FROM THE HOPPER

By Hop Jr.

Sure enough, everyone thinks we're touched in the head after our story on the mysterious gravel pit north of Portales in the sandhills.

We have no new ideas on the subject, and to preserve what little reputation for sanity we have left, it might be best to let the matter drop, but just to show you that the lake wasn't a mirage, here is a picture.

On account of the late afternoon position of the sun, we weren't able to shoot from the vantage point we had hoped for, and admittedly, the shot was taken from too great a distance to do justice to the size of the lake.

However, just remember that that barge on the lake is anything but miniature in size, and we would guess it to be over 30 feet in length.

Almost as exciting as having a new baby in the family is starting a new newspaper.

The Bovina Blade will begin publication next week with our blessings, because it will fill a need that The Tribune cannot.

Dolph Moten, a young energetic graduate of Texas A&M, will be publisher. He and his wife are making their home in Bovina, and we sincerely believe that they will be an asset to their community.

For years The Tribune has devoted considerable space to news about Bovina, and has solicited advertising from businessmen of that community to cover the expense of our efforts.

Sometimes we have not received sufficient support to pay for our trouble; at other times, we have profited from the arrangement. By and large, we have no misgivings about the past, because Bovina has been an area in which it has been necessary for us to have circulation in order to have a county-wide paper.

And we have gotten that circulation—all of it paid-in-advance.

However, there is nothing that can replace a home-town newspaper—a paper dedicated to the interests of but one community, and that is the reason we are glad to see The Blade begin.

Although The Tribune's publisher and The Blade's publisher are associated to the degree that we are printing the paper here, Bovina folks will soon note that Mr. Moten has "no strings attached," and will be allowed to do as he pleases editorial-wise.

The Tribune will continue to strive to be a publication of interest to every person in Texico-Farwell and ALL of Parmer County by continuing to publish news from all over this big circulation area.

We will continue to publish some Bovina news, although not in such detail as will be found in The Blade. We wish Dolph Moten and his nice wife, Jean, the very best of luck in their new business venture.

To the many who have asked, yes we DO have another young son in our family now. He has been named William Halbert Graham III. Your guess is as good as ours where this confusion over names will now lead to.

We apologize for being rather vague in our story last week about the little man's sex. There's absolutely no doubt about it, however. He's a boy.

Sherley-Anderson Gets First Load In Lariat Area

The first load of 1955 wheat for the Lariat area rolled into the Sherley-Anderson elevator there at 4 o'clock Monday, according to Asa Smith, manager.

The wheat came from an irrigated field on the Leon Billingsley place four miles north and one mile west of the community. It was making 40½ bushels per acre.

Billingsley's grain tested 17 percent moisture content and had a test weight of 58 pounds per bushel. He received a $25 premium for the first load.

Wheat Referendum Scheduled Saturday

Wheat growers the nation over will express themselves at the polls Saturday afternoon, and the fate of the present farm program on wheat hangs in the balance.

Farmers will be deciding whether they would rather grow wheat under acreage controls and receive 76 percent of parity price supports (which is about $1.81 and have a penalty for overplanted wheat or; Whether they would produce all the wheat they care to without any penalty, and to sell on the open market if they overplant their allotments; or be eligible for 50 percent price supports if they comply with allotments.

County Court Has Extra Busy Session

Judge A. D. Smith's county court proved to be a busy place Monday, with a number of cases being processed involving a number of different parties.

A Friona Negro couple, J. D. and Anna Hughes, 32 and 36, were assessed a total fine of $275 for bootlegging. She paid her portion, but he is sitting out his fine in the county jail.

The Hugheses were taken into custody after a Saturday night "visit" to their rented house in eastern Friona. A law enforcement cooperator had previously made an illegal purchase to establish evidence.

Both pled guilty as charged. Jack Stallings, 42, Muleshoe, was charged with driving while intoxicated, pled guilty, and was fined $100 and costs. He was picked up last week near Lariat by the Highway Patrol.

Esmiel Gonzales, 38, Ft. Sumner, was tried Monday on another DWI charge. He too pled guilty and was fined $100 and costs, and is still in jail in lieu of his fine.

Two companions, Pedro Rubio, 30, Muleshoe; and Arthur Gonzales, 30, Ft. Sumner; were charged with drunkenness and fined $12 each by Judge Smith. All were picked up in Farwell Sunday morning by Sheriff Lovelace.

Another drunk, Fred Acuna, 33, Morton, was fined $12 also after being picked up following a collision near Lariat Sunday night. He was riding in the car driven by Frank Yanez which collided head-on with another car driven by a CAAFB soldier.

Acuna is in jail sitting out his fine, and Yanez is in Clovis Memorial Hospital from injuries. The latter is charged with DWI.

Dr. Green Plans To Move Today

Dr. M. F. Green announced Wednesday afternoon that he planned to move his hospital and clinic equipment into the new building just north of the courthouse Thursday morning. Dr. Green also stated that he will be seeing patients at the new location by Thursday afternoon (today).

Although he plans to start work in the new location today, Dr. Green says that it will be some 10 days or two weeks before he receives all of the new equipment he has ordered for the plant.

Dr. Green says that starting Monday the Farwell Clinic and Hospital will offer 24 hour service to its patrons. He plans to have a staff for this type operation beginning the first of next week, and there will be a nurse on duty all night starting tonight (Thursday).

Farmer Kills Wife, Turns Gun on Self

Gunfire interrupted what otherwise had been expected to be a quiet day in the Ollie Williams home two miles northeast of Farwell, Monday about 12:30, and as a result, Williams and his wife, Jewel, are dead.

The Farwell farmer, who was 53, apparently shot his 40-year-old wife and then himself with a .22 pistol which was found in the bedroom of the home where both bodies were discovered by Leroy, their son, shortly after the shooting.

There were no witnesses to the tragedy, but it is believed that Williams leveled the pistol on his estranged wife for three shots, in the back of her head, and then turned the gun on himself, firing one shot which passed in one ear and out the other. Death was presumed to be instantaneous in both cases.

The shooting was the climax of a long period of bitter trouble between the farmer and his wife and family, and ended a period of several months in which relations between the couple had been particularly strained.

Only last week Mrs. Williams had left him "for good" and made arrangements to live in Farwell.

Conoco Takes Over Two Border Stations

Leasing of the Border Service Stations, Nos. 1 and 2, by Continental Oil Company was announced this week by Paul Wurster, consignee. Both stations are in Texico at the intersection of Highway 60 with Highways 70 and 84.

Conoco products will be sold by both businesses. Border No. 1 will be managed by W. L. Roberts, while Border No. 2 will be run by J. H. Winegeart.

Improvements Set For City Cleaners

Remodeling and installation of new equipment is scheduled for City Cleaners early in July, announces Kirt Crume of the firm.

The business will be closed July 3 through July 10, inclusive, while painting and carpentering work is done, and while a new silk finishing unit and a new steam air finisher are installed.

More room will be made during the work, says Crume.

Friona Wheat Growers Gets First Load Wheat

Elevators of Friona Wheat Growers received the first load of 1955 wheat in Friona at 8:15 Tuesday morning, according to Art Drake of that firm.

The grain came from the farm of Eugene Boggess six miles southeast of Friona. It had 15 percent moisture content and tested 56 pounds. It was Black Hull variety.

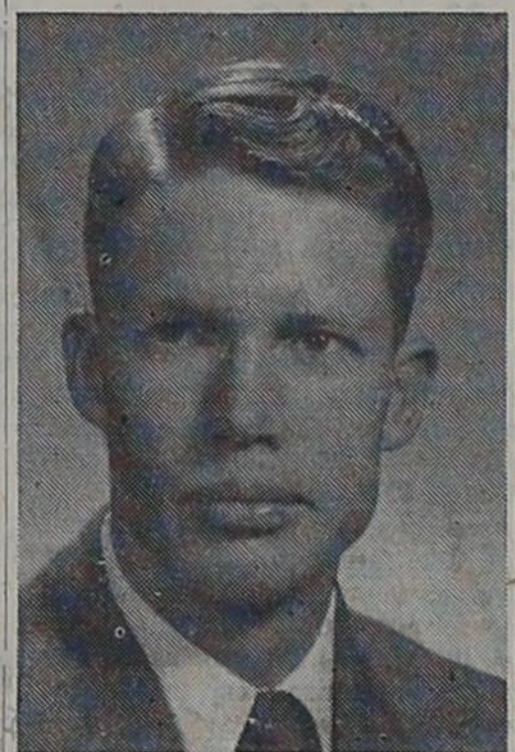

According to Drake, the wheat was yielding 25 bushels per acre, but had suffered heavy hail damage on Sunday. "No telling what it would have made if it hadn't gotten the hail," he said.

Damage from rust caused the low test weight. The grain was produced under irrigation.

Their two young children, Jackie 12; and Angelia, 16; were sent to Alabama to stay with relatives.

Friends of the family reported such trouble not to be unusual of late, however, and they expected the two to "make up" again as had been the case in previous difficulties. Such proved to be not the case.

Mrs. Williams had been taken to the home by Tom Berteau, associate in the Aldridge & Aldridge offices, to get the family car. Arrangements for this property settlement had already been made. (Continued On Last Page)

John Christian Joins Nickels As Entomologist

John Christian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rochelle Christian of Oklahoma Lane, and a May graduate of Texas A&M College, this week announced his association with Nickels' Gins of Farwell and Pleasant Valley.

Christian will serve as entomologist for the business, and assist farmers of the area with insect control. His major at A&M was entomology.

Farmers are advised that this new service is being provided them free of charge by Guy Nickels, owner of the gins, who is the first ginner in this area to announce such a service.

Other information appears in an advertisement.

Cosden Has New Farwell Outlet

Another Cosden service station was established in Farwell this week as D. W. Bagley and Ed Meeks leased the station formerly run by W. H. "Pop" Spurlin.

Harold "Squirmy" Doshier will be manager of the business. The station will be known as Bagley No. 3.

PRETTY PRIZES

These nice plaques exhibited by June Hensley, Tribune society editor, were received the past week from the National Editorial Association. The Tribune was judged third best in the nation in service to agriculture, and received a second plaque signifying third place in special editions. The second award came from the soil conservation edition published last fall. Not shown was a certificate for honorable mention in typography. Entered in the contests were 1406 newspapers from 31 states.

No Decisions Given In Texico Court Cases

No decision was reached in either of two cases arising over disputes between the City of Texico and several citizens during the past week, although court action was begun in both instances.

A hung jury resulted in a suit brought against Lewis Pierce by C. G. Walton, in which the defendant was charged with assault and threatening. The plaintiff is city water superintendent.

He alleged that Pierce threatened him with bodily harm when the employee attempted to carry out his duties for the city recently. Walton was working on water lines over which a disagreement had risen at the time.

Magistrate Sam Lewis discharged the jury and set the case for retrial Friday (tomorrow) afternoon at 2:30, at which time a new jury will be used.

Jurors last Thursday include Rip Snodgrass, H. P. Winkles, Ernest Arnold, Perry Winkles, Grayson Roberts, and C. W. Atchley.

In a case filed against Pierce, Toll Wyrcik and C. K. Caldwell by the city, which is seeking a settlement of a dispute over water lines and payment for service, a preliminary hearing was held in which Judge E. T. Hensley Jr. required defendants to post $250 bond until such time as the difference is resolved.

Another hearing is scheduled in the near future.

Father of Local Man Is Buried in Groom

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Groom Methodist Church for James A. Helton, 84, who died in the Groom Osteopathic Hospital Monday afternoon. Mr. Helton was the father of Joe Helton of Texico.

Rev. Oran Smith officiated at the funeral services for the retired farmer who had lived in Groom and Clarendon for 30 years.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Bonnie Helton, Groom; nine sons, Joe A., Texico; C. G., Crockett; C. D., Borger; Allan A., Mountain Home, Idaho; N. M., Groom; E. P. and N. E., both of O'Keene, Okla.; J. T., Fort Collins, Colo.; and William A. Helton, Hereford; one daughter, Mrs. Charley Fields, Groom; two sisters, 18 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitz Walling of Farwell attended the funeral services.

Crimes In County Solved with Arrest

Several crimes having accrued in Parmer County within recent months were solved this week after a visit by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace to Memphis where he quizzed Carl J. Williams, 47, who is being held there on charges of forgery.

The Eric, Okla., man signed a confession admitting he burglarized Nickels' Gin in Farwell and Bovina Wheat Growers, according to Sheriff Lovelace, and will be returned here this fall for grand jury action.

Williams admitted stealing checks from Nickels in April, and from Bovina Wheat Growers last October. He is charged here for burglary and forgery, and warrants have been issued.

Of checks he made use of in this vicinity, several were passed in Clovis, in addition to Piggy Wiggle stores in Farwell and Friona, and Johnson's Grocery in Friona.

He has been charged with similar offenses in a number of other Panhandles counties.

The Parmer County grand jury will sit October.

Community-Wide Meeting Called By Farwell C-C

All residents of Farwell who are interested in progress for their community are urged to be present Tuesday evening at 7:30 when the Farwell Chamber of Commerce meets.

Heading the list of topics for discussion will be the future of the voluntary paving project now in progress in the city. Seven blocks are called for in the original improvements.

Property owners are especially urged to be on hand, according to Bob Brooks, C of C manager. The meeting will be in the Legion Hall.

A REAL DIRT-EATER

This contraption with the big mouth and a conveyer belt for a tail can really gobble up loose dirt. It was being used by Odell Poteet on the Farwell paving project last weekend. A dump truck such as the one at the right was being loaded every 45 seconds.

Gals Use Talent To Earn ESA Money

If you knew it would be your responsibility to earn enough money to buy about 65 "goodie" bags for area children at about 15¢ a bag, what would your project be?

In a sense, that is the responsibility that faces each member of Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha this summer, and some of the ideas the girls have designated as sure-fire money-making schemes are unique to say the least. Each year at Christmas, the local ESA has distributed about 1000 treats to local youngsters when Santa Claus comes to town. The cost usually ranges to at least $150 and not wishing to ask donations, a money-making venture is involved. With an average of 10 to 15 members, it proves to be quite an undertaking.

So this year, members decided to get an early start on the Santa Claus fund. Beginning last month, they decided that each member would use her individual talents to earn money for ESA this summer. Each could select her own project, and a minimum amount (Continued on page 5.)

On the left Mrs. Bert Williams adds the finishing touch to one of the aluminum trays she has made for her ESA project this summer. According to Mrs. Williams, the last step in preparing one of the trays is coating the tray with a liquid solution to assure permanence of the design on the tray. The lady with the experienced hand at sharpening a hoe is Mrs. A. T. Watts, who says she plans to find a job chopping cotton for her project in ESA. Although she looks like she knows exactly what she's doing, Mrs. Watts laughingly commented that the inside of her house was probably as close to a cotton patch as she would dare get.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

And That's What We Think Of a Guaranteed Annual Wage!

In previous editorials, we have supported the principle of collective bargaining, and have commented that it is indeed a fine thing that labor and management have been able to work out their differences with a minimum of interference from outside interests.

But if we conveyed the notion that we support the theory of a guaranteed annual wage, (or something close to it), which was reached as a result of these bargainings, it was unintentional.

A guaranteed annual wage would be better defined as a system under which employees get paid for doing nothing, because in actuality, that is what it amounts to.

If this philosophy of economics was sound, then it would be reasonable to expect that employers should have a guaranteed annual market. If they don't, then how could they be expected to pay for something they don't need when business is off?

The whole thing sounds crazy to us. But worse than that, it smacks of something contrary to the spirit of American free enterprise. It doesn't sound like a healthy move for either group.

Of course we don't want to see auto workers—or any other workers laid off for long periods of time. But sometimes no one can control such adjustments.

What will happen now—in fact is already shaping up in the steel industry—is that other labor groups will make similar demands, and probably be similarly rewarded. This, in turn, will mean a whole new round of production cost increases, and naturally, a whole new round of price increases.

One might think that such problems are isolated from this area. Such is hardly the case. First to be felt in this revolution of labor-industry rela-

And with this new idea that employers can pay, and pay, and pay, when their own incomes are reduced or cut off, will come a crumbling of the most efficient, the most fruitful production system man has yet conceived.

Local Woman's Kin Have Uranium Strike

"One foot in heaven"? Not exactly, but two brothers of a local lady recently learned that they really "struck it rich" when they discovered what is reported to be a "good deposit" of uranium in the Good Luck claims located five miles north of Forrest, N. M.

Junior and Jack Gunn, brothers of Mrs. Mitz Walling, actually "stumbled" onto the deposit last January on one of their frequent "search for uranium excursions." They were prospecting for the precious ore in a canyon under the Caprock and were in a quandary deciding whether they should search near the top of the canyon or go to the bottom of the canyon for further exploration.

Junior Gunn accidentally slipped down into the canyon a couple of feet; so they decided to continue the search downward. The brothers report that their instrument simply "went wild" when they tested the rock formation at the bottom of the canyon.

Since that time they have staked out some 50 claims in the area with each claim covering 20 acres. They have sold 23 claims to the Standard Uranium Company of New Mexico and the company has since spent much time in developing the mine and constructing a road for transportation of the ore from the mine.

The first truck load of the ore, weighing between 18 and 20 tons, was shipped from the mine Tuesday of last week to the Atomic Energy Commission mill at Grants, N. M. This load of ore is believed to be the first shipped out of Quay County. Headquarters for the Standard Company are located in Denver, Colo.

Among the spectators to see the first load of ore being shipped out were G. O. Bain, Sunray, wealthy Texas Oil man and rancher and vice-president of the Standard Company; and Bob Struble of Amarillo, who has investigated uranium claims in seven states. Struble says that the Good Luck claims is "far more accessible than the stuff they are mining in Utah and Colorado" and that "it looks like it will really pay off."

Junior Gunn, co-finder of the deposit, says that all of the geologists who have visited the claim since January have been very much impressed with its quality and quantity. He also says that the vein is strong enough to set Geiger counters and scintillators to "jumping in a veritable frenzy."

Another lucky "slip" like the one Junior made in January may make the Gunn brothers—the richest men in these parts.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. W. H. Graham, Jr.
 Farwell State Line Tribune
 Farwell, Texas

Dear Mr. Graham:

Congratulations on your being a sweepstake winner in the Texas Press Association's contests at the convention in Galveston last week. I hated to miss the convention and the opportunity to personally express the excitement of having you win, but I had a conflicting convention date of long standing that kept me away.

We KNEW you were good, but it always makes us happy to see our friends get public recognition for jobs well-done.

Kindest personal regards.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Graham:

Double congratulations on the boy? (the sex was not given, but the 'so manly a makeup' is indicative) and on your run-away in the Texas Newspaper Contests.

Am sure the Vol. 1, Page Two is all that could be hoped, judging from his relaxed expression and the victory smile on his mother. You may have set a record for all but the motion pictures in obtaining a photograph of an individual less than an hour old.

When my grandson was born 11 months ago, I photographed him through the window of the hospital nursery at around six hours.

Was more elated, than maybe you were. I had two sons, one being lost over France in the war. The other had two daughters, the younger past 10 years and we had given up hope of carrying on the family name.

I wasn't a bit surprised at you carrying off so many honors for I've studied your paper pretty thoroughly.

Convey my congratulations to Mrs. Graham. Am guessing she deserves a good share of the credit for both editions.

Sincerely,

Dear Sonny and Jeanne,
 Congratulations on the new arrival. But what is it? A girl or boy? All that write up about it and you still didn't say.

We missed you at the fish fry. But guess you couldn't make it. That was a good picture of mother and baby.

Respectfully

Future in Question For 2nd Polio Shots

Parmer County Community Hospital manager, Jimmy Baxter, reported this week that no further information concerning the second series of polio vaccine shots for first and second grade students in the county has been received. Baxter says that at this time the state of Texas has not authorized the beginning of the second series of shots.

According to Baxter, Community Hospital has some vaccine on hand from the first series of shots. But if authorization of the second shots is granted, Baxter says that there would be enough of the vaccine to cover the needs of the county

ESA GALS—

per person was set to be earned. Of course, all that is taken in above the designated amount, is readily accepted. Fifteen members are working on the project and the talents are varied.

Thelma Watts hit upon a seasonal occupation to derive her donation to the organization, and was found early this week sharpening her hoe for a session of chopping weeds in the cotton patch. She has no jobs scheduled as yet, but feels that this type work is needed now, and she should be able to get a job.

LaMoin Williams is quite artistic in making and designing aluminum serving trays and has decided to take orders for the trays during the summer. She will make either the round or oblong trays, with the 18-inch ones selling for $3.50. To supplement this work, she plans to sell fresh vegetables from her garden.

Others who plan to derive funds from the sale of vegetables from their gardens are Dorothy Quicquel and Sylvia Watkins. If her tomato vines are as productive as she hopes, Dorothy will depend mostly on that product, and she is considering canning pickles for the women in town who might desire her help in this way. Sylvia is hoping that the corn is good enough this year for her to sell quite a lot. She has also decided to do other little jobs, and will make little girls' dresses on order.

Jeanell Brooks and Ella Bradshaw were undecided about their projects when last contacted; and Rosa Roberts was out of town. She had earlier decided to sell floral arrangements from her flower garden.

Jeanne Graham decided to sell all-occasion cards during the summer months, and Dardanella Helton is trying to find customers for a deluxe rug cleaner.

Maxine Williams and Nell Walling began their Santa fund by washing cars on Saturday afternoons. They also plan to entertain with bridge parties, and sell tickets, of course, and Nell plans to take orders for home-baked cakes.

Gladys and Liz Kaltwasser are trying to find a time to have a spaghetti supper to earn their money for the project; and Wilma Liner will do specialty leather work for customers.

Irene Dyer has several jobs that promise to bring in cash returns. She will make "trifle," an English dessert for those who turn in advance orders. She has also decided to wash windows or any other odd jobs that might present themselves.

The talent idea is still in the incubator stages and progress on the Santa fund cannot be determined yet—but past successes indicate that this too, will be enough to help St. Nick at Christmas time.

Since their organization five years ago, the group has staged many successful entertainments to gain funds for their yearly "big" project. They also donate to other philanthropic drives, including March of Dimes, local drives, and assist in sending Girls' State delegates to summer sessions.

They staged a humorous "womanless wedding" as their first mammoth project, then came up with a "womenless divorce," followed by a Tom Thumb wedding, with scripts for the three plays written by the members, costumes designed by ESA, as well as stage settings.

Dardanella Helton is president of ESA, and Rosa Roberts is educational director. Thirteen members are making ready to pitch in with these women, to complete a different approach to the organization's money-making problem—summer projects. With everything from saleswomen to manual laborers trying their luck at spare-time jobs, the "working" ESAers look forward to two months of profits to put the treasury in line for projects ahead.

Farm Bureau Officers Meet In Amarillo

Parmer County Farm Bureau Officials were in Amarillo Saturday to hear plans for expansion of Blue Cross-Blue Shield Hospitalization membership. Membership in the Farm Bureau groups has grown to over 20,000 families since contracts with Group Hospital Service were negotiated in 1945, making this non-profit, prepaid service available to farm families for the first time. Previously, membership had been limited to employed industrial groups.

Top officials of Group Hospital Service, of Dallas, were present to present plans for enrollment procedures. R. P. Bourland, Administration Director, Melvin Dunn, Director of Public Relations and Ray Morrison, District Supervisor, participated. State and district Farm Bureau Officials were also present.

Raymond Euler, secretary-treasurer of the Parmer County Farm Bureau Blue Cross group, estimated that in excess of $30,000 have been paid to members in this county for hospital and doctor bills since 1949, when the group originated. Liberal benefits of the plan are indicated by the fact that 88 cents of each dollar paid by members was paid out for care in 1954, Euler said.

If it appears that there is sufficient interest, an opening date for new subscribers will be announced, waiving the regular six month waiting period.

Attending the meeting from Parmer County were Gilbert Kaltwasser, FB President, Les Bruns, director, A. J. Ellison, Special Agent and Raymond Euler, Service Representative.

Magness' wheat tested 61.6 pounds, had 11 percent moisture content, and was averaging 21 bushels per acre. Glasscock's tested 59 lbs., had 13 percent moisture content, and was yielding 30 bushels.

Both fields were irrigated.

Sue Reid Reports On N. M. Girls' State

By Sue Reid

Miss Sue Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Reid, attended Girls' State at Albuquerque, N. M., June 12 through 19, as Texico delegate. She has written the following article of New Mexico Girls' State of 1955.

The delegates to Girls' State from Texico, Clovis, Ranchvale and Rosedale, N. M., boarded a bus at Clovis, N. M., for the journey to the eighth annual Girls' State on June 12.

All of the occupants of the bus introduced themselves and got acquainted on the trip. At Melrose and Fort Sumner two more State delegates joined the group.

Registration was first item on the program. After registering, the girls were assigned to quarters and from 3 to 5 p. m., they enjoyed a "get acquainted" session. From 4 to 5 p. m. the girls met for group activity meetings which included athletics, music, newspaper and scrapbook work.

From 5:30 until 6:15 the girls had "Powder Puff Hour" at which time they returned to their quarters for rest and relaxation. Each girl had to write a letter to her parents before being permitted to eat her evening meal.

At the general assembly the program consisted of the advancement of the flags, the pledge of allegiance, songs, prayer, greetings, welcome and a report of the 1954 session of Girls' Nation.

From 8 until 9 p. m. the girls saw a movie on parliamentary procedure and participated in a talent show. Lights had to be out in the girls' quarters by 10:30 p. m.

The girls were awakened at 6:30 a. m. and participated in calisthenics at 6:45. Breakfast was served from 7:15 until 8 a. m. Rooms were prepared for inspection between 8 and 8:30. At 8:30 the girls met for another general assembly where they took the Girls' State pledge. They studied rules of the session and asked questions about procedure of the activities.

James Maloney, probate judge, Bernalillo County, gave a talk on city government. City meetings were held from 10 until 12 a. m. More city meetings were held that night from 7 until 10 p. m.

The next day's activities followed the procedure of the previous days. Mrs. Natalie Smith Buck, secretary of state, gave a talk on county and state government that morning. Guests of honor at lunch were Governor John L. Simms and Mrs. Buck. Governor Simms was fined a dime at the noon meal for eating his cake with a fork. Rules of city of Cactus included one which forbade the girls to eat any finger food with a fork.

Governor Simms gave an address after which all the girls were introduced to the governor. Later that day they learned about voting machines.

On Wednesday the girls were taken on a police escorted trip to Santa Fe where they toured the museum and enjoyed having tea at the capitol building.

A formal dinner was held Thursday evening prior to the inauguration ceremonies.

Friday's events were much the same as on the days previously mentioned. Saturday was spent in completing the Girls' State session and Sunday all the girls were in a rush to return to their homes.

All the attendants reported a wonderful time and that they felt they learned many important facts about the state government. Most of them say that it is an experience they will always remember.

Officers to be installed include president, James Patrick; first vice-president, Carl Davis; second vice-president, Paul Frederick; secretary, Wilfred Quickel; treasurer, Joe Crume; taitwister, W. H. Graham Jr.; and Liontamer, Agrie Jones.

Directors are Joe Helton, Tom Wagner, L. S. Pool and A. D. Smith.

Mahogany trees are cut by the time of the moon because they are then freest of sap and of richer color.

Seed for First Bale Came from Plains

The first bale of cotton to be produced in the United States this year was grown on a farm at Edinburg operated by Jerry Block and Will Wallace. It came from a 240-acre tract planted to a variety known as Paymaster 54-B, which was developed over a period of years at the Paymaster Farm at Aiken, Texas, between Plainview and Lockney.

The bale weighed 547 pounds, graded one inch strict middling, and will probably bring the highest price ever paid in this country when it is auctioned off in Harlingen this week.

Mr. Block said the cotton was grown under "very trying conditions" on the dry land plot. It received no moisture from planting on January 23 until just before harvesting, and a 20-degree freeze on February 11 killed a third of it, which was up to a good underground stand at that time. Although the freeze lengthened the germination time to 22 days, the cotton was being harvested 109 days after it came up, a total maturity of 131 days.

Block said Wednesday that he and Wallace hadn't thought of trying for the first bale, and that the cotton had been open for several days before they decided to try for the honor.

Picking started Friday, June 3, and the bale was ginned at the Wallace Gin Co. in Edinburg on June 8. The seed cotton weighed 1641 lbs. and the seed weight was 930 lbs., a turnout of over 35%.

The Paymaster Farm, under direction of Dr. Harold Loden, has carried on extensive seed breeding since the purchase of the first 80 acres there in 1928 by Western Cottonoil Co. Dr. Loden says the first seed came from a variety called Kekchi, first brought to the U. S. from Guatemala by a government expedition searching for a boll-worm-resistant cotton. The seed first appeared on the Plains at Plainview, where it was called "Pepper Cotton." Paymaster bought some of the seed from the late Mr. Pepper in 1929, found it had many superior qualities and bought his entire interest.

There are exactly seven days remaining in the nation-wide DeSOTO dealer's contest, in which we of Hardage Motor are competing. JUST ONE WEEK for us to sell, sell, sell those big, beautiful DeSOTOS in an effort to win this wonderful contest.

It's a military secret just where Hardage Motor stands in this contest, but one thing that we do know is that we have already sold far above our assigned quota, and we are really lowering the boom on margins to get our sales record even higher.

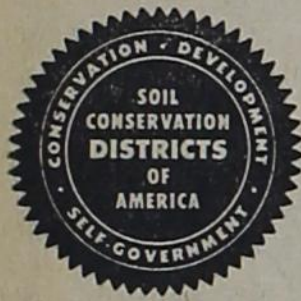

There's a lot at stake for us in this contest, and we sure aren't letting profits on new car sales stand in our way! The object of this game is to MOVE THE CARS!

Remember, we have only a very, very limited time left in which to work for the big prizes that are at stake in this contest. We may or may not win this contest, but one thing for sure, and that is IF YOU BUY A DeSOTO AT THESE CONTEST PRICES, YOU'LL BE A WINNER FOR YEARS TO COME!

Black, chairman; Joe Blair, secretary; Clyde Sherrieb, member; Carl Schlenker, member; Steve Messenger, SCD bookkeeper; and Donald Webb, representative of the Soil Conservation Service.

The SCD Board members plan to have published a district news letter on irrigation, to be sent to all SCD cooperators. This news letter will place emphasis on when to irrigate, proper lengths of irrigation runs, and improvement of present irrigation systems.

This news letter is to be published within the next few days.

Twelve plans were approved on 6,000 acres of irrigated farm land at the meeting.

These plans include work on cover crops, bench leveling, concrete pipe lines, and improvements of water application.

jottin's from Jeanne

By June Hensley Being guest columnist for the originator and writer of this column is one of the dreaded duties of a certain society editor.

Mrs. Jeanne Graham, co-manager of the team, "The W. H. Gramams Jr.," arrived home from Clovis Memorial Hospital Saturday morning with a new prospect for the home team.

The new arrival caused a little disturbance on the first night of his stay in the Graham home as he, like all new players occasionally do, had his days and nights mixed up.

Sunday the main manager of the team took over duties of washing — a Father's Day present not to be envied — and played nursemaid for the newcomer.

At present the game stands one hit, one run and no errors for the Graham team.

For those of you who are still watching the game, said rookie would like to say that we think Farwell is a wonderful place in which to live.

During a recent visit to our hometown, we were in the midst of praising the city of Farwell and the county of Parmer to the friends who, like us, had never heard of the place until we moved here.

THENCE in a Southeasterly direction along the South line of said right-of-way to the place of beginning, containing approximately 1.1 acres of land, more or less. Clyde Magness says it would amaze you to see how much people who are total strangers to the High Plains know about this part of the country. We are talking specifically about those people who make investments.

He says there are scores of financiers from Dallas who can rattle off facts and figures about the potentialities of the Plains without batting an eye.

They are really excited about the future for this part of the country, he says, and looks with particular envy on our vast water resources.

That's one place where Clyde and this writer part ways. We both agree that we have plenty of water, but he thinks it's practically inexhaustible. We are afraid it isn't.

"You can't tell me," he says, (looking us in the eye,) "that our underground water got there from RAINFALL."

That puts us in an uncomfortable spot, because it DOES seem unreasonable to think that rainfall (such as it is) could ever soak through a 100 or more feet of dirt, caliche, rock, and what-not to our water table.

As a matter of fact, there isn't very much that does get back down there, but the boys who make this type of study their life work tell us that rain is the ONLY recharge we have, as little as it is.

We don't think we have any immediate danger of running out of water. We can expect to raise many, many more crops with the inventory we already have chalked up under Parmer County.

And nobody in the newspaper game likes to start "scare talk" in the towns where he makes a living.

But just the same, we want to say that we think right now is the time to start thinking about what may happen in years ahead as the water table continues to decline.

Just guessing, we estimate that we could pump water like we did in 1954 for 25 more years without running out—but the thing to think about is that we can't afford to be pumping water in 1960 like we did in 1954 because there'll be hundreds more wells.

The answer is conservation, and it ought to be the first interest of every farmer in the land.

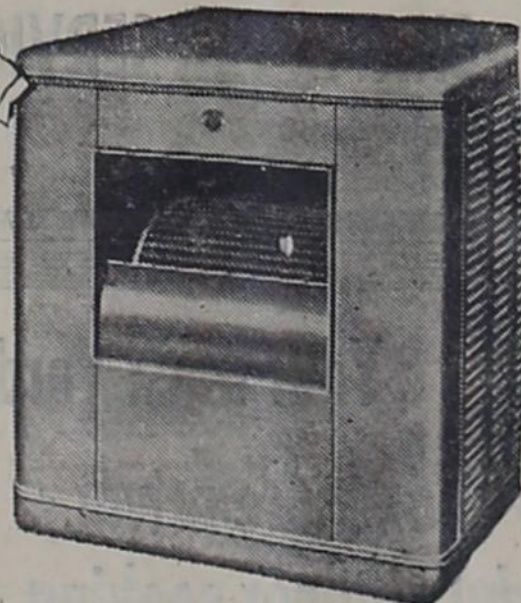

In going through the Panama Canal one travels a little more than 50 miles.

China, Russia and India are the three largest countries by population.

WILLIAMS—

Berteau remained outside and struck up a conversation with Leroy, who was near the home preparing a combine for harvest work. Mrs. Williams went inside and shortly thereafter the shooting occurred.

The only persons in the house were Mrs. Leroy Williams and an infant child, who were in the kitchen. After running into the house, Leroy came out and related to Berteau what had happened.

The latter left for Farwell to notify officials and Leroy took his family to the home of Dee Owens, on a neighboring farm. The son and family had been in the process of moving in with his father when the tragedy happened.

The Williams family had lived on the section which he farmed since 1946, and he had been considered a modestly prosperous farmer.

Members of the family had reported Ollie in particularly good spirits just before the shooting. Shortly before, he had visited town and paid at least one bill, indicating perhaps that he might have anticipated what was to happen.

He also had previously withdrawn the family's money from the bank, which amounted to something like $3500 in cash. Until today, what happened to the money had not been determined.

He had told Leroy that it was hidden in the garage, but efforts to find it have failed.

In addition, authorities are puzzled over the disappearance of some cash following the death of Mrs. Williams. She was known to have had $300 when leaving her husband, and was believed to have spent only about $40 of it on rent. The rest is still missing.

Funeral services for Mrs. Williams were conducted at the Farwell Church of Christ today (Thursday) morning at 10 o'clock, with Ebb Randol and Eugene Sofford officiating.

Pallbearers were Grady Pierce, Roy Melugin, Mutt Magness, Woodrow Lovelace, Dee Owens, and Claude Coffey.

Her body was returned to the family home in Bessemer, Ala., where interment will be in Valhalla Cemetery.

The funeral for the husband followed at 1 o'clock at the Farwell Baptist Church, with Rev. E. J. Keith in charge, assisted by Rev. Hollis Duck of Clovis.

Pallbearers were Grady Pierce, Roy Melugin, Mutt Magness, Woodrow Lovelace, Claude Rose and Claude Coffey.

Burial was in the Texico cemetery. Steed's was in charge of both funerals.

Survivors of Mrs. Williams include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harper, Bessemer, Ala.; 3 brothers; G. W., Birmingham, Ala.; Charles, Bessemer; and Bob, Chicago; two sisters; Mrs. Louise Gurr, Neola, Utah; and Freda Doriety, Bessemer.

His survivors include his mother, Mrs. John Harrison, Tishomingo, Okla.; three brothers: Arthur of South Carolina; Roy, Cartwright, Okla.; and Everett, Pasadena, Texas; and a sister, Mrs. J. A. Hinchey, Zillah, Wash.

Farmers Working Feverishly But Cotton Development Lags

SIXTEEN PAGES

FORTY-FOURTH YEAR

SECTION II

THE STATE LINE TRIBUNE

"OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF PARMER COUNTY"

FARWELL, TEXAS

THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1955

NUMBER 37

The 1955 cotton crop of Parmer County may turn out as well as did the ideal one of 1954, but if so, everything will have to be "just right" from now until time for harvest, a check of present conditions indicates.

Joe Jones, Parmer County agricultural agent, says, "Because of a cool spring and infestation by aphids, our cotton crop has definitely been retarded in development."

He warns that High Plains cotton producers are always growing under a close deadline between frosts, and that delay in reaching maturity can be disastrous in event of a fall freeze earlier than usual.

Jones blames lagging development primarily on uncooperative weather, but says that insects have been to blame also, and that farmers can't do much to warm up the weather, but they can to a large degree control plant pests that retard maturity.

"We cannot over-emphasize the importance of doing everything possible to assist the cotton to reach an early development," the agent says, "and farmers must remember that five or ten days lost in the spring mean five or ten days lost in the fall—which on the Plains can be very important."

Ground temperatures didn't warm up this year around planting time like they normally are expected to, and as a consequence, much cotton is late. Furthermore, considerable re-planting has been necessary where hard showers either washed out plantings or caused crusting which prevented the seed from sprouting through.

Some cotton in the county has been lost to hail during the past weekend, especially in the northern parts of the county. Blowing sand has hurt some plantings, but serious "blow-outs" are not bothering very many growers this year.

As of date of this article, it is not considered practical to re-plant for the 1955 crop of cotton, and early-season losses can be expected to reduce the over-all county production to some degree.

Cotton, which is the highest-paying big scale crop in the area, is getting extra pampering this year as producers are interested in getting every pound of lint possible from their allotments—which in almost every instance are smaller than they would like to have.

For that reason, investment in cotton production is expected to rise for 1955, and the average farmer will spend more money, and invest more time, on his cotton than ever before.

Some farmers are aiming at the ultimate in cotton culture, and have instituted what is known as an "early-season automatic control program" to insure that their young crop gets off to a good start, free from insect trouble.

Under this system, a farmer will spray his fields "by calendar" instead of by the appearance of the crop or the number of insects he can spot in his field.

A typical automatic program works like this: The program starts about the time that plants are beginning to form "squares." That is earlier than most farmers realize, comments County Agent Jones.

A mild spray is used first. It is strong enough to control harmful insects, but will not "knock out" all beneficial insects in the field. One such mild spray is Toxaphene.

Spraying is continued at seven-day intervals, which usually means that most fields get three sprays.

The early season control program ends when the farmer estimates that he is about 30 days away from the boll worm season. He stops spraying at that point because he wants to give predatory insects an opportunity to build up and resist the coming boll worm.

The date of ending the early control measures vary, but this year, it will be about July 15.

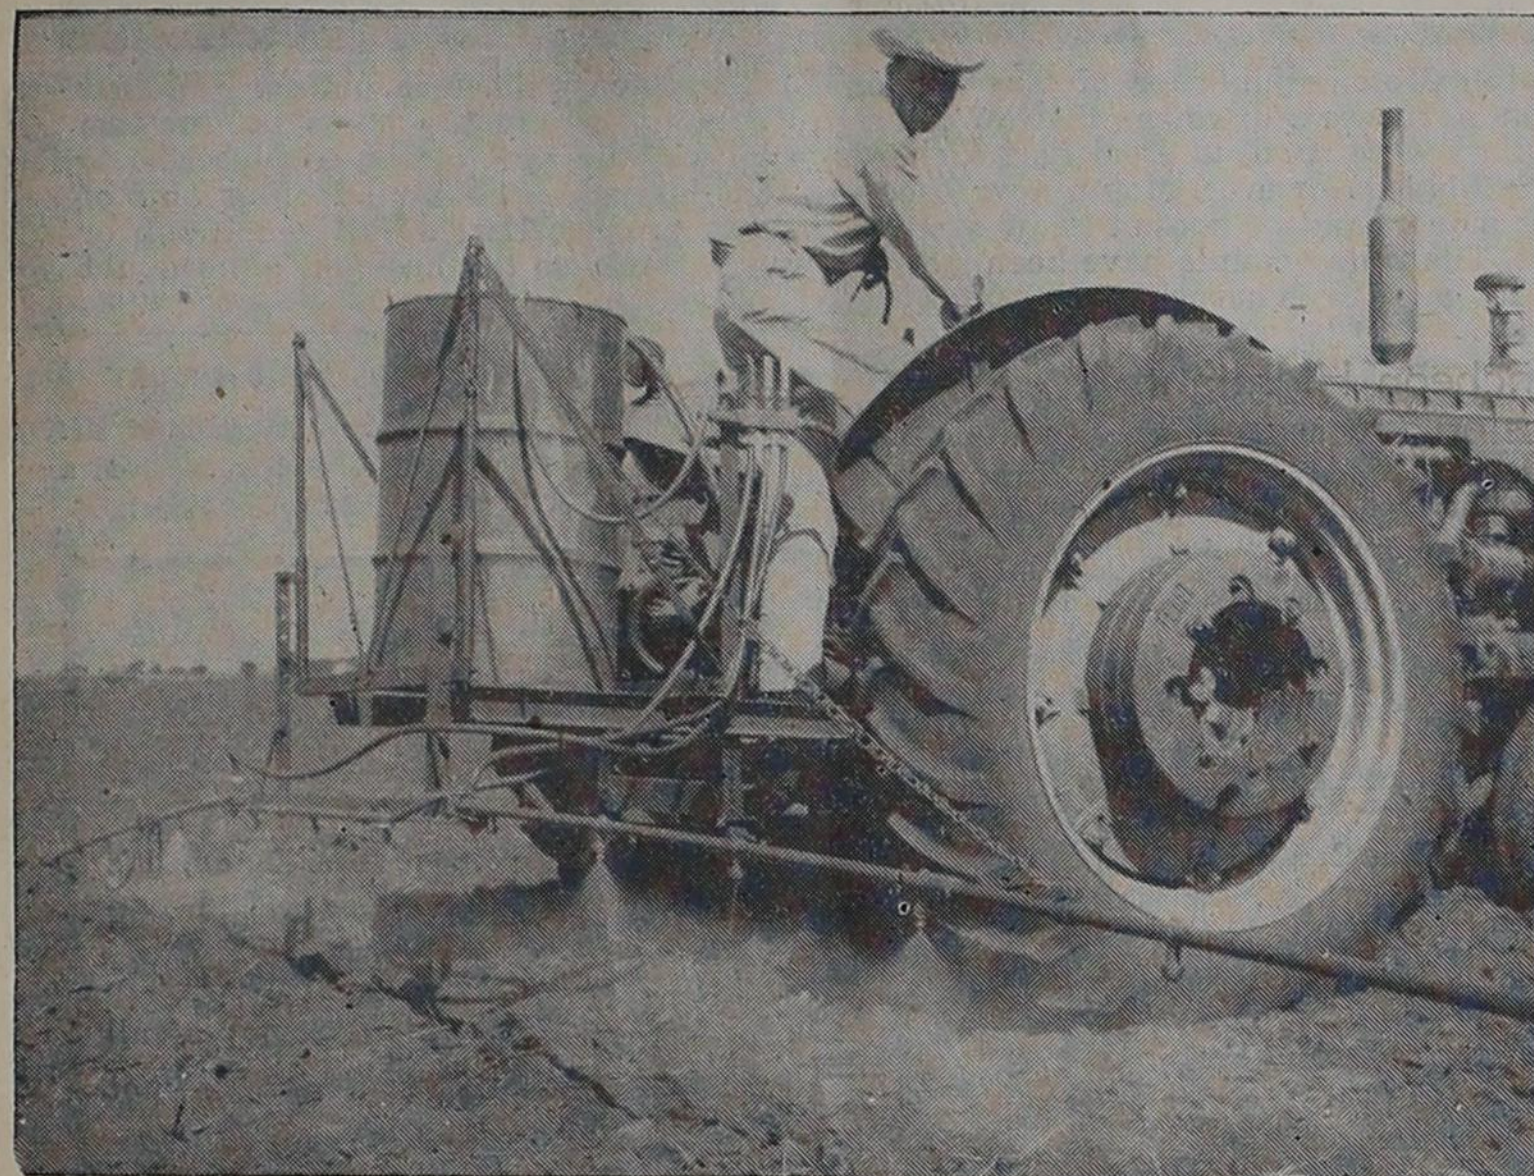

From that point, the farmer is more or less "on his own," and will spray only after actual counting of insects in the field appear to warrant it.

He will thus help insure an early setting of the fruit, and will help assure an early maturity date. Insect trouble not only cuts down on the fruit which the plant can produce, but actually delays the time when the plant should be mature.

Whether a farmer has such an extensive program on or not, the great majority are considering spraying at the present time.

Home-Town Paper Planned for Bovina

Bovina will become a community with a home-town newspaper next week, when Dolph Moten, a graduate of Texas A&M College, will launch the first edition of The Bovina Blade.

Publisher Moten announces that the newspaper office has been located in the same building with Bovina Butane Service, and that this location was selected because of its immediate availability, together with its convenience to the business district.

Moten and his wife are living in an apartment of the Elton Venables, and announced that it is their intention to stay in Bovina and make it their home.

Until the growth of the town and the newspaper warrant the large investment necessary for printing equipment, The Blade will be printed in Farwell in the plant of The State Line Tribune.

Except for printing, however, The Blade will in all respects be a home-town newspaper, aimed at promoting what is best for the community.

"The Blade will have a firm editorial policy," announced Moten, "and we won't do any fence-straddling. We will support what we believe to be right and to be in the interest of progress of the community."

The decision to start The Blade was made after a meeting Monday morning with many Bovina businessmen. In addition, Moten had previously made an effort to call on each business individual and request advice. Moten said he was encouraged with the response.

The first edition of The Blade will be sent to every boxholder in the county. Subscriptions have been set at $2 each in Parmer County; $3 elsewhere.

As yet, no telephone has been obtained for The Blade's office, but efforts are being pursued along that line. Moten said he would appreciate news tips of any nature that would be of interest to the area which The Blade will serve.

Indians Lose Game To Umbarger Team

The tenth inning home run by Gaber of the Umbarger nine scored the winning run to hand the Friona Indians their first conference loss in a game played at Umbarger Sunday afternoon.

Winning pitcher was Kitchens, who relieved Gaber in the bottom of the eighth. Kitchens gave up one hit during the last two innings of play and Gaber allowed six hits before being relieved.

Barrett, who gave up six hits, was losing pitcher.

Two infield errors on ground hits were the main factors in Sunday's loss for the Indian team, says manager, John Renner.

Friona scored two runs in the first, one in the seventh and two in the eighth. Umbarger crossed pay dirt once in the first, three times in the third and once in the eighth to tie the score 5-5 at the end of the ninth.

Gaber got a solo homer in the last of the tenth for the winning run.

Outstanding hitter for the Indians was Barrett while Brant was leading hitter for the Umbarger team.

Weldon Minchew, a new player for the Indian nine, received a broken ankle when he slid into a bat on a close play at home plate. Indian manager, Renner, says he will be out for the remainder of the season.

—From Paul—

According to "Painless" Parker, our local dentist, the best collector of his old bills is a new toothache.

Rumor has it when Doc Parker gets home everynight he tells his wife Mary, he's had a tough day at the "orifice."

Landlord: "They wanted to know how much longer the roof is going to leak."

Some of the points of interest visited by the Whittakers included the Painted Desert, Eagle's Nest and Grand Canyon.

Most of the farmers around Black community received about one-half inch of rain Sunday night. From reports we have heard we consider ourselves lucky because other places receiving moisture received much heavy rain and hail causing damage to crops.

In talking and seeing some of our college boys from the community, (Calvin Ivy, Clyde Hays and H. V. Rocky), we learned that farm life is pretty hard on these tender skinned boys. All of them are very sunburned from too much hot sun and wind.

"Like having another person in the kitchen!"

says Mrs. C. E. McCOY

GOLF COURSE ROAD
SLATON, TEXAS

"Baking in my electric range is so easy. Safe and clean, too." Reddy Kilowatt, that "extra person" in Mrs. McCoy's kitchen comes in on a clean copper wire. He's flameless and fumeless, too, so both safe and cool.

"No more cake failures with my accurate automatic electric range oven." Reddy watches your oven for you because electric range heats are accurately pre-set. Ovens are completely insulated — on all six sides — which means all the heat is used to bake the cake — not the cook.

"There's no comparison — electric cooking gives perfect results every time." The good cook? She becomes a better cook when she uses an electric range.

"Keeping my family happy is no problem with cakes like this from my new electric range." Happy living? Of course, it's electric.

See your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer soon and see for yourself, that the best—the modern — way to cook is electric.

BOVINA METHODIST NEWS

A very successful Vacation Church School was held in the Methodist Church last week. The sharing session was held at the close of the morning worship Sunday. Many interesting projects were done in the various groups. Fifty pupils were in regular attendance during the week; eleven visitors and five children of nursery age.

There were fifteen adult workers connected with the school through the week. A grand total of 81 was enrolled with the school during its session.

Mrs. Bob Wilson was the director. Her helpers were: junior group, Mesdames Ortie Jones, Edie Redden, W. H. Willoughby and W. R. Beard; Primary group, Mesdames Thomas Beauchamp, Jimmy Charles, Rouel Barron.

The boys and girls participated in a sharing project to buy shoes for orphan children in Korea. The offering amounted to $17.36.

Sunday Services
Rev. W. R. Beard will preach at both services on Sunday, June 26. The subject for the 11 o'clock hour will be: "The Whole Armor of God, Its Meaning;" evening worship at 8:00 p. m. "Does It Really Pay to Do Right?"

Rev. W. R. Beard and Frank Hastings attended the Plainview District meeting on Monday, June 20. This meeting was called by the District Superintendent Rev. Luther Kirk, and was for the purpose of setting up the financial apportionments for each church in the district in carrying forward the missionary program of the Methodist Church. Mrs. Ratliff Gives Program
The Bovina Baptist WMU met at the church last Tuesday for a community mission program.

Mrs. Clovis Ratliff presented a stewardship devotional and the remainder of the day was spent making aprons and hemming dish towels for the youth camp near Floydada.

Those present were Mesdames J. O. Combs, P. A. Adams, Ovid Lawlis, Tony Ivy, Henry Minter, Hitt, Clovis Ratliff, Charles Hawkins, J. D. Kelley, J. S. Williams and Otho Hammonds.

BOVINA BAPTIST CHURCH

The cost of the school was $159.21, and the mission offering, which went through the co-operative program, was $17.65. The school reached 840 of the possible 1,000 points on the "standard", making it a grade "B" school.

The Brotherhood met at the church on Monday night, with the program being given by Allen Cumpston, French Crook, Jr., Clovis Ratliff, and Charles Hawkins. During the business meeting, plans were discussed to feed the associational brotherhood, which meets with our brotherhood, for the evening meal and program Tuesday evening, July 5th. Ovid Lawlis, and Henry Minter will be in charge of the meal, and Alvin Glasscock will be program director.

Friday night of this week, the adult choir will meet at the church at 8:30 p. m. for rehearsal. For a few weeks, the choir has been meeting each Friday night. Last week 17 members were present.

The regular services will be conducted next Sunday morning and evening in our church. The morning services will begin at 9:45 with the Sunday School. The morning worship service will be at 10:50. Training Union will begin in the evening at 7:30 followed by the worship service at 8:30 p. m.

The pastor preached both services last Sunday after being absent from the pulpit the two previous Sundays.

Sunday afternoon, 2:00 p. m., the Sunday School teachers and officers will lead in a church wide visitational program. Every member is asked to be present for the program of visitation.

Last Sunday we had 188 in Sunday School and 64 in Training Union.
