Poor Reagan was ignored

Sure glad that election is over. I went to bed at 10 p.m. on Election Night; just didn't have my heart in it.

There weren't any surprises as I saw it. One thing that does tick me off is that the newscasters kept talking in terms of Republicans vs. Democrats. They should be reporting in terms of liberals vs. conservatives.

Sure the GOP didn't pick up as many seats as expected. But it wasn't because our voters are so liberal. It's just that many Republican candidates got whipped by conservative Democrats. Overall, President Reagan ought to have strong backing for his programs from the just-elected Congress. There is a strong majority of conservative senators, and it appears a working coalition could be worked out in the House among Republicans and conservative Democrats.

I kind of feel sorry for the national Democratic leadership. It's in disarray. I thought Fritz Mondale ran as good a campaign as a Democrat could have (except for his silliness on tax increases) against Reagan. And I thought that picking a woman for a vice presidential candidate was a clever move - until it was found that her house (income tax-wise) was not all in order and she lacked political expertise.

I agree with the political pundits who say that the national Democratic party has given itself to special interest groups. Big Labor may be able to deliver votes in a primary election, but it's worthless in a general election. And I get sick and tired of hearing about the cohesiveness of the "minority vote." Most folks think for themselves and what's good for their family and country; they just don't lockstep to the polls and vote the way someone says they have to. One thing about most Americans: they don't want somebody telling them who to vote for.

Anyway, watching the election results on the tube brought back memories of times I have had the opportunity to see U.S. presidents in person.

The first time was back in 1963 and occurred in an unusual circumstance. I was disembarking an ocean liner in Naples, Italy, when I saw a large throng of people about two blocks from the dock. I wandered over that way and arrived just as a huge cheer went forth. There was a motorcade coming down the street and just then, who shows up but President Kennedy!

I had to laugh about that incident. Think of it - traveling 3,000 miles to a foreign country to see your own President!

The second time was more mundane. I attended a press conference in South Bend, Ind., that President Ford gave in 1978. If you remember, when Ford replaced Nixon, he vowed to "open up" the presidency and get out of the Washington, D.C., Ivory Tower. So he gave a series of press conferences throughout the hinterlands.

One thing about a press conference: it's a pain. If a candidate doesn't want to answer a question, he won't. He'll "answer" with information he wants the public to have. Often, the answer has nothing to do with the question.

The third time I saw a President actually occurred when he was still a candidate. It was back in 1976 when President Reagan was seeking to win the GOP nomination in the primary.

Reagan stopped off in Michigan City, Ind., where I lived, for a quick speech and lunch. By the time he came to Michigan City, Ford had already locked up the nomination so there wasn't a whole lot of interest in hearing Reagan talk - except for one thing.

Coming with him was his good friend, Jimmy Stewart, the famous actor. I'll never forget standing outside that restaurant listening to Reagan with a couple of other reporters - while Stewart was mobbed by lady admirers.

It was almost embarrassing during the lunch. Everyone wanted to sit at the end of the table near Stewart. I almost felt sorry for ol' Reagan. Everyone knew he would lose the primary and that meant the end of his political career. I mean, he would be too old to run for President in 1980. Right?

You never know.

He's No. 1

R.L. [Lonnie] May, left, was the winner of the 10th week of the football contest. He receives his check

May takes 1st place in contest No. 10

It looks like it's going right down to the wire in the 26th annual Area Merchants Football Contest.

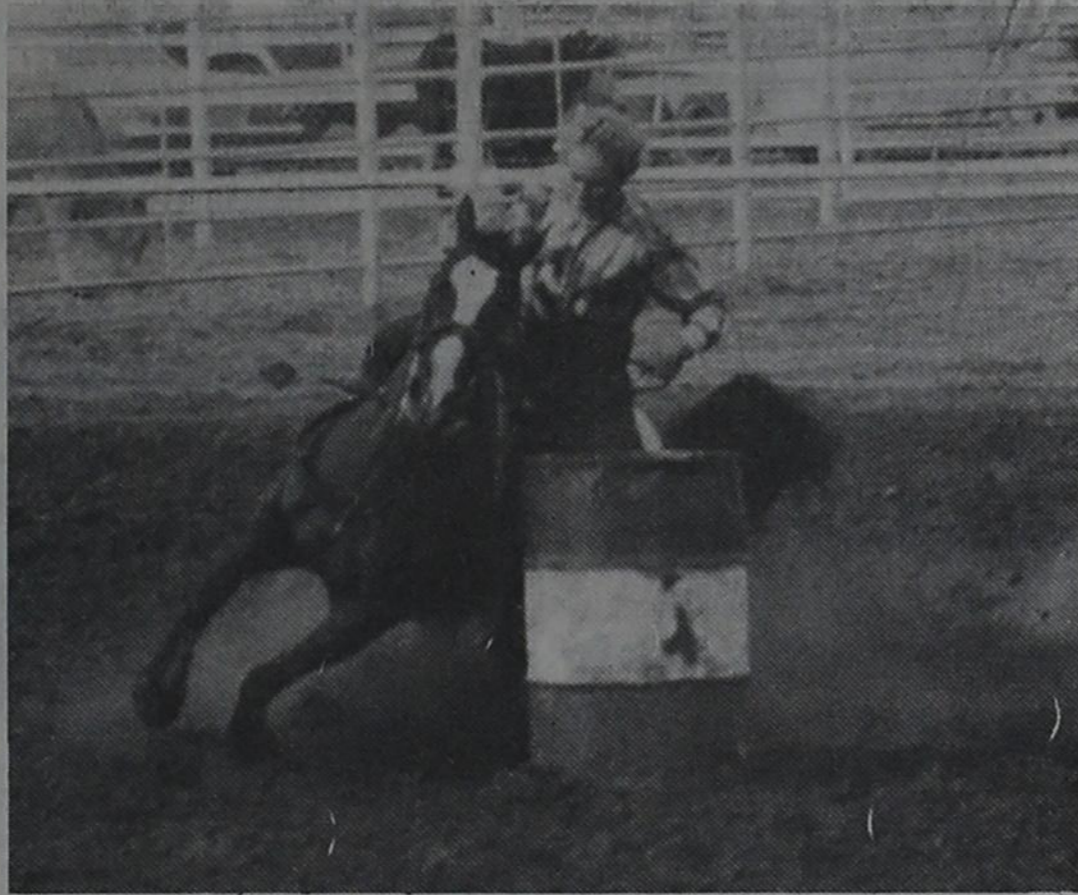

With only two weeks to go, here are the top contestants and their point totals:

- 83 - Jim Parker.
- 82 - Diane Dannheim, Gay Goetsch and James Williams.
- 80 - Michael Littlejohn, Modine Parker, Gaye Roberts and Debbie Weir.

Parker, father of Texico High coach Scott Parker, had an 8 last week to keep his lead. But Mrs. Dannheim, Mrs. Goetsch and Williams all scored "9's" to edge to within a solitary point of the lead.

Seven contestants had 10 right in last week's contest: R.L. May, Maurice Smith, Gaye Roberts, Scott Parker, Michael Littlejohn, Gene Hardage and Eileen Dannheim.

May was accorded first place honors by virtue of being closest to the tiebreaker; he was 22 off (Texico lost to Reserve, 42-2). Mrs. Roberts was second, 24 off the tiebreaker. May received a cash prize of $7.50; Mrs. Roberts received $5.

Billingsley: Rider, trainer, teacher

Cindy Billingsley's first love has always been her animals.

She has had horses all of her life, and rode before she walked. When she was two years old, she would ride behind her daddy all day while he worked cattle.

Mrs. Billingsley's father had thoroughbred horses, which he raced mostly at La Mesa Park in Raton. During the summer when she was 13, Mrs. Billingsley was her father's "exercise boy," and would run his seven stallions and one mare daily. During this time, the horse owners would hold unofficial match races on week days, and Mrs. Billingsley was her father's jockey in these "dirt races."

Mrs. Billingsley, of Farwell, is a member of the New Mexico Horse Show Association. In their shows, this association follows closely all the rules and regulations of the National Quarter Horse Association. But the New Mexico Horse Show Association offers a wider variety of classes in their shows, including western pleasure, western horsemanship, western trail, western showmanship at halter, as well as English classes all the way to dressage. This association has been having shows in Lubbock and Amarillo, as well as New Mexico. Judges at these shows are all professional judges.

Mrs. Billingsley rides quarter horses now, rather than thoroughbreds. She has usually bought green (untrained) horses and has done all of her own training. She shows in western pleasure, western horsemanship, western trail, reining, and she runs barrels and poles (pole bending). Along with all of this, Mrs. Billingsley is now trying to get into English riding. She has ridden in some English flat classes in schooling shows, and has done fairly well, placing 4th and 5th. She's also working on jumping. Bobbie Wolf, of Crossroads, New Mexico, near Tatum, is helping her with her English riding.

At the present time, Mrs. Billingsley has four horses. Notable Jewel is a 4-year-old gelding, which she rides in western horsemanship classes. Skip Hi Sunny is a 5-year-old paint gelding, which she rides in English flat classes, western pleasure, trail, and halter classes. Admiral's Kachina is a yearling filly which she shows at halter (this filly placed 5th in her first show). Grandpa is a 20-year-old gelding, which still goes in reining classes.

Most Saturdays and Sundays from February to October see Mrs. Billingsley on the road to and from horse shows. It is not unusual for her to travel as far as 300 miles each way to show her horses. During the summer, her oldest son, Roger, who is 10, often accompanies her. He has begun to ride in shows, too, and enjoys it very much.

Farwell special election scheduled for Jan. 19

The Farwell City Council Monday voted to have a special election Jan. 19 to see if city residents want to change their form of government.

On Oct. 8, David Kube had presented the council with a petition asking for a special election "in order to change the present commission form of administration to an aldermanic form, increasing the amount of commissioners by three."

Currently, the council is composed of two councilmen and a mayor, who votes only in case of a tie. If the new form of government is approved, there will be five councilmen and a mayor.

For an election to be called, 58 validated signatures were needed on the petition. One hundred and sixteen people signed and City Clerk Janie Bowery said 93 were validated. According to state law, the earliest an election can be held is Jan. 19, a Saturday.

The council also approved hiring a presiding judge, alternate judge and clerk for the election, to be held at City Hall.

The special election will be only for the purpose of whether to change the form of government. No candidates would be elected at that time.

If voters approve changing the form of government, the earliest possible election at which candidates would be chosen would be the first Saturday in April, again set by state law. Councilmen's terms would be for two years and staggered. There would be city elections every year.

If voters reject a new form of government, an election for the current two council posts and mayoral position would be held next April.

In other business, the council: - Heard Doug Landrum recommend that the dog pound be moved back to the city barn area, but in a different location further from nearby residences. The council approved the move.

- Gave Landrum the go-ahead to have one of the city employees spend more time trying to catch dogs running loose.

- Agreed to enlarge the dump trailer at the Farwell Convalescent Center.

- Closed Seventh Street north of the highway. According to Fred Chandler's motion, the city will follow proper procedures based on past practices and it should be at no cost to the city, with any legal fees to be paid by the recipient, Kelly Green. Chandler and Mayor Walter Kaltwasser voted for the motion; Jerry Monk abstained.

- Said Texico Schools should pay the regular $20 fee for using the Farwell Community Center for its junior-senior prom in May.

- Agreed to seek bids for a new pickup truck for the water department.

- Named Charles Aycock, Leslie Lunsford, Martin Chandler and Ron Byrd as Farwell Community Center directors.

Landfill, purchasing ordinances on tap

Texico is in the midst of getting more ordinances on the books.

At Tuesday's meeting, the City Council discussed proposals covering landfill use, zoning restrictions and purchasing procedures.

City Attorney Duane Hamar will work on the ordinances involving the landfill and purchasing. Also, he has handed the council a model for zoning that another city uses.

On purchasing, here's what the council is looking for:

If the item is priced under $50, the city department head will have the authority to buy it at the best obtainable price. If it costs between $50 and $250, approval is needed from the City Council or city procurement officer. If it costs between $250 and $3,000, oral, telephone and/or written bids must be sought.

If the item costs between $3,000 and $5,000, bonafide written bids are needed. If the items cost more than $5,000, a formal bid opening is mandated by state law.

Under Hamar's zoning model, the council would have the only say-so on granting variances. There would be no middle step, such as having a zoning commission.

The model covered items such as the demolition of abandoned buildings, trucks using city streets and moving mobile homes into the city. A misdemeanor penalty is added for violators.

Hamar presented the proposal because the council has been beset with problems involving zoning and had asked him for assistance on how to handle them.

The council approved rules covering use of the landfill pit. Only household garbage would be accepted in the pit. There would be a separate area for tires. Trees and lumber are to be separated. No appliances or vehicle bodies would be accepted. Dumping would be supervised by city employees.

Hamar will draw up an ordinance covering these restrictions and including penalties for violators, probably making violations a petty misdemeanor punishable by a fine and/or jail.

In other business, city councilmen again expressed the hope that some patching of potholes on city streets could be done before winter comes.

Hamar will check with state officials on trying to end the suit filed against the city when the landfill was in non-compliance. With the new equipment and pit, city officials believe they are in compliance. EID officials met with the council and inspected the landfill Monday.

A contract arrived from the state for the remodeling of the restrooms at the senior citizens center. The state would pay $3,400. But the contract included language that said the city, if it signs the contract, would have to pay all expenses at the center for three years.

City councilmen were unhappy with that language and Hamar will talk with state officials about possibly modifying it. The project thus is being held up.

The council also discussed proposed remodeling of city hall and the community building. It has budgeted $20,000 for the overhaul but it's believed the work will be less expensive.

Texico clerk is a busy lady

Marie Christian, the Texico city clerk and treasurer, moved to Texico from Albuquerque 20 years ago.

Mrs. Christian was raised at San Jon (about 90 miles from here) and her husband of 29 years, Bill Christian, was raised at Oklahoma Lane.

Mrs. Christian has been at the City Clerk's desk for six years. It was originally to be a temporary job, but it has turned into a fulltime position. Before acquiring her present job, she served as a Trustee on the City Council for two years.

When asked if Texico had changed since she first came here, Mrs. Christian replied, "Not much, except that it's cleaner than it used to be." Also the school has grown, having added the new gym and educational complex.

Mrs. Christian has a business degree, and also a degree in education, with double minors of math and social sciences.

The job of city clerk and treasurer is very diversified. It includes answering the telephone at City Hall and typing reports for the police chief and correspondence for the municipal judge, as well as all of the correspondence for the City of Texico, and in general does whatever the City Council asks of her.

She is also responsible for all of the city's finances. She keeps the books for the city, and for the Fire

MARIE CHRISTIAN

Department, as well as writing all the grants for the City and the Fire Department.

Mrs. Christian says she enjoys very much working with the public, and likes saying hello to the people who are in and out of her office. She commented, "Nearly everyone who comes in here is friendly."

Up until three years ago, when the city hired Glenda Thigpen, Mrs. Christian also took care of the water billings and cashiering, along with the posting for the water company. Now, Ms. Thigpen has taken over those duties.

Mrs. Christian is an avid reader in her spare time. She used to read an average of six books a week, but is down to a "mere" three books a week now. She enjoys historical books, both fiction and non-fiction.

She also sews clothes for her family, knits and she loves to cook. Anytime something is bothering her, she cooks to work off her frustrations. The apple tree in her back yard has been very fruitful this year, and she has been busy making apple cakes. She's anxious now to try a new apple cookie recipe.

The Christians have three sons. Jeff and Jason live at home. Jason is a 7th grader at Texico Junior High School. Steve attends East Texas Baptist College.

Time to jot down those recipes

With Christmas sneaking around the corner and about to pounce on us, it is time for all you ladies to get your favorite recipes to us so we can keep up the tradition of the recipes in the Christmas-time editions.

The more, the merrier. We'll appreciate getting them as early as possible.

Please drop them off soon at the Tribune office or send them to us in the mail (State Line Tribune, Box 255, Farwell, Texas 79325).

Herbicide ban continues

The Parmer County Commissioners Tuesday decided to continue the regulation banning all ester formulas from being used between April 15 and Oct. 1.

A hearing was held on 2-4-D herbicides. But only six members of air spraying companies and two farmers attended.

The discussion involved cooperation from adjacent counties, the need to obey regulations governing the use of herbicides and the effects and problems associated with various herbicides.

In other business, the commissioners:

— Reappointed Dr. Paul Spring of Friona as county health officer.

— Allowed the City of Friona and the Friona Chamber of Commerce, at their expense, to move the Friona Depot to the city park.

— Paid a bill for foster care of county children for $301. The state will reimburse the county for this sum.

— Paid 1985 dues, $820, to the Texas Association of Counties.

— Opened bids for a pickup truck for the county agricultural agent. The bid for Reeve Chevrolet, with a trade difference of $4,877 was accepted.

— Told County Sheriff Bill Morgan to get estimates on repairing and improving the restrooms, and estimates on repairing or replacing the emergency generator.

Twin Cities' educators meet with reps from New Mexico Tech

Howard Carlyle, counselor for Farwell, Lazbuddie, and Bovina schools, and Juanita Hadley, Texico High School teacher, along with educators from Muleshoe, Clovis, and Eastern New Mexico University, recently shared an evening with Dr. Carl Popp, Director of Academic Affairs, and Ms. Louise Chamberlin, Director of Admissions, of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology.

The Socorro pair explained what one may and may not expect of the Institute and presented a brief slide selection of Socorro and of the school.

Both Dr. Popp and Ms. Chamberlin noted that students interested in chemistry, computer science, geoscience, mathematics, physics, psychology, geological engineering, mining engineering, petroleum engineering, or metallurgical, minerals, and environmental engineering could benefit from the specialized programs offered by the school.

One of the more unique bits of information coming from the discussion centered on the fact that many of the Institute's 1,300 students hail from not only the other 49 states but from approximately 37 foreign countries as well.

At this time on the campus, male students outnumber females approximately 2.6 to one. School administrators are seeking women recruits for the school's various areas of study.

Dr. Popp mentioned that although the Institute does not contain a School of Education, students interested in entering the field of public education, can fulfill New Mexico teaching certification requirements prior to graduation.

Other services of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology include a summer program leading toward a Master's degree for presently certified instructors and summer mini-programs for high school students immediately prior to the senior year.

In addition, a Consulting Scientist Program exists through which the Institute makes available members of its faculty for lectures to high school students and teachers.

And four years ago . . .

Wonder how the election went locally four years ago?

In 1980, in Texico, Ronald Reagan defeated Jimmy Carter, 213 to 83. In Parmer County, Reagan grabbed an impressive 2,640 votes compared to Carter's 707.

Here was the Parmer County breakdown of four years ago (with Reagan's totals listed first): Black, 44 to 9; Friona, 1,019 to 297; Bovina, 415 to 147; Farwell, 434 to 132; Lazbuddie, 286 to 36; Oklahoma Lane, 144 to 30; Rhea, 57 to 11; Lakeview, 43 to 7; and absentee ballots, 198 to 38.

paintings of "Mona Lisa" and "The Last Supper," and of his drawings of a helicopter, a three-tiered machine gun, an automatic printing press, a parachute, a roller bearing, a double hull for a ship, a military tank, etc.

According to a Texico High School teacher, Juanita Hadley, the students had difficulty in backing up 400 years to da Vinci's lifetime, which was 1452-1519. The students are so accustomed to having machines, gears, and the materials with which to construct them, that they had a hard time imagining a time without these things.

After the formal tour, with explanations of the models, the students were permitted a hands-on period, when they could see for themselves how da Vinci's inventions worked.

Inman honored

Suzahn Inman has been named one of the six White Horse Riders at Hardon-Simmons University for the 1984-85 school year.

She is the daughter of Marlon Inman, Route 1, Farwell.

They started out back in the 1930's, nobody seems to remember exactly when, as just a promotional gimmick for the famed Cowboy Band. But the Six White Horses and the girl riders bearing the six flags that have flown over Texas proved so popular that they're still around. In fact, they make more appearances now than ever before.

Under the direction of Dr. W.O. Beazley, HSU's vice president emeritus and rodeo enthusiast, the Six White Horses and their coed riders have perfected intricate drills which have won applause in many arenas throughout the Southwest. They are so much in demand that Dr. Beazley has to watch the bookings with care in order not to jeopardize the scholastic work of the riders.

The riders, all HSU coeds in good academic standing, are chosen on the basis of appearance, horsemanship, and general enthusiasm.

Careful, It's Your Life

COTTON HARVEST IS HERE AGAIN and BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSN. urges extreme caution when operating farm equipment near electric lines!

In recent years, many tragic incidents have occurred involving cotton module builders and power lines. The extended portion of the cotton module builder can come into contact with overhead electric lines if the operator is not very careful.

The same problem exists with overhead baskets on cotton strippers.

We urge farmers and their employees to be alert to these potential hazards and to take every possible precaution to avoid serious injury... or even death! When you are moving a module builder, be sure the packer arm is lowed as far as it will go. When using a stripper with an overhead basket, be sure to check for overhead lines before dumping.

If some piece of equipment DOES contact these 7200 volt lines, it is important that you or the operator not try to simply back away. The line could break, or if it's already broken, it could tangle in the equipment and break again, compounding the problem and increasing the danger. Jump clear of the machine, being sure NOT to touch the ground and the machine at the same time. Move quickly away at a right angle to the power line. Then call the Cooperative office whether or not the line is broken so they can help you.

REMEMBER -- a little precaution is ALWAYS worth the time it takes !!

Steers fall

By MARK COLE

The Farwell Steers ended their regular season on a down note last Friday by losing to Nazareth, 33-12, in an away game.

But with a 4-1 district record, Farwell moves into the state playoffs tonight (Friday) against Sundown at Sudan at 7:30.

Against the Swifts, Farwell fell behind early through a tough defensive effort by Nazareth. The Swifts' offense scored on its first two possessions behind running back Chris Gerber. With 8 minutes gone in the first period, Farwell was behind, 14-0.

In the second quarter Nazareth struck again, when Chris Gerber raced 31 yards for his second of four touchdowns. The lead for Nazareth was 21-0.

With five minutes left before half-time, the Steers got things going their way when they stopped the Nazareth offense by forcing a fumble on the Swift 30.

Kevin Owen muscled out 11 yards for a Farwell first down. Then runs by Blake Kelley and Roger Robertson earned another first down. Finally, Robertson scored from 10 yards out, cutting the score to 21-6.

To open the third quarter, the Steers kicked off. Kevin Owen hit one deep and the Swifts had trouble holding onto it. The Steers recovered a fumble, with Joe Jaime making the recovery at the 10.

On their first play, Roger Robertson raced into the endzone for his second TD, closing the score to 21-12.

But Nazareth struck back quickly, returning the following kickoff for a TD. Chris Gerber raced 80 yards to up the score to 27-12.

Farwell drove the ball down field again with runs of 8 and 9 yards by Kevin Owen and a 4th down and 1 run by Roger Robertson. After 17 offensive plays, the Steers got to the Nazareth 1 yard line but couldn't get across. On 4th down, Farwell tried

3 varsity players return

The Farwell High School varsity girls' basketball coach, Larry Gregory, thinks he has a good team this year.

The tentative starters include: Seniors Sheila Smith, 5'11", and Franka Bungarten, 5'5"; juniors Sherilyn Thigpen, 5'7", Cheryl Stanton, 5'6", Treana George, 5'4", Alma Nicholas, 5'8", and Shonda Foster, 5'3".

Junior varsity girls Ursula Dolar, 5'10", and Sharon Myers, 5'11", will probably be moving back and forth between the varsity and the JV teams.

Gregory said that he has three returning varsity players, all of whom are captains and had a few comments to make about each of them:

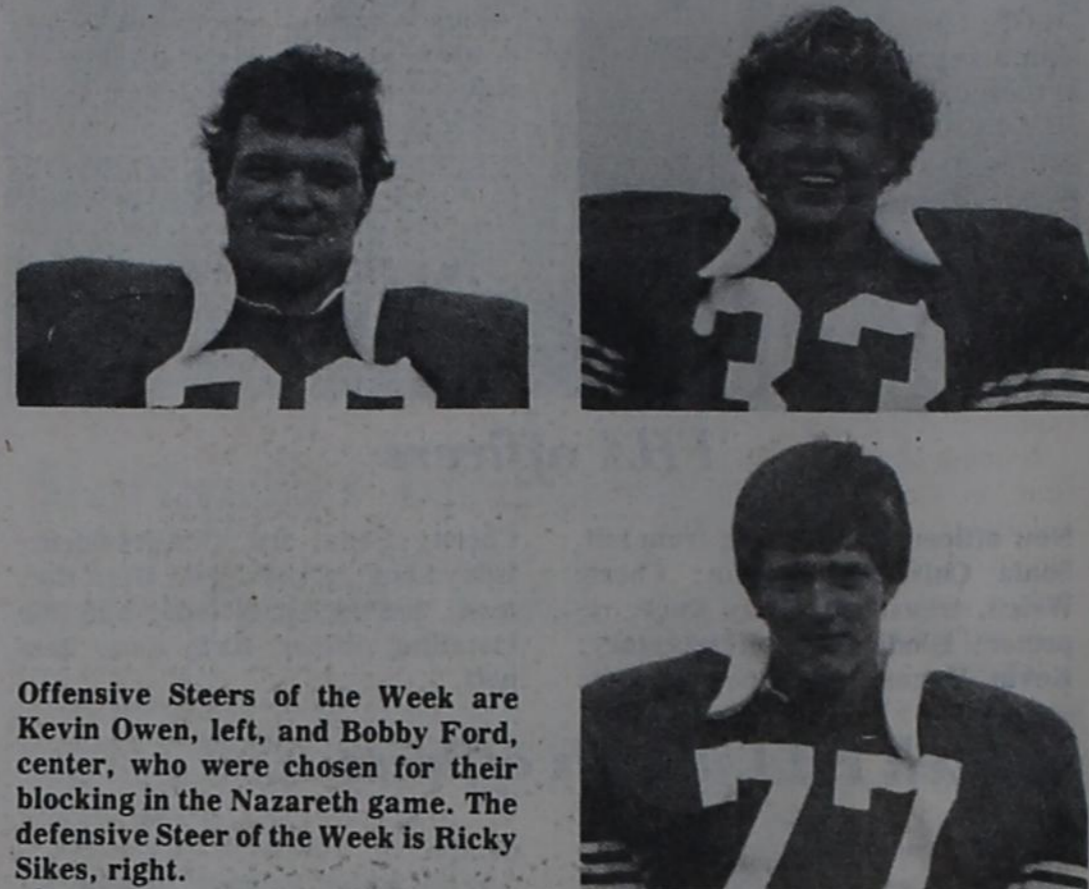

"Sheila Smith is a real good shot, and had a lot of experience last year.

"Sherilyn Thigpen didn't get to play a lot last year. She has improved considerably.

"Shonda Foster was a starter last year. She has very good quickness."

Tough schedule ahead

Farwell High School boys' varsity basketball coach Mike Martin sees a tough schedule ahead.

Martin said, "This year, the schedule is real tough. There will be no easy games."

He said that his varsity team will be using a different style this year, in that they will be playing an "up-tempo game, because we have so many good guards. We will be doing a lot of pressing and running."

So far, the tentative starting lineup may include the three returning starters - seniors Roger Robertson, 5'10", and Mark Cole, 6'1"; and junior Kevin Owen, 5'11".

From last year's JV team are seniors Wesley May, 5'10", and Jesse Coburn, 5'9"; and sophomores Jody Ketcherside, 5'8", and David Woods, 5'9".

There are one or two spots open for individuals who show promise.

Martin commented on the abilities of his returning starters, but really hasn't had a chance to look at all of the team, since many are still playing football.

"Roger Robertson is a 4-year starter. He is a good shooter, an excellent leaper, and has the potential to be a real good all-around basketball player.

"Mark Cole plays the post. He is an extremely hard worker who has improved himself up to being one of the better post players in the district.

"Kevin Owen is probably the best defensive player on the team. He is extremely aggressive, a very tough rebounder. He has grown and matured enough that his scoring should improve this year."

Pierce: An educator for adults, youths

Janette Pierce, Parmer County's new county extension agent, home economics, considers herself an educator for adults and youths.

She will work with schools, community groups and residents "depending on what the county people need. They plan my program according to their needs."

Mrs. Pierce has moved to Farwell with her husband, Ben. Her husband participates in roping events at rodeos as a hobby. The Pierces hail from Clovis.

The main areas Mrs. Pierce covers are: family life, from birth to aging; management - of time, money, etc.; housing; and health, nutrition and clothing.

She gave an example of some work she has already done, in her first week on the job (she replaced Laura Jacobs Nov. 1):

A lady came to see me about her husband, who has Alzheimers Disease. We're setting up a program through her church in Bovina to help educate people about it. This is an example of meeting county residents' needs through education."

Mrs. Pierce also is planning the 4-H food show scheduled this weekend, and the county Christmas bazaar Dec. 16 and 17 in Friona.

Hard-fought game goes to Nazareth

Coach Monte Barnes, of Farwell High School, said that his Steers fought hard in an attempt to win the game against Nazareth. Farwell lost 33-12.

Barnes commented, "We made a few mental errors that cost us."

He also felt that Nazareth running back Chris Gerber was a big reason that Nazareth won, as he "got loose" on the Steers several times.

Barnes said that during the first half, the wind was a big factor, as the Steers were punting into a strong wind, and gave Nazareth good field position.

"In the second half, we played real hard. We felt like we had a chance to come back," continued Barnes. After a 97-yard drive, there was a slip on the Nazareth 1-yard line, which cost the Steers a touchdown. Barnes said he felt that was the turning point of the game.

The Steers will play the Sundown Roughnecks at Sudan at 7:30 p.m. today. Sundown is 10 and 0. "They have a good quarterback and a good running back," Barnes said.

"We'll have to play well on defense and try to control the ball," is Barnes' strategy.

Juniors blank Nazareth

Farwell Junior High's football team blanked Nazareth, 34-0, in its last game of the season. The Steers ended with a 6-1 mark.

"Our record showed that the kids worked hard all season," said Coach Rex Cumpton. "Against Nazareth, we played another good game on defense. We outscored our opponents 174 to 46 for the year.

"In this game, our seventh grade backfield and offensive line did the best job moving the ball they have done all year. I would like to congratulate these young men on a very successful season."

Individual game statistics showed:

Ruben Ortega, 27 yards rushing, 20 yards receiving, one TD; Jeff Actkinson, 98 yards rushing, 2 TDs, and he threw 2 TD passes; Jaime Mendoza, 70 yards rushing, 30 yards receiving, one TD and two extra points; and Curtis Chisom, 19 yards rushing and an 84-yard kickoff return for a TD.

Funds raised for new fire department

The Pleasant Hill Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a pheasant hunt Dec. 8 through 11. Over 20,000 acres in the Pleasant Hill area will be posted for hunting by permit only. Proceeds from the permit sales will help finance a station building and equipment for the newly organized department.

A permit, good for the four day hunt, will cost $25. Hunters must also have a valid New Mexico hunting license and all New Mexico hunting regulations will apply. Permits will go on sale Nov. 14, at the following locations in Clovis: White's Auto Store, R and S Gun Shop, Reb's Gun Shop, and Billynn's Gun Shop. Farwell Hardware will sell permits in Farwell, Texas. Permits will also be on sale at the Pleasant Hill Community Center during the hunting season. There will be a longest tail feather contest for permit holders with a first prize of $50 offered by Aero Farm Chemicals, Inc. of Pleasant Hill, and the second prize of $25 given by Worley Mills Elevator of Pleasant Hill. Entries for the tail feather contest should be taken to the Pleasant Hill Community Center for measuring. The winners will be determined Tuesday night after the hunt, and the winners notified by mail.

The Pleasant Hill Women's Club will help coordinate the hunt from the Community Center and will have refreshments, coffee, hot chocolate, soft drinks and donuts for sale beginning an hour before the season opens on Dec. 8. They will also be serving a chili dinner at noon on the opening day. Everyone is welcome to come by to rest, relax, and refuel. Proceeds from the food sales will be used for community improvements.

The Pleasant Hill Fire Department expresses appreciation to the farmers and landowners who allow their land to be used for the hunt, and also to the businesses who will be selling permits and donating prizes.

If you need more information about the hunt, call the following fire department officers: Chief Richard Kelley, 389-5482; assistant chief Gary Singleterry, 389-5320; Captain Paul Barnes, 389-5413 or secretary-treasurer Ted Richardson, 482-3402.

8th graders write myths

Recently, the eighth graders at Farwell Junior High School had an English assignment to write a myth. Here are some of the results.

WHY A MOUSE IS SMALL

By Kristi Stephens

Once there was a hippo by the name of Ralph. He was a typical hippo, sluggish and lazy! He would only get out of his boggy, muddy swamp when the zookeeper came with his food.

Ralph lived in a monstrous, boisterous zoo. He even had his own marshy swamp.

One day, his zookeeper, Mike, a young ambitious college bum who was studying to be a scientist, was an hour late with Ralph's food. Ralph wasn't extremely happy with Mike because it threw his schedule all off. But Ralph didn't complain that much, because by the time he got his food he was so hungry he didn't even care.

Rosey, the hippo that was in the pen beside Ralph, did care and she let Mike know it. She complained about it for 20 minutes straight. By that time, Ralph was already finished with his lunch and was lying in the sun.

A few days later, Ralph and Rosey weren't feeling well, so Mike had to give them some extra attention. It seemed as though they were shrinking. Soon Ralph and Rosey became the size of some of the birds in the zoo. The couldn't figure out why they were shrinking.

It seems as though the day Mike was late he had been working with some chemicals in a science class and he didn't wash his hands afterwards. He then went to the zoo and fed the hippos. The chemicals mixed with the food caused a violent reaction in the body, which resulted in the hippos shrinking.

They had made a new species of animal, and they called them hippopotamuses, but they shortened the name to mouse, and that is the story of why a mouse is small.

WHY APPLES ARE RED

By Richard Turner

It happened a long time ago in the time of Adam and Eve. In the Garden of Eden, a beautiful garden of babbling brooks and fresh springs, it was as warm as a nice spring day, as the animals grazed off the green grass in the warm breeze.

In the center of the garden there was an orchard of fresh fruits - apples, oranges, mangos, bananas, plums, grapes, coconuts and pineapples. There was one tree in particular that had the most luscious fruit. But Adam and Eve were forbidden to eat of it.

One day, Eve was so tempted that she ate a piece of fruit of the tree and Adam ate, too, and God found out and cast Adam and Eve out of the garden.

A few years later, the garden went to waste. The orchard was dying, all except one fruit. It was blood-red, for it was the apple. It had turned red when it had been green.

It had turned red in shame because it was blamed for Adam and Eve being cast out, and it wasn't really the apple's fault. Apples have been red ever since.

Texico Junior High kids give thanks

The Texico 6th, 7th, and 8th graders wrote some reasons they are thankful this Thanksgiving:

I am thankful for my parents because they're so sweet to me. I'm most thankful for my new baby cousin that was born. I'm very thankful for my grandmother, who is getting well after being sick. By April Winegeart, 7th grade.

finally my parents said I could buy a motorcycle, but I had to work for it. By Terry Allen, 8th grade.

I am thankful for my family, the love we share and the food we eat, but I am most thankful for America. By Jason Christian, 7th grade.

I am most thankful for life. As an American, I am also thankful for the men who died for our freedom. I am also thankful for food and a country of plenty. By Chad Barnes, 6th grade.

I am thankful for my parents, and to live in America. I am also thankful for the school I go to. By Benji McDaniel, 6th grade.

Friona notes increase

Friona Industries reported an increase of 38 percent in net earnings on a 29 percent sales gain for the first quarter of its 1985 fiscal year.

Net earnings of $947,000, or 43 cents per share, on sales of $85 million for the first quarter ended Sept. 30, 1984, compared with net earnings of $688,000 or 30 cents per share, on sales of $66 million in the same quarter of the prior fiscal year.

"More Company-owned cattle sold at better profit margins contributed significantly to our improved profitability," said Ron Davenport, chairman, president and chief executive officer.

In the first quarter of the current fiscal year, the Company marketed about 43,400 head -- 41 percent more -- for an operating profit of $830,000. During the same quarter of fiscal 1984, about 30,660 head were sold and resulted in an operating loss of approximately $8,000.

"All seven of the Company's industry segments achieved satisfactory profitability," explained Davenport. "In addition to Company-Owned Cattle, Custom Feeding and Transportation had higher operating profits than in last year's first quarter."

Lady Spikers win regionals

The Texico Lady Spikers won their regional volleyball tournament at Grady Saturday, moving on now to the state semi-finals.

Texico will play Maxwell at 10:45 a.m. Friday (today) at Albuquerque's El Dorado High School gym. If the Lady Spikers lose that game, they are out of the tourney. But if they win, they will be in the state finals.

The finals start at 6 p.m. Friday at Sandia High in Albuquerque and continue Saturday at the same place.

Texico, now boasting a 17-2 record, beat two teams to win the regional. First, they topped San Jon, 15-5, 15-5, 2-15 and 15-7. Then they beat Elida - for the fourth time this season - 15-12, 13-15, 15-2 and 15-10.

Coach Michael Littlejohn gave credit for the fine regional performance to his starting six players - Coy Jo Burk, Cheryl Scott, Kathy Harrison, Helen Boarman, Kelly Lynn and Loretta Gonzalez.

Against San Jon, Littlejohn said the team played a fine offensive game. "Cheryl, Kelly and Helen were hitting well," he said.

Against Elida, Texico served exceptionally well, he said. More than 90 percent of Texico's serves were in.

Littlejohn commented that he appreciated the support of the fans who traveled to Grady for the regional game, and also that of the sponsors of the newspaper ads in the Tribune backing the Lady Spikers.

Texico ladies share congratulations after a successful point.

Texico loses playoff to Reserve

Texico's hopes for a second straight state championship were dashed at Reserve Saturday when the host team won, 42-2.

The story was pretty much all-Reserve as the host team scored six touchdowns and a field goal. The Wolverines' only points came in the fourth quarter on a safety.

Statistically, the game seemed closer. Texico gained 166 yards to Reserve's 299. Reserve picked up most of its yardage on long pass plays including touchdown heaves of 42, 24 and 51 yards.

For Texico, Billy Bibbs managed 13 yards on 11 carries; Ronnie Galvan, 52 yards on 13 tries, and Danny Powell, 29 yards on 8 attempts.

In the passing department, Doug

Thornton caught five for 37 yards, Billy Bibbs 2 for 12 yards, Reagan Williams 1 for 7 yards, and Ronnie Galvan, 1 for 16 yards.

Danny Powell was 9 for 16 passing, with one interception. Texico also intercepted one of the Reserve passes.

David Lynn, head football coach at Texico High School said he was, of course, disappointed his team didn't win their game against Reserve, but felt that the Texico team had a very good season overall.

Lynn said, "Everything went wrong for us against Reserve. It was like we were under Murphy's Law. It just wasn't our day."

The Reserve team, according to Lynn, was very experienced. Last year, Texico beat them 20-14.

The Reserve line was the same this year as last, with the exception of two players.

"The Reserve team has size, speed, and talent. It's unusual to see a Class A team with that many weapons," Lynn said.

Now that their football season is at an end, many of the boys will play basketball. Those who don't will be training with weights, etc., Lynn said.
