TEXAS FARM NEWS

The largest wheat farm in New Mexico is 20 miles from Bellview. This farm had 6,500 acres in wheat last year. Twelve combines were used in harvesting the crop.

This is not a Texas farm story, but comes from Missouri. S. J. Riggins derived a gross annual income of $6,000 from six acres of Rocky Ozark land. Riggins started his poultry business five years ago with seven and five hens. By providing clean laying rooms and by concentrating his production on infertile eggs that bring more than top price, he has found it a very paying business. He says his gross income is fully $10.00 a day from each of his rocky acres. Quality shipment and high-grade egg production, fully sorted, bring a price nearly 20 per cent higher than the best market price. That 20 per cent for food for his flock.

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce is planning to test the growing of flue-cured tobacco in East Texas in an effort to establish an additional source for the crop for that area. The chamber is also working to improve the character of the tobacco used in the region and to produce a type of tobacco that will have considerable areas of the United States, what is known as Norfolk deterioration, both in character and staple. The condition of tobacco in the United States, produce a type of tobacco similar to the typical flue-cured leaf of Virginia, the Chesapeake and Georgia.

Record prices for fifteen years were broken recently when Donna Anna, a 15-month-old Texas Hereford heifer, was sold at Hereford for $5,200. The heifer was owned by V. L. McDonald and was purchased by V. F. Orchel & Sons, of Strong City, Kansas.

Ralph Patterson, of near Paris, gets a nice profit from his flock of 58 White Leghorn hens, which he assesses five years ago with proper care and five hens. By providing clean laying rooms and by concentrating his production on infertile eggs that bring more than top price, he has found it a very paying business. He says his gross income is fully $10.00 a day from each of his rocky acres. Quality shipment and high-grade egg production, fully sorted, bring a price nearly 20 per cent higher than the best market price. That 20 per cent for food for his flock.

Carl Williams, member of the Federal Farm Board, recently issued a statement to the effect that unless the American cotton farmer, individually and collectively, cooperates with the Federal Farm Board in its efforts to improve the character of the cotton crop, the cotton industry will be ruined. Mr. Williams called attention to the fact that other crops are growing more abundantly than cotton and that the character of the cotton crop is being improved in several East Texas counties while the cotton production in other areas of the United States shows what is known as Norfolk deterioration, both in character and staple. The condition of tobacco in the United States, produce a type of tobacco similar to the typical flue-cured leaf of Virginia, the Chesapeake and Georgia.

Gen. D. Lindley, of Tahoka, claims for one of his cows the milk production record of his county. His cow gives five pounds of milk per day which tests 4 to 5.5 per cent, or two and one-fourth pounds of butter a day. The cow produced 67 pounds of butter fat in one month at a value of $28.80. Feeding costs are $7.00 per month.

J. R. Shelton, of Lamar county, who is one of the most successful pecan growers in that section of the State, practices and recommends to pecan growers the following method of cultivation: Plow deeply as soon as possible after Christmas, being careful not to plow too near large trees. The larger trees should not be plowed nearer than ten feet. Small trees may be plowed closely enough to lap the dirt. Beginning about April 1 the broken ground should be disced across. This should be repeated about once every two weeks until September 1. At intervals during this time all weeds and grass should be cut with a hoe. Spraying should begin about April 1. Trees should be sprayed twice in April, and again about 30 days from the second spraying. When leaf worms appear trees should be sprayed as often as is necessary to destroy them. In making a spray mixture, three pounds of arsenate of lead should be used to 50 gallons of water, adding 20 pounds of slaked lime. In making a spray mixture, three pounds of arsenate of lead should be used to 50 gallons of water, adding 20 pounds of slaked lime. In making a spray mixture, three pounds of arsenate of lead should be used to 50 gallons of water, adding 20 pounds of slaked lime.

Steady profits from black-eyed peas in Henderson county is responsible for largely increased interest in this crop and the acreage this year promises to be larger. Threshing agencies have taken the lead, guaranteeing a price at planting time, usually with the provision for the benefit of any improvement in the market which may occur before market time.

An acre contest, which proved a great success and put a church in much better financial condition is reported from the Caledonia community in Shelby county. This was an acre-tithing contest, the contestants agreeing to give one-tenth of the net income from the acre cultivated to the church. The prize, which was a young Jersey heifer, was won by Grady Ash, who planted his acre in ribbon cane and sold his crop for $206. After young Ash had given his tenth to the church, $20.60 he still had $175.40 left, and also the Jersey calf.

About fifty Federal and State scientists recently attended a meeting at Temple, Texas, which was called to enable the workers to submit their findings in last year's work and observations in the fight against root rot in cotton. Nothing new in the way of practical control measures was offered, but assurance was given that well-trained and experienced investigators are continuing their work and will leave nothing undone to find the solution of this troublesome problem. Some of the scientists expressed the belief, based on experiments, that by introducing sulphur into the two upper feet of soil in which cotton is raised it may be practicable to stamp out the fungus. Such methods are as yet, however, only in the experimental stage.

Recently the home economics department of a large mail order house made a canvass of the young people on the farms of Texas, and at the conclusion of the canvass gave out the surprising statement that of the 750,000 farm boys and girls of Texas from which answers were had 80 per cent of the boys and 93 per cent of the girls plan to remain on the farm. These figures were very surprising to the people at large, who were under the impression that few of the young people on the farms desired to remain there. These figures show a very healthy condition in farm life, to which agricultural colleges, farm clubs and demonstration and home agents have doubtless contributed largely.

The Southern Cotton Seed Crushers' Association at a recent meeting, adopted unanimously a resolution demanding that the cotton seed oil industry of the South be protected from the competition of foreign vegetable oil imports, either by protective tariff revision, or by giving the Philippine Islands independence, so as to bring coconut oil products from the islands automatically under tariff restrictions. The text of the resolution was telegraphed to the finance committee of both Houses of Congress. The resolution recites that destructive and impossible competition from foreign vegetable oils has caused the price of cotton seed oil to slump to 6 1/2 cents a pound, the low price of oil materially decreasing the value of cotton seed. A great proportion of the foreign vegetable oils are coconut oils imported tariff-free from the Philippine Islands. The resolution further recites that the coconut industry in the Philippines is largely owned by foreign interests, and that the Filipino laborers receive a daily wage of 18 to 20 cents for producing a commodity which is in direct competition with cotton seed oil produced by the farmers of the South.

In an effort to improve cotton in Harrison county ten carloads of the latest improved seeds have been ordered by the Marshall banks and business men for distribution among the farmers for the 1930 crop.

Registered sows are being distributed by the Midland Chamber of Commerce as prizes to the farm boys of the country. The champion cotton and maize growers of the county will receive the fine sows. The Chamber of Commerce has adopted the policy of giving live stock prizes instead of cash to stimulate greater interest in better farming and the production of better live stock.

A State organization for marketing honey was recently formed at San Antonio at a gathering of beekeepers representing about 10,000 colonies. Plans were made to open advertising and sales headquarters at San Antonio to direct the sale of the 1930 crop. Perfection of a permanent organization will depend upon the success of the members in signing up a minimum of 25,000 colonies.

There are 111 white demonstration agents and 21 colored home agents in the State and figures gathered by agricultural organizations show that millions of dollars are added annually to the income of Texas farms through their work. The home demonstration agent of Smith county lists a total of $176,788 as the value of home food products raised and preserved by the 300 women and girl members of the 38 clubs in that county.

More than 133,000 pounds of meat were canned and about 75,000 quarts of fruit and vegetables. Splendid reports come from the home demonstration agent of Bowie county. This agent says that while an old rooster if sold on foot will bring around 45 cents, the same product when canned brought $3. She urges her members to can the old roosters and cull hens, and also the fat cows and yearlings which do not command an attractive price on account of the recent drop in prices. Instead of getting $15 to $20 an animal, the canned product brought about $42, and the hide paid for the cans. The home demonstration agent of Lamar county reports that a club member of that county last fall canned a 300-pound beef, which could not have been sold on foot for more than $40. The beef was canned and yielded a profit of $12, above the cost of beef, cans and labor. The beef was canned in the form of steaks, roasts, chili and soup meats.

HOME PROBLEMS.
EAT YOUR WAY TO HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

Today, as never before, we are studying the problems of health, because we are well aware that without health we have nothing. Since the beginning of time man has sought (in vain) for that "magic cure-all" which would, with magic-wand touch, cure all troubles and ailments of mankind. But today, after centuries and centuries of vain searching, we are turning our attention all too slowly to the plan of prevention. Every school boy knows that a piece of machinery, in order to function properly and give the greatest amount of service, must be properly handled and operated with the right kind of fuel. He also knows that the human body is much like machinery; we must operate it with the right kind of fuel to obtain the best results. The housewife and mother cannot spend too much time studying this all-important problem. There are volumes and volumes on the subject; there are thousands and thousands of advertisements extolling the virtue of this and that product. Out of the maze of written opinions it might be hard for the average woman to decide what is right and what is wrong. So we are going to make a few suggestions that we hope will help her to choose wisely for her particular family and surroundings.

First we would like to suggest that in deciding the merits of an article, ask yourself "is this written for my benefit or for the benefit of some product that is for sale?" This will, I believe, answer 60 per cent of the questions. Next let me urge simplicity. Simplicity of life and simplicity of eating. Doctors and dieticians are today discovering more and more proof that the wrong combinations of foods are more dangerous than any one special food. They know that the digestive juices of the body can act in only one way, and that when we over-tax them or give them work they cannot perform the excess food is so much poison. This must be gotten rid of in some manner by the body, and in this way we overtax our heart, our lungs, our kidneys and bowels; also our liver and spleen; because these organs must rid the body of things not needed in building and functioning the body. Therefore, two or three well-chosen dishes will do far more good than a dozen incorrectly-balanced ones. In every paper and magazine we pick up we find much about the four major vitamins and the 11 minor (necessary for reproduction.) So it will not be necessary to acquaint you with the importance of these vital food elements that are of life itself. But here is a simplified table that will give you a suggestion of some of the foods found in each group.

Vitamin A: Lettuce, tomatoes, egg yolk, cream, spinach, codliver oil, carrots, prunes, etc.

Vitamin B: Milk, celery, tomatoes, nuts, turnips, whole grains, etc.

Vitamin C: Raw lettuce, oranges, bananas, grapefruit, lemons, pineapple, (fresh) raw tomatoes, onions (uncooked), etc.

Vitamin D: (The most illusive) yolk of egg, (not hard cooked) whole milk, codliver oil.

Vitamin E: (Necessary for reproduction) salad greens, some vegetable oils and wheat heart.

Our living conditions, the weather and our general system must be taken into account when selecting our foods; also the age of a person.

Study your family, study your pocketbook, and then form in your mind the foods they need. You will be surprised how nicely it all fits together. Simple, inexpensive foods stand for health, happiness and success.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR THE CHILDREN

With spring at the door and summer just around the corner, we should be thinking of the summer playground for the children. Happy, happy time are youth and spring. Make the memories of your child a thing of beauty. Make the environment so sweet, so pure, that when at last the little birds are ready to fly from the nest, they will take into the world sunshine and happiness; health in body and mind. "All work, no play, makes Jack a dull boy," is very, very true. Playtime is as important to the full life of a child as is school and home training. Play is the social barometer with which the child gauges himself or herself in relationship to others. Given the right foundation and background, the rest is not so difficult. The foundation of anything is the most important part of the structure; the whole depends on this one factor. The right sort of playgrounds and the right sort of equipment are most important. Above all, do not furnish the children with a "finished product," as this is most taxing to anyone. We are happiest and best when we are building and struggling with our own hands and brains. Often we do not see this; it often looks dark and grey and the way seems hard; but from the mouths of many that have at last reached the mountain height to which they aspired, I have learned that the best period was the climbing and not the ultimate success, although this is part of it.

"Supervised play" is the term so often applied to modern methods of playgrounds. I would like to add "supervise with care." I believe we can over-supervise more easily than we can under-supervise. Furnish the raw materials and let them do the constructing. What are the raw materials? For small children there should be an enclosed yard, the fences of the gates so constructed that little fingers cannot work them. This relieves mother's mind and provides a safe harbor for little souls. See that all dangerous objects are removed from the yard, such as broken glass, open-jagged tin cans and the like. Have the yard as smooth as possible. The raw materials for little children should be very simple. A small sand bed, pretty rocks or shells, a tin pail with a handle, a tin cup with a good handle, a small cheap wagon and a few blocks of wood will furnish amusement for hours at a time. Show them a few simple things to do with the rocks, blocks, etc., then leave them to their own devices.

BETTER RECIPES

This department is conducted to try to help you arrange both healthful and delicious meals. Do the recipes help you any? If you do gain any benefit from this department let me hear from you. Write to Mrs. Margaret Stute, box 1012, Fort Worth, Texas.

Prune Pudding
Two cups cooked, sweetened prunes and their juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons Karo syrup, 2 tablespoons Argo corn starch, 4 egg whites, whipped stiff, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon. Pit the prunes, heat and thicken with the corn starch blended with the syrup. Add the salt and cinnamon; fold in the egg whites, whipped stiff, transfer to a baking dish oiled with butter or shortening and bake until puffy in a moderate oven—about thirty minutes. Serve with cream or fresh crushed strawberries and cream.

Health Cocktail
Freeze a can of grapefruit. Serve ginger ale or a sweetened fruit cocktail in tall colored glasses in which has been dropped a red cherry and a sprig of mint. Just before serving the individual glasses drop a slice of frozen grapefruit into each. Of course the ginger ale or fruit cocktail should be thoroughly chilled before putting in the glasses. This is delicious for parties or for the pick-up drink on a hot afternoon.

Potato Biscuit
One and a half cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 1/2 cup cold mashed potatoes, 1/2 cup milk.
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add shortening and potatoes, mixing in with the dry ingredients. Add milk to make a soft dough. Pat out with the hand on floured board to about one-half inch thick; cut with small cutter; bake on greased pan in hot oven until crispy brown.

Spaghetti Pudding
Two cups cooked spaghetti, 2 cups milk, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, grated rind of 1/2 lemon.
Cook spaghetti, cool and chop fine. Beat eggs, add milk, sugar spaghetti and lemon rind. Mix thoroughly and pour into buttered molds. Bake in a slow oven for 35 minutes, or until firm. Chill, turn out, serve with fresh or stewed fruit.

Puffed Wheat Pastries
Two and a half cups powdered sugar, 1 cup maple syrup, 1/2 cup cream, 1 cup pecans, 1 cup puffed wheat.
Boil sugar, syrup and cream until soft ball is formed in cold water. Remove from fire and beat until a creamy consistency. Add nuts and puffed wheat and drop from top of spoon in small piles of buttered paper.

Oatmeal Cream Pudding
Two cups cooked oatmeal, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup cream, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1/2 teaspoon gelatin, 1 cup milk.
Soak the gelatin in the cold milk

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the face, go quick by a simple method that dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of calomel powder from your drugist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsteady—while the simple application of calomel powder and the water dissolve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.—Ad.

For five or ten minutes. Warm the oatmeal, if left over porridge is used, and stir the soaked gelatin and the sugar into the hot oatmeal. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then rub through a strainer. Add the lemon rind and fold in the cream whipped stiff. Pour into a serving dish or shallow mold and chill thoroughly. Serve cold, plain or with any crushed fruit.

Puffed Wheat Macaroons
Two cups puffed wheat, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup melted butter, 2 teaspoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg, 1/4 teaspoon baking powder.
Beat egg thoroughly and add sugar gradually. Add melted butter and heat until light. Stir in flour and beat with baking powder has been sifted. Lastly add flavoring and puffed wheat and drop on a well greased and floured pan about three inches apart. Bake in a moderate oven for 10 to 15 minutes. Remove from pan while warm.

COTTON GROWERS HOLD SUCCESSFUL MASS MEETING

Lankart Cotton is Adopted By Local Growers

At a mass meeting held here Tuesday afternoon, in which about seventy-five farmers attended, the Lankart variety of cotton was adopted. The meeting was called as the result of several requests made to the editor, following remarks of a casual nature during the past few days. The proposition was, the editor proposed to join the cotton growers in this section. In any effort they would make to better their condition in general. We all realize that cotton growers were penalized last year, and are going to be more so penalized in the future, if they grow such varieties as Half and Half and other short staple varieties of cotton. Buyers are going to discriminate against the extra short staple varieties of cotton in the future and that is as it should be. Several breeders were represented and all had an equal show. The majority voted to adopt the Lankart variety, and we think they used good judgement in their selection, and are ready to go our length to help them in whatever way we can to get as many to plant the one variety adopted as possible. Some left the meeting not as well satisfied as they should have been, but they should be democratic and either submit to the will of the majority or remain silent and give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt. Personally, we would have been satisfied with either variety recommended if the majority had seen fit to adopt them, but since some had to lose and one had to be the winner, we are now for the winner, and the Lankart is our kind of cotton. The committee will be out and call upon as many as is possible for them to call upon, and all who wish to enter the association and fall to see the committee, the editor is authorized to sell you as many bushels of seed as you want. Our proposition is, to buy the seed at wholesale and sell them to you at wholesale price, f. o. b. the car. If you are interested in

Santa Anna Gets Reduction In Insurance Rates

Due to the low record of fire losses the past two years, Santa Anna was granted a full fifteen per cent reduction under the regular key rate, beginning Mar. 1st. If we can maintain our present ratio, we will save several hundred dollars in premiums each year.

The proposition, either see the committee or the editor and book in what ever amount you want. The committee and the editor are donating the work, just for the betterment of the country.

We are not in position to say what is best, any further than to say, that, in our judgement, it will be better for the community to adopt one variety of cotton and gin it in one gin, pick it and not gather it, and make a faithful effort to receive a better price on merit. If we can sell cotton at from five to fifteen dollars per bale more money by co-operating, why not cooperate? What benefits a few will benefit the masses. Personally, we have no axe to grind except to be of all the service to all the people we can serve. If our services are worth anything to you, get in and let's go.

(Note: Miss Elithe Hamilton, writer for the Democrat-Voice, furnished the following by request of the Santa Anna News.)

A group of about 75 farmers met in the city hall at Santa Anna Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the purpose of deciding on one variety of cotton for their section of the county and making arrangements for getting car-load lots of the favored seed. Although this matter of improving cotton has been receiving earnest consideration over other parts of the county, the mass meeting at Santa Anna was the very first active step in the county.

Another such meeting was held at Coleman Thursday, and at the invitation of Sim O'Neal, C. car. (Continued on last page)

FIRST TRADES DAY OF 1930 DRAWS MANY PEOPLE HERE

New Cemetery To Be Necessary

Last week we carried an article concerning the organization of a cemetery association. Calls and endorsements came in thick and fast, and the regular cemetery association, organized to look after the business end of the cemetery, has also been busy. The Association is calling for more land. They have been trying to purchase land adjoining the present burial ground but have not been able to make satisfactory arrangements. They have found a strip of land in the southwest part of town that can be purchased, and with the approval of the community, will probably close a deal for a block of acreage this week. The present members of the organization, J. D. Simpson, Miles Wolford, Lee Hunter and W. E. Baxter, are only acting as a Citizen's committee and will appreciate the advice of any citizen who is interested in the cemetery. The old burying ground is now full, according to the committee. All the lots have been sold, and calls come often that cannot be filled. Only recently an application for a burying lot had to be refused, and the body was carried to a cemetery out in the country for burial. If this be the case, a new location is necessary, and a new cemetery will soon be started. The committee solicits your advice and friendly consideration.

Friendship Club Meets Tuesday

Tuesday was Santa Anna's first Tradesday for 1930, and another large crowd was present. A good Jersey cow, one Poland China gilt, a pen of Plymouth Rock chickens, twenty bags of field seeds, five dollars worth of theater tickets and one general book on livestock was given away. Olen Hill of Shield was awarded the Jersey cow. W. L. Constable of Shield was awarded the Poland China Gilt. The pen of chickens went to B. B. Wallace of Santa Anna. The planting seed were awarded to E. C. Traylor of Santa Anna, Sammie Duggins of Bangs, R. O. A. Morton of Rockwood, R. O. Ford of Santa Anna, Leon Carr of Bangs, Mrs. A. R. Richardson of Santa Anna, T. E. Avent of Whon, Mrs. J. A. Swinson of Bangs Route 2, and B. G. Brown, Santa Anna. Each drew a three-bushel bag of state certified cotton seed and 25 pounds of other field seed. Elmer Blackwell of Rockwood was awarded the five dollars worth of theater tickets and Miss Pauline England of Santa Anna was awarded the book given from the L. S. Millard library. The next general Trades Day is to be on April 1st. However, Monday and Tuesday, March 10 and 17, will be two bargain days with the merchants in Santa Anna. Our merchant's Merit bargains will be advertised next week for the next two days' event, and you are invited to watch next week's paper for the special announcements. A similar number of awards will be given the first Tuesday in April to those given this week. Watch for announcements.

DR. J. S. COOK OF BROWNWOOD TO BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

A real treat is in store for you at the next regular meeting of the Friendship Club, March 11th. Dr. J. S. Cook, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Brownwood, will be the speaker for the occasion. Dr. Cook is a lively and forceful speaker who is sure to interest you.

Every man who attended the first meeting of the club three months ago is eligible to attend this meeting and is requested to bring from one to three guests with him. ### Effort to Organize Local Egg Circle Now Being Made

A number of utility poultrymen met here Saturday and made an effort to organize an egg circle for Santa Anna. Several communities have organized themselves into circles and sold guaranteed eggs to advantage in recent years and this community can do likewise if proper effort is made and the product offered is of the quality kind. Hens lay eggs just as well in Coleman county as they do in any place, and all that is necessary is to give the poultry yard the proper attention and offer the product on the market at a fair price. Good eggs always have a fair market value, but bad eggs have no value any place. An egg circle any place will soon build a reputation and that reputation will either be the means of creating a good market for your eggs or it will make it impossible to sell eggs to reputable markets at all. If you enter into an organization at all, we would recommend you start on a small scale, and grow in the business with demand for your products, and by all means deliver what you sell, and keep in mind the fact that good quality will always call for more.

National Guard Officers In Semi-Annual Meeting

The semi-annual meeting of the officers of the Fourth Battalion, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guard, met in the Armory here with Capt. Sam H. Collier, Lieut. D. L. Pieratt and Lieut. R. L. Mobley, Saturday night. A splendid luncheon was served and an interesting program followed. The bunch was made up of fine fellows and the occasion was an enjoyable one.

The next convention will be held with Capt. Sidney O. Mason and Dr. George Green of Sweetwater in November of this year. Dr. Green is Regimental Chaplain of the Howitzer company, 142nd Infantry, Texas National Guard.

The following were present: Major Karl E. Wallace and Lt. Pat R. Warren of Coleman; Capt. John Shockley, Lt. Rex S. Galtner, Lt. Gus J. Rosenberg, Lt. Bland Harper and Lt. John S. ### Dog Found Not To Have the Rabies

The dog killed here last week and which was reported to be mad was examined by the state department in Austin, and reported that no traces of rabies were found. However, those owning dogs will do well to look after them very closely, for a while. The trail of the dog was traced for fifteen miles or more and he left a trail of grief in his path. There was certainly something wrong with that dog. It is advised that those who have dogs should be very careful and keep a watch on them, and if they act strange either kill them or pen them up. Dogs are valuable and people prize them highly, but at the same time we have children who must be thought of and they are certainly entitled to the benefit of the doubt.

How to Raise Poultry

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.
St. Louis, Mo.

How To Start a Turkey Flock

Way to Begin Is to Begin But a Few Cautions Will Help Overcome Fears of Over-cautious

Judging from letters received from readers of these articles the subject of turkey raising is foremost in the minds of thousands of people. Therefore in answer to numerous requests I am going to devote two or three more articles on the subject.

Turkey raising is profitable. It is not nearly so difficult as most people imagine. True, the number of turkeys produced on farms in the United States has had a steady decrease for the last forty years. Like the recent slump of the stock market, it would appear that the bottom has been reached and I am hopeful that turkey raising will about face and regain its lost prestige.

Two things tend to discourage the raising of turkeys. One is the dread disease known as Blackhead. The other is the mistaken idea that turkeys must have a wide range of ground to roam on. I shall discuss both of these subjects in subsequent articles in attempts to show how Blackhead can be avoided and to correct the idea that turkeys cannot be raised in confinement. But first let us consider some of the essential things in starting a turkey flock.

In selecting a breed consideration should be given to size and weight for after all turkeys are raised for meat production. The Bronze variety seems to be the most popular because of its size. It is sometimes called the Mammoth Bronze. Other popular breeds are the White Holland, Bourbon Red and Narragansett. There are two other varieties called the Black and Slate, but they are not given much consideration in the United States because they are smaller than the others.

There are three ways to start a turkey flock. One is by buying hatching eggs. Another is to purchase baby poults, and the third is the purchase of adult breeding stock. Under favorable conditions you can have turkeys for market the first year.

If you start with breeding take every precaution possible to see that your adult turks are free from disease. Examine them carefully for size and build. Breeding stock should have large frames, broad backs and big, full breasts. See that the legs are sturdy and set well apart.

It hardly seems necessary to point out the advantage of purebred stock. The initial cost may be a little higher, but it costs no more to raise a purebred than a mongrel, and the sale both of birds for breeding and eggs for hatching will more than make up the difference.

A good time to get in the turkey business is now, especially if you follow the plan of starting with breeding stock. Large numbers of turkeys are raised for Christmas markets. You can make some very fine selections from choice flocks that are being prepared for the Christmas trade. One of the fatal mistakes made by many turkey raisers is that the best birds are taken to market and the smaller stock kept for breeding purposes.

Do not try to splurge in the beginning. Start in a small way and develop gradually.

Again I say turkey raising is a profitable business. It should be one of our leading activities along with chickens and live stock. The turkey is a native product. It is as American as the eagle or the buffalo. New wealth will be added to the agricultural coffers of the United States once the turkey takes its rightful place in the poultry world.

STANDARD VARIETY OF COTTON IN COLEMAN CO.

One of the best moves, in our opinion, for the general improvement of farmers in this territory was made here this week when a large number of farmers and business men assembled Tuesday in the City Hall, organized and agreed to adopt a uniform variety of cotton and to grow the same variety for the purpose of selling their staple for better prices. According to information received at this office, communities who have adopted a standard variety of cotton and co-operated in selling have received from five dollars to fifteen dollars per bale above the average prices paid for cotton in communities who plant haphazard varieties. If other places can plant a uniform variety of cotton and get better prices for it, why not this community? We have it from the buyers and from the exporters of Texas cotton that in the future, cotton is going to be sold on its merits and not upon the simple statements of any seller or buyer. Staple and quality are going to be regarded, and disregard of class, either in staple or quality, will bring grief. We are not entering in any combine, but we are serving a little warning to cotton growers, and if we have not been misled, people who grow short staple cotton in the future are going to be penalized on the market. Communities who have adopted one variety of cotton have sold to advantage and others who have not adopted a standard staple variety have certainly been penalized. Take your choice. It's up to you.

AN ANALYSIS OF YOURSELF

Houston Chronicle: It is unwise to seek compliments. You may not get what you desire or you may be told what pleases you but something that is untrue. Those who like to make you feel comfortable and happy usually say something complimentary. To be told of your faults might be more valuable. Of course, a dose of bitter criticism is not easy to take, but it might effect a cure which would work for your good. Once in a while we had a friend who is absolutely honest to the extent of giving his free opinion of us. But you can't expect to have many of this kind, for it makes too large a demand on friendship and few are willing to risk it. If you are earnestly eager to hear the truth, ask what are your bad points, what are your disagreeable traits, and see what you get. Don't ask to have your good points enumerated. You have little tricks that are mighty disagreeable to others and you should find out what they are so that you can rid yourself of them. And having learned what they are, don't be too stubborn to try to overcome them.

Some Don't Think Tom Etheridge, who lives in San Antonio and boosts all Texas, in a talk to the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce, said: "There are just as many dollars today as before the stock market debacle. We still have our health and the same ability to go out and make more money with which to purchase the comforts and even the luxuries of life. Your lands are still as fertile as ever. The water supply has not diminished one iota; the sun still shines; God is in His heaven, and all we need to do is to think and work intelligently." But the fellow who sits around and talks hard times seldom thinks—he just talks from the mouth; and as for work, "he toils not, neither does he spin" anything but empty talk. He should be chloroformed or deported.

Magazine Is Pal of Boys
Those boyhood years between the ages of ten and twenty are the impressionable years—the formative years when the fundamental character of a boy is molded into the pattern it will maintain throughout the remainder of his life. That is why so much importance is placed on the factors that govern the lives of adolescent boys—their companions, their environment, their reading, the food they eat, etc. At this age is determined whether the boy will develop into a cheerful or surly man, intelligent or dull, ambitious or indolent. School teachers, librarians, Scout leaders and other engaged in boy activities have found that THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION magazine is one of the most favorable influences a boy between ten and twenty can have. Its stories and articles are a force for good—wholesome, alive, inspiring. The million or so boys who read this magazine every month consider it their closest friend. In it they find the keenest entertainment, adventure, mystery, athletics, aviation, humor, everything that delights a live-wire American boy. Its sports articles by famous coaches and athletes help boys win places on their school teams. Its professional articles and biographical sketches aid them in selecting their life's work. Its keenly analytical editorials guide them in their daily problems. That boy or young man in whom you are interested would have a world of pleasure reading THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION. Subscription prices are only $2.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. Your order may be turned in at the office of this newspaper or mailed direct to the publishers, THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, 250 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

Do you ever stop to think... EDSON WAITE
WILLIAM R. GONZALES, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER OF THE COLUMBIA (S. C.) STATE, says: "Did you ever stop to think that the newspaper that maintains high ethical standards is serving the honest advertiser as much as it is serving its readers and the general public? Yet there are advertisers in all towns, excepting a few of the great cities, who are constantly endeavoring to force their newspapers to lower their standards and prostitute their news columns. Each one of these attempts to get published 'news stories' that are without any element of news are palpable business puffs. If such stories are printed for one, the consistent, fair dealing paper must print them for all. The public are not fools. The paper becomes cheapened in their sight. They think it is selling its news space and therefore come to regard lightly everything in the paper—including claims by the advertisers. And while the newspapers may not be selling its news space, it is selling its principles—if it has any—for advertising patronage. These stupid advertisers encourage this prostitution of the press by 'playing off' one competitor paper against another, giving their patronage to those that have the lowest newspaper morals. And in the end what have they gained? A press in whose truth and honor the public has no confidence. Advertisements printed in such newspapers are no more worth their money than a hand press and scattered in the streets. On the other hand, advertisements appearing in a newspaper which has character and high standards enjoys in the minds of the readers a reflection of that respect in which they hold the newspaper."
A PATRIOTIC CREED
"The American's Creed," adopted by Congress in 1919, is not as well known to the citizens of the country as it should be. This creed was selected thru a contest, open to all Americans, for the purpose of securing "the best summary of the political faith of America." The author of the successful manuscript was Wm. Tyler Page, a descendant of President Tyler. The phrases composing it are taken from the Preamble and the Constitution of the United States, the Declaration of Independence, the Oath of Allegiance and from utterances of distinguished patriots, all woven together into a complete and lofty sentiment, as follows: "I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. "I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies." —Kerrville Mountain Sun

6 A - CLASS PROPHECY

I had come back to the city of Santa Anna on a business trip and I want to tell you of my adventures while there.

As I went down the street I passed a tall lady wearing a short dress (having come back in style) with a black hat trimmed with feathers. She would have passed by unnoticed if I had not heard a friend of hers say, "Hello, Gladys!" The minute I heard this I knew it was my old friend Gladys Creamer. She told me that she had married Vernon seven years ago and that he was now in California on a vacation. (She had to stay at home and take care of Sonny, who is six years old) She invited me to her home though, and I had been there only three hours when Zelda Ruth came in to borrow a cup of sugar. She begged and coaxed me to come and see her husband (they live next door) so finally I decided to go with her. Imagine my surprise to see Eddie Vaughn standing in the hall. I must say, though, they make a perfect looking pair.

Hardly had I stayed with them five hours than I heard a knock at the door. Zelda Ruth also heard it for running to the door she exclaimed, "Why Bess Shield! Where did you come from?" For Bess is now vice-president of the United States, and may soon be president, the president being ill and not expected to live. Bess replied that she was going back to the capitol from her vacation. (She invited me to come to visit her. My! Wouldn't lots of people like to be in my boots? It's raining outside, of course.) She also reported that Joe is now installed as senator for he is very busy and tries to get up in the world.

Zelda Ruth told me that Eleanor Ridings and Bob Pearce are happily married and living in Fort Worth for Eleanor will not give up her career as an operatic star so of course they had to move.

Christine Zachary is a clerk in Atlanta, Georgia, and Holland is street cleaner, for when Christine left Holland was heart-broken and three days later he was reported missing. Soon a telegram arrived saying that he could stand it no longer and he had gone to be with Christine. Now he sweeps the streets in front of Woolworths in an effort to see her.

Christine Buse is now a movie star and married to John Gilbert, Jr.

May Campbell is a dancer on the New York stage, while Winston Hall stands outside the stage door every night with flowers and candy.

As I was leaving to go to my hotel who should I meet but Leon DuBols. He said he wanted me to meet his wife so I went up to his house and who should his wife be but my old school-mate, Kathryn Wylie. They had two little boys who were the image of their father.

Charlotte Mosely is now an old maid missionary far across the seas in Africa, so of course I couldn't see her, but I succeeded in seeing Dalphine and Billy Baxter. In truth I did not see Billy for Dalphine has divorced him, but from her compliments I judged that he was a good husband.

Elizabeth Rollins is now Governor of Texas, and by the way is the second woman governor.

Dosh T. is a promising young lawyer and is now debating his second murder case.

Ernestine Thames has moved to New York Connecticut, and is now engaged in the manufacture of watches (she furnishes the money).

Evelyn and Leon Morgan are happily married and are saving their money to buy a little cottage with roses.

Elizabeth Fletcher is now a nurse in a large hospital and is a very good one indeed.

Frances is manager of an orphan's home, while Jimmie is a big league baseball player.

Rinoba is very prosperous as an interior decorator and Glen has married a rich man of Europe and is now traveling in Asia.

I intend to take a special visit to Santa Anna every year so that I may see these old friends that I have mentioned and I hope that next year I may see them all.

With an ordinary thermometer you can't tell the temperature of a gallon.

The Second Grade under Miss Wheeler's capable direction rendered a unique program on health.

Mrs. Ford Barnes read a most interesting and instructive paper Mrs. Harris, after making a talk on health in which she described some of the conditions that now exist in our school, appealed to the association to sponsor a child clinic. After discussing this subject the association decided to sponsor the clinic, and a petition was written and signed by the members present. This was given to the city health officer, Dr. Sealy, asking for his and the city's support.

Several other important projects were presented to the club: A Mother and Daughter Banquet in honor of the Girl Scouts was planned. This is to be given on some time this month.

The operetta, which is composed of fifty ward school children and which is being directed by Mrs. Maxine Gattys was discussed. This is to be given on Friday night, March 21st, and the admission will be 15 and 30 cents.

The annual May Fete was discussed by the finance chairman, Mrs. Jodie Mathews. This is to be given in the high school auditorium on the second of May. The May Queen will be elected by the student body of the ward school. A nominating committee of five ladies—Mesdames Shields, Blue, Williamson, Barlett and Miss Marshall—was elected.

The new officers will be elected at the next regular P. T. A. meeting which will be April 1st. Everyone that is interested in the school is invited to be there.

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed, and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

You may not get the largest used-car allowance from the Ford dealer, but that very fact should give you confidence that you are receiving full value in the new car. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on your old car.

Because there is no waste, extravagance or undue profit in manufacturing, distribution or selling, every dollar you pay for a Ford brings a full dollar in return. In lower first cost, in reliability and long life, in the low cost of operation, service and replacement parts, the Ford will save you much more than the seeming difference in trade allowance.

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case, you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

FURTHERMORE, at least $75 extra value is given to you in the new Ford in the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the five steel-spoke wheels, and the four Houdaille hydraulic double-acting shock absorbers. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings, and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings, are other features that show the extra quality built into the Ford car.

Dog Falls Into Woodson Oil Well

If you love your dog don't take him around an oil well. He might be unlucky enough to suffer the same fate as a dog the Woodson Record tells about in the following article.

Last Saturday night about one thirty, while Claude Wilson, driller on the Williams No. 2 on the Easton tract, was busy penetrating the earth in search of liquid gold he was astonished to hear the whining and barking of a dog down in the hole. He had just gone in with the bailer, and was ready to come out when he heard the dog. Neither he nor his tool dresser saw him fall in, but they presumed he ran across the floor while they were going down with the bailer and fell on top of it. They immediately started coming out of the hole in an attempt to rescue the dog and succeeded in getting him within ten or fifteen feet of the top when the bailer struck a wide place and dog fell back in. They were down nearly three hundred feet when this occurred, and hearing the dog barking and whining they did not have the heart to run the tools in to drill him out. Claude and his tool both decided that town was the best place for them so they headed in that direction in a high hope. A vain attempt was made to secure a spear but being unsuccessful they were forced to go back and drill the now dead dog out. Claude reports that it took them over an hour to drill through him, and that he hopes a thing like that will never occur again while he is on lower. They presume that the dog lived about fifteen minutes in the well.

LIKE A BEACON

Even in this day of enlightenment, some folks spend their money blindly. They buy with their eyes closed. They grope in the dark as truly as if their eyes were covered with bandages.

And all the time a powerful light is being thrown on the very things they need and want. Advertising is a beacon to guide you in buying. It shows you what to buy -- where to buy -- and when to buy.

At the same time it protects you against fraud and inferiority.

Merchants who advertise liberally focus thousands of eyes upon their merchandise.

Their values must be honest and their prices right, or they could not advertise successfully.

Don't play blind man's bluff with the elusive dollar. Spend a few minutes running through every issue of this paper. Then buy the things that have proved up in the light of advertising.

Albert Smith of Rockdale arrived Thursday for a few days' Phillips. Albert reports lots of rain in that section.

Mrs. Roy Stockard and children visited her parents and family in Rising Star Sunday.

Texas Area Increased While it does look like Texas was already big enough, it has won 22,500 acres of land and about 500 families from Oklahoma in a boundary suit.

It must make these Oklahomans feel mighty good to live in a great State like Texas without having to move. They are lucky, too, in getting into such good countries as form the Northeastern boundary of Texas.

Why Wisconsin Complains There is no wonder that Wisconsin will not let Charles F. Ladd come into that State to sell Texas land to its citizens.

He landed a train-load of 100 from the frozen North in the Winter Garden district of Texas in February and in 15 minutes had sold seven tracts of land. He had to stop sales finally because he did not have enough land to supply all who wanted to buy. When a Wisconsin man gets to Texas and thaws out in this balmy sunshine, he at once wants to say good-bye to the frigid North.

"State-Wide State Pride" During the last week in February the following papers have enlisted in helping to create a "State-Wide State Pride" by the regular use of the "Texas and Texans" feature: Bay City Tribune, Beeville Bee-Picayune, Cross Plains Review, Cuero Daily Record, Eagle Lake Headlight, Gonzales Daily Inquirer, Gonzales Weekly Inquirer, Luling Signal, Matagorda County Tribune, Waelder New Era.

Editor Atkins of the Bee-Picayune writes: "I believe I am going to be able to use your splendidly prepared review of Texas events to advantage from here on out," which should mean about 50 years for Editor Atkins.

This is the time of the year when father begins to compliment mother on how fine she looks in last spring's hat.

Cotton Planters Hold Successful Meeting

(Continued from page one) Of C. secretary, a number of the Santa Anna farmers were present for this meeting. Lankart cotton seed was the choice of the farmers in the Tuesday meeting, but there is to be no definite effort to make farmers in the Coleman section choose the same cotton. The move is being made in the county, not to make the entire county raise the same kind of cotton, but to have certain sections have a certain variety and thereby solve the ginning problem and at the same time improve the staple.

C. V. Robinson, county agent, was elected chairman of the meeting. Ed Baxter, mayor of Santa Anna, and J. J. Gregg, editor of the Santa Anna News, were present in the interest of the movement; Gregg has been one of the chief promoters of the plan.

J. M. Binion, vocational agriculture teacher at Santa Anna high school, was present and expressed his opinion regarding the many varieties of cotton around Santa Anna. D. A. Cameron, district field representative for the Farm Bureau, who lives at San Saba, is working hard in his district, which includes this county, to improve the staple of cotton throughout this part of the county, and was present to take part in the meeting.

R. R. Browning, Coleman cotton buyer who experiments in raising good cotton, was at the meeting and spoke in favor of the adoption of the Lankart cotton which he has handled and improved standard in the country. Robinson emphasized the extreme need for adopting a standard cotton, something there will be a demand for. "At the present," he said, "you are growing something nobody wants, and putting just as much time and expense on it as you would in growing something there would be a demand for."

A number of agents representing various farms were present to propose that their seed be used and to tell the qualities of each. Haynes, agriculture agent for the Waco Chamber of Commerce, discussed the improvement in Limestone county since 1925 when they first began a movement to improve their cotton. He advised selection of good cotton, and spoke favoring Lankart. He mentioned I. O. Shields, Coleman county farmer, who has found this cotton successful and also J. S. Rogers, ginner, who testified that Lankart cotton grown by B. R. Wilson turned out 40 to 42 per cent.

W. R. Woodward of Waco, who is manager of the Lankart-Bred Seed Farms in McLennan County, was present in the interest of his farms and told of the record of Lankart cotton which has taken blue ribbons in four states, and which has taken more blue ribbons at Texas fairs than all other varieties put together. Other representatives and agents present were Earl of the Ferris Watson farms where the Mobans cotton is bred; B. H. McKiney where the "Sundance" cotton has been bred for 20 years; and W. L. Stuart of Waco, agent for the Cast cotton grown in Ellis County.

Gregg, in addressing the group, said that cotton around Santa Anna had been penalized for three things: short staple, too many varieties, and a poor process of cleaning and ginning. Santa Anna ginner were present and both expressed themselves favoring one variety of cotton in that section and assured the farmers of their willingness to prepare to handle their staple in the best manner.

A motion carried to have the chair appoint a committee to investigate and decide on the type of cotton to be adopted. The committee was made up of J. R. Pearce, M. A. Fritchard, E. P. Rendleman, D. C. Neal, and John Williams. After a short conference Mr. Williams reported for the committee and declared it unanimously in favor of the adoption of the Lankart cotton. The price quoted by Mr. Woodward was $2.25 per bushel if bought in the car-load lots.

At the conclusion of the meeting, about 6 o'clock, a number of orders were given for the cotton seed and a committee will confer with other farmers as to the amount of seed they want and the required shipments will be made soon.
