

FROM THE HOPPER

By HOP JR.

It was the most realistic July 4th we ever had. Managed to get sunburned, sick on watermelon, and ant-bitten all in one day. Pretty good average, but mighty mild compared to some accounts we've heard.

We can't help but say, "we told you so," after reading how some people got beaten up at Red River, N. M. Red River is a nice little resort town—we've been there a dozen of times, but on July 4th, give us a good old country party.

How would you like to come home after a "vacation" nursing a split lip, broken teeth, or swollen eye? You might have if you went to Red River. If you stayed home and had fun with your neighbors, chances are you didn't see a drunk all day. And you still have a little pocket change left, too.

To those people who say that Texico-Farwell, Bovina, or Friona couldn't have a pool all their own, we can only reply "Bosh!"

Would you believe it if we told you that over 70 young sprouts are going to Muleshoe twice a week just to get a dip in the swimming pool—and all these kids come from our own little community?

Now we're perfectly aware that it costs a whack of a lot of money to build a swimming pool, and that the specifications regarding sanitation and safety are pretty rigid, but nonetheless we're laying it on the line by saying that after all the howling about high costs died down, a swimming pool would steadily pay its way, much in the same manner as the sewer system in Farwell and Friona.

And brother, don't think that the heavy investment in paying in these two towns hasn't paid off property owners, too. A swimming pool is just like a lot of other expensive public improvements: You CAN get along without them, but their presence could mean so much to the community.

We're not so old but what we can remember when they used to have a downright nice country golf course south of town. Today, the closest course is at Clovis. Good playing can be had at Muleshoe, where the greens are oiled sand, and it's a darn site less expensive.

Personally, we prefer tennis for our exercise, but it looks as though everybody is getting old before their time and they all insist on playing golf. Competition for tennis is just about nil.

Still, golf is a pretty good second choice for us. We only wish we still had that little course south of town. Go down and look at what they have at Muleshoe. There isn't any reason why we couldn't have the same thing up here in Parmer County.

No help wanted department: The story has finally leaked out how four Bovina genets were shystered out of around $200 in cold cash. It all happened several months ago, so maybe their ire has died down enough to make the story safe telling.

Some old man named King tramped into Bovina back in February in search of an odd job or two. His specialty, he said, was lawn work.

His story was so sad, and his manner so genuine, that he coaxed an aggregate of about $200 dollars out of Pete Davies, Joe Moore, Bob Johnson, and Frank Hastings. This was cash in advance, mind you.

The fellow had very obligingly plowed and leveled a lawn or two in town previously, and this apparently was to establish his reputation as a hard-working, conscientious man.

After getting the cash in hand, he stayed long enough to rip up the turf on Johnson's yard, then headed for the tall timber, tractor and all. The Bovina boys chased him clear to Tucumcari, where he had a home, but it seemed he had suddenly been called to Arizona. There the hunt ended.

Just try to make a cash deal with any of these four fellows. For some reason, they have gotten downright conservative about investing in landscaping.

They had a big roping match down in Morton recently. Mrs. Walling, Farwell cowpoke, was entered in the contest. Mitz is no slouch when it comes to that particular pastime, especially when 250 bucks are waiting in the jackpot, but he came home with only third place.

We haven't talked with Mitz and for all we know, the competition may have been downright keen, but what we privately suspect is that the little tumble he had from the back side of a jackass during the Legion donkey ball game had something to do with it.

Mitz, who is plenty used to sticking topside of the sharpest turning cutting horse that ever trotted out of a stable, didn't last long astride the burro.

MIGHTY GOOD MELON

Two West Camp Men In Stabbing Fracas

Buck Garrett, 25, was stabbed by a fellow West Camp worker, Sherman Antly, 21, in Clovis Saturday night, July 4. Garrett is in the hospital with a bad wound in his left side.

Antly was arrested south of Farwell the next day by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace, and lodged in the county jail. Monday morning he was taken to Clovis to face charges following the incident.

Dosher and Francis Have Livestock Sale

Col. Dick Doshier and Orval Francis, local salesmen, have announced that they and Golden Benton will conduct an auction at Muleshoe every Saturday, under the name of the "Muleshoe Livestock Auction."

The sales will begin at 1 p. m. "We sell anything," they reminded.

County Referendum Coming July 24th

A nation-wide referendum for the purpose of finding out farmers' views on the crop allotment and support program will come on Friday, July 24, unless the time is extended between now and then, says Joe Camp, PMA secretary.

It is possible that the referendum may be postponed, and if it is, the new date will be Aug. 15.

District Clamps Down On Well Drilling Rules

Well permit regulations are going to be more rigidly enforced than they have been in the past, according to Raymond Euler, chairman of the Parmer County Water Committee.

Wells that are drilled without prior issuance of a permit will be closed down and a permit for the use of such wells will not be available. It is, therefore, a responsibility of drillers and contractors to require a permit before digging a slush pit for him, in the interest of economy. A slush pit will in no instance alter established regulations for well spacing and location.

"This strict adherence to regulations is necessary for the protection of irrigation farmers," says Euler. Bordering states and interests within Texas still are seeking means of giving the state title to underground water. One of their strongest arguments is based on alleged slip-shod methods occasionally employed within the water district in issuing permits.

Their contention is that irrigation farmers will not yield to local boards, but must be put under state compulsion, directly, before they will consistently comply.

"We believe farmers in this district want to keep controls in the hands of local citizens enough that they will lend complete cooperation," said Euler, "and we are now prepared to prove it."

Here are the simple rules for obtaining, in one day's time, if necessary, a permit for immediate drilling:

1. Be able to give the exact location of your well site.

A. In measured yards from two sides of the quarter line in which it is to be drilled (i. e. 210 from West and 50 from North).

B. In measured yards from any existing well within one-half mile of proposed site.

C. In measured yards from the hi-point of each adjoining quarter if it is less than 440 yards.

2. The legal description of the land on which you wish to drill. This other routine information will be enough to obtain a temporary permit. Upon the return of properly completed log of well and registration of well, the applicant will receive the permanent permit, making the well legal installation according to the law of the district and state.

Several who have secured temporary permits have not yet provided the log and registration forms. Consequently, there is no record of such wells having been

PMA Office Now Accepting Emergency Feed Applications

Feed Shipments To Follow in Near Future

Parmer County, declared one of 152 Texas counties in the "drouth disaster" portion of the Southwest, will soon receive shipments of emergency feed in a government-sponsored program to stave off forced marketing of foundation livestock.

The first application for emergency feed was made Wednesday and was processed Wednesday at the county PMA office in Farwell, and indications from Secretary Joe Camp were that a large number of ranchers and farmers would participate in the program.

Camp reported that many Parmer Countians had been in to his office seeking information following the announcement that the government would provide feed at below-market prices to those who were eligible. However, it was not until yesterday that the processing of applications began.

Requests for the feed will come before a cross-section of Parmer county people who will act as an emergency board. Included in this group are Walter Johnson, FHA chairman; Bunk Phillips, farmer and PMA chairman; G. D. Anderson, banker; Jack Woltman, rancher; and Joe Jones, county agent.

As a suggestion to persons who intend to apply for the feed, Camp advises they come prepared to state how much feed will be required for a 30-day period; how many cattle or sheep and goats on hand; and how much feed on hand at that time.

This information will speed processing of the applications, the PMA man said.

Camp said he did not know when the feed would begin arriving here, but said it would be offered at the following quotations:

Cottonseed meal and pellets, $35 ton; oats, 50 cents bushel; corn, $1 bushel. These prices are approximately one-half of the current market scale. An emergency fund of $8,000,000 will be used to make up the difference between what the feed cost the government and what it is sold for.

Here is the classification a farmer or rancher must fall into before he becomes eligible for the emergency feed: To have foundation herd of beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep or goats, and be buying feed at present time to keep the herd.

"We are very anxious for anyone who thinks that he might be eligible to come in and talk with us," said agent Jones. "And come in right away, because the sooner we get an order for feed, the sooner we will have feed.

"It is certainly not anybody's intention of eliminating anyone who is eligible to participate in the program.

Farwell FFA Boys To Attend Convention

Two members of the Farwell FFA chapter and their instructor, Robert Morton, will attend the Texas FFA Convention in Ft. Worth, July 22-24.

Morton states that this will be the first time that the local chapter has sent delegates. Boys who will attend are Don Geries, and Lavon Jones, who will serve as president and secretary of the local group during the 1953-54 term.

The boys will be among 3,000 who will attend the convention, marking the 25th year of the Future Farmers organization. A full program of fun and entertainment and general convention activities has been lined up for the youthful farmers.

A special feature of the meeting will be a massive FFA parade, downtown, on Wednesday, July 22. It will feature bands, FFA boys in various conveyances, and a moving display of all kinds of machinery.

At a banquet, Thursday night, July 23, the Star Lone Star Farmer of Texas will be named. This is the highest honor that can come to one of the young men enrolled in vocational agriculture in Texas high schools.

Jimmy Dillon of Jones, La., national FFA president, will attend the convention and will be a speaker at the annual banquet.

Morton and the boys are making plans to leave Farwell on July 21, and return on the night of July 24.

Levys Return From Funeral of Father

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Levy and Keith Levy returned Friday from Merkel, Texas where they attended the funeral services for her father, W. I. Decker, 88, who died Wednesday of last week after a long illness.

Survivors include his wife, three sons, eight daughters, 39 grandchildren and 56 great-grandchildren.

Farm Bureau Will Meet Monday Night

Texico Farm Bureau is scheduled to meet Monday night in the school lunchroom at 8:30. Olan Schleuter will be in charge of the business session, and Andrew Chitwood will explain the thirteen amendments to the Constitution, to be voted on in September. He will also report on his trip to Omaha, Nebraska where he attended a wheat control meeting.

Anyone interested in hearing these talks, is welcome to attend the meeting, and members are urged to be present, according to Mrs. W. H. McDaniel, reporter.

Refreshments of sandwiches and pop will be served following the session.

JONES CAUTIONS FARMERS ON COTTON WATERING METHODS

A large part of an estimated 80,000 acres of cotton in Parmer County this year is being raised under irrigation, and because of the extremely dry and hot weather which has prevailed for several weeks, farmers who have wells are "pouring it on" their cotton fields.

County Agent Joe Jones, who has been keeping close tab on the progress of this year's crop, exhibited some anxiety this week over the methods being used to water the cotton.

"Farmers should 'lay off' watering down the row," said Jones, "in order to give the cotton a chance to get large enough so it can be furrowed and watered down the middles."

Jones declared that the cotton all over the county is in pretty good shape, and virtually all fields under irrigation can wait until the plants are a little more fully developed.

"Where the irrigation farmer has done a good job of pre-watering," he said, "the roots will go deeper for the moisture that is not available at surface level if watering is held off for a while.

"Then, when the plants start fruiting, start putting the water to the field."

347 Wheat Loans Have Been Made In Parmer County

As of Wednesday, 347 loans on 1953 wheat had been made in Parmer county, amounting to $312,287 for 151,534 bushels at the loan rate of $2.07 per bushel.

PMA secretary Joe Camp estimated that the office may process as many as 100 more loans this year.

Water Is Used Faster Than Being Replaced, Says Expert

There is a profound lack of knowledge on the part of people of Parmer and adjacent counties who are privileged to be a part of the newly developed irrigation area, on the general characteristics of the underground water from which their supply is coming.

It is not uncommon to hear a farmer say, "Why, we'll never run out of water out here. We have an inexhaustible supply," and then just across the road you can hear his neighbor say, "I wouldn't be at all surprised if we didn't run out of water in the next five years." Conceptions of our underground resources are just that varied.

There seems to be very little authoritative information in circulation on the subject, so indeed it is not surprising to find so many different ideas.

The Tribune therefore feels it to be worthwhile to occasionally publish the opinions of qualified technical persons which may help us to better understand our great natural resource, underground water.

The author of the article we would like to submit to area farmers is William C. Hayes, consulting geologist with the office of Cecil Hawk & Associates in Lubbock. He is no stranger to these parts, and is at present engaged in running soil structure tests on the proposed Running Water Dam project north of Clovis.

Mr. Hayes first published the article in Southwestern Crop & Stock magazine, and permission has been secured from him to reprint the story here.

A. B. Slagle, editor of the magazine, lists Mr. Hayes' qualifications thusly:

He holds a Master's degree from the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy (1947), and a Doctorate degree from the University of Iowa, known throughout the world as outstanding in the study of hydrology.

Mr. Hayes has taught in the geology department of North Carolina State College, University of Iowa, and Texas Tech College at Lubbock. He has worked on ground water problems for the North Carolina Conservation Commission, Missouri Geological Survey and Water Resources, and with numerous cities, organizations, and individuals in the West Texas-New Mexico area. His professional affiliations include membership in the Geological Society of America; the American Association of Petroleum Geologists; the Lubbock Geological Society; Sigma Xi, an honorary research society, and Sigma Gamma Epsilon, an honorary earth science fraternity.—Editor.

ARE WE "MINING" OUR PLAINS WATER SUPPLY?

By William C. Hayes

During the latter part of the past century and for a number of years during the first part of the Twentieth Century mining was usually confined to removing minerals from the ground from which a valuable metal could be extracted. When a prospect was discovered everyone became a miner and continued as such until the ore was exhausted.

Today the great majority of the mining companies plan their operations to satisfy the existing economic conditions. Many instances are known where waste rock is actually incorporated into the ore material. This keeps up the tonnage and will prolong the life of the investment.

For the past 20 years we have been "mining" ground water from under the southern High Plains. The stored water supply in the

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

A New Problem on the Plains

A person would think that as time goes forward, and each succeeding generation is better educated, better fed, and more appreciative of the finer points of living, that most of the world's problems would slowly iron themselves out. But it just isn't so.

There's a new problem to be dealt with by Plains people that's just around the corner, and when they least expect it, they're going to have to cope with it. That problem is the one of racial intolerance.

For years and years, Parmer county and most of the rural areas of the High Plains have been populated by people of the Caucasian race, or "whites." Conversely, in recent years, a good deal more rapidly than people imagine, representatives of the Negroid race, (colored), have been migrating to this area, where the demand for labor in the face of tremendous agricultural expansion has been high.

Already, truckload after truckload of people from this race have been transplanted to our farms, where most of them take up residence in a tumbledown, overcrowded houses. A few manage to live fairly decently, but most are leading a hand-to-mouth existence.

Negroes are accustomed to this, because it has been their fare for centuries. Where the problem comes in, however, is the matter of what to do when the two races come in public places.

The hotbox of racial antagonism is going to appear in our system of public schools and in a very short time too, you may be sure of that. The Texas statutes provide that Negroes are entitled to the same educational opportunities as whites, and sooner or later, the matter will be with us to solve.

What will happen? Will new schools be built? Will there be two buses on every route: one for colored, one for whites? How will this matter be settled? That will be a problem for Parmer Counties to decide, along with a great many people of other areas who too are untouched as yet by this decision.

To The Tribune, the matter is as clear-cut as night and day. What we call a "nigger" is a human being just the same as anyone else. He, and every other man was created by the same Hand. The Negro is an American, just the same as the proudest white who can trace his family back to a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Every person who is honest with himself knows these basic truths. Until the anti-Christian barrier of racial intolerance is forever battered down, the world will never be at rest.

Feel Sorry For Yourself?

If all this talk about "disaster," bankrupt businesses, broke farmers, and starving cattle has gotten you down, cheer up! We suggest this little test to see if that sagging lower lip of yours is really justified:

Take a pencil and paper, sit down, and draw a perpendicular line on the paper, bisecting it into two columns. At the top of one, write, "What I have to be sad about." At the top of the other, inscribe, "What I have to be glad about."

Take lots of time for the first column. Don't overlook anything. Be sure to include things like how your jitney knocked out its rods last week, how the cow lost her calf, and don't forget that John so and so won't pay back $300 he owes you. The story of your 1-bushel-per-acre wheat will make a good entry, and the fight with the kid's tonsils will look good, too.

Then, after you have put down every woe you can possibly recall, give yourself one minute even for the next column. Start off with little, insignificant things like your good health, your faithful wife, those wonderful kids, the nice house you live in, the friends who would never let you down. You won't have any trouble remembering these little items if you stop to think.

Then, after the minute has elapsed, look over your score sheet and add it up. You be the judge. You know better than anybody else just what each entry is worth.

A free subscription to the person who isn't ahead in the "glad" column. He will really be leading a tough life.

On Friday July 17, a series of gospel meetings will begin at the church and continue through July 26. Osby Weaver of Greenville, Texas will do the preaching, and Burl McCoy of Merkel, Texas will be the song director. There will be services at 7:00 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. daily. Make plans to attend each of these meetings.

Softball Team Has New Uniforms

The Texico-Farwell Women's softball team played their first game in their new uniforms Tuesday night.

Uniforms were donated by the following businessmen from the twin cities: Bradshaw Grocery, Rundell Service Station, Furniture Mart, Farwell Feed lots, Blain and son Welding shop, Watts Machine and Pump Company, Mears Feed Store, Allred's Service Station, Stone Variety, Roberts Seed Company, and Piggly Wiggly.

The girls have played seven games during the season, with a two win and five loss record. They are entering the Clovis league, and according to Gene Woods, manager of the team, will probably have at least one game a week in the league, and others outside it.

Has Pamphlets For Boys in Service

Loyde Brewer, commander of local Legion, informs the Tribune that he has a number of pamphlets entitled "A Special Message to a New Joe", which is written for boys just going into the service, and contains helpful advice.

Brewer says anyone wishing some of the pamphlets to be sent to the boys, may contact him.

Lose Ball Game By Narrow Margin

Members of the Texico-Farwell softball team, sponsored by the youth program, underway this summer, played their first matched game Wednesday night. The youngsters lead all the way, but were defeated in the last inning when the Clovis "Braves" pulled out in front on one hit and some errors. The final score was 7-6 in favor of the Braves. The local team is coached by Jimmy Starkey and Curtis Miller, directors of the youth program.

Texico Chamber To Meet Tuesday

Texico Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to meet Tuesday night, July 14, according to an announcement made by Leroy Faville, president of the organization. Faville states that a nominating committee may be appointed to choose candidates for election of new officers for the coming year, but it is not definite.

Texico Town Meeting Has Routine Business

In a meeting Monday night, the Texico city dads voted to tighten up on garbage collection in the city. Only routine business was discussed in the remainder of the meeting.

Plans have been made for a protest hearing on the paving question July 13, and then the project can move into its final stages.

Farm Bureau Directors Meet for Discussion

Farm Bureau directors met Monday and discussed the grain sorghum allotment question. They hope to find out what the people in the county want, on the question.

Members also talked about wheat allotments. They talked about the drought situation, before closing the session.

Brotherhood Members Attend Friona Meeting

Nine members of the Farwell Baptist Brotherhood went to Friona Tuesday to attend the Associational Brotherhood meeting. Speaker at the meeting was C. L. Humphrey, a lawyer, from Amarillo. He spoke on the importance of "Doing one's best for the Lord." Local Brotherhood will meet at the school on July, according to Sterlyn Billington, officer of the organization.

NEW BAPTIST PASTOR

Rev. C. C. Morgan, new pastor at the Texico-Farwell Baptist Church, stops for a few moments to refer to his home Bible Monday. Rev. Morgan believes there is a great challenge in his new Texico-Farwell charge.

Texico Pastor Will Work With Youth

"The greatest need of the hour is to work with our young people and help them to find their place in life," stated Rev. C. C. Morgan, new pastor of the Texico-Farwell Baptist Church in an interview Wednesday.

He further said, "The only thing that will overcome Communism is to re-establish the fundamental principles of Christianity in the hearts of our young people. If America falls, it will be because of lack of training in the Christian faith provided for its youth." It is my greatest ambition to be able to help these youngsters correct the mistakes made by our older generation.

Morgan revealed plans to take any interested students down to see the campus of Hardin-Simmons University, in August. He has taken groups down before to tour the campus, the hospital, orphan's home, etc. and has found it both inspiring and entertaining.

Rev. and Mrs. Morgan came to Texico from Progress, and previous to their work there, they had served in Anton, Texas. The couple married in 1921 in Calahan County Texas, and in 1924 began their trek to the Plains in a covered wagon. They have seen the Plains Country develop from a land dotted with "cow-trail" roads to the present, with its broad highways and growing cities. Rev. Morgan became a minister in 1932, and has been in the work ever since, except for eight years, because of a throat condition. The couple has seven children, Mrs. Amos Shockley, Bovina; Mrs. J. P. Snider, Gateway, Ontario, Canada; Mrs. Ray Tidwell, Petersburg, Texas; Thomas Reese Morgan, now enrolled in the Grand Canyon College at Phoenix, Arizona, who plans to become a minister.

Local Men To Preach Here

Rev. Dewey Horton, pastor of First Baptist Church, Farwell, will be out of the local pulpit the next two Sundays, it has been announced. The pastor will be conducting revival meetings in Dawson, Texas.

Nathan Harding will preach for morning services this coming Sunday, and Ben Atkins will speak at evening services.

Committee reports have been given on the new building for the church, and members say the construction work is progressing rapidly.

Attendance the past Sunday was 123 in Sunday School and 100 in Training Union in the evening. Prayer meeting is held each Wednesday at 8:30 in the evening.

"Remember move-in day for the new church on August 2," church members emphasize.

Muleshoe Boy is On Combat Ship

FAR EAST—Back in the combat area aboard the destroyer USS Taussig is Louis G. Griffin, chief torpedoman's mate, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Griffin of Route 2, Muleshoe, Texas, and husband of Mrs. Mabel A. Griffin of San Diego, Calif. The crew of the Taussig recently enjoyed a three day rest and recreation period in Hong Kong.

They had an opportunity to visit the famed Tiger Baum Gardens, Repulse Bay, Lido Beach and many other places of interest.

In Williams Home

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Wiggins of Long Beach, California and their children visited his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams over the weekend. They were enroute to Amarillo to make their home.

In Brown Home

Guests in the home of the Hugh Tuckers Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tucker, Grandma Browder of Portales; Wayne Tucker of Albuquerque; Mrs. T. E. Roth and Carmel.

TO MEET MONDAY

Members of the Farwell FFA meet Monday night at 8:30, according to advisor, Robert Morton. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stone and children visited with his parents, the J. E. Stones over the weekend. They reside in Amarillo.

Please Don't All Hit The Road At Once!

Arkon, O.—If every car and truck owner in the state of Texas tried to go for a ride on the same Sunday afternoon, there would be a vehicle every 9 yards on every paved street and highway in the state.

Fortunately, the odds are against this happening, since the average motorist spends only about 25 "days" a year in his car, according to James J. Newman, Vice president of the B. F. Goodrich company.

He points out that estimates of American automobile usage and driver habits show that the average motorist drove 9,000 miles last year. At his average pace of 30 miles an hour, this totals 300 hours, or 25 daylight driving days. This is only 6.8 per cent of the day light hours in a year, he says.

Newman says that the state's motor vehicle registration today is at its highest mark in history and will probably reach an estimated 3,252,000 early this year. Hard-surfaced road mileage, both rural and urban areas of the state is 16,711, which is also a high, he says.

He reports that drivers throughout the nation feel traffic jams are responsible for the loss of millions of dollars in wasted time alone. Newman says B. F. Goodrich estimates a national increase of 12,000,000 car and truck registrations to bring the nation's total to 65,500,000 motor vehicles by 1960. This, he points out, seems to leave little chance for an early let-up in today's traffic congestion.

Newman, former chairman of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety committee, says he believes that the nation's traffic problem could be solved if authorities start facilities, and revisions of outmoded traffic systems and regulations.

MARRIED HERE SUNDAY

MR. AND MRS. BILL CRUME

Crume-Grissom Vows Read Here Sunday

Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Caryetta Grissom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Grissom of Oklahoma Lane, and Bill Crume, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Crume of Farwell Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Vernon Willard, pastor of the church, read the ceremony.

Margie Hendricks of Baird played traditional music for the wedding, and Lois Clevinger of Dimmitt, vocalist, rendered "At Dawn" and "Because of You". At the conclusion of the ceremony, she sang "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Hendricks wore an aqua dress of net, fashioned with a low bodice, pleated-edge cape and a corsage of white carnations. Miss Clevinger was attired in a pale pink organ-dy ensemble, worn over a hoop, and had a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

Background for the exchange of vows was an arrangement of white gladioli in bouquets, and daisy-entwined candelabra, with white tapers. Greenery completed the motif.

Ushers were Bobby Joe Crume, nephew of the bridegroom, and J. B. Sudderth. Ina Lewis of Sweetwater registered the guests at the church.

Flower girls were little Misses Linda Grissom, niece of the bride; and Judy Crume of Hereford, niece of the bridegroom. Both wore full ruffled dresses of yellow organ-dy and carried minute aqua maline baskets, filled with yellow daisies. Ring bearer was Martin Grissom, nephew of the bride.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Lola Jean Grissom. Her dress was of lace-patterned yellow organ-dy, and her shower bouquet was of feathered yellow carnations. Bridesmaids were Miss June Christian, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Donald Christian. Both were attired in dresses of aqua net, fashioned with sweetheart necklines, and matching jackets, and wore shoulder corsages of yellow daisies and aqua maline.

All bridal attendants wore mitts to match their dresses.

Best man was John Christian. Given in marriage by her father Miss Grissom wore a ballerina-length dress of white lace, with a minute round collar, buttons extending up the bodice, and sleeves coming to a point over the hands. White rosebuds and stephanotis were showered from the white Bible which she carried.

For something old, she wore her mother's engagement ring, blue were garters, a gift of Miss June Christian; a penny in her shoe was given her by her father, and she carried a hankie belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. J. F. Foster.

Mrs. Grissom, mother of the bride, wore a dark blue crepe ensemble with a corsage of rubrum lilies, and Mrs. Crume, mother of the bridegroom, chose a blue flowered organ-dy, and also a corsage of lilies.

A reception was held in the Grissom home immediately following the ceremony. The lace-covered table was centered with a basket of white gladioli and feathered aqua daisies. The three-tiered cake was topped with miniature bride and groom, and aqua tapers completed the decorative scheme. Mesdames Leon Grissom, Kenneth Grissom and Hayden Cason presided at the punch service, and Mrs. C. W. Grissom registered guests.

Both the bride and bridegroom will be juniors at Texas Tech college in Lubbock in the fall. The bridegroom is an advertising major, and is employed in the advertising department of Sears-Roebuck in Lubbock. He is a member of the Wesley Foundation and ROTC. The bride, a home economics major, is a member of Wesley Foundation, Home Economics club and Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics fraternity. Next year, she will be corresponding secretary of the fraternity.

Both are graduates of Farwell High School, class of 1951. Mrs. Crume was valedictorian of the senior class.

After a short wedding trip, to Colorado Springs, the young couple will be at home at 2305 27th in Lubbock.

Following the rehearsal Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Grissom honored the bridal couple with a dinner. Decorations of aqua daisies, yellow gladioli and aqua candles carried out the brides chosen colors.

Guests were Misses Caryetta and Lola Jean Grissom, June Christian, Lois Clevinger, Margie Hendricks, Ina Lewis, Linda Grissom and Judy Crume, Bill Crume, John Christian, Bobby Joe Crume, J. B. Sudderth, Martin Grissom, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Grissom, Donald Christian, Mrs. Kater Crume, Kenneth Grissom, Mrs. Hayden Cason, and Rev. Vernon Willard and Mrs. C. W. Grissom.

Sparks-Riggins Vows Read In Church

Miss Neva Ladelle Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sparks, now of Clovis, but formerly of Texico, was recently united in marriage to H. Lawrence Riggins Jr., of Clovis. Riggins' parents live at Rule, Texas.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the Central Baptist Church, with Rev. W. E. King, officiating. Some 130 relatives and friends of the couple were present for the ceremony.

Miss Janelle Hacker provided organ music preceding the ceremony, and Pat Beasley sang "Through the Years."

Acting as candle lighters were two small cousins of the bride, Charlotte Hromas and Darlene Hromas, both of Bovina.

The candles in wrought iron candelabra, flanked an arch before which the vows were repeated. Daisies and greenery served to feature wedding bells hanging from the arch. White pillars, palms and a large basket of gladioli completed the background.

Other cousins of the bride acted as flower girls, and bridesmaids. Little Misses Doris Donaldson and Gwendolyn, both of Farwell, covered the path of the bride's entrance with rose petals. Ludege Terry of Grady and Phyllis Tucker of Texico were bridesmaids, and were attired in orchid ballerina length formal gowns, and carried nosegay bouquets.

Mrs. J. C. Boone, an aunt of Clovis acted as matron of honor. She wore a blue nylon ballerina gown. Lewis Markwood was best man and ushers and groom's men were J. R. Dixon and Joe Rigger, brother of the groom. J. C. Boone and Harold Carpenter, uncles of the bride, from Farwell, were ushers also.

The bride was attired in white slipper satin, featuring a sweetheart neckline of nylon tulle and lace covered sleeves coming to points over the hands. Tiny pearl buttons extended to the waist line. The peplum was made of imported French lace.

Her fingertip veil fell from a halo of pearls. Something old was a wrist watch she wore, something new, her entire ensemble, borrowed was the necklace and earrings, belonging to Mrs. Viola Rundell. Something blue was her garter, a gift of the matron of honor. In her white kid slipper she wore a penny for luck.

The bridal bouquet was carried on a white satin-covered Bible, with white satin streamers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sparks wore a lightweight summer suit of navy blue with

Former Resident is Working in Japan

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Rushing, of Clovis and formerly of Texico, have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Bonnie Holland, is one of 75 American Red Cross Volunteers serving as staff aides at Yokohama, Japan. Mrs. Holland arrived in Japan last August to join her husband, Lt. Lewis Holland, who is stationed at Kamiseya. The Hollands have two children, Marilyn Gall, 7, and Barbara Anne, 5, who are with their parents.

Now I lay me down...

From the twelfth century children have been learning to repeat this prayer of faith. Back of that are the other centuries when families quoted the 121st Psalm from which it was doubtless taken...

*"Your Guardian will not slumber,
He will neither slumber nor sleep."*

Precious lad with the dimpled cheeks, knowing so little what the world holds of joy and of sorrow, of foes and of friends, of sickness and of health, of defeat and of triumph. Perhaps he has mother and father now and every care for his happiness. Who knows what tomorrow holds for him? You and I may not be near to counsel and to encourage. What then?

Wise and thoughtful for all the years ahead were the parents who early introduced the lad to his eternal Friend and helped him to be at home in the Father's universe. Some day every boy and girl will have to stand alone; will there be strength from hidden springs, a sense of sustaining Power? Some day every woman and every man must make a choice between the high way and the low; will there be light that shines on the good path the soul should take?

Every child born into God's world has a right to know that God is Creator and Sovereign, that His will finally must prevail. Every girl and every boy has a right to be sure that the universe is friendly and that its basic principle is Love. Every living person has a right to trust and to faith and to hope. Every human being has a right to know that he is made in the image of God and eligible to a place in the divine Family. We are both animal and divine spirit; God breathed His own Spirit into man and he became a living Spirit, like unto God. Every child has a right to live reverently as in the continuing and blessed fellowship with the Highest; he has a right to the adult helpfulness that puts his feet in the Way of Life. Teach him to say, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep. If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take."

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial and a stronger alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of this in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

quantity used for irrigation on the southern High Plains in 1952. In order to balance the quantity of water taken from the Ogallala it would be necessary for almost one-half of our annual precipitation to enter the Ogallala.

A Look Into The Future

For a look into the future, let us compare some figures obtained for some of the past years in regard to quantity of ground water available and the quantity of water used. Some of the following figures are taken from various reports of the Texas State Board of Water Engineers and some are only estimates.

Year	Number of Wells	Acres Feet of Water Pumped
1940	2,180	252,000
1945	4,300	520,000
1947	7,500	850,000
1948	10,500	1,212,000
1949	12,000	1,500,000
1950	14,000	1,800,000
1951	17,000	2,700,000
1952	20,000	3,000,000

Available storage in 1948 150,000,000 acre ft.
Quantity used since 1948 9,000,000 acre ft.

Available at beginning 1953 141,000,000 acre ft.

Annual withdrawal 3,000,000 acre feet, which divided into the 141,000,000 acre feet available shows the supply will last 47 years.

This figure does not imply that we will have as much water as we need for 47 years and then all the wells will go dry. Note the increase in the annual quantity of ground water used in the area; the figure of 47 years assumes a constant annual withdrawal. Many pumps have been lowered in wells during the past few years; numerous wells have even been abandoned and new wells drilled to obtain adequate irrigation water. Some areas are no longer able to irrigate as the quantity of water available is not sufficient. Conversely, new irrigation wells are being developed in some areas for the first time.

The depletion of our available water will be a gradual decline of water levels; at different rates in different parts of the area. Many wells will probably be producing irrigation water a considerable number of years after the majority of the wells have gone dry. During the past few years—even the more water has been used—it undoubtedly has been used more wisely. The use of irrigation tubes, concrete lined ditches, underground irrigation systems, more accurate knowledge as to date of irrigation and the quantity of water to apply all have shown that we are no longer thinking of "mining" our ground water but that we are seeking an optimum yield of our wells.

What should we do concerning our ground water? If we knew of an infallible solution to the problem, I am sure that the majority of us would be acting accordingly. It is a problem that involves a study of groundwater hydrology, geology, engineering, economics, and philosophy. Perhaps the question cannot be answered correctly at this time. Nevertheless, I would like to point out several possibilities that deserve serious consideration.

Some of The Possibilities

1) We could exploit our resources as was done years ago. When the resource became exhausted we could then worry about how or where to live. This does not present a too delightful prospect for the generation of tomorrow. On the purely business side, however, if our investment in a ranch, cotton farm, or vegetable farm would have an economic profitable return in 20 or 30 years (including interest on the investment and salable valuation of the property at the end of that time), some might argue for continued use of the ground water with no restrictions. This presents one of the biggest problems of economics and philosophy.

2) It has been suggested by a few that we restrain our use of ground water to equal that quantity added annually to the storage. This is comparable to a bank account—where it is difficult, to say the least, to take out more than we put in. I believe we are cognizant of the fallacy of this suggestion. It would mean that we could either only take out something in the order of 30,000 acre feet a year, or induce recharge in the area amounting to almost one-half of the annual precipitation.

3) Several individuals have suggested that we can, or will in the future, obtain our ground water supply from beds below the Ogallala—from the so-called "redbeds." In fact, this had been attempted in several areas without much success. According to geologic principles, it is generally not feasible to expect water in sufficient quantity or quality in the "redbeds." These beds contain numerous shale and clay layers that are comparatively impervious to water and little water is able to seep down into the strata below the Ogallala. In this area the ground water does not reach the "redbeds" or the Ogallala from below—as has been inferred by some.

Approach With Caution

It is possible that there may exist some small local areas where there may be a possibility of obtaining water from the "redbeds." Before drilling a well with such expectations, several thousand dollars might be saved by an investigation of the area by a trained professional geologist, hydrologist, or engineer specializing in ground water.

4) Areas in Illinois, Wisconsin, central and southern Arizona, and in portions of California have been "mining" ground water for a number of years. Some wells in California pump from depths greater than 500 feet to irrigate valuable crops. In the Central Valley of California the approach to the problem has begun, and although it will be expensive and take some time to complete, it will provide an example of using a ground water reservoir to its maximum practical extent.

We have learned a great deal about when, how, how much, and why to irrigate. Many devices have been put to economic use in the field of irrigation. As continued research suggests methods for us to follow we shall somewhat alter our methods to conform with a more optimum use of ground

Recharge Possibilities

There are two suggestions I would like to mention that involve a geologic engineering approach to the problem. In several areas—notably California—there has been considerable study of artificial recharge of the ground water reservoir. This offers a serious line of investigation that may prove economically applicable to the plains area. It is doubtful if a large project for the benefit of the area as a whole could be undertaken; however, in small areas where playa basins are present it is worth investigating. On a single farm, or in an area consisting of several adjoining farms, one, two, or three, recharge wells might well prove valuable. In each area factors dependent upon the amount of surface water collected in the playa, depth to the aquifer, the characteristics of the aquifer, and the type of recharge well would need to be studied for an efficient program of artificial recharge by wells. Several such wells have been started in the area and many more are sure to follow.

The other suggestion is in regard to the location of the well site. A prospective well site should be selected with care—not only in regard to the "high point" (as all would rather have his well on the "high"), but also in regard to geologic conditions existing in the area. Wells with the longer life may be those located where the bottom of the Ogallala is at the lowest elevations, and those that penetrate the entire thickness of the Ogallala. Wells should not be located near areas where rocks of Cretaceous are exposed (as in the southern part of the district).

Most Promising Well Sites

In general, the more promising well sites are those to the east, south, or southeast of basins, canyons, or sandy areas. As the direction of flow of the ground water is generally southeast, this arrangement would place a more favorable recharge area "upstream" from the well. The size and spacing of wells should be investigated thoroughly for each local area to produce the most economical results.

Our inventory of the groundwater hydrology of the southern High Plains has passed the preliminary stage and most of the users of ground water are no longer engaged in "mining." The more data that is gathered and the more research and investigation that is accomplished, the more we will know about our ground water problems in the most economical manner.

fans, he sailed high into the air and landed in the classic position. The wonder is that he can sit on a horse, let alone compete in a rodeo.

Farm prices may be coming right down, but everything else seems to be staying up there. Looks as though another hike on the gas pumps is coming up, now that the major oil buyers have raised their prices again.

We may as well admit that prices on our printing aren't what we'd like for them to be, too. We're talking about LOW, not high prices. This was brought home to us a couple of weeks back when we did some printing for a nice out-of-town lady. When she got the bill we sent her for the printing, she sent in the check without a complaint, but did make a notation that she "had no idea printing was so high."

The sad part about the story is that printing IS high, and there isn't much we can do to remedy it. Supplies and machinery are so terribly high it runs the price of our jobwork up before we know it.

Yes, we could do work cheaper, but it would look cheaper, too. Our theory is that it is better to do a good grade of work and ask a reasonable profit over what it costs us to do it, than to turn out a sorry piece of work and do it for a bargain.

In the main, printing prices here are no higher than they are elsewhere, although it is possible for larger firms to do special work at lower prices. Job printing does come high, we won't deny it, but we will assure you that whatever we ask you to pay, you are not being "gouged." It simply costs a lot to produce.

Keep smiling department: Jess Coburn can still manage to grin about his wheat crop this year. He cut 50 acres last week and hauled the grain to the elevator. His receipt indicated a whopping 40 bushels. That is not a per-acre yield; it was his entire harvest.

But that isn't quite as bad as the fellow we heard about up at Perryton. He made four rounds on his half-section of wheat, and climbed up to the hopper to see how things were stacking up. "I climbed in, but the bin was empty. I thought I had a leak until I noticed that a sparrow was grabbing the grain as it came out," he said.

If all businessmen were as sincere in their life work as a certain service station man we know downtown, this world would certainly be a better place in which to live.

This fellow, who needs every cent he earns, just like most every body else today, told us he was anxious to build up his flat fixing business.

"All the money I take in from fixing flats goes into the building fund for the new church," he told us. Do you know of a more unselfish act?

He is actually advertising for business which won't mean one cent of personal gain for himself.

We try hard not to advertise anybody's business in this column, or else we wouldn't be smart to try to sell space on the inside pages. But we will say that this person's message is on page four of this section. Read it for yourself.

Is it safe to come out now? The farmers in the area have really been pouring it on since our editorial last week. It's nice that they are fellows we have known some time, and they have been very considerate in their choice of colorful adjectives while rebuffing our point of view.

At this writing, however, none has gone so far as to sit down and write us a letter. That seems to be the place where the farmer draws the line. We'll admit though, that if we had the power of speech some of the boys who dissented have, a mere pen or typewriter would seem sort of unnecessary.

A good public airing of the whole matter would stimulate a lot of thought, we believe, and we're going to keep plugging until we get some of these things thrashed out in black and white.

Ed Blair, south of town, jumped us out. He said he "wasn't any good at writin' letters," but if we'd come out to his house some time, he'd sit down and talk it out with us for a spell.

Vernon Es. es, Bovina, has a number of reasons for not agreeing with us. He says that it was the government who got the cowman in the tight spot in the first place, so now should help him get out. Vern swore he was going to write us, but we kinda doubt it.

Jimmy Baxter, Friona, didn't see eye to eye, either. Well, we knew a lot of people wouldn't agree with us when we wrote what we did.

News note to Gabe: The other day we heard two farmers conversing on the seriousness of the dry weather.

"If it doesn't rain pretty soon, I'm going to rob a bank," said one. The other fellow spat in the dust, looked at the sky, and replied: "If it doesn't rain pretty soon I've already robbed one."

Many Improvements Made Around School

There have been several improvements made at the school this summer and more planned before the school term begins in September. They have done a lot of work on the yard resodding and adding new grass. Most of the front ground and between the main building and the gym is now covered with grass. The grass is doing very good on the football field, too.

The Home Economics girls did some landscape work before school was out, planting rose bushes and violets in the flower beds and around the flag pole. There have been several new shrubs added to the grounds with the Home Economics girls helping in this project.

They are building several new sidewalks including the one in front of the main building. They have done considerable work on the band house, putting in new flooring and partitioning off several practice rooms. They hope to be able to insulate the rooms and make them soundproof.

Mrs. Tidenberg Feted At Parties

Last week, Mrs. Tidenberg celebrated her birthday and really had a celebration, but we couldn't ever get her to tell how old she was. She did tell us about the parties and how much she enjoyed them.

I'LL HUFF AND I'LL PUFF

Five finalists in the bubble gum blowing contest at Bovina Saturday make a valiant effort to exhibit bubbles in unison for the cameraman, but to little avail. The young man with the largest bubble is Furman Kelso, who exhibited the same nonchalance a few minutes later to win the contest.

friends gathered at her home for a lovely covered dish birthday dinner and visiting during the afternoon. Those present were Mesdames R. N. Williford, H. D. Bradshaw, Lucy Wilson, Mel Gunn, Buck Ellison, Tom Rhodes, Ward Thompson, Earnest Woelfel and Nickie and Frank Truitt and Larry. Also attending from Clovis were her mother, Mrs. J. H. Stagner, her sister, Carroll McCleskey and children and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Johnnie Stagner and sons.

Then on Thursday night, a group of her friends gathered at the H. D. Bradshaw home and went in a group up to her home. They really surprised her when they came in singing "Happy Birthday" and caught her in her gown all ready for bed.

They enjoyed playing Canasta and at the close of the evening Mrs. Bradshaw and Mrs. Truitt served ice cream, cake and coffee to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Macon, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ellison, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bradshaw and the honoree and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Tidenberg.

Mrs. Kaltwasser Speaks To Girls

All of the Bovina Girl Scout Troops met last week and heard an interesting and educational talk by Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser of Farwell. Mrs. Kaltwasser told about her life in England from the time she was small until she married and left England. She told them about the "Girl Guides" in England. The girls had many questions to ask her and she told them about the holidays in England. The girls want to thank her for her time in coming and giving them the talk.

This completed the second class work for Troop II led by Mrs. Elmo Dean and Mrs. Eddie Redden. The other troops have one or two other steps to complete before becoming a second class Scout. The girls must have this second class badge or have the work completed for their badge to be eligible for cooking and handwork school to be held at the Bovina High School starting July 2. Troop II was host at the meeting and at the close they served punch and home made cookies to all those present.

Family Reunion Held By Ezra Englant

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Englant had a house full of company over the holiday weekend when they had all their children and grandchildren home. They were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Englant, Deborah and Floyd Leon of Santee, California, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kesler and their twins, Billy and Betty, of Jal, New Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Merrill and Doyle also of Jal New Mexico. Also visiting with them last week were Ezra's brother, Elmer Englant of El Cajon, California and his sister, Mrs. Chester Vaughn and her four grandsons Jimmy, Gary, Kenneth and Keith of Dumas, Texas. Kenneth and Keith are another set of twins.

Fourth Of July Celebration Attracts Huge Crowd

Estimates Run From 800-1000 In Attendance

By Jeanne Kerby

The big county-wide picnic and play day in Bovina on July 4th, was termed a great success by all present. The shindig, sponsored by the Bovina Lions Club, attracted about 800 to 1000 people for the evening's entertainment and they all went home tired and happy. It was a real old-fashioned get-together with everyone becoming just a little better acquainted with his neighbor. There were people present from all over the county and several from other states, who were visiting in Bovina.

The activities started about 4:30 with softball games and music by the hillbilly band. There were several ball games played during the afternoon and evening, but about the only one we could get results on, was the one between the short men, under Coach Allen Cumpston, and the tall slim men, under Coach Vernon Estes. Seems those slim fellows were just a little faster and out-ran the fats.

The PTA sponsored the ducking board and bingo and a snow cone stand. The ducking got under way pretty early with Hubert Ellison being the first one in the tank. Others who got their Saturday night bath the hard way were Margaret Minter, Jeanne Kerby, June Rhodes and Bill Bradshaw and Gene Ezell. The PTA reported a good turnout for all their events and they made a little over $90.00. This is really going to help on their indebtedness. The Bovina Women's Study Club had plenty of homemade ice cream for sale and everyone enjoyed some. They made between $25.00 and $30.00 on their booth.

The contests got underway before dark with the kids and their bubble gum starting off. There were about 300 kids under fourteen present for all the doings, so there was some pretty stiff competition. Furman Kelso finally won out with the biggest bubble with Rose Fortenberry coming in second and Dean Wines third. Judges for this contest were Sonny Graham, Flossie Rhinehart, Possum Richards, Al Kerby, Bill Venable and O. W. Rhinehart. After they had judged the bubbles, they had to blow one themselves. That was really something to see.

The Bovina Butane Service Co. added a little extra thrill for the kids when they threw out 100 balloons, each had a number and children drew for prizes. First prize was three dollars and was won by Joe Jones. He was really beaming when he got the envelope with that prize money. Sue Estes was the lucky winner of second prize and two dollars and Jackie Turner won third and one dollar. They gave away six fifty cent pieces, to Carol Hammonds, Brenda Young, Joe Pierce, Dixie Hartzog, Phyllis Kelley of Texico and Don Cumpston.

Arlin Hartzog acted as master of ceremonies during the evening. While they were drawing for the balloon prizes, he got out his old sockpurse. He took about thirty minutes to get anything out of it, but when he did, there was a shower of pennies on the kids, and they really scrambled looking for them. "If you just keep your money in a purse like his it will last a long time 'cause you can't get it out," a reporter says.

Next they had the terrapin race, which really drew a lot of attention. They had little terrapins, big terrapins, slow ones and fast ones. You could find one with almost any design you wanted. They put them in the center of a large circle and the first one out of the circle was the winner. They were so close, they decided that one would have to be the first out twice, to win. Finally the terrapin owned and trained by Inell Lowe won! She must have really stayed up nights with that terrapin for when she clapped and called, he came running. Sonny Graham did pretty well with his terrapin taking second place and Don Caldwell won third. They had ribbons for this contest, so if you see some of these people sporting a blue, red or white ribbon, you'll know their terrapin really did the work to win it.

Just before dark, they got out where they had lots of room and let the women throw the rolling pin. It was a bright red oversized rolling pin and it took a good strong arm to get it out there. We surely did find out why so many husbands say "Yes, Mam" and "no Mam" to their wives. Jo Looney won first in the contest and from the wicked way she threw, we just decided that was why Reagon goes fishing and hunting often, he has to get a little rest. Mrs. J. T. Jones won second, but she didn't give up until after about four ties for first with Jo. Mrs. Bob Johnston won third and who ever thought that small lady could hit Bob so far off. Mrs. Hartzog had a real target for Arlin was running and he outran her throw.

Before they had the picnic supper, they paused for a moment to remember in silent prayer the many who had given their lives throughout history of our nation to make July 4th and all it stands for possible. Rev. White, pastor of the Methodist church, asked the blessing upon the food. There were bountiful supplies of all sorts of good things to eat, and everyone enjoyed the meal along with plenty of ice cold lemonade.

There were several more contests after the supper hour, with the hog calling contest attracting most of the hogs in the county. Wilbur Charles won first place with Bill Parker taking second place honors, and Uncle Jim Richards claiming third.

The kids had another race after supper when they gathered on the football field to see who could run the fastest in a sack. Cecil Jaquess proved he was pretty fast in a sack by winning first place with Joan Kay Ezell placing second and Neta Beth Estes third.

There was a lot of interest in the Fiddler's Contest with some good fiddlin'. Bud Queen, a real old-time fiddler, won the blue ribbon with Al Kerby taking second and Pete Vestal of Farwell placing third.

They also had a harmonica contest and we found some musical talent we didn't know about. J. H. Floyd did a good job and won first prize with Lewis Pesch second and Tom Griffith, third.

The Hillbilly band played during most of the evening and helped to put the evening over in a big way. Those helping with the music were Joe Brito, Hugh and Frank Webb, Al Kerby, Don Owens, Aubrey Rhodes and Harold Combs of Clovis. They had several special numbers. Little Jimmy Glickman really made a hit with the crowd. He is the seven-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Minter, visiting here from New Orange, New Jersey. He brought his ukele and played and sang several songs. Janice Leake sang and Gail and Gwen Combs, of Clovis sang with their daddy playing for them.

All in all, the program was wonderful and everyone is hoping Lions will make this an even bigger and better annual event. We heard several of the Lions members and committeemen express their thanks to the people for helping to make it a success and making plans for next year. So everyone better start practicing up on these different things, training your terrapin, and you winners had better keep in shape because, they're going to be after you, and we'll see you all next year.

HEAR BILLY GRAHAM

There were several from Bovina who attended the Billy Graham services in Amarillo and Lubbock last week. Those going to Amarillo were Mrs. Opal Rogers and LaVon, Mrs. H. L. Tidenberg and Jamie, Miss Millie Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Al Kerby and Mrs. Vernon Ward. Going to Lubbock were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cumpston and Mrs. H. D. Bradshaw, Ella, Dyal-thia and Julius.

Large Crowd Present At McKenzie Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McKenzie held a family reunion recently at the Friona club house. Nine of their ten children were present for the reunion. A basket lunch was served. Music was furnished during the day by the McKenzie brothers.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mann and children of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Aron Kent and family of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Rance McKenzie and boys of Muleshoe; Mrs. M. Whitehouse and son of Hereford; Mrs. Olin Triplett and son of Farmington, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. L. Davis and children of Elgin, Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McKenzie Jr., of Pecos, Texas. Those from Friona were Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Kuykendall, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kuykendall and Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Keith McKenzie and son; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Taylor and family; and Edell and Odell McKenzie. The daughter, who was unable to be present, lives in South Dakota.

Friona Lions Have Installation Service

Installation of officers was held when the Friona Lions Club met Friday night at the Friona Club House. George McLean of Hereford, installed the officers in a very impressive ceremony.

Mrs. McLean was also present at the meeting, and played and sang several numbers as part of the program.

Weldon Dickson, new president, gave a short talk on his expectations for the club during the coming year.

The Lions met on Friday night, rather than on Thursday, their regular meeting date, because of a meeting in Lubbock attended by several of the officers. At that meeting, they were addressed by Edgar M. Elbert, president of Lions International.

Shower Honors Mrs. James Pope

A pink and blue shower honored Mrs. James Pope Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Alta Wylie. Favors were yellow marshmallows fashioned as baby buggies with wheels of "life savers." # Doctor Arrives Monday At Parmer County Hospital

Dr. Thomas B. Smith, formerly of Paducah, didn't have long to wait to see if he was going to like his work in Parmer County Monday. He arrived in Friona at 1 a.m. that morning, and was promptly ushered into a full schedule of patients as soon as the regular workday of the hospital commenced.

Dr. Smith is a fully trained specialist in surgery. He also is a well-experienced allergist, allergy being his "medical hobby." The doctor says, "I hardly see how a doctor can practice nowadays without not being pretty well acquainted with allergy, because of the large number of people who suffer some allergic reaction."

Dr. Smith had just spent five and one-half years at Paducah, where he was in private practice. He is married, and he and his wife have two children, Suzy, 6; and Berkeley, 2. His family will move to Friona as soon as possible, but at the present time, they have not found accommodations.

Dr. Smith is a 1942 graduate of the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, and his broad southern accent is evidence that he spent many years in the South.

Parmer Countians will be interested in meeting Mrs. Smith, as she is an ex-professional model, secretary, and medical technician. Now, however, she is a "plain housewife" whose principal task is raising the two children.

Dr. Smith said he is "very pleased" with his associates at the hospital, and anticipates a successful stay here. He made several trips to Friona "sizing up" his new location before moving here, and has high praise for the work of Dr. Paul Spring of the hospital.

Scouts Will Return From Camp Saturday

Two Girl Scout Troops from Friona, went to Lubbock to the Girl Scout camp for one week beginning Sunday. They will return to their home Saturday.

Parents of Scouts in Troop IV making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wise, Mr. and Mrs. James Mabry and Mr. and Mrs. Preach Cranfill. Girl scouts were: Peggy Widner, Janie Parker, Sally Hough, Pat Cranfil, Mary Tom Spring, Kay Kirk, Margaret Mabry, and Elaine Holcomb. Parents of Troop II were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth O'Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Baxter. Scouts were: Merlene Gibson, Phyllis Trieder, Doris Jane McFarland, Loretta O'Brian, Kathryn Dunn, and Gladys Edna Baxter.

Reunion Honors Sons Home From Service

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nazworth held a family reunion Sunday at their home for their son, Verne, who has just returned from overseas, and for their son Johnny, who has just recently been discharged from the army.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Nazworth and family of Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nazworth of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Nazworth, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Nazworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nazworth and family of Friona and Leaman Wilburn of Roby, Texas.

Have New Son

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carver are the proud parents of a baby boy born in the Parmer County Hospital. This is the second child for the Carvers. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Carver of Friona.

PARMER COUNTY FARMERS CHOOSE THE BEST EQUIPMENT

This is another fine well on the Fred Bruns farm south of Friona about 14 miles. L. L. Bruns is shown in the picture. The two men are extremely pleased with the performance of their Byron Jackson Pump shown here. There is another new well on the Bruns place also equipped with the famous B-J Pump. The well is drilled 405 feet, pump set on 240.

The popularity of our main line pumps, Byron-Jackson and Layne-Bowler, is growing right along with our reputation for fine irrigation service. A tip to the irrigation man: Don't go driving all over the country looking for equipment and supplies. COME HERE, where it's all under ONE ROOF!

IDEAS ON KEEPING COOL

There's more than one way to skin a cat, and more than one way to keep cool on these hot, dry days, say Parmer County folks. Out on the farm, it's usually done in an improvised irrigation well swimming pool. The kiddos, Toni Sue, 12, Jerry, 7, Jane, 7, and Judy Ann, 13, are children of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bruns south of Friona.

The kid in the bottom picture shows how to keep cool in the city. Kenneth "Tarzan Fields" relaxes behind a good supply of iced tea and under the shade of a straw hat as he plays a stream of cool water onto the lawn.

Training Union Has Recent Party

The Baptist Training Union enjoyed a basket supper in the backyard of the H. D. Bradshaw home on Thursday night of last week. After everyone had eaten all they could, they enjoyed playing "42" for the rest of the evening.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Pierceson Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Lawlis and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truitt and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tidenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Steelman, and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Hodge Rigdon and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones and Joe, Rev. and Mrs. M. D. Durham and Marvalynne and the host; the Bradshaw family.

Fifth Child Born For Bovina Couple

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Burrows became the parents of a daughter born at the Clovis Memorial Hospital on June 30. The little girl weighed seven pounds and ten ounces and has been named Rita Evelyn. This is the fifth child for the couple. They have a little girl six, a little girl three, and twins, a boy and a girl a year old.

Mr. Burrows is in the Veterans Hospital in Waco, Texas at the present time. He suffered polio several months ago, but is reported to be improving and hopes to be able to come home in about a month.

Maternal grandparents of the new girl are Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Williams of Bovina and the paternal grandmothers is Mrs. C. B. Burrows of Gage, Oklahoma.

Bovina People Fish At Conchas Lake

Several of the people from Bovina spent the 4th of July weekend at Conchas fishing. Some of those going were Vernon Ward, Perry Looney, Sam Sides, Freddie Dykes, Joe Douglas and Harve Alverson. They all said the fish weren't biting. Guess they were taking a holiday, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bradshaw spent three days last week at Conchas fishing, too. When Bill went to Lake Meade last spring, we heard he was really a fisherman, especially for crappie, but apparently, he lost his rabbit's foot. On this last trip it was the better half of the two that caught all the fish. Bill didn't even snare one little one. Guess they just weren't biting on his side of the boat.

First Son Born

Mr. and Mrs. Don Tabor of Amarillo became the parents of a son born to them on July 2 in Amarillo. The little man has been named Michael Don and weighed eight pounds and one ounce when he was born. This is their first child.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Berggren and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Tabor all of Bovina. This is the first grandchild for all the grandparents.

THANKS

We wish to take this means of thanking every one who participated in the 4th of July celebration, especially the ladies who furnished such a wonderfully delicious supper of just about every delicacy that could be thought of. It is unanimously agreed that this was the highlight of the day and the Bovina Lions Club can proudly boast that the ladies of Parmer County are the finest cooks in the world. Without them the success of the celebration would have been very limited. AGAIN, THANKS LADIES.

Of course a lot of thanks and appreciation go to the several committees and individuals who worked diligently to provide a continuous uninterrupted program of entertainment for the enjoyment of all. Their only hope of reward is that you and your neighbor had a very delightful and enjoyable evening.

SINCERELY,

Our Terrible Thirst

If your town doesn't have to worry about its water supply, you're lucky. A lot of towns do.

Trouble is, some communities never dreamed that they might double and triple in size, that new industries would come to town, that citizens would use more water than ever before. We've reached the point where we use about 1100 gallons per person a day in the United States.

Yet why should water be short when 25 times our needs falls from the skies every year?

Unhappily, it doesn't always fall when and where we need it most. Many reservoirs were built with no idea that towns would grow so fast. And 75% of our communities rely on water from lakes and streams. Today many of these are polluted and require treatment before use.

When faced with a shortage, cities suddenly discover to their sorrow that new water sources take time to complete.

For years General Electric has contributed toward development of better and more efficient water-works equipment. This is not so unusual, since motors and other electric equipment are important in water systems, large or small.

Some of the things we've learned about water supply, and the related problem of water pollution, have been put together in motion pictures and booklets, prepared in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service. Any town fathers who are interested in what's available can write to General Electric, Room 123-2, Schenectady 5, N. Y.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

Texas Farm Bureau Federation holds a contract with Group Hospital Service, Inc., of Dallas, Texas (Blue Cross). Until this contract was made, farm people had no access to this non-profit, prepaid medical plan. Only employed, salaried groups could participate. Farm Bureau officials, in the interest of the economical health protection of rural people, negotiated for, and secured the subject contract.

Our agreement is that we will handle Blue Cross accounts for Farm Bureau Members only. The cost through this group is $10 per year less than the individual cost, which wholly justifies our insistence on paid membership as a prerequisite for Blue Cross Protection.

Payment to Parmer County Community Hospital since 1949 approach $15,000 because of Blue Cross. This, we believe, justifies existence of the group, even though it costs, rather than pays us, to handle the accounts.

Further proof that Farm Bureau Membership doesn't cost—it pays: Every farmer who sold as much as 100 bushels of wheat after June 18 this year, received enough ($10) to pay his dues one year because of Farm Bureau effort. The market rose 10 cents per bushel the day after open storage wheat was approved for the loan. This procedure was first provided through Farm Bureau action in 1949. It was repeated this season for your protection.

Parmer County Farm Bureau will sponsor a queen contest this year, hoping that our candidate will win district, so she can go to Mineral Wells in November with all expenses paid, where she will receive further recognition; and then, if she's lucky, she will go to Chicago to participate in the National Contest.

Aubrey Ellison will announce the names of the ladies who are in charge of entries, along with the rules, soon. The contest will be held one night during September.

Consider this: Many seek the ruler's favor; but every man's judgement cometh from the Lord. Proverbs 29:26.

Social Security Checks To 4900

Monthly checks of almost $175,000, in the form of federal old age and Survivors Insurance payments are mailed to more than 4900 residents in the Amarillo Social Security field office area. This area includes the 26 Panhandle Counties of Texas.

More than one-half of the persons receiving payments are retired workers and their wives. The remaining checks are to survivors of deceased workers.

The 1952 changes in the Social Security Act, effective in September, raised the amounts of practically all benefits about 12½%. Social security credits for military service from the start of World War II were extended to through 1953 and it was provided that a person will be considered "retired" even though he is earning as much as $75.00 a month. Between age 65 and 75 and regardless of earnings after age 75.

Money to pay social benefits comes from the social security taxes paid by employee, employers, and self-employed people, on earnings up to $3,600 a year. The tax is now 1½ per cent for employer and employee, and 2¼ per cent for self-employed people. Under the law, rates are scheduled to increase to 2 per cent each for employer and employer, and 3 per cent for self-employed people, on January 1, 1954.

We don't know nor care why the hen crosses the road, but what we would like to know is whether, when a hen cackles, she is laying or lying.

Three successive Presidents occupied the White House within 30 days. They were: Presidents Van Buren, William Henry Harrison, and Tyler.

Here's Why:

It seems like it's mighty early to start thinking about a cotton harvest, but as a matter of fact, those fields will be white in the wink of an eye if you turn your back.

That's why it makes good sense to start figuring NOW on how you're going to harvest the crop. Now that you have time, shop around, look over the best features of ANY cotton harvester, and we'll bet that you'll be back to see the OLIVER again before you buy!

Nothing does a cleaner job than an OLIVER harvester. Find our for yourself.
