Machines play the leading role in modern defense. Shown above are machines for soil defense and national defense. The cannon is one of a number of U. S. guns capable of long-range destruction. The earth-moving equipment at top is of a type used by many farmers in building dams and reservoirs. In 1939 farmers moved more than 11 million cubic yards of earth in performing this conservation practice, equivalent to the volume of material going into Columbia river's huge Grand Coulee dam.

This Week in Our Town

"He owns a newspaper at Lev-land, but he's in other people's shops more than his own," said Mrs. Gertrude Hardy, aunt of W. L. Watson, a visitor at The News office Saturday, referring to the habit of newspapermen to forgo their own print shops when they hit town. Watson is more or less dealing in newspaper plants, having recently sold two he owned.

"Stopped off to see you two or three times, but found the shop locked," explained an old friend from Edcouch, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Campbell was with the Byrnes Chevrolet Co. at Edcouch, and has been with Chevrolet ever since at Coleman and Brownwood. He dropped by Tuesday afternoon for half an hour's conversation on old days on the border.

"Trying to make the streets look pretty again," explained Homer Hudgins the other day as some of the fireboys, with a fire hose, aided the street cleaners in "lifting the street's face". Nice work, much appreciated by all, but weatherman turned loose some bad weather and undid the work. A week of rain and grizzle, mixed with a layer of sleet and hail on day, ruined the good work of the boys.

"I'm in love with that country up there," exclaimed Ford Holt on returning from his trip to Michigan to help bring back a car. Mrs. Jeffreys fully appreciated his eloquent remarks on north central states, as she was born and reared in Wisconsin, one of the prettiest of the northern states. Summer finds all of the states' natural beauty on display (and pretty girls! Ford probably noticed that too).

"Carroll Kingsbery's colt sold for an even hundred," we were told Tuesday. The colt referred to was the thoroughbred roan that Kingsbery entered in the county livestock show last week and which carried off the highest honors. Art Young of this county was the purchaser.

"It was sent to me while I was in the hospital," said Miss Margaret Schultz, referring to the "floppy" bird in her Beauty Shop. The bird is an exact duplicate of the bird that the writer received when he left the hospital. Don't know if this floppy absorbs much worry or not. Rather think he's a fraud as he has such a wooden look.

"That was an error about the Jordan Cafe and Grocery building an addition," the better half chided us. Some one so reported it. It was a nearby filling station that was having its face lifted.

"Going back into the Marine Corps," Claud Reid informed us Wednesday. Claude was in the Marines before and will be at home from the start. Santa (Continued on Page 2)

Deputy State Supt. of Pub. Inst. Visits Co. School Systems

Deputy State Superintendent, Claude Mullins and County Superintendent Terrell Graves has just completed making a visit to each of the accredited high schools, and seventeen rural elementary that are eligible for accreditation. Sixteen of the seventeen elementary schools are now classified as standardized schools. Several of the high schools of the county made application for new credits this year and after careful investigation of the work being done, Mr. Mullins recommended to the State Superintendent that each of the credits be granted. There was evidence of a high standard of work being done in each of the accredited high schools in the county. Mr. Mullins will visit in the Santa Anna and Coleman Schools at a later date.

In regard to the seventeen elementary standardized schools visited, Mr. Mullins stated that he was highly pleased with the splendid work being done. Several of these schools made a perfect score on the official state score card, a thing that is very seldom accomplished. Near the close of the school year, Mr. Graves will administer standard tests in these schools and those that are able to pass the testing program will have their classification raised from a standardized school to fully accredited elementary school. Beginning with 1941-42 school term, all beginning teachers in accredited rural schools must have a college degree. This is true now of the high schools in the county.

COUNTY WIDE WAR HAS BEEN DECLARED ON RATS

Co. Wide war on rats—The people of Coleman County will soon enlist for a one day battle against the rat, mankind's most destructive pest. Many thousands of dollars loss every year is caused by rats in Coleman county, and rats are to be found on almost every premises in the county. Rats yearly destroy or consume property worth at least two dollars for every rat. They cause disease and menace hearth. No one wants these pests about the premises.

D. D. Steele, county agricultural agent of Coleman County is directing the local drive against rats. The Coleman C. of C. is sponsoring the campaign. Methods to be used will make it easy for every one to get rid of the rats with little effort and expense. Various kinds of bait material will be used, and to each will be added the new raticide, powdered red squill, which is the safest and best rat poison known to science. If the baits are used according to directions, they will not normally kill dogs, cats, poultry, or human beings, only rats and mice.

Under a cooperative arrangement the bait will be furnished at wholesale cost. Bait will be furnished anyone in the county but it is necessary to reserve the bait in advance. To be sure of getting the prepared bait, write or telephone the office of the County Agent of Coleman Chamber of Commerce. Rats are highly migratory, so it is hoped that everyone will cooperate to free Coleman County of rats. Interest your neighbor, talk rats every place you go from now until the day the bait is distributed. The elimination of rats from an entire community can only be accomplished by organized effort.

Hereford Cattle to Feature Live Stock Show at Ft. Worth

The Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, opening March 7, will present the biggest parade of Hereford cattle ever shown in Fort Worth exposition officials said after making a count of entries.

There will be 551 Herefords in the beef cattle classes as compared with 491 in 1941 and Polled Hereford entries stand at 123 as compared with 104 last year. Total entries of all livestock in this year's show is 5,207 animals, which is a decrease from the 5,600 shown in 1940.

The curry comb, soap and water are in demand on livestock farms all over the country as the herdsmen send their entries through beauty shops in preparation for the Fort Worth show. Within a fortnight the potential champions and grand champions will be rolled into the stock show to take their places in the $200,000 livestock building to await the decision of the judges. The exhibitors will be anxious because $32,500 in livestock premiums are at stake. Livestock entries for the various classes follow: Beef cattle, 1,200; dairy cattle, 273; beef cattle in carloads, 2-242; sheep and goats, 1,598; hogs 994; and horses, 463.

That the purebred cattle will be on parade has a literal meaning because seven parades of the livestock through the coliseum during the rodeo performances have been listed. There will be boys with their baby beef entries, quarter horses and thoroughbreds, all breeds of fat steers, beef cattle, Palomino horses, dairy cattle, draft horses and mules.

Plans for the forty-fifth annual stock show are in the final phase, Secretary-Manager John B. Davis, announced. The formal opening will be 4 p. m. March 7 when a big parade, filled with color of the championship rodeo, moves through the streets of Fort Worth. Visiting bands and horsemen have blanket invitations to participate.

Poultry Specialist Outlines Successful Poultry Program

Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry specialist of the A. & M. Extension Service, met with several agents including C. W. Lehmbury and J. C. Shockey of Brown County, Miss Myra Tankersley of Runnels County, and W. I. Glass, district agent of College Station.

Mr. McCarthy stressed the feeding of home grown grains mixed with commercial protein supplement for egg production. Records indicate that the home grown grains sold through the poultry flock show a 100% profit or double the income over feeds sold on the market. In the mixture 200 pounds of home grown grains consisting of ground maize, corn and oats is mixed with 100 pounds of protein supplement.

"Low profits from poultry most frequently result from the lack of green feed or the presence of intestinal parasites," stated Mr. McCarthy.

In the control of cannibalism the feeding of whole oats with grit and the use of 2 1/2% salt in the mash is recommended. In the control of mycosis, a disease often causing big craw in turkeys, Mr. McCarthy recommended the following: Bluestone 1/2 pound Vinegar 1 quart Water 1 quart

Of the above stock solution, use 1 tablespoonful to gallon of water. Put only in wooden or porcelain vessels. Feed of a period of five days. For the prevention of coccidiosis, 2 1/2% of sulphur used in the mash is recommended. When the disease is prevalent, 5% is used and fed for a period of 10 days. Also feed either sweet or buttermilk during the time the sulphur is used. Roup usually occurs as a result of malnutrition, poor ventilation, or from the presence of intestinal parasites. For individual treatment the injection of 2 cc of a 4% solution of silver nitrate into the swollen area is recommended. In severe cases it is advisable to drain the cavity before the injection is made.

In developing pullets, it was recommended that they be taken off the starter feed at six weeks of age. They are then given a limited mash feed and fed a grain mixture of oats and other grains. Oats is kept in open hoppers after production is started. Through this method birds will come into production at about six months of age.

Editorial

TWO THINGS WE HAVE in the United States that exceeds anything like it in the same line in the whole world—the quality of nationally advertised wares and services and the faith of established business men in their fellows. It is an American institution that enables one business man to permit another to wander through his establishment unwatched and unattended, inspect, select and wrap, at times, his own purchases, state the amount of his purchase and for it without an inspection. Nowhere else does this obtain. Too true, this freedom is not accorded to all, but it is a situation that is near to utopianism in the business world. It is good to know that among one's business fellows there are many who are so straight in their dealings. Yet there are too few of that caliber in the world. It would be a more perfect situation if all established business men were on a par with nationally advertised wares. You do not unwrap a cake of Woodburys' soap to see if the package actually contains Woodburys' Soap; you do not open a package of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic to see if the package actually contains what the wrapper stated; you do not test the trademark in a Stetson hat to see if the mark is fraudulent; you do not make your bank put collateral in your hands to guarantee you the use of money you deposit. All faith, albeit safeguarded by laws. But custom is as strong as law. When faith through performance is attained by business men and their wares, people will be far happier and better served. You have frequently heard men say they hated to go into certain places because they were watched in a way that made them think the owner or clerks thought them thieves. The honest man can stand the close watching, but it may cause him to misjudge his associate because he is misjudged himself. That, of course, is resentment, a human trait.

WE BELIEVE IN THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY and in a Democratic America and Americanism. But we do not believe in party first and last, right or wrong, and party first no matter how wrong. This statement has nothing to do with Roosevelt, third terms or new deals. Just a statement of abstract as well as concrete fact. When you hear any man urge the election of any candidate known to be an out-and-out crook just because he belongs to the party, that man's idea of democracy, loyalty, Americanism is all wet and badly warped. This remark is called forth by having recalled to mind a fact that a ranking State democrat urged "all loyal democrats" of Hidalgo County to support all party candidates regardless of whether they were connected with the looting of the county or not. Some of the candidates were—and newspaper publicity about the matter would have influenced any leader with the welfare of his country, and even his party, to refrain from such admonitions. Good of State and party are entwined and you can't mix wholesale looting with welfare of either state or party. Of course it is viewed differently by different people, depending on what is to be gained.

PRODUCTION, INCOME, WAGES, PRICES, ETC., all are higher than in the palmiest post-World War era, we are being told, but somehow there is a false ring to the assertion. If we discount the millions put on federal payrolls to get them off of relief and the unemployment rolls, then unemployment has decreased; if we accept the production figures at face value, farmer and laborer as well as merchants and middlemen should be on easy street; if prices are at the post World War peak, then producers are becoming rich on cut rates. Wages have in truth stepped up a bit in some lines, but the average non-union laborer gets about half the peak wages, farmers get far less than peak prices, and only volume production at cut-throat prices swell the total income for farm products above that of the peak years. Too many of our farmers spend $500, say, to raise a crop that brings him $550, out of the profits on which he must support a family and pay taxes. When the farmers get live-and-let-live returns for their products, salaries and prices will go up, but money-volume increases purchasing power and brings prosperity. Unrestrained it also brings depressions. That's a point this nation failed on several years ago. Instead of a slow stoppage of the mad splurge, credit was stopped and banks closed—under orders based on a false premise.

THE BRAIN-TRUST LABOR BOARD is doing a good job of depriving laborers of their constitutional rights as well as doing a fine job of doing as bad, or worse, to owners of industrial and commercial plants and enterprises. Under the mailed fist of Ma Perkins and her Bust Brain Board an employer can't employ the kind of laborers he wants and can't tell his employees why he doesn't want trouble makers and communists among his helpers. His right of free speech is gone—Bust Brainers suspended his right of free speech and changed his freedom of action under the law. The poor laborer who wants to earn a living and keep out of rows is forced by the Bust Brainers to join the CIO, who will protect him like Hitler protected Holland and Norway, so the walking delegates can force him out on strike when he starts on defense work. Unionman or not, the owners or laborers of a plant who hold up defense work are plain Benedict Arnolds or Judas Iscariots, ready to hand the country over to Hitler's protection for the right to lord it over government and labor and possibly a rakeoff from Berlin or Moscow. A crying need of this nation is not a Ku Klux Klan to weed out these Reds, but drafting into the army where they could do their duty by their country under penalty of death. There was once a labor organization in Germany and now it is replaced by conscript, slave, labor. That's what our Busted Brains and Reds want our laborers to have here.

HARRY BRIDGES, Australian citizen and leader of the powerful Longshoremen's Union on the West Coast, is in the United States illegally, yet American—supposed loyal, and supposedly Americans, are working hard to keep him in this country in defiance of the law. A common every day citizen of this country can't even sass a cop without getting into trouble with the law; a ignorant peon from south of the Border can't even forget his manners without being deported; a starving human can't swipe a loaf of bread without going to jail; but Harry Bridges can flout the law and every Red, Fascist and Nazi in the country springs to his aid, backed up by so-called loyal Americans. Queer old world!

NOT GROWING OLD

By John E. Roberts They say that I am growing old; I've heard them tell it times untold In language plain and bold, But I'm not growing old, This frail old shell in which I dwell Is growing old, I know full well— But I am not the shell. What if my hair is turning gray? Gray hairs are honorable they say. What if my eye sight's growing dim? I still can see to follow Him Who sacrificed His life for me Upon the cross of Calvary. What should I care if times old plow Has left his furrows on my brow Another house not made with hands Awaits me in the Glory Land, What tho I falter in my walk? I still can tread the narrow way I still I can watch, and praise, and pray.

Appreciation

We wish to extend our appreciation to the good people of Santa Anna and community for the splendid support and patronage they gave us during the ten years we managed a retail milk service here. We have concluded a deal with the Banner Company whereby we will hereafter supply them with our entire milk supply and the distribution will be handled by them. The service they will give our patrons of the past will not be less than we gave, but more likely will be improved. Again, thank you for your patronage.
