PEOPLE OF OUR TOWN

The Loafer hasn't done a lick of work since the famous "Work or Fight" order, when he shouldered a Dish-bucket and rallied to the Ship-yards. The Loafer was just naturally Born Tired and he's still Holding his Own. Besides that, He makes Every-body Else tired!

WANT TO EARN $5.00 ?

Then Present 10 Reasons Why You Should Trade at Home

Solely for the moral effect upon the readers of this paper, the News will conduct an essay-writing contest, in which each contributor will present 10 arguments, or reasons, why people should trade at home.

The contest will be open to every man, woman and child in the Santa Anna trade territory.

The contest will close April 15, 1921. All contributions must be filed in this office not later than Friday, April 15.

There will be three prizes, distributed as follows:

To the person submitting the ten best reasons for trading at home a prize of $5.00 cash will be awarded.

To the person submitting the next best ten reasons to the subject, a cash prize of $2.50 will be given.

To the person submitting the third best ten reasons to this subject, a year's subscription to the News will be given.

The three best contributions will be printed in the News following date of awards, together with the name of the contributor.

Three prominent business men of the town will act as judges in determining the merit of the arguments and announcing the awards.

All contributors must confine their arguments to not more than 250 words in the total sum. Each reason set out must be numbered from 1 to 10.

All contributions must be submitted in typewritten form, double spaced, written on one side of paper.

Let everybody contribute and make it unanimous!

Five perfectly good dollars are not to be "sneezed at" these days.

Banquet Monday Evening.

E. M. Raney, secretary of the chamber of commerce, advises the News that the table will be all set for every town builder and his lady at Hotel Harrod on next Monday evening at 7:30.

But the secretary must know whether you and your lady will be there in order to secure the full plate. To this end you are urgently requested to notify Mr. Raney not later than Monday morning early! Saturday will be a better date to advise the secretary, if you know that you can attend.

Arrangements can be made with the hotel management to furnish plates to any reasonable number, if the reservations are made sufficiently in advance.

Some Notable Birthdays.

There used to be carried in some of the great metropolitan papers of the country a column with the above heading, giving a short biography of those national characters whose anniversary fell on that date.

The feature if carried in those papers today would most assuredly have mentioned at least one character whose 62nd birthday fell on Saturday, the 19th—the justly immortalized William Jennings Bryan, the great American commoner.

Possibly as great a figure in the kingdom of God whose anniversary was celebrated the same date at the same age, was that of Rev. J. M. Reynolds, pastor of the Baptist church, Santa Anna. This grand old patriarch in wisdom, if not in years, was made to rejoice in the day, when his little Sunbeam and Junior B. Y. P. U. bands had Mrs. Bartlett make a huge white cake of his favorite ingredients and place upon his dinner table with 62 lighted candles upon it proclaiming the significance of the event.

The kindly young minister was led into the dining room by his eager and enthusiastic little granddaughtter who was a visitor at the home and who entered into the surprise with all the zeal of a lovable little fairy.

This is indeed a notable birthday, as meaningful to us who know him as the marking of the of the sixty-second year of usefulness of the inimitable Bryan, or can it be true "that no prophet is without honor save in his own country?"

The News would gladly carry this heading over a column each issue, giving a short sketch of the life and deeds of each citizen of the community whose birthday was celebrated during the week, but the natural shyness of so much of the available subject matter would cause the effort to default before it was fairly started.

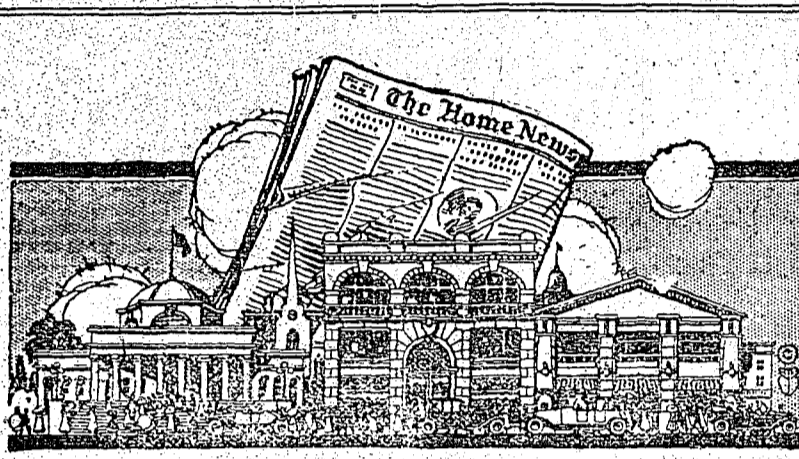

Local Political Pot Simmering.

The local political pot has begun to simmer in anticipation of the coming city election, when a mayor and two commissioners will be elected to administer the affairs of the town for the next two years.

A glance at the announcement column in today's News reveals a sufficient number of nominations made to add zest to the balloting, three names being placed there this week.

There is hardly a doubt that the present incumbents—the first administrative officers under the city's charter—would have been re-elected had they shown the least desire to retain the position, but it seems that their own preference is to retire with whatever laurels may attach to having served a people faithfully and efficiently.

Home Town Boosters

I always read the ads to see.

What Home Town Merchants offer me.

No coin of mine goes out of Town,

Each Ad I read, both up and down,

And find my Home Town Merchants' store

Won't soak my wad—and even more—

I save in time and don't pay freight;

He always gets my orders straight.

The goods are right in weight and price,

From feathered hats, to cakes of ice.

I thank my stars for getting wise

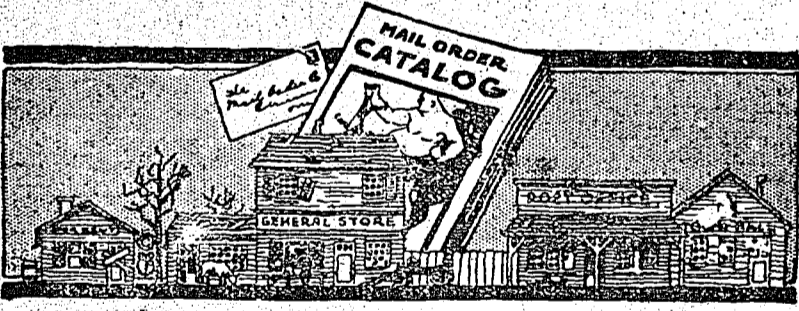

And trade in stores that ADVERTISE!

Right here at home I spend my kale,

No better goods are sold by mail!

I prosper now, so does my Town,

Thanks to these Merchants of renown.

Fruit Jars From Our Sand.

Not having a glass factory of our own, Santa Anna must suffer the exportation of its rich deposits of silica sand to a far removed section of the state and have it manufactured into fruit jars and other glass products of which we are constantly in need.

This week a carload of fruit jars were shipped to Santa Anna from a glass factory at Wichita Falls, which specializes in this form of glass manufacture, the material for which is shipped from this place at the rate of a carload each day. The fruit jars will supply Santa Anna custom and the adjacent inland communities.

But this practice of paying freight both ways on the raw and the manufactured products which we export and import is a fixed principle with us, as exemplified in our shipping our fat live stock to Ft. Worth and other far away markets, to have it butchered and sent back to us, plus freight and the packers' handsome profit.

Same with our cotton. We raise it by the wholesale, ship it to the eastern spinners for $40 per bale, and the manufacturer gets about $3,000 per bale for it when he turns it into Val-laces and returns it to us. We don't believe this economic waste will be tolerated a thousand years hence, as civilization "do move," if slowly. There is not much hope of this particular waste being eliminated within the present generation.

Working for Sidewalk Extension

A. N. McLeod has been circulating a subscription list this week for the object of constructing sidewalks and street and alley crossings front Wallace avenue south on the east side of Depot or Second street to the railway right-of-way, and it is understood that the property owners affected by the proposed extension have all signified their willingness to construct the walks in front of their respective properties.

The sum raised on the subscription list will be used to defray the cost of constructing the street and alley crossings; any surplus which may be derived from this source to go to the filling and grading of the street.

It is understood that Santa Fe officials have assured the chamber of commerce that the company will construct sidewalks on its right-of-way, which will provide an uninterrupted cement sidewalk from the station to Wallace avenue on both the east and the west sides of Second or Depot street.

This is an improvement which has long been needed and will add much to the general utility and attractiveness of this principal thoroughfare of the city.

Mr. McLeod has been aided in this enterprise by the secretary of the commercial club and the city commission, who have long felt the desirability of this extension.

"ARMENIAN NATION LOOKS TO U. S. FOR SUCCOR FROM DEATH"

Edwin M. Bulkley, Financier and Philanthropist, Defines Near East Relief Work.

New York.—"There is no spot on the globe today where there is more desperate and hopeless suffering than in Armenia," Edwin M. Bulkley, the well known New York banker, who has just been elected chairman of the board of trustees of Near East Relief, declared today. Mr. Bulkley succeeds the late Alexander J. Hemphill as head of the American relief work in Armenia, Turkey, Palestine, Syria, Mesopotamia and Persia. He has long been connected with the banking house of Spencer Trask & Co., and is thoroughly conversant with the Near Eastern situation.

"Elsewhere," Mr. Bulkley continued, "there is famine that tears at our heart-strings and evokes our pity and our help. But in Armenia it is not starvation alone that the people face—but starvation coming after six years' destruction, wrought by a war that has never ended and that today is not even ended. It is starvation following pestilence, and stalking hand in hand with death from exposure, from violence or from disease.

"In the mountains between Kars and Alexandropol there are 263,000 human beings without clothing, food or shelter in the bitter winter, who are wandering from place to place like people in a nightmare. Unless they are succored before the end of another month, they will all be dead. In southern Persia, the remnant of the ancient family of Chaldean Christians have been forced to renounce forever all hope of ever returning to the homeland where they have dwelt and flourished for 1,600 years, and to become pitiful fugitives, dependent upon the generosity of strangers for life itself. In Cilicia, 15,000 Armenian refugees have crowded into the coast regions seeking safety from the anarchy which reigns in the interior, in terror for their lives. They live from day to day on the food which is given them in the soup kitchens established by the Near East Relief. Scattered throughout the Near East, there are some 7,790,490 Armenians, the remainder of a nation of 4,000,000, who have neither government, country, homeland, shelter or hope of regeneration, save that which lies in the great heart of America.

"It is a tragedy so stupendous that it is difficult for us to grasp its meaning. A whole nation, a living, Christian people, face to face with extermination today, unless we help. We shall see an entire nation disappear from the face of the earth before our eyes if we withhold our hand now, when the call comes to us to save by giving, or by inaction to condemn to death.

Save the Children!

"Perhaps we cannot save all the grown people of this oldest Christian nation in the world. But at least we can save the little children who hold the future in their hands. They have wronged no one. They have harmed no one. And they have suffered through the precious years of childhood a calvary of agony and wretchedness. For three years the Near East Relief, an American organization, incorporated by Congress, has built up the nucleus of a new generation in the Near East, with the little children that it has taken in from the roadside and barren places, and nursed back to health, fed, clothed, housed and educated, in the name of the American people who have furnished the funds for this great work.

"This has been our signal contribution to the world's future peace—that tens of thousands of these little ones shall all their lives look to us with gratitude and faith. It is a seed of world brotherhood that we have sown. Shall we let it die now?

"The Near East Relief is appealing to the American people for the money to go on with this work—to keep these little ones alive and to save this martyred Christian people. Sixty dollars per year—$10 per month—feeds a child. We have taken this great responsibility upon us. A whole nation looks to us in faith and trust.

"We cannot betray them now." Contributions may be sent to Cleveland H. Dodge, Treasurer, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City.

DOES TRAINING PAY?

At the present time the business world is passing through a temporary depression. Although conditions have been improving, a great number of industries are laying off employes, cutting salaries, and getting down to a rock-bottom efficiency basis.

Which class of employes are released at a time like this—the trained worker or the unskilled man who has no special ability? The untrained man is always the first to go. He is never sure of his job, and even when working draws a low salary.

The man or woman who knows how to do some one thing well, the man or woman who is prepared for his or her work, is the one that stays on the payroll and the one that draws the best salary.

Specialized training will lift anyone above the masses. Ability is nothing but an average brain specially prepared. Such training is necessary to success in this age of specialization. Brains are at a premium. There are plenty of men and women for the ordinary job that pays an ordinary salary, but the demand for high-priced workers for big jobs is always greater than the supply.

Do you realize that you can put yourself in the class of the trained worker in a few months' time? By enrolling at once in the largest business training institution in America, with a faculty of over thirty specialized teachers, all modern office equipment, using the Famous Byrne Systems of Business Training, and let us give you the most thorough, complete and practical training that can be had, in less time and at less cost than at any other school.

You can complete your course here and be ready to take a position, which we will secure for you, when the reaction from the present conditions in business takes place.

HEROISM SHOWN BY AMERICAN WORKERS OF NEAR EAST RELIEF

Cables Reveal Appalling Armenian Need—Hundreds of Thousands Starving.

By CHARLES V. VICKREY
General Secretary, Near East Relief.

Approximately 500 American men and women are standing loyally and heroically at their posts in Armenia, Turkey and the Near East. Many of them during the long winter of isolation are undergoing what we in America call "hardship." But these, our fellow citizens in the Near East, are volunteers serving with a high purpose, and they do not recognize hardship when they meet it.

They have had their opportunity to withdraw with honor from the field of famine and desolation. They have refused to leave, because they know that their departure would mean death for tens of thousands of women and children whom their efforts have kept alive and whom they are determined to save for a better future.

A dozen cables are on my desk from various centers in Armenia, Anatolia, Cilicia and Syria pleading piteously for the lives of hundreds of thousands who are homeless: "Sixty-five thousand refugees. Constantinople alone," "Refugees flocking into Aleppo," "Twenty thousand refugees at Ismid," "One hundred thousand people at Alexandropol will starve unless relief is provided," "Refugees arriving from Caucasus, escaping persecution, naked, destitute! Urgent need to save most of them from death," "Two hundred thousand starving between Kars and Alexandropol! Severe winter adding to distress."

Above all towers the mute appeal of the more than 100,000 little children, orphaned, homeless, whom these American relief workers have saved and whom we here at home must sustain not only through the winter and spring, but through the summer and autumn as well. If we do not provide, they perish! And with them dies the hope of a New Near East.

The Easter season is here—the season that commemorates the Great Sacrifice for mankind. America is known as a Christian nation. She is also the wealthiest nation that history has ever known.

Can we really enjoy our wealth and claim the name of Christian if we turn a deaf ear to the appeal which General Leonard Wood, in behalf of the Near East Relief, has sent forth broadcast for a Lenten Sacrifice offering to save these little children in Bible Lands?

Friday, March 25, 1921.

There has been a tremendous amount of poultry and eggs sold by the farmers in the Santa Anna country the past few months. This has been a great relief to many farmers in the times when there was really no market for their cotton and feedstuff. There has been a good market for eggs and chickens, and turkeys most all the time, only at one time during the year have we been able to buy eggs on the local market for less than twenty cents and the greater part of the time we have had to cough up more for the hen fruit. It's a mighty good thing to have a few hens and turkeys on the farm. They will pull you out of some close places some times.

As this writer has previously remarked, Santa Anna bears a good name abroad and people are really expecting great accomplishments from her. It is strange to say, we have heard more from the outside about her accomplishments and possibilities than we have heard from the inside during our some two months residence here. This may be due to the native modesty of her people when it came to talking about oneself, but it does look like a running spring would bubble over occasionally, as the cowboy is reputed to have remarked about the deacon who testified that his cup of joy at salvation just stayed full to the very rim, but never run over. The cowboy on hearing this is reputed to have said: "Bet his cup has got wiggletails in it."

Satisfaction is stagnation, and simply because we have a matchless climate, a good little town with many of the comforts of life is no excuse for sitting down and twiddling our thumbs and letting things rock along.

Anything that rocks along soon rocks to death.

When every human being in Santa Anna gets to believing in the town just half as strong as folks that live on the outside, then we will really begin to sit up and start something.

Due to the fact that we are still comparatively a new Western town, there are at least a solid million little things that must be done to bring our city up to the real standard that we are entitled to hold.

By which we do not mean that we should rush pell-mell into some scheme of promotion to rival New York City, such as a million dollar cotton factory, though that would be a mighty good thing for us to undertake, we do believe, three or four transcontinental railways, and such Big Things, and none of these are impossible for us, but there are so many of the everyday things that make a city a desirable place in which to live and prosper, as for example:

Cleaning up the town.

And keeping it clean.

Make it attractive in its civic appearance and atmosphere.

Can you estimate the real saving in the everyday budget of the homes of the city if every available space in the town should be planted in gardens for this summer?

With vines and flowers around the ugly spots, what would be the impression of the passing visitor?

Little things that mean so much to the general atmosphere of a town. That's what we are talking about.

One of the little things that we could do that would prove helpful is the establishment of an auto tourists camping park, equipped with free light, water, telephone, camping space and shelter for rainy weather.

This feature alone would draw hundreds of people through this section—and that is all it takes—just an impartial investigation of our resources to bring more empire builders to our midst.

And here is where this editor is going to furnish more evidence of his insanity.

We would establish this auto tourist camping park right up on top of the mountain which forms the north background to Santa Anna.

Not only would we establish this utility up on the mountain, but we would make a park and a playground there for all the people, young and old, of the Santa Anna country.

This park would serve as a playground, meeting place or club-center for the Boy and Girl Scout bands of our town.

Our present and future is determined by the capacity of our men and women. Our future men and women are our present boys and girls.

To build the boys and girls right is to build the town right, and to waste the boys and girls through lack of attention, interest and thought is worse than setting fire to the town.

Houses can be rebuilt in thirty days. Men and women cannot be made under thirty years.

Yes, we would have the bandstand up there, 'n everything!

We believe, however, that we would sort of terrace in a part of the mountain for the bandstand, about seven-eighths of the way up, so that the townspeople who did not want to go up there evenings could sit under their own vine and fig-tree and hear the sweet strains of music as it reverberated and echoed through the recesses and caverns of the mountain sites.

Of course the whole works up there would be lit up at night like they say Broadway shines.

Added to all that sort of equipment, we would scale down the mountain about another two-eighths and build into its bosom a great amphitheatre such as the Greeks and Romans used to construct on the sides of their hills and hold their great assemblies to hear their wonderful philosophers. Here we would hold our summer revival meetings, away from the din, dust, heat, flies and mosquitoes of the plain below.

Of course this "Garden of the Gods" would be approached by one of the most picturesque little "boulevards" you ever saw. It would start up the mountain at the little cove near Mr. "Bill" Mills' house and wind around its sides like a giant snake until it scaled the top by easy stages. A Ford would be able to go up and down this scenic boulevard in "high."

Now what do you think of that, for inspiration?

You have to at least admit that it is as high as the mountain!

Added to the great gobs of pleasure we could get out of such an improvement ourselves, think what it would mean to our visitors!

Also, for a moment, consider the immense advertising possibilities of such an attraction.

When we get Santa Anna placed in the great auto tourist guide called "The Blue Book," which is certain after we complete the link in the state highway, we could make all tourists, this way sit up and take notice to our beautiful little city which had provided them with such an unique camping site up in the clouds.

Contemplate the scenic grandeur of such a project, if you can!

Naturally, we need more street lights and better streets over the town.

We should not be afraid that in adding more street lights we will misplace patronage where it rightfully belongs. Santa Anna's light and power company is making an heroic struggle against odds to provide the city with this modern utility both day and night. With practically every house in the town equipped with gas lighting systems, many of which are in use at the present time, one can contemplate the handicap under which Mr. Eck is laboring in trying to install expensive machinery to provide a day and night service without interruptions.

If each citizen would take 30 minutes a week with a hoe and a spade and fill in that jog hole right in front of your house, or dig down that bun there on the corner, or fill in there by the crossing, the streets would improve a hundred per cent in the next ninety days. And they are your streets and you would get the first benefit from the work.

Did you notice the veritable frog pond which was created during this last wet spell right in front of one of the principal business houses of the town, where a cement sidewalk ought to be, where foot traffic was compelled for several days to figuratively "coon" a log to get by?

A wagon load of sand and gravel would help that place until a more substantial walk could be constructed.

That's the kind of thing we are talking about—the united effort of every citizen to improve the appearance and utility of his own premises—both residence and business.

These are only a few of the thousand and one things we must do if we are to really hold our position as a little city that we now have the reputation of being.

Real towns do not happen—they are built.

A town is not some superior, superhuman, or inhuman kind of a machine that can be fed a few silver dollars and in turn grind out a full grown city with all these improvements.

The town is simply you—with all your forgetfulness, slackness in attention to details, imperfections and faults.

Its work is your work and its success or failure is your own success or failure.

If you don't like its policies, get into operation some of your own, if they are really constructive.

Here we are constrained to a little poetry:
 If you want to live in the kind of a town
 Like the kind of a town you like,
 Don't pack your grip and hike away;
 For you'll only find what you left behind—
 It's not your town—it's you!

The individual adoption of such a program will make Santa Anna sanitary, attractive, and safe, with proper lighting, better roads, cleaner streets and alleys, home and business houses painted, grass, shrubs and flowers where weeds have been allowed to grow.

We want to start at home and not be over ambitious to do big things and overlook the useful services that will mean so much to life in our community.

We can all unite and work on such a program to the mutual benefit of all in making Santa Anna better for all.

This is not only good sense, but it is good business, for a family that is happy and contented, is permanent, and people who love to live in Santa Anna will tell others in the most effective publicity ever devised on earth—the word of mouth—recommendation of the trusted friend.

SOME BRAIN LEAKS.

With all the hard luck stories which are going the rounds, some of which just naturally penetrate the optimistic exterior of the true West Texan, the fact remains that the great empire of which Santa Anna is the center is in better shape from every standpoint in the world than a similar trade territory in the entire state of Texas, as found by visits of our bankers to conventions and talking with business men from other sections of the country.

The slump in prices hurt this empire likethe deuce, it is true, but our crops were not made altogether on credit, our farmers are largely owners, our cost of production is comparatively low and we pay cash for our supplies of clothing, groceries, etc.

In short, we lose only the difference in the value of what we expected to get and what we actually got, and not that plus a lot of already spent profits we hoped to make, as was true in many sections of the state.

Along this line of suggestion, we want to urge that everybody who is a debtor seek to his utmost to square up the obligation. If you are a farmer and owe the merchant who has sold you his dearly-bought merchandise and groceries on credit to make it possible for you to make your crop, don't keep him on the possible verge of bankruptcy by withholding payment of your account if it is possible for you to raise the money. At least make some kind of an arrangement for settlement by installments, paying so much weekly or monthly until the full indebtedness is absorbed.

This sort of attitude is reconstruction work to the nth degree and will create a better feeling all around. It will help mightily to get business conditions back on an even-keel. This will help also to cement the common interests of town and country.

A cow, a sow and a pen of hens, and fields planted to feed-stuffs to sustain our animals and families will improve conditions in every industry and line of business in this section, will stabilize markets as they affect the local situation and will provide a smooth, moving year in and year out income, that will relieve the stress of fall harvest and the spending spree that follows a lot of money in our pockets when we are not used to it.

Santa Anna has had her clean up campaign and it was very effective. Now we need to start a campaign to "Keep it Clean!" Towns do not stay clean—they are kept clean!

Don't Forget the Big Circus!

The circus event of the year will be that Big Time Show put on by Brownwood high school April 1 and 2. Everybody expects to attend at least one circus performance each year. The Brownwood highs, assisted by the college students of that city, have made every arrangement to take care of 10,000 visitors on those two big days—April 1 and 2. The first day will be given over to the selection and coronation of the Queen of the Grand Pageant. Already thousands of votes have been cast in an effort to name the Queen.

April 2 the grand free parade will take place, followed by the big circus attractions in the afternoon. Santa Anna people are especially invited to attend.

Mr. Cotton Grower, You Run No Risk When You Plant Lone Star Seed

As a grower of cotton you want to secure the best that can be had in seed. Lone Star Cotton Planting Seed is being commended by cotton experts everywhere.

Read the following letters, one of which is from the purchasing agent for one of the largest cotton buying concerns in Houston, stating under oath that on September 27, 1920, he purchased from Stockton & Walton plantation in Neuces county 600 bales of Lone Star cotton, paying $30 per bale more than the prevailing price for Kasch and Mebane cotton on that date.

BELL-BAKER SEED CO.
Lone Star Cotton Seed
Corpus Christi, Texas.
December 15, 1920.

Mr. J. P. Baker,
Corpus Christi, Texas.
Dear Mr. Baker:—

The marked success attained by some of the upland long staple varieties of cotton, and as a consequence the great demand for seed of good quality, makes it of utmost necessity that you exercise great caution in recommending seed to be planted in your county.

It seems that Lone Star and Bennett cotton have proven to be two of the most popular types grown.

The Lone Star was originated and is now being distributed by Dr. D. A. Saunders of Greenville and the Bennett by R. L. Bennett, of Paris, Texas.

During the year several demonstrations have been conducted with these two varieties of cotton and in some instances seed from these fields that were inspected and rouged under my supervision are offered for sale.

Mr. J. P. Baker, of Corpus Christi has Lone Star seed that were grown in a 2000 acre block and all ginned in a manner to prevent any mixture. There were 1900 bales picked from this field and all sold at a premium, some 800 bales sold at a premium of 6c per pound.

Mr. J. L. Hamilton of Sinton had Bennett cotton that was grown under our supervision. This cotton was grown in several isolated fields and has been ginned and hauled to insure good quality of planting seed. This cotton produced a staple that sold at a good premium.

I can recommend the individual handling of this seed and also the seed they are offering for sale.

Yours very truly,
A. K. Short,
Agronomist.

To Whom it May Concern:

This certifies that on Friday, of last week, being the 24th day of September, I, as purchasing agent for the T. A. Johnson & Co., of Houston, Texas, purchased from Walton & Stockton, six hundred bales of Lone Star cotton, grown on their farm, paying six hundred points, or $30 per bale more than the prevailing price for Kasch and Mebane cotton on that date.

Further certify that on that date I purchased six hundred and seventy bales of Kasch and Mebane for 23c basis middling, while the price paid for the Walton & Stockton cotton was 29c, basis middling.

(Signed) Thos. Bell,
Purchasing Agent for T. A. Johnson & Co.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of Sept., A. D. 1920.
(Signed) Minnie Talbot,
Notary Public, Neuces County.

Come in and get your seed now. The price has been reduced to $2.00 per bushel.

Due to a recent rule made by Supt. Eaves which states that anyone breaking one of the seats in the classrooms must pay a penalty of $2.50, we notice that "Boots" has been trying to borrow $7.50.

All the Senior boys are now wearing class rings, except Leonard. He has lost his. Some of the Seniors had a "feast" Tuesday. The time and place are best omitted. Leonard wrote an excellent theme on "poker playing." We don't doubt his knowledge of the game at all, or even his ability to copy the theme from some one else.

More Like a Newspaper.

This is the first issue of The News since the present management took it over February 1st that the advertising patronage was sufficient to warrant eight pages, which is but another way of saying that it marks the very first number of the paper that approaches anything like our ideal in size, proportion of advertising to reading matter, and general quality of the make-up. Naturally, we are grateful to the advertisers of Santa Anna, who have made it possible for us to present this paper. We cannot be justly charged with greediness if we entertain the wish that from here out the advertising patronage will be sufficient to warrant eight pages every week, divided about equally with paid advertising and live reading matter such as will command the attention of our readers. If we maintained this goal, there would be no danger of us getting suddenly rich and "high-toning" our friends, for if we sold each week one half of the advertising space in an eight page paper at our present advertising rates it would only yield a gross income of about $125.00 per week. Mr. "Foot" Mills and this writer will have no difficulty in putting the net proceeds from that amount where it will do the most good.

Apropos this subject, the editor of the News is highly gratified to find that a majority of the business men of Santa Anna have expressed their intention to make their advertising patronage sufficient to the paper to give the present management all the opportunity he wants to make good his proposal to give the town a first class newspaper. We placed the blue sky as the limit in the point of newspaper service we proposed to give this town if we could only develop sufficient advertising patronage to justify the investment of experience, energy and money, and we will exert ourselves to that end just as heroically as did the old mountaineer from Kentucky who drove his oxen in to town with his annual tobacco crop, and approaching the city limits noticed a sign which read:—"Speed limit fifteen miles." He took a new hitch in his G-string and drawled "Well, we may never make it, but here's a race."

Don't crowd, boys! Hand in your "dope" gentle like, say on Monday and Tuesday of each week, in just big enough doses to put pep to our hep!

It must be an inspiration to at least the weekly newspapers of Texas to get the Lubbock Avalanche on their exchange table each week, as showing the possibilities of country newspaper-making when the town stands solidly behind it. The editor of the News has accidentally missed Lubbock in all of his western junketing and sojourning, and had we not heard much about the place and approximated its size from hearsay we would conclude from looking at its newspaper that it was about the size of New York City. Lubbock may not be as big as New York City, but we can say one thing for it, there are more of its business men represented in the advertising columns of its paper than any New York sheet we ever saw, and we used to get several of Gotham's newspapers, because we naturally thought that the big town ought to set the pace of the country in the matter of making real metropolitan newspapers.

There is only one newspaper in Lubbock—the Avalanche—which again shows the wisdom of its builders—and it very rarely issues less than 24 pages each week. At least twelve of these pages are filled with advertising, not by just a few merchants, but it seems that even the peanut vendors take space in their paper. Now, that's the way Lubbock looks to a newspaper man when he sees the town mirrored in its newspaper.

Here is how the town must look to people outside of Lubbock, who are not newspaper men, but who have caught the spirit of the town as reflected in the pep which they put into the hep of their newspaper, to quote the words of its commercial secretary, who recently took a circle around the state: "Lubbock has got to get up and go some if she anything like comes up to the expectations the whole state has of her future. Honest to goodness, to talk with three out of four folks that you meet on the trains, in hotel lobbies, on the streets of other cities, or around a hotel table, you would think they were real estate agents in Lubbock from the way they boost this town. I heard more good things said about Lubbock, and Lubbock's possible future on this trip than I have heard in the past ninety days in the city of Lubbock itself."

Charged With Horse Theft.

Two young men giving their names as Smith and Miller, respectively, were taken into custody at a local hotel Wednesday afternoon by local peace officers, Messrs. Joe Hosch and Joe Griffin, and a formal charge of horse theft will be filed against them. The arrest was made at the instance of the sheriff of the county, who was acting on instructions from the officers in Brown county, the origin of the alleged theft.

The young men stated they were residents of Holder, but nothing is known of them here. They are charged with having stolen 2 horses in Brown county, and the horses together with saddles are said to have been recovered at a local wagon yard.

The men acted as their own host in securing rooms at a local hotel in the afternoon of the arrest, where they bolted their floor and went to sleep. The suspicions of the hotel management were aroused upon discovering that the men had taken rooms without making their wishes known, and local officers were notified. The arrest followed without any kind of a demonstration.

PRESIDENT ENDORSES THE NEAR EAST RELIEF APPEAL

Washington.—President Harding has given his hearty endorsement to the appeal being made by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood on behalf of the Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City, for a nation-wide Lenten Sacrifice Offering to save the starving Christians of the Near East.

The President's letter reads: "There ought to be no cessation or relaxation of our sympathetic American efforts to be of service to these stricken people. One can well believe that they will not survive if we withdraw the relief which has heretofore been so generous from the private American purse. It has seemed to me that all we have done has borne dividends tenfold in the consciousness that we have done an humane thing for a people well deserving our generous sympathy. "I wish you the very greatest success in furthering the great relief movement to which you are now giving your attention."

Watson's Famous Acala Cotton Seed For Planting

A CAR LOAD FOR LOCAL GROWERS

Mr. Cotton Grower, if you haven't investigated the merits of this famous variety of cotton, you are not getting all out of cotton growing that is possible

Here are some of the outstanding merits of this cotton:

1. It's the cotton with a better staple.
2. Earlier than Mebane, Lone

Star, Rowden, Etc.

3. Staple 1 1/8 to 1 3/16 inch.
4. Every bale brings $40 to $60 more.

5. One of the heaviest yields.
6. Ginned on ordinary gin.
7. More dollars per acre.

Santa Anna business men are interested in having the farmers of this section secure the very best yield and the highest price for their cotton. Some of them have investigated the merits of "Watson's Acala Cotton" from unquestionable authorities. Read the two following letters which are in response to inquiries by the two Santa Anna banks relative to the merits of this cotton:

THE FARMERS STATE BANK
Italy, Texas.

Feb. 21, 1921.
Mr. P. P. Bond, Cashier,
First State Bank,
Santa Anna, Texas.

Dear Sir:—
Replying to your letter of the 17th inst. relative to our opinion of the Watson's Acala Cotton seed, beg to say we are very favorably impressed with the outcome of the 1920 crop, inasmuch as our immediate vicinity profited by having it to the extent of about $125,000.00 to $150,000.00. It sold the first of the season for a premium of from $45.00 to $60.00 per bale, but the premium at present does not amount to so much in proportion to the premium at first. Our acreage has increased from a few hundred acres to some 6,000 in the last two years, and the demand for seed has been very strong. I understand from Mr. Watson, whose address is Waxahachie, Texas, that he still has some seed which he can let out to those out of his regular territory at $4.00 per bushel in small quantities, and in carload lots at $3.75.

I would suggest that you get in touch with F.D. Watson, owner and breeder, at Waxahachie, and he will be glad to give you whatever information you may desire further in this connection.

Yours very truly,
Sam McCord, Cashier.

WATSON SEED FARMS
Ferris Watson, Owner
Waxahachie, Tex., Feb. 25,
The First National Bank,
Santa Anna, Texas.

Dear Sir:—
Mr. Eagan of the First National Bank at Italy, where our 6,000 acres of Watson Acala are planted to supply our seed which we have on the market, has asked that we send you the information you ask for in your letter.

I am asking Mr. Whitt from this office to visit you in the early part of next week and any information or assistance he can give will be at your command.

The report that has just come to my desk reporting actual sales of this class of cotton in New Orleans, one of the principal staple markets, for last week shows a premium of $15 to $30 per bale over the price of common short cotton (middling basis). This means, of course, 300 to 600 points on.

We deal exclusively in seed grown under our direct supervision and ginned on our own private gin. We supplied the U. S. Government with their seed for seed distribution work after they had sent a committee of experts to inspect our fields and method of growing our seed. We know that we have a seed that a person can stand behind and feel that he is supplying the very best quality of pure seed.

Our gin is fitted with the Pratt equipment found throughout the State—the common gin will handle this cotton if the roll is not run tight. We use a loose roll and reduce the speed slightly in the case of a gin that has been speeded up for the short half-and-half staple.

I want to call your attention to the enclosed pamphlet in which is printed the report of a farmers' committee who visited us.

Yours very truly,
WATSON SEED FARMS,
O. S. GRAY,
Sales Manager.

Spring Time Is Saving Time

"In the spring of Life prepare for the winter of old age."

Such is the good counsel that each father and mother, who have weathered Life's storms and sunshine alike, should give their offspring. Admonish your son and daughter to be Thrifty, to Economize without self-denial, and to learn the real value of every dollar saved as it pertains to the future.

There is likewise a lesson for the present day young woman and young man to learn. There may come a time when they will wish that they had saved some of the money that they now lightly and lavishly spend on needless things.

Now is the time to save so that when the winter of old age rolls around there will be no necessity of added burdens through the tearing worries of financial troubles.
