

FROM THE HOPPER
By Hop Jr.

Maybe it's because we are just taking more interest this year than we have in previous ones, but it seems to us that politics is being given more space in the newspapers, and more time on radio and television than ever before.

Even the coffee shop conversation inevitably breaks away from baseball, football, and the latest escapades of Marilyn M. M., to Ike's health, Benson's blunders, and Stevenson's slugging campaign.

And the more the sordid scene grinds on, the more we are convinced that politics is just politics, and that the truth and real meat of every controversial issue is sure to be obscured by the opportunists of both parties, who pride themselves in their skill to cloud the issues.

We used to consider ourselves to be among the ranks of "conservative Democrats," but we are being crowded off our range.

In fact, the way we feel about issues of the day, and especially about the astounding parallels to socialism embraced by both major political parties, we don't believe that either the Dems or GOP's would have us.

That leaves us as independents, we suppose, as to date there haven't been any splinter groups we have found that aren't out to grind some special ax. And we're darned tired of ax grinding.

You probably don't believe it, but there are still some people around who prefer music to rock and roll. "Canadian Sunset," and "Summer Breeze" are two well-written tunes in the popular field which have managed to crack into the "top ten."

They are as refreshing as ice tea on a hot summer day, sandwiched in between the ear-bursting strains of "Houn' Dog," or other such gibberish.

Mention of the "top ten" in music reminds us of the "top ten" in football. We were about as proud to see SMU squash Notre Dame as we were the Steers squash Vega.

Anybody else have similar leanings?

The 1957 cars will be on display very shortly now. We already have obtained peeks at three of the new models, and the trend seems to be comparable with what we have witnessed since 1952.

That is, more horsepower, lower silhouettes, and longer wheel bases. The accent still is on style and performance, with functionality and economy being secondary considerations.

Don't blame the car manufacturers if this isn't to your liking. They are doing their dead-level best to give the public what it wants. Competition between auto manufacturers is the keenest in years.

If they ever produce another car that will get 20 miles to a gallon of gas, we'll have to show them we'd rather have that than a 110-mph land locomotive that shifts its own gears, rolls its own windows, hits its own breaks, steers its own wheels, and keeps you cool as a cucumber when the mercury tops 100.

When we were young we read Gulliver's Travels. Now we're reading Oliver's Travels. Here is a card from the Sikeses, who are taking a trip for which we envy them very much.

Writing from Gary, Indiana, they say that they fished in Lake Michigan, but didn't have very good luck. "Too much water," supposes Oliver to be the cause.

Bob Brooks, now with Asgrow Seeds, stopped by the office last week and dropped a beautiful cantaloupe into our lap. It bore a resemblance with the word "Pecos" prominently displayed in white.

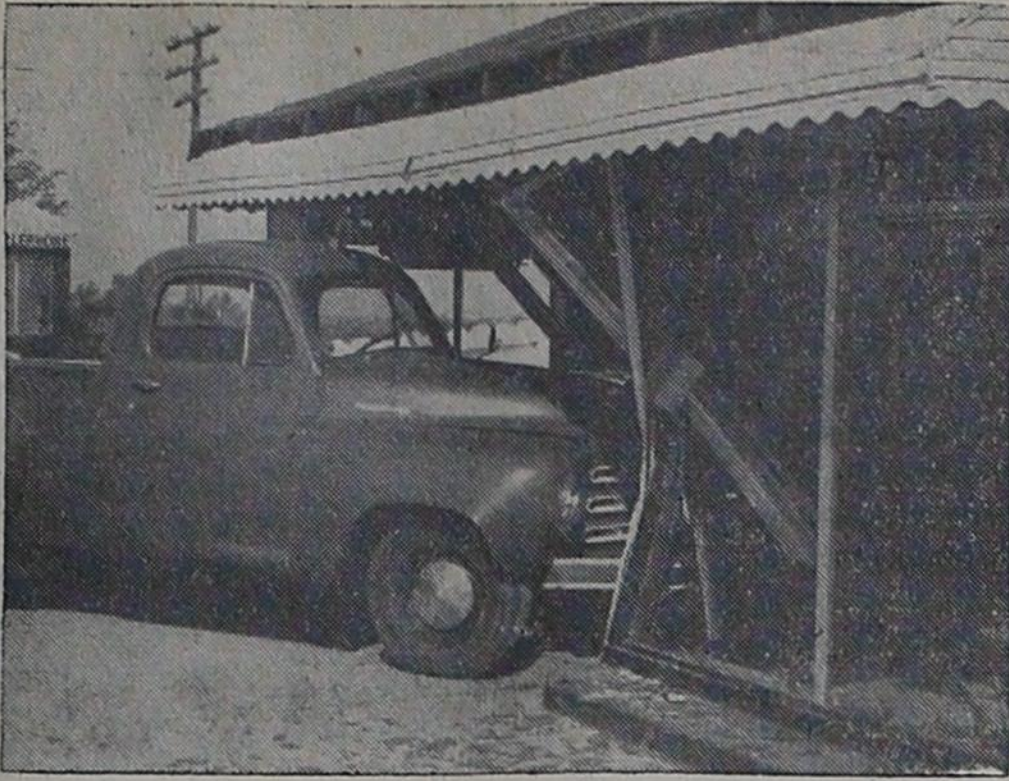

"The Pecos cantaloupe," says Bob, "is being marketed on a nation-wide scale, and is bringing a premium wherever it goes."

This is another example of merchandising farm produce, something that is just getting started in the minds of the men who run the nation's agriculture.

There is still no substitute for selling what one produces, and the only way to get the job done in today's competitive economy is through an aggressive merchandising program.

A quality product, equipped with a modern distribution system, which is advertised and promoted to its prospective customers, will outsell ordinary competition hands down time and again.

Until the nation's agriculture is ready to match its synthetic competitor's budgets for research and market promotion, there will never be any permanent relief for the overproduction with which we are now troubled.

PICKUP WIDENS DOOR—A quick attempt to switch lanes while entering this service station failed, and the above picture shows the result. The driver of the Studebaker pickup, owned by Mem Sprowls, was entering Tom Finley's Humble Station in Texico Monday morning, and, noticing a car parked in the outside lane, switched to the other lane. The driver's foot slipped off the brake, onto the accelerator, thus causing the pickup to crash into the door and plate glass windows. Occupants of the pickup, Mrs. Mem Sprowls, Johnny and Patsy, were unhurt. Damage to the Studebaker amounted to $150 while damage to the station was estimated at $500.

Steers Take Vega For Second Win

In their finest performance of the young season, the Farwell Steers mixed aerial play with their aggressive running game and roared to a 32-0 win over the Vega Longhorns at Vega Friday night.

The victory was the second straight for the charges of Russell Young and Shelby Jobs and it was the third successive game in which the opposition failed to cross the Steer goal line.

Playing without the services of two starting backs—Philip Berry and Jerry Henson—the Farwell team scored in every quarter, racking up 219 yards via rushing and 127 through the air. The Steer defense held the Longhorns to a total offensive gain of 171 yards.

The Steers took the opening kickoff and in 15 plays moved the ball to within six inches of pay dirt, where a fumble cost them possession of the ball.

Church Plans Services For Mexican Laborers

Members of the Texico Baptist Church are planning to start a special service at their church on Sunday afternoons. The service is for all Spanish speaking persons and will be conducted by Mrs. Gorman Byrd, a former missionary to the Spanish speaking people in Arizona.

These weekly services will be held at the church at 3 o'clock each Sunday afternoon, and all persons who have Nationalists or Mexican laborers are urged to bring them to these services.

A representative from the church says that it is hoped that it will be able to continue this type program each week. Everyone is invited and all Spanish speaking persons are especially asked to attend.

Local Group Tours Power Plant At Earth

Otis Huggins of the local Southwestern Public Service Company, and Malcom Coleman, Public Service engineer of Clovis, took a group of Texico-Farwell men to Plant X near Earth, Tex., Wednesday night for a tour of the huge power plant.

Officials at the plant, which generates 227,500 kilowatts, explained the operation of the plant and mechanisms therein.

Enjoying the two hour tour of the plant were Tom Wagner, Wilfred Quickel, John Getz, Rip Snodgrass, Mitz Walling, Joe Helton, Ed Combs, John Adams, John Sharum, Smokey Gast, Lex and Carroll Huggins, Hal Ed Helton, Otis Huggins and Malcom Coleman.

Free Show Attracts 250 Youngsters

The merchant-sponsored movie at the Border Theatre Saturday afternoon attracted approximately 250 youngsters, according to Scotty Levins, theatre owner.

The Saturday show was the first of a 15-week series planned at the Border Theatre and each week the kids of the Texico-Farwell area will see two comedies, one cartoon, and a serial.

Tickets to the shows may be obtained each week from thirty-two businesses of Texico-Farwell. Eligible for free tickets are all children under 12 years of age.

The first show was termed a success by Levins and he expects it to attract even larger crowds in the coming weeks.

tion of the ball. Taking over on the two, Vega fumbled on their first play from scrimmage, and Jerry Owens pounced on the ball, giving the Steers a new life.

Three plays later, Tommy Lovelace plunged across for the Steers' first touchdown. The conversion attempt by sophomore quarterback, Johnny Lovelace, was no good.

For the remainder of the initial period, neither team could move the ball and it was not until the second period that the Steer offense started to roll.

Early in the second stanza, the Steers were on the move deep in Vega territory, when a 15-yard penalty assessed against the locals, moved them back to the Vega 35. With fourth and 24 from that point, a pass from J. Lovelace to Derrell Garner netted 27 yards and a first down on the eight.

Seconds later, T. Lovelace went across for his second touchdown of the night. On the conversion attempt, J. Lovelace's kick split the uprights, giving the Steers a 13-0 lead.

Farwell then kicked off to the Longhorns and after being unable to move the ball against the Steer forward wall, the home team was forced to kick from their own 32. Against a strong wind, the punt went only to the Vega 43 where Douglas Hillock picked it up and returned it to the 39.

On the next play, J. Lovelace passed to David Willard for Farwell's third TD. The conversion attempt failed.

In the waning minutes of the first half, Farwell once again moved the ball deep into enemy territory. Through the air and on the ground, the Steers moved from their own 38 to the Vega 8 when the gun ended the half.

As the second half opened, the Longhorns kicked off to the Steers. Taking the ball on the 19, Larry Pike, 138 pound back, galloped 81 yards for another Farwell touchdown. Again, the extra point attempt was no good.

From that point, the Steer offensive thrust was halted by the Vega line and Farwell could not move the ball enough to get a drive going until midway through the final period. Vega's first and only threat of the game came in the closing minutes of the third period, when they moved to the Farwell 20, before losing the ball on downs.

One time in the final quarter, the Steers threatened by moving the ball to the Vega 8, but lost the ball on downs. That appeared to be all the scoring for Farwell, as less than four minutes remained. On Vega's second play from scrimmage...

Fertilizer Plants Start Operation

Farwell Fertilizer Open for Business

Edd and Gene Hardage, proprietors of Farwell Fertilizer Company, announced this week that the new business is now in operation and they are ready to serve farmers of this area.

A new 6000-gallon anhydrous ammonia tank has been installed in east Farwell and the firm has two tractor-mounted and two pull-type applicators ready to put into service. At present, Phillips 66 anhydrous is all that is handled by the new business, but Edd Hardage said the plans were to begin construction of a new warehouse and office in the near future.

The Hardages plan to handle dry fertilizer, insecticides, and other supplies needed by the farmer when the warehouse is built.

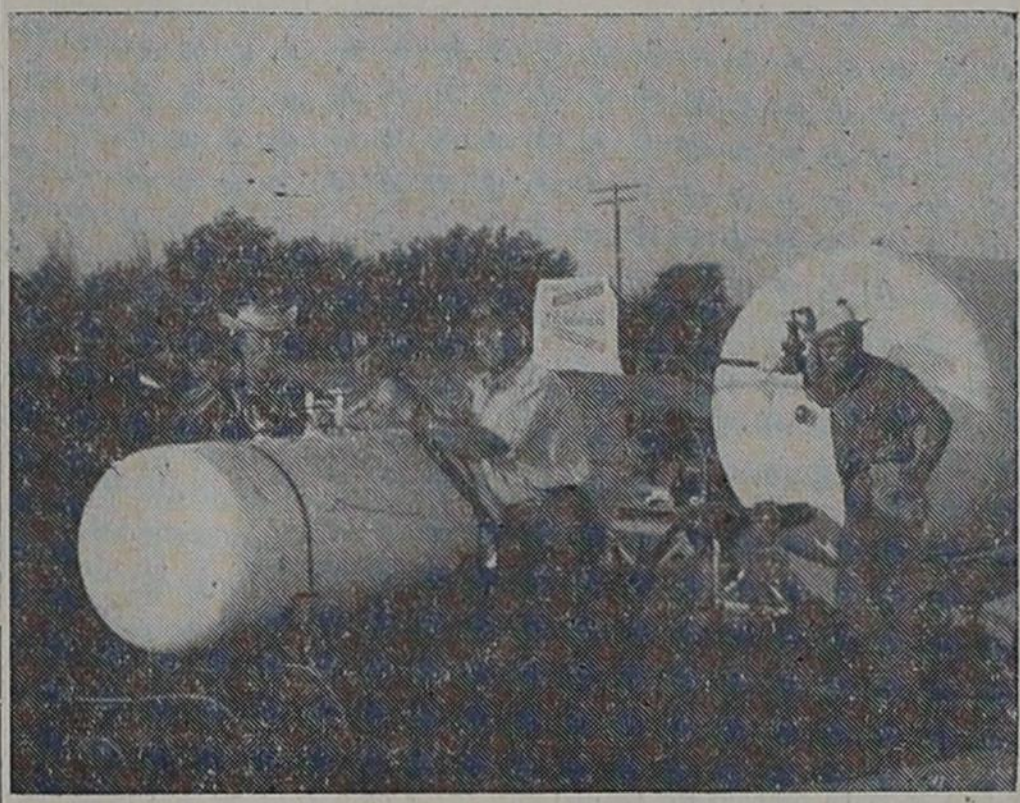

Also planned is the purchasing of another 6000-gallon tank for their anhydrous ammonia.

Helton Ready With Fertilizer Service

With the addition of a 12,000-gallon anhydrous ammonia tank, a tractor, and applicators, Helton Oil Company in Farwell announced that they were ready to serve the farmers with Phillips 66 fertilizer.

The firm has one tractor-mounted applicator equipped to apply the fertilizer and two pull-type machines ready to rent to the farmers, according to Joe Helton, proprietor.

The new plant is located adjacent to the butane and propane tanks, owned by Helton on the stateline.

READY TO ROLL—Getting ready to head for the field, the crew at Farwell Fertilizer Co. is filling one of their tractor-mounted anhydrous ammonia applicators from the new 6000-gallon tank on the right. In the picture are Gene Hardage, Harold Stoval, and Edd Hardage. The new business opened this week.

Texico FFA Boys To State Fair

Five Texico FFA boys and their sponsor will leave Friday for Albuquerque where they will attend the New Mexico State Fair. At the fair the boys plan to show around 50 head of swine and a half dozen head of dairy cattle, according to Tom Hudson, sponsor.

Making the trip will be J. C. Kelley, Dwain Winkles, Nathan Tharp, Jerry Reid, Leon Kelley, and Hudson.

David Anderson Is Recuperating

David Anderson, young son of G. D. Anderson Jr., Bovina, was released from the hospital in Clovis on Saturday and is recuperating at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie S. Williams, in Farwell this week.

David was admitted to the hospital last Tuesday and was seriously ill for several days. Doctors did not determine the exact cause of illness, but family members report that David is feeling fine this week. It is not known when he will be permitted to return to school.

Lions Caravan Sale Successful

The Caravan Sale, sponsored by the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Friday and Saturday, was termed successful. Gross sales totaled $633.56, 25 percent of which went to the local Lions.

The caravan was sponsored by the Texas Blind, and all items sold were made by blind workmen. Items sold included brooms, mops, ironing board covers, and pads, and many other miscellaneous articles.

The club wishes to express its appreciation to the people of the Texico-Farwell area for the fine response, according to a Lions spokesman. The proceeds will be used for the Lions sight program as well as other club-sponsored events in the future.

Frederick Speaks To Lions Club

Paul Frederick was the featured speaker at the regular meeting of the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Monday night. He spoke to the group on the United States Olympic tryouts at Los Angeles.

Frederick, an avid sports fan, attended both the 1952 and 1956 tryouts. He gave a short history on the olympics and elaborated on track and field events which the United States would be strongest in during the coming olympics at Melbourne, Australia.

The United States has always been exceptionally strong in most track and field events, but Frederick emphasized that they would be considerably stronger in 1956 than they were in 1952. Practically all times and distances were greater in the tryouts completed last spring than they were in the previous tryouts, he said.

Brother Of R. S. Smalts Killed In Farm Mishap

James W. Smalts, brother of R. S. Smalts of Farwell, was fatally injured Wednesday when the tractor he was driving in a trench silo overturned and crushed him. The accident occurred at the Smalts farm near Keyes, Okla.

Funeral services were held for the 72 year old man on Friday, September 21, at 2 p. m., in the First Baptist Church of Keyes. Interment was in Willoughbar Cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Smalts are his wife, one son, Raymond of Keyes, three grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Ida Hayes of Elk City, Okla.; four brothers, John of Plainview, R. S. of Farwell, Fred of Elk City, Okla., and George of Winfield, Kans.

Pentecostal Ladies To Sponsor Dinner

The Pentecostal Ladies Auxiliary of Texico will sponsor a Mexican dinner at the city auditorium in Farwell on Tuesday evening, October 2, from 6:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

A Mexican dinner, complete with drink and dessert will be served for $1.25 per plate. Proceeds from this dinner will go into the local building fund.

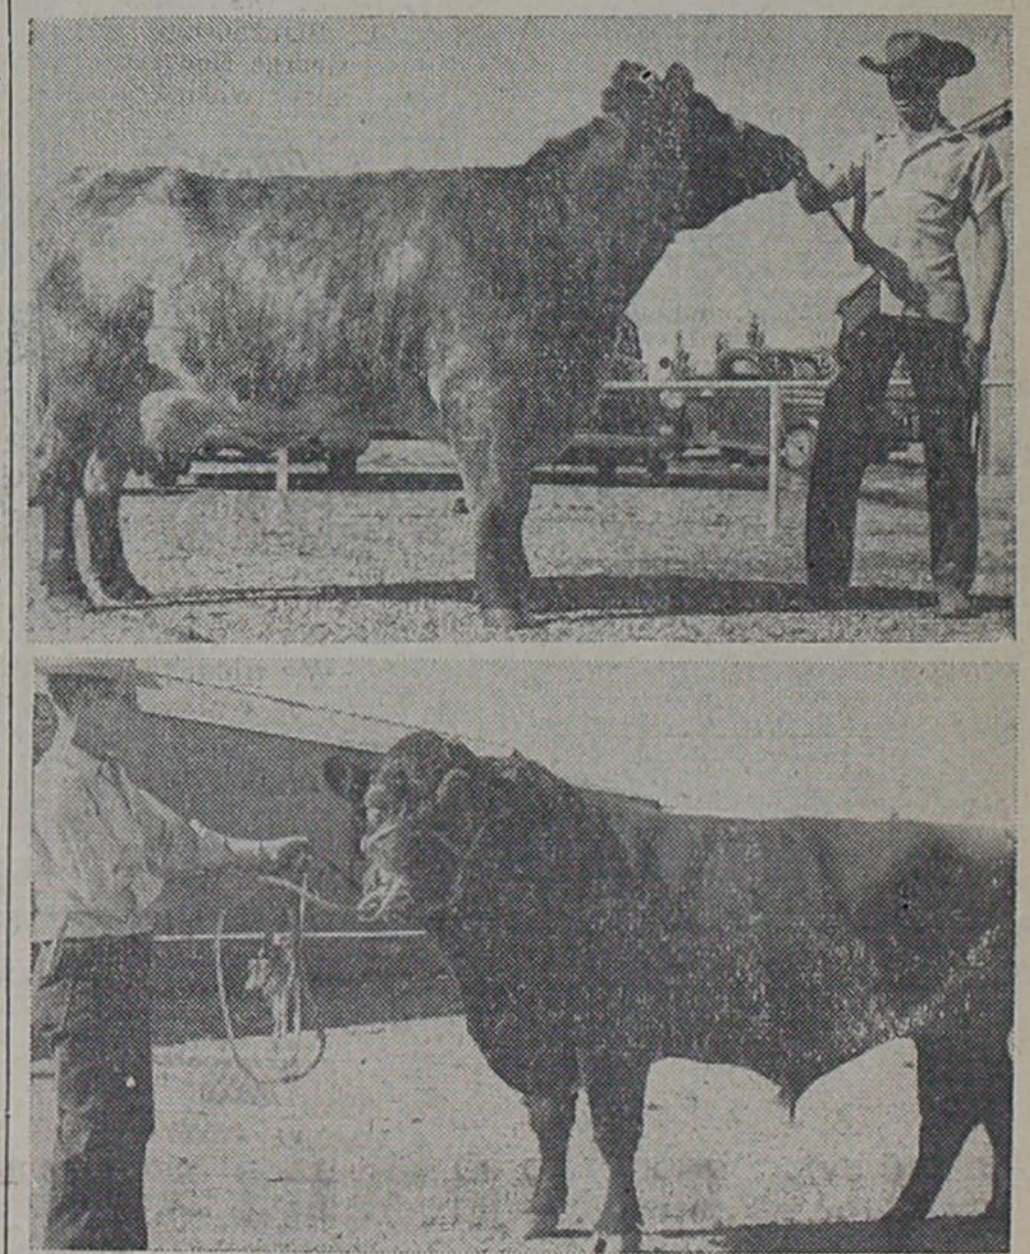

The public is cordially invited and tickets may be obtained at the Furniture Mart or by contacting any member of the Ladies Auxiliary.

W. L. Roberts Has Surgery

W. L. Roberts, Texico, underwent surgery at Clovis Memorial Hospital on Friday of last week. He was released from the hospital and returned to his home Monday.

Family members reported Tuesday that his condition was good and that he would probably return to work in about two weeks. Roberts operates a service station in Farwell.

The serial number appears twice on a dollar bill.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

"Drouth Disaster"

Parmer County, after a lapse of many months, is once again considered to be in a "drouth disaster" area, and farmers and stockmen again are eligible for subsidized feed and hay for their cattle.

We are not in favor of a government-administered program designed to insulate any part of the economy from the vagaries of West Texas weather.

In addition, consider what a misnomer it is to refer to Parmer County as a "drouth disaster" area. Would it be possible to convince outsiders that we face extinction of our agricultural economy on account of the prolonged dry weather?

Hardly.

The drouth, which we certainly don't ignore, has been with us for six years. Without the development of our underground water resources, surely six years of deficient moisture would have crippled our economy.

But be objective. Let's look at ourselves. We would be more prosperous were it not for the dry weather—but really, can we say that we face disaster because of it?

The drouth has created problems of adjustment for everyone—not just the farmers. There have been major shifts in business and labor because of it.

But the resourcefulness of the people of this great region, coupled with the natural abundance of ground water, have enabled us to whip the drouth.

There have been stockmen and farmer-stockmen in Parmer County who have failed in the past few years, but we seriously doubt that drouth could be attributed as the sole cause—even the principal one.

There is still some money to be made farming and raising cattle, or after six years, there just wouldn't be any farmers or cattlemen left in Parmer County.

The farmer-stockman of today must be a businessman in the truest sense. Hazardous, inefficient operations won't keep his head above the water. High costs and narrowed profits have weeded out some operators, and hard luck has taken a few, too.

But mostly, farmers and cattlemen in Parmer County are still doing all right. The need for government assistance of this type is not necessary.

One other thing to remember about "drouth relief." Anything that comes "free" from Uncle Sam comes with strings attached. And any give-away program is sure to suffer from those who abuse the spirit and intent of the program.

It's always been that way.

They "Like School" For Special Reasons

By Jeanne Graham

Sometimes, people are prone to take for granted some of the privileges enjoyed by the average citizen in America. As is true in many instances, when everyday routine is changed by circumstances, only then is a true appreciation reached for some of the opportunities afforded.

One of these would be education, and there is a group of young people in Texico-Farwell who "like school." Their ideas about going to school differ entirely from the attitude they might have had a few months or years ago. They look forward to the chance to sit behind a desk every day, and join in the extra-curricular activities furnished in conjunction with the school program. They are glad that September has arrived and they are making up for some of the time they have lost.

Some of them remember the difference in their feelings toward missing class, now and "before." "Before" is the time before severe illness forced them to drop out of classes and watch from their beds at home or in the hospital as their fellow students continued with their education and activities.

Although there are other students in Texico and Farwell who have had similar experiences, the Tribune interviewed two students from each school who had been forced to miss school because of severe illness.

Of the four students interviewed, all have one thing in common—a battle with the same disease—rheumatic fever.

The youngest one interviewed for the feature was little Sharon Kay Peyton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Peyton of Texico.

The attractive miss is now looking forward to her seventh birthday in November, and at the same time is enjoying school once more.

Her bout with rheumatic fever began about two months before school was out last year, and she was ordered to bed for seven weeks of rest. Then her recuperation was a slow process. She rested several hours a day after her first time to be up again, and slowly regained many of her former activities.

Sharon Kay is honest about the things she missed most about school and her daily routine before her illness. She "couldn't play with the other kids" and that was hard to adjust to. But there is the bright picture, she can play most anything she wants to, now.

She still has a rest period every day, and her mother and grandmother, who is Sharon's self-appointed nurse, watch her diet and rest closely. They have to watch for minor things such as colds, which could be more serious if Sharon Kay should contract them.

Another thing that the little girl missed about school was reading, her favorite subject. When asked if she knew how to read well, she glibly replied, "not very well, but I read anyway." She caught up on some things that children like, such as coloring which she really enjoys, and television.

Her elders say TV was a big help in passing the time for Sharon while she was ill. Then there was grandmother to read to her, the friends who came to visit and her big sister, Beth Ellen, who spent a lot of time entertaining her sister.

Mrs. Peyton says Sharon was a good patient and friends were marvelous to the little girl.

One of the scenes that amused the mother was when Debbie Doolittle, a friend, would come to visit and the adults in the house would find the two children in bed together and watching TV, coloring, looking at pictures, or just talking.

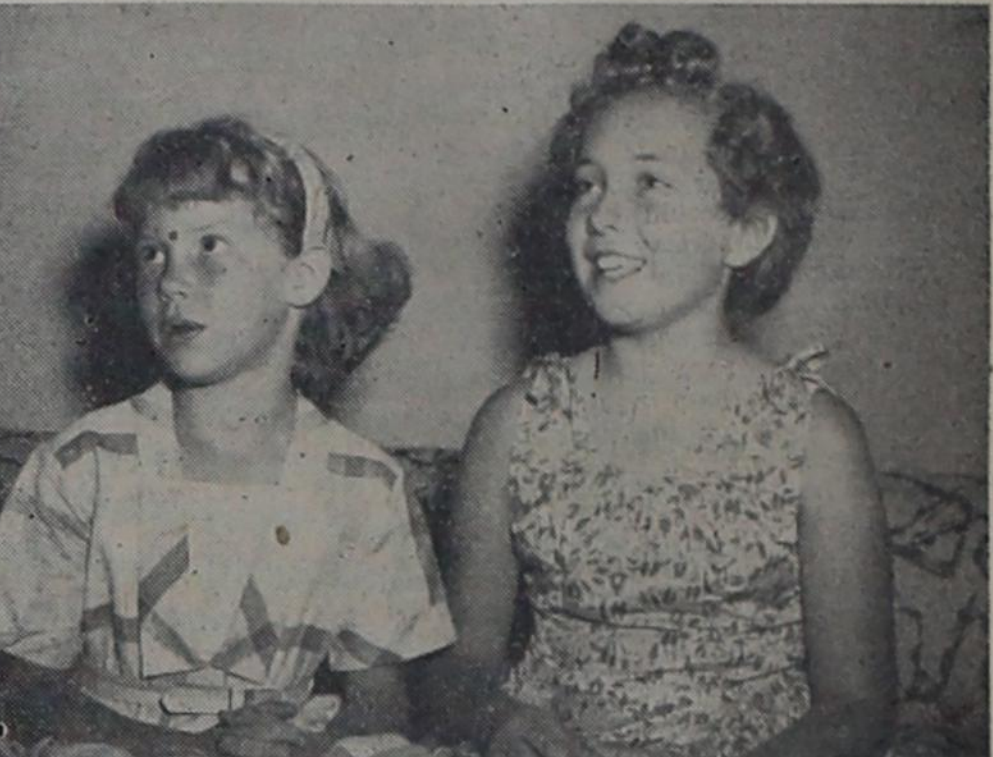

Pat Watson, Sharon Kay's Sunday school teacher, and her class, held their meeting at the house one Sunday. Nell Autrey, a friend, came often to bring the child a remembrance and Sharon looked forward to her visits. Many other friends visited and sent or brought cards or gifts to help her pass the time.

Mrs. C. E. Daniel, mother of Mrs. Peyton, who makes her home with the family, was the one who really spent the time with the child. "She watched over her and pulled her through," the mother adds.

student, is now in the sixth grade. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tharp. She admits that she was not as fond of lessons and school before she became ill, but her attitude has changed. And she missed many other things.

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957! Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news... a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because...

This is Where Tomorrow Starts... with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whip-lash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road.

To all this we have added true elegance—a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid finality of a bank vault. Even the door-lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach.

All these features were engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low-priced car has ever sat them —six elbows wide in each seat, with deep space around each one of six knees. And above all that space, there's hat room to spare for all six passengers.

The 1957 Ford rides low, solid, with a firm, deep road-holding feel. Yet it's a light-hearted, flight-hearted ride—this car is responsive, nimble, agile, with a proud easy movement.

Ford offers not only one, but two sizes of cars... each on its own extended wheelbase... each with its own body shell... each with its own styling.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 5 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two- and four-door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interiors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle-span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts

It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom!

The cars will be there on Wednesday, October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives. They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

This is where tomorrow starts—at your Ford Dealer's.

This is when your tomorrow starts—October 3rd.

Come in and see us for the Big New Kind of Ford!

NEWS FROM LAZBUDDIE

BY MRS. BERT GORDON

Lazbuddie Wins Over New Home, 8-0

Lazbuddie Longhorns won their second game of the season at New Home Friday night. After a first half deadlock, the Longhorns backed the New Home team into the end zone for a safety to take a 2 to 0 lead mid-way in the third quarter.

The Longhorns really came to life after scoring the safety. New Home kicked from the twenty yard line and Roy Vanlandingham took it on the 35 and raced to the 50 before the Leopards could bring him down. On the first play from scrimmage, Vanlandingham rolled off 15 yards for a first down on the 35. On the next play, it was Glen Watkins with a nine yard gain to the 26 with Vanlandingham making another 10 yard run on the next play for the first down on the 16 yard line as the third quarter ended.

As the fourth quarter began, Roy Van took the ball over the goal line for six points to send the Longhorns out in front 8 to 0.

The Longhorns picked up 174 yards running. Coach Washington's three mainstays were alternating in the ball carrying department, Johnnie Gammon made 35 yards Watkins with 59, and Vanlandingham with 58. Other backs seeing service were Beavers with 4 yards, Briggs with 6, and Weaver with 12.

Not to be overlooked is the fine play of the boys on the front line as they opened up the hole for the backs to gain their yardage. Leading the fine defensive play were Captain Andy Fuqua along with Gilmore, Daniel, and Capt. D. Teague.

The Longhorns have several sophomores and freshmen in the starting line up, and if they continue to improve, they should give several other teams a lot of trouble in their first year of eleven man football.

Coach Washington and Coach Williams commented that the boys looked good, but would need some brushing up before the first conference game next Friday night on the home field with Whitharral.

Come out and back the Longhorns Friday night against Whitharral in their first conference game.

The PTA will serve barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and coffee.

Group Has Bible Study

The Pauline Cammack circle of the W. M. U. met on Monday in the home of Mrs. W. S. Menefee for Bible study. After a short business session, the meeting was turned to Mrs. Earl Peterson who had charge of the last chapter in the study book, "Favorite Bible Passages." This has been a very interesting study of the Bible and the next book studied will be "The Great Prayers of the Bible."

Refreshments were served to Mesdames F. W. Greene, Abe Mallouf, A. E. Redwine, J. C. Redwine, W. R. Broadhurst, Frank Spittlar, Carrie Withrow, Wesley Barnes, L. B. Hambricht, Bert Gordon, Earl Peterson and Junior, W. S. Menefee, and one visitor, Mrs. Mason, mother of Mrs. Hambricht.

Weldon Crim Marries Muleshoe Resident

Miss Alma Hawkins became the bride of J. Weldon Crim Thursday evening, Sept. 20, at 8 o'clock in a double-ring ceremony read by Rev. R. V. Luna in the Assembly of God Church in Muleshoe.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crim of Lazbuddie.

The ceremony was read before an altar decorated with candelabra holding white tapers, and baskets of white gladioli. Mrs. Buck Crim, sister-in-law of the groom played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Chuck Stallings who sang "I Love You Truly," and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Ollie Hawkins, of Muleshoe, wore a gown of white nylon lace over taffeta. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiny lace cap. On a white Bible, the bride carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Naomi Watson was maid of honor and wore a light blue taffeta dress designed with a long torso. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Sharon Johnson, niece of the groom, of Dallas, was flower girl, carrying a basket of rose petals. Ringbearer was Doyle Crim, nephew of the bridegroom, who carried the rings on a blue lace over white satin pillow.

Candlelighters were Leroy Hawkins, brother of the bride, from Muleshoe, and John N. Crim, brother of the bridegroom. Max Crim of Amarillo served his brother as best man.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the C. A. hall of the church, and the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents.

The table was laid with a white lace cloth over blue with crystal candlesticks and centered with a crystal punch bowl on a mirror. Gladioli and white pompons were used to decorate the hall. The wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with blue flowers and wedding bells. The crystal punch bowl was filled with sky blue punch.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. After a short wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the couple returned to Muleshoe.

Miss Hawkins attended school in Muleshoe and Mr. Crim is a 1955 graduate of Lazbuddie. At the present time, he is serving in the armed forces and is stationed at Fort Ord, California.

Out of town guests for the wedding were the groom's aunts, Mrs. Lena Kelso and her son, N. D., and Mrs. Anna Wiley and daughter, Lameda, of Lubbock.

The Lazbuddie Home Demonstration club will meet Wednesday Oct. 3 in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Wier. The home demonstration agent will be there and discuss pictures and other accessories for the living room. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

NEWS FROM LAZBUDDIE

BY MRS. BERT GORDON

Lazbuddie Wins Over New Home, 8-0

Lazbuddie Longhorns won their second game of the season at New Home Friday night. After a first half deadlock, the Longhorns backed the New Home team into the end zone for a safety to take a 2 to 0 lead mid-way in the third quarter.

The Longhorns really came to life after scoring the safety. New Home kicked from the twenty yard line and Roy Vanlandingham took it on the 35 and raced to the 50 before the Leopards could bring him down. On the first play from scrimmage, Vanlandingham rolled off 15 yards for a first down on the 35. On the next play, it was Glen Watkins with a nine yard gain to the 26 with Vanlandingham making another 10 yard run on the next play for the first down on the 16 yard line as the third quarter ended.

As the fourth quarter began, Roy Van took the ball over the goal line for six points to send the Longhorns out in front 8 to 0.

The Longhorns picked up 174 yards running. Coach Washington's three mainstays were alternating in the ball carrying department, Johnnie Gammon made 35 yards Watkins with 59, and Vanlandingham with 58. Other backs seeing service were Beavers with 4 yards, Briggs with 6, and Weaver with 12.

Not to be overlooked is the fine play of the boys on the front line as they opened up the hole for the backs to gain their yardage. Leading the fine defensive play were Captain Andy Fuqua along with Gilmore, Daniel, and Capt. D. Teague.

The Longhorns have several sophomores and freshmen in the starting line up, and if they continue to improve, they should give several other teams a lot of trouble in their first year of eleven man football.

Coach Washington and Coach Williams commented that the boys looked good, but would need some brushing up before the first conference game next Friday night on the home field with Whitharral.

Come out and back the Longhorns Friday night against Whitharral in their first conference game.

The PTA will serve barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and coffee.

Group Has Bible Study

The Pauline Cammack circle of the W. M. U. met on Monday in the home of Mrs. W. S. Menefee for Bible study. After a short business session, the meeting was turned to Mrs. Earl Peterson who had charge of the last chapter in the study book, "Favorite Bible Passages." This has been a very interesting study of the Bible and the next book studied will be "The Great Prayers of the Bible."

Refreshments were served to Mesdames F. W. Greene, Abe Mallouf, A. E. Redwine, J. C. Redwine, W. R. Broadhurst, Frank Spittlar, Carrie Withrow, Wesley Barnes, L. B. Hambricht, Bert Gordon, Earl Peterson and Junior, W. S. Menefee, and one visitor, Mrs. Mason, mother of Mrs. Hambricht.

Weldon Crim Marries Muleshoe Resident

Miss Alma Hawkins became the bride of J. Weldon Crim Thursday evening, Sept. 20, at 8 o'clock in a double-ring ceremony read by Rev. R. V. Luna in the Assembly of God Church in Muleshoe.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crim of Lazbuddie.

The ceremony was read before an altar decorated with candelabra holding white tapers, and baskets of white gladioli.

Mrs. Buck Crim, sister-in-law of the groom played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Chuck Stallings who sang "I Love You Truly," and "Whither Thou Goest."

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Ollie Hawkins, of Muleshoe, wore a gown of white nylon lace over taffeta. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiny lace cap. On a white Bible, the bride carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Naomi Watson was maid of honor and wore a light blue taffeta dress designed with a long torso. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Sharon Johnson, niece of the groom, of Dallas, was flower girl, carrying a basket of rose petals. Ringbearer was Doyle Crim, nephew of the bridegroom, who carried the rings on a blue lace over white satin pillow.

Candlelighters were Leroy Hawkins, brother of the bride, from Muleshoe, and John N. Crim, brother of the bridegroom. Max Crim of Amarillo served his brother as best man.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the C. A. hall of the church, and the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents.

The table was laid with a white lace cloth over blue with crystal candlesticks and centered with a crystal punch bowl on a mirror. Gladioli and white pompoms were used to decorate the hall. The wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with blue flowers and wedding bells. The crystal punch bowl was filled with sky blue punch.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. After a short wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the couple returned to Muleshoe.

Miss Hawkins attended school in Muleshoe and Mr. Crim is a 1955 graduate of Lazbuddie. At the present time, he is serving in the armed forces and is stationed at Fort Ord, California.

Out of town guests for the wedding were the groom's aunts, Mrs. Lena Kelso and her son, N. D., and Mrs. Anna Wiley and daughter, Lameda, of Lubbock.

The Lazbuddie Home Demonstration club will meet Wednesday Oct. 3 in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Wier. The home demonstration agent will be there and discuss pictures and other accessories for the living room. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Spittlar and children entertained relatives with a fish fry in their home recently. There to enjoy the fish were: Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Black, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Black, Beverly, Brenda, and Mark, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Donald Spittlar, O. D. and his father caught the fish on a recent trip to Conchas Lake.

L. L. Bewley of Yoncalla, Oregon is visiting in the home of his daughter Mrs. R. J. Steinbock. He is also visiting his brother, T. W. Bewley and a sister, Mrs. Gene Seaton.

Susan Pendergrass, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Pendergrass was admitted to the hospital at Friona Sunday. It is expected that she will be there for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ham were in Lubbock on Monday where they visited the Panhandle South-Plains fair.

T. J. Bostwick is visiting his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Houston, and children.

Twenty-nine F.H.A. girls accompanied by Mrs. Dian Reed,

Mrs. D. W. Cargile, Mrs. Jimmy D. Black and Mr. and Mrs. James Haynes and sons were in Lubbock on Monday to attend the Panhandle South-Plains fair. They also attended "Holiday on Ice," and reported they enjoyed it very much.

Lazbuddie Plans School Fair Monday

Oct. 1st., there will be a school fair at Lazbuddie. 4-H, F.H.A. and F.F.A. club members will receive premiums for their exhibits. There will be a place for all crops grown on the home farm and livestock should be owned by a club member.

Please bring all interesting exhibits for exhibition to the school children.

Crop exhibits will be accepted at the agriculture building from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday afternoons, Sept. 29 and 30.

Livestock will be accepted from 6:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. Oct. 1st. Monday will be visitors day. Judging starts at 10 a.m.

Everyone is welcome to come out and visit us on Monday. The Gin Cafe is open and you can get lunch there or eat at the school cafeteria.

Students Present Program Thursday

The Lazbuddie P.T.A. met last Thursday night with Mrs. Grace Young presiding. After a short business session, Mrs. Casey Dunn of Friona presented the program consisting of several numbers by students of dance. Refreshments of rolls and coffee were served to those present. Patrons of the school are reminded that the regular meeting date for the P.T.A. will be Monday night, Oct. 1 and the Teacher Retirement Amendment will be discussed.

Mr. and Mr. Bert Gordon, Alice and Richard were in Estancia, N.M., Sunday.

Rainbow Has Business Meet

Members of the Bovina Chapter of the Order of Rainbow for Girls met Monday night, September 17, at the Masonic Hall in Bovina for a business session with the new Worthy Advisor, Fern Tipton, of Farwell, in charge.

Next regular meeting of the group will be Monday evening, October 8. Miss Tipton says that there is some important business to be discussed by the group and urges all members to attend the meeting.

Present for last week's meeting besides the Worthy Advisor were Misses Sandra Rhinehart, Harriette Lou Charles, Sherri Lynn Langer, Mary Hartsell, Kay Leake, Bettye Mae Stevens, Janice Leake, Sherrye Vestal, Joy Redden and Sandra Martin.

Mrs. Margie Ann Owens of Wichita, Kans., was a guest at the meeting. Others present were Mrs. Julia Leake, Mother Advisor; Mrs. Flossie Rhinehart, member of the advisory board; and R. A. Hartsell, Rainbow Dad.

Fred Curtises Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtise are the parents of their second son, Leslie Ray, who was born Monday, September 24, at 9:35 p. m. and weighed nine pounds and two ounces.

Leslie has one brother, Robert, and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crim of Lazbuddie and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mears of Farwell.

Parmer Women Take Honors At Curry Fair

Two Farwell women, Mrs. E. G. Blair and Mrs. Weedy Coffman, captured several awards in the flower show held at the Curry County Fair in Clovis last week.

Mrs. Coffman entered 10 events in the cultural classes and won 10 awards and Mrs. Blair won five awards on her entries.

Mrs. Elmer Langford of Texico also won several places in the arrangement division of the show.

Ruth Class Officers Are Elected Monday

Officers to serve during the next six months were elected by members of the Ruth Sunday School class of the Texico Baptist Church at the regular class meeting held Tuesday night, September 25, at the home of Mrs. Willie Morgan.

Mrs. Ruby Stone was elected to serve the group as president and the following officers will assist her during her term: vice-president, Mrs. Lela Douglas; recording secretary, Mrs. Susie Schlueter; class secretary, Mrs. Sophia McDaniel; class mistress, Mrs. Nora Day; group captains, Mrs. Dot Richards and Mrs. Alvenia Cox; and associate group captain, Mrs. Susie Donahey. New officers will start their duties on the first Sunday in October.

Mrs. Lucy Brown is the class teacher and Mrs. Willie Morgan is assistant teacher.

Mrs. Tena Roth gave the evening's devotion and used "The Sin That is Vicious" as her theme. Mrs. Nora Day, out-going president of the group, presided during the business session.

The group discussed helping other people in the church, and Mrs. Day expressed her appreciation for kindnesses extended her by the class during her recent bereavement in the loss of her mother.

After the business meeting, the hostess served refreshments of television cake, homemade peach ice cream, stuffed dates, and mints to Mesdames Dot Richardson, Ruby Stone, Lucy Brown, Lela Douglas, Irene Baker, Alvenia Cox, Lois Poete, Geneva Lovelace;

Also, Mesdames Nora Day, Susie Schlueter, Velma Seale and one guest, Mrs. Pearl Osborn of the Pleasant Hill community.

We like to get a recipe like the one we have this week—because we know there are several women who really want it. Members of the Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration club especially requested that we call Mrs. C. W. Sanders and get that wonderful recipe for sesame cookies. She had served the dessert at their last meeting.

If anyone else has a special recipe that she would like to have printed in this column, we would love to have it. And we appreciate requests such as the one this week.

Our thanks to Mrs. Sanders too.

SESAME COOKIES

Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Toast 1/2 cup of coconut until light brown. Cream 3/4 cup butter, adding gradually 1 cup (firmly packed) brown sugar, creaming well. Blend in 1 egg and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat well.

Add dry ingredients and 5 tablespoons toasted sesame and the toasted coconut. Shape into balls and place on ungreased cookie sheet. Cook in moderate oven (350 degrees) 10-12 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Little Bill, grandson of Rosa and M. C. Roberts, has been visiting here, and Rosa confides that she will get to keep him until this weekend. We could tell, as far as she is concerned, he could stay here from now on.

One columnist says the way to get the same feeling you get when you take a vacation, without ever leaving town, is to tip every third person you meet.

We had an opportunity to visit briefly with the David Moseleys over the weekend. They are the parents of Hugh, county clerk. Both of them seem to possess the quality of sincerely liking people, a character trait that always impresses us.

If a town is too complacent and satisfied, it can be determined by watching the young people. A town that is going no place in particular is nice to "be from," but not challenging to go to, either as a place to work or live. So says the Town Journal.

We enjoyed a note from Jane and Charlie Barton this week. Jane was The Tribune's Lazbuddie correspondent when her husband managed the gin there. Then the Bartons were in the gin business in Bovina before they sold their interests.

Charlie attended summer school at TCU and the family is now living in Lubbock where they are building a home.

Of course, most interesting to us was the information that Jane included about the bosses in the Barton family, Bobby and Buddy. Their two boys are younger than our two boys—just a few months.

We thought Parmer County friends of Jane and Charlie might like to know what they are doing now.

This is the time of year when that certain mania hits the housewife, and she begins jerking things out of the closet, and after looking and fitting, matching mixing and piling things together, finds that, nine times out of ten, Junior can't wear last season's wardrobe.

In the case of daughter's we hear the situation is always worse.

But those of us who are members of ESA have our problem solved on what to do with those things. We're going to have a rummage sale. And if you have anything that you'd like to give the organization, any of the members would be happy to pick it up. Sales are planned in October.

Santa's visit will be here before we know it, and plans are already a major item.

Bobby Patterson Injures Ankle

Bobby Patterson, son of Mrs. Avis Patterson, Texico, was hospitalized in Clovis the first of this week for treatment of a severely sprained ankle. The accident occurred last Friday when Bobby stepped from a curb and twisted his foot.

He was confined to bed at home until Monday when he was taken to the hospital to have a cast put on the injured ankle.

Farm Bureau Votes Flexible Price Props

By Dolph Moten

Parmer County Farm Bureau voted on 15 resolutions at its 1956 convention Monday night at Bovina School Auditorium. In addition to the resolutions vote, the organization elected directors for another year, awarded leadership pins to outstanding county 4-H, FFA, and FHA youngsters, named delegates to the state FB convention, and heard a brief concert by Bovina Mustang Band under the direction of W. Wayne Stevens.

Gilbert Kaltwasser, who has been president of the county group for the past two years, was re-elected. Directors elected were M. T. Glasscock, Farwell area; Roy Grace, Black area; B. T. Ford, Lazbuddie area; Donald Christian, Bovina area; and Ralph Miller, North Friona area.

Possibly the most important resolution the Bureau voted "for" at the convention had to do with "flexible acreage controls and flexible price supports." The resolution: "Be it resolved that PCFB favors flexible Federal Price Supports, based on supply and demand factors of basic crops, if increased acreages can be allowed due to increased domestic marketing and export marketing."

Other resolutions that carried were:

1. Be it resolved that if a water development program is instituted in Texas, PCFB favors a Water User's Tax to finance the program.
2. Be it resolved that PCFB favors election by the people of a board of directors for any proposed water development program, and that districts for such election be geographically established to assure proper representation for all concerned with such proposed water development program.
3. Be it resolved that PCFB opposes any efforts that may be made to repeal Texas' Right to Work Law. We believe this law insures the freedom of Texas workers to choose whether or not, or with which union, they wish to affiliate themselves.
4. In view of numerous reports of other states denying license of Texas feed grains for use in those states, be it resolved that PCFB favors adoption by local grain dealers and Commodity Credit Corporation of a marketing regulation that will reflect the superior value of feed grains free of noxious seeds.

5. The Soil Bank Agricultural Program was intended to bring supply and demand for farm commodities into balance by reducing production and compensating the farmer in part with cash or like commodities. Therefore, be it resolved that PCFB urges the Department of Agriculture to institute drouth or other disaster insurance program as an agency separated from the Soil Bank, in order that the cost of such insurance program not be included in the cost of administering the Soil Bank Plan.

6. Be it resolved that PCFB favors a MINIMUM parity support price on non-basic commodities of 75 per cent, with no acreage restrictions.

7. Be it resolved that PCFB urges repeal of the Texas law requiring licensing of farm utility trailers for domestic use.

8. Be it resolved that PCFB urges retaining present Legislative Districts to prevent any attempts that may be made to shift elective strength from rural areas to cities.

9. Be it resolved the PCFB favors construction and maintenance of separate but equal schools for white and colored children in Texas, and that segregation be left to the peoples of each school district.

10. Be it resolved that PCFB favors enactment of a Retail Sales Tax Law in Texas with revenue from such tax to be used for schools only. This tax to replace our present school tax system.

11. Be it resolved the PCFB opposes compulsory consolidation of schools of less than 300 high school enrollment to make one of at least 1000 enrollment.

12. Be it resolved that PCFB shall, when and where feasible, lend its support to efforts of the Bi-State Water District in its efforts to prevent excessive withdrawal of underground water from agricultural areas for non-agricultural use.

13. Be it resolved that PCFB extends its support and appreciation to J. Walter Hammond, president, and other leaders in Texas Farm Bureau, and congressional committeemen, in their recent successful investigation of possible collusion among oil companies in raising the price of farm delivered fuels one half cent per gallon soon after farmers were exempt from Federal tax in such fuels.

The one resolution that failed to carry read, "Be it resolved that PCFB offers its support to a feasible plan for income tax depletion allowance on irrigation well installation."

Delegates named to attend the state convention in November are Glasscock, Christian, Carl Schlenker, Kaltwasser, Harry Hamilton, Roy Miller, and Clarence Johnson. PCFB will have six votes at the state meet.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Those of us who saw the kitchen of fifty years ago in the American Legion hall last weekend should appreciate the modern appliances we have more than ever. It was very interesting to look at, and we would not have missed seeing it, but are very glad it isn't typical of kitchens today.

As you looked at it, did you think of the work a homemaker of 50 years ago had to do. The water bucket had to be kept full, used water had to be carried out and the fuel for cooking wasn't easy to gather. Of course, other members of the family helped out but there was still a lot of chores for the woman of the house to do that we do not have to do today.

One of the things which we would like to have was the homemade lye soap. There are several homemakers in our community who still make that type soap. We have wondered what could be used to take the place of bar soaps for removing stamping from embroidered articles. The last time we did any embroidery work, it was impossible for us to buy any kind of laundry soap in a bar and the detergent which we used did not remove all the unwanted stamping.

A cake recipe which we have used for several years and like very much is for Sour Cream Chocolate Cake. It is as simple to make as any of the mixes which are so popular today and has a very distinctive flavor. The ingredients are 1 1/4 cups sugar, 1 1/2 cups sour cream, 1 3/4 cups sifted flour, 4 heaping tablespoons cocoa, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 well beaten eggs and 2 teaspoons soda dissolved in 1/2 cup boiling water. Sift together sugar, cocoa and flour. Add remainder of ingredients and mix well. Bake in layers or loaf.

Another of our favorite recipes for fall is for eggless pumpkin pie. It is a very good way to use pumpkin, which is plentiful at this season of the year, in a different way.

Mix 2 cups cooked pumpkin, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup sweet cream, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon lemon extract and 1 teaspoon cinnamon. Bake in two single pie shells and top with whipped cream, if desired.

Nutritionists are of the opinion that if apples are peeled for salads some of the vitamins are lost. The peeling also adds color to any salad in which apples are used.

Another thing about the kitchen of 50 years ago which we noticed was the ingenuity of the homemaker. It was necessary for homemakers of that day to use the things which she had. The wooden handles of the curling irons had been burned off by the heat of the lamp, so they were replaced by spoons.

In spite of all the work which there was to be done, the homemaker was still interested in her appearance and no home was completely furnished without the curling irons. Some men were very adept at using them, too.

If you are making fall ensembles for your daughters that have reversible bibs, suspenders, boleros or any other part that requires buttoning, try placing a thin button under the one you plan to use. This leaves room for the two thicknesses of material to fit neatly under the button.

A lot of people never get interested in a thing until they find out that it's none of their business.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

This past week Friona celebrated its 50th birthday. I expect most of us were impressed with the differences that have occurred in the past 50 years, especially in farming.

Fifty years ago this country was in grass and cattle. Today it is in irrigation and farming. The prosperity of our communities has improved along with these changes.

The question we need to face now is, will the next fifty years find us in better shape than 1956—or worse? We as farmers in this area will answer this question with the type of farming we are now practicing and practice in the future.

It seems some of us are living just for today. We do not think of the future in terms of, "What will I leave my children to farm on?" Will I conserve water so that they too can irrigate, improve the land to take care of the ever increasing population of mouths to feed, and in general make life worth living for them?

Or, on the other hand, am I running tail-water or running water too far and being guilty of types of water waste, mining the soil today for myself and making no effort to keep the land productive many years to come, and in general only thinking of MYSELF?

How can we as stewards of the land answer this question?

The conservation of our natural resources cannot be over-emphasized. There will at least twice as many people in the United States 50 years from now as there are now.

When people mine a country of its natural resources as arid as ours, they leave a desert when the resources are all gone.

We live in a country of freedom, and none of us would change this. The initiative of conservation must come from within each of us and not by law or force.

Lets get behind conservation and leave our children a way of life.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Texas Farm Bureau again stepped in and successfully led a fight against discriminatory production price increases for farmers. Soon after the refund of federal tax became law, some major oil companies raised the price of farm-used fuels 1/2 cent per gallon.

J. Walter Hammond and other Farm Bureau leaders appealed for an investigation of possible collusion among these companies to make the increase as a result of the tax refund act. They felt that if this increase was accepted without protest, the increase might finally take all of the three cent refund farmers were finally able to get. W. R. Poage, representative of the investigating committee holding the hearings. Other companies preparing to make the increase, announced that they would probably refrain from raising their price.

We are well aware of the small financial gain made in this move, but farmers are also well aware that the cost price squeeze that confronts them in their operations has come bit by bit, and that such increases in cost of production could finally make farming completely profitless.

Representatives Poage, Albert, and Bass are also on the committee hearing Farm Bureau complaints on the inconsistency of the Smith-Doxey cotton classing offices in Dallas. Hoyt Gaston, of Waxachie, state board engineer for Texas Farm Bureau, is presenting North Texas County Farm Bureau evidence in the cotton classing investigation. Success in this investigation could mean increased income for Parmer County cotton farmers of $200,000 on cotton placed in the loan.

If you haven't already, remember to file for your federal tax refund on farm fuels before October 1.

County Agent Joe Jones deserves a lot of credit for the outstanding Parmer County Booth at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo last week.

We like to get a recipe like the one we have this week—because we know there are several women who really want it. Members of the Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration club especially requested that we call Mrs. C. W. Sanders and get that wonderful recipe for sesame cookies. She had served the dessert at their last meeting.

If anyone else has a special recipe that she would like to have printed in this column, we would love to have it. And we appreciate requests such as the one this week.

Our thanks to Mrs. Sanders too.

SESAME COOKIES
Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Toast 1/2 cup of coconut until light brown. Cream 3/4 cup butter, adding gradually 1 cup (firmly packed) brown sugar, creaming well. Blend in 1 egg and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat well.

Add dry ingredients and 5 tablespoons toasted sesame and the toasted coconut. Shape into balls and place on ungreased cookie sheet. Cook in moderate oven (350 degrees) 10-12 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Little Bill, grandson of Rosa and M. C. Roberts, has been visiting here, and Rosa confides that she will get to keep him until this weekend. We could tell, as far as she is concerned, he could stay here from now on.

One columnist says the way to get the same feeling you get when you take a vacation, without ever leaving town, is to tip every third person you meet.

We had an opportunity to visit briefly with the David Moseleys over the weekend. They are the parents of Hugh, county clerk. Both of them seem to possess the quality of sincerely liking people, a character trait that always impresses us.

If a town is too complacent and satisfied, it can be determined by watching the young people. A town that is going no place in particular is nice to "be from," but not challenging to go to, either as a place to work or live. So says the Town Journal.

We enjoyed a note from Jane and Charlie Barton this week. Jane was The Tribune's Lazbuddie correspondent when her husband managed the gin there. Then the Bartons were in the gin business in Bovina before they sold their interests.

Charlie attended summer school at TCU and the family is now living in Lubbock where they are building a home.

Of course, most interesting to us was the information that Jane included about the bosses in the Barton family, Bobby and Buddy. Their two boys are younger than our two boys—just a few months.

We thought Parmer County friends of Jane and Charlie might like to know what they are doing now.

Farm Bureau Votes Flexible Price Props

By Dolph Moten

Parmer County Farm Bureau voted on 15 resolutions at its 1956 convention Monday night at Bovina School Auditorium. In addition to the resolutions vote, the organization elected directors for another year, awarded leadership pins to outstanding county 4-H, FFA, and FHA youngsters, named delegates to the state FB convention, and heard a brief concert by Bovina Mustang Band under the direction of W. Wayne Stevens.

Gilbert Kaltwasser, who has been president of the county group for the past two years, was re-elected. Directors elected were M. T. Glasscock, Farwell area; Roy Grace, Black area; B. T. Ford, Lazbuddie area; Donald Christian, Bovina area; and Ralph Miller, North Friona area.

Possibly the most important resolution the Bureau voted "for" at the convention had to do with "flexible acreage controls and flexible price supports." The resolution: "Be it resolved that PCFB favors flexible Federal Price Supports, based on supply and demand factors of basic crops, if increased acreages can be allowed due to increased domestic marketing and export marketing."

Other resolutions that carried were:

1. Be it resolved that if a water development program is instituted in Texas, PCFB favors a Water User's Tax to finance the program.
2. Be it resolved that PCFB favors election by the people of a board of directors for any proposed water development program, and that districts for such election be geographically established to assure proper representation for all concerned with such proposed water development program.
3. Be it resolved that PCFB opposes any efforts that may be made to repeal Texas' Right to Work Law. We believe this law insures the freedom of Texas workers to choose whether or not, or with which union they wish to affiliate themselves.
4. In view of numerous reports of other states denying license of Texas feed grains for use in those states, be it resolved that PCFB favors adoption by local grain dealers and Commodity Credit Corporation of a marketing regulation that will reflect the superior value of feed grains free of noxious seeds.

5. The Soil Bank Agricultural Program was intended to bring supply and demand for farm commodities into balance by reducing production and compensating the farmer in part with cash or like commodities. Therefore, be it resolved that PCFB urges the Department of Agriculture to institute drouth or other disaster insurance program as an agency separated from the Soil Bank, in order that the cost of such insurance program not be included in the cost of administering the Soil Bank Plan.

6. Be it resolved that PCFB favors a MINIMUM parity support price on non-basic commodities of 75 per cent, with no acreage restrictions.

7. Be it resolved that PCFB urges repeal of the Texas law requiring licensing of farm utility trailers for domestic use.

8. Be it resolved that PCFB urges retaining present Legislative Districts to prevent any attempts that may be made to shift elective strength from rural areas to cities.

9. Be it resolved the PCFB favors construction and maintenance of separate but equal schools for white and colored children in Texas, and that segregation be left to the peoples of each school district.

10. Be it resolved that PCFB favors enactment of a Retail Sales Tax Law in Texas with revenue from such tax to be used for schools only. This tax to replace our present school tax system.

11. Be it resolved the PCFB opposes compulsory consolidation of schools of less than 300 high school enrollment to make one of at least 1000 enrollment.

12. Be it resolved that PCFB shall, when and where feasible, lend its support to efforts of the Bi-State Water District in its efforts to prevent excessive withdrawal of underground water from agricultural areas for non-agricultural use.

13. Be it resolved that PCFB extends its support and appreciation to J. Walter Hammond, president, and other leaders in Texas Farm Bureau, and congressional committeemen, in their recent successful investigation of possible collusion among oil companies in raising the price of farm delivered fuels one half cent per gallon soon after farmers were exempt from Federal tax in such fuels.

The one resolution that failed to carry read, "Be it resolved that PCFB offers its support to a feasible plan for income tax depletion allowance on irrigation well installation."

Delegates named to attend the state convention in November are Glasscock, Christian, Carl Schlenker, Kaltwasser, Harry Hamilton, Roy Miller, and Clarence Johnson. PCFB will have six votes at the state meet.

Early Harvesting Continues in Fields Of Cotton, Grain

What may prove to be the earliest harvest in history continued to gain momentum this week as cotton and grain sorghum from thousands of irrigated acres in and around Parmer County rose from a tiny trickle to a steady stream into the area's waiting gins and elevators.

The only cotton harvesting underway is hand-pulled. The advent of mechanical boll pulling is still several weeks (farmers hope) away, and the exact date will be decided by the first severe freeze.

If a late freeze comes, there may be increased defoliation this year, due to the advancement of the maturity of the cotton. However, predictions on this are hard to make right now. Extremely warm and dry weather for late September has "cooked" maturing heads of grain in field after field, and made early combining a reality because of the unusually dry heads.

Yields from grain sorghum which have been reported are too scattered to determine the trend this fall, but experienced observers say that they think the irrigated milo crop will average between 3,000 and 3,500 pounds.

This would put some yields well over 5,000 pounds to keep up that kind of an average, they point out. No reports are out yet on the yields of the hybrids, which are being grown on a large scale this year for the first time.

Moseley and Terrell Organize in Farwell For Foundation

Hugh Moseley and Jim Terrell have been appointed by Gilbert Kaltwasser, county chairman, to assist in organizing a campaign in the Farwell area for the Texas Research Foundation.

The Foundation, with headquarters at Renner, is seeking establishment of a High Plains field station and is depending upon subscriptions from farmers, ranchers and businessmen for its support.

It is not a state or federally financed agency, but one which is supported entirely by private interests.

Moseley and Terrell say that the area they will cover will include Oklahoma Lane and Lariat communities, and that no cash or pledge goal has been established for the area as yet.

The workers say they will need all the assistance they can get from persons who are interested in supporting the move.

THE PARMER FARMER

Prediction: Before 1956 is ended, the subject of proration of ground water for irrigation purposes on the High Plains will be more than just "something our children may have to worry about some day."

Unrestrained use of well water for industrial and other non-agriculture purposes may force Plains landowners to consider severe pumping restrictions. This could set a precedent for all pumping—not just that for non-irrigation purposes.

Farming and politics are an unpleasant mixture, but they seem to be inseparable these days. To demonstrate how opposite the farm picture can appear, depending on your vantage point, we introduce two interesting clippings.

The first is pulled from the October issue of "Straight from the Shoulder," a publication which claims to be "A journal of political fact."

It follows: The sharp decline in farm income which began under the Truman Administration in 1951 has been checked. Indications are that net agricultural income in 1956 will top the 1955 figure.

Since 1947, net realized farm income has declined in every year but one—the lone exception being the Korean War year of 1951. In four of the last five years the Democrats were in office farm income dropped.

Now it appears that 1956 will see a reversal of that long-time downward trend. Primarily responsible for the improved income outlook are higher prices for such major agricultural products as cattle, hogs, milk and wheat. It was livestock producers who bore the brunt of last year's price declines and it is this industry that has experienced the sharpest recovery in 1956.

Fed cattle recently have been bringing the highest prices in several years. Hog prices have moved upward by some $6 per hundredweight since early 1956.

The "Demand and Price Situation Report," issued by the Department of Agriculture, had this to say on the farm income outlook for 1956:

"Crop output this year, according to current indications, will be smaller than in 1955 and a further expansion is in prospect for both domestic demand and foreign takings.

"As this year's crops move to market, grower prices in general are expected to continue well above last year, even though some decline may well occur as marketings reach their peak this fall," the report said.

"Later this year livestock product prices are expected to average above a year earlier, due mainly to a smaller volume of hog marketings this fall than last, and higher price supports for dairy products."

The department said the higher prices being paid for farm commodities will give the farmer a total dollar income above a year ago even though he may have less farm produce to sell.

"In addition, close to $300 million is being distributed to farmers for participation in the soil bank for 1956 and as incentive payments for the 1955 wool clip," the department said.

And now, consider if you will a different outlook on farm problems, as viewed by the Washington Newsletter of the National Farmers Union:

Sen. Estes Kefauver hit hard at the Eisenhower Administration's record on farm issues in the first lap of a two-week campaign swing through 15 midwest and western agricultural states this week.

He pinned full responsibility for "the farm depression" upon President Eisenhower, charging that he "betrayed" his 1952 campaign promises of "100% of parity" within a few weeks after the election was over.

Eisenhower's designation of Ezra Taft Benson to be Sec'y of Agriculture signaled a direct repudiation of the promises Eisenhower made to farmers in his 1952 campaign, Kefauver charged.

The President has never failed to back Benson to the hilt, Kefauver emphasized. The Democratic Vice Presidential nominee pointed out that on occasion Eisenhower has reversed several other members of the Cabinet, but Benson has always had his own way.

FULL 100% PARITY is pledged to farmers by the Democratic party in its 1956 platform, Kefauver told cheering crowds at one stop after another.

He interpreted the platform pledge as a promise to use the most suitable combination of methods and programs for achieving farm prices at 100% of parity.

This does not necessarily mean that price supports at 100% of parity will be enacted across the board, Kefauver explained. He said that a food stamp plan, increased school lunch and school milk programs, more food to welfare agencies, and a world food bank would help to firm up farm prices and to make good use of the nation's abundant food.

In addition to firm price supports for basics at 90% of parity, Kefauver said that the party platform and its nominees favor using direct payments to producers, commodity loans, purchases, marketing agreements and orders, production adjustments, and other suitable methods to bolster farm prices and farmers' incomes.

"That chart on the wall."

"What wall?"

"Wait a minute, you've got to have a more thorough eye examination. Do you mind taking off your clothes?"

"Take my clothes off just for my eyes?"

"Don't argue with the army, just go ahead as you're ordered."

So he took off his clothes and walked into a room where about fifty other men were sitting with their clothes off. He said to a fellow next to him, "Isn't this ridiculous? Something's wrong with my eyes and they told me to take my clothes off."

The fellow answered him: "What are you complaining about? I came here to deliver a telegram."

Parmer County girls' 4-H Clubs were represented at the Rural Youth Day program at the Tri-State Fair on Saturday by Misses Katherine Smith and Judy Billingsley. Katherine, member of the Lazbuddie 4-H Club, represented the county at the District 1 4-H Council meeting and Judy represented the county as Parmer baking queen. She was presented a box of baking equipment for her entry in the baking contest.

An enjoyable program was presented for the boys and girls on this day including the performance of a Hollywood magician, a trampoline artist and a television singer.

Protect those dollars invested in the family wardrobe—extension clothing specialists remind us that proper care will keep garments looking better longer.

Proper care, according to the specialists, means that certain things must be done daily; others need to be done occasionally, and still others at a change of seasons, such as we now have coming up . . . knowing the right care to give new fabrics, as well as the old stand-bys such as cotton, silk and wool, is necessary to do a good job.

FACTS ABOUT CLOTHING CARE—a new bulletin out, written by extension clothing specialists tells how to do the daily job as well as the seasonal job of caring for your family's clothing.

I have ordered this bulletin; so within the next week, if you will come by my office, I will give you a copy.

HD Council To Have Call Meet

Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, home demonstration agent, announces that there will be a call meeting of the County Home Demonstration Club Council at her office in the courthouse at Farwell on Monday, October 1, for the purpose of electing a nominating committee.

The regular meeting was scheduled for Monday of this week, but not enough members were present to conduct any business.

All members are urged to be present at the call meeting so that important business can be attended to.

Quality Will Vary But Top Varieties Still Prove Best

By W. H. GRAHAM JR.

Fluctuation in milling quality reports on samples of wheat sent from Parmer County to be checked indicate that most all varieties have their ups and downs, depending on the weather and other factors, but that recommended varieties still are the only ones that can produce grain that is today acceptable to flour mills.

Bruce Parr, Black farmer and member of the Parmer County Farm Bureau weed committee, took the trouble to send in 13 samples of wheat produced on county farms this year, to check the milling quality of the local product.

The tests were made in the baking laboratories of Producers Grain Corporation in Amarillo, and H. L. Ward of the laboratory department corresponded with Parr about statistics obtained from the tests.

Results were at the same time surprising and disappointing. Of the 13 samples sent in, only one received a "good" rating from the laboratory, scoring 75 out of a possible 100 points by milling quality standards.

Four other samples were rated "fair" by the technicians, and one was rated "very poor." The rest were "poor."

Varieties included in the samples were comanche, early blackhull, westar, standard blackhull, concho, wichita, and kiowa. The varieties "blacklisted" by USDA include blackhull, red chief, blue jacket, kanking, new chief, yogo, and red jacket.

They are discounted 20 cents per bushel on the support price because they are considered undesirable from a milling quality standpoint. Varieties recommended include westar, tenmarg, turkey red, concho, wichita, triumph, and comanche.

The thing that makes the analysis difficult to understand is that several samples supposedly having higher baking quality brought extremely low results in the Amarillo lab.

First, farmers should understand that this is often the case in laboratory or research work. Averages taken over a long period of time are the only answer to true findings, and that is the reason that new developments from the laboratories sometimes seem too long in the process of development. It takes time.

The PGS technician has made some interesting comments: "In view of the rather erratic and contradictory results on these samples, it is a very difficult job to try to explain what has happened to the milling quality on some of the other varieties. "Some varieties will turn out good quality in one specific year from one certain location, and the same seed planted another year or in another location will be of poor quality."

"Climate, soil types, and growing conditions seem to control quality in wheat. In most cases, we have found that irrigated wheat is of lower protein and quality than the same variety planted on dry land."

But, the analyst pointed out, only quality seed can produce quality wheat: "In no case have we found a good baking sample of the poor varieties. They have been poor and very poor in every case, regardless of growing conditions or where they were planted. It is a fact that the mills will not buy those wheats, even at a discount, for milling purposes."

Ward sent Parr two samples that came from the tests. They were slices of bread baked from the actual samples, and were encased in sealed, plastic containers.

Even to the untrained eye, the difference in volume, grain, color and texture of the two samples was apparent. One sample, comanche wheat from the Jack Bruns farm, rose about three-quarters an inch higher than the other, which was early blackhull.

The blackhull sample had a very coarse texture and was filled with cavities near the top of the crust. It did not have the full, rich appearance of the comanche wheat.

Good Seed Wheat May Be in Demand

Farmers are suggested to consider the advantages of producing good milling quality seed wheat, not only as a cash crop to be consumed at the flour mills, but also as a supply of quality planting seed for the wheat producing areas of the Southwest.

Trade journals and agricultural commentators report that the stock of good seed wheat is low this year after a below-average production from much of the country's wheatlands.

Some day—it is warned—the drought will end, and with renewed planting activity in the non-irrigated portions of the Southwest, a critical need for quality planting seed may develop.

High Plains irrigated farmers who produce wheat in dry years and wet are reminded to be aware of this need.

16 Make Application For Emergency Feed

Sixteen applications for emergency grain and hay were reviewed by the Parmer County FHA committee in Farwell Thursday, in the first step of the reactivated drought disaster feed program.

The committee, composed of A. W. Anthony, Friona; Wilbur Charles, Bovina; and Gilbert Kaltwasser, Farwell; rejected one application, and retained "two or three" for purposes of review, according to John Zahan of the FHA office.

Participation in the emergency program is "considerably lighter" than FHA officials had expected, Zahan says.

On Saturday, the government abruptly cut off its hay program, pending a "reappraisal" of that part of the project. Details of this action appear in another story in the farm and home section.

This move, however did not interfere with the more than 10 Parmer County farmer-stockmen who had been approved for participation.

Frankie Coffman At Council Meet

Frankie Coffman of Farwell represented the Parmer County Boys' 4-H Clubs at the District I 4-H Club Council meeting held Saturday at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

No More Roughage Pending Review Of Texas Program

The volume of approved applications for assistance under the Texas emergency roughage program has exceeded the estimates of demand when this program was negotiated, so it is necessary to reappraise the actual cash requirements.

The agreement between Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and Governor Allan Shivers provided for an allocation of one million dollars, of federal funds for the roughage program. Funds available to the U. S. Department of Agriculture to finance roughage program must be allocated among all disaster designated states where such a program is needed.

Walter T. McKay, Texas State Director of Farmers Home Administration, has been instructed by K. L. Scott, Director of Credit Services, U. S. Department of Agriculture, to immediately instruct all FHA County Offices in the designated areas to withhold further approvals of roughage purchase certificates.

The county offices in the designated areas are to withhold further approvals of roughage purchase certificates, but they are authorized to continue to accept and hold on file applications for assistance under this roughage program, but are instructed to take no action on these applications and to make daily reports on the tonnage requirements covered by such applications to McKay's office.

McKay has been asked to solicit the assistance of the Texas USDA Drought Committee and the office of the governor in making a careful reappraisal of the demand for assistance under this emergency roughage program including financial requirements.

Scott stated that in keeping with the policies and the desires of Secretary Benson, the Department will continue to work closely with Governor Shivers and leaders in the state and give all assistance possible within the authority and funds available to the department in providing assistance to drought stricken farmers and ranchers in Texas.

activities that made it difficult for her. "I couldn't run, and couldn't play with the other kids," she confides, "and I missed seeing the kids at school every day."

Her illness was diagnosed a few months before school was out. She recalls that the first function she attended after being sick was her class Easter party. She doesn't remember exactly how long she was bedfast and out of school, but it seemed like a long time to the vivacious young lady.

It was a long time before she could continue such activity. Now she can do many things as long as she doesn't exert herself too much.

Judy's recuperation period was spent at home. With the help of her sister, she kept up with her lessons pretty well. Connie brought books and class assignments home to her each day, and Judy worked at home, on the work that her classmates were doing in school.

She says she appreciates school more than ever, especially her

As was the case with the others who were ill, Judy appreciated the visits and remembrances from her friends more than anything. Although she is on a normal schedule now, she still takes medicine didn't know in April that it would be 3 1/2 months before she would be up again. But her recuperation was slow.

Other quiet activities were designed to keep Judy occupied and happy. She likes to color very much, so that was a favorite pastime. Too, she enjoyed books since reading is another favorite activity. There were puzzles to work, and the young lady recalls that her mother found quite a lot of time to read to her.

Now entering her teens, and in her last year of school before high school, Darlene Hromas, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hromas, also has lots to remember, and she "loves school." She says she always did like her class work, but not as much as she does now. She was really looking forward to her work this year, partially because she can now enter in most of the activities for the first time since her illness. Last year, she was unable to work out with the basketball girls, and couldn't compete in any contests. But she has a free rein, as long as she watches overexertion. She also had to rest at off periods at school, and at home in the evenings.

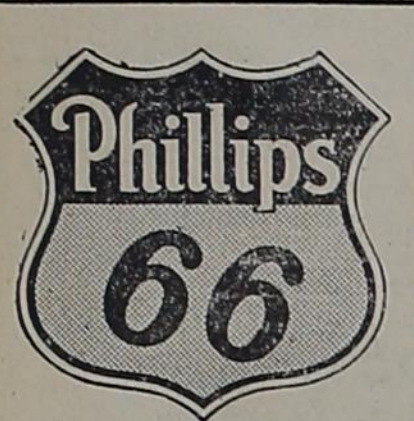

She liked athletics and missed the banter and comradeship of working out on the court with her friends. For a while, she admits that "It just seemed like I missed everything." She couldn't attend the end-of-school skating party with her classmates, which seemed to be a hard thing to take at the time.

Since she likes to embroider, she also spent some time with this activity. She was quite proud of a pot holder that she embroidered for her older sister, and with her mother's help on the finishing work, Judy thought it turned out quite well.

One of the first indications of Darlene's illness noticed by her parents was that her studies which had always been rather easy for her, became more difficult. She seemed to tire easily. She became ill the latter part of the year, when she was a sixth grader.

She was sick off and on a month or two before her case was definitely diagnosed as rheumatic fever. When the scope of her illness was realized, she was put to bed for a total rest. On realizing that she was to be bedfast, Dar-image, however, a pass was intercepted by Farwell's Arlin Smith, who moved the ball from the 19 to the 14.

Willard took the ball on the next play and scampered across for the final TD. T. Lovelace plunged across for the extra point.

Leading the Steers ground game were T. Lovelace and Willard, Lovelace totaling 78 yards rushing and Willard 77. Also, Pike, playing in his second ball game of his school career, rolled up 18 yards on the ground, caught a pass for 21, along with his 81-yard kick-off return.

Defensive standouts for the game were Owens, Pike, Preston Cain, Leon Jamison, and Mitchell Walls.

Farwell B Team Rolls Over Friona

In their first game of the season, Farwell's B team defeated the Friona B squad by a 14-7 count on the local field last Thursday.

The two teams battled to a scoreless tie during the first three quarters but got their offensive forces to rolling in the final period when Friona tallied once and the Farwell team scored twice.

Early in the final period, Friona took the lead when Jim Roy Clements, quarterback, went over for a TD. Jerry Brook, halfback, ran the extra point to give the visitor a 7-0 lead.

Farwell came back with two touchdowns in the final minutes, Gerald Christian going over both times. Both extra point tries were successful.

The next game for the squad is tonight (Thursday) at Sudan.

Commissioners Okay Purchase for Road Grader for Pct. 4

At the regular meeting of the Parmer County Commissioners' Court Monday, the purchase of a Caterpillar road grader was approved for precinct 4, Lazbuddie.

The grader is being purchased from West Texas Equipment Company at a price of $18,761, less $6000 trade-in on an old grader.

Other business at the commissioners' meeting was routine and present were A. D. Smith, judge; Charley Jefferson, Johnny McDonald, Forrest Osborn, and Henry Ivy, commissioners, and Hugh Moseley, clerk.

Mother Of Texico Man Is Buried At Groom

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon, September 22, for Mrs. Bonnie Harrell Helton of Groom, mother of Joe A. Helton, Texico.

Mrs. Helton, 78, died in Claude at 6:30 a. m. Thursday. Services were held at the First Methodist Church of Groom with Rev. Walter Davis officiating. Interment was in the Groom cemetery with Murphy Funeral Home of Clarendon in charge.

Texico Junior Teams Remain Undefeated

Good hitting off the bats of the Texico Junior High boys and girls brought two more wins to their credit as they met the Rosedale teams at Rosedale in a softball game on Tuesday afternoon, September 18.

The girls brought home a 13-10 victory, while the boys won 18-4, keeping Texico's record clean with no defeats in conference play.

Betty Walton was the starting pitcher for Texico girls and was later relieved by Connie Tharp.

Starting the lineups for both boys and girls games were the same as in previous games except for the addition of Billy Hukill and Jerry Thigpen on the boys' roster.

In the boys' game Charles Stockton was the starting pitcher with Larry Powell relieving him. Wesley Ingram hit a home run for Texico.

Coach Curtis Miller says, "The strongest point in Texico's favor in the boys' team is an unusually strong infield. And though our pitching is above average, we are playing 'hard to beat' Grady and House who have excellent pitching. Larry Powell, short-stop, is an outstanding prospect for the high school team."

It's not the rain you get, but the rain you keep that counts, says G. O. Hoffman, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Range Specialist. Make provisions now to hold rainfall.

To The Editor

Dear Sonny,

Please renew our subscription for another year as we would sure be lost without the home town paper.

Keep up the good job and print all the local news for it is really a "letter from home."

We even compare your grocery ads with the ones in Washington and find that you guys can buy coffee and groceries cheaper there than we can here.

Hoping we won't miss a copy of the paper.

As ever,
