine and Syria from this center.

Minister to 900,000,000 People.
With the enlarged foreign mission program of Southern Baptists that denomination is now operating in 18 countries on every side of the globe, and has in its employ practically 500 foreign missionaries and twice that number of native workers trained in the mission schools. Through its present missionary operations the Board is seeking to minister to 475,000,000 yellow people, 4,000,000 brown people, 200,000,000 black people and 225,000,000 white people, making a total of 900,000,000 people, or more than half the population of the globe. Numbered among its workers already on the field are 21 foreign physicians and 8 foreign mission nurses who last year gave 154,070 treatments. There are now 611 mission churches on the foreign fields and of this number 144 are self-supporting. The average contributions of these mission churches last year to denominational causes was $5 per member, the Christians on the foreign fields responding more liberally as a result of the 75 Million Campaign.

The new missionaries sailing at this time were contributed by the following states: Alabama two, Arkansas one, Georgia five, Kentucky six, Louisiana two, Mississippi four, Missouri four, North Carolina three, South Carolina five, Tennessee five, Texas fifteen, Virginia six, Iowa one and Pennsylvania one.

STATEMENT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD FOR THE PUBLIC'S INFORMATION

When the present School Board was organized, it was common knowledge to all who took the interest to investigate, that something must be done to improve our school buildings before another session could be held.

Looking to the future, an election was held to vote bonds to build a large, modern High School Building and repair the present buildings for a ward school. By the will of the citizens, this miscarried, then an election was held for a bond issue of $15,000 to repair and equip our old buildings. This carried, and, as soon as the bonds were voted, a competent attorney was employed to get up the necessary papers and two members of the board made a trip to Austin, made application, and got the bonds approved in one day and ordered them printed. They were promptly returned for the signature of the President and Secretary, then returned for the final approval of the Attorney General and registration by the Comptroller, and the State Superintendent promptly gave a waiver of the time given the State to say whether they would take the bonds, and the bonds returned to Santa Anna, ready for sale; only six days time being taken in all these proceedings, when the usual time is twenty days. Our banks very generously took these bonds the day they arrived and Mr. J. F. Martin, the contractor, began pushing the work at once for the repairs of the old buildings—addition of four new rooms and in spite of the fact that everything has been done with all possible dispatch, as pointed out above, the Board find it necessary to state that it will be Oct. 3, the same being first Monday in Oct., before we will be ready to open our school. This, however, will not interfere with the full nine months school, nor does it have anything to do with us losing our affiliation, and we also wish to state that we not only have our affiliation with the University of Texas, but we have more units of credit than this school has ever had before when it opened for a session.

We also believe we have the best faculty that Santa Anna has had in years and, in view of the fact that many of the pupils come from the adjoining rural districts, and that as the cotton has opened unusually early, a few days delay will not be of any special disadvantage to our community at large.

Yours for a better school,
The Santa Anna School Board,
By The President.

Loans and charity are not what the producer needs to place him firmly on his financial legs. He needs solid organization, combined determination not to supply the demand for his products until paid enough for them to enable him to supply his needs of things others produce. If he gets but little money for his products, he doesn't worry provided he buys the things others produce and he needs on the same level of prices. If he sells at low prices and pays high prices for the things he must buy, long time loans and other accommodations at a price that can not be paid for out of his income, he is heading for financial breakers.

man he is to be, for these early lessons in conduct and manners are probably never quite eradicated. Men who as children were accustomed to hearing uncouth language still lapse in manhood into this fault, however well educated they may have become, and the same is true of physical mannerisms and even of the mental attitude. If a child grows up among people who are scolding, faultfinding, complaining or quarrelsome, he is almost sure to show a tendency to these qualities, however much he may learn to abhor them in later life.

SANTA ANNA GETS 1040 BALES IN AUGUST

Up to the close of the month of August, Wednesday night, there had been 1040 bales of cotton weighed at the local cotton yard in Santa Anna, which is a record breaker for the month of August.

There were 998 bales ginned in the city during the month of August as follows:

Farmers Gin, 456.
Turner's Gin, 380.
Wallace Gin, 103.
Rose Gin, 59.

Cotton was selling on the streets of Santa Anna about noon Thursday as high as 17 cents per pound. Come to Santa Anna where things are getting lively.

Some of these young girls sixty to seventy years of age look mighty happy in their short skirts.

WHAT IS YOUR CHILD LEARNING?

Much of a child's earliest education, often the most valuable and most enduring part, is that which is unconsciously acquired at home, not by precept or teaching but by imitation. From the earliest beginning of learning the child is copying the sights and sounds about him.

Thus he learns to speak his first words, and from this time until he begins his formal education in school, and indeed through his entire childhood, he is imitating the language, manners, and emotions of the older people about him. His behavior and opinions are undoubtedly to some extent the direct result of this copying of his elders. He will repeat the tricks of speech and manner which they constantly employ.

If a child lives among people whose language is correct and agreeable, whose behavior is gentle and kindly, he unconsciously acquires similar ways. The habit of courtesy comes not alone nor chiefly from direct instruction, but from imitation. If a child sees that his elders are habitually courteous in their association with each other, if kindness and consideration for each other are the habits of the home, these qualities will inevitably stamp themselves upon the child. Good manners are an invaluable asset to every person, but good manners have their root and foundation in fine qualities of mind and heart, and only the constant daily exercise of them will help give the children that charm of manner which is such a delight in persons of every age. The opposite qualities are likewise imitated and help to produce another sort of child.

Clearly, therefore, parents have an enormous responsibility in molding and shaping a child into the kind of

HONORING MISS RAMSUER

Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Phillips, a surprise shower was given Miss Sarah Ramsuer, who will leave in the near future for Austin to make her future home, by the Harmony Club, of which she is a charter member.

A musical contest was one of the diversions of the afternoon, aside from the several piano selections given by Miss Nettie Turner.

After refreshments were served the Club President, Mrs. Meyer, after extending best wishes of the Club, presented Miss Ramsuer with a beautiful toilet set as a gift from the Club, and then Miss Ramsuer was showered with a linen handkerchief from each member of the Club.

HARMONY CLUB

Miss Ramsuer was hostess to the Harmony Club Wednesday, August 23rd, at which meeting Liszt's selections, etc., were the subjects.

Before the quiz, Miss Katherine Price of New Orleans, who is a student at Sophie Newcomb College, and whose teacher is a student of Liszt, in a very capable manner gave an outline of Liszt's life as told by her teacher. Needless to say the Club received more data from this lecture than could be told in several books.

The Misses Harper who have just returned from the Conservatory of Chicago, rendered the musical program.

The next meeting will be held with the Misses Simpson, Sept. 14th.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Christian Endeavor enjoyed a delightful social at the McClellan home last Friday evening. "42" and other lively games were enjoyed throughout the evening.

Victrola and piano music was rendered throughout the evening and was enjoyed by all present.

The entertainment was closed with a course of refreshments, composed of delicious cream and cake.

Those present were: Misses Louise Boyd, Veva Oakes, Elizabeth Turner, Gladys Lackey, Lucille Love, Celeste and Elizabeth McClellan, Era and Charollette Oakes, Annie Styles, Fay and Kay Turner and Alvira Land and Messrs. Hugh Blair, Garland Morgan, Shield Brown, Lee Land, Clifford Lowe, Arnold Davidson, Tom McClellan, Oliver McClellan and Bill Styles.

It's a fine thing to get up and see the sunrise, but your wife might find things for you to do before breakfast.

LOCAL MEN COMPLIMENT

ED BY OFFICIAL

Mr. Potter, an employee of the Railroad Commission at Austin, was checking up the gas wells in this territory this week, and after completing the inspection trip, paid a high compliment to the local managers of the field in the following statement: "The Tricham and McGhee fields are the best kept gas fields I have ever seen."

Messrs. Young of Coleman, Schaffer of Brownwood, Menaugh of the Gladys-Belle Oil Co. and Lee Woodward of Santa Anna are the local managers of these gas fields, and the compliments passed upon them by the representative of the Railroad Commission is nothing more than is due them for their efficient and faithful services.

We are printing One Thousand extra copies of the News this week for free distribution. We intended to publish an extra large edition for this issue, but being handicapped by sickness in our homes, both the editor and operator, we have not been able to get out and rustle sufficient business to justify a very much increase in size, so we are coming to you with just our every week appearance, and trust that several hundred new ones will become interested and come in and subscribe for the paper to receive it regular.

Mrs. E. H. Farrow and little son, E. H. Jr., and Miss Dicye Powell went to Abilene Monday to attend the funeral of little 7-year old Mildred Ware, who died as a result of burns she received several weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Ware formerly lived in Coleman county and have many friends here who will regret to learn of their sad misfortune in the loss of their little girl.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 4

FROM PHILIPPI TO ATHENS.

LESSON TEXT—ACTS 17:17-34.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.—Psalm 34.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—I and II Thess.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God Takes Care of Paul and Silas.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Midnight Experience in Philippi.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Courage in the Face of Persecution.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Preaching with Persecutions.

1. Paul and Silas in Jail (vv. 19-26).
1. The occasion (vv. 19-24). When the demon was cast out of the maid her supernatural power was gone; therefore, the source of revenue was dried up. This so exasperated her owners that they had Paul and Silas arraigned before the magistrates on a false charge. Those men ought to have rejoiced that such a blessing had come to this poor girl. They cared more for their gain than for her welfare. This is true of the iniquitous crowding together of the poor in unsanitary quarters in our tenement districts and the neglect of precautions for the safety of employees in shops and stores. Without any chance to defend themselves they were stripped and beaten by the angry mob and then remanded to jail, and were made fast in stocks in the inner prison.

2. Their behavior in jail (v. 25). They were praying and singing hymns to God. It seems quite natural that they should pray under such conditions, but to sing hymns under such circumstances is astonishing to all who have not come into possession of the peace of God through Christ. Even with their backs lacerated and smarting, and feet fast in stocks compelling the most painful attitude in the dungeon darkness of the inner prison, with a morrow before them filled with extreme uncertainty, their hearts went up to God in gratitude.

3. Their deliverance (v. 26). The Lord wrought deliverance by sending a great earthquake which opened the prison doors and removed the chains from all hands.

II. The Conversion of the Jailer (vv. 27-34).

The jailer's sympathy did not go but very far for the prisoners, for after they were made secure he went to sleep. The earthquake suddenly aroused him. He was about to kill himself, whereupon Paul assured him that the prisoners were all safe. This was too much for him. What he had heard of their preaching and now what he had experienced caused him to come as a humble inquirer after salvation. Paul clearly pointed out the way to be saved—"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ." The word "believe" means to yield to and fully obey. The proof that the jailer was saved is threefold:

1. Transformation from brutality to tenderness.
2. Confession of Christ in baptism.
3. His whole household baptized.

III. The Magistrates Humbled (vv. 35-40).
The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates. They gave leave for the prisoners to go, but now they refuse to go, claiming that their rights as Roman citizens have been violated, and demand a public vindication. Paul was willing to suffer for Christ's sake, but he used the occasion to show them that persecuting men who preach the gospel is an offense against the law of God and man.

IV. Preaching in Thessalonica (vv. 17-19).

At Thessalonica he found open hearts. He followed his usual custom of going first to the Jew (v. 1). After witnessing to the Jews he went to the Gentiles. Concerning the Christ he affirmed:

1. "It behooved Christ to suffer" (v. 3). No plainer teaching is to be found anywhere than the suffering of Christ (Isa. 53).
2. The resurrection of Christ from the dead (v. 3).
3. The kingship of Jesus (v. 7).

The result of this preaching was that many Greeks, some Jews believed.

V. Preaching in Berea (vv. 10-15).
His method here was the same as at Thessalonica. He entered the Jewish synagogue and preached Jesus unto them. The Bereans received the gospel with glad hearts. Two striking things were said about them:

1. They received the message gladly.
2. They searched the Scriptures daily for the truthfulness of their preaching. All noble minds have (1) an openness to receive the truth; (2) a balanced hesitancy; (3) a subjection to rightful authority.

Exhortation to Holiness.
And the Lord make you to increase

THE OLD CHURCH
Far out in the open country stands the old church, its spire lifted high into the blue. At one side is the parsonage painted white with green blinds, at the other the weathered horse-sheds not so much needed as in the days before the advent of the flivver. Back of the church are white headstones.

The passing motorist may give this old church only a hasty glance, but that is because he is blind to its real significance. If he had insight his attitude would be like that of the Hebrew seer in the wilderness before the burning brush. Here is one of the springs from which arises the stream on whose banks grow the trees whose leaves are for the healing of the nations of the world.

More than any other influence the old church keeps the farmers around about from becoming Robinson Crusoes. It stands for sociability and not for solitariness. What picnics in the grove, what Fourth of July field days, what excursions on the river, what jolly socials and entertainments the members of the old church congregation have promoted!

But, most important of all, the old church is a reminder to the countryside that the world has a sky, that life has height as well as length and breadth. Here those who have felt the onward drag of the world have been braced for the upward climb. Here young people have heard inspiring interpretations of the faith of their fathers and have themselves formed high purposes which have had a controlling and abiding influence upon their lives. Within these sacred walls sorrowing hearts who have just stood by the open graves of their loved ones have listened to words of comfort and immortal hope.

It is not only the country community for miles around to which the old church has been a benediction, but also out from its influence have gone choice youths who later in the cities, as they bore great responsibilities, have stood for the rugged virtues which they were taught and saw exemplified in the old church. And when there are those who talk deprecatingly of the country church, they say, as did Daniel Webster in his great defense of Dartmouth College, "I know it is a little college; but, sir, there be those who love it."—Country Gentleman.

We have not been informed just when the meeting will close. But it will probably continue through next week.

At a meeting of the Santa Anna school board Tuesday night, Miss Lillian Sandle of Huntsville, Texas, was elected as primary teacher of the public school for the ensuing term. W. L. Mills was appointed to a place on the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. W. L. Davidson.

STORM'S MAJESTY CAUGHT BY CAMERA

The majestic grandeur and the frequently fatal results of a terrific thunder and lightning storm are shown in "The Stealers," William Christy Cabanne's powerful story of the humanites, a Robertson-Cole super-special, which will begin a two day run at the Best Theatre, beginning Monday, Sept. 5th.

The storm shown in the picture is not a make-believe one, staged especially for the screening of the play. The scene was the last taken by Mr. Cabanne, who directed as well as wrote the famous film. It was taken last because Mr. Cabanne, a disciple of David Wark Griffith, and therefore a believer in profound realism, deferred its filming until the scene could be taken under actual storm conditions.

Inasmuch as atmospheric disturbances are not as yet being made to order, Mr. Cabanne had a long wait. But his patience was amply rewarded for when the storm finally arrived on location near Haverstraw, N. Y., it was everything that Mr. Cabanne could have desired. His cameraman, George Benoit, one of the best in the profession, succeeded in so manipulating his camera that the storm, with its long and sustained lightning flashes, was photographed perfectly.

So obliging did the storm prove that a bolt struck directly behind the house which had been erected by Mr. Cabanne for the specific purpose of being destroyed by lightning. As the building became enveloped in flames and the firemen arrived more than 5,000 townspeople gathered to watch the spectacle, despite the raging of the elements. The rescue of several persons from the burning building and the realism of the storm photography makes this scene one of the outstanding ones of the picture.

The scenic splendors of "The Stealers" are only surpassed by the heart-gripping, soul-elevating plot. The story revolves about a preacher of the Gospel who, submitted to suffering, turned against God and sought to avenge himself against the Creator by leading a life of crime under the cloak of his calling. How he is made to see the error of his ways and is won back to the true functions of his calling forms the most moving climax that has ever been seen on the screen in the opinion of experts.

William H. Tooker, a well known actor of the stage and screen, plays the part of the minister. The others leading players include Ruth Dwyer, Norma Shearer, Jack Crosby, Walter Miller, Jack O'Brien and Matthew L. Betz.

ADVERTISING TALK

The way multitudes of business houses have gone on to fame through the pathway of advertising would make a romance equal to the most glowing fiction.

A large manufacturer of food specialties had used magazine advertising for some time, and had secured a little distribution everywhere, but his life was not much of a factor in any place. In Chicago 250 grocers were handling his product in 1919. A newspaper advertisement was placed, and the grocer went on to secure to grocer the product and of the time he was going to be advertised in that city. Along with 4000 dealers were sold an aggregate of 23,000 cases of the goods before the advertising began a few weeks later. These dealers bought the stuff because they knew from experience what could be done by a good advertising campaign. They knew the public would call for the advertised product, and they did not want to confess themselves behind the game by no having it.

The advertising manager of the Ford Motor Company says that an announcement occupying 360 lines of advertising in 148 newspapers, costing the company less than $6,000, was the big factor in selling 338,771 automobiles.

The Chevrolet Motor Company estimates that it received returns worth $1,200,000 from one double page advertisement in a San Francisco newspaper. A newspaper advertisement costing $70 brought the Western Motor Car Company of Los Angeles, sales of 205 cars worth $96,145.

Human nature is possibly the same in Santa Anna as in Chicago or New York or San Francisco. If you have a good thing, you can persuade those who need it to buy it, if you tell them about it, and it makes no difference whether you are running a big automobile or food product business or a retail store.

ALL MUST STAND HITCHED

(From Farm and Ranch)

When the late world's war got under way and fighting forces and those engaged in other work necessary to make the world fit for democracy and liberty had to be fed and clothed, there was much anxiety over the shortage of food and fibers. A hue and cry went up from every source to the producers urging them to "speed up production." Producers opened wide the throttle and produced beyond the expectation of the most sanguine. In fact, they over-produced and when the war ended prices slumped and losses put the producers on the financial toboggan. The producers found themselves over-stocked, prices for their products many times below actual cost of production and a stingy demand for their surplus, even at the ruinous prices for what they found demand.

Taxes were increased and prices for what they did not produce and had to buy remained at the peak. Wages, salaries and most every manufactured article continued at their former high level. Manufacturers and dealers still claimed for themselves the privilege of selling at high cost of production plus a war-time profit. The farmer growled and suffered. Now many dealers and manufacturers are coming to realize that they, like the producer, must take a loss and avail themselves of the same privilege as the farmer took advantage of, i. e., to growl. Salaries and wages in most cases are the last to be hit by the leveling process, and wage workers are grumbling and striking while big salary getters are growling and getting their organized friends, while they are holding to their jobs, to pass resolutions against salary slicing.

All must stand hitched quietly if they can, but stand they must, until the leveling process hits all alike and is completed.

There's nothing seriously wrong with this good old country except high taxes, incompetent government and pessimism. All will come out in the weekly wash if regularly and well done. The farmer has quit growling and gone to work again. Mr. Farmer says to business, "Let's go," and the rest should prepare for the business race that the farmer is ready to have start.

It will not be long before the rest of the people now hungry and needing clothes, will be helping the farmer to speed up production. The farmer was the first knocked down and he will be first to rise up to welcome the new prosperity.

The politician may hitch their wagon to a star, but is frequently a fixed star.

Mrs. M. A. Beckman of Thrackmorton visited her sister, Mrs. W. L. Close last week.

Santa Anna wants your business.

Good advice: Follow your own advice.

The man who knows all things is not poor. He is rich in conceit.

Some people are in no possible danger of being killed by over work. They never do any.

When a woman sees her beauty others see her vanity.

The wisdom of the wise man does not always protect him from the foolishness of a fool.

Study the good points of the man you don't like. He may possess some of your own.

Very few men believe in gossip, but did you ever hear one who failed to listen?

Some people are such inveterate liars they are never believed when they tell the truth.

People who respect themselves are never without the respect of others.

All a fellow has to do to be good these days is to quit being bad.

Out of sight is not always out of mind. Sometimes the absent one forgets to pay up.

A hearty appetite is a choice possession. It helps the grocer along.

There isn't a person in this town who eats three square meals a day. They are always scrambled.

It requires brains to keep the pace today. And possibly that accounts for so many people ambling along at night.

All people are not crazy who act that way. It is just the modern way of acting smart.

Inquisitive people are seldom satisfied with what they learn. They always imagine that the pump didn't work freely.

Good enough! The tax exemption figure is to be $2,500 next year, and by dint of extreme prodigality the poor man may be able to keep his net income within that figure.

Buy your next bill of goods in Santa Anna.

When experience is to be the teacher there are few who care to learn.

The question of cleaner money does not interest us to any great extent. What we want to know is when we are to get more of it.

"Socks have no visible means of support," says a brother editor. But that depends upon the sex.

Marriage is allottery in which they frequently scrap over the prize.

Good advice is a thing of great value that few people care to pick up.

We admire the man who readily admits that there are smarter men than himself. He has reached the age where the assimilation of knowledge and wisdom is not difficult.

Bring your cotton to Santa Anna and see that live set of buyers take to it.

In the midst of plenty we have pellagra. Cowpeas, hens and cows will prevent and cure pellagra. East Texas take notice and save doctors' bills by balancing the ration.

Instead of "cussing" the other fellow, why not head him off by learning a better way of attending to our own business?

The business men of Santa Anna invites you to do your trading here.

"Dar's a good time a-comin'" is an old-time echo in the writer's memory. Bet you a million "dar's a good-time a-comin'" and it's going to arrive ahead of the next crop of June weddings.

There are too many people trying to regulate the morals and life of others by law and force. Precept and example might prove a better way.

Producing more economically and managing his affairs in a more business like way is sure to bring prosperity to the farmer.

A hog in the smokehouse is worth to the producer nine in the packing house.

If you are not a regular reader of the News and a copy of this week's paper falls into your hands, it is an invitation to you to subscribe and become a regular reader.

Anyway, a wise man is wise until a pretty woman makes him act the fool.

WHY TRADE AT HOME?

Many people ask that question, but very few trouble to seek the answer. Why should people patronize their home merchants?

Because it is a great saving of time, and time today represents money.

Because the home merchant can only remain in business through the patronage of home people, and a town without merchants would be a sorry place in which to live.

Because the home merchant sells goods that do not have to be returned because of defects or inferiority of quality. It is the only way in which a local man can hold his trade.

Because the local merchant is not in the habit of charging excessive prices. You may at times be able to get the same article elsewhere for a little less money, but the quality will invariably be reduced in proportion to price. The local merchant can not afford to sell "cheap" stuff. His customers would not tolerate it.

Because the prosperity of a community depends upon the amount of money in circulation in the community, and that is regulated mainly by the marketing of surplus products abroad and the keeping of as much as possible of the deceipts at home.

Because a community that spends most of its money abroad for supplies soon finds that it has but little left for the purchase of additional supplies.

It is so simple a child could understand it, and what a child can comprehend should not go unheeded by adults.

Think it over.
Thinking may accomplish much good. It certainly will do no harm.

AUTOMOBILE TAXATION

When certain well meaning people discuss means for augmenting the federal revenue they suggest adding another tax to the automobile.

They go on the theory that if a man has money enough to own a car he can afford to pay an additional tax for the pleasure of its use, apparently giving no thought to the fact that the car owner is already paying heavily for that privilege.

When the tax assessor comes around he lists a man's automobile as a part of his property, upon which taxes are paid.

He pays an annual license fee to the state and to the city in which he lives. It is true, however, that in some of the smaller towns no city license is required.

He pays an excessive price for the gas and oil which he uses, and in some states one cent a gallon of the cost of gas goes into the tax fund. This simply adds a cent to the price of gas.

There are many excellent automobile repair men, but the country is overrun with a lot of sharks who know about as much about the mechanism of a car as a doctor does about shoeing a horse. The car owner does not find these birds out until they put his car on the "blink" and they have to have the work done over again. The law affords them no protection against these sharks, unless he takes the matter into court in the way of a civil suit.

If a pedestrian or a child suddenly steps in front of a moving car without warning and is injured it is always the driver who is at fault and who pays the bill. Public sentiment never concedes that it is possible for him to be in the right.

The automobile is in greater use today than the horse and buggy, and motor vehicles are rapidly displacing the wagon in commercial use.

We hear no crying demand for placing a special tax on wagons and buggies, or horses or mules.

And yet periodically some excellent citizen arises and demands that the motorist be soaked again.

The car owner has been well plucked as it is.

He should not be pared to the bone.

This week we are making special effort to place a copy of the News in every home in the Santa Anna country, and we hope to be able to do so. Our first object in mailing out one thousand sample copies of the News free, is to invite the readers to bring their cotton and other farm crops to Santa Anna this fall to market and also do your fall trading with the Santa Anna merchants. The stores in Santa Anna are well filled with the newest and most up-to-date merchandise the market affords, and we understand from the business men of Santa Anna that they are going to sell for a very reasonable profit this season. At least, it will pay for every farmer who gets a copy of this paper to come to Santa Anna and give us a trial. Our cotton buyers are paying the highest prices for cotton of any buyers we have heard of and our merchants are selling goods at prices much cheaper than they have been able to sell at since before the war. Our banking facilities are second to none, and, in fact, from a business standpoint, Santa Anna stands at the head of the list with out-stretched hands for business to all who will come our way. Come to Santa Anna where high prices have been forgotten, to buy your supplies and market your products, and if your trip is not satisfactory, tell the News editor wherein you were mistreated and we will see the wrong is righted if in our power to do so, and the person committing the act is invited to pass on to some other place.

WE ARE READY FOR FALL BUSINESS

With a big stock of most everything that you'll want to include in your fall buying and you will like our low prices too. Don't fail to visit our ladies' ready-to-wear department.

Writing Materials.

One must always be reminded of the quill by the word "pen," because that word comes from the Latin "penna," which meant "feather," and in this connection it is interesting to note that our word "pencil" comes from the Latin "penicillus," which meant "a little brush" or the tail or "brush" of an animal. Also let us be reminded that the Romans called their black ink, blacking, and that our word "ink" comes to us through the French from "encensum," which was the red ink used by Roman enumerators.
