Local Man is Enrolled In Army Specialized Training Program At Wheaton College (III.)

Private James I. Horseman, son of Mr. Clyde Horseman, 1012 Avenue D, Brownwood, Texas, has recently reported to Wheaton College, Wheaton, Illinois, for training under the Army Specialized Training Program.

He is enrolled in a basic engineering course of approximately nine months duration and will receive instruction in various academic subjects, physical education, and military theory and drill.

The men stationed in the Wheaton unit have all had basic military training in various camps throughout the country. The full ASTP contingent at Wheaton numbers approximately 250. Wheaton College is the largest strictly liberal arts college in the state of Illinois with a regular enrollment of about 1200 students.

J. B. Dodgen, with the Medical Detachment of the U. S. Navy, is spending a few days with home folks here, while on a furlough. J. B. has been in service in the Southwest Pacific, and recently embarked from the Solomon Islands for home. He was on the same island where we have a son for a short time, but failed to contact him. Better luck next time for you both, but may the meeting take place some where in the United States.

First Class Petty Officer Dave Banks Jr., of Corpus Christi, is spending a few days furlough with his parents out on Rt. 2. The visitor, his mother and other members of the family paid this office a brief visit Friday afternoon.

Lt. W. C. Mills left Wednesday, accompanied by his family, for Albuquerque, New Mexico, for a few days visit before reporting at Camp Bliss August 18 for further training in the Army.

Tom Robin of Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, spent the week-end here with his father, Jim Robin.

A letter from Wyndell Rowe, written in some place in North Africa, reached us just before going to press, but not in time for this weeks paper. We will try to use it with our comments next week.

Pvt. J. W. Payne of Camp Swift spent last week-end with home folks.

Elucian Niell is now at home, having received his discharge from the Army. He was last stationed at Bryan.

Mother Gets Flier's Medals

WHITESBORO, Aug. 9.—The Air Medal and the Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal, posthumously awarded to First Lt. John E. Carpenter Jr., of Whitesboro, were received here last week by his mother, in a communication from the War Department.

Lieutenant Carpenter, lead navigator for a squadron of Flying Fortresses, which flew to England last October, was reported missing in action Feb. 16, on a raid over St. Nazaire, France. Later information was received from the German government by the International Red Cross that he had been killed.

The Air Medal award was for combat missions on Nov. 18, 19, 22, 23 and Dec. 12, but dates of the additional five raids covered by the cluster were not given.

Carpenter was awarded his wings as a navigator at Kelly Field, San Antonio, May 22, 1942 after basic training at Ellington Field.

Born here Jan. 28, 1918, Jack was reared in Whitesboro, except for short periods when his parents resided in Cisco and Wichita Falls. He was graduated from the Whitesboro High School in 1935 and from Texas A and M College as a civil engineer in 1940. He was connected with the State Highway Department at Paris before entering the Army Air Forces.

Besides his parents he is survived by his grandmother, Mrs. U. G. White, Whitesboro, and a sister, Mrs. Statham Ricks, Dallas.

Lt. Carpenter was a nephew of Mrs. E. H. Wylie of Santa Anna.

GERMANS HOLD ITALY TO MUSSOLINI'S PACT

LONDON, Aug. 10 (AP)—The German radio in an overseas broadcast recorded by the Associated Press, indicated today the Germans still held Italy bound by the military pact that Benito Mussolini signed and asserted that Marshal Pietro Badoglio was continuing talks with the Nazis.

The broadcast said "There has in the last few days been no change in the German point of view with regard to a treaty of alliance."

Tabor Returns From South Pacific

Eldon Tabor came in last Friday afternoon from the U. S. Public Health Hospital in Fort Worth, where he has been stationed about three months, recuperating from shocks and a nervous let down, while doing combat service in the South Pacific war theater. His father, J. W. Tabor, went to Fort Worth and accompanied the boy home, after procuring his discharge from the U. S. Navy.

Eldon left here in March 1942 for California to enter training for combat service in the U. S. Navy, and was soon on his way to the South Pacific islands. Eldon spent almost a year in the South Pacific, where he saw plenty of action, having had one ship sunk from under him while escorting a supply ship to the supply base on Guadalcanal, and other supply bases in those parts. He suffered some of the hardships of war, and probably thought a few times the end was near, or at hand, for him. His condition has greatly improved since returning to the United States, and he will likely regain all his faculties and soon be himself again.

He is enjoying the pleasures of home life with his parents, on their splendid farm a short ways South of town. Eldon is more than glad to be back home, but his parents, who have spent many restless and sleepless nights, are equally if not more delighted than their son.

Union Meeting Growing In Interest

Union Meeting At Methodist Church Gradually Growing In Interest Will Continue Thru Next Week

The union evangelistic meeting which Guy W. Green of Kansas City, Mo., began at the Methodist church Sunday morning, will continue throughout this week and next. Morning services are held daily, except Saturday, at 10 o'clock. Night services are held daily, including Saturday, at 9 o'clock.

The attendance has been large both morning and night. On some occasions it has been necessary to use extra chairs for the night crowds.

Mr. Green's memory Bible work, as was promised, has been remarkable. He has astonished his hearers by his ability to recite from memory whole chapters of the Bible. He gives all his scripture from memory, but his morning messages are made up entirely of Bible recital. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings, respectively, recited the highlights of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, and Numbers. He will recite Friday morning from Deuteronomy. Next week he will include several recitals from the New Testament in his morning offering.

The speaker's preaching subject for the next few days are as follows:

Friday night—"Open Your Mouth."

Saturday night—"Excuses."

Sunday morning—"Rough Waters."

Sunday night—"Messengers of God."

Monday night—"Seedtime and Harvest."

Tuesday night—"The Fritterer"

Wednesday night—"Lamps."

Thursday night—"His Lost Chances."

The choir led by Pastor Bowman of the Methodist church, is rendering some splendid music. Evangelist Green always has an interesting message, which are elevating, uplifting and encouraging.

City Officials To Austin

Mayor Geo. M. Johnson and Commissioners, Leroy Stockard and W. B. Griffin, and City Marshall Clifford Stephenson, went to Austin last Thursday to attend a state meeting of the water purification directors of the State Health Department, in the interest of the better health and water for Santa Anna. To date, we've had no complaint about impure water, but it behooves our City Commission to keep alert at all times for any improvement that can be made, and that appears to be what our Commission is trying to do.

A district meeting of the Pecan Valley district, of the State Water and Health Departments, were held here Thursday night of this week, the lecture being demonstrated by moving pictures.

REVIVAL MEETING

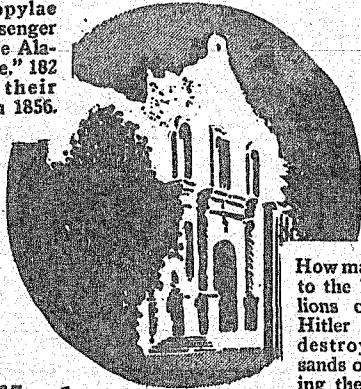

Our revival meeting will start Wednesday night, August 18th at the Rockwood Church of Christ. Elder Irley E. Moore of Brownwood will do the preaching. Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend.

Fathers To Be Drafted

Fathers 18 to 37 years old, with children born before September 15, 1942, will be reclassified to make them available for induction into the armed forces after October 1. Fathers will be drafted only when it is necessary to fill a local board's quota, they will be called without distinction regarding the number or ages of their dependent children. Those who are "key men" in agriculture or essential industry will be deferred, and those whose induction would cause "extreme hardship and privation to their families" will be deferred.

Rationing Home-Canned Foods

Each person in your family may give away as much as 50 quarts of home-canned food during any calendar year without collecting ration stamps. Any food which is sold does not qualify as a gift, however, and points must be collected for all sales at the rate of 8 points per quart (four points per pound). Home-canned food contributed to school lunch programs and similar services is included in the 50 quarts. More than 50 quarts may be given away provided ration stamps are collected for all gifts exceeding that number. The stamps should be turned in to your local ration boards.

Waste Fats Collected

Waste kitchen fats collected throughout the country totalled 8,440,274 pounds during the month of June, setting an all time high mark since the inauguration of this program in July 1942, WPB reported. The total collected is still not sufficient to meet war demands. WPB Region

I, comprised of the New England States ranked first in pounds collected per occupied dwelling.

Budget Report

Government budgetary estimates for the fiscal year 1944 estimate total expenditures for the year, exclude Retirement and Trust Fund disbursements, at 106 billion dollars will bring the public debt above 200 billion dollars by next June 30. In the fiscal year just ended, actual expenditures were 80 billion dollars, actual receipts 22 billion dollars, or a deficit of 58 billion dollars. A hundred billion dollars will be needed for war expenditures during the fiscal year 1944, compared with 75 billion dollars actually spent for war in 1943. The war department now is expected to spend less and the navy department and other agencies are expected to spend more for war than was estimated in January.

More Woolens For Civilians

Several million men's mackinaw and Melton work jackets, children's legging sets, blankets and other needed items of men's women's and children's apparel will be added to the civilian supply this winter as a result of a program arrived at jointly by WPB and the War Department. Army procurements on some of the principal worsted and woolen products will be reduced by 50 percent during the last 4 months of this year.

Legal Aid To Soldiers

Legal aid, ranging from drawing wills to solving problems in insurance, is being provided to soldiers by more than 600 legal assistance officers in military installation in the U. S. and abroad, the War Department announced recently. At each of the legal assistance offices, commissioned officers of the Judge Advocate General's Department, Army Service Forces, who are also licensed attorneys, are on duty. During a recent period 50 typical legal assistance offices reported that since their establishment they have assisted military personnel in a total of 24,000 matters.

More Butter For Civilians

Approximately 16 million lbs. of butter, in addition to the amount scheduled for August, will be available to civilians this month, the War Food Administration has announced. Previously, 40 percent of production was to be set aside for government purchase. This has been reduced to 30 percent.

Honorable Discharge Buttons

An honorable discharge from the army during the present war will be signified by a lapel button, the War Department has announced. Both men and women, whether officers or enlisted personnel, will be eligible to wear the button if they hold an honorable discharge.

Sell Equipment To Signal Corps

Photographic and short-wave radio equipment purchased from private owners is now in service on many battle fronts as well as in the continental United States but more of a number of specific items is greatly needed the War Department has announced. The Signal Corps, Army Service Forces, has made a special appeal to persons possessing certain high-grade or scarce items to sell them as a means of aiding the war effort. Owners who wish to offer equipment for sale should write to: Emergency Purchase Section, Philadelphia Signal Corps Procurement District, 5000 Wissahickon Ave., Philadelphia, Pa. Nothing should be shipped unless requested.

Rule For Poultry Truckers

Truckers hauling poultry must post within their trucks the name and address of the persons to whom it is being shipped, the place from which the items were shipped, their quantities, types, grades and weight classes, and the number of head of each, the OPA has ruled.

To Get Application Blanks

Members of the Armed Services of the U. S., and of the United Nations who are eligible to use War Ration Book Three, will receive application blanks from their Commanding Officers beginning about August 15. Processing of these military applications and issuance of War Ration Book Three will be completed between August 15 and September 10. The book will not be needed for buying rationed commodities until after that time. It is estimated that approximately 700,000 men and women in the military services will be entitled to receive War Ration Book Three.

Wool Supplies About Same

The supply of wool for civilian wearing apparel is approximately the same as last season. To meet military demands and equip civilians, existing wool facilities will be operated to the limit of capacity. Manufacturers are reducing the variety of colors and counts of their yarns; weavers are dropping some of the non-essential numbers; from their lines. Materials produced will be familiar, popular, and practical types. No colors are prohibited.

Need Big Peanut Crop

Large increases in the production of peanut butter and peanut oil from the 1943 crop of farmers' stock peanuts, expected to approximate 1,425,000 tons—375,000 tons more than last year are urgently needed to meet wartime requirements, says WFA. Approximately 413,000 tons will be made into peanut butter—375,000 tons for civilian consumption and the remainder for the army and navy.

Federal Expenditures

Ninety-five cents out of every dollar of Federal expenditures goes directly into the war effort, says Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau. This means that $36.8 billions of the approximately $38.7 billions which President Roosevelt estimated would be received in the present fiscal year, will go to purchase guns, tanks, ships, planes, etc.

To Save Paper

Between 250,000 and 300,000 tons of paper will be saved by amended WPB conservation order M-241-A which affects all use of paper and is far more inclusive in its scope than any other paper conservation order. The paper saved, according to the WPB pulp and paper division, will be utilized to better advantage in meeting war requirements and certain civilian needs. Although the General Public may have fewer fancy articles made from paper, the real needs of the average citizen will not be seriously affected because plenty of utilitarian paper articles will still be available.

Fruit, Berry Prices Increase

Formulas for establishing maximum canner's prices for seven fruits, 11 berries, fruit cocktail, and the juices and nectars of the fruits and berries have been announced by OPA. The formulas take into account higher costs to canners, and since canned fruits and berries are sold under fixed mark-ups at both wholesale and retail, it will mean increased costs to the housewife on these items.

Record Victory Garden

One of the most productive Victory Gardens is that of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lobstein of the Crossroads community. The garden contains 1.2 acres and is irrigated from the creek. The following vegetables have been harvested from the garden during the spring and summer. Beans (5 varieties) peas, squash, water melons, canteloupes, tomatoes, potatoes, cucumbers, beets, onions, corn, okra, and radishes.

Twenty-five families have been furnished vegetables from this garden which has been used both fresh and for canning.

It is estimated that 1,000 containers of vegetables have been canned from this garden and the products both fresh and canned have a value of nearly $1,000.

Mrs. W. F. Lobstein is a member of the Crossroads Home Demonstration Club.

Bettie age 13 is a 4-H Club girl and has a orchard as her demonstration.

Eugene age 11 is a 4-H club member with a poultry demonstration. The Lobstein family have signed the Victory Pledge Cards, and they are Victory leaders in their community.

PACIFIC THEATER HAS TEXAS HEROES, TOO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4, (AP)—The Pacific, from Alaska to Australia, is no side-show war to Texans.

Hundreds of them since May 1 have been adorned with medals attesting their valor throughout the great reaches of this the world's biggest ocean.

On hallowed Guadalcanal Marine 2nd Lt. Roy H. Elrod of Muleshoe led a hastily-gathered platoon of 32 men "against heavy machinegun fire, into a ravine, to destroy two enemy machine-guns and other emplacements." That won him the Silver Star for gallantry.

Marine Pvt. Hulon L. Massey of Van, knowing that at any moment he might be blown to pieces carried ammunition to a Guadalcanal outpost. Japanese machine guns opened up from a ridge and hit several comrades. Massey took a hospital kit and administered aid with utter disregard for his own safety. He was wounded in the shoulder. For his bravery he was given the Army Silver Star.

Pvt. Vance C. Bunn of Grand Prairie won the Legion of Merit for courageously driving an ambulance through machinegun fire and bombings on Oahu on Dec. 7, 1941.

First Lt. Herbert C. White, Jr., of Lufkin received an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross for "outstanding achievement in aerial flights in the western Aleutian area."

The job of ground crews that keep the American war birds in fighting condition often is one of the most dangerous. The Legion of Merit of the American Air Force was presented to Master Sgt. John S. Eubanks, Santa Anna, for courageous duty on Guadalcanal, spending sleepless nights, servicing planes while the Jap bombs were exploding around them.

The Distinguished Flying Cross went to the following Texans for engaging in more than 50 operations flights in the Southwest Pacific, including dropping supplies and evacuating wounded personnel sometimes under the most adverse circumstances:

Staff Sgt. William O. Tanner, Baird (who received the Air Medal for 25 such flights); Cpl. Herbert G. Smith, Tahoka; Cpl. Osborn J. Watson, Joaquin; Pvt. Jack O. Glenn, Aransas Pass; Pvt. Jesse H. Hubbard, Wills Point.

In England, the RAF, recognizing him for his previous service with the British air service, awarded the Medallion to Herbert Temple Nash of Kaufman.

First Lt. Marion F. Kirby, Lometa, was given the Air Medal for 25 or more operational flights with AAF squadron, "The Head Hunters," in nine months combat duty in New Guinea.

Air Medals were given to the following Texans, part of the AAF personnel in Southwest Pacific operations, for 25 flights, including dropping supplies to advanced outposts, transporting troops and equipment, and evacuating wounded personnel over mountainous terrain at low altitude and often during adverse weather:

Capt. Theodore S. Green, San Marcos; 1st Lt. William R. Ross, Franklin; 2nd Lt. Richard W. Doyle, Van; 2nd Lt. Thomas J. Warwick, Pittsburg; Flight Officer Herman J. Zindler, Schwertner; Staff Sgt. William L. Tarver, Bird; Sgt. John C. Gregg, Santa Anna; Corp. Wesley W. Klar, Brenham; Pvt. Jack O. Flynn, Aransas Pass.

Participating in Southwest Pacific operations, these Texans were cited for outstanding aerial combat achievements:

Second Lt. Felix T. Fuller, Martinsville, given the Distinguished Flying Cross; Capt. Clarence E. McClaran, Marshall, the Oak Leaf Cluster; 1st Lt. Roy L. Callaway, Seguin, the Air Medal.

In the Hawaiian Department, these awards were given:

More Workers Needed by Red Cross to Provide Surgical Dressing Supply

The same reasons Mary Sears gives in an article found in Sunday's Star-Telegram, August 8th, 1943 on this subject applies to Red Cross work in Santa Anna. Following are excerpts from the article:

"The Red Cross makes 90 per cent of the surgical dressings used on the sons of America applied in blazing hot emergency stations in North Africa; in jungle surrounded dressing stations in the South seas and in the frozen outposts of the Aleutians.

Dressings also made by the Red Cross are shipped to the service men's hospitals throughout the United States.

The great quantities of dressings on hand at Pearl Harbor all made by the Red Cross saved the lives of many American service men and civilians on Pearl Harbor Day—December 7, 1941. After the bombing, if it had not been for the great quantities of dressings received the wounded could not have been cared for.

The Red Cross sends ton after ton of similar dressings to the widespread battle fronts of this war. Tons of dressings follow the troops, others are put on the hospital ships and still others are with the field hospital units.

Since the days of the Civil War women have been supplying bandages and dressings for the wounded.

Never before has the call been so urgent or the quotas so high.

Many times the question has been asked—"Why doesn't the government buy these bandages and dressings from manufacturers?" The reason is that the manufacturer makes the material for the surgical dressings—but their bandage and dressing machines have been diverted to other war uses, because the folding of the 2x2 and 4x4 and other bandages can be done expertly by women. This is a field in which women can actually feel they are doing government service—a real contribution to the prosecution of the war."

This is the job of the surgical dressing rooms of the American Red Cross in Santa Anna. The task is of vital importance because there is no separation of the fighting front and the home front as far as the wounded are concerned. It is the dressings made "at home" that are applied as emergency treatment on the battle fronts. It may save the life of the boy next door—maybe, or some member of the Red Cross workers family.

Our chairman, Mrs. E. D. McDonald, knows that the women of Santa Anna will respond to this call for workers.

Women are urged to volunteer to make surgical dressings at the Red Cross rooms.

Buy As Many War Bonds As You Can

War bonds are an anchor against the cost of living because they put money away where it can't wear out its value competing for our limited supply of goods; because they help the Government finance the war safely. Also they bring you back money later when you may need it more—with interest.

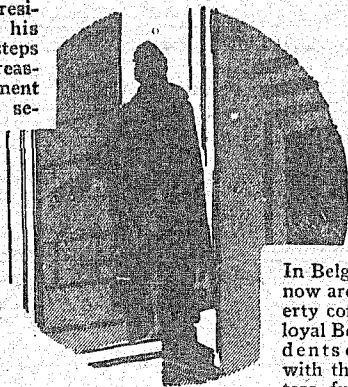

First Lt. James R. Irby, Turkey, second Oak Leaf Cluster; 1st Lt. Irvin F. Tekyl, Needsville, second Oak Leaf Cluster.

The Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement" in aerial flights in the Hawaiian Department of operations went to 1st Lt. James R. Irby, Turkey; 2nd Lt. Irvin F. Tekyl, Needsville; Tech. Sgt. Joe G. Herzog, Stanton; Staff Sgt. Troy A. Hopper, Anton. In the same theater of operations, the Air Medal was awarded to Staff Sgts. Dean J. Howell, Wimerley; and Samuel I. Walker, Bronson.

The several theaters of the war in Europe, to us, is in one melofalies. Three weeks ago old Benito Mussolini resigned his high powers in Italy, in favor of King Emanuele and Marshal Badoglio, which to us seemed like a camouflage to seek peace favors with the Allies, but their strategy has failed to do anything except to give the Germans a breathing spell in which to try to improve their predicament but neither has had a very desirable effect on the war situation in Italy or the surrounding territories.

Last Sunday, news was released thru Sweden to effect that, Adolf Hitler had been placed in the background, and the war program in Germany turned over to three generals, headed by one Marshall Goering, but to us that looks like another camouflage to try for modified peace terms from the Allies. This move on part of German strategist has had no softening effect on the Allies, that we can tell, for swapping horses in times like those existing in Germany and Italy just reveals how crooked those crooks in Italy and Germany are, to try to mislead their enemies, and seek modified terms for peace, when, if they should succeed, in the opinion of this scribe, the war would only have a short recess and preparations would be started at once for another try for world dominance.

Germany and Italy have the terms upon which they can get out of the war, but they will try every conceivable term they can hatch up to get out on something less than unconditional surrender, but God forbid. Personally, if we would be allowed to permit our personal feelings to enter into the matter, we would say it is not time to bring this war to a close yet any way. Among the reasons are, there are too many of those dirty war mungers, who dream of world power by conquest, brutality, murder, force and speed. Honorable procedure has never found a place in the greedy hearts of the race.

Nazism was in the offing before the termination of the first world war in 1918, in our opinion, and Facism is the close kin, or father of Nazism. Dictatorship, power regardless of how won, conquest by force, brutality and might, with no respect for the rights of others has led the world into another bloody conflict, and we think there are too many of those dirty pups still living to bring this conflict to a close.

We fear a repercussion would ensue before the smoke of the present war all died down. There is no decency left in Germany. If you remember, when old Hitler started his regime, all who took issue with him and his Nazism, in other words, those who expressed a desire to live as honorable citizens were taken out and shot, and none were left in Germany except those who were sworn to follow the leader under the oath of death were permitted to live. Now, it occurs to us, all those responsible for this war are murderers and criminals and should be punished by their own remedies before those countries should be permitted to carry on for themselves.

These are our sentiments regardless of how popular they are among the reading public.

It's hard to write an article about the war, because it covers such a vast territory, and so many countries are represented in it. One could write all the week and never get through telling about the happenings and near happenings of things in the different theaters or territories.

How to Invade

In the battle areas around North Africa, American and British air power is striking the enemy with effectiveness that proves this method of attack may provide at least the prelude to Victory. Air men and airplanes are land-bound without airdromes. Thus, the prelude to air power lies with those battalions of Engineers who sharpen the wasp-like sting of our air forces by laying down airports with unheard-of rapidity.

Across the North African area, the progress of these airdromes was like a creeping barrage keeping pace with our advancing troops. The Engineers built landing fields faster than the Air Forces could occupy them. It is no longer a military secret at least not to the Axis forces who had hoped to defend Pantelleria, Lampedusa, Sicily and other island outposts in the Mediterranean—that the coastline of northwest Africa is ringed with airdromes.

For the most part, American Army Engineers with earth-moving equipment such as no army has ever possessed—or dreamed of—are responsible for this chain of bases. Some of the feats accomplished by those Engineers under enemy aerial bombardment and battle conditions, some of the deeds performed by American Army Engineers seeing battle for the first time—are as inspiring to the Allies as they must be terrifying to the Axis troops who have witnessed them.

When Air Force equipment was first landed in the vicinity of Casablanca, mud was a real enemy. At Tarfaraoui alone, at one time, more than 285 planes were mired down and out of use because of a lack of dry surface runways. To find room to disperse the ships, it was necessary to move up onto the Tibesso plateau, an area resembling southwestern United States, where there was room for a dozen airdromes and where there was much less rain. Within a few weeks, the Engineer battalions had completed ten airdromes from which heavy bombers operated for the remainder of the winter.

At the same time, the Airborne Engineers moved down into the edge of the Sahara Desert and discovered at Biskra a plateau on which they built a field for heavy bombers. Enough Airborne Engineers and equipment were moved in a single day, in 56 transport planes, to carry out a quick construction job which permitted daily bombing raids against Italy and the southern islands.

One of the toughest jobs of the North African campaign fell to the Engineers who inherited the job of constructing a railroad to Tebourbo. The Germans had torn up all the bridges, and the Engineers with bulldozers and tractor drawn pans put in earth fills—some of which reached a height of 30 to 40 feet and several hundred feet in length. At another time, an Air Support Command needed several airdromes from which to operate. Within 72 hours after the Engineers in the area received this word, five fields were ready for use.

The Engineers are being called upon to build roads and hospitals in Australia, wharf facilities storage areas, water supply systems, tems, hangars and repair shops in New Guinea; and in all the other theaters, they are building roads and housing, pipe lines and water supply lines, and always airdromes. All this must be done in a minimum of time—by Engineers ready on a moment's notice for combat. They have fought, and fought well for what they have built. Their blood is on the fields of the Philippines, on the islands of the Southwest Pacific, on North Africa and on the Aleutians.

THIS is part of an actual letter from a soldier overseas:

"It's not the big things that you miss out here. It's the little things. Like street noises. Or an electric lamp. Where we are there ain't no such. Since I'm on duty all day, I write letters in the nearly-dark. Funny, how you can miss a common, ordinary light bulb."

OVERSEAS MEN SAVING SURPLUS PAY WITH ARMY

WASHINGTON (UP)—U. S. soldiers overseas in increasing numbers are depositing surplus pay for the Army to hold until their discharge after the war, the war department says.

Such deposits now total approximately $21,000,000 representing 134,000 individual accounts. About 80 percent of these are held by soldiers overseas. Accounts are growing at the rate of 10,000 a month.

Deposits can be made in amounts of $5 and over, and 4 per cent interest is paid on accounts more than 6 months old.

One North African Infantry division deposited $687,917 in a month ending Feb. 15. One regiment deposited $255,702 in one week. Soldiers in New Caledonia are heavy participants.

This is only one phase of soldiers' savings. Soldiers are now buying more than $21,000,000 in war bonds monthly. Most soldiers carry national service life insurance. Policies run from $1,000 to $10,000. The average policy has been about $6,000. The monthly premium on $10,000 runs from $40 for an 18-year-old to $8.50 for a 40-year-old.

More than 2,000,000 soldiers are helping their families thru family allotments, part of which comes from their pay, while an additional 1,000,000 soldiers are making so-called class E voluntary allotments of pay home.

Purchase Only What You Need

Goods and services in the United States this wartime are enough to keep everybody going if everybody buys just what he needs. Unnecessary spending upsets fair distribution—pushes prices up too, because we can't make more to fill an added demand.

Increase Meat Supply By Preventing Bruises On Cattle

Beef cattle which are bruised when reaching market are a direct loss to both the producer and consumer. It is estimated that more than one half market livestock enter the market with bruises.

Prevention of bruises is one way which Texas cattlemen can get all of their production of beef into actual use, according to G. W. Barnes, Animal Husbandman of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. In that way they can get the tonnage of meat for consumers with out raising more animals. Producing sufficient meat for our armed forces and for civilian use is one the most important and pressing problems of the moment. If every pound of meat represented by cattle on the hoof in Texas and other states could be processed many million lbs. of meat which cannot be used for food would reach the table of the consumer.

Bruised meat cannot be sold. That means wasted food, wasted labor, and most important of all heavy loss of our most important foods. But the waste can be prevented.

Farmers and cattlemen can prevent bruises to cattle by avoiding rough handling or striking animals with canes, whips, clubs or pitchforks. They should also avoid overcrowding animals

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

GOD PROVIDES FOR HIS PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 16:11-18; 17:3-6. GOLDEN TEXT—Give us this day our daily bread.—Matthew 6:11.

Only God can provide the necessities of life. Rationing has taught us that lesson anew if we have been at all thoughtful about it. The plan is one of sharing. Sharing what? The food and other provisions which come to us from God's hand. Unless our crops are good there will be less to share. Only God can help us.

This was the lesson Israel learned in the wilderness. To reach the goal to which God was leading them they must pass through the wilderness. Not only were there many weary miles to travel, but there were privations to be borne. Life is like that. Now they cried for food. Note how elemental are man's needs in the final analysis—bread and water. The very things we take almost for granted as we concern ourselves with life's weighty interests and profound problems become, if lacking, the only things that have any real meaning. And who is it that can provide them? No one but God Himself.

I. Bread from Heaven (Exod. 16:11-18).

Israel's longing for meat was met by the miraculous coming of quantities of quail (v. 13). But that was not the food to sustain them day after day. For this they needed bread, and it came from heaven, every day until they entered the promised land (Josh. 5:12).

Observe four things about the manna.

First, it was a divine provision. There are responsibilities in life which we may bear—and must bear—but in the ultimate meeting of our real needs we must look to God.

Secondly, it was a daily provision. What forehanded folk many of us are, and no doubt rightly so, for God puts no premium on improvisation. But once again we must recognize, as did Israel in receiving the daily manna in the wilderness, that ours is indeed a moment by moment existence.

We plan bravely for the next decade or the next generation, but as a matter of fact it can only come to pass "if the Lord will" (read James 5:13-17).

Next, it was a limited provision—enough for the day and no more, except for a double portion on the sixth day, and none at all on the Sabbath. These provisions were made clear to Israel, and yet there were those who attempted to lay up for the morrow, and some even went out to seek manna on the Sabbath day.

We marvel at their stubborn obtuseness, but are we not often just like them. Some there are who are always expecting that the laws of both God and man should be set aside for them, but they come to grief.

Finally, it called for diligence and action on their part. They had to be out early each day (except the Sabbath) to gather it. God's mercies are for those who are willing to obey Him. He gives to those who receive by active faith.

II. Water from the Rock (Exod. 17:3-6).

"And the people thirsted"—for the daily manna was not enough, they must have water. Needy, yes, constantly needy are God's children.

"Every life knows the bite of necessity . . . every soul cries out in pain because there is wanting some completing favor, some culminating and all-containing benediction. Here it is bread; there it is water; but everywhere a famine . . . in many a case a famine of soul, a spiritual destitution, a consciousness of a void which time cannot satisfy or space content."

God always provides. There is a rock in the wilderness. But what

T-SGT. G. W. BYLER, BALLINGER, MISSING

BALLINGER, Aug. 9.—(Spl.)—Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Byler have been informed by the War department that their son, T-Sgt. George Warner Byler, has been killed in action.

He was reported as missing in the May 19 raids on Kiel and Flemsburg, but no other information had been received.

Sergeant Byler, a member of the Texas National Guard when it was mobilized here as a federal unit in 1940, was a ball turret gunner on a Flying Fortress. He was stationed at Camp Bowie later transferring to Fort Dix, N. J., for specialized training before going overseas assigned to a Fortress crew.

He received the Air Medal with the Oak Leaf Clusters for participation in raids over Europe and Germany.

Sergeant Byler came to Ballinger with his parents from Brown county in 1927 and was graduated from the high school here in 1936.

Survivors are his parents; a sister, Mrs. Raymond McShan, and a brother, W. J. Byler all of Ballinger.

pleasure does a murmuring people find in a rock when they famish for water? It is God's delightful custom to meet our needs in unexpected ways and by means which we do not understand. Even our physical necessities come from unthought of sources.

III. Christ, the Bread and Water of Life.

Our lesson does not give the New Testament application of Israel's experiences, but let us not miss that blessed spiritual truth.

In John 6:31-33, Christ is declared to be the true bread from heaven, of which the manna was but a type.

Paul speaks in I Corinthians 10:1-4 of this incident in the history of Israel, saying that they "did all eat the same spiritual meat, and did all drink the same spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ" (see also John 4:14).

Hungry and thirsty soul, you who are still unsatisfied after tasting all that life apart from Christ has to offer, will you not, just now, take Him!

DRAFT LEVELS OFF, HERSHEY SAYS

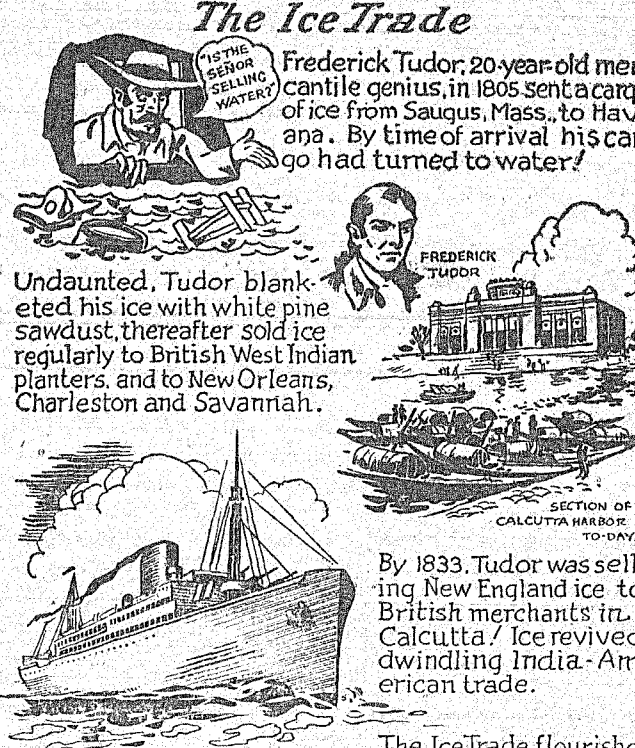

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The army's demands on civilian manpower resources are leveling off, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, said today, and during the coming year labor shortages in critical industries are likely to be eased.

The army is now 7,000,000 strong, General Hershey testified before a congressional sub-committee investigating the effect of selective service on war industries. Its goal is 8,200,000 men and inductions, he declared, are nearing the plateau.

Our Merchant Marine

The Ice Trade

Frederick Tudor, 20-year-old mercantile genius, in 1805 sent a cargo of ice from Saugus, Mass., to Havana. By time of arrival his cargo had turned to water!

Undaunted, Tudor blanketed his ice with white pine sawdust, thereafter sold ice regularly to British West Indian planters, and to New Orleans, Charleston and Savannah.

By 1833, Tudor was selling New England ice to British merchants in Calcutta. Ice revived dwindling India-American trade.

The Ice Trade flourished for seventy years. Up to the invention of ice machinery in 1875, New England ice was sold in every sizeable tropical and sub-tropical city.

American steamship companies have replaced the old Ice Trade with fleets of modern refrigerated ships now carrying perishable goods to all our fighting fronts.

will be 175,000 men monthly for the army and 100,000 for the navy, and this will include replacements for men being discharged as casualties and for other physical reasons, he added. A year ago, he said, the rate was 600,000 to 700,000 men monthly.

Selective service, he said, in an effort to avoid conscripting fathers, "is in a continual process of re-examining 4-F cases, and exerting pressure on military authorities to take as many of these men as possible."

The present policy, he added, is to call up fathers only when there is no one else available, and local boards throughout the country have been so instructed.

SHOES
FOR BOYS & GIRLS

Because there has been considerable misunderstanding regarding the quality of shoes now available to civilians, it is important that you become acquainted with the facts. Perhaps this message from America's largest manufacturer of shoes will be helpful to you.

At present, our Government has first call on shoe materials. Millions of pairs of shoes are being manufactured annually for our armed forces. These shoes are built according to rigid government standards. Only the best materials and skilled workmanship are suitable. Neither you nor we would have it otherwise. Victory demands it.

But—does that mean good shoes—dependable shoes—are not to be had by civilians? Not at all—you can still buy good shoes. The honor and integrity of the International Shoe Company stand behind that statement.

We, as well as other shoe manufacturers, could make more shoes were we willing to disregard quality—but quality is the essence of this message—and this company is determined not to use present conditions as an excuse for lowering the moral standards of its product—standards maintained for more than forty years.

Despite heavy demand from our armed forces, there is still a sufficient quantity of good serviceable shoe material available to meet essential civilian requirements. We assure you that we will continue to manufacture shoes that will return full value for your dollar—and satisfactory shoe mileage.

You may continue to have confidence in the shoes made for men, women, and children by this company. We shall keep faith with the wearers of our shoes.

IT HAPPENED AT CONEY

Actually hot dogs at Coney Island aren't any different from hot dogs anywhere else. But you can't tell that to Private F/C Quinn Fletcher of Sandusky, Ohio, shown here demolishing one, with pretty Pat Fraser, a USO hostess from the Hempstead, L. I., club. With six other "grass roots" soldiers and USO hostesses this couple saw the sights of the noted resort. "We have hot dogs back in Sandusky," Private Fletcher said, "but they don't taste like this. It must be the spirit of Coney Island, or the glamour or something." Miss Pat Fraser thought the ice cream cones were pretty good, too.

THE CORRAL

By Bill Gray, 2218 Waco Street, San Angelo, Texas

The object of this weekly range "letter" shall be to "corral" as much of the news as possible of interest to stockmen over West Texas. And while aiming to gather a generous amount of the livestock news, the aim also will be to put it tersely and concisely to the stockmen readers, keeping the feature as briefly as possible in order to conserve space in this newspaper. So, we shall attempt each week to "put a lot in a little." Our "corral" will be made up from our findings among those associated with the livestock industry. Now, without further ado, we open the gate to this week's corral!

That the calf market has "slid" a little in recent weeks is common knowledge, but the experience of Sol Mayer, San Angelo banker-ranchman, is highly indicative. A buyer a few days ago said he "might" buy his calves at 12 cents. Mayer had been offered 14 cents contract in the spring by the same buyer. The banker is keeping the calves over if they don't go up. "I'll gain the 300 more pounds weight on them at least," he says. Further commenting on the "quirks" of life, the banker added: I've borrowed a lot of money at 10 and 12 per cent—now I'd like mighty well to lend it at 4 per cent. The cotton crop around Balmorhea is remarkably fine, Mayer reported after a trip to the irrigated sector the past week.

It's hot and dry and it's August—the dull month—but there's trading every day in the "little empire" extending from Amarillo to San Antonio—the rangeland of West Texas. The Gibbons Estate calves at San Saba sold at $13.75 per hundred weight to Charley Ford of Amarillo and Garden City, Kansas. The deal was made the past week—delivery to be by August 15.

Joe Pfluger of San Angelo, owner of an even dozen farms in the four counties of Irion, Schleicher, Concho, and Tom Green, estimates his food crop in this area is damaged two-thirds from the extreme heat. Pfluger sold 700 head of March and April mixed lambs the past week to 2 buyers, getting 12 cents. Roscoe Graham of San Angelo bought 310 head, W. H. Massick of Plainview bought 390. This was before lambs dropped off a cent or more.

The eight doubles of mixed lambs bought the last few days by R. J. Ridley of Del Rio from W. W. McCutcheon of Spofford were bought at 10½ cents. McCutcheon bought them at Sanderson.

At Fort Stockton Fred Cliett, livestock dealer, reports his trading has been in "small amounts" the last few days. He quotes old ewes at $4 to $6.50 a head and lambs held for 12 cents for fall delivery, 11 cents immediate delivery.

They are only offering 13½ cents for steers and the growers are holding for 14 to 14½ cents around Midland reports Clarence Scharbauer, Jr. The heat blitz has hit the Midland land but the range is spotted and stock are doing well, says Scharbauer.

Everybody of course knows what the purebred rams bring at the auctions, but just what they bring at private treaty isn't published many times. Just a sample H. G. Whitaker bought a bunch of Corriodale-Delaine crossbred rams from Duwain E. Hughes earlier in the year and has offered 300 of them. He has sold 150 at $17.50 a head.

Col. C. A. Wilkinson of the South Central Remount Area headquarters in San Angelo, just back from the mule pack Army camp near Colorado Springs, says the boys are big and tough and so are the mules. He was at the farm of Mrs. Mary Dunman at Novice (near Coleman) the past week to get a picture of the twin colts dropped by a mare there. The colts, three months old, are doing well. They are by Valentino, he by Whisk Broom. Twin colts are a rarity indeed.

Remount stallion news, just released by the Remount office: Reno Elmer has gone to the James Short place, Bandera. Crack Favor was assigned to Jas. M. Brook, Brady, to replace Heel Print. Lovely Manners, outstanding bay, assigned to J. W. Sorroll, Brady. Lovely Manners is by Sweep. Whirlaway, the world's greatest money winner, is out of a dam by Sweep. A classy family! Judge A. H. Donnison of Odessa is a lucky man. He is tentatively listed to get B'ar Hunter, who has been standing at the J. E. Walker place. Cherokee—This bay stands 15:3, is the ranchman's pattern—well muscled, short coupled, full quarters. B'ar Hunter was bred by Col. E. R. Bradley of Kentucky, only four-time winner of the Derby. Tip to horsemen: The Remount stables have some good horses coming in as re-assignments are being made.

"Uncle Tom" Adams of San Angelo the past week announced that he had bought the 931-acre Charley Moore place just south of San Angelo (at Knickerbocker) for an amount slightly in excess of $40,000, getting also 700 sheep, the horses and cows.

With the big packers withdrawing in recent months from supplying meat to much of West Texas, the applications for butcher and farm slaughter permits are numerous, says T. J. Durdorstadt, regional advisor on the Slaughter Permit Meat Order. But the snag is that the applications ARE NOT being granted, because the applicants, mostly were not meat operating in 1941 or the first nine months of 1942. That makes a tight situation in the 31-county West Texas area, he says.

Wounded Soldier Returned From Africa Writes Letter To His Dad

W. E. Harrell, pastor of the Methodist church at Rockwood, received the following letter from his son a radio operator in the U. S. Navy Reserve. Bunyon, as he signs, was recently injured when his ship was torpedoed, and is now in a Naval hospital for recuperation and repair treatment.

Portsmouth, Virginia
July 31, 1943

Dear Dad,

Please don't misunderstand me. I like my job. I hope I can get well soon and go back to duty. But the men fighting this war are not great heroes doing something for their country—making the world a better place to live in. They are just ordinary human beings doing what they are ordered to do. There is not one of them that doesn't wish the orders were different. That the whole system and set-up were different. Not one private can understand why there is any difference between him and an officer. Why officers should have better quarters, better food, more pay.

I talked with some Italian prisoners. They all like Americans. Most of them have relatives living in the states. I particularly liked one Italian prisoner who rode beside me on the train and did so many little things to make me more comfortable. He managed to get the idea over to me that he was a radioman (by saying "dit dah-dit dah-dit dah"). I imagine that we could have had an interesting conversation and became very good friends if he could have spoken more English, or if I had known any Italian.

War is something left over from the world that was before civilization and sanity began its "reign." I hate war.

One of the most interesting persons I ever met was a fellow named Hogue. He lived in the same tent with me. There were eight of us in the tent. Hogue used to be really angry when he would come in nasty and dirty and tired from working hard all day and find me cleaned up, dressed in brand new cloths, sox shirt everything brand new. I had just come back from a swim in the Mediterranean Sea. A fellow named McLean and I went swimming almost every day. As soon as muster was over, if we weren't called for a working party, we sneaked out over the fence and went swimming.

Hogue always got caught. Anytime he worked for wanted him again—because he was a good worker. I think he really liked hard work.

Everyone liked him because of his sense of humor. No matter how angry he was about something he would complain in such a way as to keep us all laughing.

He had just recently gotten married to a Catholic girl up in Idaho and had lived with her only three days. She was on the way to Florida to live with him when he was transferred to North Africa. He had gone to an awful lot of trouble and expense to satisfy the Catholic Church before he could get married. His Dad sent him some money asking why he married a Catholic.

Hogue not only had a good sense of humor but he had good sense. He kept us laughing, by asking the two Catholic fellows in the tent to explain this and that about certain beliefs of the Catholic church. He asked some questions that would certainly stump the experts. He had a gift for irony. No matter how serious anything was he could make it seem humorous. Hogue had more bad luck than anyone I know.

They brought him in and laid him beside me, just after I broke my leg. I recognized him immediately, but he was the deadest person I have ever seen.

Just,
Bunyan
