

BY HOP, JR.

Things like this always happen to me. I take no small pride in practicing early waking hours. Day in and day out, I don't think there's anybody in town who gets up earlier than I do.

However, as fate would will it, the one day of the year when I had something useful to do by getting up early, guess what happened--I slept through Indian Crim's weather forecast Tuesday morning.

The sun was a mile high when I finally pulled up at the place about 7:20, and boy did I feel ridiculous. Everybody had already given me up and gone inside.

By my getting there late, the dry weather hex was broken, though, so maybe all will be forgiven. Truthfully, the family was so hepped up about a north-west wind that they didn't pay much attention to my late appearance.

This forecasting business had been on my mind for several days. I was taking careful note of how often the wind was coming out of the south, south-east, and east. To me, that is downright unusual for this time of year around here.

Actually, I was a little mixed up. I was thinking that a wind out of the east meant good crops, but the Old Indian says no. An east wind is sure disaster, he tells me. The best is from the north or northeast. As it was, a northwester suited him fine. That meant "good" but not bumper.

The story is in our Farm and Home section.

If you're not a neighbor of the Grahams, you may not know that we have a new member of the family. This member didn't need any special announcements like so many new additions do. He sort of announces himself.

He's a big friendly cuss standing about 3 1/2 feet tall and weighing maybe 50 pounds. He can stand on his hind legs and lick the tallest man in town square in the face--and will if you don't watch him. He's a citified sort of hound, having come from Lubbock just last week, but already he's settled down to the leisurely pace of small town life. In fact, I'd guess that the leisurely pace was made just for him.

Rusty, as the boys have deigned to call him (I had told them too many stories of a dog I had as a boy who was so named), joined our ranks by accident instead of plan.

You see, all our boys are flat-footed, and although I don't worry about it too much, the wife figures something ought to be done about it. So, we make a pilgrimage to the foot doctor in Lubbock about three times a year to get some high-priced shoes for the flatfooted boys.

This time we were lolling around outside the medical building and up bounded a big, affable dog. We didn't know what kind he was--just plain dog more than anything else. He was real friendly and he enjoyed playing with the boys for a few minutes.

When we all got into the car and started off down 19th Street, we looked back and here came this big dog, ka-lump, ka-lump along in four lanes of traffic with his ears bouncing up and down. He had his eye on the boys and wouldn't give up the chase.

We were afraid he'd be killed by a truck or something, so we pulled off and tried to coax him off the highway. No soap. When we started off again, here he came in his seven-league strides.

Of course all this time the boys were screaming "Stop, let him in" and "Let's keep him, Daddy." So, finally I did stop. Hal gave the invitation, and through the back station wagon gate he bounded with a thud. He was in.

Jeanne and I sized him up and couldn't decide what to do. He was without a collar or marking of any kind, so we guessed he was a stray. We were hard pressed for a reason to turn him back out, so we decided to let him come along for the ride.

Downtown, we pulled into the multi-story parking garage and piled out, leaving the dog behind. A car boy had his hand on the door handle, ready to get in, when he spied the enormous teeth of our friendly companion, who was sitting in the front seat.

Advance Census Report Forms Being Distributed

Advance report forms for the 1960 census of population and housing will be distributed by the post office this week to all households in this area, District Supervisor Clyde Cook announced today.

The advance report form is a new census-taking device which is designed to speed up the field canvass and provide more accurate statistics. Distribution of this form before the start of the house-to-house canvass gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member in advance of the census taker's visit. The district supervisor urges all residents to fill out the forms and have them ready for the census takers when they start their rounds on April 1.

The advance report form contains seven questions about every person in the household and six questions about the household's dwelling. The household information asked for is name, address, sex, color or race, month and year of birth, whether married or single, and relationship to head of the household. The information required about the dwelling is the number of rooms, cooking facilities, plumbing, if rented or owned.

At every fourth household, the census taker will seek the answers to additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of a 25 percent sample of the nation's population. The census information cannot be used for regulation, investigation, or taxation.

The district supervisor pointed out that information about individuals and their homes furnished to the census bureau is kept confidential under Federal law. Only statistical totals and averages are published. No individual person can be identified in published reports and sample population questions include inquiries on country of birth, schooling, employment, income, and related items. The additional housing questions relate to rent or value of dwelling, heating equipment, water supply, and other facilities and equipment.

Clovis Men Fined For Bootlegging

Two Clovis men were fined in county court for bootlegging practices Monday.

James Wheeler, 34, was charged with transporting intoxicants in a dry area, and Jerry Wade Stevenson, 17, was charged with possession for purpose of resale. Both are Negroes.

Wheeler entered a plea of guilty before Judge Loyde

Brewer, and was fined $150 and costs.

His younger companion pled not guilty, however. He waived trial by jury, and after Judge Brewer heard the evidence, he pronounced Stevenson guilty as charged and fined him $100 and costs. Both men have paid their fines and been released.

Birds Are Coming; Cover Is Waiting

First shipment of quail has been ordered by Parmer County Game Management Assn. and members are busily preparing cover and shelter for the birds when they arrive, according to Al Kerby.

Kerby is president of the young organization. County Agent Joe Jones placed the first order. Price will be 50 cents per bird, Kerby says this is about half the price charged by quail farms.

Norvel Strawn already has some brush shelters provided for quail on his farm northeast of Bovina. Between 20 and 30 native Blue Quail inhabit the shelters.

"They are doing real well," Strawn says.

He has a feeder filled with rolled milo. Tall grass around the dry-lake bed also provides natural cover.

Kerby says many members of the organization have plans to haul brush to their pasture land for the birds.

"People who have pruned trees or cut them down around their place can get them hauled away and put to good use by calling me," Kerby said.

Kerby will assign them to a

I Think I Can, I Think I Can

Recently there appeared in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal a series of twelve articles written by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, who is America's most popular author of religiously inclined articles. Dr. Peale was relying on condensed excerpts from his book "The Power of Positive Thinking."

Like so many truisms that are "discovered" by the modern world and which received great fanfare after they are discovered, the power of positive thinking is not exactly a new idea. It has been around a long, long time. Dr. Peale's philosophy of life makes a good companion with the philosophy advocated by the late Dale Carnegie, who although not relying on what might exactly be termed a religious thing puts great stress on friendship, brotherhood, and human understanding, which in reality are all a part of a religious outlet.

It has been pointed out by some that Mr. Carnegie's advice concerns the external person, while Dr. Peale's deals with the inner person. Said in different words, Mr. Carnegie tells us how to get along with others and Dr. Peale tells us how to get along with ourselves.

Dr. Peale's admonitions bring to mind a story we heard in our childhood. It was about the little steam engine that had a very hard hill to climb. In fact the hill and the load that the little engine had to pull seemed almost insurmountable. But instead of admitting defeat without even trying, the little engine started up the grade by saying "I think I can, I think I can." All of us have heard the story and all of us, of course, know that the little engine did manage to make the grade. Now there is certainly nothing new about that story--we are sure it has been around for many years. However, it is telling us exactly the same thing that Dr. Peale is telling us. The only difference is that the little engine spoke to us as children, and now Dr. Peale is speaking to us as adults. What a shame that we do not remember as adults a lesson so well learned in childhood!

Too many Americans today no longer practice the good old "I think I can" philosophy of life. They would rather shrug their shoulder, sit back before the television set and be content for second or third best things in life. Saying to themselves "It just can't be done", and thereby attempting self-justification.

The "give up" attitude so prevalent today, however, still doesn't get the apples off the tree and into the basket. America has grown soft from a foundation of individual initiative and that is the only hope for our continued success.

Assembly To Be Presented At Farwell

William S. Willett, will present a Southern School Assemblies program, "A Bazaar In India," in the Farwell School auditorium on March 29 at 9 a. m.

Willett spent six years in India on construction of a gigantic steel mill which today employs thousands of natives of various castes and customs. During these years he came face to face with mysteries of the Orient and terrors of the jungle. He made an intensive study of the country, its people, their lives and customs. He collected many curios and items, and has woven the information acquired and exhibits collected into an illustrated story.

Included in the exhibits are rugs, native weaving, knives, articles of clothing, dishes and other household effects, weapons of war and the hunt, opium pipe, fruits, tom-toms that carried the cadence of jungle life, temple bells with haunting tones and the skin of a man-eating tiger killed by Willett. To each item is attached the story which he tells.

Dismissed from the Muleshoe hospital Sunday was Fred Gallman.

Jo Veta Glenn gave us a clipping--of a garden we might all like to plant. We don't know where she found it--but it would certainly give us a big harvest if we followed the directions. We think you will enjoy it. Here is a garden that we all might plant:

- First -- Plant four Rows of Peas:
- Presence
- Promptness
- Preparation
- Persistence
- Next -- Plant Three Rows of Squash:
- Squash Gossip
- Squash Indifference

- Let Us Be True to Our Obligations
- Let Us Be Faithful to Duty
- Let Us Be Loyal and Unselfish
- Let Us Love One Another
- No Garden is Complete Without Turnips:
- Turn Up at Meetings

It is my opinion of a few (members mainly) that the Farwell Fire Department is the best organization in Farwell or Texico. We are proud of our group and the facilities that we now have. Thanks, Mr. Anderson, for your help and all others who have given their time and support.

Castor bean contracts are still available for a limited time. A few of those signing up are Vennie Purcell, James Wedel, Kenneth Nesbitt, George E. Dalinger and Bob Hart. The average production in the Plainview area has been 1800 pounds per acre for the past several years. At $5.25 per cwt. that gives a gross of $94.50 per acre which will beat a 6000 pound milo crop at $1.50 per cwt. We would be glad to discuss this further with you.

Is corn a good cash crop for this area? T. J. Kittrell just finished harvesting his Texas Hybrid No. 17W and it yielded 93 bu. for a field average. We have just received another load of Watson Hybrid Seed corn and have Numbers 34, 17W, 30, 28, and 11. These corn seeds are priced at $7.50 per bu. for most of the varieties. We have in stock a limited amount of H-59 hybrid sorghums that have yielded well in this area for the past several years. This seed is priced at only $12.00 per cwt. Remember, you can pay more money but you can't buy better seed than those at Golden West.

Come see us.

TO THE VOTERS

Of The Town Of Texico:

We wish to take this means of introducing to you W. D. Howard, Sr., who has announced for the office of Mayor of Texico.

Mr. Howard has spent some 30 years on the plains of Texas and New Mexico and some 20 years in business in Clovis and Curry County. He has considerable farm holdings in Curry County, consisting of irrigated land.

Mr. Howard moved into Texico on the 10th day of February, 1959. The main reason that you are not well acquainted with him is that he strictly tends to his own business. He runs his affairs in a businesslike manner and has been very successful. He has retired in our town and made tentative arrangements about the first of September, 1959, for property to build a brick home in Texico. The contract has been let for this home and work is now going on to get the material on the ground to begin construction.

Some of you have Mr. Howard confused with J. C. Howard, Sr., who also lives in Texico, and who is in the well drilling business. The two are brothers.

We appreciate the fact that it is very hard to get an active business man who is able to spare the time that should be devoted to this office without working a hardship on them individually. Mr. Howard assures us that if he is elected Mayor that he has ample time to devote to the office since he is retired.

We think we are very fortunate in finding a man that has the time and the ability and is willing to look after the interests of the Town of Texico just as he would his own business. If he is elected, don't expect any individual favors as he will be working for the interests of the people as a whole, in a way that will not use up the full bonding power of the town on one project.

Mr. Howard is very much interested in good schools, good streets and roads and good government for the people of the Town of Texico. He would enjoy talking with you and spending what time is necessary to accomplish what it would take to help build back what we have lost in the last few years in poor judgment and friction between the two factions that we now have.

You have a choice of selecting two new commissioners from a field of four men, and undoubtedly the people of Texico will be able to select two whose main thought is good government for the town of Texico.

We believe that the two parties remaining on the commission will cooperate with him fully as long as he is right. It is our opinion that good government is their desire.

Mr. Howard has raised four children who live in this area: Mrs. Helen Turner, of Friona, Mrs. Bernice Kennedy of Clovis, W. D. Howard Jr., of Texico, and Bob Howard who farms in Curry County.

If you wish to have any references on Mr. Howard you can talk with officials of the Clovis National Bank or with any businessman who has been in Clovis for a number of years.

The voters of the Town of Texico should stop and take inventory of what our neighboring town of Farwell has added in the last few years and what we have lost in that time. Farwell has added a cotton gin, a pipe plant which is a great industry, a distributing point for Layne & Bowler pumps, Holiday Department Store, and others. What is hurting us worse than anything is that too many of our people are going to surrounding towns to trade that should be patronizing our home industries as they did a good many years ago. It looks like this might be caused by the friction between the two factions. We feel we have an opportunity, with the proper leadership, to eliminate the biggest part of the differences and get down to business and get back what we have lost.

Judge In District Court

District Judge E. A. Bills was in Farwell last week to try non-jury criminal cases, where persons charged were in custody. The Parmer County grand jury issued 14 indictments last week, but of this number, several are either unapprehended or out on bond, and trial Friday was not possible.

All defendants waived trial by jury and entered pleas of guilty.

E. H. Collom, 29, Gainesville, was found guilty of removing mortgaged property. He had taken a used car from Friona Motors.

Judge Bills has not passed sentence on Collom. He is waiting for the Gainesville man to make restitution and pay court costs.

L. B. Harris was convicted of theft by false pretext. He had been indicted last year and was arrested following his sudden appearance in a Texico JP Court on a speeding citation.

The 29-year-old Petersburg man had taken a car from Friona Motors. Since he had previously been convicted of a worthless check charge in Lubbock, his assessment of two years in the penitentiary was not deferrable.

Gary Simpson, 29, Sidney, Nebraska, drew the stiffest penalty Friday. He was given five years in the pen by Judge Bills after the court found him guilty of burglary and attempted rape. The offenses occurred in the Fred Langer home in Bovina. This was his first offense.

Eleven members of Texico High School Student Council are making plans to attend the annual New Mexico State Student Council Convention this weekend.

Members are leaving this afternoon, and will return Sunday.

The meeting is being held in Alamogordo, with a tour of White Sands being planned for the visiting student councils. Highlight of the tour will be the firing of a missile, and tentative plans are for the councils to witness the rocket sled in action.

On the agenda for the three-day meeting are various discussion groups, general sessions, and the election of state officers for the coming year.

The Texico council will have charge of a discussion group "How To Get Better Publicity For The Student Council" with Christy Bowers, local council president, leading the discussion.

Those going from Texico council are Ursel Doran, Christy Bowers and Mary McDaniel, seniors; Glendon Moss, Gary Singleterry and Betty Westberry, juniors; Kit Doran and Jean Hadley, sophomores; Hal Ed Helton and Vic Harrington, freshmen; and Jackie Hughes, eighth grade representative.

member for use as shelter.

Date of arrival for the first state-hatched birds is indefinite. Kerby says that state game warden Pat Donnelly, of Littlefield, will inspect facilities provided by members who want the birds on their place.

Strawn placed his six gallon bird feeder in one of the brush piles more than a month ago. It is now about half empty. He uses rolled milo for feed so the cost is very low, he says.

Kerby reports signs designating members' farms as part of the association have been ordered and should arrive soon.

Purpose of the week is to focus public attention on the importance of our natural resources and on the broad and pressing problems of conservation.

This year's theme for National Wildlife Week is "Water: Key to Your Survival." Water is so commonplace that we are inclined to take it for granted. Yet no single resource assumes a more important role in our lives.

Water has shaped our living customs just as it has played a part in shaping the earth's surface and the animals and plants upon which we depend to live. It has determined the way in which our land serves us and the course of country's development. Without it, we cannot survive.

By learning about the need for conserving water, through study of water problems in their own communities, people can play a part in making plans and recommendations to protect and assure adequate water supplies for the future. This is a responsibility that must involve people from all walks of life.

The Farmer County SCD Board of Supervisors met Thursday of last week. Present were A. L. Black, Bruce Parr, T. O. Lesley, Robert Calaway, Dean McCallum, Steve Messenger, Bob Crozier, and a representative from the State SCD, A. W. Dalrymple. The board is considering

Area Farmers Race To Complete Work

F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist, suggests that turkey producers carefully check their 1960 production plans and give major attention to the prospective demand for turkeys at market time.

As the worst winter the High Plains has experienced in many years gradually nears its end, Parmer county farmers are back in the fields again, after almost three months of bad weather that held farmwork at a near standstill.

Almost every field in the county is under cultivation. Work usually reserved for the winter months, such as plowing, disking and fertilizing, is being done at breakneck pace as the farmers attempt to catch up on their lost time.

Wheat irrigation has not been a necessity this winter because of the large amount of moisture received in rains and snows, but many wheat growers are watering so their top dressing of fertilizer will be more effective.

Wheat acreage is not the only land being fertilized. Much of the maize land under cultivation is also fertilized, usually with anhydrous ammonia.

Although a tremendous wind-storm recently forced most of the county's farmers into the field to try stopping their land from blowing, the soil was still too wet to do much cultivation at that time. Some weather continued to hamper work during the last few weeks, it appears to be clearing enough now to allow farmers to complete their work in preparation for spring planting.

Even though the stormy weather was detrimental to most farmers, it was in a sense, a blessing. It gave rural folks a chance to catch up on home, building and machinery and equipment repairs that might otherwise have gone undone and hampered them in their work later when time is more critical.

Those raising wheat benefited even more from the weather because of the moisture received during the rain and snow storms.

At the moment time is not critical, but further bad weather will cause the farmers to be still behind when planting time rolls around. Temperatures are still low enough to redden the working farmer's nose, but conditions seem favorable to soil cultivation.

A few farmers got behind in shredding and utilizing their maize stubble, and they are also catching up, so they can plow the stubble under.

Even with time still now considered critical, most farmers are working almost frantically to avoid being caught in more inclement weather.

"She told me," Sadie complained to a friend, "that you told her the secret I told you not to tell her."

"Well," replied her friend in a hurt tone, "I told her not to tell you I told her."

"Oh, dear," sighed Sadie. "Well, don't tell her I told you that she told me."

THIS FARMER was among hundreds of Parmer county farmers who were plowing and disking their land last Saturday. Most area farmers are working hard in an effort to regain time lost during the winter from severe weather. Possibility of continued rain or other inclement weather has kept farmers in the field even when temperatures are low.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Farmer cooperatives are important to farmers of this part of the country. For this reason we are giving an outline of the American Farm Bureau's stand on the policy for taxation of these farmer-owned businesses, as presented to a House Ways and Means Committee hearing in Washington recently. Here briefly is the AFBF plan as presented by president Charles B. Shuman:

(1) That net savings and income of a farmer cooperative should be taxable to the member and tax exempt to the cooperative.

(2) That net savings and income paid by a cooperative to its members in the form of a "written instrument of such legal quality that all members receiving it will be under legal obligation to include the face amount thereof as gross income" should also be taxable to the member and tax-exempt to the cooperative.

(3) That other income of cooperatives should be subject to the corporate income tax. It was made clear that the "written instrument" referred to in the second recommendation should be of real value to the cooperative member, and that it should be the responsibility of the cooperative to so certify to the Internal Revenue Service.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has more than 1,602,000 member families, many of whom are members of cooperative associations through which they purchase farm supplies and market farm products. "We believe," said Shuman, "that no one should be expected to pay a tax with respect to something which is without value. It is the purport and intent of our position to cause the written instruments issued by cooperative associations reflecting net savings and income not paid in cash to have a taxable value if they are to be deducted by the cooperative."

The club has two new members, Sammy Harlan and Bobby Morris.

LAZBUDDIE 4-H NEWS BY BUDDY EMBRY

The meeting was called to order by Steven Young, with Max Eubanks leading the pledge.

The meeting was turned over to Joe Jones and a discussion was held on giving demonstrations.

Ronald Ashford and Gary gave a demonstration on "Soil and Water." Steven Young and Buddy Embry gave one on "Electric Wires."

Shortages of adequate and quality roughages and protein supplement have caused excessive weight losses in beef cattle. These shortages coupled with the rough weather of this winter have left cows in such condition that calving and after calving troubles can be expected, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. He suggests that cows be given a daily minimum of 2 pounds of 41 per cent protein supplement and additional good quality roughage may be needed in some instances. Cows should also be checked for vitamin A deficiency.

Hallelujah! Crim Forecasts Change

For the first time since 1949, John "Indian" Crim of Lazbuddie, acknowledged scion of weather forecasters in Farmer County, has predicted a good crop year.

His annual forecast, made at sunrise each March 22, came off on schedule at the family farm home Tuesday. With all his "tribe" gathered round, the Old Indian took a reading on the smoke from the traditional campfire as the sun poked over the horizon. The wind was blowing gently from a north-by-northwest direction. "A good year," says Crim.

He says he expects 1960 to be something like 1949, which was the last year in which farmers on the Plains made good dryland crops.

The Lazbuddie family is continuing a many-generation heritage in their early spring ritual. The practice was passed on to the Crim family settlers from the early-day Indians. It has been handed down to this day.

The Old Indian joins in with his family and friends in enjoying the practice and getting a lot of fun out of it. But he is completely serious in his faith in the annual weather reading, and he stands solidly by the signs he sees.

For years, the Crims have gotten up early on March 22 to find the wind puffing out of the west or southwest. It was downright monotonous. Each year, the old Indian would shake his head and report the sad news: another poor crop year.

But this year it is different. For the first time in more than a decade he has good tidings.

Crim points out that his report is mainly for rainfall in June, July, and August, the critical months in bringing out a crop. The Indians were interested in summer rains to make a corn crop, he says. He says that's why the heavy spring rains of last year "didn't count" and actually shouldn't be figured against his forecast. He says the campfire smoke indicated a dry summer, and that dry summer was a reality last year.

The cheapest and most effective method for providing food for bobwhite quail is disk strips in old fields and along fence rows. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says disk strip is often all that is needed to get a good stand of choice quail foods, such as doveweed and partridge peas, growing.

Shelby Runs For State Rep

BILL H. SHELBY

This newspaper has been authorized to announce the candidacy of Bill H. Shelby for the office of State Representative of District 96, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary on May 7th.

Shelby is a native of Texas, having been born and reared in Parker County. He is 34 years old, married, and the father of one daughter. An overseas veteran of World War II, he served with the Navy for three years.

Now employed as a teacher and coach in the public schools at Hart, Shelby is also presently engaged in farming.

A member of the teaching profession for the past twelve years, Shelby holds the B. S. degree in government from Texas Wesleyan College, at Fort Worth. He also holds the Master's degree in administrative education, from the same college. He is a member of the Church of Christ, the American Legion, and the Texas State Teachers Association.

Shelby states the basis of his platform as follows:

"I am in favor of--(1) better schools, (2) water conservation, (3) continuation of tax refund on Farmers' Gas, (4) better care for mentally ill and aged people, (5) revision of insurance program in Texas, (6) improving efficiency of state bureaus, and (7) A GOVERNMENT FOR THE PEOPLE AND BY THE PEOPLE.

I am AGAINST federal aid to public schools. As I see it, the federal government has too many strings attached to our states' rights already. My aim is to represent all the people of this District, in the state legislature, and to deal fairly and honestly with all. Your vote and influence will be appreciated," Shelby concluded.
