The grand jury has returned other indictments against Dan Hamilton, robbery; Edwin Bush, burglary; Edwin Bush, theft; Charlie Mims, two cases, robbery with fire arms; Edith Donawald, forgery; August Nimpher, manufacturing and possessing intoxicating liquors; E. H. Thieron, burglary; B. H. Hutchison, robbery with fire arms, and Tom Slaughter, robbery with fire arms.

Plenty of real jungle atmosphere is shown in scenes from "The Revenge of Tarzan," which comes to the Lamb theater for two days beginning today. The tall, waving trees, the dense underbrush, the wild animals—nothing is missing. The cast, headed by Gene Pollar as "Tarzan" and Kara Schramm, is augmented by such well-known animal actors as the L. K. lions, including four cubs who make their screen debut, the famous gorilla, Joe Martin; the big elephant Charley, fifty white horses, two camels, several other apes and gorillas, and five old mules. Joe Martin is seen in many dramatic and humorous scenes with Tarzan, while Charley not only has big footage in the story, but played an important role in the producing of the feature, having acted as moving van for much of the scenery.

OPERA HOUSE.

James Oliver Curwood Draws Stirring Picture in "God's Country and the Woman."

James Oliver Curwood's "God's Country and the Woman" has been visualized by Vitagraph. It is Curwood at his best with his beloved North as the background for a series of situations and intriguing adventures that make this production stand out as one of the best of the year.

Phillip Weyman finds in the frozen wastes of the northern timber land the girl of his ideals. She is Josephine Adare, whose family is menaced by the crafty treachery of Arnold Lang, a surly, ugly villain with no redeeming trait. Phillip wins the confidence of the girl and fights with her to best the scheming Lang, all of which he does, but not until he has fought hard and long.

One enjoys the sort of battle Weyman fought. It was coolly conceived and courageously carried out against big odds. He wins the love of the girl, of course, which is his reward. The picture will be shown at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday, with William Duncan at the head of the splendid cast.

"Big Happiness" Gives Noted Star Opportunity for His Best Work on Screen.

"Big Happiness," Dustin Farnum's latest starring vehicle, will be presented at the Temple theater today for a run of two days. It is the latest production of the Dustin Farnum productions company and is released by Robertson-Cole as a super-special.

"Big Happiness," adapted from the novel by the French author "Pau," is a throbbing, pulsating drama of human passions in which Mr. Farnum, appearing in a difficult characterization, gives one of the most remarkable portrayals of his career.

The picture appeals to all of the emotions. There are moments when you will find yourself balancing on the end of your seat, tense with excitement; there are moments of pathos when your eyes will be damp; there are many laughs and situations that will make your wrath rise.

Travelers Take First Home Game From Panthers

Pate and Wachtel Pounded Hard; Yellowhorse Holds Fort Worth Safe.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 24.—The Little Rock Travelers, champions of the Southern association, took the third game of the series with the Fort Worth Texas league champions Thursday afternoon.

The score was 5 to 2. Pate, the Panther pitcher, was pounded from the box in the third and Wachtel finished the game. Moore, Yellowhorse, who was jerked in the first inning of his start at Fort Worth, pitched nice ball for the Travelers. Save in the first inning when the visitors got away to a short-lived lead, he had the situation well in hand. The Panthers' second score did not come until the Arkansans had amassed five runs. Only five Panthers were left stranded on bases.

Pate had a narrow escape in the first round, when Gleason hit off with a double and Wano singled to center. Miller only making third because the hit was a fly which it seemed that O'Brien might catch. Pate finished Pate's performance. Wachtel took up the twirling task and in pitching to Bottom the ball slipped from his hand and bounded along the ground without reaching the plate.

Umpire Pfenniger ruled it was a balk and Miller came home. With some luck when Mothan stopped on a hunt he laid down and stopped on while racing to first, the hypnotic-eyed twirler escaped further casualties in this round. In the fourth three hits put a run across. In the sixth two hits achieved the same result. That was all, but it was enough. The Travelers fourteen hits were well timed.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24.—The White Sox chances for again annexing the American league title brightened materially today when they took Tris Speaker's nine to a cleaning, 10 to 3. Little Dicky Kerr, after allowing Cleveland a run in the Three runs off Bagby in the sixth and a salvo of hits in the eighth which drove both Bagby and "Slim" Caldwell to the showers made it a nice game from the Sox standpoint.

SEVEN HUNDRED TOURISTS GIVE FIFTEEN FRANCS FOR NIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT

By Associated Press
GRAND SAINT BERNARD, Switzerland, Sept. 24.—Seven hundred visitors arrived at the Saint Bernard Monastery in one day recently, most of them in costly motor cars or hired taxicabs, and asked the charitable monks for refreshment. There were many Americans and Englishmen among them.

It has been the custom of the monks for many centuries never to demand any payment for hospitality, the departing guests depositing in a collection box at the entrance of the monastery, what ever amount they wish as a voluntary offering.

The monks received the 700 visitors, to whom they supplied a warm supper, including wine, while some of them electing to remain there for the night were provided with beds.

The guests having departed next morning, the treasurer-monk opened the collection box at the gate. He found fifteen francs in it.

DIVER LOSES LIFE.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 24.—Arthur E. Hewett, aged 21, a diver, lost his life while working in the Crownshield shipyard in South Sumner.

He was drowned in his diving suit while at a depth of twelve feet of water. Hewett had been working for about four minutes when the workmen got the signal to pull up. Life was practically extinct when the helmet was removed. Something went wrong with the helmet device, causing water to flow in.

Dalton, Ga.—Mrs. A. V. Burnett, of Route 6, says: "I got down with my back and sides, not able to do my work. I suffered a great deal. I had a depressed, blue feeling all the time.

"I couldn't rest at night. I was nervous. I would be dizzy and just no account at all.

"I would have to sit down while trying to do the housework. It seemed I couldn't get my breath. I was afraid I would get past going altogether.

"I heard of Cardui and began using it. I could see after a half bottle it was helping me, so I kept it up... and soon I was like a new person.

"I knew Cardui did the work, for no other medicine I took ever helped me as it did. I certainly can recommend Cardui."

This well-known medicine, which Mrs. Burnett says helped her, is a mild, medicinal, purely vegetable tonic, for over forty years used by thousands of women, with similar results to those which this Georgia lady obtained.

Cardui should help you, too. Try it.—Adv.

THE SIDEWALK FIRST.

It is announced by the Chamber of Commerce that all property owners on Lamar street, some through solicitation by representatives of the chamber's board of directors, will unite in building a sidewalk immediately to connect the Hamon-Kell depot with the main business district.

Whether the official activities of the business organization or the civic pride of some individual is responsible for this desirable improvement is somewhat immaterial. The main point is, that the sidewalk should be built at once, before the winter rains set in and the thoroughfare becomes impassable except to vehicles and the rubber boot brigade.

A refusal to build the walk before the street is paved does not appear defensible. The time the walk will be especially needed is before the pavement is laid. The time it is needed is when there is no other way of reaching the end of the street, dry shod. Oil field folk are used to making the best of anything approaching usefulness. If the street were paved there would be no grumbling about the absence of a sidewalk. If there is neither paving or walk, visitors have a just and legitimate grievance against Ranger.

Work preparatory to paving was begun yesterday. But regardless of whether the paving proceeds without interruption, the putting in of the sidewalk should be attended to at once. Let the work proceed.

Italy, from all accounts, is a medley of wealth and ostentation on the one hand and the direst poverty on the other. Lack of housing accommodations within their means force two and three families of workers to live in one room. Across the street there is a palace of some hundred rooms, empty three-fourths of the year save for some half a dozen caretakers. That such a division of housing accommodations breeds radicalism is not to be doubted. To liberal minds it condones, if it does not justify, the attempt of socialists to seize church property with the intent of turning it into dwellings for the homeless.

Here in America we believe in the capitalistic scheme of economics, with its freedom of individual initiative and opportunity. The people in general look with distrust upon any community ownership scheme. Perhaps one reason for this preference is that no sharp dividing line has ever separated the people into classes. Here the laborer of today is the capitalist of tomorrow, and to a lesser extent today's capitalist is tomorrow's laborer. All have the chance to promote their individual fortunes. Anyone who exercises diligence can acquire some land and other property. The dividing line between those who have and those who have not is nowhere sharply drawn.

In Italy and other European countries the situation is somewhat different. There the division is more sharply drawn, and economic conditions, if not caste lines, hold the individual in a preordained groove.

This condition breeds anarchy, in thought if not in deed. The same disregard for the property of others would exist in this country if conditions were similar. Capitalism must give every man a just and sufficient portion of the products of the world's energy if it would survive as a beneficent guardian of human welfare.

BAN THE WOLF.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will push the enactment by the next legislature of a "blue sky" law for Texas. This move has been agitated for some years. Its value would have been inestimable during the frenzied period of oil speculation from which Texas is just emerging. But the lessening of the fever for underground riches—something for nothing was its incentive—has not lessened the activities of the sharks who prey upon a hardworking but credulous public.

The latest collecting scheme, according to the chamber, is to take advantage of the local patriotism of western towns. These towns are well supplied with surplus money from this year's bumper crops. Idle money cries aloud for investment. It is especially noisy when an opportunity is seemingly presented to make profits and at the same time build up the home community. So the pirates of finance invade these fertile fields with specious promises of the merits of this or that local enterprise. They get the money—and disappear. Publicity has spoiled their plans in many instances, but in others not only individuals but whole towns have been gulled, it is said. Citizens are entitled to protection from schemers. No man with a legitimate proposition will object to strict investigation. Let's have a "blue sky" law. It will hit no one but the man who seeks to line his own nest at the expense of others—and without return to them.

If Lord Mayor MacSwiney's hunger strike lasts much longer the papers will refer to it as a "hunger strike."

Willie Tellit's pa says he is a good Democrat, but he can't approve the League of Nations. "The Anti-Saloon league makes me shy of anything using that handle," he explains.

MR. BOB CAT ARRIVES. Tinker Bob made himself known when Mr. Grasshopper Mouse had danced poor Jack the Wood Rat nearly to death in his new suit of pajamas. "What does all this mean?" asked Tinker, as he tried to keep a straight face so they would not know he had been laughing.

"Oh, have mercy on me, oh King," cried Jack as he fell to the floor, almost exhausted. "This fellow has made me dance till I'm nearly dead, and he has laughed at me all the time."

"Well, you look very nice in your new suit of oak-leaf pajamas," said the King. "I would think you'd like to dance a little bit."

"I'm the one that made him dance," said Mr. G. Mouse. "He has cuffed me and slapped me and run me about, till I could stand it no longer. So I borrowed a thorn quill from Chief Porky,

Then Mr. G. Mouse Started Toward His With His Thorn Quill Held Above His Head and Jack Began to Sing.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK By Lee Papp

Me and Mary Watkins was setting on her front steps and we started to have an argument her starting it by saying, Wich do you think is the best, Nazimover or Charlie Chaplin?

Charlie Chaplin, of course, I sed, Charlie Chaplin is away better than Nazimover.

Wy, Benny Potts, I think you're perfectly horrid saying that, I think Nazimover is mutch, mutch better than Charlie Chaplin, Nazimover is a grate actress, sed Mary Watkins.

So is Charlie Chaplin, look how funny he is, he's away funnier than Nazimover, I sed.

Of course he is, because Nazimover izent supposed to be funny, she's serious, she's mutch seriouser than Charlie Chaplin, sed Mary Watkins.

Certeny she is, Charlie Chaplin aint supposed to be serious, G whizz, holey smokes, Charlie Chaplin is away better than Nazimover, I sed.

O, is she? Very well, then, good by, sed Mary Watkins. And she quick got up and started to wawk in the house proud, me quick saying, No he aint, no he aint, I take it back. Nazimover is away better than Charlie Chaplin, she's as funny as everything, she's funnier than and now he walks when I speak. If I had it to do again, Oh King, I would have put a chestnut burr in his pajamas so he could not sit down. Now sing the King a little song about your new pajamas. Then I'll sing him a song about you."

"I can't sing," cried Jack. Then Mr. G. Mouse started toward him with his thorn quill held above his head, and Jack began to sing

"Once there was a little Mouse, He came into the palace house, He had his needle and his thread, He sat upon the King's clean bed, Pajamas for to make; When all was finished, all was thru, They fit me good and fit me true, And I, them gladly take."

Mr. Grasshopper Mouse was wonderfully surprised at such a song from Jack the Wood Rat. And felt that he would surely have to sing well or he would be the duce instead of Jack.

Here's the song that Mr. G. sang: "Oh, Mr. Jack with a hairy back, I bricked you on the nose; Oh, Mr. Jack, sharp as a tack, You danced right on my toes; So don't forget me, Mr. Jack, Because I'm oh, so small, For I can make you hunt your track, Or climb the palace wall."

Suddenly the palace door opened and in sprang Snoopy the Bob Cat. His mouth was open, and when he saw Mr. G. Mouse he made right for him. But just as suddenly Mr. G. Mouse raised his thorn quill spear and pierced poor Snoopy's tongue. Then he backed away and growled.

Tomorrow—Tinker Bob Has an Invitation.

everything, I'd rather see her than Charlie Chaplin any day.

I accept your apology, wy didnt you say so in the first place? sed Mary Watkins, setting down agen.

I didnt thing of it, I sed. And we started to tawk about other different things sitch as the advantages of having long legs wen you run and weathar a middle name is any use.

Proving its easy for a girl to win a argement weathar she's right or not.

CANADA STILL THE BIG GAME HUNTER'S PARADISE

ALBERT SMITH AND HIS WHITE DEER

Although thousands of moose, deer, bear and caribou have been killed in Canada during the past few years, big game is still plentiful throughout the Dominion. Many fine moose heads are secured every fall in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick by hunters from the United States, but guides, game wardens and Hudson's Bay Company trappers estimate that the natural increase exceeds the kill.

Last season Sam Smith and his son Albert led a party of sixty Indians hunters from Fort Wayne to the big game section of Maine along the Canadian Pacific. Each member of the party so promptly got his allotment of game allowed by law that the hunters returned home ten days earlier than they intended. Albert Smith had the rare fortune to shoot a white deer, a fine buck with well grown antlers.

New Brunswick and Quebec are noted for their size, and a wounded moose charging the hunter will give him all the thrills he wants. In the Canadian Rockies "Old Silver Tip," the solitary grizzly, charges down hill like an avalanche, but the expert hunter knows how to stop him before he gets too near. Two of the prized heads easily procured in the Canadian Rockies are those of the mountain sheep and mountain goat. Both are wary and wonderful climbers as well, but the hunter with good legs and good wind can get a shot at them before they escape.

THE FISHERS.

The fishers, sailing, look to me like men of dauntless daring; and they'll come homeward, o'er the sea, with loads of kippered herring. Before the dawn is fairly sprung I see their boats departing, and fishers old and fishers young on danger's round are starting. Oh, they are brave and buoyant wights, and they are stalwart laddies, and they come whooping home o' nights with loads of finnan haddies. Their vigils in the fog they keep, they know all Neptune's glories, they see the wonders of the deep, and should be full of stories. They anchor in the little bay before my sawed-off dwelling; I visit them at close of day, when cyrlaws quit their yelling. "Oh, hoary farmer of the sea," I say, to some old chappie, "hand out a salty yarn to me, and you will make me happy." "There's nothing doing on the deep," the fisher says a-sighing; "a delegate should handward keep—that's where the news is flying. I always knew that Fulton stiff would never be a winner; it only needed one good biff to paralyze that sinner. The prize ring now is run to cheese, and most of it is schweitzer; the British champs have some disease, the Frenchman's punk, you're right, sir. Oh, yes, we sail our dories out, through all the spray and smother; but there's no yarn in that, old scout—one day's just like another."

JOHN-A-DREAMS CXLVIII. DREAMS OF DECAY Today I will tell you of dreams which do not forecast the future, but which hold the mirror up to your sordid past. Their only purpose is a warning not to repeat the wrong or the error. You may ask why a dream should remind you of what you have done—wherein lies the prophecy? But bear in mind that all of us do many wrong and erroneous things at times without being fully aware of the fact that we did not act right and proper, and only a forceful reminder can bring us to the realization of our mistakes. Such dreams are called dreams of decay. Every time you have a vision of seeing something moldering, disintegrating, you may know that you have done a wrong. If you dream that you see decaying meat, you have done a moral wrong to yourself. Unless you mend your ways, you will be very unhappy and all the things you love now will be lost to you in the whirl of false, treacherous excitement. The sign of disintegrating vegetables proves that you have wronged some one with your tongue and that you do not seem able to realize the enormous damage you are doing to an innocent, well-meaning person's reputation. A decaying house is proof that your way of living will lead you into care and poverty and dependency. Even though you may not be clearly aware of the fact that you are extravagant, nevertheless such is the case. If you are living at home and your expenses are paid by your family, curb your demands; their means are not sufficient to gratify the many wishes you express. A decaying tree is a sign that your work, be it at home, in office or in factory, is being neglected, that you are merely going through the motions of doing your duty and that you are not giving satisfaction. If single girls see a decaying corpse, they need pay no attention to the bidden. But it means much to married women. It is a sign of home-wrecking, brought about by lack of understanding of the art of creating happiness and contentment. A married woman who has such a dream and does not change her ways in many things, will have no one but herself to blame if her husband turns his eyes towards other women or finds the solace she does not give him, in the company of his male friends, staying away from home and making the hearth desolate. In the next chapter I will tell you of Being on Your Honeymoon.

90th Division in Big Reunion at Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 24.—At least two of the division's old generals will be present for the second annual reunion in Oklahoma City, Sept. 25, 26, and 27.

General O'Neill who commanded the 173rd Brigade, will be present. He is now stationed at Harrisburg, Pa.

General "Fighting Patsy" as he was fondly known by his officers and men, comes from a family of soldiers and is himself every inch a soldier. He is a graduate of Notre Dame university where he was for three years captain of its famous football team and entered the military service as a lieutenant in the 14th infantry. He led the 173rd Brigade through the St. Mihiel and the Muese-Argonne fighting and distinguished himself by taking the town of Bantheville in the Argonne which was one of the hottest contests of the whole offensive and where the Fifth Division had been repulsed several times.

General Martin Comins. Word has also just been received that General Martin, who commanded the 90th Division after the armistice, will be present. He is now in San Francisco on an inspection trip but will leave in time to be on hand at the reunion. Last year he made a trip all the way from Portland, Ore., to be present at the first reunion of the old 90th, which was held at Dallas. General Martin will be remembered particularly by Texas and Oklahoma men who trained at the officers training camp at Leon Springs, where the general was senior instructor. The spirit which he inculcated in the young officers during their training became the spirit of the division and it was very appropriate that he should be assigned to command that division in Germany.

General Henry T. Allen who trained and led the division from its inception until after the armistice, is still in command of the army in Germany and will not be able to attend the reunion.

Nothing is left undone by the people of Oklahoma City to make the gathering one of the biggest in the history of the state. Special rates have been granted by all railroads from all points in Oklahoma and Texas to all 90th Division veterans, according to Arthur J. Rembert, secretary of the 90th Division association, Dallas, Texas.

RANGER BOY IN MARINES WINS MARKSMAN'S BADGE

Roy J. Glover, Ranger boy, who is a member of the marines has been awarded a marksman badge for rifle shooting. The badge is much coveted by marines, and requires unusual skill with the rifle to win it.

At present, Glover is stationed at Hampton Roads, Va., scene of the historic battle between the Monitor and Merrimack during the civil war.

Young Glover is the son of Mrs. Roda Bothwell.

UNIVERSITY CAFETERIA HOLDS DOWN H. C. L. IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Sept. 24.—It is stated by I. P. Lochridge, business manager of the University of Texas, that preparations have been made for taking care of an unusually large number of students at the cafeteria of that institution this term. The exceedingly low cost of meals at the cafeteria makes it a popular boarding place with many students. It has been found also that the very fact that this eating place is open to students has a stabilizing effect upon the price of board in private boarding houses in the university neighborhood.

YALE IS JOYFUL AT TAD'S RETURN

Tad Jones snapped during practice a few days ago.

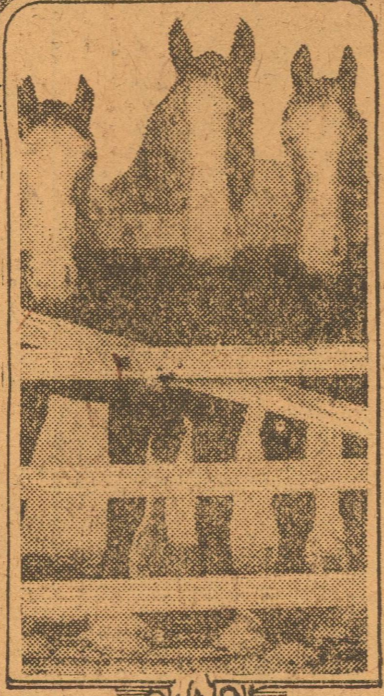

The return of Tad Jones as head coach of the Yale football squad has aroused Yale students and old grads to a high pitch of enthusiasm. They look to him to wipe out the stain of last year's record. It was Jones who coached the great eleven of 1916.

DECLARES "VARIETY OF PRODUCTS" MEANS PROSPERITY FOR FARMER

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK.—C. M. Hamilton, the new minister of agriculture of Saskatchewan, struck the keynote of western Canadian agricultural development, when he said recently: "I am convinced that the prosperity of the farmer depends on a variety of products on the farm."

Under the stimulus of this idea, western Canada gradually is merging from a past of bonanza wheat into a present, of diversified farming. Dairying has shown remarkable growth. This is due not only to governmental educational campaigns but to the establishment of creameries in scores of towns by co-operative farmers' societies with government financial aid. These creameries furnish ready markets for the farmers of every district. While this increased interest is apparent all over western Canada, yet it is developing with the greatest rapidity in that portion of the prairie provinces which is being most rapidly settled. That is the area contiguous to the transcontinental line of the Canadian National Railways. It is a well-watered, slightly rolling region where there is a cluster of trees giving it the appearance of a great national park which is naturally adapted to diversified farming. There is scarcely a farmer in this stretch of territory who does not keep at least a few cows and market milk and butter.

Texas Women Gain National Reputation as Sheep Raisers;

FORT WORTH, Sept. 24.—"Sheep queens" of the Texas range have been asked to lecture to widows of fallen Canadian soldiers, and explain their "great adventure" to other women ambitious enough and keen enough to duplicate it on the Dominion prairies.

Two of the Texas women, Mrs. Jeanette Hartwell, and her sister, Miss Donna Gardner, may accept the invitation. The sisters are daughters of a retired Chicago manufacturer, and own and manage ten sections of land in Farmer county, Texas, upon which 5,000 sheep now graze and from which 30,000 sheep were sold during the past summer.

The signal success of these two "sheep queens" was heralded during the meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' association in San Angelo recently, and was responsible for the invitation to visit Canada on a lecture trip. The invitation came from the head of the Federated Women's Clubs of the Dominion, who wrote personal letters to Mrs. Hartwell and Miss Gardner.

Many Woudad Adventure. The two young women also have been deluged with letters from working girls in all parts of the United States who are desirous of learning the ranching business. Marriageable men already in the sheep business in the southwest also sent in their quota of letters.

CANADA GIVES AID TO WORLD WAR VETERANS

CALGARY, Alta, Sept. 24.—Two thousand returned soldier-farmers occupying 480,000 acres of choice Alberta land, have been blessed by the local branch of the soldier settlement board since February, 1919. The sum of $11,280,000 has been loaned to the settlers for the purchase of the land, stock and equipment.

while attracted the young women from their home in Chicago, they said during a visit to Fort Worth. They came to the Texas plains and at first went in for farming and Jersey cattle raising. They met with several disastrous experiences from a financial standpoint.

The women themselves are said to be expert sheep handlers and very successful in directing their Mexican herders. They maintain ranch headquarters at Bovina, Texas.

John Wanamaker Says:

"It seems to me that retail advertising is a very simple matter in these times, when the newspaper goes into every home in the land. I believe that the retail merchant who fails to advertise, fails in his duty to his customers. The public has a right to know what a merchant is doing; it has a right to know what sort of goods he has in his establishment, and what kind of service he renders, and what the conditions of his service are. It has a right to know when he receives new goods, and has a right to know what the new goods are like.

"No merchant nowadays ought to expect the public to give him its patronage unless he comes out frankly and tells the public what reasons he has to expect its patronage. And he ought to do this in the daily newspapers—or the weekly newspaper if there is no daily in his town. That's the way for him to stand fair and square with the people whom he expects to come in and buy his goods.

"Let his advertisement be the truthful news of what he is doing, and let him print it in the newspaper, where news belongs, and then he will be playing fair with the public and deserving of its confidence."

PARDON BOARD WOULD PAROLE MEN OF MERIT

Men With Good Prison Records Would Be Released Under Supervision.

AUSTIN, Sept. 24.—Proposed revision of the Texas convict parole system and the creation of a parole officer at a salary of $3,000 a year, is contained in a bill prepared by Fritz H. Smith, chairman of the board of pardon advisers, for submission during the fourth called session of the legislature which began last Tuesday.

The bill proposes that convicts who merit parole by faithful observance of prison rules, after serving specified portions of their sentences, be turned over to the parole officer. The parole officer then will be obligated to find employment for such convicts, apart from the regular penitentiary work, and obtain for them the best possible salaries without divulging to any person except the employer that the paroled man is a convict. All of the wages for the paroled man's work except a portion sufficient to support him, would be deposited in a bank to be selected by the governor, and when the convict, who had served his term, the accumulated fund and accrued interest would be turned over to him.

Under the provisions of the proposed law, all convicts not previously convicted of a felony in any state, would be required to serve slightly more than half of a two-year sentence before being eligible to parole, a fraction more than two and a half years of a three to five years' sentence, three and a half years of a ten-years' sentence, five years of a twelve to fifteen years' sentence and seven years of a twenty to twenty-five years' sentence. Convicts sentenced to more than twenty-five years could be paroled after serving ten years, on recommendation of the parole officer.

DOCTORS USE CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary Colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other serious complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose Calotabs, the perfected, nausealess calomel tablets are the surest, best and most agreeable laxative.
One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all, no salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.
For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.—Adv.

RUSSIAN COUNTESS WEDS WEALTHIEST N. Y. BACHELOR

The Countess Ganna Walska.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Alexander Smith Cochran, wealthy manufacturer of New York and Paris, and Ganna Walska, a Polish prima donna who is widely known in this country, have been married secretly in the French capital, according to a dispatch printed in a New York newspaper.
Mr. Cochran, who is 45 years old, is widely known as a yachtsman, horseman and polo player. Although he has homes in New York city and Mount Kisco, he spends most of his time abroad. In 1903 he inherited the Smith Carpet Mills at Yonkers, the largest plant of its kind in the world. He built the Vanitie in 1914 to defend the America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV.

The bride was formerly a Petrograd favorite and last season appeared in New York and Chicago. Her first husband, Baron Arcadie d'Eingorn, a captain in the Russian army, was killed early in the war.

She was at one time reported engaged to Lowell M. Powell, Jr., of Brooklyn, but later she broke off the engagement, asserting that a husband was a hindrance to art. Her husband, she said, must be her slave, and since American men and Powell, in particular, had wills of their own, she would not marry one.

MAJESTIC CHORUS IS AIRIN' CAUSE OF ERIN SOME MORE

The chorus of Fritz Fields' Follies at the Majestic must be subsidized as propagandists by the de facto government of the Republic of Ireland and Kerry Patch. They might even be called gandy dancers.

During the early part of the week in "The Oil Scout" they sang a broth of a song called "Let's Help the Irish Now." In the current bill, "The Bathing Girl," they flung vivid green shamrocks in the face of the British Bull in a way that carries on the good work so effectively that the Micks may soon quit paying rent in Riddle street, lower New York, and return to the wild sod in time to slip MacSwiney a sandwich. Unless they slack up in their efforts for the freedom of Erin this country is likely to experience a shortage of plain-clothes men, steel puddlers, hot carriers, college professors, ward-healers, baritones and beautiful women.

Why don't they help out the Zionist cause in Palestine? They might be needed there. The Harps can take care of themselves, Egorov and b'dam. As a song title, "I'm Building a Palace for a Pal in Palestine" is suggested. Or "Watta Yuh Goin' I' Do When Izzy Izzen't Ere?"
The rest of the show is equally good. Raymond Teal is a burnt-cork corker.

NEW WELL NEAR JIMKURN GIVES MUCH PROMISE

JIMKURN, Texas, Sept. 24.—By the bringing in this week of a 3,000-barrel well at a depth of 3,200 feet, on the property of the Roxana Petroleum company, four miles north and one mile east of here, any doubts as to this town being the logical distributing point for a vast oil territory, have been dispelled. While the new town will not be formally opened until Oct. 4, hotel and moving picture men are clamoring unsuccesfully for permission to build ahead of the opening and oil well supply houses have announced their intention of putting branches in anticipation of a great oil town growing up almost over night. Jimkurn is advantageously located nine north of Breckenridge midway between the extensions of the Breckenridge and South Bend oil fields, at the terminus of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth railroad, rapidly being connected up with Breckenridge and promises to at once become one of the most promising and best business towns in the North Texas oil fields. Not only is the new town already surrounded by pushers, but active drilling is now in progress adjoining the town-site and new camps are being put in by the Gulf Pipe Line company, and Prairie Oil & Gas company, adjacent to the town, which is being opened by Col. Jake L. Hamon, well known oil operator and president of the W. F., R. & F. W. railroad.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM CHINESE BANDITS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—F. Verelhoff and his nineteen-year-old daughter, Marion, of New York, are glad that they missed a certain Chinese rivet steamer which they tried to get passage on to explore the Amur river.

The two, who arrived here recently from a tour of the world, tried at Harbin, China to get the boat. They missed it. A passenger on the vessel, Captain Walter P. James, returned from the trip and told of the steamer being captured by Chinese bandits, who killed two of the crew, seized all the food on the ship and robbed the passengers of $100,000. Mr. Verelhoff and his daughter decided not to explore the Amur.

CABRERA WAS ANOTHER DIAZ IN GUATEMALA

His Successor Friendly to American Interests, Says Consul.

By Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22.—The recent presidential election in Guatemala will have a beneficial effect upon commercial interests in the United States, says Dr. Edwin R. Heath, of Kansas City, Kan., consul stationed here for Guatemala and Bolivia and consul general for Honduras and Nicaragua.
"American investors in Guatemala are fortunate in the recent election to the presidency of Guatemala of Carlos Herrera by an overwhelming majority after the enforced withdrawal of Don Manuel Cabrera," Dr. Heath said. "Cabrera was another Diaz. While he had done much for his country, he had been an autocrat for many years, and would not allow another candidate for president to be presented. The new president is much more in sympathy with Americans and American ideals."
"There is a great need of a better understanding between the United States and the republics of Central and South America. The most crying need is for improved mail service. United States mail is very uncertain in South America. Steamship companies have fulfilled their contracts when the mail has been unloaded on the wharf and distribution is left largely to chance. Improved consular service and better shipping facilities from the United States to South America are greatly needed."
Should Speak Spanish.
"American commercial interests need salesmen educated in the language and diplomacy required to carry on trade with South American people. South Americans prefer our manufactures, but their difficulty is to get satisfactory service. Great railway projects are under way in Bolivia which will open up the headwaters of the Amazon, Paraguay and other parts of central South America. These will be financed partly by citizens of the United States, but their progress is temporarily checked by internal disorders in Bolivia."

Dr. Heath is a fellow of the Royal Geographical society of London and a noted South American explorer. In his explorations he discovered the Rio Madre de Dios and opened up valuable rubber forests in Bolivia and Brazil. A river which forms part of the boundary between Bolivia and Peru is named for Dr. Heath.

Hunting Bargains in Ranger

Bargains discovered in trips through Ranger shops and department stores are here presented briefly for the benefit of Times readers. If any of the articles described meets your needs, you may learn the shop where it may be purchased by calling the Times, telephone 224, and giving the shopping editor the number of the paragraph which tells of your particular bargain.

You will all agree on the attractiveness of a simple white crepe de chine blouse with puffed neck, sleeves and scalloped tail. Chinese blue silk thread in the in-and-out stitch follows the picoting, the same color combined with yellow is used in the flower designs worked in front and back. In the bottom of two of the front scallops are little pockets also embroidered to match. A narrow girde snaps in the back under a very small bow.

For a very handsome blouse beige and dark brown georgette were chosen—a combination that knows no rival. Plain beige georgette is used for the foundation, the over-blouse effect being of dark brown and heavily embroidered in soft color silk and gold thread. The girde is a beautiful cord of brown silk and gold with ornaments to match hanging from each end.

A good looking moderately priced coat is of Bolivia cloth in a pretty shade of blue, lined throughout with pussy willow taffeta. The loose back belted front and Bishop sleeves are especially good features as well as the big cape collar.

When she was taken with a paralytic stroke it was discovered for the first time that Prora Hanson, of London, Eng., had been for the past thirty years masquerading as a man and during all those years had worked as a canvasser for a photographer.

British 'Peacefully Penetrating' More Mussulman Territory

By Associated Press
JERUSALEM, Sept. 24.—British administration has been extended to a considerable part of trans-Jordan territory, of which Es Salt, a town of about 12,000 inhabitants, situated some twenty miles east of the Dead sea, is the chief center.

Sir Herbert Samuel, British high commissioner for Palestine, has just returned from a journey to the new territory, where 600 representative Beduin sheiks and notables received with enthusiasm the high commissioner's assurance that Great Britain did not propose to bring their country within the present system of administration of Palestine, but would establish a separate administration that would assist the people to govern themselves.

Arabs Are Cordial.
Sir Herbert motored through Jericho to Allenby bridge on the Jordan, where he was met by Majid Pasha, ex-general of the Shereefian army, and by the son of Sheik Sultan, the most influential chieftain of the territory. The Turkish military road through the Shaib valley proved almost impassable even for cavalry, and riding along the precipices was extremely dangerous at times, owing to landslides, but the party, headed by 200 Beduin horsemen, reached Es Salt without mishap.

The Arabs extended a cordial welcome to the British high commissioner, whom they entertained lavishly in oriental style. In an address, Sir Herbert explained to the chiefs that since the French had fully established their influence in Damascus, it would be necessary to separate the Arabs' district from the Damascus administration. Great Britain, he said, would help them to organize defense against attack from outside. Sir Herbert developed a program of road improvement, the building of schools and the provision of medical aid.

There would be, he promised, complete freedom of trade with Palestine, and the people across the Jordan would be supplied with petroleum, rice, sugar and other commodities on the same footing as the peoples of Palestine. Moreover, facilities would be given them for the marketing of the produce they might wish to sell. A bank would be established to assist commerce, and postal communications would be opened.

Announcement was made by the high commissioner that as many as possible of the future administrators of the new territory would be drawn from the people of that district under the direction of a small number of British officers. He also gave assurance that it was not contemplated to establish any system of compulsory military service, nor to introduce disarmament.

An amnesty was readily granted, at a prominent chief's request, to two fugitive Arabs who had been charged with instigating the Easter riots in Jerusalem. Many Sheiks affixed their seals to the official document expressing a desire for British rule.

FLOGGING FOR PROFITEERS.
BUDAPEST, Sept. 23.—Flogging as a punishment for convicted profiteers has proved so satisfactory to the public that the ministry of justice is considering its infliction for other offenses.

now in the Austrian Legion of the Hungarian army. A later raid on the Hartberg arsenal seems to have been done by neighboring peasants. They are said to have been inspired by the threats of the workmen to raid the farms for food.

Centenarian Brothers.
BELFAST, Sept. 23.—A unique record of centenarian brothers has just been broken by the death of John Mullin, aged 108, who lived with his brother, Henry, aged 103, at Donnydale, near Dungannon.

CLOTHES WILL DROP.
By Associated Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Men's clothes are slated for a drop of 33 1-3 per cent in price, according to Fred Voiland, national director of publicity for the Retail Clothiers Association of America. "There is bound to be a decided reduction in prices by spring if the American public continues to refuse to buy higher priced wools. Suits now costing $85 may be had then for $40. Those costing $120 today can be bought for $75," Voiland said.

SEEK KIDNAPPERS OF NOBLE WOMAN

TOPEKA, Sept. 24.—Gov. Henry J. Allen ordered today an investigation into the identity of a woman whose name is said to be Mme. Rubys Demay, believed to be of French noble birth, now in the hospital for the insane at Osawatomie.

Mme. Demay, according to charges filed by Arthur E. Stevens, a lawyer of Kansas City, apparently is the victim of a robbery, murder and imprisonment plot which, if proof is established, will form one of the most sensational disclosures of its kind in years.

Stevens is said to be assisting a Mrs. Lillian Alcott, alleged daughter of the French noblewoman. The mother is said to have been kidnapped by conspirators thirty years ago and robbed, being placed in an asylum to cover up the crime.

According to the story, Mme. Demay and her daughter left France thirty years ago and went to Deming, N. M., where they met M. Alexander and his wife. The Alexanders took them to Winfield, Kan., where Mme. Demay was represented to be insane.

Wild Border Resorts, Modeled on Dance Halls of Old West, Pushed Into Discard by New Regime in Mexico

By Associated Press
MEXICALI, Lower California, Sept. 24.—One by one the resorts whose names have loomed large in the traditions of the West are meeting an end. Latest to go is the "Owl" at Mexicali, which its operators and officials of the Cantu regime in Lower California freely admitted and paid large sums for permission to operate.

In the Owl were to be found all the attractions that went to make up the typical dance hall of frontier days. The building itself was new, the old Owl having been destroyed by fire last February, but the traditions of the place were much the same and those familiar with the older establishment were at home in the new.

Hummed With Activity.
The old Owl was a huge barn-like structure. Gaming tables and some pool and billiard tables, surrounded by high seats for spectators, occupied its front space. Along one side ranged a lengthy bar where in busy times ten or a dozen bartenders were no unusual sight, further back was a stage with flimsy scenery, curtained "boxes" strongly reminiscent of a half century ago, and a number of plain seats and benches for those not included in the expensive semi-privacy of the boxes.

From near the theatre section a passage led to a space surrounded by several hundred small rooms, known colloquially as "The Yard," where outcast women lived.

Much of the costly gambling paraphernalia used in this old establishment was saved when the building burned, and later was used in the new Owl.

Immediate Action.
Sept. 4, when orders came from Mexico City, where the new government had frowned on gambling and other conditions along the Mexican border, to close the place, a dramatic scene was enacted. Manager Coburn read the order, looked for a moment over the crowd of hundreds representative of nearly every nationality, and then summoned the house police. He gave them hasty instructions and they, starting at the rear of the main room and shouting the word as they went cleared the place within a minute or two, of all except the dealers, lookouts and other employees. Many Chinese, not understanding the order, stampeded to the street.

The dealers quickly gathered up the piles of silver coins and the gambling paraphernalia. The arch of lights over the entrance that spelled the name of the place flickered out. The Owl was closed.

According to order from Provisional President de la Huerta, it is never to be reopened.

GUN RUNNING PROFITABLE IN AUSTRIA

Hungary, Poland and Serbs
Arms Hungry and Prices
Are Tempting.

By Associated Press
VIENNA, Sept. 24.—Gun running and arms smuggling has become a bigger trade in Austria than it was on the Mexican frontier in Villa's earliest days. The country is full of military material while Hungary, Poland and Jugo-Slavia are munitions hungry and the result is to make a market so tempting that the risks are disregarded. If the Socialist organs are to be credited, however, at least some of the trade is done under the auspices of certain Eulentate governments as well as the conservative element of the Austrian government.

Traffic Is Organized.
Within the last few days the police have made known that they had discovered an organization for running military material into Hungary and made two arrests. One of them was an employee of the Wollersdorf munitions factory, a government plant. Workmen's councilors have a good organization and are constantly on the watch for railway shipments of arms and cartridges, but in one government office it was admitted that for every carload detected and stopped, nine got away over the frontiers.

Frederick Aller, the Socialist leader, has declared that great quantities of arms were being smuggled from the country and that it was the duty of the workmen to find a way to stop it.

No Sales of Government Arms.
The Allied Control commission has issued an order prohibiting the further sale of government-owned arms or munitions or that in possession of private concerns organized to trade in demobilized material. Many of these concerns were made up of the members of the official demobilization commissions who sold to themselves.

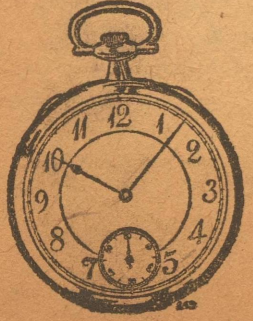

There seems little doubt now that a recent raid on the Furstenfeld arsenal was the work of former Austrian officers

To the Man who is Interested in Truck Tire Economy

CAREFUL truck owners are figuring their costs pretty closely these days—tire costs along with the others.

It is no longer "clap on a new tire and hang the expense." At least, not with the owners we come in contact with.

Service, wear, traction, cushioning qualities, construction are coming to mean more than they used to, not only to owners but to drivers of motor trucks.

And the more they mean, the more we find truck owners and operators turning to the new United States Grainless Rubber Solid Truck Tire.

The tire that overcomes splitting and base-separation—that goes on its way day after day, month after month, wearing down smoothly and uniformly without undue attention and without expense.

Handling United States Solid Truck Tires in this city is in keeping with the progressive policy of our concern.

Something new—something a little in advance of the times—is always coming out of the United States Rubber Company.

Before ordering a new truck, consult us about the kind of tires to specify.

Aged Woman Robbed of Lifetime Savings by Ungrateful Stranger

DENVER, Sept. 24.—Mrs. Cornelia Rima, 60 years old, crippled and infirm, is homeless. She is penniless and after poverty confronts her.

Her faith in human nature is tottering. For Mrs. Rima played the Good Samaritan role last Monday, and was robbed of $1,450 worth of diamonds and $200 in cash, representing years of hard work and saving, for her trouble.

Wringing her hands on the verge of nervous prostration, the gentle old woman repeated the story of how she was victimized by a woman who made a pitiful plea. The diamonds were to have represented a first payment on her residence at 769 Galapago street. But, now they are gone, the aged woman faces eviction from the house. As a result of the theft, she is destitute.

A woman, poorly dressed, who pleaded she had not had a square meal for two days, was befriended by Mrs. Rima. The aged Samaritan invited the unfortunate one to partake of the frugal noonday meal. It was while Mrs. Rima was preparing this meal that the woman visitor secreted the diamonds and money in the folds of her dress, and, after bidding Mrs. Rima goodby, departed.

"She seemed so unfortunate and I trusted her," moaned Mrs. Rima, in telling the story.

"She was selling chances for a beautiful piece of crochet work when she knocked at my door last Monday afternoon. She grasped the door casing as though very weak. Naturally, I invited the poor woman to come in."

Yesterday afternoon police detectives took Mrs. Rima to a house in Denver, where Mrs. Rima says she positively identified a woman, who, she says, visited her.

"But the woman was a brazen hussy. She taunted me to identify her as the thief. It was the same woman. I am a close observer, and I know it was her. But for some reason the police did not arrest her. The police told me this morning they had no clew to my diamonds or the person who took them."

"The woman who visited me had been canvassing the entire neighborhood. I do not know whether she committed any other thefts."

"I had invited her to have lunch with me, corned beef and cabbage. I had just taken out my purse and given her a small amount of money, all I could afford. I laid the purse containing the diamonds and money on a sofa and went to prepare the meal. The purse was there when I returned and I placed it in a small desk. I discovered the theft four hours later."

'ANTIS' TO VOTE, LEADERS DECLARE

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 24.—How times do change!

Women who didn't want to vote have decided to cast their votes the same as the suffragists who fought for the suffrage amendment.

"What we must do now is educate the woman voters to the highest standard of efficiency as factors of good citizenship and good government," said Mrs. Joseph McCloskey, of the League of Women Voters, here.

"Although I resent having suffrage thrust upon me and upon other women at this time, still, if it cannot be deferred, I shall accept the situation and feel it my duty to vote," declared Mrs. Jerome Surin, active in anti-suffragist organization.

"If I become a voter it is under protest," said Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Sr., honorary president of the Hamilton County Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. "I trust that the political party in which I have faith may win."

AUSTRIAN CAPITAL TO HAVE MUNICIPALLY OWNED MOVIES

VIENNA, Sept. 24.—Municipally owned movies are contemplated in negotiations now proceeding between the city authorities and a German producing concern. The company proposes to establish cinemas all over Vienna without paying licenses. When a certain portion of the investment is recovered the city would become part owner and finally be permitted to buy out the entire concern.

ANOTHER YOUNGEST VET; HE WAS ONLY THIRTEEN

International News Service
SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 24.—The youngest veteran of the world war has been found in Springfield. He is Harold J. Brunette. He enlisted in the Canadian army at the age of thirteen years and served until the end of the year.

Brunette ran away from home in October, 1917. He worked his way to Montreal.

Nov. 7, 1917, Brunette was accepted and assigned to the First Depot Battalion of the First Quebec Infantry. After three months' training his outfit went to England and then to France.

Brunette was in the battles of Cambrai, Boulogne Woods and the big fight that smashed the Hindenburg Line. Then his outfit went to Belgium, where they remained until he was sent into Germany with the army of occupation. Early in 1919 the battalion was returned to Canada and demobilized.

Brunette returned a seasoned veteran, but only a little over fifteen years of age. Birth certificates and army papers prove his story.

For the age of thirteen, when she takes the schachaf, the Turkish girl is forbidden all places of amusement or of public resort; must be indoors by sundown; can only converse with three men—her husband, father and brother and spends most of her time in gossip with others of her sex or in intensive secluded besurification; later in household duties and in the care of the children.

PRIZE BULLDOG USED TO GUARD STILL PROVES "N. G."

International News Service
PUEBLO, Colo., Sept. 24.—Because his bulldog had the reputation of being a first class "guard" for liquor stills, Max Green is under arrest here charged with violating the prohibition law.

Green formerly lived in Denver, where he and the bulldog were well known to the police and enforcement officers.

"Wherever Green's dog is there's a still," was the word passed around in official circles in Denver.

Special Agent John R. Smith, of the Denver enforcement squad, was on business here. Passing a house in the residential section, he noticed the famous bulldog in the yard. Without hesitation he secured a search warrant for the premises and was rewarded by the discovery of a still of the latest design, numerous testing instruments, 100 pounds of sugar, 500 gallons of mash and fifteen gallons of high proof whiskey.

Green's dog was not arrested.

Facts About U. S. As Compiled by Topographers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The farthest east, west, north and south points on the United States mainland have been determined by the United States geological survey which announces that the easternmost point is West Quoddy Head, near Eastport, Me., the westernmost point Cape Alva, Wash., the northernmost, a small detached land area of northern Minnesota ending in latitude 49 degrees, 23 minutes and longitude 95 degrees, 9 minutes, the southernmost point, Cape Sable, Florida, while the Florida keys extend farther south.

Data determined and compiled by the geological survey contains some interesting facts not generally known. Some of these are:

The gross area of the United States is 3,026,789 square miles.

The land area is 2,973,774 square miles.

The water area, exclusive of the Great Lakes, the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Gulf of Mexico, within the three-mile limit, is 53,015 square miles.

From the easternmost point, West Quoddy Head, due west to the Pacific Ocean, the distance is 2,807 miles.

The shortest distance from Atlantic to Pacific, between points near Charleston, S. C., and San Diego, Cal., is 2,152 miles.

The Canadian boundary is 3,898 miles long.

The Mexican boundary is 1,744 miles long.

The Atlantic coast line is 5,500 miles long.

The Pacific Coast line is 2,730 miles long.

The Gulf of Mexico coast line is 3,040 miles long.

Cuba, if transported directly north, would extend from New York City to Indiana, with Havana farther west than Cleveland.

The Panama Canal is due south of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Nome, Alaska, is farther west than Hawaii.

Magnitude of Pennsylvania's Industrial Picnics Surpass Beliefs

By Associated Press
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—More than 500,000 persons have this year attended the picnics given by industrial concerns in Pittsburgh to their employes according to the estimates of amusement park managers, and a number of the most important are yet to be held.

Arrangements for these great gatherings of workmen and their families are on a colossal scale and carried out by an efficient organization of trained engineers and office men. It occasionally happens, as in the case of the Clairton plant of the Carnegie Steel company, that no picnic ground are available. So the engineers selected a nice bit of virgin forest not far from town, built good roads in and through it, erected merry-go-rounds and other additional amusement devices, built refreshment booths and a dancing pavilion and when the thousands of steel workers and their families reached the place for a day's enjoyment, they found it as complete as if it had been standing for years.

The quantity of provisions required to the entertainment for a big plant and its workers astound those who know little of such enterprises.

Seven Tons of Sandwiches
At one industrial picnic held here recently three tons of beef and four tons of boiled ham were required for the sandwiches. Five thousand loaves of bread were used, three men working fifty hours to cut it to size.

For the 45,000 persons who attended this picnic there were issued 65,000 free tickets for park amusement; 15,000 American flags and 40,000 toy balloons for children were distributed and 45,000 souvenir buttons were given to the workers and their families, while 50,000 knives, forks, spoons and plates were sent to the grounds for the picnic supper.

80,000 Pickles.
To provide this feast the company gave 80,000 pickles, 24,000 rolls, 8,000 pounds of baked beans, 1,800 pounds of coffee, 50,000 pounds of frankfurters and 1,500 gallons of ice cream. The food was cooked in an oven erected on the ground by the company's workmen.

While this was one of the largest picnics of the year, a number of others have equalled it and many more have come within striking distance.

Mill managers and corporation executives look upon the industrial picnic as one of their best weapons against unrest and gladly give to their employes the day for enjoyment, while bearing all the expenses, in many instances even to transportation to and from the parks.

PUNCH AND JUDY SHOW TEACHES HYGIENE TO FRENCH CHILDREN

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A method of teaching simple fundamentals of hygiene to children in France is described by the Rockefeller foundation.

Through attending an amusing Punch and Judy show, called a "Guignol" in France, 67,000 young citizens of the republic took their first lessons in the science during 1919.

The American anti-tuberculosis commission built a little Punch and Judy, copied from those in the Champs-Elysees, writes George E. Vincent, president of the foundation. Henri de Gressigny has written a piece for the wooded actors and himself works the puppets and makes the conversation for the heroes of his little drama. The piece has been played in thirty departments. Thousands and thousands of children have heard it.

"Do you know what a microbe is?" he asks.

"Yes," replies the little girl. "It is a big animal."

Then the boy explains how microbes spread and how to avoid them. A soldier appears who tells them how to keep the house clean and how to air it. While he is speaking a drunken man reels in, shocking the children. The soldier scolds the drunkard. "You mustn't drink alcohol," he admonishes. "The drunkard falls down."

"Set what becomes of a man who drinks," cries the little girl with scorn. "We must not imitate him. We must take care of ourselves for we are necessary to France."

IS RUSHING CAN UNDER HEAD OF DAILY EMPLOYMENT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Here's a nut the Ohio supreme court had been asked to crack:

A workman leaving his work, goes to a nearby saloon to get a bucket of beer. Returning, he is killed by lightning.

Question: Did the accident occur in the course of his employment?

If it did, the widow, Mrs. Emma Eleonora Hartman of Dayton, Ohio, is entitled to compensation in the form of a financial award from the state insurance fund, maintained under provisions of the Ohio workmen's compensation act.

The state industrial commission, which supervises operations of the act, however, has answered the question in the negative. Mrs. Hartman has appealed to the state supreme court from the commission's ruling. Hartman's death occurred in Dayton in 1917.

An American soldier of fortune, Chas. Sweeny, who got into the world war as a private in the Foreign Legion, later commissioned a major in the United States army, was made brigadier general of the Polish army. He served three years at West Point, and saw service in Mexico, South and Central Americas.

Allies Believe Germans and Reds Have Reached Secret Agreement

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—An informal commercial and economic agreement has been entered into by the German and Soviet Russian governments.

This is the firm belief of allied officials in Berlin, and was reported in official advices received here.

In a carefully prepared estimate of the actual status of relations between Germany and Bolsheviki Russia an allied authority in Berlin, whose judgment on German political and military affairs is said to have proved sound on numerous occasions in the past, characterized reports of the existence of a "secret treaty" in writing as misleading.

"Strongly Suspected."

"It is strongly suspected, but cannot be proved by documentary evidence," the memorandum stated, "that such a treaty exists as an informal commercial and economic agreement. That Russia is looked upon by Germany as her best economic, political and commercial hope for the future is perfectly apparent, and that Russia views Germany in the same light is equally apparent. The logic of circumstances must therefore cause them inevitably to select each other as partners for the next dance, but without knowing exactly what steps they will take they must wait until the music starts.

Mutual Needs.

"Germany and Russia are both aware that German commercial men and technical engineers are the best equipped in the world for Russia's future development because of their long experience in Russia previous to this, linguistic advantages, personal acquaintances, professional ability and situation geographically. This cold fact must be recognized by every student of the future reconstruction of Russia.

"Germany and Russia are thus caused to come together because of the efficiency and practical advantages, as well as by the logic of military and political circumstances."

The same observer reported that British circles particularly were skeptical of the existence of any actual treaty between Russia and Germany, beyond such an informal one as related to economic affairs.

him to produce witnesses to testify to city, produced in court a spike four inches long and the rope with which the boy was bound to it. He said the nail was driven far into the wood, and it took him two minutes to draw it.

Joe was nervous during the examination and would not look at his parents. Before his father's second marriage, he said, Pflock never struck him, but punished him frequently after that.

Boy Who Was Tied to Bedroom Wall Four Days Will Be Taken From Parents

International News Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Children's society agents and Mrs. Ellen O'Grady, who have investigated the case of Joseph Pflock, 10 years old, who was kept bound and tied to a wall in his house for four days and two nights by his father and stepmother, will find a home for the unfortunate Brooklyn boy.

"No living power should force that child to be returned to his father and stepmother. A public example should be made of them," said Mrs. O'Grady, who heard the magistrate tell his pitiful tale in the police court, Brooklyn. Pflock and his wife are held in $500 bail each for trial in the court of special sessions.

Joe told Magistrate Reynolds a story of almost incredible ill-treatment at the hands of his father, Guenther Pflock, a grocery clerk, and his stepmother.

Mrs. Pflock, who was married to the grocery clerk last April, in an attempt to justify her action, said:

"I feel this way about it. If the neighbors had not butted in I could easily have conquered the boy. He is incorrigible. He would run away from home and sleep in barns. He refused to go on errands. When chastised for doing wrong he would carry tales out of the house.

iting a family living below the Pflocks on Saturday night. During the period the boy was tied up. She said she heard the boy cry out for something to eat; it was due to her that the case reached the Children's society.

"I went upstairs," she continued, "to see what was the matter and although I could hear Joe's voice I could not see him. I got a match and then went to his bedroom, which was pitch dark. I saw him, tied up and he told me he was very hungry. I went to my room and came back with bread and milk. I released his arms and gave him the food. When he got through he slipped his arms back into the ropes again because he feared a beating if his parents found out."

The father, who defended the tying up of the boy on the ground that he was disobedient and had stolen food from the ice-box, asked the magistrate to allow

G. W. WICKERSHAM'S DAUGHTER TO WED

Mrs. A. J. Akin.
A marriage license has been issued to Henry Ives Cobb, Jr., and Mrs. Gwendolyn Wickersham Akin, daughter of former U. S. Attorney General George W. Wickersham. Mr. Cobb was divorced in 1915. Mrs. Akin divorced John Albert Akin of New York city in 1917.

Father Suggested It

"I did tie him up, but I didn't tie him so he couldn't move. His father suggested that to me, because the boy is terribly stubborn. I didn't think it was cruel. He could have had something substantial to eat, but he wouldn't come into the kitchen when I called him. He preferred to remain tied up."

Pflock also asserted that the boy was stubborn and had to be taught to obey. Joe gained sympathy the moment he took the stand. Sallow-faced and soft spoken, he gave his name and address, and after a few introductory questions by Magistrate Reynolds he broke out crying. It was a few minutes before the magistrate could impress upon the child that no harm would come to him.

Boy's Talk of Cruelty.

His narrative follows:

"On August 26 my stepmother took me to my bedroom and after tying my arms, placed another rope around my waist and fastened me to a nail on the wall at a height with the middle of my back."

"Were you tied so that you couldn't lie down at night?" broke in the magistrate.

"The first night I did not sleep, but the other nights I went to bed and woke before my father and stepmother, and went back to my place at the wall again, because I feared a beating if they found out that I had wriggled my arms loose."

"All they gave me to eat was bread and water, and I was very hungry. One of the days I had nothing to eat at all."

Rescued By Little Girl.

The boy said that the reason he was tied up was because he went to the ice-box and took some peaches and failed to do an errand his stepmother entrusted to him.

The boy's account was substantiated by 14-year-old Anna Gold, who was vis-
