Residents Endorse City Paving Plans

More than 30 citizens listened closely as the Farwell city commission outlined its hopes for paving Friday afternoon at the city hall, and then the citizens' group voted to endorse the suggestions offered by the elected officials. This action will result in considerable additional paving --up to a mile--being added in the residential parts of the city this summer. Work will probably get underway within the next 60 days.

Mayor Sam Aldridge carried the ball for the commission, explaining to the visitors at the meeting what the city dad's thinking had been up to that point. The administration asked for endorsement of the plan they offered, or an alternative. They got an okay.

The city figures it will cost about $12,000 to repair the seriously damaged streets that have been in use for several years without any attention except "patching."

Then, it figures that another $12,000 will buy a strip of paving a mile long and 22 feet wide. It proposes to put this paving in residential areas where it is most needed.

The $24,000 for streets could be paid off by the city out of ordinary tax revenues without an increase in taxes or rates. It would take two or three years to do this. The indebtedness would not require a bond election.

The administration, composed of Mayor Aldridge, and commissioners Bill Dollar and Clarence Christian, wanted the citizens to help decide where to put the paving, and how it was to be installed.

After discussion and voting, the group decided that the prime choices are: Fifth Street (the church street), Avenue B, and Avenue C. The first runs north and south; the other two are east-west streets.

The group also decided to leave the matter of curb and gutter optional, and where it is installed, it will be up to individual property owners to put it in.

Curb and gutter will cost $1.35 per foot. The paving that would be required to extend from the edge of the gutter to the city's paving will vary from place to place, because the street width is not uniform over town. That paving will cost $1.45 a square yard, which will also be paid for by the individual.

Helton Wins Mayor's Race By Four-Point Margin

As long as I have lived here, I can't call to mind an election in which a greater percentage of the electorate turned out than in Farwell's school election Saturday.

There was an almost ten-fold increase in the turnout over the year previous. As I have suggested before, this is a healthy sign. When citizens get interested enough in their local affairs to ask questions, talk things over, and then get out and vote, it makes for better government.

Some folks were unhappy before the election. Some folks are still unhappy. That is too bad, but I would rather see 400 people vote and some of them be unhappy, than 40 vote and everybody think everything suits them fine.

A little competition, a little agitation, a little discussion, a little different slant is what keeps a democracy on its toes.

Bob Hart and Glenn Phillips were interested enough in the school to make the race. They had nothing personally to gain whether defeated or elected.

Clay Henson and Walter Kaltwasser, who were on the school board that was criticized considerably last year, were willing to let the patrons decide whether their judgment was sound. Their re-election amounts to an exoneration. If they had been beaten, it would have been embarrassing; after all, they didn't HAVE to run.

All of which means, the way I see it, that we had a good demonstration of what voting in America is supposed to be good for--settling the issues. Too many of our elections today are no more than popularity contests.

I hate to say it, but it looks to me like men are going to have to start carrying handbags if the clothing stylists don't calm down. They've made our britches so tight we can't put anything in the pockets anymore, and now they've just about quit making two-pocket shirts. Lately I've switched to carrying all of my assorted junk in my shirt pockets, but I notice that the new style for shirts is for just one pocket, so I guess my days are numbered on this alternative.

Dress shirts have always (I guess) had only one pocket, on the left side. But when I wear a dress shirt I usually have a coat to go along, so there's plenty of pockets.

However, short sleeved sport shirts are my stock in trade, and some I was looking at the other day have made me face up to the fact that two-pocket numbers are for squares, man.

The modern thing is to have a pocket, like usual, on the left side, and then where the pocket is supposed to be on the right to have some fancy embroidery, emblems, holes, or do-dads.

With one of these shirts, I would stuff so much junk in the one pocket that I am sure I would walk lopsided. I'm being forced toward a handbag, briefcase, paper sack or something.

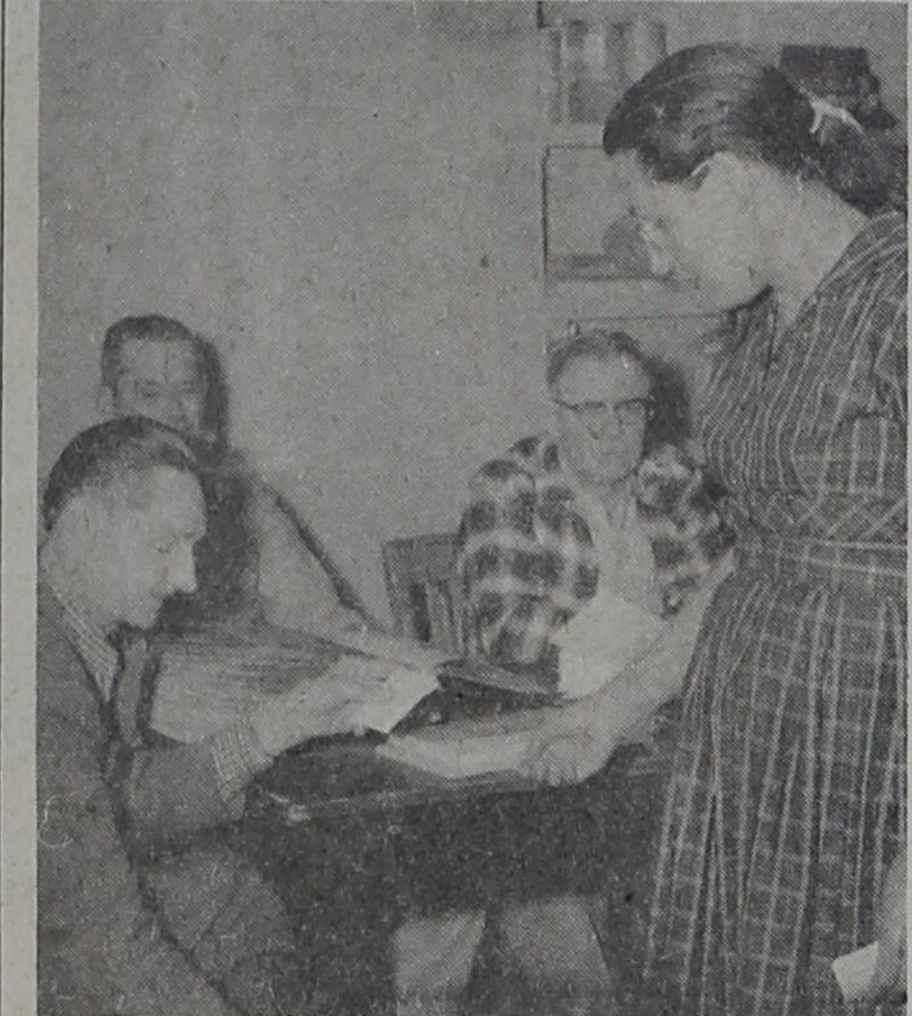

I read in the paper the other day where H. L. Hunt, the Dallas billionaire, walks to work every day with his lunch in a paper sack. Maybe the fad will catch on and then I won't look so ridiculous.

Bob Anderson, who can look pretty mean sitting behind that glass-topped desk at the bank, must have his heart in the right place after all. He gets the Hopper's gold star for his efforts with the Farwell Chamber of Commerce.

He has a handful of jigtime ideas on what to do to pull the dragging outfit out of the doldrums. If you want a fer'instance, he got 23 businessmen out of bed at 6:30 Friday morning to eat breakfast, talk about what the Chamber ought to be doing, and then get out and do a little of it. That's not unheard of, but it almost is.

These spring days have sure stirred the blood in the tennis players in town. Or, at least, the guys who would play tennis if they could.

This year I've got a new battle cry to use on the wife when I feel like heading for the courts when there's an odd job or two to be done around the house. With the middle age spread I've been stacking up through the winter months, how can she deny an honest effort to get rid of it?

VOTER NUMBER 104--Mrs. Ralph Autrey is shown as she hands her ballot to Walter Freeman, one of the judges for Texico's City election, about mid-afternoon Tuesday. A record of 210 persons voted in the election.

In possibly the biggest turnout in a city election in Texico's history, Joe Helton with 102 votes beat out J. H. Winegeart, who was seeking re-election, by four votes. Winegeart received 98 votes.

W. D. Howard Sr., who was also running for mayor, dropped out of the race Monday night. However, the ballots with his name on them had already been printed and he received six votes.

In the trustee election, Olan Schlueter, who was seeking re-election, received 139 votes. Jess Richardson got 119 votes, Milton Henson 68, and Morgan Billington 59.

Les Means was unopposed in the police judge race, and received 147 votes. Three write-in candidates received a total of eight votes.

Helton has been a member of the city council for eight years, and sought the position of mayor instead of running for re-election.

Out of the 262 registered city voters in Texico, 210 cast ballots in the election. One ballot was no good.

A ONE-ARMED WONDER is what they call Boid Buie, who is the only active one-armed player in professional basketball. The six-foot-three Arkansaser is a whiz with the ball even with his handicap. He plays both forward and guard for the Harlem Stars.

29 Sign-Ups In C-C Drive

Farwell Chamber of Commerce directors set to work at an early hour Friday after a downtown kickoff breakfast at 6:30. Their foray for membership netted 29 businesses

FFA Chicken Fry Tuesday Night

Members of the Texico FFA club are sponsoring a chicken fry at the school auditorium Tuesday night.

Serving will begin at 7:30 (cst), with $1.25 being charged for an adult ticket and eighty-five cents charged for a child's plate. Advance tickets can be purchased from any member of the FFA club.

On the menu will be fried chicken, beans, potatoes, gravy, tossed green salad, bread, iced tea, coffee, ice cream and cake.

Eleven Teams Entered In Texico Track Meet

The Texico High School Student council in co-operation with the athletic department of the school will be host for the first Texico Invitational Track Meet at Texico April 14.

The track program will include all thirteen individual track and field events used in the state track meet including the shot put, pole vault, broad jump, javelin throw, 100 yard dash, high hurdles, mile run, high jump, discus throw, 440 yard dash, low hurdles, 880 yard run, and 220 yard dash, as well as the 440 yard relay and mile relay.

The meet will start at 2:30 (cst) and will probably be over by 5:30 (cst) according to Texico Coach Paul Frederick.

The student council with the help of interested businesses and individuals in the community will furnish and present ribbons for all five places in each individual event and the relays. Team trophies for first and second and a trophy to the winning relay team as well as an individual trophy to the high point man will be given. Business men donating that morning.

This brought a total of 47 the number of Farwell concerns carrying a membership in the organization. In addition, several more are pledged that have not paid, says Wilfred Quikel, Chamber secretary.

The C of C had 32 memberships last year, and so the directors and officers are encouraged by the spurt in sign-ups. However, they don't plan to be satisfied with fewer than 60 members for 1960 and Monday, Bob Anderson, president, said he didn't think 70 would be impossible.

Chamber boosters, most of whom worked in teams, canvassed the business districts immediately after the early morning meeting.

Working in the drive were Bill Prince, Clay Henson, Hamlin Overstreet, Smokey Gast, Cary Joe Magness, Lee Jones, Carl Davis, Tom Cobb, Mem Sprouls, Otis Huggins, and Anderson and Quikel.

Twenty-three men attended the breakfast.

Three Steers Place In Sandie Relays

In beautiful track weather, Farwell's thinclads earned three places in the annual Sandie relays at Amarillo, last Saturday.

Fourteen boys made the trip to the meet, which was attended by schools from a wide area. Farwell competed in the A, B, and AA class.

The 440-relay team, composed of Jimmy Hardage, James Ussery, Jerry Lovelace, and Carroll Huggins, placed fourth in the finals with a time of 46.3.

Floyd Trantham was sixth in the shot with a toss of 45 feet, 11 inches.

Huggins took fourth in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.2.

Larry McDorman qualified for the finals in the high hurdles, and ran a 16.9, but did not place when the chips were down.

The district meet will be in Plainview this week. The Steers hope to take points in the relays, discus, the dashes, and broad jump. Farwell has team strength rather than outstanding individuals. Anton, with its outstanding Ronny Biffle, is expected to dominate Class A individuals.

trophies are Red Cross Pharmacy, Security State Bank, Golden West Seed, S & S

Former Resident Of Area Dies

David Robertson, former resident of the Oklahoma Lane Community, passed away Tuesday morning in a Seattle hospital where he had been a patient for some time.

Mr. Robertson's family asked that friends not send flowers, but contribute to the American Cancer Society.

Furniture and Snodgrass Electric Shoe Shop.

Preparation, scheduling and conduct of the meet will be under direction of members of the Texico athletic department with the help of visiting coaches and interested persons in the community.

Ten EPAC teams including Tatum, Dora, Elida, Floyd, Melrose, House, Grady, San Jon, Logan and Texico, as well as the team from Farwell, are entered in the meet.

Teams favored to win the meet are Farwell, Tatum and Texico.

Act Now For $1.35 Curb And Gutter

Farwell property owners who will be in the parth of the city paving project which will get underway in the immediate future might well consider lining up their curb and gutter installation now.

This suggestion comes from Mayor Sam Aldridge, who explains a crew is in the city now (installing curb and gutter for Charles Lenu in the Hillcrest Addition), and that it is impossible to say whether these improvements can be bought for $1.35 per foot after they are gone. That is the price offered by the group on site now.

Has-Beens Meet Stars Friday Night

Laughs and excitement are in store Friday night when the Parmer County Has-beens (old, worn-out basketball players from Farwell, Bovina, and Friona) tangle with the world-famous Harlem Stars in a benefit game.

The match will be at 8 o'clock in the Farwell gym. Advance tickets are $1.25 and seventy-five cents and are available from any member of Farwell Quarterback Club which is sponsoring the show. Gate uses will be $1.50 and $1.

The Harlem Stars are made up of former members of the Globetrotters exhibition team, and feature the talents of "Showboat" Buckner, a wizard at ballhandling and a clown on the court; and Boid Buie, a player who has won wide acclaim for his ability despite the loss of his left arm.

Quarterbackers are shooting for a full house at the game, hoping to fill the club treasury for a busy and expensive football season. One of the main expense items for the club is filming of all Steer games.

The QBC has a number of other important team-boosting activities also. Don Williams is president.

Crippled Children Clinic Set

Annual clinic for crippled children of Parmer and other counties will be Wednesday, April 13, at Lubbock City-County health unit, it has been announced.

No charge will be made for examination. Lubbock and other doctors donate their time to make the program possible.

Infantile paralysis, osteomyelitis, club feet, cleftpalate, harelip, burns, curvature of the spine, dislocated hips, and other defects are under study in the clinic.

Fined For Drunkenness

Malcolm McCool, 42, Muleshoe, was fined $20.50 in JP Roy Thornton's court Monday morning. He was arrested Sunday morning and charged with drunkenness.

Sheriff Charley Lovelace made the arrest as McCool was seated in his automobile on the state line road, about a mile south of Farwell. McCool plead guilty.

Texico and Farwell Schools are both planning long Easter weekend holidays.

Farwell school will dismiss at 2:30 Thursday, while Texico will dismiss at the regular time. Both schools will resume classes on Tuesday, April 19.

Light Turnout At Lazbuddie

Lazbuddie experienced a light vote in their school elections Saturday. Sixty-five persons cast ballots.

E. T. Ford was re-elected trustee, and Alton Morris was a new member added to the board. J. T. Mayfield, on the ticket for re-election, was defeated as was C. W. Bradshaw.

The voting: Morris 35, Ford 32, Mayfield 27, and Bradshaw 17.

Bill Sherley received 56 votes for his position on the county school board as trustee-at-large, and Matt Jesko tallied 47 as member from the Lazbuddie precinct.

Band Receives High Awards

Members of the Texico School Band received three superior, or one, ratings and two excellent, or two, ratings at the Southeastern District Instrumental Music Contests in Lovington Saturday.

Judges for the contests were Dean Killian, Texas Tech; Lubbock; Abram Parotti, New Mexico Western College, Silver City; and G. T. Gilligan, Kermit High School, Kermit.

Texico received a top rating on concert, another top or one rating on sight-reading, and D'rene Danforth, drum major with the band, received a one rating on twirling. Judy Lovett and Vicki Lovett each received a second or excellent on a clarinet solo and trombone solo. The school was presented with a mahogany and bronze plaque and D'rene received an individual medal. The two girls received certificates for their efforts.

Performing on the stage in the Lovington Auditorium Saturday morning under the direction of Fred Danforth, band director, the 53-piece band played "Blue Bells," "Melody," and "Air and March," for their concert. They were judged on tone, intonation, technique, balance, interpretation, musical effect, choice of music, instrumentation, discipline and appearance.

With an approximate enrollment of 131, the school is classified in "D" division and members of the organization include students from the sixth through the twelfth grades.

"It is amazing to see students of such varying ages and experience in music, as we have in our band, able to work and produce as good results as they do," the director commented.

Other schools in Class "D" division are Jal, Dexter, Tatum and Melrose.

When judged on sight reading, the group was given new music to play unrehearsed. This judge, Gregg Randall, Las Cruces High School Band Director, commented in particular on the well-disciplined band.

Vicki and Judy Lovett, cousins, were urged to keep up their good work when they received their individual rating sheets.

The band has given about ten performances including parades, concerts, and basketball performances. Their future schedule includes a rodeo parade, another concert tentatively, and senior professional and recessional.

Parents taking their cars Saturday to help transport students and horns were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hall, Mrs. Taft Turner, Mrs. Ray Tharp and Mrs. Fred Danforth.

"Slingin' Sammy" Baugh, one of the most storied of all football players--both college and professional--will be the featured speaker at the annual Farwell athletic banquet this year.

In bringing the big-name ex-player (now a coach) to Farwell, it was necessary to change the date of the banquet. The event will now be Tuesday night, April 19, at the Farwell School.

The banquet had been set for a week earlier.

Leagues To Organize

Bowling leagues for the new Farwell AA Lanes will be organized at a special meeting Tuesday evening, April 12, at the nearly-completed alley.

Partin Austin, manager and co-owner, said this week that he hopes the business can open within the next two or three weeks. Work on alley beds is being done this week.

The meeting, which is to start at 8, should be attended by team sponsors and members, he points out.

Incumbents Sweep To Another Term On School Board

Farland got one write-in vote. It was probably the heaviest voting ever seen in Farwell School history. Since the school district straddles two counties, there was uncertainty about how many voters, including exemptions, were qualified, but educated guesses put it at 500 or slightly over.

That means that from three-fourths to four-fifths of the electorate probably spoke its mind. A comparison in the interest can be shown by the 1959 election total of 48 votes.

Clay Henson and Walter Kaltwasser, Farwell school board members whose terms were due to expire this year, came back to win a new tenure of office by substantial margins in Saturday balloting.

From a total of 426 votes cast, they ended up with 257 and 285, respectively. Three other candidates were shooting for the two vacancies on the school board. Bob Hart polled 119, Glenn Phillips 115, and Clarence Johnson 55. John Mc-

Hudsons Have Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hudson of Albuquerque are parents of a daughter born in an Albuquerque hospital March 28.

She weighed 6 pounds and 6 ounces and has been named Diane Carol. She is the Hudsons' first child.

Hudson formerly lived in Texico and his wife is the former Katherine Parrish of Clovis.

Mrs. E. G. Williams of Farwell recently returned from visiting with her brother, Lee Holt, who is hospitalized in the Veterans hospital in Kerrville. She reported that his condition is still listed as serious.

Members of Texico's high school track team will be entered in the Menaul track meet at Albuquerque this weekend. Last year the local team won the meet and now holds six records.

"Spring" Theme Used For Junior-Senior Banquet

A "spring" motif was used Friday night when members of the Texico junior and senior classes along with the school faculty had their annual junior-senior banquet at the La Vista dining room in Clovis.

Multi-colored spring bouquets adorned the tables, with the head table being centered with a large bouquet of white and orchid flowers, chosen colors of the graduation class.

The "spring" theme was carried out in decorated napkins, nut cups, souvenir programs and place cards.

Mrs. Curtis Miller printed the place cards, and was presented with one of the table bouquets by the junior class.

The invocation was given by Michael Trower with Gary Singletary, president of the junior class, giving the welcome. Tommie Standefer, president of the senior class, gave the response.

Betty Westberry gave a short message, "Spring flowers." The benediction was given by Leslie Dyer.

Guest speaker, Lt. Fred H. Baerenz, pointed out various things for the students to expect in later life, and also brought out the importance of education in his talk "Growing Pains."

Menu for the occasion included tomato juice, chicken fried steak, tossed green salad, baked potatoes, green beans, hot rolls, peach cobbler, milk, iced tea and coffee.

Following the banquet, members of the junior and senior classes took a bouquet of the table flowers to Latita Harrison, Texico freshman, who was injured in an auto accident last week.

Woman's Club Game Night Scheduled

Members of Texico Woman's Club are making plans for another game night to be at the club building April 22.

An electric grill and rotisserie as well as a combination badminton and volleyball set will be given away.

A small charge will be made for the various games that will be played, with proceeds going to the bathhouse fund at the swimming pool.

Pleasant Hill GA's Have Coronation

Pleasant Hill Baptist Church auditorium was the scene of a GA coronation Sunday night. GA colors of gold, green and white were carried out in the decorations, with green and white tapers providing light for the occasion.

The congregation sang "There's A Story To Tell," led by Margie Dane and accompanied by Judy Lovett.

Mrs. Marion Walker presided and Mrs. Roy Lovett gave the charge to Misses Lena Mae Brown and Ella Mae Brown; ladies-in-waiting, Mary Dane, Gwinette Lovett, Della Crocker and Linda Crocker; princess, Sarah Beth Walker; and queen, Vicki Lovett.

Candlelighter was Johnnie Dane and Vickie Richardson carried the scepter on a white satin pillow.

Rev. Charles Jones dismissed the service with a prayer after Miss Lovett had been presented with a white Bible by Mrs. L. D. Taylor, president of the Women Missionary Union.

The congregation sang "The Light of the World is Jesus," while the girls marched into the dining room.

The table was covered with a lace cloth over gold, and centered with a punch bowl.

Refreshments were served by McCullen and Troy Lovett. Eighty-five were present for the service.

JOTTIN'S By Jeanne

Wusty (Hal's pronunciation of Rusty), or Bullet as Ronny calls the confused pup, or Da, as John always says, was smart enough to realize that the Gramams were suckers and would make a good home for him. We think he must have picked us out of the crowd, invented a weebegone expression for the kids, and moved right in.

He has certainly made himself at home. With all his other traits, he hasn't realized that even though we are in the newspaper business, we don't want all the newspapers in the neighborhood.

At various times, we have found daily papers on our front lawn--papers that don't belong to us. So if you miss yours, give us a ring--maybe we have it. We've had the Graham boys ringing doorbells a time or two recently, trying to return papers and atone for the sins of their dog, but we haven't had much luck locating the owners.

Mrs. A. E. Hapke has a unique souvenir from Japan, compliments of her son and his wife, Frank and Doris. When they returned to the States, they brought along sets of Japanese china for his mother and for her mother. The wonderful part is that the set includes service for 12, and has 16 cups to allow for replacements.

When Ronny went back to school Wednesday after his siege of mumps, John, the baby, immediately blossomed out with a good case of the ailment. His little face is so full, we wondered if we would know if he should take them. We did--he looked like a wee little chipmunk. So far, Hal (the middle one), has no symptoms.

We notice that the inmates, Farwell musical group, won second place in a talent show at Springlake recently. It always pleases us to see the kids do well in their efforts.

USE UP TO 45% LESS WATER!

... with portable irrigation and Alcoa Aluminum Pipe!

Save again on leveling, installation and care with a sprinkler or gated system tailor-made of Alcoa Aluminum Irrigation Pipe!

You get bonus benefits when you deliver the right amount of water to your crops—as it's needed throughout the growing season—with portable irrigation using Alcoa® Aluminum Pipe. You'll find it uses only about 55 per cent as much water as flood irrigation; is more economical to install, easy to move; eliminates most leveling and ditching.

There's an Alcoa Irrigation Pipe for every need!

Alcoa Standard Class 150—tough enough for rough handling, strong enough for high pressures over long hauls—comes in eight diameters from 2 in. through 10 in. Alcoa Lite-Line comes extruded—light weight and low cost for most average uses; and welded—alclad inside for maximum corrosion resistance. It's available in nine sizes from 6 in. through 12 in. for high-volume sources. Both Alcoa Standard Class 150 and Alcoa Lite-Line come in lengths of 20, 30 and 40 ft; larger sizes of Alcoa Lite-Line, Welded, in 50-ft lengths.

Ask your irrigation supply dealer about Alcoa's 48-Month Irrigation System Finance Plan!

Provisions of this finance plan allow your new irrigation system to serve as collateral against your loan. There's no red tape . . . you get immediate action on application for a loan. Irrigate while you pay for your system out of increased profits.

Your Irrigation Dealer has quality Alcoa Irrigation Pipe available for immediate delivery from local stocks. He is an expert on irrigation engineering and can provide local service on a complete irrigation system tailored to your needs.

33 Turn Out For Bean Meet

Interest in castor bean production brought 33 men out to a meeting at the courthouse in Farwell Monday night. Representatives of the Baker Castor Oil Company were on hand to answer questions from farmers. The meeting was arranged by Pat Patrick of Golden West Seed Company in Texico. That firm has been named agent for the oil company in an area comprising Parmer, Curry, Bailey, and Roosevelt counties. Patrick indicated that he has more than 2000 acres of production "signed up" now, and Baker officials expressed an opinion that a sought-for quota of 4000 acres in this area will not be hard to come by. Through Golden West, Baker is offering farmers a firm contract price of $5.25 per hundred for clean beans, delivered to Texico. This price is the highest in several years, and Baker officials point out that the future for castor bean production in this country appears good. Company men included Dr. Wayne Domingo, director of oilseeds production division; Dr. Don Van Horn, geneticist; and John Anderson, field representative. Anderson presented most of the program. A discussion on castor bean production was held, during which Anderson said castor beans have been grown commercially in the U. S. only 13 years. Today, still more than 85 per cent of the domestic requirements are imported. The High Plains appears to be well adapted to castor bean production, it was pointed out. As a result, about 40 per cent of the nation's production is around Plainview. Some beans were grown at Clovis and Tucumcari last year. "We are a long ways from a surplus condition in the castor bean industry," declared Anderson. The average yield in the Plainview area last year was 1800 pounds per acre. "Yields of 2500 pounds are not at all uncommon," says Anderson.

Vegetable Farmers Plan Year

With market prospects continuing poor, vegetable farmers in the Friona and Bovina area will plant in excess of 375 acres of potatoes and 500 acres of cantaloupes. According to Otto Ables, who is promoting vegetable raising in the Bovina area, some of the larger cantaloupe growers in that vicinity are Billy Marshall, Levi Johnson, John Lorenz, Vernon Estes and Mark Charles. Vernon Estes, who farms 5 miles west of Bovina, says he will plant about 20 acres of cantaloupes. This will be his first year with any kind of vegetable farming. "When I start, I'm going to stay in it," Estes feels sure he will continue to raise cantaloupes, although he doesn't plan to have any other vegetable crops. He says most area cantaloupe farmers make about $100 to $200 an acre on the crop. Estes thinks the crop will not render too large an income, but will be a stable one. "I intend to pasture them out with sheep if they don't pay." "We're going to grow a few cantaloupes this year," says Bob Wilson, a neighbor of Estes. "I guess we'll plant about 40 to 50 acres." This will be Wilson's third year at raising cantaloupes. He says that local growers around Bovina will raise from 500 to 600 acres of cantaloupes this year. During his two previous years at farming the melons, Wilson's gross income from the crop has exceeded that of his maize crops. "This area has the potential of becoming a big growing area. The lack of humidity makes it a good climate for raising cantaloupes," Wilson explains that humidity will cause the melons to mildew and increases danger from diseases. "Cantaloupes are an easy crop to grow and you don't get too much money involved." He says the crop is inexpensive to plant and cultivate. Wilson says the reason for himself and many other growers getting in the cantaloupe farming business is that the underground water will not last forever if it is continually used to grow cheap maize. He feels it is a new crop to replace milo. He says nearly all farmers raising it have a larger gross income than their milo. One Bovina man, A. L. Hartzog, is going into a mixed vegetable program. He will raise potatoes, peppers, cantaloupes and several other crops. * * * * *

"We've got about 325 acres planted and have about 50 left to go," says Kenneth Neill, manager of Friona Growers and Shippers, about the potato situation in the Friona area. Although planting has not been started for any other crop, the association will have about 300 acres of carrots and some cabbage and lettuce. Neill reports that there will be no onions grown in the area this year.

Cotton Meeting Booked At Hub

The annual spring cotton meetings are at hand, and the first one will be next Wednesday (April 13) at the Hub Community Center in central Parmer County.

familiar with this area and will bring us the latest research information on cotton production," points out the county agent.

Joe Jones, Parmer County agent, has arranged the meeting, which will start at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Fred Elliott, cotton work specialist from the Extension Service, will be a headliner speaker, as well as John Box, Extension agronomist.

"Mr. Elliott was raised at Lubbock and Mr. Box spent several years on the experiment station at Lubbock."

To be discussed will be the irrigation of cotton, fertilizing cotton on the Plains, varieties, production practices, harvesting, and marketing of cotton. "Farmers will be interested in hearing the discussion on flame cultivation, pre-emergence spraying for weed control, and post-emergence spraying with Dicyl for weed and grass control," says Jones. Also to be touched on are lateral oiling, and using Dowpon for control of Johnson grass in cotton.

THE PARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham, Jr.

There is probably no crop better suited to production on the irrigated High Plains about which there exists less knowledge of by the average farmer than sugar beets.

However, we are predicting that sugar beets is a commodity which we are going to be hearing a lot of in the next year or two. The main reason for this prediction, of course, is because of the deterioration of relations between this country and Cuba, the United States' principal source of sugar. In the last twelve months, since Fidel Castro has been exhibiting such crass disregard for our nation, a number of interesting aspects concerning sugar have come to light.

Things that have not been known by the public are now bubbling to the surface in the pot of politics, which seems always sooner or later to reveal all of its contents if only given enough time.

It now turns out that the United States has for many years been purchasing huge quantities of sugar at a previously agreed upon price which has been substantially above the world market price. We understand that this has been in exchange for certain tax and trade concessions in return to this country, but things do look mighty fishy on the surface. For example, it seems very incongruous for the United States Government to pay a premium price to import sugar to supply this nation's needs when at the same time the domestic producers of sugar products (especially the sugar beet producers) have been foaming at the bit to increase their production.

Sugar beets are grown in the United States under an allotment program and the allotment which has been available to this part of the country has been so insignificant as to scarcely be worth mentioning. However, the few growers who do have acreages of sugar beets are certainly sold on the crop. The largest concentration of sugar beet producers is in the Hereford area although a sprinkling of the acreage spills over into the northeastern corner of Parmer County.

Now that Castro has made clear that he has no love for the country which so long has guaranteed Cuba a good price for its number one income-producing product, the feeling is that the State Department is going to be a good deal less enthusiastic about preserving Cuba's enviable position through the support of United States tax payers.

The sugar beet industry in America came to flower during the war when our complete reliance on importation of this valuable commodity placed the country in a precarious position during a time of national emergency. Research into and development of superior refining processes to make removal of sugar from sugar beets practical was successful and the government stimulated considerable acreage into this country to help stabilize our sugar supply. The United States is unable to meet its own needs for sugar in the production of cane alone, but it has been realized for a number of years that this country is able to grow enough sugar beets to satisfy our sweet tooth.

The natural development of the sugar beet industry has been hamstrung, however, by government control and this control has not been so much the responsibility of the Department of Agriculture as it has been the Department of State. Our relationship with Cuba, Puerto Rico and other island producers of cane sugar has been carefully maintained at a "status quo."

Now that there is no longer any reason to be sympathetic to "poor little Cuba" and protect her economy under the mighty wing of the American Eagle, public indignation against this economic inequity rises. There is now reason to hope that the state department will permit domestic sugar beet producers to expand their industry in the normal and natural way and this is bound to be good news for all of the farmers in this area.

Because of the extremely small acreage which has been permitted to go into sugar beets on the irrigated plains, no refining facilities have ever been built to serve this area. Sugar beets produced in Parmer, Deaf Smith, Potter, Hale and Lubbock Counties are loaded into railroad cars and shipped to Colorado for processing. The largest segment of the sugar beet industry that is closest to us is in the Arkansas Valley of Colorado and this is where our production has been going.

At a meeting a couple of weeks ago in Hereford, Plains sugar beet growers got together and analyzed the situation and discussed the possibilities. If sugar beets can be "turned loose" for production here on the High Plains, this would be a tremendous new opportunity for area irrigation farmers who are searching for further crop diversification that will prove profitable. Sugar beet raising is considered to be tricky but we have never talked to a man who grew them who did not regard them very highly as a profitable crop. They are, in fact, considered a much better income producer than cotton.

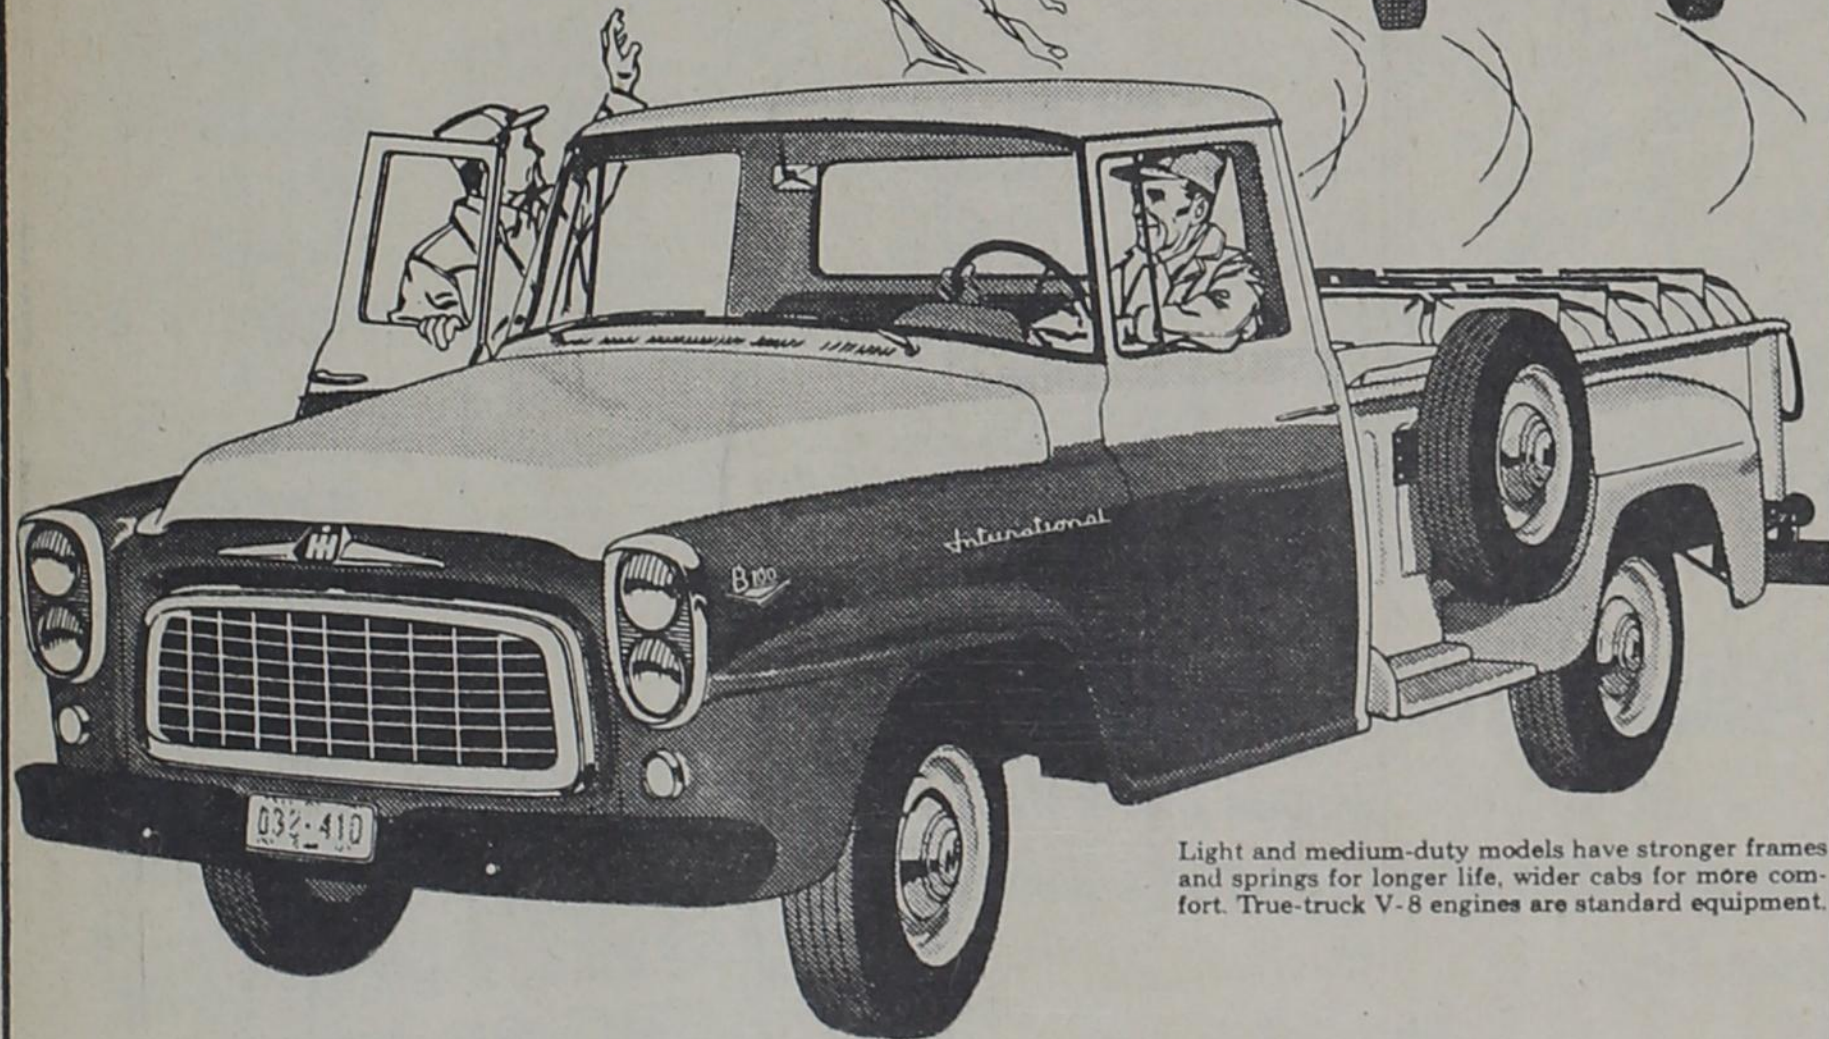

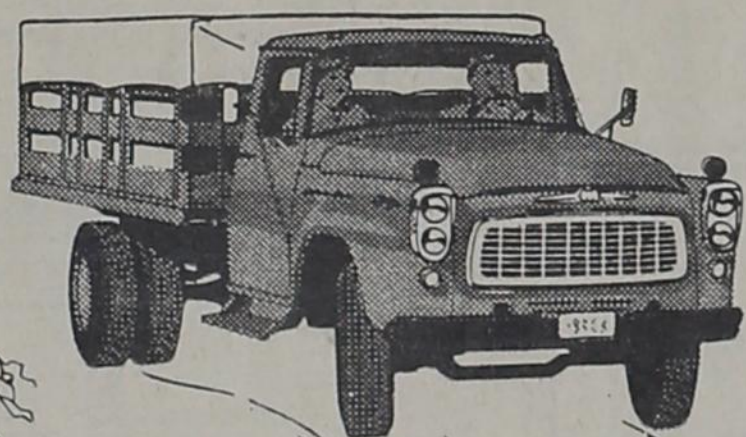

Climate, soil and water resources of the High Plains appear to be particularly well suited to production of sugar beets. This is a "natural" that would be a great thing for irrigation farmers of the plains if their luck just continues to hold out for a few years.

At the Hereford meeting a number of men, who have been watching developments very closely, were frank to admit that they think that the ball is rolling our way and a few were optimistic enough to say that they definitely anticipate a break-through in production controls and that a refining mill will be located in this part of the country to accommodate increased production of the beets.

V. R. Jordan is one of hundreds of Parmer county area farmers who are watering their wheat and other crops. At present, Jordan is irrigating his wheat and plans to water all his land if he has time. He farms south of Friona. Jordan uses an eight-inch well to irrigate his 189 acres of wheat. He also has a little cotton and will have about 560 acres of maize. He has been on his present farm since 1950. He came to this area over 40 years ago. Vernon Estes, who farms north of Bovina, says he is now watering his wheat and will also irrigate the rest of his land if he has enough time.

Leather accessories are expensive items in the clothing budget these days. Many spring costumes call for more leather belts, bags, gloves and shoes. You can preserve the beauty and lengthen the life of leather articles by proper care, says Rheba Merle Boyles, extension clothing specialist of Texas A&M.

Shoes especially receive hard wear. An economical plan is to have two pairs for alternate daily wear, allowing each pair to rest or dry out between wearings. Perspiration weakens leather, and causes shoes to crack and rip. Use a good shoe cream frequently to protect the leather and preserve the shape of your shoes by using shoe trees or paper pads in toe and heel.

On belts, bags and gloves, use cream or wax polishes to protect the leather and keep it pliable and soft.

To remove spots from leather articles clean with benzene or gasoline, air well and re-polish. Saddle soap can also be used to remove dirt and grease from leather articles between polishings.

Total exports of feed grains have increased sharply in recent years reaching a record of 12.5 million tons in 1958-59, 8 per cent of 1958 production. In postwar years, exports have been a much more important outlet for feed grains than before World War II when less than 2 per cent of the crop was exported.

serve the finish on patent leather articles with vaseline. Use a cheese cloth pad to apply a light, even coating once or twice a month.

"WASH AND WEAR" FABRICS

Just what does "wash and wear" mean, anyway? The term seems to leave some of us confused about what to expect. Extension clothing specialists of Texas A&M say the term refers to a garment or fabric that through its wearable life can be worn and washed and worn again with LITTLE OR NO IRONING.

Notice the wording--little or no ironing. This statement allows for differences in personal appearance standards of individuals. A garment which needs no ironing for one person might require "touching up" or "complete ironing" to meet the individual standards of others. And the type and purpose of the garment may influence the standard. Generally speaking, wash and wear performance depends on a specially constructed fabric, the presence of special finishes, or the presence of certain man-made fibers. Look for labels that tell you what the fabric is and how it should be cared for.

Knitwear of all types--including socks, T-shirts, and underwear--and such cotton fabrics as plisse and seersucker have been wash-and-wear for years. Today's wash-and-wear cotton, however, looks and feels little different from other cotton fabrics. They are plain-woven, smooth-surfaced fabrics, with special finishes that make little or no ironing necessary.

Man-made fibers are especially well suited for wash-and-wear fabrics because they are strong and durable and have a permanent resistance to wrinkling and muzzing. Garments of man-made fibers dry quickly and smoothly because these fibers do not absorb much water.

STAINS ON WOOD

Heat marks or alcohol stains on wooden furniture are not easily removed. Often furniture so damaged can be restored only by refinishing. Here are a few suggestions offered by extension home furnishings specialists for home treatment of such damage on woods:

When you spill any beverages, perfumes or medicines containing alcohol on furniture, wipe up the liquid IMMEDIATELY before it has time to penetrate into the finish. If the liquid goes completely through the finish, there is only one remedy--a spot refinishing job temporarily and a complete refinishing job later. For temporary protection, polish with wax, using a colored wax for dark woods. If this is not effective, mix powdered pumice and oil into a creamy paste and apply it to the stain, rubbing with the grain of the wood, then polish with a clean soft cloth.

Try treating burns the same way, first trying wax, then the pumice and oil mixture.

When penetration is not too deep, heat marks MAY be eliminated by light stroking with a cloth moistened in camphorated oil, followed by buffing with a clean cloth. Water rings MAY respond to waxing or to treatment with camphorated oil.

Thinking of doing some painting, papering, or refinishing this spring? If so, choose colors for a reason - to get the special effects that you may want and, at the same time, provide a comfortable, pleasant background for everyday living.

Begin by analyzing the room, suggests Charlotte Tompkins, extension home furnishings specialist of Texas A&M. Its use, shape and exposure will determine colors best suited. Decide how you want the room to look. Will it be light and gay, restful or dramatic? Do you want it to be predominantly warm or cool?

A good color plan has few colors, usually no more than two or three, in different values and intensities. The best color schemes grow from a dark color, a light color and a bright color. Black, white and grey are not considered colors, but are often used to give a needed accent of light or dark.

Choose your favorite color if you do not need to consider the colors or colors of furnishings which you must keep. Or select a picture or print which has your chosen colors and plan your scheme from that.

Good proportion of the different colors is important. This means that your colors scheme will be definitely dark or light and that either warm or cool colors will predominate. Proportions of 60 percent of area for one color, 30 percent

Texas Cattle Up 9 Per Cent

It came as no surprise recently when the U. S. Department of Agriculture released its figures on livestock population at the beginning of 1960, showing that cattle on Texas ranges had increased by nine per cent over early 1959.

The USDA inventory reported the total of all cattle in Texas as of Jan. 1, 1960, at 9,276,000, compared with 8,510,000 at the same time a year ago. This nine per cent increase in population was nearly double the rate of the national increase, which amounted to about five per cent.

It also came as no surprise when the USDA reported that the total value of all livestock--cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules, poultry--had gone down in spite of increased numbers in most categories. The total valuation at the start of 1960 was placed at $16,236,408,000, compared with $18,092,870,000 a year ago.

Nationally, the livestock and poultry population figures showed these comparisons: Cattle, 101,520,000 this year and 96,650,000 last year; milk cows, 21,331,000 and 21,488,000, hogs, 58,464,000 and 56,924,000; sheep, 33,621,000 and 32,945,000; horses and mules, 3,089,000 and 3,142,000; chickens, 368,859,000 and 383,528,000, and turkeys, 5,673,000 and 5,923,000.

Release of the figures re-emphasized the attitude of most authorities in their outlook on the 1960 cattle market, which is that the time has arrived for caution in planning any further increases of the livestock population on Texas ranges.

Directions for mixing your own potting soil and given by A. F. DeWerth, head, Department of Floriculture and Landscape Architecture, Texas A&M. Mis one-half coveat peat and one-half good garden soil. The garden soil contains the plant food; peat facilitates drainage and lets air get to the roots, and increases the water holding capacity of the mixture.

This soil mixture should be suitable for most house plants such as geraniums, philodendron, ivies and begonias, says the specialist. Plants such as succulents, cactus and sedums require a mixture with more sand to provide necessary drainage. One-third peat, one-third sharp sand and one-third garden soil makes a good mixture for these cactus type plants.

Prepared soils are available from local florist shops and garden suppliers for those who do not have the facilities for preparing potting soils at home. Underfeeding of dairy heifers is just as harmful as overfeeding, says Extension Dairy Husbandman A. M. Meekma.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"In the early 1930's the Communists instructed thousands of their members to rejoin their ancestral religious groups and to operate in cells designed to take control of churches for communist purposes. This method was not only propounded, but it was executed with great success among large elements of American church life.

The tactic of infiltrating religious organizations was set by the Kremlin. This policy was successful, beyond even Communist expectations." So testified Manning Johnson, a former member of the National Committee of the Communist Party before the House Committee on Un-American Activities on July 13, 1953. We quote this in conjunction with objections raised to statements to the effect of the above operations in a recent Air Force Manual.

The National Council of Churches also appeared in opposition to Farm Bureau's bill to extend the Mexican Farm Labor Program for an additional two years. National Grange, National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, The New Mexico Farm & Livestock Bureau, Agricultural Council of Arkansas, National Farm Labor Users Committee, Ginners Association of Rio Grande Valley and Vegetable Growers Association of America all testified with Farm Bureau.

Did you know that if a farmer gave groceries retailing at $1,040 to the processors, the food would still cost the housewife $641 in the retail store?

Lorri, Frances and I will be gone from this area about two weeks, beginning Friday. We know that Mrs. Glenda Rickerd, office secretary, will be able to take care of any services you may need in the meantime. She will appreciate your calling on her to do so.

CONSIDER THIS: If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest. The Blood thirsty hate the upright; but the just seek his soul. A fool uttereth all his mind; but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward. Proverbs 29:9-11

The prevention and control of plant diseases are important in livestock production because profits depend on maximum yields from pastures and crops. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, suggests a visit with the local county agent for information on the subject.

The fastest and best method for growing large fish in the farm pond is to stock the pond with the proper kind or kinds of fish and at the right rates and at the right rates and fertilize. According to Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, farm ponds in the Rio Grande Valley can be fertilized from January to June and other sections of the State from March until June. Proper fertilization, small amounts at intervals during late winter and spring, will usually shade-out troublesome underwater plant growth.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Rangelands have improved greatly during the past three years. Most areas have received above average precipitation which has usually come at the right time.

Now is the time for ranchers to start thinking seriously about long-range management plans. Possibly there is a need for cross fences to divide pastures that are too large. Water facilities should be checked to see if they are adequate for the proper distribution of cattle. Properly located, a pond might stop gully erosion as well as supply needed water for livestock. If there are bare or nearly bare areas around watering locations or near the headquarters maybe rotary pitting along with seeding would be the answer.

Grasses are much easier to establish during the wet cycles than during a drought. Brush control should be planned. Not to be forgotten is grazing management.

Too many ranchers do not base grazing on preferred plants--that is on those eaten first by cattle. It is these plants that produce the highest tonnage per acre if managed properly and

Control Weeds in Wheat Now

Since the severe winter, which retarded development of the 1960 wheat crop, has gone, farmers are amazed at how rapidly their wheat is growing. That means certain things they plan to do should be done right away.

One of these that County Agent Joe Jones is emphasizing this week is weed control. "If you have weeds in wheat such as wild mustard and it will reduce yields enough to warrant control, now is the time to spray," he says.

One-fourth to one-third pound of 2, 4-D acid equivalent as an ester or 1/2 to 2/3 pounds 2, 4-D in the fall or in the boot or flowering stage in the spring can damage wheat, he warns.

This should be done before wheat reaches what is known as the "boot" stage. Applications of 2, 4-D in the fall or in the boot or flowering stage in the spring can damage wheat, he warns.

"Spraying now while no susceptible crops are growing could make you more wheat, and get weeds out of the way that might give you trouble at because of their extremely high protein content cattle will gain faster than on less desirable grasses.

Ranchers who are cooperating with the District might check with the Soil Conservation Service for an up-to-date survey which will serve as a basis for range management.
Applications are being accepted for the potted Arizona Cypress trees that are being made available by the Parmer Co. Soil Conservation District. These trees are priced at 30 cents each and orders for not less than 50 or more than 400 may be sent to the District. Applications blanks may be obtained at the SCS office, County Agricultural Agent's office, or Steve Messenger's office in Friona. Deadline for ordering trees is April 22.
The Parmer County Board of Supervisors met Tuesday morning for a business session. Present were A. L. Black, Bruce Parr, T. O. Lesly, Dean McCallum, Steve Messenger, and Bob Crozier.
Final plans were made for Soil Stewardship Week and material for the churches will be distributed in the near future. The board set a deadline of April 22 for ordering Arizona Cypress trees.
Plans were made to attend the Fort Worth Press Awards Banquet on May 10 in Brownfield.
Several items for the coming annual district banquet were also discussed.
One way to safeguard against excessive insecticide residues on harvested crops and protect those who handle the materials is to follow the recommendations of the manufacturer. C. F. Garner, associate extension entomologist, says the label on every insecticide container should be studied and followed to the letter.
About 40 per cent of all jobs in the nation are in agriculture. Of the 65 million people employed, about 25 million work in agriculture. Seven million are on farms, a similar number produce for and service farmers and 11 million process and distribute farm products.
Soil test results are a blueprint for better farming. W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, says soil tests are the best device we have for determining plant food needs. By following the recommendations from the soil testing laboratory, he says farm income can be increased and production costs cut.

Bridal Shower Fetes
Miss Mykell Jackson

Miss Mykell Jackman, bride-elect of Dudley Hughes, was feted with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Ted Sheets Thursday evening.

Pink and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors, were used throughout in decorations.

The serving table was laid with a white organdy cloth over pink, and centered with an arrangement of pink and white roses in a pink bowl. Pink candles in pink holders which were adorned with white ribbons and entwined with minute wedding bells flanked the arrangement.

Mesdames Doyle Ford and Darrell Norton served individual squares of white cake iced in pink with floating punch, mints and nuts. White wedding napkins were used.

Miss Jackman, her mother, and the bridegroom elect's mother were presented with corsages fashioned from kitchen utensils and bows.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Preston Martin, Doyle Ford, Darrell Norton, Ted Sheets, O. C. Harriman, Myron Hillock, Charlie Hromas, Bob Hammond, R. T. Jenkins and W. E. Martin.

Town and Country Club Has Meet

During the business meeting, members discussed the coming formal tea to be in Methodist Church parlor April 15. The tea will honor new members and will also be in celebration of national Home Demonstration Week.

Those attending were Mesdames Lewis Tharp, Lee Thompson, Glenn Leslie, Joe Crume, Noble Goldsmith, Harry Sheets, Charlie Felts, Jo Anne Burk, Lillie Hughes, Minnie Jackman, Lewis Jackman, Ebb Randol, Curtis Miller, Melvin Burns and Lexie Branscum.

Also Misses Linda Crume, Jeanette Hughes, and Jonna Lu Jackman.

Many who were unable to attend sent gifts.

Parmer County
Teachers Meet
At Farwell

The Parmer County Teachers Meeting was held in the Farwell School cafeteria and auditorium Wednesday at 6:30. The meeting was opened with a meal in the school cafeteria.

Entertainment was provided by a choral group under the direction of Bill Bradley and Mrs. Lucille Britain. "The Innates," an instrumental and vocal group composed of Joe Hughes, Doug Roberts, Larry McDorman and James Ussery presented two numbers, and Susan Blair and Charles Morton concluded the program with Miss Blair singing "Lazybones." The couple acted out the theme of the song.

Speaker for the meeting was C. L. Hamilton, teacher in the Springlake school system, and candidate for state representative from this district. He spoke in the interest of his campaign and discussed with the group the possibility of the legislature passing the Hale-Aiken proposals.

A business session, conducted by Baker Duggins, concluded the meeting.

Final meeting of the year will be held at Lazbuddie in April.

Devotional Given
By Mrs. Langston
At Gleaners Meet

Mrs. R. T. Langston presented the devotional "When God Answers No," Monday night when members of the Gleaners Sunday School Class of the Farwell Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Clarence Johnson for a monthly meeting.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. Bruce Blair Jr.

Following a short business meeting, members exchanged sunshine gifts.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was held, during which time Mrs. Johnson served refreshments of pie, coffee and pops.

Visiting in the E. E. Booth home Tuesday was Meade Griffin, former resident of Plainview who is now living in Austin. Griffin is a long time friend of the local couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Potts of Route 1, Texico, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Gayle, to Max Neely, son of Elroy Neely of Albuquerque. Vows of marriage will be exchanged May 21 in the Potts home. Miss Potts is a senior at Texico high school, and her fiance is a 1959 graduate of Ft. Sumner High School.

Rebecca Class Meets With Mrs. Hardage

Mrs. Walter Hardage was hostess for the April meeting of the Rebecca Sunday School Class of the Farwell Baptist Church when they met in her home Monday night.

Mrs. Sidney Cox led the opening prayer, and Mrs. Johnnie Williams gave the devotional on "Keys."

Special guest Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser gave a short talk on "Educating for Citizenship in Heaven." She told her experiences in becoming a citizen of the United States, and of her work with the church.

During the social hour, sunshine gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served.

Farwell Delegates Attend
State Council Convention

Four members of the Farwell High School Student Council along with W. M. Roberts, school superintendent, attended the state meeting of the Texas Association of Student Councils in Amarillo last weekend. Students going were Benjy Dial, Tommy Wurster, Emalee Tucker and Judy Billingsley.

Theme for the meeting was
"Youth Dignify Thyself." Highlighting the first general session on Thursday night was an address by Doug Williams, president of the TASC from Victoria High School. He used the subject "Youth Dignify Thyself," and students from Farwell felt that his talk was an inspiration to all who heard him.

Following the general session, a convoy of buses carried the 1500 students to Palo Duro High School Gymnasium for a mixer party.

At the general assembly Friday morning, Dr. Dan Proctor, vice-president of Star Engraving Company gave an address using
"Youth Dignify Thyself"
as his theme.

Approximately fifty different discussion groups were held Friday morning led by students from various high schools. Purpose of the discussion groups is to bring before the students ways of improving and helping the student council to function more effectively.

A barbecue and political rally was held in the exhibit building on the fair grounds Friday evening. Each school presented their candidates and formal nomination ceremonies followed.

Farwell Students Prepare For Music Festivals

Intermediate band students from Farwell school and members of the fifth and sixth grade
chorus will be in Plainview
Saturday for the district music festival.

Contest numbers include
"Luminary March," "Montecello Overture," and "Little Irish Suite." The chorus will sing three numbers, "We Praise Our God," "All Glory,
Laud and Honor," and "Morning Prayer," for their contest entries.

In preparing for the contest,
members of both organizations presented an assembly for the grade school this morning.

The high school band will enter the district festival Wednesday.

Concert numbers entered by the band will be "Military Escort," "Sourwood Mt.," and
"Too A Wild Rose."

They will also take part in sight reading at 11:15, with two students entered in student conducting at 11:30. Competing in student conducting are Emalee Tucker and Sharon Wilson.

Band Awards Are Given
At Texico Assembly Monday

In a special assembly program
Monday morning at Texico, Fred Danforth, band director, presented the awards won by the band in competition at the district music festival in Lovington Saturday.

Danforth presented the ma-hogony and bronze plaque won by the band to Christy Bowers, president of the student council, who accepted it on behalf of the student body.

He also presented a medal for first rating in twirling to D'rene Danforth, and certificates for second place awards to Judy Lovett and Vicki Lovett for a clarinet solo and trombone solo.
