

PARMER COUNTY FARMERS

By GARLON A. HARPER,
Secretary Parmer County ACA

(Note: This is the fourth of a series of articles in regard to outstanding farmers of Parmer County. Throughout the articles an attempt will be made to choose representative farmers from all sections of the county.)

BERNARD ROBERSON

For a long time agricultural leaders have been trying to show farmers that a diversification of farming interests would prove profitable to the farmer. Many farmers of Parmer county are finding that the government's help in carrying out a diversified system of farming through the AAA and the Extension Service has enabled them to shift some of the "one crop" land to other uses which will allow a more profitable use of the diversified system of farming. One of these farmers who have tried to cooperate with the plan of the AAA and Extension Service is Bernard Roberson of the Black community.

Bernard farms both as a tenant and as an owner-operator and knows the problems of the tenant farmer and the land owner. Bernard's farming operations cover approximately 1200 acres of cropland. On this land he plants approximately 450 acres of wheat, quite a lot of grain sorghums, and some sudan for seed. On the remainder of the cropland he plants sudan for pasture and summerfallow land for wheat the following year.

Bernard says that by following the compliance program of the AAA, he is able to take this land out of a cash crop and prepare the land better for wheat as well as to provide pasture for his herd of purebred Hereford cows. In this way he is able to plan a program which will allow him to avoid a top heavy load of one crop system of farming, help reduce crop surpluses which would hurt the national price of wheat, and to carry out good farming practices which would not otherwise be possible.

Bernard likes to talk about his herd of registered Hereford cows. He says that these cows assure him of some income each year, regardless of the wheat crop production or price. He has recently become an irrigation farmer and is very interested in trying out this system of farming. In his characteristic cautious manner, he is trying irrigation farming on only a part of his farming land at the present. If this works out like he thinks it will, he plans to put down other wells and carry out a more intensified system of farming. He believes that this irrigation will allow him to produce more wheat on less land and thereby leave more land for raising feed and pasture for his cows. Bernard is highly in favor of anything which will take a part of the gambling out of West Texas farming.

Bernard believes that any farm organization will benefit the farming class of people as well as the people of the country as a whole. He is a member of the Parmer County Land Use Planning Committee and takes a very active part in the work of the organization. Among the other work he does may well be included the help he gives his local AAA committeeman in trying to more successfully

Fruit Has Narrow Escape From Frost

The fruit crop of this region had a narrow escape from being literally nipped in the bud, Monday night, when the mercury took a nose dive to hit a reading of 36 degrees.

The low reading was recorded at the Santa Fe passenger station at 4 a. m., Tuesday.

During the day the mercury began to climb, but continued to remain just above the 40-mark.

Practically all of the fruit trees in this section have passed the blooming period, and some fruit, especially peaches, is already in evidence.

Truck License Plates Must Be On April 28

Tax Collector Earl Booth has been advised that the deadline for securing 1941 license plates for commercial trucks has been extended to April 28.

The tax limit, which had been originally set for April 15, has been extended, since so many tax collectors in the state had not received information regarding charges on truck collections at the expiration date.

All truck owners operating commercial trucks in Parmer county must equip their trucks with 1941 license plates before midnight April 28. Furthermore, attaches at the collector's office advised that it was unlawful for a Parmer county resident to procure plates in another county.

carry out the AAA program. Recently when his local committeeman asked for volunteers to help sign up AAA Farm Plan Sheets, Bernard was one of the first to offer his help and time in seeing that his neighbor farmers understood the farm program better and benefitted more from the available assistance of the farm program on their individual farms.

Of Interest to Farmers

By Garlon A. Harper, Sec'y Parmer County AAA

We were extremely well pleased with the interest which was recently shown by farmers of the county in executing 1941 Farm Plan Sheets. In the community sign-up over 75% of the plans were signed up by the farmers. This was a much higher percentage than we have been able to get on any other work at the first call. The credit for this good work should go to the local committeemen and those farmers who took an interest in the work and volunteered to assist the committeemen in helping each farmer to complete the farm plan and to study the provisions of the program at the local meeting.

Those farmers who have not executed a farm plan should come to the county office and fill out this plan at the first opportunity. The majority of those farmers who have executed the plan are well pleased with the information furnished in the plan and we certainly believe that those farmers who do not fill out this plan will be missing a very important part of their planning in connection with the farm program for 1941.

We should especially like to call attention to the Intention Sheet for 1941 cotton planting in connection with the Supplementary Cotton Program and cotton stamps. This sheet must be signed and filed with the county office if the farm is to be eligible to receive the stamps for additional cotton reduction. Those farmers who have filled out the Farm Plan Sheet have already filed their intention to comply with the Supplementary Cotton Program if they did intend to comply with that phase of the program.

Aged Parmer County Citizen Passes Away

Parmer county citizens gathered at the Methodist church in Bovina, Sunday afternoon, to pay their last respects to one of the county's oldest citizens, C. C. Norton, 84, who died at the Clovis Memorial hospital, early Saturday morning.

Funeral services were conducted by J. T. Clinton, Baptist minister of Lubbock, whose acquaintance with the deceased dated back over a period of 43 years. He was assisted by Rev. J. N. Hester, Methodist pastor of Bovina. Under the direction of the A. W. Johnson Mortuary, the remains were laid to rest in the Bovina cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton, with their family, came to Parmer county in 1920, and located on a farm five miles north of this city, where they have lived since that time. They were married 54 years ago in Upshur county, Texas.

He leaves to mourn his passing his widow, who is now in her 80th year; three sons, C. A. Norton and Mercer Norton of Bovina, Lester Norton, Farwell; three daughters, Mrs. Montie Clinton, Farwell, Mrs. Roy Hawkins, Bovina, and Mrs. Willie Hammonds, Farwell.

Other survivors include thirty grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Roberts Prepares To Occupy New Quarters

Paul Roberts, of the Roberts Food Store, this week was rushing final preparations to occupy his new building on Main street in Texico, which has been under construction for the past several weeks.

He has set Monday, April 28th, as the day which will see him located in his new quarters, barring further delays. Most of the work on the building proper was completed the first of the week and Mr. Roberts stated early this week that he planned to complete the installation of the fixtures during the remaining days of the present week.

Under his present plan, the 100-box food locker plant, which will be operated in connection with the business, will be delayed a few days yet. "We can work on that part of the building after we get our stock moved," Roberts said.

Living quarters, which will occupy the second floor of the new building, will also be finished at a later date, he said.

Singers From Four Counties Meet Here

Preparations were being completed this week for the entertainment of the hundreds of visitors who are expected to come here on Sunday, April 27, to attend the annual meeting of the State Line Singing Convention.

The singers will gather at the Farwell high school auditorium at 10 a. m., and will spend the remainder of the day. A crowd of at least 2,000 visitors is expected if the weather is favorable.

County Judge Lee Thompson, who is secretary of the Association, stated today that a well-arranged program had been worked out, and that many of the best singers in this part of Texas and New Mexico were expected to be in attendance.

The State Line Convention embraces four counties—Parmer and Bailey in Texas, and Curry and Roosevelt in New Mexico.

Medal Given Parmer 4-H Boy Accountant

4-H accounting work in Parmer county has been recognized nationally through an award received by County Agent Jason O. Gordon, from the state club leader's office.

It is a 10-karat gold medal and will be presented to Sam Austin Young, 18 years old, of the Oklahoma Lane Senior boys' club, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Young of the Oklahoma Lane community. The medal is rectangular in shape and has embossed figures of the 4-H clover, account book, pens and a bottle of ink on the face.

Austin has been a member of the Oklahoma Lane 4-H club for four years, and has completed three years in the farm accounting demonstration, according to Agent Gordon, and has received considerable recognition in this line of 4-H work.

Thirty-two top scoring county winners of the nation will be awarded trips to the National 4-H Club Congress, also provided by the International Harvester company. Ten trips are apportioned between the three phases of the contest, with winners to be named about May 1st, which includes farm accounting, home accounting and crop records. Twelve trip winners in farm and home accounting phases will receive grand prizes of $200 college scholarships each.

Cutworms Prevalent In Parmer Co. Wheat

First report of cutworm damage of the current season was brought to the office of County Agent Jason O. Gordon the past weekend, by Olan Schleuter, prominent Parmer county farmer.

Schleuter reported that several patches in his wheat bore the appearance of having been blown out by the wind, but on close inspection, it was discovered that the ravaging cutworm was present, and doing up his job in good style.

Control of these pests is one of the most difficult in the business of wheat raising, officials indicated, due to the fact that the insects do not care for most poison washes, and are, therefore, hard to eradicate once they infest a field.

Asked as to the manner the cutworms used in stripping a field, the agent said that the methods of different species varied. At times, they seem to band together and consistently work through a field, while on other occasions they attack scattered spots.

All persons of the county who have noticed sickly looking spots in their wheat are urged to make a check-up, as it may actually be cutworm damage.

Further information on the pests is given in Gordon's column, "Looking to the Future," in this issue of The Tribune.

Defense Project Is Praised By Officials

Frank E. Wimberley, state supervisor of vocational agriculture in New Mexico, and Elmer Johnson, of Washington, D. C., were visitors in Texico, Monday, where they inspected the defense project now being conducted by the local school.

Local supervisor L. A. McCasland stated that the visitors informed him the two welding classes held locally were among the best organized and operating in the state, and highly complimented the local boys.

At present, two classes are being held, one in the day and the other at night, in order to accommodate the 19 boys signed up. All types of welding are being studied, under the direction of Ed Blain.

Since these classes are to run 12 weeks each, McCasland said that one project would continue for another eight weeks, while the second group had nine weeks yet to go.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martin, of the Lariat community, announce the arrival of Jimmie Ray, at the Clovis Memorial Hospital on Monday, April 21st. Mother and son are doing nicely.

Parmer Track, Field Stars to State Meet

Four Parmer county track and field stars, one from Lazbuddy, one from Bovina, and two from Farwell, will leave the middle of next week for Austin, to enter the annual state high school meet.

In district and regional meets, these four boys have consistently shown their superiority over the other contestants, making them eligible to participate in the state meet, which is limited to first, second, and third place men in the regional activities.

Two of the entrants, Roberts of Bovina, and Brown of Lazbuddy, were first place men at the regional meet last week. Roberts broke the tape in the 880-yard run, while Brown high-jumped six feet for top honors.

Two volunteers—Alden Francis Henderson and Gordon Cortez Billington—will report to the office of the Parmer County Selective Service board on May 5 to fill call No. 12, it was announced here today by Tulon G. White, clerk of the local board.

White said that these two registrants had declared their intention of volunteer induction some weeks ago and had been standing by awaiting a call before they could be sent to the induction station at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Should either, or both, of these men fail to pass the final physical examination at the induction station, White said that the next men in order were William Monroe Herod, order No. 151, and Edgar Charles Zwick, order No. 178, who will be drafted to fill the vacancies. They will be required to report immediately, allowing for the regulatory five-day notice.

White announced a meeting of the local board on Friday afternoon of this week for the purpose of giving final classification to the ten registrants who were given their physical examination by Dr. V. Scott Johnson on April 15.

With the induction of Henderson and Billington, Parmer county will have contributed 25 men to the armed forces through the Selective Service board, Clerk White stated.

Those taking part will be: Mary Agnes Ross, Nedda Nittler, Paul Smith, Wanda Wilson, Dena Fern King, Fay Dell McCuan, Donna La Vonne Smith, and Pat Norton. Billie Parker, vocalist, will sing, and Boyd Gregory, of Bovina, will announce the program.

KICA has donated the time to the Boy Scouts of Bovina, who have sold advertising to various business firms, to raise money for their uniform fund.

The Bovina Chamber of Commerce urges all those interested to tune in to KICA, Thursday afternoon.

A new seed cleaner is being installed at the Henderson elevator in Farwell this week. This will make two cleaning machines being operated in connection with the business.

Deadline Nears on Applications for Tenant-Purchase Farm Loans

LEASES STATION

L. H. (Buck) Bradshaw has leased the retail station of the Cosden Oil company in Farwell, which has been operated by Joe Borden for the past several months. At present Mr. Borden will continue as wholesale agent for the Cosden Company, it was announced.

Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Sloan and family were Portales visitors, Sunday, where Rev. Sloan acted as visiting minister.

Frank Seale, supervisor of the Parmer county agency of the Farm Security Administration, sponsors of the Tenant-Purchase program, today warned that the deadline for making applications under the 1941 T-P program was fast approaching.

April 30th has been set as the final date on which applications may be made to the local office for purchase of farms under the program, Seale went on to say, and up to the first of this week, only an exceedingly small number had been recorded. This program is open to tenants and sharecroppers, and is promoted for the benefit of those who wish to own and operate their own land, but are financially unable to do so, the supervisor indicated, in urging that persons eligible to make application do so at their earliest convenience.

Since no county is allotted a definite number of farm purchases in the 1941 program, it will be a case of first come, first served, and the local office is working toward having a number of applications ready to submit to the district office by the 1st of June.

Elton Vaughan was born July 19, 1922. He started his school career at Fairfield in 1928. When Elton was in the fifth he started to school at Texico, where he is hoping to finish this year.
 He is Vice President of the FFA organization this year. In past years he has also been the historian for the FFA organization. He has taken Agriculture for four years and has also been an active member in the agriculture class for four years. He has been participating in athletics for three years.

Elton had a very important part in both the Junior and Senior plays.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The sophomores were asked to vote and elect an all-around student from their class for senior Stunt Night. They were Pearl Martin, Foster Phillips, and Billie Thompson. Of these, Pearl Martin was elected. After our election we discussed a stunt for the program Tuesday night.

HOME EC. CLUB NEWS

We have finished our dressy dresses and all received good grades. They were all different colors, black, navy blue, white, and pink.

We have started the next unit, which is "Making our homes more liveable" or "Decoration of Homes." We are having to prepare a notebook of a home. We have to get a picture of every piece of furniture in every room. We are having to draw a floor plan of the whole house. We are also having to collect period furniture, such as Queen Anne, William and Mary, hepplewaite, modernized, and many others. We have already had many interesting reports on different things, such as china ware, silverware, and others.

The first and second year girls cooked and served a banquet to the coaches, April 11. There were thirteen present, and it did not seem like we were having to work at all. It was fun to serve that many after serving several banquets with 50 and 60 present.

We had planned to have our camp supper and line party April 15, but the agriculture boys had a hay ride on that night, so we changed our date to April 21.

April 16, Miss Berry left right after four o'clock to go to Bovina to judge dresses. She was one of the four judges. The highest three of dresses and tests over other units get to go to San Antonio to the state rally. She said there were some very pretty dresses, but she did not consider their dresses any better than ours. After judging the dresses they had a tea.

Miss Berry has been asked to be a judge at Farwell, and Mr. Hartley has given her the privilege to go. She said she would like to take her two Home Ec classes. We hope Miss Walker, from Farwell, will permit us to see their style show. That is to be today (Wednesday), at 2:30.

SECOND AND THIRD

We have been studying stories of progress. The first one is about light. We have learned how the system of lighting has improved through the years. Many interesting posters have been made telling the story of light.

Hettye Nann Randol was chosen outstanding student in the third grade, and W. O. Reed in the second grade. These two were chosen by their classmates.

FIFTH GRADE NEWS

We have started on our play for the last of school program. The name is "In the Florists Windows."

Tuesday we picked the best all-around student in the room. Then we picked one for the fifth grade. We picked Alta Faye Martin for the 4th and Margie Nell Murphy for the 5th.

We have two new students in the fifth grade.

We have just finished our history. We are about half through with our geography. We finished our reader Tuesday. We are now reading "The Road to Safety."

Thursday night we skated in the gym. We have every Thursday night for skating now.

We lack one unit in our speller and six units in our English.

EASTER PARTY HELD

The First Grade pupils were guests of the Second and Third grades for an Easter tea party on Friday before Easter. Cake and punch were served and games were played.

After the party, the three grades enjoyed an Easter egg hunt, and we think the First Grade found plenty of eggs.

Now that Easter is over we have settled down to the business of getting our school program all ready for the closing of school.

We have had many of our boys and girls out with the chicken pox, but almost all are now back in school. We are glad to have them back and hope that all can come for the remainder of the school year.

SEVENTH GRADE

The seventh grade is very glad the exams are over. We have five on the honor roll this six weeks. They are: Alice Ruth Thompson, Belvin Freeman, Tommie Randol, Carl Miller and Billy Joe Johnson.

SIXTH GRADE

The sixth grade is studying science and like it very much. In arithmetic, we are learning about percentage.

In art, Mildred Murphy has finished her pictorial map of New Mexico. The girls in art have made some posters, advertising senior stunt night.

We have started playing baseball and like it very much.

We have begun practice on our last of school play.

PLEASANT HILL

The community extends its sympathy to Mrs. Hays, whose husband passed away last week. Funeral services were held at Spearman, Texas. Mrs. Gene Gooch spent a few days in Amarillo, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ellison entertained a number of their friends at a fish fry, last Wednesday night.

Mrs. Mary Ballow and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smoke, Mrs. Barnes, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartzog took dinner with Mrs. Minnie Curtis, last Wednesday.

Mr. McBride was called to Kansas because of the death of his father. All of his friends extend to him their sympathy.

Mac Goodman is reported as improving in health and strength.

Alton Green, who has been confined to his home with scarlet fever, is not getting along so well. We hope his condition will soon improve.

Mrs. Jewel Colwell was called to the bedside of her mother, who had sustained an emergency operation. She went to her last Thursday evening.

Ero. Greggs, from Electra, Texas, who held the meeting, certainly delivered some wonderful messages.

Turkey eggs should be gathered at least twice a day, and three or four times a day is better.

Crop Insurance Adjustments Start

COLLEGE STATION—Crop insurance adjusters have begun inspection of acreage insured under the 1941 Federal Crop Insurance Program where farmers have reported complete or nearly complete loss of their crops.

First insured producer in Texas to sign a statement in proof of loss was J. E. Griffin, Carson County wheat grower, according to E. R. Duke, state crop insurance supervisor in Amarillo. To date, only a few loss claims have been made, the supervisor said.

Practically all total losses reported have been in the Panhandle counties bordering on New Mexico, Duke said. Severe damage by wind erosion was the principal cause of loss.

Farmers whose insured wheat fields have been so severely damaged as to make it desirable to make other use of the land are notifying their county AAA committees, the supervisor pointed out. If inspection shows that a total or substantially total loss has been sustained on all the planted acres on the farm, the farm will be indemnified promptly after approval by the corporation of his statement in proof of loss. No loss claims have been paid in Texas to date.

TRAVEL EXPERT FINDS FIVE MILLION TOURISTS VISITED TEXAS IN 1940

At least 5,265,570 tourists visited in Texas last year, and spent $306,264,265.00, according to an estimate which has just been released by Phillip Fuller, director of the Conoco Travel Bureau, the largest free service organization for motorists in the country.

Fuller's estimates are based on all tourist information obtainable—traffic flow data, counts made by state highway controls, statistics obtained from managers of private tourist attractions, and from toll bridge records, and from various other sources, including the Bureau's own records of travel information furnished through Conoco stations where Tour-rides are available.

Records of the Conoco Travel Bureau, broken down by state regions, show that the Bureau itself directed 73,985 tourist parties, or 258,948 individual tourists, into and through the Panhandle; 42,434 parties, or 148,519 individuals, into and through the southwest corner of the state; 36,360 parties, or 127,260 persons, into and through the Gulf Coast region; 52,090 groups, or 182,210 tourists into and through East Texas; and 51,990 parties, or 181,965 persons, into and through Central Texas.

Fuller's investigations over the entire country show that motor travel throughout the United States showed an increase of 6.82 per cent last year. The greater portion of this increase, Fuller indicated, was brought about by Mr. Average American making his vacation a motor trip. The wealthy group of travelers added materially more than their usual amount to the total tourist travel by staying away from war-torn Europe and doing their traveling in this country, a fact definitely indicated by an increase in the business done by the higher-priced recreational establishments throughout the country.

Busy Days

Five busy days lecturing to the Pilgrim Mothers of New England. Took the Yankee Clipper from Manhattan on a 270-minute, 250-mile trip to Boston.

Spent my only free afternoon in Boston at Gertrude Lawrence's grand show, "Lady in the Dark." It is a series of exotic tableaux switched around the stage on four separate turn-tables. Concerns the antics of a fashion magazine editor who gets psychoanalyzed, and it is veritably a one-woman show as Miss Lawrence does everything from soup to nuts—making one transformation after another with lightning-like speed. She is ably supported by handsome young Victor Mature loaned by Hollywood, and the "Ohs" and "Ahs" from the 95 per cent female audience the afternoon I attended were evidence that this show has all the makings of a tremendous Broadway success.

Natalie Schafer is excellent, too. Virginia Peine whom I hadn't seen since we dined together in London just prior to the coronation of George VI, is a thrill for the younger male generation. Bert Lytell with mustache and graying hair is dignity itself. The lyrics are by Ira Gershwin; the music by Kurt Weill; Sam Harris presents it; and Moss Hart does the rest.

My old friend, Jack Potter is managing the production. He is the brother-in-law of Frank Polk, who was for some time U. S. secretary of state under Woodrow Wilson. Jack has managed Gertrude Lawrence for several years. Prior to that he handled Gladys Swarthout and Fred Stone. He is a conscientious fellow with a heart as big as all creation. No wonder La Lawrence has been so successful in these, her later years.

Dined with Johnnie and Ann Roosevelt in their delightful Beacon street apartment. Afterwards to chat of this and that. Johnnie had just been made an ensign in the U. S. navy reserve and was enthusiastic but I don't think Ann joined him.

Back to New York to dine at "La Cremaillere" with the Abe Bienstocks. Best hors d'oeuvres in town and with Hermitage 1929 Rhine wine! After the theater we dropped in to "21"—which is not on my regular beat.

Suppered with Ann Weston in the Empire room at the Waldorf Astoria. Eddie Duchin was knocking them dead. His clever Mexican dance team left next morn for Hollywood. They are the most original yet seen here or there.

Took the Spirit of St. Louis for a fast trip to the Middle West. Talked before the student body of Park's college at Parkville, Mo., from the pulpit of the Presbyterian chapel. In the pews were nearly 600 youngsters who have worked their way through this very fine institution. After I was through they bunched around asking questions.

Many of the youngsters come from China, Japan, 17 South American countries and all over Europe. One of them was John J. Karakash, born in Istanbul, Turkey, of Grecian parents. He received a scholarship there in 1935 to Duke university in North Carolina. Upon his graduation from Duke in 1937 he received a graduate fellowship at the University of Pennsylvania, where he obtained his masters degree in electrical engineering. He then served as instructor in this, while pursuing graduate work in physical education. He is now teaching mathematical physics at Park! During his student life at Istanbul, Karakash won the National Crown of Turkey four consecutive years in javelin throwing, in 1936 he captured the Balkan Olympic title, and in 1937 won the Southern Conference title in Durham, N. C.

Back in Kansas City dropped in to see my old friend, Ben Hurst, the Midwest's most famed pawnbroker. He is the third generation of his family in this business and has three sons and two daughters in it too. Is known all through the section for his philanthropies. Since the advent of the New Deal he says there has been much less suffering and privation among the poor in his part of the country. Formerly, at holiday times, Hurst used to give away five or six thousand overcoats and other garments. This year there were less than one thousand applicants. He is strong for helping England all we can and believes we all ought to back up President Roosevelt a whole lot more than we are already doing.

His son Irvin operates his own pawn shop along 20th Century lines handling only jewelry, luggage and cameras. In answer to my question as to what type of people borrow most regularly the young man replied, "railroaders." They hock their watches from time to time.

Most of the borrowers go to pawn shops for honest purposes, he thinks. The police keep a close track on the pawn shops in Kansas City today and there are no known "fences" at the present moment.

Few people give phony names.

BAKED BEANS—AN AMERICAN TRADITION!
(See Recipe Below)

CHURCH SUPPER THOUGHTS

Cock a weather eye at the next social event on your list. 'Tis a church supper, you say? Mmmm . . . one of those delightful affairs that simply wouldn't be missed!

I know . . . one of my fondest memories is the home town church supper, always famous for its food, especially Parker House rolls and baked beans.

Perhaps you are one who thinks of beans as a plain or ordinary dish and, for that reason, hesitate to serve them at a dress-up affair. If you are, I think I can help you change your mind, for properly prepared baked beans are a delight which deserve a place in the top flight of fine cooking.

If you are rushed for time and can't bake your own beans, there are always the canned varieties at your grocer's. Their meal-in-a-minute possibilities shouldn't be overlooked. And then, too, they're a "feast for the least!"

To be really different, you may want to experiment with seasonings until you develop an individual flavor in the canned product. It's amazing the variety of "taste treats" you can achieve.

One of the flavors so many like in canned beans is curry. While the beans are heating slowly, a teaspoon of curry powder is sifted over the top and mixed gently through the beans. When thoroughly heated, a piece of butter is added and when that is absorbed, the beans are ready to serve.

An entirely different flavor is developed by adding a tablespoon of vinegar and several tablespoons of brown sugar to two cups of beans while heating thoroughly. Likewise, the piece of butter is added just before serving.

An adaptation of this latter "taste treat" is featured in this week's church supper menu suggestions. Here it is:

Deviled Beans in Buttered Noodles.
(See Picture at Top of Column)
2 No. 10 cans beans or 10 No. 2 cans 8 ounces of fat
1 pound chopped onions
2 14-ounce bottles catsup
¾ pound brown sugar
8 ounces horseradish
1 ounce salt
½ teaspoon pepper
Heat the fat. Add onion and cook until slightly browned. Add remaining ingredients and heat thoroughly. Serve in a bed of buttered noodles. Makes 50 servings.

Because cooking in quantities does present problems, it's best to plan a menu of foods that can be easily prepared and served. Guess we all

LYNN SAYS:

When planning meals for large numbers

DO try to determine as nearly as possible the number of people to be served, as it is more economical to have no leftovers . . . this is, of course, if only one meal is to be served.

DO have a well-balanced menu. Too much variety will result in your guests heaping their plates with a conglomeration of food . . . they'll want to taste everything!

DO choose foods that won't spoil if they must stand for 15 minutes or even longer.

DO have committees who are responsible for collecting the linen, china and silverware, setting the table, preparing the different parts of the menu and waiting on the table.

DON'T forget to appoint a clean-up squad.

DON'T attempt to increase an ordinary recipe more than once. Proportions of ingredients change as recipes become large, and it's no simple matter for an amateur to guess at them. Unless you have recipes designed to serve large numbers, it's safer to make quick breads, cakes and cookies, according to standard family size recipes.

THIS WEEK'S MENU

Supper for Fifty
*Deviled Beans in Buttered Noodles
*Perfection Salad
Hot Rolls or Boston Brown Bread
*Fruit Whip
Coffee Tea Milk
*Recipes Given.

agree on that. So, with this in mind, here are recipes that will complement your very important main dish:

Perfection Salad.
Soak 10 tablespoons of gelatin (five envelopes) in 2½ cups cold water for five minutes. Add 2½ cups mild vinegar, 10 tablespoons lemon juice, 10 cups boiling water, 2½ cups sugar, and five teaspoons salt. Stir until dissolved and set in a cool place. When mixture begins to stiffen, add five cups finely shredded cabbage, five cups diced celery, 10 finely chopped pimientos and 30 small sweet pickles, chopped fine. Pour mixture into shallow pans that have been rinsed with cold water. When "set," cut into squares and place each square in a lettuce cup and top with mayonnaise. You will need 5 or 6 large heads of lettuce for 50 servings.

Fruit Whip.
1 quart fruit pulp
1 quart sugar
4 egg whites
¼ cup lemon juice
Put fruit pulp, sugar and unbeaten egg whites into a mixing bowl and beat until stiff. Chill. Serves 50. (In this quantity, dessert whips should be made with a power beater or mixing machine).

When feeding a crowd, the marketing problem may present difficulties. You will need six dozen rolls (depending on the size) to serve 50. As to beverages, put these amounts on your list: three pounds of coffee, ½ pound of tea or three gallons of milk—each of these amounts will serve 50.

Supper over, what next? Entertainment, of course. Half the success of a party lies in the "after-dinner" program.

And why not a radio party? Arrange the stage to represent a broadcasting studio . . . with microphones, clocks and other radio paraphernalia.

The tables where guests are seated should represent the radio stations of the American Network . . . a table for each state of the Union. Each one should be marked by its call letters (MINN for Minnesota, MASS for Massachusetts, etc.) . . . and each one appropriately decorated—miniature orange grove for California, wheat field for North Dakota, maple sugar trees for Vermont, a large pot of baked beans for Massachusetts, apple orchard for Oregon, dairy scene for Wisconsin, plantation scene for Virginia, etc.

Guests are seated at the table representing their birthplace. (This will work wonders in mixing up your crowd).
If each group is small, several states may be combined into one station, such as Station NEG (New England group), or Station NWG (Northwest group).

A master of ceremonies, dressed to represent Uncle Sam, invites all stations to tune in for the "coast-to-coast" broadcast. The program may be as varied as the talent available. A full hour show, consisting of music by instrumentalists or an orchestra . . . singing by a quartet or soloists . . . a dramatic sketch . . . etc.

A novel addition to your program would be a Professor Quiz type. Ask for volunteers to answer the questions submitted by the audience.

A prize can be offered for the best answers.
Commercials and time signals should be interspersed throughout the program. These may be announcements of forthcoming meetings, services, etc.

NEW IDEAS for Home-makers

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

FEMININE headgear usually holds its shape best if it rests right side up on a stand that fits inside the crown, but this is not true of a man's hat. Its dashing lines may be preserved by placing it upside down in a holder. All of which is worth remembering when you are fixing up "his" closet or even when you are generously preparing to share a small corner of your own.

roon and blue cotton print and lined with blue chambray. The lid and the front of the box are hinged with adhesive tape before the covering is pasted on with stiff paste. The stand is made of cardboard, as shown in the sketch, and is covered to match the box. The maroon bias tape edging of the stand is cemented in place in a way that you may find useful in making many other things. The secret is in spreading the cement evenly on both surfaces, letting it dry, and then vulcanizing the two together with the heat of the pressing iron.

NOTE: Why not put away Winter things all nicely mended? It will be grand to get them out in perfect order next Fall. TIPS to Gardeners

GARDENS OF QUALITY

There have been changes in recent years in garden practices that are worth reporting. Gardeners formerly allowed vegetables to grow as large as possible. This procedure gave a higher yield in pounds, but very often it lowered the quality of vegetables.

Some vegetables, of course, like tomato, must be mature to be palatable; but carrots, cucumbers, beets, summer squash, turnips, radishes, and others are more tender and tasty when not much more than half grown.

Gardeners are finding that it is wise to plant oftener than once or twice a year, to maintain a regular supply of proper-sized vegetables. Gardens prove more enjoyable, and more profitable when successive plantings of favorite crops are made every two or three weeks, providing garden-fresh vegetables for the table over a long season.

It is also true that few gardeners today save flower seeds. Fine flowers growing in the home garden often are cross-pollinated by others of the same species, making flowers grown from their seed inferior, and untrue.

Canned Goods Are Savings To Farmers

With urban housewives throughout the United States complaining about advancing food prices, and American agriculture faced with surplus commodities, there is one large part of the population that is going about its business of creating an adequate reserve supply of food for home consumption, according to Miss Wynona Swepston, home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Farmer County.

"Canned goods in the cellar are one surplus that's not harmful," Miss Swepston said. "FSA borrowers are aiming only at insuring good nutrition for their families the year-round, by giving extra emphasis to their gardens. Canning and storing garden produce is a common practice among thrifty homemakers," she continued, "and more FSA-borrower families in this county are now planning bigger gardens than ever before."

Miss Swepston called attention to the fact that many farmsteads have not been producing enough garden stuff to keep the family healthy during the winter months.

"When farm families come to the FSA for financial assistance they are encouraged to produce as much as possible of their living at home," Miss Swepston said, "and big, diversified gardens are to be found on most farms operated by families working with this federal agency."

Good nutrition, it was explained, requires 800 pounds of vegetables for an adult for one year.

"The question, 'Will our garden furnish this much for every member of the family?' is an important one to FSA borrowers," Miss Swepston continued.

Among the practices the FSA encourages in order for its cooperating families to reach this goal are:

1. Before planting, figure how much should be canned and stored, besides vegetables for summer use, and how much garden it will take to

Tid-Bits »

Pop Jones was engaged in erecting a large vine arbor at the G. D. Anderson home, and opined, "If we can get a bunch of Holy Rollers around we'll have a big time."

Which remark brought a retort from an observer, sounding something like this, "Glad to see you bringing the church to Gabe—we can't get him to the church."

Bernice Herington, clerk at the Roberts Food Store, was all a-flutter Monday morning. Said she had a date with a certain young man for Sunday, but he couldn't come because he was building a hog pen. Which leads her to wonder just how important she might be in the estimation of the young man.

About the most accommodating man we know of is E. M. Deaton, who usually goes prepared for any emergency. Deaton drove up to the Frank Phillips home, and Frank, having just been advised he had assumed the roll of grandfather, came limping up to Deaton's car. "Have n't got a walking cane you could loan old grandpa, have you?" inquired Frank, as he placed both hands on his hips and stood in a humped-over position. Deaton suddenly remembered that he had in the car a small souvenir cane he had brought home from one of the numerous conventions he is always attending. To Frank's bewilderment, he pulled it out and handed it to Granddaddy.

But Deaton's turn came this week. Walking into the office he accosted the operator with "Hello, old married woman." Whereupon she came back with "Hi, yourself, Grandpoppa."

The editor had himself a great time at the Kay Kyser concert, last Friday. Thinking that he wouldn't want to go, he refused to buy a ticket when the other members of the family reserved theirs. Came concert time, and of course, Hop wanted to go. Getting a lucky break, he ran into a party from Lubbock who had an extra ticket, and promptly paid out $1.50 for it. Well, that was only the beginning. Smirking at his family—ensconced in the balcony—Hop made his way to a downstairs seat, but contrary to the Mother Hubbard story, the seat was full. He and the usherette then made their way to the other side of the auditorium. Still no seat—and finally he was given a chair, placed behind some other seats in the small rostrum balcony. His story is that the ticket had been lost and a duplicate sold, only to be found and sold again, but we wonder if he wasn't having a big time following the pretty usherette around.

grow these amounts.
2. Locate garden where it will have the best soil, the most protection from hot winds; plan artificial wind-breaks and means of getting run-off water from the windmill, or other irrigation, to it.
3. Secure good seed, disease free, adapted to local conditions.
4. Plant early to assure maturity ahead of hot weather; start certain vegetables in flats in the house.
5. Plan additional late plantings for fresh fall vegetables and storage; plan fall plowing and, if necessary, change of location of next year's garden.

More Improvements Slated For Church

Members of the official board of the Hamlin Memorial Methodist church have announced additional improvements to be made in the immediate future to the church building.

The latest improvements to be given attention will be the addition of a brick-enclosed vestibule at the front of the building, costing in the neighborhood of $300. The vestibule will have a large window on either side, and will be lighted with a large dome light overhead.

The outside approach will be fitted with heavy swinging doors, and the vestibule floor will be constructed on the level of the main auditorium floor.

Recent improvements just completed or in the process of completion include new floor coverings, sanding and polishing of floors, new lighting fixtures, and fresh applications of interior decorations.

CHANGING AROUND

The meat market department of the State Line Grocery has been changed this week, and is now located across the building from its former location. The change was made in order to have the meat department more accessible to the large refrigerated rooms of the recently-installed food locker plant.

Mrs. J. T. Terrell, of Lubbock, visited during the latter part of last week with her mother, Mrs. T. E. Lovelace, and other relatives and friends, in Farwell. She is the former Miss Iona Lovelace.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

By JASON O. GORDON
County Agent

HOW IS YOUR WHEAT LOOKING? If you have places where no wheat is growing, and places where you assumed the wheat had blown out—it might be well for you to look for WORMS. Cutworms have been reported in the county, and it is not surprising as wheat farmers in the adjoining territory have been bothered for some time.

Cutworm injury usually occurs in the spring, the plants being cut off at the surface, or a little below the surface of the ground. Normally, the damage done by the cutworms continues until June or early July, when the worms have become full grown. They feed at night, resting during the day beneath the soil, one-half to one inch below the surface.

The parents of cutworms are grayish or brownish moths, commonly found around lights during summer evenings. Each moth may lay from 200 to 500 eggs, either in masses or singly, in fields covered with dense vegetation, and hence cutworms are found most often in cultivated fields that have been in grass or weeds the preceding fall.

The eggs hatch in the fall a few weeks after they are laid, usually during August and September, and the young cutworms feed on grass and other vegetation. The young worms go deep into the soil as cold weather approaches, and hibernate there until the next spring. When spring arrives, the worms are fully grown and plenty hungry, and will attack any vegetation at hand.

Strangely enough, the cutworms do not care for the POISON BAIT which man may make available, if you would like to try your hand at feeding your crop of worms, the United States Department of Agriculture recommends the mixture of 50 lbs. wheat bran; 2 lbs. Paris green or crude arsenic; 2 quarts Blackstrap molasses; and 1 gallon of water. Distribute this bait over the infested fields broadcast. If you have a successful kill—tell us about it so we can tell others.

This Department plans to secure all available information on the subject, as well as the assistance offered by the Extension Entomologist of the Texas A. & M. College. As soon as this information is available, we shall gladly pass it on to you.

Feeders Program To Be Given At Tech

County Agent Jason O. Gordon was this week in receipt of a letter giving the program for the annual Cattle Feeders' Day, sponsored by the Tech college at Lubbock, which will be held on Friday, April 25th.

At this meeting, visiting authorities will discuss the various feeding experiments, and a detailed report of a 140 day expedition conducted at Tech, taking up different rations, will also be given.

Agent Gordon stated that he would be unable to attend, but added that it would be an extremely profitable meeting for all cattle feeders in this section. The program begins at 10:30, and a lunch is served the visitors at noon.

Annual Student Banquet Is Colorful Affair

With all students in their best bib and tucker, the Farwell school was the scene of colorful activity, the past Friday evening, when juniors and seniors, with high school faculty members as guests, gathered to celebrate their annual student banquet.

Pastel colors, carrying out a May Day theme, predominated in the arrangements. Bouquets of purple lilacs, white apple and pink peach blossoms were used as decorations. Place cards were in white, with the menu and program in the form of small books in pale pink, inscribed in white ink.

Plate favors included owl figurines for the juniors, while the seniors were given tiny mortar boards. Both were adorned with blue and white streamers, bearing the words, "Juniors, 1941," and "Seniors, 1941", respectively.

The program included a talk by Supt. J. T. Carter, welcome address by James Martin, response by A. F. Phillips Jr., tap dance by Marilyn Anderson and Peggy Williams, vocal solo by Jaquetta Strickland, class prophecy by Jack Dunn and class will by Jess Herbert Pipkin and Bobby Anderson. Rev. E. J. Sloan gave the invocation.

Lady faculty members were honored by the students, being presented with red carnation corsages, while the male members of the faculty were given single lapel carnations.

Attending were: Supt. J. T. Carter, M. D. Conger, T. A. McCuiston, Lester Rogers, Mrs. Gladys M. Murphy and Miss Geraldine Walker, faculty members;

Bobby Anderson, Inez Billington, Roy and Verl Cranmer, Carl Deaton, Harold Dixon, Bill Dotson, Christine Hawk, Emma Lue Herington, Leroy Hughes, Garland Hurst, Reva Martin, Alice Mae McCoy, Lee McDaniel, A. C. Noack, A. F. Phillips Jr., Jess Herbert Pipkin, Lynette Ramm, Madeline Randol, Sam Royal, Dwight Sheriff, E. J. Sloan, Nadine Smith, Jaquetta Lee Strickland, Joe and Milbert White, Lavedna Young, seniors;

A. G. Acker, Bill Brand, Scott Billingsley, Lenora Birchfield, Onealya Cole, Jack Dunn Jr., R. L. Douglas, Jim Bob Dow, Julius Dycus, Hollis Clinton, Charles Holland, Johnny Hillhouse, C. E. Attend Beauty Meet

Miss Hazel Anglin, owner of the Vanity Fair Beauty Shop, Miss Eileen Randol and Mrs. Grayson Roberts, operators of the Powder Puff, were in Lubbock on Monday, attending a meeting of beauty parlor operators and owners in this vicinity. Miss Anglin made the trip to Lubbock on Saturday, and remained over Monday for the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilkins, of Ruidoso, New Mexico, were weekend visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Martin, in Farwell.

Mexico Trip Recounted By J. S. Glasscock

J. S. Glasscock was a visitor at The Tribune office the first of this week, recounting some of the sights and places visited on a two weeks trip to points in Old Mexico, which he and his wife, in company with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Davis, all of near Muleshoe, recently made.

Crossing the border at Laredo, the party first was held up some time on securing passports, but finally into Old Mexico, drove on to a Mexican tourist camp, where they spent the night, and drove on to Monterrey the next day in heavy fog and rain.

Having secured a guide who spoke English—and four other languages—the party was shown about the historic city of Monterrey. Mr. Glasscock recalls as high points of interest Alameda Central Park, the Palace of Fine Arts, the Aztec Temple, and National Palace and Museum. In the latter were many relics, one of which was a calendar rock which had been dug up at the pyramids. The rock was about ten feet across and three feet thick, he stated, and with the explanation of the guide, the party was able to decipher the years, months, and days, in addition to the location of the sun, moon and some stars.

The museum was built by Cortez, "but," Mr. Glasscock said, "does not look so old. There is one room in the building that is said to have two tons of gold inlaid in the walls and fixtures," he added.

Juarez Avenue, said to be the widest in the world, leads direct to the Revolution Monument. From there the party went to the Cathedral, and in Mr. Glasscock's own words, "I never saw King Solomon's Temple, but I doubt if it was any more beautiful or finer."

The visitors also inspected the famed Floating Gardens, and saw the Chauhtemoc Monument. One of the features of the visit was witnessing a real bull fight, which they report, "was interesting, but we don't want to see another one."

Taking leave of Old Mexico, the group passed near Pacheneca, the largest silver mines in the world. Indian farms, built on the side of the mountains, drew their attention, as did the large number of century plants along the roadside. The valleys showed a profusion of sugar cane and other small grains, which was all in stacks. The grain is threshed by hand, they reported.

Back in the United States, the party continued along the Texas Gulf Coast, visiting Corpus Christi, Galveston, and Houston, back inland to Austin, and home by way of Dallas.

"You will have to go down there before you can realize just how wonderful it is," Mr. Glasscock concluded.

Have Hay Ride

Ag boys of the Texico school, along with their invited guests and sponsor, held a hayride picnic on Tuesday evening of last week, the party making the trip to the sandhills in wagons. Around twenty were in the group, and during the evening a picnic supper of weiners with the trimmings was enjoyed by all.

May Day Fete Slated For Farwell School

The first of its kind in the history of the local school, a May Day program will be observed at Farwell on Thursday of next week, May 1st, complete with the traditional winding of the May pole.

Jack Dunn will open the ceremonies by giving the announcement of May Day, and naming the queen of the festival. The band will then play the processional, with the queen and her court taking their respective places, followed by the crowning of the queen.

The high school glee club will sing two numbers, instrumental solos will be rendered, and the grade school group will also sing. As the finale of the day, the first and second graders will wind the bright streamers of the May pole, and the band will play the recessional.

Four high school girls are competing for the honor of being named Queen of May. Representing the various classes, they are: Emma Lue Herington, senior; Maxine Scurlock, junior; Janie Lokey, sophomore; and Peggy Williams, freshman.

The program will begin at 2:30 on the school lawn—weather permitting—and the general public is extended a cordial invitation.

New Automobiles Go A-Voyaging!

DETROIT—With the official navigation season just launched, Great Lakes mariners say they're ready for what they expect to be their heaviest season of water-borne commerce of all time.

Need for transporting vast supplies of ore and other materials for national defense manufacturing operations and a huge demand all over the United States for new automobiles, which is expected to end the Spring output of Michigan's motor car plants to a new high mark, have had marine operators literally scouring Great Lakes ports for additional bottoms in which to carry promised record cargoes.

Records of the Automobile Manufacturers' Association show that approximately 274,000 motor vehicles were shipped on the Great Lakes in the 1940 season. It is estimated that 1941 automobile shipments by boat to such "way" points as Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, Duluth and Green Bay will substantially surpass the 340,773 units carried in 1937, previous top year for cars transported by water.

In late March, more than two weeks before the official start of the navigation season on the Great Lakes, several shiploads of new De Soto cars crunched through ice-floes in Lake Erie, between Detroit and Cleveland, according to L. G. Peed, vice president of the De Soto Division of Chrysler Corporation.

With dealers' deliveries already at new Spring highs, Peed reported new cars are already being transported by the hundreds each day to ports on the Great Lakes.

Swine Raising Big Business in Texas

COLLEGE STATION—Texas ranks seventh among the states in the number of hogs produced yearly, and about 25,000 Texas farmers grow swine on a commercial scale. In addition, says E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension swine husbandman, a great majority of the remaining farmers regularly raise a few hogs for a home supply of meat.

The specialist points out that there is a price differential of 25 to 75 cents between Texas hogs and those fed in the corn belt. This is attributed to a large portion of Texas hogs being of inferior quality and which, consequently, produce second rate hams and bacon. Many Texas hogs which kill soft have the appearance of good hogs. Buyers cannot distinguish grain fed animals from those finished on feed that produces soft pork by merely looking at the live hog. But he believes that as a larger proportion of grain fed hogs reach market, the price differential situation gradually will correct itself.

Regenbrecht refers to reports that more than $30,000,000 worth of pork and its products, or the equivalent of 1,000,000 hogs, are shipped into the state yearly. "In the face of this," he adds, "it is surprising that more than 25 percent of the commercial hogs produced here are shipped beyond state borders for slaughter. Most of them go to California, because markets in that state offer attractive prices."

He believes Texas easily could produce the million hogs deficiency "if and when prices reach a more attractive level and farmers find that production of hogs is one of the best sources of cash income."

During 1940, 5,727 4-H club boys in 187 counties completed their swine demonstrations, with 12,753 animals involved. This represents a three percent increase over completions in 1939.

The specialist recommends swine demonstrations as a stimulus for other lines of work. For instance, he says, a farmer who makes a profit out of his hog enterprise may desire to enlarge it. But to do so it will be necessary to grow more feed, which means larger acreage, or better methods of production to increase the per acre yield. As a result, he becomes a corn or grain sorghum demonstrator as well. Many "whole farm" demonstrators first became interested in feed production and later swine demonstrators because they were seeking a means of selling certain feed at a profit.

The secret of a delicious omelet lies in the use of more yolks than whites, a little rich cream and a seasoning of cheese.

Junior Events Are Slated for April 26

Junior track entrants, junior tennis players, and softball teams from both grade and high schools of the county will compete at Oklahoma Lane, Saturday of this week, April 26th, in the annual Parmer county interscholastic league activities, Supt. C. L. Evans, of Oklahoma Lane, said this week.

The events will begin at 10 in the morning, and all entrants from the various schools of the county are requested to be on hand at the time of their slated matches, in order that the day's program will move rapidly.

These events were postponed this year until senior track and field events, along with literary activities, were concluded in this region (with the exception of a few to state meets) officials have announced.

Coach M. D. Conger, of the local high school division, has announced that Smokey Gast, Robert Moore, Arlon Lovelace and A. G. Acker will make up his track team, but did not indicate their various contests.

Acker and Lovelace will enter the boys' doubles in tennis, while Pete Booth will represent Farwell in the boys' singles.

The grade track team is composed of Lynn Smith, Glenn Phillips, Elton Young, George Magness and Max Ford, it was announced. Softball teams, both boys and girls, will challenge other grade teams, but it was not believed that a high school softball team would be organized.

Demonstration Women Gather At Plainview

Two hundred and seventy-one women from home demonstration clubs, representing 17 counties in the district, gathered in Plainview the past Saturday, for the annual district convention, Miss Elsie Cunningham, local agent, reported the first of the week.

At this time, visiting notables from state offices and other guests were on hand, to take up the topics of the day. Among the visitors were: Mrs. A. J. Brown, of Nederland, president of the state organization; Miss Ruth Lundy, Hampshire, secretary; Mrs. J. L. Morris, Lamesa, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Wm. G. Kennedy, Muleshoe, treasurer.

Special talks were made by Lola Clark Pierson, woman's editor of the magazine "Farmer-Stockman"; Bess Edwards, assistant director from College Station; and Miss Lida Cooper, district supervisor.

Representatives from Parmer included Mrs. A. H. Boatman, Mrs. Frank Hastings, and Mrs. Bob Caldwell, of the county clubs; accompanied by Miss Cunningham, demonstration agent.

Frame Garden Started As Home Ec Project

A frame garden, the first one to be attempted by homemaking students here, was installed recently at the Farwell school, with Miss Elsie Cunningham, home agent, in charge, assisted by Stanley Hillhouse and the 4-H club boys, and Miss Geraldine Walker's home ec department.

Miss Walker stated that the garden was some 10 feet long and 6 feet wide. The girls planted lettuce, parsley, beets, carrots, beans and radishes, some of which will be ready for use within a month.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the garden, and it was believed by Miss Walker that several of the girls would start a like project for summer homemaking duties.

FSA Designated As National Defense Unit

The Farm Security Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, has been designated as a National Defense Agency, according to word received here by Frank Seale, rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA in Parmer County.

Federal programs contributing directly or indirectly, or both, to national defense have been given a defense rating by the Federal Government.

Mr. Seale said a chief contribution of Farm Security to national defense is its rehabilitation of farm families who have suffered the plight of economic insecurity.

"The Farm Security Administration does far more than merely loan money to low-income and needy farm families," Mr. Seale said. "Although this agency does make low interest loans to farm families unable to obtain credit from any other source, it has many other programs to assist America's rural families.

"Farm Security," Mr. Seale continued, "makes it possible for many low-income rural people to find security of tenure, improved housing and sanitation facilities, improved diet, more stable income, and, in many cases, improved medical attention.

"There is another phase of the defense program, Mr. Seale added. "FSA families are cooperating in the soil conservation program. They are using sound farm and home practices, rotating their crops, planning to plant cover crops, and they are growing feed for their stock as well."

The rehabilitation supervisor reported that many of the landowners in Parmer County have given their tenants long-term leases so that live-at-home and soil conservation programs can be carried out. This program, he noted, is also a defense program.

Mr. Seale pointed out that "in these times of stress, long term leases—three to five years—are needed to give stability to the tenants and sharecroppers. These leases are beneficial to the landowners as well as tenants, because it gives the tenants an opportunity to improve the fertility of the soil and take advantage of the environmental program of the FSA."

Approximately 28 families in Parmer County have long term leases and many have written leases for one or more years, with an option to renew.

"In designating the Farm Security Administration as a National Defense Agency," Mr. Seale said, "the National Defense Commission recognizes fact that a nation that has too many low-income, inadequately housed, fed and clad persons in it, together with those who suffer ill health, cannot be a strong nation in time of peace or war."

Extra Gang Begins Work on Trackage

Headed by Carl W. Odom as foreman, a crew of workmen were moved here the first of the week to start work on extensive track repairs along the Slaton division of the Santa Fe line.

Odom said Tuesday that he would have a crew of around sixty men employed on the job. His present instructions are to make replacements of ties along 45 miles of the track, but he expressed the opinion that the job would be carried all the way to Lubbock.

He added that the crew would probably be stationed here for at least two weeks and then would be moved to Lariat and from there on down the line as the work progresses.
