CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our good friends and neighbors for the kindness and many useful gifts presented to us since the losing of our home by fire. It is such a great consolation to be remembered in a substantial way by so many. May peace, health and happiness be your reward.

PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN

This is the Bird who writes the stuff you see in Editors' waste paper baskets. He sits a Nasty Pen and scribbles Mean Unsigned Letters about Folks for the Paper, but they never see print. His name is "Anonymous" but that isn't what the Editor calls him.

SANTA ANNA GETS FIRST BALE

Last Friday, August 5, Santa Anna received her first bale of new cotton. It was brought in by Mr. Lewis Hickey of the Gouldbusk community, ginned at the Turner gin and weighed 498 pounds.

S. W. Childers & Co., purchased the cotton at 12 1-2 cents, then paid an extra premium of 2 1-2 cents. Mr. Hickey received $77.00 for his bale of cotton and the business men of the town made up a premium of $66.50 which made a net sum of $143.50 in cash and a free dinner at the Mecca Cafe.

The bale was resold to Southern Products Co., of Dallas, G. A. Wall of Brownwood doing the buying. The cotton was shipped to Brownwood Friday night by express.

The first bale last year was brought in August 31, by J. L. Simmons and was bought by S. W. Childers & Co. for $28.50 per hundred.

In 1919 the first and second bales were received on the same day, August 27, Jap Halford getting his bale on the market a little ahead of J. V. Harris and taking the premium. These bales brought $30.25 and 29c respectively, both being bought by S. W. Childers & Co.

So far as we have been able to learn the earliest bale on record was brought in some years ago on August 1. In a general way an early crop is usually a short crop.

Following is the list of those who donated to the cause:

A HAPPY EVENT

Mrs. B. Edmundson, Mr. Ernest Edmundson and family, Mr. Will Bartlett, Mrs. Hiram Bartlett and daughter of Rice motored into this place Tuesday afternoon to visit the Bartlett families. Later Mr. Will Bartlett and family of Ballinger arrived to meet the relatives. By night these were joined by Ed McCorkle and family making a total number of twenty-seven.

Wednesday afternoon the crowd went to Home Creek. Immediately after arriving part of the crowd spent a pleasant hour in the water. Later supper was spread to which everyone did justice.

The visitors left Thursday morning.

LOST—Saturday, August 5, gold watch chain with Keystone attached, either in Santa Anna or Coleman or between the two places. Reward—J. H. Green, Santa Anna, Texas.

THE COUNTRY WOMEN'S SPIRIT

People who are traveling about the rural districts are impressed by the number of farms where the difficulty created by low prices is being met by the women going out into the fields to do farm work. On many farms prosperity will prevail this year, because owing to the help given in the fields by his wife and daughters, the farmer has had to hire but little help. This is the kind of spirit that is not baffled by any difficulties.

A farmer who has women in his home that show this fine spirit, should co-operate by giving them the best labor saving household machinery. The stores of Santa Anna can show him household equipment that will make his women folks very happy.

BEAUTIFYING COUNTRY TOWNS

The pioneers who settled many country towns had no taste. They built their houses close to the road and removed all trees from their business center. They felt the open country was close by, and if anyone wanted rural sights he could go outside the village.

In others the old settlers planted trees in their trade centers instead of removing them, and surrounded their homes with shrubbery. As the years passed, these places have become centers of beauty, and people move into them as attractive residence towns. No country town is developing right, unless it has a lot of young trees coming along to fill up bare spots.

GARDEN CITIES

Many cities and towns have made the effort to develop into what they call "garden cities." In a good many cases, manufacturing concerns would buy up tracts of land for their employees, and lay them out with beautiful parks, and try to promote a high level of care and attractiveness.

The residents in such places show the effect of their finished community life. Neat and beautiful surroundings make the people who enjoy them self-respecting, and they feel they must live up to higher standards.

AN EXPRESSION

In our desire and search for riches we neglect, sometimes, what is at our door, and in fact, under our feet. We try to see the glittering gold elsewhere, not taking the time and thought for what is at our arms length.

Good towns and great cities we are helping to build in and out of Texas daily, by contributing in trade, investment and in recreation given by our own people who might have contributed in building and developing our own town and country if they had traded and spent at home. This is all right to a degree, but what are we doing for the County and Town in which we live toward making it a better country and place in which to live?

Texas is a great state, and Coleman County is a great county, Santa Anna can be and should be the central thought of opportunities and advantages of Coleman County.

Who can make it so? One man cannot. Two men cannot. Five men cannot. But Santa Anna and her trade territory working as a unit can do this. It is just and right that every one should take care of his own affairs, but at the same time he is obligated to his town and community for a service for the general good of the people of his town and country.

How many in Santa Anna are willing to render this service beginning now in order to get things moving? Conditions are not good, we all know this. But that is no reason that we should quit the job. If we quit our friends and neighbors will fall heir to what is ours while we wait.

Let's let the country know what we have.

Let's lead in business revival.

Let's tell the country in general and the County in particular what we have to offer them, what we have to sell them and also that we want to see our farmer friends get the very best market price possible for their different farm products.

Let's make this place THE MARKET OF COLEMAN COUNTY!

Let's show the people that we have what they are looking for, whether it's investment opportunities, markets for home grown products, or if it's merchandise they are looking for let's tell them we have it and that our prices are right, or if it's a pleasant place in which to live, let's tell them of our advantages.

Let's exert that ambition that builds and benefits.

That County, that Section, that City or Town which takes first advantage of the business revival will go ahead while others are getting ready.

Now is the time to plan, to get ready, to tighten up the traces and get ready to go. ARE YOU READY?

Let's talk, think and believe prosperity and be ready and it will come.

E. M. RANEY.

TWO SPOTS

The people who buy food products that they should produce in their own gardens, are about the same ones who have to borrow money when they should have bank accounts of their own to draw from.

After buying new clothes every few months because the style changes, some folks wonder why they can never save any money.

The city folks come into Coleman county with their speeding automobiles and wear the roads all out, and then complain if they are asked to help fix up the rural highways.

BANK WILL INSTALL NEW FIXTURES

The First State Bank has received its first shipment of marble which will be used in the installation of new fixtures which will be completed by the first of next month. The fixtures will be of the latest design, known as the California vision type and will enhance the beauty of the interior surroundings of the bank as well as adding to the utility of the service.

SURPRISE TO MRS. J. R. GIPSON

Late last Tuesday afternoon members of the Parent-Teachers Association called at the home of Mrs. J. R. Gipson, their president, for a real surprise party. It is the purpose of this association to scatter sunshine and roses in life's pathway and this is only the beginning of the many surprises they have in store for all patrons of Santa Anna schools.

Befitting remarks of good wishes to Mrs. Gipson in her new home were made by Mrs. Mike Meyer, after which refreshments, brought by members were served.

The following were present:

Mesdames Ed Baxter, Greer, Clinton, Lowe, Jones, Stiles, Brown, Fred Turner, Childers, Blue, W. E. Faulkner, Mike Meyer, J. R. Gipson and Grandma Gipson.

Every good citizen of Santa Anna is invited to join the Parent-Teachers Association and are assured much benefit will be derived therefrom.

Rev. R. A. Crosby returned this week from his vacation. He reports fine crop conditions in Ellis, Navarro and Limestone counties, much better than anything west of there, that he saw. He also reports having a good meeting at Thornton, Texas. There were 30 odd professions and the church people greatly revived. He visited his two brothers and his mother in Navarro county. His brothers are successful farmers in that section.

Mrs. A. Gardner of Dallas, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mike Meyer, returned home Sunday. She was accompanied home by little Miss Hortense Meyer, who will spend the winter and enter school in Dallas.

MEETING AT TRICKHAM

To The News:
 The writer closed a two week's meeting with the Baptist church at Trickham Monday, which resulted in twenty-seven accessions to the church, nineteen of which were by baptism. It was a gracious meeting, and the entire community felt the uplift.

To the writer the two weeks spent there were days that shall never be effaced from memory. It was with this church and community that the writer began his work as a boy preacher—this church called for his ordination to the ministry, and, therefore, it was his first pasorate. The church called for his ordination in the summer of 1895, and for two years he served, as an untutored and inexperienced boy. The people generally without regard to denominational affiliations were then kindly considerate, and hence through the years the ideals to which he has held have clustered somewhat around "The old free state of Trickham." The first time he ever administered the ordinance of baptism was in old Muke-water creek, which flows through the edge of the town. It was just twenty-five years almost to an hour from the time he first administered baptism to when he stood there a week ago Sunday afternoon and saw pastor A. M. Dowell, administer the ordinance to those who received baptism. There were but few faces in the community that were familiar. Yet there were many who were young people then that are now citizens of the community who recalled the days long gone when they were refinded. But, almost all the older ones have passed out and gone to their reward or else moved to other localities.

But the scenes of the old village and the few faces that were familiar and the goodly number of new-made friends all contribute to make it one of the happiest experiences of the writer in a long time. Trickham is no longer the wild frontier village of former days, but a community with fine educational advantages for a community its size, and with excellent moral and religious life. The writer leaves the splendid people there after this second short sojourn, with the same delightful memories he has always had concerning them through the years. Pastor Dowell is a fine yoke-fellow.

D. M. WEST.

A picnic and barbecue is staged for the 16th, at Trickham. All who are interested will take notice and attend. Ball games, tournaments and goat roping contests are part of the features.

THE WOMAN GOD CHANGED AT THE BEST THEATRE

Monday and Tuesday, 15th and 16th a drama of a woman whom fate cast down to raise again recreated.

A drama of love and re-generation, set in city slums and splendor, in the grandeur of tropical isles.

A story of a woman who trod the primrose path. The only path she knew, until fate snatched her from her false existence and showed her the way to happiness.

A romance of Broadway and Southern Seas, of a hectic race for pleasure, stilled in the peace of a lonely isle. Of a life unworthy, cleansed by trial and wreck that taught a man and a woman how to live—and love.

CROWDING AND HEALTH

An interesting showing of the effect of population congestion upon health was recently made in Birmingham, England. It was found that in its central districts, where population averaged 83 per acre, the death rate was 17 per 1000. And in the suburbs of the same city, where population averaged 5 per acre, the death rate was only 9 per 1000.

Illustrations like this could be multiplied, and they indicate how much better off the people are in a city like Santa Anna where there is plenty of room, than they are in a crowded metropolitan center. They also show how desirable it is in house building, that there be ample room around houses and sufficient air space and opportunity for gardening and other healthful outdoor life.

A SHOWER

Mrs. L. Gober assisted by her several neighbors, recently gave a shower for the benefit of Mrs. Paul Craig, who had the misfortune to lose her household effects in a fire.

Those attending were Mesdames England, Dunn, Bivins, Dodgen, Douglass, DeRusha, Bivins, Richardson, Harris, Guthrie, Cammack, Moseley, and Gober and Misses Ruby Daniels, Elethe Bivins, Essie Dodgen, Ester and Ida Gober, Ethel Moseley and Nettie Richardson.

A large number of useful gifts were presented and Mrs. Craig gladly received them.

The editor is putting forth his very best efforts to get his family moved to Santa Anna and thinks now there is a probable chance of accomplishing his task. At least we have been able to rent a house and now as soon as we can secure transportation we will have them brought over. There is only three-quarters of a dozen of them.—Santa Anna News.

Editor J. J. Gregg and Mrs. Gregg and all of the little Greggs, are just like others; having once lived in Stephenville, it is but natural that the moving away act should be attended with an unusual degree of slowness. In this instance we are regretting that there is to be any moving done. But inasmuch as J. J. has started this moving business the Empire is hopeful that they will move back again, as hundreds before them have done. In the meantime may success and good health be their portion in their new home. If Santa Anna people fail to discover that the town has an 18 karat asset in gaining the citizenship of these good people, there is something wrong with 'em! But they will not fail to soon make the discovery and furnish the News with all the business it can turn out, we trust.—Stephenville Empire.

Editor and Publisher: No more convincing illustration of the efficiency of newspaper advertising has been presented than the experience of the Literary Digest. Five years ago when the magazine had 350,000 circulation the directors decided that a larger circulation was desirable and that the only way to get it was through advertising. For four years $1,000,000 was invested annually in 400 leading newspapers in the United States with the result that today the magazine has a circulation of 1,300,000, and its income has been increased more than 360 per cent. Would it have been possible for the Literary Digest to secure such returns from any other medium? We believe not. Newspaper advertising presents its messages when people are in a receptive mood. Appearing as it does in a medium that is welcomed and read in practically every household it is bound to attract the attention of masses of people, and if the article advertised possesses real merit, large sales are sure to follow.

Mrs. Alma Brinkley of Coleman was in the city Tuesday and paid this office a call while here.

BROWNWOOD GIRL HAS TALENT AS CARTOONIST

DRAWING MAGGIE AND JIGGS

Brownwood has developed a real cartoonist who can take a piece of chalk and reproduces pictures with amazing accuracy and speed. This gifted chalk artist is Miss True Rainey, and her handiwork may be seen almost every day on the glass windows of the Rainey restaurant on South Broadway, where she portrays the troubles of Jiggs and Maggie in an original and humorous way, all of the drawings being original and have never been seen in any of the regular cartoon drawings of this famous couple.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Miss Rainey formerly lived here and has relatives living in Santa Anna at present.

J. J. Hill and family and Mr. and Mrs. R. Hill have returned from a ten day's sightseeing trip to San Antonio and other places. After returning they visited relatives in Anson and Stamford.

HOUSE HAS PASSED ELEEMOSYNARY BILL

MEASURE ADOPTED UNDER SUSPENSION OF RULES IN ORDER TO PUSH WORK.

Austin, Texas.—Under suspension of the constitutional rules of the House, the Senate bill appropriating $5,748,335 for the support of the State eleemosynary institutions for the next two years was finally passed.

As finally passed in the House, the bill contains an amendment by Pope of Nueces requiring that all funds not used for the specific items set out in the bill be returned to the State Treasury.

Austin, Texas.—Three important bills were finally passed by the Senate Saturday morning. They were, first, the bill by Senators Witt and Willis, providing that cases appealed to the court of Criminal Appeals be not reversed on account of immaterial irregularities; second, the bill by Senator Hertzberg abolishing the use of chains in the penitentiary system and limiting the use of the "bat" and third, Senator Rogers' bills authorizing the Board of Control to lease the American Legion Hospital at Kerrville to the Federal Government.

The bill by Witt and Willis, over which such a fight was waged Friday, was passed peacefully by a vote of 16 to 6, with three pairs, the opposition having become convinced that further discussion was useless.

Senator Hertzberg's penitentiary bill changes the present law on the subject in several particulars. Chains are absolutely abolished, the bat is permitted only in case of mutiny or attacks on guards or convicts and even then may not be applied to the bare skin, and the penalty for the bat's use are strengthened.

Other bills introduced in the Senate are as follows:

By Senator Williams of Wise county and others: An act providing a specific method of removing Prison Commissioners by the filing of suits in the District Court of Walker County or in the counties of the residence of the defendants. At present Prison Commissioners slated for removal must be tried in Travis County.

By Senator Burkett, by request: An act placing unsurveyed school lands on the same basis as school lands in so far as mineral development is concerned.

By Senator Richards, by request: An act to prohibit, under penalty of $25 to $100 fine, fishing with line or seine in fresh waters of the State during the months of March and April.

Carrying approximately $100,000 more than the committee majority asked, the House finally passed the educational appropriation bill.

As the bill came from the committee, it provided total appropriations for the next two years of $9,125,044. As the House amended it, the sum is now $9,225,044. The economy advocates in the House justify the increase by pointing to the fact that they have tied up the University available fund, amounting to $500,000, for the two years for building purposes only, and therefore it can not be used for maintenance.

A bill increasing the legal rate of official publications from 1c per word on first insertion and 1-2c on subsequent insertions to 2c per word on first insertions and 1c per word on subsequent insertions providing the rates of newspapers accepting such advertising are now lower than the rate specified.

A bill to permit incorporated cities by ordinance to permit trains to block certain streets longer than is now permitted under the general law.

Governor Neff sent six more subjects for legislation to the session Tuesday and more are to come, and there are twelve working days left. Included is legislation for the relief of State depositories, State and national banks, which lost the designation in the last competitive awards and because of the financial stringency, are unable to return State funds at this time.

The House adopted two Senate concurrent resolutions. One authorizes the Commissioner of the General Land Office not to forfeit school lands for nonpayment of interest until Aug. 25, 1922. The other authorizes the transfer of funds in the Adjutant General's department to the fund for traveling expenses of Rangers, the amount to be transferred not to exceed $5,000.

Austin, Texas.—R. V. Nichols, special agent for the Attorney General's office, appeared before the committee investigating Governor Neff's graft charges and told that the State shortage amounted to $685, while the shortage of the city of Houston came to $1,420.66.

The State shortage came about as a result of warrants drawn in favor of persons listed as being on the pay roll, but who actually did no work for the clinic and did not get the money. The Houston shortage arose through the fact that the $1,520.66 paid out had already been disbursed by the State Health Department and hence these accounts were paid twice.

Mr. Nichols said that he knew nothing about the $1,823.02 deposited to the credit of State Health Officer Manton M. Carrick.

Austin, Texas.—The Dear Law of the State of Texas would be repealed in its entirety and another law uniform with the national Volstead act would be passed by a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Hall of Wharton county.

Other bills introduced are as follows:

A bill recognizing and regulating the practice of optometry in the State of Texas. It was given favorable report by the Public Health Committee, with notice of adverse minority report by Senator Clark.

A bill providing that special charters cities, in fixing the charges imposed by public utilities in such cities shall base such charges on a fair value of the physical properties of such utilities and not on their stock bonds and other indebtedness.

A bill permitting navigation improvement districts to take over and complete harbor improvements started by a city. This is to take care of the Houston situation where the city is heavily bonded.

Bills finally passed Wednesday:

A bill to allow ice companies and companies manufacturing nonintoxicating beverages to operate in connection with their respective businesses general storage plants.

A bill authorizing Commissioners' Courts of any county having a population of 200,000 or a city of 160,000 to establish a law library in such county.

By a vote of 14 to 10, three pairs, the Senate killed Burkett's bill providing for the removal of officers by quo warranto proceedings when they failed to enforce the laws.

Senator Davidson's road patrol bill was finally passed by the Senate, but with an amendment by Senator Lewis of Grimes County that, by excepting close to 100 counties from its provisions, saps from it much of its strength.

Austin, Texas.—It is the general understanding among the guards of the prison system of Texas that if a convict escapes without the guard in charge of him getting blood, that guard is forthwith discharged from the system or laid off for a time.

So testified Guard Joan Wells of the Eastham farm before the legislative committee appointed to investigate the recent killing on the Eastham farm of Convicts Ludwig and Baldwin.

Wells was one of the two guards who, on July 22, shot and killed these two convicts as they were making an attempt to escape. Before Wells took the stand, two convicts, Clyde Clevenger and Jack Haynie, both formerly of Dallas, served as witnesses before the committee.

Clevenger, who was a witness to the killing, refused to answer most of the questions fired at him, on the ground that he still had some years to serve in the penitentiary and was afraid. He indicated that all the guards of the prison system of Texas were together in a kind of "syndicate," and that a prisoner who testified, adversely to this syndicate need expect no mercy, no matter to what farm he was sent.

Reductions aggregating $105,000 for the next two years in the salary list of A. & M. College are sought in an amendment offered in the House by Beasley of Hopkins.

The cuts range from 10 to 20 per cent, and in two instances there is a 25 per cent slicing. The Beasley amendment seeks to eliminate the emergency salary appropriation made by the second called session of the Thirty-Sixth Legislature, as also provided for in the Bonham amendment to the University budget, which was adopted last week. The Beasley amendment also cuts the president's salary from $7,500 to $6,600.

The name of W. H. Rand was withdrawn from the Senate Monday by Governor Neff, who had previously appointed him to be a member of the State Prison Commission and whose appointment had been sent to the Senate for confirmation.

The message of withdrawal advised that Mr. Rand has submitted his resignation and that it had been accepted.

Governor Neff, in a special message to the Legislature, submitted at the request of American Legion members of the Legislature, the subject of the American Legion Memorial Hospital at Kerrville for the purpose of amending the law creating the hospital and carrying $1,500,000 appropriation, so as to authorize the Board of Control to lease it to the Federal Government.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

Teacher of English, Bible of the Wesley
Bible Institute of Chicago

LESSON FOR AUGUST 14

PAUL IN ICONIUM AND LYSTRA.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 14:1-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve—Matt. 4:10.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matthew 23:1-12.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul's Narrow Escape at Lystra.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Early Adventurer in Asia Minor.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Examples of Paul's Missionary Methods.

I. Paul and Barnabas, Preaching at Iconium (vv. 1-7).
As to their work in Iconium observe:

1. Their manner of preaching. This is suggested by the little word "so" in verse 1. They "so" spoke that a great multitude believed. They were true preachers. Only that which brings conviction of sin and induces decision for Christ can be truly said to be preaching in the biblical sense. The same is true of the Sunday school teacher. Let every Sunday school teacher at all times have as his supreme aim to bear the gospel of Christ so as to induce decision for Christ.

2. Their attitude toward opposition. This is suggested by the word "therefore" in verse 3. "Long time therefore they tarried." The opposition did not prevent their preaching, but incited them to continue preaching. Christian workers should learn not to give up work because of opposition.

3. The Lord accompanied their preaching with miracles (v. 8). Since the opposition was so fierce, special help of the Lord was needed.

4. The effect of their preaching (v. 4). The multitude of the city was divided. Where men faithfully preach the gospel there will be division.

II. Attempt to Worship Paul and Barnabas at Gode (vv. 8-18).

1. The occasion (vv. 8-10)—the healing of the lame man. God's gracious power exhibited in healing this lame man occasioned a new difficulty. That which ought to have been a help was turned into a hindrance. The man was a confirmed cripple. He had never walked. He heard Paul's preaching, which caused faith to be born in his heart (Rom. 10:17). When Paul perceived that he trusted Christ, he called with a loud voice that all could hear for the man to stand upright. The cure was instant, for he leaped up and walked (v. 10). There was no magnetic touch, no treatment, only the command, and the naturally impossible became the possible and the real.

2. The method (vv. 11-13). They called Barnabas Jupiter and Paul Mercury, because he was the chief speaker. The priest of Jupiter brought oxen and garlands ready to offer sacrifices unto those men (v. 11). If they had only known, in the person of Jesus Christ God had actually appeared to men (John 1:14; Phil. 2:7, 8).

3. Their efforts frustrated (vv. 14-18). This foolish act was happily averted by the tact of the apostles, as exhibited in the address of the occasion. (1) They deny that they are divine beings and declare that to worship beings with like passion to themselves is criminal. (2) They direct them to turn away from these vain things unto the living God who made heaven and earth and has ever left witness of Himself in that He has always done good, giving rain and fruitful seasons, filling their hearts with gladness.

III. The Stoning of Paul (vv. 19-22). Wicked Jews from Antioch and Iconium pursued Paul with relentless hate to this place, where they stirred up the very people who were willing to worship them a little while ago. This shows that satanic worship can soon be turned into satanic hate. This hatred took form in stoning Paul and dragging him out of the city for dead. God raised him up, and with undaunted courage he pressed on with his duties as a missionary bearing the good tidings to the lost.

IV. The Organization of Churches in the Field (vv. 23-28). Evangelization with Paul did not mean a hasty and superficial preaching of the gospel but the establishment of a permanent work. Elders were appointed in every church. The work of the missionary is not done until there are established on the field self-governing and self-propagating churches.

The best way to bring about normal conditions is to act normal.

J. J. GREGG, Publisher and Owner

Friday, August 12, 1921

The writer has been trying to study the resources and several advantages to be found in the Santa Anna country, and to name them all would take up more time than we could well devote to one article. There is no question as to Coleman County being one of the leading counties in Central West Texas, from an agricultural standpoint, counting also the livestock industry, and Santa Anna is located in the heart of the best part of the county. People here seem to think they are hit pretty hard on account of the drought, but those who have been in other parts and seen how other sections of West Texas are suffering for rain, feel much better toward our home section. We know the drought has cut us short on a cotton crop, and the feed crop is not as good as it has been, but we consider that we have plenty of feed in the country to make another crop on, and we are going to get several thousand bales of cotton, though we are not going to get nothing like a full crop. From the estimates placed on the cotton crop for this year, the cotton growing states has the shortest acreage and the shortest crop by far it has had in many years, and the general outlook is fair for a good price. Take as a whole, the Santa Anna country is in much better shape than the other sections in this part of Texas. Think of our mineral resources, natural gas for fuel, abundance of good water for general use, the health conditions are good, no natural causes here for any kind of sickness. The country is generally underlaid with rich mineral substances, such as oil, gas and others, and many wonderful things can be said without exaggeration. Where can you find our equal from a standpoint of a good place to live and enjoy life? Our citizenship is not surpassed in the United States.

In this issue will be found an expression from our fellow townsman, E. M. Raney, which we feel sure will be received with interest and we hope will be accepted in the same spirit that it is intended. It appears that some of our business men are still trying to maintain a dream of hope that 1919-20 conditions are going to return and that they will have another opportunity to sell goods at long profits and make big money without much effort, but those days have passed and will never return again. Conditions are normal and all it takes to bring about better living conditions, more happiness and peace of mind is for the people to sober up in thought and get down to business in a business-like way and go to work to bring these things about. A discouraged business man will never do any good for himself or the town he does business in. A wilted stalk of corn will never produce a good ear of corn until it comes out of the kinks. If business is not as good as you would like for it to be, what is the solution? There is but one, and that is to get some "pep" in you, and go to pushing your business. Let the people know—the buying public—that you have merchandise to sell and are going to sell it just as cheap as it can be bought elsewhere. We know that goods and wares can be sold just as cheap in Santa Anna as can be sold anywhere, and we believe that our home merchants will sell goods just as cheap here as they are sold elsewhere, but the majority of the Santa Anna merchants have failed to let the buying public know it. This old stuff of "come back and tell your friends about us" is so old it has ceased to be a virtue, and the merchant who is ashamed to name the article and price of his goods in an advertisement need not expect the buying public to look them up in these days of liquidation. Merchants who are advertising for business are getting business and are fast on the road to normalcy. Mr. Raney's letter is intended for the general public and not to the business men alone.

"A FOND DREAM OF HOPE"

Notwithstanding the people are laboring in an unsettled state of mind, and the world conditions are such that has never existed before, we think, in our fond daylight dreams, that we can see the light of day approaching in the business world.

Just suppose that as you get up in the early morning, every citizen in this country could forget the past few months (which we just as well get out of our system) and go about their work and chores, whistling, singing, smiling and joking with their families and neighbors, with a ray of hope and sunshine in their daily lives, would it not make a new world from the very outset?

Give your families and neighbors what are justly due them, smile and bid them many good wishes, share your pleasures with others and bury your troubles to yourself. Think of the good old days that used to be and lets bring them back. The country is just as fertile, the fields are just as wide, the people are just as wise and Nature is just as great, and the only thing that we can find to mar the real pleasures of living is the grouch and indifference toward others the people seem to be drifting into. We are reminded of an old saying that we have often heard, everybody for self and the devil for all. Wake up, arise and do.

Awake, arouse and do; what's the use waiting for something to happen? Just get up and make something happen.

The worst thing one can do when business is not satisfactory is to confess it, and wilt like a weed in the midday sun. Business is fair if people just knew it. Sober up.

A discouraged business man will never boost a town. Boost and let us grow.

The editor, accompanied by the former editor, Walter Brandon, together with several of our small children paid Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Crum a short visit Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Crum have moved out one mile west of town and are going pretty strong in the poultry business, the editor and ex-editor having some poultry aspirations, paid the Crums a visit to see their fine bunch of Barred Rocks. The Crums have some fine birds.

SUNNY SQUIBETS

Many people are neglecting the large opportunities that come to those who keep their mouths shut and get busy.

A credit agency reported in regard to a certain applicant for a loan, that his assets consisted of eight children and a Ford. It could be said in his behalf that he had every incentive to save money.

No wonder our wives refuse to stay in the kitchen where they belong when the other day they put in a woman to preside over the National House of Representatives.

America is the land sought by the oppressed of all nations, particularly by those who want a place where they will never have to defend the country or pay taxes.

Fewer cases of sudden and distressing illness are expected after the anti-medical beer bill passes.

During the short skirt period the people who make it a business to loan small sums of money reported their trade quiet. A lot of folks who previously were always behind the game, for once found money sufficient to pay the bill. But with the passing of the flush times and considerable unemployment, the small loan man finds his business picking up. Some of them find so much demand that they are not giving accommodation except to old and tried customers. Some small loan men charge exorbitant rates of interest, defending themselves by the claim that they make many losses. Many of these small borrowers have to pay such high rates of interest that they eventually pay the principal several times over. The business men of any community ought to make some provision by which people who have a legitimate reason for borrowing small sums of money, can get it at reasonable rates of interest. When the poor man who needs money the most has to pay far higher to get it than the business man the community is not giving him the equal opportunity that America is supposed to provide.

Formerly the motto used to be Do and Dare, and now it seems to be Dwell and Delay.

It was a very long way to Tipperary, but Normalcy seems located still further in the back districts.

However the people who think that business will never be good again, will be kicking themselves in about a year or two that they did not have courage to take advantage of the opportunities that quiet times always bring.

Trouble with this country is they are turning out too many golf clubs and not enough hoes.

While the automobile drivers of Santa Anna ought to be more careful than they are, the time has gone when parents can safely turn children out to spend the whole day making mud pies in the middle of the street.

Claimed that in these times no one should demand more than $1.00 an hour for loafing.

So far no one has proposed to get up any exercise welcoming to citizenship the alien slackers who remained at home earning high pay while the native boys went to war.

The boys should study their arithmetic with more care, for if they don't they won't be able to figure how the ball teams stand on a percentage basis.

And the girls should study their chemistry carefully, as they will need it in order to know how to cover up their faces which are being spoiled by cosmetics.

Business can't be good until taxes come down, and taxes can't come down until business is good.

The boys are wearing the letters given them as prizes for school athletic work, but it is not reported that any of them have put their scholarship marks on their sweaters.

Great consternation is caused by the reduction of the army appropriation, as some of the useless army posts may have to be abandoned.

The prosperity of the concerns that sell sporting goods to the boys' schools, is equalled by that of the ice cream parlors located near the girls' colleges.

The business men now complain that there is nothing to do may be cussing themselves after the crops are harvested because they can't get goods delivered.

After the business girls get all fixed up for fascinating the men of the office, then they are ready to take hold and do a little work.

Being urged to cultivate habits of observation, the young men are giving the girls very careful and minute inspection.

The railroad men seem to want to strike and thus hit business so hard that more of their number will have to be thrown out of work.

Large numbers of speeding motorists who desire a vacation are getting one in the hospital.

Not true that the American people know nothing about history, as they can all give a full account of the Silk Shirt Era.

Monuments are being erected all over the country to commemorate the war, but the citizens of Santa Anna feel that their tax bill provide a commemoration that will keep the war quite fresh in their memories for some time.

The sporting crowd don't know much about Gettysburg or the Argonne, but they are prepared to prove that the Dempsey-Carpentier fight was the greatest battle in American history.

After running an ad for several months without telling the public of any new thing in their store, some merchants complain that advertising doesn't pay.

Everyone realizes the necessity of good roads. Yet many people fail to grasp the essential character of good sidewalks. A town with well paved walks along its business streets, with good paths reaching out into residence streets, gives an impression of comfort and modernity.

If a town's walks are substantial and well kept up, visitors feel confident that the community's business is run on an up-to-date and successful basis, and that it is a good town to trade in.

A good system of walks has a psychological effect on the people who use them. The man who goes stumbling along on a poor walk feels depressed and irritated by the uncomfortable traveling. He inwardly cusses the town that keeps itself up so poorly. He gets the depressed feeling that there is no life in the community and it is no use to try to push it ahead.

But give him a good walk on which to go about his errands, and he proceeds head up with confidence. He keeps saying to himself, this is a bright and live place, and we are on the gain, and we can't help going ahead. This inspires him, and the whole community with courage and optimism and they get out and do things. Every time you build a new piece of good sidewalk in this town you help push ahead the business of the place.

In this issue we have a report from Rev. D. M. West, who has just closed a revival meeting at Trickham. We are proud to publish such reports, and hope to publish many more from him and others.
