

Defense attorney says Carpenter's confession illegal

By RICK WHITE
Managing Editor

The attorney for capital murder suspect Joseph Doyle Carpenter is attempting to get crucial state's evidence ruled inadmissible.

Daniel W. Hurley, Carpenter's court-appointed attorney, filed a motion in October to suppress a partial confession his client gave to Muleshoe police.

Hurley claims Muleshoe police violated his client's constitutional rights.

A pre-trial hearing was held last month in the 287th District Court to determine its admissibility.

No ruling was made on the motion during the two-day hearing, which ended with District Judge Jack Young ordering a recess of up to 60 days, according to court documents.

Young issued a gag order shortly after Carpenter was arrested.

Carpenter is accused of the April 13, 1997 beating death of his next door neighbor, 20-year-old Faviola Mendoza.

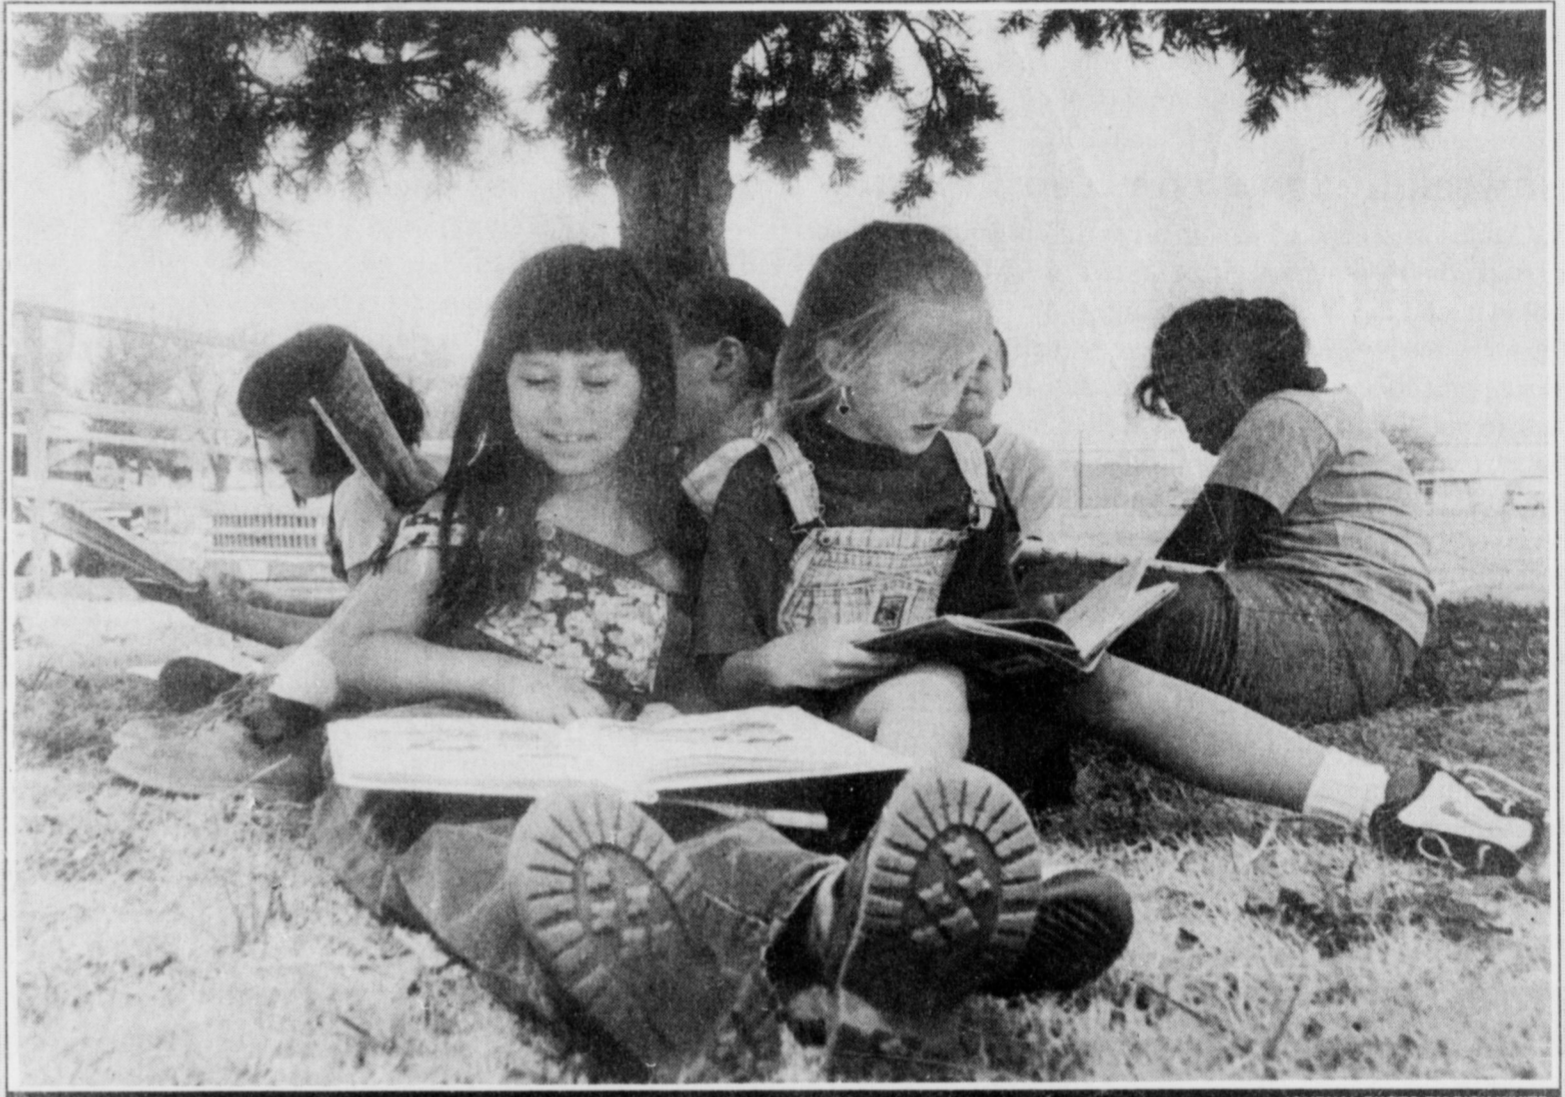

The 35-year-old Muleshoe man has been free on a $100,000 bond since June while awaiting trial.

Carpenter's attorney argued in court documents the confession in court documents the confession his client allegedly gave police was gained illegally and cannot be used against his client.

Muleshoe police contend that Carpenter admitted having sex with the victim and striking her with a stick, according to court documents.

Cattlemen get boost from ag secretary

WASHINGTON — Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman this week announced that USDA will purchase up to $30 million of beef products to help improve prices for cattle producers and the livestock industry.

The additional beef purchases will be distributed to recipients in federal food assistance programs through food banks and other charitable institutions.

"Right now, producers are operating below break-even levels," said Glickman. "Even though USDA has already purchased $141 million of beef for the 1997-98 school lunch program, it's in the best interest of everyone to maintain a viable livestock industry. These additional beef purchases will help offset a surplus supply of fed cattle which is depressing prices to ranchers, farmers, and feedlot operators."

In addition to the beef purchase, Glickman also announced two other measures to support the industry.

First, USDA will add meat to several existing export credit guarantee programs, such as Brazil, the Philippines, and Thailand, and will work to include meat in any new programs that may be announced. Through March 15, more than $160 million in sales have been made using USDA's export credit guarantee programs. In addition, USDA will also send a trade team to Asia to promote the movement of additional quantities of U.S. meat and other agricultural exports.

"Maintaining and expanding export markets is critically important for American farmers

Police: fake money not funny

HOBBS — A high school student's project on phony money turned a little too real.

The 18-year-old Hobbs High School government student created fake $1s, $5s, $10s and $20s by scanning real money into her home computer, then making a printout of the currency on regular-grade paper. It was part of a project on counterfeiting.

She mounted her bills next to real money on a poster board and challenged other students to tell the difference, police said. They said she also handed out sample bills to her classmates.

Police said three high school boys have been questioned about the bills. In addition, Hobbs police alerted the Secret Service that beginning Friday, six fake bills were passed at local businesses — including one owned by the police chief's wife and brother-in-law.

While lighter in color and somewhat blurred, the fake money locked in the police department's evidence room has the general texture of crumpled cash and is comparable to authentic currency, except for duplicate serial numbers on each bill.

Combest holds meeting on electricity deregulation

WASHINGTON D.C.— U.S. Congressman Larry Combest held a hearing this week to discuss the possible effects of electric industry deregulation on rural areas and discuss ways to protect these communities from its ill effects.

"Since electricity is something that is very basic to everyday life and is also very essential to doing business in agriculture, I believe that it is vital that we examine changes in the structure of this industry very closely," said Combest, chairman of the House agriculture subcommittee on forestry, resource conservation, and research

"It is incumbent upon us to discuss any ideas for how rural areas may need to be treated under a deregulated scenario and what it would take for this situation to not have a negative impact on these areas," Combest said.

"Changes as to how the electric utility industry is regulated - either at the state or federal level - must yield real benefits to residential and small business customers. Americans in small towns and on the farm deserve proof positive that any

He is proud to be one of the pioneer settlers of this area and can remember when there weren't many people or businesses here. The area had grassland, dirt roads and not much more.

Randy and Betty have three children: Ronda Johnson of Lubbock, Ronald Johnson of Amarillo, and Stanley Johnson of Cleburne, TX. They have seven grandchildren: Jenifer Johnson Scott, Jill, Matthew, Ashley, Jeremy, Calli and AnnMarie Johnson.

Randy and his wife were 20 year proprietors of Johnson & Pool which handled appliances and hardware. Randy has also actively farmed and ranched for many years. Mr. Johnson still enjoys taking care of his cattle and is versed in Muleshoe's history- including most of this area's early ranches.

Randy is a past member of several social organizations here in Muleshoe and remains a member of the Texas Cattleman's Assn. He is an active member of the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe.

MHS one-act play wins zone contest

Muleshoe High School's one act play "Players in a Game" won the zone contest at Amarillo College Thursday.

Although the drama students had been preparing and practicing the comic tragedy since January, a major change had to be made at the beginning of the week.

Freshman Louie Pacheco was informed Sunday evening that he would be stepping into one of the lead roles replacing senior Steven Madrid who injured his ankle while playing basketball Sunday.

Pacheco who was originally cast to play a smaller part had less than four days to learn over 70 lines. "It really wasn't that hard," said Pacheco, "I was nervous Thursday, but once the play opened and we started, I knew I could do it."

Pacheco's hard work paid off, helping Muleshoe win the competition, as well as, being individually honored for his performance by being named to the All-Star cast.

Other students honored were Nathan Keller and Cassidy Cleavinger named best actor and actress for their outstanding performances. The duo was selected among all of the performing actors from Muleshoe, Tulia, Dimmitt, and Friona.

Scotty Mills and Kenzie Brown were named to the honorable mention all star cast. Carlos Del Toro was recognized as outstanding technician.

Winning the zone division advances the students to the district competition this Thursday at Amarillo College.

The troupe will be performing the one act play for the public on April 6 in Muleshoe.

Registration nights set at MHS

Parents of Muleshoe 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th grade students are urged to attend meetings concerning registration for the 1998-99 school year Monday, March 30 and Tuesday, March 31.

Both meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. The Monday meeting will held in the band hall, while the Tuesday meeting is set for the high school cafeteria.

School officials will meet with students prior to these nights to give them registration materials. Parents are asked to bring the information with them to the night session.

Parents of 8th grade students are asked to attend the meeting Monday, March 30 in the band hall. The program will concern registration and making the transition from Junior High to Muleshoe High School as smooth as possible.

It is especially important that incoming freshman understand the graduation programs available to them and that they plan a program of study for the next four years.

Parents of 9th, 10th and 11th grade students are asked to meet Tuesday, March 31 in the cafeteria concerning registration.

Muleshoe High School administrators want to include parents in the registration process and encourage all parents to attend these important meetings.

Miscues costly in 13-9 defeat

AMARILLO — Muleshoe River Road 13, Muleshoe 9 booted away a win Tuesday.

Three errors paved the way for a seven-run sixth inning as Amarillo River Road rallied past Muleshoe 13-9 in a District 1-3A baseball game.

Muleshoe took a 9-6 lead into the bottom of the sixth before coming unraveled.

Muleshoe made seven errors in the game.

"We missed out on a good opportunity to pick up a win because we just couldn't field the ball," Muleshoe coach Brad Hill said. "We hit the ball hard. But the difference was they made the plays and we didn't."

"If we're going to make the playoffs, we have to start playing good defense. We can't score 20 runs every game."

Layne Kemp (3-2) was saddled with the loss despite allowing six hits and just two earned runs.

Matt McClanahan and Larry Pineda had two hits each as Muleshoe (5-5 overall, 1-1 in district) finished with seven hits.

Winning pitcher Golden Littlefield had two doubles,

What Does the President's Approval Rating Say?

I try pretty hard to avoid being negative, cynical, or political in this column. The three seem to go together; we get enough of all three these days without my adding more. So I hope you'll take, and I'll try to give, what follows in the proper spirit.

What do you make of the fact that in spite of the serious and persistent charges of illegality and immorality lodged against the President, his approval rating is at an all-time high?

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

Did he or his people try to convince anyone to change testimony? I don't know, but I do know that's illegal. Has he repeatedly broken faith with his wife and engaged in behavior of the sleeziest sort that would be unacceptable even for a drunken frat house brat much less the President of the United States?

I don't know. I really don't. There does seem to be a great deal of smoke if there is no fire. And it just keeps coming. They just keep coming. One wonders who is running the country if the leader of the free world has time . . .

I honestly hope the charges against the President are not true. Something is seriously wrong with us if we want this sort of thing to be true. Whatever our politics, surely we all see that such scandals are demeaning and degrading both to the office and to the moral fabric of this nation.

But, apart from that, how can these kinds of charges be flying about for weeks now, true or not, and the President's popularity remain so high?

One obvious answer would be that people have become so cynical regarding politics in general that they think accusations such as those made against Mr. Clinton are largely politically motivated and have little if any basis in truth.

Or maybe the polls are flawed. Even slight nuances in wording can dramatically affect poll results.

Or maybe people are so disenchanted and angry with the news media that they simply refuse to believe news reports of alleged impropriety.

Or, and this one worries me, maybe lots of folks really do believe the accusations against the President, but they also believe the nonsensical statement that personal character has nothing to do with public performance and that people who would lie to those closest to them can be trusted by the public.

Or perhaps many people believe that the accusations against the President are true, but since our nation is in a time of economic prosperity, they simply don't care. This option worries me even more than the others.

I hope the charges are not true. But if they are, well, if they are, and the American people are such moral pygmies that dollars matter to them much more than character, if that is a significant reason Mr. Clinton's popularity has remained high, well, then not only would I have to say that in a democracy we must recognize that our nation got what it chose, I would have to say that our nation got what it richly deserves.

The defense said they will show the statements are not true.

They will also show the court that any alleged statements made by Carpenter were made after a request for counsel was denied, and the statements were not made voluntarily but the result of coercion and undue influence exerted by law enforcement officials, according to court documents.

Hurley also claims the statements in question violate several articles of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure, the Texas Constitution and the United States Constitution.

If the motion to suppress the confession is granted, it would be a huge blow to the state's case.

The state has little physical evidence to link Carpenter to the crime scene, according to sources close to the investigation.

State witnesses subpoenaed for the hearing were former Muleshoe Police Chief Rick Henegar, now a deputy with the Pecos County Sheriff's Department, Texas Ranger Dusty McCord and Sgt. Gus Trevino of the Department of Public Safety in Lubbock.

A fourth witness, a records custodian from Allen, could not be located before the trial.

The families of A.G. Taylor want to express our sincere appreciation for your prayers, visits, phone calls, food and flowers of sympathy. God Bless.

field, Muleshoe erupted for seven runs in the fifth. McClanahan's bases-loaded triple was the big blow. Ismael Nunez added an RBI single.

Muleshoe added a run in the sixth inning on Joe Garcia's run-scoring double.

The game started as a low-scoring affair, with River Road leading 1-0 after three innings.

Muleshoe tied the game in the fourth inning when McClanahan singled, stole second and scored on an infield error.

Littlefield smashed a three-run double as River Road rallied for five runs in the bottom of the fifth to take a 6-1 lead.

Muleshoe was scheduled to host Portales in a doubleheader Friday before returning to district action Tuesday with a 4:30 p.m. home game against Tulia.

and ranchers," Glickman said, "and we will continue to aggressively explore opportunities to use all of the tools at our disposal to promote U.S. agricultural exports around the world."

Glickman also announced several actions that USDA will take to address concerns about concentration and fair trade practices in the livestock and poultry industries. First, Glickman outlined a plan to strengthen the ability of USDA's Grain Inspection, Packers and Stockyards Administration (GIPSA) to ensure fair competition in the marketplace.

"USDA is committed to protecting farmers and ranchers from unfair trade practices," Glickman said, "and this new plan will enhance our ability to conduct investigations and combat unfair or anti-competitive practices in the marketplace. But to get the job done, the Congress must provide us with the resources to make this plan a reality for American farmers and ranchers," Glickman said, noting that the Administration's FY 99 budget calls for $3.8 million to strengthen and restructure GIPSA.

Under the plan, GIPSA field office consolidations will allow more resources to be located in regions where beef, pork, and poultry production and processing are concentrated, and the field offices will be strengthened with additional expertise in economic, statistical, and legal issues to more effectively conduct investigations of alleged anticompetitive practices and financial and trade practice violations.

Glickman also announced two regulatory actions to address producer concerns about concentration and fair trade practices.

First, GIPSA will publish an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in the Federal Register seeking public comment on a regulation which would make purchasing or selling livestock, with the condition that the price not be publicly reported, a violation of the Packers and Stockyards Act.

Second, GIPSA will also publish a proposed rule which would require that accurate feed weights be provided to contract growers when those weights are used in determining producer compensation.

"These regulations will help to ensure that farmers and ranchers are treated fairly in today's concentrated agricultural marketplace," Glickman said.

Finally, Glickman announced two additional actions to improve the market and price discovery information available to the livestock industry. First, Glickman announced that USDA will issue a proposed rule to add beef and pork to the weekly "U.S. Export Sales" report. The proposal would require exporters to report weekly on the quantity, destination, and the marketing period of their export sales of beef and pork.

changes made to the most affordable and dependable electric utility system in the world will benefit them as much as they would benefit Alcoa, U.S. Steel, or the Ford Motor Company," said Glenn English, CEO, National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Rural Americans rely on safe, reliable, affordable electric power. USDA Rural Utilities Service Administrator Wally B. Beyer and Mr. English expressed concern to the Members of the Subcommittee that deregulation could have detrimental effects on consumers and small businesses in rural areas due to the higher cost of serving sparsely populated areas.

Legislation has been introduced in Congress to deregulate the electric industry by the year 2000. The House Commerce Committee debated this legislation extensively, and it has been tentatively scheduled for floor action in late April.

"I would appreciate the opportunity to serve and support our school district."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

ST. MATTHEW, THE APOSTLE, WAS A PUBLICAN (TAX COLLECTOR) IN THE SERVICE OF HEROD ANTIPAS WHEN HE WAS CALLED UPON BY JESUS TO BECOME A DISCIPLE, WHILE SITTING IN THE CUSTOM HOUSE AT CAPERNAUM. ALTHOUGH LOOKED UPON WITH CONTEMPT BY HIS FELLOW-GALILEANS, BECAUSE OF HIS PROFESSION, MATTHEW, NEVER THE LESS, BECAME AN IMPORTANT PURVEYOR OF JESUS' MESSAGE TO THE JEWS!

AFTER JESUS' CRUCIFIXION AND RESURRECTION, MATTHEW PREACHED IN JUDEA FOR SOME FIFTEEN YEARS. HIS SPECIFIC WORK WAS TO PERSUADE THE JEWS THAT JESUS WAS THE FULFILLMENT OF THE SCRIPTURAL PROPHECIES—THE COMING OF THE MESSIAH! HIS GOSPEL POINTEDLY QUOTES THE SCRIPTURES TO THIS EFFECT (65 TIMES, MORE THAN MARK, LUKE, AND JOHN, COMBINED). ALTHOUGH MODERN THEOLOGIAN'S AND SCHOLARS MAINTAIN THIS GOSPEL WAS WRITTEN BY A GRECIAN JEW, UNFAMILIAR WITH HEBREW, ANCIENT AUTHORITIES SUCH AS IRENAEUS, ORIGEN, AND EUSEBIUS, ALL STATE IT WAS WRITTEN BY MATTHEW IN ARAMAIC AND LEFT AS A GUIDE FOR THE JEWS WHEN HE DEPARTED TO PREACH IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES... AND, LATER, EACH MAN INTERPRETED THEM AS BEST HE COULD... HOWBEIT, MATTHEW'S MESSAGE WAS CLEAR—JESUS IS THE CHRIST!
