

It's election year and invariably coffee cup conversations get around to politics. Maybe a lot of these coffee sessions aren't real, honest-to-goodness sound discussions, but nonetheless political talk is making the rounds.

A standard joke which has been making the rounds the past couple of weeks has a lot of meat in it once you get by the humor. It was told on the Republicans but it could have been either party.

A group of Republicans had gathered in one of our major eastern cities, and naturally, their chief reason for meeting was to come with ways and means of getting more votes for the Republican ticket. There were many suggestions and one fellow came up with a practical, but rather costly idea. "When we ride a taxi and get ready to pay our fare, we should all give the taxi driver a good-size tip and tell him to vote Republican," the man said.

Most of the delegates at the get-together thought that was a pretty good idea, but one fellow said that he had a better one. "Let's not tip at all," he said, "and when we get out of the taxi, let's tell the driver to vote Democrat."

Maybe this devious, underhanded method is a new idea with some of the politicians in our two major parties, but the communists have been using it in this country a good many years. And, it has proved to be quite successful for them.

Few people will admit it, but this subversive element about has the whole populace brainwashed into believing that their system is the best. If you don't believe this, compare the platforms of our two major

Out With The Old

The Tribune moved out an old-style flatbed printing press over the weekend, in addition to single-magazine Linotype, neither of which have been in use here for some time.

Burl McLellan, publisher of The Hansford Plainsman, a new paper in the Panhandle town of Spearman, was purchaser of the equipment.

Removal of the equipment will pave the way for an extensive remodeling program at The Tribune this fall, in addition to the installation of new equipment which will be put to work in the commercial printing department.

football contest was T. J. Kittrell, who picked eight winners and missed the score of the Farwell-Friona game by only 7 points.

There were several surprises in the first week's games, but Kittrell and the second and third place winners, Ricky Cooper and Maxine Williams, came through in fine fashion. Each picked eight winners but Kittrell came the closest to the actual score.

Kittrell guessed the Farwell-Friona score at 33-6 and the actual count was 40-6. Cooper guessed the score to be 22-8 and Maxine had the Farwell team winning by a 20-13 count.

All but three of the entries had Sundown tabbed to beat Idalou, but just the opposite occurred. Nobody picked the Clovis-Muleshoe tie, so everyone missed on that game.

Participants in the contest were split right down the middle on three games, Sudan-Morton, Lockney-Hale Center and Kress-Anton. The three winning entries were not in agreement on two of the games.

Farwell Plays Bovina Friday

Another Parmer County rival will furnish the opposition for the Farwell Steers Friday night. The Bovina Mustangs, who gave Springlake a rough go of it in the season opener last week, will meet the Steers at Farwell Stadium at 8 p. m.

With 10 lettermen back in the fold, the Mustangs are expected to have their best season in several years. They looked good in their 7-0 loss to Springlake, and are considered strong contenders for the District 2-B football crown.

There's nothing the Mustangs would like better than knocking off their one-time arch rivals. Should they topple the high and mighty Steers, it would be the upset of the year in this part of the Plains.

Such an upset doesn't seem likely, however, because the Steers trounced Class AA Friona last week and so far they haven't had a serious injury. The Mustangs have been plagued with injuries since practice began and will still be handicapped Friday night.

Farwell coaches Dempsey Alexander and Dan Truelove report that the Steers will be in good shape Friday. Alexander says that he was pleased with the performance of the Steers against Friona, but admitted that there were times when the team didn't look too good.

"I thought our defense did well," Alexander said following the game, "especially our pass defense, which had been our weakest point."

The Chiefs were held to 129 yards on the ground and they never completed a pass in eight attempts. The Steers, meanwhile, were rolling up 175 yards rushing and they completed all of five passing attempts for 106 yards.

Really, the Steers were never put to the test, either on defense or offense, but in both categories the blue and white did show signs of greatness.

Fullback Jerry Lovelace was the big offensive gun, as he romped for three of the Farwell touchdowns in the second period. However, the game was not a one-man offensive show as the Steers did display a well-balanced attack.

Quarterback Benjy Dial was on the throwing end of four of the completed passes, and he, along with Halfback Carroll Huggins showed the more than 1,500 fans on hand for the game that they could rack up the yardage.

Also, second string quarterback Leon Lovelace, a freshman, and halfback Joe Reed, sophomore, made fine showings during their brief stints in the lineup. Both figured in touchdown plays. Reed drove across for the Steers' fifth touchdown in the fourth quarter and Lovelace heaved an aerial to Huggins which covered 55 yards and gave the Steers their final TD.

Defensive standouts in the Farwell line were tackles Jim Cain and Floyd Trantham. Not being able to move against the right-hand side of the Steer line where the 190-pound Trantham and 184-pound Scotter Turner were in the way, the Chiefs spent much of their time hitting the opposite side.

The red-shirted backs didn't have much luck there either as the 188-pound Cain time after time stopped them cold. In all, the burly Steer tackle was credited with 18 tackles.

As the game opened, it looked briefly as though the Chiefs were going to move. They drove for two first downs before the Steers defense could hold and force them to punt.

On the first offensive play for the Steers, Huggins darted off right tackle and went 80 yards for a touchdown, only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty.

The Steers were unable to move the ball then and finally fumbled the ball on their own 26. Friona was unable to take advantage of the break and four plays later they returned the ball via the fumble route.

During the remainder of the first quarter, both teams were plagued by first-game fumble-titis and neither team could move the ball. Dial did finally complete a 16-yard pass to end Bill Owen as the quarter ended and the Steers were on their way.

Two Charged With Intent To Murder

A Bovina man, John Hartwell, was seriously beaten by three men in the driveway of a Farwell service station Monday night following an argument.

Hartwell was in a Clovis hospital Tuesday recovering from injuries to the face and other parts of the body allegedly inflicted upon him by Bert Christenson, 29, Houston Bryan Martin, 41, and another unidentified party. Both Christenson and Martin have been charged with assault with intent to murder.

The two men, after being arrested by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace and Deputy Tom Atkins Monday night, were arraigned before J. R. Thornton's justice of peace court Tuesday. Bond for each of the individuals was set at $5,000 and the case has been bound over to the grand jury.

Martin, an airman at Cannon Air Force Base in Clovis, has posted his bond, but Christenson was still in Parmer County jail Tuesday night.

According to Sheriff Lovelace, the beating occurred following an argument which apparently started at the Clover Club in Texico. Hartwell and his wife left the club and started toward Bovina shortly before 10 p. m.

Christenson and Martin, along with several companions, started following Hartwell and forced his car off the road at a roadside park a mile northeast of Farwell.

The car, which belongs to Elton Venable of Bovina, was damaged slightly by the impact. After bringing the car to a stop, Hartwell's pursuers started beating on the car, causing damage to the body and breaking a window.

They also started hitting Hartwell with a double strand of heavy rubber-coated wiring, which was taped together. Hartwell managed to turn his vehicle around and head back to Farwell to summon the sheriff.

He drove into the driveway of Watts Service Station and there was overtaken by his pursuers, according to the report given to Sheriff Lovelace. Again, the men started beating him.

Lovelace was called to the scene by Donald Callouet, who was at the station. When the sheriff arrived, he found Hartwell in an alley near the station. "He was only half conscious and badly beaten up," Lovelace says.

Hartwell was taken to a Clovis hospital where he was treated for injuries. According to word from the hospital, he was recovering satisfactorily and was scheduled to be released Wednesday.

In addition to being charged with assault and intent to murder, Christenson and Martin have been charged with malicious destruction of property. Damage to the car was estimated at $130.

A warrant has been issued for the third man, who allegedly had a part in the beating, but he had not yet been picked up Wednesday.

Tucker Climbs 270 Feet After Wreck

Wayne Tucker, former resident of Texico, was recuperating in a Tucumcari hospital this week from severe injuries received Thursday night in an automobile accident near Mosquero.

The injured Tucker lay in the demolished car all night, then climbed 270 feet up an embankment to seek aid. A truck driver took him to Tucumcari where he was hospitalized with a broken ankle, cut tendon in the other knee, and severe bruises and cuts over his body.

Tucker was enroute to Plainview where he was to serve as best man in his brother's wedding on Friday evening. He had checked the time at 11 o'clock; the next event in his memory is finding himself in the wrecked car at 12. Not knowing where he was, he stayed in the car until daybreak when he could see to climb from the canyon. The auto, which could not be seen from the road, was destroyed. According to Mrs. T. E. Roth, mother-in-law of Word was received at press time of the death of Lynn, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Kersey of the Oklahoma Lane community. The youth passed away Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in the Parmer County Community hospital in Friona. He had been ill for several weeks.

Among survivors are his parents; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Kersey, and three brothers.

Farwell Electric Changes Ownership

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Burk last week took over the management of Farwell Electric. They purchased the business from Mem Sprowls, who opened the electrical contracting and appliance business here in 1954.

Burk, who says he has been an electrician "most all of my life," comes to Farwell from Clovis, where he has been since 1952. He and his wife have purchased the Mrs. Harry Jesko house on First and Avenue F and will be moving here within the next 30 days.

In taking over the operation of Farwell Electric, Burk says there will be no major change in the operation. "However, we will now for the first time be able to do electrical work in New Mexico," Burks says. He is a licensed and bonded contractor for both New Mexico and Texas.

Chiefs Say "Ugh! Steers Heap Big & Tough"

With unexpected ease, the Farwell Steers got the 1960 football season under way Friday night by rolling over their cross-country rivals, the Friona Chiefs, 40-6.

After a shaky start, the Steers combined a break-away running game and a perfect passing attack to record the easy win. Except for early in the first period and late in the third quarter, the visitors from across the country could not move the ball against the stout Steer line.

The Chiefs were held to 129 yards on the ground and they never completed a pass in eight attempts. The Steers, meanwhile, were rolling up 175 yards rushing and they completed all of five passing attempts for 106 yards.

Really, the Steers were never put to the test, either on defense or offense, but in both categories the blue and white did show signs of greatness.

Fullback Jerry Lovelace was the big offensive gun, as he romped for three of the Farwell touchdowns in the second period. However, the game was not a one-man offensive show as the Steers did display a well-balanced attack.

On the first offensive play for the Steers, Huggins darted off right tackle and went 80 yards for a touchdown, only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty.

The Steers were unable to move the ball then and finally fumbled the ball on their own 26. Friona was unable to take advantage of the break and four plays later they returned the ball via the fumble route.

During the remainder of the first quarter, both teams were plagued by first-game fumble-titis and neither team could move the ball. Dial did finally complete a 16-yard pass to end Bill Owen as the quarter ended and the Steers were on their way.

With the ball on the Friona 26, it took only two plays in the second quarter for the Big Blue to hit paydirt. Jerry Lovelace swept around right end for the score and Dial booted the point after to give the Steers a 7-0 lead.

Moments later a Chief fumble set up the second Steer tally. Taking over on the Friona 37, the Steers needed only three plays for another score. This time Lovelace ran over from the 27 and again the kick by Dial was good.

Later in the quarter Huggins intercepted a Friona pass on the Steer 25 and returned it 65 yards. He was hauled down on the 10 and from there Lovelace darted across for his third score.

The Steers kicked off and the Chiefs' fleet-footed halfback, Jobey Claborn, took the ball on the 15 and went straight upfield through the Farwell defense before being hauled down from behind by Huggins on the 5.

The Steer defense held for four downs and the half ended with Farwell in the lead, 20-0.

As the second half got underway, Huggins took the kickoff but fumbled on the 28. The Chiefs were again unable to take advantage of the fumble and they were stopped on the 20.

From this point, the Steers ground out three first downs and Dial scored on a keeper from the 8. That was all of the scoring in the third period, but the Chiefs racked up some yardage late in the quarter. They moved from their own 40 to the Steer 14 but were stopped at this point.

The Chiefs scored their only touchdown of the night after a Farwell fumble on the 14-yard line. It took four plays before Tommy Barker plunged over from the two.

With the Steer second string taking over, the Farwell team pushed across another score midway in the period. David Lindop, William Dannheim and Joe Reed moved the ball from the Friona 37 and Reed plunged over from the 2 for the score.

A bad pass from center late in the period, when the Chiefs were trying to punt out of the end zone, gave the Steers two points from a safety. The final score came moments later when Leon Lovelace passed to Huggins.

Letters to the Editor

The State Line Tribune Farwell, Texas

Dear Mr. Graham:

Please send our paper to 502 Booneville Road, Jefferson City, Mo. instead of Russellville, Missouri.

Mr. Hugo H. Schubert died of a heart attack last 29th of November. I have moved to Jefferson City.

We have a farm five miles north of Farwell and we find your paper very interesting. We especially enjoy the supplement "The High Plains Farm and Home."

Sincerely, Mrs. Hugo H. Schubert

Allen Lockhart from Flagstaff was here this past weekend to visit with his parents, the J. T. Lockharts of Texico. David Lockhart has been here the past two weeks, but leaves today for Baylor University where he is enrolled in pre-dental school.

Glenna Ruth Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davis, was home for the weekend. Miss Davis teaches the second grade at the Eubanks school in Albuquerque.

JOTTIN'S By Jeanne

We suppose we've lost Loucille Foster to the lures of the glamorous California, and it will be Farmer County's loss and their gain. She plans to teach school in Barstow next year.

In fact, she has been gadding about some in the past few months, and her daughter, Bonnie Warren, calls her the woman from "nowhere." But we'll let her come back to see us any time.

The same goes for Jimmie Lou Wainscott who will take on new duties in her job as home demonstration agent in Edinberg right away.

Those who have worked with her will miss Jimmie's good humor and talents. We know she will be a big asset to the new community where she will make her home.

When the grass looks greener on the other side of the fence, it just might be that they take better care of it over there, says one of our editor friends.

School is once again in session in Texico-Farwell. An interesting sidelight to the beginning of fall sessions is information included in a column by Vern Sanford of Texas Press Association.

According to Sanford, kids who quit school before graduation, penalize themselves more than they realize.

To drop out of school, is to cheat yourself out of a probable $50,000 in future income. This is the average difference between what a high school graduate and an eighth grade graduate will earn in a lifetime.

The Garden City Telegram recommends these pointers for proper manners and social grace:

1. Never correct your child's table manners with your mouth full.
2. Do not laugh at his "moustache" after drinking milk until you've wiped your own upper lip.
3. Never hit a child in the cheek if he has a mouthful of gravy, unless he is pointed the other way.

Hospital Notes

Bob Scott, 13, son of the Bob Andersons, underwent surgery for the removal of a pin from his right leg at Bataan Memorial Methodist hospital in Albuquerque last week. The youth had suffered from a broken leg three years ago, and because of his growth pattern, the correction was needed. He will use crutches for a time and is now recuperating at home.

Mrs. Murray White was released from Clovis Memorial Hospital last week. She spent four days there suffering from an acute attack of asthma.

Rockne, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Alexander, was released from a Clovis hospital Tuesday. He was hospitalized Sunday with asthmatic bronchitis. His brother, 2-year old Rowan, was ill with bronchitis and an ear infection the middle of the week.

Time For Motor Vehicle Checks

The Texas Public Safety Commission has designated September 1 as the beginning of the 1961 Motor Vehicle inspection period in Texas. The period ends on April 15, 1961.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that 4,700 inspection stations will be ready on Thursday, September 1 to attach the 1961 inspection stickers to the windshields of more than four and one-half million vehicles coming under the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Act. All such vehicles must display the new sticker on April 16, 1961.

Garrison said, "We feel that the vehicle inspection program in Texas has proved a deterrent to vehicle accidents on our vehicles inspected before the bad weather of winter begins.

"It takes just a few minutes to have a vehicle safety checked," Garrison said, "Yet those few minutes thus spent today could mean the saving of someone's life tomorrow."

Garrison noted that the percent of accidents in which vehicle defects were causative factors has been cut approximately in half since the program was started in Texas.

The fee for each inspection is $1.00 plus any repair or adjustment necessary. The average cost for inspection in 1960, including the $1.00 fee, was $2.00 per vehicle.

Life Is Worth Your Living

By Robert O. Tomlinson

To live fully and happily, you must ask yourself four questions. First, do you have a wholesome, positive attitude toward life? Jesus summed up all the negative commandments of the Old Testament in two positive commands of love; to love God and fellowman. Develop Christian faith and character and render Christian service.

Second, do you have a self fit to live with? Are you really afraid to KNOW YOURSELF. Maybe the hell you live with in life is the kind of self you have to live with and not others. You have to live with yourself throughout eternity. Make yourself Christlike, and you will find His joy and happiness.

Third, do you have a world fit to live in? Your religious world, your political world, and your social world, what kind are they? Are you helping to solve the problems and make your world a better world, or are you a part of the problems? You are either good or bad, and are making your world the same.

Fourth, do you have a philosophy of life fit to live by, that tells you what you are, where you are going, and what you will be? Everyone has a philosophy of life, but what kind? If Christ is your philosophy of life, then you live in the presence of the Father and will find life full and happy, a life that is worth your living.

Supt. Buck Doran of Texico Schools is slated to be in Santa Fe this week end to attend a superintendents' retreat. The meetings are slated in Santa Fe, with a special luncheon on Friday, near Glorietta.

Two first-graders stood talking in the school playground during recess when a jet plane flew over. "Look at that," said one, "it's a BX-50."

"No, a BX-51," commented the other. "You can tell by its wing sweep."

"You're right," conceded the first youngster. "But it's not going more than 760 miles per hour because it didn't break the sound barrier."

The second lad agreed on this point and remarked, "It's amazing the pressure that develops on those planes when they go into a dive--almost 1,200 pounds per square inch."

Then the school bell rang indicating the end of recess and the first boy sighed, "Let's go back in and finish stringing those darn beads."

Fire Destroys Family Belongings

A colored family residing on the Burl Ford farm in Okalhoma Lane community, was left homeless Friday night, when all their belongings were destroyed in a fire.

No one was home at the time of the blaze and cause was unknown. A neighbor noticed the fire and got help, but the blaze was already too far gone to save the family belongings.

The T. J. Askew family resided in the home. An appeal for clothing and household items was made over the weekend, and local citizens had responded, says Mrs. Ford. She says the family is staying with relatives in Farwell.

Sizes of the family for those who would like to aid are: father, 36 trousers, medium shirt, 12 shoe; mother, 18 dress, 7 1/2 shoe; boy, size 12, 5 shoe; two girls, 12 and 10 subteen, size 7 shoe. Citizens may contact Mrs. Ford of Farwell Radio Station.

Askew is related to the family that lost all their belongings in a fire on the Bunk Phillips farm last year.

Allen Teel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Teel, returned from Camp Eagan near Fayetteville, Ark., late Saturday afternoon. This is a camp for college age Methodist youth. Six youths from New Mexico attended. They were accompanied by Rev. Grady McCullough of Portales. The camp lasted for one week.

Good Crowd At Barbecue

More than 850 persons turned out Saturday evening for the special entertainment and free barbecue, feature attractions of Farwell's third annual Appreciation Day.

The special entertainment was provided by the Flying Matadors, a trampoline foursome from Texas Tech at Lubbock. In what most of the attendants at the affair termed "a very entertaining show," the Matadors gave a 45-minute acrobatic performance.

Also on hand to help entertain the crowd was the Farwell High School band. Two other groups, which had been scheduled for the program, cancelled out at the last minute.

The crowd attending this part of the Appreciation Day program was the largest in the three year history, according to the Chamber officials. Attendance at the morning and early afternoon drawings was light, but it did pick up at the later drawings.

Winners of the $150 in script which was given away were Clifford Thomas, $25; Melvin Lingnau, $25; Otto Lingnau, $25; Noble Goldsmith, $25; and Bunk Phillips, $50. The $50 presentation was made at the barbecue.

Scouter Queen of Bovina prepared the barbecue and members of the Chamber of Commerce assisted in the serving line. All in all, the Chamber representatives labeled the special day another successful event.

On The Line--

parties today with the platforms of a few decades ago. You should especially compare them with the original constitution and the declaration of independence.

All exponents of a bigger and better, more centralized form of government have put across their program on the pretext of giving the common man a break.

There's no getting around the fact that today's standard of material living is the highest it has ever been. The average person has a better home, a better automobile, shorter working hours and more free time than he has ever had before.

Of course, ole Joe Citizen has given up his independence and he has become a slave to this type of living he treasures so highly.

Maybe we should ask ourselves this one question: What good are all of the modern conveniences which come with this higher standard of living, and what good are all these shorter working hours and time-saving devices, unless they afford us an opportunity to improve ourselves intellectually, physically and morally?

In short, what good are all these things unless they help us to become better individual citizens?

In talking with Mrs. D. J. Brown at the Texico Post Office a while back, she called my attention to something that becomes a common occurrence about this time of year.

It seems as though the fellows who throw their shotguns and rifles over their shoulders and take off on hunting excursions can't resist the temptation when they pass a rural mail box. Too many of them want to get a little target practice, and they shoot at all the mail boxes.

On several occasions mail has been riddled, in addition to damage being done to the mail boxes, Mrs. Brown says.

This malicious destruction of government property is a federal offense and carries a stiff penalty, she points out. So, all you hunters keep this in mind. There are plenty of other targets to shoot at besides mail boxes, even though they are in such convenient locations.

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD GRAHAM

Howard Graham And Bride Married In Pampa Ceremony

Miss Betty Tom Riddle became the bride of Howard Graham, former Farwell resident, recently in the chapel of First Methodist Church at Pampa with the Rev. Woodrow Adcock, pastor officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Riddle of Altus, Okla. and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. B. N. Graham of Farwell. The newlyweds were guests in the home of Mrs. Graham over the weekend.

Double-ring vows were repeated in a chapel setting of emerald palms and seven-branched candelabra holding bittersweet tapers with floor baskets of bronze chrysanthemums and pom-pom mums completing the decorations.

For her wedding, the bride chose a sand silk organza ensemble over brown satin, designed with a huge collar framing the v-neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The skirt of unpressed pleats was encircled at the waistline with a sand satin cummerbund. The sand satin headdress complemented her dress. She carried a Prayer Bible arranged with brown cypripedium orchids and feathered campania fuji chrysanthemums. She wore a cross, which was worn by the bridegroom's mother at her own wedding.

Miss Frances Abernathy of Leonard was maid of honor, wearing a gold organza dress and carrying a cascade bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Best man was O. C. Penn of Pampa. Meribeth Riddle of Altus, bride's cousin, provided the traditional wedding marches.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Riddle wore a black voile dress, accented by a white rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Graham, chose a navy blue crepe dress trimmed with powder blue. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Friends were received at a party held in the home of Mrs. Buster Higdon, immediately following the ceremony. A cathedral arrangement of bronze mums and pom-pom mums centered the bride's table, where Mrs. Ruby Capps and Miss Helen Schafer presided at the serving of punch and cake. Miss Elizabeth Hurley was guest registrar.

For a wedding trip to Northern New Mexico, the bride traveled in a beige dress with matching sweater and wore a corsage of brown orchids.

Mrs. Graham was graduated with a BS degree from Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha, Okla. and with an M. Ed. degree from West Texas State College. She is registrar in Pampa Junior High School.

Her husband is a graduate of Farwell Schools, McMurry College, Abilene with a BA degree and from West Texas State College, Canyon, with an M. Ed. degree. He is a social studies instructor in Pampa High School.

The Grahams are at home in Pampa at 1328 Coffee.

Sesame Crop Looking Good

The Parmer County sesame crop is looking good in spite of a rough start, and with 30 days more hot weather, yields and quality should be very good, reports Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president of the Texas Sesame Growers, Inc.

"The May and early June planted crops are nearly made, and some fields that haven't hurt at all for water can make record yields," Parker said this week in a report to county sesame growers.

"The late June crop needs a little more," he says, adding that "We can't use a frost on September 14 this year."

Parker advises farmers not to let their sesame hurt for water. Sesame planted in May and early June, where the ground is dry and the plant is still growing and blooming, should be watered fast through the first part of September.

"For late June planted sesame, you may have to water through the second week in September to make good yields," Parker says. But, if a cool, cloudy, rainy spell starts, a farmer will be ahead to quit watering and give his sesame a better chance to mature.

Emphasizing that a better way is needed to plant sesame, Parker says, "Every year we lose too much sesame, and much cotton at planting time. Most sesame is lost because it rains hard while the crop is trying to come up, or dirt washes it from the beds and covers it up after it has already come to a good stand."

Parker believes that the time has come for all sesame growers to start considering planting sesame upon a little bed. He cites a seven-acre test plot that was planted near Mulshoe early in June. "It started raining almost before the crop was planted and it continued to rain, but the crop came to a perfect stand in about four days, without replanting and the crop has been no trouble," he points out.

The sesame growers vice-president also advises harvesting this year's crop as early as possible, before central American seed starts influencing the market. "If you have early sesame, let me encourage you to get it shocked and threshed just as soon as it's ready," he says.

"You will save all your seed by early harvest and the quality will be tops," he says.

Plan Field Day At Halfway

Many new research projects as well as new machinery, aviation and irrigation exhibits will be features of the Fourth Annual Field Day at the High Plains Research Foundation Wednesday afternoon, September 14, at Halfway, Texas.

Scientists will discuss results and progress with the new expanded research program with cotton. Other new research to be reviewed will include flame cultivation, sesame and soybean breeding programs, and the expanded research programs with grain sorghum and castor beans.

Soil and water conservation research involving irrigation cycles and cotton and grain sorghum, bench levelling, including irrigated and dryland studies, and recharging surface water underground will also be included in the afternoons program.

Tractor drawn trailers will transport visitors throughout the Field Tours.

Dr. T. C. Longnecker, director of the Foundation, stated that a full afternoons program has been arranged for the guests.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"The time has come for the federal government to step in and see that state and local schools furnish the kind of education necessary to the defense of this country," said Secretary of Labor Mitchell on a "Meet The Press" interview the other day.

A few years ago, a man making this kind of statement would have been considered a traitor to the American way of life. Today he holds a high place in government, advocating turning management of business and farming industry over to federally protected labor moguls, among other equally ridiculous ideas.

Did you know that your government owns one-fifth of the land surface of the United States right now? . . . That the executive department of our government alone employs just under 2 1/2 million persons? . . . That if the present trend continues, the federal government will soon own your land and business, employing you to operate it the way government employees tell you to?

American Farm Bureau urged the president to veto a recent compensatory payments bill for small producers of lead and zinc. The president did veto it. The bill would have provided for paying a profit to those producers who for some reason were unable to make a profit producing the products.

Farm Bureau's opposition was based on the probability that such a plan would have spread to other marginal operations in all businesses, including farming. Would you like to pay taxes to provide a profit to a person who had never been able to make a go of business on his own?

We are proud of Maize Days in Friona, and when Farm Bureau has a queen, they always enter her. One editor's statement that the "largest field of beauties ever assembled in Parmer County" would be seen September 8th, made us recall that in 1954, there were forty-five entries in the Parmer County Farm Bureau Queen Contest. --thirty one in this year's Maize Days contest.

CONSIDER THIS: "An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; but the end thereof shall not be blessed." Proverbs 20:21.

IT WON'T BE LONG until maize crops like this one will be ready for the combine. Throughout the High Plains area, big, full heads like these are beginning to ripen, and everything points to a bumper harvest.

Work Continues On Bindweed Kill

Directors of Parmer County Farm Bureau weed committee met in Friona last week to continue plans for eradication of bindweed in the county. J. T. Jones, Chairman, of Bovina presided.

Farm Bureau President Herman Gerles reported that Lloyd Killough, state highway maintenance superintendent, requested that any person seeing bindweed patches on the highway right of ways mark them with a stake and white flag, and the department crews would poison them. In certain cases, he said, Killough would furnish the poison to the person if he wished to poison the plot himself.

Vice-Chairman Jack Patterson reported that the city of Bovina has made arrangements for cooperating in bindweed poisoning in that city. Vocational Agricultural instructor Roy Crawford consented to oversee the program in Bovina.

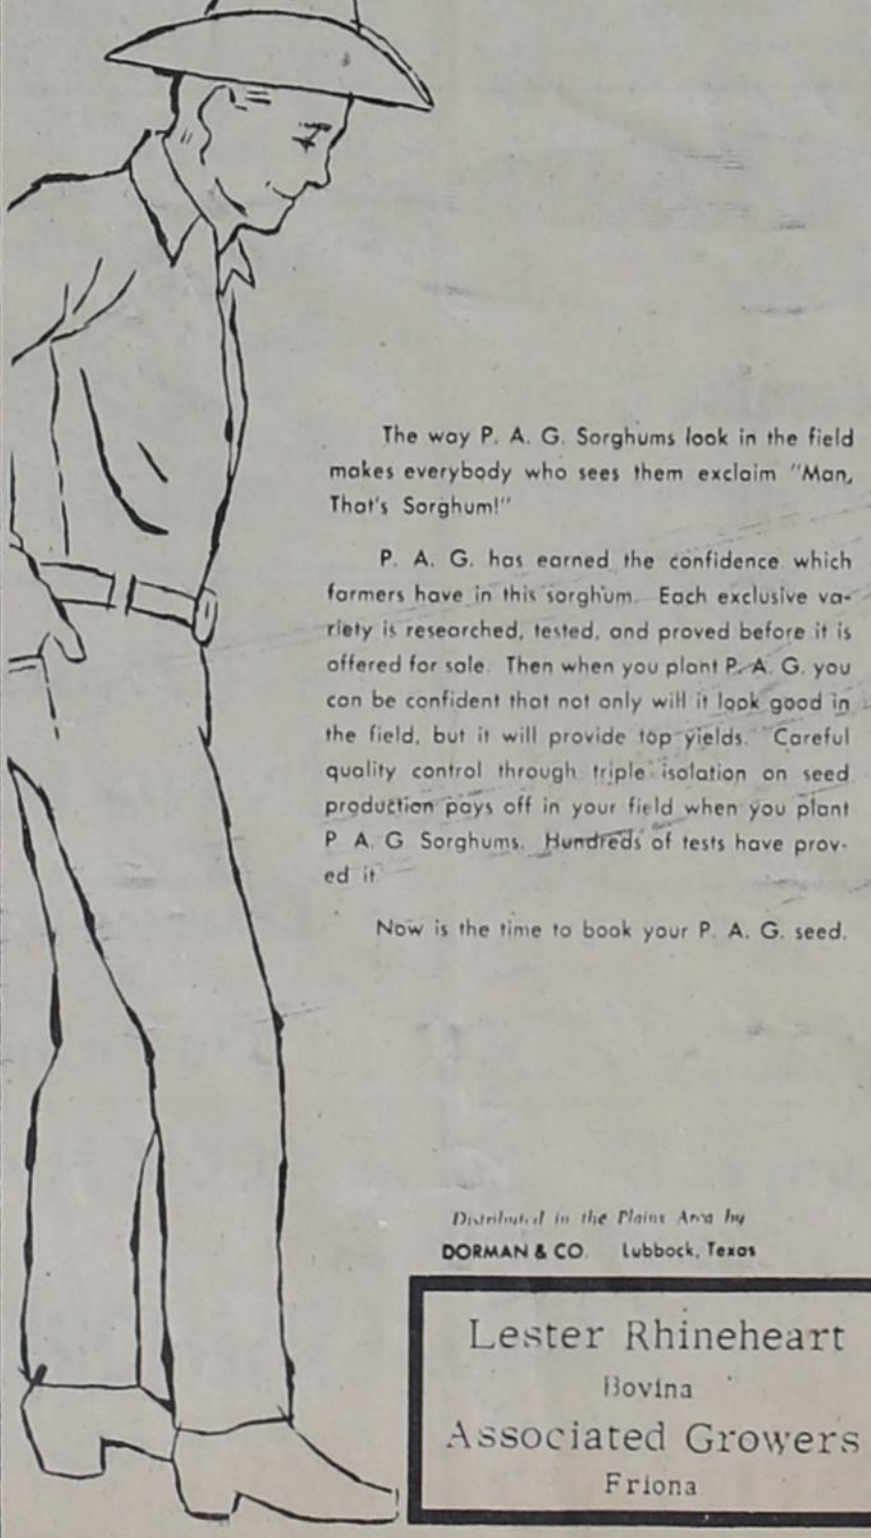

The following men were appointed by J. T. Jones to encourage the projects in the various cities and communities: Bill Nichols, Friona; Joe Jones, Farwell; Scottie Windham, Lazbuddie; Jack Patterson, Rhea. Herman Gerles agreed to make up a list of men to be responsible for certain areas of highway and inform them of their responsibility.

The Farm Bureau weed committee was formulated in 1954 in Parmer County, and has worked seasonally each year

WEST TEXANS SAY OF P-A-G

The way P. A. G. Sorghums look in the field makes everybody who sees them exclaim "Man, That's Sorghum!"

P. A. G. has earned the confidence which farmers have in this sorghum. Each exclusive variety is researched, tested, and proved before it is offered for sale. Then when you plant P. A. G. you can be confident that not only will it look good in the field, but it will provide top yields. Careful quality control through triple isolation on seed production pays off in your field when you plant P. A. G. Sorghums. Hundreds of tests have proved it.

Now is the time to book your P. A. G. seed.

Wheat seeding time is right at hand, so be sure to get your seed treated for smut and wireworms before it is put in the ground. This is the best insurance you can invest in. Research over the years has shown that the first part of October is a good time to seed both dryland and irrigated wheat if the production of grain is your only objective.

If you have grazing in mind, of course earlier seeding is better. If you plan to graze, better plan to use just a little heavier application of nitrogen and be ready to top dress next February. Top dressing in the spring has been giving good results whether or not wheat was grazed. A good plan to follow is to put two-thirds of your nitrogen on in the fall and one-third in February as a top dressing. Where phosphate is needed be sure to apply in the fall ahead of, or at seeding time.

Those of you who are putting up ensilage should keep in mind that quality of ensilage can be affected greatly by the amount of moisture in the ensilage when it is put in the pit. You make more tons per acre of ensilage by putting it up while it is still full of moisture, but you don't put up any more dry matter and you will have poorer quality ensilage.

Be sure it has plenty of moisture in it to pack good, but for best ensilage, it should not have excess moisture when put in the pit. The quality of ensilage you put up will greatly effect the results you get from it, and as a result how well satisfied you are with ensilage as a roughage.

With the price cotton seed hulls are likely to be if feed lots continue to go in, we had better plan now to provide at least part of our roughage from from a given enterprise. Records sufficient to satisfy the Internal Revenue are not sufficient to properly analyze a farm business.

Too many people feel records keeping is important only because the Internal Revenue requires it and records that satisfy them are sufficient. This type thinking must change if farm people are to progress as they should in the fast moving agriculture business we are living in today.

The committee on management in Parmer County has set up a meeting on "Income Tax Management" with the Internal Revenue for November and three schools are setting up record keeping systems for the Farm Business.

Electric co-ops mean

Nearly 400,000 Texas Families are partners in a noble undertaking that celebrates its silver anniversary this year.

They are the member-owners of the electric cooperatives that serve the rural areas of the Lone Star State. They borrowed money at interest to build their own electric systems. They created a multi-billion dollar market for electric appliances with main street merchants. They brought the blessings of electricity to areas that might still be dark had it not been for the cooperative effort. They accomplished these wonderful things while repaying principal and interest on their loans...often ahead of schedule.

The electric cooperatives of Texas can point with pride to an efficient, dependable, electric service providing Partnership Power For Progress.

"Tailwater" Recovery Aids Irrigation Efficiency

J. R. Belt, Jr., Floyd County farmer and vice president of the board of directors of the High Plains Underwater Conservation District, has recently installed a pump on one tract of his land for the purpose of recirculating irrigation "tailwater."

Until the pump was installed, it was difficult to irrigate the land adequately without some waste because the surface of the land slopes sharply near the end of the rows. However, since installing the recirculating pump, it is now possible to run irrigation water down the slope long enough to facilitate proper penetration into the soil.

A permanent border is constructed at the low end of the field. It is used to retain "tailwater" on the farm. When water runs through the field to the border it then gravity feeds along the surface to the intake of the recirculating pump system.

The pump itself is located about 200 yards from the intake which is situated at the lowest point on the farm. The intake was made by placing a section of concrete pipe in the ground in a vertical position.

The pipe section is 3 feet in diameter and 4 feet long.

A standard 12-inch concrete pipeline was then laid beneath the surface to connect the intake with the recirculating pump.

The pipeline is gradually sloped toward the pump so water entering the intake will flow by gravity to the pump. It was necessary to locate the pump away from the intake to keep the pump on high ground and out of water.

The sump, in which the pump is installed, is constructed in the same manner as the intake except that, instead of using only one length of 3 foot by 4 foot concrete pipe, three pieces were used. When joined together vertically they made a sump twelve feet deep.

The pump consists of a one-stage 10-inch bowl assembly and 10 feet of 6-inch column pipe. It is powered by a 5-horsepower electric motor that starts and stops automatically through the use of a switch controlled by a float in the sump. When the sump fills, the float cuts the motor on—when the pump empties the sump, the float cuts the motor off.

The discharge of the pump is connected to a steel riser that in turn is connected to 8-inch plastic pipe buried beneath the land surface. The plastic pipeline extends approximately 600 yards to one of two irrigation wells on the farm. There it joins a previously installed concrete pipeline system.

Irrigation water from the two wells is distributed to the crop through the older underground pipelines and surface gated-pipe. The recirculating pump coming on and going off does not interfere in any way with the normal irrigation process, and no labor is required to operate it because of the automatic controls.

Belt states that the overall costs of installing the recirculating pump system was approximately $2500. However, he says that under ordinary circumstances this cost could be reduced by decreasing the size of the plastic pipe. He installed pipe of this size because he has future plans for utilizing it that have nothing to do with the recirculating pump.

Belt has only used the recirculating system on one occasion so he is not fully aware of its benefits; however, he states that he can irrigate water through his field until he has the desired moisture penetration without fear of wasting water. Also, he states that now he does not need to tie up a man's time in maintaining the border at the bottom of the field because water does not build up on it.

The High Plains Water District has installed a flowmeter on the discharge of the recirculating pump to calculate the amount of "tailwater" being pumped.

Matinee and evening performances of the third annual Shrine Circus will be held in Hereford at the White Face Field on Wednesday Sept. 14.

The Oasis Shrine Club of Castro-Deaf Smith-Parmer Counties will sponsor the circus, and proceeds will be used to help finance the Children's Clinic held during May each year.

More than 40 new acts will be brought to Hereford by Gil Gray, producer-director of the circus this year. This will be a 2 1/2 hour show at popular prices.

Tree seedlings will again be available to West Texas landowners for planting windbreaks next January. Don Young, head of the Forest Management Department of the Texas Forest Service, urges landowners to place their orders as early as possible before the February 10 deadline.

Orders must be in multiples of 50, and no order for less than 100 trees will be accepted.

Have you ever asked, and been refused, permission to hunt on someone's farm or ranch? If you have, you probably could not understand why the landowner refused your request. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says that you were probably the victim of some earlier hunter's discourteous or irresponsible actions. You have a chance to prevent this same thing from happening to some other hunter, continues Cooper.

Landowner-sportsman relations need improving, and the next few months—the hunting seasons—are the best time to accomplish this. Cooper offers a few tips on hunting courtesy that will help you and the landowner become friends:

Ask permission to hunt on any land or water.

Respect property.

Obey the laws on bag limits, shooting seasons and shooting

Decision Making Time On Cotton Harvesting Near

The time for harvesting this year's cotton crop is fast approaching, and the farmer should be considering how this harvesting is to be done. If the crop is to be machine harvested, the problem arises of whether it would be better to own or hire the machine.

Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, says that often it is cheaper to have the crop custom harvested than it is to own the equipment. By hiring the custom work, the farmer can avoid the investment in machinery and use the capital elsewhere in the farm business. The farmer's labor problem is eased if the custom operator furnishes all the labor for the job. Also, because the custom operator is skilled in operating and maintaining the machinery, the farmer may get a faster, more efficient job, Parker points out.

Before deciding on hiring custom work, however, the farmer must make sure that the answer to each of the following questions is "yes." Is equipment for custom work available? Will it be available when I need it? Are the operators dependable and efficient?

A machine may be purchased, however, with the idea of doing custom work in addition to personal work. This would lower the farmer's cost of harvesting his own crop, Parker continues.

Other factors, such as alternative use of labor and capital, should be considered before the farmer decided between owning or hiring a machine.

Parker suggests talking with the local county agent before any decision is made.

Plan Now For Tree Seedlings

Orders must be in multiples of 50, and no order for less than 100 trees will be accepted.

Inform the landowner when and where you will be hunting. Do not invite friends to hunt with you unless the landowner has given permission.

Handle firearms in a safe manner at all times. Make certain that you do not fire toward people, buildings or livestock.

Offer to pay for any damages done the property of the landowner.

Offer to pay for the privilege of hunting.

Make sure that all gates are closed behind you.

Be courteous and friendly. Cooper concludes by saying that the hunter should remember that the farm or ranch is a place of business for the owner. He will appreciate your respect and interest in treating his property as a means of livelihood.
