

Coleman Co. REA Secures Farm Electric Equip't. Show

The Coleman County Electric Cooperative this week completed arrangements that will bring the big REA Farm Electric Equipment show here November 27 and 28. This traveling exhibit, which carries with it a huge tent, smaller tents, and truck loads of electric farm equipment and household appliances, is touring eight States in the largest wide-scale demonstration of this type ever undertaken in the United States. It is brought here through the cooperation of the local project, the State Extension Service, neighboring Rural Electric Cooperative in McCulloch County, and the Rural Electrification Administration. Farm people will have an opportunity to see a very wide variety of electrically powered equipment in actual operation. Grain for grinding will be hauled in from nearby farms. Feed grinders will be operated with various size motors of from one-quarter to ten horsepower by J. R. Cobb of REA and a representative of the Extension Service.

The morning and early afternoon program in the big tent will be of especial interest to farm women. New labor-lightening appliances will be demonstrated by Miss Kathryn Harris, REA home economist. The use of washing machines, electric irons, and other electrical appliances in the home laundry will be taken up in the laundering demonstration as part of the women's program. With modern washing machines and electric ironing equipment, the laundry for a large family can be done quickly and with little drudgery. Planning of the laundry, and points on the selection of equipment and its care, will likewise be taken up.

Manufacturers of farm machinery, plumbing, home appliances, and lighting fixtures, are cooperating with REA and local cooperatives to bring this caravan of equipment to inform farm families of the latest developments in farm and home electrical uses.

Much of the equipment that will be demonstrated has been especially designed for automatic electric operation. The demonstration will show that in the average case lighter and smaller equipment can be used advantageously.

Mr. S. R. Hale was selected chairman of the committee on general arrangements. He will name various committees or members of the cooperatives to have charge of labor arrangements for grain to grind and for other demonstration materials. Extension agents of Coleman, McCulloch, and adjacent Counties are also taking part in organizing this program.

The motors used in the demonstrations will be moved from place to place with a specially designed device. They will get current through heavy underground cable simply laid out on the ground from the panel. It can be handled, walked on, and driven over by cars and trucks without danger. Every important phase of electrical use on the farm and in the home will be included in the tour's program. Farmers from the above named Counties, whether they are receiving current from REA lines or not, are invited to attend these educational demonstrations.

DEER IN TEXAS REPORTED PLENTIFUL

Deer are going to be plentiful and in good shape when the season opens on November 16 in spite of droughts in the western part of Texas, the state game, fish and oyster commission announced in Austin recently.

The number of deer is increasing, the commission reported. In some parts of the state the increase was so marked that a food shortage was threatened.

The drought had no effect on the number of deer, but will tend to make the young ones smaller than last year.

POPULAR CIRCUS SOON TO APPEAR IN THIS VICINITY

Circus Day with its perennial appeal to all ages will be the center of attraction for many people from this vicinity when Russell Bros. Circus exhibits at Coleman on Tuesday, Oct. 24, afternoon and night.

Russell Bros., one of but a few of the larger and better circuses still on the road, discredits the old saying, "If you see one you have seen them all." It has succeeded in effectively combining all the fondly cherished big top traditions of old with the latest modern trends and improvements. Its program abounds with surprising novelties and interesting innovations, together with the ever-alluring feats of skill and courage by daring aerialists, equilibrist, equestrians and animal performers.

Exceptionally fine horses are seen in expert performances, and in addition to the indispensable elephants, many other kinds of trained animals are presented, the entire program is, of course, plentifully interspersed with the playful pranks of the clowns, and is followed by an exciting wild west show. Performances start at 2 and 8 p. m., with the front doors opening at 1 and 7 p. m., to allow ample time for an inspection, without extra cost, of the wild-animal displays and horse show in the menagerie.

Beat Those Blizzards

The Winters Blizzards have a conference standing of 500 per cent. They defeated Bugs-tied Cross Plains and lost to Mizzelle. Although the Mountaineers are not so highly rated, the best teams in the conference have won against them by a small margin. Santa Anna hasn't been really outplayed in a single game.

The odd, are even in the coming game. So, boys, it's up to you to win. We want them to remember the Mountaineers. Get in there and fight! Block guard and tackle as hard as you can! Make those blizzards look like a pair of cats in a whirlwind. You know what to do!

Mountaineers To Play Blizzards

The Santa Anna Mountaineers met the Winters Blizzards Friday night at eight o'clock at the high school and held a good crowd is expected as this is the first conference game at home. When interviewed, Coach McDonald said, "There'll be a fighting bunch of real Mountaineers out there Friday night. I think we're about due to win a game and now is a good time to start."

Come on folks, show some spirit and let the boys know we are behind them from now on.

My First Dance in Santa Anna Mrs. Paul Van Dalsen

The first dance I ever attended was in the second story of the Wolford Brothers' store when the town was in the gap of the mountain, which was about 55 years ago.

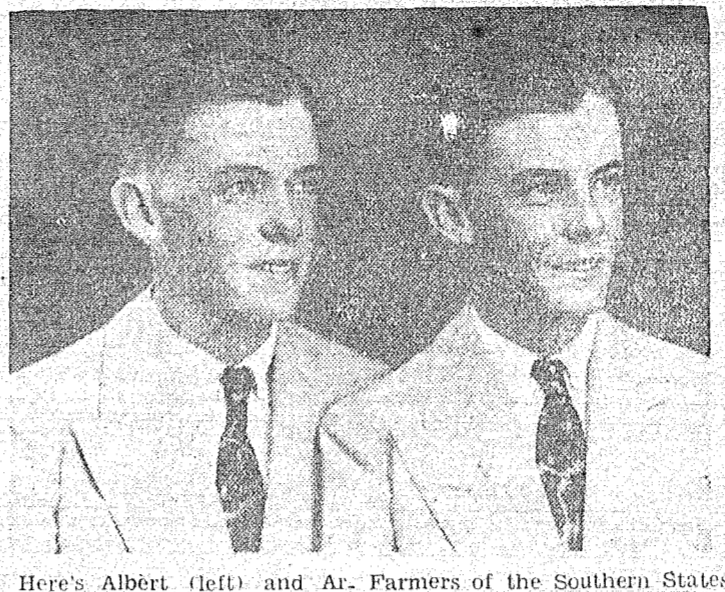

The citizens gave a supper and dance for the benefit of a new school house. They charged a small fee to enter. My father took my older sister and me. The school building we had at that time was located where the Simpson Gin is now. It was about twelve feet square and had no windows and desks, but a firm dirt floor. Mrs. Mary Austin was our teacher. She was Mrs. Gertrude Long's mother. The new school building was built in the east part of town on McDaniel hill, where it was used several years and moved nearer town when the railroad came, to be located where the Ward school now stands.

We had desks in the new school, also glass windows. One drowsy afternoon I laid my head on the desk and watched the shadows of the clouds climb the east mountain and I went to sleep. The teacher, Mr. Chas. Cock hit the desk with a switch and waked me. Of course the others all laughed Mr. Cock was a brother-in-law to Mrs. C. C. Burk and the Holt Brothers and Mrs. Vercher and Mrs. Conner of Gouldbusk.

But back to the supper and dance. I think there were more men than girls there. I remember four Rindlemans boys and four Hammonds, two Bartons, John Bratton, Will Day, Wal Taylor and many more I did not know. Miss Grace Callan of Coleman was there. I think she was a sister to Claude Callan. It was the first time I ever saw Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parker. Mr. Parker played the violin. It was the first time I ever saw Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Campbell and W. Ellis was their baby then. I can remember the neighbors for five miles around. There were Kirkpatrick's, Rendlemans, Leedy, Miles, McGonagil, Kilgore, Oliver, Austin, Brooks, Grady, Jackson, Hunter, Herndon Pearson, Boyd, Taylor, and Wofford. Dr. J. P. Matthews soon came and A. P. Hall, the druggist and the Crosby Brothers.

My father told Mr. Hall about trapping a white rat and he wanted it to keep in the drug store to kill mice. He sent it to him, by me the next day as I went to school and I told him that Father said he would give him the rat if he would vote for "Local Option" in the near future. He promised he would. I did not know then what "Local Option" was, but it carried. I called it "Loco Loption."

Mr. Henry Brown lived about where Frank Turner's house is now and he had a herd of sheep grazing where the business part of Santa Anna is now. He had an 18 year old boy herding the sheep when some cowboys rode among them and scattered them and hurt a few. Mr. Brown grabbed his gun and started after the boys and Mrs. Brown followed him begging him not to shoot. He did not shoot but he scattered the boys. Mrs. Brown was wearing a false hair switch. When it became loose she carried it in her hand. The shepherd boy told someone afterward he was so sorry for Mrs. Brown, for she was so excited she pulled her hair out by the hands full.

I will write about the first Hotel soon.

Sudden Death

By PIERCE BROOKS

Pres. Texas Safety Council One of the great thrills experienced by Texas fathers and mothers, comes to them when they pass the public schools and see on every adjacent corner earnest and courteous young men cheerfully directing traffic in the interest of greater safety.

Schools that have not adopted this plan of promoting good citizenship, as well as safety for pedestrians and motorists alike are urged to meet with their law enforcement agencies and work out a cooperative system.

That the world is getting better - especially in this peaceful land, is manifest in the attitude of the students themselves toward this service. In "the good old days," the rough element of the schools would have scored such precautions and jeered the patriots, but today, hearty cooperation is given and all like it.

A boy who will get up early in the morning and report for patrol duty, in rain or shine, cold or heat, has something in him to make Texans feel a pride in him. It is great to see youthful Texans directing traffic to preserve life, rather than wielding a bayonet or directing a bullet to take a life. If traffic rules are enforced around the schools, many will catch the point and will observe them elsewhere. It's great to save a life or a limb.

REVIVAL SERVICES

The First Baptist Church is planning an eight day enrollment revival, beginning next Sunday and running through the fifth Sunday. The revival will be directed by home forces. The services will be at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., with prayer meetings each evening at 7 o'clock.

We extend an earnest invitation to members of the various churches, and to the public to attend these services as it is convenient.

We have found quite a number of Baptists living in the community who have not joined the church here. There are many others who prefer the Baptist Church who have never joined. There are many un saved who may not have a preference. To all of these we extend a cordial invitation to attend the services. We are especially anxious to get every Baptist lined up with the church here. It will be a blessing to the individual and to the church.

We want these services to be a blessing to all and we urge our friends and the public to come and have fellowship with us in these hours of worship together.

S. R. Smith, Pastor.
