1970 Ranks Sixth For Low Moisture

It seems that 1970 will go down in history as one of the six driest years in the Muleshoe area during the 49 consecutive years weather records have been kept for Muleshoe. A total of 10.30 inches of moisture was received officially in Muleshoe. This was not the lowest amount, as only 7.75 inches of moisture was recorded in 1954, to take the record as the driest year noted, say the records of official U.S. Weatherman for Muleshoe, Jeff Peeler.

During the period of time, 49 years, from January 1, 1922, through December 31, 1970, only six years recorded moisture of below 12 inches.

In 1945, 11.21; 1948, 11.75; 1952, 10.44; 1954, 7.75; 1956, 8.53 and 1970's 10.30.

1961 Heaviest Snowfall Year As Recorded

During the past 49 years there has been an official weather record kept in Muleshoe, the depth of snow has been recorded. The heaviest snowfall on a yearly basis was in 1961 when 25.5 inches of snow were recorded for the year.

Reaching backward exactly 30 years, the second highest amount of snowfall was recorded in 1931 with 24.5 inches for the year. The official U.S. Weatherman, said 14 inches of that snow fell in December of 1931.

Other snowfalls of 14 inches or more for the year were 1934, 14 inches; 1937, 23 inches; 1946, 14.5 inches; 1947, 15 inches; 1948, 19 inches; 1958, 18 inches; 1960, 22 inches and 1966, 16 inches.

In February of 1956, one snowfall produced 12 inches, but this particular snowstorm was and is well remembered because of the intense cold and snowdrifts which brought all activities to a virtual standstill in a large area of the South Plains. Drifts of 20 feet or more during the storm were common. Little or no traffic was able to move about on the streets or highways and each town and city in the large storm area was isolated for up to a week. Helicopters sent out by military bases provided the only emergency services available for several days, and supplies of bread, milk and other staples were nil during the several days the towns and cities were isolated.

fall is 17.44, even with the low amounts recorded during the dry years.

Taking the record as the wettest year since official records have been kept is 1941, when 43.52 inches of rain fell to keep the country looking more or less like a large river and lake area most of the year.

Registration For Voters Is Lagging

With 1971 an 'off' year for elections, and no major issues presently in sight, vote registration is lagging in Bailey County.

County Tax Assessor Jean Lovelady said that as of Wednesday afternoon, December 30, a total of 1,265 persons had registered in the tax office in the Bailey County courthouse. An additional 36 18-year olds had registered.

The final date for registration for the 1971 elections is January 31.

NEW COUNTY OFFICERS SWORN--On Friday, January 1, at 10 a.m., new county officials were sworn for Bailey County. After Bailey County Clerk Hazel Gilbreath swore in the new County Judge, Glen Williams, he performed the duty of swearing in the other officials. Pictured from left are, Bailey County

License Plate Sale Begins February 1

If you own one or more of the more than seven million motor vehicles in Texas, there is important mail coming your way early in January, said Bailey County Tax Assessor Jean Lovelady.

It is your registration renewal application.

This is the second year of operation for the new, easy computerized registration procedure devised by the Texas Highway Department, she continued.

Last year, the system greatly reduced bothersome waits and long lines which plagued vehicle owners at county tax offices and substations in years past.

Prospects are that the system will work even better this year, according to Mrs. Lovelady.

Also, it is not necessary to present last year's registration receipt of the certificate of title. The renewal application you will receive in the mail is all you will need.

Registration begins February 1 and continue through April 1. The renewal application will arrive in the mail in a slender envelope marked, "Important -- This is your License Plate Renewal Application."

The application is a three-part form with instructions printed on it. One important thing to remember is The Card Should NOT Be Torn Apart. After the registration period begins February 1, each vehicle owner can take the re-

Top Discussion During Meeting

The Muleshoe Jaycees met in their regular session Monday and heard several reports during the meeting.

Dominating the discussion session was the upcoming Jaycee Week. John Blackwell, chairman of the special week, asked for reports from his two subchairs, Charles Smith of Radio Day and Leon Wilson, coordinator of Bosses' Night. They reported on the progress of their projects.

Jaycee Week begins the week of January 17, and will continue through the week.

Bill Russell, chairman of the upcoming Jaycee Volleyball Tournament, reported on the project and named his subchairs. They include Marshall Lee, Bob Stovall, Marlin Mills and Mac Brown.

Also reported on was the Outstanding Young Farmer project. The Outstanding Young

Goodfellows Aid Families

Somewhat more than 300 people faced a much brighter Christmas this year in Bailey County. These are the same people who had thought they would not be allowed to enjoy Christmas because of limited finances, or illness or other circumstances, such as a very large family.

The Muleshoe Goodfellows assisted more than 60 families by taking boxes of food, toys and clothing, distributing them on December 23 and 24 and watching faces brighten when many realized there would, after all, be a Christmas at their house.

The Chief Goodfellow said the last delivery for the year was made around noon on Christmas day, to a shut-in, who is normally more or less forgotten at Christmas time, and much of the time during the balance of the year.

Cash contributions received by the Goodfellows were used to purchase additional needed items of food and the Chief Goodfellow said the quality and quantity of both toys and food was much better this year than in past years. He praised the persons who took the time and opened their purse strings and their hearts to help their fellowmen.

Many civic and social clubs also 'adopted' a family or families to brighten their Christmas and the consensus was that this is the 'True Spirit of Christmas.'

newal application and the fee to the county tax office, or he can order his plates by mail.

If the owner wishes to register his vehicle by mail, he should send the entire three-part renewal application, the fee and an additional $1 to the local county tax office as early as January with the understanding that his license plates may not be mailed until February 1.

The additional $1 charge covers cost of handling and postage. If owners are to receive their plates by mail before the April 1 deadline, then they must send the renewal form, fee and $1 for each vehicle to be registered to the local county tax office by March 1. This allows 30 days for delivery of the plates before the April 1 registration deadline.

If the owner decides to go to the county tax office or substation, he will find shorter waiting lines. All he needs to take with him is the renewal application and the fee. He will then receive his new plates and part of the form as his receipt, continued the tax assessor.

Another part of the form is retained by the county and the third is sent to the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Aus-

Yield Up 18,000 From '69 Production

The cotton harvest in Bailey County seems to go up and down. Last year, following a hail-out, wash-out and freeze-out, county farms yielded 35,864 bales of cotton. This was the low point in a ginning season for Bailey County in many years.

This year, the gins upped the figure by 18,641 bales, with approximately one third more bales of cotton being ginned this year than 1969. The final figure this year was 54,505 with a few gins expecting an additional bale or two in 'tailings.'

The figure for 1970 is some 16,000 bales below the 1968 figure when more than 70,000 bales were reported by Bailey County cotton gins.

Cotton maintained a fairly good grade on staple and micronaire during the season this year, despite an early freeze and wet weather.

A sneak freeze and snowstorm on October 8 slowed cotton maturity even though much of the cotton pulled out and continued to mature for approximately two more weeks before steady freezes stopped the growth.

Southeastern Bailey County has been devastated during the past two years and their yields have been cut to a minimum by adverse weather conditions which have included all but no moisture in that area. Blowing sand blasted young cotton in June and stripped the young, slender stalks of growth. No moisture was recorded in an amount to allow many farmers to replant their blown out crops. Some crops, however, which had been sandblasted in Southwestern Bailey County and other areas, was salvaged by a series of rainfalls which boosted prospects.

A number of new cotton rulings are expected to curtail some of the cotton activity in widespread areas.

USDA has set the 1971 cotton loan for Middling-inch, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire cotton, basis net weight, at 19.5 cents. Plains Cotton Growers said that in effect that's two cents below this year's 20.25 cent loan, which was based on average micronaire and gross weights. In comparing the 19.5 cent rate to the present loan, said PCG, begin from 18.25 cents, add 45 points for the loss of micronaire premiums and 80 points for the loss of loan value on 21 pounds tare, and You'll see there is no loss because of the change to net weight trading or the

Muleshoe Boosted As Garden Spot

Chamber of Commerce Manager Jerry Hutton brought a letter by The Journal office from a Muleshoe booster. This particular booster is from California and had occasion recently to 'stand up and be counted' among Muleshoe fans.

Because of the outstanding letter by Mrs. Olie Brown who is the former Sybil Coker, Muleshoe is once again known in a wide area. This city now has the reputation of being a metropolis and a garden spot.

Mrs. Brown's letter is reproduced below:

At a recent joint meeting of the Rotarians and the Rotary-annes of Arlington, California, I sat down by a man who was a native Texan. His friends had teased him for years about being from that little place called "Muleshoe, Texas". Actually these people knew nothing about Muleshoe--some did not know it even existed. I sat down by this man and when I told him my home town, he decided to stop the teasing by the real identification of Muleshoe and he hoped to the embarrassment of the people who insisted that he was from there. It sounded like a great deal of fun to me so when the emcee began his introductions he said, "And of course, we have Red Horville from that little burg called Muleshoe, Texas." As previously agreed to by Mr. Horville, my dinner partner, I quickly stood up and said, "Mr. Clayton (is the emcee's name), Mr. Horville is not from Muleshoe, Texas, but I am, I would have you know that it is not a "little burg"; it is a thriving little metropolis in the garden spot of the state because of the wonderful underground river that provides irrigation for the crops as needed. It has the national monument to the mule as a tribute to the part that this amazing animal had in the development of the

Cotton Fire Keeps Firemen 'Hopping'

Fire Chief Earl Ladd said he was called to the same fire so many times Wednesday, that he had a rather warm feeling toward the cotton bales that were burning. In fact, they became so familiar, that he named some of the more stubborn bales, with female names of course.

The Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department received the first call to the fire at mid-afternoon. The first fire was reported to be near a drive in just north of the railroad tracks on Highway 70. When officers arrived, the driver of a semi-truck was being assisted in kicking 24 blazing bales of cotton off the back of the truck.

Firemen, with three trucks at the site, fought the fire as Sheriff Dee Clements routed traffic around the fire scene. After the first fire, Fire Chief Ladd said firemen made two more trips to the cotton bales that broke out as the bales were being moved.

Just before 11 p.m., Wednesday night, the fire chief received a call telling him there was a truck fire between Muleshoe and Sudan. Sure enough, when firemen arrived, it was like a familiar picture, replaying in the darkness.

It was the same cotton, although the truck and the driver were different. John Blake of Lubbock, who works for an insurance salvage company, had loaded the cotton onto a bobtail truck and started back to Lubbock with the load. When he was approximately five miles southeast of Muleshoe on Highway 84, he noticed the load was blazing again. Stopping the truck, the driver attempted to remove the cotton from the truck.

Blake was injured in attempting to remove the cotton. It is uncertain as to whether a cotton bale fell on him or he fell from the high top of the truck as he attempted to topple the cotton to the ground. The city marshal of Sudan, Glyn Williams, brought the injured man to West Plains Memorial Hospital where he was treated for smoke inhalation and minor injuries and released to return to Lubbock.

The fire chief said the firemen were at the fire site un-

WEDNESDAY FIRE--Members of the Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department are pictured the first time they were called to a blazing load of baled cotton just north of the railroad tracks on Highway 70 Wednesday afternoon. This was the first of three calls made to the same location.

SAME SONG, SECOND VERSE--Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department members found it to be the same old song when they were once again summoned to a fire Wednesday night around 11 p.m. on East Highway 84. They found the same load of cotton blazing, just the location had changed. This time, the driver of the truck, John Blake, of Lubbock received slight injuries.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON
Voting 18-Year-Olds-Affect In 1972-The Supreme Court-Turn To Right!

Washington, D.C.--The recent Supreme Court decision allowing eighteen-year-olds to vote in congressional and presidential elections enlarges the electorate by an estimated eleven million voters.

The first reaction among Democrats (Senator Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts pushed the bill in the Senate) was elation; they feel most youngsters will vote for Democratic candidates in 1972. However, for the first time in many years polls do not bear out this forecast.

In the last six or eight years strong counter-extremism movements among the nation's youth have sprung up in every section of the nation. A great infusion of strength has been felt in young G.O.P. clubs and organizations and on many college campuses moderates have organized in the last year, to counter Far Left propaganda and extremism in general.

In addition, the "in" thing today is no longer exclusively the long-hair, smelly bit, including violence and lawlessness, but is changing toward a more orderly form of social and political action, a trend certain to be accelerated by the Supreme Court decision giving 18-year-olds the right to vote in congressional and presidential elections. Teenagers can no longer complain they have no effective political voice, as many have admitted already.

Thus President Nixon and his political advisers do not see the decision as a necessary handicap in 1972, especially as the President signed the bill into law.

The Supreme Court, meanwhile, seems in the process of a slight edging back toward center. As wire services noted in reporting the two 5-4 splits--one to allow 18-year-olds to vote for President and members of Congress and one against allowing them to vote in state elections--Hugo Black was the key vote in both determinations.

The more constitutional minded four who voted with Black not to overturn state voting provisions were Justices Warren Burger (Chief Justice), John Harlan, Potter Stewart and Harry Blackman. Burger and Blackman--two of the four--are Nixon appointees.

Among the less constitutional minded Justices was William Douglas, whose continued tenure on the court is questionable. Should Congress impeach him in its next session (not likely but possible) the highest court would probably have a moderate majority for the first time in decades.

west. The community is very progressive with many service organizations, a good school system, a good recreation program, and a new library in the making. It has art center with artists whose paintings hang in homes throughout the United States. Furthermore, young people from Muleshoe are serving with distinction in many worthy projects throughout the United States and in many parts of the world. I am proud of my home town and I hope that each of you will have the privilege of visiting it someday."

The emcee was completely overwhelmed and I got quite an applause from the guests. Many said that they really had no idea that there really was a Muleshoe, Texas. Mr. Claytor, the emcee, thought the whole thing was a good joke, but alas at the next meeting, Mr. Horville got fined $5.00 for plotting against the emcee and Olie, my husband, got fined $2.00 for not being able to control his wife!

Now then, my request is to please send about forty copies of your brochure, "Muleshoe, Texas, America's Texas Frontier" (the IN COLOR BROCHURE) to me so I can give them out to all of the members. I really appreciate this. Of course, my reputation as a nice, quiet woman is all shattered, but it is worth it to put my home town on the map, so to speak. Send the brochures to Sibyl Coker Brown, Librarian, California Baptist College, 8432 Magnolia Avenue, Riverside, California 92504.

Sincerely yours,

change in micronaire base.

The base cotton allotment is roughly equal to 67 percent of this year's effective allotment, continued PCG. The preliminary payment, to be made soon after July 1, will be 15 cents per pound times the base acres times the 1971 payment yield. If the difference between the average market price for Middling-inch, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire cotton for the first five months of the marketing year and 35 cents is more than 15 cents, then there will be a supplementary payment sometime after December 1, 1971, to make up the difference.

There is a provision for the ASCS to make an adjustment on the actual yield when it is affected by drought, flood or other natural disorder.

Also, USDA has set the maximum set-aside requirement for both cotton and feed grain at an acreage equal to 20 percent of base acreage for each commodity. The percentage could be lowered, said PCG, but won't be raised prior to the March 1 sign-up time next year. According to Plains Cotton Growers, if you have an 80 acre cotton allotment and an 80 acre feed grain base for 1971, you'll have to set aside and devote to approved conservation uses 32 acres of cropland. According to this figure, if you have a 200-acre farm, there will be 168 acres left on which to plant just about anything you would want to.

WASHINGTON NOTES

ON FOOD COSTS
The Agriculture Department has published a report on 1970 food costs showing it had greatly underrated the soaring retail price spiral earlier this year. For all of 1970, the department said, food will average 5.5 per cent more than in 1969. Last year's gain was 5.2 per cent.

ON BEEF DEMAND
An Agriculture Department study has indicated Americans will increase their consumption of beef by about one-third by 1980. The report said forecasts of U.S. beef production capacity indicate output will increase in line with the demand.

QUITS SILVER BUSINESS
The government has officially gotten out of the silver business, ending a long and sometimes controversial association. For all practical purposes, silver coinage ended in the United States in 1965 when Congress ordered all American coins except the Kennedy half-dollar minted from a copper-nickel alloy.

BETTER EQUIPMENT
Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has moved to provide the National Guard and Reserves with more riot-control training and protective equipment such as face masks, flack vests and wooden batons.

DISCOUNT RATE CUT
The Federal Reserve Board shaved one-quarter of one per cent from its discount rate in a stimulative move it said reflects a general downward trend in interest rates. The board lowered the rate from 6 per cent to 5 3/4 per cent. It was the first scaling down since August 1968, when the rate was trimmed from 5 1/2 to 5 1/4 per cent.

JOBLESS RATE UP
The nation's unemployment rate moved up slightly in October to 5.6 per cent of the labor force, the Labor Department has reported. The rise from 5.5 per cent in September was apparently attributable to the secondary effects of the General Motors strike. Otherwise, the employment picture was "basically unchanged," the report concluded.

MCGOVERN ON F.B.I.
Senator George S. McGovern has urged that agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation be barred from campus investigations unless invited in by local authorities. The South Dakota Democrat indicated that if the Justice Department failed to adopt the proposal as policy, he would introduce legislation to force the issue.

TOTAL ROAD MILEAGE
The Department of Transportation has released in a report that roads and streets in the United States now total more than 3.71 million miles, according to figures compiled during 1969 by the Federal Highway Administration.

NEW ALERTING SYSTEM
The federal government hopes to begin work soon on a nationwide transmitting system that will take only 30 seconds to alert 98.5 per cent of the population of impending nuclear attack. The system, under research for six years, is called Decision Information Distribution System (DIDS).

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

Each year my husband and I spend days getting our big old house ready for the Christmas season. We put up a tree and get the old decorations out of the attic and gather greens and berries out of the yard.

One of my neighbors thinks we are very foolish to go to all of this trouble but we think she is foolish to forget the traditions of family celebrations.

We have a large family--all of the children live in other towns but they never fail to come home for Christmas and bring the grandchildren. It is always a wonderful occasion. The girls all help with the work and the men do their part, also. They bring ham, cake and other things and I always cook the turkey. We have simple gifts under the tree and it is a time of the year that we all look forward to.

It is a let down, afterwards, when they have all gone back to their homes. The tree has to be taken down and the decorations packed away. But we think what we get out of this family gathering is worth all of the trouble and expense. Hope you had a happy holiday, Louisa.

Answer: Thank you for your nice letter. You are very fortunate to have such a congenial family and a home large enough to accommodate such a crowd. I think you are wise to value the family traditions as you do. In this age, when so much emphasis is put on material things and when so many old people are in nursing homes, it is pleasant to hear of a family who continues their traditional gatherings together. I trust you will have many other happy holidays in the future.

Happy New Year!
Louisa

92nd CONGRESS
The 92nd Congress will meet Jan. 21 under a bill passed by the House. The Senate is expected to agree to the date. Under current law, the newly-elected Congress would open its session Jan. 3 unless the outgoing Congress sets another date. As it stands, some members say the present session may not end before Jan. 2.

AUTO-OWNER INSURANCE
Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has urged Congress to approve a bill that would protect automobile owners from claims if their insurance company goes bankrupt. In the past 12½ years, 141 auto insurance firms have gone out of business, Hart said, and more than one million drivers have been hit for claims and unpaid premiums.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

Many homemakers, when cooking pasta dishes such as spaghetti and macaroni, are plagued with having the pasta strands stick together or to the cooking pot. Even worse, the pasta may stick together after draining. There are several facile methods to prevent this. In all cases, the spaghetti or macaroni should be cooked in a large quantity of boiling water. The liquid should be boiling furiously both before and after the pasta is added. As soon as the strands are dropped into the water, they should be separated carefully and quickly by stirring the mixture with a two-pronged fork. Any type of pasta must be stirred frequently during the cooking process to insure good, even cooking.

A small amount of olive oil or salad oil should be added to the water. You will find that this will be a great help in preventing the food from sticking together when it is drained.

Never attempt to cook any type of broad, thick pasta such as lasagne without the addition of oil. Many cooks say that they find draining the pasta a great help and then rinsing with cold water for a second, then with very hot water.

WTSU Slates Registration For Spring

Canyon, Texas--Registration for the spring semester at West Texas State University will be Jan. 14-16 in the Activities Building according to Dr. Donald Cates, dean of admissions and registrar.

Cates said that former West Texas State students who were not enrolled last semester but who plan to enroll for the spring term should visit the registrar's office Jan. 4-8 to fill out an application for readmission.

"This will save those students some time during registration," he said.

"When returning students come to register we ask that they bring with them the registration materials they received the week of finals and their fall grades.

"Students who are lacking some of the registration materials will line up at the south-east entrance to the all-purpose room of the Activities Center," Cates said. "Those who have their materials will begin registration at the north-east entrance."

Prior to registration, Cates said, the American College Test (ACT) will be given to all beginning Freshmen Jan. 11 in the auditorium of the Old Administration Building. Freshmen orientation will be Jan. 12 in the Activities Center.

No estimated enrollment figure for the spring semester has been given. Last spring's enrollment was 7,018 and the recently completed semester's enrollment was 7,905.

Nature encourages no looseness, pardons, no errors.

Dear Editor:

Dear Editor:

After that wet spell back in October I cut a sample of grain and took it to the elevator. It was so wet the manager wouldn't even discuss accepting a load so I sat down and we were discussing the fishing conditions here and there when another fellow came in. Since he assured me that I have plenty of enemies already I won't name him here, but if you ask me privately, I will. We discussed the hospital controversy for more than an hour and I would like to share some of that discussion with you.

First, he said that he wouldn't do what I was doing for all the money in Bailey County. As I pointed out in an earlier letter, I am not doing this for money either. I am doing this as a matter of principle. Whether it was intentional or not, the hospital board has failed to tell the whole story either concerning the financial structure of the present facilities or concerning the proposed facilities. Many questions were answered with half truths or worse and some were not answered at all. I demand better treatment than this.

He said, as many others have, that a dollar value cannot be

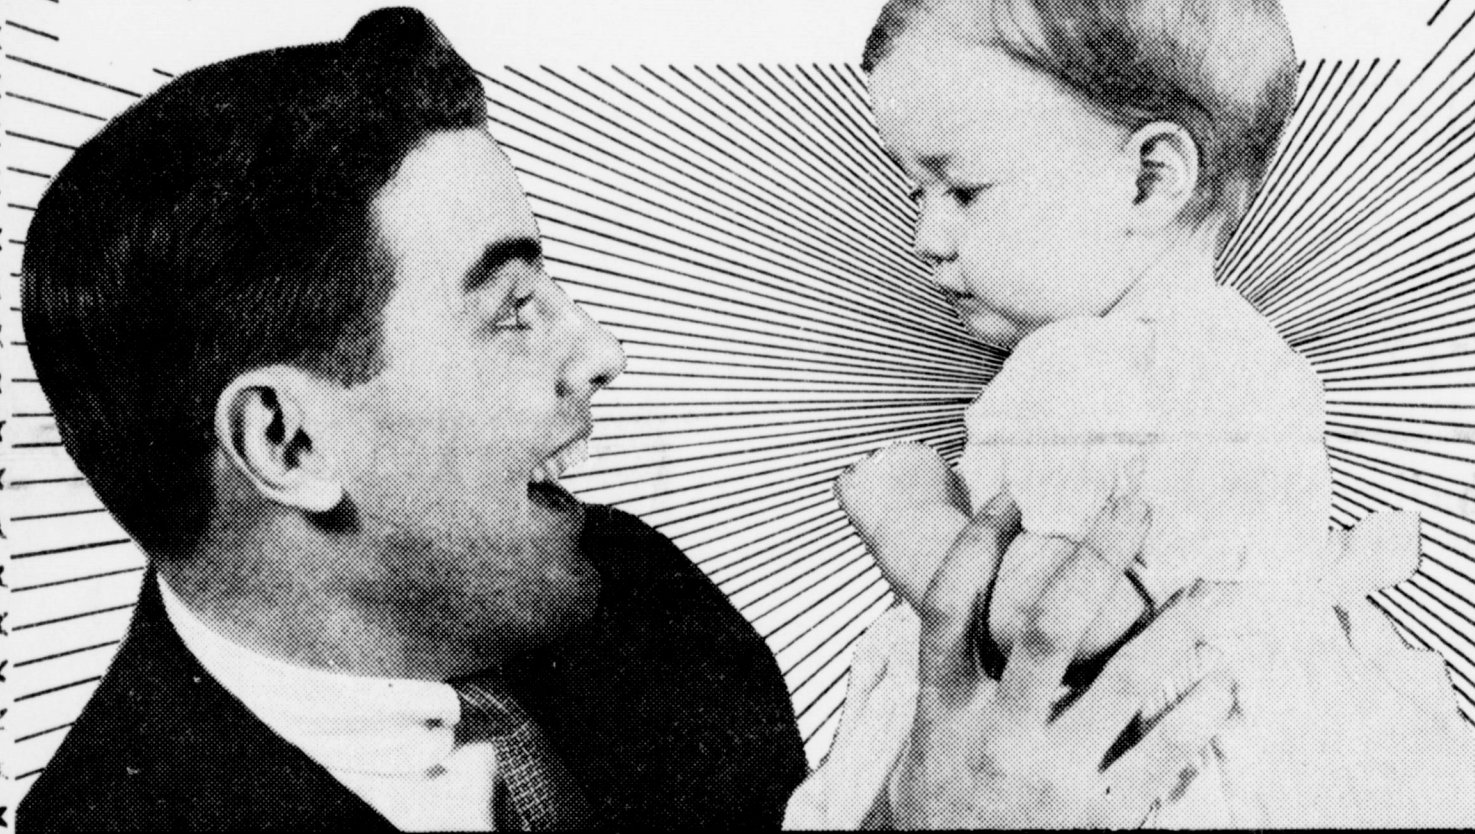

NEW YEAR'S EVE ACCIDENT--Mrs. Robert Gallegos and her baby daughter, Rose, received emergency treatment and released at West Plains Memorial Hospital following the accident above. Mrs. Gallegos lost control of the late model car and rolled it on a dirt road west of Muleshoe on Thursday evening just before dark. Officers were once again hampered in investigation by cars which jammed the accident site. They again issued a warning to motorists to stay away from the emergency sites and allow officers and ambulances the room to move freely about in their work.

PRIDE AND JOY!

Proud Father... you bet... this is my child... she's sweet, trusting, lovely and brings great joy to my life. I work harder in order to better my income so that I can provide for her. She thrills me, and already I am making plans for her future. Right now we are all dressed up and getting ready to go to church. I love her, and I want the best for her. I want her to know early about God, and that he means a lot to me, and I want God to mean a lot to her, too!

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

put on life, and whatever it took to save a life was well spent. I told him that I couldn't argue with that principle but in practice it was something else. If our forefathers had that attitude America would never have been settled for they would have been afraid to leave Europe.

We went on to discuss the political kidnapping in Canada. This fellow remarked that the Prime Minister was right and should not bargain with the kidnapers even to save the victims. Yet only a few minutes before he had said whatever it took to save a life was well spent. This ideal is one thing but in practice is something else.

Yours truly,

Jim Valliant Research Head At High Plains

Jim Valliant, scientist at the High Plains Research Foundation for more than ten years, will become director of research for the organization at Halfway on January 1.

The new position was created at a recent meeting of the Foundation Executive Committee. As director of research, Valliant becomes second in command to Dr. Tom Longnecker, executive vice-president and Foundation director.

Valliant received B.S. and M.S. degrees in agricultural engineering from Texas Tech University in 1959 and 1969. He majored in soil and water management.

Since joining the Foundation in June of 1959, Valliant has become a leader in artificial ground water recharge studies. Papers on artificial recharge prepared by Valliant have been presented at many scientific conferences throughout the nation. The latest one was presented December 9 at the American Society of Agricultural Engineers meeting in Chicago.

TOURNAMENT ACTION--Winner Canyon, who took the first game over Denver City, with a 64-55 score, hit the boards often for their victory over the DC basketball team in the victory in the Muleshoe Invitational Tournament. Action continued all day Saturday in the tournament.

Changes In Tax Laws Apply To '70 Income

Taxpayers preparing their Federal income tax returns for 1970 will be affected in a number of ways by provisions of the 1969 Tax Reform Act that took effect during the past year.

According to Miller Montag, President of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, there are pluses and minuses for all taxpayers. A great benefit to many was the expiration of withholding of the surtax on wages last June 30th.

That cutoff does not mean, Montag says, that the surtax applies only to income received during the first half of the year. The surtax is levied at the rate of two and one half percent against all income earned in 1970, so individuals who earned the bulk of their income after June 30th will have to pay additional tax on the income from which no surtax was withheld.

On the other hand, if one's income remained fairly steady all year and was derived mainly from wages, the five percent withheld during the first six months of the year will cover most or all of the surtax due.

In 1970, the maximum deduction generally permissible for charitable contributions was raised from 30 percent of adjusted gross income to 50 percent. But limitations were imposed on the deduction of contributions of certain appreciated property.

A work of art, for example, donated to a museum for its own use, is deductible in full. However, if the art work is contributed to the Community Chest or the Girl Scouts and they plan to resell it, only 50 percent of the appreciation can be deducted.

In recent years of high interest rates some taxpayers delayed payment of income taxes owed on the grounds that the six percent interest charged against late payments offered a relatively inexpensive way to borrow money. Now, however, in addition to the six percent interest, a penalty of one half percent of the unpaid balance per month makes late payment no bargain.

Tax laws affecting moving expenses, capital gains, Subchapter S corporations and income tax averaging have all been changed by the 1969 Tax Reform Act. These will be the subjects of subsequent articles.

A CONSUMER AGENCY

The Senate passed a bill recently to create an independent federal agency to look after the interests of American consumers. Besides the new Consumer Protection Agency, to be headed by a director and deputy director named by the President with Senate approval for fixed four-year terms, the legislation creates a three-member Council of Consumer Advisers within the executive office of the President.

Glenda Tubbs

Graveside services were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday, January 1, for Glenda Faye Tubbs, still-born daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Tubbs, Route Three Muleshoe. She was stillborn at 9:59 a.m. on December 31 in West Plains Memorial Hospital.

TROOPS & CAMBODIA

Washington--The Senate appropriations Committee has voted to extend to Cambodia a ban on U.S. ground combat troops in Laos and Thailand, ignoring the Nixon Administration's request to restore $1.4 billion to the measure passed by the House.

ON INDEX PRICES

Washington--A spokesman for the Council of Economic Advisers reports that while living costs in October took the keenest climb in six months, the wholesale price report for this month shows "a simply phenomenal figure" in the other direction. The wholesale price report normally foreshadows future movements in the consumer price index.

PUPILS & DRUGS

Washington--A medical investigator for the Veterans Administration, Dr. Leo E. Hollister, has reported to a Senate subcommittee on government drug-buying practices that as many as 30 per cent of the children in some elementary schools may be receiving drugs to quiet them down. It was reported that stimulants were beneficial in treating hyperactive children.

'Texas' Tryouts Scheduled Soon

It's time to try out for "Texas". On January 8, 1971 from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m., the Directors will be in their places at the Branding Iron Theatre on the West Texas State University campus (Fine Arts Building) to hear the actors and the singers and the players on guitars, banjos, accordians, bass fiddlers, and violins. They will be available to discuss the credentials of technical people, costumers, and back stage workers, and light and sound technicians. They will be taking the first steps toward the sixth season of the "Texas" Musical Drama which plays in the summer months in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park. 341,567 people have seen this spectacular Musical Drama about the people in the 1880's, and members of the company have the opportunity to gain valuable experience as professionals. Over 100 salaried positions are available. The Director's request that applicants bring both school and home addresses, social security number, and a photograph at least bill fold size. They will be looking for actors with command of the stage, voices that can be heard outdoors, with understanding character motivation and conveyance of a variety of emotion. Actors must be prepared to give a memorized reading, not to exceed three minutes. They will double as members of the chorus and all must audition for singing as well as acting roles. The "Texas" production is outdoors and does not use microphones. Singers in the "Texas" chorus are a vital part of the production. Applicants should bring one prepared number which will show the singing voice to its best advantage. An accompanist will be furnished or singer may bring his own. Many singers will double in minor speaking roles and/or as technician assistants, so each singer must present a short memorized selection to display the quality of the speaking voice. Dance auditions will be conducted at 4:00 p.m. Men and women with ballet, modern dance and/or body movement training are desired. However, experience and training are not required. Applicants should bring appropriate work-out clothing. Other Audition dates are: January 16, 10:00 a.m., and 1:00 p.m. at WT Campus, same location as above; January 24, Women's Gym at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas; February 27, at El Centro College in Dallas, Texas; March 7, in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. For further information call 806-655-2182, or write to "Texas" Musical Drama, P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. At The Shoe Store Manager (to salesman)--Don't tell a woman that her right foot is larger than the other--in this shop we say, "Madam, your left foot is smaller."

A Garden Hint The inquisitive woman was worrying the gardener. She asked a lot of silly questions. "What steps do you take with the caterpillars?" she asked next. "Well, mum," said the exasperated gardener. I take half a dozen steps into our nearest field and turns the caterpillars round three times so that they gets giddy and don't know their way back."
