

Belgian Woman Assisted Local Flyer In His Escape

One of the odd coincidences of the war came to light here on Tuesday afternoon when District Judge John Aldridge received a letter from Charles Lenau, formerly of Muleshoe, who is now serving with the Army in the European theatre.

"I was talking to a little Belgium boy about 12 years old the other day, and he asked me where I was from," Lenau writes. "When I said 'Texas', he became very excited, and ran into the house and had his parents write a letter to a Jimmie Machleary (McElroy), who, they said, was a paratrooper and whom they had hidden and fed early in the war for about a month."

Lenau went on to say that he did not know "Machleary" but was sure Judge Aldridge would, and asked him to forward the letter enclosed.

Lt. McElroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McElroy, formerly of this city, was shot down in an early Fortress raid over occupied Europe, and later returned to his base in England, having been smuggled out by the Belgian and French underground, and the details of which he could give no details.

The Belgian woman who had befriended McElroy wrote a letter giving her full name and address, and inquiring if McElroy escaped the Germans and where he was at present. The letter will be forwarded to the returned flyer, who is now stationed at Ellington Field, at Houston, Texas.

Cpl. Glenn Williams Member of Veteran Combat Engineer Unit

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy—Cpl. Glenn Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Williams, formerly of Farwell and now of Amarillo, is a member of the 313th Combat Engineer Battalion, which has built roads and bridges in the mud and mountains from Carpi and the Garigliano River to the Po valley since joining the Fifth Army in Italy early in 1944.

The battalion is an organic part of the 88th "Blue Devil" Division under the command of Brigadier General Paul W. Kendall.

The 313th has turned mule paths and trails into "main supply routes" in supporting the 88th's infantrymen in their drive through the Gustav and Hitler Lines, the liberation of Rome, and into the formidable Gothic Line.

In February and March, the 313th received its battle indoctrination at Cassino and in the Garigliano areas. Road maintenance, mine removal and building of three Bailey bridges and a foot bridge kept the engineers busy until the Fifth Army offensive jumped off on May 11.

In the Fifth Army's drive through the Gothic Line, a mule path from Collinacia to a point across the Santerne River hadn't worried the Germans much—they thought no large scale force could be supplied over such a rugged trail. But the 313th, in bad weather and under heavy enemy fire, blasted and dug the Frana Trail, making it negotiable.

The men of the 313th have won two Legions of Merit, seven Silver Stars, 28 Bronze Stars, three Soldiers' Medals and three division commendations. The battalion was also honored by the city of Muskogee, Okla., for distinguished work during the Arkansas River floods of May, 1943.

TO LAREDO FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Mose Glasscock and John Armstrong, of the local ration office, and Mrs. Nell Bobst of Yakima, Wash., former ration board worker in Farwell, are in Laredo, Texas, this week, at the trial of L. A. Crawford, Dibbs Crawford and E. G. Brookshire, charged with illegal entry and theft of gasoline coupons at the local office last spring. They were accompanied on the trip by Mose Glasscock.

Hondo Field Graduates New Year's Navigators

HONDO AAF—The first class of 1945, one of the largest ever to be graduated from this huge air base, won silver navigator's wings and Air Force commissions on January 6 during impressive wing-awarding ceremonies at the AAF post theater.

Hurston E. Battey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Battey, of Friona, was one of the class, and is now a second lieutenant.

Capt. M. T. Honke of Kansas City, Mo., veteran combat navigator recently returned from the European theater of operations, addressed the graduates as the "Victory Class of 1945".

The graduates, representing almost every state in the union, have just completed 16 weeks of strenuous air and ground training at Hondo Field, first United States airbase built exclusively for training navigators.

Youth Revival Draws Good Interest Here

The revival meeting being sponsored at the Baptist Church by the young people's department of the church, is drawing good interest and promises to accomplish much good.

Rev. Benjamin Bedford, pastor of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, is doing the evangelistic work, and the song service is in charge of Rev. Leonard Lane, pastor of the St. Vrain Baptist church.

Services are being held each evening at 7:30, and the meeting will come to a close with the Sunday evening services on January 21st.

The young people join the pastor, Rev. W. C. Wright, and other adult members of the congregation in extending a cordial welcome to all people to attend the services.

FFA Chapters Hold District Meet Here

Plans are underway at the Farwell High School to entertain the district meeting of the Future Farmers of America, when they come here for annual session on Feb. 14.

R. L. Morton, agricultural director in the local school, stated today that the meeting would get underway at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and would conclude early in the evening with a feed.

Contests featuring "Chapter Conducting" by both junior and senior chapters, a one-act demonstration, and public speaking have been arranged as highlights for the session.

Due to war conditions, which have taken practically all vocational agriculture instructors, there are only four FFA chapters in this district at present, compared to 13 under normal conditions. The chapters in the district to be represented at the district meet at Friona, Dimmitt, West Texas High at Canyon, and Farwell.

ENLARGE WORK SHOP

The work shop at the local Minneapolis-Moline agency, operated by Ralph Humble and Ed Eason, is being enlarged this week to more than twice the size of the old building. The new addition is 20x30 feet and is being constructed of sheet iron with a concrete floor.

No Comment From Draft Board Officials

Registrants who are disturbed by the newspaper stories emitting from Washington have been forming a steady line at the local draft office to inquire as to what they might expect with reference to their status during the next few months.

And, to add to their confusion, draft officials are in no position to offer them any advice, pending official information from Selective Service headquarters.

"We don't know what the score is ourselves, and can only await official information from Austin and Washington," one member of the local board commented today when questions were put to him.

He went on to say that he felt safe in stating enough men were now in 1-A to take care of the February call, yet to be received, but added that if the forthcoming call is extra heavy it will practically clean out the remaining 1-A men in the county. From which groups men will be taken to fill additional calls remains yet to be determined after instructions have been received here.

"Judging from reports appearing in the newspapers, it looks like men 26 through 29 years of age are going to have to be in critical positions to gain deferments hereafter," the board member said, but hastened to explain that this was only personal opinion and may not become an actuality.

100 Head Cattle Go In Big Auction Sale

One hundred head of cattle will be the main feature of a big farm sale to be held on Tuesday, Jan. 28, by B. J. Obenhaus and Harve Brown at their ranch, located two miles south of Baileyboro, in Bailey county.

In addition to the large list of cattle, two tractors, and other good farm machinery will go to the highest bidder. A complete list of the offerings will be found in this issue of The Tribune.

Col. Dick Doshier of this city and Col. Fred Marshall of Portales, will be in charge of the sale, which is scheduled to get underway promptly at 10:30 a. m., Texas time. Frank Doshier and Ebb Randol will act as clerks.

Due to the fact that this will be an all-day sale, Col. Doshier warned buyers to be on time when the sale starts. Lunch will be served and there will be free coffee.

Ration Burglary Case Draws Continuance

The case of the State vs. L. A. Crawford, Dibbs Crawford and E. G. Brookshire, which was scheduled to come up in Parmer County district court on Tuesday morning has been continued, and the petit jury called for Tuesday was notified not to appear.

District Judge John Aldridge granted a continuance when it developed that the two leading state's witnesses had been called to Laredo to testify in Federal court and could not appear here.

Meanwhile, the court turned its attention to civil matters, which are scheduled to come up for non-jury hearings. The grand jury is in recess and will make its final report during the last week of the term.

MRS. STITES DIES

Funeral services for Mrs. Sam Stites were held at the Steed Memorial Chapel in Clovis last Wednesday afternoon, and interment made in the Bovina cemetery. Mrs. Stites died at the family home in Bovina on Monday, Jan. 8.

She had been a resident of Bovina the past several years, and of late years operated a grocery store in that city.

Surprise! New Plates For Texas Cars

For the first time since 1942, Texas cars and trucks will step out with "honest-to-gosh" license plates this year, the new plates coming back in vogue after two years of tiny tabs which were used in addition to the '42 plates.

Black on gold will be the colors, and the licenses will be 6x10 inches, instead of the customary 6x13. In addition, only one plate per car will be used. New tags go on sale in March.

Zachry Selected Head Southern Union Gas

At a recent meeting of the Board of directors of Southern Union Gas Company held in Dallas, C. H. Zachry, Dallas, was elected president, succeeding Wofford Cain, also of Dallas. Mr. Cain, one of the organizers of the company, has been chairman of the board and president since 1943. He will continue as chairman of the board and will remain active in the affairs and operations of the company. Mr. Zachry has been an executive of the firm for more than 11 years, his most recent office having been executive vice president and general manager.

There will be no changes in personnel or operating policies, it was announced.

Other officers of the company are F. W. Smith, vice president-treasurer, Dallas; James C. Reid, vice president-operating manager, of Dallas, James R. Cole, vice president of Santa Fe, Ross Byron, vice president of Chicago, and H. V. McConey, secretary, Dallas.

C. H. ZACHRY, of Dallas, who was recently elected President of Southern Union Gas Company.

Southern Union Gas Co., with headquarters in Dallas, was organized in Texas 17 years ago and the majority of the stock is owned in New Mexico and Texas. Today the company is serving approximately 60,000 consumers in 29 cities in New Mexico and Texas. The cities served in New Mexico are Artesia, Belen, Bernalillo, Carlsbad, Clovis, Dexter, Farmington, Hagerman, Lake Arthur, Loving, Lovington, Los Lunas, Portales, Santa Fe, Tesuque, Texico and Tucumcari, and sells gas to the city gates of Albuquerque and Roswell.

Prior to 1942, Southern Union was a holding company and through mergers and consolidations, required by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the company has been integrated and is now strictly an operating company.

BACK TO WAR WORK

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roberts expect to leave next week for the West Coast, where they will re-enter war production. They were formerly employed at one of the Lockheed plants on the coast, but left when he was called up for induction, only to be cut back by a change in regulations after he had arrived at the induction station.

"We're just going to have to cut down," one member of the gasoline panel of the local ration board said in an interview here today, following severe criticism by district OPA officials who were in the local office last week.

Boiled down to basic facts, district rationing officials have warned that unless gasoline consumption is cut immediately in Parmer county, the county will be set up on a quota, as now effective in many Eastern states, which will mean that there will be a drastic cut in the amount of extra allotments available.

The catch is this: gasoline use is figured per county on the per capita of cars and trucks, etc., operating.

Admittedly, Parmer does not have a large number—but, as board members pointed out, a farmer operating a sizeable interest and pulling a trailer with his car will use in normal operations as much gasoline as a half-dozen or more cars driven in ordinary city occupations—and, the fact remains, most of Parmer's population is rural.

Repairs Cause Much Driving

Then, as nearly all farmers will illustrate, there's the question of repairs. When farm machinery breaks down, as it does a good deal nowadays, it sometimes may require 100 miles or more of driving to secure new parts, or to have the old ones repaired. Shortages of help, bringing on more driving for one individual trying to do several jobs, also adds its bit to the driving problem.

Of course, there is always some wasted driving, but the fact remains that the large majority of gas used in this county has gone into some sort of production.

Applications for extra gasoline were cut down last week board members said, and will have to be reduced in the future if the county is to avoid a definite quota set-up. However, as one member put it today, "It seems to me that cutting gas rations to farmers and ranchers will cut production, and that is the very thing we have been trying desperately to maintain."

Undoubtedly, the county is on the spot. The cry for more production from all classes of labor on the home front has been insistent during past months, and goals for farm production locally are as high this year—in some cases higher—as before. Loss of gasoline allotments could mean a serious reduction in production of food and feed, since the majority of men in Parmer county operate interests large enough to entail a good deal of necessary driving.

Two Veterans Head For Parmer County

Two veterans from the far-flung battlefronts of the world are expected home shortly for a visit with relatives and friends, it was revealed the first of the week.

Freddie Hall, who has been in the Pacific theatre, notably in the Philippine campaign with a cavalry unit wired his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall two weeks ago that he was back in the States, and another message the first of this week reported that he expected to be home "in a few days".

And from the other side of the world, Tech-Sgt. Murt Sullivan has been returned to the States, wiring his mother, Mrs. Valter Wagoner of the Lazbuddy community, on Jan. 12 that he was back and would be home as soon as released. Murt has been overseas for 27 months, having landed with the invasion forces in North Africa early in the war. He was relieved from duty in Italy, and is on the East Coast at present.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS AT AUCTION SALE

Sam Stites of Bovina will sell all his household goods at public auction at Bovina on Saturday, Jan. 20, with the sale getting under way at 2:30 p. m. Col. W. D. Wanzor will conduct the auction.

A complete list of the offerings will be found in this issue of The Tribune.

Do they call it puppy love because its the beginning of a dog's life?

Running "about the same" as in 1944, production goals for Parmer county farmers have been released locally, following the establishment of national and state goals.

Actually, only three goals were set up for the county: on wheat, cotton, and feed crops, the latter including corn, oats, barley, rye and sorghum.

The feed crop goal tops the list in acreage, with a total of 190,900 acres, which is about 20,000 acres higher than the requested '44 goal. Ellis M. Mills, at the local AAA office, expressed the opinion that at least 190,000 was planted to feed crops in 1944, and was confident the goal would be reached this season.

A total of 150,000 acres of wheat is asked, and current opinion was to the effect that this much—or more—acreage had already been sown. The cotton goal of 10,500 acres is the same as last year, and predictions were that Parmer might fall short on this line, as in 1944.

Cotton has not proven any too popular, principally because it must be harvested by hand labor, and the existing manpower shortage offered farmers considerable difficulty. On the other hand, combining and threshing crews worked over most of the county last season on both wheat and row crops, handling the harvest without too much trouble.

A comprehensive total of all three goals shows that Parmer county is asked to have 350,500 acres in production this year, and a recent survey showed that some 392,930 acres were in cultivation last year.

Sudan took up a large portion of the 40,000 acre difference between the two figures listed above, and it is expected that an equal amount of sudan will be on hand in 1945.

Rev. Wright Head of "March Of Dimes"

Rev. W. C. Wright of the Texico-Farwell Baptist Church, who has been named head of the March of Dimes committee in Texico today announced that coin collectors had been placed in most of the business houses where contributors could place their donations.

"The March of Dimes," a fund being raised on a nation-wide scale to fight infantile paralysis, is a yearly event. This year it opened on January 14th, and will culminate on President Roosevelt's birthday, Jan. 31.

Rev. Wright referred to the March of Dimes as "a worthy and needy cause" and solicited liberal contributions to the cause.

So far as could be learned at the time The Tribune went to press, no collector has been named for Farwell.

Farm Census Will Be Conducted In County

Although details were far from complete, County Agent Lee McElroy announced today that a farm census would be compiled in Parmer county during the next few weeks, in conjunction with a nation-wide survey being conducted at this time.

Members of the advisory committee have been named, including G. D. Anderson, O. W. Rhineheart and Frank Spring. These men will be in touch with district workers who are expected here in a few days to line up the actual enumerators for the work, McElroy said.

Work on the farm census has been started in the Lubbock area and in counties south of there, the agent said, adding that he expected such a census to be underway here in a short time.

Farmers Are Signing Payment Applications

Applications for 1944 AAA payments have been completed at the local office, with only a few exceptions, Ellis M. Mills supervisor, said the first of the week, adding that farmers had been notified and forms were being signed at the rate of from 50 to 100 daily.

Upon completion of application for payment, the forms are turned over to the state office, following which checks are sent out as rapidly as the applications are okayed.

Mills urged that all farmers come in to sign their applications promptly, in order that checks would arrive as soon as possible.

Industrial Conference Planned at Amarillo

AMARILLO—Program plans are being completed for the first Panhandle-Plains Industrial Conference which will be presented in the Herring Hotel, Jan. 24-25, to acquaint the people of this region with the industrial possibilities now and for the future. The two-day conference is open to the public and is free.

Sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News on behalf of the entire territory, there will be two full days and one night of elaborate displays and a program featuring more than 20 competent speakers, men and women who are actually engaged in production, chemical research, or managers of huge industrial projects.

Program discussions begin at 9 in the morning of Jan. 24-25 and at 2 each afternoon. From 7 to 11 the night of Jan. 24, a gala open house will be presented, featuring the exhibits and special entertainment. Arrangements are made whereby school students may visit the exhibits through a conducted tour the first afternoon. So interested has the region become over the first such conference that many predict it will become an annual affair. So unusual are the displays they resemble a Jules Verne vision of things to come. Yet all have been prepared especially to please men, women and children. It is not a technical program, but a down-to-earth presentation of what West Texas and Eastern New Mexico have to offer now.

Liner Named State Director of FSA Work

T. Euel Liner has been named Texas State Director for Region 12 of the Farm Security Administration, according to an announcement released from Amarillo by regional director Ray E. Davis. Liner has been with FSA since 1937 and is widely known in West Texas agricultural circles. He has been acting state director for more than a year.

Born in Garvin County, Okla., of farmer parents, Liner moved to Lubbock in 1928 when he enrolled in the agricultural school of Texas Tech. He financed his way through school by farming and later by working as herdsman on the college farm and as student assistant in the department of animal husbandry.

In 1931 Liner was a member of the junior livestock judging team and in the fall of that year a member of the senior judging team, representing Tech at Chicago. He was a member of the southern scholarship society and received his B. S. degree in animal husbandry in 1932.

Prior to going with FSA, Liner was assistant manager of the State Dairy at Sanatorium, Texas, and subsequently taught vocational agriculture at Lazbuddy, Seagraves and Littlefield.

Liner's experience with FSA has included tenure as a county supervisor at Littlefield, member of the farm management staff of the regional office at Amarillo, and as a district supervisor at Lubbock. He is married and has two children.

A system of comprehensive sophomore examinations has been prepared by the University of Texas general faculty, subject to approval by the Board of Regents.

'Puss-in-Boots' Joins U. S. Army

WARTIME HOMEMAKER LEARNS MANY TRICKS

AUSTIN—Saving fats for ammunition, raising her own vegetables to save ration points, and learning how to prepare frozen and dehydrated foods are only a few of the wartime measures familiar to American housewives which were unknown to the homemaker of 1917.

"Enriched bread, fortified margarine and iodized salt were almost unknown to the housewife of 1917," Dr. Jet C. Winters, professor of home economics at the University of Texas, and chairman of the State Nutrition Council, says. "But today, American women demand that the quality of their food be superior, regardless whether there is an abundant supply.

"Americans are more nutrition conscious than they were in the last war," she said. "Today we emphasize the importance of nutrition, such as adding vitamin B1 to bread, and Vitamin A to margarine, as well as cutting down on waste of vitamins and minerals."

Health Notes

By Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—In order to enjoy the best possible health at an age beyond forty, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, advises that persons of this age be regularly examined by their family physicians to discover those ailments which are likely to contribute to the ill health of older people.

The principal foes of health confronting the middle years are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardened arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis. Arthritis is conspicuous among these diseases because it is seldom fatal but is probably the most common cause of suffering and disablement.

Dr. Cox advises periodic physical check-ups, the avoidance of overweight during the middle years of life and the observance of the natural restrictions imposed by increasing age. Persons with damaged hearts should learn their limitations and never exceed them. In general, they should avoid excessive fatigue, hard or prolonged exertion, exposure to cold, wet weather; they should eat moderately, use tobacco sparingly, if at all, and stop all activity before breathlessness occurs.

Medical care in middle age has two aims. The first is prompt diagnosis or attention to illness which may mean the difference between continued good health and prolonged invalidism. The second aim is as important as the first, and that is, prompt attention to any known illness in order that it may not progress and to allow an opportunity for a complete cure.

Despite limitations and complications Dr. Cox declared that the second half of life can become the better half if close attention is paid to general health, and periodic examinations disclose any incipient illnesses in time for early treatment.

TEXAS FARMERS MADE RECORDS IN PAST YEAR

COLLEGE STATION—Year-end figures form a comprehensive picture of the amazing achievement of Texas farmers in 1944. Although hampered by labor difficulties and much bad weather at planting time they harvested 49,179,000 acres of principal crops, some of which brought record yields. According to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, USDA, Austin, this was not only the largest acreage in recent years, but was two per cent more than the land harvested in 1943.

But the phenomenal agricultural production of last year is casting shadows into the new. The December report of the BAE estimates that 5,023,000 acres have been seeded to winter wheat in Texas for harvesting in 1945. This is 13 per cent larger than the area seeded for 1944 harvesting, and the greatest sown to winter wheat since the fall of 1937.

The report says that the wheat crop for 1945 harvesting was started under favorable moisture conditions. This is in sharp contrast with the 1943 fall sowing which was gusted in amid a prolonged drought. But with timely moisture subsequently the acreage yielded Texas' greatest wheat crop. Looking ahead, however, BAE says that "based upon factors which are measurable on December 1 and can be related to yield in previous years" a harvest of about 52,794,000 bushels is indicated for the state in 1945. While this conservative forecast is considerably less than the 1944 yield, BAE explains that "the final outcome, of course, is largely dependent upon conditions prevailing after Dec. 1."

Looking backward at the overall farming situation, the picture reveals extremes of weather during

Awarded Nobel Medicine Prizes

All 1944 Nobel prizes for medicine went to the United States, the Nobel committee has announced. Dr. Joseph Erlanger, St. Louis, Mo., (left); Dr. Edward A. Doisy, St. Louis, Mo., (center); and Dr. Herbert S. Gasser, of the Rockefeller Institute, New York city, were awarded the prizes for medical research work.

much of the 1944 planting, growing and harvesting seasons. Heavy rainfall over most of the state at the start caused losses of early planted crops in many areas. Coupled with this were very high temperatures for long periods, and a dry spell which set back some crops, especially corn, at critical growth periods. County agricultural agents, farm labor forces and specialists of the Extension Service gave farmers their close cooperation in meeting labor, soil and seed preparation, and other problems. The result was a historic production of food and feed.

GLIMPSE INTO POST-WAR LIVING IS OFFERED

COLLEGE STATION—Nylon suits for men with permanent "creases" in the trousers, curtains which can be laundered but need not be ironed, transparent food containers which can be vacuum packed like tin cans, all lie ahead for consumers in the post war years, members of the Extension Service staff were told at a recent conference by Miss Gertrude Dieken, home economics consultant for a chemical research concern at Wilmington, Del.

The speaker, a former Extension worker, said the public should not expect overnight "a brand new world paved with plastics," but science under the pressure of war is making many new discoveries which will "lighten the routine of house-keeping and leave more time for homemaking."

Chemical research, in addition to developing synthetics and plastics, also is finding ways to give new characteristics to natural fibers, Miss Dieken said. Junior's coveralls can be treated so they will be unaffected by splashes of mud, spilled orange juice, or upset bottles of ink. In addition, cotton materials can be treated so they will be fireproof, mildew resistant, water repellant, and, by a layering process, as warm as wool.

A number of interesting exhibits were shown to the Extension group by the speaker. Among them were a section of nylon tow rope with "stretch recovery" which is used for pulling gliders; plastic for use in out-door furniture which will not fade, warp or weather, nylon capes which offer protection from poison gas and nylon fabric screens which protect fighting men in the Southwest Pacific from mosquitoes and other pests.

Clothing made of acetate rayon need not be sewed, she said, for heat will weld or fuse the seams permanently. When production can be turned to peace-time purposes, there are enough facilities for every woman in the country to have a dozen pairs of nylon hose, she predicted.

ENROLLMENT GOES UP

AUSTIN — Overcoming lingual hurdles and barriers of customs, enrollment of Latin-American students at the University of Texas continues on the upswing, Dr. C. W. Hackett, chairman of the Institute of Latin-American studies, reports.

A 26 per cent gain in students was reported by Dr. Hackett for the past year, on top of a 17 per cent increase the year before.

There were 730 students enrolled in the University's 4-year-old Institute last year in the 41 Latin-American content courses offered at the Main University, and in the 15 courses in the summer field school conducted at the National University of Mexico. This total does not include those students enrolled in the thesis courses for master's and doctor's degrees.

Blair-Wellman Nuptials Read at Base Chapel

In a lovely wedding performed at the Clovis Army Air Base chapel on Sunday afternoon, January 14, at four o'clock by Chaplain Galley, Miss Helen Katherine Blair became the bride of Corporal Verne Wellman.

The double ring ritual was used for the ceremony, which was performed in the presence of relatives and close friends of the couple.

To the strains of the traditional "Wedding March" the bride entered the chapel on the arm of her brother, Joe Blair. As a wedding ensemble she wore a beautifully tailored grey suit accented with a corsage of gardenias and pink camillias. Her bridesmaid, Miss Wanda Boss, wore a green suit and a corsage identical to that of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Twila trickland sang "I Love You Truly". Miss Strickland was dressed in a tailored street dress of turquoise wool, and had a corsage of pink camillias.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Bennett entertained Cpl. and Mrs. Wellman with an informal reception, held at their home in Clovis, following the wedding. Traditional decorations were arranged, featuring the wedding cake.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Blair, Mrs. Wellman is a graduate of the Texico high school. For the past several months she has been employed at the ration office in Clovis, and will continue in her work.

Cpl. Wellman is stationed at the Clovis Base, and the couple will reside in Clovis.

Baptist Workers To Hold Conference

Rev. W. C. Wright, pastor of the local Baptist Church, announced today that the regular workers' conference of the Plains Baptist Association would be held with the First Baptist Church in Clovis on Tuesday, January 23, beginning at 11 Texas time.

Emmett Rubio, Spanish Baptist church, will lead the opening song and devotional, followed by a discussion on the Association School of Missions, by E. D. Morgan.

The local pastor will speak on "The Evangelistic Crusade in the Plains Association," after which Rev. J. T. Barbee will lead a discussion on the chair of Bible in Eastern New Mexico College.

The morning sermon will be delivered by Rev. W. E. Barnes, of the Portales First Church, following which lunch will be served. F. O. Polston, of Melrose, will lead the group in song and devotional at the resumption of the afternoon session.

Business and reports will be handled following the devotional, and the conference will conclude with a sermon on "The Challenge of My Sunday School", by Rev. Henry Hill.

Musical Program At Farwell, Jan. 22

Featuring Doris Stockton of Chicago, "America's First Lady of the Marimba", a trio of young women will present a musical program on marimba, violin and piano at the Farwell auditorium next Monday night, January 22nd.

Miss Stockton appeared in recital last March at the Civic Theatre, Chicago, under the management of Bertha Ott, and was accompanied by members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Clair Omar Musser.

Miss Mavis King, violinist, is a native Texan, attending North Texas State Teachers College at Denton, where she was soloist several seasons with the college orchestra. She has studied with Brooke Morris, Claude Sammis, George Needham and Joseph Kirshbaum.

The pianist, Miss Alma Lunsford, hails from Springfield, Mo., where she attended Southwest Missouri State Teachers College. She has played the piano "ever since she can remember" and has had much experience as soloist and accompanist. Her graduate training was done at Northwestern University. Last August she studied accompanying with Frank La Forge, in New York.

The program is sponsored by the local Woman's Club, and will begin at 8:30.

Preston Martin Is Honored at Dinner

Tommie Randol was hostess at a farewell dinner party given in her home, Monday evening, honoring Preston Martin, who is leaving on Thursday to join the armed forces.

The guests were seated around a beautifully decorated table which carried out a color scheme of pink and white. A lovely bouquet of pink and white carnations added to the attractiveness of the table.

After the dinner the guests enjoyed a theatre party in Clovis. Attendants were Misses Pearl Martin and Norma Jean Thomas, Kenneth Thompson, Albert Lane Martin, Preston Martin and the hostess.

Miss Natoma Hodges left the past weekend for San Antonio, where she will visit a sister for several days.

Achievement Day Plans Started By Clubbers

Plans for the annual Achievement Day for Parmer county boys enrolled in 4-H clubs have been started, County Agent Lee McElroy announced today, but no date has as yet been set for the affair.

"The program will be held either the last of this month or the early part of February," McElroy said today, adding that Bovina had been tentatively set as the host city.

Highlight of the achievement program will be the presentation of various awards to club boys who made outstanding records in 1944 work, the county agent explained. Foremost on the list will be Wendol Christian, of the Oklahoma Lane club, who carried off many honors in dairy production work and was an attendant at the annual Club congress in Chicago last December.

Announcement of the winners in two other contests will be made, and the prizes awarded. Bonds will be given by Henderson Elevator in a grain sorghum contest, and E. M. Deaton, who sponsored a cotton contest, will also give bonds as prizes.

Two team demonstrations, on the feeding of dairy cattle and the eradication of Johnson grass, are likewise being planned.

Change Made On Subsidy Applications

Effective immediately, payments of dairy subsidy to producers will be made quarterly instead of every two months, according to a notice received at the local AAA office.

Producers should hold all stubs for January, February and March sales and present them at the end of March for payment on the first quarter. Incidentally, the end of the current quarter concludes the program, so far as legislation to date is concerned, but further announcements along this line will be forthcoming later.

Teams Split Games Here Friday Night

Visiting teams from Oklahoma Lane downed the Farwell girls and lost to the local boys the past Friday night, in two fast matches staged before a packed auditorium of excited fans.

By far the closer of the two contests was the girls' struggle, in which the balance of power swayed back and forth, finally giving Oklahoma Lane a 23-21 victory. An attempted crisp shot by Meeks in the last seconds of the game lost Farwell's opportunity to tie the score.

The Farwell guards turned in nice work on defense, but were faulty on passes when they obtained the ball, and the local forwards, though exhibiting nice teamwork against a stubborn zone defense set up by the visitors, missed the large majority of their shots.

Sudderth led the scoring, with a count of 10 for Oklahoma Lane, while Foster, Oklahoma Lane, and Meeks, Farwell, were tied for second high with 9 each.

Never giving Oklahoma Lane an opportunity to do much about scoring, the Farwell boys trampled the visitors to the tune of 24-8, led by Phillips, who bagged 10 points, principally from long shots that left the crowd gasping.

One of the best players on the Oklahoma Lane team, Verner, did consistent work at guard and handled the ball nicely, although he went scoreless during the game. Rundell took 3 for the losers.

Ford and Spraws showed up well at defense for Farwell, and the entire team was exceptional in following up, taking the large majority of rebounds from both their own and Oklahoma Lane's tries at goals.

Teams Take Rosedale To Thorough Beating

With the Texico girls opening the evening's activities by downing their opponents 28-12, the Texico boys followed suit to win 30-36, in two games played with Rosedale on the local court, last Friday night.

This was the second consecutive win for the girls, and was a decisive one from the time the whistle opened the game. At half-time the girls had stacked up a 14-3 lead over Rosedale, and the two Flye girls continued to push in goals as the game drew to a conclusion.

Peggy Flye was high scorer with a total of 15 points, while Avis Price, of Rosedale, took eight of the 12 points made by her team.

Action was hot in the boys game, particularly in the last half when Rosedale did most of their scoring. The final quarters, however, did not allow the visitors sufficient time to overcome the 21-9 club held over their heads at the half by Texico.

Scoring was fairly well distributed on the Texico side of the ledger with White and Johnson each taking 10. Hoover, strong player from the Rosedale quint, was lead man with a tally of 12, and played exceptional ball during the match.

Bovina, Friona Are Farwell Opponents

Two rounds of cage matches have been slated for the Farwell team this weekend, with the locals taking off for Bovina on Friday night, and entertaining the Friona squads here come Saturday.

Earlier in the season, the Bovina teams visited in Farwell, with the games being halved—a win by the local boys and a loss by the girls—and coaches admitted today that they expected the Bovina players to be in a fighting mood when the teams get together, with possibilities of two hard-fought matches.

Although the local boys have yet to be defeated this season, reports coming in from Friona today were that the Redskins were planning to down the locals by a 2-to-1 count—and the Farwell boys are just as determined that Friona will have a hard time taking an sort of a win.

Texico Will Visit at Pleasant Hill, Friday

Pleasant Hill will offer competition to the Texico cage teams on Friday night of this week. Coaches Viola Rodewald and C. E. Sanders announced on Tuesday, with the games being held in the Pleasant Hill gym.

Earlier in the season, Texico held matches with Pleasant Hill on the local court, winning the boys' game and losing the girls', and both coaches predicted today that the games on Friday night would be no "cinch" for whichever team emerged winner.

The local girls, having taken two in a row, are primed for battle Friday night, and have been further encouraged to learn that Pleasant Hill will be minus a big scoring threat, Porter, who recently sustained an appendectomy.

Coach Sanders expressed the opinion that his boys would have their hands full with Pleasant Hill, as the rivalry between the two schools has always been strong.

VICTORY GARDEN AWARD MADE TO PHILLIPS 66 CO.

Announcement has been made of the award of the National Victory Garden Institute plaque to Phillips Petroleum company "in recognition of its distinguished record in the encouraging of Victory gardens and home food preservation".

This is the highest award of the Institute and marks the conclusion of a year of intensified Victory garden efforts sponsored by Phillips, which included contests and fairs with trophies of $6600 in war bond prizes.

In addition, the scrapbook submitted by the company as part of its entry has been put on display at the annual conference of the National Victory Garden Institute in Chicago. Described by Institute officials as the best received to date, the scrapbook is a pictorial review of employee participation and graphic proof of the success of the program.

Over 3500 entries from 33 states were registered in the contests which were open to all Phillips employees and their families. A total of 668 acres was farmed and over 5½ million pounds of fresh vegetables produced. Variety shows featuring victory garden movies, contest information and entertainment were present, and gardening and canning equipment, such as pressure cookers and wheelbarrows, given away as door prizes.

Trophies presented personally to best Phillips gardeners and sanners by Frank Phillips, chairman, and K. S. Adams, president, capped the spirited effort to help meet the government's plea for at least 22 million victory gardens in 1944. This year, Phillips Petroleum expects to sponsor an even more extensive program in an attempt to meet the call for bigger and better victory gardens in 1945.

Terracing Program Is Available to Farmers

The terracing program, whereby the AAA will pay for construction work of terraces on farms and ranches in Farmer County, is still available to farmers this year.

The foregoing announcement was made by Ellis M. Mills, following a number of queries at his office regarding the program.

Farmers who can secure contractors to do the work are asked to contact the AAA office, where complete arrangements will be made. At the completion of the terracing work, the contractor will be paid by the AAA and the farmer draws a soil conservation payment.
