EIGHTY MEN FACE TO FACE WITH DEATH

SPLENDID RAIN BRINGS SMILES TO ALL RANGER

Precipitation Today Amounts To About 1.1-2 Inches; Will Do Much Good.

Rain fell this morning in Ranger and over the Ranger territory. It came from the northwest and for more than three hours scattered moisture and gladness over the land. It was very welcome here, while more of it in the near future will also receive its full share of appreciation, there was enough to do a great deal of good.

The people of Ranger have been hoping for and expecting rain for several weeks. Time and again the clouds have gathered, thunder has sounded and lightning has played in the sky, but the rain would fall elsewhere. The prospects for rain appeared good Monday morning, but during the day the clouds passed on by and Monday night the sky was clear and the stars shone brilliantly. There was little wind and few entertained any hope that rain might fall very soon.

But before daybreak the clouds had regathered about Ranger. A stiff wind blew out of the northwest, occasional flashes of lightning were seen and the thunder rumbled. The skies had an appearance of rain, but there were many "doubting Thomases," who, even after a few drops were seen to fall, refused to carry their umbrellas when leaving their homes for store or office.

Just about 8 o'clock, however, the rain began to fall in earnest. It came down in a deluge. For awhile there was a little wind along with it, but the wind dropped down and the rain kept on alone. The gutters filled with water and some ran over. The dust was washed from the trees and the bushes, the grass took on a greener hue and flowers that had begun to droop again held up their heads. The rain brought a general revival of good hopes and good cheer. For several hours it fell intermittently, at times as an an at other times very hard. The total precipitation was about one and one-half inches.

By noon the clouds had passed on by, the sun was shining and the blue sky had few specks to dim its brilliancy. The rain did a wonderful amount of good over the whole Ranger agricultural territory and the moisture in the ground will carry over easily until the rains of the equinoctial period, only a short space ahead.

LIGHT SHOWERS FALL IN AND ABOUT EASTLAND

Eastland and vicinity was visited by a light shower of rain early this morning. It was believed that the long hoped for rain was here, but the clouds soon broke away.

HIGH WIND AND MUCH RAIN MONDAY AT MCKINNEY

MCKINNEY, Aug. 26.—One of the heaviest rains in several months accompanied by a severe windstorm visited McKinney Monday afternoon. Wind did considerable damage in the city and country, where small buildings were blown down and trees uprooted.

Farmers report open cotton damaged considerably. Rainfall amounted to 1.9.

GENERAL HEADS PATROL WHICH SCATTERS CROWD ABOUT A FIERY CROSS

CAMP CUSTER, Mich., Aug. 26. Drastic action was threatened today by General Moseley, commanding officer of Camp Custer if another attempt is made to burn a fiery cross within the confines of the camp. At the head of a detachment of soldiers, the general rounded a large group gathered about a burning cross on a hill late last night. Most of the demonstrators had fled by the time the troops arrived, but about 35 persons were held in the guard house for investigation.

REVIVAL AT CHURCH OF CHRIST ATTRACTS MANY

Interest continues to grow in the old-time revival now being conducted at the Ranger Church of Christ by Elder Homer Davis. The church is at the corner of Rusk and Mesquite.

Monday night is usually dull for a meeting, but last night an extra large audience gathered at the revival. Many remained in cars because of a shortage of seats.

"We expected to be bothered with cars leaving during the services, since the revival is in the open air, and so many had to remain in cars," said Elder Davis, "but we are glad that only one car left during the discourse last night."

Arrangements have been made to hold the meeting tonight inside the church in the event that it rains. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock every night.

Tropical Hurricane Goes Northeastward On Atlantic Coast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The tropical hurricane that flashed on the South Atlantic coast has careened northeastward, the weather bureau reported today, warning the entire coast line to Boston of the approach of the storm. Gales cutting a path 300 miles wide swept the coast from the Carolinas during the night, but no distress reports were received from ships at sea. A warning was issued of the approach of the hurricane yesterday afternoon and many coastal vessels sought shelter before it broke.

Coastguard headquarters maintained an all-night watch so its resources might be rushed immediately to any stricken areas along the coast, but no reports were received.

TEXAS G. A. R. LEADERS SEEK NEW NOMINEE

Meeting Now to Name Candidate for Governor in Place Of Lee.

HOUSTON, Aug. 26.—With the definite resignation of T. P. Lee as republican nominee for governor of Texas before them, the republican executive committee gathered here today to select another candidate. Led by R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman and party whip in Texas, all members of the committee were reporting here this morning. The committee will be augmented by the arrival of at least 75 prominent republicans during the day.

Charles N. Boynton will act as chairman in the absence of Eugene Nolte of Seguin.

ZWEIFEL MAY BE THE REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR TEXAS GOVERNOR

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 26.—Henry Zweifel, United States district attorney, of Fort Worth, will be the choice to succeed T. P. Lee of Houston in carrying the republican banner in the gubernatorial campaign, it was predicted by leading republicans gathered here today for a conference of the state executive committee.

A small faction this morning was lobbying for an independent candidate who would have klan support, but there was little likelihood the faction would prevail.

Society Folks In Colorado Town Lose Their Rum Supply

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 26.—Pueblo society's source of illicit liquor was put out of business when federal prohibition officers and local detectives seized a first-class bottling plant and more than 100 gallons of booze in a raid on Pete Froney's place, the officers reported.

In the back end of Froney's store, at 100 Kelly avenue, federal prohibition officers discovered two stores of bottled whisky, cases of empty bottles ready to be filled and a complete coloring and bottling layout.

After breaking in through a rear door, the officers found two cases of whisky, in pint bottles, one case of which was labeled "Old Crow," two 20-gallon kegs of booze and several 10-gallon jugs, most of which were filled with whisky.

The walls of the rooms were lined with cases of empty bottles. The officers who staged the raid declared that the place had been one of the principal sources of intoxicating liquor for socially prominent and well-to-do citizens of Pueblo and vicinity.

FRENCH SENATE TAKES UP THE PACT OF LONDON

PARIS, Aug. 26.—The senate today started discussion of interpolations on the London pact. Ex-Premier Poincare was expected to intervene for the opposition, but it was believed the upper house would show its confidence in the Herriot government and approve the London agreement by a good majority.

TEXAN DIES IN IOWA. DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 26.—Harry May, 69, of McAllen, Texas, died at the union station here last night. May was en route to the Mayo sanitarium at Rochester, Minn.

COUNTESS ESCAPES GILDED CAGE.

COUNTESS MILDRED TRESHATY

"I was merely a bird in a gilded cage," asserts Countess Mildred Treshaty, formerly Beverley West, of the New York state, in asking a New York divorce from Count Serge Treshaty, former Russian nobleman, now president of a motor corporation with an income of $50,000 a year. She declares he locked her in each morning when he went to his office and kept her locked in until his return in the evening.

TAYLOR COUNTY HAS FINE SITE FOR STATE PARK

Buffalo Gap Site Wins Approval of Members State Park Board.

ABILENE, Aug. 26.—Taylor county will be recommended by the state park board to get one of the four majority state parks to be located in Texas, according to statements by members of the board made here Sunday after being taken for a second tour of inspection of proposed sites for a park at Buffalo Gap.

Enthusiastic approval of the site on the city's property below the dam was given by the board, headed by D. E. Colp of San Antonio as chairman. According to Mr. Colp the Buffalo Gap project should be the principal park in the state, due to its boundless natural resources and its accessibility from other parts of the state. The three other major parks are to be located in Palo Duro canyon and the Davis and Guadalupe mountains.

Judge Dallas Scarborough of Abilene was in charge of the committee which showed the park board of three members—D. E. Colp, Mrs. Fhebe K. Warner of Claude, and Hobart Key of Marshall, the Buffalo Gap territory. The board made another trip over the site Sunday afternoon and prepared the data on the project, this to be used in preparing the request for a budget which will be presented to the state legislature.

"I believe this ought to be the major park of Texas since the Davis mountain site is to be made into a national park," D. E. Colp, chairman of the board, said Sunday afternoon. "The board is highly pleased and enthusiastic as to the prospects for a major park here. The natural resources are among the best that we have found and the park is the most accessible of any to the greater part of the state."

The city property below the dam of Lake Abilene also will be utilized. The board will recommend to the legislature that the state take this over and develop it into a park. Included in the budget which will be prepared by the board for the project will be funds for the construction of the sky-line drive and a bathing beach below Lake Abilene. The park board plans to construct a concrete dam below the reservoir and use the lake formed by this as a bathing beach.

The entire park property will be cleaned up and strict maintenance kept by the state. A keeper will be employed and kept on the job constantly. Between 500 and 600 acres are included in the present site and the board plans to add to this as the park is developed.

The board was very insistent upon the idea of no contamination of the water of Lake Abilene.

EL PASO.—Construction of a high tension transmission line by the El Paso electric company from this city to Las Cruces, N. M., is under way, the company having recently acquired the Las Cruces electric property.

U. S. AVIATORS PREPARING HOP OFF GREENLAND

Installing New Engines In Planes for Flight to Coast Of Labrador.

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—The final gap between the American round-the-world aviators and shores of the North American continent will be bridged Thursday, according to advices received by Admiral Magruder from Lieut. Lowell Smith.

The two pilots now at Ivagutur are installing new engines in the two round-the-world planes. As soon as the installation is completed the two flyers will take off for Indian Harbor, Labrador.

Italian Flyer Very Weary When Taken From Arctic Sea

ON BOARD THE U. S. CRUISER RICHMOND, Aug. 26.—It was the merest speck of light which might have been a star penetrating the mist that had spread low over the North Atlantic that led the rescuers to the wrecked Italian plane to save Lieut. Antonio Locatelli and his three companions after three days of vain search by several ships and a number of airplanes.

Steaming slowly along on the almost hopeless search of a vast expanse of wind-tossed water, and with her fuel getting low, the Richmond crossed the path of the drifting plane. The watch officer discerned a tiny speck of light on the horizon. Twenty minutes later a shadowy form grew out of the mist around the tiny glare. Soon afterward the unmistakable outlines of a seaplane became visible and then the men themselves could be seen in the wreck that almost became their floating bier.

Locatelli boarded the Richmond at 2:50 Monday morning, a haggard, unkempt, weary man. With the Italian pilot were his three companions, as marked as was their leader by their trying hours they had passed floating helplessly three days and three nights across 100 miles of open sea. They explained that engine trouble forced them from the clouds at 2:37 o'clock Thursday afternoon before they reached the east coast of Greenland.

Locatelli recounted how his plane hit the water in a rough sea and fog. A curling wave smashed against the plane's elevator and so damaged them that getting into the air again was impossible. With a plentiful supply of gasoline, the Italians were forced to take their chances as sailors in their incapacitated machine. The rough weather continued and the pounding seas prevented repairs to the engine. Ice floes, veiled in fog, threatened to wreck their craft.

VACANT HOUSE, SOUTH OAK STREET, RANGER, IS SCENE OF SMALL BLAZE

A vacant house on So. Oak street, the property of Miss Mattie Reavehouse, 511 Mellin street Ranger, caused considerable excitement last night about 9:30 when neighbors noticed smoke pouring out from the windows and doors. The alarm was turned in immediately but neighbors without awaiting the firemen, broke down the door and extinguished the blaze before it could do any damage.

The fire was located in a clothes closet of the house and the door was locked, compelling those who broke into the house to tear the door off its hinges to get to the flames. Very little damage was done, as the fire was put out before spreading. Origin of the fire is undetermined.

OHIO DEMOCRATS ADOPT PLANK AGAINST KLAN

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 26.—The Ohio democratic state convention held at the klan issue, gave John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president, a mighty ovation when he addressed it today. Although Davis wished to avoid further reference to the klan issue, he walked into a hall still seething with that question.

The convention adopted a plank in the state platform denouncing the klan by name and employing much of the language used by Davis in his Seagirt speech, in which he condemned the order.

James M. Cox introduced Davis as a chiefest preaching the gospel of honesty in democratic affairs and broad humanity in our foreign relations. He compared Davis in ability and character to Jefferson, Adams and Wilson.

DRYEST OF ALL DRY CONVENTIONS TO BE MEETING IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—"The state democratic convention which meets in Austin next Tuesday will be the driest convention ever held in Texas," Adjutant General Thomas D. Barton said today when he began preparations to carry out Governor Neff's program to ban liquor from Austin and Travis county.

"And another thing," he said, "the prominent politicians will be given the same treatment as the lowliest delegate. If, by chance, any of them become intoxicated they will be thrown into jail."

STATE ATTORNEY INSISTS 'THEY MUST HANG'

Puts Finishing Touches to Plea To Send Young Murderers To Gallows.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—"They must hang."

This was the reply today of State Attorney Robert E. Crowe to the dramatic plea of Attorney Clarence Darrow for the lives of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb. Crowe put the finishing touches to his answer to Darrow and declared to the United Press he had not been moved a hair from his decision to demand the gallows for the two youths who had killed Robert Franks, 14-year-old schoolboy.

"As the judge of this court, you have no right to forgive anyone who trespasses against the state of Illinois," State Attorney Robert E. Crowe thundered at Chief Justice John R. Caverly in demanding the death penalty for Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr.

"You have no right to forgive anyone brought before this court for trespassing against the law. You must deal with them as the law prescribes," Crowe said.

Crowe Makes Open Charge.

An open charge of criminal assault on Robert Franks, who was kidnapped and murdered by Loeb and Leopold was made in open court today by State Attorney Robert E. Crowe in terrific denunciations of the youthful slayers. He denounced them as perverts and entitled to no consideration. He painted a picture of their own unnatural relations and told an oft-whispered story of what happened to the 14-year-old boy.

Crowe said the two youths had planned to kidnap and assault a little girl, but at the last moment changed their plans and kidnaped the boy. He said the body of the little boy showed that it had been abused to satisfy the unnatural passions of the two moral and physical perverts.

TWO POULTRY CULLING DEMONSTRATIONS, FRIDAY FOR CHICKEN BREEDERS

Two culling demonstrations will be held by R. H. Bush, county agent, Friday, Aug. 29, for the benefit of poultry men in the vicinity of Ranger and Bullock.

The first demonstration will be held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Powell of Bullock at 3 o'clock. The second will be at the home of R. G. Hise, at the Cross Roads community, at 5 o'clock. All persons interested in the business of poultry raising are welcome to attend the demonstrations.

The two demonstrations were arranged with the help and through the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, C. C. Patterson, secretary.

GASOLINE SELLING IN FORT WORTH AT LOWEST PRICE IN MANY MONTHS

PORT WORTH, Aug. 26.—Gasoline is selling at 11 cents per gallon in Fort Worth, the lowest price in many months.

Wholesale dealers assert that it is a fight between retail gasoline distributors in the city. Retail dealers affirm the assertion and declare that it is necessary to sell at this price due to the evident anxiety on the part of several retail dealers to do a large volume of business.

According to the wholesale distributors, the tank wagon price on gasoline has dropped 4 cents during the past two weeks but that this price is caused by the law of supply and demand and that no "fight" has entered into the posting of the price.

At the present time the independent gasoline filling stations are selling at an 11-cent retail price, and according to the wholesale dealers are buying at 10 cents.

DREDGE BLOWN FROM MOORINGS, HANGS ON REEF

Pounded by Heavy Waves Off Atlantic City, Rescuers Unable to Approach.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 26.—Eighty men are believed in peril aboard the government dredge Soloscar, founded on South Bar, a half mile off shore here, today. The tug can be seen from shore and is pounded by heavy seas. She is lifting to seaward and big waves are breaking clear over her top decks. Efforts to bring a lifeboat alongside so far have failed because of the heavy seas.

The dredge is known to carry a large crew and one report says eighty men are aboard.

After efforts of rescue boats to reach the dredge had failed a government boat got a hawser over the stranded craft and partly righted her. The work was hampered by the heavy surf, however, and it was feared the hawser would break before the men could be taken off the vessel.

The dredge is one of two that have been working on the channel here. She was torn loose from her moorings at 4 a. m. and swept into sea by the high winds, stranding on the bar.

Soviet Agents In Vladivostok Claim To Have Found Plot

MOSCOW, Aug. 26.—Government agents in Vladivostok have arrested 39 leaders of a plot to overthrow the soviet and re-establish a monarchy, according to information received here. The leaders include Grand Duke Nicholas, brother of the late czar, and other former members of the Russian nobility.

Mrs. Ferguson Has Majority Of More Than 91,000 Votes

DALLAS, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple increased her lead over Felix D. Robertson of Dallas for the democratic gubernatorial nomination to more than 91,000, according to returns to Texas Election bureau at 11 o'clock today. Returns from 239 counties, 70 of them complete, give 436,871 votes to Mrs. Ferguson and 359,448 to Robertson.

Barry Miller of Dallas drew away from Will C. Edwards for lieutenant governor, standing at 266,692 to 349,944 for Edwards.

Total vote accounted for is 770,159.

BURKETT WIRES HIS CONGRATULATIONS TO MRS. MIRIAM FERGUSON

State Senator Joe Burkett, who had charge of the campaign for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in this congressional district for the run-off primary, sent the following message of congratulation to the democratic gubernatorial nominee:

Eastland, Texas, Aug. 25, 1924.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Temple, Texas. Permit me to congratulate you and your valiant husband on the splendid victory gained by you in behalf of free and democratic government. Your victory sounds the death knell of secret government in Texas and is the beginning of the end of klan domination of our government. You have accomplished your aim to secure vindication before the voters of Texas of your family name and to remove the stain from the name of your good husband and there remains but one other step for him to make the vindication complete and unquestioned. Ever for free government by freemen. Always against secret government by autocrats and tyrants.

BIBLE THOUGHT
BEHOLD AT EVENING TIDE
 trouble; and before the morning he is not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.—Isaiah 17:14.

EASIER TO SMILE THAN FROWN
 When God created man in His own image, He gave him the power to smile with the use of only thirteen facial muscles, while he must use sixty-five muscles for a first class frown.

We render tribute to smiles in money paid for seeing them, in money paid for being made to smile. We follow the men and the women who smile and we follow them willingly.

And then we forget all about the great value to us of our own smiles, and almost before our faces have relaxed from the reciprocal smile another person brings to our countenance, we allow our mouth corners to droop and we go about our affairs with frowns of gloom.

People pay money to see their favorites smile in the movies. They pay money to see smiles on the living stage. They pay money to be made to smile. But the smiles of the screenland and the smiles of stage, even the smiles of the audience, are only occasional smiles.

The great thing is the everyday, day-long smile of the man in business, the man in the street, the woman in the home or in whatever occupation she may assume.

All the great influence, the magnetism of compelling personality, the pulling power of our individuality, the pleasing force that is within us, may be used if we will make our faces and teach them to smile when a smile counts, and that is much of the time.

We have the world at our feet when we smile.

SOME RESULTS OF PROHIBITION
 In spite of all obstacles and handicaps the social, economic and industrial reforms accomplished under four years of prohibition, are so numerous that it is difficult to catalogue them in one article. But here are a few outstanding and verified facts:

There are no longer 177,790 open, legalized saloons; the death rate has fallen amazingly; the decrease being equivalent to saving 873,000 lives; the federal census shows a decrease of almost 6 per cent in our criminal population; at least seven million motor cars have been bought with money that formerly went to the saloon, and Roger Babson is authority for the statement that this accounts for much of our prosperity; saving deposits increased last year a billion dollars; insurance holdings gained eleven billions; the growth of labor banks is due to prohibition; homes for alcoholics have decreased from 238 to 38; the per capita wealth has increased from $986 to $2,918, and labor unions are now going on record to the effect that the eighteenth amendment is the greatest blessing ever received.

NINE PRESIDENTIAL TICKETS
 Nine varying conceptions of what the United States needs—politically, economically, socially and, perhaps, religiously—have received expression and been endowed with leadership within the last few months. Nine candidates mounted upon nine platforms, will travel over the United States each expounding the views of himself or his group, and gathering what additional adherents he may.

From the voters viewpoint, the variety of declarations offered should be comprehensive enough to afford almost anyone a satisfactory code. The republican platform, calling for indorsement of the permanent world court, for the "enforcement of law," and for the conscription of wealth and man power alike, and the democratic plank advocating referendum on the league of nations, are well known. The other seven candidates, however, with the possible exception of the LaFollette platform, are not so generally familiar. The list follows:

Russia and Britain Fail in Treaty.

M. Rakovsky, head of the Russian Soviet delegation that has been in London attempting to negotiate a treaty with Great Britain, has failed, British representatives demanding that the Russians agree to pay their pre-war debts before British bankers will extend a credit to the Soviet. This the Russians refuse to do.

Republican, Calvin Coolidge; democrat, John W. Davis; progressive, Robert M. LaFollette; people's progressive, Robert R. Pointer; American, Gilbert O. Nations; socialist-labor, Frank Johns; national prohibition, Herman P. Faris; commonwealth land, William J. Wallace; farmer-labor, Duncan McDonald.

The LaFollette group would abolish monopolies; would establish public ownership of water-power resources; maintain high surtaxes on incomes; reorganize both the federal reserve and farm loan banks; revise the Versailles treaty and take radical steps to aid the embarrassed farmer.

The people's progressive party is the one that gathered in Detroit last January for the purpose of nominating Henry Ford. When this ambition could not be realized the nomination was conferred upon Mr. Pointer, who stands for personal liberty, including the abolition of the income tax.

Mr. Nations, editor of the Ku Klux Klan journal, the Protestant, represents a group that believes an advanced declaration is necessary on the subject of the melting pot.

The socialist-laborite finds most of its adherents in the west, although it has many followers in the east.

The commonwealth land party consists of single taxers.

The farmer-labor party is not much more than another name for the communists, the most advanced radicals known, and has a communist platform.

That which was the socialist party will support Mr. LaFollette.

The Panama Canal is one government-owned and managed institution that pays well. August 15 was the tenth anniversary of its official opening to traffic. Since that date it has earned more than $75,000,000 and the income during the next ten years will be more than $25,000,000 per year.

When the Panama Canal was constructed nobody expected that it would be most helpful to Canada. Yet Canadian farmers are sending their wheat to Europe in advance of American farmers who have to depend on railroads tied up with foreign ship owners.

LOAN FUNDS TO HELP STUDENTS THRU COLLEGE

University of Texas Acquiring Varied Ways of Aiding Quest for Education.

Special.
 AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—For the benefit of students in need of financial assistance at the University of Texas, seventeen loan funds are maintained. Many of these are in the form of endowments in memory of some former student, and several funds are maintained by groups of altruistic persons.

Bothwell Bierce Kane loan scholarship is one offered by Mrs. John D. Kane of Fort Worth annually in memory of her son, Bothwell Bierce Kane, a student of the university 1912-15, killed in action in 1918. The beneficiaries must be candidates for the ministry, missionary work, or Y. M. C. A. work. Loans will be made upon notes bearing five per cent interest, which will be cancelled at the end of five years of actual Christian work along one of the lines indicated. Applications should be made to the secretary of the ex-students' memorial loan fund.

Loans to Aid Women.
 Brackenridge loan fund for women students in architecture, law and medicine was established by the late G. W. Brackenridge of San Antonio, with a view of aiding women students possessing robust health, high character, decided ability, and seriousness of purpose. Six of the loans may be had in the department of architecture, five in the school of law, nine in the school of medicine. The maximum amount to one student during each session is $240.

In memory of Lester Gladstone Bugbee, of the class of 1892, formerly adjunct professor of history, a fund, which now amounts to more than a thousand dollars, is accumulating, and is being lent to needy students under suitable restrictions. Interest on the loans is added to the funds.

In memory of their son Carl Stone Benedict, student of the university during the year 1917-18, and a midshipman at Annapolis at the time of his death, Dr. and Mrs. H. Carl Stone Benedict scholarship and Y. Benedict have established the loan fund. This fund, at present entirely a loan fund, is available to male students of the college of arts and sciences, preference being given to members of the sophomore class.

For the benefit of worthy and capable young men above the rank of freshmen attending any department of the main university, Mrs. Julia E. Oldright of Austin, founder of the Charles Durand Oldright fellowship, has provided that the excess income of the fellowship fund shall constitute the Charles Durand Oldright loan fund.

Chimes Fund Loan.
 The graduating class of 1913 of the college of arts and sciences established a fund originally intended for the purchase of chimes. Additions to this fund were made by the classes of 1914-15-16 and 1918. The fund is now being used as a loan fund, pending the purchase of chimes.

A part of the $1,250 loan fund contributed by Cullen P. Thomas of Dallas and friends will be available for loans to deserving students during the session of 1924-25, and application should be made to John A. Lomax, secretary of the ex-students' association, Austin. Mr. Lomax is also in charge of the ex-students' memorial loan fund, which has available to loan several thousand dollars.

The engineers' loan fund was established by students of the college of engineering, and the loan to each student is limited to $200. During the session of 1911-12, students of the law school organized the law school loan fund, of which the loans are not to exceed $100 for middle law students and $200 for senior law students.

George W. Allen memorial fund was founded in memory of George W. Allen of the law class of 1891. From it a loan of $300 for five years at six per cent interest will be made each year to a young man or woman residing in Jones county.

In memory of her nephew, James A. Edmond, B. A., 1916, M. A., 1918, Miss Belle Edmond of Waco has established a loan scholarship. The beneficiaries must be young men of sound body, exceptional intellectual promise, and unquestioned moral integrity.

The John H. Houghton memorial

fund was founded in memory of John H. Houghton, long a citizen of Austin. From it a loan of $300 will be made each year to a young man or woman residing in Hogg county.

Loans funds are also maintained by the Orange Jacket society, Reagan literary society, the Scottish Rite educational association and the Sidney Lanier literary society. Women students of at least sophomore standing will be aided by the Orange Jackets to the amount of not less than 100 or more than $300 each year. The Reagan literary society also extends loans to young women students, the maximum amount to each one being $50. Sidney Lanier literary society also makes loans to women students, the maximum amount to one person being $100. Loans not to exceed $250 are made by the Scottish Rite Masons of Texas to assist Master Masons or their dependents.

Ruins of McCleskey Hotel Hauled Away; New Building Level

The ruins of the McCleskey hotel, which people have grown accustomed to seeing as they pass by, will soon be a thing of the past and the only reminder people will have of the tragic fire in which four persons lost their lives and a number were injured will be the concrete floor of the hotel and a large pile of bricks near the alley. And the concrete floor must go, for the new building must be on the street level.

The work of clearing up the debris will be completed by this evening and the lot will be ready for rebuilding. Nolan Queen and Will McCleskey of Weatherford, owners of the property are expected in tomorrow. It is thought that work of rebuilding will be started immediately. The new building will be placed on a level with the street, according to Street Commissioner Raymond Teal, and will probably be a two-story fire-proof building. The lower part to be business houses and the second floor offices. No definite plans have as yet been announced by Mr. Queen, but his final decision is expected on his arrival.

A 75-ton electric storage battery locomotive, the largest of its kind yet built in this country, is now being used for switching purposes in the Schenectady, (N. Y.), works of a large electrical manufacturing company.

TEXAS BABY CHICK RAISERS MEET IN CISCO

First Convention Opening Today Will Continue Through Tomorrow.

The Texas Baby Chick association will hold its first convention in Cisco today and tomorrow. All poultrymen are cordially invited to attend the affair which promises to be both novel and instructing as prominent poultrymen will be there to address the convention.

The officers of the association have arranged an interesting and highly instructive program and the citizenship of Cisco, through their chamber of commerce, have arranged delightful entertainment in honor of the visitors while here. Among other things, will be an automobile ride through the great oil fields near here over brick and asphalt highways, a swimming party at Lake Cisco bathing beach, a chicken barbecue at the lake, and a visit through the great hollow-type concrete dam, the largest of its kind in the world. Splendid hotel accommodations are in Cisco, and the high, dry climate and cool nights will make the time spent here a delightful vacation.

Cisco is headquarters of the Bankhead Poultry Marketing association now being organized with 25,000 hens, and is in the center of one of the most populous sections of the state. There is a great interest being manifested in the poultry industry in this section of the state. Thousands of baby chicks and settings of eggs will be purchased by the people in this section during the coming season and the convention will furnish an excellent opportunity to advertise the business in this fruitful territory.

The brightest minds in the poultry industry will be here for the two days of the convention. Aside from the valuable program, the visiting poultry breeders will secure a great amount of good by associating with the leading poultrymen of the country and discussing mutual problems with each other.

"SANDY" MCINTYRE.
 Esau's sale of his birthright for a mess of pottage was easily outdone by "Sandy" McIntyre, Western prospector, who discovered the famous McIntyre gold mine at Porcupine, and who sold it for just $125. The purchaser resold it for $300,000, and the mine has since paid $3,000,000 in dividends. "Sandy" is still prospecting.

To cap the climax of a day of entertainment on Labor day, for the benefit of the football team, the Ranger Country club will entertain with a dance from 9 to 2 at the country club, the entertainment committee of the club announced today.

The dance will be given for the benefit of the Ranger High school athletic association, for the purchase of new equipment for the football team. A baseball game between the Leans and Fats will be played on Labor day afternoon, after which there will be other entertainment in the form of races and games.

Music for the dance will be furnished by a six-piece orchestra. A deep and mysterious silence settles around the committee whenever anyone mentions the orchestra and requests the name of it, but all are told to come and see and, if not satisfied with the music, their money will be refunded provided they can find the person who has charge of it at the time.

BANDIT-PROOF MAIL CAR CAN'T BE ROBBED.

BANDIT PROOF MAIL CAR FIRING THROUGH FLOOR.
 A realistic trial of a bandit-proof mail car has been carried out at Brewster, N. Y. The train was stopped by "robbers," who cut the mail car loose. In stantly great calcium lights were turned from the car, so bright a robber 20 feet away could not see. This picture, made late at night, was made by the flare of the lights. Mail clerks immediately opened fire through small portholes, similar to those in army tanks. When the "robbers" sought to get under the car to avoid the fire from the portholes the mail clerks opened fire through the floor with riot guns, to which were attached shot defectors, which scattered buckshot over a wide range. Theoretically, all the bandits were killed, the mail clerks being saved by the steel-jacketed car.

TRAINERS FOR OLYMPIC GAMES GIVEN PRAISE

American Success in Athletic Sports Due to Both Brains And Brawn.

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—America's success in the Olympic games was due not only to the possession of a large number of superior athletes, but also to the care and fine treatment given the athletes by the manager and trainers of the team.

Charles Dean and George Brown, the two managers of the team, were on the job constantly, and their concern for the comfort and welfare of the team was in striking contrast to the actions of the management of the 1920 team, who acted on the assumption that the team was not composed of school boys, and that they could take care of themselves.

During the games the managers and coaches of the team were not well acquainted enough with the head waiters of the Montmartre cabarets and the other bright-light places in Paris to call them by their first names and get choice tables. They were at Roquencourt and the Colombes village with the athletes. They also had a team of men, but they knew that the job of getting ready and competing in the games was enough to occupy the attention of the men without bothering them with the task of finding something to eat and some place to sleep, as the athletes had to do in Antwerp.

The coaching and training of Lawson Robertson, Walter Christie, Alonzo Stagg, Eddie Farrell, Bill Hayward, Johnny Magee, Tom Keane and Jake Weber was splendid, and the results of their attention, care and hard work was plainly apparent. There were no star athletes hurt or ruined in training before the games, as there were in Antwerp. With the exception of a few bad breaks in actual competition the coaches were able to get about 100 per cent strength out of the team.

While the team was most admirably handled there were brought out a few defects in the management, which probably will be corrected when the arrangements are being made in 1928 for the trip to Amsterdam. The only complaint the athletes made—and it was not made in the bitter spirit that almost caused a rebellion in Antwerp—was that the camp was too far away from the Colombes stadium. No place could have been picked as a more ideal place to live than the Murat chateau at Roquencourt, and its lone bad feature was not the result of poor judgment on the part of the American committee, but came as a result of the failure of the transportation to live up to the promised speed.

The Roquencourt villa was located about 12 miles from the Colombes stadium, and it was natural, perhaps, that Americans should figure that the trip would not consume more than 30 minutes over good roads. But the drivers of the busses operated on a schedule that was regularly about an hour and sometimes more.

It was mentioned previously that, many times the athletes who competed in the late events on the program did not arrive at their camp until the kitchen had closed. This was not the fault of the committee, however. No American had thought of the possibility of having the games started at 3 o'clock and finishing as late as 9.

It had been planned to house the athletes scheduled in early events overnight at the Colombes village, but the accommodations were so poor that another carefully-made plan had to be abandoned through no fault of the committee.

The bouncing and jostling in a bus over 12 miles did not help the athletes and the irregularity of meals was also a handicap, but the athletes knew that the French committee was to blame, primarily, and they didn't grumble.

The American committee, in the past, has had bigger problems to face than the managers of European teams, and the same problems will have to be faced in the future. It is reasonable to believe that in such good hands as the team was this year that these bigger problems will be met.

The Finns had an ideal camp. They were situated in a quiet village, near Colombes, within easy access of the stadium. The American might have had, and would have had a place just as good, if they only had the care of 70 athletes. But when there are more than 300 men and girls to take care of, the task is a tremendous job. There was not a spot closer than Roquencourt where the American committee could find space to house and feed such a small army of athletes.

Another slight defect in the management can be corrected in the future. There should be some way of separating the athletes who have finished competition and those who are still in training. The committee should keep the various units of the team together. The boxers and swimmers should not be housed near the track athletes.

It is only natural that a young athlete who has been training for months should seek a little entertainment after he has finished his competition. He should be allowed to keep the lights on after hours and sing and dance if he wants to. But he should not do his celebrating in the same hut where a less fortunate companion is trying to get some rest for a hard competition on the following day.

These are all only minor grievances, however, and they can be corrected. Under the circumstances the American committee could not have done a better job. They had a big task—and they delivered.

Selections Most Popular In Music Memory Contests

The three compositions most frequently used in music memory contests in the schools of the country, according to an investigation just made by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music, are Beethoven's "Minuet in G," MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" and Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." The bureau examined the numbers studied in 350 representative contests of this kind, with a view to determining the 100 selections most popular with the school authorities who have adopted the contest as a means of familiarizing children with good music. This list will be published, together with a supplementary list recommended by the ex-presidents of the Music Supervisors' National Conference, for the benefit of schools, clubs and other organizations planning the introduction of the music memory, or recognition, contests.

The Beethoven "Minuet in G" appeared on 172 of the 350 lists submitted. "To a Wild Rose" on 171 and the "Spring Song" on 164. These three were followed closely by the Barcarolle from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman," Rubinstein's "Melody in F," Dvorak's "Humoresque" and "Anitra's Dance" from the Peer Gynt Suite. Others near the top of the list were the "William Tell Overture," "Blue Danube Waltzes," "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah," "Pilgrims Chorus" from "Tanhauser" and arias from "Trovatore," "Aida" and "Lucia."

Nearly all the numbers used in the contests are "classics" and folk songs as is natural in a plan devised to make children acquainted with the best in the world of music. Only one composition that might be called of the modern school, Grainger's "Molly on the Shore," got into the list of the 100 most popular numbers, but there were also a few pieces by Herbert, Elgar and Kreisler to represent the present generation of composers.

The music memory contest has already been held in over 1200 cities and towns, usually with all or most of the schools participating, and has been a most important factor in developing a love of good music in the generation now growing up. In some places it has been repeated four or five times annually, with a different list studied each year, so that those who have taken part every time have acquired an extensive knowledge of standard music.

NATIONAL PARK VISITORS GET CALLING HABIT

Number of Those Enjoying Great Government Reserves Steadily Increasing.

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 25.—The national park habit is growing on Americans.

Not alone are they, in greatly increasing numbers, visiting one national park this summer; they are making park-to-park tours in even greater throngs than in any past season. They come in here to Yellowstone, the windshields of their automobiles literally plastered with stickers indicating that they have been to anywhere from half a dozen to 15 of the national parks. Many of those who start here declare their intention of stopping at other parks.

Many of these tourists explain that in former years, they spent their vacations at some resort. They would go to the seashore or the mountains or the country, and stay there. Not an inconsiderable number used to regard summer as the time to visit Europe. But the national park idea is voted by all of those interviewed as far and away the best vacation idea they have ever hit upon.

It offers a wide variety of scenic splendors, but the real lure of it is the constant movement and change, the tourists say. It sometimes happens that a family will start out to visit but one of the parks, and while there will be told by other "sagebrushers" of another park. Then they decide to go on, and they usually keep going until necessity calls them from their wanderings.

One of these park-to-park tourists, who keeps a daily journal of "experiences, expenses and anecdotes" as he said, was a lawyer from Pittsburgh, Pa., who said he had collected material for several talks before clubs he belonged to.

"I am going to get some moving pictures of our parks," he said, "and show them this winter to the men in Pittsburgh whom I know. And I am going to read them things out of my little diary, and sell them this same idea. It's been the best summer we ever spent."

This "sagebrusher" had some interesting and amusing entries in his book. For instance:

"June 12. Some place in N. Dakota. Like many another city man, I have been disposed to regard some of this talk of the farmers' troubles as bunk. But since hitting these North Dakota roads, I am convinced that the farmers in this state at least, are as badly off, if not worse off, than we have been told. I never saw such a discouraged road in my life. Certainly the communities along it must be hard up to permit it to continue advertising them in its present state."

"June 23. Glacier National Park. Back to the old (name of a no delight). We greatly enjoyed our trip through this park, with its magnificent scenery. Its mountain lakes don't need to take a back seat for anything in the Canadian Rockies. We had five punctures today, a record thus far. Julian lost his temper the last time. I didn't blame him. Some sort of man-eating insect bit me on the left ear; it swelled up as though a bee had stung me. That young imp Josephine insisted on taking countless snapshots of me. I do look funny."

"June 20. Reached Yellowstone in a rainstorm. Heavy snow on all the peaks around Mammoth Hot Springs. Some sight—a blizzard in midsummer, and the temperature at

AMERICA'S GREATNESS LIES IN PRIVATE ENTERPRISE.

The United States was founded on an individual—the American citizen. The constitution, says Charles P. Clark of the American Educational association, was erected on a single simple principle. "That principle was nothing more than an acknowledgment of the right of every individual to liberty of person, liberty of property and liberty of contract. The foundation of all our greatness is the human individual, and his right to play, work, and worship as he will. All our marvelous economic progress, which is the wonder of the world, has been based on the individual, and not on government, as main-spring of activity. "Our nation's greatness grows from private enterprises."

Famous Illustrator Illustrates New Way of Cooking Asparagus

HELEN Dryden, famous illustrator, who has done a great deal to bring the art of fashion illustration in America to its present high point, takes interest in other arts than her own. She is illustrating here a new way to cook asparagus, for, says Miss Dryden, I cannot see why people are so unadventurous about cooking and continue to eat the same old dishes when there are really a hundred different ways of doing things, and all kinds of culinary thrills ahead of one in the process. Asparagus, for which Miss Dryden has furnished the recipe, is a very delightful way of cooking this always popular vegetable.

Grease thoroughly a charlotte russe mold, 1/4 size, and line it with cooked tips of asparagus, well drained. Cook together two tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons Crisco, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, add gradually 1 cup of cream and boil 5 minutes. Remove from fire, add 4 eggs thoroughly beaten. Turn mixture into mold, set in pan of hot water and cook in a moderate oven about 30 minutes or until center is firm. Turn loaf on hot dish, arrange about it little oblong pieces of bread that have been dipped in beaten eggs and milk and browned. Pour sauce around it and serve at once.

Cleanliness Is Standard Rule In Kellogg Factory

"Remember you are making food for others to eat."
"Uncleanliness, carelessness, and shiftlessness have no place in this industry."
"Cleanliness is the prime factor in food making. Clean people, clean habits, clean uniforms and caps, make Kellogg's foods the best."
These three slogans are among those painted in neat black letters on the white walls of the Kellogg factory in Battle Creek, Mich. They serve as a constant reminder to the workers to be particular. There is a corps of janitors to keep the factory immaculate and set a standard for the personal cleanliness of the workers. The factory is supplied with modernly equipped laundry and all uniforms are washed and ironed free of charge. The men's and women's dressing rooms are provided with shower baths. In every part of the factory everything possible has been thought of to keep things absolutely sanitary. Isn't it a pleasant thought—that such care is taken in order to give the best possible product to the home keepers who use Kellogg's corn flakes, Kellogg's bran, cooked and krumbed, and Kellogg's all wheat krumbles on their breakfast tables?

CANYON.—Construction of the new passenger station of the Santa Fe system in this city is to begin by January 1. The railroad will maintain a park around the new station and the city is arranging for a "white way" to extend from the station east to the city limits.

WIFE COMFORTS FAMOUS JOCKEY IN HOSPITAL.

Racked with pain as he waits for broken bones to knit in a hospital at Saratoga, N. Y., Earl Sande, premier jockey of the American turf, is comforted by daily visits from Mrs. Sande. The rider nearly lost his life when he mounted Spurr, fell with him and was the center of a general spill during a race at the Saratoga track. One of his legs was broken in two places, his collar bone broken, a rib smashed, and he was injured internally. His condition was serious for a time.

Another Record Falls Before the Chrysler Six Car

SPECIAL.
MOUNT WILSON.—A California peak not far from Los Angeles and known to Pacific coast motorists as a hard and dangerous pull for any motor car—recently surrendered before a strictly stock Chrysler Six touring car piloted by Ralph De Palma, world-famous racing driver, in the record time of 25 minutes, 48.85 seconds. The ascent was made over the Mount Wilson toll road, a narrow, winding trail with a rise of more than 4,600 feet in the mile and a half miles of roadway from toll gate to toll gate. The run was particularly remarkable in view of the fact that the car was not stripped, but carried all fenders and was minus only the top half of the windshield. Even the muffler was not removed, and no cut out was used. De Palma's only complaint at the finish of the run was over the fact that he had more power at his disposal than the rough condition of the road permitted him to use. With the exception of three short stretches where he dropped into low second gear, he used all the way up the mountain. At one point a speed of 44 miles an hour was attained. The toll-road management restricts cars to a seven mile hour pace in regular daily travel.

Run Is Checked.
The Chrysler's record run was checked by four Los Angeles newspaper men, and was timed and handled in exactly the same fashion as have the previous record runs in the past. De Palma was started from a toll-house at the foot by one of the newspaper men, while the other three at the hotel at the summit listened to the starting word over the telephone as the signal to click three synchronized stop watches. The time as shown by the three watches varied less than a second and the average of the three was taken as the time. De Palma made a before-sunrise climb, to avoid the blinding glare of the early sun. The Mount Wilson road, due to the dry winter, is in by no means as good condition as when former runs were made, in the opinion of Manager Cory of the Mt. Wilson hotel. Notwithstanding this handicap, De Palma reached the top without other mishap than a slight dent on one rear fender where he scraped the rock of the mountain side on one turn. The heat indicator on the Chrysler dash showed less than 200 degrees at the finish, and water in the radiator had not boiled, and the radiator was as full as when the car started.

New Stock Car Record.
De Palma's mark not only set a new stock car record for the mountain but likewise demolished the former non-stock record, held by a stripped car, specially prepared for the climb. The non-stock mark was 23 minutes and 56 seconds—more than a minute slower than the Chrysler's new record.

From the summit of Mt. Wilson, De Palma, accompanied by the newspaper observers, drove the Chrysler direct to the Culver City track, where he circled the mile track in 59 seconds, and showed a speed of 72 miles an hour in the straightaways, demonstrating conclusively that the gear ratio of the Chrysler was strictly standard.

Motor car authorities are of the opinion that the mark established by De Palma and the Chrysler will stand for a long time to come. The climb is regarded as one of the hardest offered by any mountain in the United States.
