

By HOP JR.

Some people are claiming they now have cause to believe that a recent front-page plug on the good wife being about to retire was just a publicity stunt, and that no such thing is about to take place.

In fact, they say, she is now spending more time at The Tribune's office than ever before.

Well, that might be true. But we can't be blamed for this shoddy situation, because we certainly did our part. We hired a capable replacement, made arrangements for the shift, and gave the wife a big send-off in print.

If she wants to keep hanging around like a lost pup, we don't know what can be done about it.

Since the subject has come up repeatedly, we may as well make our private opinion a public one: Our new society editor is good looking, and the wife has her protective instincts about leaving her husband unchaperoned for any length of time.

Aside from helping the appearance of the front office, our new employee has been drawing some pretty heavy work schedules, and she now is beginning to have a faint reckoning of what we meant when we suggested, (while discussing with her the position), that everyone at The Tribune works pretty hard.

We suspect this from June's open accusation that we made the misrepresentation of saying that The Tribune is normally a 12-page paper, and that she would be expected to carry a workload of about that size.

It is a rare thing when we have 16 pages, we told her. Since her arrival four weeks ago, we have each week published a 16-page paper, and there is no end in sight.

We cannot recollect the time when a story ever generated more interest than did the one on J. W. Crim, our "Indian weatherman" out at Lazbuddie, this past week. There really is not much point in printing the story in today's paper, because so many people could not wait until the paper came out to find out what was in store for 1955.

The Tribune's telephone rang incessantly Tuesday with inquiries on what the report was. Two calls were received before 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. There was even one long-distance call. Everywhere we went this week we were asked about Mr. Crim's forecast.

Now there is one fellow a lot of people had on their minds the first of this week.

Although it was not mentioned in the story on corn last week, it is true that there are no acreage restrictions on corn planting in "non-commercial" areas such as is ours.

It is surprising to note that many persons appear not to have realized that this is the situation. Planting corn in any quantity will in no way affect any allotment of High Plains farmers.

Yesterday's mail contained an interesting letter from O. W. Rhinehart, one of our Bovina friends. "Riney" does some pretty far-sighted thinking once in a while, and is permitting us to publish his remarks:

Dear Hop Jr.:
As I remember, several years ago on many occasions while visiting with the late Hop Graham Sr., our conversation would usually get around to irrigation and irrigation water sources.

We were always in agreement that something should be done to replenish our irrigation water, to insure a continued plentiful supply. Hop wrote and published many articles endeavoring to create enough public interest to at least make some experiments in restoring underground water.

Some of his ideas were to build small dams on the several draws which run across Parmer County and then drill something like an irrigation well in each small lake created by the dam which would let the water down to the first sand. There would then be about one hundred feet of sand which would filter the water before it reached the water table.

His best idea, in my opinion, was that the farmers of Parmer County would be far better off if the irrigation water could be replenished rather than have some sort of control for conserving it which in all probability would be so restrictive as to be very undesirable.

If it is possible to create enough interest to make one experiment along this line and if it should prove to be a success, we could then build several dams and let all the run-off water down into the ground, thereby insuring plenty of irrigation water for all time to come.

Just wonder if enough interest can be generated to make one experiment. Speaking for me, I am ready.

Very Truly Yours,
O. W. Rhinehart

Riney is reviving a good idea. Some very interesting writings on the same subject have appeared (Continued on last page)

Same Old Sad Story

The Crim family of Lazbuddie is shown here looking at the year's saddest story. A brisk wind was blowing smoke from J. W. Crim's "Indian sign" fire due northeast, foretelling another dry year. Crim, who is second from the left on the back row, is holding two grandsons, Robert, son of the Fred Curtises, and Doyle, son of the Buck Crims, on his knees. Behind him to the left is Buck, and to the right is Weldon Crim. Others, from left to right, are Gary Pumroy, Fred Curtis, Winn Hinley, and Max Crim.

Crim Sees No Relief From Dry Weather

Start up that irrigation well, Mr. Farmer. Indian Crim says it'll be another dry one.

That is the doleful prediction of J. W. Crim of the Lazbuddie community, who has gained no little repute in the past several years with his amazingly accurate long-range predictions on the weather.

This year, says Crim, who is probably the most accurate prophet on the Plains, will stretch the dry years to five in a row. That will tie the old mark of 1932-36, when five continuous dusters plagued all of the Southwest.

"I sure do hate to have to say it," says Crim, "but the outlook for crops this year is mighty bad." Being a farmer himself, he doesn't take much pleasure in predicting droughts, but when the "signs" say they're coming, he obediently passes on the word.

Crim is continuing a custom of long standing when each March 22 he arises early, gathers his family together, builds a fire near his country home, and awaits the appearance of sunrise.

At the moment that the solar sphere peeks over the horizon, he gazes at the curling smoke from the early morning fire, and announces to all what the prospects are for a crop.

This ritual, according to him, first originated with Texas Indians, and was picked up by the early settlers. Crim's grandfather started the practice in that family, and today there are still other families on the South Plains who annually observe the custom.

The Lazbuddie residents, however, are among the most faithful practitioners of the ancient art, and are believed to be the only ones in this immediate area.

Depending upon which way the smoke is being blown at the time the ceremony takes place, farmers of the area can expect growing conditions to be anything from miserable to those for bumper crops.

The best possible wind, says Crim, is coming straight out of the northeast. The worst possible, he adds, is the opposite—the southwest. Tuesday morning, the wind was blowing straight out of the

Mills & Fleming Purchase Shannon Compress at Sudan

The purchase of the Shannon Cotton Compress of Sudan from the U. S. government, which has been operating the business under bankruptcy for some time, was announced this week by H. A. Mills and G. W. Fleming.

The two men, owners of Mills & Fleming gin at the Hub, in addition to holdings at Burk Burnett, Texas, completed the transaction last week through a bid.

Fleming indicated that they will take over active management of the compress "in the near future," although he is not certain of the date at which the changeover will be made effective.

The two men intend to be active in the management of the compress themselves, although it is likely that a superintendent will be hired to oversee the operation.

Fleming, who said the compress warehouses are now filled to capacity, indicated that the firm could handle up to 7500 bales of cotton in each of its five warehouses.

The compressing capacity of the present press is 90 bales per hour, Fleming said, and improvements will be made to increase this load to a maximum of 110 bales per hour.

"It will be the equal of any press in operation in Lubbock," Fleming predicted.

The press will be able to deliver standard or high-density cotton bales, depending upon the need for shipment. Cotton bales as are seen coming from gins across the country are channeled to compresses where the bales are squeezed to about one-third the size of the gin-pressed bales.

This process is used as a space-saving measure, and does not damage the spinning quality of the fiber.

High-density pressings are called for in the case of exported cotton because of the space premium on freighters. "High-density cotton is about like a pine board," said Fleming.

About 60 people will be employed by the compress when it is in full operation.

No name has been decided upon for the business, although this matter is expected to be worked out by next week.

DELINTING PLANT READY

The Hub Delinting Plant will be ready for operation Monday, March 28, according to Leo Ruzicka, manager. It will provide area cotton farmers with the only delinting service in Parmer Co.

Local, County School Trustee Ballot Ready

Twenty-four men are running for vacancies as school trustees of Farwell, Bovina, Friona, and Lazbuddie school districts, and their names will be voted upon Saturday, April 2.

In addition, one the same day, but in a separate election, will be named three county-wide trustees, and five candidates have filed for these offices.

Three members will be elected for the Farwell school district, and those who are nominees include Partin Austin, Buck Gregory, A. W. Gober, L. L. Norton and J. T. Ford.

At Bovina, candidates include Amos Steelman, Arnold Hromas, Robert Calaway and Elmo Dean. Two are to be elected.

Petitions bearing the names of seven candidates have been submitted to the board for the Friona School, according to Paul Fortenberry, secretary. They include the names of Cordie Potts, Roy Clements, George Jones, Hadley Reeve, Russell O'Brian, Arthur Drake, Eugene Boggess and Jack Patterson.

Three men will be named from a ballot of seven at Lazbuddie. On the ballot are Frank Hinkson, Virgil Teague, Archie Tarter, John Gammon, DeWitt Precure, Howard Carpenter and Joe Bates Jennings.

For county school trustees, Precinct No. 1 (Friona) are J. L. Shaffer and Nelson Welch. One is to be elected.

In Precinct No. 2 (Bovina), Joe Wilson is unopposed for the single vacancy.

Precinct No. 3 (Farwell) has H. Y. Overstreet and Clyde Magness up for one opening.

No vacancies occur this year in the Lazbuddie precinct (No. 4), and the county trustee-at-large carries over, also, according to Ex-Officio School Superintendent A. D. Smith.

Phone Rates Upped For Texico-Farwell

Telephone users in Texico and Farwell will begin paying higher rates when they get their bills next month. Negotiations were completed between Farwell and the Mountain States Telephone Company this week, and Texico subscribers will be taken along with the increase agreed upon for the Texas side of the Twin Cities.

R. R. Hatch, district manager of Mountain States, and Elmo Shelton, Clovis manager, met with the Farwell city commission twice this week, with both groups agreeing on several proposals.

For the telephone company, its request for increases was accepted, and they are as follows:

One-party business, $10.25 to $12.25; two-party business, $7 to $8.40; rural business, $6 to $6.80; one-party residence, $4.25 to $5.05; two-party residence, $3.50 to $4.10; four-party residence, $2.80 to $3.35; and rural residence, $3.05 to $3.60.

These rates are flat, and do not include 10 percent federal tax or any toll charges.

Mountain States agreed to divide its telephone directory issued for "Clovis and vicinity," thereby restoring identity to the communities. Aside from a matter of civic pride, Farwell residents argued that it was troublesome to have to thumb through 2000 Clovis subscribers to find the numbers of 400 Texico-Farwell persons.

In addition, the Company agreed to work toward an arrangement for tying in Texico-Farwell residents with Pleasant Hill and South Clovis subscribers. Clovis persons can now call these two rural exchanges without toll, but local persons can-

Funeral Services Held For Vernon Hunter

Funeral services were held in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Roswell, Tuesday morning for Russell Vernon Hunter, 55, who died Sunday morning in St. Mary's Hospital after a five month's illness. The Rev. Charles R. Davies officiated. Burial was in Clovis Cemetery.

Hunter, a distinguished artist, was director of the Roswell Museum where he had been employed for five years. Prior to moving to Roswell, Hunter was the administrative director of the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.

Born March 26, 1900 in Hallsville, Ill., Hunter moved with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hunter, to Texico in 1906. He was educated in the local public school and later at New Mexico Normal University, James Millikan University of Decatur, Ill., Denver Art Academy, the Chicago Art Institute, New Mexico State Teacher's College and academies in Los Angeles, Calif.

Spring Sprang Forth With Cold Weather

Spring was officially ushered into the Texico-Farwell, Parmer County area Monday by a cold norther that hurled the temperature to a low of 16 degrees, and brought light snowfall in the early morning hours.

The snow, presumed to be one of winter's last flings, melted in the afternoon, and the wind calmed from the north as the mercury began a slow recovery.

Reports were in circulation this week that many irrigation farmers were caught unexpectedly in the unusual weather, and suffered the misfortune of having their irrigation well engines damaged by freezing weather.

Failure to drain water from the blocks cost several farmers big repair bills, it was reported.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Aren't Enough Preparedness Aren's Enough Preparedness

In this age of world tension, much is being said about preparation for possible attack from an enemy nation. Over three-fourths of our national expenditures are going toward armament and the maintenance of the military. Great technical strides have been made in developing means of destruction, and it now is evident that man has come to the point where he can now liquidate himself if he so chooses.

No doubt it is necessary that we have huge machines of war. No doubt it is wise that we "keep our powder dry" in times such as these, because we have come to discover that all nations are not to be trusted.

In recent years, however, we as a nation have gone so overwhelmingly overboard on a theme for national defense that this writer fears we are overlooking the very thing upon which our country was founded and has grown and prospered: a Christian faith.

Think back for a few moments to the days when North America was a vast and undeveloped continent, full of great possibilities, but also full of great dangers.

Remember, if you will, those people in the seventeenth century who first implanted Western Civilization on our Atlantic shores. What kind of people were they?

History will show that there were all kinds of people in America in those days, just as there are all kinds of people today. There were adventurers, speculators, exiles, and persons who had come to the New World for freedom from religious persecution.

The backbone of the colonies were the latter mentioned group. In fact, the theme which United States was founded in later years was on freedom of religious ideals.

Today, America—"the melting pot of nations"—still is filled with people of many diverse interests in life. But we think that the foundation of this country still rests upon the people who believe in and desire to serve God.

Jet-powered aircraft, ocean dreadnaughts, radar screens, and the A and H bombs will never save America if she rots from within.

We are fearful that the people of our nation are placing too much confidence in military armor and not giving proper attention to spiritual preparedness.

Al Garten Speaks To Farwell Seniors

Al Garten, athletic director at Eastern New Mexico University, spoke to the Farwell seniors Tuesday, March 15.

The subject of Garten's talk was on the decision all graduating seniors must make concerning their futures. He discussed the importance of attending college for students planning to go in to various occupations after they graduate.

He gave the advantages offered by different colleges, according to what subjects the students planned to study.

Garten emphasized the fact that a college education is a great step in preparing oneself for the future and that all seniors should start making plans for that future now.

Incomplete Report Given on Red Cross

It was announced last Friday, that all tabulations are not in, on the Red Cross drive, but unofficial donations can be given. All communities thus far, have gone over the top.

The workers, the quota and the amount collected, are as follows, Farwell, Mrs. J. H. McDonald, Mrs. W. N. Foster, Mrs. Clay Henson, Mrs. Susie Jesko and Mrs. M. A. Snider with a quota of $250, collected $284.72; in Friona, the workers were Charles Allen, Mesdames Newman Jarrell Jr., John Lamb and Dan Ethridge and the quota was $500. These workers collected $508.71.

The chairman in the Hub community was Mrs. Rene Snead and the quota was $50. She and her helpers collected $71.35. Mrs. Carrie Tatum was the chairman in Black and she collected $150.40 with the quota being $100; Lakeview collected $150, but their quota was $100, so they too, went over the top in the drive.

The communities which are not completed as yet, are Bovina, Lariat, Lazbuddie, Oklahoma Lane and Rhea.

The total collected thus far in the Red Cross Drive is $1120.18.

Frank Hapke Returns To San Diego

A family reunion was held last Sunday in the A. E. Hapke home in Texico. It was in honor of Frank Hapke, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy in San Diego. He has been home since February 15, for a 30 day leave. He returned to San Diego Wednesday night.

Those attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gross, Mrs. John Gross, Mr. and Mrs. George Gross and children and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis and children, all of Muleshoe, Mrs. Walter Hapke and Carl of Clovis, and Miss Doris Sanderson of Farwell.

Farwell Tracksters Take Fourth Place In Hereford Meet

Farwell senior track team took fourth place with 20½ points in the Hereford Invitational Track Meet held in Hereford, Friday, March 18.

Canyon won first place with 39 points; Hereford won second with 33½ points and Muleshoe took third place honors with 21 points.

Other track teams participating in the meet were Tulia, Olton, Vega and Friona.

Robbie Foster won the 220-yard dash for Farwell with a time of 22.4.

In the 100-yard dash, Truitt Hardage took second place with fourth place going to Don Pool also of Farwell.

The 440-yard relay team composed of Truitt Hardage, Doyle Ford, Don Pool and Robbie Foster won second place.

James Norton placed fourth in the 880-yard run.

In the mile run, Gerald Hardage came in third.

In the shot put, Wallace Roberson placed second. He placed fourth in the discus throw.

Billy Watts tied for second in the pole vault.

The track team will enter the Panhandle Relays to be held in Panhandle on April 2.

Farwell Nine Bypasses Morton

Farwell High School baseball team fell to the Hereford nine, 14-5 Tuesday afternoon, March 15.

Glenn Lee and Donnie Carpenter pitched for Farwell with Boyd, Merritt and Joel doing the honors for Hereford.

Farwell scored five runs on five hits with Eddie Smith leading the hitters with two for four times at bat. Boyd of Hereford led their batters with two for three.

Friday afternoon, March 18, Farwell paced by Morton 9-4 scoring nine runs on nine hits. Winning pitcher for the home team was Glenn Lee, who was relieved by Donnie Carpenter after the fourth inning. Losing pitcher was Kennedy.

Morton scored four runs on nine hits crossing the plate with two in the second inning, one in the fifth and one in the sixth. Leading hitter for Morton was Gathright with three for four.

Farwell scored three in the first, three in the third and three in the sixth with James Roberts getting three for four. Jerry Poteet and Bert Williams each got two for four.

Farwell will meet Clovis for the next game on Friday, March 25.

Soil Fertility Day Was "A Good One"

County Agent Joe Jones this week reported that the annual soil fertility day held last Thursday at Bovina was "a good one" even though attendance was off.

He added that it was his opinion that more farmers would have attended except for the exceptionally pretty weather, which caused many of them to see after work around their farms.

Robert Parker of the Texas-Sesame Seed Growers Association, who was on the program, received quite a bit of interest from the farmers present, and announced plans to return to Parmer County next month for additional discussion of the oil seed crop.

Jarrel McDaniel Is Honor Student At TU

Names of students who made the highest two per cent in grades in the Arts and Sciences division for the first semester at the University of Texas in Austin, have been announced.

CAST YOUR BREAD

"He shall be blessed that giveth his bread to the poor," Prov. 22:9. Have you ever tried this formula? It works! Compassion of American service men for little war orphans is bread that will come back to America some day. A mischievous college boy was given another chance. Years later, the wealthiest man in his state, he paid off his Alma Mater debt. Giving is not losing. To give is to gain. Generosity expands the soul, gives one more capacity to receive. Jesus said, "Give and it shall be given to you; good measure, pressed down and running over." Every moment is the right time to cast on the waters the needed piece of bread. Why not cast yours this very day.

PORTALES—Science students at Eastern New Mexico University had a conducted tour through the White Sands Proving grounds near Alamogorda this week.
Making the trip was Jerry Pool of Farwell.

Social Events of Interest

Woman's Club Hears Talk On Flower Gardens

Texico-Farwell Woman's Club met Monday night, March 21, in the home of Mrs. Ethel Thomas with Dr. Mary McNeff and Mrs. B. N. Graham as co-hostesses.

Speaker of the evening was Mrs. M. C. Roberts who gave a talk on "Flower Gardens." Mrs. Roberts made suggestions for making flower beds and for flowers and plants that would be suitable for this climate and soil.

Mrs. W. W. Vinyard, president of the club, presided at the business meeting at which time members discussed plans for beautifying the city park.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. W. H. Graham Sr., Mrs. M. C. Roberts and Mrs. Sam Rundell, was appointed at the meeting.

Members voted to sell books on "Garden Hints" as a money making project for the club. The books to be sold were given to members at the meeting.

After the business meeting, the hostesses served refreshments of a salad plate and spiced tea to Mesdames Hattie Coffey, John Aldridge, E. G. Williams, W. W. Williams, Sam Rundell, M. A. Snider, Maude Brown, Joe Crume, Dewey Bagley, M. C. Roberts, W. W. Vinyard, W. H. Graham Sr., B. N. Graham, G. A. Garrett, J. D. Thomas, and Dr. McNeff.

Mrs. Anne Overstreet was a guest at the meeting.

WMU Has Bovina Ladies As Guests

Farwell WMU met in the home of Mrs. Johnnie Williams for an all day meeting and covered dish luncheon with members of the Bovina WMU as guests for the day.

Study for the day was a mission book entitled "Under the North Star" by Rev. Harold E. Dye, a former pastor in Clovis. Also on the program was a book about missionary work in Alaska.

Mrs. Don Williams, Farwell, a former resident of Alaska, discussed some of her experiences while living there.

Those on the program included Mrs. W. N. Turner and Mrs. Jack McManigal of Farwell, and Bovina members, Mrs. Ovid Lawlis, Mrs. T. A. Adams and Mrs. Johnny Horn.

Other ladies from Bovina in attendance were Mesdames Ethel Williams, Boye Taylor and H. D. Bradshaw. Other Farwell ladies present were Mesdames E. G. Williams, Joe Reed, Bill Moss, Edd Hardage, Joe McWilliams, S. O. Billington, E. J. Keith, Clyde Magness, Don Williams and the hostess, Mrs. Johnnie Williams.

Students Get Ready For Literary Events

Students at Farwell Schools who participate in the Interscholastic League literary events at Vega next weekend, April 1, have only a short time remaining to make preparations for the contests.

The competition is set for Friday morning with volleyball games scheduled in the afternoon.

High School Entries

To represent Farwell in high school divisions are: debate or declamation, no entry; extemporaneous speech, Dean Smith in boy's division and Elaine Magness in girl's division; shorthand, Barbara Garner and Joyce Maxwell; Typing, Donnie Carpenter and Douglas Hillock; number sense, David Willard and Allen Price; spelling, David Willard and Donnie Carpenter with Barbara Garner and Gloria Dial as alternates; and ready writers, Gloria Dial and Jerry Poteet.

Junior High Entries
Junior high entries are: declamation (girls), Ruby Hillock, Ree Stroup and D'Ann Garrett (one will be chosen); declamation (boys) Mike Booth with Steve Smart as alternate; sub-junior declamation, Kaye Kube, Barry McCuan; sub-junior story telling, Steven Milford and Stevie Foster as alternate; ready writers (team), Dickie Williams and Jimmie Hardage and Donald Crume as alternate; Fifth and sixth grade spelling, Jerry McCuan and J. F. Mount, with Carol Huggins and Tommy Wurster as alternates; seventh and eighth grade spelling, Juanita Range and Jimmy Martin with June Richey and Freddy Magness as alternates; and number sense, Dickie Williams, Freddy Magness and Jimmy Martin.

WSCS Meets In Graham Home

Texico-Farwell WSCS met in the home of Mrs. W. H. Graham Sr., for a regular meeting Wednesday afternoon, March 23, with 15 ladies present.

Mrs. Miller H. Stroup was in charge of the program which dealt with the Methodist work among young women in cities.

Eight members of the WSCS presented a skit which portrayed the duties of the local officers of the WSCS. Those participating in the skit included Mesdames W. H. Graham Sr., B. N. Graham, Roy Thornton, Grace Sanders, Albert Thomas, J. A. Cox, Anne Overstreet, and Miller H. Stroup.

After the program, the hostess served punch and cake to the group.

Past Matrons Noted At OES Meeting

Three past matrons were honored at the chapter meeting of OES in Bovina, Thursday night, March 17.

After the regular chapter business meeting, Worthy Matron Alice Moore presented the three honored past matrons, Lorena Brock, Lura Rundell and Verda Hobdy, with pen and pencil sets.

In the dining room, which was decorated in St. Patrick's Day motif, the guests were served refreshments from a table centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and green carnations placed in front of a styrofoam star made in the colors of the OES. The centerpiece was presented to Mrs. Lorena Brock for her faithful work in the OES for so many years.

During the social part of the meeting, Mrs. W. H. Graham Sr., sang "My Friend."

Celia and Lynn Trimble of Bovina spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Foster of Farwell.

Farwell Senior Play Mystifies Audience

Peals of genuine laughter and screams of actual fright kept the audience straining to catch each line of the dialogue of the Farwell senior play, "Spooks and Spasms," which was presented in the Farwell Auditorium, Friday night, March 18, under the direction of Mrs. Cleo Milford.

The problems facing a young girl who was trying to rid members of her family from their strange beliefs and habits, (which ranged from gangster comic book reading to belief in automatic writing) formed the plot of the mystery-comedy.

Carol Calloway, the only sensible member of her entire family, had just inherited a supposedly haunted farmhouse. Resentment from other family members arises when Carol insists that they make their home in the old farmhouse.

Unknown to her aunt, her sister and her kid brother, Carol had made arrangements with the housekeeper and other friends, to scare the "living daylights" out of Carol's family.

Two fake murders and the repeated appearances of an escaped maniac, a masked ghost and a half witted grave digger who was subject to having fits, kept the audience in complete bewilderment throughout the entire play.

With the aid of her boy friend and also her sister's boy friends, Carol succeeded in breaking the bad habits of her family members. Her kid brother no longer wanted to read gangster comics; her sister decided not to become a nurse in an insane asylum and her aunt had given up automatic writing forever.

Gloria Dial was convincing in her role as the elderly housekeeper, Minerva Hawkwood. Minerva's half-witted nephew, Benjy, was aptly portrayed by Gene Hardage. Other characters included Carol Calloway, played by Carolyn Huffaker; her aunt, Miss Eunice Tut-hill played by Mona McDorman; Allie Katz, Miss Calloway's maid, played by Barbara Garner; the kid brother, Sidney, played by James Roberts; Ione Calloway, sister of Carol played by Bobbie Metcalf; Dicky Bird, who was Ione's fiance, played by Dick Felts; Clemuel McClatchin, an undertaker from Progress, played by Ed Rolland; Reg Rosner, a young plastic surgeon, played by Robbie Foster; and Gerda Ravenstein, an escaped maniac, played by Ysleta Kittrell.

Announcer for the program was Wendell Pike. Make-Up was created by Mrs. Loucille Foster. Entertainment between acts was by Lavon Jones, David Willard and members of the seventh grade class. The seniors took in $161 at the play.

Town and Country HD Club Meets

Town and Country HD Club met in the home of Mrs. Ernest Kube Tuesday afternoon, March 22, with seven members and two guests present.

Roll call was answered with "my favorite magazine or book." After the regular business meeting, Mrs. E. G. Williams gave a review of the book, "The Power of Positive Thinking" by Norman Vincent Peale.

Refreshments of punch, coffee and cookies were served to Mesdames W. T. Magness, Joe White, Mutt Magness, Kate Phillips, L. T. Utsman and J. T. Hulsey.

Auxiliary To Meet In Watkins Home

The Legion Auxiliary will meet Friday night at 8 in the home of Mrs. Sylvia Watkins. The Auxiliary did not meet Monday night because of illness in the community.

Members will elect a delegate and an alternate to attend the 18th District Legion Convention to be held in Hereford April 1 and 2. Among other business matters to be discussed at the meeting is Girl's State.

Go To Spur

Mr. and Mrs. George Hill and George Howard and Douglas, returned late Saturday from Spur, where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Swenson. The boys had been visiting their grandparents for a week and the Hills went to get them on Friday.

Esther SS Class Plans Visitation

Mrs. Calvin Blain was hostess to the Esther class of the First Baptist Church of Farwell Monday evening.

Members met for a regular meeting and discussed plans for a visitation program in connection with the revival.

Several members received special gifts. Those enjoying refreshments of cherry nut cake, coffee and cold drinks were Mesdames Kenneth Fields, Raymond Martin, Jack Spurlin, Fred Curtis, Charlie Hromas, Calvin Murray;

Weldon Rundell, Joe McWilliams, Joe Reed Cecil Rundell, Retha Barns and the hostess, Calvin Blain.

Guests Listed In Harding Home

Guests in the N. R. Harding home Sunday were their sons and families: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harding, Derry Don and Herbie K., of Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Harding, Paula, Bob and Ann of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lubbock and family of Farwell.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Frank Great-house and Jack and Betty Great-house of Floyd, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Mack McQuarters of Portales; and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rolland and family of Farwell.

Mrs. Hart Has Informal Coffee

Mrs. Bob Hart entertained with an informal coffee at her home. Guests spent the afternoon playing bridge.

Attending were Mesdames Glenn Phillips and children; Mitz Walling and Milton Lee, Marilyn Edwards and Terri, Harry Sheets, Don Williams, Junior Snider, Pike Jordan and the hostess.

Play Bridge

Twelve members were present for an afternoon session of bridge at the home of Mrs. Don Williams Thursday afternoon. Next meeting is planned today (Thursday) in the home of Mrs. Jack Williams.

PHILADELPHIA CHEESE SALAD

- 1 pkg. jello
 - 2 cups pineapple juice
 - 2 pkg. cream cheese
 - 1 cup crushed pineapple
 - 1 cup nuts
 - 1 cup whipped cream with table-spoon of sugar
- Mix jello and pineapple juice and let set in icebox until it begins to jell. Mix cheese, pineapple and nuts. Whip cream well and add sugar. Whip jello, add other ingredients. Chill and serve.
- Thank you Mrs. Matthews!

CORRECTION: We hope all of you ladies were a little slow on trying our recipe last week. Marjorie Watkins called us first thing after the paper was out and we only forgot one thing, the eggs. If you decide to make the deep freeze cake, remember to add four eggs to the shortening, pineapple and milk.

We are terribly sorry about this error, and have wished we had a daily, so we could correct it sooner.

Our new society editor, June, who didn't have to buy such unnecessary items as heavy coats in her hometown of Walnut Springs, stated that Monday morning was the only one so far, in which she had wished she had awakened in her home town, instead of the great Panhandle—and she has only been here three weeks. It was rather chilly after a balmy Sunday.

She hasn't said too much for the duststorms. But we feel that if she can endure March and remain with us, she can take anything.

Spring is here once again, despite what the thermometer seemed to tell us Monday.

If we look around we can see evidences of it everywhere, even with the dust and the wind. We noticed Mrs. Pat Patrick out watering her flowers Wednesday, sprinklers are going on most of the lawns part of the time—and the prettiest yellow jonquils were poking through the dirt in front of the Ray Sudderth and E. E. Booth homes. Those are only a few.

We've seen the robins flying merrily around Mrs. Graham's yard, and even saw a housefly Wednesday, the part of spring that we always dread.

Too, we have that urge to get the house all clean and shining, and with most of us, that too, is an indication of spring.

IN ARMY TEST

FORT HOOD, TEX.—Cpl. Loyd
D. Estep, 23, whose wife, Janelle, lives in Amherst, Tex., recently participated in a special Army test exercise at Fort Hood, Tex.

Purpose of the exercise was to test combat command experimental formations organized by the 1st Armored Division to adapt to the latest concepts of atomic-age ground warfare.

Corporal Estep, a wire chief in Headquarters and Service Company of the 13th Tank Battalion, entered the Army in April 1953. A former student at Littlefield High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Estep, of Muleshoe.

Charles Verner Has Training

SALZBURG, AUSTRIA—Pfc Charles E. Verner, son of Walter

Verner, Route 1, Farwell, recently participated in Exercise Roundup, an Army training maneuver in Austria.

Held under simulated combat conditions, the week-long exercise included attacks by a "Aggressor Force" of British soldiers. In anticipation of the attacks, U. S. troops evacuated the area in a test of mobility.

Private First Class Verner, a radar operator in Headquarters Battery of the 510th Field Artillery Battalion, arrived overseas in September 1954.

A 1952 graduate of Bovina High School, Verner attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock, before entering the Army in April 1954. He completed basic training at Fort Bliss, Tex.

Getz Attends Clinic For Great Southern

John Getz of the Great Southern Life Insurance Company's Panhandle Agency attended a clinic for accident, sickness and hospitalization in Lubbock last week.

The clinic was under the direction of Executive Vice-President Lewis Rietz, assisted by Assistant Vice-President and Director of Training Sam Hay and Assistant Agency Manager W. H. Crook, all of the Great Southern's home office in Houston.

There were agents from three states in attendance, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas. All of the New Mexico agents and those from the Oklahoma Panhandle, South Plains, El Paso, and West Texas Agencies, for a total of 45 agents, and managers attended.

Four Counties Now Neck-and-Neck In Irrigation Race

Four counties of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District are running far ahead of nine others in irrigation development currently, judging from permits filed with the District office in Lubbock.

Parmer County, which often has been the leader in recent months, was leader through December with 98 on file, but dropped to fourth place during January, as Hockley, Lamb, and Lubbock pulled out front.

The race is still very close, however. The two-month totals: Lubbock, 214; Lamb, 202; Hockley, 200; Parmer, 195.

Neighbors of Parmer County also in the district were left far behind. Bailey had 105, Castro 143, and Deaf Smith 81.

These figures seem more impressive when it is remembered that Parmer County is installing new irrigation wells at the rate of about 25 per week at the present time.

FOR SALE

320 Acre farm about two miles from Bovina, on pavement, good modern improvements, and one of the best irrigation wells and equipment in the county. All the land in cultivation. 20 acre cotton base and 80 acre wheat base. Price only $250 per acre, and due to health conditions possession can be arranged for immediately.

TEXICO BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. C. C. Morgan, Pastor

Attendance at the revival which is now in progress at the Texico Baptist Church has been very good, according to reports from the pastor, Rev. C. C. Morgan.

Rev. N. C. Nance, pastor of the Elmwood Baptist Church in Dallas, is the speaker at the revival which began Friday, March 18. The revival will close Sunday, March 27.

The WMU did not have a regular meeting this week. Members met at the church to organize for visitation in connection with the revival. The goal has been set for 250 to be present in Sunday School with 115 in training union on March 27.

Last week 165 were in attendance in Sunday School with 81 in training union.

THERE ARE SIGNS TO WATCH FOR GOOD SALES, TOO

Folks, I've been watching all the "old-time signs," and it looks like we finally are going to get some better weather. I base my predictions on the behavior of turtles, rabbits, rheumatiz, and what-not.

Our predictions about this being a good sale year have sure turned out to be accurate, so maybe we'll have the same luck with the weather. We've watched the signs for good sales. Now we're watchin' 'em for the weather!

for wildlife. We for one don't see how we could possibly lose by building dams of any type on our draws. If they will hold water and make permanent lakes, than we can certainly use them for recreation. If, on the other hand, the draw bottoms leak like sieves and we have nothing but a big mud puddle after each rain, so much the better, because our runoff water has then been turned into dollars and cents in our great Ogallala reservoir.

As to drilling a well in the draw bottom, it appears to us that this idea is a very sound one, but much better adapted to our existing surface lake sites.

What do some of our readers think?

Southwest in gale strength. "Not a chance," says the forecaster.

Hope for an improved forecast for 1955 came on the heels of a recent norther, which brought snow to the High Plains on the first day of Spring.

In fact, 24 hours prior to the time Crim made his survey, the wind was howling out of the north. His sons suggested that it might have been wise to move the time of the reading up to the 21st instead of the 22nd, but Crim stuck by his guns and said the custom isn't to be tampered with.

Crim takes a good bit of kidding about his ritual in his stride, and it doesn't bother him to have friends jibe him occasionally. However, they always manage to get around to asking what he thinks of the coming year, and usually take such advice with considerable seriousness.

Those who have reasoned that "anybody can guess it's going to be a dry year—because most of the time, it is," have to reckon with the last time the amateur prophet stuck his neck out with a wet year prediction.

That was in 1949, and Crim and most of his neighbors averaged 25 bushels of wheat per acre—dryland.

Depending on what their signs foretold, the Indians of years ago would live rather casually, or take in store all they could lay their hands on for what appeared to be a bad year.

Crim, in a sense, is doing the same thing. He recently installed his fourth irrigation well on his farm, and because of this is considerably more independent than the savages of years past.

However, he is looking out for the worst conditions imaginable, and was heard to remark to his sons at the ceremony closed Tuesday morning, "Boys, we'd better get those well started. It's sure going to be tough."

PHONE RAISE—

However, the utility representatives emphasized that they are not in a position to definitely commit themselves on this matter for the reason that Mountain States in no way owns or controls the rural exchanges.

A third consideration from the telephone company was to make arrangements for draft payment of bills.

The revised rates were accepted by Mayor Johnnie Williams and Commissioners Ray Sudderth and in the past two issues of The Cross Section, monthly publication of the High Plains Water District.

Only last week the author of these articles called on us for any information we might have on experiments in Parmer County having to do with attempting to recharge underground water sands with surface accumulations.

Although we could be mistaken, there is no instance in Parmer County where this has been attempted. We still seem to be more interested in drilling holes in the ground for the purpose of taking water out than to put it back in.

Because we can nearly always strike good water sands wherever we choose, nearly all irrigation wells are on high points—a choice which greatly facilitates ditch irrigation, of course.

This factor, however, makes it impossible to convert these wells to receiving stations for surface water, since none ever accumulates near them.

There are a number of instances, notably in counties east of us, where conservation-minded farmers have drilled wells in the center of surface lakes. Some of these wells, we understand, were done in cooperation with and assistance of the District.

One of the worst problems encountered in funneling unneeded surface water back underground where it cannot evaporate is the matter of silt clogging the drainage system.

Various methods have been attempted to overcome this situation, and apparently, a pit full of cotton burrs is as good as anything else. When the lake is dry, the burrs are hauled off and replaced on the land, and new ones are put back in.

The silt-laden burrs make very good material for building up land, we understand. They, of course, were composed or fanned before being placed into the pit.

We believe that we will see the day—and don't think it's very far away—when farmers will not only see the conservation side to this type of operation, but will recognize its economic value as well.

Much land can be reclaimed with the assurance that no water will stand in the hundreds of depressions that dot our landscape. Have you ever looked at those aerial topographic maps in the ASC office? The number of lakes which make land unfit for cultivation would amaze you.

What's more, a discharge well need not be delegated exclusively for that purpose. During the times that there is no necessity of using it for drainage purposes, experiments have shown that it can be fitted with a pump and operated like any other well.

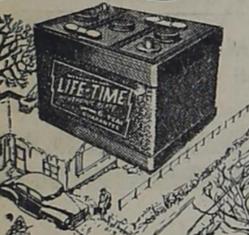

Except, of course, that it is then necessary to carry the water uphill through aluminum, canvas, or concrete pipe. Anyway, any man who is interested in making money and saving his water can think of several good reasons why such ideas are worthwhile to investigate.

Back to the business of the dam, Rhiney. Yes, it was Hop's favorite project to some day dam up the draws we have, and we often think that it was indeed too bad that he did not live to see any of these small earthen obstructions built.

You will recall that about a couple of years ago we got very excited over prospects for building a small dam northeast of Clovis on Running Water draw. This project apparently fizzled out for the time being, even though the New Mexico group working so hard went to the trouble of having engineers survey the site.

The lake was, however, to have a permanent one, not designed primarily to drain underground and would have afforded facilities for recreation and a refuge

It's Spud Planting Time On High Plains Farms

It's potato planting time on the High Plains, and this year more farmers than ever before will be watching with interest their neighbors who are giving the vegetables a try.

With acreage restrictions on wheat and cotton, and lower prices for feed grains, Plains farm residents are casting about for other cash crops which may be adaptable to conditions hereabouts.

Because of the unusually high expense involved in potato production, not too many farmers are plunging in recklessly this year, simply because they have acres which they feel might do well in spuds. Still, it is evident that many more farmers will eye the possibilities of vegetable production this year than ever before, and the way potatoes fare this year may well influence what Plains farmers will try in the next few years.

Two potato processing stations will be in operation in Parmer County this year. One will be at Friona, in its third year of operation. The other will be at Lariat, a new venture.

The Friona-Black area and the West Camp-Lariat-Oklahoma Lane area are the two commercial vegetable producing areas of Parmer County.

Both sheds function essentially along the same lines, but the Friona unit was chosen this week as a model of typical potato production practices.

Lloyd Oswald and Herman Neff, co-owners of the Friona shed, are this year trying to bounce back after two rather disheartening experiences in 1953 and 1954.

It is said by many farmers that a man either makes a lot of money or loses a lot in growing potatoes, and for the Friona men, the two years in which they have been in business there have not been exactly lucrative.

AND UP THEY GO!

Lloyd Oswald, co-owner of the potato shed in Friona, heaves a 100-pound sack of seed potatoes (already cut up) onto a waiting bobtail truck. The spuds were destined for the Kenneth Neill farm where planting was underway last weekend.

However, adverse conditions apparently have not dimmed their appetite for potato growing, and they are moving into another season hoping for the best.

According to Oswald, the pre-season outlook is "fairly good" for potatoes in 1955. At least, he thinks it will be greatly improved over the past two years.

Right now, during planting time, the chief activity around the potato shed is handling seed stock. About 9000 bags of seed potatoes will be received at the Friona shed this season, says Oswald, and each sack must be opened, processed, resacked, placed on a truck, and hauled to farms where planting is taking place.

Since there are plenty of people in this part of the Plains who have never viewed potato planting, it might be well to explain that whole potatoes are used as seed stock, and their appearance is not unlike what would be expected in any grocery store.

However, the spuds are poured onto a long table where about 10 women are at work, and the employees deftly slice each potato into several parts—usually four or more.

The object of this operation is to leave an "eye" in each part which is cut up. It is from the eye that springs the young plant later in the year.

About 25 persons are currently employed at the Friona shed, and last weekend they were busy handling five different varieties of seed stock. Bliss Triumph, Lasoda, Pontiac, Warbas, and Kennebeck are the popular types around Friona.

About 550 acres in the Friona area will be devoted to potato production this year, says Oswald, representing an increase of about 100 acres. Two farmers who never before have grown potatoes will be giving it a whirl in 1955.

As in other crops, weather holds the key on whether potatoes will be truly profitable, he believes. Most farmers of this area are concerned with early fall freezes, but for the potato grower, he worries about late spring cold snaps.

Along this line, says Oswald, the weather has been very uncooperative during the past two years. He described conditions as "terrible" in 1953 when foul weather combined with unusually weak prices to cause havoc with Plains potato men.

Prices were greatly improved last year, he adds, but growers didn't get any more cooperation out of the weather, and yields were cut considerably. In short, the price was satisfactory, but volume was reduced.

Neff moved to the Texas Plains in 1940 to begin his potato growing here. He is a native of Blackfoot, Idaho. His first years were spent in the Hereford area, but two years later he moved to Friona, and with his brother-in-law, installed the shed.

Neff now lives on a farm northeast of the city, and this year is planting 170 acres to spuds.

Oswald, a native of Menan, Idaho, moved to Hereford in 1947, and to Friona in 1952. Both men were familiar with potato production in Idaho, before moving to the Southwest, and both are convinced that the soils and climate of this part of the Plains, coupled with irrigation water, are well adapted for growing potatoes.

Cost of seed potatoes averages about $3.25 per hundred, says Oswald, and 35 cents per sack is added to this cost for cutting up and handling the stock.

From 1200 to 1500 pounds per acre are planted, and fertilizer is placed in the row right along with the potato cuttings. The planting season is comparatively short. In the Friona area it lasts from around March 17 to April 10.

After planting, the spuds are "hilled up" and irrigation and cultivation begins. From six to nine waterings are usually required. Depending upon the variety, the growing season is usually from 90 to 120 days.

Growing potatoes usually costs from $80 to $100 per acre. An average year will produce 180 sacks, estimates Oswald.

As an example of how expensive it is to get into the potato raising business, Walter Kaltwasser of the Oklahoma Lane community, who is planting 30 acres for the first time this year, says:

He has figured up that so far he has invested $51.40 per acre in seed potatoes, and $31.50 per acre in fertilizer, and he's only completed the planting operation. Kaltwasser still has to raise the crop, harvest it, and market it.

Unlike many other sheds, the owners of the Friona plant handle their own selling. Neff sees to the marketing end of the operation and Oswald says he believes it is to their advantage that they are able to do so.

"Herman knows exactly what we have when he goes after a sale," said the partner, "and he also knows what we must have for our potatoes. On the other hand, when we hire a seller, he seldom is acquainted with just what we have on hand, and he is more interested in selling quickly than getting the best price."

One interesting point about potato production is that it is completely independent of government price regulation of all types.

It Takes Plenty of Potatoes

Walter Kaltwasser of Oklahoma Lane seeded potatoes at the rate of 1500 pounds per acre this year. Here are two farm hands preparing the hoppers of a planting machine used on his farm. The two boxes in front hold fertilizer.

Oswald can remember a few years back when this was not the case, and potatoes were supported as are many other crops at the present time.

It is his opinion the spud producers are far better off without support prices and attending regulation.

A cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend the services beginning at 11:00 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 at the evening service.

It is good to report that Mrs. Leon Billingsley is feeling much better now after her illness.

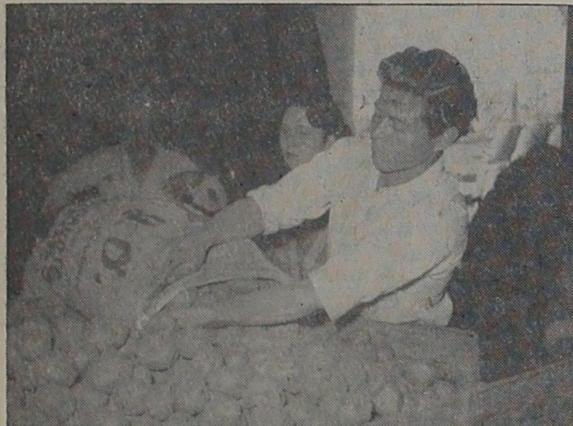

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sudderth plan to move into their new home in Bovina soon.

Community People Attend Recital

A good number of Oklahoma Laners who are proud of Miss Sandra Patton and her musical ability attended her recital Monday evening at the Methodist Church in Bovina.

SLICING IS A BIG JOB

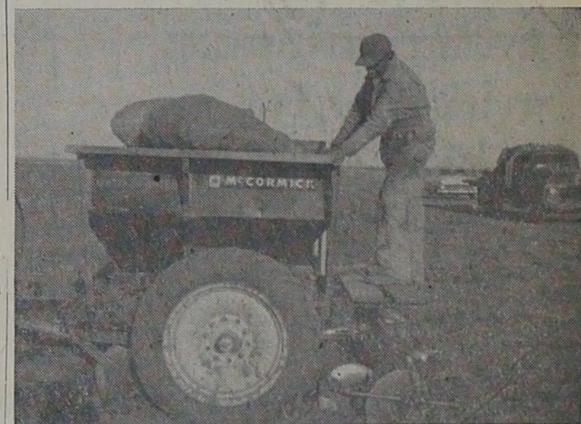

Since the planting rate of potatoes is so high, it takes plenty of them to get ready for planting around 500 acres. In fact, about 9000 sacks are needed in the Friona area this year. Here, Joe Hernandez rips open another sack on a table from which about 10 girls and women gather and slice the potatoes for planting.

A CUT-UP WITH THE SPUDS

Sarah Vera of Friona, who is shown slicing seed potatoes in preparation for planting, says she's never cut her finger on the knife yet, even though she often cuts up 40 sacks of potatoes in a day. That's Mac Reyes, shed foreman, who was chatting with her about the work when the picture was made.

INTO THE GROUND THEY GO

This unusual looking machine is a potato planter, which is pulled behind a tractor not seen in the picture. Herman Neff is standing on the platform watching the spud cuttings as they are placed in the seed beds.

THANK YOU SO VERY MUCH

We were delighted to have over 600 of you fine people of this area to visit us during our formal opening over the weekend.

We consider it a real privilege to have been able to meet and talk with so many of you, and we wish to express our appreciation for your kindness in calling on us.

To those of you who were unable to attend during our grand opening, please consider this a personal invitation to come by and see our home and floral shop and visit us at your own convenience.

Successful Opening For Marcum-Claborn

Over 600 persons from in and around Friona called Saturday and Sunday during the formal opening of Marcum & Claborn Funeral Home and Florists, according to J. L. Marcum and J. W. Claborn, owners.

"We appreciate very much having this large group to visit us," said Mrs. Marcum, who is manager of the floral shop. Her husband added that for those who were unable to attend during the special time set aside, an invitation to visit the home and floral shop remains open for the convenience of persons who might like to accept the gesture.

The management of the businesses expressed their appreciation for the cards and flowers sent during the opening.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to guests visiting during the opening.

SPEAKS TO PTA

Dr. Lloyd Shackelford discussed care of teeth at the Thursday night meeting of Friona Parent-Teachers Association. In the business session, potential nominees for new officers were presented.

April meeting of the organization will be the last program for the current school year, and new officers will be installed.

The program, Thursday, included the Green Valley Boys of KGNC radio who played several western selections and Mrs. Hank Outland and her daughter, Nancy. Mrs. Outland sang a vocal number and Nancy gave a piano selection.

Fifty firemen, wives and guests were present for the dinner.

Consumers Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Friona Consumers Inc., was held at the Legion Hall in Friona Saturday, with approximately 21 members present.

It was a business meeting, during which two of the directors were re-elected: A. W. Anthony Sr. and Carl Schlenker. Other members of the board of directors are T. E. Lovett, J. R. Southward and C. V. Potts.

Refreshments of coffee, doughnuts and pop were served.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Pictures on work in Alaska were shown when the WMU met Tuesday at the church for an all-day session and mission study. A covered dish luncheon was served at the lunch hour.

Received into the church Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Green, Harold, Leonard and Alta; and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robbins, also Miss Betty Deaton.

Mrs. Roy Miller presented a book review for Girls' Auxiliary Wednesday.

World Mission conference will meet in Ft. Worth this week. Sessions are in the interest of all mission work.

Both junior and intermediate groups of the Royal Ambassadors met Tuesday night for supper, as guests of the Brotherhood. Kenneth Fields, layman of Farwell, gave the talk of the evening. Business sessions were held following the program.

Sunday School attendance the past week had 495 and Training Union count was 202.

Bro. and Mrs. Raymond Spence, returned missionaries from Japan, will be in the services Sunday. We will be privileged to hear them for two services.

Members Work On Sewing Projects

Members of Hub Home Demonstration club met Thursday at the Methodist Church, and members fitted patterns on materials for their sewing projects. Miss Corinne Stinson, home demonstration agent, was present to assist the ladies.

Mrs. Dorothy Ellis was hostess and other members present were Mesdames Helen Fallwell, Melba Burleson, Clydia Black, Jinx Snead, Mildred Walters, Jennie Bingham, Annie Mae Thomas and Miss Stinson.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Black.

Scootin' Around FRIONA SCHOOLS

PATSY ANTHONY AND GLADYS BAXTER

In declamation try-outs held Thursday, Pat Cranfill won first place in the junior division.

In the senior division, Evelyn Ray and Don Lewis were senior winners. Junior winners were Betty Joyce Agee and Odell Ivy.

The executive council and the executive body of the pep club held a meeting at Patsy Anthony's home on Tuesday.

Just before curtain time of the one-act play "Andante" last Tuesday night, it was discovered that the hand cast belonging to Don Lewis had disappeared. If anyone should find this cast, he is asked to report it to any member of the crew or cast of the play.

There will be a meeting in the near future to distribute the Thespian membership cards which arrived last week.

A new student, Joe Carlisle, formerly of Olton, checked into school Monday. Joe is a sophomore student.

Boys in Agriculture Class I have been pruning the trees in front of the high school building for one of their spring projects.

FFA and FHA assembly programs will be coming up soon. Anyone with ideas for the program should contact Mr. Gee or Miss Rymer.

Friona Newcomers Are Special Guests

Modern Study Club met last Tuesday night at the club house. Theme of the program was "Friendship Day."

Special guests were the following newcomers to Friona: Mesdames Leo Reed, U. S. Akens, John Dukes, Jo Faye Brooks, G. Buckley, Loyd Brewer, Maxine Price, Deon Autry, Ray Pruitt, McMahan, Charles Taylor, Lloyd Shackelford, Luther Shelton, J. L. Marcum and Engram.

Kitty Black gave a musical number, "Alice Blue Gown." She was accompanied by Mrs. Eva Miller at the piano. The devotional was given by Mrs. Thelma Ford.

The president, Mrs. Melba Miller, was in charge of the business meeting. Members voted to join with the other Friona study clubs and sponsor a style show. Details will be announced later. Mrs. Jamie Lu Lillard gave a book review, "Rain and Wind."

Hostesses were Mrs. Willard Stewart, Mrs. Mildred May and Mrs. Valoris Osborn. They served orange sponge cake with ice cream and coffee.

Bridge Club Meets At Club House

Couples Bridge Club met Monday night at the Friona Club House. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gee, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ethridge and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis.

High for men went to Glenn Reeve, high for women to Mrs. Bill Stewart. Bingo went to Hadley Reeve.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reeve, Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Reeve, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Struve, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Bainum;

This is a picture of the new grade school building in Friona. It is located across the street from the present grade building and runs in a north-south direction. It is hoped that it will be ready for occupancy some time this week. As soon as furniture can be moved in, the school will get into full operation. It has 13 classrooms, but not all of them will be used at the present time.

Shower Given For Miss Stowers

Miss Clea Rae Stowers was honored with a surprise lingerie shower at the Pete Buske home Monday afternoon. Hostesses for the occasion were Miss Deann Buske and Mrs. Pete Buske.

Refreshments of hot chocolate, tea, cookies and nuts were served to Miss Stower's mother, Mrs. Talbert Stowers of Texhoma, and Mrs. George Treider; also to Misses Phyllis Treider, Evelyn Ray, Betty Zon Ashcraft, Gay Cass, Bennie Mae Grubbs, Deniese Magness, Zelma Beaty, Letha Fay Day, Jane Phipps and June White.

Mrs. Mickey Notes 85th Birthday

It was a big weekend for Mrs. Evie Mickey, who celebrated her 85th birthday in the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McLain, with whom she makes her home.

A large group of relatives gathered Sunday to assist Mrs. Mickey in making the most of her day. On Saturday night, which was actually her birthday, members of Sixth Street Church of Christ visited the honoree, and wished her "happy birthday."

On hand Sunday for the celebration were a son and his wife, craft work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mickey of Midland; and a daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Farris of Farwell; a brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed White of Friona; a sister, Mrs. Blanche Martin and son of Petersburg; nieces, Mrs. Glenna Jackson and Mrs. Alma Holmes of Floydada; Mrs. L. D. Pope of Friona and several other relatives.

Mrs. Farris baked the big birthday cake for her mother.

EXPENSES GOING UP?

That's what is known as the old-fashioned "SQUEEZE" and we know it isn't any fun for farmers!

Now, we can't do very much about the price you'll be getting for your crops this fall, but we do feel that we have some good suggestions on CUTTING PRODUCTION EXPENSES.

Converting your tractor to butane operation, for instance. Now, there's the most practical investment available for the farmer today!

Other farmers are saving by running their pickups and trucks on butane, too. Come in and get full details.

in & around FRIONA with the gang

You have probably heard this enough already, but we wanted to get in on it too. Last Monday was the first day of spring, but you would never have realized it by the weather. It was nice to have the moisture, even if it wasn't in any great amount. One thing about spring that is always enjoyed in this part of the country, is the fact that everything begins to come alive. The trees start budding, the lawns turn green and the wheat fields look beautiful. We noticed some of the latter in between Friona and Farwell the other day.

We are in the ranks of the measles these days. We didn't think we could get by and we didn't. Our boy has them, but the odd thing about it is that, except for having a fever, he has felt very good. It has amazed us just how well he thinks he is, and how sick we know he must be.

Seen In Clovis

Among those shopping in Clovis Saturday were Mrs. A. W. Anthony Sr. and Patsy, Gladys Baxter, Eva Woolbright, Mrs. Bertie Stowers, Clela Rae Stowers, Mrs. Clarence Ashcraft and Betty, Mrs. James Pope, Mrs. Mayme Adams, Mrs. Roy Miller, Don Lewis, Jacquelyn Magness and Ima Jo Brooks.

Concert Program Series Planned

Officers of the Town Hall Concert Programs are urging residents of Parmer County to purchase membership cards to the concert series which are held throughout the year in the Friona auditorium. Brochures have been sent from the main office in Dallas which will give a tentative list of programs that will be available during the coming year. Interested citizens should contact one of the officers or board members to express opinions about what type of programs are preferred.

All newcomers to Parmer County are urged to secure tickets for the new series of programs which will begin in early fall. Prices of the tickets are $10 per family or $6 for one person. This card entitles the owner to admission to all the concerts given in Friona and surrounding towns.

Town Hall presented programs in Tulia, Amarillo and Hereford last year. Officers of the concert series are president, Mrs. H. K. Kendrick; vice-president, Mrs. O. J. Beene; secretary, Mrs. Dan Etridge; and treasurer, Mrs. Preach Cranfill.

Board members include Mrs. Claude Osborn, Mrs. J. T. Gee, Mrs. Sloan Osborn, Mrs. Frank Spring and Floyd Reeve.

Retiring board members are Clyde Goodwine, Bert Neelley, Mrs. Wesley Foster and Mrs. Newman Jarrell, Jr.

Mrs. Jarrell has been appointed to serve as co-chairman of the membership drive which will begin soon.

Devotional Given

On "Prayer" Wed.

"Prayer" was the subject of Mrs. George Treider when she gave the devotional for a meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Grace Whitefield read a letter on missionaries.

After the program and business meeting, attendants did handwork.

Two guests were Mrs. Lem Miller and Mrs. Charles Russell. Members were Mesdames Grace Whitefield, Floyd Schlenker, Fred Helmeke, R. B. McKee, Fred White, F. W. Reeve, Marvin Bartlett, Walter Loveless, Carl Maurer, George Treider, Bert Shackelford, L. F. Lillard and the hostess, Miss Lola Goodwine.

Birth Party Honors Nine-Year-Old Girl

Mis Sherry Woodley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woodley of Friona, celebrated her ninth birthday on Monday evening, March 21.

Colors of pale yellow were featured in the decorations and table setting. The centerpiece on the dinner table was a doll whose bouffant skirt of yellow and white formed the birthday cake.

Surprise packages were placed for the guests which included Mises Sheryl Long, Jeannine Wiley, Joyce Houlette, Donna Fulks and Dixie Chitwood.

After the dinner the guests played games and helped Sherry open the birthday gifts.

Among those sending gifts were Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Skeels, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller and Mrs. G. A. Anderson.

New President Named For Group

Mrs. Al Reznick was elected as president of Green-Acres Home, Demonstration Club, to replace Mrs. Clyde Sherrieb, who resigned, when women met last Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Jean Anthony.

Mrs. Anthony presented a council delegate report and Mrs. Charles Howell gave a report on sewing.

Present were Mesdames Ernest Anthony, Wesley Hardesty, Gordon Hough, Charles Howell, W. M. Massie, Al Reznick, Floyd Brookfield, H. R. Cocanougher, L. C. Johnson and the hostess.

Cake topped with ice cream and a sauce was served with coffee.

Eden-Carthal Vows Read in Hereford

Last Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Marthana Carthal of Lazbuddie became the bride of Bill Howard Eden of Friona. The ceremony was held at the Baptist parsonage in Hereford with Rev. Russell Pogue reading the vows. Rev. Pogue was at one time the minister of the Friona Baptist Church.

Those who attended the wedding were Eddie White, Johnetta Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Eden and Barbara, parents and sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Ed Carthal, mother of the bride.

The newly weds are now at home in Friona. Bill is employed by H. W. White as a carpenter's helper.

Bill attended school in Hereford and his wife spent some time in school at Friona.

Visiting Family Feted By Relatives

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Graham and family of Rushspring, arrived Friday to visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Graham; and her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Newman Jarrell Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy May.

The May family and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Baxter and Patricia had been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Graham Thursday night. After the arrival of the out-of-town guests, the Mays and the two Graham families had an evening of visiting in the Jarrell home Friday night. Saturday night, the two Graham families were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim F. Baxter.

The Mays were then host and hostess to the two Graham families and the Jarrells for Sunday dinner.

Dependable Pumping Power

New 800-6A power unit develops 148 hp on LP gas and 134 hp on natural gas at 1200 rpm.

Here's another dependable MM power unit designed to furnish low-cost, trouble-free performance. Smooth, 6-cylinder high-turbulence power and counter-balanced crankshaft reduce torsional vibration for longer engine life.

Newly designed heat exchanger base plan keeps oil at proper operating temperature, greatly increases engine life and lengthens period between oil and filter cartridge changes. Pan acts as a cooler as well. Sight oil glass provided in base pan can be converted to oil-flow control valve for adding oil directly to crankcase from a barrel of oil, thereby keeping oil at a constant level. Pan attaches directly to an SAE standard flywheel housing and provides a rigid mounting of the power take-off for heavy belt drives, etc. Double-disc clutch and power take-off are of heavy-duty design.

MM heavy-duty power units are noted for their long life. Nine models to choose from. Stop in soon. Let's talk over your power needs.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Den I, Den II, Den III and Den V did not meet Monday because of inclement weather but they all have a stunt planned for the pack meeting to be held this Friday in the Legion Hall.

Den I will be in charge of the flag ceremonies at the beginning and close of the meeting. Den II plans on singing some songs. Den III is not giving out what it plans to do at Friday night's meeting, but does plan to participate and Den V is going to show a game at the affair.

Den IV is the only one which met Monday although the group had to cancel their program. They stayed inside and played games, sang some vocal selections and were taught a hand-clapping stunt. Eleven boys were present Monday and they plan to give a game at the pack meeting.

Den V plans on working on bird houses next Monday and practice for the palava in Amarillo.

Troop I met Monday evening in the Scout Hut with between 15-25 Scouts, two special guests and two new members present. The new members are Gary Snead and Jim Carl Lillard.

The two special guests were Dr. Paul Spring and Firechief Charlie Bainum. Dr. Spring gave a talk on the attributes of knowing first aid. After his talk, the scouts asked many questions of the doctor and these were followed by answers from him.

Chief Bainum discussed the first aid course to be given under the sponsorship of the fire department. The first class is to be given the course Friday and a group of the boys plan to attend this and other classes to be held on this subject (see story elsewhere in paper).

Eight Explorer Scouts and two leaders traveled to Amarillo last weekend for the annual field trip to the Air Base there. The scouts were guests of the Air Base and were given a ride in a C-119 airplane.

For those persons who may not know, Steve Bavousett, scout worker, says that Explorer Scouts are a division of scouting just as Cub Scouts are. It is for boys who are 14 years old and over and was organized to keep older boys interested in scouting.

Just as it was realized that there was a need for a division for younger boys, it also was realized that the older boys needed more attention than they had been getting and so Explorer Scouts were organized for this purpose.

Those who attended the field trip in Amarillo were Kim Caffey, Jim Patton, Johnny Miller, Ira Bruce Parr, Sterling Prichard, Rodney Weis, Billy Gene Zachary, Dale Panzer and two leaders, Claude Miller and Coy Patton. The group left Friday and came back Sunday.

Visit in South Dakota

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Martin returned last week from an extended visit in South Dakota and Colorado.

In Stamford, S. D., the Martins visited their son, his wife and baby daughter.

They visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nidey and daughter in Campo, Colo.

In Lamar, Colo., the Martins visited with a nephew and brother of Mrs. Martin.

It's A Girl

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stowers have announced the birth of a daughter. The new arrival's name was not known at press time.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

If you like to make contributions to the destitute through your church and its missionaries and hospital representatives, here is your opportunity. CROP, Christian Rural Overseas Program, is preparing to load "Texas Friendship for Korea" about June 1. As a result of the war, Korea has 100,000 orphans, 300,000 fatherless families, 3,000,000 TB children and 10,000,000 refugees living in improvised shelters of straw and mud. 300 Korean church pastors were killed and 600,000 homes destroyed. We're sure you can help the need that must exist, and that you would like to have a part in helping these people help themselves.

Needed are beef cattle, hogs, cotton, flour, sugar, rice, powdered milk, flower and garden seeds, garden hoes, grass scythes, vitamins for hospitals, pedal sewing machines, and practically everything else.

A cash gift of $25 will send a pig all the way, feed and all, to be delivered to a 4-H boy or girl. $25 to $150 will send a calf or yearling to them. If you so designate, a missionary representative of your church will receive and deliver your gift to the needy ones he knows of. You will be notified of who received it and reports on the use made of it, periodically.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me," is the scriptural basis for CROP's operations like Texas Friendship for Korea. If you want to have a part in this operation of assistance, see your county agent, home demonstration agent, your pastor or your community 4-H Club sponsor. They'll help you; or we will give you every bit of help we can at the Farm Bureau Office.

Our compliments to Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau and Service Agent Maurice Howell for giving the full fifteen minute radio program last Saturday to encourage participation in this project. We can erase a lot of problems and difficulties by taking part in these projects of mercy. Nothing makes you happier than helping someone else who is worse off than you are. CONSIDER THIS—Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteousness delivereth from death. Proverbs 11:4.

—From Paul—

Any time a husband gives his wife flowers for no reason—there's a reason.

About age 16, most boy scouts become girl scouts.

Often wondered where mothers learned those things they tell their daughters not to do.

The father was playing possum while his little daughter tried to rouse him from his nap to read her a story. Finally the youngster climbed up on his lap, opened one of his eyelids, peered in carefully, then reported, "He's still in there."

This Friona country sure is growing, folks, and we are, too. Drive in and see how our friendly service has grown to be the best in town!

"It's the Truck of Tomorrow"

SEE THEM FRIDAY! New Chevrolet

Task-Force Trucks!

It's the largest and finest fleet of trucks ever built by the nation's No. 1 truck builder. Whatever your task or trade, there's a new Chevrolet truck to make or save you money on the job. Come and look 'em over!

Now Chevrolet introduces "Work Styling"—an exclusive development in truck design. Plus new engines—new capacities—new Overdrive and Power Steering—new features and advantages throughout!

Here's what happens when America's leading truck builder pulls out all the stops! Here are trucks that are new from the drawing board out!

New styling in trucks

Fleet, functional styling that fits your job! For the first time in any truck line, two distinctly different styling treatments are offered—one in light- and medium-duty models, another in heavy-duty. Your handsome new Chevrolet truck will be a profitable advertisement-on-wheels for you and your business!

A new outlook for the driver

Truck driving was never like this! The new Flite-Ride cab is everything a driver could wish for, from its big Sweep-Sight windshield to its concealed Safety Step that keeps clear of mud or snow! The new instrument panel and controls are the last word in truck driving convenience!

Six new "high-voltage" engines

With a new 12-volt electrical system for quicker, surer cold-weather starting and increased generator capacity! Plus more efficient cooling and lubrication systems, an improved fuel system, and completely redesigned engine mountings.

And much more that's new

Like the smoother, load-steady ride . . . new High-Level ventilation . . . tubeless tires, standard on 1/2-ton models . . . Power Brakes* for all models, standard in 2-ton models . . . new 18,000 lb. max. G.V.W. in 2-ton models. And there's a new choice of transmissions, including new Overdrive* and Hydra-Matic*. New Power Steering* for all models. Come in and see the newest things in trucks!

*Optional at extra cost. Overdrive available on 1/2-ton models, Hydra-Matic on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

Santa Fe Gives City Extra Water Facilities

An auxiliary water tank with a capacity of 100,000 gallons, was turned over to the city of Bovina by the Santa Fe Railroad, in a brief ceremony held at the city hall in Bovina last Thursday afternoon.

The newly acquired tank will be on a 100 foot tower and will be located directly south of Sherley Grain (across the tracks). When the tank is put into operation, it will give Bovina an excess of 200,000 gallons of water on top of the ground at all times, says City Commissioner Aubrey Brock.

The reason that this extra facility was given to Bovina is because the railroad now runs almost entirely on diesel, says T. J. Anderson, superintendent of the Plains Division, who made the presentation. If, at any time, the Santa Fe should need extra water they will buy it from the towns which now own the tanks, he adds. Although he doesn't believe it will be needed, he wanted to make it clear to the people of Bovina what would be done if the need for water ever arose.

Bovina now has a water capacity of 136,000 gallons.

Bovina School Board Entertains Teachers

Members of the Bovina School Board and their wives entertained the school faculty members Friday night with a social in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hromas. As the guests arrived they toured Hromases new home.

Rev. Vance Zinn and Harold Carpenter of Oklahoma Lane formed a comedy team and presented several skits to begin the evening's entertainment. One well enjoyed act performed by the two was "Doctor Kill'em's First Operation."

With Carpenter at the piano, Rev. Zinn led the group in singing. "42" playing filled out the evening and following the merriment, homemade ice cream and cake were served to the 32 guests present. The refreshments were served from a lovely table covered with a cutwork tablecloth and centered with yellow and blue spring flowers and white tapers.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Everett, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. Hodge Rigdon, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Willoughby;

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allan, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Collins, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ellison, Miss Jean Thorn, Miss Lillian Fisher, Miss Grace Paul;

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Wendol Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Boye Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Steelman, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Fuller, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hromas.

St. Patrick's Day Talk Given To Widow's Club

The Bovina Widow's Club met with Mrs. J. F. McCutchan Thursday, March 17, St. Patrick's Day. The reporter gives the following account of the meeting.

"As the guests arrived, each was given a kelley green shamrock leaf on a green and silver card to suspend around her neck.

"After a delectable Irish luncheon (all Irish are good cooks,) the program began.

"Miss Rita Caldwell gave us a short sketch on "St Patrick" as the patron saint of Ireland. She brought out that he was said to have driven all the snakes out of Ireland.

"The name of a green vegetable was pinned on each ones back, and everyone else was to try to see what that vegetable was, without letting anyone see what vegetable was on her own back. Mrs. Margaret Caldwell counted the greatest number.

"Next—A butter-bean race, the bean being carried on the blades of two knives. Mrs. J. R. Glover had the steadiest nerves.

"We had to walk the chalk-line—a string stretched across two floors. We had to walk this with toes and heels placed exactly on the line. Touching the floor to balance ourselves, was strictly forbidden.

"Crossing the "bag" to the Wishing Well was the next game. Footprints, cut from brown paper, were placed in a path to the Wishing Well. The game was to walk with the feet entirely on the paper stepping stones, to the end of the trail, where two paper bags were placed on the buffet. Into one bag each dropped a wish she had written, and from the other bag she drew a picture of something they had always wanted. In making our wishes, five had wished for rain."

Those present were Mrs. J. R. Glover, Mrs. Sallie Potts, Mrs. Lucy Wilson, Mrs. G. E. Free, Mrs. Margaret Caldwell and Rita, Miss Remnsneider, Mrs. Tom Hastings and the hostess, Mrs. J. F. McCutchan.

Five members were missed at the meeting states the reporter. Those being Mrs. J. Sam Gaines, Mrs. J. G. Charles, Miss Loula Smith, Mrs. Maidee Brown and Mrs. R. A. Kelley.

The next meeting will be an Easter program, with Mrs. Sallie Potts, on Thursday, April 21.

Mr. and Mrs. George Trimble went to Mobeetie Sunday to visit her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hutto and children bought the Glen Hromas home and moved into it on Wednesday of last week.

Junior Play Goes Onstage Friday

Everyone is invited to see the junior play Friday night at 8:00 p. m., March 25, at the Friona High School auditorium.

The play "An Apple For Eve" is a comedy in three acts, that promises over two full hours of hilarious entertainment, say the sponsors.

The advance ticket sale is continuing through this week and may be purchased from any junior. Tickets will also be sold at the gate Friday night. Tickets are 35c and 65c.

Judging Team Places Second

Oakley Stevenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stevenson of Bovina, won honors as a member of the Texas Tech Livestock Judging team which journeyed to Oklahoma City, Okla., last weekend.

Stevenson won second place, individually, in the livestock contest, and first place in quarter horse judging.

The Tech judging team won second place in the entire contest being beaten by Oklahoma A&M.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stevenson visited their son, Oakley, and his wife last Tuesday.

Schools Participate In Evaluation Program

Schools throughout Texas are entering an "evaluation" of their respective schools. Schools are being run on a short schedule two days a week to allow teachers to make this evaluation and inventory.

Bovina schools will be dismissed at 2:30 on Monday and Wednesday of each week the succeeding two weeks.

School accreditation and affiliation will be based on this evaluation in years to come.

SC Delegates Attend Convention

Delegates of the Bovina High School Student Council left this morning (Thursday) for Denton where they will attend the annual state convention of student councils. The convention is to be held March 24, 25, and 26.

Bovina student council delegates will lead a problem discussion entitled "How Student Councils Can Promote Better School Spirit." Donald Barron will be the leader of the discussion group.

Others attending the convention are Donald Lloyd, Marcella Verner, Lillie Ellison and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Willoughby.

Move to Clovis

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hromas and son moved to Clovis Wednesday of last week until their new house is ready. They bought a house in Lubbock and it should be here and ready to begin work on the first of next week.

Bovina Given Extra Water Facilities

Bovina townspeople can look with pride at their newly-acquired water tank given them by the Santa Fe Railroad last week. This picture shows the bill of sale being given the city dads at a ceremony last Thursday at 2 p. m. in the city hall. Present were (left to right) Aubrey Brock, city commissioner; Henry Minter, water commissioner; A. M. Wilson, city commissioner; T. J. Anderson, superintendent of the Plains division of the Santa Fe Railroad; W. R. Henry (face partly hidden), trainmaster for the Plains Division; and A. J. Routt, Bovina city clerk. J. T. Hammonds, mayor, was not present.

Winners Announced By Wilson Food

(Editor's note: Through error, the following story was omitted from last week's Tribune.)

Winners of prizes awarded during the anniversary sale of Wilson Food have been announced by A. M. Wilson, owner.

Those snaring $20 baskets of groceries included Mrs. Jack Clayton, Jack Wines, Mrs. O. H. Jones, R. E. Everett, Larry Berry, Mrs. Cecil Edwards, Mrs. Paul Jones, and Mrs. Mildred Moody, all of Bovina.

TAKES FATHER HOME

Over the weekend, Ovid Lawlis went to Temple to get his father, G. M. Lawlis, who had undergone an operation. Mrs. Lawlis and boys visited her parents over the weekend at Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Steed.

ESPECIALLY ON DEEPER SETTINGS, WESTERN PUMPS PERFORM THE BEST

Some of the best farming land in our trade territory lies west of Bovina in the Pleasant Hill community. But it's been awfully dry up there like everywhere else in the Southwest, and those farmers have undergone a big irrigation development. Their area has an abundance of water, but most of it is at considerable depth.

That's where a dependable, easy-pulling pump like the Western can really pay off, and it's doing just that for H. J. Pierce, who is shown in the picture with one of his two Western Pumps, this one is about three miles northwest of Pleasant Hill.

Mr. Pierce's Western Pump is set on 360 feet. He figures that he is lifting water from 330 feet after taking off the drawdown. His pump was installed in January, and "It's sure been running mighty good," he says. The pump is using a 1-to-1 gearhead ratio, and gets a full pipe at 1650 RPM's. Mr. Pierce estimates his fuel consumption at 11 gallons of butane per hour, and he thinks that's pretty good for such a deep well.

The feature which Mr. Pierce likes best about his Western Pumps is their Vibration-Dampened Tubeline—the radically new development which uses kiln-dried, straight-grained California redwood specially treated with an oil process. This exclusive Western feature results in reducing shaft wear, reducing mechanical power losses, and of course results in increased pumping efficiency.

Stop in at Bovina Supply and look at our cutaway Western Pump models and you'll SEE why Western is built better!

Young Bovina Girl Has Appendectomy

Carole Lynn Hammonds, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hammonds of Bovina, was rushed to the Friona Community Hospital last Thursday for an emergency appendectomy.

She was released from the hospital a few days after the operation and is doing fine now, they add.

Housewarming Given Travis Lloyds

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lloyd and children were dinner guests Saturday night in the Henry Minter home.

Upon their return home they discovered their new home was filled with relatives and friends who were showering them with gifts for their home.

Seventy-two guests registered in the guest book; several of these were relatives and friends from Childress and Friona.

Guests from Friona were Mr. and Mrs. John Wright and Jerald, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brand and Kathryn and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Roberts.

Parmerton HD Club Has Sewing Lesson

Parmerton HD club met in regular session Thursday in the home of Mrs. Ray Landrum.

Town. The group participated in the third sewing lesson of a series of four. Miss Corinne Stinson will meet with the group next week in the home of Mrs. C. W. Wright.

Those present included Mesdames G. H. Brock, Sue Barrett, Bonnie Barrett, Lloyd Battey, Marion Fite, C. W. Wright, Corda Carter and Mrs. Clark. Mrs. Truitt Johnson was a guest at the meeting.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and concern during the long illness and death of our husband and father.

We would mention those who so faithfully visited him during those long trying months and the many who remembered him with flowers and the tempting dishes of food.

We cannot forget the entire staff at the Parmer County Hospital for their untiring efforts to make him comfortable and happy.

We would thank those who planned and helped with the funeral which was beautiful in its simplicity and sincerity, and for the lovely floral offering we are truly appreciative.

We cannot say enough in praise of the good women who served us so beautifully with the delicious food.

May God's richest blessings be upon all of you.

The family of J. R. Caldwell

Visitors in the Arnold Hromas home Sunday were Rev. and Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Fred Bolton of Oklahoma Lane, Mrs. R. B. McQuarters Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Quarters Jr. of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hromas of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brandon of Bovina, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cooper of Matador, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Estes of Bovina, Mrs. Joyce Haltman and Mrs. Charles Tibbets of Amarillo. The guests were shown through the Hromases lovely new home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Boatman received word recently that their son, Ervin, of Ames, Okla., had undergone surgery at St. Mary's Hospital in Enid, Okla.

Irish Music Studied At Club Meeting

Bovina Music Climber's Club met in the home of Mrs. Margaret Caldwell Thursday, March 17, for its regular monthly meeting.

Program, given by the students, was about "Irish Music." Talks by various students were on the following subjects "Tara—Home of Irish Kings," "London-derry Air," "The Story of The Famous Siena Piano," "Irish Music," "Minstrels and Troubadours," and "The Girl I Left Behind Me." This number was featured on "The Voice of Firestone" program March 14.

Piano numbers were presented by Don Caldwell, Susie Estes and Mrs. Margaret Caldwell.

Following the program a supper furnished by the group was enjoyed. Members then attended the local theater.

BOVINA METHODIST NEWS Rev. Walter G. White, Pastor

Next Sunday morning the second anniversary of the Lord's Acre-Talent Program will be launched at the Bovina Methodist Church.

The program was initiated last year as a kick-off for the congregation's proposed new educational building, and it successfully closed with many in the congregation participating and bringing financial gains of nearly $3,700.

J. T. Hammonds, Rouel Barron, Gene Ezell and Tom Beauchamp are members of the local committee which have planned the second year's operation of the Lord's Acre and Talent Program, and they are enthusiastic that this year's program will bring even greater financial and spiritual benefits.

At the morning worship service in the church this Sunday, many of the congregation will designate whether they will be participants in the giving of their acreage to the Lord's Acre program or whether they will take a one dollar or five dollar bill and endeavor to increase it between now and the middle of October.

If all those who unite and earnestly try with all zeal to give their Lord their time and effort in this program they will find rewarding benefits as did those who participated last year.

The Women's Class entertained the Men's Class last Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams. The evening was spent in playing "Texas 42". Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dunavant, Mr. and Mrs. Aubra Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kelso, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Quickel, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams and Rev. and Mrs. W. G. White.

The Crusader Choir of the Bovina Methodist Church will receive their Silver Crosses as awards of faithfulness in attendance and loyalty to their group this Sunday morning. Also those who did not receive their "Crosses of Wood" at the previous service of awards and who are now eligible will receive them, too.

The music students of Mrs. Margaret Caldwell who attended the National Federation of Music Clubs in Hereford this past week brought back very good ratings.

They were rated: Joan Kay Ezell, excellent; Don Caldwell, excellent; Susie Estes, excellent; Linda Estes, excellent plus; and Larry Downing, very good.

Rev. and Mrs. Virgil Goodwin and Mrs. E. H. Moody left Monday of this week to attend the World Mission Conference at Ft. Worth. They were gone most of the week.

Alvin Glasscock was in charge of the Wednesday night prayer meeting services.

The cottage prayer meetings were held Tuesday at the R. N. Williford home and the J. D. Kelley home.

Mrs. Ovid Lawlis, Mrs. J. S. Williams, Mrs. P. A. Adams, Mrs. Johnny Horn, Mrs. Bill Bradshaw and Mrs. Boye Taylor were the six ladies of Bovina WMU, who attended the mission study at Farwell Monday with the Farwell WMU.

Miss Patton Gives Senior Piano Recital

Mrs. Doris Wilson presented Miss Sandra Patton in her senior recital at the Bovina Methodist Church Monday evening.

Special numbers were given by Mrs. Shelby Jobs' music students from Farwell and Miss Patton and Mrs. Wilson presented a duet. Other guest performers were members of Wilsonaires Trio of Bovina.

Margaret Verner then narrated "London Fantasia" with Miss Patton as pianist.

In Parker Home

Visiting in the W. J. Parker home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Parker of Roswell; Mrs. Billy Parker and girls, Lynn and Glenda; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Parker of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Parker of Amarillo; Mrs. Bill Bailey and daughter of Maryland; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hamrick of Farwell, Mrs. Della Ezell of Ralls, Mr. and Mrs. Gunn of Levelland and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ezell and family.

Have Dinner Guests

Dinner guests in the Frank Edwards home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Dixon of White Flat, Mr. and Mrs. Artie Dennis of Lubbock, and H. A. Stevens of Matador.

Calling in the afternoon were the Hubert Ellisons, the Melvin Terrys and the Wendol Christians of Bovina, the Sterling Donaldsons of Farwell and the J. C. Boones of Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Whitesides of Garcia community visited friends in Bovina Sunday.

Mrs. L. L. Boatman has been on the sick list for the past two weeks.

Have Dinner Guests

Sunday dinner guests in the Travis Lloyd home were the Homer Kelleys, the J. D. Kelleys and Diana, Glen Kelley and Glenda Kay, the Rouel Barrons, and Mrs. G. E. Free of Bovina; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kelley of Childress; and Dick Free and daughter of Dumas.

New Residents

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stevens, Virginia and Gene of Panhandle are one of the new families in Bovina. They live in the S. H. Sides home.

To Carlsbad

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cain of La Feria visited a few days this week in the Herman Estes home.

To Conference

Mrs. W. E. Williams and Mrs. Margaret Caldwell and Rita attended the annual conference of the Wesleyan Service Guild in Vernon on Saturday and Sunday.

I would like to say "thank you" for the lovely gifts, flowers, cards, food, visits and phone calls during my illness. I did appreciate them so much.

May God bless each of you! Mrs. E. M. Ware

Just want to say thanks to everyone of you for the lovely flowers, cards, gifts and visits, while I was in the hospital; also, the nice food sent me since I have been home.

May God bless you! Mrs. Buck Ellison

Has Slumber Party

Bob Bolton was host to a group of his boy friends on Friday night, March 18, for a "slumber-less" party.

The boys really enjoyed themselves throughout the night with various games and pranks and, of course, lots of good food. For instance, in the wee hours of the morning, the boys all enjoyed a king-size "banana split."

Boys attending the get-together were Glenn McDorman, Phil White, Glenn Hardage, Melvin and Don Hendrickson, Larry Pike, Preston Cain, Tommie Lovelace, Johnnie Armstrong, Dennis Nelson, Mike Paine and the host, Bob Bolton.

IMPROVEMENT SEEN

Irrigation farming seems to be prosperous for many farm families in this community. New improvements can be seen all over the area. The Tom Caldwells and the Leon Grissons are owners of a big, new oval type tin barn each. Several new farm homes are also being erected and, of course, new autos are plentiful.

Methodist Ladies Attend WSCS Meeting

Mrs. Doyn Merriman and Mrs. Melvin Sudderth of Farwell were among the 466 Methodists who attended the 14th annual meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting in Childress, 16-18. Sessions were held at First Methodist Church under the theme "Our Christian Witness."

Conference president, Mrs. C. C. Coffee of Lubbock, presided. Other Northwest Texans featured on the program included Mrs. W. E. Hamilton, Quanah, who led the services of remembrance; Lucile Flowers, Plainview, conference president of the Wesleyan Service Guild; and Naomi Hare, Hereford, who has just completed a five year term as a missionary in a girls' school at Lima, Peru.

Women increased their pledges by $2,500 to total $76,000 for various world-wide purposes. Mrs. J. C. Cowan Jr., of Tulia, led the pledge service.

Mrs. Sam Sides received a lovely pink bedspread Thursday from members of her Sunday School class and other friends in Bovina. Mr. and Mrs. Sides are leaving this week for a trip to Washington, D. C. The Sides have moved recently to Hereford from Oklahoma Lane.

Edith Faye Routon has been sick and missed some days at school last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lindop and children visited in the Turner Paine home in Texico Sunday evening.

K-K Club Has Regular Meeting

K-K Club met with Mrs. June Patton Thursday. St. Patrick's Day decorations were used very effectively.

Hand needle work was the project for the day with each lady bringing work that was started at the last session.

The next meeting will be with MaRue Snodgrass on April 21, at 2 p. m. Members will continue work on the projects they have been working on.

Ladies present were Lois Billingsley, Jennie Blankenship, MaRue Snodgrass, Louise Douglas, Nadine Rundell, Jet Jones, Kate Lindop, the hostess, June Patton, and visitors: "Grandma" Snodgrass, Janice Billingsley and Ruth Ann Blankenship.

Refreshments of tuna sandwiches, shamrock cookies, green mints and pops were served.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Attendance for Sunday, March 20, was below normal due to much sickness in the community.

The special music for the day was a choir special with Gene Rea directing, accompanied by organist, David Willard.

The Methodist men will meet Monday, March 28, at 7 a. m. for their breakfast. The visiting evangelist will be the speaker. All men try to be present.

Rev. Vernon Willard was guest speaker at Progress Methodist Church on Monday evening.

WSCS MEETS

The ladies society met Monday, March 21, at 2:30, to continue the study class on "Jesus' Teachings Concerning Women." There were 13 members and the pastor present.

Roll call was answered by "naming a prayer of Jesus."

Kathryn Merriman, Gladys Sudderth and Belle Willard reported a very nice time at annual conference in Childress last week. They will be asked to give reports from time to time to the local society.

Ladies giving parts on the program were Mesdames: MaRue Snodgrass, Jet Jones, Jennie Blankenship and Mrs. W. P. Shelley.

Other members present were Mesdames Lee Jones, Kate Lindop, T. L. Kent, Bobbie Foster, James Roach, Claude Primrose, George Douglas, and Kathryn Merriman, also the pastor.

There will be no meeting March 28, because of the revival services.

"Thanks to G-E push-button control, son—

Starting our pump is easier than turning on a faucet!"

"It sure is easy to start our pumps with General Electric controls. Just push a button and the pump starts—that's all there is to it with G-E magnetic starters!"

"And you can forget about this control once it's installed. That's because its all-weather case is so well protected from rust, rain, and all kinds of weather. Even the push buttons are weather-resistant!"

"Now take the overload relays that protect our motor from overheating. They're in a special ventilated compartment so that the heat from the sun will not cause them to prematurely shut off the motor. This compartment is also proected with a rust-proof screen to keep out insects.

"All-weather protection for the control means continued protection for the motor because the control guards our motor against damage from overloads and short circuits. And the motor itself is built to last a generation or more! Its controlled bearing lubrication and sturdy cast-iron housing, keep it ready for service whenever we turn it on.

"Son, General Electric knows our irrigation pumping problems and has the right motor and control team to solve them completely!"

Be sure to ask your local pump dealer for G-E motors and control for your irrigation pumps!
