Storm Causes Extensive Hail Damage To Crops

The rain and hail storm that swept through the Farwell area Thursday Aug. 8 brought welcome rain from the extended dry spell but also caused severe damage to the cotton crop.

From various reports, the concentration of damaging hail fell in an area south of Farwell around the Oklahoma Lane community. Sources estimate the hail storm was approximately three miles wide and swept through the surrounding area causing extensive crop damage.

The area seven miles south of Texico received 3.75 inches of rain and "extensive hail damage to crops," stated Mrs. Dee Brown. She said it hailed for about one hour in that area. Mrs. Orrie A. Jones, who lives six miles south and one-half mile east of Farwell near the West Camp community, said "ping-pong ball size hail" fell there during a 60 minute period. She reported approximately 250 acres of cotton destroyed. Mrs. Jones measured 3.50 inches of rain and also noted strong winds.

Mrs. M.A. Snider Jr. reported "marble size hail" at their farm located seven miles south of Farwell. "There was considerable damage to crops and most of the cotton was damaged," she stated. The hail fell for about 20 minutes and rain measured in the area amounted to 4 inches, she said.

Asa Smith reported 3.3 inches of rain and said "no hail fell in Lariat to speak of." Judge Archie Tarter measured 1.75 inches of rain and Rev. W.T. Perry reported 1.50. On Monday, Aug. 5, Otis Huggins reported .6 inches of rain.

Fred Chandler measured 2.25 inches of rain in Farwell during Thursday's storm and reported 2.75 east of town. "Marble size hail covered about a three mile wide area and started about eight miles south of town," he stated, "and 75 to 95 per cent of the cotton crop was hurt." Chandler also stated that some corn and maize was stripped and that it would take a while to determine the damage to grain sorghum.

Delegation Protests Zoning Ordinance At Texico Meet

A large delegation of Texico residents and Clovis attorney Robert S. Hammond appeared before members of the Texico City Commission at their regular meeting Tuesday evening to protest the acceptance and passage of Ordinance 185, which restricts mobile homes in Texico to certain designated areas.

Hammond gave his presentation explaining why owners of mobile homes feel the ordinance is discriminatory in that it will zone mobile homes to less desirable sections of town.

Persons who wish to establish residence in a mobile home will be discouraged from doing so, he said, because of the restrictions of Ordinance 185. Hammond proposed a meeting between City Commissioners and interested individuals.

City Commissioners Tackle Long Agenda

Farwell City Commissioners met Monday evening in City Hall to take up an agenda that had originally been scheduled for action on July 29. However, due to postponements because of lack of a quorum, the meeting was not conducted until Monday.

The regular meeting was called to order at 6:30 p.m. by Mayor Gil Patschke, with Commissioner Jim Berry attending. Janie Bowery, City Clerk, read the minutes from the special meeting of July 16. The minutes were accepted.

A letter from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission was read regarding park planning assistance for the City of Farwell. Because of a heavy work schedule at this time, the Commission is unable to lend assistance. However, a representative of the commission will contact City Commissioners at a later date.

Ted Abrahamson, consulting engineer from Amarillo, appeared before the Commission to discuss developing a traffic plan in the city. He commented

PURELY PERSONAL

by John

A dramatic page in the history of the United States was acted out last week. A President resigned his office, and a man was sworn into that office who was not elected to either that office or to the Vice-Presidency. We fervently hope that this will be the one and only episode of this nature in American history. It will not bear repeating.

We are now convinced that the resignation of President Nixon was the proper course for him to have taken. Not as a confession of guilt to being a party to any of the "Watergate" improprieties but as a patriot acknowledging that his effectiveness as President and leader of the country had ended. It was the proper course for a man who realizes that the long-term welfare of his family takes precedence over personal aggrandizement or vindication as in this case.

It takes a great man to accept personal defeat. History is replete with fools who pulled themselves, their friends and family as well as their country down to a flaming disaster.

We think that all legal proceedings should now come to a halt. History, devoid of personal animosities and prejudices, will record the final guilt or innocence of Nixon. Until history records this final verdict, the country must live with itself.

Only in great national unity can the United States address itself to the pressing problems of today. Pursuit of the "Watergate Affair" beyond this point can result only in a national divisiveness imperiling this urgent problem-solving process.

Gerald Ford, by his own word, is in a unique position as President. He can, without obligation to any man or party, recommend to Congress and to the people what he thinks is the best national course to follow. He can lead. We think he will lead. The big question is: "Can the country now measure up to this leadership?"

With the headlines being devoted for many months to the drift of the federal government, it has escaped general notice that the City of Farwell has also had a difficult time conducting its own governmental business. Two City Council meetings were postponed because a quorum of members was not present.

The third attempt at executing the business of the City was accomplished only after an hour and a half's wait for one of the two council members to arrive at the City Hall. Mayor Patschke, in the face of this dilatoriness, exercised great patience with his council members. We are not sure that the other nine people kept waiting would have exercised the same understanding.

Hopefully, within the next several weeks, a plan of action can be presented to the residents of Farwell that will call for an alderman form of government and an expansion in membership of those who transact the city business.

The business of the City must be handled with dispatch and in a manner acceptable to those who have business with the City. Anything less endangers the prosperity and growth of the community.

Bond Issues Discussed By Texico Chamber

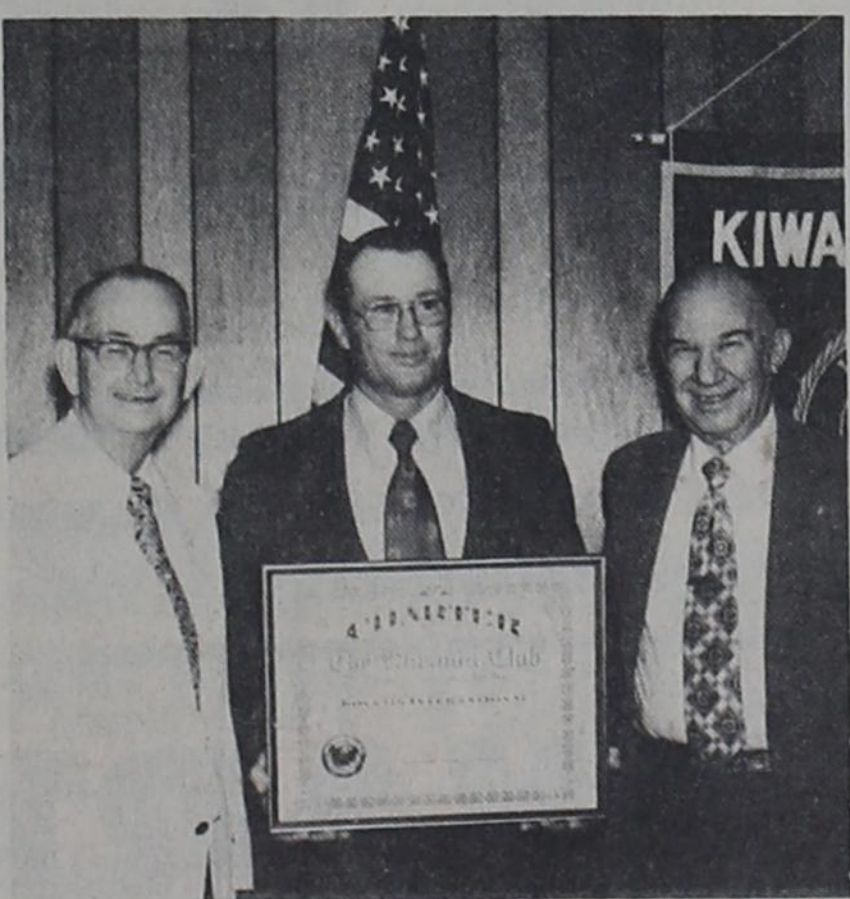

Texico Chamber of Commerce met Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Texico Branch of the Citizens Bank for a routine meeting with president Lewis Cooper presiding.

Present at the meeting were Cooper, Bill Thigpen, Ann Ledbetter, John Getz and Louise Engram.

The minutes from the two previous meetings were read and approved and bills were approved for payment.

Members discussed paving and school bond issues coming up in the near future. The group also discussed the Texico Extra Territorial Zoning Commission and noted that the Commission will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Community Building.

A future project of the Chamber is to promote a clean up campaign; however, no action on this project was taken at the Monday meeting.

EL LLANO GRANDE CHARTER - President Raymond Hadley, center, accepts the official charter of the El Llano Grande Chapter of Kiwanis International during chartering and installation ceremonies conducted Tuesday evening in Clovis. on using yield and stop signs, traffic patterns, and areas of traffic generation, such as schools, post office, businesses, etc.

Abrahamson pointed out that utilizing community groups for traffic surveys will cut down on the amount of money expended. He also stated that his work was done on a per diem basis, and that after school began, he would return to Farwell to further research area traffic patterns.

Mayor Patschke asked for an opinion from City Attorney Charles Aycock regarding needs for future paving and expansion of the city to conform to existing grades, drainage, etc. Aycock said this matter should come before the Farwell Planning and Zoning Commission. He further stated that if a city street is dedicated for public use, paving must be done with the City's permission.

Aycock also commented that the Farwell Planning and Zoning Commission will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in City Hall with a representative of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

A letter from the PRPC pertaining to water and sewer grants was read by the mayor and he stated that funds were available on a matching basis from the FHA for water and sewer improvements. V.C. Venable, Farwell water and sewer superintendent, stated that the sewer plant could use some improvements but "the system as it is right now is doing an adequate job."

Commissioners noted that at some future time perhaps this source of funds could be used for improvements.

Dee Hammit, assistant water and sewer superintendent, presented estimates from Wallace and Tiernan on cathodic protection for Farwell's water tanks to keep them from being pitted. Bids on installing the system were $2,510 for water sphere, $2,490 on the elevated 35,000 gallon tank, and $2,960 on the ground storage 400,000 gallon tank.

These estimates, Hammit said, cover the anodes, installation and one year guarantee. The city must purchase one of three service plans offered by the company in order for the guarantee to be in effect. The service plan C would cost $120 per year on the ground storage tank and $125 per year on the elevated storage tank.

Commissioners tabled action on the matter until inspection of the tanks are made. Hammit noted that another set of bids would have to be submitted as Wallace and Tiernan's bids were good for only 30 days.

Another item for consideration on the agenda was the Texas Municipal Retirement System. Commissioner Jim Berry said, before any action is taken, all Commissioners should be present to act on the matter.

A bid on a Burroughs L 5000 magnetic record computer posting machine in the amount of $12,000 for a used machine and $18,500 for a new machine was rejected. Action on obtaining a new calculator was deferred pending the city clerk's using a loan machine and recommending the best for the job.

Commissioners noted that the Texas Highway Department has issued a construction speed limit for that length of U.S. Highway 70-84 from 7th Street to the city limits on the east side. Commissioners passed a motion to set the speed limit identically inside the city limits with the speed limit outside the city limits on Farm to Market Road 292.

Charles Aycock reminded those present that the Farwell Weed Ordinance requires that weeds be mowed by individuals or the city will do the work and levy a charge to the property owner.

Mayor Patschke also noted a letter concerning the expansion of the Clovis cable TV system into the Farwell area including the addition of the educational channel at Eastern New Mexico University.

In other business, Glen Fant appeared before Commissioners to express the firemen's appreciation for being sent to the recent fire school.

inches of rain were measured at the Stephens' place and Mrs. Stephens said the "road was a river." Small hail fell constantly for about one hour, stripping the corn and leaving stalks and ears. Mrs. Stephens said they plan to go ahead with the harvest. The storm completely wiped out 37 acres of cotton and destroyed Mrs. Stephens' garden.

Mrs. W.D. Hukill, south of Farwell and north of the West Camp church, said as the storm began small hail fell causing no damage. However, as the activity increased in size and intensity, it swept a path of damage through their cotton crop cutting across 40 acres and leaving nothing but the stalk. Mrs. Hukill stated they had always averaged at least one bale yield; however, on the another 30 acres damaged by the storm, they are expecting one-quarter bale yield.

B.A. Rogers of Texico measured 1.50 inches of rain last Thursday and said "not very much hail fell" in Texico. Tuesday he measured .10 during a light shower that fell in the early morning hours.

Mrs. Darrell Stephens, seven miles south of Farwell, stated the storm was about three miles wide proceeding at a northeasterly angle. Four

"real hard rain" for about one hour and his rain gauge showed .6. This area received no hail, according to Whitener.

Wilbert Kalbas of Oklahoma Lane said his rain gauge showed 3.2 inches of rain last Thursday. Hail damage wiped out 100 acres of cotton at his farm west of West Camp, near the state line, and marble sized hail fell at his home. He stated that he would have "no harvest on cabbage," and noted about 40 acres lost in that crop.

Kalbas also received some maize damage and said he was replanting his lettuce crop.

The Ted Magness farm, south of Farwell, received 3.50 inches of rain in a two hour period and had "heavy hail damage," according to Mrs. Magness. "The storm severely damaged cotton in the area," Mrs. Magness stated and the "corn also received some damage." Water completely covered a road in the area and washed out some roads, she commented.

Mrs. Darrell Stephens, seven miles south of Farwell, stated the storm was about three miles wide proceeding at a northeasterly angle. Four duals to informally discuss the situation and come to a compromise solution.

Hammond also asked Commissioners to consider allowing mobile homes in other areas of Texico, rather than in just the zoned sections.

Commissioner Bill Christian, presiding at the meeting in the absence of Mayor M.E. Turnbough, questioned Texico City Attorney Dan Buzzard as to criteria that other towns use in zoning mobile homes. Buzzard stated that the City of Clovis established a mobile home zoning ordinance about three years ago restricting mobile homes to certain areas, with the exception of ones already existing.

Commissioner Bill Thigpen said that all mobile homes already established will stay. The purpose, he stated, was to zone empty lots, so mobile homes couldn't be established in those locations.

Christian said that the Commission could grant variances in certain instances after the ordinance has been established. Christian reiterated Thigpen's comment that the zoning was to control location of mobile homes.

Attorney Buzzard stated, in his opinion, the Ordinance was within health, safety, welfare and moral standards for the common good of the people, and that an adequate area for mobile home housing should be established.

After additional discussion, Commissioners decided to meet with interested individuals at their next regularly scheduled meeting on Aug. 27. Action on the Ordinance, was tabled pending the outcome of this Aug. 27 meeting.

George Doerr, manager of Midwest Video Corporation in Clovis, briefed commissioners on the progress of bringing the Clovis TV cable into the Texico-Farwell area. He stated that workmen are presently digging on the Santa Fe right-of-way to bring the cable into the area. He could not give an estimate of completion of the project, as additional equipment has not arrived. On Sept. 1 the Clovis system will add the educational channel from Eastern New Mexico University, making a total of seven stations available after construction has been completed.

In other business, Commissioners discussed the City's option to purchase property for a city park in the amount of $4,000, a leak in the roof of the Community Building was noted and authorized for repair, a new appraisal of City Hall and contents was presented, City Clerk Clara Wiehl presented the City's report for July on resources and expenses, the Police report was approved, discussion was conducted on the upcoming bond issue and bills were approved for payment.

You used to take sulfur for granted. You can't afford to anymore. Environmental controls have reduced the amount of sulfur in the air. You don't get carry-over you once did from sulfur dust insecticides and fungicides.

How can you economically furnish sulfur to your crop? Use Smith-Douglass Pelleform.® It gives you not only nitrogen, phosphorus and potash but sulfur...plus Trel,® Smith-Douglass' exclusive formula of trace elements. And it's all combined in every clean, green pellet. Pelleform's easy handling, even spreading.

Rely on Pelleform Bermuda Booster to produce high-yielding pasture. The sulfur in Bermuda Booster is important to cattle. The Texas Plant Food Institute Newsletter reports that sulfur helps control nitrate accumulation to minimize losses from grass tetany and nitrate poisoning.

Pelleform comes in a special analysis for peanuts. Extra amounts of calcium and potash help produce good yields of firm, heavy, high-quality nuts.

You'll like Pelleform. It's the kind of complete and balanced fertilizer you need to make money from farming today. Talk to your Smith-Douglass man!

Smith-Douglass makes the growing greater!

YOUR SMITH-DOUGLASS MAN IS READY TO HELP YOU.

Efficient Refrigeration

Keeping food both safe and cool in your refrigerator takes know-how, according to one expert.

She's Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Refrigerated food should be no warmer than 45 degrees F. - colder is fine - to prevent bacteria growth, the specialist pointed out.

Keep food covered so that food particles from the shelf above will not fall into food below. Allow enough space between food containers and between containers and refrigerator walls so the cool air can circulate around the food.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES.
SERVANT BIBLE SOCIETY

PARDON vs. JUSTIFICATION

Did you hear recently, about the man named Zimmerman, who spent nearly twenty-five years in prison for a murder which, it is now clear, he never committed! The mistake was discovered a few years ago, and he was released, of course, but only after spending almost a quarter century in prison as an innocent man!

This was a grim mistake, but even at that, it must be wonderful in such a case to be free—and to have people actually sympathize with you! Yet, after these years of liberty, Zimmerman says he still feels a bit numb. Waking up mornings he still imagines he hears the harsh sound of the prison bell, and looking about he still thinks he sees bars on the windows.

Things could be worse though: Suppose he were guilty of the crime, merely pardoned and released. Then every one would be saying: "There goes that murderer. They pardoned him. Don't get too friendly with him." The stigma would always remain—as long as he lived.

Let us thank God that believers in Christ are not merely pardoned. Rom. 3:24 declares that we are "justified freely by God's grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus."

Christ died for our sins and satisfied the just claims of the law, and more: through the Holy Spirit He revolutionizes our lives and makes new creations out of us, for "if any man be in Christ," says II Cor. 5:17, "he is a new creation."

"For by grace are ye saved, through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God; not of works lest any man should boast. For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them" (Eph. 2:8-10).

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.N. Foster last week was their daughter, Mrs. Ernestene Feagan, Mission, Kan. The women stayed busy freezing food while she was here, and Ernestene took some of it with her on the plane when she left.

Mrs. Carrie Christian is striving to entertain her grandchildren, Keralee and Chad Crume, children of Mr. and Mrs. Van Crume, Albuquerque. They are visiting with their grandmother while their parents are away. Their daddy is in Honolulu on business, and their mother has gone to join him for a couple of weeks. Carrie says she is finding that "The Old Gray Mare, She Ain't What She Used to Be."

Speaking of Christians...Dot, Donald, and Charles Christian found that they could leave the farm for a few days, after that good rain fell Thursday, so they went to Abilene, picked up Trumi, and went on to Six Flags Over Texas. They went through pouring rain all the way to Dallas, but then it stopped long enough for them to buy their tickets to Six Flags. They thought it was going to be just a nice, pleasant, cloudy day, but then the rain came again. Oh, well. They had fun doing other things.

Shana and Karyn Blain, daughters of Mrs. Billie Blain, are visiting their older brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Blain and Gia, Amarillo this week.

Weldon Embry Named To 'Who's Who'

Weldon Embry, 1974 graduate of Farwell High School, has been selected for inclusion in the eighth annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students," 1973-74, the largest student award publication in the nation.

Students from over 20,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service in the books. Less than three per cent of the junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded this recognition.

Weldon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Embry of Farwell. He was active in track during his freshman and sophomore years, Future Farmers of America for four years and participated in the Coop program during his senior year. Also during his senior year, he was an honor student.

Weldon was also named recipient of the Star Agribusiness Award. He plans to farm 300 acres with his brother Eldon.

WELDON EMBRY

Texas is among the 10 states that account for nearly three-fourths of the total U. S. farm exports, said Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

Many producers in Parmer County have expressed concern that their corn hybrids are tasselling earlier than normal by as much as two weeks. In some instances the plant height is less than usual also. The big question is what effect on yield, if any, will result from this precocious development.

Several factors may be contributing to the early tasselling according to Dr. Frank C. Petr, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The main factor is early planting coupled with the relatively warm temperatures that occurred in May.

In addition to long day length, corn requires a specific number of heat units to pass from one development stage to the next. This season the heat units required to push the corn into the tasselling or reproductive stage were accumulated at an earlier date. Genetic factors also help to govern the earliness of tasselling and silk emergence. Some hybrids apparently are reacting to a combination of these factors.

Moisture stress will also have a tendency to speed up plant development. This is nature's way of assuring some seed production and propagation of the species under adverse conditions. Plant nutrition also has an effect on the tasselling and silking dates. Usually the presence of adequate to excess nitrogen will delay the reproductive development while an adequate phosphorous supply encourages silking and tasselling especially when there is a good balance with other plant nutrients.

The plants that are tasselling have already produced their full complement of leaves but they may be somewhat smaller in size and the internodes of the stem are shorter. This may have little effect on yield if a normal size ear has been initiated. Examination of the developing ear in a recent survey of several corn fields indi-icates that the number of kernels per ear will be about normal.

To obtain the maximum potential yield it is important to maintain an adequate moisture supply by applying irrigation as needed. Severe moisture stress interferes with pollen production and release. Without adequate pollen missing kernels will be evident on ears with a subsequent reduction in yield.

Moisture stress may also cause wilting and drying of the silks. When this occurs before pollination, the pollen is unable to move down the silk to effect fertilization of the ovary which leads to the development of the seed.

Sufficient moisture and nutrients must be available to the plant until the kernel is fully developed and in the stiff dough stage. When the kernel has reached its full size and the moisture content is down to about 35 per cent there is essentially no further accumulation of dry matter and additional irrigation will not increase yield.

This early reproductive development of the corn crop will have several advantages to the producer. The crop will reach its peak irrigation requirement well ahead of the sorghum crop. Earlier development also helps to evade corn borer damage and may help to reduce weather-related harvest problems. For producers interested in double cropping early harvest will permit planting of wheat or other small grains this fall where residual herbicides were not used.

Tips On Economics

Giving a child an allowance before he's five-years-old probably won't have much training value. Most preschoolers really can't understand how money operates, notes Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Ambulance Service Discussed At County Commission Meet

Parmer County Commissioners met Monday at 11 a.m. in the County Court Room for a routine session of hearing the minutes from the previous meeting and approving bills for payment.

At 1:30 Monday afternoon, Commissioners heard Percy Parsons, funeral home director in Friona, discuss operating the ambulance service in Parmer County. He pointed out the increase in the number of calls which has gone up from 202 calls between August 1972-August 1973 to 275 calls between August 1973-July 1974.

Parsons stated that he was trying to maintain and operate ambulances for five years and that replacement today would cost $11,000 per vehicle. Income from the ambulance service is $241.14 per month based on 22 months average, plus an ambulance subsidy of $720.00.

"With calls increasing all the time, we will not be able to continue operating the ambulance service as it is right now," Parsons stated. He discussed the charges for ambulance service in the county and stated that he has a sixty per cent collection rate. The base charge is $15.00, with night calls adding another $5.00. Out-of-county trips, such as to a hospital in Amarillo, is calculated at 50 cents per mile one way, plus the base rate.

Suggestions were made as to how the county could add further support to the ambulance service, and Commissioners decided to meet Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m. in the Friona City Hall with communities in Parmer County to discuss the matter.

In other business, George C. Wall Jr., district engineer with the Texas Highway Department, met with Commissioners to discuss curbing and guttering 2 mile of road at the west edge of Friona, just outside the city limits.

The entire project extends from the Friona city limits to Highway 60 with a small area having no curbs or gutters. Wall stated. The area is 475 feet long and cost is figured at $4.00 per foot, for a total estimate of $1,900.

Tom Lewellen suggested that property owners in this area be contacted regarding paying their proportionate share of the costs. Judge Archie Tarter said he would report to Wall by the end of the week regarding a decision on the curbing and guttering project.

Hugh Moseley, Parmer County tax assessor-collector, appeared on behalf of the Parmer County Historical Survey Committee, requesting a special motion from the Commissioners to pay a $500 debt of the Committee. Commissioners passed and approved the special motion.

Leatherwood Takes Four Places In Rodeo

Terry Leatherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leatherwood of Farwell, captured four places ranging from first to fifth during competition at the Melrose Junior Rodeo held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 10 and 11.

In the 16-19 boys division, Terry took first place in both the tie down roping and team roping events. He clocked the third place time in steer wrestling and fifth in ribbon roping.

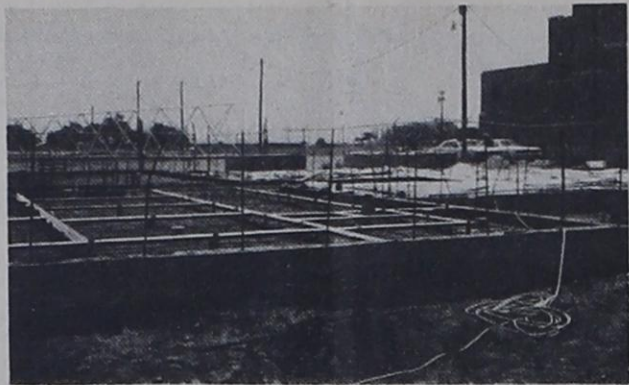

In other action, Commissioners passed a motion to divide up the interest on the permanent school fund among the Farwell schools, according to a per capita basis, allowing so much per head.

Judge Tarter stated that the Bookmobile is asking for $4,472.50 from the Commissioners, in comparison to the present figure of $3,727.75, an increase of $744.75. No action was taken on the matter.

Commissioners present for the meeting included Raymond Treider, Cecil Atchley, Charlie Jefferson, Tom Lewellen and Judge Archie Tarter.

Mike Leatherwood earned fourth place honors in the 13-15 boys division of ribbon roping during action at Melrose.

Vicki Snodgrass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snodgrass of Texico, placed third in goat tying, 13-15 girls division, and Diane Luce competed in the 16-19 girls division taking first place in pole bending and fourth in break-away roping. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Luce of Texico.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CENTER - Construction work on the new $277,715 Parmer County Law Enforcement Center is progressing as the foundation and plumbing work has been installed. The next step, according to a workman, is the pouring of concrete. John C. Cornell, Inc. of Clovis is constructing the building, and Warren Pendleton is the architect.

The zaniest baseball holdout probably was George "Rube" Ellis, crack St. Louis outfielder, back in 1908. Ellis refused to sign his contract until he got what he was holding out for - $2.50 - to buy a new fielder's glove!
