Jury No-Bills Choate

Prosecutor Finds He Shot To Save Life

District Attorney Announces Grand Jury Action After Probe

Thirty-second district court grand jury Tuesday no-billed J. M. Choate, city policeman, who had been under bond in connection with the death of Clayton McMurray here April 30.

Action in the case came after the body had been conducted an investigation of the shooting for which Mr. Choate had posted $2,500 bond.

According to a statement by District Attorney George Mahon, evidence showed Choate plainly shot in defense of his own life.

Officers said, an open knife, which had been taken from McMurray several times before, and the barrel of a jump, were found where the shooting occurred.

Three shots were alleged to have been fired by Choate, only one taking effect.

The bullet which caused death entered McMurray's body slightly back of the right armpit and passed laterally through the body, striking a vertebra, then ranging forward and lodging in the aortic artery said witnesses.

McMurray was shot when he accompanied Officer Choate who had been summoned to investigate an attack on Policeman L. A. Coffey.

Mr. Choate has been a city officer for more than eight years.

The grand jury returned seven indictments before it adjourned Tuesday.

E. Percy Merrick (above), former Oklahoma highway department employee, was convicted of manslaughter by an Oklahoma City jury and faces a five-year prison sentence for the fatal shooting of Henry Downs, Denver basketball player. (Associated Press Photo)

Sensational Message To 54 Foreign Capitals Has Plain Words For Germany

Note Considered As To Preclude By Implication Further Use Of Marines In Latin-America, In Line With Non-Invasion Doctrine

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt asked the world Tuesday to give up offensive weapons of war, and unite for peace and economic recovery.

In a message interpreted on Capitol Hill as constituting particularly plain speaking to Germany the president admonished foreign potentates to give up "petty" national animosities, or the civilized world would know where to place the blame.

Dispatches unheralded to fifty-four foreign capitals, the sensational message proposed no armed troops should hereafter cross any frontier save when a neighbor offended by breaking armament agreements.

The message backed the MacDonald proposal for a consultative pact for security. It mentioned no names but denounced foreign invasion.

It laid down a doctrine of non-invasion so broadly as to preclude by implication further United States marine incursions into Latin-America. It asked specifically for success of the Geneva arms conference and the London economic conference.

Knowing ones smile and look wise when you mention the new Glass bill amendment proposing to put J. P. Morgan under the Federal Reserve.

They insist Senator Glass must have thought up the brilliant idea one rainy afternoon when he had nothing else to do. That is not the case.

It came from no less a worthy opponent of Morgan than Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., himself, in person, not a picture. While all lips have been sealed the inside evidence is conclusive.

DARLING FOOL

CHAPTER XII

"I can't believe a word of it. You're just being nice to me." She went on, "I'll bet you say that to all the girls you meet," and smiled to show she didn't mean it.

The young-old man in the double-breasted suit grinned at her. Faultless was the necktie, striped and shining. Faultless the set of his sleek black hair. He had little lines around his eyes and his cheeks wore that too-well-barbered look. He had the air of weariness that comes to a man who stays up late of nights and talks too rapidly of days.

His said, "Baby, you're the prettiest thing this side of Chicago. Know what I mean, you've got class. Lots of 'em in the front rows of choruses would be jealous of you."

Kay, walking down High street in the neighborhood of Vernon's drug store, took one swift look ahead before she plunged. There was a good deal of traffic (for Belvedere) at this time. It was 4 o'clock. The high school had long since disgorged its chattering, bright-eyed throngs. Shabby ancient cars nosed the sleeker sedans belonging to the young matrons of Belvedere's "younger set." Kay did not want to be seen with this man, the traveling salesman who supplied Belvedere's one department store with silk stockings. Belvedere would not understand, said Kay to herself. Especially Monnie. Or Mother.

Still she didn't know what they objected to. He was polite—as nice as he could be, really. And he made the boys in Kay's class seem awfully raw and awkward. He was what she and her classmates called "smooth." He had a line and knew when to use it. How old was he, Kay wondered? Thirty-five, maybe? Forty? You couldn't tell.

She and Charlene Briggs had "just run into him" one day at the Sweet Shoppe. They had been giggling over maple nut sandwiches, Kay conscious of the fact that she should have saved her allowance for new shoes instead of frittering it this way, when they saw him. He had come in, glanced about inquiringly and then come straight over to their table. She and "Rissy" had pretended to be annoyed. "The nerve of him!" they had said afterward, with well-stimulated amazement. But had insisted he'd met "Rissy" the last time he'd been in town and that she didn't remember him.

"That's the way with you girls," he had said, pretending to be chagrined. "Out of sight, out of mind." He had been talking to Town? Lots of girls—no older than you are in the choruses. Fact is, they like 'em as young as they can get 'em. Maybe this time next year you'd be married to a millionaire if you tried it."

Dangerous talk this, for pretty soon, proud 14. Dangerous whippers for the small ears of Kay O'Dare who wasn't a "grind," who wasn't clever at her books, whose fortune as in her hazy blue eyes and her small twinkling feet.

She said slowly, "You're kidding me, Chester. I couldn't—I mean I wouldn't get over—"

He interrupted. "Baby, you're the money. What I mean, you could knock 'em silly in the front rows. I've got a friend in show business—man like me gets around, you know—"

The voice purred on, softly, insinuatingly. Kay thought of Miss Mahon who was head of the English department, whose bitter, edged tones had cut into her consciousness that day.

"Miss O'Dare's notebook? But I didn't know Miss O'Dare had a notebook."

Kay had flushed scarlet, had stammered, had blushed, the teacher, everything! Was it her fault she wasn't brainy? Not everyone could be! Well, she'd show them all some day, all these old cats and foxes all over town. She'd show them what Kay O'Dare could do. They'd see her name up in lights, they would. They'd boast, primming their lips. "Oh, yes, I knew her, years ago—"

She'd cut them when she passed them in the street. She could see a high-powered car whirling down a glittering avenue—herself, slim, long-legged, wrapped in furs—chinchilla, maybe. A man in a tuxedo would slip down from the seat, rush around to hand her out. Some noney woman in blue serge would buzz up to her. "Aren't you little Kay O'Dare?"

Kay would draw herself up slowly and disdainfully, answering her, "You seem to have the advantage of me!" Miss Mahon (for it would be Miss Mahon) would slip away, quite crestfallen.

"What's on your mind, sweetie?"

She came back to earth, to the shimmer of the June afternoon to Chester, moist but dapper, beside her.

"I—I've got to be running along. My mother will be wondering—"

Tech-Canyon Meet Is Off

But Statement Says Exam, Not Recent Scrap Is Cause

LUBBOCK—Texas Tech will not meet West Texas State Teachers college in a return track and field meet scheduled this week, President Bradford Knapp of Tech announced Monday night in a joint statement with Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the Canyon school.

"Because of the fact," the statement read, "that the meet interferes with the final examinations of the two institutions, they have decided to cancel the engagement."

To Correct Mistakes

Move to cancel the meet was first suggested by Coach S. D. Burton of West Texas, who, in a letter to Coach Pete Cashton of Tech, further requested that athletic relations between the schools be terminated following the brief flatness between Tech and West Texas athletes at the annual spring football game here April 23.

After a conference and investigation of the "difficulties" between the athletes, President Knapp and Hill released the following statement:

"It is our conclusion that this whole situation has arisen out of mistakes made by both institutions and their conviction is that both parties are somewhat to blame."

"Both presidents state that they are fully in favor of fine, high-class, sportsmanlike intercollegiate contests. They are both anxious to see most cordial relations existing between these state institutions and they both announced their determination to work the whole situation out so as to bring about that end."

"It is their sincere feeling that whatever differences may have existed in the past can and will be corrected, and that contests can be held of a high standard. Each of them has registered his determination to take an active and personal interest in athletic affairs at the two institutions and to absolutely eliminate all objectionable practices."

HAPPILY REUNITED AFTER ORDEAL

Personally Speaking

Mrs. Dan Martin and little daughter, Rosemary, of Los Angeles, Calif., left Monday after a visit in the home of Judge and Mrs. J. T. Brooks.

Mrs. E. L. Barrick has as her guest her sister Mrs. W. R. Carr, of Sweetwater, who arrived Sunday night.

Mrs. J. A. Boykin happened to an unusual eye accident recently. A sudden puff of wind blew the ashes from her husband's cigarette into her eye and burnt it severely. The burn is still painful but the doctor says there will be no serious damage from it.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Richardson returned from Kemp last night. They brought with them two nieces, Margaret Ann and Betty Louise Steels.

Mrs. Sidney Moore, of El Paso, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Piner. Mrs. Moore is enroute to Eastern points and will sail from New York for London and European resorts where she will spend the summer.

Miss Dolle King of De Funiak Springs, Fla., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. S. King.

Mrs. L. Coleman, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Robinson and children left Monday afternoon for Dallas, where they will spend several days.

Mrs. E. T. Holley has returned from Monday, where she spent Mother's Day with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Johnson, and Mrs. James Norman.

TELES CHUMS ON KIDNAPING

standing the fact that there were far more people now than then and that they were spending far more money now than then.

Since the above incident I have come across a statement appearing in Brewery Industry, published in New York. After stating that "the expected market for beer does not exist today," this official brewery publication goes on to say as follows: "Obviously, there must be a campaign of education, and the one field in which this can be conducted is, fortunately, the most important of all for immediate and future business—the college."

"While the influence of the college undergraduate dominates youth in all activities, it is most powerful in beverage. Before prohibition, beer was regarded as concomitant of a college career. Now not one-tenth of 1 per cent of the youths in college know what beer tastes like. To them it is little more than a name, simply because they do not know how to use it, or have not acquired the taste. Beer can be restored to its former favor in colleges, which means the youth of the land, but it can not be done overnight.

There follows advice how to advertise beer in college papers and "make them have an appetite for it." Now, according to this statement of a brewer in a brewers' paper for brewers to read, there is less than one-tenth of 1 per cent of the youth who know what beer tastes like where formerly practically all of them drank.

While on this subject it is interesting to note that, while the brewers are planning a campaign to make beer drinkers out of the youth of the land, the United States Senate, which has been passing pro-liquor legislation like corn going through a corn sheller, balked at allowing 3.2 per cent to be sold in United States buildings anywhere or to students at United States naval or army institutions or to United States sailors. The reason is plain. The Government is directly responsible for these buildings and for students at United States institutions and sailors in the navy. It is not directly responsible for your child and mine, not in the custody of the Government. The Senate was fearful of being held accountable for the effect of allowing beer to be sold to those for whom they were accountable. It is an illuminating side light on what the wet Senate really thinks of this wonderful child and mine, not in the custody of the Government. Best Seller

The Bible continues to be the best seller last year, according to reports made at the American Bible Society's 117th annual meeting in New York, 3,097,156 copies of the book were sold. This was an increase of 100,000 copies from the year before. The price of the Bible had dropped below 9,000,000.

During the 117 years of its existence, the society has distributed 240,000,000 volumes. Last year's Bibles were printed in 176 languages and dialects.

Not without difficulty do the collectors carry on their work. El Salvador, during the anti-communist campaign, Bible workers were accused of being communists and Bibles were burned. In the communist country of Russia, Bibles are banned. In spite of this, the society completed a six year campaign in El Salvador with a house-to-house canvass in every one of its 262 towns.

In spite of wars, floods and famine in China, the society last year made its greatest distribution in that country. In Japan, progress was reported, especially in the farming areas.

In one Philippine village, the total return for sales were seven centavos in real money, 88 centavos in one ripe mango and 30 green mangoes.

In the United States, economic depression has lowered circulation of Bibles. In the society notes, however, it says, "There has been a noticeable increase in purchases of Bibles for personal use. Much work remains to be done. In one group of 2,000 families around Rochester, N. Y., the society's agents found 1,370 families who were without the Bible. This is balanced by the reports that two Oklahoma mothers chopped and hauled wood to raise money that their children might be provided with the Scriptures.

Annual Birthday Party Of Women Auxiliary Held By Presbyterian Women

The members of the Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church met at the church Monday afternoon for the annual birthday party. There was a good attendance and many visitors.

The King's Daughters Circle, of which Mrs. E. E. Fahrenkamp is leader, was in charge. The donation for the members of the circle came dressed in Chinese costumes, most of them actually from China.

Mrs. J. L. Thomas, Auxiliary president, gave the devotional on "Bearing of the Light," Auxiliary mission theme for this year. Mrs. Hoover made a short talk of welcome to the visitors and members and invited them to stay for the social hour and refreshments.

Little rice sacks were passed in a basket to each member. The nomination was put into these sacks and they were collected at the close of the afternoon. The members made a nice donation to the cause.

The feature of the program was a pageant dealing with the work in China which Mrs. Fahrenkamp put on.

After this the meeting adjourned for the social session. The lovely birthday cake with its lighted candles was cut and served with tea to the guests.

Out of town visitors were: Mmes. W. R. Carr, of Sweetwater, H. C. Mann, of Colorado, John C. Thomas, Sr., of Conhoma, and Shive, of Conhoma.

Members attending were: Mmes. R. H. Carter, E. E. Fahrenkamp, E. C. Hostler, Galbraith, Leon Moffett, Hoover, Clarence Wear, Heffner, Allen Hodges, Guy Tamsett, Sam Baker, J. B. Chapman, C. W. Cunningham, R. T. Piner, Ida Mann.

Ballot On State Bond Issue For Relief Purposes Made Certain

AUSTIN, UP)—A resolution for submission of a $20,000,000 proposed state bond relief issue to statewide vote on August 26 was given final legislative sanction Monday.

Sen. Walter Woodul at once wired Washington that the governor had signed the measure, so that the information would be available at a meeting of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, when it was expected continued federal aid for Texas would be ordered.

Federal relief aid funds have been used by the R. F. C. for May and June, pending legislative action on the resolution.

Col. Lawrence Westbrook, state relief director, told the United Press that he anticipated communication at an early date from R. F. C. authorities releasing funds to Texas.

Since May is half gone, he said, it is probable that only half of the $1,600,000 federal aid for May will be released. Westbrook said he would discuss the June allotment, set at $1,400, in a personal visit to Washington.

The proposed bond issue calls for four-and-one-half interest bonds to be retired in ten years.

make the Secretary of the Interior virtual ruler of the industry through the power to control production. As in the case of the railroad bill and the farm measure, the actual administration probably would be delegated to an official provided for in the legislation. Secretary Ickes is known to feel it is time somebody took a hand, and a firm one, in the industry. He is known also to doubt that the producers and State officials can get much farther than the conference stage unless there is federal aid. The tentative bill contemplates fixing a daily oil quota for the country of about 2,000,000 barrels, allocated to the States on the basis of present production. Once the quotas were fixed, provisions prohibiting the interstate shipment of oil brought to the surface in violation of the State laws would be depended on to enforce them. One Measure Pending President Roosevelt already has recommended a law prohibiting the interstate shipment of the petroleum produced in violation of State laws. The measure is pending but even its sponsors admit it would not solve the problem unless each State's quota is worked out satisfactorily.

The governors' oil conference, in March, in which Secretary Ickes participated, considered asking federal control, but confined its principal recommendations to the interstate-shipment law and to requesting a federal co-ordinator. A strong independent group contended at the time that federal control of the larger companies and not control of the industry as a whole was the thing needed. Without direct White House support, there is doubt that federal control could become law in the few weeks remaining of the special session, although some believe the industry has shown conclusively it can not solve its own troubles and that this would lead to passage of the Government's supervision plan as an emergency proposal. These feel that the industries' control plan, now being framed, would not be far-reaching enough to bring order to the oil industry.

Bright Spots In Business By United Press NEW YORK (UP)—Further improvement in industrial activity of its territory was reported today by the Associated Gas & Electric system. Electricity output of the system for the week ended May 6, was 47,219,965 kilowatt hours, a gain of 7.3 per cent over the production of 43,985,480 hours in the corresponding week of 1932.

CLEVELAND—The volume of new bookings for finished steel last week was sufficiently heavy not only to lift the country's operating rate 3 points to 86 per cent of capacity, the highest since June, 1931, but also to create moderate backlogs in some products and defer deliveries, the magazine "Steel" said today. NEW YORK—Domestic cotton mill activity has made marked advances in the past few weeks and now is at the highest rate in several years, the New York Cotton Exchange service reported today. NEW YORK—Definite improvement in both wholesale sales and

WHIRLIGIG

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) a speech demanding a new deal in New York banking. Everyone knew he had his eye on Mr. Morgan when he spoke. It was shortly thereafter that Mr. Roosevelt called Chairman Fletcher of the Senate Banking and Currency committee, suggesting it would be a good time to investigate the private banking business, meaning Mr. Morgan. Until then the Morgan house had not been exactly enthusiastic about Mr. Roosevelt's administration. But, without batting an eye it immediately went Democratic. Mr. Morgan issued a public statement approving the gold embargo. A more favorable tone toward the Administration was noticeable. Later the financial grapevine reported Mr. Morgan would stand for some form of federal control over his business.

NEW YORK By James McMillin Several of the big New York banks are about ready to kick over the traces. After March 4th they were amazingly subdued and docile. They began to feel their oats once more when their lawyers made the Treasury back down on its ultimatum that they must bail out the Harrison Self-insurance has now reached the point where they are preparing to declare forcibly their independence of the government. The particular bone of contention is the deposit insurance provision of the revised Glass banking bill. At least three of the most important banks are privately talking secession from the Federal Reserve system if this provision becomes law. Officers are panting lurid pictures for their directors to show

Taxes— There was a lot of buckpassing backstages on this new taxation to meet the public works bond issue. Congressmen privately suggested that Mr. Roosevelt fix the means of raising the money. He politely invited them to do it. Finally they decided to go down to see him about it. He greeted them with that impenetrable smile. "Gentlemen," he said in effect, "that is your job and I would not deprive you of it." They went back to the bill worried. The reason is that any kind of increased taxes is bad political medicine.

Credit— There are other inner evidences that the Administration is veering around to credit inflation instead of currency inflation. A middle-of-the-road course now seems certain. However, he has the power to change it anytime he chooses and you can bet an even money bet here that the time will come within the next six months.

Kingfish— Nobody lifted an eyelash when Huey Long strolled into the Senate chamber last week with a summer linen suit on. It was pouring rain outside. Everyone else wore a topcoat. Furthermore Huey was a full month ahead of the designated season. A sensation would have been created if anyone else did that. With Huey they expect anything and are never surprised no matter what they get.

Notes— It's a government secret but the money used to care for the bonus army here this time was taken from the fund appropriated to send them home last year. The big argument used by the army men was that $25,000 had been appropriated by Congress for entertaining French war vets coming to the World Fair and they thought they should get some entertainment too. Inner dissatisfaction has been Rebellion— The incipient Wall Street rebellion against the administration is not confined to banks. The investment fraternity is seething inwardly about the securities bill which is described as "purely punitive." The general attitude is "they say they want new capital to revive business. Just let them try to get it from us." Fully half a dozen prominent investment houses are threatening to dissolve themselves if the bill becomes law. Several corporations have already taken steps to circumvent the law as applied to directors. Dummy boards will be set up to take official responsibility but the real orders will come from unofficial groups answerable to no one but themselves.

Inflation— The Federal Reserve System will start purchasing governments in the grand manner very shortly. Appointment of Eugene Black as chairman and final passage of the inflation bill have set the stage for rapid action. All of the regional banks will team up this time and the machine will function with an effectiveness that was lacking a year ago. It's a curious twist that some of the strongest opponents of inflation are clamoring loudest for the Federal Reserve to get busy. They argue that the psychological price rise won't satisfy the currency hoosters.

Problems Of Oil Industry Due To Be Subject Of Message From President Roosevelt To Congress WASHINGTON (UP)—A message outlining the somewhat chaotic situation in which the oil industry finds itself is expected to be sent to Congress by President Roosevelt within the next two weeks. Under present White House plans it will confine itself to a review of the general conditions and will not make specific recommendations, letting Congress do what it thinks best. In both Senate and House, however, there are those who believe the "only logical" answer to Mr. Roosevelt's communication will be a bill giving the Government power, and plenty of it, to regulate the business of petroleum production.

What have you learned today in the New University? Talk with almost any woman and you will find her amazingly informed on vitamins, balanced diets, refrigeration, household sanitation, labor saving, family hygiene, table and home decoration. Watch her during her day and you will find her employing this new knowledge for the improvement of living. Talk with almost any man and you'll find him technically informed about motor-cars and adding machines, aeroplanes and radios, telephones and oil burners—materials, designs, uses, processes in a dozen fields. What has happened? It seems that people know more than they used to and that they use their new-found knowledge to their comfort and happiness. Perhaps this is the explanation: There is today a New University—the University of Advertising. Its doors never close, it is open to all and the fees of admission are the daily price of a newspaper. The subjects taught are ways to make life better and more enjoyable. Eminent authorities in the various fields work with skilled writers and illustrators to prepare the daily "lessons"—the advertisements. They are admirably printed and illustrated. They are studied and applied, as needed, by the youngsters and grown-ups of all ages. What have you learned today in the New University? Study the advertisements. Useful knowledge is waiting there for you.

Business Picking Up Throughout Texas, United Press Survey Shows

By JOSEPH L. MYRER
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS (UP)—Business generally is picking up throughout Texas.
No boom is in sight, but there are many indications that new life has been injected into business and business' spirit, a United Press survey disclosed today.
In the Dallas territory a spirit of optimism prevails among retailers and wholesalers, who assert their high spirits are based upon facts and figures, not hope and fancy.
For the week ending May 11 bank clearings showed a gain of $48,174.25 over the previous week, bringing the total to $22,950,487.74.

Increased automobile registrations for the first week of May 44 per cent over those of a like period a year ago cheered the automobile trades.
Infected most with the new optimism were salesmen and sales managers. Attendants at the Southwestern Sales Managers' conference here thronged about the telephone booths calling in orders to their firms. It was reported they exchanged approximately $100,000 in orders during the one-day conference.
Large Stocks
President Clinton Lins of the Dallas Retail Merchant's association reported that members of the organization now visiting market centers of the country are laying in unusually large stocks in anticipation of increased demand.
"I have never seen such optimism," Lins said. "Retailers generally are trying to fill their shelves in advance of anticipated price advances."
President A. H. Bailey of the Dallas Wholesale Merchants' association reported similar activities and attitudes among the wholesalers. E. F. Anderson, manager of the association, said business was 10 per cent better than this time last year.
From Washington came facts and figures justifying the attitude of Dallas business men. Dallas, the Federal Reserve board records disclosed, did the best department store business of any city in the United States for April.
From Galveston and Houston came reports of increased export and shipping business.
Secretary P. A. Devine of the Galveston Cotton Exchange and Board of Trade reported gains in exports of cottonseed products, lumber, slaves and logs, rice, sulphur, asphalt and other commodities for April. Devine's report included the ports of Galveston, Houston, Corpus Christi and Texas City.
Houston became the first port in the United States to ship 2,000,000 bales of cotton during the 1932-1933 season when two ships left with 11-

For 1932, the United States department of agriculture revealed, Texas led the nation in the value of its exports, exceeding New York state by $51,539,344 with a total export valuation of $299,550,783.
Business men of San Antonio launched a 52-week "Quality Crusade" in the face of an anticipated rising market. The purpose of the crusade, in which retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers are to be enrolled, is "to make quality buying a habit with San Antonio people."
In Fort Worth building permits grew to $1,000,000 and the city was further cheered by an American Airways announcement that wages of the company's employees would be increased five per cent. The increase means approximately $1,300 will be added to the monthly payroll. The Fort Worth Packing plant followed suit with a similar wage increase, and Swift and Armour both announced 10 to 15 per cent increases in employment.
From the same city came announcement of plans to construct a brewery in time to take advantage of the anticipated legalization of 32 beer in Texas. Fred Schroeder, president of the Milwaukee Bottling Works, said according to plans the brewery building would be a three-story brick structure.
Three Fort Worth garment factories started double shifts employing 350 persons.
Texarkana joined the parade of high spirits with the announcement by M. E. Mellon, secretary of the chamber of commerce, that "it seems business is now on the upward turn." During the past week a new industry, giving employment to several Texarkans, was established, and another is seeking a site in the city.
Potter county employees received a taste of prosperity when $28,000, according to an announcement from Amarillo, became available to cover warrants issued this spring.
A new source of wealth was held before the eyes of residents of the Wichita valley when a Nebraska sugar beet raiser visited Wichita Falls. He was H. H. O'Brien, Scott's Bluff, who said he hoped to interest the Great Western Beet company in Wichita valley land.
Reports from Mount Pleasant contain unreserved optimism. Merchants and manufacturers alike point to increased business. A Stave company, a pottery factory and a milk plant are preparing for increased business. One store recently made out the biggest business report in a six-month period.
Good news of perhaps purely seasonal import include resumption of the Galveston-New York weekly sailings of the Clyde-Mallory Lines. In this class comes the announcement of the United Fruit company that it will initiate a new fast and improved intercoastal service.

Mrs. L. E. Parmley and son, Arnold, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Hendrix, left this morning for Colorado Springs, where they expect to visit until June 20 at which time they will proceed to Denver, where Mrs. Parmley will take up her studies in the University of Colorado. She will place Arnold in kindergarten. Mrs. Hendrix expects to spend the summer in Colorado returning in the fall to her home at Munroville, Ala., where her husband is engaged in the motion picture business.

Tulsa Homer In Ninth Wins Over Pirates
Kelly Slams It Over Fence For Only Run Of Contest

TULSA, Okla.—Herb Kelly, newcomer from Kansas City, put a fiction ending onto Monday night's ball game by poing a home run over the left field fence to give the Tulsa Oilers a 1 to 0 win over the Galveston Buccaneers.
Nicked only for a fluke triple in the fourth, when Darrow and Seward collided trying to get Hale's long fly to right center, Chief Kuehl Moore was going great guns and it looked like an extra inning affair until Kelly's homer.

OKLAHOMA CITY—Despite hammering Houston hurlers for 14 hits and playing errorless ball, the last place Oklahoma City Indians lost another game Monday night 5 to 4.
Matuszak and Kennedy held the Buffs to 9 hits, one a homer by Moore with none on.

DALLAS—The Dallas Steers lost their fourth consecutive ball game Monday night, dropping a series opener to Beaumont, 6 to 3, in one of the most freakish Texas league skirmishes here in many a day.
The Steers failed to get a single base knock, but the visitors were forced to use two chunkeys to keep them down. Beaumont started Joe Sullivan and relieved him after he had walked four men in the fifth inning. Ray Fritz took up the job and walked in another run, finally getting the side out and finished by allowing only two more men to reach base, both on free tickets.
The Exporters pounded out 10 safeties.

Lindstrom Leads Bucs Back To Top

Triple With Bases Loaded Helps Pittsburgh Beat Phillies

PITTSBURGH—Freddy Lindstrom's triple with the bases loaded was the spark plug of an 11-hit attack that sent the Pittsburgh Pirates bounding back into first place in the National league with a 5-4 victory over the Phillies Monday. The triumph gave the Pirates a half-game advantage over the Giants, who were idle.
Lindstrom came through with a very important hit in the second inning after three successive singles by Vaughan, Piet and Fadden had scored the Pirate shortstop. With two out Lloyd Waner drove out a one-bagger, leaving the bases loaded for Lindstrom's triple, which hit the right field wall.
An error by Virgil Davis, after Traynor had singled, paved the way for the Pirates' other run in the fourth inning.

Cain Tight In Pinches, Macks Beat Tribe 1-0

Hudlin Of Cleveland Allows Only Four Hits But Loses

PHILADELPHIA—Merritt "Sugar" Cain, rookie righthanded pitcher, was stingy with hits with men on bases Monday and the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Cleveland Indians 1 to 0 in the league leaders' one-day stand at Shibe park.
The Athletics got only four hits off Willis Hudlin as compared to the Indians' eight blows off Cain but the Mack men bunched two of their hits, one a single by Cain, with a base on balls in the fifth inning to score the only run of the game.
Twice the Tribe threatened but each time Cain pitched out of the hole.
Although defeated by a half-game over the Yankees, who were idle, Cleveland..... 000 000 000—0

Meat, Potatoes and Gravy

MANY a meal is built around these three standbys—meat, potatoes and gravy. Invariably they are the first dishes that come to your mind as you plan your dinner. But in spite of their hunger-satisfying and nourishing qualities, this time-honored triumvirate can become monotonous unless it is supplemented by other dishes. However, it is often a problem to find these "side dishes" in your own head. Of course you can quiz your neighbor, or ask the members of your family what they would like. But even this source of information is often lacking in ideas.

The thing to do is read the advertisements in your newspaper. Every day your local markets display their food-stuffs on those printed pages. You'll read of new vegetables and fruits that have "just arrived." Your appetite will be aroused by the tasty creations of national food manufacturers. With pencil and paper you can make your market list and menus before you step out of the house.

Speaking of monotony, consider this. There are 11 different cuts of beef, 9 cuts of veal, 7 of lamb, 10 of pork; there are at least 20 different breakfast cereals sold in every store, 16 different canned vegetables, 6 canned fruits, a dozen or more canned meats and fish, numberless varieties of cakes and crackers. Why should there be monotony in meals with such a variety of foods available at your store and so many of them advertised in your paper?
