

FROM THE HOPPER
By HOP

Bovina is one of the most interesting and intimate communities you will find anywhere. I never visit that city that I am not impressed with the people and their friendly and intimate conversations.

When referring to another person, be it man or woman, the given name is always used; never the surname and most of the time I find myself confused as to whom reference is being made when they are spoken of as Bill, Nettie, Sallie or Joe.

Just last week Willie Williams told me a very interesting story about some of his kinsmen, referring to them by their given names only. And when he was through I hadn't the slightest idea who he was talking about. Its the same way with everybody you engage in conversation in Bovina. Its always Homer, Willie, Katie, Lady, Frank, John, Bedford, Harry and so on down the line.

Here are some interesting observations I made in Bovina just last Saturday:

John Kimbrough brought out a package and handed it to Mrs. A. M. Wilson, with the remark, "The drinks are on top." Both Mrs. Wilson and I thought he said "the drinks are on Hop."

Katherine Johnston wanted to know who that stranger was in that new Cadillac automobile.

Steve Calhoun made the declaration that he never would vote for a Republican or a Negro. On cross-examination, however, Steve finally did admit that he voted for a man running on the Republican ticket on one occasion, but he was a Democrat, Steve maintained.

A. G. White, 71-year-old building contractor, keeping pace with the best of his younger carpenters in the erection of Bovina's new city hall and fire station.

June Watkins was complaining about the amount of hair dressing she was having to do, explaining there was a style show and a banquet on that night at Bovina, and her co-worker, Jessie McSpadden, was in Dallas.

Mrs. Troy Armstrong (Lady Gaines) bemoaning that fact that all of Willie Williams' new shipment of blouses were too small.

Wilbur Charles sends an occasional copy of The Tribune to his 70-year-old uncle, John W. Charles, who lives in New Jersey. "He never gets through bragging on your paper," Wilbur declares.

If I keep on telling these stories of the compliments we receive on our paper, I am afraid I might get to believing some of them myself if I don't watch out.

It just dawned on me the other day that I might yet develop into a writer after 38 years of running a newspaper. I read an address by an outstanding newspaper man who advised the newspaper writers to use the simplest expressions in their writings, "Write so any eighth-grade student can understand you," he urged.

In the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCuan, a most pathetic and distressing case of need may be found at 401 Hickory Street in Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. McCuan visited the home last week and found a former Bovina boy fighting a determined, but apparently losing battle, against polio. He and his family of a wife and one small child need help badly, but more than that they need the friendly visitations of his former friends in this county.

Roy Fuller, whose father and mother operated a grocery store in Bovina some years ago, is too proud to ask for help, but his need is desperate, according to the McCuan's.

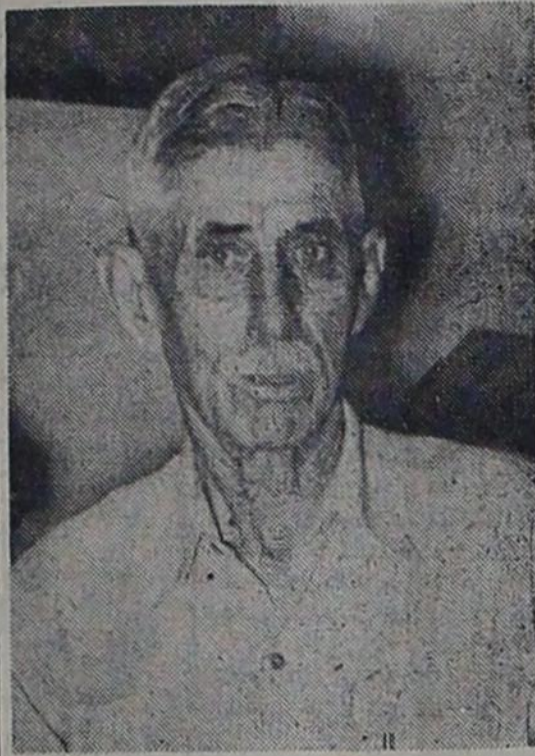

It seems that for various reasons he has been denied the aid that should come through the Polio Foundation, the Veteran's Administration, and other agencies.

Here is a Parmer County war veteran that needs help and I am passing what information I have on to the people of this county, and the people of Bovina in particular. We owe it to him to at least go and see what his needs are and what me might do to assist him.

Now comes Ray Mears, official garbage picker-upper in Farwell, to say that the reason some of the garbage has not been picked up is probably due to the fact that the fees have not been paid. And Ray has this further comment: "People wanting the service must pay up now; we are not going to give a full year's service for a half year's pay."

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hardage, who (Continued on last page, this section)

OLD-TIMER ILL

Pres Abbott, 69-year-old pioneer of Bovina, and one of the few remaining cowboys of the old XIX ranch, which at one time embraced three million acres in West Texas, has been receiving treatment at the Parmer County Community hospital at Friona the past several days. Early this week he was removed to an Amarillo hospital for surgery.

Abbott was riding the range for the XIX outfit before there was a settlement in Parmer County. Asked on one occasion when he came to Bovina, he replied: "I didn't come to Bovina; it came to me," explaining he was there before the town was established.

Slight Changes In Location Of Roads Filed By Committee

The Farwell precinct road committee, named at a mass meeting recently to recommend the location of farm-to-market roads inside the bounds of Precinct No. 3, filed two amended recommendations with the Commissioners Court early this week.

Luther Grissom, member of the committee, reported today that the committee had recommended a slight change in one route and the extension of a second route.

According to the committee's recommendation, the road commonly known as the Sudderth road, would extend east from the J. R. Caldwell corner for a distance of 5 miles, then run north for two miles, thence east to the Muleshoe-Friona pavement.

The second recommendation would extend the east-west road in the south part of the county from the Oklahoma Lane-Lariat intersection west to the New Mexico state line, where it would tap the state line pavement.

Commissioners Turn Down Street Project

The Parmer County Commissioners Court was in session here Monday. The minutes reveal that the only actions taken during the session was the payment of current bills and the appointment of a jury of view on a road petition submitted by R. L. Rule, et al.

The petition asked for the opening of half mile of road and R. L. Rule, J. P. Mabry, W. P. Elliott, L. D. Knight and Earl Stevenson were named as the jury of view.

The Court heard Mrs. Owen Jones and Mrs. Faye Anderson, representatives of E. & E. Contracting Co. asking that the county share its part of the cost of paving Third Street on front of the county property. The answer was a flat "No," with the explanation that since the State Highway Department had offered to put in the paving free of cost to the county and property owners—which was rejected—there was no logical reason why the county should pay for the paving under another plan.

The Court discussed farm-to-market road programs in the county and decided to go to Lubbock on Wednesday to discuss these programs with S. C. McCarty, district highway engineer.

CLAUDE MASON ILL

Claude Mason, 70-year-old Texico pioneer, is receiving treatment in the Clovis Memorial hospital, where he was taken Sunday. Friends said he suffered a heart attack at his small quarters in Texico, where he lives alone, and sustained a broken arm when he fell.

Mason came to New Mexico in 1897 and for a number of years worked as a cowboy in ranches in the western part of the state. In 1902 he homesteaded southwest of Texico and has lived in and around here since that time. He has no family.

Concrete Pipe Output Being Expanded

Street Paving Hits Snag In Contract Sign-ups

The prospects for paving Second Street in Farwell, after getting off to a promising start last week, are not encouraging this week, Mrs. Faye Anderson, solicitor for the E. & E. Contracting Co., stated today.

"After all we can devote just so much time on a project, and if we can't get our contracts signed up within a reasonable period, we must move on to other programs," Mrs. Anderson said.

She went on to explain that two solicitors have been devoting most of their time to the local program for the past three weeks, and up to now only 65 per cent of the property owners have indicated that they were favorable to the paving. Up to Tuesday noon only six contracts had actually been signed and turned in," Mrs. Anderson added.

"Most of the hold-out," she said, "are people who are waiting to see what other residents along the street are going to do and the result is that we are making no progress."

Mrs. Anderson emphasized the fact that when a contract is signed and turned in, the property owner is obligating himself only for the paving in front of his own property, and not that of other property owners along the street.

"If, on the other hand, a sufficient number of contracts are not obtained, there will be no obligation on anybody," she insisted.

She urged persons who have contracts to please turn them in at once, "So we can see where we are with the program."

Regarding paving along Third Street, Mrs. Anderson said that engineers of the construction firm had inspected the street during the past few days and have set a new price for the work on this particular street, which has now been set at $3.00 per lineal foot, including curb and gutter. She said, however, there seemed to be little prospect of getting this work done since the Commissioners Court, in session here Monday, flatly turned down the county's participation in paying for the strip in front of the courthouse.

The Commissioners pointed to the fact that a petition bearing the name of some 30-odd property owners was on file in the county clerk's office protesting a recent move to get the State Highway Department to pave the street.

"Why should we pay for the paving when we had a chance to get it for nothing and had it rejected?" a member of the Court offered.

Death Claims Sister In Shattock, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyde Brewer returned home late Monday afternoon from Shattock, Okla., where they were called by the sudden death of Mr. Brewer's sister, Mrs. V. M. Elliott, at the age of 42 years.

Mrs. Elliott had been in ill health for a number of years, and was under treatment at a Shattock hospital, when she was stricken with a heart attack. She had been a resident of Ellis County, Okla., practically all her life.

Burial took place in the Greenwood Cemetery, north of Fargo, Sunday afternoon.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, Darrell, 17; Bobby, 12; and Gary, 10; and one daughter, Denise Ann, 3. Other survivors include three brothers, Loyde Brewer, Farwell; Glenn Brewer, Almogordo, N. M.; Clarence Brewer, Pueblo, Colo.; and one sister, Mrs. Opal Spear, Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Benger of Black and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Latta of Friona, also attended the funeral.

Friona Supt. Gives Layman Sermon Here

Dalton Caffey, superintendent of the Friona school system, filled the pulpit at the Methodist church here Sunday morning in a layman's day address.

He brought a very inspiring message on the subject of "Getting Lost in a Fog." Supt. Jack Williams introduced the visiting speaker and B. A. Rogers, ex-superintendent of the Texico schools, offered the benediction.

What! No Headlights —Or Tail Lights Either?

A. J. (Jack) Glenn, who lives east of town, reports the birth of a freak of nature at his farm last Saturday.

Glenn says a 7-year-old roan cow gave birth to a male calf that has neither eyes nor tail. The mother was bred to an Angus bull. Calves born to the mother in the past have all been normal, Glenn said.

The young freak has normal sockets for both eyes and perfect eyelashes, but there are no eyeballs in the sockets. As for the tail . . . it just ain't there!

CANDIDATE

A. J. (Andy) Rogers of Childress, who has announced that he will be a candidate for state senator from the newly-created 30th district, was here Tuesday in the interest of his candidacy.

Rogers made a brief address before the gathering at the irrigation meeting here Tuesday morning. He made no mention of politics in his appearance before the gathering.

Light Showers Hit Here First of Week

Tantalizing showers that made local residents turn their faces skyward and wish for more, fell here early this week to bring slight relief from the extremely dry weather that has prevailed over this area.

Mixed with a few pellets of fine sleet, the rain fell during the early hours of Monday morning, and at widely separated intervals during the day. Local rain gauges registered around a quarter of an inch, which, although encouraging, did little to relieve the dry conditions.

Wheat fields that remained dormant throughout the winter months, have begun to green up sufficiently to afford some pasturage for livestock. But growers agree that additional moisture must be forthcoming in the near future to assure continued grazing.

A. L. Hartzog, Farwell, Texas, recently purchased two purebred Aberdeen-Angus cows and a bull from R. Leon Marks, Clovis, New Mexico.

R. A. Ferguson, who recently came here from Littlefield and purchased the concrete pipe manufacturing plant from the Plains Concrete Company, announced this week that he was expanding the facilities of the local plant to one of the largest of its kind in this part of the country.

Originally, the plant was installed here by N. L. Tharp and operated on a limited scale by Mr. Tharp for some time.

Primarily, the firm will manufacture concrete pipe for irrigation purposes. But when the facilities are completed, they will be in a position to turn out concrete conduit up to as large as 30 inches in diameter for use in laying culverts as well as for sewer installations.

Ferguson said today that he would maintain a crew of some 20 men, with half of the force operating the plant in north Farwell and the others being employed in field work engaged in laying the pipe on farms for irrigation purposes.

H. L. Ferguson, brother of the owner of the firm, will serve as plant superintendent, while S. D. Sugart will act as field foreman.

"We will be able to give a farmer a complete turn-key job on his irrigation installation," Ferguson said, adding that they would accept contracts anywhere in this section of the country.

He said that he was making plans to build a home here and would move his family here from Littlefield as soon as housing could be provided.

No New Roads Seen Here Before 1954

County Judge A. D. Smith stated Wednesday afternoon on his return from Lubbock that there was hardly any likelihood of additional farm-to-market roads to be allotted Parmer County before 1954.

Judge Smith, in company with other members of the Commissioners Court, had a conference with District Highway Engineer S. C. McCarty, and the group was informed that it would likely be the latter part of 1953 or early in 1954 before the roads already agreed upon could be built.

Judge Smith quoted McCarty as saying little consideration could be given other roads in the county until the three projects now pending are completed.

Says Parmer Leads Texas in FHA Homes

O. P. Bruner, state field director of the Farm Home Administration with headquarters in Amarillo, was here Tuesday attending business in connection with the local FHA office, managed by Walter Johnson.

While here Bruner said that Parmer County is leading the entire state of Texas in the number of farm homes built in the county. He said that up to the present time, seventeen farm homes have been financed and completed by the FHA and the three loans have been submitted, several were being processed at this time.

He said that land values had gotten so high it was not possible to finance farm purchases any more, but the program of financing farm homes is continuing.

Had is the past tense of money.

Approximately 100 people gathered at the Parmer County courthouse Tuesday for the annual all-day irrigation day, sponsored jointly by the Soil Conservation district and the Extension service.

Fred Dines, extension service wheat marketing specialist of Texas A&M College, began the round of speeches, when he discussed "Insects and Diseases of Wheat" and told of the research that is being carried on now at Denton and Amarillo. Workers are striving to find some means of controlling greenbugs which have given the farmers so much trouble the past two years, Dines stated.

Mr. Swanson, soil research division of the conservation experiment station in Amarillo, then talked on Pasture Production Under Irrigation." He told of the findings of Amarillo, Texas Tech in Lubbock, and stressed the importance of land preparation before seeding pasture.

A talk on the water district was next on the agenda by Andy Rogers, state congressman from 121st district, Childress.

He warned the farmer against permitting the state or anyone else to get control of the water, calling attention to a recent ruling in Arizona, where underground water was named the property of the state. He also cited an incident in California where the federal government took over. He stressed the importance of the farmer looking out for himself and keeping the control in his own hands.

Mr. Hawkins, Parmer, Bailey and Castro County member of the board of High Plains Underground Water district, told farmers that they had to continue to fight legislation in order to keep the underground water district from being dissolved. He called attention to the suit being filed against Martin Co. to declare the water district there as unconstitutional, and asked local men to watch the outcome of the proceeding.

Attendants at the meeting were guests of the Farwell school cafeteria at lunch. They were served barbecue, beans, onions, pickles, cornbread, apricots, and coffee, by members of the home economics department at the school.

In the afternoon session, A. L. Black discussed soil conservation district and gave the annual report for the district. Then Don L. Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station, talked about cotton and grain sorghum under irrigation. He discussed the planting and watering dates for maximum production in our area, as well as soil building practices needed under irrigation.

To conclude the meetings, Robert Thurmond, irrigation engineer of the extension service in Lubbock, discussed winter watering and showed slides of different irrigation practices on the plains.

An irrigation field day will be held later in the spring on a Parmer County farm, Joe Jones, County agent, says.

JOHN HOLLAND SETS SALE FOR FEBRUARY 19

John Holland, who formerly farmed south of this city, has announced a public sale to be held on Tuesday, February 19, at his feed lots on the northeast corner of the Farwell townsite.

Featured in the sale will be a good list of farming machinery, including two tractors. Quite a bit of building materials and lumber will also be offered, as well as a Chevrolet pickup. The only livestock listed consists of six shoats.

The sale which will begin at 1 p.m., will be in charge of Col. Dick Doshier, with Orval Francis and Vernon Symcox serving as clerks.

Launch Bureau Membership Drive

Farwell's Legion Hall will be the scene for a meeting of Farm Bureau Membership workers and their wives and guests Monday night, February 18. Here, plans will be completed for Parmer County's annual membership drive Tuesday.

Vocational Agriculture teachers, Veteran Agriculture Teachers, Chamber of commerce managers and others will be banquet guests. Judge Dent of Littlefield, president of the County Judge Association of this district will be guest speaker. Epsilon Sigma Alpha will serve the meal for the group.

Carl Schlenker, of Rhea Community is membership chairman and says he believes this year's drive will net over six hundred members for Parmer County's Farm Bureau. At the close of last years drive, a few over five hundred were tabulated. The knowledge of a need for unity among agricultural and livestock families is becoming increasingly evident as farmers moving in from other counties and states immediately become affiliated with the local Farm Bureau.

Several directors and their wives attended a district meeting in Lubbock last Monday where Walter Hammond, states president was principle speaker. Senator Corbin of Lubbock spoke briefly, stating that if every Texas Farmer and Rancher were a Farm Bureau Member it would simplify representation for them through their elected servants. Representative Harold Lafont of Plainview stated that if Farm Bureau had not been on the job in last year's legislative session, farmers would today be paying 4c per gallon on tractor gasoline for building of super highways, instead of receiving the refund. LaFont also stated that Farm Bureau was responsible for the continued flow of 15 million dollars annual appropriations for county road, instead of being forced to raise that money through increased ad valorem taxes.

Bill Tillson, District Director said that if this world ever has peace, it will come through the efforts of Christian people, a good portion of which, said Tillson, are agricultural people, tillers of the soil.

You can expect to be called on Tuesday by a couple of men or women who will be selling Farm Bureau Membership, because they believe in it," Raymond Euler, sponsor, says.

Thoughts While Not Thinking

By Kayla Felts

As the saying goes, "too much is enough" or, in the words of a popular song, "How come you do me like you do? Isn't it funny (?) how you can cruise along for weeks without exerting yourself in the least and then all of a sudden—WHOOSH!!!!—you're lucky if you are home or still long enough to collect your thoughts.

Did it ever occur to anyone that . . . people who quit school because they're "smarter than the teacher" are not quite bright? . . . that as long as basketball season lasts, it really gets over with in a hurry.

Why is it that when someone makes a phone call to school, the person in question is: (a), on the ball field and can't be disturbed, (b), in the gym, and can't be disturbed, or (c), in the office, and ditto.

Why does the sand blow in West Texas????? This question has been pondered by the best brains at FHS, but thus far no one seems to have come up with the best answer.

Personal Opinion Poll: 'Most everyone at school was glad the Live-say trial was moved. Who, in this section of the country would be impartial enough to be on the jury?'

Saw the color schemes to the new building recently, and they're BEAUTIFUL!!! All restful, and eye-pleasing (it sez here). Sure will be glad when we get in it. Hope it's this year, so that the present crop of Seniors will get the benefit of it, temporarily, at least.

With the preparations for the Track Meet just getting in full swing, things are really popping. There's always the question of entering this, and running that, and are we really good enough for something else? By the time of the final eve, everyone concerned will be minus a few dozen fingernails. Here's hoping.

Final deadline for the material for the Farwell school annual is today (Thursday) and students are meeting requirements. Fifty-six pages will be included in the book with pictures of classes, personalities, and sports events.

Seniors Will Present Annual Play Feb. 29

"Here Comes Charlie," a three act comedy by Jay Tobias, will be presented by members of the Farwell senior class on Friday night, February 29. Mrs. Herschel Arnold is directing the production.

Nora, a typical Irish maid and cook at the Elliott home, is to be portrayed by Wilma Nell Smith; and her sweetheart, who is a policeman named Tim McGrill, will be presented by Jesse Coburn. Kathryn Magness is cast as Mrs. Fanny Farnham, Larry's aunt by marriage, who is disagreeable and arrogant at first, and meek in the last.

Larry Elliott, a debonaire kind young business man with a joyous smile is Bobby Crume, and Ed Hartley, his old-time college pal who is keen-eyed, lively, cynical and aggressive, is Vernon Willard. Cast as Vivian Smythe-Kersey, Larry's fiancée, is Jo Veta Billingsley. She is portrayed as spoiled and scheming, and has a calculating disposition.

A typical stage hick, 60 years old with a loud voice, breezy manner, and wholly devoted to Charlie is Uncle Aleck Twigg, acted by Charles Phillips. Delores Goldsmith is Charlie Hopps, Larry's ward, who is a pretty and charming girl of seventeen, who is still a child in thought and actions with a sad little face and large dark eyes. She is both comical and appealing. Cast as a snobbish and arrogant matron of fifty, is Louetta McKillip as Mrs. Caroline Smythe-Kersey, Vivian's mother.

Completing the cast is Rex Pool as Mortimer Smythe-Kersey, Vivian's brother who is a youth with a bored and languid air, always faultlessly dressed and always wears spats and carries a walking stick.

Farwell Honor Students Named

High school honor roll for the first semester at Farwell schools was released this week by Superintendent Jack Williams. Students on the roll are those who have made an A or above 90 average in every subject. Students will be feted with a free dinner and show in the future, Williams states.

Fourteen high schoolers were named to the honor roll, one freshman, three sophomores and three juniors, and five seniors. The girls outnumbered the boys, nine to five. No freshman and sophomore boys were listed.

Honor students include: Gloria Dial, freshman; Belle Willard, Jo Ann Cochran and Mary Joyce Roland, sophomores; Buil Dollar, Dennis Raney and Kayla Felts, juniors; and Delores Goldsmith, Lueta McKillip, Katherine Magness, Rex Pool and Wilma Nell Smith, seniors.

Who Knows, Cooking Might Be Some Fun?

Have you ever had 150 hungry men staring you in the face, and know you had to feed them. It's quite a chore even when you know the procedure, but what if you had never cooked a meal except a family-sized one? It would give you quite a fright.

On Tuesday of this week, Farwell home economics upper-classmen were called on to serve the meal for irrigation day attendants. They tackled the job with gusto, and the meal was prepared without an error. And it took a "heap o' work" for a group of inexperienced young homemakers. Miss Jane Adams, who directed the undertaking, went to Clovis to pick up some of the food and left the remainder of the preparation to the girls. When she returned, everything was practically completed and the meal was ready to be served.

Menu included barbecue, beans, cornbread, pickles, onions, coffee, and apricots. The freshman girls then helped to serve the meal. And to conclude the affair, the girls acquired dishpan hands, by washing the many dirty dishes.

Fifth Grade Students Make Scrap Book

The fifth grade pupils have been very busy the past week making products scrap books using advertising of various products as cut-out pictures. These ads are arranged according to the manufacturing cities and the sections of the country. Class reports are made on progress.

Thus students gain experience in talking to a group, in speaking of cities and states, in considering printed abbreviations in manufacturers' addresses, and in classifying materials according to states and groups of states. The knowledge in these scrap books will be a part of their class display during Education Week has been an added incentive for careful work.

"Barry McCuan and Charles Roberts had birthdays on February fifth. Their mothers entertained our room with cake and punch. The boys blew out the lighted candles and we sang happy birthdays to them," the first grade teacher, says.

Farwell School To Participate In Public School Week

Farwell School will take its part in the second annual observance of Texas Public Schools Week to be held March 2 to 8, according to Jack Williams, superintendent.

During public school week, two special activities are planned. An open house will be held on Thursday, March 6. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, parents and patrons are invited to eat in the lunch room. The superintendent asks that guests send word by students on days they will be there, so the cafeteria personnel can plan for the correct number of dinners.

A charge of 25c will be made to those who eat in the lunchroom. Nothing special will be planned, the regular menu will be served.

Public Schools Week was instituted two years ago in order to provide an opportunity for parents and others to visit their schools and acquaint themselves with the work being done. The Governor proclaims the week and both state and local school authorities join in the undertaking.

More than 900 citizen committees throughout the state this year are cooperating with their local school officials in the observance.

It is the work of the citizen groups to develop public interest in the local school programs in order that the fullest possible attendance on the part of the public may be registered.

Aubrey Willard Shows Slides at Assembly

Birthday Party Given For Third Graders

The third grade almost began the new month with a birthday party honoring Mike Booth. Mike's birthday was Jan. 31. He was nine years old. His mother served cake and pop. Everyone enjoyed the party and wished Mike many more happy birthdays.

Students have been busy with the Valentine Party coming up. Each pupil has made large envelopes so that he can learn to stamp and mail each valentine as it is brought to school.

The third grade is studying the lives of past presidents; Lincoln and Washington, whose birthdays appear this month. Log cabins with pictures are being made in the study of Lincoln, and flags for Washington. Poems and stories have been read about them. New snow men with valentine hearts for a calendar for the boys and a pretty lady with a valentine heart for a calendar for the girls have been made for spelling stars. Children with perfect scores on Friday get a bright star to display.

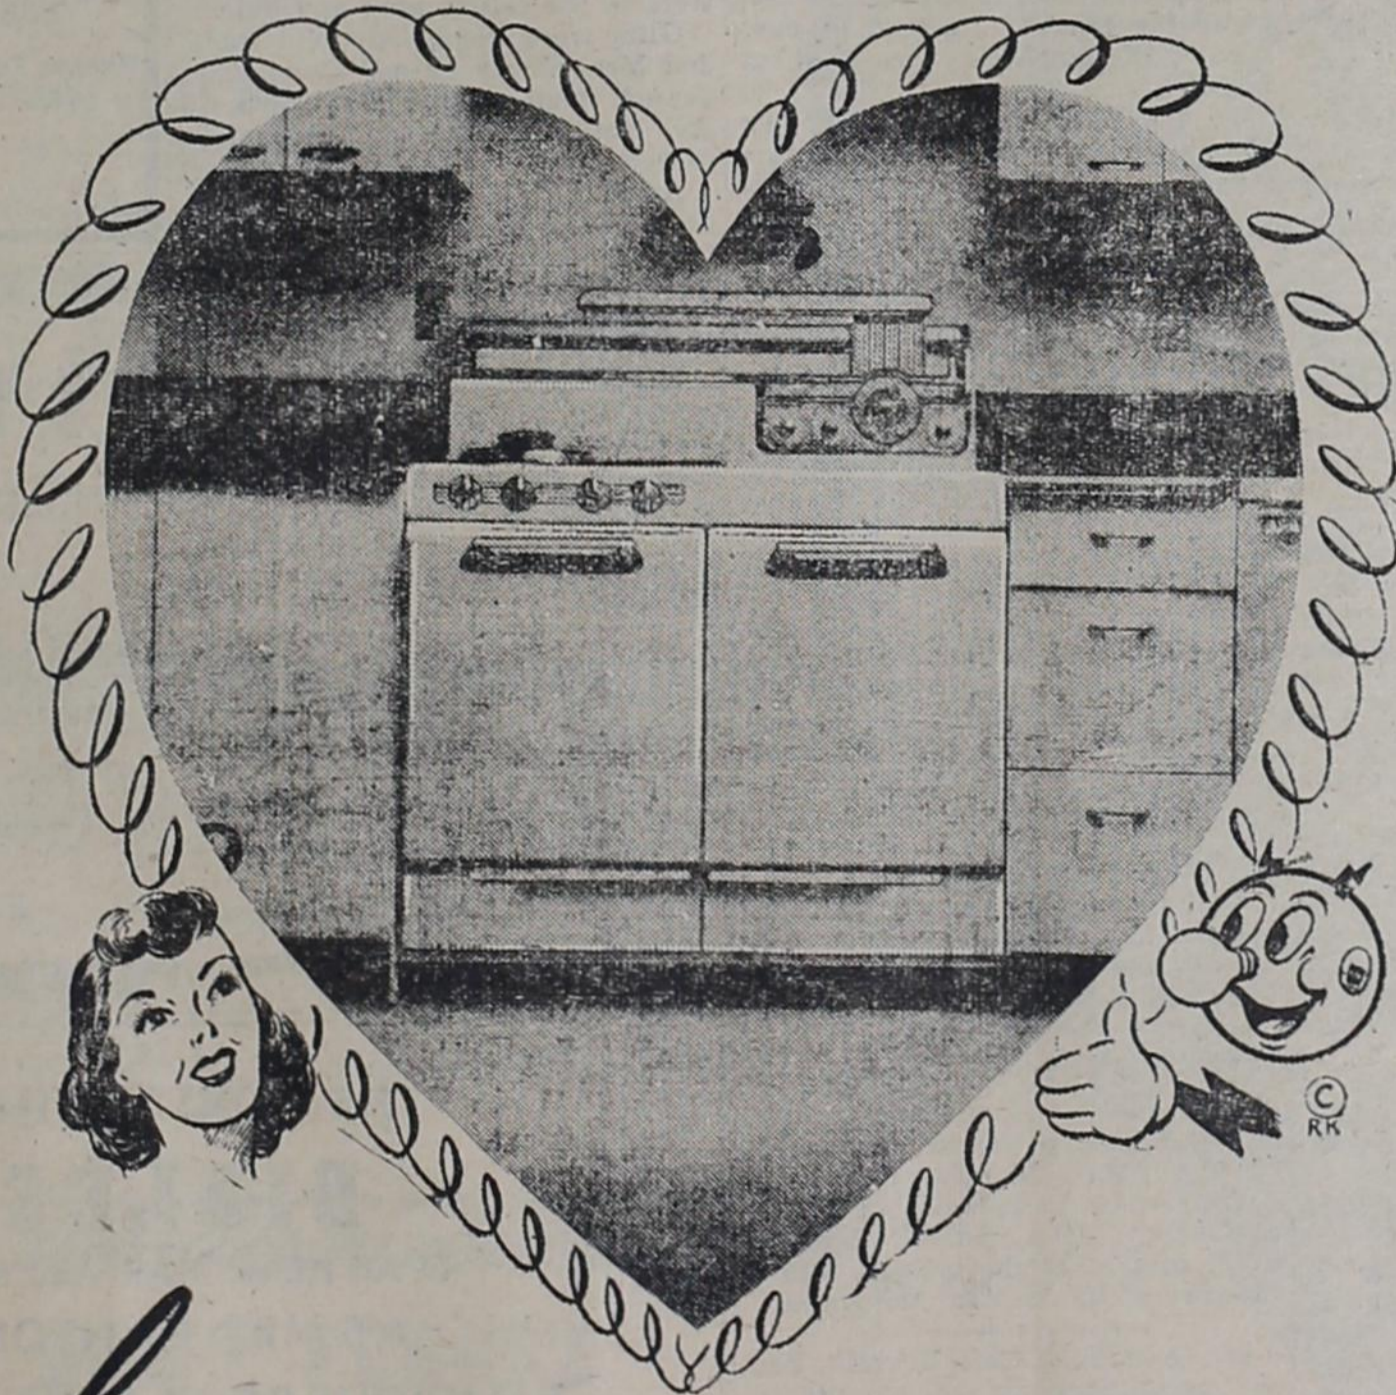

The mothers of Janice Routon and Darlene Hromas have been ill. "We are very sorry," the reporter says.

Tommy Wursters, Daniel Dauda, Jerry McCuan, and Phyllis Black are back in school after a siege of flu. Tommy Williams and Jake Barfas are absent this week.

Ellen Cain's parents moved to a farm in New Mexico this week. She will go to Texico school. We are sorry to lose Ellen.

Richards Family Gathering Is Second One In Past 21 Years

The Richards family reunion held the past weekend in the home of the M-Sgt. and Mrs. George Richards and son, Doyle in Lawton, Oklahoma, was a gala event for the family. It was the second time the family had been together in the past 21 years. The former get-together was in May of last year at Abilene.

M-Sgt. Richards is leaving for Japan February 16, where he hopes to meet his son, George Jr., who is stationed there. Sgt. Richards served overseas in World War II for 1 1/2 years.

Saturday night was the big night for the family, when a big ware house was fixed for the attendants to meet for the evening. Folding tables were situated around a big wood burning stove. Tables were loaded with a mammoth array of food including baked ham, barbecued ham, turkey, with all the trimmings. There was also plenty of cake, pie and coffee, with the coffee made in an open pot on the wood stove.

J. A. Richards, better known as "Uncle Jimmy" in this section of the country, was at the head of the table; with his nine children; three grandsons, Doyle, Billy and Leon, gathered around him. Also present for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Payton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fitzgerald, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parkering and children.

After the meal, everyone sat around and listened to tall tales by various members of the family. Families returned to their respective homes on Sunday.

It was decided that the next reunion would be in Bovina. A date was not set, however.

Two other grandsons who were in service were not present: Layhoit Richards of Lubbock, now stationed in Japan; and Mack Richards of Loco Hills, N. M., training in Maryland.

Attending the reunion were: J. A. Richards; Mr. and Mrs. Luther of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Jean Raynea of Ada, Okla.; Mrs. Della Horn, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Edgar Chase, Loco Hills, N. M.; Mrs. Delbert New of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards of Abilene; Earl and Cash Richards of Bovina; and Billy and Leon Richards of Bovina.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Stone of Clovis were dinner guests in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stone, Sunday.

Chicken Dinner Fetes Farwell ESA Members In Clovis Home

Mrs. Pete Caviness of Clovis, was hostess to members of Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha of Farwell, in her home Monday night.

On their arrival at her home, Mrs. Caviness escorted the Farwell group to the den, where they were served a dinner featuring barbecued chicken. Also on the menu was: creamed potatoes, green beans, toss salad, stuffed celery, olives, french bread, angel food cake, and coffee.

Following the meal, attendants adjourned to the living room where a business session was held.

First on the planning agenda was the womanless wedding which the group members decided to stage in March, with the 25th set as tentative date. Cast members and costumes were discussed with actual planning postponed until the next meeting.

Members then decided to present pillows to Farwell schools for use in the infirmary room at the school. Mrs. J. R. Thornton, mother of two of the member, had consented to make the pillows for the group.

A call meeting of the ESA was scheduled for Tuesday night, February 19, in the home of the president, Mrs. Nell Walling. New pledges will be installed and the womanless wedding will be further planned.

Members then decided on menu for the Farm Bureau kick-off dinner, which they are to serve Monday night. Plans were made to include chicken and dressing, giblet gravy, baked potatoes, green beans, cranberry sauce, celery, bread, butter, cherry cobbler, and coffee. A George Washington theme will be carried out.

To conclude the meeting, Mrs. Walling discussed the convention held in Silver City the past weekend, which she attended. She explained that a display must be made of the philanthropic projects carried out by the organization during the year, and placed on display at the state convention in Clovis in April.

Attending the meeting Monday night were: Mesdames Nell Walling, Julia Symcox, Dardanella Horton, Dorothy Quickel; Misses Iris Thornton, Jeanne Dudley, and Jane Adams, and the hostess, Mrs. Caviness. Mrs. Caviness, who is a member of the Clovis chapter of ESA, was former advisor of the local group.

Fourth Grade Makes Valentine Mailbox

The fourth grade made valentine mailboxes last week and interest is growing each day as pupils find more mail in their boxes. "Of course, none of the mail may be opened or even handled until February 14," the teacher says. Each pupil gets to open all of his mail at the Valentine Party.

The class enjoyed having Mrs. Whitley for their teacher last week while Mrs. Hensley was absent with the flu.

Edward Hulsey from Olton School has joined the class. A pupil with a grade report like Edward's is always a welcome addition to the class.

The class is sorry to lose Joy Berry who moved to Portales and Jerry Pallock who has moved to Odessa.

The plants and their growth are topics of study in Science class. Beans and corn are being planted in boxes for observation as to how they grow from the seed and the location of the growing point in the plant. Pupils were surprised to learn that each tiny seed was a baby wrapped in a blanket with stored food around it.

Sixth Graders Have Varied Activities

The sixth graders were very sorry to have Joy Gordon Pollock move to Odessa. This leaves 28 in the class—the smallest enrollment since September.

After completing their geography with special reports, the class began their study of science. They are looking forward to performing several experiments. Their work this week will concern sounds; how they are alike and how they differ.

A number of boys are working out with Mr. Jobs for the coming track events.

Scottish Duo Here

A Scottish duo, sponsored by the Southern School Assemblies presented a program at Farwell Schools Monday morning in the auditorium. Bagpipe and scottish music was played and a special dancer presented. Music featured jig and marching numbers mostly.

Seventh Graders Win Third In Jamboree

Seventh graders are proud that Pat Aldridge, Phyllis Magness, Jeanette Hughes, and Cora Sue Atchley won third place in the stunt show, with their singing midgets.

A new girl and boy have enrolled in the room; Judy Garrett from Muleshoe, and James Hulsey from Olton. Welcome to Farwell!

VISIT WITH FATHER

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ford of Hart were visitors in Farwell over the weekend. Ford's father, J. H. Ford, became ill over the weekend, and the family visited with him.

Second Graders Will Entertain PTA Meeting

Jolene, Shelia and Carmelita are still absent with the flu. Valentine boxes have been made and put on the bulletin board.

Jan, Dickie, Jane, Scotty, Aubrey, Ralph Dean and Susan have brought interesting hobby collections to school. A hobby show is planned for next week.

The second grade will entertain PTA of the next with songs and choral reading.

Tom Wagner visited friends in Tucumcari the past Sunday. He reports that it rained there too.

Texico Teams Lose In County Tourney

Texico's cage teams, both boys and girls in Junior and Senior High went to Clovis the past weekend to play in the Curry County Tournament. The Junior girls, who won second in their division, was the only Texico team to bring home a trophy.

The Wolverines played the Melrose Buffaloes in their first game and lost to the tune of 37-26. The Whirlwinds won their first game with Grady by a 22-16 count and lost a thrilling 30-29 decision to the Rosedale Cowgirls in the semifinals. The Junior boys won their first game with Ranchvale, 14-13 and lost to Grady 20-19 in an overtime in the semi-finals.

In the Wolverine-Melrose tilt, the Buffs jumped to an early lead and were never in any trouble. After being on top 18-7 in the initial period the Buffaloes were held to four points in the second period, while the Wolverines scored 4.

The Buffaloes had increased their lead to 28-15 in the third canto. The final period was the only period the locals outscored the Buffaloes. They accounted for 11 points while the Buffs hit the bucket for 9.

In the Whirlwind-Grady game, the locals were leading all the time after the first quarter in which no scoring took place. Halftime score was 65 and the third quarter score was 11-9. In the final period the Whirlwinds come to life and scored 11 points to win the game 22-16.

In the Rosedale tilt the Whirlwinds jumped to an early lead and led 7-4 at the end of the initial period, but Rosedale tied the count 13-13 by halftime. The locals went out in front in the third period and were leading 22-16 going into the final quarter. Rosedale come back in the final period to score 14 points to the locals 7 to win the game 30-29.

The Junior girls drew a bye in the first round of the tourney and won a 9-7 decision from Field in the semi-finals. Score by quarters was: first, 4-3; second, 4-3; and third, 8-3. In the finals with Grady the locals trailed from the beginning whistle and lost by a score of 33-11. Score by quarters was: first, 7-6; second, 16-8; and third, 29-8.

The Junior boys game with Ranchvale was close all the way with the locals finally coming out on top 14-13. The semi-final game with Grady was also close in which

Grady was leading all the way until the final period. The locals tied the count 16-16 and were forced to play a four minute overtime. In the overtime period Grady scored 4 points to Texico's 3 to win the game 20-19.

The tournament wound up the cage season for the Whirlwinds while the Wolverines still have the District tourney, which will be played at Portales next week. The Junior teams still have the Bovina Invitational Tournament which begins February 23.

Girls Win And Boys Lose To Friona

Farwell and Friona cage teams split games, in conference tilts played in Friona Tuesday night.

The girl's session was a fast dual from the beginning whistle, and was anybody's game. The local team managed a slight edge in the first period, but lost it by halftime, when the score stood at 22-18. The last half was tooth for tooth, with teams tied 28-28 at the end of the third period, and still tied, 34-34 at the end of the game. In the overtime play-off, Farwell surged ahead to win the tilt, 42-34. Christian made 21 points for Farwell and D. Miller of Friona racked up 18.

In the boy's game, Friona was the top team from the beginning. Score by quarters was 8-12, 24-12, 32-22, and 44-30. Coburn hit 12 points for the locals; and top scorers for Friona were: D. O. Robason, 13, and B. Miller, 10.

Wolverines Play Dora In District Tourney

"Texico's Wolverines will go to Portales next Thursday afternoon to meet the Dora Coyotes in the first round of the District 6 Tournament," stated Charles Stockton, coach, today. Game time will be 3:30 P. M.

The Wolverines lost a 37-34 decision to the Coyotes earlier in the season on the local court. "The winner of the Texico-Dora tilt will play the winner of the Clovis-Rogers game on Friday," Stockton said.

Other teams entered in the Tourney are: Causey, Elida, Ranchvale, and Portales.

"We are very proud of our 8th grade girls. They won their first ball game with Texico last Thursday. They were going to Muleshoe Monday night, but it seems Muleshoe didn't know anything about it," the reporter says.

The class lost three members of the eighth grade; Jerry Williams, who is now going to Muleshoe, Pat Berry who moved to Portales, New Mexico and Henry Portor.

Bovina Half-Century Club Stages Fashion Show for Every Family Member Saturday

Saturday night the American Legion Hall in Bovina was filled to capacity for the fourth Spring Style Show presented by the Half Century Club of Bovina. The general comment by the viewers was that it was the best the club had ever presented. Mrs. Helen Sims of Clovis was commentator.

The show was opened by the tiny tots showing an outstanding array of ruffles and bows from the toddlers to the pre-teens. These fashions are currently displayed at Dillon's Shop in Clovis. Timmy Rhodes, Larry Truitt, Radford Venable and Johnny and David Anderson wore the latest in little boys things and the little girls were adorable in organdy and ginghams, coats, suits and even formals.

Among the outstanding costumes shown was a white pique sunback dress worn by Mrs. Penny Anderson. This dress, just received from the fashion centers in California, was a two-piece outfit. The daring peplum type skirt was shown over an embroidered Swiss half petticoat. It was backless and gave the effect that Mrs. Anderson was all ready for sun and fun.

Lula Belle Childers modeled an outstanding ensemble, the currently popular duster, a Virginia Spears original created especially for Vohs. It was a butcher linen check in grey tones over a dress of lime butcher linen. The glamour glitter to this outfit came in the rhinestone clasps and buckle. Her accessories were navy and her hat was of Milan straw, the new sugar scoop style. She was escorted by Byron Turner, one of the men who took part in the show. Byron was wearing an all wool suit of Botony 500 tailored by Daroff in a two ply worsted sharkskin, the all-season, grew from Carmack and Sons.

The Carmack showing was complete in every detail. Western clothes, sports wear, dress suits and even a semi-formal tux modeled by Jamie Tidenberg. Jamie escorted Pat Sudderth in an orchid formal by Cotillion and Nancy Williams in a creation of periwinkle blue, also by Cotillion. Both gowns are originals and were of nylon tulle over the traditionally rich tafetta.

Also in the spotlight were suits for the ladies which ranged from the very popular tailored suit in two and three pieces to the extremely fashionable knit suit so popular today. Silk shantung, crepes and cotton of ever description go to make up mildady's wardrobe this season.

One of the high points of the show was Myrna Hammonds showing an outstanding dress in steel grey silk shantung complemented by cake icing pink accessories with navy shoes and bag. Much to her surprise and to the delight of the audience, Joe Moore appeared in a suit not currently shown at Carmack and Sons. This was a 1917 model. The high vent back, single button front, the peg pants, the string tie and the black derby with shoes from the same era literally threw the audience into a panic.

Another unusual feature was Byron and Velva Turner showing what the well-dressed couple are lounging in this season. Byron wore a navy blue robe, fully lined in gold rayon. His pajamas were pure silk in a blue print and the dressing slippers were of blue calf. Velva wore a robe and gown of white rayon. Her dressing slippers were white kid styled by Daniel Green.

Little Freida Dougherty presented two dance specialties. Freida is from Clovis and is a student of Eva Clair Whitmore at the Rhythm Shop. Home town boys, Jerry Jones and Billy Ray Derrick sang "When You and I were Young Maggie Blues" and "Sentimental Journey." These two boys were accompanied by Mrs. John Wilson at the piano. She also presented background music for the show. Mrs. Wilson is a local teacher of piano.

Mrs. Wilson was playing "Yes Sir That's My Baby" when the door of the dressing room opened and Ellen Estes and Beth Shanks made their appearance. Both were wearing dresses from the early 1930's, the flapper era. Beth in a black banquet dress and white satin high heeled shoes took her turn on the ramp while Ellen in a pink chiffon (Mrs. Frank Wilson's wedding dress) stopped the show with her version of the Charleston.

The last number of the style show was a showing of the 1952 bathing suits. Five young ladies, Peggy Hardage, Joan Cochran, Lula Belle Childers, Nancy Williams and Patsy Steelman modeled choices of nylon suits designed for this year's beach wear. As they were having their beach party, they were rudely interrupted with a blood curdling yell "Hey wait for me," and none other than Vernon Estes, in a 1913 bathing suit, in a high run bounded on to the ramp with the girls. This cool, modest, fast drying, uncomfortable and too decent bathing suit was first worn in Clovis by W. S. Carmack and represented the fine food fed to the moths in the old days," the commentator stated.

Harry Vohs, who was awarded Miss Money, insisted that another person be awarded the doll and Mrs. Lewis Pesch was the lucky lady.

The Half Century Club again wishes to express its appreciation to all those who were so kind and helped to make the show a success.

Dixie Hartzog Has Head Injury at School

Dixie Hartzog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlin Hartzog, suffered a head injury at the school on Wednesday when she fell while playing on the chinning bars and received a severe blow on the head. She was taken to her home by Mutt Crook, bus driver. Her mother took her to the Friona hospital and a specialist from Amarillo was summoned.

It was feared that she was suffering a brain concussion but this proved untrue. After she had returned to her home she became ill again and her parents were afraid it was the effect of the blow, but after returning her to the doctor they learned she was suffering from intestinal flu. She was reported to be fine on Monday and had returned to school.

Mrs. Jesse McSpedden was in Dallas Sunday, Monday and Tuesday attending the State Beauty School.

Plans Drawn For District Tournament

Representatives from each school in the district met at Friona on Wednesday night February sixth to lay plans for the district tournament to be played in Bovina next week.

The two tournaments, boys and girls, are scheduled for Thursday and Friday. The winning of the conference play during the season counts 50 per cent for a team and winning the tournament counts 50 per cent. If one team wins the conference play and doesn't win the tournament the tie will have to be played off. For this reason administrators left Saturday open in case of ties. All the games must be played and certified by Saturday night under the interscholastic league rules.

Trophies will be awarded for the first and second place in the girls and boys brackets with no consolation. When a team is defeated, it is out of the running in the tournament.

Officials that will call the tournament play will be Lester of Dimmitt and Thompson of Amarillo.

The funds taken in at the tournament will be divided evenly between the two winning teams after the referees are paid and the trophies are purchased.

There will be all district teams for both boys and girls with the coaches selecting the teams. They will be judged on their play for the entire conference games and not only on tournament play and will be awarded gold basketballs.

Both boys and girls brackets for the district basketball tournament to be played in Bovina February 21 and 22, were released this week.

At the present time, Adrian boys are leading the district, with Bovina, in the second place slot. The remaining four teams, Farwell, Lazbuddie, Vega and Friona, have approximately the same number of losses and wins. In the girl's division, Bovina is leading the entries, Vega is second, Farwell, third, Friona, fourth; Lazbuddie, fifth; and Adrian, sixth. The district tournament will be determining factor on who shall represent the district as champ this year.

In the boys bracket, Adrian drew a bye for the first round. Farwell plays Lazbuddie at 6:45 on Thursday evening. Vega drew a bye also. Friona is slated against Bovina at 9:15 Thursday evening.

Moving into the second round of play on Friday, Adrian will meet the winner of the Farwell-Lazbuddie tilt at 2:45 in the afternoon. Vega plays the top team of the Friona-Bovina session at 1:30 in the afternoon. Championship game for the tournament is slated at 8:45 Friday night.

In the girl's bracket, Bovina and Farwell drew byes. Lazbuddie plays Friona at 8 o'clock in the evening Thursday; and Adrian meets Vega at 5:30 in the afternoon. Friday's play includes: Bovina against the winner of the Lazbuddie-Friona clash; and Farwell against the top team of the Adrian-Vega tilt. Girl's championship will be played Friday night, at 7:30 in the evening.

Bovina Teams Play Friona Friday Night

The Junior girls team and the senior boys and girls teams went to Friona on Friday night. These games were next to the last conference games for the senior boys and girls. They will close their season play on Tuesday night with Farwell.

In the opening game between the two Junior girls teams the Bovina team was victorious with a 28-16 score. Matilda Brito of the Bovina girls took the scoring honors tossing in 20 points while Crow of Friona led their scoring with 10 points.

In the Senior girls game the Bovina girls again won. They now just lack on game and another win of having a perfect record for their conference play. Bovina led all the way. At the first quarter their lead was a slim one point 14-13 and at half time they led 24-20. During the third quarter they pulled ten points out in front but Friona bounced back during the fourth quarter and there was only three points difference in the final score with Bovina winning 45-42.

Lillian Young of Bovina topped the scoring with 24 points with Donna Miller of Friona close behind with 22 points. Denise Magness of Friona scored 18 and Donna Smith of Bovina made 11.

The Bovina boys dropped their game 46-44 after leading all the way until the last period. They had a good 28-19 lead at the half but could not hold their lead. It had slipped to just two points as the last canto started and Friona outscored them in that period by four points to win the game.

Roy Young of Bovina again topped the scoring with 23 while Robins of Friona scored 14 and Pounds of Bovina made 12.

This was the third loss in conference play for the Mustangs having previously suffered two defeats at the hands of the Adrian Matadors. The Mustangs still hold second place in the conference standings.

The U Down girls independent team had a busy week this past week playing three games. They were on the winning side of two of the three games.

In the first game on Wednesday night, they played the team from Hereford. It was played on the home court and was played by AAU rules. On Friday night, they played again on their home court by AAU rules with the Tulia Tulliettes. During the last half the U Down girls started playing a faster game and started gaining on Tulia. When the game ended it was tied at 28-28. In the first three minute overtime period each team was able to make a field goal and again the score was tied 30-30. In the second overtime period Tulia took the tip off and were able to score a field goal soon after. They regained possession of the ball a little later and were able to hold it until the time, was almost over. Bovina took the ball a few seconds before the whistle sounded but were unable to get a shot. Final score was 32-30.

On Monday night the U Down girls went to Ranchvale to play their outsiders team in a practice game under interscholastic rules. The local team had no trouble taking the lead and maintaining the lead all the way. The final score was 40-21.

Cotton Season Near Finale, Farmers Begin Laying Plans for Work During Coming Year

With the ginning season fast approaching its finale for the 1951 cotton crop, Wright Williams, manager of the North Plains Gin, in Friona, this week is already looking ahead to the 1952 ginning season.

On Monday of this week, Williams reported that very little cotton remained to be handled in this area, adding, "We only operated two days last week, and figure to be running one day this week, which should about clear up the crop for the season."

A total of near 4,000 bales is expected to be turned out in all. Williams continued, showing the high planting acreage in cotton over the territory during the past season. "As things look now," the manager said, "we should be closed down for the season by February 20th."

New Growers Coming
Interest in cotton has run high in this area during past months, and evidence that it has proved a profitable operation is seen in the fact that an influx of South Plains farmers is being noted, Williams pointed out.

"Farmers who have cotton experience are coming in here from Brownfield, Ropesville, Lamesa and Seagraves," he said, adding that such men were buying land and putting down irrigation wells in preparation for handling cotton crops during the coming growing season.

Along with this movement is talk of some new gins being erected in this part of the county, he added, although he could give nothing more definite than rumors.

"With the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and County Agent Joe Jones, making plans to keep a close check on insect infestation which might endanger the crop during the growing time," Williams went on, pointing out that very little damage was sustained locally during the past year, but adding that it is a constant threat and yields per acre can usually be increased by quick insect control.

The Chamber of Commerce, with the Texas Employment Commission, is also looking forward to the labor problem which arises when cotton is produced in quantity. "We can get laborers—Mexican—in from downstate when we need them, providing we have some sort of housing for the families," the gin manager pointed out.

At present, locals interested in boosting cotton in the area are confining their work on the housing situation to individual farmers, hoping to get the individual operators to arrange some type of housing on their own farms, he reported.

Field Trip Given To Kindergarten Pupils

Members of the Friona kindergarten, and invited guests, were taken on a "field trip" to Clovis the past Friday by their teacher, Mrs. Bill Sheehan.

The youngsters left Friona around nine o'clock, making their first stop in Clovis at KICA, where they looked over the various broadcasting paraphernalia. From there the group went to the Campbell plant, where they saw ice cream being made, milk being bottled, and then into the "Coke" plant, to see the popular drinks being bottled.

Lunch was a picnic affair at Hillcrest Park, with the youngsters visiting the zoo. Included on the trip were Eric Vance, George and Janet Rushing, Rita and Darrell Collier, Johnny Gray, Nancy Miller, Judy Crume, Mrs. Sheehan and Mary Margaret.

New Plot Is Approved For Local Cemetery

Approval of the survey of additional ground for the local burial grounds was given by the Friona Cemetery Association Sunday, when a meeting was held at 3 o'clock at the Legion Hall.

Mrs. Claude Osborn, reporting on the meeting, said that the land actually was given the cemetery some years ago by Carl Maurer, but that the association waited until a survey could be drawn and plots laid off before accepting the gift. Alec Thompson, of Hereford, outlined the plots, she added. The survey will be filed at the clerk's office, and lots purchased in the future will include a warranty deed to the buyer.

Members of the Future Homemakers of America Club of the high school have indicated that for a project this year, they will assist in upkeep of the property, Mrs. Osborn said.

Clyde Goodwine, chairman of the board of trustees, presided at the meeting on Sunday, in the absence of the Association president, Pete Buske.

City Officials Will Be Elected in April

Officials who will direct the activities of the City of Friona for the next two years are to be chosen by local voters on Tuesday, April 1st, City Manager Roy Wilson reminded this week.

At the present time, Wilson said, the details, pertaining to ways and means of securing a place on the ballot are being drawn up by Bill Sheehan, local lawyer, and will be issued in sufficient time to insure candidates ample opportunity to get their names in the voting circle.

Current officials include Mack Bainum, mayor; Carl Maurer and Nelson Welch, commissioners. Tenure of office is two years, Wilson added.

CONSERVATION NEWS

By BILL KENNEDY

The following article came to us from the Castro County Soil Conservation District. Since we have about the same farming conditions as our neighbors to the east, it may be of interest.

"Earl Cole, whose farm is in the northwest part of Castro, believes in taking every opportunity to make his farm pay more.

When Cole bought the farm in 1946 it had been irrigated for 12 years without any attention to improving the soil. The yields were not what they should have been. No matter how the land was irrigated the yields were not as high as a good farmer like Cole expected. Something had to be done and soon.

Commercial fertilizer was tried, and it helped. It still helps, but Cole is not satisfied that it is the complete answer.

Legumes of different kinds were tried and among them was a 7-acre field of Ladino Clover. Ladino is a low-growing, shallow-rooted plant that will live several years.

The stems get about 2 feet long and when a joint comes in contact with moist soil it takes root. This soon forms a dense turf. Most of the roots are in the top 6 inches of soil, and none were found below 16 inches when the plants were about 18 months old.

Nodules are plentiful on the roots. This means that the clover is taking nitrogen from the air and fixing it in the soil; building up the fertility for future crops.

Cole intended to harvest the seed last summer. The clover set a crop of seed that was estimated at 200 to 300 pounds per acre. The seed is expensive, and the current retail price is $1.40 per pound. Several different methods of harvesting were tried, but the crop was so matted that no available equipment could make it.

There was a big potential loss because seed harvest was impractical, but there was mighty good grazing. Two cows were turned in and watched to see if they would bloat. The cows filled up and laid down. No bloat. Forty-eight more were turned in and watched. No bloat.

Fifty days later the 50 cows had eaten the 7 acres of clover down to the point where supplemented feed was necessary. Ten days later on the first of November, they were taken out. The Ladino is not growing much now, but is greener than most lawns. Cole is looking forward to another try at a seed harvest.

Already plans are underway to get a type of mower that will slice through the tangled mat of stems, but if the seed cannot be harvested, he still believes that grazing 7 cows per acre for 2 months is quite profitable.

The planting dates for Ladino are in the spring from February 15 to November 10. Five pounds per acre is recommended in pure stands and 2 to 3 pounds in mixtures.

If you would like to know how many pounds of grass per acre there are in any pasture here is a handy formula:

Lay out a plot 3.1 feet square. Clip vegetation with a pair of shears. Weigh vegetation on gram scales which you can buy for about 75 cents. Multiply the gram weight by 10. This gives pounds per acre.

Example: 125 grams clipped x 10 equal 1250 pounds grass per acre.

The same formula holds true for stubbles or any other type of forage.

Repairs Are Planned For Legion Hall Here

Members of the Friona American Legion laid preliminary plans, recently, for repair work which will be done in the future on the Legion Hall, according to Roy Wilson.

Wilson reported that members approved the plan of working over windows in the two-story building, all of which are in need of new putty. In addition, the Legion hopes to purchase new window screens for the entire building, Wilson said, adding, "We may have to work a little slowly on this, as cost of new screens for the building will run around $200."

Report on Youth Conservation Work Will Be Filed for Friona Organization

A report on the youth conservation movement in this community, sponsored by the Modern Study Club, in cooperation with the Friona Woman's Club and various civic groups, is to be submitted to state Cub officials, in Crowell, Texas, by February 15th, Mrs. Glenn Reeve, said today.

This movement, Mrs. Reeve said, is nationwide, with various communities competing for prizes offered those showing the most project work completed during the year.

Actually, two projects have been completed during the past year, Mrs. Reeve went on. Sponsors, with young people of the town, early voted to try to organize Cub Scouting locally, and this was accomplished, with three active dens now in the city.

The other completed project was the magazine drive for the school, which was very successful.

Two projects are still "in the making," Mrs. Reeve added. Plans were begun last fall to present a pageant, using young people primarily, which would portray the history of Parmer County. This work was halted by opening of school, but current plans are to give the pageant some time this spring.

Work is still being done in an effort to get the Boy Scout work activated again in this community, Mrs. Reeve continued. Just lately, it has been agreed to conduct a poll of high school students needing driver's licenses, with a petition to be presented to the highway department office in Hereford. This petition will seek to have a representative from the office in town every week or so, to give driver's tests, Mrs. Reeve explained.

On Saturday of this week, boys of the city have been asked to meet with Alan Romich, CC manager, at the City Park, where work toward getting the park in shape for the summer months will be carried out.

Harold Crook Writes Bovinaites from Korea

The following letter was received recently by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crook from his nephew Harold, who is serving with the army in Korea. Harold was reared in Bovina and will be remembered by many of his friends.

Dear Linnie May,
I was surely sorry to hear about Albert. I guess he was getting pretty old but I'll bet a lot of people will miss him for quite a while. I bet I won't know Bovina when I get back. All the kids getting married, or at least they were kids when I left.

This division is sure changing a lot, too. It's getting to where I don't know anyone anymore. We get replacements about every week. I am still acting squad leader. They still think my old squad leader will be back but I doubt it as he has been gone too long. They will fool around until all the work is done then put someone else in and let him make the money. I don't care much about being the big, brave squad leader anyway.

I got to take my three days rest leave. It was really nice. We had real tables and chairs to eat on. We had army cots to sleep on. The room had hot and cold water in it and there was an elevator there too. That was really nice.

Well, we haven't had too much patrol action lately but sounds like we will have for the next two weeks. By that time we should be off the line and ready to start basic all over again. Have you heard anything from Harvey Johnson?

I have heard that two or three of the 180th have been hit pretty hard but can't find out if K company is one of them or not. That's funny. We're probably within ten miles of each other and I wouldn't even know which way to go and look for him.

Guess I'll close for now. Will try to write Eurith Marie in a day or so, so you won't get the letters the same day.

Lots of love,
Harold
