SHRUNKEN EXPORT MARKETS HAVE INTENSIFIED FARMERS' PROBLEMS

EACH SHIP REPRESENTS EXPORTS FROM 25 MILLION ACRES

FACTORS BLOCKING FOREIGN TRADE

- 1. TARIFFS, TRADE BARRIERS, ETC.
- 2. SCARCITY OF CASH AND CREDIT ABROAD
- 3. WAR MEASURES
- 4. TREND TOWARD SELF-SUFFICIENCY ABROAD

One of the big reasons for America's farm problem is the decline in the foreign market for agricultural products.

Prior to the World War the United States was a debtor nation and paid her debts by selling her agricultural products to her creditors.

After the war, America changed to a creditor nation. Up to 1929 at least part of the foreign market was held by making loans to other nations.

STATE PRESS SEEMS TO BE suffering from a bad stomach ache every time he reads about Santa Anna. As far back as we can remember, the name of Santa Anna has provoked sarcasm from the ancient one, and true to form, without knowing any facts, he pops off with advice that is applicable under many and varied circumstances, and we knew it forty years ago, or thereabout. We beg to differ as to the wisdom of running a paper that has neither personality or nerve to discuss evils of the day and bad conditions or situations. The paper that has to agree with everybody agrees with nobody and a first grade student might as well do the editorial writing. All the roar because we said we lost a subscriber who thought the way to punish the editor for daring to disagree with him was to stop the paper. We think he was darned decent to stop the paper; some let it come along, and refuse to pay. We lost another subscriber, too, S. P., a gent who thought he should be allowed to pay his subscription at some hazy date in the dim decades to come. We have gained far more subscribers than we have lost, which means that the readers have read well and considered, and readers agree or do not agree, as suits their own ideas. The editor who pleases everyone with his writing is a dumb dora and the readers are soon aware of it. The writer who stirs up discussion is doing some good. If he is right and convincing, he gets the support of his readers; if he errs, public spirited fellow businessmen are not slow to talk the matter over with him. Keeping mum and keeping secrets do the public a lot of harm—more than it injures the editor. News readers are among the state's best citizens. We're glad News editorials receive the approbation of 99 per cent of them 99 per cent of the time. Santa Anna is all to the good, and will survive despite S. P., as will the writer.

CROPS IN THIS SECTION ARE in the best condition in many years, according to several of our farmers who dropped in over the week-end. Some little loss in grain is reported, due to soggy fields not permitting harvesting, but with decent markets this year our West Texas farmers are going to make a few dollars of profit. Profit is almost at the disappearing point in most lines, and its reappearance will be a welcome novelty.

ALL OF US LIVE BY THE LABOR of private enterprise. And when private enterprise expands and goes ahead, all of us benefit. An item recently appearing in Electrical World aptly illustrates that. This year, it states, the electric utility industry is spending $805,000,000 for construction. As a result, it is estimated, new jobs are being created for 1,200,000 workers. And those people will receive directly $454,000,000 in wages—75 per cent of the total expenditure. The whole country will share in that gigantic payroll—which, remember, is in addition to the regular utility payroll. Every state will feel the good effects. The grocery store, the dry goods shop, the theatre, the doctor, the dentist, the church—all will get a share of it. And as the 1,200,000 workers spend their wages, more new jobs will be created. It is a gigantic circle of spending, in which the benefits are multiplied time and again. Not one cent of that money will come out of the public treasuries—out of the pockets of the taxpayers—as is the case of all the government owned power projects. None of it will be tax exempt as is the case with hundreds of millions of dollars dumped into the unnecessary government plants. Not one cent will be politically administered. It is all private money, representing the savings of thousands of ordinary people. It is a fraction of America's private savings—going for purposes which will create more taxable wealth. This is real progress. And think how much greater progress would have been made had it not been for the political drive to socialize the power industry—a drive that has, beyond question, kept the utilities from spending billions. Thousands of persons now on relief can thank the socialist element of government for a policy which has robbed them of honest jobs—thousands of people of small means with a few dollars in savings can thank the same element for a policy which has made safe investment harder and harder to find. It's time now to call off political attacks and let individual initiative and private enterprise again carry this nation forward.

THE "RADICAL BLOC" IN THE Federal government has been out of the headlines for some time. In this period of national crisis, the people have shown a definite distaste for costly and dangerous left-wing experiment and "reform". The attention of citizens has been centered on the defense program—and on leading industrialists whom the President has appointed to the vital job of planning it, organizing it, and pushing it through to a successful conclusion. But the radical wing, long accustomed to the glare of the spotlight grows restive in obscurity. Its members are laying plans, and are itching to again dominate the activities and policies of the government. So great their ambition, so powerful their dislike of taxpaying private industry that they will, unless all signs fail, endanger the national defense program to further their socialization program.

"I read every word in the paper every week", said one good subscriber when paying up an arrearage and a year in advance on the News recently. "A good editorial column is worth something. Frankly given opinions, whether I agree with them or not, gives me a means of contrasting my views and gives me a better perspective." Thanks for the compliment. A New and Simpler Definition for

ELECTRICITY

"When You Buy Electricity, You Buy WORK"

HAD you thought of it that way? Do you ever think about the amount of WORK performed by a kilowatt-hour of electricity? If not, compare it to a man's labor. Pedaling a bicycle-driven generator, an average man can make electricity worth about 1/40th of a cent before falling exhausted from his seat.

Compare it to the 500-foot climb up the Washington monument: the climb requires 75,000 foot-pounds of work—equal to less than 3 per cent of the work in one kilowatt-hour.

Electricity is work... and one kilowatt-hour equals 33 trips up the Washington monument.

Compared to electricity, man's muscle work is puny, no matter what the task. Electricity is infinitely more powerful—and much cheaper—than muscle power. In the home a kilowatt-hour—by simply turning a switch—does more work than a dozen people... and in half the time!

Largely because electricity is invisible—the Silent Worker—few people appreciate how much WORK they buy for the few pennies a day they spend for Electric Service.

It is one of the most important items in the average home but its cost amounts to only 1 1/2 per cent of the household budget.

My Conviction On Churches
By D. W. WALDROP

In the past two years I have taken notice of quite a few things that pertain to our churches as a whole, and when I sum it all up, it makes me sick and disgusted the way all of our people are doing about the other person's church. It makes me go back to Genesis 1:27 where it says, "So God created man in his own image; male and female created He them."

Then to not only think but to know that a lot of our people are small enough to think they are right and everybody else is wrong, I don't know what to think. If anybody reads the Bible and studies it to learn of God, his son, and the plan of salvation, and not to run down some other church, then I don't believe they will believe what they are teaching.

Now read the rest of this and study your Bible and see if I am not about right on the matter. We find that Jesus rebuked the disciples for condemning a man, instead of telling that one the blessed story of Jesus. Why can't you and I study our Bibles to show ourselves approved unto God (not man) and then live a life that will be a testimony before man.

We find in I Corinthians 14:33 these words: "For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace as in all churches of the saints," and in Matthew 7, "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you."

Then where are we today? Are we standing before God today in such a way that He can bless us as He wants to? If not, why? Is it God's fault or yours? Are you doing unto others as you would have them do unto you? I say again if you are not why? And if we are not doing these things, can we expect to bring forth good fruit? Or, will we have to reap the fire that is spoken of in Matthew 7:15-20 where we find these words: "Beware of false prophets that come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly they are ravening wolves."

"Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?" "Even so, every good tree bringeth forth good fruit but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit."

"A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit."

"Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down and cast into the fire."

"Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them."

I plead with you, friends, to get away from these things that are of the devil and start on a new road that leads to higher things than mockery of our fellow man, and to the preachers of our land and country, regardless, which church roll your name is on, I beg that we preach Jesus Christ who was buried and rose on the third day and leave our fellow church alone. In other words, let's all (yes, I am a Baptist preacher and, not ashamed of it) start preaching God's word that lost souls may be saved, and let the other fellow alone.

I would ask everybody to read and study another scripture, found in Revelation 3:19-22, because it for both the saved and unsaved it reads as follows:

"As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore and repent."

"Behold I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him and will sup with him, and he with me."

"To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne."

"He that hath an ear, let him hear what the spirit saith unto the churches."

This being true, I beg that we do all we can for each other that we may advance the kingdom of God. I believe that the fourteenth and fifteenth verses of the fifth chapter of II Corinthians will bear me out in what I have said. I will leave these verses with you as my closing words:

"For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead."

"And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves but unto him which died for them and rose again."

Miss Aleene Ripley, daughter of Mrs. J. P. Ripley of Coleman and the late Mr. Ripley, became

Mrs. Gregg graduated from the Coleman high school in 1933 and attended Howard Payne College three years. He stands for good government, uses every opportunity to encourage and build better citizenship, conducts court on orderly business basis, has dispatched business and cleared the dockets.

He is justly proud of the record he has made in materially reducing court expenses and in having a comparatively small number of reversals. His record suggests that mature judgment resulting from 35 years of close study, successful practice and judicial experience would guarantee satisfactory service and a continued saving of time and tax money by the courts.

If these ideals and principles appeal to you; if this record challenges your good judgment; if the assurance of satisfactory service and the saving of time and expense interest you, then endorse and encourage same by according him your vote and influence.

Crossing The Bar By Alfred Tennyson

Sunset and evening star And one clear call for me, And may there be no moaning of the bar When I put out to sea. But such a tide as moving seems asleep Too full for sound or foam, When that which drew from out the boundless deep Turns again home. Twilight and evening bell, And after that the dark! And may there be no sadness of farewell When I embark. For though from out our bourne of time and place The flood may bear me far, I hope to see my pilot face to face When I have crossed the bar.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors who so thoughtfully assisted us during our hours of sadness and those who sent the beautiful flowers. We especially thank Mrs. Lee Hunter for her part in arranging the music and in taking charge of the flowers. May God bless each of you in our prayer.
