

Spring Storm Ravages Area

The worst blizzard and spring snowstorm in many years plowed through the area late Friday leaving in its trail stranded motorists, many accidents, and at least two persons dead in Parmer County.

The blinding storm accompanied by a northerly wind gusting from 30-55 miles per hour struck Texico-Farwell around 4 p.m. Friday with such fury that many motorists were stranded in the Twin-Cities and on roads leading into and out of town. The highway between Texico-Farwell and Clovis was lined with stranded cars early Saturday when the sun came from behind the clouds to turn the countryside into a winter wonderland.

The driving snowstorm on Friday evening caught many area residents and travelers in the Twin Cities and left them stranded with friends and relatives overnight as they were unable to reach their homes through the storm which reduced visibility to zero. About 40 persons stayed all night in the county courthouse and many residents opened their homes to strangers for shelter for the night.

Several accidents were reported in the area and at least two persons lost their lives due to the storm.

Dead are Luis Rodriguez, Jr., age 7, and his little sister, Mickey, age 6. Their bodies were found about 8 a.m. Saturday six miles southeast of Bovina. Mickey lay in the barrow ditch beside the road; Luis Jr. was a few yards away in a wheat field.

The children had accompanied their older sister Lupe, 22, and another brother and sister, Eva, 9, and Mike, 11, to the grocery store. The storm hit and their car stalled only a few miles from their home.

Lupe took her brother Mike to go for help and told the three little ones to stay in the car. But apparently they became frightened and left the car to follow their older sister and brother. Eva reached shelter but the two younger children did not. An unused granary on the farm adjoining the farm on which the family lives offered refuge for the three older children. They are the children of Luis Rodriguez Sr., a farm laborer for R.G. Barron. Their mother has been dead for several years.

According to Sheriff Charlie Lovelace, a road grader had to plow through six miles of drifted snow to reach the children. They were taken to Parmer County Hospital in Friona. Mike was treated and released. Lupe remained in the hospital but was in satisfactory condition. Eva was in a more serious condition and will probably remain in the hospital for some time.

The bodies of the dead children were taken to a Muleshoe funeral home.

After the sun came through Saturday, traffic began moving at its usual pace and things quickly returned to normal in the area.

The storm is described as the worst spring snow storm since 1957 when Mother Nature deposited 11 inches of snow in a late March storm.

Reports indicate that one-half inch of moisture was realized from the snow and rain which fell during the storm.

HAZARDOUS DRIVING -- A pickup truck is shown trying to gain enough traction on the frozen snow after sliding into the ditch due to the icy conditions. The above scene took place Saturday morning following the raging blizzard Friday evening, in which many cars stalled and persons were stranded during the height of the storm. The county courthouse offered shelter to about 40 persons and many residents took friends and strangers into their homes for the night.

URELY PERSONAL

By John

"The Best in the West." That must be the way to describe the residents of Parmer County. Again the unexpected fury of Mother Nature interrupted the smooth tenor of our everyday lives and demonstrated the innate goodness and helpfulness of the residents of these baldies.

Last week's sudden storm was as bad as any in the memory of even the old, old timers. For several hours the fury of the wind and snow completely shut off visibility and brought auto transportation to a sudden halt. Many were the unwary travelers who had to find shelter right where they were. This sudden emergency was met by the locals in grand fashion. Our local people who had four wheel drive vehicles labored long hours rescuing the stranded and bringing them to a place of safety. Literally dozens of residents opened their doors and provided food and shelter for many a wayward traveler.

We are all deeply touched by the inevitable tragedy that accompanies such natural disasters, but we can all rejoice in the reaction of Christian compassion displayed by all concerned.

This great display of community concern makes us say again -- "Aren't you glad you live in the Twin Cities?"

Political hokum is flying thick and fast, and therefore, a forthright, unequivocal statement is as welcome as a warming breeze in the spring. Such a statement came from one of the contestants in the hot race for the United States Senate. We would like to repeat this as an example of how we think all candidates should phrase their positions. He cannot be mis-understood.

This candidate says, "I stand for peace in Southeast Asia, but when I am in the Senate, I will do everything in my power to help the President bring American involvement in this war to a conclusion."

"But I do not -- I will not... support any plan or any movement that undermines our attempts in Paris to negotiate a peace or advocates that we bug out to the ports and leave our prisoners of war behind."

"I do not -- I will not -- give aid and comfort to any group that preaches civil disobedience and defies the law and organizes violent demonstrations in the name of peaceful dissent."

"There is a national disease abroad in the land... if we won't attack it and cure it soon, this country is going to be in deep, deep trouble. I'm talking about a political philosophy that breeds disunity, disrespect for law, moral degradation and over-dependence on Washington's paternalism."

"This philosophy is fed by politicians who take a liberal view toward law enforcement, a liberal view toward dissent and order, a liberal view toward the permissive society."

You can bet your sweepbipple that it will be a long time before we see another rock festival set for this area in the last part of March. What the laws of the community could not do, the laws of Dame Nature accomplished. As a passing thought, we wondered who picked up the tab for the large collection of law officers that was assembled. It looks like sponsors of large gatherings, especially when they are staged with the prospect of vast monetary gain, should be tapped for this expense. As it is, who would not contribute a plugged nickel to such a disgrace are bagged for a tidy bit of our hard earned tax dollars to defray part of the "production" costs. Ah me, some times we think Vivian Kellums was right---

Basketball Tourney Slated

MINIATURE TORNADO --- Most of the top of the canopy around Three-D-Drive Inn was torn away, and the remainder left suspended in the air, by high gusting winds which hit during the height of the storm late Friday afternoon. Pieces of the roofing from the building were carried some four blocks away, according to employees at the business. No estimate of the damage had been made early this week.

'Our World - To Know, To Care, To Do'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written by Sheila Garner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Garner, to fulfill one requirement toward a junior degree in homemaking at Farwell High School.

By Sheila Garner

This generation has a rendezvous with destiny. It is a world in which man's power and ability seems greater and more awesome than ever before. Yet man's future is clouded with war and the capacity of human annihilation is possible. In spite of man's apparent technical and mechanical powers, his ultimate failure to solve the urgent problems of life is evident. We, as individuals, must develop our mind, body, personality, and character if we are to correct current conditions. These are a few key helps: Respect -- for God, our creator; for the parents who love and raise us; for all people without prejudice; and for the laws of the country we love, America. Be an example -- by practicing good rules of conduct and helping others with a sincere brotherly love.

Early Day FHA Creed Still Popular Today

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was borrowed from the May 1969 edition of the Texas Future Homemakers Newspaper. It was used as the creed for the Texas FHA members until they joined the National FHA organization in 1945, and it still holds a warm place in the hearts of Texas FHA girls.)

A Girl's Creed

I believe that the home is woman's natural environment. I believe that there is as much art in making a barren house into a glistening comfortable home as there is painting a picture or in writing a poem.

I believe that there is dignity and beauty in service, that as a career for women, home-making offers greater opportunity for leisure, for growth of mind and spirit, for exercise of the body, than any other occupation.

I believe that one who has the intelligence to keep her own house in order is wise enough to be a force in any community.

It is my desire to be one of the countless women of the world to make life sweeter and better because I live and do my work well.

SCS Office Personnel Tell About Establishing Pastures

Personnel at the Soil Conservation office in Friona give the following rules for establishing long-range stands of adopted species of perennial or bi-annual grasses or reseeding forage plants on lands converted to pasture from other uses. A dead litter cover or mulch is required for the seeding of grasses except where grasses are planted in rows and can be cultivated; or where grass plantings are irrigated; or when Johnsongrass is drilled after May 1.

Under irrigation and where wind erosion is a problem, a nurse or protective crop of fall or winter planted small grain sown at one half normal rate, may be grown in which grass is seeded at the regular planting time. Competition of the protective crop is eliminated by use of sweeps or leaving blank rows in the drill or row areas in which to seed the grass.

Planting method: Close space rows (24" or less) using drill or similar planting equipment at a depth of one to two and one half inches. Rows should not be spaced more than 14 inches apart for best results.

Seedbed preparation: Sweep, disc, one-way or otherwise thoroughly work the land in the spring as soon as weeds begin growth, and use any appropriate tillage methods to keep land clean thereafter until time to drill the crop for dead litter.

Drilled or broadcast planting will be required on land not suitable for cultivation. Drilled or broadcast seeded planting will be required on land with slopes in excess of one per cent where water erosion is evident and on pasture land where planting of high residue crops would be required to be drilled if in cropland.

Rhubarb Fluff Pudding

Usher in Spring with a fluffy, piquant bread pudding. "Pieplant," as rhubarb is sometimes called because it is so delicious in pies, is one of the first garden plants of the year. It is, therefore, frequently associated with the robin and the coming of Spring.

This year enjoy its fresh, invigorating springtime flavor in a bread pudding. Tart, tender, juicy rhubarb stalks are sliced and sweetly combined with cubes of enriched white bread to add snappy flavor and a beautiful pink color. Stiffly beaten egg whites folded into the mixture before baking give Rhubarb Fluff Pudding an appetizingly light, airy texture. To enjoy this dessert at its best, serve it warm from the oven handsomely decorated with a generous dollop of whipped topping or sweetened whipped cream.

Nutritionally speaking, Rhubarb Fluff Pudding is a good meal-time finale. Since it is made from enriched white bread, it supplies vital B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, plus the mineral, iron. All are nutrients needed for good daily health.

- RHUBARB FLUFF PUDDING
6 to 8 servings
- 1/4 cups milk
 - 1/2 cups light brown sugar, firmly packed
 - 3 eggs, separated
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 8 slices enriched white bread, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
 - 1 pound fresh rhubarb, cut into 1/4-inch slices (about 4 cups)
 - Whipped Topping

Blend together milk, brown sugar, egg yolks and vanilla in large mixing bowl. Mix in bread cubes until thoroughly moistened. Stir in rhubarb. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry peaks form; fold into bread mixture. Pour into greased 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Bake in preheated 350° oven 50 to 55 minutes, or until rhubarb is cooked. Serve warm with whipped topping.

Low Percentage --

Parmer Has 3405 Voters

For the 1970 election year, Parmer County has a total of 3,405 registered voters, according to figures registered by the office of County Tax Assessor-Collector Hugh Moseley with the Secretary of State.

The 3,405 figure gave Parmer a registration percentage of 78.85, according to an announcement from the State Democratic Executive Committee in Austin.

Parmer County's percentage of voter registration ranked it next to last in a group of 41 counties in the state which are similar in population.

The figures were announced as a result of a statewide project, "Operation: Everybody!", to encourage voter registration by setting a quota for each county, based on the estimated number of persons 21 or older. Counties were grouped by size into 10 categories.

Top county in Parmer's group was Burnet, in central Texas, which had a percentage of 148.21.

Extend County Grazing Deadline

Grazing of diverted acreage on farms in Parmer County has been extended to May 14, according to an announcement from Prentice Mills, manager of the Parmer County ASCS.

Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Joe McWilliams on a fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rose, Jr. and children, Gail, Jack and Charlie, spent the Easter holiday visiting Mrs. Rose's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Barnes, at LeHigh, Okla. In the absence of Claude Rose, Jr. his father, Claude Rose, Sr. from Ruidoso, filled in as pharmacist at Rose Drug.

Prior to the change May 1 was the deadline for grazing diverted acres.

In the latest newsletter from the ASCS office, it is explained that small grain crops on diverted acres must be grazed down by May 1 to the extent that they cannot mature any grain on the land.

Rumors that the grazing time would be extended for two weeks had prevailed for the past several weeks. The official announcement, however, came only recently.

The additional two-week extension is expected to be beneficial to livestock producers.

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Chris Moss

Mrs. Louise Green finds homemaking a full-time job as she spends much time working with her sons on their various projects. Knowing that the boys will be hungry when they arrive home she begins preparations for making the Banana Nut Bread of which the entire family is so fond.

Life is full and rewarding for Mrs. Louise Green. She serves as a leader for the Lucky Clover 4-H Club in Farwell and assists club members, both boys and girls, in whatever way necessary. Since all of her children are boys and they raise livestock as projects she is especially interested in the stock shows and other events connected with animals.

Louise was born at Grady, N.M., but moved with her parents to the Muleshoe area when she was an elementary school student. She attended Progress School, near Muleshoe, and graduated from the eighth grade at Progress. She later attended Muleshoe High School. When she was a junior in high school she married Doyle Green and her formal education stopped. However, last year she decided to complete her high school education, and took the GED tests and received a high school diploma, a feat she is proud to have accomplished. She encourages other persons who have not completed their high school studies to get a diploma in this manner.

The Greens are members of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church and in the past Louise has served as sponsor of the junior high Methodist Youth Fellowship and is active in other church functions. She serves as a leader for the Lucky Clover 4-H Club in Farwell and assists club members, both boys and girls, in whatever way necessary. Since all of her children are boys and they raise livestock as projects she is especially interested in the stock shows and other events connected with animals.

She is an accomplished musician and at one time served as pianist at the Muleshoe Methodist Church. The family moved to Farwell some seven years ago, and three years ago they built a new home two and one-half miles from town on the Amarillo highway. Louise assisted in drawing the plans for the three-bedroom house and in making drapes for the entire house. She has also spent some time refinishing furniture for the home and in other ways making it a more inviting and livable place in which to rear a family.

Each summer the family raises vegetables for their own use and to sell to area residents for canning and freezing purposes. Louise cans and freezes many jars and packages of fruit and vegetables for her family each summer in addition to assisting with the growing and sale of the food to other area residents.

Louise and her husband, Doyle, are parents of four sons, Darwin, a junior at Farwell High School; Gary, a seventh grade student; Dwight, a sixth grade student; and Brent, a first grader. Naturally, the Greens are sports enthusiasts since their older boys participate in athletics at the Farwell School.

However, Louise lists as her favorite hobby that of cooking. Some of her favorite recipes are Banana Nut bread, Sweetheart Pie and Buttermilk rolls. The rolls, when served with butter and preserves or jelly, make a meal "fit for a king" according to Louise and others who have tasted the delectable rolls. Louise is generous enough to share the recipes for these three special foods with our readers.

BANANA NUT BREAD
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup mashed bananas
1/4 cup buttermilk
1 cup pecans (chopped)
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda

Cream shortening, blend in sugar, add eggs and mix well; mash bananas and add to first mixture, blending well; add dry ingredients alternately with milk and finally add the nuts. Pour into well greased loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

SWEETHEART PIE
One baked pie shell
sweetened meringue for one pie
1 layer sliced bananas
1/2 pint sweetened and whipped cream

1 small can pineapple
Make meringue and pour into baked pie shell, place in oven and bake until the meringue is a light golden brown. Remove from oven and allow to cool; cover meringue with layer of sliced bananas, mix pineapple with whipped cream and pour over bananas in pie shell. Place in refrigerator and allow to chill for several hours before serving. Makes enough for six people.

BUTTERMILK ROLLS
2 yeast cakes (or two packages of dry yeast) soak yeast in 1/2 cup lukewarm water until dissolved.

Add in following order:
1 cup scalded buttermilk
1/4 cup shortening
1 teaspoon soda
2 eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
Add enough flour to make soft dough; knead lightly and let rise; roll to one inch thick and cut with biscuit cutter. Place in well greased pan and allow to rise at room temperature until double in height. Place in hot oven and cook until golden brown. Remove from oven and brush top lightly with melted butter. Serve while hot.

NEW METHOD OF IMPROVING TENDERNESS

Changing the method of hanging a beef carcass may be the answer to consumer's demands for tenderness in high quality cuts of meats.

Meat scientists at Texas A&M University are currently investigating a method of hanging sides of beef by the Aitch bone, a bone in the hip, in an effort to reduce variations in the palatability of the same cuts from different animals.

"Essentially what we are trying to do is to get the carcass into a more normal position, with the legs perpendicular to the backbone, while it is being chilled and going into a rigor," according to R. L. Hostetler, assistant professor in the Animal Science Department. "This can be done by suspending the carcass from a hook placed through the Aitch bone instead of suspending it in the normal manner by placing the hook through the Achilles' tendon."

When rigor sets in, the sarcomeres, or what might be considered the building blocks of the muscles, tend to shorten, Hostetler said.

"It has been observed that some of the more tender muscles have fibers with longer sarcomeres," he explained. "When we hang an animal by the experimental method, the muscles in the higher quality areas of the hind leg, or round, are not allowed to decrease in tenderness by shortening."

The spine is also kept straight when the carcass is hung by the Aitch bone, Hostetler said, explaining that this also tended to stretch the large muscle in the loin area instead of allowing it to contract.

Cuts such as the T-bone steak, Porterhouse steak and filet mignon are all from the loin area.

"Hanging carcasses by the Aitch bone tends to reduce the variation in tenderness of like cuts from different animals," Hostetler said. "The increase in tenderness is more marked in carcasses which would be tough when hung by the conventional method than in carcasses which would be tender no matter how they were suspended."

As much as 20 per cent to 30 per cent increase in tenderness of the ribeye has been found in some carcasses suspended by the Aitch bone when compared to cuts from sides hung in the conventional manner.

TEXAS A&M SWINE SHORT COURSE
Approximately 300 Texas swine producers and others interested in the dynamic, rapidly changing swine industry are expected to attend the Nineteenth Annual Swine Short Course at Texas A&M University on April 6-7. National and state authorities will discuss subjects pertaining to all phases of swine production.

Individuals from Parmer County who are interested in pork production should make plans now to attend this meeting and hear subjects discussed pertaining to modern production methods, disease problems and control, water pollution, nutrition and the effect of the environment and its control on production. Those attending the meeting will have an opportunity to meet with the speakers between sessions to discuss specific production problems.

Out-of-state speakers include Dr. H. W. Dunne, internationally known professor of veterinary science, Pennsylvania State University, and Gerald Gehlbach, commercial swine production, Lincoln, Ill.

CALM AFTER THE STORM -- Serenity prevails Saturday morning following the blinding blizzard Friday evening. The driving winds during the storm piled drifts in many areas while other areas were swept almost clear. Oldtimers indicate that it has been many years since they have seen a storm of such intensity in this locality.

Crop Meeting --

Emphasis On Weeds, Insects, Irrigation

Thursday, April 2, at 7:30 p.m. at Friona School Cafeteria, the Parmer County Crops Committee and Parmer County Extension Service are sponsoring a crop production meeting, according to County Agent Ronny McNutt.

Three important cultural practices, "Irrigation, weed control and insect control," will be discussed. The best utilization of these three production factors often determines how much net profit a farmer receives at the year's end, says McNutt.

Discussing the subject of "Irrigation Practices" will be Leon New, irrigation specialist from Lubbock. He will give the results of a corn irrigation study conducted in Parmer County. In addition, he will present the results of two grain sorghum irrigation tests and two wheat irrigation tests which have been conducted in the county.

Dr. Allen Wiese, USDA Experiment Station researcher from Bushland, will discuss how to control weeds in major crops grown in Parmer County.

Control of insects affecting major crops in Parmer County will be discussed by Dr. Bill Clymer, Extension Service entomologist from Lubbock. All persons interested in hearing these discussions are encouraged to attend the meeting.

Seminar To Deal With Family Living, Youth

A seminar focusing on family life and youth is slated for Wednesday, April 8, at the Holiday Inn West in Amarillo, announces County Extension Agent Janice Miller.

Theme of the seminar is "Today's Youth -- Tomorrow's Family."

The seminar is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the PEP (Panhandle Economic Program) Family Living -- Youth Task Force, one of the five task forces designed to provide overall direction to PEP in its effort to bolster the social and economic development of the Panhandle.

Registration for the seminar will begin at 9 a.m., according to Miss Miller. The program will get underway at 9:30 a.m. with Ed McLeroy of Dimmitt, task for co-chairman, presiding.

An introduction to the program will be given by W. W. Grisham, Jr. of Amarillo, Extension district agricultural agent and PEP coordinator, followed by a welcome address by Leo Forrest of Amarillo, PEP chairman.

Featured at the morning session will be discussions on "How the Family Evolved" by Dr. Jack Hughes, professor of anthropology, West Texas State University, and "The Family Faces Change -- Family Life by the Year 2000" by Dr. L. S. Pope, associate dean of agriculture, Texas A&M University. The session will be rounded out by a panel of 4-H club members directed by Ronnie Roberts of Amarillo, assistant county agricultural agent for Potter County. Their discussion will be "Youth Informs Parents about Drug Abuse."

Tentative arrangements have been made for Mrs. Jane Jayroe Petersen, Miss America of 1967, to speak at the noon luncheon, adds Miss Miller. Her topic will be "Family Values Are Guiding to the Stars."

Presiding at the luncheon and during the afternoon session will be Troy Chisum of Dalhart.

The afternoon program will feature another slate of noted speakers. "Directing Youth through Organizations" will be discussed by Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, dean of home economics of Texas Tech University, will talk on "The Family's Role in Helping Youth Achieve Self Actualization."

Another highlight during the session will be a panel discussion on "Career Opportunities for Youth" featuring Hutchison, Pope, Dr. Tinsley, Mrs. Petersen and Miss Jane Fleischer, Extension family life education specialist at Texas A&M. Jack Tompkins of Amarillo, farm news director for KVII-TV, will moderate the panel.

The program will be concluded by comments from Mrs. Sue Farris, Extension district home demonstration agent and advisor to the PEP Family Living -- Youth Task Force. She will project some views on "Taking the Seminar Back Home."

Miss Miller, encourages everyone in the county to make plans to attend the seminar. The program will feature topics that are of vital concern throughout the nation today, and these should attract wide spread interest in the county and the entire Panhandle area.

At Home In Parmer County

By Janice Miller
County HD Agent

If you like to serve meat stews for some of your meals, choose vegetables that complement the meat flavor. Beef combines well with carrots, potatoes, turnips, onions, celery, tomatoes and green peppers.

Why not enhance your stew with special seasonings? For beef use whole cloves, bay leaves, parsley, mustard, paprika or garlic. For veal and lamb use capers, curry powder, parsley, bay leaves or peppercorns. For poultry use savory, marjoram, curry powder or paprika.

Lamb and veal take to green lima beans, corn, potatoes, celery, onions, peas, cut green beans and mushrooms. Chicken, with its milder flavor, goes best with peas, potatoes, celery, green peppers and carrots.

While planning your meals, consider the April plentiful foods list from USDA. Honey is the feature food with dry beans, eggs, peanut and peanut products, canned peaches, canned tomatoes and tomato products and canned and frozen sweet corn completing the list. If your family likes corn, here are some ways to add variety to your meals.

Stir grated sharp cheese into heated cream style corn, garnish with sliced ripe olives. For a quick corn-cheese soup, use condensed cheddar cheese and dilute with equal parts canned cream style corn and milk. Heat and serve with crisp corn chip garnish.

Corn-egg scramble is a delicious dish. Add cream style corn to well beaten eggs, season with salt and pepper. Cook slowly in hot fat until set as desired. Serve with fried ham slices.

Add flavor interest to canned corn with a dozen seasonings--used individually or in combinations: celery salt, onion salt, garlic salt, chili sauce, chili powder, paprika, nutmeg, marjoram, thyme, dried sage, instant onion or freshly grated black pepper.
