

E Quota Certain Cold, Icy Weather Christmas Week

"We are so near out that I am confident we will make it." This was the confident statement of Chairman G. D. Anderson of the War Finance Committee today when asked about the progress of the sale of series E bonds in the Sixth War Bond Loan.

Figures released today by Chairman Anderson showed that total sales of E bonds to date have amounted to $117,543.25, which leaves only about $7,000 yet to be sold. "I feel certain we will sell that amount before the close of the week," he said.

The quota of $120,000 in the sale of all other series was reached the middle of December, before the deadline on such sales, and the time for placing E bonds was extended until January 1st.

The E bond quota for the county was $125,000, cash value.

ORPHANAGE OFFERING NEARS $500 MARK

Members and friends of the local Methodist Church made a very substantial offering to the Methodist Home at Waco last Sunday when a special opportunity was presented for contributions to the institution.

J. T. Carter, who is a member of the board of directors of the Home, and local chairman of the orphanage solicitations, reported today that funds in the amount of $494.25 had already been turned in, and added, "We will make it at least $500, and possibly $550.00"

The Methodist Home is maintained wholly by offerings made during the Christmas period by the Methodist churches of the New Mexico and Texas Conferences. At present there are slightly more than 400 orphaned boys and girls in the Home, and this number is to be increased to 450 as soon as additional facilities can be arranged.

Mr. Carter expressed his deep appreciation for the generous contribution on the part of the local people.

MORE MARINES NEEDED

The U. S. Marine Corps is needing more young men for replacements for those killed or wounded in battle—also for the big push on Japan next spring. Thirty 17-year-old men are needed as volunteers. Youths enlisted now will be called to duty next March. Such applicants are assured of the branch of service they desire and do not have to register with their draft boards. Interested applicants are requested to call or write the Marine Corps, 217 PO Bldg., Lubbock.

How About Your Income Tax?

Local lawyers who are doing work on income taxes reminded today that with the shortage of office help, they will not be able to accommodate a flood of customers when deadlines approach.

All persons not under withholding tax are required to file reports by January 15, either estimates or complete returns—and the 15th is not many days off.

Salary workers have until the 15th of March to make their return for 1944.

Change in Taxing Livestock Sales Made

COLLEGE STATION—Texas farmers and ranchmen will benefit this year from a recent internal revenue ruling on certain livestock sales under the 1944 income tax law. Farmers are required to make a return on or before January 15 of their estimated income for 1944 and pay Uncle Sam the full amount of the tax due.

Under the ruling, says Tyrus R. Timm, economist in farm management for the Extension Service, only 50 per cent of the sale price of a cow from a farmer's breeding herd is taxable. The animal must have been owned by the seller for at least six months prior to the sale, otherwise the full amount received is taxable. Livestock sales heretofore, whether on cattle raised or bought, were 100 per cent taxable.

The new tax range applies to livestock used for dairying, breeding and work, and also covers animals raised on farms or purchased. It is applicable whether the cash or accrual method of reporting is used.

Pending further interpretation from Washington, Timm says it seems pretty certain that calves and yearlings cannot qualify for the ruling even though a farmer expects them eventually to become a part of his active breeding herd. Also, sales of market animals or those culled from the herd as feeder or slaughter animals cannot be so considered.

Timm suggests that a farmer who is not certain that a particular transaction of his will qualify under the ruling should get in touch with the nearest office of the Internal Revenue or the collector of internal revenue at Austin or Dallas. "The use of a sheet of paper and a three cent stamp in this instance may give a farmer a fine return on the investment," he observes.

"Schedule D" which actually is a separate page form, should be used for reporting these capital gains, Timm says. Fill in the section at the top of the page headed "(1) Capital Assets."

War Highlights Local News During '44

Deadline For Tax Payments Nearing

It has been a year of war, this 1944 that is now drawing to a close, with highlights of ecstasy for the homefolks when the boys came home on visits, agonies of mind over those reported hurt in action or listed as missing and broken hearts for those who will not have their families complete again.

Even a weekly newspaper, like this one, couldn't stay clear of the war, a survey of the past editions of 1944 reveals. Prominent in the news of almost every issue was a story concerning some local boy, for Parmer county fighters, as more and more of them have gone overseas, have taken their share of awards in the world battlefronts, from commendations by their commanding officers for routine work to the Air Medal and Purple Heart for bravery and wounds.

Five messages listing men who have laid down their lives for their country have been received during the year. The men were Lt. Don Elgin, husband of the former Nina Jo Brock of Bovina; Horace Coffman, sailor, Cpl. Owen Drake and Sgt. P. L. New of the army, all three of Friona; and Macy Roberts, Marine, of Bovina.

Two men are listed as missing: Staff Sergeant Millard Bell, of the Pleasant Hill community, and Pvt. Roy E. Hurst, of Bovina.

Come Home From War

Relieved after overseas action of many months were several local men. Jim Cleve Dixon, medic with the Marines, Lt. Wilbert White, Pacific bombardier, S-Sgt. Carl Bullock, Pvt. Glenn London, both of tank crews, S-Sgt. J. D. Peters, De Vere Roberts, Keith Levy, Major Craig Walling and Presley Landon were among those who returned after two years or more overseas. And last Friday, Mrs. A. D. White received a message that her son, Gwyn, whom she has not seen in four years was in San Francisco.

Also on the homecoming list were Capt. Lee Bradshaw, Mansell Cranfill, S-Sgt. Robert Barber, Sgt. Orville London, S-Sgt. James Beller, Sgt. Don Thomas (brother of J. D. Thomas), Lt. Bert Bernstein, husband of the former Pat Bagley, Major Julian Thornton and S-Sgt. Conrad Bigham.

Two local flyers, now prisoners in Germany, sent home word to their parents that they were OK. The messages were brought to Mrs. J. R. Caldwell and Mrs. M. C. Roberts by former prisoners who had been repatriated, from their sons, Lt. Tom Caldwell and Lt. Bill Roberts.

Several Are Hurt

Several of the boys sustained injuries during action overseas, too. Messages came in telling of wounds received by Bill Brand, Murt Sullivan, Herman White, James Beller and James Ford, while George Pooteet wrote his family that he "barely missed it", losing the seat of his pants, and Kater Crume writes that the man in the jeep with him was listed for the Purple Heart award while he came out unscathed.

One county soldier, Nathaniel Taylor, of Friona, was drowned in maneuvers in the lower part of Texas during the year.

Parmer added two other deaths to the list of tragedies during the year. Young C. L. Calaway, Jr., 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Calaway of the Rhea community and one of the prominent 4-H club members of the county, was killed in a tractor accident on the family farm, and Miss Louise Drager, of Rhea, was fatally burned when her clothing became ignited from a trash fire.

Taking cognizance of the fact that money and supplies were needed by the men fighting overseas, the Texico residents and the whole of Parmer county cooperated in putting bond drives, Red Cross drives and War Fund drives over the top, while Texico-Farwell women made many surgical dressings for the Red Cross and handy kits were also made by county women for both army and navy men.

Elections Rank Second

Second high in news interest of the year were the elections, from county through national, which kept local interest at a hot pitch during a few weeks before November 4. Parmer county went democratic, as usual, and succeeded in electing for district judge one of its native sons, John Aldridge of Farwell, who had been serving in that capacity under an appointment from Gov. Coke Stevenson since the resignation of Judge Jimmie Witherspoon, some months earlier.

The district also named a new attorney, King Fike of Dalhart, to succeed John Honts, resigned, but Parmer county faces at the local courthouse will remain the same.

The protein feed situation gave farmers quite a bit of trouble early in the year but at this time appears in fairly good shape. Parmer's wheat crop topped two million bushels and drove railroad men mad trying to get it out, and the current row crop, some of which is still in the fields, bids fair to be a record-maker also, despite the handicaps of manpower shortages and worn-out machinery which is being pressed into service for another year. Speaking of machinery, rationing of farm implements was listed in the fall, but since production was not increased, little change along this line has been noted.

Three pioneer families of Farwell moved the past year, with the F. W. McElroys going to Clovis, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haynes leaving for Silverton and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Booth moving to California. On the Texico side of the line, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bingham also sold out, and have moved to Bovina.

Improvements were made around a number of Farwell business houses, with both the State Line Grocery and Henderson Elevator adding to Tax Collector Earl Booth today called attention to the approaching deadline for the payment of 1944 taxes before they become delinquent and a penalty is assessed.

January 31 is the final date tax payments for the current year can be made without penalty, he said.

A large part of the 1943 taxes were paid during the months of October, November and December, when a discount was allowed on state taxes. But, following a long-established custom for no good reason at all, a large majority of the small taxpayers make their payments after the first of each year.

This custom, Collector Booth explained, often creates an extra amount of work on the clerical force in his office, especially if a majority of the property owners wait until the final days of January before making their payments.

In addition to the penalty that applies to all taxes that are allowed to become delinquent, interest will also be added and this interest will continue to mount with each succeeding month the taxes remain unpaid.

Kersey Sale Comes On Tuesday, Jan. 2

A. T. Kersey, who lives 1 1/2 miles north and 1 east of the Oklahoma Lane school house, is staging a farm sale at his place on Tuesday, Jan. 2, which will get underway at 10 a. m.

Among other items to be offered will be 42 head of choice young steers and heifers, as well as many other items useful on the farm.

Col. Dick Doshier and Col. W. D. Wanzor will have charge of the sale, and lunch will be served on the grounds at the noon hour. This will be the first farm sale of the New Year and Doshier said today Kersey has "some mighty good stuff" to offer.

Bills listing the items to be offered will be in circulation this weekend.

Joint Sale Scheduled At Lariat, Jan. 4th

Col. Dick Doshier today announced that a big community sale would be held at Lariat on Thursday, Jan. 4th, beginning at 10 a. m.

Already, he said, a large list of livestock farming implements and household goods has been listed for the sale which promises to be the biggest of its kind ever staged at Lariat.

Persons having items they wish listed for the sale are asking to contact Col. Doshier, Boone Allison, or leave them at The Tribune office not later than Saturday, Jan. 30.

University of Texas women students are doing their war work along with their studies, records show. A course in aides for Red Cross Canteens is being conducted by Miss Selma Streit, of Scottish Rite Dormitory. Students taking the course are eligible to work in Red Cross Canteens in Austin, at the Municipal Airport, and at Bergstrom Field, near Austin.

This region of the Texas and New Mexico Plains country shared with most of the nation in a cold, icy spell that sent the mercury down in the low 20s and brought some moisture the first of the week.

Most of the moisture was in the form of sleet that fell Christmas night, covering the ground with a thin coat of ice that rendered automobile driving extremely hazardous, especially along paved highways.

Cars and trucks slipped and skidded along the icy pavements, but no serious accidents have been reported in this immediate section. On the sidewalks, too, pedestrians took careful steps, to avoid nasty falls on the slippery walks and streets.

Farmers, many of whom have not completed their harvest were hopeful that the unsettled spell would bring more moisture, since they were being held from their fields. Wheat, especially, would be benefited by more moisture, they say.

Stockmen report that the cattle are weathering the storm in good condition and no losses are anticipated unless the cold spell is prolonged.

Drivers License Due In New Mex., Jan. 1

Town Clerk W. L. Freeman of Texico today called attention to the fact that all drivers' and chauffeurs' license for New Mexico would become due on January 1st and must be in possession of drivers by that time.

Such license may be obtained from Clerk Freeman or at the Texico Port of Entry, he said.

Freeman also called attention to the annual payment of license on dogs to be kept within the city limits, and on the renewing of occupational license for firms engaged in business in the Town of Texico. These, he said, must be obtained from the town clerk, and are due and payable on or before Jan. 1st.

Sgt. Gwynn White Is Back In Homeland

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. White received a telegram on December 22 from their son, M-Sgt. Gwynn White, stating that he was back in the States and would likely arrive home within the next ten days.

Sgt. White has been out of the country for almost three years spending practically all of that time in the southwest Pacific area. Mr. and Mrs. White have three sons in the service, all of whom have seen overseas duty. One boy, Joe, is still in the Pacific, and the other, Wilbert, is in California after several months in the Pacific.

LOSE TO MELROSE

The Texico senior boys were taken to their worst cleaning of the season the past Thursday night, when they visited on the Melrose court and took a 50-16 decision at the hands of the strong Melrose aggregation.

The Texico second-string, on the other hand, took Melrose by a 18-26 score, in partial revenge for the spanking handed the first string.

Tribune Not Up To Standard

The Tribune is not up to its usual standard this week.

While a number of newspapers over the country are not being issued this week, The Tribune is coming out as usual, but in somewhat of an abbreviated edition.

Too much Christmas for the office force is the only excuse we have to offer.

Mrs. Abie Crume spent Saturday and part of Christmas Eve visiting friends in Amarillo.

With the sudden announcement that all red and blue ration stamps which were validated before December 1st have lost their value, a new ration setup was issued by the OPA during the Christmas holidays when stores were closed.

Some canned foods which have been point-free for several months jumped back on the list Tuesday morning, including corn, peas, asparagus, green beans and spinach, and butter went up to 24 points per pound, making margerine look and taste even better.

According to a checkup of ration book, following the announcement of invalidated stamps, housewives have in the red series stamps Q, R, S, T marked with a "5" and in the blues, stamps X, Y, Z in the "5" series and A and B in the "2" group for use until December 31 when new stamps are due to come in.

All sugar stamps except No. 34 have likewise been cancelled.

New point value charts on meats and vegetables are expected to be in the hands of merchants immediately. Whether or not the adding of more foods to rationing would cut the point value on some fruits which have remained on the point-list throughout, could not be ascertained the first of the week.

Local Happenings

Miss Juanita Petty Bride Of Vernon Symcox

In a simple ceremony performed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Graham the past Thursday evening, December 21 at 8:30, Miss Juanita Petty became the bride of Vernon Symcox. The rites were read by B. N. Graham.

The bride was attired in a white winter suit and carried a white Bible on which lay an orchid. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Woodrow Lovelace, was dressed in blue and had a corsage of gardenias.

John Lovelace served as best man to the groom.

Mrs. Symcox is well known locally having been here for some time as secretary in the Farm Security office. Her home is in Plainview.

Mr. Symcox, a graduate of the Farwell school, has made his home in this community for several years, and is engaged in farming activities.

Following the nuptials, Mrs. Graham served punch and cake from a lovely table to the wedding party.

Mr. and Mrs. Symcox will make their home in Farwell.

Children Gather In J. C. Banks Home

An annual Christmas gathering of the family was observed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Banks, Sr., the past weekend.

On Christmas Day a lovely dinner was held, with guests including Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Banks Jr., of Clovis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Magness and family, Mr. and Mrs. Garlon Harper and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Magness of Farwell.

Here For Christmas

Mrs. Edith Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Doose, who now lives in Albuquerque, spent the Yuletide season here with her parents. Her husband is believed to be in Australia with the U. S. forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cain and son visited Tuesday in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Stewart and daughter. The Stewarts were former Farwell residents.

Shriners Name Officers At Banquet Friday

Parmer county members of the Khiva Shrine enjoyed a Christmas banquet and social Friday evening, when the majority of the members were present at the Bovina Hotel.

During the business session, J. C. Wilkinson was elected as president of the local group, Shelby Jersig was named vice president, and J. R. Roden appointed secretary-treasurer.

The organization donated the amount necessary to put its name on the "Ladder of Smiles", as supporters of crippled children's hospitals.

In an announcement on Tuesday, Wilkinson reported that Parmer county was fourth high in Khiva membership, being surpassed only by Potter, Lubbock and Gray. Figuring per capita, the county has the top membership of the Khiva unit of the Shrine district, he added.

Christmas Party Held In Harper Home

Mr. and Mrs. Garlon Harper entertained with a supper and social in their home in Farwell, Christmas evening.

Attendants included Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Magness, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Banks of Clovis and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman of Lubbock.

Home From Washington

Miss Flora Lee Williams, who has been employed in Washington, D. C. for the past two years, has resigned her position, and is here for a visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Williams. She plans to accept an opening in Oklahoma City after a vacation here.

Licenses Issued

Marriage licenses were issued at the county clerk's office last Friday to G. H. Dickson and Margaret Asher, and to William Boyce Lowery and Katherine Ouida Tandy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Caldwell and family had as visitors during the Christmas season his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Caldwell of Swink, Okla.

NEWS FROM OUR BOYS IN CAMPS

SEABEES CELEBRATE

From "Somewhere in the Pacific" comes an announcement from Sam A. Young, member of the Seabees, that the organization will celebrate its third birthday on December 28. The Seabees have been with the assault troops in every major American amphibious operation, and now number 240,000 officers and men. Every commissioned Seabee battalion is either currently overseas or has completed a tour of duty; many battalions are on their second tour.

General MacArthur recently gave praise to the Seabees, writing, "The only trouble with your Seabees is that you don't have enough of them!"

GETS CHRISTMAS PACKAGE

Bob Drace, who left the States some months ago, writes from the Marianas on December 16 that he has received Christmas packages—and two old copies of The Tribune, published in October.

HERE ON FURLOUGH

Pvt. "Toughy" (Herman) Jones, having completed his basic training as an infantry machine-gunner at Camp Wolters, Texas, is in Bovina on a visit with his wife and family. He will move on to Fort Ord, California, at the conclusion of his delay en route, he announced.

IS OVERSEAS

Word was received last week that Pvt. Rusty Jones, son of W. H. Jones of Clovis and formerly of this city is now in the European theatre of battle. Rusty has been with an MP division in California for over two years, and visited here enroute to the East Coast.

FROM CALIFORNIA

Corporal and Mrs. Charles Holland are here from California to spend a furlough with relatives and friends. Cpl. Holland is stationed at Camp Cook.

VISITING PARENTS

Jack Dunn, who is engaged in medical training under Navy directorate and stationed at Houston, is here for a Christmas holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunn.

PETREES VISIT

Lt. and Mrs. Ellison Petree were here from Moody Field, Ga., spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Petree of southeast of town. Lt. Petree received his wings last week, and is being transferred to a field in Florida.

IS TRANSFERRED

T-Sgt. Conrad Bigham, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bigham, has recently been transferred to Greensboro, N. C., where he believes he will continue "for the duration". He is attached to a large Army hospital at that place.

WAC VISITS HERE

Dry Cleaning Houses Must Post Ceilings

All dry cleaning establishments in this district are required to have a ceiling price poster displayed by January 15, to show the maximum legal prices for cleaning and pressing certain men's and women's wear, according to J. B. Mooney, district price executive.

An additional requirement is that the poster must be displayed in a conspicuous part of the establishment plainly visible, and customers are urged to check the ceiling prices each time they pay for such services.

As another New Year dawns we are thankful for the American heritage of freedom—thankful too, for the friends we have helped us gain the manifold blessings of this freedom.

With his in mind, we wish you all a very HAPPY NEW YEAR!

MAE

At this time of resolution-making it might be apropos to recall the words of a wise old philosopher of a long forgotten era. He said:

"Every first of January that we arrive at is an imaginary mile-stone on the track of human life; at once a resting place for thought and meditation and a starting point for fresh exertion in the performance of our journey. The man who does not propose to himself to be better this year than he was last, must either be very good or very bad indeed."

WE WISH YOU A HAPPY NEW YEAR!

their present buildings. In Texico, two new businesses have gone in, the Home Grocery and the Whistling Inn. New signals were set up by the Santa Fe along the railroad crossing between the two towns, and local businessmen are working on a project to have a warning light placed at the intersection of highway 60 into the main street of Texico.

One local man M. C. Roberts, aspired to Congress, but was denied a place on the Republican ticket in New Mexico. Rationing continued to be a headache, with tokens being the newest form of torture devised. Aubrey Brock, of Bovina, was named the new chairman of the Parmer County Red Cross, and the pioneer firm of Gaines & Elliot Hardware in Bovina was dissolved. The question of dissolving the State Line school district from the Pleasant Hill district was finally settled, with part of the students going to Bovina and part to Farwell. County Shows Good

Stock and dairy shows were held as usual this year, with some of the best stock ever being on exhibit. One club boy, Wendol Christian, made quite a splash in 4-H work, taking the Plainview show cup for dairy production, and then winning first in the statewide contest for production which prize included a trip to Chicago to the National Congress. Scotty Gober, was first in the Sears pig contest in this county and Ray Ford, of the Farwell FFA, walked off with individual scoring honors at the Lubbock contest.

Some changes were made in local offices. Mrs. Roy Bobst resigned as head of the ration board and moved to Washington, being succeeded by Mrs. Mose Glasscock. W. B. LeVeque was moved to Hereford as supervisor over three counties in FSA work, and Lee McElroy was released from the army and returned here as county agent. Sam Aldridge, having been with the FBI, returned here to his law office, and Rev. Paul Tripp was moved to Raton, with Rev. Charles Walker as his successor.

Young fry, and some not so took to bicycles during the summer to escape enforced idleness. Coyotes proved a nuisance, and the shortage of shells, and local hunters were also upset over lack of ammo to use on the ducks now infesting the country. The heat last summer was pretty bad, and the considerable rains in the fall pretty good which about balanced up the weather situation. Backyard gardens proved their worth again, but most of the fruit crop, as usual, went with the spring frosts.

A number of old-timers of the area passed on during the year. Other than those listed above, death took Carl G. Plaster, Mrs. Clara Day Williams, Perry Williams, Mrs. Belle Melugin, Mrs. Ruth Kersev, Mrs. Martha Akers, Ford Welch, Otis Hurst, John W. Hardage, Dr. J. M. McCuan, J. T. Hanna, T. E. Hall, Irion Lovelace, Mrs. J. T. Colburn, G. E. Roberts, Ernest Kalbas, and Mrs. Joe Singletary.

Numerous Weddings

Weddings reported in past issues: Bonna Lee Rushing and Lewis P. Holland; Hazel Anglin and Homer Cowdrey; Gilbert Watkins and Lempi Laitinen; Joyce Gregory and Calvin Young; Walter Kaltwasser and Gladys Grover (performed in England); Betty Jo Gilson and Douglas Hall; Lillie Bee House and William J. Hyatt; Nadine Smith and L. D. Rundell; Betty Burke and Delbert Blakley, Essie Bell Green and Ivory Large, Eunice Graham and William Thornton, Gladys Hudson and Melvin Sudderth, Wanda Pearce and Percy Hinton, Opal Baldock and John Britton, Jayne Dixon and Ralph Crone, Barbara Englant and Jack Kessler, Carl Bullock and Ruth Barrows, Mary M. Foster and Earl Cole, Julius Dycus and Sylvia Stout, Andrew Smith and Katherine Nall, Oleta Harrison and Leo C. Hoffman, J. D. Peters and Verna Miller, Edith Neill and John Graham, Francisco Anciro and Virginia Taylor, Lillie Norton and Clyde Houston, Amy Sellers and Joe Bolton, Lewis Cox and Sherley Sheppard, Wendell Petree and Mary Ellen Bradford, Gracie Johnson and L. C. Moore, Mrs. Daisy Dickson and W. E. Bolton, Clara Watkins and Robert Romero, Lena Belle Williams and Marvin Bell, Geraldine Thomas and Edgar Campbell, Vernice Cannon and J. W. Hulsey, Nancy Ann Silverman and Carthon Phillips, Genevieve Lovelace and Jack Harrison.

Two wedding anniversaries of considerable years were celebrated, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sides observing their 49th and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schwede observing the golden date. The school plays and programs drew the biggest crowds of all times.

Not Much Sports

In the sports bracket, Eugene Bowers, Texico senior, was the star of the year. Bowers led the Texico track team to second place in both county and district meets, taking high points himself, while at the state meet in Albuquerque he was third high participant.

The Friona girls went into the Texas basketball tournament and came out with second place, while the Friona boys won the county cage tournament, held in Farwell with big crowds and exciting contests. Farwell played six-man football briefly, losing to Bovina, the only game against Bovina, and the Carrington softball tourney. Looking at the retrospect, it appears that tragedies overshadow the joys of the year. It may be that 1945 will write a more cheerful chapter in a changing world.

Frozen Foods Outlook For Future Is Bright

COLLEGE STATION—A bright future is ahead for frozen foods, and in the post-war period they are likely to become accustomed to frozen pre-cooked foods, ready-to-cook frozen poultry and frozen eggs which will come in small individually wrapped blocks.

These predictions come from Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, specialist in food preservation for the Extension Service, who points to findings of the Agricultural Research Administration. She says housewives can expect not only better quality in frozen foods but cheaper prices as well.

Chopped frozen butts of asparagus and broccoli, which so often are discarded, offer promise. Frozen sweet potatoes, winter squash for pie and tomato and orange juice are on the way. Vegetables suitable for infants may be available in frozen form as well as canned. One other product which is finding enthusiastic acceptance is Velva Fruit, a dessert which tastes like fresh, fully ripened fruit and has the texture of rich, smooth ice cream. In addition to fruit puree Velva Fruit contains sugar, a small amount of gelatin, and sometimes added lemon juice or citric acid.

Mrs. Leverenz predicts that many rural homes will have farm freezing units and homemakers can process these various foods with as much skill as they have shown in home canning. Preparing foods for freezing is even easier than canning and the frozen products have a better flavor and more food value than foods preserved in any other way. Likely some homemakers will want to prepare for sale ready-to-cook frozen poultry, frozen fish from ponds on the farm, and frozen boncu meats which have proved popular with cooks in the armed services. Much research remains to be done on cooling of the pre-cooked foods, defrosting and heating them for table use and on packaging and storing them, the specialist says, but scientists now are busy with these problems.

WINTERIZING ROOFS

COLLEGE STATION—Weather-proofing roofs for winter-time is just as important as laying in supplies of wood or coal or putting gas or oil stoves in tip-top shape.

FOX DRUG STORE

For that reason, rural people who plan to do some household repair during the winter months when crops do not require so much time would do well to give the roof a priority, says Mrs. Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement for the Extension Service. A house which allows winter winds to blow around cracked and curled shingles acts like a funnel. The heat rises in the house as if it were a flue.

If the shingles are curled so the roof can "breathe", it likely will leak, too. And moisture may short-circuit electrical wiring or damage wall paper. Authorities say no part of the house shows neglect faster than the roof, and there's no part of the house where neglect can bring such serious results.

Mrs. Claytor suggests that if re-roofing is found necessary homemakers should investigate the various types of nonflammable roofing as well as those which are resistant to weather. Flammable roofing material has spread the fire of half of the great conflagrations of this country since 1900, she says.

Even if roofs are not leaking and appear to be heat-sealed, a roof inspection now might cut down on future repairs.

CUTTING BED SUCCESSFUL

COLLEGE STATION—A cutting bed is a successful and inexpensive way to provide shrubs for the home landscape, Mrs. A. N. Arnn, yard demonstrator in the Stegall community of Bailey county, has demonstrated. She has 58 growing cuttings of 11 varieties.

The bed was begun at a demonstration given last March by Miss Grace Patterson, demonstrator. In the cuttings Mrs. Arnn has growing are grapes, althea, salt cedar, bush honeysuckle, lilac spirea and pussywillow.

Miss Sadie Hatfield, Extension specialist in landscape gardening, says that cutting beds can be started successfully now if protected from winds and if a mulch is provided. The one-year wood or new wood usually roots well if cut about the size of a new pencil. All leaves except two at the top should be cut off. Three-fourths to seven-eighths of each cutting should be planted beneath the soil. One or two buds must be left above the ground.

Most shrubs and trees will root from cuttings, and the rest can be grown from seed.

Most people feel better after an election, because the majority voted for the candidate who won.
