HIGH SCHOOL P-T-A CELEBRATES FOUNDERS NIGHT ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. L. W. Hunter Santa Anna Pioneer Died Thursday

At an early hour Thursday morning, Mrs. L. W. Hunter, one of the most highly respected and beloved pioneer women of Santa Anna, passed away at her home on west Main street. The funeral is to be held at the Baptist church, about the time for the News to go to press, and a detailed mention of Mrs. Hunter and her useful life cannot be made in this issue.

CELEBRATE WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Sunday February 8th at the beautiful country home of W. G. Grady in the Indian Creek community in Brown County, the seven living children of a pioneer family met and enjoyed a splendid birthday dinner. The family had arranged a surprise for Mr. Grady, it being his 71st birthday. A huge cake with candles was the center of attraction but the well prepared turkey proved to be the most popular dish.

Those present were C. M. Grady, J. T. Grady and wife, Ed Grady and wife, of Brownwood, W. G. Grady wife and family, at home; V. L. Grady, Mrs. A. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kelley of Santa Anna. The day was greatly enjoyed and as the guests departed for their homes in the afternoon, each heart was filled with gratitude for the sweet associations of the day.

Mrs. L. C. Willans and daughters, Miss Beulah and Mrs. W. D. Harrell, accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Huguen and daughter, Miss Leona, of Coleman, visited in Goldsboro Sunday.

C. A. White and family of Brownwood visited Mr. and Mrs. Mike Johnson Sunday evening.

Mrs. T. R. Garrett and daughter, Devera Ann, of Brownwood, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Harris this week.

The High School Parent-Teacher Association put on a program at the High School Auditorium Monday night, in honor of the 33rd anniversary of the P. T. A. organization. There were thirty-three participating in the program, and several nice and inspiring talks were made. Mrs. C. P. Petty presided, Mrs. P. P. Bond delivered the welcome address, and the High School orchestra furnished the music. Prof. Ben A. Oliver and Mrs. A. L. Oder were among the principal speakers. The program was interesting throughout and those present were appraised of the real value of the Parent-Teacher Association to the school. Ford Barnes told of the value of the P-T-A to the school board and John E. Smith spoke as a student. A number of others were noted for their parts on the program, but we failed to get the complete personnel of the program. In fact, the program was much more interesting than we expected and the P. T. A. is a more valuable asset to the school than we had given them credit for.

The candle lighting service was impressive and interesting. A large cake decorated with 33 candles was placed in the middle of the stage. The candles were lighted as different ones came forward and told something of the work of the Parent-Teachers-Association.

After the close of the program the audience was directed upstairs to the Domestic Science rooms, where delicious fruit punch was served and a social period enjoyed.

Starnes-Haynes

Miss Marie Starnes was married to Clyde B. Haynes Sunday afternoon, February 16, at the home of A. L. Oder, the same being the officiating minister. This is a popular young couple of the Trickham community. A host of friends wish for them a safe voyage upon the matrimonial sea.

Rev. G. T. Walker of Cisco spoke at both morning and evening services at the Christian Church Sunday.

W. L. Constable, who gets his mail on Route One out of Coleman, was in Friday to renew his subscription.

The John Pearce farm, about midway between Santa Anna and Coleman looked like a first class stag picnic scene Wednesday, when County Agent C. V. Robinson, joined by Prof. Mathews, teacher of Vocation Agriculture at Coleman, Prof. Binion, teacher of Vocational Agriculture in the Santa Anna high school, joined in with D. K. (Dad) Short, of the Federal Land Bank at Houston and Mr. Bentley, expert terracing school and power farm demonstrator. The editor was able to steal off a little while at the noon hour but could not spend the day with the jolly bunch of farmers and business men assembled. Farmalls, farm tractors, ditching machines, two and four row planters and cultivators were used and at noon a crowd estimated to be 250 men and boys was served luncheon. Several talks were made, the principal speakers being Mr. Bentley and Mr. Short. Should we have known sooner, we would have made an effort to get a reporter on the field for the day, but since the meeting was arranged on such short notice, we did not have time to arrange for a reporter. We feel sure the meeting was a profitable one for Coleman county, as a large crowd of interested farmers were there to absorb the information.

Library Notes

Many volumes of choice books from the private library of the late L. S. Millard are now in the possession of the Library.

Besides these fifty-two volumes of the Harvard Classics are placed upon the shelves for a period of two years, and considered a loan. Through the generosity of S. A. Millard this privilege is ours and all subscribers join in an expression of appreciation of this kindness.

One dollar annually entitles you to membership in the Library Association. Two books may be taken each week and must be returned at the end of two weeks.

In no other way can one enjoy as much good reading within one year at such low cost. Let's read more. The Library is open from 2 to 5 p. m. each Wednesday.

Sunday at the Baptist Church

As we are so near the commencing of our revival, every member of the church is urged to be present next Sunday. The pastor will preach at both hours on "Preparation for a Revival." We had one addition last Sunday. Had a splendid crowd at prayer meeting last week.

Our Sunday School attendance is picking up again after falling off to a very low point during the cold weather.

B. Y. P. U.'s meet at 6:30 Sunday night, and preaching service at 7:30.

We invite all the heart hungry to come to the services.

Presbyterian Mission Study Class Meets

The Presbyterian Mission Study Class met at the home of Mrs. Clinton Lowe on last Tuesday. The last five chapters of "Roads to the City of God" were recited and discussed in a very interesting manner. Then dinner was announced and such a dinner! Nearly everything in the way of eatables was provided.

In the afternoon the time was spent very pleasantly in conversation and quilting. A business meeting was held later. We were delighted to have Mother Garrett with us for the first time in several months.

Miss Sattie Bowers orders the Santa Anna News mailed to her at 712 Amicable Bldg. at Waco Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hill Sr. and daughter, Mrs. Lewis Evans, were business visitors in Coleman Tuesday.

Rev. J. B. ROWAN

Revival Meeting at Baptist Church

The date for our revival has been changed and will start on Sunday, March 2, instead of March 16 as previously announced.

Rev. J. B. Rowan, one of our State Evangelists, will do the preaching in the revival. Bro. Rowan has had wonderful success in the evangelical field since resigning from the First Baptist Church of Terrell to accept a place on our state force.

All are invited to attend this meeting. Services will be held twice daily, 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Begin now to pray for the revival, and may it be the time when all the Christian people of the town unite in prayer for a sweeping revival. We especially invite the Christians of other denominations to join us in prayer for this meeting. We will have prayer meeting each night next week at 7:30. All who pray are invited to these prayer meetings that we might make the heart preparation so essential for a revival.

—Hal C. Wingo, Pastor

Lions Club to Foster Clean Up Campaign

At the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday, a committee composed of W. Ford Barnes, J. J. Gregg and Mayor W. E. Baxter was appointed to arrange a plan and submit it to the Club and the entire citizenship of Santa Anna, for a general clean up in the near future. The outline of the plan recommended will be read before the Club next Tuesday and published in the paper next week. An effort will be made to enlist the united support of citizenship to join in the campaign. Your friendly suggestions and council will be appreciated. Get your thinking caps on and let's take this town to a real good cleaning.

Next Trades Day On March 4th

Tuesday, March 4th, will be the next regular monthly Trades Day. Several merchants have indicated they expect to carry specials for the day and advertise them in the paper next week to make the day an event worth while. Watch for them. May we urge that more of the merchants prepare some nice specials and have your copy ready early. If there ever was a time when home merchants and rural customers should get together and work for the best interest of all it is right now. Home merchants should take the lead in this important step.

Christian Endeavor Society Entertained

Last Saturday evening Rev. and Mrs. Womack entertained the young people of the Christian Endeavor Society with a Valentine party at the First Presbyterian Church. Games suitable for the occasion and interesting contests were enjoyed, after which delicious fruit punch and cake were served.

Mrs. C. S. Knox of Whon is here to be with her daughter who is a patient in the Sealy hospital.

Thursday morning about 3:30 o'clock fire was discovered in the bath room and Undertaking department on the second floor of the Johnson Furniture company, and was making great headway when discovered by Ennis Honnol, employee of Mr. Johnson's, who was sleeping in a room on the first floor, directly beneath the spot where the fire originated. Having awoken he ran thru the smoke to Mr. Johnson's room on the second floor, aroused him, turned in the fire alarm, and exerted his every effort to assist Mr. Johnson to escape and to extinguish the fire. Mr. Johnson escaped thru a window on the second floor by means of a rope.

The stock was greatly damaged by the fire, water and smoke. The stock was being invoiced and a large stock of caskets and undertaking supplies had just been moved in from a branch house at Brady. The stock consisted of about fifteen thousand dollars worth of furniture, caskets, undertaking supplies and house furnishings and was only insured for about fifty percent of its value. The store will be closed until adjustments can be made with the insurance companies. The Undertaking and ambulance service, however, will be continued without interruption as Mr. Johnson is prepared to render this service on very short notice.

The Volunteer Fire company made a quick response to the call and soon had the fire under control. Mr. Johnson has incurred a heavy loss and his friends are very much in sympathy with him.

The Fire Department at Coleman rushed a truck and several men to the scene, to aid the local company in event the fire got from under their control.

Leady Carroll, of Coleman, Mr. E. T. Carroll and Edwin Carroll left Wednesday for Houston in response to a message from Mrs. Joe Jhonesh, daughter of Mr. E. I. Carroll, stating that her husband had died Tuesday morning.

J. A. Price, out on the Trickham route, was in last week to renew for his Santa Anna News and Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm.

Ennis Honnol was a visitor in Brownwood Thursday.

Teacher's Salary May Double in Two Years

"In a year and seven months my salary has increased so that I am now earning $745 more a year than while teaching, and I have earned over $200 a month I have earned over $200 doing work on the side. In two years time I think that I shall have doubled my teaching salary." This is the report of Miss Ann M. a graduate of Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration. Miss M. is now holding a position with a large automobile company in a progressive Louisiana town.

"After being with you four months and eleven days as a student in a private secretarial course, you placed me here. The increase in my salary over my former teaching salary has more than paid for my course already, and think of the extra thousands coming my way as the years roll by. I feel very grateful to you for my success."

The record of this teacher is typical of a great many. Miss And was a teacher before going to T. C. C. Her teacher training ably prepared her for business training. Teachers are almost always successful student, finish their course in quicker time, and usually command positions among the best.

Are YOU thinking of giving up teaching? Stick to teaching if you are doing well and like it, but if you plan a change — to Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration. There is the open door of business independence.

Mules Traded On Tractor

MILES, Feb. 19. About 2,500 mules were shipped out of Runnels County during 1929. Most of these mules were taken in by local agencies of tractors. Others were sold direct to shippers by the farmers. A number of horses were also shipped. The mule and horse population in Runnels County is decreasing rapidly.

Tractors are taking the place of mules and horses on the Runnels County farms. There are over 1,000 tractors in use in the county today, whereas four years ago the number was less than 100. When tractors were first sold to the farmers here it was the rule for them to retain at least one span of horses or mules with which odd jobs about the farm were done. But since tractors have come into more general use, many farmers have dispensed with work stock entirely, doing all their farm work with tractors. Many farmers own two or more tractors, and with them cultivate much more land than they could handle formerly.

Most of the mules shipped out of Runnels County went to the Fort Worth market. From there they found buyers from Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and East Texas, where farms are smaller and where tractors are not so well adapted for farm purposes.

You will notice the above news item is of recent date, and from an adjoining county. A similar condition exists in our home county, and the idea of power farming is growing in favor with the sale of every FARM-ALL.

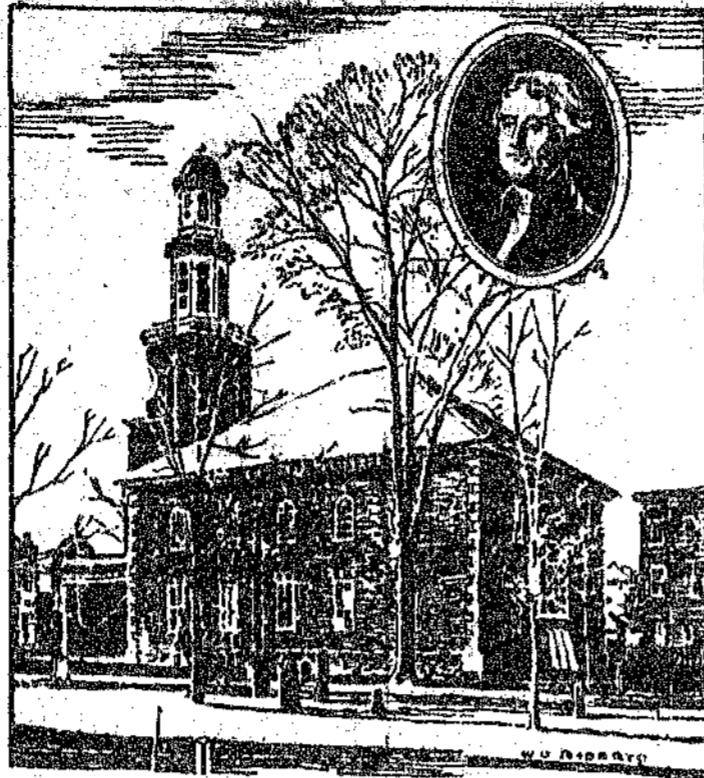

There is no question about power farming. The only question now is to get a good FARM-ALL and get started.

Where Washington Worshipped

Christ church in Alexandria, Va., where George Washington was a vestryman. In his boyhood he attended the rural church at Pohick.

Superb Courage of Washington

When Washington took command of the New England troops besieging Boston he assumed responsibility for more men under arms than he had ever seen before. The numbers were embarrassing not only as a problem of direction but as one of organization. He owed his appointment to two things, one the necessity of overcoming the colonial jealousy in New England and the other of bringing the South definitely in with the North. Principally for the second reason John Adams opposed the appointment of John Hancock as chief in command and procured the appointment of Colonel Washington.

Probably at no time was the professional soldier's contempt for untrained citizens in arms, for trained bands, militia, and an armed rabble greater than it was before Concord and Bunker Hill in New England, but the attack on the hill taught respect for the Colonials behind earthworks and in entrenchments. However, it went as far as that.

In spite of the inherent defects of the troop organization and supply the New Englanders had done their work well. Their chief, Artemus Ward, and his associates, Heath, Knox, Arnold, Stark, etc., may not have been skilled soldiers, but they were determined and brave, and devotion never reached a higher level of courage than it did in such men as Warren and Prescott. The 17,000 Colonial militiamen whom Colonel Washington found about Boston had taught the British professionals two costly lessons. Distinguished British generals with a competent force were besieged and uncertain both as to what to do and how to do it.

Knew British Weakness. Several things dictated Washington's subsequent military course. First was his own physical and moral courage. That was his best military equipment. It was unhesitating and unflinching. Second probably, was his experience with British regular troops. He had seen them lose their discipline under terror. It was not a proper inditement of Braddock's regulars that they could not fight the French and Indians as the Virginia riflemen could fight them. The disaster was that they would not obey orders. The third was his distrust of militia men, militia, and of undisciplined riflemen.

It is true that men of that type won the principal American successes, as at Oriskany, Buntington, Saratoga, King's Mountain, and Cowpens, but it was Washington's army which kept the pressure on the British points of concentration.

It was Washington's distinctive characteristic that he would attack. That quality was developed in him as if he had the experience, the genius, and the resources of any one of the great generals of history. He had two plans to throw the British out of Boston. Both were vetoed by his council. Both were amazingly audacious. Both may have been very foolish. One was to attack across the ice if it became solid enough to permit it. The other was to attack in rowboats. It is one thing for an untrained general and an untrained command to resist behind cover, but only a man with Washington's courage would have seriously considered assaulting a fortified city supported by a fleet and held by disciplined troops.

His Greatest Exploit. When he attacked at Trenton his army had been shattered by its experiences at Brooklyn Heights, by its narrow escape from the easy-going Howe, by its retreat across New Jersey, by losses in battle, by desertions, and by the defection of the surrounding countryside.

It is true that something had to be done to revive the expiring flame of American resolution and courage, but here was an exploit of pure determination and serene heroism which took the fragment of a beaten army across the Delaware to risk an adventure which might have meant the end.

When Howe moved out of New York on the misguided campaign which took Philadelphia at the sacrifice of Burgoyne, Washington placed himself between the British and the Capital. He was defeated at Brandywine, but in spite of that he later attacked at Germantown and nearly won. It has been said that his plan of action was too good, that it required movements his officers and men were unable to execute. This attack was regarded as another audacity proving that Washington did not know when he was licked and consequently could not be. The battle of Germantown, although lost, had its part, along with Saratoga, in convincing France that in supporting the Americans it might pick or make the winner.

Glorious Victories. When Howe withdrew from Philadelphia to return to New York, Washington undertook to harass and, if possible, intercept the movement, and at Monmouth he again attacked an enemy which was not hunting trouble at that time or place.

The taking of Stony Point by light infantry under General Wayne was an example of military maneuver obviously attractive to the character of Washington as a soldier. It was without powder, and the men who climbed the bluffs in the night knew that the nearest officer would kill anyone who fired a shot. They had nothing but their bayonets. Again, at the taking of redoubts No. 9 and No. 10 at Yorktown, the French the one, the American light infantry the other, there was no powder.

At every opportunity Washington took the advantage with courage and confidence which disregarded cautious consideration of what he had to do and of what he had to do with. When he took command before Boston he had many military lessons of generalship to learn from experience, but he did not have to acquire courage. That was in his stout heart, and it was the quality which made the Declaration of Independence good.

SEEN AT TWILIGHT

From whatever position it is viewed, or in what light, the Washington monument is noble in its simple magnificence.

First Birthday Celebration. George Washington's birthday first was celebrated as a patriotic holiday at Newport, R. I., in 1781, 18 years before he died. Washington was present at some of the most notable of the early holiday occasions in honor of his birthday. He attended a gigantic patriotic ball in his honor at Philadelphia on February 22, 1792. His birthday was celebrated each year from then on but the greatest of all the celebrations took place in New York in 1793.

Lenity will operate with greater force, in some instances, than rigor. It is therefore my first wish to have my whole conduct distinguished by it.—Washington.

Washington's Breakfast. In "The Washington House in Philadelphia" the statement is made that Washington's unvarying menu for the morning meal was Indian cakes, honey and tea.

SANTA ANNA NEWS
 Published at the Post Office at Santa Anna, Texas, as Second Class Mail.
 J. Gregg Editor and Pub.
 Friday, February 21, 1930

After exhaustive study of the question, a prominent authority asserts that the movies neither do harm nor good. Of course, this doesn't take into consideration one's eyesight, one's pocketbook, one's sides hurt laughing, one's time more profitably employed, or one's argument at the supper table as to which theatre to attend.

The trouble about marrying a title is that so many girls wake up and find they married substitutes.

The arms conference has accomplished one thing already. Forty-seven stenographers got to see London.

Who Pays For Advertising?

The manufacturer? The jobber? Or the customer? Many people think that one of these three pay for the advertising.
 The Santa Anna News is recognized as a representative Texas country newspaper.
 The ads in the News are a proven success. News' ads always brings the best of results. So who pays for their advertising?
 Not the manufacturer. Not the jobber. Not the purchaser. Nobody pays for the advertising in the Santa Anna News. It pays for itself.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pearce visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holt of El Dorado Sunday.
 Mrs. W. A. Garms was a Brownwood visitor Sunday.

H. W. Parish, General Manager of the Seattle (Wash.) Star, Says:

"Did you ever stop to think of the importance of a live, aggressive newspaper to your community?
 "Nothing can do the work of newspapers except newspapers. The service of its newspaper to a community is vital to its prosperity and progress. This is so true that it may be said that the bigger, better and stronger newspaper a city has the better off that city will be, and it naturally follows that the same applies to every resident of that city.
 "Newspapers are of necessity the civic leaders. On them falls the responsibility of clarifying and crystallizing public thought and opinion so that the big, important measures which are essential to progress can be successfully carried thru.
 "The newspapers' strength, prosperity and ability to serve the community depends in the long run on the support it receives from the advertising it carries. Newspapers, costing thousands of dollars a month, are sold for a few cents per copy or per week because of its advertising receipts.
 "The better results a merchant gets from his newspaper space the more of it he will use, and the more he uses the better paper you will receive.
 "It is perfectly clear, therefore, that you are doing yourself and your community a good turn when you make it a part of your business to read and buy through newspaper advertising, and tell your merchants that you do so."

A. L. Pearce For County Judge

A. L. Pearce, prominent Coleman County farmer and a former representative to the state legislature for two terms from this district has stated his intentions of entering the race for the office of county judge. Mr. Pearce's announcement is to be found in the political announcement column of the News this week.

Mr. Pearce has the following to say to the voters of the county: "After due consideration of the matter I have decided to yield to the solicitations of my friends and enter the race this year for the office of county judge, and in so doing I am mindful of the fact that the major part of whatever qualifications I may possess have been acquired in the field of experience; therefore, if a bar license or the ability to place construction on every phase of legal matters were the chief requirements it would be useless for me to seek the office. But in my opinion, the main legal requirements for a county judge is to be able to follow the route mapped out for him in the statutes of the state.

There is another very essential qualification—business experience—for the county judge and commissioners are the custodians of the county's business. If you select me for the job, I will try to make a servant worthy of his hire.
 Yours very truly,
 A. L. Pearce

"HARD TIMES"

Have you heard that "times are hard"? And do you spend a great deal of time thinking about your ill fortune? And have you observed that the more you think about it the more ill your fortune becomes? A better remedy is to get busy doing something. Even if you are paid nothing for your work, it gives your mind a needed and helpful change.

But our real trouble is not the lack of money, however great our financial depression may seem. Our greatest need is not money but religion. For the Christian is able to successfully live through many a trying experience. And what a source of strength, comfort and courage He is to many a weaker spirit.

In times of adversity and of prosperity we need to seek the Lord. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Matt. 6:33).

When we practice the truth of this Scripture all things take their proper place in our life, and life becomes not a burden but a blessing. And we are able to make our way, happily and successfully, through life's trials and troubles, as well as its joys and triumphs.

SQUILL KILL
 Rats Cost Millions Annually

You can rid your premises of this costly pest without danger to your poultry or domestic animals by using Squill Kill, a Red Squill preparation. Red Squill is recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in farm bulletin No. 1533, as being taken readily by rats and relatively harmless to human beings and domestic animals.

Rats cost the America people $200,000,000 annually. They distribute the virus of plague of hydrophobia, of trichinosis, of equine influenza. When you can be rid of these pests by using Squill Kill at a cost of 50 cents, can you afford to have them?
 Squill Kill carries a positive guarantee. If used according to instructions, your money will be refunded if Squill Kill does not kill rats and mice.

A Brand-New Anti-Knock Gas, 400° F. End Point
AT NO EXTRA COST

THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE MADE BETTER

The largest petroleum interests in the United States are represented in Santa Anna. These companies are paying taxes to help develop Santa Anna and educate your children. The agents and employes live in Santa Anna, pay taxes and are glad to do so; and when you are buying gasoline, motor oils and other petroleum products---think of these things.

Santa Anna has the best Dry Goods Stores, Grocery Stores, Hardware Stores, Banks, Garages, Service Stations, and many other concerns to be found in Central Texas, all home owned, which we pride and esteem.

We wish to thank the public for the generous patronage given us the past three years, and hope to merit your continued patronage by giving you a real service. Three years ago the Gulf Refining Company had on their books in this territory only thirteen customers. Today they have more than EIGHT HUNDRED. We do not say this boasting any one individual for his ability, but recognize the help and friendly council of friends who have helped us to accomplish this achievement.

We sincerely thank our customers for telling their friends about
---OUR SERVICE
---OUR PRODUCT and above all
OUR POLICY

THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE

Is now Anti-Knock quality—400 degrees F. end point— at no extra cost. This Anti-Knock quality stops the knocks in the new high compression motors and greatly improves motor efficiency whether of the old type or of modern high compression design.

The 400 degrees F. End Point gives instant and complete vaporization to the last drop—many motorists may not know what 400 degrees F. End Point means but every motorist can tell the difference in his car between the new Good Gulf Gasoline and the ordinary gasoline with 437 degrees F. End Point. Ordinary motor gasoline may be loaded with Anti-Knock chemicals, but the heavy non-burning ends remain to retard engine performance.

This combination of high anti-knock properties and volatility (the 400 F. End Point) makes the new Good Gulf Gasoline the equal of many premium gasolines and far superior to all non-premium fuels. There is but one better gas—GULF NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL AVIATION GRADE (374 degrees F. End Point).

Remember, there is no extra cost for this new Good Gulf Gasoline. Try it today.
