

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

No "Dust Storm Panic" As In Days Of Yore

Officials of our U. S. weather bureau tell us that this part of the Southwest is now going through a period of time which surpasses all records for dryness. The famed "dirty thirties" were not as bad as this, they tell us.

Dry weather, naturally, means only one thing to Eastern New Mexico and West Texas in the spring, and that is dust storms and plenty of them. We always will have our wind in the spring, and so long as we have land in cultivation and conditions remain as dry as they are at the present, we will continue to have dust storms.

Residents of this part of the Plains already have experienced some dandies this year, and the end does not appear to be in sight. In fact, conditions may be expected to worsen if moisture does not come.

Of course, nobody needs to be reminded that this spring is proving to be a dusty one. Even persons who spend nearly all of their time indoors have realized that, because the sand has come right on in with them.

However, one thing we'd like to point out, and do so with some satisfaction, and that is that the "dust storm panic" which we heard so much of 20 years ago does not seem to be present in this era.

True, we all complain of the weather, but it seems to be more from irritation than bitterness or discouragement. Even from farmers, who have a very real stake in how the weather treats them, there is no talk of "leaving this country."

We cuss it, but it looks as if we have made up our minds to live with it.

Sleepy City Election Lived Up By Write-In Slate

We view with satisfaction the healthy 80 votes recorded in Tuesday's city election in Farwell, and are proud to see that residents actually can be aroused to come out and vote in an election that often is taken far too lightly.

Serving as mayor or commissioner of a community the size of Farwell is no bed of roses, and the person who does fill these posts get a lot more kicks than he gets pats on the back.

The pay is atrocious (and doesn't look as through it's going to be raised any time soon), the problems are big, and the public can usually be counted on to be uncooperative and critical.

These conditions sometimes discourage even our most sincere public-minded citizens, and after a few run-ins with irate groups, they quite understandably feel that as far as they are concerned, the town can take it and lump it.

We defend the write-in campaign Tuesday for the reason that no more than a dozen (at the outside) votes would have been cast all day if it had not been for the last-minute surge of interest created by those who offered a new slate.

We will wager our post office mailing permit that up until about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, not 25 of the 80 people who voted could name the three candidates on the ballot. Such lethargy in any election is dangerous.

Now, however, there is no one in town who doesn't know who is running his city, and for Farwell at least, that is something of a record.

No attempt was made to keep the write-in campaign "under the wraps," and within 15 minutes from the time it originated, the information was quite public all over town. Nothing underhanded was undertaken. The write-in slate was beaten, but not before the public became aware that Tuesday was election day.

Welcome back to Mayor Johnie Williams and Commissioners Ray Sudderth and Walter Hardage. We take pride in announcing in our news columns that you were elected by a majority of 80 persons—instead of 8!

We noticed the following note in a neighboring paper and they obviously found it in one of their exchanges. We only hope that our weekly efforts are held in such esteem by a few of our readers. We think the paper to which this note was addressed should feel very flattered.

NEWSPAPER RECORDS LIFE

When she renewed her subscription recently, a woman who has lived in this valley more than half a century enclosed a brief note thanking The News "for all that your paper has contributed to my life." She wrote:

"I have many fond memories of your newspaper and the people who have been connected with it. Not long ago when I was reading The Hermet News it occurred to me that in the files of your paper is the history of my life."

"Your paper recorded my birth, my childhood parties, my graduation from high school and later from college, my marriage, the arrival of each of my four children and the death of one of them—and now, in more recent years your columns have been recording the arrival, one by one of my grandchildren. I could go on indefinitely mentioning incidents in my life which have been 'written up' in The Hermet News. Is it any wonder that your paper means so much in our home and that we look forward eagerly to receiving it each week?"

Well, we suppose this woman's story is not much different than those that could be told by scores of other long-time Hermet News subscribers—but we think it was rather nice of her to write it and send it to us.

—The Hermet (Calif.) News

We were talking to Mrs. Sam Randol recently, and remarked that we were getting ready to retire from a part of our office work, and would try the role of a full-time mother.

Then we were discussing the fact that our mother-in-law had been overseeing our son during the day almost since his arrival. Mrs. Randol had a new approach to this, when she told us "maybe everyone doesn't feel that way, but I feel my responsibility more when I am caring for my grandchildren now, than I did when I was rearing my own children."

That is probably true of most grandmothers—and if all grandchildren are like Ronny, they are certainly a responsibility. Just ask Grandma!

Our young son sometimes is very observant, and when he discovers something he doesn't understand, he worries and worries. His father predicts ulcers for him at an early age if he continues to carry the weight of heavy problems on his shoulders.

He loves his bath and contentedly plays for as long as possible with his boats and other toys. But we had a catastrophe Sunday evening. He jumped up in the tub, holding out his chubby little dimpled hands and telling us something over and over. It took us a few seconds to realize the trouble. Sure enough, each little finger was graced with drawn lines which often occur when the skin is in water too long. He was positive his hands were shriveling and the only solution was to remove him from the bathtub.

Nothing like a lively household!

If you have a youngster at your house, you probably have ice cream in the refrigerator as much as possible, that is, if other little boys and girls are as fond of this frozen dessert as our Ronny is.

When Ronny was first learning to eat ice cream, he would often dip into the dish and get such a huge bite that the coldness would make him cry. In explaining that he should take small bites, we would tell him that the ice cream was "too cold." Since that time, he has always called ice cream "too cold."

But we like it too and like to vary this dessert with sauces of various kinds. Here is one that we like, maybe you will too.

Cotton Ginners Keep Pace with Progress Made By Producers

COLLEGE STATION—Texas cotton ginners today are operating plants designed and equipped to give cotton producers the best possible grades. But fifteen years ago, says E. H. Bush, extension cotton gin specialist, 25 percent of the state's cotton was docked by buyers because of rough preparation. In the past few years, he adds, this figure has dropped to less than half of one percent for all cotton ginned in Texas.

Bush believes the widespread interest among ginners in the Seven-Step Cotton Improvement Program is a big factor in this record. One of the seven steps in the program covers harvesting and ginning practices. Ginners during this same time, points out the specialist, have faced new problems brought on by the rapid spread of machine harvesting and regulations to control the pink bollworm.

These problems have been met by the installation of additional seed cotton cleaning and conditioning equipment and through educational training meetings for gin operators and employees. During the past year Bush used 93 7-Step and Ginners meetings in presenting his information aimed at further improving the ginning job and cutting costs. He made recommendations to individual ginners for machinery improvements totaling almost a half million dollars.

It has been estimated that work done by the extension cotton gin specialists amounts to an additional three million dollars each year for Texas cotton farmers.

Two Hundred Attend Legion Convention

Approximately 200 Legion and Auxiliary members attended the 18th district Legion Convention held in Hereford last weekend, April 2 and 3.

Some of the speakers at the confab were E. L. "Stonewall" Jackson, state commander; Miss Doris Anderson, State Auxiliary president; and Andy Rogers, Texas state senator from the 18th district.

The delegates registered at the Jim Hill Hotel all day Saturday and that evening they attended the banquet and dance at the hotel, which was enjoyed very much, says Russell Massey, Friona Legionnaire.

The business session of the convention was held on Sunday afternoon during which time things of importance to veterans were discussed.

Items brought up at the meeting were: the closing of the Veterans hospital in Amarillo and 18 others over the United States.

Each post in the 18th district has been asked to send a letter requesting that the hospital in Amarillo remain in operation. Each member of these posts will be asked to sign his name to this document. Legion officials hope this will be done as soon as possible so that copies can be mailed to the state commander, the district commander and to Senator Andy Rogers.

It was announced that there is legislation pending in Austin recommending the cutting of all veterans service-connections-pensions of less than 30 percent.

The delegates discussed the Texas House Veterans Land Board's recommendation to liquidate the land board in Texas.

The Legion announced a goal of 2000 more members in Texas by April 16, to help fight all of the above legislation.

On April 16, an "Aerial Round-up Breakfast" will be held at the Trade Winds Airport in Amarillo. All airplanes, available to veterans in the 18th district, will fly to Amarillo for the breakfast. Immediately following the breakfast, all interested Legionnaires will be given a free trip to Austin, via air, to put their united weight and influence in back of the fight against the bill to eliminate the veterans hospital in Amarillo and other legislation mentioned above.

The Tribune's windows have been dirty for at least 30 years. It's sort of habit forming.

Former Local Resident Wins Speedboat Races

Charlie B. Norton, former resident of the Farwell vicinity, and brother of Mrs. E. L. Cochran of Farwell and E. O. Norton of Bovina, won the world speedboat championship race in Corpus Christi recently.

Norton, now a resident of Jal, N. M., is one of the first eight men ever to win world championship honors in the speedboat racing competition. Seven thousand spectators braved 40-degree weather to watch Norton win the title in Class D Hydroplane race in the Division IV World Championships by beating 12 competitors in his 15 year old hydroplane speedboat.

During his 15 years of speedboat racing, Norton has won many plaques and trophies, including one for sportsmanship when he deliberately overturned his boat to avoid collision with a crippled speedboat and possibly injuring the driver. Norton had seriously considered not entering the races this season, thinking that he had a slim chance to win. Norton started speedboat racing in earnest sixteen years ago in a river near El Paso. He did not win the race that particular day, but he did gain determination which finally paid off in a world championship trophy.

Norton has resided in Jal for 10 years and is employed with El Paso Natural Gas Company as superintendent of field maintenance.

showing pictures of his work with the people in the mission territory. On this trip, Abbott collected supplies from various churches to be used in the mission work. The people in the area which Abbott serves are poverty stricken; therefore almost any kind of supplies can be used.

He mentioned that he made several trips each year just to secure necessities for his people. Clothing, furniture and food are the main types of items distributed by the missionary.

The Penitente sect, a Spanish nationality, which makes up the majority of the population there, traces its history back to the time of Coronado. In fact, the first settlers of this group were brought to this country by Coronado's soldiers. As might be expected in a civilization filled with people whose ancestors came from a tribal country, superstition reigns among the Penitente people. They are especially superstitious about death and burial, reports Abbott. Only a few will consent for their deceased friends or relatives to be buried in a coffin. The majority of the people insist that their dead be carried to the grave on a ladder-like contraption which has been used for generations in the same family.

Individuals react differently to religion, but for the most part, they are inclined to be doubtful of what is trying to be taught them. Abbott says, "When you finally win their confidence, they are really loyal people." In their present religious ideas, they believe it necessary to inflict self punishment to gain forgiveness for their sins. Malnutrition and poor health

Guests at the feast included Mrs. T. L. Pond, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Nowell, Darrell and Jaquetta, Mr. and Mrs. Claudel Nowell and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Stacey and Penny, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Kube and Bobby Kaye, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Harris and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leldon Phillips, Cindy and Macky, and Sherri and Mikala Austin.

PTA Officers Will Be Installed

Visitors from Missouri

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schubert of Russellville, Mo., arrived in Farwell Thursday for a short visit. The Schuberts were investigating the possibilities of irrigating their farm land which is located four miles north of town on the state line.

Thursday night the Schuberts visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huntgate of Clovis, who were celebrating their 37th wedding anniversary. Other guests in the Huntgate home included Mr. and Mrs. Olan Schleuter of Texico and Mrs. Archie Russell of Russellville, Mo. Mrs. Huntgate is a sister of Olan Schleuter.

produce serious problems because food is high, the growing season is too short for much food production, and the people do not know how to prepare food for a healthy diet. For the most part, the people eat beans and tortillas, but with beans 17c per pound, few families can afford the luxury of having beans at every meal.

Several times each year, Abbott hooks a huge trailer behind his pickup and drives to this part of the country to pick up supplies. He always returns with a full trailer and truck because all the churches he contacts are extra generous with food and clothing for the mission inhabitants.

The people live in very simple adobe houses with dirt floors. Most of the homes are practically without furniture. Abbott remarked that he took a table and some chairs to a home where the couple had been married for 23 years and had never had a table in their home.

In February alone, Abbott distributed over 14,000 articles of clothing to the people in his territory. Most of the children do not have shoes, yet they walk to and from church and school through snow practically all year. Last year on June 28, three inches of snow fell in Penasco. On August 6, six additional inches fell. On the hottest day of the year the thermometer registered 88 degrees.

Abbott mentioned that the farming done by these people is very primitive; so much so that it seemed to him to come from a page of the Old Testament. Grain thrashing is done by the women who take shovels full of the grain and throw it up into the air, allowing the wind to remove the chaff.

Plans are now being made to erect another building in Espanola for mission work purposes. The mission now meets in the living room of the Abbott home—with sometimes as many as 67 present at once. The new building will house approximately 100 people and is being built at a cost of a little less than $800.

Abbott believes that smaller missions, more strategically located, will be a more successful operation because the people there are somewhat clannish. In the new building in the mission, a community center will be made. At this center the ladies will be taught to sew and cook. They will also be given the opportunity to use a washing machine. Indoor and outdoor games will be provided for the children at the community centers.

The schools in the mission area teach the children to speak and read English, but all church services are given in Spanish because it is difficult for the older ones to learn a new language.

Abbott told of the trouble which originates at the Vacation Bible School sessions each year, and the trouble is not with the youngsters! The older people see the crafts and other items which the children have made and they want to make them, too. He said they were more fascinated by what the children learned to do, than what they could learn to do themselves.

Mrs. Abbott is employed by the Atomic Energy Commission Lab in Los Alamos which is operated by the University of California. Aside from her regular duties, she helps in the mission centers and in the church.

Abbott explained that in this territory, missionary work was a "very pioneer thing." And when he mentioned that his guaranteed salary when he went to this area to work, was only $39 per month, it was easy to see that he was a pioneer in the field.

One can readily tell that Abbott thoroughly enjoys his work in this mission field, when his face brightens and he says "I get a blessing

CROP Men Visit To Explain Program

Rev. E. J. Keith was ill during the first part of the week with a light case of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Rondal Price of Amarillo were weekend guests with her parents, Mr. and Ms. J. R. Thornton.

Rev. Carroll Jones and Rev. Ellis Todd were in Farwell Wednesday and called at other Parmer County points in the interest of a new project being sponsored by the Christian Rural Overseas Relief Program (CROP).

The project is known as "Texas Friendship for Korea," and is a cooperative effort of the Church World Service, American Korean Foundation, and Heifer Project, Inc.

Rev. Jones, who is a volunteer worker for CROP and pastor of the Progress Methodist Church, has in the past indicated his enthusiasm for the program, and is continuing his work wholeheartedly. Rev. Todd is area director of CROP, from Plainview.

The two men made an appeal to all persons in the area who are interested in assisting in any way the Christian work being undertaken for war-torn Korea.

They met with and secured the cooperation of County Farm Agent Joe Jones and HD Agent Corinne Stinson in making the project available to boys and girls 4-H Clubs, and they reported that the move had the endorsement of the Extension Service.

Aside from cash contributions which will be used to purchase foodstuffs, animals, and material, many different items can be put to good use and are urgently needed, says Jones.

Persons who have such small items as flower and garden seed, field seed, shovels, hoes, and hand tools, and other such fundamental supplies are urged to get in contact with him.

Because of his great interest in the work, Rev. Jones plans to leave on a ship bound for Korea this summer, and he indicated they would embark from Houston about June 15.

The ship will be loaded with supplies and contributions, and Rev. Jones will have an opportunity of caring for much of the distribution.

He is scheduled to meet with the county Home Demonstration council April 25, to explain the program to them.

"I never back up for an idiot!" yelled one driver.

"That's all right," said the other as he shifted into reverse, "I always do."

"That neighbor of yours is quite a gossip, isn't she?" said one.

"I don't like to say," replied the other. "All I know is that when she came back from her vacation this summer, her tongue was terribly sunburned."

Barmer County Farm Bureau Directors met Monday night in Friona for a regular business meeting.

Ellison had reported that he would present his resignation as president at next month's meeting.

A motion was made and carried that the Parmer County Farm Bureau contact congressmen and senators opposing self employment social security for farmers.

Letters from Representative Jesse Osborn were read, stating his support of the Farm Bureau in opposition to the new proposed state assessed ad valorem taxes.

Plans were made for three or four area county Farm Bureau meetings to which J. Walter Hammond, Texas Farm Bureau president, and Al Grauer, executive director, will be invited.

Members present included Raymond Euler, T. E. Lovett, Gilbert Kaltwasser, A. R. McCutchan, Raymond Schueler, Kenneth Neill, J. T. Jones and T. L. Kent.

Austin—With less than a week remaining in the current Motor Vehicle Inspection period during which motorists must get their autos inspected.

"There is less than a week remaining," Garrison said, "in which about one-third of the car owners in Texas must have their vehicles inspected if they are to continue operating them on the streets and highways."

Meanwhile, W. J. Elliott, Chief of the Texas Highway Patrol, said that State Patrolmen would begin enforcement of the law on April 15th against operators of cars not bearing the 1955 approved inspection sticker.

"We are making this last ditch appeal," Garrison added, "for car owners to visit their inspection stations without delay if inconvenience is to be avoided."

Several High Plains counties have been nip-and-tuck in recent months so far as irrigation development is concerned.

During the month of February, 96 permits were issued in Parmer, which exceeded all others in the district, comprised of 13 counties.

Bailey had 35, Castro 27, Deaf Smith 24, and Lamb 55.

Parmer County was nudged out of the lead in the completed wells department, losing to Hockley, Lamb and Lubbock.

The scholarship was one of two awarded to the two most outstanding seniors at New Mexico A&M this year.

been promised nothing, but that they were hopeful that some of their arguments had fallen on attentive ears.

"Everyone who went seemed to feel better about chances for getting something done than they did before we went," commented the Bovina grain man. "It was an entirely different reception from the one we had from Berger recently."

(Walter Berger is a top-ranking USDA advisor who met with grain producers in Amarillo recently. He is said to have recommended the present policy of the department to Secretary Benson.)

U. S. Representative Walter Rogers served as host of the group while they were in Washington, and commented on the sessions in his weekly news letter to the 18th Congressional District.

Among other things, he said, "The secretary was visibly impressed, which incidently is unusual. He remained in the meeting for its full length, which is also unusual. His able assistants were gathering figures together before we got out of the building."

"The secretary promised us that he would thoroughly review it (the grain support problem) and re-evaluate it with the hope of being able to make some adjustments. The group made a deep and lasting impression on the people in Washington."

Anderson said he and the ten other men making the trip were grateful for the full cooperation accorded them by Rep. Rogers, and he praised the congressman's work.

Sen. Price Daniel also acknowledged presence of the men in Washington in his newsletter. He said, "We are convinced that the present parity support price fixed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson on grain sorghum is unfair to the producers of this important crop, and have indicated our views to the Secretary and the President."

Indications are that the grand jury will have an unusually light "workout," as there are "only four or five matters up for investigation," according to Sheriff Chas. Lovelace.

Several civil cases definitely have been set for the petit jury, however, and this week District Judge E. A. Bills released the docket.

To come before he and the jury will be:

O. B. Sanders vs. Guy Nickels, a suit for damages; Lou Ada Lambert vs. W. H. Long, suit for damages; John E. Hall vs. Cliff Treinen, suit for damages; Doris Robertson and child vs. Transcon Lines, suit for damages; and G. C. Paulk vs. G. A. Bandy, a dispute involving a real estate commission.

BOYD—

One reason Boyd has been attracted to Farwell is the peculiarity of trucking regulations in various states. They can pull "double" trailers from California, Arizona and New Mexico, but must shorten the length of the freighters entering Texas and traveling eastward.

A terminal such as the one planned will make changing over practical, according to Mayor Williams.

a plate glass front and will have no partitions with its 50x100 dimensions.

Gus Rockway and a partner named Hearst will bring the stock to Friona from their business in Sudan, says Williams, and will have from $75,000 to $100,000 in merchandise.

Williams will have no interest in the business except as leaser of the building.

Texico Sewer System Begins Operation

Operation of the Texico sewer system was begun recently, marking a milestone in the progress of the community, announced Mayor Scotty Levins.

The home-business combination of Mrs. T. E. Roth was the first unit to be tied on to the line.

Although the system is now in the process of being installed, lines already laid will be placed into use as the need arises, and Levins said the construction firm has indicated they will begin work on the disposal plant next week.

FARM BUREAU—

a free market system," Mr. King said.

He pointed out that agriculture must eventually return to its position as an important segment of our free enterprise system, or "we must proceed to create a fixed system in which farm prices are set in Washington, and all farmers regimented into tight crop monopoly such as we already have in tobacco production."

Mr. King further explained that his opposition is based on the belief that government subsidy in any form tends to create over-production, which puts farmers in a weak bargaining position in the economy.

Mr. King called for turning away from rigid price supports, but sticking to the idea of gradually so as not to suddenly destroy the program. He favored a trend toward lower supports until "we get down on a basis where the government guarantee is not a prime factor in promoting production."

"My principal interest," said Congressman Hagen, "is in the man that I consider to be a typical farmer. That is a man who lives on the land, who intends to bring up his family in the business of farming, who is not merely an agent for some big city bank where they are both making a profit. Nor is he a man who is in such a low scale of economic activity that he is merely selling his labor or the land as a marginal scratcher of the soil or a tenant for some large landowner."

Mr. Hagen continued by saying that last year he voted for rigid supports. But, he continued, "in working in this Congress trying to get what I consider equity for my cotton producers in California, I have come to the conclusion that one of the effects of a high level support program ultimately will be the forcing out of this typical farmer that I am most interested in, in favor of some sub-marginal producer or some agent for a lending institution."

Mr. Shuman, who served as moderator, pointed out that rigid supports place a premium on inefficiencies and result in shifting producing from areas best adapted, to areas that are marginal production areas or that aren't as well adapted to producing the crop.

Congressmen Hagen referred to a statement in the minority report which accompanied H. R. 12, which said that the problems of the basic crop producers are being transferred to the producers of non-basic commodities in quota situations.

"I support a program of supports for farm prices, but don't feel that the present—the mere continuation of 90 percent of parity is the answer to the present huge problem we have with surpluses and declining farm income," Mr. Hagen said.

Mr. Hagen added, "I don't say that the farmer should be reduced to a disaster level of support, but certainly the level of support should be one which does not encourage non-farmers to get into the field with an assured return on their investment and thereby in a quota situation—which will, I think, inevitably occur—force out the typical legitimate farmer."

Proponents of the bill are saying that the reason the 90 per cent supports need to be reinstated is that the present variable support system (enacted last year) is further reducing farm income. As a matter of fact, the variable supports have not yet become operative and will not be in force until the 1955 harvests. Therefore, it seems reasonable that the variable supports could not have caused a continuation of falling farm income. The burdensome surpluses of farm commodities built up in recent years are the main factors depressing farm prices. These surpluses were built up under the system of high rigid supports.

Farm Bureau is in favor of reducing these surpluses through expansion of foreign markets and through a more realistic free enterprise system of prices here in the United States. Farm Bureau is in favor of giving variable price supports a chance to reduce the surpluses.

IMPROVEMENTS AT LAUNDRY

Extensive rewiring and renovation of appliances has been made at the Farwell Laundry, say Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cannon, owners. They announce that further improvements will be undertaken soon, also.

IS RECUPERATING

Karl Gast, who recently underwent surgery, is reported to be recuperating nicely at present. He is able to be up and around now.

Band Students Win In Canyon Contest

Two Farwell band students won first places in the band contest held at West Texas State College in Canyon, Saturday, April 2. Dick Felts won a first with a baritone solo and Charlotte Tate placed first with a flute solo.

Included among Farwell students winning second places in the contest were Johnnie Armstrong, Gloria Dial, Sharon Coffman, Ree Stroup, Mitchell Walls, Johnny Lovelace, Doris Pond and Douglas Hillock.

The brass sextet and the saxophone quartet ensembles both won third places as also did Judy Garrett.

On Monday, April 18, the music department will present an assembly program which will feature music by the choir. The public is urged to attend this musical program as this will be the choir's final performance, according to music director, Mrs. Shelby Jobs.

Instrumental solos and ensembles will also present numbers at the assembly program.

Beverly Cassidy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cassidy of Texico visited her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Cummings in Friona last weekend.

HOPPERS—

Even more vividly do we remember the cussin' Mose Glasscock gave us one afternoon when we were a boy, and a victim of circumstances. It's funny to us now, but at the time it was quite a serious thing.

Several weeks before the encounter with Mose, we had been a visitor at his place with our mother and father. We were admiring their fine watermelon patch, and Nina, Mose's wife, assured us that anytime we wanted some watermelon, to just come out and help ourself.

We took her at her word, and that proved to be our undoing. Maybe it was because Mose wasn't aware of the invitation.

Some time after that, we pedaled out on our bicycle one afternoon to see if we could arrange to do some boll pulling for Mose, and not finding anyone at the house, we felt disappointed in having made what seemed to us to be a rather lengthy trip in vain.

However, our eye fell upon the watermelon patch south of the house, and we remembered the invitation of Nina a few weeks earlier. We decided to accept, and so we crawled through the fence, broke open a melon, and sat down to enjoy ourselves.

We had hardly gotten started when we looked up to see a cloud of dust approaching. As it drew nearer, we could make out Mose atop a jolting wagon, whipping two horses into their greatest speed.

He appeared to be in a great hurry, and reminded us of a Roman charioteer. Needless to say, he appeared impressive. It rather surprised us to see him turn through a gate in the field in which we sat and come charging up to us.

Things are a little vague at this point, but we do remember that we started to smile and offer a friendly greeting. Our attempt at hospitality was interrupted with a barrage of words the like of which we had never before—and not since—heard.

For a moment or so we thought about defending ourselves, but Mose was so mad that we were glad to take his suggestion to remount our bicycle and leave in great haste.

It later developed that some other of our youthful associates had paid Mose's watermelon patch a visit a night or two before and made off with or ruined most of his crop.

We never did quite fully recover from this dreadful encounter, and we now are a good deal more careful about taking invitations too seriously.

WARNING: The staff of The Tribune will go to Amarillo next weekend for the Panhandle Press convention. Our offices will be closed Friday and Saturday, April 14-15.

Delinting Plant New Industry In Parmer County Agriculture

Parmer County's newest industry—which is allied with agriculture—is the Hub Delinting plant, which began operation only last Monday. It is located west of the intersection of Highway 86 (west of Bovina) and the Friona-Muleshoe farm-to-market road.

This plant represents the only delinting facilities in Parmer and Castro counties, and is one of only three of its type in West Texas, according to Leo Ruzicka, who is managing the firm.

Ruzicka is now a busy individual, and he expects to be even more so as planting season approaches. So far this year, he says, Hub Delinting Plant has delinted 15,000 pounds of planting seed, and that's little more than a start.

Activity will continue to increase right up until planting time, believes the manager, and he is looking forward to a season full of activity.

Why A Delinter?
People not intimately acquainted with cotton farming might wonder why such a plant as the one at Hub—representing a $40,000 investment—would be necessary for such a seemingly simple operation as taking the "fuzz" off of cottonseed.

The answer is not as simple as the problem, because a plant such as the one at Hub does more than just get rid of the "fuzz." Trash consisting of pieces of stalk, hulls, leaves and dirt are taken from the seed as it passes through the plant, insuring a much more uniform product.

Out of 2000 pounds of cottonseed which were run through last week, says Ruzicka, 200 pounds of sand was removed.

Odd-sized seed, or seed which has no body inside it, is eliminated in the processing, also adding to the quality of the planting seed. Better stands are insured because more good seed goes through the planter.

The delinting operation itself is not too complex, and the lint is removed from the seed by tiny saw teeth just as is the case in regular ginning.

The gin stands in this delinting plant are equipped with 141 saws per stand, where most cotton gins have 80 or 90 saws per stand. It is evident that delinting is more meticulous work than ginning.

As a person stands and watches the unit in operation, it is surprising to note how many different discharges are made for waste material. Some might be surprised to find there is anything left when the seed finally comes out of the machinery.

The final trip of the seed is through a Gustafson "slurry-type" treater which impregnates the seed against pre-germination diseases.

Capacity of the delinting machinery is about 1½ tons of seed per hour.

There are several units in the delinting plant which operate almost independently, and might be considered separate machines except that each performs only one action at a time, and that all the units are required to do the complete delinting, culling, cleaning, and treating job.

See the pictures in connection with the story which illustrate better than words how the machinery functions, and how they are made to work as a "team" in processing the end product.

Owners of the plant include Ruzicka, W. P. Elliott, Walter Mabry, Dalton Caffey, James Mabry, O. D. Bingham and Doyle Elliott.

(See additional pictures of the delinting plant on page 8).

LOADING 'ER IN

Anton Demel, plant employee, tosses a shovel of bulk cottonseed into the hopper of the Hub Delinting Plant, starting a long series of processes. The cottonseed is conveyed from the bottom of the hopper by an auger and elevated into the cleaning and culling mechanism. The spout over the hopper returns cottonseed for another trip if the unit becomes overloaded.

No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages . . .

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motoramic Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

The beauty's built in—not bolted on!
Chevrolet's beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher!
You see Body by Fisher on lots of the high-priced cars—and only Chevrolet has it in the low-price field!

Today's most modern engines!
That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. All bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry!

A drive to suit your driving!
There's silky, peppery Powerglide (even better this year!), new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Synchron-Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want!
Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all are available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish. They're optional at extra-cost—and worth it!

Come take the key!
There have never been so many good reasons why you should drive a Chevrolet!

Friona Takes Honors In Literary Events

Friona came home with many first place honors at the literary events held in Vega last Friday. Although Friona students didn't win in every phase of the contests they came very close. The towns that participated were Vega, Bovina, Adrian, Farwell, Lazbuddie, Walcott and Friona. Events were interscholastic league contests.

nett; and in the high school, Ann writing.

The contests began in Vega about 10 a. m. and continued on through 11 p. m. although most of the people from Friona left much earlier than that because the last two hours or so, were spent in the volleyball event.

Friona Concert Association To Launch Drive

The Friona Concert Association will launch its annual membership drive the week after Easter. All newcomers within the county are invited to become members of this association. If anyone who is interested in purchasing a membership card is not contacted personally, the cards will be on sale at the State Line Tribune in Farwell; Bovina Drug in Bovina; and Bi-Wise Drug, Friona Star office and City Drug in Friona.

Other programs receiving favorable comment from available literature are:

The Alard Quartet—each member of this quartet is a gifted young artist in his own right, and in a relatively short period of time, they have blended their talents to the point where a remarkable unity has emerged. The members of this quartet hold teaching fellowships at the University of Texas and are studying music with Horace Britt.

Harrison Wood, the noted correspondent and commentator makes people think, and makes them laugh. The anecdotes of his visits with world leaders would fill an evening's program and he uses them generously in all of his lectures. A noted student of global demographic trends, Harrison Wood participated in the very first conferences leading up to the signing of the Charter of the United Nations. Walter Winchel says: "Harrison Wood adds the paprika touch to 'This Changing World.'"

There will be a meeting of the board members on Tuesday, April 12, at which time a tentative program for the next year will be selected and final plans on the membership drive will be completed.

HAS SURGERY

Keith Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Black had an appendectomy Monday at the local hospital.

Dalton Caffey, superintendent of Friona Schools for eight years, last week resigned his position, and it was immediately announced that Dillie Kelley, high school principal, will take his place.

Kelley will assume the superintendency July 1.

Caffey was graduated from high school at Anson, Texas and then went to Hardin-Simmons University where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1936.

He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of Texas in August, 1941.

Caffey started his teaching career in Stith, Jones County, at a school for girls in 1931 and left there in the year 1936.

He explained that, at that time, it was necessary for a student to attend college for only one year before embarking on a teaching career. After 1931, Dalton went to summer school and taught the other nine months of the year.

In 1936 and part of '37, he was at Hardin Simmons as director of their demonstration school (where students who were majoring in teaching practiced).

He had his first job as superintendent in 1937 at Imperial (Pecos County) and was there until 1947, at which time he came to Friona to become the superintendent of schools.

When Dalton arrived in Friona the enrollment was 350 for both grade and high school. Since he has been here, he has seen it almost triple in size to the present enrollment of 840.

Since he has been in Friona, many things have happened. One of the most tragic was the loss of the high school by fire in 1950. The only part saved was the gym which is still in use, although a brand new gym has been built along with a beautiful auditorium.

The present high school was rebuilt and completed in 1951 and while in the position of superintendent, the cafeteria was built, in 1950, and the old grade school was renovated and rebuilt, this too being done in 1950. More recently, the 13-unit primary school was completed and is now being used.

When asked his reason or reasons for resigning, Dalton didn't have very much to say, except that he needed more time for his private business, farming. Dalton is married and the father of two children, Kim, 14, and Cynthia, 12, who, of course, attend Friona schools.

Kelley was graduated from high school at Montalba, Texas, which is located 10 miles north of Palestine.

DALTON CAFFEY

He attended college at North Texas State Teachers College starting in 1940 and receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in 1947, after taking four years out for time spent in the Army. After getting out of the service he went back to college under the G. I. Bill.

Dillie received his Master of Business Education degree from NTS in 1950 although he had taken a job at Imperial, Texas as principal of the high school in 1947, after receiving his BS degree.

In 1949, Dillie left Imperial and came to Friona and has held the same position since arriving, principal of the Friona High School.

Kelley commented that he thinks Friona has the best faculty this year that it has ever had since he has been here. This includes both grade and high school, he adds.

Grade School Principal Turns in Resignation

Nat Fleming Show Will Be April 12

The Nat Fleming Show, sponsored by the Friona Lions Club, will be presented in the Friona High School auditorium on Tuesday, April 12.

The headliner of the show, Nat Fleming, is a brother of G. W. Fleming of Mills and Fleming Gin at the Hub. Others that will participate are Buck White, Pee-wee Stewart, Elmer Laurance, Pete Robinson and Tommy Bruce.

The above group do a song and comedy act and are, at the present time, featured on KFDX-TV and radio in Wichita Falls.

Admission prices are 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for children.

Money made at the show will go into the Lion's Club Civic Improvement Fund.

Bud Elmore returned home Monday from the local hospital, where he underwent surgery Thursday. He is doing fine at this time.

J. M. Watson, Nelson Welch and Rene Snead have gone fishing.

New Drive-In Now Under Construction

Tastee Cream Drive-In, as it will be called when completed, is under construction in Friona at the present time. The project was started about a week ago and it is hoped that it will be completed within two or three weeks.

Kenneth Williams, who is a brother-in-law of Jim Maynard of Friona, will be the owner-operator of the establishment. Williams was more recently from Ohio, although he spent most of his life in Oklahoma. He says that he is going to make his home in Friona and is living here at the present time. Williams is married and the father of two boys, ages two and five.

The drive-in will be 18 by 30 feet and will be constructed of haydite concrete blocks. Although it will feature ice cream, Williams says he will handle a complete line of sandwiches, short orders and fountain drinks.

The building is set back from the curb to allow the customers plenty of parking space while awaiting their orders, he adds.

T. A. Shirley Buys Friona Cafe

Last Thursday, T. A. Shirley took over the business at the Friona Cafe, operated by Bertie Stowers for the past two and a half years.

Shirley plans to continue farming and has left the operation of the business in the hands of Herb Franklin, who recently managed a restaurant in Muleshoe.

Mr. Shirley was in the restaurant business some years ago in Watsonville, Calif.

Franklin says that he plans to run the business in much the same manner as his predecessor, with the same hours and closing days.

Mr. Shirley invites everyone to come in and meet him and the manager.

The building is owned by T. J. Crawford of Friona.

Fire Damages Electrical Equipment

Firemen were called Monday evening around six to extinguish a fire, of undetermined origin, south of the disposal plant in Friona.

Chief Bainum believes that the fire started in a gully, better known as the "draw" and spread up over the north side of the railroad tracks.

It took the firemen about 10 minutes to put out the blaze. Damage to a telephone pole was quite severe. The pole was up right but if the fire had gone undetected for a short time longer the entire pole would have been severed.

Minstrel Nets Over $400 for Hospital

The Negro Minstrel given by the Lions Club of Friona Tuesday, March 29, has netted $425, to date, with the ticket sale from Bovina not having been reported as yet.

The money made at the minstrel was turned over to the Parmer County Hospital to aid the hospital with their building fund.

The show had a duration of about an hour and a half with a very good crowd in attendance, says Charles Stokes, secretary of the local club.

Gospel Meeting Begins April 15

A gospel meeting will begin Friday night, April 15, at the 10th Street Church of Christ and will continue until Sunday night, April 24. Brother Kenneth Avaritt of Tucumcari, N. M., will do the preaching.

The public is invited to attend each service.

From South Dakota

Elton Wyly and son, Clyde, of Pierre, South Dakota, came to Tucumcari, to visit his brothers and families, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Wyly and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Dewane Wyly. On Thursday and Friday, they were in Friona to visit another brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wyly and children and other relatives.

WMU Honors Juniors And Seniors Friday

The WMU of the Friona Baptist Church held a banquet last Friday night at the church, in honor of the juniors and seniors of Friona High School. Approximately 71 members of the student body and faculty were present.

The theme of "spring" was used with Marcum Floral Shop of Friona furnishing the flowers. The floral shop also helped the ladies with the decorating. Those on the decoration committee were Mrs. Clyde Fields, chairman, and Mrs. Glenn Hughes.

On the invitation and place card committee were Mesdames G. B. Buske, chairman, Sloan Osborn, M. C. Osborn, Ralph Miller, C. W. Dixon and Douglas Connelly. All of the ladies of the church furnished and prepared food and served it to the guests.

Those on the program committee were Mrs. Roy V. Miller, chairman; Mrs. H. T. Magness and Miss Tacy Smith.

The decorations were as follows: the centerpiece on the speakers table was a large bouquet of jonquils and iris. All of the other tables had a miniature white fence running down the entire length, with climbing flowers. At the base of the fences was shredded green paper for the grass.

On the piano was a potted plant with pink net umbrella covered with flowers over the arrangement. Six different types of flowers were used in the place cards which were of a folder type and contained the evening's program and the menu.

The toastmaster at the banquet, Clyde Hays, began the program with a talk on "The Big Blow" (March Wind). Brother Melvin Fields, pastor of the local church, followed Hays with the invocation entitled, "Jack In The Pulpit." The menu, which was also listed on the place cards was very unique in presentation. The title was formed to appear as, "me and you" (Me-N-U). Delicacies were listed as Love Apple Juice (tomato juice), Easter Bunny (name given to rolled roast), Playing Marbles (potatoes), Spring roasting ears? (corn), Blades of grass, (green beans), Mayflowers (gelatin salad), Cloverleaves (rolls), buttercrups (butter), April showers (tea) and Strawberry Patch was the name given to the strawberry-marshmallow dessert.

Style Show Draws Good Crowd Thursday

The Federated Women's Clubs of Friona which consist of The Friona Woman's Club, The Modern Study Club and The Progressive Study Club presented a spring and summer style show at the high school auditorium last Thursday. It is reported that a very good crowd attended.

Approximately $300 net profit was made at the affair. This amount was put into the club house fund.

The theme for the show was "Sunday in the Park" with Mrs. Ralph Wilson as general chairman. She worked with a committee composed of members from all three federated clubs in Friona.

The stage was set in a park scene with the following businesses contributing; Marcum Flower Shop donated the flowers, the Friona State Bank and Parmer County Implement Company gave the ladies the use of two benches and Glenn Hughes supplied the greenery used in the decorations, and also did the landscaping.

The clowns on the benches were Mrs. Otho Whitefield and Mrs. Jimmy Baxter who were dressed in pink and white candy-striped clown suits. One of them passed out lemonade while the other gave away balloons for the benefit of the children in the show.

Eight of the models had their hair done especially for the show by the Vogue Beauty Shop in Friona. Allen's Jewelry of Friona also contributed to the show. Harman's Clothing Store in Bovina showed some of their latest styles using models from their township. All together, there were about 120 models who took part in the affair.

Things included in the style show were play clothes, party clothes and everyday clothes for small children; then there was a division which included 9-12 year olds; next came the 8th grade graduation clothes modeled by the eighth graders (both boys and girls). The fashions for high school students were next which included casuals and dress-up styles, fashions for young women were shown after this and then the older women's fashions were modeled. Complete ensembles were worn by the latter group of ladies.

North Plains Gin sponsored Eugenia Landrum and Phyllis Fairchild. Eugenia modeled a waltz length gown of white cotton, designed and made by her mother, Mrs. Ray Landrum. The gown consisted of 130 yards of cotton lace sewn on net. Phyllis also wore a waltz length gown, of brown disciplined cotton.

The L & H Gin sponsored Denise Magness who wore a two-piece yellow dress. The border of the skirt was imprinted with a hoop design with little french poodles jumping through the rings.

West Hub Gin sponsored Loretta O'Brian who modeled a full cotton print skirt with a blouse to match.

Mrs. H. K. Kendrick was the mistress of ceremonies and Mrs. Roy V. Miller and Mrs. L. F. Lillard played the background music.

Friona Legion Talks Recreation Program

The Friona post of the American Legion met Tuesday evening and discussed the convention in Hereford, the roundup breakfast, upkeep of the Friona Cemetery and the possibility of a summer recreation program.

During the discussion about the convention, it was brought up that the letter to be written and signed by the local members should be accomplished as soon as possible (see story on convention elsewhere in paper.) It was announced at Tuesday's meeting that some of the local members are planning to attend the roundup breakfast in Amarillo on April 16.

A few of them expressed the hope that they would be able to go on to Austin.

Joe Brummett, post commander, appointed a committee of Ralph Taylor, Russell Massey and Casey Adams, to check into and see what could be done to improve the appearance of the Friona Cemetery. The Legion will work on this project in co-operation with the cemetery committee now in operation.

"There is a possibility that a new well will have to be provided, trees planted and the feasibility of a caretaker will be considered. The latter will, undoubtedly, require a salary and this is to be financed, we hope, through donations and programs under consideration for sponsorship by the local post," says Russell Massey, local member.

It is reported by Massey that the local group is working on a plan to establish summer recreation activities for the students. Under this plan they hope to be able to sponsor a softball team and install shuffle boards, card tables and domino tables at the Legion Hall.

Thursday afternoon, today, several members drove around the county to try and meet all the new residents for the purpose of increasing membership, interest and activity in the Legion.

Any veteran or American Legion member of an adjoining community who is interested, is welcome to attend the meetings and take part in the activities. Those interested may contact Joe Brummett, Russell Massey, Lloyd Mingo, Ralph Taylor or any other Legion member.

The next regular meeting of the Legion will be April 19.

If you see any sad sacks running around FHS, please don't call the dog pound! It's only members of the junior class, in a hurry to finish the decorations for the junior-senior banquet. They have worked so hard to have something special for the seniors to remember.

It seems to be a favorite hobby of the seniors to try to guess the theme of the banquet. Wonder what it could be? The big occasion will be April 9, at the school cafeteria.

Students really enjoyed being out of school Friday, and school will dismiss for the Easter holidays Friday and Monday. See you at school Tuesday morning kids!

Home economics II girls are cooking this week, with lab work for a complete meal. The halls certainly smell nice. But the girls just didn't have enough food for 180 students. The Only COMPLETE Line of Fertilizers In Parmer County!

We are proud to remind farmers that Kendrick Fertilizer is the only place in Parmer County where a complete fertilizer line is featured.

Popular agricultural ammonia, or anhydrous ammonia, is, of course, our vapor or "liquid" fertilizer.

However, we call your attention to our large and complete stock of Phillips sacked fertilizers in all needed ratios.

You can find it "all under one roof" here at Kendrick's, and we are always glad to help you work out a program that will pay off.

WANT TO KNOW MORE ABOUT YOUR FRIENDS

Butane - Propane?

IS IT A LIQUID OR A VAPOR?

Both! First, it is compressed under high pressure to change this oil field gas into liquid form.

Your fuel remains liquid in Blanton's storage tank, and is delivered to you in this form. But when you turn on your gas jets, the liquid remains in your tank while only vapor produced from this liquid passes through your burners.

In your tank, Butane-Propane gas or vapor reaches a pressure of many pounds. Before it gets to your burners, regulators reduce this pressure to ounces.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BUTANE AND PROPANE GAS?

Butane is a lower pressure fuel than Propane, and builds up less pressure in your tank than Propane.

When a tank is filled with Butane, cold weather reduces pressure inside the tank. This pressure continues to reduce until the outside temperature reaches the freezing point.

Under the same weather conditions, Propane, on the other hand, is not affected by low outside temperatures. Adequate operating pressure can be maintained in a tank filled with Propane even when the outside temperature gets below freezing.

In areas of extreme cold weather, a mixture of Butane and Propane may be more efficient. Your dealer is the best judge as to the kind of fuel you should use. You can rely on his recommendations.

WESTERN PUMPS CONTINUE TO INCREASE IN POPULARITY

This well is set on 280 feet, and is pumping from about 260 feet, including an allowance for drawdown. The Western Pump is equipped with six stages, and is powered through a 6-to-5 gearhead ratio. The well was drilled and the pump installed in December of last year.

Wilbur, who has run the pump about three weeks, says he has not had an opportunity to check the fuel consumption, but believes that it will be satisfactory. The engine pulls the pump easily, and is powered by natural gas.

"I am well satisfied with this Western Pump," says Wilbur, and Bovina Supply is pleased to have been able to install this unit for him.

Western Pumps are increasing in demand with every passing week. We urge you to stop in and see why Western is the best deep-well turbine pump for this part of the Plains.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

"You cannot really help men by having the government tax them to do for them what they can and should do for themselves." (From the Texas Tax Journal).

From the Dallas Morning News, in an article called, "Political 'Care'—Not Medical Care," appears this statement: "Eight of every ten American workers have hospitalization insurance." Most of the others could have such protection if they wanted it. These are things we hope you will remember when you read frequent proposals for a government health plan, designed not to help you, but to obligate you to its proponents while they tell you which doctor and hospital to use, if you can get in when they tell you to go.

You have heard quite a bit about the desperate plight of farmers who may be forced to plant and harvest "dollar and a half maize" the last few weeks. The fact of the matter is, as you know, that the lowest published figure for 70% supports has been $1.58, not $1.50. A further fact of the matter is that the latest national figure for 70% is not a "dollar and a half," nor even $1.58, but $1.78; 20c above the other published figure, and 28c above the "street talk figure." We believe the market will exceed the highest of these.

On the subject of government rigid or flexible supports. It might be well to take a look at the proponents of each and see who is actually plugging for the tiller of the soil—First, who insists on 90% to 100% "rigid" supports without regard for supply or demand? Here they are: Some (not all) elevator and grain storage companies and individuals; many bankers; the smallest farm organization in America; the Communist Party of America; and the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO).

Now who believes there is hope for a more stable market under less government control? The largest farm organization in the world, whose voting members receive at least fifty one per cent of their income from farming or ranching, and who renew their membership voluntarily (not by "check off methods") every year. Which group is actually interested in the welfare of the American Farmer? Think it over.

Consider this: Whoso boasteth himself of a false gift is like clouds and wind without rain. Proverbs 25:14.

These lint rolls which are gathered up by "Jess," a plant employee, are the only salable by-product of the delinting process. They are collections of lint from the seed, and are very low in quality so far as cotton is concerned. The lint usually is sold to furniture and mattress manufacturers, where it is satisfactorily put to use.

Donald Jesko Assigned To Colorado Camp

Pvt. Donald R. Jesko, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jesko of Muleshoe, has arrived at mile-high Fort Carson, Colo., at the foot of Pike's Peak, where he will undergo eight weeks of basic combat training.

Pvt. Jesko has been assigned for training with Battery "A" of the famed 23rd Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion (Automatic Weapons), part of the famed 8th Infantry "Golden Arrow" Division.

His first eight weeks of training—rigorous, intensive and thorough—will stress the role of the infantryman in combat. A specially-trained corps of instructors—many of them seasoned combat veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict—will teach him how to work with others as a fighting team. He will learn how to fire the M-1 rifle, the carbine and other light infantry weapons expertly. Bayonet drill will prepare him for close-combat fighting.

Parade drill, cross-country marches, overnight bivouacs and calisthenics will condition him physically for Army life. Also, he will receive practical instruction in mine detection, map reading and chemical, biological and radiological warfare. Much of his time will be spent in the classroom studying such subjects as traditions of the military service, sanitation, first aid, current events, personal hygiene, military courtesy and supply economy. All are designed to acquaint him fully with his new responsibilities as a soldier.

Fort Carson, named after the illustrious Indian fighter, Kit Carson, is located five miles south of the resort city of Colorado Springs in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains. It became a major Army installation in 1942, and a permanent post last August. The variability of nearby terrain, ranging from flat prairies to 14,000-foot mountains, coupled with a moderate year-round climate, makes Carson especially well suited to a diversified training program.

Fort Carson has the distinction of being the only military installation in the United States for training Army scout and sentry dogs. It also is the home of the only remaining Army mules, and headquarters for the renowned Mountaineers. Both Fort Carson and the 8th Division are commanded by Maj. Gen. John G. Van Houten.
