

Parmer Will Fight For Water Rights

Rainfall for Year Near Average Figure

Rainfall during the year of 1946 was near the normal figure of approximately 20 inches, a checkup showed today, although most of the moisture came during the latter part of the year. The late fall forced farmers to delay Spring planting, with the result that many crops did not have time to mature.

Records compiled at the office of the Capitol Freehold Lands reveal that less than an inch of moisture was received here during the first six months of the year, a total of .79 of an inch being recorded.

The month of January was the "wettest" of the first six-months period, with a total precipitation of .46, slightly less than one-half inch. During February, the Weatherman closed the faucet entirely, with the result that the reading for that period stands .00. March was only slightly better, with a total of .08, while April, the month of showers, came through with only .19 of an inch of moisture, and May came near by-passing this region for the second month of the year, showing only a trace at .06.

Not until June did the skies begin to open up and distribute their moisture. The record shows that 1.84 fell during June, to be followed in July with 1.64 inches. August, September and October proved to be the wettest months of the year. August got the parade started with 3.36, September upped the total to 4.64 and October showed the peak moisture with a rainfall reading of 4.80.

November and December came in for a combined total of 1.53, November contributing .80 and December .73. The grand total for the year 1946 stood at 18.60.

Lateness of a favorable season in the Spring resulted in late grain sorghum plantings and such crops were light this year. However, the generous rains of the last half of the year were responsible for heavy wheat plantings over the area, and crop conditions are very favorable at this time.

3 Holiday Accidents Involve Residents Of Parmer Co.

At least three Bovina persons were injured, two of them seriously, in a series of highway accidents at widely separated locations during the holiday season.

The most serious accident involved Mr. and Mrs. Jerald King and baby daughter, and King's sister, Miss Charlene, 17, member of the senior class at Bovina. The party of four was enroute to Tennessee when their car smashed into a tree near Nashville. Miss King received a broken leg and numerous ugly lacerations, while her brother was cut and badly bruised. Mrs. King and the baby escaped injury.

Wayne Smith who was returning home from California with a soldier buddy, got off with only slight injuries when their car was involved in a crash near Magdalena, N. M. Smith's traveling companion was removed to an Albuquerque hospital with serious injuries.

Fred Langer, another Bovina resident, came out minus injuries when his car turned three flips before coming to a halt on the Clovis-Texico highway. Langer said that another machine hit his car from the rear while he was traveling at about 70 miles per hour.

SKATING RINK OPENED

Leroy Cole, of Portales, opened a roller rink in Texico on December 21st, with the new amusement room being located two doors south of Crowley's Bakery. The rink is open from 3 to 5 in the afternoons, and from 7:30 to 10:30 in the evenings, Texas time, Cole reported.

Determined not to sit quietly by while producers from the lower part of Texas lobby for passage of a bill to control use of irrigation water in the state, farmers from the entire High Plains area have been forming county and community organizations during the past few weeks, and announce that they will put up a solid front of opposition to the proposed bill, when the Texas Legislature meets this month.

Recent investigations have uncovered the fact that the vegetable and citrus growers, who irrigate their crops in the lower valleys, are backing the water control bill. In a nutshell, the bill would mean that the State Board of Engineers would have control of underground water use, and could approve or disprove the drilling of irrigation wells as they saw fit.

Asked about statistics, County Agent Lee McElroy said today that no figures can be offered as to whether the underground supply in the Plains is being extensively damaged by irrigations. Geologists report that the water level has been lowered only slightly in the Plains by irrigation, during the past few years, but where this water comes from, and whether it might eventually be exhausted by irrigation, is something no one has been able to ascertain.

Rio Grande producers insist that since the Plains is dependent on rainfall to build up an underground supply, irrigation can and will do heavy damage. It is also maintained that irrigation here cuts down on the amount of seepage which escapes from the caprock to build up water supplies in the lower part of this state, and this is also a question of hot debate.

No Damage At Plainview
In the Plainview area, where extensive irrigation has been conducted for at least 16 years, the water level has shown only a very slight decline, and farmers of the Plains maintain that unless facts can be produced to show that irrigation is definitely and extensively damaging the water supply, no board of engineers has the right to tell them when, where and if they can put down wells.

Both dry-land farmers and those already using irrigation set-ups are joining the ranks of the "anti-s", for, as Agent McElroy pointed out, the farmer who does not have a well will be worse hurt than the man who already has one in operation.

Some 75 farmers were on hand at the first meeting to form a Parmer county organization against the bill, and more men are showing up every day to put in their $5 membership fee. This money will be used in promoting the fight against passage of the control measure.

Already groups have been formed in Dallam, Parmer, Hale, Lamb, Lubbock, Deaf Smith, Castro and Hockley counties, as well as several outlying communities embracing more than one county, to oppose the bill, and as one man said here, "The farmers are hotter about this than anything which has ever come up in the way of farm problems."

Directors of the Parmer County organization are J. G. McFarland, chairman; J. R. Roden, secretary-treasurer; Buddie Jones, W. L. Edelman, T. L. Glasscock, Jack Waltman and B. E. Roberson.

Jones announced here today that he and C. M. Henderson were accepting memberships in the Farwell area. Farmers interested may contact any of the directors if they wish to "put in their five bucks' worth", it was added.

Legion Meet Called Thursday Night

Post Commander Paul Wurster today announced a special and important meeting of the Farwell American Legion Post, to be held at the courthouse on Thursday evening, January 2.

A building program is being launched, Commander Wurster said, and it is exceedingly important that all Legionnaires be present. He expressed the hopes of the Post that recent discharges, who have not yet become affiliated with the Legion, be present and join the local unit.

The local Post is launching plans to give away a new Ford automobile as a stimulus to its building plans, and needs the support of all war veterans to carry out the project.

HUCK FINN GOLDILOCKS . . . Jimmy Garvin, 13, the most rugged of rugged individualists, has all the other characteristics of a Huckleberry Finn, but he wears his hair long. His classmates at Langley junior high school, Washington, D. C., used to kid Jimmy about it.

Coldest Weather Of Season Brings No Moisture Here

Following a period of balmy days, during which the mercury climbed to the higher 60's during the Yuletide season, a brisk wind from the north brought the coldest weather of the season to this region, Saturday afternoon.

Thermometer readings quickly tumbled during the early part of that evening, finally reaching a low of 18 Sunday morning. Readings have continued low since the spell hit, with the mercury dipping to 8 above on Monday morning, followed by a 10-degree reading on Tuesday. The maximum reading since the cold snap hit has been below the freezing point.

Aside from a slight drift of snow that covered the ground early Tuesday morning—and remained on the ground as the mercury stayed in the cellar despite a bright sun—no moisture has accompanied the cold wave. Stockmen have been busy handling bundled feed to their livestock on wheat pasturage, to supplement the greenery. No losses have been reported.

Miss Rose Resigns As Local Teacher

Miss Betty Rose, who has served as commercial instructor of the Farwell school since the opening of the 1946-47 term, tendered her resignation this week, effective on Monday, December 30. She did not announce any future plans.

Supt. H. A. Clift said today that he expected to fill the vacancy with a permanent teacher by the first of next week. In the meantime, Mrs. Russell Hardage, of Texico, is acting as substitute in the school.

Texico School Gets Two Barracks Buildings

FORT WORTH.—Two barracks buildings located on the Hereford Prisoner of War Camp site, Deaf Smith and Castro counties, Texas, today were authorized for transfer by War Assets Administration to Texico Municipal School District No. 2 of Texico, New Mexico for $1,120 less a 70% discount.

Of temporary frame construction and each one 20 by 100 feet in size, the structure will be removed from the army installations in Texas and reassembled in the town of Texico for school use. They have been classified as war housing to be disposed of for "off site" use. Their original cost to the government was $5000.

Texico recently lost one school building through fire and is sorely in need of classroom space.

The United States office of Education has recommended that WAA approve the transfer of the indicated barracks buildings. The school will defray all costs of building removal and restore the land area on which they now stand.

Supt. B. A. Rogers, contacted today, reported that the board had received no official notice from the WAA office to the effect that the school had been allotted the buildings, and added that no action to accept the offer and have the buildings moved could be made until such notice is on hand.

"All we know about it is what WAA has released to the papers," Rogers told a Tribune reporter, adding that he hoped to have official confirmation within a few days.

RETAINED AS DEPUTY

Mrs. Dorothy Lovelace, who has served as deputy under County Clerk D. K. Roberts, has been retained by Loyde Brewer, incoming clerk.

High Points 1946 Local Happenings Pass In Review

Although the year ended without a new car in every garage or bacon on every table, 1946, first full year of peace, saw the fulfillment of many dreams by local people, as the majority of servicemen returned home, while tragedies, always present, darkened the days of other local residents.

In general, Parmer County reported a growth of new businesses, principally manned by returned servicemen; hail and drought threatened the very existence of a wheat crop, which in the end turned out a surprisingly large harvest; prospects for a grain crop appeared completely gone, only to be saved by late rains and an exceptionally late frost; everything except sugar went off the ration list, and some local housewives took advantage of their merchant's gullibility to pass counterfeit stamps for this commodity; new American Legion groups were formed, at Bovina and at Farwell; the long-awaited community hospital neared completion at Friona; irrigation made considerable progress in Parmer county; and the Texico school, in Curry county, experienced its first fire loss, when lightning ignited the combination ag-cafeteria building just before the 1946-47 school term opened.

The Friona basketball girls, the Squaws, and the Farwell football boys, the Steers, were prominent in sports, with the girls taking second in Texas state competition, while the Steers were second in bi-district rating in six-man football.

GI Brides Arrive

The entire community was interested in the arrival of two GI brides from England, with Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser and baby daughter, Patricia Ann, joining her husband here in February; while Mrs. Claude Dyer and son, Leslie Winsper, Jr., arrived here a month later to make their home in the States. Farwell secured the services of a new doctor William V. Coventry, who came here after release from the army, while Texico got a new bakery, operated by the Crawley Brothers, also out of uniform.

One of the worst blizzards in some years hit this section last January, blocking main highways for almost a day, and rendering county roads impassable for a week. The Parmer County ration board was closed, with the files being moved to Hereford, and the county's Selective Service board was moved to offices in the courthouse.

Farwell organized its first Chamber of Commerce, with C. M. Henderson as president, and in Texico, M. C. Roberts was re-elected to the office of mayor. Roy E. Cook came here from Houston to open a law office, Frank Seale, after Navy service, returned to the FHA office; Jerry Spurlin tendered his resignation as Texico marshal after many years of service; Paul Wurster took over the Conoco agency, with C. J. Dooge and family moving to Colorado; Andy Marcus returned to the produce business in Farwell; A. R. Self opened a radio shop in Texico, and T. B. Allen established a machine shop there, while Arch Green secured the agency for the new Kaiser-Frazer car, also in Texico; Harold Carpenter succeeded John B. Martin at the Triple A office;

Tom Hudson tendered his resignation as ag man at Texico, and Lee McElroy resigned as the county agent.

Politics were of interest to most residents, with some hot contests developing in Parmer County. County Judge A. D. Smith, Attorney Sam Aldridge, Treasurer Roy B. Ezell, and Sheriff Earl Booth were returned to office, while Loyde A. Brewer, former GI, came out ahead as county clerk elect and C. L. Calaway ousted Floyd Schlenker for one of the commissioners' seats. Other commissioners were re-elected, including T. E. Levy, W. H. Flippin, Jr., and W. S. Menefee. District Judge John Aldridge, of Farwell, was defeated in his race for return to office by Harry H. Schultz, of Dalhart.

Youngsters Prominent

The young people of Texico-Farwell and near-by communities made their mark in several instances during the year. Ernest Lokey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Lokey, was awarded two of the highest Scout

TERRYS ARE GASSED

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Terry, of Friona, this week owe their lives to Oren Seamands, who "dropped in" at the right time Monday morning, finding Mrs. Terry completely overcome by gas and Terry on the edge of being unconscious. They were rushed to Hereford for medical care, and reported recuperating today. A bird's nest, in the flue of a gas furnace, caused carbon monoxide gas to spread through the house, overcoming the couple.

HAIRBRAIN HARRY

(Beginning a hair-raising serial in 999 parts)

Our hero, Hairbrain Harry, has been imprisoned by a band of desperados and is in a ticklish place when given his choice as to whether he should tell where the gold is hidden, or see his sweetheart, Dirty Gertie, burned at the stake by the Push-Indians. Just now he is saying:

"Boy, am I lucky I had along my Jack Armstrong pocket radio. I'll call the boys at the Bee-O ranch and ask for help."

Suddenly he hears the terrifying screams of his beloved Dirty Gertie, who is about to be burned at the stake.

"Help!" she screams. "I don't want to die yet. I want to live so I can taste that fine Sally Ann bread again."

Meanwhile, the boys at the Bee-O Ranch are trying to contact Hairbrain Harry on their trusty Jack Armstrong radio.

Killy the Bid ever and motions for silence. He listens intently, and suddenly hears, "Does your cigaret taste different lately?"

Modern Feed Milling Plant
Big Industry In Curry County

The El Rancho Milling Company, of Clovis, with Austin Brooks as manager, is one of the largest feed manufacturing plants in New Mexico, having a capacity in excess of 100 tons per day. Products are sold by dealers in New Mexico and West Texas, including a large portion of the choice feed accounts in this area.

The plant is composed of a four-story mill building, 70x54; two warehouses, each 44x140; scales and scale house; boiler room; and has grain storage of 100,000 bushels in a steel reinforced concrete elevator, and 40,000 bushel capacity in the mill building.

Brooks, general manager, was sales and advertising manager for Stockmen's Feed Manufacturing Co., predecessor to El Rancho. Other personnel includes Alvy Smith, field representative and nutritional advisor, graduate of New Mexico A. & M.; Nolan Atwell, mill superintendent, who has had almost 25 years experience in flour and feed manufacturing business; Pat Horton, truck foreman; "Slim" Bell, elevator foreman; "Buck" Jester, production foreman. Full production requires between 50 and 60 employees, many of whom were with the old company.

El Rancho owns its own trucks, delivering feed right to the rancher's barn, and also has its own railroad spur. The company makes a complete line of cattle, sheep and horse feeds, dairy feeds, hog feeds, poultry feeds, rabbit feeds, etc., providing a year-round market for grain of all kinds.

The Stockmen's Feed Manufacturing plant was destroyed by fire in May, 1945, and as protection against fire, El Rancho has installed an automatic sprinkler system. Every section of the new plant is protected.

Stockholders, all business men, include Arno A. Rodas, Otto Smith, Harold Murphy, Charles C. Murphy, Coy Echols, Max Meadors, Dr. John Conway, Jimmie Hardgrove, Edwin Cain, Dr. P. E. Hale, George Stanley, Dr. V. Scott Johnson, and Austin Brooks.

The business is planned and operated on the theory that quality products, honestly blended and properly merchandised, will render a definite service to the public and fulfill a required need for a prosperous agriculture.

BATHTUB OF TOMORROW

COLLEGE STATION. — Now they're redesigning bathtubs, making them more convenient, lighter and less costly.

The "bathtub of tomorrow," which is already produced today, is radically designed, reports Mrs. Berniece Claytor, home management specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. The reservoir is set diagonally in the tub, an arrangement that leaves room on each end for an inside and outside bathtub seat.

Of standard length, the new tub is somewhat narrower than the regular type, which makes cleaning the wall back of the tub an easier job, Mrs. Claytor says.

But the payoff is the cheaper price, made possible by the tub's light weight. When the newly-designed tub hits the market, consumers will find it less costly than conventional types, since it's lighter weight incurs less shipping costs.

Pair Gets Away With Daylight Robbery

What is believed to be about the slickest "job" pulled locally in several months victimized O. C. Pullam at the Gulf Service Station in Farwell, last Friday.

Two unknown men drove into the station while Pullam was across the street on an errand. Finding nobody in charge, they are believed to have rifled the cash register, and were leaving in their car when Pullam returned. Explaining that they desired some gas, the pair backed up, Pullam serviced the car and stepped to his cash register to make change for a $5 bill.

Noticing that his register had been "touched", the owner immediately accused the strange customers of the theft, but the pair denied the charge and drove off. They were later picked up by Clovis officers and given a "shake down", when it was found that they had considerable money on their persons.

Officers finally decided that since no one had seen them enter the station, and there was no means of identifying any of the money they were carrying, they could not be booked, and were turned loose.

Pullam said he lost about $20 in dollar bills, but the suspected thieves overlooked several higher denomination bills under some checks in the cash register.

Cotton Insurance Is Available Thru AAA

Harold Carpenter, supervisor of the local AAA office, reported this week that federal crop insurance is available to Parmer County farmers on the 1947 cotton crop.

Irrigated farms, he explained, are set up in a much higher bracket than they were last year. "There, fore," Carpenter said, "we would like especially to contact every irrigation farmer."

The deadline for signing a cotton insurance contract is January 31, and the force at the local office will gladly explain all details to interested farmers.

Texico Board Seeks New Bus Operator

The Texico school board is this week seeking a purchaser and operator of the precinct school buses, with the announcement from R. S. Cherry, present owner and operator, that he wishes to be released from the job.

Currently, three buses are operated for the school by Cherry. Three new vehicles have been ordered to replace those on hand, with delivery of at least two expected in the near future.

Supt. B. A. Rogers explained that a recent ruling makes it imperative that bus owner-operators pay off all indebtedness on new machines within a few months, and Cherry is seeking release from his contract.

TCU—SMU HATCHET BURIED

FORT WORTH—TCU and SMU have buried the hatchet and are now cooking up friendship in a skillet.

A skillet trophy, suitably engraved, was awarded for the first time this year by the student councils of the two schools, to the winner of the Frog-Mustang football game. The winner—Mustangs for the first year—will hold the trophy until the next game.

Something extra, in the shape of a Horned Frog or Pony, will be added each year to a chain attached to the skillet handle.

Miss Donca Belcheff Bride Of Jim Dixon

A beautiful doubling ceremony was performed on December 22, at Sofia, N. M., uniting in marriage Miss Donca Belcheff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Belcheff of Sofia, and Jim Cleve Dixon, son of Mrs. Ruby Dixon of Farwell. Rev. Father Peter Pripianoff, of Pueblo, Colo., was in charge of the services.

The bride was beautiful in a white satin gown with a train and finger-tip veil. Both gown and veil were trimmed in white pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses for something old, she wore a pin given her by Mrs. Ruby Dixon, which had belonged to her since she was 12 years old.

Polly Belcheff, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore blue net with matching veil, and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Clea Mae Holcomb of Albuquerque, Mrs. Steve Belcheff of Clayton and Dorothy Dale Charton, wore pink, orchid and blue net, respectively, with matching veils, and carried identical bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Wanda Joan Atchley, niece of the bride, carried the bride's train. She was dressed in white net with pink and blue ribbons and had a small crown of pink and white carnations and white veiling.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, George Belcheff, Sr. She was preceded by the matron of honor and best man, Gene Atchley, of Sofia, and other members of the bridal party. Jim Dimitroff of Sofia, George Belcheff, Jr., and Steve Belcheff, of Sofia, were ushers. Koster Dimitroff, of Sofia, was godfather of the bride.

Mrs. Clara Sebring played the wedding march and daughter Beverly Jean sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always". Each had a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Ruby Dixon, mother of the groom, wore navy blue with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations. Mrs. George Belcheff, mother of the bride, wore gray with black accessories and a red rose corsage. Mrs. Spausa Naumoff, grandmother of the bride, wore black with a corsage of white carnations, while Mrs. BurJean Atchley of Sofia and Mrs. Sevreno Comba of Raton, sisters of the bride, wore blue with black accessories and corsages of Talisman roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held, with approximately 150 guests attending. The bride and groom cut the four-tiered cake, topped with miniature figurines, and Mrs. Atchley presided at the table.

DISABILITY CLAIMS GET CONSIDERATION

The Veterans Administration has announced that special consideration will be given to disability claims filed by veterans who were interned in enemy prison camps during World War II.

The announcement was based on a thorough study of the effects of malnutrition on former American prisoners of war.

More than 125,000 servicemen were repatriated from "PW" camps during the war. Most received special treatment and care after they were freed and apparently regained their health. But some still may be suffering from the after effects of their confinement and thus might be entitled to disability compensation.

The after effects of malnutrition vary and, in certain cases, do not show up until long after the prisoners of war have been released from confinement.

Therefore, former prisoners of war who have any reason to believe they are suffering from a disability as a result of their confinement may file a claim with their nearest VA office.

Former prisoners of war who already have filed disability claims and whose claims have been denied, also may get in touch with their nearest VA office and have their cases reopened.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FOR DISCHARGEES

Q. Does the name "United States Government Life Insurance" include "National Service Life Insurance"?

A. No; "United States Life Insurance" is one type of Government insurance and "National Service Life Insurance" is another. However, both are administered by the Veterans Administration under authority granted by acts of Congress.

Q. Do the premiums increase as the insured grows older?

A. No. The premiums to be paid on any form of the insurance are established according to the age of the person insured at the effective date of the insurance; that is, a person 30 years old will pay a higher premium than a person 25 for the same plan of insurance.

Q. Are there any restrictions in Government insurance on the type of work I do?

A. No. The insured may engage in any occupation, no matter how hazardous, live where he likes, and travel any way he chooses, without effecting the value or cost of his insurance policy.

Q. For how long can I carry the World War II National Service Life Insurance that I bought while in service?

A. National Service Life Insurance is issued originally upon the 5-year level premium term plan, which was extended three years for all policies issued before January 1, 1946. However, veterans have the privilege of conversion after one year from date of issue to permanent plans. The law provides that all level premium term policies shall terminate at the expiration of the term period unless exchanged for permanent policies on or before the expiration date. If term insurance has been converted, it remains in effect as long as the premiums are paid.

Bovina Independent Cage Team Boasts Perfect Record

With eight games played and eight victories to their credit, the Bovina Phillips 66 independent basketball team is boasting of a perfect record thus far for the season.

Playing some of the strongest teams in this section, the Bovina cagers have defeated all comers, amassing an average score of 40 points for each contest. Friona, Oklahoma Lane, Benson School of Commerce and Al's Drive In are some of the teams that the Bovinates have taken into camp.

The team is managed by Vernon Estes with 12 men listed on his squad. The usual starting lineup is made up of Joe Hromas, Charles Don Smith, forwards; Shorty Young at center; Howard Looney and Leon Grissom, guards.

Any independent team in this section desiring a game should contact Manager Estes at Bovina.

The man who succeeds may take off his hat to the past, but he takes off his coat to the future.

Littlefield Teams To Come Here Tuesday

Boys' and girls' teams from the Littlefield school will meet the Farwell cagers here next Tuesday night, Coach Jack Williams announced today, in resumption of activity following the seasonal holidays.

Asked as to the strength of the visiting teams, Coach Williams replied that he actually knew nothing about them, but added that since Littlefield is a Class A school, with an enrollment of approximately 700 in high school, good teams should be expected.

The first game will be called at 7:30, and customary gate charges will be made.

APPLY FOR TRAINING

More than 100 University of Texas students, including some girls, have applied for admission in the flight-training program which will begin early in January. The program will be expanded to include training for flight instructors and commercial pilots, as well as instrument flying. Clarence G. Odell of San Antonio is director of the new program.

Taxpayers Reminded Of 1946 Cloes— Income Tax Deadline

Persons who are self-employed and who did not file an estimate of their expected 1946 earnings with the Internal Revenue Bureau at the first of 1946, are reminded this week that they have only through the 15th of January to file an estimate or a completed return with the revenue department.

Particularly, this applies to farmers, since the majority of other professional men filed estimates last year and made quarterly payments during 1946.

Those individuals who have made payments, either on estimates or via wage earners' withholding tax, have until March 15th to make final returns, although such returns can be filed any time now with the conclusion of the 1946 income period.

Subsistence Not Taxable

The question has been raised by several former servicemen as to whether or not subsistence allowances from the Veterans Administration are taxable. Latest information on the tax setup definitely does not include such money as taxable. This includes what the VA types as "subsistence", sometimes referred to as on-the-job training pay, or educational assistance.

Furthermore, such checks as former servicemen may have received from the war department as back pay on furlough time which they did not get while in uniform, are also tax-free, and need not be included in the 1946 income tax report.

Those over the county who are currently doing income tax work urge that taxpayers bring with them forms received from the government on which to file the 1946 return, as such forms are scarce.

honor, being named for the singular "God and Country" award, and then named an Eagle Scout. Also an Eagle Scout is young Dwight Rose, whose mother is teaching in the Farwell school. Merrell Glenn Rundell, Oklahoma Lane 4-H clubber, won third in Texas state competition on pig production; Billy John Thorn was first with his heavy calf at the South Plains Dairy Show, while Hershel Harding placed second; Bill Johnson, of the Texico FFA department, was high individual in livestock judging for the district, with Francis Smotherman rated second and Buddy Pearce fourth; Clinton McDonald had the fourth high rating in dairy judging in New Mexico FFA work; Bob Englant, of Bovina, was the Sears contest winner in the county, while the Texico boys had some of the best stock shown at an FFA calf show in Clovis, and Pete Booth was named to represent Phi Mu Alpha chapter of the University of Texas at the National Fraternity of Music Students.

The annual Parmer County dairy show, which this year included Bailey county animals, was one of the largest and best ever held, exceeding the Texas State Fair in dairy cattle exhibits. The county became heavily populated with grazing stock, following the long-awaited fall rains, and most hunters from this area succeeded in returning home with some sort of game during the season. The county's deepest oil test, 7500 feet, was sunk on the N. L. Sharp property, and then abandoned. Bovina Legionnaires constructed a new Legion hall for their activities, and Friona Legionnaires erected a beautiful memorial shaft in the city park honoring the dead of World War II.

Prospects for a four-lane highway between here and Clovis were discussed pro and con, but nothing definite accomplished during the year, while a movement is also underway to pave Highway 86 out of Bovina, to the Castro county line. Bovina had a mad dog scare which considerably upset residents of that area for several weeks, and resulted in the vaccination of pets and eradication of animals "on the loose". The county cracked down on delinquent tax payers, instituting suits against a number and putting up county property for sale following return of judgements. Parmer county won second in display of booths at the South Plains Fair in Lubbock, and members of the Farwell FFA department, 14 boys and instructor Robert Morton, miraculously escaped injury when their truck was sideswiped by a car near Santa Rosa, N. M., as the group was returning from an outing in the New Mexico mountain area.

Bob Hammonds and Claude Rose were named as new members of the Farwell school board of trustees; one GI farm loan was actually approved and money issued under the FSA; the Texico teachers noted a salary hike; trees and shrubs were set out at the Texico cemetery, and a water extension project carried out in northeast Farwell. Bovina got the second dial telephone system in the county, and more license plates were sold here than during recent years.

Lives To Tell Of Shipwreck
R. L. Douglas, of near Texico, came home to tell the story of his shipwreck off the coast of France, but young 1st Lt. Morris Ed Martin, formerly of here and the son of Mrs. Lera Martin of Fort Worth, was killed in a plane crash in Japan early in the year.

Two other tragedies in which teen-age boys met their death were recorded; one when Elton Young, 19, was killed in a car wreck; and one when W. M. Donaldson, 16, died following terrible burns when the plane in which he was riding crashed in the Oklahoma Lane community.

Mrs. Bess Henneman, of this city, sustained the heaviest personal loss of the year, when her two brothers, and her father, all residents of Amarillo, died within a week. E. L. Mid-

Woodburn Elected As Texico Ag Director

Horace Woodburn, formerly of Portales, and now teaching at Mountainair, New Mexico, has been elected to the position of vocational agriculture instructor in the Texico school, following the resignation of Tom Hudson. Woodburn, recently discharged, is a graduate of State College at Las Cruces, N. M.

Supt. B. A. Rogers reported today that Woodburn had accepted the offer made by the Texico board, and arrangements are underway to have him here at the opening of the second semester, January 18th.

Due to the fact that the second semester at Mountainair begins a week later than the one at Texico, there may be a slight mixup, but moves were being made to arrange this discrepancy today, Rogers said.

Hudson is leaving here after two years of satisfactory work to take the post of ag director in the Clovis schools, succeeding supervisor Staley, who in turn moves on to the Las Cruces college to replace L. C. (Happy) Dalton, going into field work. Locals will remember that Dalton is a former Texico teacher.

District Court Clears Docket For New Year

Retiring District Judge John Aldridge of this city presided over a session of District Court here Friday and Saturday to clear up a few remaining cases on the docket before the beginning of the new year.

Judge Aldridge heard four land title cases and one divorce suit, as follows:

- Henry Lewis vs. S. G. Sheller, TTT, judgment for plaintiff.
- J. E. Randol vs. Howard Faringer, TTT, judgment for plaintiff.
- C. M. Henderson vs. Ella Porter, et al, TTT, judgment for plaintiff.
- Henry Lloyd vs. Henry Biwer, TTT, judgment for plaintiff.

Billie Ray McGee was granted a divorce from Burk McGee and given custody of a minor child. The Court also decreed that the dependent pay $50 per month to the plaintiff for the support of a minor child, such payments to continue until the child reaches 16 years of age.

dick, 30, and D. W. Middick, 35, were confined in an Amarillo hospital within 24 hours of each other, stricken with a disease that defied diagnosis, and their father, L. M. Middick, 73, died a week later.

Bill Blair, 34, of this city, took his own life with a gun while enroute to a veteran hospital in Amarillo; and Harry Gee, 58, of Bovina, died in a Clovis hospital following injuries sustained when baled alfalfa fell on him. Charles Edward Trimble, father of George Trimble of Bovina, was hit and killed by a car in Amarillo; and Wornie Hurst, 51, formerly of this city, died following a fall from a tree, in Washington state.

Looking over the sports parade of the year, the two local schools had quite a successful year. Farwell's boys won second at a Spade invitation tourney, were champions of the county meet, and then recently took their own invitation meet. The Texico junior boys rated first in the Curry county track meet, while the seniors placed second, and the girls, not to be outdone, won the county volleyball championship. Later, the Texico junior boys rated first in county softball play.

General society notes reveal that B. E. (Uncle Benny) Nobles, of Farwell, celebrated his 87th birthday, while the St. John's Lutheran Church, at Lariat, also had a birthday, its 25th, and the first Rainbow organization for girls formed in this county.

Many Old-timers Die

Willis Caldwell, 97, believed to be the oldest Parmer county resident; "Uncle Ben" Shelby, 80; Mrs. Minnie O. Aldridge, 76; Lt. Walter Moeller, finally reported as dead after having been previously listed as missing in action; W. M. Moss, 81; Jessie Lee Nally, 71; Will Haynes, 65; Joe S. Fuller, 74; John J.
