

FROM THE HOPPER

By HOP

Just finished mailing out checks to cover current bills at local places of business, some 20 of them in number. To my way of thinking, credit is a privilege and I am happy that I have a credit rating with our local merchants.

But here is something that interested me as I was writing out the checks. Of the 20 odd statements that came to my desk for payment only TWO of that number were printed in this newspaper office. Some were printed in Clovis, some in Kalamazoo and a number just slapped a rubber stamp on a blank statement for identification purposes.

Understand, I have always and still contend that anybody has the right to patronize whomsoever he chooses. But from the newspaper man's standpoint, he feels that when the local newspaper devotes its service to building up the community, giving columns of free space to publicizing some of the very firms that go elsewhere for their printing, those merchants are not toting fair with his home town printer.

The only newspaper in the world that gives a tinker's D--- about Texico-Farwell is The State Line Tribune, which has served this community faithfully through more than forty years.

There is a handy little magazine that crosses our desk entitled The Texas Tax Journal. The editor, Frank R. Connolly of Austin, is very adept at picking up bits of information from other publications, mostly newspapers, that is of interest to we taxpayers.

Included in the Journal are many reportings of instances in which government waste and corruption were and are, inexcusable. This sort of stuff makes our blood boil. That which appears below is from the Paris News. It is not the only and not by any means the worst story of this type carried in The Journal. It is, however, short enough for publication here.

HOW MONEY IS WASTED

Under the head of economy in government the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives has finally come to the capital itself, and a column writer reports on it, giving some of the items.

They found in the bill an item of $10,000 to buy each Congressman a good stout trunk each. This, said the writer who attended the hearing, has been going on for years. What they do with the trunks was not disclosed at the hearing.

The Senate had ordered from the government printing office 5,600 calendars at a cost of $1,921.46. That allows each of the 96 Senators more than fifty calendars, each with a picture of the capital, and what the Senators do with the calendars is still an unanswered question. The Representatives, 435 of them, did not get so many calendars per man. They ordered only 10,000, and the cost was $3,748.74, giving each man about twenty. One member of the committee said he thought maybe his fellow members could tell the day of the week without so many calendars.

The committee ran onto the case of a woman employed in the document folding room who had been absent something more than thirty days while she worked downtown in a beauty parlor, but drew her pay for those days from the folding room said she had agreed to refund the salary she had collected for the days when she was curling hair instead of folding for mailing the speeches the Congressmen had not made but which they mailed to their constituents as part of the Appendix to The Congressional Record.

Those figures are negligible when compared with the overall spending of the government, but they are illuminating as showing how the lawmakers waste the taxpayers' money.

Like we say, this is enough to make your blood boil. And it's going on all the time. The answer, we speculate, is for more and more people to stand up and be examples of what good U. S. citizens should do in times like these.

There's a farmer in Michigan who turned down a $750 government check for attending a meeting, according to the Journal. He said he didn't want the check because he didn't hear anything at the meeting he didn't know when he left home.

We need more people like that. Say, wouldn't it be keen if Farmer countians would generate enough enthusiasm for a dam on the county run-off water to do the job themselves without any outside help,—meaning funds from Washington? (Continued on last page, this section)

Auction Sale Final Chapter For Bob Kyker

When C. L. Doshier, local auctioneer, walks into the ring Saturday afternoon for the purpose of selling all the personal effects of Bob Kyker, he will be writing the final chapter in the residence of one of Texico-Farwell's colorful figures. It will be the closing chapter of nearly a half century of residence in the Twin Cities, during which time he has lived to rear and educate seven children to maturity, none of whom make their homes here now.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyker observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Feb. 6 of this year. She passed away on May 26, and since that time Bob has lived alone at the family home in South Farwell.

"I came here on Dec. 14, 1905, with a sick wife," Bob relates, "and went into a barber shop in Texico operated by Bill Allison and asked for a job," he said in recalling his early days here.

"I pulled my gun off and stuck it in a drawer, but I kept my hat and boots on. Of course I had had no previous experience at barbering but at that I knew much about it as the best of barbers, having sheared lots of mules on the ranches where I had worked," he added.

Recalling his early day experiences at barbering, Kyker said that there are lots of grown men with families living around here now who got their first haircut under his shears. Among them, he mentioned Jack Dunn, Leroy Faville, John Armstrong, Ben Smart and scores of others, that he does not recall.

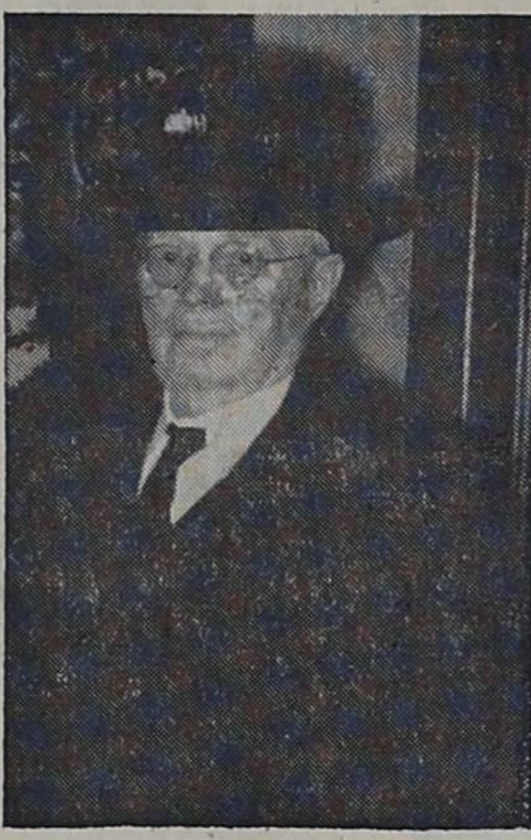

All of his seven children began school in Farwell and graduated from the same institution, and all united with the Church of Christ, which he affectionately refers to as "Mother's Church," while living at home.

Bob is undecided as his future. For the present, he plans to go to Abilene and live with one of his sons, Clifford, who is in business there. "I don't know what I'll do when I get tired staying there," he adds.

One son, Guy, was killed in an automobile accident on the Clovis highway several years ago. Surviving children, all of whom have offered him a home with them, are: Mrs. Violet Thomas, Los Angeles; Robert, Calrsbad, N. M.; Clifford, Abilene; Mrs. Katherine Danner, Portland, Oreg.; Mrs. Evelyn Bradshaw, Shreveport, La.; and Rex of Gainesville, Fla.

AUNT DIES AT MANSFIELD

Mrs. H. Y. Overstreet took a plane out of Amarillo late Wednesday afternoon for Fort Worth, and will proceed to Mansfield, south of that city, where she was called by the sudden death of her aunt, Mrs. Otis House, a pioneer resident of Mansfield.

First Aid Classes Are Considered For Parmer Countians

Comprehensive and authentic instruction in all first aid practices will be offered to residents of Parmer county some time in the future, under the sponsorship of the American Red Cross, it has been announced by Allan Romich, CC manager, of Friona.

Romich, who has been working on such an idea for some time, stated Monday that Ella Mae Wood, nurse at the Parmer County Community Hospital, and Mrs. Allan Romich have recently received approval from the Red Cross to handle such classes, and further details will be worked out as soon as possible.

Conferring on the work will be Vernon Estes, of Bovina, chairman of the county Red Cross chapter, and classes are planned for all communities in the county—Bovina, Farwell, Oklahoma Lane, Friona, Lazbuddie, and Rhea—in order to facilitate attendance.

"There is no charge for such instruction," Romich emphasized, in pointing out that the classes require 18 hours of work for completion. Just exactly how the schedule of instruction will be worked out remains to be seen, he added, saying that further plans will be announced as rapidly as they are completed.

In view of the fact that Parmer county only has three resident physicians, two in Friona and one in Farwell, with none in Bovina, competent first-aid training is expected to be well received by the residents of the county.

Melborn Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jones who is stationed at Selma, Ala. arrived home Wednesday night of last week for a short visit. He was to report back to his base Tuesday.

Parmer 4-H Boys Go To Lubbock Camp

Fifteen 4-H Club boys, who will represent Parmer County, left Monday morning early for Lubbock, where they attended the annual district summer encampment at Mackenzie Park.

Sponsored by Ruel Barron and Joe Jones, county agent, the group made the trip in a pickup and a car. They were to return Wednesday evening.

When the Parmer boys attended the encampment last year, they won the softball trophy. This year, Coach Jones has an optimistic prediction to make on his returning champion team.

"It's not the same bunch that went last year," he says. "We wanted to give some of the boys an opportunity to go who had never been before."

Included in the group were Jerry Houlette, Kenneth Ferguson, Vernon Petty, and Leon Massey, all of Friona; Marvin Glen Young, Julius Bradshaw, Glyndon Sudderth, Don Owens, and Billy Johnson, all of Bovina; Jerry Gleason and Robert Ivy, Lazbuddie; and Eddie Smith, Lee Dennis Jesko, and Donnie Carpenter of Farwell.

This group is included in District II.

Ronald King Wins High FFA Award

Ronald King, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. King of Texico, was among 29 New Mexico Future Farmers receiving State Farmer degrees. Degrees were awarded in Albuquerque at the state convention Monday.

King was the only FFA boy from Texico included in the honored group.

Recognition of state farmers is based on achievement in supervised farming, including livestock and crops; leadership and initiative, including livestock showing and judging; cooperation in activities outside FFA work; citizenship; and scholarship.

To be eligible, candidates for the top degree must have completed two years of vocational agriculture study in high school and two years of work in the respective FFA chapters. They must also have earned at least $250 through such activities.

Ronald King received his high school diploma from Texico schools last year.

HAS FINGER INJURY

Tressie, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Quickel, suffered a painful injury Monday when her little brother, Bill, accidentally closed a door on one of her fingers. She was given surgical attention at the Parmer County Community hospital. Parents expressed the belief that the member was not permanently injured.

From Four To 44, Quite A Change

People change quite a lot in forty years, according to Mrs. R. T. Reynolds, county treasurer.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, and also Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hastings last week was their cousin and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Huggins of Tulsa, Okla. The last time Mrs. Reynolds saw Huggins, he was four years old, and that was forty years ago.

Five Constitutional Amendments Are Up For Texas Voters

Five constitutional amendments will come up for vote in Texas this November 13 in a special election. Eligible voters will be asked to accept or turn down five proposals to the state constitution that are widely varied.

The first amendment deals with permitting the Veteran's Land Board to increase the total amount of bonds or obligations that may be issued to $100,000,000. This would permit the program of state financing on purchase of farms and ranches by World War II veterans to be extended. This is House Joint Resolution No. 2.

H.J.R. No. 6, the second proposed amendment, concerns itself with increasing the state welfare fund for needy persons. This would lift the present $35,000,000 fund limitation to a new $42,000,000 level if approved by voters. Maximum payment for old age assistance would then be $30 per month.

The third proposed amendment, H.J.R. No. 8, would authorize the legislature to create rural fire prevention districts. This would increase property taxes from the present 10 cents per $100 valuation, to a maximum of 50 cents if approved.

The next proposal, H. J. R. No. 22, would authorize the legislature to provide a statewide system of retirement and disability pensions for appointive officers and employees of the counties. Participation in the program would be voluntary, and left up to each county to decide upon.

The last proposed amendment, H.J.R. No. 37, if accepted, would enable the board of regents at the University of Texas to invest money in the school's permanent fund in interest-bearing securities other than government bonds. The university and Texas A & M are the two beneficiaries of these funds.

Proposals In The Tribune

All of these proposed amendments will be carried in their unabbreviated and legal forms in the column of this paper for four weeks, beginning with this issue. During the four publications, voters will have ample opportunity to examine and weigh the proposals before going to the polls Nov. 13.

Fair Promotion Plans Have Begun in Farwell

Promotional plans for the Parmer County Fair have begun in Farwell through the past week, says John Getz, one of the directors. Sale of advertising for the fair catalog began last weekend, and will continue during this and next week.

All firms in Farwell or Texico who wish advertising space in the catalog this year are requested to see either Getz or County Agent Joe Jones, the director announces.

"It will be necessary for advertisers all over the county to participate in the fair this year if it is to be a success," Getz emphasized.

A meeting of the fair directors is scheduled for Tuesday night at Bovina schools, he says. At that time, reports of progress on fair plans will be turned in from workers over the county.

Bradshaw To Move To New Location

Buck Bradshaw, owner and operator of Bradshaw's Grocery & Market in Farwell, announced this week that he was making plans to move his stock from its present location to the Claude Rose building, recently vacated by the PMA offices.

Bradshaw said today that it would likely be at least two weeks before the move could be completed. In the meantime, a number of new fixtures are being installed in the new location.

"We will have more room and we plan to have a modern shopping center in our new location," Bradshaw stated. In addition to new fixtures and new shelving, push-around shopping carts will be added as soon as they are obtainable, he said.

Bids To Be Received For New High School

Bidding for construction of a new high school and cafeteria for Farwell schools begins today, and will continue until Friday, Aug. 17 at 2 p.m., announces Jack Williams, superintendent.

Sealed proposals addressed to the board of trustees in accordance with plans and specifications from the architect will be accepted until that time, and the bids will be publicly opened and read.

In outlining procedure for prospective bidders, Supt. Williams pointed out that plans and specifications are to be secured from Butler and Brasher Company in Lubbock. Their address is 455 Avenue M, Lubbock.

Supt. Williams also pointed out that a cashier's check, certified check, or acceptable bidder's bond, payable to the owner, for not less than five per cent of the total for the bid submitted, must accompany each bid.

In addition, the board reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities.

No bids may be withdrawn, he says, after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids, for at least 30 days.

Final Rites Are Held For Gus M. Bryan

Funeral services for Gus M. Bryan, 73-year-old Clovis pioneer, were held at the First Methodist Church in Clovis Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Thomas H. Raper, pastor. With the Steed Funeral Home in charge, burial took place in the Garden of Memories Cemetery at Clovis.

Bryan, who came to Clovis from Tennessee in 1908, saw Clovis develop from a struggling western village to one of the leading cities in New Mexico, and he played an important part in that development. Shortly after coming to Clovis, Bryan was associated with Claude Miller in the dry goods business, later devoting his time to the real estate business.

He served two terms as county commissioner of Curry County back in the early 1920's, and, along with B. L. Hawk and Dr. J. D. Lynch, other members of the board, was responsible for many of the important developments in Clovis and Curry County. Since 1925 he had been associated with the Capitol Freehold Land Trust of this city, and always contributed generously to philanthropic and civic needs of this community.

In his honor, the American flag at the county courthouse in Farwell was flown at half mast during Sunday and Monday.

His passing was not unexpected. He had been in failing health for the past several months, and of recent months had been confined to home in Clovis. He was removed to a Clovis hospital Friday and the end came late in the afternoon of the following day.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Jack Dunn, Clovis; and two grandchildren, Jill Dunn, Clovis, and Dr. Jack Dunn, Jr., Rochester, Minn.

Gene Lovelace Knifed In Argument With Man

Eugene Lovelace, well known farmer and owner of the Lovelace Grain & Storage Co. in Farwell, was taken to a Clovis hospital with three knife wounds in his body early last Saturday morning, following an altercation with E. P. Porter at the Darr Service Station.

Lovelace sustained a knife wound under the left arm and two stabs in the back by a knife in the hands of Porter, officers said, following an argument over settlement of some work Porter had done for Lovelace.

Porter is being held under a $1000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Lovelace, whose wounds were first reported to be of a serious nature, is said to be recovering satisfactorily.

Small Girl Uninjured
 In Fall from Car Door

Shirley Huber, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huber of Texico, is virtually uninjured after a fall from the family auto on main street Monday morning.

"She has a few scratches and bumps, but that's about all," says her father. Shirley tumbled out of the car seat as the auto was making a turn on the main street in Farwell in front of Mary's Cafe.

The car was not traveling very fast, and she was believed not to have struck the pavement too hard.
 Huber commented that it was not necessary for the girl to be taken to a doctor after the fall.

You oughta hear our boy sing "Shortenin' Bread". He renders it a slice at a time.

The car's speedometer doesn't always reveal how far a couple has gone.

Portales Boy Sentenced To Springer School

A Portales 14-year-old boy that was caught in Friona with a pickup last week has been sentenced to the Springer, N. M. Industrial School for Boys until he is 21.

He was nabbed by City Marshall
 Doc Camp and Deputy Sheriff Charley Jones when, together with a companion, he tried to pass through the Farmer city. The alert marshall questioned the boys, and later the 14-year-old confessed to a series of burglaries in Portales.

The two spent a night in the county jail, and then were returned their Portales homes.

 tendance at the first day session held Tuesday.

LEAVES HOSPITAL

W. R. (Bill) Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Roberts of this city, who has been seriously ill in a Dallas hospital for several days, has been permitted to leave the hospital and is now recuperating satisfactorily at his home in Dallas.

Agent Gets Release On Crab Grass Riddance

According to information received in the county agent's office, crab grass is being eradicated from the Bermuda grass turf on the football field at Texas A & M College by spraying with potassium cyanate.

Last spring, the field was aerated and fertilized with a liberal application of turf special fertilizer. It was seeded to Bermuda grass and a good cover had developed by July.

However, the Bermuda stand was badly infested with crab grass, a species that dies out during late summer and leaves bare spots in the field cover. Dr. Watson recommended spraying the field three times with potassium cyanate at 7 to 10-day intervals.

"Potassium cyanate is the most effective material against crab grass in all stages of development," said Dr. Watson. "Bermuda is discolored by the crab grass killer, but it turns green again in four of five days."

The crab grass killer is being applied at the rate of three and two-tenths ounces of actual potassium cyanate in eight gallons of water per 1,000 square feet of ground. On an acre basis, eight pounds of actual potassium cyanate are required in 400 gallons of water.

One teaspoon of liquid soap must be added for each gallon of the spray as a wetting agent to make the spray stick to the grass leaves.

Potassium cyanate is available in 91 and 55 per cent pure forms. The 55 per cent form already contains the wetting agent. Usually, the material cannot be obtained locally, but must be ordered from a company that handles turf supplies.

Dr. Watson cautioned, "It is absolutely essential that good, uniform coverage be obtained with the spray so there will be no spots of crab grass left."

AWARDED BICYCLE

Carolyn, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. Walter Curd, widow, was awarded the bicycle given away the first of last week by the Border Theatre, and the little lady is receiving congratulations from her many friends.

Plant Disease Strikes Courthouse Lawn Grass

Plant disease, believed to be root rot, is making life miserable for Nobel Goldsmith at the county courthouse, who has been sporting the prettiest grass in the country during the summer.

Goldsmith, when contacted this week, said he had been having some trouble with patches of grass fading out for about two months, but lately the spots have spread over the entire lawn.

"We sent some samples of the grass to College Station," he said,
 "and they told us it looked like root rot. They have chemicals to treat it with, but the treatment is so powerful it is dangerous for shrubs and trees around the courtyard."

For that reason, Goldsmith is planning to do what he can do, but for the most part, will have to wait and see what damage is done by the rot. "It looks like it's playing out now," he says hopefully.

Until recently, grass cuttings had been left on top of the lawn, and this is believed to be partly responsible for causing trouble. Now, however, a new lawn sweeper has been put to use, in addition to a new rotary lawn mower, and Goldsmith hopes for improvement.

Phone Program Bogs Down After Air Tragedy

Progress on the rural telephone program that two months ago seemed to be headed down the road of success has bogged down lately following an air tragedy that killed George Haggard, who had been instrumental in boosting the program in Washington.

This explanation comes from Harold Carpenter, board member of the Rural Telephone Association, who says that delay in progress has become "very embarrassing to him and other board members."

Three weeks ago, six REA members, enroute to an important meeting at Lubbock from Dallas, were killed in an airplane crash. Local board members were going to meet the six at Lubbock to discuss the telephone extensions.

Carpenter is uncertain over what steps will be taken next to get the program rolling. He said he has not heard from Leo Forrest of Hereford, REA executive who has been driving the program, in several weeks.

Son, Parents Visit Each Other, Then Do It Again

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jones received quite a surprise the past week, when their son, Melborn, arrived home for a short leave from Alabama.

The Jones family had just returned from a trip to the Deep South to see Melborn, and had taken the long way home. After visiting relatives in East Texas, they arrived in Farwell Wednesday night of last week.

Only a few hours later, Melborn arrived. "He just nearly beat us home," Mr. Jones states.

Local Residents Can Apply for Marine Service At Lubbock

Dallas, Texas—Major E. L. Bale, Jr., Officer in Charge of the Dallas Marine Recruiting Office, has announced that the Marines are again offering young Texans an opportunity to enlist in the Marines as a group, with the formation of the Longhorn Leatherneck Recruit Platoon.

The Longhorn Leatherneck platoon will be composed entirely of Texans, who will enlist together, travel together, train together, and return home on leave together.

Unlike its forerunner, the North Texas Marine Recruit, Company, the Longhorn Leatherneck Platoon will be restricted to 75 men.

"Young men who meet the exacting requirements for service with the Marines may apply for enlistment with the Longhorn Leathernecks," the Major said. "However, men with previous Marine Corps service are not eligible, because they are not required to undergo marine recruit training again," he added.

The group will be sworn-in, in Dallas on the 24th of August, and will be transferred to the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, California the same evening.

"Because of the limited size of the Longhorn Leatherneck Platoon, interested young men are advised to apply immediately, in order to assure themselves a place in the platoon," Major Bale pointed out.

Residents of Farwell may apply for enlistment with the Longhorn Leathernecks at the Marine Corps Recruiting office located at Room 200 Post Office Bldg., Lubbock, Texas.

Work Continues On Bovina Auditorium

In listing improvements for Bovina schools for the coming term, Supt. W. H. Willoughby calls attention to the old gymnasium which is being re-modeled and converted into an auditorium, which the superintendent feels "the school has needed for some time."

Permanent cushioned chairs are to be installed in the Auditorium, the stage is being enlarged, and current plans call for a new stage curtain with matching drapes for the windows. The lighting will also be changed and improved and re-painting is planned.

Space which was taken up by bleachers has been closed off and will be remodeled into offices, Willoughby adds.

Discussion of an improvement project for the Farwell cemetery will head topics for the American Legion meeting Monday night, announces Wilfred Quickel, post commander.

At present, the water has receded, says Quickel, and it is hoped that a general clean up can begin soon. One of the first projects to be undertaken will be eradication of weeds and unwanted vegetable growth, he says.

Morgans Travel Over 23 States On Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Morgan and Alton Lee returned Thursday from a trip to Maine. They had taken their son, Pfc. Raymond Morgan back to his base at Presque Isle.

"It was really worth the trip", says Morgan, who states that the group traveled through 23 states in the complete trip. On leaving Farwell, the group traveled to Oklahoma, then went east from Oklahoma City until they arrived at the coast, then they traveled on up the coast. They went through Arkansas, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina.

"We saw so much pretty country, it was hard to tell which was the most eye-catching," the local man further relates.

Of special interest to the group members was their short visit in Washington, D. C., where they saw the White House. Morgan states that it was quite impressive, "though it could stand a paint job." The Morgans also saw Niagara Falls, which they described as "really a wonder." To top off their trip, the local family traveled on over into Canada before their return journey. They were in Maine for three days and found people there to be friendly and neighborly, though they still didn't think that they possessed "the good-old hospitality that is found in Texas."

In their 5800 miles trip, the Morgans saw many large cities, traveling through the capitol cities of most states visited. Though Morgan was quite impressed by the beauty of such states as North Carolina and Indiana, he added that the good long straight highways of Texas looked good to the family after their jaunt.

On the way back to Texas, the local people visited many points of interest including sties in St. Augustine, and in Savannah, Ga.

"It was a wonderful drive, we saw very little hot weather except in Texas and one day in Georgia", says Mrs. Graham. On their return trip Monday however, the Grahams were caught in the severe hot weather around Dallas and Ft. Worth.

Appeal Is Issued For Nurses and Doctors

The Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring has issued an urgent appeal for more doctors and nurses.

The installation was designed for a 250-bed hospital but is not operating at full capacity Dr. L. B. Andrew, manager, said, because of a shortage of doctors and registered nurses.

Nurses' salaries range from $3,400 to $5,400 per year depending upon experience, education, and training, he said. Doctors' salaries also vary with qualifications.

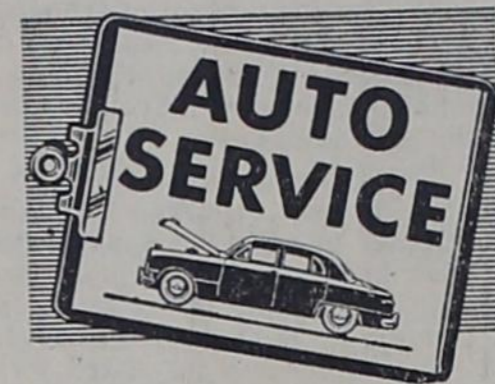

Application forms are available at any major V-A installation, Dr. Andrew said, and completed application forms should be sent direct to the Big Spring V-A hospital.

Well, Almost . . . Installation Finished For New Water Pump

Installation of a pressure pump to boost water pressure to users in Texico was finally completed this week, according to V. C. Venable, water superintendent of the Texico-Farwell Waterworks.

However, Venable cautioned that electrical connections have not been made, and the pump will not be used immediately. "This isn't our fault," he explained. "Electrical work done in New Mexico must be approved by a state inspector. For the reason, it will avoid delay if we get an electrician properly licensed in that state to do the job."

Venable was optimistic over the possibilities that can be seen in the new system. When it is working, he says, Texico and Farwell will have available the combined facilities of a 52,000 gallon tank and two pumps in Farwell, and a 208,000-gallon tank and one pump in Texico.

Santa Fe facilities have been leased on a year basis by the waterworks company, and Venable feels certain that this will provide an ample supply of water, together with pressure which has heretofore never been available, particularly in west Texico.

"Water from the Santa Fe tanks in Texico of course will be under a first-priority choice by the railroad itself, but this still will leave us plenty of water, he said.

All plumbing connections are completed with the exception of a bypass valve that is not necessary for temporary operation, the water superintendent says. When the electrical motor is wired in, the system will begin operation.

Visiting in the John Lockhart home this week was Mary Murray.

New Texico School Addition nears Completion This Week

The new addition to the Texico school building should be completed by the middle of next week, Agrie Jones, superintendent of schools, announced this week. Desks and other equipment from the Pleasant Hill school, have been moved to furnish the new addition.

The lawn has been watered and kept in good condition through the summer months, the superintendent adds, and is ready for the opening of school. Also, the floors in the principal building have been sanded.

Texico schools are slated to open August 27. Students will enroll on that day and regular classes will begin the next morning.

Extreme Heat Is Hurting Row Crop

Dry land plantings of row crops throughout this region have begun to suffer from extreme heat and dry weather, and growers are hoping for rain at an early date.

Catching most feed crops when they are in the boot, right at the critical stage, the combined heat and dry weather is causing some anxiety on the part of farmers, who contend that it is not so much the lack of moisture but the extreme high temperatures that are affecting the row crops.

On the other hand, cotton is doing good and presents a good appearance, farmers say.

Sox Lose to Clovis 12-4 with Aid of Errors

Ten untimely miscues spelled defeat for the Texico-Farwell Bluesox Sunday afternoon, when they were capped by Clovis amateurs to a tune of 12-4. Toby Booth, on the mound for the Sox, pitched one of his best games to date, but bobbles by his team mates were chiefly responsible for the lopsided score.

Clovis scored 12 runs on only three hits in four innings. Texico-Farwell's scoring came in the second and sixth innings. In the second, Jack Woods was hit by the pitcher to get on base, and Blackie Smith stepped up with a home run.

The other two runs came after a walk for Carlos Woods, Wilfred Quickel, and Jack Woods. Smith singled Carlos home and Joe Camp moved Quickel in from third with another single.

Manager Quickel said the local lineup was weakened by the absence of Don Ford and Kenneth Livingston Sunday. Both of these players are first-string men, who have been doing chores in field.

Clovis Here Sunday

A return bout probably will be staged with the Clovis nine, according to Quickel, if plans pan out. At any rate, he emphasized that a ball game will be played, regardless of the opponent.

If the Clovis game is worked out, the game will be played on the Bluesox field in Farwell, Sunday afternoon.

WEED MOWING FINISHED

Weed mowing for Farwell was concluded by the city last week, and no further work will be done until additional rains visit, officials say this week. Mowing this year has been confined largely to bar ditches in the city.

McAlister Addresses Local Lions Club

R. B. McAlister of Radio Station KICA, Clovis, addressed the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Tuesday night at their regular meeting, dealing primarily with subjects within his field.

Explaining the reason for poor night reception in the Texico-Farwell area, McAlister said that KICA was on the same frequency with a Kansas City station, which causes an over-lapping of the two stations. He said efforts were being made to get this corrected, but added that since such corrections must be made with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, considerable delay was anticipated.

The popular Clovis radio man also revealed that he, along with Grady Maples, was soon to leave KICA and they would be associated with a station at Denver, Colo.

Tom Wagner, local manager of the office of the Southern Union Gas Co., was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Pre-School Clinic Planned for Thursday

All beginners should be present at the home economics department of the school at 9 o'clock on the morning of the clinic. Mrs. Lance Hurst, school nurse, will be in charge.

Children should attend the clinic if they have not had their shots, and if parents are not sure about inoculations, they should see Mrs. Hurst.

Andre Palmateer Falls, Injures Arm Tendons

Andre Palmateer, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Palmateer of Pleasant Hill, received a serious injury Saturday night, when he fell and ran his hand through a window pane.

Andre had just finished eating supper and started to get up, when his chair became overbalanced. Trying to steady himself, the boy ran his hand through the pane and cut his wrist. His parents rushed him to the Clovis Memorial hospital where the doctor packed the wrist; he was then transferred to the Northwest Texas hospital in Amarillo.

Andre was in surgery Monday morning. The doctor reported that he had cut five tendons in his arm. The boy will have to remain in the hospital several days, family members say.

Andre will be a senior at Texico Schools this year.

Texico Considers Garbage Ordinance

The Texico Town Council, in session Monday night, pondered at length the question of a garbage ordinance, finally agreeing to make another appeal to the residents for voluntary disposal of garbage within the city limits.

Mayor Orval W. Francis said that a number of Texico residents were making no pretense to keep their garbage hauled off and others were delinquent in their garbage collection fees.

"We are hopeful that an ordinance, compelling people to keep their garbage cleaned up will not be necessary," Mayor Francis said.

A nominal fee of 50 cents per month is charged for garbage disposal, and this fee may be paid at the office of Town Clerk W. L. Freeman.

TO ENTER TRAINING

Miss Sandra Bateman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bateman, who was a member of the Farwell High School graduating class last spring, stated today that she had made plans to enter nurses training at the Lubbock Memorial in Lubbock this fall. She plans to enroll on Sept. 11, she said.

Hoppers—

We heard a certain lady complaining the other day about the slick paper being used in printing a nearby daily newspaper, "All it is good for any more is to read," she moaned.

After sustaining losses running into the billions, Uncle Sam will probably get busy at an early date on a flood control program along the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers. Too bad such a program could not have been completed in advance of the devastating flood that wrought such havoc only recently.

Such a program will be a mammoth undertaking, making the Tennessee River Authority look like child's play. But if such a flood control program had been carried out years ago, it would have paid for itself many fold by now.

We must take steps to protect our soil and natural resources or some of these days the United States will be known as the great American desert.

And while we are taking steps to save our farms from water erosion in some sections, we must also give attention to conserving our water in other sections. Thousands of acre feet of badly needed water flow off of the High Plains every year. This water should be held where it falls and not allowed to run off and do damage running into the thousands of dollars to the lower regions every year.

That is another reason this newspaper has been plugging for dams along Running Water and Frio Draws in Permian County. Let us unite in giving serious study to such a program.

And here's a card from Catfish Williams of Truth or Consequences, N. M., showing the veteran fisherman standing by the side of a 68-pound catfish hanging on a telephone pole. Williams says you have to hide behind the bank while you are baiting your hook to keep the fish from jumping out on dry land.

There may be some exaggeration about the last statement, but I can testify that Catfish Bill brings in the big ones at Elephant Butte Lake. His motto is, "Keep your lines out all the time." He reasons that there might be days before the first will bite, and weekend fishermen often will come in empty-handed. But if you keep everlastingly at it, you will get the fish, he says. And Bill does just that. He re-bates and runs his lines every day, the year round.

And here's a letter from J. A. (Uncle Jimmie) Richards, who tells of his recent experiences in a hospital at Lawton, Okla. Frankly, I have not been able to make out the details he unfolds in his letter; it would make interesting reading. It seems from his letter that a nurse was attempting to pump out his stomach and had him swallow a garden hose. "It went down pretty good after the first three feet," Uncle Jimmie writes.

But when the nurse applied the pump and began pumping away, nothing came up from the lower regions of his stomach, Uncle Jimmie surmised that his stomach was "sanded down" like a west Texas water well.

Bovina Happenings

By JEANNE KERBY

Bovina Schools Open On Monday, Sept. 3

Date for opening of school at Bovina for the coming term has been set for Sept. 3, Supt. W. H. Willoughby said this week.

The faculty is complete in both grammar school and high school, it was announced. Teachers for the grades include: Mrs. Leola Williams, first grade; Mrs. F. L. Montgomery, second grade; Mrs. June Rhodes, third grade; Mrs. J. T. Hammonds, fourth grade; Miss Grace Paul, fifth grade; and Loyde Montgomery, sixth grade.

All classes above the sixth grade are departmentalized, the superintendent says. Roland Napps, a new instructor, has been hired to teach commercial subjects. Napps, who is from Itaska, received his degree from Northwest State College at Denton. Miss Betty Carver of Bonham, new English instructor, received her degree from Texas Tech in Lubbock.

To teach math is R. E. Everette, who is also principal of schools and girl's coach; boys coach and science teacher is C. T. Ratliff. W. H. Spinks will again instruct vocational agriculture, and Mrs. Pauline O'Keefe is home economics instructor. Mrs. Otie Ellison will teach social science.

As for band, Keith Baten, who completed his music education at West Texas State college in Canyon, will be teacher. Baten was associated with the Happy schools the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pesch are driving a new green Ford.

Bovina Community Park Is Picture Of Progress from Woman's Study Club

Only last year, Bovina Woman's Study club decided that their town needed a park—not a large imposing affair, but a clean well-kept place befitting the town's needs. They wanted a place where families could have picnics, where children could play—just a nice place for their town.

So the group made the building of a park their yearly project, and since that time, the park project has become a town affair. Every so often, the ladies of the Woman's club sponsor a work day, and Bovina citizens turn out to help build up their park.

The native grass on the one block of land is kept well watered and mowed and has thrived; poplars have been planted along the edge of the park; and elms have been planted to supply shade. To further improve the landscaping, Bermuda grass has been planted around the trees.

According to Mrs. John Kimbrough who is chairman of the park committee for the club, everyone has done his share, and a little at a time, the visualized playground is becoming a reality.

Only last week, a work day was held and citizens turned out 50 strong and cleaned and mowed the park. A watermelon feast was held afterwards.

Two cement tables with benches, a rock fountain, swings and a wading pool for the children, now grace the park. The newest addition, which was only completed last week, is an all rock fireplace of which "we are very proud" states Mrs. Kimbrough. The grills have not yet been installed. George Baca of Clovis built the fireplace.

Other improvements for the park come under the heading of long range plans because of financial strains. However, the fourth and fifth grades have already donated money for a trellis; and club women hope to add more playground equipment gradually. They also plan to buy a power mower to aid in upkeep of the grounds.

Approximately 35 women are members of the Bovina club, of which Mrs. Frank Pruitt is president.

Asked about particular people who have helped a great deal to gain the improvements in a short time, Mrs. Kimbrough named Mrs. J. P. Macon, who was chairman of the park committee last year. "She has really done a good job, both working and managing for various improvements," Mrs. Kimbrough concludes.

NEW MASSEY-HARRIS BIG CAPACITY "26" SELF-PROPELLED GIVES YOU

Balanced Separation

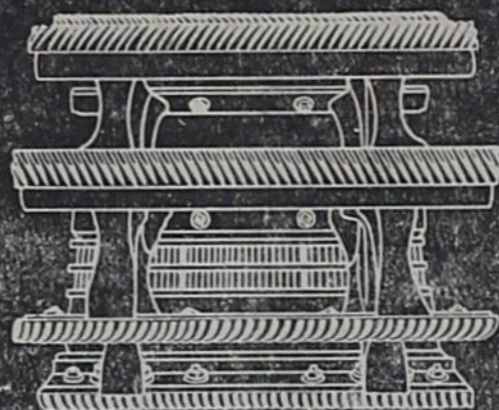

★ It's the biggest advance in combine design since the introduction of Self-Propelled. And again it's a Massey-Harris modern harvesting development.

Balanced Separation is a new, thoroughly proved harvesting principle that assures full control of grain and straw through every step of the combine. It's full control in the cutting, elevating, feeding . . . in the thorough action of the rasp bar cylinder . . . the combing action of the beaters . . . the open handling of the straw . . . the directional wind control, the straw disposal, the saving of all of your grain. From cutter bar to straw spreader you have full control.

All units are in balance—the engine, auger, elevator cylinder, walkers, shoe—all are in direct capacity relation for smoother, faster separation. There's no bunching or jamming . . . no overloaded units, no lazy units. You get capacity unheard of in a 12 foot combine . . . grain saving ability, speed, and convenience that make harvesting on your farm a more profitable, easier, faster job.

See the new "26" soon . . . have Balanced Separation for your next grain harvest.

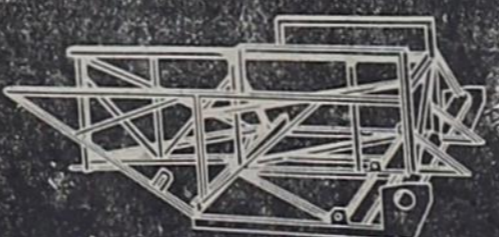

Rasp Bar Cylinder rubs the grain out the natural, easy way

Big Capacity Walkers get every last bit of your grain

Fast Unloading takes but 60 seconds to empty the 45 bushel tank

All Welded Frame is lighter, stronger, well braced

Nelson Smith Re-Elected Vice-President of Texas Rural Letter Carriers

Picture Courtesy Galveston News
Nelson C. Smith, who has been in Galveston attending the Texas State Rural Carriers Convention, was unanimously elected to serve another term as Vice President of the Texas branch of Rural Carriers, and was appointed chairman of the publicity committee to secure the National Rural Letter Carriers' convention in 1954 when he is scheduled to be President of the Texas Branch. Smith will attend the National Carrier Convention in St. Louis Aug. 14 to 18. Texas, this year, has the largest number of Carriers belonging to the Association in its history and chances are that Texas will top the nation in number of association members this year there being, at present, approximately 2000 Texas Carriers as members.

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is bidding strongly for the Texas convention next year and chances are good that their bid will be accepted.

Girls' Softball Team Is Third in Tournament

Farwell girl's baseball team racked up a third place rating at a tournament held in Springlake the past weekend, after topping Stegal and losing to the Hereford team. The locals were pitted against Stegal Thursday night. Trailing the first four innings the Farwell team narrowed the margin in the fifth, and gained a run on their opponents in the sixth. Final score was 7-6. Playing Hereford Friday night, the locals couldn't seem to get on their feet through the entire game, and 11-5 was the final count. Six teams were entered in the tournament. Included were Olton, Levelland, Hereford, Springlake, Stegal and Farwell. First and second went to Hereford and Levelland. The local team will again play

Stegal-Friday night, August 17; and a game will be scheduled with Hereford at a later date.

NEW WINDOWS ARRIVE

Sixty-eight new windows which are to be installed in the old Farwell school building were slated to arrive Wednesday, school authorities announce. Other repairs on the building are reported to be progressing rapidly.

Discuss Seed Inoculation

Buddy Jones, 2600-acre grain farmer and member of the Parmer SCD of Farwell, confers with Joe Jones, Parmer County agent, about the inoculation of Madrid Sweet clover that he is planting in the hip-high sorghum with the recently developed Hancock Legume row seeder. This seeder was purchased by the Parmer SCD last June, and is available to all farmers who wish to build their soil through use of legumes.

Seeds Legumes With Feed As Soil Builder

Buddy Jones, local farmer has recently seeded sweet clover between grain sorghum rows, using the new drill developed by the Hancock Manufacturing Co. in Lubbock for that purpose. The drill is owned by the Parmer County Soil Conservation district.

The drill seeds two rows ten inches apart between each grain sorghum row, says County Agent Joe Jones. Also the drill would work well in cotton because of fenders which keep the machine from knocking the bolls off the stalks.

According to the county agent, legumes can be seeded in any crop that the tractor won't break over, for the drill is built for row crop 40 inches high.

Legumes in this area should be seeded between Aug. 15 and Oct. 1, the county agent says, purpose is to build up the soil.

Jones points out that three legumes are recognized as adaptable for this area, including hairy vetch, Austin winter peas, and sweet clovers. He cites Madrid as possibly the best of the clovers.

Buddy Jones seeded approximately 80 acres with the legume. He is now watering the crop, which was seeded the latter part of July. After harvesting his grain sorghum, Jones will have a cover crop left on the ground. After applying super-phosphate next spring, approximately 20 lbs. per acre, he will again water the legume, then turn it under around the first part of May. The land is then ready to re-plant grain sorghum.

Discussing the three suitable legumes for Parmer County Agent Jones says that farmers will possibly prefer hairy vetch or clover because Austin winter peas might gain enough height to interfere with mechanical harvesting.

The county agent also points out that farmers will want to inoculate legumes with proper culture.

Jones states that according to the extension service, an increase in the acreage of fall planted legumes is needed if farmers are to maintain high production per acre of cotton and other cash crops. One of the most important effects is the influence on improving soil structure or condition.

The county agent adds that this refers to the way small particles are held together in the soil. The soil structure should be crumbly or granular so as to allow for deep root and water penetration and air circulation within the soil. In some soils the particles "run together" to such an extent that little or no water or air can get into them.

Planting deep rooted legumes such as sweet clover will materially improve this condition, the county agent states; and vetch and winter peas add materially to the organic matter and nitrogen content of soils, but do not necessarily open subsoils.

Continuing, the agent points out that some soils have a poor plant-soil moisture relationship. That is, they have heavy dense subsoils at a shallow depth. These subsoils restrict the movement of air, water, and plant roots which also limits the activity of life in the soil. Growing of deep rooted legumes or grasses will punch these heavy subsoils full of holes and cause better movement of air, water, and plant roots through the soil.

Soil life, says Jones is made up of small animals and plants such as earth worms, bacteria and fungi. These organisms are a lot like plants for they too must have food, air and water to grow. Their food comes from legumes and other plant residue that is plowed under, as well as from the roots of these plants. Since air is a necessity, these small organisms are much more active at greater depths in soils that have been punched full of holes by deep rooted legumes. Growing deep rooted legumes such as sweet clover not only improves the soil home for the small organisms, but also increases the water penetration as well as water holding capacity and aeration of the soil. All are needed to maintain and increase the productivity of cropland soils.

Legumes, especially when plowed under a green manure crop, increase the organic matter in soil. This organic matter helps hold together the small soil particles and improves the soil structure by making it granular. Soils high in organic matter have better air circulation and air space and will absorb and hold water that is needed by the plants and soil life. Growing deep rooted legumes, point out the agronomists, puts the organic matter from decaying roots deep in the soil and thus improves soil conditions.
