

FROM THE HOPPER

By HOP JR.

Another good reason for being glad that we live on this part of the High Plains is that we are able to dig a hundred feet or so into the ground virtually at random and find water in great quantities.

This is something "extra" and more than just having irrigation in our area. We are allowed to put a well at virtually any point of our choosing, and seldom have to bear the expense of test hole drilling or other means of determining if water is available in paying quantities.

As an example of what we mean, we cite the narrow, tricky Portales Valley a few miles southwest of us. Water is available in plentiful quantities in the "proven" areas, but the bounds of the Valley's irrigation area are pretty clearly definable.

In fact, it would appear that the practical drilling area is only a few miles wide and about 25 miles long. Outside of this established boundary, water is "where you find it." Although a water witch is a rarity in our area, most of us know or have heard of how they operate. We thought that you might enjoy reading the following, clipped from the column of Gordon Greaves of the Portales Daily News:

WATER WITCH—A young man by the name of Jerry Smith, of Barstow, California, picked up $400 within a few hours recently witching for water for farmers in the south Floyd community.

Smith, a professional water douser, was brought out here by Ernest Widener, who paid his train fair both ways. He witched four wells for Ernest Widener, two for Neal Widener, one for Glen Widener, and one for Foy Jones. None of the wells have been completed yet, but all are being drilled. Mrs. E. Widener said that her husband found water in the first well, just where the water witch said he would, at 60 feet, and like the man said, there wasn't too much water—only around 400 gallons per minute so he is taking the Witch's advice, and going on down.

Mrs. Widener explains that the water witch brings his own "dousing sticks" with him, and uses several. One, which he calls his "rainbow stick" can be operated just as well in a car as it does walking. Mrs. Widener says:

He came by train to Clovis on a cold, windy day. Arriving at 2:30 p. m. he was met by the Wideners, and was taken directly to the farm, where he did the witching for the 8 well locations within three hours, and was on the train, heading back to California at 10 p. m. that same day.

A lot of people will be looking with more than casual interest at what comes out of those wells when they are finished.

Publication of our Records from the Courthouse column is really getting to be a pain. We are having more and more news come into our office through the work of our enlarged staff each week, and we seriously ponder the advisability of leaving out some news in preference for the "records."

We have asked for some opinions on whether our readers would prefer more news or a continuation of the legal column. Only a few have troubled to write in, but all have been in favor.

Would you please let us know your opinion? This is something that we definitely need to hear more on before making our decision. Meanwhile, the records will continue to be published whenever possible.

Don't get excited about that three percent increase in the national cotton allotment. It isn't going to mean a boom for anybody out here.

It will be apportioned to the states, and the state ASC committees will first use it to raise everybody to at least five acres. After that, what's left (if there is any) will be used as the committee sees the need. Every little bit helps, of course, but it doesn't appear likely that Parmer County is going to reap any bonanza from this new legislation.

CORN, did you say? That's what some people are exclaiming when they inquire as to what new crops the allotment systems and lowered price supports may mean for this part of the Plains.

Yep, believe it or not, quite a few farmers are thinking seriously about getting back into corn growing. We hope to have a good story on this in next week's paper.

Mustangs Win Third In State Tournament

By Jeanne Kerby

The Bovina Mustangs captured third place in the Class B division of the thirty-fifth annual Interscholastic League state basketball tournament held last weekend at Gregory Gymnasium in Austin.

This was the first time in the history of the Bovina school that one of their teams has gained the honor of taking part in this annual affair.

The Mustangs went to the tournament with a 28-2 record and they earned their berth in the tournament by winning their district without a loss, winning over Anton in a bi-district game, and winning over Ropesville, McAdoo and Samnorwood in the regional tournament.

The only division of the tournament to have more than four teams entered was class B and they had eight teams, making it necessary for a team to play in three games and win at least two to get into the top three teams.

The Mustangs played the first game of each morning session beginning on Thursday morning and continuing through Saturday. The spacious gymnasium where the contests were held was located on the huge campus of the University of Texas.

The Mustangs opened their play against Rankin which was the winner of Region 8-B. This region is located in the El Paso-Big Bend area and covers one of the largest areas in class B. When the Bovina squad came on the court for their first game they were greeted with cheers from over 150 ardent fans who had made the long trip to Austin to watch their team in action and to cheer them to victory.

Bovina started off with a bang in their first game and they took the lead in the early minutes of the game to maintain and increase it throughout the contest. The full court press employed by the Mustangs seemed to completely rattle the Rankin team and they were never able to get

School Trustees To Be Named April 2

Annual school trustee elections in the county are scheduled for Saturday, April 2, according to information received this week.

All candidates must file with the county judge at least 10 days before the election.

Three county trustees will be named with Jim Shaeffer of Friona, Joe Wilson of Bovina and H. Y. Overstreet of Farwell as outgoing members. Holdovers are Bill Sherley and Matt Jesko.

For Farwell Independent School District, outgoing trustees are A. W. Gober, L. L. Norton and Partin Austin. Retained on the board are C. C. Christian, Paul Wurster, Walter Kaltwasser and Dick Geries.

Farwell C of C Calls Meeting To Talk Roads

Members of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce and others who might be interested are invited to attend a special meeting of the C of C tomorrow (Friday) night in the Legion Hall. The session starts at 7:30.

The meeting will be devoted entirely to a discussion of farm-to-market roads for the area, and authorities on the subject are expected to be on hand.

their team rolling against the Mustangs.

By the end of the first quarter the Mustangs had rolled up a ten point lead with a 22-12 score. They continued their sharp shooting and pressing defense during the second period and they had a commanding 38-20 score at the mid-way point.

The entire squad from Bovina saw action during the game, playing part of the third quarter and all of this last quarter. Even with all of the subs in play, they continued to gain over their opponents and had a 62-30 score at the third quarter. The final score was 79-41. They came within 6 points of tying the Class B scoring record of 85 points.

Even with such a high score and the large spread in the final tally, the Mustangs didn't take scoring honors for the game, pointing out the ability of all the players to get into the scoring column.

Early Installation Waives $10 Permit, Says Texico Mayor

Attention was called this week by Texico Mayor Scotty Levins to a special action of the city commission which would result in eliminating a $10 fee for permits to hook onto the sewer system presently being installed by the city.

"If people who have the system being installed by their home or business will have a 'riser' put in the line as it is being laid, we will waive the ten dollar permit," he said.

The action was taken for two purposes: one would save time and trouble which would result from having to do the job later; and the other is to encourage early hook-ups.

City ordinances provide that residents may wait for a 6-month period before being required to tie on to the system and Mayor Levins said it is hoped that the ruling by the commission will encourage persons to have the work done much earlier.

Those who desire to have the work done early should contact the contractor, Harold Killian of M & N Construction Company, who is supervising the work now underway. This firm will do the work for $1.25 per foot, which in nearly all cases would be considerably less than the $10 permit fee.

A $2 inspection fee is required of patrons before the connection will be approved and service begun.

Mayor Levins also pointed out that there may be persons now owning vacant lots who will desire risers installed. Work was moving along satisfactorily the middle of this week, with the firm having opened up nearly 3000 feet on State Street in eastern Texico.

Ten-inch sewer mains (vitrified clay pipe) are being installed in this area, and the contractor said the firm will work in a westerly direction.

In addition to east-west lines which will serve the business district, there will be a total of five 8-inch lines laid in the north-south alleys of the residential area.

About a dozen are currently being employed for the project, including local laborers.

At a meeting of the city commission Monday night, it was decided to change the location of the Four-Letter Award To Sikes Motor Co.

The Ford Motor Company's "four-letter award—FMSE" was presented to Sikes Motor Company of Farwell last week, in the form of an engraved plaque.

The local Ford agency was named as one of the top eight dealers in the Denver branch, comprised of 147 other agencies. "We feel highly honored," said Oliver Sikes, owner, this week.

Explaining the letters, the Farwell businessman said, "F" stands for finances, "M" for management, "S" for spirit, and "E" for facilities. The award placed Sikes Motor Co.'s finances as being sound, its management efficient, its spirit competitive, and its facilities modern.

Local Teacher Receives Honor

Mrs. Cleo Milford, English teacher at Farwell High School, has received one of the highest honors that can be given a school teacher. Mrs. Milford has been chosen as a member of the Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority, Gamma Iota Chapter. Initiation ceremonies will be held in Plainview some time in the spring.

Mrs. Milford, a graduate of Southeastern Oklahoma Teachers College, has been in the Farwell school for the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunk Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cox attended a funeral in Tulsa recently.

Pickup-Train Wreck Kills Farwell Youth

A tragic pickup-train wreck at a private crossing Sunday afternoon took the life of a popular 14-year-old student of Farwell High School, and injured his father, although not seriously.

Killed was William Darrell Martin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Martin. Both son and father were the occupants of a pickup which was struck by a Santa Fe train leaving the city. The crossing upon which young Martin was killed did not have signaling devices, and is located less than two miles east of Farwell.

The pickup was traveling the same direction as the train and evidently made a quick right hand turn for the farm crossing to the Martin home when the accident occurred, peace officers said.

The boy was pinned under the overturned pickup, according to reports.

The passenger train was enroute from Clovis to Houston and was reported to be traveling at approximately 55 miles an hour.

The Martin farm home is located only a short distance from the crossing. The family has resided in this area for many years and is well-known in this part of the country.

Funeral services for the young boy, the youngest child in the Martin family, were held Wednesday afternoon in Farwell High School auditorium, with Bob Wear, minister of Hereford Church of Christ, and Eugene Sofford, minister of Farwell Church of Christ, in charge. H. Osby Weaver, minister of Greenville Church of Christ, also assisted.

Burial was in Mission Garden of Memories in Clovis, under the direction of Steed Funeral Home. Pallbearers for the late rites were school friends of young Martin:

O. K. on Friona Homes

The official "okay" on a building project that will mean approximately 70 new homes for Friona was issued this morning (Thursday) by Reynolds & Ashford Construction Company of Amarillo.

Roy Hunnicutt, spokesman for the firm, says a new company will be formed, to be known as the Friona Building Company, for the project. Revised plats of the Whiteway addition are now available in the company's Amarillo office, and may be viewed by prospective home buyers. The firm is located at 221 River Drive.

The land upon which the project is laid out was purchased from Bill Flippin, and will contain restricted areas for larger homes and lower cost housing also.

About two months have lapsed since work on this project first started, says Hunnicutt, and he says it is hoped that papers will be completed and contracting for building can be gotten underway within two weeks.

"Interest in the project has been astounding," he said, adding that "many have voiced a desire to move in as soon as housing becomes available." He also said he thought, "Friona can be proud of this good news, and construction will start in our city as soon as possible."

Soil Fertility Day Is Next Thursday

Farmers from all over Parmer County will gather Thursday afternoon, March 17, to observe another annual soil fertility day—an event cooperatively sponsored by the Parmer County SCD, the SCS, and the Extension Service.

This year's program is scheduled to take place in the Bovina Legion Hall, beginning at 1:30 p. m. County Agent Joe Jones reports that interest in the event has been increasing in recent years, and that 85 farmers turned out in 1954. He hopes for that many or more next week.

To lead off the program will be Bob Thurmond, Extension irrigation specialist, from Lubbock. He will discuss the different phases of irrigation practiced in this part of the High Plains, and is expected to be able to answer problems presented by farmers who will attend.

At 2:15, Jack Barton, who is the Extension soil conservation specialist from Texas A&M, College Station, will present a program entitled "Soils and Their Behavior Under Irrigation."

His talk is expected to draw wide interest for the reason that farmers are discovering that they must take up a new outlook on soils when introducing irrigation into their farming programs.

A recess will be called at 3 o'clock, and at 3:15, M. K. Thornton, Extension state chemist from A&M College, will head the day's program with a talk, "Commercial Fertilizers and Their Use."

Much emphasis is being placed on Thornton's topic, as farmers currently are more interested than ever before in increasing yields and improving soils through commercial fertilizers.

Thornton is head of the soil testing laboratory at A&M, and it is his department to which have been sent many soil samples taken from farms of the area for analysis.

★ COULDN'T DROWN BUT SURE GOT WET

The early bird gets the ducking, or so it seemed last week when a group of Farwell boys decided to be the first—and went for a boat ride.

The ride didn't last long, but the memory of the experience is with them yet. Robbie Foster and Doyle Ford and another companion decided it was a fine day to take Robbie's boat for a spin, about two Sundays ago. So they loaded the car and took off to a lake about 22 miles north of Bovina. Everything was going fine and it was great fun, until something upset the "apprecart" and the boys found themselves in the middle of the water.

They all began swimming desperately to the bank, and after a tiresome gain, found their destination in sight. But they learned the truth too late. Their feet would have touched the bottom all the time.

Small Barry Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, is recuperating from the measles this week.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Nobody Too Hepped Up About New Development Program

Early and unofficial reports from here and there across Parmer County point up the likelihood that nobody is too hepped up about the new Farm and Home Development Program being offered us by the Extension Service.

This new deal, you will recall, would give us two more full time Extension workers in the county, to be called associate agents, and they would work with farm families "to make further help available through advisory services and good business planning."

We do not know what the reporting committee will advise the county commissioners after they have completed their informal surveys.

We do question, however, the actual need for such a service, and up until this moment we have failed to grasp the usefulness of the new program.

What, for example, can an employee schooled in and supported by the state do for farm families in this field that they are not able to do for themselves?

No doubt there are numbers of farms all over the county whose productivity would be greatly improved if efficiency of operations could be raised.

Yet, what farmer who really wants to farm better could make practical use of advice from a person who does not know all the details of his operation? And what of the hundreds of informative articles on every imaginable phase of farming available in any county agent's office?

If he needs planning, can't he make good use of these less expensive services, and also can't he rely heavily on the advice of his more successful neighboring farmers?

Take another purpose of the offered program: "To bring about a more satisfactory and improved family living."

This achievement would be truly ideal, but we are lost when we attempt to figure just how anyone would go about achieving these ends. Work like this sounds more like the province of a pastor or a psychiatrist.

It may be possible that we do not see some of these things in their proper light. Perhaps such a program is not only possible, but very practical.

However, we at least would like to see it in operation in other instances before deciding that it can work here.

We personally are hopeful that the rural residents of Parmer County will at least take a "let's wait and see" attitude before signing up two more Extension workers which would cost our county, state, and national governments a pretty tidy sum.

The two agents presently employed within the county are doing effective work that is much appreciated by farmer and businessman alike. With the work of the Extension Service currently enjoying such high popularity among all residents of the county, we question the advisability of launching a new and untested program at this time.

We received a nice note from Mrs. Buck Ellison this week, and we quote: "Just a line to let you know how much I enjoyed the paper this week. Those two big editions kept me entertained several days. A fellow doesn't know how much get well cards and the home paper means to you until you are flat of your back in the hospital."

"I'm just recuperating from an operation and will go home Wednesday. Just want to say thanks to all my friends for the cards, gifts and flowers."

Maybe it's good and maybe it's bad, it's all in the way you look at it. Anyway, Miss Ella Bradshaw, teacher of Farwell Schools, could take her choice on the day she wished to celebrate her birthday this year—unless she wanted to take a fleeting minute as the time for the event.

Since she was born on February 29, she was "out in the cold" when the big day rolled around this year and there were only 28 days in February. So she cheerfully noted the 28th as the time she was a year older, and was happy in her decision, since she went to bed with the measles the next day.

She remarks that maybe in a few years when that added year to the age is more important, she may be pleased that she only has a birthday every four years.

Lenten services will be held each Tuesday evening at 8:00 at the Lariat Lutheran Church from now until Easter.

Public Schools Week is here again. For the fourth year, public spirited citizens of Texas have sponsored this week. Its purpose is to bring to the attention of everyone the fact that the Public School is "Democracy in Action." All the schools in the country are holding open house this week. Take advantage of this opportunity to see just what the schools are doing.

We were talking to Mrs. Gene Coffman on the phone this week and asked her for her favorite recipe, and she immediately suggested the "know-how" for enchiladas and a Mexican salad. Of course, we had that idea in the back of our mind when we asked her, because she has acquired quite a reputation for serving delicious Mexican food. She has entertained the Methodist Youth Fellowship several times by making this specialty for them.

So, we are including the recipes here. We realize that we often use the same recipe that someone else has, and ours aren't always like the original, but this should be a good start.

ENCHILADAS

- 1 can Ashley's tortillas
- 1 lb. grating cheese (preferably Kraft)
- 1 large onion
- 2 lbs. hamburger meat
- chili powder
- garlic salt
- one package powered enchilada sauce

First, fry the tortillas in very hot grease for a very short time. Turn them over quickly. Put the hot tortillas in a small amount of the prepared sauce. Fry the hamburger meat and add the chili powder and garlic salt to taste. When the meat gets done, put it in the hot tortillas and roll into small rolls. Pour remainder of enchilada sauce over top of enchiladas and sprinkle with grated

We read recently that Betty Hutton, the movie star, is back in the business, but that no one believed she'd quit. The way some people have been talking to us the past week, some feel that we might be about the same way.

We will admit that the newspaper business gets in your blood, and we will probably never take our "finger out of the pie" altogether.

But it has reached the point that we feel our family must come first. We have been a part of this business since we reached the age of 12, and we probably couldn't bear to give it up entirely.

We have another excellent unpaid reporter we failed to mention last week, but she is on the job, nevertheless. That's Mrs. M. H. Poteet, who assists us on Texico WMU stories. If you think it isn't a job to report to the paper after each meeting, and remember all the names and facts, you should try it.

We appreciate the help from all of you people to give better coverage of the news. Without you, we just couldn't get around to as many stories as we do.

Texico Seniors Present Plays

Texico High School Seniors netted $75 on the three one-act plays which they presented under the direction of Mrs. Agrie Jones, at the Texico School Auditorium Tuesday night, March 8.

Class members decided to present three one-act plays instead of one three-act play so that each member of the class would have a chance to perform in at least one production.

The first play given was entitled "Nothing in its Place," and the title was aptly applied. The cast included Kitty, a young housewife who spent most of her time "picking up" after her husband, played by Georgina Weisler; Jim, the disorderly husband, played by Jimmy Reed; Mrs. Shannon played by Shirley Stover; Mrs. Reynolds played by Naomi Hapke; and Barbara played by Nadine Thornton.

"Home to Mother" was the title of the second play of the evening. The plot of this comedy revolved around a young businessman who found that his wife had left him on the very day his boss was coming for dinner. Too many willing helpers came to his aid and the young man found himself with four wives when his boss appeared. A hasty explanation from his real wife made for a happy ending. Characters were John Wingate, the young business man, played by Jimmy Moss; Betty, his real wife, played by Naomi Hapke; Nancy, played by Patricia Watson; Grace, played by Nadine Thornton; Hallie, played by Bobby Richardson; and Mr. Billings, played by Ronald Hutson.

"Tobacco Road—With Detours" was the final play given by the Texico seniors. Dressed in costumes of uneducated mountaintop folk, the cast gave a delightful performance of this fast moving, but slow talking comedy. Those in the cast were Jerry Johnson as Pa, Bobby Richardson as Ma, Naomi Hapke as Americy, Marvin Pendergrass as Willie Joe, Nadine Thornton as Tennessee, and Howard Leavell as Sonny Boy.

After the performance of the last play, the seniors were honored at a class party, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Agrie Jones. Refreshments of cake and punch were served to the members of the class. The cakes were decorated with the inscription of "Seniors '55" in the class colors of green and white.

Before the first play began, the Jim-Jam Jivers, a musical group of Texico School, entertained the audience with several western selections. The choral group from the school sang at the intermissions between plays.

Good Crowd Attends Farwell Operetta

By June Hensley

Approximately 200 people attended the Farwell High School operetta, "Tune In," under the direction of Mrs. Shelby Jobs, Friday night at Farwell Auditorium.

The light comedy production was based on the problems facing various members of a radio broadcasting station, from the station owner to the switchboard operator who wanted to be a singer.

Confusion begins when Mitzi Kroggins, uneducated wife of Kasper Kroggins the Kodfish King, demands that she be given a chance to sing on the program that her husband's product sponsors. After hearing her rehearse a number entitled "What Vision Meets My Eye" in her broken soprano, the entire staff of the station was really wondering what vision did meet her eye.

The station owner knew that if she did sing on this program that his station would fold. Interest grew as the staff members tried, almost in vain, to keep the determined Mitzi off the air.

Finally the Kroggins program was presented with the switchboard operator, whose name was also Mitzi, doing the singing honors in disguise. The real Mitzi was in an elevator between floors while the program was being broadcast. After the program had gone off the air, Mrs. Kroggins was rescued and brought to the stage to do her number. Not knowing the mike was dead, Miss Mitzi gave fourth in a hearty manner in what she called an old "mallad" (ballad). Her rendition of "The Gate is Off the Hinges, But the Robin Sings There Still," was, to say the least, original.

Pandemonium breaks loose when she learns she was not heard by the radio audience on the Kroggins program. The staff of radio station WTNT is in a state of turmoil as all of them realize their jobs are in danger.

Coming to the rescue of the station owner was a theatrical producer who wanted to give a movie contract to the singer he had heard on the Kroggins Hour. Thinking that that the singer was Mrs. Kroggins, he naturally gave her the contract before he heard her sing. She again favored (?) the staff with another musical selection. The theatrical producer spent many minutes tearing up his hair and tearing up the contract.

Despite the treatment she received at the Station, Mrs. Kroggins held a New Year's Eve costume party at the radio studio. The entire cast was donned in colorful costumes for this scene.

A meek little man had tried all through the program to find the owner of the station, but he was refused admittance to the owner's office. Finally, in haphazard costume made of his business suit, the lawyer made his way to see Mr. Brown, the owner. When told that he had just inherited ten million dollars, his troubles were over. He could operate his radio station without the help of Kroggins and he could also marry the Kroggins' daughter.

The entertaining operetta was highlighted by duets from various members of the cast. The nonchalant manner taken on by all members of the cast added something special to the production.

The swing band played during the intermission for further entertainment.

Auxiliary Gives Feed For National President

Dean Lucas Unit No. 25 of the American Legion Auxiliary will be hostess for a banquet to be given March 11, 7:30 p. m., in the Hotel Clovis Ballroom, honoring Mrs. P. A. Lainson, National President, American Legion Auxiliary.

All American Legion and Auxiliary members and friends are invited to attend this banquet and also a reception at the ballroom at 6:30. Local people planning to attend should make their reservations by noon Thursday, March 10. Reservations should be given to Mrs. Richard Jones, Box 537, Clovis, telephone 5008. Plates will be $2.50 each.

Mrs. Lainson of Fort Madison, Iowa, is leading the American Legion Auxiliary's nearly one million members this year as National President. She was elected to the Auxiliary's highest office at the national convention in Washington, D. C., August 30 to Sept. 2, without opposition, after more than thirty years' service in the work of the organization.

Mrs. Lainson is the wife of Percy A. Lainson, Warden of the Iowa State Penitentiary and one of American's leading penologists. At the time of her election she was completing a highly successful year as chairman of the National Rehabilitation Committee in charge of the Auxiliary's nation-wide activities for disabled war veterans. Her record of Auxiliary service goes back to the first days of the organization in 1920 when she became a charter member of the Rainbow Unit of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

She was President of the Auxiliary's Iowa Department for the year 1936-1937, and in 1950 was elected National Vice President for the Central States. She directed the enrollment of the Auxiliary's 1952 membership as National Membership Chairman, and in 1953 guided the organization's child welfare activities as National Child Welfare Chairman.

Mrs. Lainson's husband, son, daughter and son-in-law are all members of the American Legion. Her husband was a Major in the Rainbow Division in World War I and Chief of Staff of the Iowa State Guard in World War II. Her son, Don, was Captain in the Third Armored Division in World War II. Her daughter, Jeanne, was a Lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps and is now the wife of Captain Francis D. Ivey of the regular Army.

In addition to her Auxiliary interest, Mrs. Lainson has been active in the Federation of Women's clubs; the Iowa Council of Republican Women of which she was State President for two years, and the Cancer Control program in which she served as District chairman. During both world wars she contributed her services to the work of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Lainson will also be honored at a banquet given by the American Legion Auxiliary, Amarillo Post on March 19 at 7:30 in the Amarillo Legion Home. Plates for this banquet will be $1.50 each.

Local members planning to attend this banquet should contact Mrs. Gilbert Watkins at their earliest convenience. Reservations for the banquet in Amarillo must be in by Tuesday, March 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson, Jerry, Gloria and Don, Elton Kerner, Uncle Tom Randol and Mrs. H. L. Dykes were Sunday guests in Shallowater. They attended a birthday dinner given for Melinda Ann Dykes, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dykes. Other dinner guests in the Cecil Dykes home were Miss Louayne Dykes of Lubbock and Donald Lee Dykes of Sudan.

Former Residents Are Grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Williams of Lynwood, Calif., former residents of Texico, are the proud grandparents of their first grandchild. A granddaughter, Gail Marie Kellar, was born to the Bill Kellars of San Deigo, Calif. Mrs. Kellar is a granddaughter of Abe Williams of Clovis, and Mrs. Leona Osborn of Lynwood, Calif. She is the great-granddaughter of Uncle Tom Randol.

When Uncle Tom received the announcement of Little Gail Marie, who made him a great-great grandfather, he smiled proudly and said with a twinkle in his eye, "Well, that will cost me another silver dollar."

Uncle Tom always gives each grandchild and great grandchild a silver dollar.

Experience is a grand teacher; but a mighty hard way to acquire an education.

Just like flying—
with NEW Shamrock
CLOUD MASTER

MADE WITH AVIATION COMPONENTS

For driving that feels like flying, try Shamrock's new Cloud Master gasoline. And that comparison is more than accidental because the octane rating of new Cloud Master is way up and the octane is raised with the same aviation alkylate that was heretofore used only in the highest grade aviation fuels. This means an octane rating that exceeds the requirements of your car (no matter what car you drive). And it means that you get and keep getting power you paid for because new Cloud Master burns with fewer deposits. For new speed, new power, for all around top performance from your car, try Shamrock's new Cloud Master gasoline for 1955.

New Cloud Master gasoline, like all Shamrock products . . .

Farwell Students Get More Milk

Students in Farwell schools are getting approximately 2,500 extra half pints of milk per month because the school is taking part in the national school milk program of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Schools eligible for this program are all non-profit elementary and high schools of the nation. They are eligible only as long as they agree to operate their food and milk program on a non-profit basis. Also, they must serve fluid whole milk, meeting state and local standards for butterfat content and sanitation.
 This program enables cheaper milk to be served by reimbursing schools with federal funds for a part of the cost of additional milk served.
 This school milk program has been in operation for several months. Texas has approximately 1,519 schools participating in the program now.
 Those interested in the welfare of school children should support this school milk program in their respective schools.

FARWELL HARDWARE

The Clay Hensons

Farwell, Texas

This is national 4-H Club Week, and a very good time to stop a moment and consider the fine work being done by young men and women all over America who are preparing for a better farm life.

We join in urging that all adults support, and all boys and girls join, the 4-H club in their community.

The 4-H organizations are doing a great work in helping today's youth prepare to be tomorrow's farmers!

IT WAS DRY, BUT SURE WAS DEEP

Charles Phillips will watch his step now, after his harrowing experience the first of the week.

He was working around the new cess pool, which his mother had had dug, and took one step too far. When he finally stopped falling, he found himself at the bottom of the 20-foot excavation, staring at the sides which went straight up and didn't offer a place for foothold.

When Mrs. Kate Phillips heard this distant voice, she rushed outside and found her son at the bottom of the pit, with only a few scratches to show for the experience. But there was still the problem of getting Charles back on the surface and this was accomplished by using a garden hose as a rope. Charles just scaled the hose and was back to normal in no time.

But he isn't quite as "tickled" over the incident as the rest of the family. Mrs. Phillips remarked that when she realized Charles wasn't hurt, she couldn't keep from laughing.

His caustic comment was merely "It's not funny."

Firemen Called To Laundry Fire

Texico-Farwell firemen were called out early Wednesday morning to extinguish a blaze at the laundry in Farwell. The fire was discovered about 7 o'clock in the boiler room of the laundry.

Someone across the street had noticed the blaze and reported it to the owners, according to firemen. An estimate of damage was not available.

MUSTANGS WIN—

High scorer for the game was Bob Trower of Rankin. Norman Killough and Darrell Read led the Bovina attack with 14 points each while Neil Smith scored 12, Larry Ezell 10, Don Owens, 6, Bobby Calaway 8, Jerry Newton, 6, Erith Hawkins, 6, and Billy Richards, Billy Johnson and Marvin Young each scoring 1.

Into Semi-Finals This put the Mustangs into the semi-finals Friday morning against Big Sandy who had won over Sli-dell on Thursday. The Big Sandy boys had a lot of tournament experience having played in the finals of the tournament for the last four years.

The Mustangs received quite a jolt Friday morning when Darrell Read arose broken out with the measles that have been so rampant in the community.

Darrell had been one of the mainstays of the team all year and his services were greatly missed during the last two games.

Saturday morning Marvin Young had also come down with the measles and the disease wasn't confined to members of the team.

There were eight or ten of the fans who had made the trip that also broke out with the disease while in Austin. Neither was it just a youngster's disease, as several of the adults found the little red bumps popping out on them, also.

The Mustangs suffered their only loss to Big Sandy in the semi-finals with a 78-57 score. The Bovina boys just couldn't seem to find their range during the game and they missed many of their shots that ordinarily they would have made. The Big Sandy team, with several Indian boys, seemed to be really hot and they were hitting the bucket from all over the court.

Sparking their scoring attack was Joe Thomas, who just couldn't seem to miss on the shots from the deep corner. Big Sandy built up an 18-14 lead by the end of the first quarter and increased their lead to 39-24 by the halfway mark.

Continuing to build up their lead during the last half and led 58-39 at the three-quarter mark and the final score was 78-57.

Joe Thomas took the scoring honors with 24 points in the game, with Oscar Williams, another Indian boy, scoring 16 points and Barney Richards scoring 12.

Larry Ezell led the Bovina boys with 17 points while Neil Smith counted for 14. Norman Killough and Don Owens, usually among the Mustang's high scorers, found the bucket for only one field goal each during the entire contest. Both boys were scoreless during the first half.

Norman added 4 out of 5 free throws for a total of 6 and Don added six for seven for a total of 8 points. Erith Hawkins and Bobby Calaway also scored 6 points each.

Win Consolation Honors The loss put the Mustangs into the game for third place honors on Saturday morning and their opponents were the Medina five who were beaten by Avoca. The Mustangs had found their range again by game time and they got off to a roaring start scoring 23 points in the first quarter.

Medina could only count for 12 during the first eight minutes and again the Bovina full court press upset the Medina boys during the first half. The half time score was 43-22.

The Medina five came back in the third quarter and little Tony Wilson of Medina started breaking through and passing to their tall center, Don LeSturgeon, who tossed them in. They scored six points before the Mustangs got started going again.

They continued to feed the ball into the big boy and they had cut the lead to only five points and a 50-45 score by the end of the third quarter. But the Mustangs proved equal to the challenge and staged off their rally to win by a 67-62 score.

The Medina five came within 3 points of the Mustangs on two occasions during the final eight minutes, but a timely basket by Smith and also three free tosses by Neil and then two charity tosses by Bobby Calaway with only fifteen seconds to play sewed up the game and the third place honors for the Bovina team.

Again the scoring honors went to the losing team while the Bovina scoring was pretty well divided among the team. The big center, Don LeSturgeon of Medina was high scorer with 29 points while Tony Wilson scored 18.

Neil Smith led the Mustang attack with 18 points while Norman Killough was close behind with 16. Larry Ezell scored 12, Don Owens scored 11, Erith Hawkins scored 6 and Jerry Newton and Bobby Calaway each scored two.

The Mustangs scored 23 points during the game from the charity line. Two of the Medina boys were thought to have played several minutes of the final quarter with five fouls. Norman Killough was sidelined during the late minutes on fouls, the only boy fouling out during the three games.

The Mustangs received a lovely plaque in recognition of their accomplishment and each of the boys was awarded a bronze medal. The presentation was made by Dr. Howard Calkins of the University of Texas.

Following the winning of the first game, Irene Ezell, wife of Larry, was planting a kiss on his cheek when they had their picture snapped by a photographer of an Austin paper. The picture came out on the front of the sports page of the paper that evening.

The Mustangs took one scoring honor during the tournament, that of scoring more combined points than any other team—203 points.

County Education Appraised By Faculty Members

Schools in Parmer County are now undergoing a thorough and unique study, one designed to improve the educational facilities offered the students, and to adapt the courses offered in the schools, to the needs of the community.

This program which is taking place all over the state of Texas will later be utilized by the Texas Education Agency to determine the accreditation of each school.

In an effort to give the patrons of the county an idea of the scope of the program, a reporter interviewed officials at Farwell Schools, and inquired into the setup of the system, which is actually a self-evaluation of the school, as viewed by the teachers in the school system.

The self-appraisal system will be a continuous program, with the administration always trying to discover ways in which the educational facilities may be improved. Not only important in the program is the success in determining the weak points, but also included are ways in which these points may be corrected.

Much time and effort must be exerted by the faculty members, both in school and outside regular committee meeting hours, to successfully inaugurate such an undertaking, say officials.

The first orientation period at Farwell was held February 24, then teachers began a study of materials, committee planning and decided on methods of research on standards last week.

The next phase is information gathering and compilation with meeting planned March 17-18 for this purpose. March 30-31, the analysis and interpretation will be made and a tentative report will be made out on May 2-3. Final analysis in a summarized form will be made May 9-10.

Two very distinct portions of the educational system are included: "Appraising the Instructional Program" and "Appraising Teaching Methods, Procedures and Techniques."

Each instructor is serving on a committee to help find the questions posed by the appraisal system.

Studies will be extensive on curriculum planning and development, social skills and attitudes, citizenship, other instructional areas, pupil service, ways to determine individual differences, instructional materials and methods, techniques and procedures employed by teachers (a continuous evaluation of pupil progress).

The program is one so extensive that it is difficult to realize how much study and work will be required to complete such an evaluation.

Area Boys Enter Animals in Show

LUBBOCK—Several members of 4-H and FFA organizations in Parmer County have entered stock in the 1955 South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show which will be held at the Fair Grounds here March 14-16, General Superintendent Dave Sherrill has announced.

Among the early entry blanks received by show officials were those for five calves, eight barrows and two lambs from Parmer County. An estimated 1,100 animals have been entered from counties throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

County Agent Joe W. Jones has submitted entries for four calves and one lamb to be shown by Parmer County 4-H boys. Showing the calves will be Langford brothers, Rt. 2, Texico; Cooper Young and Richard Chitwood, both of Rt. 3, Muleshoe. The lamb will be shown by Jackie Sheek, Rt. 1, Friona.

The Farwell FFA Chapter will be represented by four barrows and one lamb, according to Robert Morton, teacher. The lamb will be shown by Gerald Hardage. Barrows are owned by Gerald Hardage and Arlin Smith, both of Farwell.

The Lazbuddie FFA Chapter has entries submitted by Jack Black, teacher. Four barrows will be shown by Leland Gustin, Rt. 1, Muleshoe; and Ronnie Ivy, Star Rt. 1, Friona. One steer will be entered by Glen Watkins, Rt. 3, Muleshoe.

The show is sponsored annually by the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development.

All animals will be checked in beginning Saturday, March 12, and continuing until noon Sunday, March 13. Judging will be held Monday and Tuesday and the show will be climaxed with the annual auction sale Wednesday.

The boys will receive their awards and premium checks at the annual barbecue Tuesday night at the Texas Tech pavilion.

For the third consecutive year, two attractive young high school girls will reign over the show as Princesses. One Princess will represent the 4-H club in the area and the others will represent the FFA chapters. These girls will be selected at a judging program Saturday morning, March 2, in the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Building. Picking the Princesses will be 4-H and FFA presidents selected at random. Judging will be on the basis of beauty and appearance alone.

Each club and chapter entering livestock in the show is eligible to have a contestant for the Princess crown.

The young winners will be outfitted in Western clothes and will serve as hostesses at all events connected with the stock show.

Tracksters To Enter Several Meets

Farwell tracksters are gearing for defense of their District 10B Championship. Among the returning lettermen are members of the 440 relay team which won second place in the regional meet at Lubbock. In the state meet at Austin they edged out the Hale Center team which beat them at the regional meet. Members of the relay team are Truitt Hardage, Don Pool, Don Gerles and Robbie Foster. This team holds the district record in 440 relay time with 46.8. Other returning lettermen on the track team include Wallace Roberson, who holds district record of 40' 1" in the shot put; Billy Watts, H. R. Billingsley, James Norton, Gerald Hardage, and some boys from the junior division.

The track team is entered in the Hereford Relays to be held on March 18. Other teams competing in this relay are from Friona, Tulia, Dimmitt, Canyon and Hereford. Tracksters will also attend the Panhandle Relays on April 2. The district meet is scheduled for April 9, at Friona. District teams in addition to the Farwell team include Adrian, Vega, Friona, Bovina and Lazbuddie.

No Candidates For City Commission

No candidates had filed for positions on the city council early this week, a check with Wilfred Quickel, city clerk, showed.

Deadline for filing for a position on the ballot is March 21, Quickel reminded prospective candidates. The city election will then be held Tuesday, April 5.

Candidates must present a petition bearing the names of 12 legal voters when filing, he adds. Johnnie Williams is present mayor of Farwell, assisted by W. D. Hardage and Ray Sudderth, councilmen.

Bake Sale Set For Saturday

Local citizens are reminded of the bake sale, scheduled by women of Town and Country Home Demonstration Club Saturday afternoon. Sponsors of the sale ask that women buy the pastries needed for the weekend from them, and aid the club in their financial project. The sale begins at 1 o'clock in the afternoon at Farwell Hardware, and cakes and pies will be the major items included.

Mrs. James A. Cox visited her son, James Cox, in Logan recently.

Parmer Young People Observe 4-H Week

Recreation School Saturday in Friona

This is National 4-H Club Week—an observance that affects millions of young men and women all over the nation, including Parmer County. There are about 350 boys and girls in the county now active in Club work, according to County Agricultural Agent Joe Jones and County HD Agent Corinne Stinson.

In recent years, interest in 4-H work has been on the increase, report the agents, especially so for the girls, since Miss Stinson is the first home demonstration agent Parmer County has had for a number of years.

There are 248 girls enrolled in the ten 4-H Clubs across the county, and 15 adult workers assist Miss Stinson. Cited as achievements during the past year were a rally day in July in which 80 girls participated; a dress revue in which 82 girls participated; and 32 girls exhibited cooking in the county 4-H better baking contest at the county fair.

Agent Jones, who oversees work for the 4-H boys, reports that enrollment in the four county clubs has been increasing within the past few years, pointing for an all-time high in 1955.

"The purpose of 4-H work is to make better farmers and better citizens of the boys taking part," says Agent Jones.

In order to participate in the yearly encampment, it is necessary for 4-H boys to organize and complete a project.

To coincide with National 4-H Club Week will be the county-wide recreation leadership training school to be held in the Friona American Legion Hall Saturday, starting at 9:30 a. m., and lasting until about 3:30 p. m.

Members who attended a similar school in December will return to the session Saturday, in addition

Help Plan Recreation School

These two Parmer County 4-H Club members, Wilma Norton and Jerry Henson, are helping plan the county-wide recreation leadership training school which will be held in Friona Saturday. They are typical of hundreds of boys and girls over the county who take an active part in boys' and girls' 4-H Club work.

to others who will be coming for their first time.

Jones and Miss Stinson revealed the schedule:

- a. Review principles of teaching games and planning parties.
- b. Learn some new games and songs.
- c. Discuss plans for community and county-wide recreation activities for using things learned.
- d. Discuss 4-H Club Sunday—make plans for observing.

e. Discuss the formation of 4-H boys and girls recreation committee.

f. Report on how you have used the things learned in the last recreation school.

g. Discuss other recreational activities that might be included in the 4-H program such as crafts, dramatics and music.

Those who are expected to attend will include:

BOVINA

Kay Hartzog, Arlene Clayton, Gladys Dean (Rhea), Margaret Sherrill, others to be selected;

FARWELL

James Carpenter, Dean Watkins, Cagle Davis, Ronnie Briggs, Dennis Nelson, Clyde Redwine, Durward Ivy;

Eva Dean Ivy, Beverly Jean Smith, Carolyn Hinkson, Susie Carpenter, Donna Redwine, others to be selected.

Floyd Lynch, state 4-H Club leader, points out that 4-H becomes a part of the lives of these young people while their minds are still elastic. It gives them guidance when they need it, teaches them some of the inspiring things in agriculture and farm home life and gives them a vision of its possibilities as a life work.

American's 2,058,144 4-H club members are a hard working group. They carry out practical demonstrations in the home and on the farm involving every phase of homemaking and agriculture. They are proud of their achievements and each spring during National 4-H Club Week give the citizens of the country an opportunity to see and hear them in action.

Their demonstrations and activities are conducted under the guidance of the Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the USDA and state land-grant colleges. Locally, the county agent and home demonstration agent are in charge of 4-H work. Volunteer adults and older members, trained by the local agents, serve as 4-H leaders. Friends of 4-H also play an impor-

Because 4-H club work is firmly grounded on worthy principles and is practical, it appeals to young people and gets the backing of adults, says Lynch. The theme for this year's week is "Improving Family and Community Living" and local observances will be based on this theme, says the state leader.

The public is invited by 4-H groups to attend local meetings, visit livestock shows or to just drop in on 4-H members for a visit to see them in action. The welcome sign is out, says Lynch.

As a part of the observance of National 4-H Club Week, Parmer County 4-H girls are striving to complete contributions this week to a "Share and Care" fund for the National 4-H Club Center located at Chevy Chase, Maryland near Washington, D. C.

Sometime ago the girls decided they would like to participate in the program. Each 4-H club member in the United States has been given an opportunity to contribute ten cents toward the purchasing of this center, which will be headquarters for the National 4-H Club Foundation and site of the annual National 4-H Club Camp.

It will also be headquarters for the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

RAISE PRIZE HEREFORD CALVES

The Langford Brothers, Leon and Delvin, have been active in raising prize Hereford calves for their 4-H Club work, during recent years. Here is Dude, being shown by Leon. The calf placed fourth and sixth in a recent show at Hereford, and he will be entered in the Plainview show soon. The Langfords have their own breeding stock. Three years ago, Leon won the national home beautification contest in 4-H work. The boys' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Langford.

An item of particular importance taken up by the two groups was the possibility of moving the annual barbecue from the Friona park to the fair grounds this year.

Chief Bainum Explains Function Of Respirator

The fire chief of the Friona Fire Department, Charlie Bainum, released the following information on the new respirator recently purchased by the department.

The apparatus is a combination of a resuscitator, inhalator and aspirator. The resuscitator gently inflates and deflates the patient's lungs with controlled positive and negative pressure; the inhalator is used after the resuscitator and supplies the patient with oxygen from the inhalator bag. In this manner the depth and rate of the breathing is visible at all times and it leaves no doubt as to whether the patient is responding to the inhalation treatment. The aspirator removes the fluid obstructions from the patient's throat which might hinder the breathing process.

The first class for six members of the Fire Department was held on Wednesday (last night). When the second class will be held was not known at this writing.

Chief Bainum added that anyone in need of this equipment is urged to call the fire department at any time.

He also announced that the two-way radio equipment had arrived and was installed Tuesday. This radio is on the same frequency as those of the state police, the sheriff, and the deputy sheriff in Friona.

Green Acres HD Elects Delegate To Workshop

The Green Acres Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, March 2, at the home of Mrs. Ernest Anthony.

The members continued to work on their copper pictures. Mrs. Charles Howell was elected delegate to attend the county workshop. A hostess party will be held Thursday morning at 9:30 at the home of Mrs. Meryle Massie to raise club funds.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Charles Howell, Gordon Hough, L. C. Johnson, Floyd Brookfield, Meryle Massie, Wesley Hardesty, Clyde Sherrieb, Jean K. Anthony and the hostess, Mrs. Ernest Anthony. One visitor, Mrs. A. W. Anthony Jr., was present.

Next meeting will be March 16, at the home of Mrs. Jean K. Anthony.

Fire Department Spends $438 On Respirator

The regular meeting of the Friona Fire Department was held at the fire station Thursday, at which time a company from Amarillo demonstrated a respirator and a fireman turned in his resignation.

A company representative of E & J Manufacturing Company, Burbank, Calif., with offices in Amarillo, was present to demonstrate a respirator to the local firemen. The department ordered one for $438.80 and it is to be carried in the small fire truck.

The respirator was quite well demonstrated as the members used it on each other, when the official demonstration was over.

Classes will be held to teach the men the "do's and don'ts" and will be taught by a company man from Amarillo. There will be two classes with six men in each. After these twelve men have learned their part, they, in turn, will teach the rest of the department.

Fred White offered his resignation as assistant chief. He plans to stay with the department, but he no longer has enough time to devote to the assistant chief's duties. "I don't believe there is a man on the force who doesn't regret losing White at this position," says James Cunningham, publicity chairman.

It was announced at Thursday's meeting that lessons in First Aid will be given in the near future and a new chemical will be demonstrated to the men as soon as arrangements can be made so this can be accomplished.

Next meeting of the Friona Fire Department will be March 17.

Wayne Bainum To Go Into Active Service

Truck Lines Given Okay By Railroad

A meeting was held in Lubbock, March 3, with the Railroad Commission and five men from Friona attended. The commission approved a truck line to Friona at this time. As soon as the railroad gives Lang Transit Company the word, Friona and surrounding towns will have a truck line from Lubbock. This was expected to be done within three or four days, so when you read this, it will undoubtedly be in operation.

The five men who met with the Railroad Commission were J. G. "Red" McFarland, "Pudge" Kendrick, Ray White, Weldon Dickson and D. C. Herring.

These men carried with them letters from local townspeople which contained freight bills and showed that it took from three to five days to get delivery out of the south, which demonstrated that the service from Lubbock was inadequate.

in & around FRIONA with the gang

We have noticed that the city workers have been quite busy of late. For those who haven't noticed, and we are quite sure that very few fall in this category, the street sweeper has cleaned the city of the rubbish and trash that has been collecting along the main street of our town for quite some time. Perhaps everyone should write a thank-you note to the city manager and include these words, "Keep up the good work."

The plate glass window bug has caught on in our fair city. It started at Welch-Blackburn Hardware and has kept going since. We guess everyone has noticed, by now, the difference it made at the City Drug Store. Next time we are downtown, we want to be sure and check on Foster's Dry Good store, as they, too, are getting a new face. If Friona keeps this up, we will have an even nicer looking town than we do already. It doesn't seem possible that a little glass could make such a big difference.

Had an interview recently with the Kenneth O'Brian family and found out that Dwight O'Brian, who is in the fourth grade at Friona, loves animals. We didn't know how much until he told us, that, at one time, he had 14 cats. His sister said that instead of cattle, her brother had 14 head of "cats." As you probably know, last Friday was "Western Day" at the high school. Some of the costumes we saw were really typical western styles. One of the students was carrying "six-guns" and when asked if he was Roy Rogers, he very quickly replied, "No, I'm Gene Autry." To prove that he was, he showed us one of the guns, on which was printed the name, Gene Autry. We surely hope he remembered to return them. We wouldn't want to see Gene get in a jam, reach for his guns, and find they were gone.

Noah Young and son, Troy, were in Spade Saturday on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ethridge, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bavousett, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Foster, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stewart went to Clovis Saturday night to attend a concert association show.

"And it doesn't cost much to maintain this motor because it's made of cast-iron and built to last a generation or more. Vital parts won't rust outside or inside the motor because it is so well protected from dust, dirt, and water. It has an improved bearing lubrication system, too,
