I don't know about all this talk on forming a third major political party.

Look what it would do to us young people who were brought up without being "brainwashed" into believing that one party had all the answers to what ails us.

It's hard enough for a person to wade through the various doctrines and beliefs of the many elements which make up our two major parties now. What would it be like with three parties?

A fellow who has been a straight-ticket party man all his life might not be able to understand my plight, but believe me, today's political situation is hard for a young man like myself to understand. The more a person begins to understand, the more confusing it becomes.

My ole man never did try to preach to me that the doctrine of one party was the right way and the other one was wrong. In fact, he always claimed that politics in general were what he termed a "rotten mess" that adversely affected his digestive track.

I used to scoff at this, but in recent years I have begun to realize what he was talking about. Some of the stuff that comes out of political conventions affects me in a manner similar to the stench that occasionally makes its way into town from the stock feeding pens south of town.

Maybe I'm a little dense, or have possibly been indifferent all these years, but neither did any party politics wear off on me during my college years. Many of my friends came out of school believing that their party had all the answers to the problems of the day, but I was never quite sure. Everytime I thought I was, someone would deflate my balloon by pointing up a fallacy in my thinking.

The outcome of last week's Democratic convention hasn't helped my plight in any way, either. I thought I about had all the candidates for the nomination figured out. Then came the grand finale when all of them, in spite of some previous wide differences, united under one banner.

This country was built on compromises, and in any organized society, a person has to make concessions. However, it is possible to go to far. It is possible for a person to compromise himself right out of his individual identity.

This country was also built by men of great stature, who were firm in their convictions and wouldn't sway under the greatest of pressure.

A man has to compromise at times but there are times when he needs to stand up for those things in which he believes.

I know it probably wouldn't work in politics today, but I'd like to seem some of our national leaders begin standing their ground. It would do this heart good if some of our politicians would put basic principles of right and wrong above those of personal gain.

More on flags. A. D. Smith tells me that Mrs. Smith had the Stars and Stripes waving in front of their home all day on the Fourth.

That makes three I missed. Were there any more?

Missionary Speaks

Dr. L. T. Rayner, a medical missionary from India, will speak to the Farwell Baptists Sunday morning. He has been in this area since last week and has had several speaking engagements.

Saturday, he was a guest of KZOL for a question and answer period on his work. Sunday, he spoke at both services at the Texico Baptist Church and Monday night, he showed slides of India. He also spoke to the Texico WMU Monday afternoon.

Wednesday night, he spoke at the West Camp Baptist Church and will speak to the Progress Baptists Sunday night.

Dr. Rayner who has spent 19 years in India on the mission fields came to the United States to bring a polio patient, but plans to return to India Monday.

Flower gardens are prevalent throughout the Twin Cities this year. A Tribune photographer took off with his camera early this week to get pictures of some of these beautiful scenes. He couldn't decide which ones were the nicest, so he asked a few townspeople for some help. Unofficially, the flower displays of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Teel in Texico and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glenn of Farwell were judged to be two of the best. In the picture at the left, Mrs. Teel and Elizabeth Ann Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pierce, pick a few flowers from the Teels' front yard. All kinds of flowers are grown in the garden which covers most of the Teels' front yard. At the right, Mrs. Glenn is shown with a patch of her perennial phlox. She has flowers growing all around her yard. "It takes a lot of work, but I do enjoy it," says Mrs. Glenn. Continued rains throughout the spring and summer have helped to make flowers in Texico-Farwell this year some of the prettiest ever.

Texico Faculty Complete, School Starts August 22

The Texico School faculty is complete and final preparations are being made for the opening of school August 22, reports Buck Doran, school superintendent.

There were three vacancies in the faculty after the close of school last year but they have all been filled. Latest additions to the staff are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Green, who for the past three years have been teaching at Logan.

Green, who has been high school boys coach at Logan, will coach sports in the junior grades at Texico. Mrs. Green will be a grade school teacher, the exact age to be determined later.

The Greens replace Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Miller on the faculty, who resigned to accept positions at Zuni, N. M. Another new teacher at Texico this year will be A. D. McDonald, of Clovis, who will take over the high school English department. He replaces Mrs. Pat Gill at this position.

Activities get under way at Texico this year with a faculty conference on the 22nd. Classes will begin on the 24th.

"TANK-O-LIFE" is what John Getz calls this underground shelter, designed for protection against radio-active fallout from an atomic attack. This shelter would provide cover for at least a family of four for two weeks. Tank is a brain-child of Getz and it is being manufactured by Fab Steel Products of Clovis. A special showing of the new product is planned at the Getz home as soon as work is completed on this demonstration model.

Fire Destroys Car

Monday morning about 3 o'clock the Farwell Fire Department was called to the Kate Phillips farm. The object burning was a 1960 model Mercury belonging to Charlie Phillips, of Amarillo, who was visiting in the home of his mother.

As Charlie was coming home Sunday night the car stalled about one-fourth mile from home, so he left it and walked home. About three o'clock Mrs. Phillips got up to let the dog in the house when she heard a horn honking so she awoke Charlie. He went out and immediately noticed the burning car and called the fire department, but it was too late because when the firemen arrived on the scene, the car was already completely destroyed.

Mechanics gave the reason that the car had been flooding and a short in the wiring caused the fire.

Oklahoma Lane Farm Home Is Burglarized

The farm home of Earl Roberts near the Oklahoma Lane community was broken into last Wednesday and several hundred dollars worth of household goods were stolen.

The break-in occurred sometime between 11 a. m. and 1:30 last Wednesday. Entrance was gained by prying open the back door.

Two or more persons were involved, says Chas. Lovelace, Parmer County sheriff, who investigated the break-in. The thieves carried off a record player, jewelry, a mix-master, an electric percolator, luggage, clothes and silverware.

Roberts discovered the burglary when he returned to his home late in the evening. A farm hand had been working around the home all day except during the lunch hour. That is when the break-in must have occurred.

The sheriff's department was still investigating the case early (Continued on page 8)

A report of the by-laws committee was given by Mrs. Melvin Burns, chairman. The by-laws were accepted.

"By-laws are made to stand on," Mrs. Martin stated, "and I hope you will stand on them."

Mrs. Bud Pearce, chairman of the nominating committee presented the ones the committee had chosen to serve as officers of the association. The nominations were accepted and Ed Combs became president. Mrs. Russell Herrington, vice-president; Mrs. Joe Helton, secretary; and Mrs. Murray White, treasurer.

Mrs. Martin turned the floor over to Mr. Buck Doran, superintendent, and he discussed each of the objectives of the P-TA with the group. He brought special attention to the one that states, "To raise the standards of home life."

Entries are still needed for the Miss Texico-Farwell contest. Deadline for receiving entries is August 1. All young girls between the ages of 15 and 20, who live in the Texico or Farwell school districts, are eligible to enter.

Mrs. John Getz, president of Theta Rho Chapter of ESA, the organization sponsoring the contest, asks that all interested participants contact her at the Tribune or at her home within the next few days.

The winner will be determined by the number of votes cast for a contestant at the ESA-sponsored style show in the Farwell School auditorium Friday night, August 12, at 8 p. m.

Still 4 Vacancies At Farwell School

With less than six weeks to go before school starts, four vacancies remain in the faculty at Farwell School. W. M. Roberts, school superintendent, indicates that the vacancies will be filled by the time school opens August 29.

Don Dendy, junior high school boys coach and assistant high school coach at Farwell last year, resigned last week to accept a similar position at Eastland. He came to Farwell after graduating from Howard Payne College.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lemmond, who had accepted positions here, have declined the offers and will be teaching in the Friona Schools next year.

The vacancies remaining at the school are band director, junior high English, first grade, and a combination study hall, library and social science position. "We have prospective teachers for all but one of the positions," Roberts says.

Two new teachers who will be joining the faculty this year are Mrs. Calvin Murray and Don Truelove.

Mrs. Murray will replace Mrs. Lenton Pool as second grade teacher and Truelove will be assistant high school football coach and junior high boys coach.

Truelove, who will be graduated from West Texas State College in August, is married and he and his wife have two children. They will move to Farwell in about three weeks.

Try Again On Paving Project

Workmen for Centex Paving Co. were trying again this week to get started on Farwell's paving and street repairing program. Since work first started on the streets almost a month ago, weather has interfered continually.

Caliche hauling was being done early this week and both city officials and the paving crew were hopeful that the project could be completed at an early date.

Many of the holes in the present paving have been patched and the new topping has been added to First and Second Streets. If everything goes on schedule, the other streets should be receiving the new coating by late this week.

"It will depend on the weather of course, but we're hoping to have the entire project completed within another month," Jim Welch, Centex foreman, said Tuesday.

Since the project first got under way, two more blocks of paving have been added and also some extra curb and gutter.

In all, the new paving will now include about 16 blocks.

Budget Hearing Scheduled

A public hearing on the 1960-61 budget for Farwell Independent School District is scheduled for Monday, August 1, at 8 p. m. in the school superintendent's office.

Potatoes Are Rolling But Market Is Erratic

SACKS OF POTATOES line this field as the 1960 vegetable harvest gets under way in Farmer County. The potatoes are first plowed up by a machine, then picked up and put into sacks by hand. They are then hauled off to potato sheds for processing and shipped off to market.

Potatoes began to roll in the Farmer County area early last week, but by the latter part of the week and the first of this one, a sliding market and the weather brought things to a slow pace.

The yields this year are about average, according to Kenneth Neill of Friona Growers and Shippers and Buck Gregory of Gregory Produce at Lariat. Yields are running about 175 sacks per acre in the Friona area and 150 sacks at Lariat.

The market started off at $6 per sack last Monday, but had dropped to $4.25 on Friday. "When the market starts sliding, no one is buying," Gregory points out. "No one wants to buy potatoes today when they might be cheaper tomorrow," he says.

Gregory has 210 acres of potatoes at Lariat and on Friday of last week he had 90 acres dug. His potato shed was operating at a slow pace, as he was waiting to see what this week would bring in the way of a market.

There are 375 acres of potatoes in the Friona area and Neill said late last week that, "We're just getting under way." No one could say for sure just what this harvest would bring. The yield was fair but the market was uncertain.

Not since 1956 have potato producers had a good year in this area. That year both the yield and market were high. The market price was low in 1957 and 1958 and last year hail destroyed much of the crop.

Daniel's proclamation urged farm families to "increase their vigilance against needless accidents." The Governor said the nation's economy is dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of its agricultural population, and accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among rural families.

The rate of accidental deaths from work and recreational activities on farms is increasing slightly each year. The death rates associated with machinery, drownings, firearms and electrical current are increasing, while those associated with animals, falls, lightning and burns are showing some decrease.

There are more than four times as many accidental deaths in farming than in manufacturing. Today's farms are becoming more like small industrial plants, and they have some of the same safety needs.

Research conducted in East Texas by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that it costs about $99 per mother cow per year to produce beef in that area. The study shows that the average beef produced per mother cow was 378 pounds and that to break even this production would have to sell for slightly more than $26 per hundred pounds.

This reminder from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council -- Don't forget that a farm accident can happen to you. They happen everyday and your attitude and thinking can keep your name off the casualty list.

Best 4-H Swine May Win $400 Scholarship

The 4-H girl or boy who has the best swine project in the state this year will visit one of the major livestock marketing centers in the nation as a delegate to the 1960 National 4-H Club Congress.

The all-expense trip to Chicago is the top state award in the 4-H swine program given by the Moorman Mfg. Co., of Quincy, Illinois. The state winner will be eligible to enter his 4-H record book in national competition for one of six $400 college scholarships also provided by Moorman.

The swine program brings to 4-H members latest methods in breeding, raising and marketing hogs. Better ways to feed, house and care for the animals are explained by the local volunteer club leaders and the county extension agents. The value of sanitation, selection of breed, and keeping cost records are emphasized in this specialized program. Information regarding current research in pork production is made available to the 4-H'ers through the state land-grant college and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Nearly 178,000 club members had a swine project last year, an increase of 13,000 over 1958 according to the National 4-H Service Committee which arranged the program and awards in cooperation with the Extension Service.

To be eligible for a state or national award, the 4-H'er must be between 14 and 21 years of age, and have satisfactorily completed a minimum of three years in club work.

SHOWING OFF SOME OF THE BIG POTATOES produced in the Lariat area are these two young boys, who were in the field last week following their parents along the potato rows. While not being too concerned about the uncertain market for the spuds, they do know that these are good ones and they will make fine eating.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

Boys 4-H Camp will be August 1, 2, 3, and 4 in Holy Ghost Canyon near Pecos, N. M. Camp fees are to be in my office July 27. We need more leaders to go along; so if anyone can make it, step up and volunteer. All leaders and boys pay a $7.00 camp fee.

Those of you who are interested in seeing results of various chemicals on field bindweed can check the demonstration plots 3/4 miles east of Farwell on Highway 84. Six different chemicals were used and each plot is marked showing the chemical used. The plots are two square rods each, and the chemicals were applied July 14. Several of the chemicals require rain to dissolve them so they can go into the soil and do the job. Check these plots between now and winter to see results of various chemicals.

Cotton as a whole looks sick, but a few observations can be made from this year's experience that may be helpful in years ahead. Conclusions that can be drawn after looking at cotton over the county are that some varieties are much more susceptible to disease than others, and as a whole, cotton on land that was not in cotton in 1959 does not have disease as severe as cotton following cotton. The effect of cotton following cotton shows up more where the variety is one very susceptible to disease.

Plans for preparing a place for your 1961 crop should be made early so you can use land that was in wheat this past year or get ready to apply nitrogen fertilizer and turn grain sorghum stubble under this fall while it is still green and will decompose. The way diseases are showing up this year it looks as if we will have to follow all known practices that will help prevent such diseases in future cotton crops. Rotation of cotton ground, planting disease-resistant varieties, and planted seed in a warmer soil will go a long way toward lowering our disease troubles.

Soil testing furnishes a guide to your fertilizer need on any crop. Before applying all your fertilizer on 1961 wheat land it would be a good idea to get that soil sample run and recommendations made for the soil nutrients you need to add through fertilizers. The Soil Testing Laboratory Texas A & M College, College Station, Tex., furnishes this service, as do several private laboratories. I have instructions for taking soil samples that will be good to use regardless of the laboratory you plan to send your sample to. You can come by and pick up instructions or drop me a card and I'll send them to you.

Soil testing is only a guide for your fertilizer needs, but is the best known guide and when coupled with trials on your farm will give the best method yet worked out of determining a fertilizer program for any crop or any particular farm.

Farmers Voting In Referendum

Parmer County farmers, who will produce more than 15 acres of wheat in 1961, are voting this week in the nation-wide referendum on marketing quotas for the coming wheat crop.

The referendum is Thursday and if at least two thirds of the growers approve quotas, then they will be in effect for the 1961 crop. The price support will be not less than 75 per cent of parity.

Marketing penalties will be assessed those who do not comply with the farm allotments, which are virtually the same as last year's. The allotments were mailed to county farmers last week.

County 4-H Camp To Be August 1-4

Boys from Parmer County's 4-H clubs will leave August 1 for Holy Ghost Canyon near Pecos, N. M., to attend the annual county 4-H camp.

The four-day outing will be open to all boys who have had a project during the last year or have an active project now, have completed tractor maintenance course, or have been a member of a demonstration team that competed in county, district or state contests.

Camp fee, which is $7.00 for all boys and adult leaders attending, should be in by Wednesday, July 27, says Joe Jones, Parmer County Agent.

From 40 to 60 boys will probably attend the camp. So far there haven't been enough adult leaders say they will attend, and Jones has issued a plea to dads of some of the boys to go on the trip.

"We also need tents, tarps, at least one truck and four or five pickups," Jones says.

The camp will be four days of fun and work for the boys. Recreational activities will include swimming, horseback riding, fishing, hiking and camping out.

The boys need to take their own bed rolls, eating utensils, toilet articles, rain coat, at least one change of clothes, three pairs of clean socks, and a swimming suit, Jones says. He also says that tents and tarps will help out as well as cots to keep the boys from having to sleep on the wet ground.

Trucks will pick up boys making the trip in front of the Friona School and at Clay's Corner at 7:30 a. m. August 1. The trucks will then go to the court house in Farwell to pick up the remainder of the campers.

The boys will be returned to the same locations about 5 o'clock August 4.

Rains Help Fill Recharge Lake

Recent rains, which totaled 12 inches, filled the recharge lake at the High Plains Research Foundation with an estimated 110 acre-feet of water. Recharge of the well was started the night of July 4 and has been recharging at the approximate rate of 850 gallons per minute since that time.

During the eleven day period ending the night of Friday, July 15, a total of 43.5 acre-feet of water has been recharged. The well is pumped for one hour every 24 hours and is surged 3 times at 15 minute intervals during this hour to clean as much as possible any silt which may be caught in the underground formation.

A filter system installed before the rains to study methods of removing sediment from the water has been of little value. The water level in the lake raised to more than 3 feet over the top of the filter.

After the water had been in the lake 8 days, a form of marine life commonly called "desert shrimp" increased to such numbers that they interfered with recharging by clogging the screens. This requires the screens every 4 to 6 hours since the screens will become completely clogged within this time.

Advise Safeguards For Out-Of-State Selling Of Spuds

Safeguards in selling potatoes and other produce across state lines were listed today by Joe Jones, county agent, as harvesting in the area gets into full swing.

1. Get the PACA license and truck license numbers of your buyer.
2. Confirm every sale in writing.
3. List details of agreement such as price, quality, quantity and such.
4. Make sure labels on containers are accurate.
5. Deliver the produce in accordance with the terms of your sale.

"When you use these safeguards, you take much of the risk out of losses from non-payment and rejections without cause and permit the Department of Agriculture to handle any disputes more effectively," Jones said.

Complaints about unfair marketing practices are handled without cost by the Regulatory Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, AMS, 300 West Vickery St., Fort Worth 4, Texas.

July 24-30 Named Farm Safety Week

Farm accidents claim about 3,500 lives each year, more than any other industry. Some 11,000 farm residents die each year in all types of accidents, and another million suffer accidental injuries.

To direct attention to this appalling problem, President Eisenhower has designated the week of July 24-30 as "National Farm Safety Week." In Texas, Governor Daniel has proclaimed the period "Farm Safety Week in Texas." The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, together with the Texas Safety Association, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Farm Bureau, is pushing a farm safety education program during the week.

Theme of the observance is "Enjoy Farm Life--Practice Safety." Objective of the educational effort is to curb the soaring farm accident problem which hits one farm family in four each year.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

A new product that will probably be on the market within the next few years will speed up garden and flower growing a great deal. One of the pioneers in the plastic field, we understand, are experimenting with a spray that can be used in gardens, flower beds and even fields.

This spray serves as protection against cold until seeds germinate and plants come through the ground. All that will be needed to dissolve this spray is one half inch of water. From where we sit the arrangement looks like it will be wonderful, but, then there is the problem in West Texas of getting unexpected moisture. Maybe the spray will be inexpensive then we can spray after each rain until we are ready for dissolution.

For a one dish meal that requires no pre-cooking, try this

- Seven Layer Casserole
1 cup uncooked rice
1 cup canned whole kernel corn, drained
sprinkle of salt and pepper
1 8 oz. can tomato sauce plus 1/2 can water
1 8 oz. can tomato sauce plus 1/4 can water
1/2 cup each finely chopped onion and green pepper
3/4 lb. uncooked ground beef 4 strips bacon
Place rice in bottom of baking dish. Add corn and 1 can tomato sauce and 1/2 can water. Next add onion and green pepper. Cover with layer of ground beef and top with second can of tomato sauce and 1/4 can water. Cover meat with 4 strips bacon. Bake in 350 degree in dish with tight fitting lid about 1 hour. Then uncover and bake 30 minutes longer, until bacon is crisped.

Accidents to farm residents cost the nation 1-1/4 billion dollars each year, the National Safety Council reports. Counting the 20 million farm residents, the 10 million people in related industries and the six million farm suppliers, a sizable chunk of the population suffer from farm accidents.

TALLER THAN WINDMILLS?--In this picture the weed in the foreground looks much taller than the windmill in the rear. They aren't really that tall, but throughout the area the weeds have reached gigantic heights and have become a real menace to the farmer.

Weeds Grow High

Why, oh why did the Good Lord ever make the weed anyway? lamented a woman one day as she toiled under the bright, hot sun in her garden. "I don't know," chimed in a little neighbor boy, "unless it would be to make lazy women work." This conversation actually did take place on the Plains a few years ago. There may not always be a witty young man around to add humor to such a situation, but the weeds on the Plains this year are as troublesome as ever. Controlling the weeds was one of the big tasks facing area farmers this week, and the quantity and size of this unwanted vegetation was something to lament about. Stimulated by recent rains, the weeds have reached gigantic heights throughout the cotton and grain sorghum fields. This year's Maize crop is the best it has been in many years, but it is having to take a back seat to the weeds. In many fields the weeds tower high over the two-foot stands of feed. Since the rains, farmers all over the country have been making good use of the hoe to rid the cotton fields of weeds. Also, it has been a race to get over the fields of maize with a cultivator before the crop gets too high. A cultivator can help to get the weeds between the rows, but in the rows themselves the only way to get some of the big ones is by hand and with a hoe. The weeds are a problem everywhere. "They're as bad as I've ever seen them," said one farmer early this week.

Wheat Production Tops Four Million Bushels

When the wheat harvest is finally completed this year, Farmer County farmers will have produced nearly four and one-quarter million bushels. A check with nearly all of the elevators in the county this week revealed that the four-million figure had already been surpassed and there was still some wheat yet to be cut. With continued rains over the area, farmers who hadn't gotten into their fields before the first of July, still haven't been able to cut their wheat. However, only a few patches remain to be cut. Farmer County had 96,000 acres planted in wheat this year, 83,000 of which was irrigated. The irrigated wheat averaged out at about 45 bushels per acre and the dryland crop on the whole was much better than it has been in several years. The wheat appeared to be a little better in the northeast part of the county than it was elsewhere, but it was considered a good year every where. This year's county total will top last year's by almost a million bushels. Last year was considered a good year, but wide-spread hail kept the total down. Elevator men generally hailed this year's crop as one of the best in a long while. Here's a rundown of comments from the men who handled the wheat in the elevators: TRI-COUNTY ELEVATOR at Black--J. R. "Pete" Braxton says, "In the 16 years I've been in the grain business here, I've never seen a crop to equal this one. A lot of fields in our community averaged better than 50 bushels per acre." BLACK GRAIN COMPANY--D. C. McWhirter says the Black area didn't have any hail this year and a lot of the irrigated wheat yielded more than 60 bushels per acre. There wasn't much dry land wheat in the area but what there was made more than it has in a long time. HUB GRAIN COMPANY--Weldon Stringer says that he received about one-third more wheat this year than last. Irrigated yields were good and there wasn't much dryland wheat. J. V. Boulding, who farms four miles east of Hub, had one field that averaged 71 bushels per acre. FRIONA WHEAT GROWERS--The elevator handled about 300,000 more bushels this year than last. All dryland wheat was better than it has been in several years and most of the irrigated wheat in the area was better. LONE STAR ELEVATOR, Farwell--"Irrigated wheat averaged about 45 bushels per acre," says Bill Dollar, manager. "The quality was good. Most of it weighed better than 60 pounds." WORLEY GRAIN, Farwell--Herb Potts says the average yield was about 45 bushels per acre, better than last year's. "It was high in protein and better quality," he says. There was very little dryland. SHERLEY-ANDERSON-PITMAN, INC., Farwell--"The quality was good and most of it tested 60 pounds or better,"

WASHING BLANKETS -- ELECTRIC AND OTHERWISE

What about electric blankets. Can they be washed or should they be dry cleaned? That's a question many homemakers are asking now. Here's the latest information on the subject from extension home management specialists of Texas A & M College System.

Wash -- do not dry clean electric blankets. Dry cleaning fluids may injure the wiring system. Try this non-agitated or soak method which has been developed to minimize shrinkage of washable woollens:

- Plan to wash only one full-sized blanket at one time. Use your usual detergent. (When soap is used in hard water, be sure wash and rinse water are softened.) Pre-treat soiled blanket bindings by dampening and rubbing in a thick mixture made from water and the detergent to be used in washing the blanket. A cellulose sponge or soft brush is convenient for this.

The number of birds available this month is expected to be larger than a year ago. Egg prices remain at very attractive levels. Currently, the large size is the better buy for economy. Prices remain about the same for red meats. The longer cooking cuts offer the better value now while hot weather demand is for steaks and other quick cooking meats. Look for attractive prices on chuck roast, ribs, stew meats and ground beef. Variety meats - liver, tongue, heart - are also good values. Watermelons and peaches will take first place among the fruits this month as both are in big supply. Quality is excellent. Sweet corn, both white and yellow varieties are in plentiful supply. Tomatoes are increasing in supply and carry moderate to low price tags.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Your directors in the meeting a week ago, discussed the organization of a women's committee for the local Farm Bureau. They felt that the ladies could do some things real well that the men can hardly get themselves to do at all. One of the projects, which we think would be very much worthwhile and of great interest is a Young People's Talk Meet for young folks from 17 to 30. The State Farm Bureau is providing $250 for the winner who will attend the National Convention in Denver this December. If any of you ladies are interested in organizing such a ladies auxiliary and working on some of these things, let any director or this office know. You will be given every assistance and cooperation you may need. The men want you.

Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential aspirant for the past several years, wrote this in The Socialist Call, dated Spring, 1960: "It is quite true that numerically most of the immediate demands in Socialist Platforms going back to Gene Deb's first platform in 1960 have been carried out somehow. (I like to say that the differences between the Republicans and Democrats is that the Democrats carried them out rather cheerfully and the Republicans reluctantly, to which I ought to add that, in effect, even the Democrats carried out some of our proposals on a stretcher)" We think the above is food for serious thought by every American. And Carroll P. Streeter, editor of Farm Journal wrote the following: "It may surprise you to know that less than one fourth of agricultural produce gets so much as one red cent of Government subsidy. In the 27 years that the Government has been in the farm-program business, it has supported prices for only 45 of the 256 farm commodities produced in this country. Right now, only 21 are being supported." We think the fact that 55.7 per cent of the 1959 farm cash receipts came from sale of livestock and products therefrom which have no government supports (except sheep, sales of which were 1% of the total) should help us understand why all farm people don't have the same attitude toward farm programs as we do here in this area.

FLAME CULTIVATION---A new way to cultivate in this area, with flame instead of plows, is being demonstrated by Jerry Strawn on a farm near Bovina. Object of the Gotcher flame cultivator is to create, temporarily, a temperature high enough to dehydrate or rupture plant cells which will result in the death of obnoxious vegetation without injury to older and harder cultivated crops. Strawn is operating the new cultivator commercially. They are sold by Charles Oil Co. in Bovina.

have buds at their joints which produce new plants. They make the plant a perennial and make it very difficult to eradicate.

Tillage depletes Johnson grass stands to the extent that seedling and sprouts are uprooted regularly and rootstocks are destroyed. Sharp tools set at the proper depth and operated to overlap are needed to uproot all Johnson grass. Repeated summer tillage to kill this grass before it is 10 inches tall reduces stands and sometimes eradicates it.

Spot-spraying is an effective and convenient method for killing Johnson grass sprouts and seedlings that are otherwise neglected in row crops. Herbicidal oils and water solutions of sodium dalapon and sodium TCA are some of the sprays used for this purpose. These and other sprays available for spot-treating Johnson grass must be applied selectively. Crop plants in the treated spots are severely stunted or killed if they are sprayed.

Seed of Tascosa, a new hard red winter wheat variety, should be available in quantity from growers now. The seed were turned to certified growers for multiplication last fall. The new variety ranked first in Rolling Plains tests. Information on the new variety may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-483.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Fifty years ago this country was grass and cattle. Today it is irrigation and farming. The prosperity of our communities has improved along with these changes.

The question we need to face now is will the next fifty years find us in better shape than 1960 or worse? Farmers in this area will answer this question with the type of farming we practice now and in the future.

It seems that some of us are living just for today. We do not think of the future in terms of what we will leave our children to farm on. Will we conserve water so that they too can irrigate, improve the land to take care of the ever-increasing population and in general make life worth living for them?

On the other hand are we running tail water, watering rows that are too long, or otherwise wasting water, mining the soil today for ourselves, making no effort to keep the land productive, in general, thinking only of ourselves? How can we as stewards of the land answer this question.

The conservation of our natural resources cannot be over-emphasized. There will be at least twice as many people in the United States fifty years from now as there are now.

We live in a country of freedom and none of us would change this. The initiative for conservation must come from within each of us and not by law or force.

The only agricultural interest in Johnson grass in West Texas should be eradicating it. There are better plants for grazing, for soil conservation, and for hay; therefore there is no reason for letting the pest remain around on our farms.

Johnson grass is a perennial plant belonging to the sorghum family; it is similar to sudan grass in some ways, but differs in that it has a reserve supply of food in the underground stems called rhizomes or rootstocks. These rootstocks

Rural Accidents Total 4 In June

The Highway Patrol investigated four rural traffic accidents in Farmer County during June, according to Sgt. Roger W. Sosebee, patrol supervisor of this area.

There were no personal injuries or fatalities in the accidents, but property damage totaled $2,475 from the four accidents.

Sgt. Sosebee points out that this brings the property damage total for the year in this county to $54,430. There have been three persons killed and 12 injured in the accidents. This compares with one killed, 15 injured, and property damage of $16,460 during the first six months of 1959.

"Prior to July 1 there had been a total of 784 fatal accidents in Texas," Sgt. Sosebee says. "From these accidents, 962 persons have died needlessly," he adds.

During the summer months thousands of motorists are on the highways, and too many of them are intent on cramming as much activity as they can into one brief vacation, and the result is often tragedy.

In appealing for increased vigilance to cut down accidents, the sergeant cautions vacationers to be on their guard against speeders, drinking drivers, and drivers who disregard traffic laws. Above all, he warned them to make sure they are not guilty of such offenses themselves.

Many vacationers get into trouble by not allowing enough time to cover the trip comfortably, the sergeant points out. Then they try to make up time by driving too fast for conditions, by driving too far, or by disregarding traffic laws.

The Agricultural Extension Service has released a Cotton Defoliation Guide, L-145. Author Fred C. Elliott, cotton work specialist, lists the materials which may be used currently under latest FDA rulings. Ask the local county agent for a copy.

Theme of the 17th annual National Farm Safety Week is "Enjoy Farm Life--Practice Safety."

WEEDS OR MAIZE?--That's a good question in this field, where in some places the weeds are thicker and higher than the feed. The large amounts of moisture in recent weeks have helped the feed but they have also been a stimulus to the weeds. Throughout the High Plains this week, the fight was on as farmers tried to control this unwanted vegetation.

Rains from now through August will almost certainly see cotton losses from root rot on the increase, says Dr. Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist. He says moisture plus the carryover from last year of the soil borne disease and late planted cotton will be contributing causes to the increase. He advises cotton growers to begin their plans now for next year's control program.

Deep-plow as soon as possible root rot infested land on which cotton will be planted in 1961. That advice comes from Dr. Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist. He says deep plowing is the most effective practice for reducing root rot losses and the plowing is most effective when hot, dry weather for two weeks follows the plowing job. Break the land 10 to 14 inches or deeper if possible, he says.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH Fifty years ago this country was grass and cattle. Today it is irrigation and farming. The prosperity of our communities has improved along with these changes. The question we need to face now is will the next fifty years find us in better shape than 1960 or worse? Farmers in this area will answer this question with the type of farming we practice now and in the future. It seems that some of us are living just for today. We do not think of the future in terms of what we will leave our children to farm on. Will we conserve water so that they too can irrigate, improve the land to take care of the ever-increasing population and in general make life worth living for them? On the other hand are we running tail water, watering rows that are too long, or otherwise wasting water, mining the soil today for ourselves, making no effort to keep the land productive, in general, thinking only of ourselves? How can we
