"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

SMOKE FROM THE MOUNTAIN

We received our first tour of inspection of the post office this week—that is behind the bars. After seeing all the steps our letters have to go through before they reach our box, we can appreciate the fact that we do get them more than ever before. This sorting out the mail at a high speed is no simple job when it has to be pigeon-holed several times before we calmly pull it out of the box.

If at first you don't succeed, try about a dozen times at least and finally you'll get that motor going. That's what Sparks Whetstone and Jim Riley discovered. They tried for the umpteenth time and boy, when she did go, that motor really worked, but it worked them about as hard as the motor.

Mule Drivers and Bull Shooters To Meet Texas Ranger Donkey Baseball Club At Athletic Field Monday Night for Game

Joe Haynes' Mule Drivers and Debs Conley's Bull Shooters will meet the Dallas Texas Ranger Donkey Baseball Club Monday night, July 16 at the Santa Anna Athletic Field for the second annual game. The Baseball Donkeys will arrive Monday in time for a parade through main street in the afternoon with business men and city dignitaries astride.

Last year the donkey club played here and so much enjoyment was had by the audience and riders that the Athletic Association, which sponsors the games, asked the club to return. Rules of the game are slightly different from baseball and since players must play astride the donkeys, the rules are difficult to observe if the mount decides on another way to get to home plate.

Business men, farmers and politicians will entertain the crowd Monday. The Mule Drivers team headed by Joe (Round-up) Haynes is composed of Norman (Red) Hosh, Hubert (Blondy) Turner, T. F. (Tootin' Fluter) Wallis, O. L. (Lon) Cheaney, Geo. (Reach-Em) Johnson, John E. (Baldy) Little, Loyd (Laraph) Lou, Burris, Leonard (Skin-Em) Phillips, Claud (Bull) Reid, Frank (Handsome) McCreary Jr., B. B. (Gentleman) Bryan, Howard (Bull) Harris, A. D. (After Dark) Pettit, J. L. (Chic) Rehm, W. T. (Teddy) Stewardson, Charlie (School Boy) Bruce, J. L. (Boots) Boggus.

The Bull Shooters team, headed by Debs (You-Tell-Em) Conley is composed of Leman (Contented) Brown, Bill (W. Leo) Thate, M. L. (Rat) Guthrie, Jimmie (Hereford) Gill, Ed (Fisherman) Merritt, R. H. (Ride Hard) Spencer, Ed (Ducky) Purdy, Jim Bob (Buck-Em) Gregg, J. C. (Pannie) Morris, Jess (Chubby) Howard, W. B. (Wild Bag) Baker, W. R. (Wind Rider) Murphy, Etoile (Wooly) Cozart, Carter (Wig) Duggins, D. S. (Just Married) Baugh, J. W. (Sheep-Herder) Vance, and Travis (TZ) Hays. R. R. (Rockwood Rover) Lovelady will announce the game.

Rodeo Stickers Now Available

Plans for the Santa Anna Rodeo, to be held August 25, 26 and 27 are being made more definite now and should be practically completed for publication by the end of next week. Posters are being placed in store windows and will be used for distribution when the booster trips begin in about two weeks.

The arena director has not yet been chosen, but the rodeo will feature the same announcer that Santa Anna had last year, Jack Hoey of San Antonio, who entertained the throngs with his humorous comments and pleased them with his accurate descriptions. He is announcing for the Coleman Rodeo this week.

The program promises to be full of laughs and fun and will be put on entirely by home town people. Proceeds will go for educational and civic enterprises which the Self Culture Club sponsors.

Commissioners Court Hears Talk of Aid for National Guard

County Commissioners Court Monday heard a discussion on prospects of Coleman county and the two cities of Santa Anna and Coleman giving financial aid to the two units of the National Guard in this county for the remainder of the fiscal year. No decision was made, but the matter will be further discussed later to see if the county can set aside money for the local units during the coming months.

The desire for county and city assistance was made stronger due to the fact that such financial aid would more surely guarantee permanence of these units at the present locations and such permanence would probably assure further assistance from higher government organizations.

Those representing Santa Anna Howitzer Co. 142 Infantry were Eddie Paul Voss and Virgil Fulton.

Those representing Coleman unit were Eileen Shield, S. W. Cooper, and E. P. Scarborough.

Tax Payments Set Record In Coleman County

County Assessor - Collector Frank Lewis last week reported the collection of 91.3 per cent of the 1937 Coleman County taxes, which is a record in collection for this county, surpassing last year's which was 82.8 per cent.

The total amount of taxes collected during the last fiscal year, from June 30, 1937, to June 30, 1938, was $250,943.88. Current 1937 tax collections came to $187,277.85, which was 91.3 per cent of the $205,113.69 on the 1937 tax roll to be collected. Remainder of collections during the period were $63,666.03 of redemptions and back taxes paid between June 30, 1937, and June 30, 1938.

The best collection month was January which brought in $94,385.29. August, 1937 was the lowest month. The 8.7 per cent of 1937 taxes which were not paid by June 30, 1938 are now delinquent and six per cent per year and an addition of eight per cent penalty has been added. The amount of taxes for the 1937 books now delinquent totals $17,836.40.

City Officials Hear Discussion Of LCRA Project

Mayor Leman Brown and City Commissioners E. P. Ewing and J. Frank Turner attended the meeting Friday night at Coleman of delegates from seven cities for the purpose of investigating the possibilities of use of LCRA power for electric power in place of private or municipal plants now in use. Cities represented included besides Santa Anna, Brownwood, San Angelo, Ballinger, Brady, Eden, and Comanche. Coleman, which has a municipally owned plant, also sent delegates.

The conference was told that power could be obtained at a cheaper rate than the cities are now paying, if transmission lines could be built. A few hours after the conference ended, news from Washington told of the approval of a $7,000,000 PWA allotment for the Lower Colorado River Authority to build power transmission lines and complete generating equipment at Marshall Ford Dam. Of this amount, it was thought about $5,000,000 would be used to build transmission lines from Buchanan Dam, Roy Inks, Marshall Ford and Tom Miller dams to Central and West Texas. Cities signing contracts for power.

Each town's delegates took the matter under consideration, however, without making any definite announcement as to plans.

Let's Talk About Service

MOST everyone knows that SERVICE, as defined in the dictionary, means: "the act or occupation of working for another... the manner of performing work... that which is supplied or furnished to meet a demand," etc.

Working for you is Your Electric Servant's occupation. By that act of providing light and power for your home and business, the electric company renders a service. You pay a small amount each month as compensation for this service.

It, perhaps, seems like a simple transaction: but, in order to perform the work of providing the electric service you demand, this company is forced to employ approximately 1,000 men and women to whom it paid over $1,200,000 in wages during 1937. As a citizen and property-owner in every community it serves, it paid the equivalent of $9.25 in taxes per customer in 1937.

By maintaining three centrally-located power generating stations, it eliminates the necessity for less-efficient, isolated and expensive small plants in each community. Its 2,000 miles of high tension transmission lines are interconnected with still other sources of electric power so that failure of any one, or all three, of its own plants means only temporary interruption of the service you have learned to demand.

Efficiency in operation of this system of power plants and transmission and distribution lines permits rendition of electric service at its present low cost. The "manner of performing work" allows this company to render the good service you are receiving at an average net residential rate below the average.

We want you to know we are glad to render this service, "supplying and furnishing that which meets a demand," and we invite you to use this service freely.

"READY TO GO"

The Story of My Work as a Clothing Demonstrator — By Zelma Sikke, Brown Ranch.

One day last September I awoke at seven o'clock and realized that I must get up and get ready to go to school. The first thing I thought of was what I should wear to school that day, so I went over to the old wardrobe closet which seemed to be brimming over with my clothes and two other family members' clothes.

The first dress I pulled out of the wardrobe to wear had a skirt so that I could not use it, because I could not mend it myself and my mother was too busy that early in the morning to stop her work and mend it. Another dress had three buttons missing, and still another dress that I might have worn lay crumpled on the bottom of the wardrobe closet. I was beginning to feel that I would really not be able to get ready to go, when I found a dress behind the other garments which had only to be pressed. Finally, in order to go to school I pressed my dress, hurriedly sewed together a hole in my sock, combed my hair and caught the school bus at the last minute. I almost wished I didn't ever have to go to school because I felt so breathless and so "thrown together."

One of the girls reminded me that we were to have a 4-H club meeting during the morning, and I was so glad, though I wondered what we would do. But as soon as the meeting started and we had our regular business and elected our new club officers, Miss Christene Trowbridge, our county Home Dem. Agt., told us that the very next important thing for us to do was to select our clothing and garden demonstrators. She told us what one of the clothing demonstrators in a 4-H club the year before had done in making her own clothes, and how more attractive she became, and the idea surely appealed to me. I thought of all the things I might be able to do, so when Miss Trowbridge asked if there were any girls who would really like to be a clothing demonstrator, I volunteered to talk to my mother and see if I might.

The next thing I knew I was doing all kind of things and making all kinds of plans. I first made an inventory of all my clothing by checking all the clothing I had on hand and noting the condition of each. I found that I really had much more clothing than I thought I did, and the only trouble was that so much of my clothing was out of order, and therefore I did not have things ready to wear. So after finding what clothing I had I could use, I made a list of what other things I needed, and then planned to keep account of the kind of clothing, the brand, and the price of all clothing that I should buy.

The next thing I did was to sew buttons and snaps on, and to mend, and laundry and clean all my clothing. I was really beginning to be proud of the way my clothing looked, and in checking my D-105 "Good Looks for Girls," I found I could make so much improvement in caring for my hair and watching my posture, so that my personal appearance would help my clothing.

But I found that it was difficult to keep my clothing in good condition in the family wardrobe. So after our Co. H. D. A. had talked with us on "A place for everything and everything in its place," I began thinking what I could do to improve my storage space. Mother and I worked out an idea for an improvised clothes closet to be made from refrigerator boxes. We bought two large refrigerator crates for 25c each and carefully re-inforced them. The original top of the box was hinged on to make a door, and fastened with a latch. One of the boxes was cut in two so that it could be placed on top of the first box making the closet completely reach the ceiling and thus providing a storage space for quilts and blankets in this upper compartment.

I put in a rod for hanging my garments on one side of the improvised closet. A shelf for hats was built on the other side and beneath this hat shelf I built a drawer space to use for my folded garments. This drawer space was made by using small dried apple crates inside of a large apple box. On top of this drawer space I placed my sewing box made from a cigar box painted ivory color and provided with needles, scissors, pins, pin cushion, thread and thimble. I then completed my closet by painting it a dark oak color on the outside and made a shoe rack and hat racks from scrap lumber. When my closet was finished I was more proud of it because it was very orderly and convenient, and my clothes looked so fresh and clean hanging in it and it had only cost about one dollar.

In my work, too, as clothing demonstrator, I have learned how to plan and make my own clothing. I made a smock, a slip, a dress, and a pair of pajamas this year. I think I am most proud of my dress because I always enjoy wearing it and I always feel dressed in it.

It has been so much fun being clothing demonstrator, but the very nicest thing of all is the grand feeling of always being "Ready To Go." With my work as clothing demonstrator I have learned that planning your clothing and carrying out these plans means a wardrobe in tip-top shape, and throughout my life I believe I will be happier because I will be ready to go.

Mrs. Vanderford Is Honored By HD Club After Regular Meet

"A storage room should be well ventilated, dry, clean, dark, cool and free from odors," stated Mrs. Fred Rollins in her talk before the local Home Demonstration Club members Friday at 3 p. m. July 8 when they met at the home of Mrs. John Lowe.

As important as the pantry itself are the containers and the ways in which they are labeled and stored, Mrs. Rollins emphasized.

A Vegetable Parade was the subject for the afternoon and Mrs. Rollins, home food supply demonstrator, scored the vegetables furnished for the occasion.

Nine members and four visitors were present for the demonstration. The visitors were Mrs. Tom Upton, Mrs. Allison Gotcher, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Jackson. ## Typhoid Fever Preventable If Precautions Made

Austin, Texas — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, estimates that the State of Texas suffers an economic loss of one-half million dollars annually from typhoid fever, a preventable disease.

Last year 378 Texans died of typhoid and approximately 4,000 were ill with the disease. The average duration of the illness is from six to eight weeks plus a convalescent period of about six weeks. This means that typhoid is responsible for the loss of approximately 200,000 work days each year in Texas, with the attendant loss of income over a several months period.

Early fall and late summer each year sees a tremendous increase in the prevalence of typhoid because of the large crop and tin travel and the hazards brought to the local population by itinerant labor.

Typhoid is particularly prevalent in those sections where there is seasonal employment bringing into the area great numbers of laborers who live in tents, shacks and trailers without adequate sanitation.

The local communities have the problem of dealing with this shifting population put squarely on their shoulders. Insofar as is feasible, the itinerant population should be immunized against typhoid and should be made to conform with sanitary regulations (particularly with regard to disposal of waste) as protective measure to the permanent community population.

Typhoid fever can be controlled by the use of pure water, pasteurized milk or clean milk, clean foods, proper disposal of sewage, screening against the fly and destroying its breeding places, by search for and care of human carriers, and by general practice of immunization.

In selecting a place for a vacation, choose one where you know that the water and milk supply is pure. Be sure that the kitchen and dining room are screened to protect the food from flies. When camping it is best to boil water used for drinking, unless you know that it is pure. Clear, sparkling spring water is often nevertheless polluted.
